FIRE RECGD GETS AN INSURANCE REDUCTION

Insurance men have recently word from the State Insurance Department that our rates for insurance here in Perryton have been reduced fifteen per cent on account of the low fire loss during the years 1920, 1921 and 1922. During this period the loss has been 31 per cent of the total amount of premium collected and this record that few towns of our county can boast of. W. B. LaMaster, one of our leading insurance men, states that this reduction alone will save the property owners of Perryton between $2,000.00 and $2,500.00. A short time ago we had a reason on account of hiring a permanent watchman and fire marshal, upon as the new water plant is completed we will get another reduction in rates which will amount to 45c on every $100.00 of insurance carried. The only way to keep the low rate or make it still lower is to have no fires. Let everybody keep their fire hazard to the minimum. One or two bad fires will cause a hike in the rate of everybody in town so every precaution and see that your neighbor does the same.

YOUR GARDEN PRODUCTS FOR THE FAIR

Now is the time to start to save your garden products for exhibits at the Perryton Fair this fall. It is assured that we are going to have a real fair so start right now growing and preserving so that you can take down your share of the crop. This is a bumper year for garden products and this section will display of garden crops second to none if everybody will save their samples.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Life to each of us consists mainly of what we make of it. We can cast soft rays of sunshine and happiness over our existence, or we can live with the shadows of gloom and avarice, and insatiable longings for those things which we may possess. Perryton is our home—the place where most of our lives will be spent and where memory is dear to us. Let us seek to cast out what is evil and is of spirit of greed and suspicion, and ungenerous rivalry among ourselves. Let us supplant it with one of kindness, of tolerance, and of good will toward each other? Let us make honorable rivalry the sword of our community? Let us be the ideal existence, and is possible to any community where the people have the will and the courage to follow the path of honor and gentleness wherever it may lead.

UP TO THE TIMES

Our newspaper may boom a town through its editorial and news columns and a critical investigator takes his from the advertising columns for substantial evidence as to the thrift and prosperity of the place. To him advertising is the barometer that measures the prosperity of a town. Ads reflect a prosperous condition and tell him that the place is up with the times in business.

JUST WHAT WE MAKE IT

Some people get tired of this life and just fall asleep, while others hurry the end along with the use of a sharp knife or a bit of poison. But a good old world after all, and it is the most of us as we use it—short, this life is just what we make it. Most people are satisfied with a fighting chance, while others are satisfied with a chance of fighting.

FOR SALE—An 8x10 box building, floor, box car roof covered with plywood composition roofing, two doors and good door with lock. Will sell reasonable. Call at Herald office. 19-tf-c

C. Coffee and son, James, returned home Friday from a visit with relatives in Throckmorton County. On Sunday Mr. Coffee drove to Canadian and Mrs. Coffee and her mother, Mrs. J. G. Hogan of Abilene, Texas, will visit here for a few weeks.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS OFF TO COLORADO SPRINGS

The Palo Duro Camp Fire girls of this city left Tuesday afternoon on their vacation trip to Colorado Springs. They will spend several weeks enjoying the pleasures and scenic beauties of that famous summer play ground. Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Waide, Mrs. A. C. Witt and daughter, Navis, Misses Ruth Allen, Mabel Cutter, Anna Mae Bridges, Pearl and Mary Ragan, Selma and Hallie Payne and Marie Kent.

BOY SCOUTS NOW HAVE A TROOP HEADQUARTERS

The local troop of the Boy Scouts have rented the room formerly occupied by the City Meat Market and will use same for a club room and troop headquarters. They have recently reorganized with David D. Shanks as Scoutmaster. They say that the Camp Fire Girls are having their lining now in Colorado, but watch their smoke from now on for they are going to pull a big stunt soon. Go to it, Scouts, we are for you strong. Incidentally the boys would appreciate some donations of furniture and other articles for fixing up their new quarters.

RUSSELL WILLIAM ROGERS

Died at the home at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Rogers, of this city, Russell William Rogers, aged 15 years, 8 months and 15 days. Russell was born on October 4, 1907, and died June 19, 1923, after a lingering illness of over six months. It is sad to give up one whose influence among men would doubtless have been for good; who by precept and example was so calculated to spread abroad the blessed influence of Godly living. Russell was a good boy, a kind son, a gentle brother, was affectionate and loved by all his companions. At an early age he united with the Methodist Church, joining the Church at old Ochiltree when Rev. Watts was Pastor. He was a faithful worker in the church and Sunday school. Only last Sunday, members of his Sunday School class visited him, to present to him the 2-year wreath which is awarded to all who have a two-year unbroken attendance record. The funeral services were conducted from the Methodist Church, at 2:00 p. m. on Wednesday, Rev. W. A. Hitchcock preaching the sermon. Interment was at the Ochiltree Cemetery. Death is a hard master. He would take from us our brightest and best, but he cannot even mar our memory. It will serve as a balm to our wounded hearts. May time bring its resignation, and may the shores of eternity that receives his soul, surround it with everlasting sunshine and flowers. The Herald extends heartfelt sympathy to the father and mother and the brothers and sisters in this sad hour of trial.

PERRYTON GUN CLUB

Last Sunday's gun club score was one of the poorest of this year's shooting. The five high men made a score totaling only 109. The standing for this season is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Copeland and daughters left Tuesday of last week for their home in Banning, California, after a three weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barlow.

BIG NEW LIGHT PLANT ENGINE NOW HERE

The new 150 H. P. Fairbanks-Morse engine for the new municipal light and power plant is now on the track and will be unloaded and installed as soon as factory men arrive to superintend the job. When this engine is in operation the Perryton plant will have one 50 horse unit, one 100 horse unit and the 150, making a total of three units capable of developing 300 horse-power. These engines should take care of the requirements of the town for several years unless we should experience an oil boom or some similar boost. The municipal plant under the direction of chief engineer Dowers is now giving excellent service. Alva Dowers is a high grade mechanic and thoroughly understands his business.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY PROGRAM

The following program, presenting the Belle H. Bennett Memorial, will be used by the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church for the regular meeting Wednesday evening at 2:30 p. m., June 27th, 1923, at the home of Mrs. O. C. Shearer:

Hymn, "Spirit of God, Descend." Prayer.

Scripture lesson, Isaiah 6:1-8.

Topic, "Obedient to the Vision."

"Our Father, we thank Thee, for Jesus Christ through whom we learned to know Thee as our Father; we thank Thee for the revelation of Him in our great leader and friend whom Thou has called from our sight. When Thou didst call her to a great work, she was not disobedient to that vision; we thank Thee for the institution which obedience to Thy call made possible. And now, our Father, grant unto us, Thy children, that her love for Thee, her passion for souls, and her consuming desire to make Thee known to others, may be translated into sacrificial gifts of love to be laid upon Thy altar, for the greater institution which we feel Thou art leading us to establish."—Deaconess Emily Olmstead.

Topics—
"The Scarritt Bible and Training School Carrying the Gospel."—Mrs. Bull.
"The Greater Training School."—Mrs. Neufeld.
"A Memorial to Miss Bennett."—Mrs. Morgan.
Poem, "To Miss Bennett." Mrs. Williams.
Topic, "The Memorial Fund: How shall We Raise It."—Mrs. Ed. McMillen.
"My Pledge—A Love Gift."—Mrs. Guthrie.
Hymn, "Oh, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee." Dismissal.

IN SHABBY TOWN

In Shabbytown they do not care if things look seedy everywhere. They have no pep, they've lost their grip, they simply sit around and yip, in envy's tones, of Glossville, the shining village on the hill. Oh, Shabbytown is punk and gray, and it shows symptoms of decay, and strangers passing through remark, "It surely dates back to the ark." "Clean Up and Paint Up" makes men frown along the streets of Shabbytown. A can of paint makes no appeal to this bum village, down at heel; the people think there is no sense in going to so much expense; so things are always going down and getting worse in Shabbytown. It always gives my soul a thrill when I arrive at Glossville. The town looks like a blooming bride; the people take a hearty pride in making things look clean and bright, and in their labors take delight. They're lavish with the helpful paint, selecting colors chaste and quaint, and decorating every shack; and thus warding off decay's attack, and making all buildings look like buildings read of in a book. And strangers, when they see the town, say, "here we'll come and settle down, and raise us nineteen kids apiece, and live and die as ellic as grease." Thus happy burg goes right ahead, while Shabbytown is prone and dead.—Walt Mason.

Jack Evans of Guymon was a business visitor here on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Evans at one time operated a harness store here but is now in the garage business, handling the Buick line of cars.

SUMMERS-HOOD YARD NOW OPEN AT FARNSWORTH

Contractor M. R. Todd and his force of workmen have been busy for the past few weeks erecting the lumber sheds, office and warehouse for the new yard which the Summers-Hood Lumber Co. of this city has recently opened for business at Farnsworth, the first station west of here. The yard is not all completed but they are open and ready for the transaction of business. This is the first yard for this enterprising little town and we see no reason why a lumber yard should not do a good business at this point. The country around Farnsworth is of the very best to be found anywhere and it is fast being settled up. A few miles to the north is the thickly settled counties of Texas and Beaver in Oklahoma. The establishment of this yard will bring this community many miles closer to a yard.

POOR SEED WHEAT LOSES FARMERS MILLIONS

The farmers of the United States, particularly those of the great grain belt of the Middlewest and South-west are losing millions of dollars each year because of the lack of proper seed wheat or through the cultivation of poor quality. The remedy for this loss, which is appalling, is close at hand and can be applied by every energetic and progressive wheat farmer.

The foregoing, in substance, is part of a statement just issued by H. M. Bainer, Director of the Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association, upon his return from an extensive trip through a large portion of the wheat belt.

"I was surprised," Mr. Bainer said, "at the enormous wheat acreage sown with undesirable and badly mixed seed. In some localities we found rye mixtures in fifty per cent or more of the fields, and in other sections fields showed lack of purity, some revealing mixed varieties of hard wheat, and in some there were mixtures of hard and soft wheat."

Mr. Bainer made it clear that the present is the time for wheat growers facing this problem to use the solution at hand.

"Now, before wheat cutting time, is when every farmer who raises wheat should be preparing for good seed for the fall sowing," he continued. "Only those fields or parts of fields that are pure, unmixed and free from rye and smut should be saved for seed."

Mr. Bainer, who is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on the subject of wheat, declared that a field can be regarded as good prospect for proper seed if it is pure, excepting for a slight mixture of rye.

The rye, he pointed out, can be removed by pulling out the plants before harvest thus rendering the wheat itself free from any of the contaminating mixtures which so dangerously lower the grade of the crop. Mr. Bainer emphasized the necessity of pulling out the entire plant in this operation because of the danger of new tillers putting out later heads which mature with the wheat.

"If a man's own field does not present the proper seed he should select one in his neighborhood that does and arrange with its owner to obtain the quantity required." Mr. Bainer said. "No crop responds to the use of good seed more than wheat. Suitable seed will increase the yield from two to seven bushels per acre over that obtained from poor seed. One per cent of rye in wheat will lower it one grade; two per cent will lower the wheat two grades and five per cent of rye will put the best of wheat in sample grade."

Miss Maude Findley, the pleasant and efficient Santa Fe operator and her sister, Mrs. Florence Hays, who has been visiting here for the past few days, left Monday for the home of the latter at Clovis, New Mexico. According to reports Miss Findley will be married to Dayton Jones, who is employed here by the Empire Company on their well northwest of town. The wedding will take place on next Monday at Miss Findley's sister's home, at Clovis. We are informed that they will make their home here in Perryton.

A VISITOR'S REGISTER AT CAMP GROUND

Through the courtesy of the H. C. Coffee Land and Investment Co. and the White House Lumber Co. a desk and register has been installed at the free City Camp Ground. In the register the tourists are requested to register their home address, their destination and make of the car they are driving. There is a space in the desk in which road maps and advertising literature of any nature can be put. The camp is now located on the block just south of Dr. May's office. This block of ground is the one set apart for the building of a new court house. It is much closer in and is better location in many ways for a Tourist's Park than the former place on the south side. As soon as the water mains are extended, water and electric light will be installed for the convenience of the strangers within our gates.

ALL OUR CHILDREN MUST HAVE A DECENT CHANCE

Two children are born side by side, free and equal. One within the city limits, the other just across the imaginary corporation line. The one will go to school in the city in a modern, well heated, well ventilated school building under the direction of many professionally trained teachers for nine months in the year. The other may go to a little, ramshackled one-room school, poorly heated and lighted, unsanitary, and breathe in to his nostrils vile contagion from the dirty floors; taught by one mediocre teacher, who has thirty-five recitations per day with less than nine minutes per recitation, for a period of only five or six months in the year. The one has Sunday Schools, society, hears good preaching and is constantly in touch with all the broadening influences of the entire country. The other lives like a terrapin, sticks out his head, looks about and goes back into his shell to live his narrow existence.

Where these conditions are found there is often an estranged feeling which exists between the people of the cities and the people of the rural districts. Such sections ought to have one board of education and one superintendent of schools to administer justly, fairly and equally to all its citizens, both within and without the city.

It is difficult for us to understand how some people now fight the building of roads, schools and churches with the excuse that their tax burdens are greater than they can bear. If it is necessary to double, or quadruple your taxes today in order to give your children a decent chance to live a full and happy life, then there is no way by which you can sidestep the issue.

MASONS AND HIGH SCHOOL PLAY BALL

The fastest (?) game of the season was staged at the Lilly Park on last Friday afternoon when the Masons and a pick up team composed principally of High School players tangled in an interesting exhibition of the great American national game, the Masons coming out with the long end of an 8 to 4 score. It was a mighty battle while it lasted. The two old veteran players, Whippo and Reagan, did the battery work for the Masonic team, and they were there and over, just like in the days of old. Others in the fray for the Masons were H. I. Hudson, P. O. Sanders, M. R. Coffee, L. S. Hobbs, Ernest Allen, Van W. Stewart, Roy B. Orrill, Carl Ellis. Brewer Guthrie and Rufus Ferguson did the battery work for the school team. The Masons have some mighty good material among their members and we see no reason why they should not issue a challenge to some of the nearby lodges for a strictly Masonic game.

William Tenny, Manager of the Panhandle Lumber Co., has returned home from Shattuck, Oklahoma, where he was operated on for appendicitis.

William Thompson and wife, who have been living in Kansas City for the past few months, came in Saturday. Bill will put in a wheat crop this fall on his father's farm west of town.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

At the regular meeting on Thursday night of last week the local Royal Arch Masonic Lodge elected new officers as follows to serve during the coming year:

- E. C. Carver, High Priest.
- J. C. Reagan, King.
- C. E. Whippo, Scribe.
- Van W. Stewart, Treasurer.
- Abe Green, Secretary.
- W. H. Dunlavy, Captain of Host.
- W. J. Brewer, Principal Sojourner.
- J. S. Talley, Royal Arch Captain.
- George Ruppert, Master 3rd Vail.
- J. C. Beever, Master 2nd Vail.
- A. L. Dowers, Master 1st Vail.
- R. H. Gamel, Sentinel.

On election night the following candidates, P. O. Sanders, Newton Conley, G. R. Wilson, T. P. McLain, and G. I. Bush, were initiated into the mysteries of the Mark Master, Past Master and Most Excellent degrees and on Friday night they were given the Royal Arch work. Also on Friday night the degree of Royal and Select Master was conferred on J. C. Reagan and Frank Forbes and the above class. W. F. Peugh of Higgins was here all of last week conducting school of instructor for the lodge. A meeting has been called for Thursday night, June 28th, for the purpose of installing officers. A full attendance is desired.

SOME DAY IT WILL COME

A flying flivver, which carries you sixty miles on a gallon of "gas" and can be manufactured in quantities at $400 apiece! It is being successfully demonstrated in our country by Georges Barbot, its French inventor. Compare with the cost of driving a car. Barbot's baby plane weighs only four hundred pounds. It is shipped "in the knockdown"—came from France in a crate. Its tiny motor is twelve horse power. But it's powerful. Barbot claims it can climb more than a mile up into the air in thirty minutes. This baby plane carries only one passenger. A machine to carry more would be a simple matter of multiplication. Barbot's plane has tapering dragonfly wings, braced internally to cut down the air resistance. These wings have a spread of only forty feet. That's about the width of the garage, you'd require.

Later on, the inventors probably will discover how to do away with wings entirely. Seems impossible. It once seemed equally impossible, the idea of an ocean-going ship without sails. Only the wild visionaries in those days pictured anything like a ship propelled by steam engine and screw. Barbot's baby plane may or may not turn the trick, but it's just a matter of time until the flying flivver will take the place of the auto as the main vehicle of transportation. The auto, of course, will continue in widespread use in the Air Age, like the horse in the Auto Age. But the real roads of the future will be in the air. No paving taxes! No tire bills! Before the airplane can come into general use, it must be cheap. Barbot demonstrates cheapness is possible. It must also be able to rise and descend in a straight up-and-down. The helicopter machine is the key to this. The universal auto also must be fool proof. Some invention like the gyroscope will prevent its falling when stalled in the air. It is not beyond probability that our descendants, when their planes stall in the air, will have to use a rope ladder to get down to earth, under certain conditions of machinery out of order.

BAD LANGUAGE CLASSIFIED

London.—Bad language was divided into three kinds by the Rev. Thomas Anderson, a United Free church minister, who addressed an open air meeting in Castle-gate Aberdeen recently:

- Direct profanity.
  - Filthy language.
  - Expletives or colored adjectives.
- He said he did not condemn a man who, when playing golf, missed his putt or sliced his drive, and found relief in an expletive or explosive adjective, but he condemned a man constantly interlarding his conversation with bad language.

Statement of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, Etc., Required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1924.

Of Ochiltree County Herald, published weekly, at Perryton, Texas, for April 1, 1923.

State of Texas, County of Ochiltree. Before me, a notary public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Van W. Stewart, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is one of the Editors of the Ochiltree County Herald, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper the circulation,) etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are: Editors, Paul F. Stewart and Van W. Stewart, Perryton, Texas.

2. That the owner is: (If the publication is owned by an individual his name and address, or if owned by more than one individual the name and address of each, should be given below; if the publication is owned by a corporation the name of the corporation and the names and addresses of the stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of the total amount of stock should be given.) Van W. Stewart and Paul F. Stewart, Perryton, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.) Western Newspaper Union, Wichita Kansas; Mergenthaler Linotype Co., New York City; Farmers & Stockmen's State Bank, Perryton, Texas.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners of stockholders and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

VAN W. STEWART.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 18th day of June, 1923.

TOO MANY LAWS

One of the strangest political tendencies of our time is the suddenly increased faith of legislators in the power of laws to enforce themselves once they are reduced to writing. No belief has been so continuously and thoroughly discredited yet none so alarmingly alive. Every political philosopher from Montaigne's day to this hour has recognized that the best government is that conducted with the least law and machinery.

A multitude of evils attend the naive faith of legislatures in the auto enforcement capacity of law as represented by words on a piece of paper. One is an inevitable weakening of respect for a government born of disregard for its more outlandish aspects. Another is the uninterrupted encroachment of government on the governed. A third and most distressing evil is the appalling expense attending the creation of multitudinous new bureaus and offices provided for.

The time may come when a candidate pledging himself to nothing but the repeal of two laws for every one created will be generally supported.

Ross Cook, son of Albert Cook was thrown from a horse at his home southwest of town on last Sunday afternoon, the fall rendering him unconscious for several hours. Dr. J. C. May of this city was called and at last reports the patient was recovering.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 16

Proposing an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which relates to taxation and revenues, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, directing the Legislature to provide for the construction, operation and maintenance, under State control, of a State system of public highways; providing for an election, or the ratification or rejection of amendment herein proposed, and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of said election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That there be submitted to the people of Texas, for ratification or rejection at a special election provided for herein an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, amending said Article, 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, which shall read as follows:

Section 9a. The Legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the State to be under the control of the State; and in order that the State may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities the establishment and maintenance of such system of highways, the Legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes, in addition of those permitted for other purposes in this Constitution, but such an ad valorem tax shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by vote of the people of this State as provided for hereinafter in this Section.

When said system shall have been designated and taken over for the State as provided in Section A hereof, the Legislature is authorized to make provision for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore constructed by the Counties in the State.

Provided, also that save for the State highway system, in all other respects, Counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes, and bridges within their respective boundaries and the Constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof.

The Legislature, at any Regular or Special Session, is authorized and directed to pass and enact all appropriate legislation necessary to carry out and effectuate the purpose and intent of these Articles.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1923, at which election this amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for adoption or rejection and shall make the publication required by the Constitution and Laws of the State. Said election shall be held under and in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State, and the ballots for said election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters the following words:

"OFFICIAL BALLOT": "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." "Against the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways."

Those voters who favor such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "Against the Amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." Those who oppose such amendment shall erase by marking a line through them, the words, "For the amendment to Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election.

Sec. 3. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the proclamation and publication of this amendment and the election to be held hereunder.

LINCOLN CAR AWARDED FIRST PLACE IN DETROIT

Detroit Michigan.—In a series of three tests for speed and quick getaway conducted by the Detroit Department of Police on Oakland Boulevard at Dearborn Thursday afternoon first place among the field of ten competitors was awarded to the Lincoln car.

The tests were made in an effort of the Police Department to secure a "Flying Squadron" of motor cars to enlist in the campaign against robbers and other crimes of the road.

Quick starting from a dead stop, rapid acceleration over long and short distances and ease with which the cars could be handled in any emergency demanding immediate ability to get going at race track speed were covered in quarter mile, half mile and two mile tests two of which were made from standing starts.

A large gathering of City Officials engineers from representative automobile plants and many spectators were present. Official clocking of the speed was made by stop watches held by the official referee and by judges in the cars, and cars were also timed and speedometer readings checked by members of the Detroit motorcycle squad.

The list called for stock cars carrying six passengers each.

In the two mile standing start quick acceleration test the Lincoln finishing first, covered the distance in one minute forty-nine and two-fifths seconds, attaining a speed of eighty miles an hour, the next nearest competing car covered the distance in one minute fifty-seven and two-fifths seconds, the slowest time recorded was two minutes twenty-three seconds, finishing at a speed of sixty two miles an hour. In the half mile test the Lincoln again taking first honors covered the distance in thirty-eight and two-fifths seconds and finished at a speed of seventythree miles an hour, the nearest competitor covering the distance in thirty-nine and one-fifth seconds.

The quarter mile test was made from a running start of five miles an hour in intermediate gear. In this test the winner covered the distance in twenty-six and three-fifths seconds while the Lincoln tied for second place with a time of twenty-six and four-fifths seconds, the slowest time in this test being thirty-four and two fifths seconds.

THE COW VERSUS THE BOOTLEGGER

"I can pay my fine for bootlegging just as soon as I sell my cow," said a young man recently to Judge Williams in the federal court for the eastern district of Oklahoma.

"You sell that cow and I will put you in jail for six months," replied the judge. "Keep the cow and drink its milk instead of corn whisky. That cow is worth more than all the whisky in Johnson county."

Perhaps no one thus far has given thought to any connection between the dry law and dairying, yet the fact that during the first year of the operation of the eighteenth amendment our per capita consumption of milk in this country increased from forty-three to forty-nine gallons—a rise of fourteen per cent, as revealed by government figures just published—offers food for such thought, and at the same time provides a really strong argument for prohibition. For to replace a class of beverages for which even their most strenuous supporters never claimed and constructive nutritive properties with the one drink which above all others, supplies the nearest approach to a complete food is a matter of tremendous meaning. And the figures for 1922, now available, show a continued increase in the consumption of milk and dairy products.

With more than 24,000,000 cows on the job last year, we produced in this country 11,500,000,000 gallons of milk, and the total value of this enormous output exceeded $2,000,000,000—more than $100,000,000 in excess of the value of our corn crop and $600,000,000 beyond that of our hay and forage crops. Of this "Niagara of Milk," as some one has termed it, 46 per cent was used in the homes of the nation, and 47 per cent in the manufacture of butter, cheese and other milk products. The calves of the country too care of 4 per cent and 3 per cent was wasted—this last figure representing a loss of something like 350,000,000 gallons.

In 1890, thirty-three years ago, our annual per capita consumption of milk was twenty-two gallons. By 1920 it had almost doubled. Then came the shortages of certain other beverages—and in a single year the unprecedented increase of six gallons per capita.

Even today, according to leading health authorities, who are agreed in this particular, our milk consumption in the home is only half what it should be. These experts base their calculations not only on what has been proved concerning milk as a food in scientific laboratories and through actual present day experience, but also on the showing of history, which consistently reveals the milk drinkers as the mightiest among men and nations. As we have before pointed out, the recent year set a final seal upon the people. A million cows would have been worth more to Germany than a million additional soldiers—indeed the failure of that nation to carry out its imperialistic plan was due chiefly to lack of dairy food.

It is entirely reasonable to believe that the present place and power of the American people is due in no small measure to our cultivation of the cow as an ally. It is equally reasonable to assume that if we will pay a little more attention to the care of cows we cultivate we shall reap still larger results.

That possibilities of milk production are not merely a matter of pure-bred stock, but also of feeding, is well illustrated by an experiment recently carried out by the federal department of agriculture, which fed a mature Holstein cow on good pasture in summer and corn silage and alfalfa in winter, but gave the animal no grain.

That cow consumed an unknown quantity of fresh grass during the 140 days she was on pasture, and ate 9,000 pounds of alfalfa hay and 9,000 pounds of silage during the remainder of the year—a matter of some nine tons of roughage. The cow produced 14,000 pounds of milk, which contained 470 pounds of butter fat. In the succeeding year, when, in addition to about the same amount of roughage, the cow ate 7,000 pounds of grain, the animal yielded more than 25,000 pounds of milk and 823 pounds of butterfat.

What such facts mean to the farmer in dollars and cents is shown by another recent investigation made by the department of agriculture. This investigation proved that cows which produced an average of 3250 pounds of milk per annum showed an average yearly income of $32.25 above the cost of feed, while those averaging 13,250 pounds yielded an average income per annum of $218.19 above the cost of feed. The cows in this latter group produced less than four times as much milk as those in the first group, while the average income above the cost of feed was nearly seven times as great.

These facts are of just as much importance to the dweller in a solid row of city houses as to those who live on the farm, though in some ways they differently affect these two. In one great way, however, they stand in the same relation to all Americans, urban or rural, and that is the food way.—Philadelphia North American.

THE EVOLUTION OF DANCING

In the old days of minuets and cotillions, these stately figures expressed the starched and stately conventionality of those times. Then society developed quadrilles and the lancers, which would be considered slow and tedious for these times, but seemed the quintessence of society grace and polish in those days.

Thirty or forty years ago the old timers revelled in the "contra" or "country dance." People would travel for miles to see noted dancers cut their fancy pigeon wings, and pirouette and prance around the hall in their heavy boots as if they were ballet artists. This dance was often complicated, and the young crowd often got tangled up in its mazy and conflicting steps.

Then the round dances became popular. These pretty waltzes, two steps and schottisches gave graceful people a better chance to display their sythibical steps than was ever seen in the formal old quadrilles.

About ten years ago so called "modern dancing" began to come in, with the rage for the tango and onestep. Everybody from Grandfather down to the kindergarten began to attend dancing classes. One figure quickly succeeded another, and before the awkward squad had learned to stumble through one style of steps, in might be informed that the same was going out of style.

Many people have a strong feeling against these modern dances, believing that they incite young people to rough and unmannerly conduct. But that is more because of the temperament of the people than anything inherent in the steps.

If well done, the fox trots and tangos of the present day are very pretty and full of a variety that keeps the dancing crowd more interested than ever before. But awkward folks find that they have more feet than they know what to do with, and the girls have to clean many hoof prints off their white shoes the next day.

The French scientists who have enabled the blind to see through the skin ought to try their plan on some gullible Americans who can't see through a skin game.

THE COURSE OF PRICES

Some financial authorities predict higher prices, perhaps rising well toward the peak of 1920. But the public groans as it looks back to that high stepping period. It realizes from various aches and bruises that the joy riding of that time landed the country in the ditch.

Perhaps the farmers, who had to take extremely drastic deflation, are entitled to some further recovery in their returns from certain staples. If they can get it through better delivery systems, rather than by taxing the consumer, everybody will be better off.

High prices check trade. There are always people whose incomes can't keep pace with increases in living costs. Millions of these folks declared a buyer's strike in 1920. The profiteering elements learned that while the American consumer has a very broad back, there are limits to his endurance. Load him too heavy, and he grits his teeth and sets his feet into the ground with a balky and wicked look in his eye.

The high prices of 1920 were caused by public extravagance, high cost of production, and the profiteering spirit. When a producer finds the people shouting for his highest priced stuff faster than he can shove it out of his factory, he would have to be almost an angel not to tack on a little additional percentage as a means of calming the popular excitement.

If the prices of 1920 are repeated in 1923, the depression of 1921 will probably recur in 1924. But the folks who had to sell their diamonds and fur coats in order to buy soupbones, have thought a few thoughts since that time, which tend to promote a certain degree of useful caution.

The business community should do its best to keep prices reasonable. The public can help. One way in this community is to watch the advertising in the Ochiltree County Herald and keep an eye on the merchants that announce special bargains. They are good folks to trade with, and they help keep the business machine running normally by a policy of quick sales and small profits.

WHAT OF THE MIDDLEMAN?

We hear much these days about eliminating the middleman, and about the spread between the producer and the consumer, and much false reasoning has been applied to this newest and sweetest morsel of would-be human godfathers.

Permit us to announce boldly that you add to the spread you harm one but you give impetus and volume to the stream of human wealth which every individual of some degree can drink greater and greater draughts, and as you add "middlemen" you increase efficiency and produce a higher and ever increasing civilization.

The savage, the nomad, had no middleman, but as his supply of grass became scarce, he moved on to more inviting fields. The first step in human progress was the discovery that man could have his fellow transport to him some of his commodities which he could exchange his own surplus, thus taking, through barter, the first great stride from ignorance and superstition and peonage toward enlightenment and plenty.

The ancient cobbler tanned his hides, prepared his own wooden pegs, simple thread, and made the shoe; in those days few wore shoes and the streets were never paved!

In the memory of man the wheat was cut with the hand-cradle, threshed by the tromping of horses, and milled on a water-mill, but few had flour at all then, and most of them only for breakfast Sunday mornings. With simple hand tools a family on the farm can produce more than the needs of five families, while with the present method and improved tools he can produce enough for 20 families.

To get this to the other 19 families you must be employed. Just as the shoe you wear today is the product of dozens of workmen, each of whom has his specific thing to the shoe, so all lines.

Today many hands touch the pound of sugar before it gets to your table, and it costs you less than in those days when the simple process of refining was in the hands of just a few, and the spread from producer to consumer was negligible, and all have sugar today whereas in those days boys stole sugar lumps because it was so scarce that mother could not permit generous use of same.

Let me now assert that there are no middlemen, there are no producers, there are no consumers—as such; for the sugar is not produced until it is on the table ready for your morning oatmeal, the shoe is not produced until sold and on the foot of the wearer, cotton isn't produced until it is on the back of the wearer. We are all producers, from the man who receives the raw material from the earth to the man who uses it; we are all consumers from the man who eats his simple bread, water and meat to the man who tastes of the most pleasant delicacies of life.

The cotton in the hand of the farmer is worthless. It must pass through the many processes of transformation, transportation and distribution until it reaches the man who will use it before it is produced, and every man, broker, banker, brakeman, stocker, shirtmaker, or what not, who has anything to do with these processes, is a producer, a middleman, if you please!

What of the middleman? What of the producer? What of the consumer?

These are only relative terms and every human being falls under each classification. Then it is not a classifying of human beings; it is an effort to catalogue results!

Give us more spread. Give us more middlemen! for it means cheaper consumptive prices and higher returns to all!

McQuiddy are Defendants, and being a suit to foreclose a deed of trust lien on Sections Numbers 636, 581, 582, 583, 650, 651, 670, 671, and the West 1/4 and the Southeast 1/4 of Section number 561, all in Block 43, H. & T.C.Ry.Co., Ochiltree County, Texas, given by T. V. Ellzey and Callie Ellzey, individually and as community administratrix of the estate of Frank T. Ellzey, deceased, to secure the payment of a promissory note for the sum of $5,369.32, dated September 1, 1922, due November 1, 1922, bearing interest at ten per cent per annum, and providing for ten per cent attorney fees, payable to Eli P. Clark or order at Canadian, Texas, said Deed of Trust made to Hugh Mackie, Trustee for Eli P. Clark; alleging that said note evidences an indebtedness for a loan made by Eli P. Clark, plaintiff, to said Ellzeys with which to pay the annual interest and appurtenant charges for two years on a loan of $32,000.00, made by the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, and alleging the transfer and assignment by said Southwestern Life Insurance Company to Plaintiff of the interest coupons attached to said $32,000.00 note and an assignment of the lien securing same subject to the first lien in favor of Southwestern Life Insurance Company; alleging that plaintiff paid said interest to said Southwestern Life Insurance Company, also court costs and attorneys fees accrued by reason of suit on same, took an assignment of same, and renewed and extended the same by the note sued upon in this suit; alleging that all other defendants named are claiming some sort of lien or interest in or to said real estate, the exact nature of which is to him unknown, but that said lien or interest is subordinate to plaintiff's lien and inferior to it, and he joins them to bar their interest or equity of redemption.

Plaintiff prays for citation, for judgment for his debt, for foreclosure of Deed of Trust Lien against said real estate, and for decree establishing his lien as superior to the liens or interest of all other defendants for general relief.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at Office in Canadian, Texas, this the 19th day of April, 1923.

H. C. COFFEE LAND COMPANY IS IN NEW LOCATION

The H. C. Coffee Land and Investment Company have moved their offices from the Farmers and Stockmen State Bank building to the rooms on Main Street formerly occupied by the Thompson Tailor Shop. The new quarters are much larger and are in a more public location.

This firm has taken an active part in the development of the Perryton Oil field, and their efforts have had much to do with the drilling of the Empire well.

WHAT OF RADIO IN FUTURE

Already it reaches ships in any part of the ocean, the isolated farm can listen to music and lectures in the cities. Medical advice has been sent my radio where it was impossible to reach a patient by other means. Information is broadcasted to the farmer on crop and weather conditions. Fire warnings have been sent out and the way of the crook will be made harder through ability to broadcast a record of his activities to every community in the land.

The future possibilities of radio are inconceivable. Various principles which will make it more applicable to business and social life are just being worked out. The supreme inventive genius of the country, the greatest organizing ability and the most powerful resources are now at the service of the new art, with the result that radio has made greater strides in the past two years than in the ten years previous.

No other nation has such a combination of air communication resources for the benefit of its people.

Among the Perryton people who attended the Adobe Walls picnic on Thursday and Friday of last week were Chas. W. Callaway and family, R. T. Correll and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Grigsby, Ray Nelson and family, E. L. Phippo and family, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hitchcock.

E. D. Dague, Examiner for the Monarch Land and Loan Co., of Wichita, Kansas, who has been making his headquarters here in Perryton for the past several months has been transferred to the Enid, Oklahoma territory.

Will You Finish this Year With a Profit?

THERE is a way to beat high production costs and low selling prices. Hundreds of farms, right now, are being boosted out of the non-paying class by Allis-Chalmers perfected tractors. Your farm, too, will produce more at less expense if you farm with Allis-Chalmers power. From the rush of early spring plowing to winter's last belt job, an Allis-Chalmers tractor will everlastingly open new sources of profit. Plowing, discing, harrowing, seeding, harvesting, threshing, silo filling, feed grinding, shredding—you can do about everything with this machine.

Over-Powered Valve-in-Head Motor

Allis-Chalmers engineers made the most of valve-in-head construction in designing their powerful motor. In many tests A-C tractors have actually developed and maintained a power surplus of over 25 per cent.

Naturally, an Allis-Chalmers tractor—working easily and able to draw on its tremendous reserve—will outlast the tractor that must be pushed to the limit to do the work at all.

Quick Accessibility to Every Part

Though enclosed, as protection against dust, mud and rain, every Allis-Chalmers working part is almost immediately accessible. Removal of two side inspection plates gives full view of crankcase; clutch shoes can be taken out for re-lining in 15 minutes; spokes of guide and drive wheels are riveted both to hub and rim, thus permitting individual replacement of any damaged spoke; entire transmission is exposed by simply removing an openly located inspection plate.

Come in for a demonstration. Let us show the Allis-Chalmers model best suited for your work.

VALUE OF A COUNTY AGENT

(By Carl Williams, Editor of The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.)

For many years the government has been conducting what it calls "demonstration work" among farmers. A federal government appropriation is matched with an appropriation by the state legislature, and then the county commissioners make an additional appropriation. The joint fund is then used to hire a "county demonstration agent," and, if there is enough money, a woman agent is also employed.

For many years Oklahoma has been a leader among the states in the number of county agents thus employed. Out of the 77 counties about 70 have usually found need for such a man. His employment has always been a bone of contention. His salary is paid by taxation and out of public funds. In every county there have always been men to say that such work is useless, that it is just another graft on the pockets of the people, and that the county agent never does anything except lay around the court house and occasionally exercise the tin lizzie in the direction of a farmers' picnic or a good chicken dinner. When the economy spirit hits the county commissioners they usually begin on the county agent.

When this kind of thing happens the commissioners frequently get away with it because they hear no howls of protest from the farm folks. Now, some county agents ought to be fired; but if the farm folks really knew how much the average county agent is doing to advance farm prosperity in the neighborhood, and how little he costs in proportion to his value, they would storm the court house until the commissioners got right.

Well, here's the record of one agent for the year 1922. He is J. W. Guin of Lincoln county. Guin has been on the job over there about six years, and he has therefore had time to study the county and its agricultural problems. It takes a county agent about a year to find out enough about the county in which he is working so he can properly apply his agricultural knowledge to the county's problems.

Guin operates under a committee of farmers, five from the union, five from the cotton growers, five from the livestock association and three from the county fair association. The committee studies the county with Guin and tells him what to do.

Last year Guin conducted four experiments on upland corn with legumes; two rows of corn to one of cowpeas or peanuts. Not counting the hay nor the fertility value of the legume, the increased grain value produced by alternating rows ran from $8.37 to $31.17 per acre and in every case more corn was made than in every-row corn plots right alongside the tests. We've heard that this was so; but here is the real test right at home and the work was done by farmers whom everybody knows.

Then there was the corn breeding demonstration held on sandy loam bottom farms. Fifty of the best ears from 300 bushels were picked for one test and 20 of the best ears out of three bushels of selected seed corn for the other. Yet the actual yields of these selected ears of corn, all treated just alike in the field, ran all the way from 29 bushels per acre to 81 bushels per acre. No farmer could see these tests without believing that the acre yield can be improved by proper seed selections.

There were five demonstrations with Hubam and other sweet clovers, the farmers concerned learning that Hubam is a fine seed and honey producer, but less valuable than the white diennial for hay or pasture. Chinch bugs ate up the bromo grass. Japanese clover is making a very satisfactory supplement to native grasses. Sweet clover is the best pasture builder. Aren't these things worth knowing? Spraying demonstrations were held in many orchards and the quality of fruit produced showed that the work is worth while. A real method of killing peach borers was tried out successfully. Much terracing work was done to save the soil. Variety tests of corn, cotton and kaffirs were started, but these must be continued for a number of years to get final facts.

Four calves out of purebred sires and one out of a scrub sire were fed the same amounts of the same feeds for nine months from birth. At the end of that time the smallest purebred weighed 50 pounds more than the scrub and the largest weighed 140 pounds more than the scrub. Many feeding demonstrations with cattle and hogs were supervised. Work was begun toward getting a purebred dairy bull accessible to every dairy farmer in the county. More than 40 per cent of the agent's total time was put in on the boys' and girls' club work with 500 members and 1,000 activities. More than 600 exhibits were made by these boys and girls at the fairs and they generally beat their dads in competition for the prizes.

"In addition to this," says the county committee, the agent shall co-operate with commodity marketing associations for the marketing of farm crops and shall assist any general farm organization that will function as an overhead association of the commodity marketing associations or for the improving of the agricultural and educational conditions in the county. He shall also organize the livestock shippers, conduct poultry demonstrations, help with the county and township fairs and, if he has any time left, assist in the eradication of livestock and plant diseases and pests, compile all records."

Yes, the county agent in the average county can show much the same sort of record. Is he worth while?

My own opinion, publicly expressed, is that the tax money spent for a county agent brings more real value than that which goes for any other purpose.

In your business you surround yourself with those things that save your time and facilitate your output.

Give your wife the same opportunity. Call it a necessity or luxury—there is nothing that will give so much all-round pleasure and general benefit to your family that is so near the reach of your purse as a modern, up-to-the-minute bath room and a SINK IN YOUR KITCHEN.

A BLESSING IN DISGUISE

Governor Smith's approval of the repeal of the Mullen-Gage prohibition enforcement law in New York is not the calamity many may think it to be. To our mind it will prove to be a blessing in disguise. Since the passage of the 18th amendment altogether too many friends of prohibition have been wont to think the victory won and the war on rum ended. This act of Governor Smith will serve to shock these people into a realization of the fact that the real fight has only begun. When the friends of prohibition in the country put on their armor and go forth to battle there can be no room for doubt as to what will be the issue. Governor Smith's act in approving the repeal is going to re-ignite again the fires of enthusiasm and consecration that placed the 18th amendment in the constitution.

It is a notorious fact that the enforcement of the prohibition laws has been lax. Its enforcement has been attended with unlimited corruption of enforcement officials. The strictures of Governor Smith on this phase of the question cannot do otherwise than sting into the renewed determination the national authorities responsible for the enforcement of the law. Instead of the New York repeal sounding the knell of prohibition, it will prove simply the tocsin of war calling to arms its friends. The American people are too patriotic and too intelligent, having set their face for so beneficent a condition of things as that produced by prohibition, ever to turn back to the wastefulness, pauperism and crime that flow from the intoxicating cup.

UNION

We had fine rains out here Monday and Tuesday. Everything just looks fine after the rains.

Miss Arlean Pattison was a visitor of Miss Pauline Ollenborger, Sunday. Mr. Waterbury preached at the Gray church Sunday night, and is going to preach every night this week.

Pauline Ollenborger, Ethel Pittman Arlean Pattison and Mr. Pattison went to Perryton Monday afternoon. They had baptizing near Gray Sunday afternoon.

Rhbel Pittman was a visitor of Velma Padget, Saturday night. Pauline Ollenborger visited Arlean Pattison Sunday night and all day Monday.

Mrs. Jim Pattison, who was taken to Oklahoma City to be operated on is reported to be improving slowly. We hope she will be able to return home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Pattison, Arlean Pattison and Pauline Ollenborger attended the meeting at Gray Sunday night.

Helen Pittman visited Bessie Johnston Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Rieswig were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ollenborger Monday evening.

GIVE THIS A THOUGHT

Every morning when we wake up now, the sun is shining, and birds are chirping a welcome to the new-born day. Why not fall in line—arise and shine—smile and pe k up at the call of this delightful spring. If we want to grunt and moan, of course we can do it, but the sun will shine just the same for those who have enough sense to enjoy it. Old Dame Nature has fixed things up so that there's no chance for the fellow who keeps out of step putting the whole procession on the blink. You might just as well bow to that old dame and march along.
