Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

James C. Watson, Oil Editor

Champlin Indicates Andrews Discovery

Champlin Refining Company No. 1-F University, slated 10,200-foot wildcat in Central-Southwest Andrews County, 20 miles southwest of the town of Andrews, has indicated the discovery of flowing oil production from the Clear Fork-Permian, in an undeveloped region.

This prospector ran a drillstem test at 7,104-7,275 feet. The tool was open for two hours and 15 minutes.

Gas appeared at the surface in 12 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

The drill pipe unloaded 43 stands of oil and 21 stands of salt water. The exploration is now making hole below 7,840 feet in lime, with no shows of oil or gas.

This venture is in the area between the Block 12 field, and the recent discovery from the Devonian made at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 12 J. E. Parker.

The Champlin project is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 34, block 12, University survey.

It is going on down to try to locate and test the Ellenburger. Top of the Clear Fork was called at 5,930 feet, on an elevation of 3,319 feet.

Wildcat In Andrews Spotted By Skelly

Skelly Oil Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start operations at once on a 3,200-foot wildcat in Central-Southwest Andrews County.

This exploration is located 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 34, block 12, University survey. That puts the venture about one mile northwest of the Champlin No. 1-F University, which has shown for a possible discovery from the Clear Fork, and is now making hole under 7,840 feet in lime.

The Skelly project is to try to locate and develop production from the Yates sandy lime.

That formation is producing gas one and three-quarter miles to the north at The Texas Company No. 2-T Texas, which is on the south side of the Block 12 field, and at the center of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 22, block 12, University survey.

Jesse A. Rogers New President Of MGS

Jesse A. Rogers, The Texas Company, is the new president of the Midland Geological Society.

He was elected at a business meeting of the society held Tuesday at a luncheon in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Rogers succeeds W. (Henry) Conkling, of Sun Oil Company, as president of the MGS.

Other officers selected include: W. T. (Bill) Schneider, of Honolulu Oil Corporation, vice president; R. F. (Bob) Meyers, Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., secretary-treasurer, and F. H. McGuigan, Lion Oil Company, program chairman.

Retiring officer, besides Conkling, were Clark S. Steinberger, of United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Company, vice president; A. E. (Ed) Pettit, Cooperative Refinery Association, secretary-treasurer, and E. Russell Lloyd, consulting geologist, program chairman.

The new officers will take over at the next meeting of the organization, to be held October 12.

DST Unsatisfactory At Midland Venture

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Wilson Bryant, 14 miles south of the city of Midland, in Central Midland County, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 36, block 39, TP survey, T-3-S, tried a drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 13,186-246 feet.

The tester was open one and one half hours. When operator started out of the hole it was found that the packer had slipped.

The drill pipe was being pulled at last report and no information was available regarding any fluid that might have been recovered during the investigation.

It is understood that operator plans to make another attempt to get a test on approximately the same zone, before drilling deeper

Wilshire To Acidize A Higher Section

Wilshire Oil Company No. 1 McElroy, West-Central Upton County possible wildcat discovery from the lower Permian, re-treated the intervals at 9,650-9,700 feet and at 9,715-50 feet, with 2,000 gallons of acid.

The project swabbed dry after that treatment. A bridging plug was then set at 8,040 feet, and the zone at 7,800-8,000 feet was perforated.

That section swabbed dry natural. Operator then re-perforated at 7,882-7,930 feet, and at 7,940-70 feet, with four holes to the foot, and was preparing to acidize and test.

This exploration is five miles east of the shallow McElroy field, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 148, block E, CCSD&RGNG survey.

E-C Crane Venture Gets Slight Shows

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Jax Cowden, East-Central Crane County prospector, six and one-half miles west of the town of Crane, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 58, block X, CCSD&RGNG survey, took a two hour drillstem test in an unidentified lime at 6,420-64 feet.

There was a weak blow of air

By MAX B. SKELTON

ALICE, TEXAS —(AP)— A special federal investigator Wednesday summoned a locksmith to a hearing here to open nine Jim Wells County ballot boxes from the second Democratic primary election after keys to the locked boxes were declared to be "unavailable."

W. R. Smith, Jr., a special master named by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of the North Texas District to investigate voting here in the U. S. Senate race between Lyndon B. Johnson and Coke R. Eight other boxes were opened Wednesday. One was empty. The others did not contain poll lists and tally sheets missing from Precinct 13, a precinct where Stevenson charges fraud occurred.

One of the boxes opened, Precinct 9, contained a typed poll tax list

New Tension Points Develop In Berlin

BERLIN—(AP)—Nine Soviet fighter planes dangerously buzzed two American supply planes in a Soviet zone air corridor Wednesday U. S. authorities announced.

The planes were flying supplies to Soviet-blockaded Berlin from the Western zones.

American air officials said they were transmitting a written protest to the Russians, charging violation of air safety regulations and demanding remedial action.

Another potential point of tension developed aground. Berlin police said about 25 Germans allegedly consigned to forced labor in Russian-operated uranium mines in Saxony made a daring escape Tuesday night.

The prisoners made their dash for freedom while the train in which they were riding was passing through the British sector of Berlin, the police said.

Full details of the escape were not disclosed. A British spokesman said the Germans who fled now are in the custody of West Berlin police and are being interrogated.

City Tax Valuations Pass $19,000,000

The taxable valuation of the City of Midland for 1948 totals $19,036,425, a record high and almost $3,000,000 more than last year's total of $16,065,000, according to a tax valuation statement approved Tuesday night by the City Council. The statement was submitted by the Tax Department of which W. I. Pratt is assessor-collector.

Real property valuations amount to $14,236,725, and personal valuations, $4,799,700.

With a $1.80 per $100 valuation tax levy, 100 per cent tax collections would amount to $342,255.65. The tax rate this year was increased to $1.80 to meet interest and sinking fund requirements of last year's $1,265,000 bond issue.

A resolution was adopted favoring the contemplated addition by the Texas and Pacific Railway Company of two additional trains through Midland on an experimental basis, and pledging not to oppose removal of the extra trains if the experiment proves financially unsuccessful. The resolution was similar to the one adopted Saturday by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

A sub-division of Blocks, 3, 4, 9 and 10, Highland Park Addition, als was approved.

An application by Miss Laura Jesse for approval of a sub-division of the Harris Tract in Northeast Midland was tabled pending efforts by the city to obtain an alley through the adjoining property.

Dewey Promises To Lay Down Ideas On U. S. Foreign Policy

ENROUTE WITH DEWEY TO GREAT FALLS, MONT.—(AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey promised Wednesday to lay down at Salt Lake City Thursday night his up-to-the-minute ideas on American foreign policy.

Aides said the Republican nominee regards the international situation as so critical he is holding his campaign speech open for possible major last-hour revisions.

These may come as the result of communications with John Foster Dulles, his foreign affairs adviser, attending the United Nations meeting in Paris.

Dewey made it clear he intends to make some changes if he takes over next January. He has said he hopes to bring "a new competence" to this nation's dealing with other countries.

The Republican nominee hasn't spared the horses in criticizing the Yalta and Potsdam decisions. He said these "gave away territory and peoples" to the Russians, when the authors of those decisions had no right to do anything of the kind.

Backs Berlin Decisions

Although he charged the Administration with "wobbling" in its international policies, he has given complete backing to the bi-partisan American handling of the Berlin blockade question.

Dewey held out some hope in Missoula, Mont., Tuesday night for a settlement of the question.

Observing that the United States, Great Britain and France are "laboring mightily against great odds to bring about a peaceful settlement even at this late hour," the GOP nominee told a near-capacity crowd in the 7,000-seat University of Montana Stadium: "We will not compromise our principles. There is no peace in that, and we will not endanger our freedom.

"While there is hope, we will not relax our efforts to find common grounds of agreement, or cease to pray for just and peaceful solutions."

Air Force Grounds All F-84 Jet Planes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—All F-84 jet fighters have been grounded temporarily "pending investigation of recent accidents," it was announced Wednesday.

The Air Force made the announcement jointly with Republic Aviation Corporation which is producing 974 of the high speed fighters under current contracts.

Air Force officials declined to say what they think the trouble might be, pointing out that is the purpose of the inquiry. However, they noted there had been at least four crashes of F-84's recently, the latest September 18 at Dallas.

The Air Force has two or three groups already equipped with F-84s. It had planned to have at least 360 in operation by the end of this year.

The F-84 is rated in the 600-mile-an-hour class. Powered with a single jet engine, the fighter has a radius of more than 600 miles and climbs to about 40,000 feet.

M. R. Erickson Posts $1,000 Reward In Shooting Case

M. R. (Dick) Erickson Wednesday posted a $1,000 reward for information resulting in the arrest and final conviction of the person or persons guilty of shooting him here on the night of March 26, 1948.

Erickson, 31, then a scout here for the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company, was reading in his room at 1211 West Texas Street when a pistol bullet crashed through a window and pierced his left eye. The shooting occurred about 10:50 p. m.

He was rushed to the Western Clinic Hospital for medical attention, and later was moved by plane to the home of his mother in California. He lost the sight of the eye. Officers at the time said Erickson's life probably was saved by the timely arrival of another roomer at the home, Homer Stillwell, who called a physician and ambulance and aided in getting the injured man to the hospital. Erickson was alone in the house at the time of the shooting. Stillwell returned from a motion picture theater soon after Erickson was wounded.

Investigation Made

Erickson told officers he did not know of an enemy he had in the world, and asserted the person who fired the bullet shot the "wrong man."

An investigation was conducted, but no arrests were made. A man's footprint was found in the dirt under the window of Erickson's room, and officers made a cast of it. A woman resident of the neighborhood told officers she heard a shot and saw a man run down the alley. She said he was tall and slender and that he wore a dark suit and was bareheaded.

Stillwell said he heard a car drive away as he entered the house.

Officers said every possible clue was checked in an effort to apprehend the gunman.

Irrigation plans and problems were the principal topics of discussion at a meeting of Midland farmers, ranchers and district Soil Conservation Service officials at the S. O. Golladay farm 10 miles Southeast of Midland Tuesday afternoon.

The group inspected irrigation developments on the Golladay land, and the SCS representatives discussed various aspects of irrigation in this area. Large Attendance

Soil Conservation Service representatives at the meeting included A. E. Pittman, work unit conservationist, Stanton; E. J. Hughes, district conservationist, Big Spring; Jack Griffin, irrigation engineer, San Angelo; Ed Robnette farm and ranch planner, Stanton, and Lee Williamson, agricultural engineer, Big Spring.

UN President Says Crisis May Reach Full Assembly Body

By LOUIS NEVIN

PARIS—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France accused Russia before the bar of the United Nations Wednesday of menacing world peace with a blockade of Berlin, which has brought Germany's first city to the brink of economic ruin.

On the tenth anniversary of the Munich Pact which ignited the fuse of World War II, the three Western Powers told the UN in identical notes that the Soviet Union is bent upon driving them out of Berlin and bringing the city solely under Russian rule.

The notes were delivered to UN Secretary General Trygve Lie in the Palais Chaillot, scene of the UN Assembly session, shortly after 4 p. m.

From Moscow came an indication of what the Russian position may be. The authoritative New Times said the Western Powers, through violations of four-power agreements, have "exploded the legal basis which assured them the right of participation in the Berlin administration." It declared the appeal to the Security Council would fail.

Moscow Blames West

The paper blamed the West for the breakdown of the Moscow negotiations over Berlin.

"It is not a matter of chance that this was the chosen moment when the Assembly of the United Nations began work," New Times said. "Indeed, all this narrow-minded plan of Marshall-Bevin was timed ahead for this."

British sources said they did not believe the 11-nation Security Council will take action on the Western charges before Monday. It was noted that the Western notes did not request "urgent" action. The three government were said to wish to avoid an appearance of trying to stampede the UN into hurried disposition of the case.

The documents will not reach the members of the Security Council until Thursday. Three days generally elapse before the council meets on a non-urgent matter.

The three powers said they had tried without success to find a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis. They called the situation serious and blamed "the unilateral imposition by the government of the

Other Speakers

Friday's subject is "Keep Right," and the speakers will be Mrs. Chuck Houston, Mrs. Harold Hipps, Mrs. Charles Welch and Mrs. Teaff. Mrs. Hoyt Burris will present the devotional.

Chairmen Named At Beginning Of Year In High School P-TA

Committee chairmen to serve this year were named by Mrs. J. J. Black, president of the High School Parent-Teacher Association, at the group's first Fall meeting Tuesday night. Frank Monroe, superintendent of schools, was the speaker.

Mrs. Dixie Weaver was introduced as chairman of the carnival which the association will sponsor for Hallowe'en. Other chairmen designated were Mrs. W. C. Cartwright, yearbook; Mrs. E. W. Anguish, historian; Mrs. J. L. Daugherty, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. E. Throckmorton, Youth Center representative; Mrs. K. C. Slough, City Parent-Teacher Council representative; Mrs. W. W. Studdert, goals and Mrs. I. A. Searles, publicity.

Recommendations of the program committee, headed by Mrs. Waldo Leggett, were read. Reports were made by the membership committee, Mrs. W. A. Shaeffer, Mrs. Cal Boykin, Mrs. S. P. Hazlip and Mrs Throckmorton; the health chairman, Mrs. James H. Chapple, and the publications chairman, Mrs. L. C. Link.

Charles F. Mathews, high school principal, introduced the faculty Miss Elizabeth Cope, music instructor, sang two solos.

Good Education

Monroe's subject was "What Parents Want From the High School." He said that parents expect a good educational job, but this is interpreted in various ways since one group considers pre-college training most essential, some think vocational training paramount, while yet another group asks for rigid instruction in American history, or mathematics, or music.

He quoted studies made from records of the armed services which indicate weaknesses in our educational system including unwillingness of the individual to accept responsibility, lack of religious training and negligence of personal hygiene.

Monroe asked parents to do their part by instilling in their children four character points, initiative, resourcefulness, determination, and willingness; and to help their children by providing improved physical facilities, teaching them to live under the present world situation, and seeking to bring more flexibility into the school system.

Marshall Plan Has Its Effect

A reporter's fast question got a fast and interesting answer from Paul G. Hoffman at a press conference the other day. Any Marshall Plan country that sets up a Fascist government, the ECA director said, would be refused American aid as surely as if the Communist had taken control. He added, in response to another pointed question, that he "most certainly" did not consider General de Gaulle a Fascist.

Yet the reporter could scarcely have been thinking of any person but General de Gaulle or any country but France when he put the query. And in spite of Hoffman's emphatic exclusion of de Gaulle from the Fascist category, his statement is not likely to escape the French government's notice.

It may strengthen the moderate parties' determination to make the new Queuille government work. It also may make French unions and government workers more willing to endure their hardships a little longer and work for recovery.

France is economically sick, and the illness has infected the body politic. But the cure must also be economic. Whoever leads the government must carry out a program of "sacrifice and discipline," as Queuille put it. But whether that leadership will be democratic or dictatorial must still be determined.

General de Gaulle can be called a Fascist only by the loosest definition. He did not have a strong party and an absolute majority when he headed the government. But he has a strong party now, and he claims that new elections would give him the majority he seeks to "assure the destiny of the country." And the tenor of his public statements give the definite feeling that he has a "strong man" complex.

He contends that the center parties' refusal to hold new elections is prolonging the crisis. And certainly the rapid rise and fall of cabinets offer neither stability nor a workable recovery program. But the question is whether it would not prolong the crisis even further to start the machinery of a general election whose outcome might add a violent political crisis to the present economic and financial troubles.

An impatient France, voting in its present mood, might put either the Communists or de Gaulle in power. If either triumphed the opposition would almost surely be drawn to the other side. Political moderation would disappear, and democratic government might follow it. This would be the certain outcome of a Communist victory. But there is no assurance that France would escape it under the de Gaulle party, which wants a new constitution with strong centralized power for the chief executive.

If this were the case then, according to Hoffman, American aid would be refused. The ECA head may have been speaking on his own, and without present legal authority. But there is no reason to think that he is bluffing.

Queuille has said that France is living off the Marshall Plan now, and that this cannot last. True enough. But while it lasts France certainly needs the Marshall Plan. The threat of losing it may give the French people and their government a good reason for increasing their efforts to solve their problems without risking the possible loss of their political freedom.

Incentive

A Pennsylvania prison is offering its inmates overtime pay in an effort to get the prison's tomato crop harvested in time. If that doesn't work, the authorities might book in a few political speakers—and offer a bonus of eggs.

Some girls make poor bridge players. They just hate to return a diamond.

Doctor's Training Takes Years But Calling Has It Rewards

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Why so many people think they want to be physicians is something of a mystery. Even though many change their minds for one reason or another, there are still many more qualified applicants for medical schools in this country each year than there are available places which provide proper teaching.

The budding physician must go through a lot before he can have the doubtful pleasure of working 15 hours a day or so, getting out of a warm bed at 3 o'clock in the morning on a cold Winter night, and suffering the discouraging experiences of not being able to help all of those who seek his assistance.

Long Schooling

It takes about 20 years of regular school work to make a doctor: there are eight years of grade school, four years high school, four years college, and four years of medical school.

At least a year of internship in a hospital generally is required. The specialist has still farther to go. In most cases, after the internship, he needs at least three or four years more in which to qualify himself as a specialist in one of the major fields, such as the eye, the skin, surgery, or internal medicine. Almost every specialist, therefore, must be over 30 years old before he even begins his practice—and, of course, many years more are usually needed to build up a good practice.

Indeed the road of the well-trained physician is not easy. Why then do so many seek it? There is, of course, something dramatic, particularly in certain fields of surgery. There is also the feeling of being needed and the deep-seated pleasure of being able to relieve pain and even sometimes to save life. Society rewards the physician by giving him or her in most cases a pretty good living during the years of practice. Few physicians die rich, but in comparison with other fields they are well treated by society even though the road has been long and costly.

THE STORY: Don Jose, young officer in a fashionable Spanish regiment, has just come to Seville from the countryside of Navarre. He is given 48 hours leave to familiarise himself with the city. Idling on a street corner, trying to make up his mind where to go next, he is startled by a piece of orange peel flung at his feet. He looks up. Seated on a wall above him is an extraordinarily dressed young woman of almost sinful beauty. She flirts with Jose until a little wedding party comes down the street, when she breaks into a noisy tirade, blasting both bride and groom. The groom had been her former sweetheart. After the procession disappears, she quiets down, asks Jose to help her from the wall. He does so, then stoops to pick up some oranges she has dropped. When he looks up, the gypsy girl is gone.

III

DON JOSE was on duty in the square with another young soldier. The bells rang above them and they turned expectantly.

The great doors of the cigaret factory next to the barracks opened and a stream of girls came out and went past. The yellow coats of many regimentals dotted and blocked the way in every direction. Chattering girls joined grinning soldiers and they wheeled off in pairs together. But Don Jose and his companion remained where they were. They seemed to be searching for someone.

"I hope you find who you are looking for, Jose."

"You have me wrong, Andres. I'm not looking for anybody."

"You don't fool me. I've noticed you for two days now. You search among these girls as though you were looking for a long lost relative." Andres grinned and slapped Jose roughly on the back. "Did the gypsies carry off your baby sister many years ago?"

"Why do you use that word?"

"What word?"

"Gypsy. You said gypsy."

"I did, yes."

Don Jose did his best to look casual. "I suppose there are quite a number in the town."

"Gypsies? I suppose so. They're everywhere. Why?"

"No reason. Do any of the gypsy girls work in the factory?"

Andres turned to look at him squarely and his tone changed oddly. "One." Then suddenly his voice lost its hardness and became miserable. "Just one. But she comes and goes. One never knows." He sighed, remembering something. "What time is it?"

Don Jose reached for his watch, but took his hand away from his pocket, empty. He spoke awkwardly, remembering something. "I don't know, Andres. I lost my watch somewhere—a couple of days ago."

But Andres was no longer interested in the time. His face had lighted up and he started forward eagerly. "Hola! Carmencita!"

WALKING along with the thinning crowd of girls came the gypsy girl, her hands on her hips, her eyes bold and alert. Her bright costume, the same as when Don Jose had seen her last, contrasted sharply with the somber black dresses of the others. Andres ran toward her.

"Carmen, I have looked for you for two days. I—" He tried to put an arm around her waist but she shook free of him, her eyes fixed on the man beyond him. Don Jose stared just as intently at her.

Andres, clearly a love-sick man, did not see this for the moment but tagged along with Carmen, walking sideways, watching her face, speaking eagerly and rapidly, while she ignored every word he uttered. "I've been trying to find you for two days, Carmencita! I looked for you everywhere. You weren't at the factory—you weren't at Lillas Pastia's." Andres rattled on, not even noticing that they had reached Don Jose.

"Where have you been? What have you been doing?"

Carmen looked up into Jose's face. "Sunning myself."

Jose, inexplicably happy, smiled down at her.

Andres said, "I am on duty now but if you will meet me later, we will have a bottle of wine—"

"No."

AT last Andres could not help but notice Jose and the girl's concentration on him.

"Oh, forgive me. This is my friend Don Jose—Carmen." He laughed, a little uneasily, at Carmen's steady regard of his friend. "No use bothering with him, Carmen. Don Jose has better things to think about than a pretty woman."

Carmen put her beautiful red head to one side.

"Better things? What are those better things?"

Don Jose flushed, feeling stupid and uncomfortable.

Andres put his hand on Jose's shoulder.

"Forget it, Carmen. My friend here is only interested in his career as a soldier. Everyone knows that. Eh, Jose?"

Before the embarrassed boy could answer, Andres suddenly stood to attention, looking beyond them. The other two followed his glance and Don Jose also became a soldier on guard duty. The colonel and three aides walked by.

The colonel was resplendent as a peacock in his gaudy uniform topped by an elegant plumed helmet. He looked official and important. His pace slowed as he approached the group in the doorway and he inspected Carmen as though she were a priceless painting which he later intended to sketch from memory.

Carmen smiled impudently into the officer's face. She lowered her eyes to give him the full benefit of her eyelashes. She glanced up at him sideways.

After looking to see who was with her, the colonel moved on into the barracks without a flicker of expression on his heavy face.

His aides exchanged a quick, meaningful grimace as they followed him.

Taxpayer Is Hooked Twice In Some Parity Price Cases

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Peter Edson is on vacation)

WASHINGTON—With history's greatest grain harvest in the offing for America and with record crops predicted for other farm products, U. S. citizens can look for little relief from high grocery bills. History's greatest demand for these crops, the increased cost of food processing and the government's highly controversial price support program must divide responsibility for this paradox.

There are relatively few foods which are pegged at an inflexible high price today solely because of the price support program. But they are basic foods which affect other food prices. And there is a fair list of non-food farm products which are being kept much higher than they would normally be without an artificial support.

Potatoes are probably the most notorious food items kept unreasonably high by the support program. The government has already spent close to $30,000,000 buying 20,000,000 bushels of them.

In some instances the consumer takes a double licking on potatoes. The government in many areas is buying only the best grade. This has had the effect of sending inferior potatoes to the grocery stores, but at no cheaper price.

Won't Cut Price

The expected record corn crop will have little immediate effect on the price. Corn prices are highly influential on future meat and poultry prices even though corn as such is not an important table food. It is estimated that the government will loan farmers about $480,000,000 on 300,000,000 bushels to insure that the price doesn't fall below a certain point. This is the way the program works:

Just before the crop is harvested, the support price is announced. This is fixed by law at 90 per cent of the parity price. A farmer can then borrow money from the government on his estimated crop at the support price. If the market price proves to be higher than the loan price, the farmer sells his corn himself and pays the government back. If the market reaches the loan price, the farmer merely turns the crop over to the government for the loan.

On this year's huge wheat crop it is expected that about 300,000,000 bushels will be put under loan. This will require an outlay of $600,000,000. The price of wheat has dropped almost a dollar a bushel from its previous high. The price of bread, however, hasn't dropped.

Last August when the farmer was getting $2.10 a bushel for wheat, bread was selling for an average of 12.5 cents a pound. In January, when the farmer was getting $2.81, bread rose to 13.8 cents. In July, with wheat at $2.03, bread inched to an average of 13.9 cents.

Eggs In Special Category

The price of eggs is in a special category inasmuch as they aren't immediately affected by the big harvests. The national average retail price for eggs is 70.5 cents a dozen. A support program in the middle west is buying eggs for drying at 35 cents a dozen.

Foods of lesser importance to the family pocketbook which are being bolstered by price support include peanuts, soy beans, barley, oats, rye, sugar beets and a few others. The important non-food list of farm products supported include cotton, wool, tobacco, turpentine and rosin and flaxseed.

The cotton support program is one of the most controversial. A special act of Congress permits support up to 92 1/2 per cent of parity, 2 1/2 per cent more than on any other crop. The average prewar price of cotton was about 10 1/2 cents a pound. The government is supporting it at 31 cents a pound.

The total operation of the price support program will involve an outlay of about $2,000,000,000. That, however, isn't the total cost to the taxpayer. On loans where the price doesn't drop to the support price, the government gets its money back. And even on the crops which the government has to take over, there isn't a total loss. They can be sold later under special conditions.

The Bureau of the Budget estimates that when everything is figured out, this year's price support program will have cost the taxpayer about $116,000,000.

Texas Leaders Can Lick Reds Says Birdwell

Colorful Publicist Advises Foundation To Fight Red Disease

Russell Birdwell, America's most distinguished public relations counsellor and publicity expert, on Wednesday in Dallas released for publication the first concrete program ever offered to curb and cure the disease of Communism.

Entitled "Where the Hell Are We Going!", Birdwell's realistic but inspirational document called on all Texas leaders to launch a foundation, with millions, if necessary, to study, attack and destroy Communism as Americans have dealt with other virulent diseases.

RUSSELL BIRDWELL

"The rugged, frontier-spirit of Texas can set a pace and an example which will save the world from the parasitic plague," said Birdwell, who was born in Coleman, Texas, and educated in the public schools of Dallas and the State University of Austin.

Birdwell returned to Dallas a few weeks ago in behalf of Eagle Air Freight, the great and expanding air cargo line, which through the initiative and drive of Victor C. Houser, famed financier and sculptor, is uniting Dallas and Los Angeles in over-night exchanges of each city's manufacturing and industrial output.

BIRDWELL'S SUCCESSES

In the years that Birdwell has been away from his home state he has achieved world-wide fame as a newspaper writer, author and public relations counsellor.

During the war in England he wrote the best-selling book, "Women in Battle Dress," in which he predicted the ignoble dethronement of Churchill and the establishment of socialism. He also authored "I Ring Doorbells," an autobiography of his newspaper days, which began in Dallas.

Birdwell, whose campaigns on "Gone With the Wind" and Howard Hughes' "The Outlaw," made them the biggest-money making films of all time, declared there is "only one account left in the country that is important."

"That account is to revitalize and dramatize, unashamedly, the magnificent story of free, democratic enterprise, and wipe out the stinking communistic mess that is being sewered across the land by Wallace and other betrayers of our way of life," declared the only American publicity man ever to handle a king.

Birdwell, who has been acclaimed by Life, Time, New Yorker, Newsweek, Coronet, Cosmopolitan and other national magazines as one of the nation's foremost public relations experts, is directing head of the public relations firm which bears his name, with headquarters in Rockefeller Center, New York City.

During the past fifteen years, Birdwell has become a figure of national importance in political thought and industrial progress through his public relations activities in behalf of Celotex Corporation, Certain-Teed Corporation, Linguaphone Institute of America, Jack Smith, the radio-singing star, and Smith's humanitarian program in behalf of the Foster Parents Plan for War Children, SAFE, the great American organization that fights Communism by "saving a friend in Europe" via food packages; and the fabulous French perfumes of Robert Piguet.

One of Birdwell's outstanding clients is the fabulously successful Richard Englander, of Dallas, pioneer manufacturer and designer of teen-age hats who is world famous for his Petite Chapeaux label.

PUBLICITY FOR CHINA

War activities of the colorful publicist, in addition to his work in England during the Blitz, included his assignment with Henry R. Luce, editor of Time, Life and Fortune, on behalf of United China Relief Fund.

Campaigning for good causes is not a new experience for Birdwell. At the height of the isolationist period Birdwell spent more than $30,000 advocating immediate war. On this occasion "Who's Who in the News" wrote of him:

"An ardent and vocal interventionist in World War II, Birdwell was described by The New York Daily News as 'the one-man campaigner for war.'"

"Who's Who" went on to say: "A prodigious worker himself, Birdwell has refused or canceled the accounts of individuals whom he considered social parasites or who had other characteristics which displeased him."

Birdwell has probably handled more glamorous personalities than any other man in the propaganda profession. In addition to King Carol, of Roumania, Birdwell has represented Howard Hughes, David O. Selznick, Clark Gable, Carole Lombard, Norma Shearer, Judy Canova, Jean Tennyson, Countess Mara, Loretta Young, Ronald Colman, Charles Boyer, Madeleine Carroll, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Hedy Lamarr, George Brent, Tyrone Power, Kate Smith, Lily Pons, Andre Kostelanetz, Ezio Pinza, Vivian Delle Chiesa, Mona Paulee, Judy Garland, Miriam Hopkins, Vivien Leigh, Laurence Olivier, Sir Alexander Korda, Marlene Dietrich and more than a score of others.

Birdwell is residing at the Loma Alto Hotel until Oct. 10, at which time he will move to The Stoneleigh Apartments, 2927 Maple.

WHERE THE HELL ARE WE GOING!

THIS is a document of alarm! Fasten your mental safety belts and get set for a crash-landing of straight talk and tragic fact. America is being swept—blindly, crazily, stupidly—into the Hell and chains of Communism. Mark this prediction and mark it well—although it can be too late.

Your country—my country—and the Empire which is Texas—will be under a Communistic government in twelve years, or less, if we keep rolling with the treacherous but clever punch that has all America reeling today in fear of what lies ahead.

Through its misguided youth, its disillusioned, the cynical, the unhappy, the frustrated, the crackpot, the twisted liberal and the warped intellectual, America is offering the Russian Kremlin the hope, the earlier-than-scheduled hope, of a tasty package which will be known as the last of the Democracies.

Russia's evil pattern of conquest runs ahead of Stalin's timetable. Traitors in every nation on earth have made, and are making, the Red design for world confiscation come true. Most of Europe is choked and chained. Since the beginning of World War II, one hundred million people in eleven once-free countries have been sucked into the Red oblivion. The rest of Europe, with England, can be taken by the Russians in ten days! But it will not happen in such a crude and impulsive manner. Germany, Italy and Japan played that way and lost.

Russia is playing for keeps! She is taking nations and peoples without firing a single shot. She is absorbing her "gifts" from the fools within Democracies who abused their rights of free thinking and free speech. As the "gifts" tumble toward the Kremlin mausoleum, Russia strikes out to "digest" the prizes. And the "digestion" is complete. Hitler failed to "digest" his bomb-torn victories and resistance groups and Democracies, then armed to fight, were able to regain the conquered lands. Russia's program calls for irrevocable digestion, disintegration and degradation. No word, no cry, no prayer, no hope will ever come again in our lifetime from any country that is innocently or wickedly or premeditatedly delivered into the red-stained claws of the Russian gangsters.

WITH fiendish cunning and the greatest propaganda machine the world has ever known, Russia has successfully launched its world-wide revolution.

The peak of that revolution is here! It is here in the United States. It is here in Texas. It is in our schools. It is in the parlor, the factory, the fields, in high public offices. It is on the street corner. It is on the screen, on the stage, in the lobbies, in books, the alleys, and it is underground. But it is here, and it is not only touching you and your associates and workers, but in twelve years or less, as the tide now rolls, it will wreck you and everything you have hoped for, dreamed for and fought for. Russia need no longer hope for a depression here. She doesn't need it, as the tide now rolls.

Men and women in high and strategic places from the school room to public office, are inculcating the youth with this diseased idea that was hatched in the diseased brains of Engel and Marx and Lenin and Stalin, the scavengers of indecency and Godlessness. And American Youth is becoming militantly regimented, alongside the unhappy, the frustrated, the cynical and the crackpot. Some day they will all vote together and, as the tide now rolls, the answer will be the beginning of the end for the country which was founded without fear and prospered without fear.

Now, fear rides the front pages and the tongues of the readers.

It is a lousy way for an American, a Texan, to live!

There will be no war with Russia as long as Russia believes her friends within the United States can some day, within a reasonable period of time, deliver this country into the "peaceful, brotherly orbit" of the Russian sphere.

War talk today is a smoke screen behind which peoples are operating in behalf of their own objectives. The Russian program of world triumph, completely successful thus far, does not call for war with the United States. More than a hundred years ago the architects of the Russian plan put forth their formula: Capitalism can not, must not be permitted in the new world of Communism. Thus, the strategists began inoculating the susceptible with an idea, a diseased idea, of anti-capitalism, anti-management, anti-free enterprise, anti-identity for the citizen.

Launching an idea is more deadly than launching a battleship or firing a gun. An idea can not be shot down, it can not be interned. An idea—no matter how evil—thrives on martyrdom equally with success.

TODAY, two ideas divide the world. Our idea of free and fair democratic play versus the Russian idea.

Dreamers and political branglers woo clouds and entice votes with lippy drool of One World.

We can never talk of One World until we have produced a Better World. The rest of the country, as well as the rest of the world, needs a dose and a lesson and an example of the frontier action and thinking and integrity which has made Texas the greatest state, the greatest land, the world has ever known.

Men and women, who call themselves Americans, betray their country daily by trying to shoot holes in our Democracy — the last great Democracy in a hostile and envious world — by pointing up flaws and inequities in the American way of life.

It is time for Americans to offer solutions, not criticisms, in keeping with the bidding of the Russian plotters.

The diseased idea is well entrenched within our borders. This idea is now cunningly fighting it out with our ideas. The diseased idea has a standard-bearer—and his name is Wallace. This is the man who held the second highest office in the land; the man who has repudiated the ideals and principles upon which he was elected, rendering a disservice to humanity everywhere. Every country in the world today has a Wallace—a communistic bat-boy, who dreams of bringing in the Red train ahead of schedule.

Don't sell Wallace short! He won't win in November, but he has already made greater gains than we thought could happen in a country such as ours. He can talk to just as many unhappy and disgruntled people as the next candidate, and he can, as the tide now rolls, travel just as far. Remember Hitler began by haranguing school children on street corners, and he was laughed at by the adults who felt their world was secure.

Wallace leads a crusade, an evil crusade, but, nevertheless, a crusade.

We have long since abandoned our crusade in behalf of Democracy. We accept it and yet fear engulfs us as we know we are rolling with a punch, without knowing where the punch will take us. We leave to dull and uninspired statisticians, or, unfortunately, smug business leaders, to cite the staggering figures of our growth and prosperity to prove why an unhappy person should be happy.

THE diseased Russian idea is not only within our gates; it is within our homes and our government. It is the most fatal and universal disease the world has ever encountered.

What are we going to do about it?

What do we do with any other disease—cancer, polio, heart trouble?

We do not ignore the disease. We face it realistically and set to the task of isolating and finding a cure—as we have found cures for countless diseases.

We establish a clinic, a laboratory, where trained minds spend their lives, if necessary, in eliminating or arresting a disease that threatens the lives of our fellow-citizens.

Communism is as simple and as evil as that.

It is a disease. It is a germ-laden, diseased idea, fostered and promulgated through the art of propaganda—a disease that, overnight, wipes out all initiative, all enterprise, all identity.

As we face the most diabolical disease that has ever spread around the world, are we going to do less than attack it as we would any lesser disease?

As a propagandist, in a land where we have used propaganda to sell goods and good ideas, I suggest and propose that men and women of Texas, with the courage and vision of Davy Crockett, found a research clinic for the purpose of studying, fighting, isolating and destroying Communism. In no other state, in no other land is Communism being fought for what it is—a disease. Rockefeller started the foundation to fight cancer, and other great men and women have sponsored other clinics and foundations to fight and conquer other diseases.

No man, no woman today knows the answer that will stop Communism, or, surely, they would speak up.

But there is an answer! And we shall have it before it is too late.

Here in Texas, where men and women of Texas, have built with their own hands and brains the most fabulous and happiest land in the world, we can find the answer to the Communistic jerk known as Stalin.

Fort Worth's Cats Beat Tulsa 4-0 For Texas League Title

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Fort Worth was "in" Wednesday as Texas League champion.

The regular season winner sacked up the playoff title Tuesday night with a 4-0 victory over Tulsa.

The victory gave the Cats, who eliminated Shreveport in the first round of the playoff, the final series, four games to two.

Dwain Sloat scattered six Tulsa hits and his mates backed him up by bunching seven blows, including home runs by Manager Bobby Bragan and George Schmees.

Bragan's circuit clout came in the second with one man on base and Schmees hit one over the fence in the third.

All of Fort Worth's victories over Tulsa, second in the regular season race, were shutouts.

Harry Perkowski pitched both of Tulsa's victories in the series and Mike Schultz worked a fourteen inning 3-3 tie between the two teams.

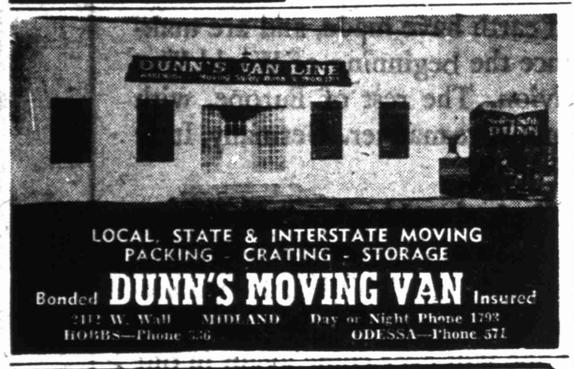

Fort Worth will await the outcome of the Southern Association before leaving either for Nashville or Birmingham for the Dixie Series.

A sight you don't want to miss will be unreeled at the football game Friday night in Memorial Stadium as an added attraction.

There you can see "the system" at work upon which Midland is depending for better football fortunes.

More than 300 youngsters in full uniform will cavort for you and will show you that Midland plans to go into high gear on the gridirons of the future.

You can see the squads of the "B" Bulldogs; the "C" Bulldogs; sixth, seventh and eighth grades teams of junior high, and three elementary school teams.

The batting exploits of Ted Williams, Red Sox slugging outfielder, known to practically every baseball fan, now are being used in Boston schools to teach children how to read.

Instead of plodding through the adventures of Little Miss Muffet and the Spider, Boston second-graders now recite:

"See the hitter!

"See the hitter swing his bat.

"The hitter is Ted Williams.

"He plays on the Boston Red Sox.

"He is their best hitter.

"He has hit many home runs."

The story of Williams is prominently displayed on the opening page of the Young America Junior Reader, recently adopted by the school department.

—SL—

Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees became the ninth player in the history of the majors to reach the 300-mark in home runs when he hit his thirty-sixth circuit clout of the season off Fred Hutchinson of the Tigers in the fourth inning of the first game of a doubleheader, September 16.

During his nine other seasons in the Big Show, Joe hit 29 in 1936; 46 in 1937; 32 in 1938; 30 in 1939; 31 in 1940; 30 in 1941; 21 in 1942, and after three seasons in military service, 25 in 1946 and 20 in 1947.

Babe Ruth excels in the total of home runs, with 714, followed by Jimmie Foxx, 534; Mel Ott, 511; Lou Gehrig, 494; Hank Greenberg, 331; Al Simmons, 307; Rogers Hornsby, 302; Chuck Klein, 300, and now by DiMaggio.

Purple Gets Defense And More Defense

The Midland Bulldogs, drilling for Friday night's game with Plainview, are working on defense and more defense.

In their workout Tuesday, the Bulldogs stressed defensive tactics. Coaches are devising defensive systems designed to stop the T-formation thrusts of the Bulldogs of the North Plains country.

Another phase of defense—that against passes—will be drilled on in earnest by the Midlanders this week. Plainview will bring a sharp passing attack.

Still another defense practice of the Bulldogs of Midland this week is drill on how to stop end sweeps and pitch-out flankers. Coach Barnes Milam says: "We are going to stop them from turning the corner on us."

Spirit of the Purple is high. The boys want this game.

Bulldog Booster Club Holds Meet, Good Attendance

More than 40 persons attended a regular meeting of the Bulldog Booster Club held Tuesday night at the high school.

Jack Jones, president, was in charge of the meeting. Dave Henderson was program chairman.

Committee Leaders Jack Hawkins, Lou Bevill, Roy Minear, Ernest Neill and Tanner Laine were called on for reports. Hawkins said memberships totaled 230.

Coach Jack Mashburn described "the Plainview game." He told what scouts have learned about the opponents of the Midland team Friday night.

Bud Taylor, well-known Permian Basin football official, discussed rules, signals and some of the phases of officiating.

Coach Barnes Milam described "the Austin High game." He said "We made mistakes sure, but the kids are young and inexperienced. We are not alibing. We hope to do better." Milam paid a tribute to his assistant coaches.

Frank Monroe announced fans at the game Friday would get to see more than 300 youngsters in uniform.

Dr. Homer B. Johnson, team physician, was recognized.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Tribe Has Stranglehold On American Loop Flag

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Indians may be a vanishing race but you couldn't tell it to the baseball world Wednesday.

Led by Manager Lou Boudreau, the Cleveland war party appears a leadpipe cinch to clash with another species, the Boston Braves, for the 1948 World Series wampum.

Boudreau's Tribe enjoys a commanding two-game lead over the runnerup Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees in the American League pennant fight with all of the contenders having only four games left to play.

The Indians gained this almost insurmountable lead Tuesday night by massacring the Chicago White Sox 11-0 after the Red Sox and Yanks were ambushed in the afternoon 4-2 and 5-2, respectively, by the Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics.

The Indians can nail down their first flag since 1920 by winning three out of their remaining four games. Should they divide the four games, the Red Sox or Yanks, by winning all of their four, could only tie the Indians for the pennant. The fact that two of the runnerups' remaining games are against each other lessens the possibility of one of them sweeping four games.

No. 18 For Bearden

Lefty Gene Bearden turned in one of the best performances of his career in blanking the White Sox. The rookie held the Chicagoans to four scattered singles, fanned five and walked two in hanging up his eighteenth victory against seven defeats.

The Indians supported Bearden's classy job with a 13-hit attack that included homers by Dale Mitchell and Allie Clark.

Rae Scarborough and Carl Schieb were the boys who put a crimp into the flag hopes of the Red Sox and Yankees.

Scarborough chilled the Sox on six hits in picking up his fourteenth victory for the seventh-place Senators. The Senators hammered starter and loser Joe Dobson for four runs in the second inning and Scarborough coasted the rest of the way.

Scheib had a more difficult time stopping the Yanks. He allowed 11 hits but three double plays got him out of holes. Scheib shut out the Yanks until the ninth when a single, walk and pinchhitter Joe Collins' two-run double had him on the ropes. Tommy Henrich then poled a terrific liner to right field but Elmer Valo made a spectacular backhand catch to end the game.

In the only other American League game the St. Louis Browns clipped the Detroit Tigers 5-3 on rookie Hank Arft's two-run eighth inning homer.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, engaged in a three-way National League battle for second place with the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates, downed the pennant winning Braves 9-8 in 13 innings on a home run by Jackie Robinson. Pee Wee Reese and Ed Miksis also homered for Brooklyn while Jeff Heath and Frank McCormick homered for Boston. The win pushed the Dodgers a game ahead of the Cards. The Cards, in front of Pittsburgh by a half game, had their scheduled night game with the Pirates rained out.

New York and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader. The Giants won the opener 6-5 and the Phils the nightcap 6-3 in a game that was called because of darkness at the end of six innings.

The Chicago Cubs beat the Cincinnati Reds 6-2 to tie the Reds for seventh place in the other National League game.

Scouters Training Course Dates Set

A training course for Scouters of the Midland District, Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held the nights of October 25 and November 1, 8 and 15, it was decided at a meeting of the district Tarining Committee Monday noon in the North Elementary School cafeteria. Chairman Frank Monroe presided.

Others present were Joe Koegler, Guy Brenneman, Stuart Painter, W. D. Ladd and Dr. Glen Walker.

At least 10 representatives from each organization sponsoring Scout troops will be expected to take the course, committee members said.

Instructors will be named at a meeting of district Scouters October 4.

Calumet Returns In Sysonby Mile

NEW YORK —(AP)— Citation returns to action in the $25,000 added Sysonby Mile at Belmont Park Wednesday, his first Eastern appearance since June 12, when he swept racing's triple crown honors by winning the Belmont Stakes.

Teaming up with a stablemate, Coaltown, the sensational Calumet three-year-old champion with a victory can boost his 1948 earnings over the $500,000 mark—a one-year figure unprecedented in turf history.

Eight were entered for the race, but paddock talk suggested the powerful Calumet Farm one-two punch would result in several scratches before post time. With eight starters the race would gross $29,700, the winner netting $20,700.

Both parties vote for NITEY NITE* SLEEPERS

The feeling is mutual—about NITEY NITE SLEEPERS. Children delight in their blossom-bright colors; revel in their warm, soft fabric—in the "bootee" foot that hugs their ankles but lets tiny toes wiggle and the trim sweater-cuffs that snuggle their wrists and provide four inches of adjustable sleeve-length. Mothers appreciate the smooth, nine-thread sewn seams... sturdy tailoring, reinforced at every point of strain... the Gripper fasteners that invite self-help. Easy to wash, long to wear, NITEY NITE SLEEPERS are tops with children and mothers everywhere.

tion in any court" attempting to prevent certification of Johnson's name.

Johnson's attorneys went into the state court, seeking to make sure the secretary of state acted quickly, a few hours after U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black stayed a temporary injunction obtained by Stevenson in Federal District Court, barring Johnson's name on grounds of fraud.

It also came shortly after Kirk Mallory, assistant secretary of state, announced he would do nothing about putting Johnson's name on the ballot until he was formally notified of the U. S. Supreme Court's action. Johnson's new mandamus petition had attached to it sworn copies of Justice Black's order.

Sample ballots, with the space for Democratic nominee for U. S. senator blank, were mailed to the county election boards Tuesday by the secretary of state's office.

operate a venetian blind shop on the northwest corner of Block 6, Homestead Addition, and of M. W. Pyle to erect a frame business building on Lot 10, Block 31, Cowden Addition, were denied upon recommendation of the Zoning Commission.

At the request of the Petroleum Club, the beer zone was extended to include Lots 1, 2 and 3, Block 34, Original Town of Midland. The location is the site of the club building.

City Manager H. A. Thomason was authorized to negotiate with Rene Allred for a lease on the city's sewer property on a five-year basis, to be used as a cotton and stock farm. Under the arrangement, Allred would remodel and improve the sewer plant to meet state specifications, at no cost to the city.

Another resolution was adopted authorizing Thomason to negotiate with the operators of Skyhaven Airport for the lease of facilities at Midland Airpark, the former No. 2 airport, which recently was returned to the city by the War Assets Administration. If the deal is worked out, the Skyhaven owners will move their operations to the airpark.

The manager also was authorized to sign leases for certain buildings at Midland Air Terminal.

An amendment to the electrical ordinance was adopted, including certain safety features and equalizing license fees.

Football Coach Is Lions Club Speaker

Barnes Milam, head football coach at Midland High School, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday in the Scharbauer Hotel.

Milam and his staff were introduced by Frank Monroe. Staff members include Joe Aiken, Carl Knox, Audrey Gill and Jack Mashburn.

Roy Minear presided at the luncheon. John J. Redfern, Jr., made announcements about X-ray appointments. Winston Hull made a safety request.

New members inducted at the meeting were A. J. Olsen, Colin Puckett, E. W. Jennings, Guy Brantley, J. B. Worley and J. C. (Jimmie) Wilson.

from Precinct 13. It was an uncertified document.

Smith, on order of Davidson, is holding hearings here to investigate the election in Jim Wells County.

The Precinct 13 box was opened Tuesday but no tally sheets or poll lists were found.

Smith continued the opening of the boxes in spite of the protests of Dudley Tarlton, Corpus Christi, and Everett Looney, attorneys for Johnson.

Another hearing opened in Zapata County Wednesday with Special Master J. R. Burnett in charge.

Davidson Stands Pat

The hearings continued despite the fact that Associate Justice Hugo L. Black of the United States Supreme Court Tuesday ruled that Judge Davidson had no authority to interfere with the election.

In Dallas Wednesday Judge Davidson said he was not going to call off the South Texas vote investigation until he received Black's ruling, if then. He said if Justice Black ruled that the Federal District Court had no jurisdiction in the case, the investigation would be called off. If Black's ruling only stays the injunction granted Stevenson, Davidson said, the investigation into South Texas balloting would continue.

Davidson will hear the reports of the investigators at a federal court hearing Saturday, probably in Fort Worth.

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—College segregation restrictions in Oklahoma were held unconstitutional Wednesday by a three-judge federal court.

Government Decree Bars Two CIO Unions From Atom Plants

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The government Wednesday barred its A-bomb plants to unions whose officers refuse to disavow Communism.

This action—on the heels of congressional charges that a network of Soviet spy rings tried during the war to feed atomic secrets to Moscow—stemmed from a double-barreled Atomic Energy Commission order.

It posted "Keep Out" signs for two specific CIO unions and opened the way for official recognition of others only if they can qualify for certification by the National Labor Relations Board.

Except at Oak Ridge, union activity in all atomic plants has been sharply curtailed since the A-bomb project was launched. But a number of unions have been active in th hope that these curbs would be eased.

Must Sign Oaths

Wednesday's new policy decision, however, ruled out any hope of those whose officers have failed to submit non - Communist oaths. These are required by the Taft-Hartley Act for NLRB certification.

The unions singled out in the commission announcement are the CIO United Electrical Workers and the CIO United Public Workers.

A congressional committee heard testimony only Tuesday from a self-described former Communist that the UEW is "the largest Communist-dominated organization in the United States."

The Public Workers Union, with a large membership of government employes, also has been under scrutiny in Congress. The commission itself said, as it did of the UEW: "Information is available concerning alleged Communist affiliation or association of certain officers of this union."

MEETING CANCELLED

CORSICANA —(AP)— A scheduled meeting of the Texas State Democratic Executive Committee in Dallas Saturday has been called off, John C. Calhoun, chairman, said Wednesday.

CIO Union Officials Refuse To Answer Committee Queries

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Two officials of the CIO United Electrical Workers refused Wednesday to tell a congressional committee whether they are or have been Communist Party members.

They are Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer, and Russell A. Nixon, Washington representative. Both said that as American citizens they did not have to answer such questions.

Nixon was ordered from the stand when he attempted to make a statement on his rights under the Constitution.

Asked that question by a House Labor subcommittee, Emspak said he would stand on his constitutional rights.

Identified As 'Comrade'

The House group, headed by Rep. Kersten (R-Wis), is inquiring into Communist influences in labor unions.

Emspak was identified by James J. Conroy, a witness Tuesday, as the mysterious "Comrade Juniper." Conroy described himself as a former Communist.

Emspak was the second high UE union official to refuse to tell the committee whether he is or ever has been a Communist. James Matles, the union's organization director, refused Tuesday to answer such questions.

USSR of restrictions on transport and communications" between Berlin and the Western zones.

Question of Enforcement

Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin signed for the United States. Sir Alexander Cadogan, this month's president of the Security Council, signed for Britain, and Alexandre Parodi, chief French delegate, for France.

Dr. Herbert V. Evott of Australia, president of the Assembly, said the Berlin crisis eventually may reach the full 58-nation body. Evatt told a luncheon of the Anglo-American Press Association if the Berlin matter is treated as a question of enforcement of sanctions, the Security Council cannot penalize one of the great powers. If it is a question of conciliation, that, too, would be an Assembly function, he said.

The Assembly can make recommendations for the solution of a problem, but it cannot enforce its decisions.

Evatt, Australia's deputy prime minister and minister of foreign affairs, said he was not too optimistic about the UN now, but that he and other delegates are determined to find a just solution for each problem.

The assembly president said he believes in open clash of opinion, pointing out that secret diplomacy failed in the Berlin case.

Tucker Outpost Is Flowing To Complete

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Brunson, stepout from the Tucker field, in Southwest Crane County, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the lease in section 26, block 1, H&TC survey, flowed a total of 106.8 barrels of 38.9 gravity oil in three hours from the Simpson, through perforations above the total depth of 5,856 feet in sand and lime.

The new well is continuing to flow to clean out and complete.

Humble 1 Smith Runs DST In Deep Strata

Humble No. 1 Smith, 14 miles northeast of Ozona, in Northeast Crockett County, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 17, block 1, GC&SF survey, took a 30-minute drillstem test at 8,018-93 feet.

Operator has not officially revealed the identity of the formation. Some observers think it is probably Ellenburger.

There was a weak blow of air for a part of the investigation. Recovery was 37 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of, oil, gas or water.

The venture had been deepened to 8,125 feet, and another drillstem test was being run, with the packer set at 8,093 feet.

Humble Declines To Meet Crude Increase

HOUSTON — Hines H. Baker, president of Humble Oil and Refining Company, said Tuesday afternoon that Humble does not consider an advance in crude oil prices required or warranted to meet demands at this time in view of the improved U. S. petroleum supply situation.

Baker said that Humble does not intend to increase its crude oil prices unless it is forced to do so by a change in competitive conditions.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

One of the things that we all enjoy in a bridge game is the strategy in planning that goes into it. Today's hand was played some time ago with Gen. Robert J. Gill, of Baltimore, Md. The strategy employed by the declarer was very clever, but the general, who handled German war prisoners during the war and later was assistant to the U. S. Chief Justice at the Nurnberg trials, is familiar with strategy himself. His attack in this hand was well timed.

Declarer won the opening lead of the spade deuce in dummy with the ace and immediately took three rounds of trumps. Now the question was, did the general have a six or seven card club suit? If he had a six card club suit and three diamonds (South was quite certain that the opening lead of the deuce of spades was a singleton), it did not look as if declarer had any chance to make the contract. If he could find the general with a seven card club suit and just the king and one diamond, he could see a way to make the hand

At this point declarer cashed the ace of clubs, then the ace of diamonds. He was hoping that the general would have to win the second diamond with the king. He could cash a high club, but he would have nothing but clubs left and would have to lead one which declarer could trump in dummy and discard a loser from his own hand. Thus South would lose only two diamonds and a club.

However, the general was on his toes and when declarer led the ace of diamonds, he quickly dropped his king. Now, when the second diamond was led, East won, cashed another diamond and the jack of clubs, then led the queen of spades; and declarer still had to lose a spade trick.

Social Situations

SITUATION: As chairman of a club's social committee it is your job to secure outsiders to be on the club programs.

WRONG WAY: Take an "I-won't - take - 'no'-for-an-answer" attitude when you meet with difficulty in securing a speaker you want.

RIGHT WAY: If you get a refusal, accept it graciously instead of trying to bully the person into doing as you wish.

Jeepster On Display Here

Willys-Overland's new sports phaeton, the Jeepster, glamorous, smooth-riding descendant of the Jeep, is a far-cry from its rugged military forebear. Said to be one of the first full-sized light cars on the market, it weighs only 2,500 pounds, has a very low center of gravity for roadability ,and offers fuel economy up to 29 miles per gallon of gas. The new Jeepster is on display at the Willis Sales Company in Midland.

Shaw Rites Attended By Midland Citizens

SAN ANGELO—Funeral services were scheduled at 4 p. m. Wednesday in Johnson Funeral Home here for William Harrison Shaw, Jr., 42, who was found dead on the Shaw Ranch 12 miles northwest of San Angelo Tuesday morning. Death apparently was due to a heart attack.

Here to attend the rites were Midlanders Miss Nell Shaw, a sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Chappell Davis, Mrs. N. A. Lancaster and Mrs. Adele Semple. Interment was scheduled in Fairmount Cemetery.

Shaw was operator of the Shaw Sand & Gravel Company. A search had been started when he did not return to his home in San Angelo late Monday. His body was discovered at the ranch near the North Concho River. There was no evidence of foul play but an autopsy was performed.

Shaw was born April 16, 1906, in San Angelo and attended schools of the city. Survivors include: Miss Shaw of Midland, who is an employe of Shell Oil Company, and another sister; his widow and son of San Angelo, and his father.

Threatened Split In United Nations No Cause For Tears, Says Mackenzie

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The United Nations faces its greatest crisis Wednesday as America, Britain and France throw the bitter Berlin conflict into the lap of the Security Council, charging that the Red blockade is a threat to international peace.

Indeed the situation is so grave that the three-year-old peace organization is in danger of splitting, with the Democracies and the Soviet bloc going separate ways. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was voicing the thoughts of many statesmen when he warned the General Assembly in Paris that the UN might fall apart.

The Soviet press in Moscow also told the Russian public Tuesday that the two camps in the UN might go their separate ways—this despite the fact that Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky was quoted by a London paper as saying in an interview: "We shall not abandon the United Nations."

UN Never United

Well, supposing the UN does split; what follows? Bevin answered that in a horse-sense way by saying if it's impossible to work on a world-basis "We must proceed on a regional basis." That is, the Russian bloc would have its own organization and the Democracies would have theirs.

As a matter of cold fact there never has been a "United" Nations. The organization has been split wide open since the start, with the Communists using it for purposes of obstruction and as a grand sounding-board for Red propaganda. Thus actually the UN has been used by the Bolshevists as a weapon of aggression against the Democracies.

So if the Muscovites want to desert the UN, there need be no tears shed, although there will be regrets that there couldn't be collaboration. It will be rather reminiscent of Japan's action in 1932 when she walked out of the League of Nations in anger over the Lytton report charging her with aggression against Manchuria. Also, in passing, one might note that Russia was expelled from the league in 1939 for aggression against Finland.

But, says somebody, a split in the UN gets us further away from the ideal of "one world." I'm not so sure about that. We certainly are kidding ourselves if we think we are going to get one world through trying to make Democracy and Communism mix.

Oil And Water Mixers

They can't be made to mix under any circumstances. The Reds keep on telling us that our economy and form of government must be destroyed. Do they have to knock us down and drag us out before we recognize the situation?

Would-be mixers of oil and water might consider a statement by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in an address at the Sorbonne in Paris Tuesday night. She charged Russia with ruthless suppression of human rights at home and with interference in other countries' affairs. She urged the UN not to compromise with the Soviet bloc on the issue of human freedom, which she termed the "basic problem confronting the world today."

The oil and water mixers also might lend ear to Belgian Premier Paul Henri Spaak, former president of the UN Assembly, who told the Russians in a speech before that body:

"By your conduct you have prevented this organization from working. We fear you because in every country represented here you maintain a fifth column, the like of which even Hitler did not know."

A United Nations compromising the Democracies alone would serve a very useful purpose. Half a loaf, et cetera.

Wallace Demands Investigation Of U. S. 'War Scares'

DALLAS—(AP)—Candidate Henry Wallace, demanding a fact-finding commission on "war scares," moves farther south to Houston Wednesday in his peaceful Texas campaign for the presidency.

Tuesday night in Dallas he said an investigation by a commission of "representative Americans" would show that "these recurring war scares" are caused by the determination of American corporations to keep prices high.

He denied that he wants to "appease" Russia in any way.

His speech was in a dance hall before a mixed white-and-negro audience estimated between 800 and 1,000.

Wallace renewed his denunciations of the Democrat-Republican foreign policy and members of the Truman Administration.

Because of the oil riches of Texas he chose oil as his theme, and Defense Secretary Forrestal as his main target.

He referred to Forrestal as "a Wall Street oil banker" who built up "the Communist scare" and fear of Russia in order to "serve private oil interests."

Services Held For Jack C. Robinson

CRANE—Funeral services for Jack C. Robinson, 41, were held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Methodist Church with the Rev. J. N: Whetstone officiating.

Robinson was found dead in his car early Monday morning by his mother and sister, Mrs. C. F. Haynes and Mrs. M. E. Noble, slumped over the steering wheel of his car, apparently having suffered a heart attack.

His mother, sister, and a brother, C. A. Robinson of Ranger, survive.

Pallbearers were J. L. Stokes, W. E. Levis, Darrell Havins, Claude Dickson, C. L. Chipman and W. R. Crownover. Interment was in the Crane Cemetery.

Pioneer's Funeral Held In Brady

CRANE—Mr. and Mrs. Q. M. Sharp of Crane and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sharp of McCamey attended the funeral Monday of the men's grandfather. A. H. Conner, 98, of Brady. He died at his home Sunday.

Conner was the oldest resident of McCulloch County, and was the first white child born in Fort Worth. He was a member of the Church of Christ for 60 years.

Funeral services were held at the Brady Church of Christ, and burial was in a Brady cemetery.

Needy Aged, Blind And Children Will Get Larger Checks

AUSTIN —(AP)— Increases averaging about $2 will appear on October state welfare checks to needy aged, blind and dependent children, State Department of Public Welfare Director John H. Winters has announced.

Winters said the increase was made possible by a new sharing formula set up by the 80th Congress which calls for a federal share of 64 per cent and a state share of 36 per cent of welfare grants.

The new arrangement, Winters said, presents a $2 to $3 drop in welfare checks which would have otherwise been necessary next month because of depleting state funds allocated for welfare purposes.

Top Texas Court Denies Negro Plea

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Supreme Court Wednesday in effect rejected the plea of a Houston negro that he be admitted to the University of Texas Law School.

It refused Herman Marion Sweatt's appeal from lower court rulings that had denied his effort to force admission to the university.

Sweatt's attorneys have said they would carry their case to the United States Supreme Court if they lost their fight in state courts.

Hearings Slated On Area Highways

Delegations were docketed to enter requests for Upshur, Fannin, Bosque, Fisher and Nolan, Andrews, Crane, Calhoun, Kaufman, Hemphill, Dawson, Tarrant, Leon, and other counties.

Tuesday low bids totalling $3,074,717 were tabulated by the Highway Department on 24 state highway and maintenance projects.

Fireman Injured In Warehouse Blaze

WEATHERFORD—(AP)—A fireman was seriously injured Tuesday night in fighting a fire which did an estimated $10,000 damage to a warehouse of the Sinclair Oil Company refinery here.

I. W. Wyche was hit in the eyes with a stream of water and physicians at a Mineral Wells hospital said they feared he would lose the sight of at least one eye.

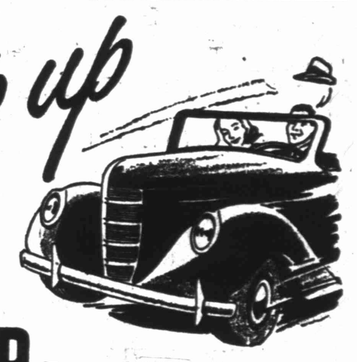

The warehouse was filled with drums of oil and tires. The fire was discovered about 7:45 p. m. and brought under control three hours later.

Fire Chief Fred Potter estimated the damage.
