Confederate Grave Headstones.

The War department will award, within a few days, the contract for 20,000 white marble headstones to mark the graves of Confederate soldiers and sailors who died in Federal prisons and military hospitals in the North during the Civil War, and who were buried near the place of their confinement. This will be the first step toward action by the Government to mark these graves.

Col. Wm. Elcott, an officer of the Confederate Army, and formerly Representative from South Carolina, has been appointed commissioner to take charge of the work.

The territory in which the graves are located extends as far south and west as Santa Fe, N. M., and as far north and east as Boston.

An Oklahoma editor who has been deprived of his railroad pass refuses to publish the railroad time cards, inserting in lieu thereof these words in boxcar type: "Trains are due when you see the smoke."—Ex.

Short Wheat Crop.

Oliver Dalrymple of St. Paul, who is reputed to be the greatest of all Bonanza wheat raisers in North Dakota, so far as acreage goes, in an interview, says:

"It looks as if the United States would be 100,000,000 bushels short on the aggregate crop, and Europe about the same. If that is true, present prices do not look too high. I would not be surprised if those who predict wheat well above $1 should be right."

Texan A Winner.

Charles S. Pierce of Howard Payne college at Brownwood, Tex., won first place and a prize of $70 in the interstate prohibition oratorical contest held Friday night at Wichita, Kan. This entitles him to represent eight states in the national contest at Chicago this fall.

Pierce lives in Brownwood and won the state contest at Greenville in April. In Friday night's contest Texas won first place, Nebraska second, Colorado third.

Soft Snap Over.

The Tyler Courier made the following remark the day before the Legislature adjourned:

"The extra session is passing out, and a few of the members of the Legislature are glad of it; but a large number of them and a small army of helpers will regret the close of legislation as it will leave them without a job and without an income."

And the worst part of it is that there are no primary elections this year for the "helpers" to make salt out of, and those lawmakers who are out of a job can not hope to get one for two years. Working for the State is both pleasant and paying business, but the "meantime" is awful.—Dallas News.

And the people who are to pay for the job are asked to vote on an amendment this summer to increase the pay. If they have not earned their pay heretofore it is hardly probable that they will earn a larger one. For this reason the proposed amendment is going to be largely scratched, and should be.

The Fort Worth Record is spreading itself. It has ordered $60,000 worth of new machinery, including two four-tiered perfecting presses that can be speeded up to 25,000 16-page papers per hour.

Stephen B. Tehee, aged 78, former chief of the Cherokees, was found dead 200 yards from his home, five miles north of Tahlequah, Friday. Tehee, who is full blood, left Tahlequah for his home the night before apparently in good health. It is believed by many that he was murdered.

The next session of the Southern Baptist convention will be held at Hot Springs, Ark.

Two Tax Circulars.

The state comptroller is out in a couple of circulars, one to tax Assessors, the other to County Judges and Commissioners' Courts, setting forth provisions and requirements of the more important of the tax laws enacted during the special session of the Thirtieth Legislature. One of the principal features of the circulars deals with the automatic tax rate, with reference to which in many counties of the State considerable confusion exists.

In the circular addressed to the Tax Assessors, specific directions with reference to their reports to the Controller of property valuations is given. In the one to the County Judges and Commissioners' Courts, the methods and requirements of tax rate levying is given.

A "Bright" Groom Robbed.

A verdant couple of Durant, I. T. enroute to Sherman Friday to marry, had an unpleasant experience they will likely remember. On the train the groom made the acquaintance of a stranger who robbed him of $1,700 and he was left penniless. The situation was made known and sufficient money raised for the young couple to proceed to Sherman and pay for the marriage license and have a dollar or so left to pay their railway fare back to Durant.

Texas Getting Independent.

Gradually it is dawning upon Texas people that Wall street no longer controls the finances of the South. Time was when a little panic in finances on Wall street gave Texas financial circles a regular old buck ague, but not now. They can have their panics in Eastern money marts and the effect is not felt here. Texas concerns are loaning money to Eastern concerns these days.—Tyler Courier.

An estimate from Memphis, Tenn., is that cotton factors and growers in the south lost between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000 during the past season on account of the shortage of cars. Most of this loss was due to exposure of the cotton to the elements in the streets of cotton centers like Memphis while awaiting transportation.

Geronimo, the old Apache chief, is said to have lost his mind and to be cross and morose over not being allowed to leave the reservation near Lawton. His wife, the eight, has quit him.

The special session of the Missouri legislature has just passed a bill prohibiting the telephoning of bets from a race track into another state. There was a law already in existence forbidding the telegraphing of such bets. This will help stop inter-state gambling on races. Every state should do its part.—Farm and Ranch.

A party of special secret service operatives are in Denver working with the federal grand jury in probing the land fraud cases. All jurors are said to be under surveillance. Chief Wilkie believes the government has sensational evidence to present which may result in indictments of prominent men in the coal, iron and copper as well as lumber industries.

W. E. Edwards, editor of the People's Review, Henrietta, Tex., has our sympathy in the loss of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Edwards, an aged, Christian lady of Henrietta.

STATE NEWS.

Cantaloupes and berries are getting plentiful on the lower Texas markets.

Wichita Falls and Abilene are both at work on street railways. Abilene is to have seven miles of track.

The residence of J. L. Bryan at Detroit was burned Friday, loss on dwelling $2,000, insured for half that. Loss on furniture total.

The Texas Press meeting at Galveston, which closed Saturday was the largest in attendance in its history. The next annual meeting will be at Mineral Wells.

Will Yake, a brother-in-law of Deputy Sheriff Thompson, of Hutchinson county, has mysteriously disappeared from his father's ranch in that county. He is 28 years old.

Ed Akin shot and killed Palo Chaney near Van Alstyne Thursday. Akin has a young wife whom he accused Chaney with insulting. The latter leaves a widow with five children.

The recent cold weather killed the cotton crops in Hunt county and the cotton is being replanted all over the county. There are about a hundred farm wagons in Greenville daily to get cotton seed for replanting.

J. James Linville, a young man 18 years of age, residing at Cedar Gap, south of Abilene, was accidentally shot Friday morning and died later from the results of the shot from a gun his brother-in-law, H. A. Carson, was fooling with.

Monroe Stewart, a lineman in the employ of the DeKalb Telephone Exchange, while engaged in cable work, fell a distance of about thirty feet Saturday, breaking his right leg above the knee and receiving other serious and painful injuries.

A barn belonging to Beets Bros., near Rankin, Ellis county, was entirely destroyed by fire last week, including a number of horses, cattle and hogs, feedstuff, harness etc. One of the animals was valued at $300, recently purchased by the owners. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Kansas has lost the case brought to compel Colorado to quit using all the water in the Arkansas river. This suit has been up for many weary months and no one will be particularly sorry that it is at an end. Still, we are from Kansas, and are of the opinion that Colorado had no business to swipe all the water and let poor Kansas go all frizzled up when it is drouthy.—Higgins News.

Not A Fool.

A gentleman whose temper is easily disturbed was traveling in England recently, and was much annoyed at the reply given him at a railroad station. The gentleman, noticing his baggage, properly addressed, was left on the platform, called out:

"Why didn't you put my luggage in as I told you, you old fool?"

"Eh, man, yer luggage is no sic a fule as yerself," answered the porter; "ye're on the wrang train."—Successful Farming.

A little girl was twitted by her companions that she was only an "adopted girl, and did not belong to her papa and mamma." She retorted; "My papa and mamma picked me out because they wanted me. Yours had to take you whether they wanted you or not." She was not disturbed further.—Ex.

C. A. Edwards Charged With Assault.

C. A. Edwards, secretary of the democratic congressional committee, and who furnishes the country press with the Washington democratic letters, was arrested Friday, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. He was released on bonds of $2000 until Monday.

It is alleged that Edwards about midnight Wednesday assaulted Alejandro Garland, an attache of the Peruvian legation, in front of the fashionable De Soto apartment house in Washington.

Garland, accompanied by a Mrs. Louise Scott, reached the apartment house shortly after midnight Edwards had been there for some time. The men became involved in an altercation which resulted in a fight. Information as to Garland's condition has been closely guarded.

It was understood that Garland did not care to prosecute Edwards, but after an investigation by the police the janitor of the apartment house entered a complaint.

Saturday Edwards and Mrs. Scott met at the capitol and became involved in a dispute. Finally they were taken to the office of the capitol police, where the warrant for Edward's arrest was served by detectives. The woman was subpoenaed to appear as a witness. She formerly resided at the De Soto apartments, but declined to give her present address.

It is not likely that an obituary notice can be worked off on St Peter for a passport.

While fish stories are numerous, an Illinois farmer comes to the front with the biggest duck story. He says he has a duck with four wings, four feet and is otherwise deformed. It swims forward for a while and then backward, all according to which set of paddles it uses.

The Senate Committee on Military Affairs has been in session in Washington and has been taking direct testimony the past week, in the long drawn out Brownsville affair. The sessions have been rather more satisfactory than those held before the adjournment, inasmuch as a better class of witnesses seems to have been secured, and the stories that they have told seem to be more spontaneous and less doctored than those told in former sessions. According to the witnesses, most of whom are Brownsville citizens, declare that they saw the negroes enter the town and actually saw the soldiers in the act of firing and one man says that he saw the negro soldiers in khaki uniform firing as they ran. Senator Parker who is in charge of the investigation failed to shake the testimony of these witnesses in a stiff cross examination.

An order, which will doubtless result in numerous arrests following its receipt by peace officers in the Big Pasture, where the six new Government towns are being opened, was issued from the United States Marshal's office by Chief Deputy Marshal Chris Madsen, which prohibits the sale of liquor in any form or the opening of saloons in any of the new towns. The order is issued under a provision in the Congressional act, which provides for the opening of these new towns, for the reason that under the new order of things, in the Interior Department, no Indian lands opened to settlement may have liquor sold therein for a period of twenty-one years.

A new law compels all county, district and state officers to take out commissions, and the secretary of state is being flooded with applications. There are 235 organized counties in the state, and it is figured out that there are on an average of thirty of the district and county officials in each county, therefore it will be seen that there are a little over 7,000 of these officials in the state, and out of this number, it is learned, there are not 500 which have heretofore taken out these commissions.

A beautiful young Iowa woman has been sent to prison because she insisted on kissing every man she met. The jury must have been composed entirely of married men. —Canadian Record.

The Mexican War veterans met in Dallas Saturday in annual convention and were royally entertained. One of the pleasing features was the presentation of a United States flag to the association by the local corps of the Grand Army of the Republic. President Abe Harris was re-elected, as were also Mrs. Moore Murdock, secretary and treasurer, and Rev. W. A. Mason, chaplain. T. M. Scott of Melissa was elected first vice president and Benjamin Franklin Draper of Jacksboro second vice president.

We Sleep Too Much.

Thomas A. Edison believes that man will learn to do without sleep. He thinks human beings sleep too much, as a rule, and says sleeping is a bad habit anyway. In discussing a proper mode of life, he said:

'There is absolutely no reason why we should sleep except that our prehistoric ancestors got into the habit of sleeping and we have never broken ourselves of it. There is no need of sleep now. We can turn the darkness of night into the light of day by our electric lights, so why should people sleep? I believe that if we had perpetual sunlight we would in a few generations get over this bad habit of sleeping.'

Rev. Bearden has sold 20 acres of land near the A. W. Collins place to F. A. Simpson for $1,000. Also ten acres adjoining the Citizens cemetery to W. M. Posey for $650.

Some of the Clarendon people are getting wrought up over the havoc played with their shrubbery and gardens by breechy cows and yearlings. If something is not done with them an effort will be made to vote them out of town.

The latest in children slippers at Rathjens.

H. S. Boydston was here trading Monday, and says everybody in his vicinity is busy with their farm work.

Every day or two some one grumbles about the late spring and crop conditions. But it is worse other places; the Timpson Times says: "The farmers of East Texas seem to be 'up against a hard proposition' this spring. Most of them planted their crops unusually early and the cold, wet weather through April either rotted the seed or killed the young stuff that had sprouted. Numbers of farmers have planted their cotton the third time, while some are plowing up their cotton and planting the ground in corn."

Goodnight Suicide.

J. E. Stimson, who was working on the Goodnight ranch, suicided early Sunday morning, without giving any reasons therefor or intimating that he was going to do such a thing.
He had slept alone the night before and early that morning another ranch hand went into the room and sit down on the edge of the bed to change his clothes while Stimson was supposedly asleep with the cover over him. Without the slightest warning there was an explosion under the bed clothes and when the other man turned and pulled down the cover Stimson had his pistol clutched in his hand and was gasping his last, being shot in the upper part of the left breast, the ball coming out from the lower part of back then passed through the bed and the floor. Two brothers came up from Denton county and saw after his burial. He was 39 years old, very quiet and industrious.
Don't grumble. The most unfortunate class of people living upon this green earth are the grumblers. They rob home of its joys, society of its dues, and themselves of the best things of life. From the days the children of Israel "grumbled" and were sent on their tedious wanderings "for forty years in the wilderness," up to the present hour the world has been full of grumblers. It is "too hot" or "too cold", "too wet" or "too dry". People in reasonable circumstances have visions or the poor house, while the rich grumble that they can't get rich faster.—Miami Chief.

Colorado Chautauque Ten Years Old.

The assembly which opens July 4th, 1907 at Boulder, Colo., will be the tenth one held on the grounds of this association. From an uncertain experiment at the beginning it has grown to be one of the few really great assemblies of the country and the greatest in the West. This has come about from a settled policy of giving to its patrons the very best obtainable talent regardless of cost and at all times minimizing the expense of attendance. This assembly is closely patterned after the parent Chautauque of New York. Its sessions are long enough to admit of a strong educational feature, and the Summer School has come to be one of its popular departments. In its thirteen regularly organized schools are maintained under the direction of specialists. Besides the class room work a more popular form of education is offered in the lyceum, where the most noted educators of the country deliver courses of lectures. The evenings are given up to social functions and auditorium entertainments.

The tenth anniversary number of the general announcement of this assembly has just been issued. It is neat little volume of forty-four pages, well illustrated with typical western scenes, and presenting with fullness the charm of life among the mountains of Colorado. It also gives a detailed account of the platform program and the Summer School courses. Twenty thousand copies have been issued, for free distribution.

Three kinds of excursions are described: Railway excursions, carriage drives and mountain climbs. Some very attractive trips are offered under each head; among them being the famous Georgetown Loop trip, the Wild Flower excursion, through Platte canon, Snowball excursion, up Boulder canon to the falls, to Arapahoe glacier and Silver lake, up the new Flagstaff road, and many others.

At this Assembly the choice is offered between tent and cottage life. All about the grounds comfortable little cottages have been erected and many of them are for rent to visitors. Among these cottages many tents are pitched and furnished during the session, thus making ideal camping conditions. The grounds are most beautifully laid out and parked, and taken all in all there is no site in America more beautiful or better adapted for building up an assembly of international importance. The attendance for 1907 promises to be larger than during any previous session.

Knew Denmark, but Not Hamlet.

The Literary Lady—Do you think Hamlet was insane or merely assuming to be?

The Victim—I beg your pardon. I didn't catch the name.

The Lady—Hamlet.

The Victim—Oh, yes. Odd name, isn't it? Friend of yours?

The Lady—I'm talking of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark.

The Victim—To be sure. Hamlet, Prince of Denmark. I know a lot of those Denmark princes, but I don't seem to place Ham. By the way, Denmark's getting to be quite a town.

They tell me they have two regular trains running there now, one of them a freight. And I heard just the other day that eastern capital had secured an option on the building lot across the street from the livery stable for a clothesline factory. Denmark is certainly looking up.

The literary lady glares at the victim coldly and removes herself to another part of the room.

Whereat the victim smiles.—Kansas City Independent.

Too Flippant.

The specialist surgeon, hot with indignation, exclaimed, "No, I will not take her case. There must be a limit to even a woman's flippancy."

"Why, Dr. —, what do you mean?" asked the family doctor mildly. "I have always found Mrs. Jones a lady in every way."

"Perhaps," answered the specialist surgeon, more calmly, but with dry severity. "She asked me why a surgeon was like a hen. And when I gave it up, what do you think she said?"

"I give it up, too," said the family doctor.

"Because his motto is always 'Cut-cut, ah, cut.' Wasn't that the limit?"

"And that woman has been under the knife three times," reflected the family doctor. "I'll take her to Dr. Smith. He has a sense of humor."

And now there is a marked coolness between the specialist surgeon and the family doctor.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Marital Unrest.

In the time of our great-grandmothers and grandmothers nobody thought of dissolving the marriage tie. A woman's career, was marriage, and having once embarked upon it she never considered going back.

But in these days debate is rampant, and so many persons have "considered going back" that one wonders what slight reciprocal affection induced them ever to advance at all. Probably it was not affection, but attraction, which depends upon outward and visible signs rather than inward and spiritual graces, and can cause the most unlikely and unblendable characters to find each other irresistibly charming. And while they are finding each other charming, marriage is so easy! Since the beginning of the world, admonition and advice have done very little toward the curbing of passion, and obstacles have only served to excite it.

And it is not too much to say that most young people, if left to form their own characters, with little in the way of responsibility forced upon them and a great deal in the way of comfort and pleasure at their right hand, will form rather self-indulgent characters, which, rushing rapturously into matrimony, as it were into the seventh heaven, are exceedingly chagrined to find how much self-denial is demanded of them when they get there. Nobody has explained to them what marriage, and the companionship of it really means, nor what a fund of tact and tenderness, forbearance, good-will and gentle judgment one must have to tide over the hard places that comes, at times to even the most loving couples.—Cor. in Delineator.

CHOICE MISCELLANY

The Thrill of the Balloon.

Sport for the gods! Who else flies over a sleeping world through space and knows the joy of motion without movement, without sound, without effort?

Our Roman Aero club is only three years old and was instituted by no less a personage than her majesty Queen Margherita of Italy. It had its inspiration from the military balloon brigade—the Brigati specialist—of the Royal engineers, a very up to date corps, who were the first to make and patent aluminum painted balloons. Now nearly every day in spring these lovely silver spheres float over the Campagna, looking like the dome of St. Peter's let loose.

Soon after I had become a member of the club I made my first trip, taking an enchanting flight, sometimes rising over 6,000 feet and then sinking swiftly to earth to taste the thrilling joy of rapid travel on the guide rope across the most fragrant and beautiful land I know. The strange sense of being disembodied, of flight without movement, of rapid travel, of motionless suspension in midheaven, of solemn silence without oppression, makes a new environment for the heart of man.—Century.

Our First Steamship Across Pacific.

"I saw the first steamship flying the American flag that ever crossed the Pacific ocean enter the harbor of Hongkong," said Frederick R. Sterling, a merchant of Hongkong.

"That vessel was the Colorado, and it landed in Hongkong in 1869. It was the first day of January, and there was a big crowd of people of all nationalities to see her. Being a side wheeler of the old fashioned type, she was a curiosity. At the request of Isaac J. Allen, the American consul general, the ship gave an excursion around the island on which the city is situated. I was among the 1,200 on board. It was a gala day. Whistles blew, people shouted, and numerous small sailing boats and tugs escorted us.

"As I remember now, the vessel belonged to the Pacific Mail line and sailed from San Francisco. She made the trip of 8,000 miles in thirty days and when she arrived was in perfect trim and good order. Everybody realized that it meant the beginning of the great development of the Pacific."—Washington Post.

A Quiet Occasion.

There is a certain town so full of family feuds and quarrels of all sorts that the account of any festivity there is quite sure to contain items of anything but a peaceable nature.

A recent wedding in the town presented such unusual features that it was spoken of with wonder by all the inhabitants.

"I never saw anything pass off so pretty and calm as Bud and Birdie's wedding in all my days," said one of the invited guests a week after the wedding. "Why, there wasn't a single casualty excepting Bert Leroy's black eye, and we got Hun Saunders off him without half trying, you know we did.

"There didn't seem to be any what you might call family feelings at that wedding, anyhow."—Youth's Companion.

WOMAN AND FASHION

Coat For a Small Person.

Here is shown one of those attractive little coats which closes at the side in real Russian manner and covers the small wearer so completely that it is most practical for wear. The materials suitable to such a wrap are many.

A PRACTICAL GARMENT.

cloth, silk, pongee and linen all looking equally well made after this style. A narrow washboard braid might trim the coat of linen or pongee, while a fancy braid or buttons might serve for the cloth garment. For home making the coat is excellent.

The Jumper Gown.

It is all in the transforming jumper. It's a miracle worker and changes one gown into two the moment it is put on. You know what is said of the man who can make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before. Well, the little jumper, in my opinion, at least, is equally a benefactor to the human race, says Harper's Bazar.

What is it made of? Of all sorts of things—of cloth like the street or indoor dress with which it is to be worn, of lace or silk or velvet, and sometimes all three are combined effectively. Now and then it appears in its original form of an abbreviated baby waist, with short but regularly made sleeves. There are really two distinct classes of jumpers, those to be worn with two piece street suits over lingerie or shirt waists and which practically convert such street suits into dresses and the fancy jumper which may be worn with a silk or cloth skirt with perfect propriety at simple dinners and to concerts and the theater.

All Colors Modish.

There does not appear to be any fixed law as regards material or color this year, but it is noticeable that one or two materials combined in the same or costume are thought very smart, and certainly the effect is attractive, for even when the same color is seen the fact that it is in a different material gives it a different appearance, while, if desired to have the different shades of the same color, it is very easy to carry them out on account of having so many different materials used at the same time.

There are, of course, any number of smart and attractive cloth and veiling costumes, and silk ones as well, that are made entirely of the one material. These have waists and skirts to match, and often—in fact, always—there is a coat or wrap also. But somehow the charm of novelty is more apparent in those costumes that are made of cloth, veiling, chiffon or batiste, with silk accents the same color, even in a darker or lighter shade.

Novel Skirt Model.

The skirt with straight edges is the one that is always most in demand for washable materials. It does not stretch in laundering, and it keeps its shape as no other can be trusted to do. Here is a distinctly novel model that is so made and that is so adapted to the whole range of seasonable materials. While peculiarly well suited to washable ones, it is by no means to be confined to such, and it will be found most satisfactory for the pretty thin silk and wool materials as well. In this instance pongee is trimmed with heavy lace banding that is edged with velvet ribbon.

Skirt Fashions.

The plaited or the full skirts are the favorite models, and it is astonishing how many different arrangements of plaits there can be. A favorite trimming is the bands of silk around the front of the skirt or bands of braid put on in the same way. Where this is not becoming the braid put on in horizontal lines is also used, for under no circumstances is the effect of long lines to be done away with.
