Health Causes Secretary Of State To Retire

FDR Says Hull Will Retain Advisory Role

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—President Roosevelt nominated Undersecretary Edward R. Stettinius, jr., to be secretary of state.

Two and a half hours after accepting the resignation of Secretary of State Hull, because of ill health, the President sent the name of Stettinius to the Senate as Hull's successor.

The President earlier lunched with Stettinius and also conferred with Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee, and Senator George (D-Ga) ranking committee member.

Mr. Roosevelt had disclosed that Hull's resignation would become effective upon the appointment of a successor.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. — President Roosevelt announced today the resignation of Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

The President told an informal news conference that it was with great and deep regret that he was announcing that Hull was quitting the cabinet. But he said the 73-year-old Tennessean would remain in close touch with him, acting as an adviser on foreign policy.

Hull's health is the reason for his giving up his cabinet post in these important times, and lifting his hand from machinery now being assembled to perpetuate peace.

FDR Saw Hull Sunday

The information that Hull had handed in his resignation was given to the Associated Press last night by a high government official who asked that his name not be used.

The President saw Hull yesterday at the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., where he has been a patient for five weeks.

The chief executive declared that Hull's doctors told the secretary, and Hull felt, that his complete recovery from a long illness would be retarded if he continued to bear the responsibilities of his cabinet portfolio.

Not Right For Country

Hull feels, Mr. Rosevelt reported, that it also would not be right for the country if he were to remain on the job.

Solons Tour War Areas

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP) — The whereabouts of the battlefront-bound House military committee was covered by security-induced secrecy today. The Army figuratively crossed its fingers in the hope all would go well during the first official congressional inspection of the European war scene.

The 16 gentlemen of the House and Rep. Claire Boothe Luce (R-Conn) were hustled off during the night under Army leadership—presumably bound for an inspection of Britain's defense installations, air bases and camps where the invasion was marshaled.

Before they left there were hints that Mrs. Luce's personality and her penchant for turning a neat phrase were attracting as much attention as the mission itself.

Ban On Mrs. Luce Denied

Army spokesmen denied they had imposed a ban of silence on Mrs. Luce or any one else in the party just so long as any statements they might make remained within the bounds of military security.

Mrs. Luce was absent from the committee's first press conference yesterday but Acting Chairman Merritt (D-NY) called "ridiculous" a suggestion that the Army was holding her incommunicado.

It is probable the committee's first stop will be a big airbase from which American bombers roared out in force today.

The committee plans a number of investigations abroad, among them the reported shell and cigaret shortage, morale of the soldiers in the field, value of compulsory

Medical School Decline Cited

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 27—Dr. C. T. Stone of the Medical branch of the University of Texas told a senate investigating committee today that in his opinion the Medical branch deteriorated rapidly under the administration of President Homer P. Rainey and Madical Dean J. W. Spies despite unprecedented financial support from the legislature.

Dr. Stone, chairman of the department of internal medicine, said:

"It is no exaggeration to say that what happened to the medical school under the administration of Dr. Rainey and Dr. Spies is without precedent in medical education.

Had Ample Finances

"The school had more financial support than ever before yet it deteriorated in local and national esteem.'

Dr. Stone was the first witness before the group which resumed a hearing on factors which led Nov. 1 to discharge of Dr. Rainey as university president and resignation of three regents. Dr. Spies had been released as dean of the Medical branch over the protest of Dr. Rainey.

Dr. Raymond Gregory, also a medical faculty member, was to follow Dr. Stone with testimony relating to the, faculty's relationship with Dr. Rainey who frequently has injected the medical school into his testimony dealing with university administration.

Refers To Rainey Testimony

Dr. Stone referred to testimony by Dr. Rainey that he thought the Medical school was doomed to mediocrity if it remained in Galveston and that a campaign of sabotage was used in Galveston against Dr. Spies.

He then introduced a resolution adopted by the medical faculty

Senate's Control Of Treaties Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—A House sub-committee today unanimously approved a proposed constitutional amendment to break up the Senate's traditional two-thirds vote control over treaties.

It sent to the House judiciary committee a resolution which, if adopted by Congress and approved by three fourths of the states, will provide that future treaties be ratified by a simple majority vote in both branches of Congress.

SOLON PREDICTS SENATE WILL MAINTAIN POSITION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — Senator George of Georgia, ranking Democratic member of the foreign relations committee, predicted today the Senate would stand firm against sharing its treaty making responsibilities with the House.

There are a half-dozen resolutions pending in the House calling for a constitutional amendment on the subject. If any of them reach the Senate, George estimated less than half the members would vote to submit the question to the states. A two-thirds majority of both houses is necessary for submittal.

House members who are backing the proposed change in the basic law are counting on public opinion to force the Senate to change its position.

First Army Enters Hurtgen

Town Seized 25 Miles From Cologne; Ninth, Third Drive Deeper Into Reich

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—U. S. First army troops burst into the forest battlefield town of Hurtgen today and captured Frenz, 25 miles from Cologne, while men of the Ninth and Third armies cut slowly deeper into the Reich.

Frenz is 14 miles inside Germany and north of the highway leading through threatened Duren to the great Rhineland city. Troops stood within four miles of Duren.

The Third army widened its front in the Saar basin to 19 miles and poured tanks, guns and infantry through breaches aimed at Saarbrucken, already within siege gun range.

Mud Slows Tanks

Ninth army infantry battling in the outer defenses of the ravaged Roer river fortress of Julich fought toward the churning stream, sometimes wading in water above their knees. The boggy ground limited the use of tanks.

YANKS ENTER ROAD CENTER

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP) — In a storm of hard and bloody fighting, First army Americans stormed today into the center of Langerwehe, 24½ miles from Cologne and last major German road center west of the flooded Roer river. At dusk, the infantry was slugging it out with the Nazis there, house to house.

Heavy infantry battles flamed around Barmen, 4,000 yards north of Julich; Koslar, 3,000 yards west, and Kirchberg, 4,000 yards due south. Flood waters of the Roer flowed through the Barmen streets hampering the Americans but forcing the Germans from cellars in the village. Hundreds of shells blasted the town. German artillery replied in kind, bombarding the Ninth army from high ground east of the Roer.

The U. S. Seventh army stabbed a spur 12 miles north from Strasbourg at the Rhine toward Karlsruhe in Germany.

Fyling Weather Deteriorates

Flying weather deteriorated again but the Ninth Air force got in close with attacks all along the Roer river line in the 18 miles between Linnich, Julich and Duren. At one place, the pilots divebombed Germans at one end of a tiny village while doughboys pushed in from the otherwise.

The British Second army in the extreme north moved up 500 yards, ironing out a bow in their line near Tripsrath, northeast of Geilenkirchen. They probed the thick defenses of Venlo on the Maas in Holland.

Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' First army also thrust into the outskirts of Langerwehe, five miles from Duren, whose 39,000 population make it the largest place between Aachen and Cologne. Langerwehe is 15 miles east of the German Frontier and 25 Miles from Cologne. German resistance, however, was strong and Nazi artillery and anti-tank guns were especially active.

Third Wins High Ground

The 10th armored division of the U. S. Third army won high ground in an advance deeper into Germany west of Orscholz, seven miles northeast of the road center of Merzig. The 90th infantry drove a mile and a half ahead on a three mile front between Merzig and Saarlautern, fortified German town on the Saar river. The 90th reached Meidwilling, Furweiler and Hemmersdorf.

Four little forts in the ring around Metz were found abandoned by the Germans. These are

Officers Search For Plane Near Abilene

ABILENE, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—Searching parties today combed the rough country between Baird and Putnam for a plane reported late yesterday by a 15-year-old lad to have exploded in midair and crashed in flames.

The plane was believed to be one in transient flight, as Abilene Army Air field officials reported no aircraft from this West Texas combat crew training station to be missing.

John Sprouse, whose home is in Baird, told the local telephone operator that he saw a plane explode and "someone jumped out."

Mrs. Harry Benson of Shults ranch, 17 miles northeast of Baird, told investigating authorities she heard an explosion while riding horseback on the ranch late in the afternoon.

Participating in the search are Callahan County Sheriff B. O. Brame and members of his staff, state highway patrolmen, volunteers and personnel from the Abilene field.

Tension Rises In Canada

King Calls For Confidence Vote

(By The Associated Press)

OTTAWA, Nov. 27. — Special disciplinary measures to maintain order were taken in draftee camps throughout Canada today as Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King faced a bitterly torn parliament to ask for a vote of confidence in his new policy of partial conscription for overseas service.

The life of King's nine-year-old regime hung in the balance as the House of Commons assembled to debate the conscription issue, the most explosive political question in Canada's modern history.

Troops Keep Off Streets

In some areas of the French-speaking province of Quebec, traditionally opposed to conscription for service abroad, troops of all categories were told to keep off the streets in certain cities to lessen the possibility of violent outbreaks such as marked the weekend in various parts of the dominion.

Similar precautions were taken in the west coast province of British Columbia, where more than 25,000 home defense soldiers are stationed.

The home defense troops are draftees from among whom the government is conscripting 16,000 for immediate reinforcement of depleted infantry ranks fighting on the western front.

Tension Runs High

Tension ran high on parliament hill as the House of Commons convened to hear Prime Minister King defend this policy. His confidence motion asks the House "to aid this government in its policy of maintaining a vigorous war."

The wording — not mentioning conscription—is calculated to win as many votes as possible from various groups of his own supporters whose desires range all the way from total conscription to none at all. The partial conscription policy itself is a compromise between these opposite veiws.

Meanwhile the Dominion was restive, and sporadic outbreaks continued.

At Rimouski, Quebec, three Union Jacks were burned last night in an anti-conscription demonstration. Emotions ran high elsewhere in the province.

In British Columbia two military police were injured and another flag was torn down in anti-conscription parades in five different towns of the province over the week-end.

Belgian Cabinet Holds Emergency Meeting

BRUSSELS, Nov. 27 (AP)—The cabinet of Premier Hubert Pierlot gathered for an emergency meeting today to consider a crisis arising from a bloody clash between anti-government demonstrators and black-helmeted Belgian state police in frontof the Chamber of Deputies.

The premier said in an interview yesterday that the demonstration on Saturday "was staged by a small minority."

He said the latest figures showed 45 civilians and about 12 gendarmes were wounded in Saturday's clash.

Germans Lose 226 Planes In 2 Days

Yanks Lash Rail, Road And Air Targets; Heavy Bombers Join Frontline Battle

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—At least 94 German fighters were shot down today, the second consecutive day of big air battles over the Reich, as American war planes swept almost to Berlin and heavy bombers got in licks in the frontline battle.

Five hundred American fighters, part of a 1,300-plane force which bombed and strafed Nazi rail, road and air targets, met an almost equal number of German Focke-Wulfs and Messerschmitts on a sweep within 70 miles of Berlin.

Furious air battles developed in the Magdeburg, Munster and Brunswick areas as the low-flying raiders swooped on targets all over northwestern Germany. The 94 enemy planes brought down raised the total in two days to 226.

NINE PLANES DESTROYED

ROME, Nov. 27 (AP) — Lightnings of the U. S. 15th Air force attacking communications in Hungary yesterday caught a flight of German planes preparing to land at Seregelyes air field, 35 miles southwest of Budapest and destroyed nine of them.

An Eighth Air force spokesman said it was the first time the German air force had been ordered into the air to do battle in such strength against a purely fighter force.

"They must have mistaken the fighters for a bomber escort," he said.

Rail Targets Bombed

Five hundred Fortresses and Liberators meanwhile were smashing at rail targets at Offenburg, 10 miles southeast of Strasbourg, and Bingen, 15 miles west of Mainz, without meeting opposition.

They followed an RAF pre-dawn attack by 270 Lancasters on Munich in which six-ton blockbusters were scattered on a German industrial city for the first time.

Federal Court Term Opens

The November term of federal court for the Lubbock division was opened this morning in the courtroom of the post office building with Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of Dallas presiding.

Hearings on civil suits for the term were set at the morning session by Judge Davidson and four criminal cases were tried, three of which involved violation of rationing regulations.

Tom Latham of Kent county was fined $150 and sentenced to serve six months in jail, with suspension of jail sentence if the fine is paid, on a plea of guilty of charges of purchasing, receiving and possessing six 100-pound sacks of sugar without giving up required ration stamps.

Dawson Man Pleads Guilty

A. J. (Jack) Meador of Dawson county, charged with purchase of two new automobile tires without surrendering tire ration certificates, and with receiving and possessing two used tires without surrendering ration certificates, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $100 on the first count and sentence was withheld on the second count.

L. A. Gonzales of Houston, who was in Lubbock temporarily at the time of his arrest, was fined $50 on a plea of guilty of illegal possession of 15 "T" and four "A-12" gasoline ration coupons.

The fourth criminal case heard involved three youths, one a juvenile. The trio were charged with transportation of a stolen automobile in interstate commerce. The juvenile was sentenced to two years in a federal institution but sentence was probated for three years. Donald Jones, 19, was sentenced to serve 13 months in the federal correctional institu-

Without any amplification, he added he might surprise everyone.

New Report Of Nazi Atrocities Sets Off Cry For Punishment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — Congress erupted today with demands for relentless punishment of Germans guilty of what a cabinet committee calls the systematic murder of millions of innocent European civilians.

There was no angry talk of retaliation in kind, of eye-for-an-eye retribution.

But in both Senate and House arose a measured call for peace terms severe enough to keep the Nazis from ever again committing crimes of atrocity and for the death penalty for those tried and found guilty of them in this war.

Chairman Bloom (D-NY) of the House foreign affairs committee and Senator Johnson (D-Colo) declared that Germany shouldn't be allowed to keep a single gun. And they said the peace machinery should include the means of meting out punishment to Nazis responsible for war murders.

Report Describes Atrocities

Responsible for the congressional clamor was a 25,000-word report released yesterday by the war refuge board.

The report embraced two eyewitness descriptions of brutality and slaughter by three men who

Japan's Capital Bombed Second Time In 4 Days

Raids Are First Coordinated Action By Two B-29 Commands; Attacks Carried Out From U. S. Bases In Marianas And India

(By The Associated Press)

Sizeable squadrons of Superforts bombed Tokyo and Thailand during daylight today in an unprecedented B29 double strike as reports on other widely scattered American air raids said 30 Japanese ships, ranging from a cruiser to luggers, were sunk and 18 others damaged.

The 21st Bomber command sent B29s from Saipan in their second raid in four days against Tokyo war industries while the 20th Bomber command hurled "a substantial force" of Superforts from India bases at strategic targets in Bangkok, capital of Thailand.

It was the first coordinated action of the two B29 commands.

Cross Up Foe

Like a boxer crossing up his foe with a right and a left to vulnerable spots, the big bombers struck the enemy capital from Saipan in one blow and then in another came across simultaneously from India bases to hit Thailand.

"Strategic industrial targets" in Tokyo and "strategic targets" in Thailand were the Superfortresses' goal.

NONE LOST TO ENEMY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — Not one Superfortress was lost to the enemy as the twin commands of the newly extended B-29 armada smashed today at the Tokyo industrial waterfront and vital railroad yards in Bangkok in Japanese occupied Thailand.

First, the War department in telling of a mission from Saipan in the Marianas islands under the leadership of Brig. Gen. Haywood S. Hansell, hitting Tokyo from the same spot the B29s operated Friday, said:

"Gen. Hansell's 21st Bomber command returned to Tokyo again today Nov. 27 for another daylight bombing attack upon strategic industrial targets.

Further Details Promised

"The mission was mounted from bases on Saipan in the Marianas.

"Further details on this B-29 mission will be released as soon as the information becomes available. There will be no further details on this mission tonight."

Then, about an hour later, it told of this attack under Major Gen. Curtis Lemay, from bases in India:

"A substantial force of B-29 aircraft from Gen. Lemay's 20th Bomber command today (Nov. 27,

Thomas Asks Venue Change

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 27 (AP)—The defense counsel today filed a motion for a change of venue in the re-trial of Jim Thomas, 50, charged in connection with the slaying of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, Oct. 26, 1943.

The defense charged prejudice against the defendant in Hale county.

S. J. Young, Hale county farmer, and Virgil Winn, foreman of a jury which convicted Thomas of the charge last August, testified today that they had heard opinions expressed as to Thomas' guilt.

About 80 prospective jurors of a special venire were excused from the courtroom while the motion was being tried.

Death Sentence Voided

A death sentence meted out to Thomas in a trial here last Aug. 30 later was voided and a new trial granted by District Judge C. D. Russell.

Testimony during the previous three-day trial of Thomas brought out that Thomas was in Amarillo for several days prior to the day Dr. Hunt and his wife were brutally slain in their Littlefield home, and that he left Amarillo on the afternoon prior to the killings.

An Amarillo man, G. A. Craig, testified that Thomas borrowed his automobile the day before the murders and did not return it until mid-morning of the slaying date.

Thomas was arrested in Galveston the second day after the Hunts were slain.

The retrial was granted on the grounds that the jurors discussed the fact that Thomas was an ex-convict.

Nelson Would Double China's War Output

CHUNGKING, Nov. 27 (AP) — Donald M. Nelson said today his goal was to double China's war production within the next six months.

The former chairman of the U. S. War Production board, who arrived here Nov. 16, said he had not struck a single snag so far.

Five steel men and an alcohol expert who came here with Nelson returned to Chungking today after an initial survey in which they found that Chinese steel plants are working only one shift six days a week.

Americans Lose South China Base

(By The Associated Press)

CHUNGKING, Nov. 27 — The Chinese high command tonight announced the fall of Hochih, 95 miles west of Liuchow in Kwangsi province, southern China, in the Japanese sweep toward Kweichow province.

Hochih is but 20 miles from the Kweichow border and 120 miles southeast of Kweiyang, Burma road town in Kweichow whence the invaders would be in position to strike at Chungking.

Loss of Hochih was announced shortly after it was disclosed that the last forward American air base in South China, a fighter field at Nanning, had been abandoned and destroyed by the 14th U. S. Air force.

Jap Claim Accepted

There was general acceptance of the Japanese claim to the capture of Nanning, although the high command still made no mention of the enemy drive southward toward Indo-Chna.

The communique said the Japanese by-passed Hawaiyuanchen, a railroad town 43 miles west of Liuchow, to reach Hochih, and attacked Chinese positions five miles west of Hochih.

Nanning was the seventh American air base lost in the twin Japanese northward and southward thrusts which for all practical purposes had split China in two.

Abandoned November 19

The Nanning base was abandoned Nov. 19.

As with the four major bases already lost at Hengyang, Lingling, Kweilin and Liuchow and the lesser fields at Paoking and Tanchuk, the U. S. 14th Air force maintained operations at Nanning until the field could not be defended by its own fighters and was vulnerable to surprise ground attacks.

The fall of Nanning leaves the Man Given Death For Killing Wife

GALLUP, N. M., Nov. 27 (U.P.)—Pete Talamante, 55, today appeared destined to die in the electric chair Feb. 2, following his conviction yesterday on a charge that he murdered his wife.

Judge William J. Barker meted out the sentence to Talamante, after a district court jury returned a verdict of guilty against him.

The sentencing climaxed one of the most dramatic trials in New Mexico in recent years. The trial was just underway last week when Talamantes sister-in-law, Mrs. Lucy Reyes Ruiz, 35, fired two shots at the defendant—both of them missing him.

Mrs. Ruiz was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and released under $1,000 bond.

It was charged that Talamante shot his wife last May and wounded her ten-year-old brother, Joe Reyes, in the leg, causing paralysis of the limb. The child allegedly had tried to prevent the shooting, but instead was wounded himself.

The "country store" sponsored by St. Elizabeth's Altar society at the parish hall Saturday was a decided success and about $350 was realized, to go into a fund to redecorate the sanctuary in St. Elizabeth's church. The handwork was sold first and farm produce and home cooked articles also were in demand. Auxiliary members served coffee and sandwiches in the evening.

Mrs. C. W. Ratliff was chairman of the project and she was assisted by Mesdames F. J. Botik, Ben Wiggins, Roy Grimes, John Fariss, F. J. Davis, Garvis Lacey, Al Gooden, W. C. Cole and Dr. Bessie League.

Lubbock Theaters To Aid War Loan Drive

Lubbock theaters are to "go all out" in cooperating with officials of the Sixth War Loan drive and a bond booth has already been set up in the lobby of the Lindsey theater where bonds may be purchased for the free movie day, Dec. 7, and the bond premiere, Dec. 14.

On these two days, any purchasers of bonds during the drive will be admitted free to any theater in town. The free movie day is being staged on the third anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

The Lindsey premiere Dec. 14 will present a showing of "An-American Romance."

Contract Is Let For Rural Electrication

SPUR, Nov 27. — Contract for construction of approximately 75 miles of rural electrification lines in Dickens and Kent counties has been awarded to the Eugene Ash Electric company at Fort Worth, Robert Kuykendall, manager of the Dickens County Electric Cooperative, Inc., announced.

Two other construction companies submitted bids, he said. Although no definite date has been sent for starting work on the lines, construction will get underway as soon as poles are available.

Sgt. G. R. Billingsley Believed Prisoner

S/Sgt. Granville R. Billingsley, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Billingsley, 2709 Thirtieth, has been reported by the War department to be missing in action over Germany since Oct. 20 but a letter from his commanding officer in Italy has given his parents hope that young Billingsley is safe and a prisoner of war.

GRANVILLE R.

The Liberator on which Sgt. Billingsley was a gunner was under control when last seen after being hit in formation, the officer reported to Mr. and Mrs. Billingsley.

Sgt. Billingsley has been in service since April, 1941 and was first trained in the medical detachment of the infantry but transferred to the Air Corps and graduated as an aerial gunner from Tyndall field, Fla. He had been overseas since last Aug. 1 and had participated in six missions against the enemy up until the time he was reported missing in action.

Sgt. Billingsley graduated from Sudan High school and was employed by Furr Food stores here prior to going into service. A brother, Jack W. Billingsley, seaman, second class, is visiting his parents. He recently completed boot camp training in the Navy at San Diego.

German Atrocities

escaped German extermination camps in Poland. They agreed that more than 1,500,000 Jews from several European nations were gassed and cremated at Birkenau in two years.

One account, by two Slovakian Jews who kept camp records, estimated two years of killings at Birkenau at 1,765,000. It told of the crowding of people into cubicles too small to let them sit upright or lie down, of a special gassing and burning squad that worked day and night shifts, of the use of human ashes for fertilizer.

Cremation Described

It described a "new modern crematoria and gassing plant" put in operation in February, 1943, which had a furnace room and an antechamber arranged to give the impression it was a bathing room.

It told how people were jammed into the chamber—after receiving a towel and piece of soap to complete the fiction—and of how all were dead three minutes after a powder was sifted through a roof opening from a can marked "cyklon—for use against vermin."

The second account, by an Aryan Polish major, said prisoners were used for blood transfusions, artificial insemination of women and experimental sterilization by X-ray.

TO HEAD MINISTERS—Lubbock Ministers association this morning elected Rev. C. J. McCarty, above, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, president of the association for the coming year. He will succeed Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, and will be installed in the annual banquet of the association on the night of Jan. 5. Rev. Alsie H. Caleton, pastor of St. John's Methodist church, was elected vice president, and Rev. Cecil R. Matthews, director of the Wesley foundation, was re-elected secretary for the ninth year. The association appointed a committee to confer with chamber of commerce officials regarding the changing of war time back to standard time and another committee to conduct a drive for payment of poll taxes in January as insurance against a possible beer election in Lubbock county.

Burglaries Are Reported Here

Seven "nuisance" burglaries here and one at Lamesa were reported to Lubbock police over Sunday.

"Looks like they were done by pilferers," said Bill Mabray, chief of detectives. "They left too much untouched at each place they struck."

Police said loot taken was "light."

A two-piece dress, eight jars of tomato juice and three jars of catsup were taken from the P. L. Chapman residence at 1513 Twenty-fourth. A wrist watch was tagen from 1521 Arnett. From Lamesa, it was reported by Sheriff Buck Bennett that a chest of drawers and a man's suit had been taken from a residence. He has had several burglaries reported recently.

Other Lubbock burglaries, in none of which was anything reported taken: At Silver Dollar cafe, at 1105 College; 2413 Ave. J, where a skeleton key was used; 1308 Arnett; and 327 North Monroe Ave.; and 1503 Twenty-third.

Automobiles Recovered

Police said they had been informed of theft and recovery of two automobiles on the South Plains: A Littlefield machine that was recovered with "three apprehensions of suspects" at El Paso, and a Brownfield machine recovered at Hobbs, N. M.

Police said a 16-year-old Lubbock Mexican and three of his "gang" had been transferred to the sheriff's department pending possible filing of charges in connection with a fight in the Mexican quarters and a later assault in which the gang had "attempted to cut another Mexican with a knife" at a Mexican theater. Eighteen Sunday arrests were docketed by police, four by the sheriff's department. Most of these resulted from drunkenness, and all probably "will turn into misdemeanor offenses."

County court officials said that H. H. Williamson, 48, had pleaded guilty of drunk driving and had been fined $50 and court costs. His driver's license was suspended for six months. L. W. Wilhite of the Texas Highway patrol was complaining witness, said County Attorney Syrian E. Marbut The assessment was paid, the sheriff's department said

Soviet Troops Lash Out Near Danube

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Nov. 27 — Russian armored units lashed out from captured Hatvan toward the Danube north of Budapest today while directly downstream from the Hungarian capital another Red formation was reported to have seized a foothold on narrow Csepel island.

Hatvan, 25 miles northeast of Budapest, fell yesterday after a 10-day struggle. With its capture Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky was able to maneuver his Second Ukrainian army for doublesided attacks to outflank Budapest.

Defense Line Shattered

(Berlin said Red army units fought their way into the northern tip of Csepel island in the Danube river five miles south of the capital's municipal boundary but had been repulsed in an attempt to cross into western Hungary "to take Budapest from the rear.")

Meanwhile, troops of Gen. Ivan Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian army shattered a main 60-mile defense line across eastern Slovakia by capturing the key rail and road hubs of Michalovce and Humenne, in a 12-mile advance northwest of Ungvar.

Losses Are Heavy

This thrust brought the Russians within 28 miles of the two Slovakian strongholds of Kossa (Kosice) and Presov.

The battle for Hatvan cost both the Russians and Germans heavily in tanks and men.

The German command fed reserves almost recklessly into the struggle before giving up. The midnight Soviet bulletin said that in one day of fighting 1,000 Germans were killed and 750 Germans and Hungarians were captured.

The main north route from Hatvan leads through the Matra mountains to the Czechoslovakian border stronghold of Lucenec, key to invasion routes into the Reich.

General Clark Is Promoted

LONDON, Nov. 27. (AP)—Elevation of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark from command of the U. S. Fifth army to commander-in-chief of the Allied 15th army group in Italy was announced here last night as part of a general shift of the Allied leadership in the Mediterranean.

In other changes, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, who has been Allied commander in Italy, becomes supreme commander in the Mediterranean, succeeding Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, who in turn takes the place of the late Field Marshal Sir John Dill as chief of the British joint staff mission in Washington.

The announcement from Prime Minister Churchill's office, 10 Downing street, said the appointments "are the result of agreement between the prime minister and the President of the United States."

Clark's Successor Not Disclosed

Who is to replace Clark as Fifth army commander was not immediately disclosed.

It also was announced that Alexander had been made a field marshal, effective June 4, 1944, the date of the capture of Rome.

Alexander, 53 on Dec. 10, thus becomes Britain's youngest field marshal. The date of his elevation in rank makes him senior to Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, whose appointment was effective Sept. 1.

'Washington Foot' Blamed For Many Troubles In Capital

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — My treatise today concerns an occupational disease known as Washington foot.

The chiropodist who went after my hoofs with sandpaper, carving knife and emery wheel, said I had a bad case and that if I didn't quit spending my waking hours standing in line, it would get worse.

What are you going to do when you even have to line up to get into the chiropodist's?

In Washington you stand in line for everything. Take the War department's Pentagon building, where the clerks line up in the marble corridors for blocks to collect their paychecks, line up again to cash them, and line up some more to spend same. This, said the chiropodist, is hard on the feet.

Causes Many Ailments

It causes fallen metatarsal arches, bunions, corns, other bumps, and sour dispositions, probably is responsible in part for the capital's high divorce rate and even explain some of Washington's unsolved murders. A man suffering from an advanced case of Washington foot is in pain and, when faced with the lineup at the Commerce department cafeteria, is likely to lose all control.

The lines of hungry federal workers at the various cafeterias inch their way down the terrazo floors for hours every day; the situation finally became so bad that most of the eating places installed quick lunch counters so the customers wouldn't have to stand in line.

Now at the Navy department you get in line a wait for a chance at the counter where you don't have to stand in line. You line up at cigaret machines.

Line Up For Everything

You get in line to board a bus and you stand up all the way downtown; a line forms at public elevators; every restaurant has its line on the sidewalk, and the other night I went to a night club called the Madrillon.

People were lined up at the door, waiting for a chance to line up at the dance floor inside.

You stand in line to pay your gas bills in Washington, to get ration coupons, to go to the movies, to buy a pound of butter, to pay taxes, to catch street cars, to enter a bar.

The chiropodist said he's like to have his name in print, all right, but that he feared the line out front would get longer still. He said the trouble with his clients was they didn't know how to stand in line. He said there is a technique:

Wear loose shoes (he recommended) and thick socks and ease your particular line toward a wall. Then lean on it. If there's no wall, try to lean on the guy in front. Carry a cane, if you aren't a moral coward, and learn to use it.

He said I needed a pair of hard-toed shoes. He said these would be useful especially while lined up at the OPA. He said more toes had been squashed there than any place.

Personally, I don't intend to carry a cane. I'll stand in line first and buy a pair of crutches.

Former Rodeo Star Dies Of Wounds

FORT WORTH, Nov. 27 (U.P.) — The turbulent career of Louis Tindall, 42, was at an end today after his death last night from gun shot wounds suffered two weeks ago.

The one-time rodeo star, who never banked his money but carried his "roll" on his person, was shot from ambush the night of Nov. 12 in the driveway of his home. A charge from a shotgun and several pistol bullets struck him in the chest.

Tindall and his wife returned the fire. Police have been unable to determine the identity of his assailants.

Tindall was the victim of several other robbery attempts and often said that he would "give up my life but not my money."

B-29 Officers Are Worried Over Babies

SUPERFORTRESS BASE, Saipan, Marianas, Nov. 27. (U.P.)—(Via Navy Radio)—Capt. Vincent Evans of Fort Worth, Tex., and Maj. Robert K. Morgan of Asheville, N. C., are worried more about their babies than radios on Tokyo.

Both men are veteran Army Air force officers who flew in the famed B-17 "Memphis Belle" over Europe and now are officers on the B-29 Superfort "Dauntless Dotty."

Morgan said his baby was due Nov. 13, but as yet he has not heard anything. Evans is sweating out a child which will be born about Dec. 20.

With Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnel, jr., leader of the Tokyo mission, aboard, Morgan and Evans were in the first plane to bomb the Musashina aircraft factory in Friday's Tokyo strike.

Seaman Shoots Friend, Tries To Kill Self

DALLAS, Nov. 27 (U.P.) — A 17-year-old merchant seaman, Howard Goad, was so overcome with remorse after accidentally shooting to death his 17-year-old friend, William John May, yesterday that he attempted to kill himself with the same gun, a doctor said today.

The physician, who had examined young May in a hospital and pronounced him dead, said he talked Goad out of his plan in the corridor of the hospital by telling him that May could probably be revived.

The accident occurred, Justice of the Peace Tom King said, while Goad, home on leave, was showing a newly-acquired .22 caliber pistol to May and a group of friends.

Winter's First Blast Hits Area

(By The United Press)

All of New Mexico and more than half of Texas shivered in freezing or sub-freezing temperatures today, but Texans were happy to find winter's first real blast at the state had not been as strong a blow as had been anticipated.

Where lows of from 18 to 22 degrees had been forecast for the Panhandle and South Plains areas of the state, Dalhart in the extreme northwest corner reported the morning's minimum of 24 degrees, while other Panhandle and Plains temperatures ranged in the upper 20's.

Freezing weather, however, was general eastward to the Louisiana line and southward nearly to San Antonio and Austin.

New Mexico Low Is 17

Highest minimums reported in New Mexico today were even freezing — 32 degrees at Columbus and Rodeo in the southwest corner, while the lows were at Raton and El Morro, where the mercury hit 17.

Readings about the same or lower were forecast for both states for tonight as clear skies continued to cover the region.

Other Texas minimums reported included 25 degrees at Clarendon; 26 at Lubbock; 27 at Pampa, Amarillo and Gainesville; 28 at Wink, Sulphur Springs and Texarkana; 29 at Dallas; 30 at Abilene and Wichita Falls; 31 at El Paso; 32 at Big Spring, Fort Worth and Waco; 33 at San Antonio; 34 at Austin; 38 at Beaumont; 39 at Houston; 44 at Corpus Christi, and 50 at Brownsville.

New Mexico minimums included 21 degrees at Otto and Las Vegas; 22 at Acomita; 23 at Santa Fe; 24 at Roswell; 25 at Albuquerque; 26 at Engle and Socorro, and 27 at Tucumcari.

Congressmen 'Scared' On Plan To Lengthen Their Tenures

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — "A congressman," a congressman said today, "is the most sacred thing there is when he thinks the public may think he's trying to keep himself in office."

He was explaining why congressmen may hesitate to act on a proposal made in Congress that the two-year term of representatives be extended to four years.

And this reasoning by a fellow-congressman makes sense to Rep. Lea (D-Cal.), who made the proposal. In fact, he thinks it may be one of the main stumbling blocks.

Lea's plan would require amending the Constitution. But he doesn't expect anything to be done about it at this session. He says it's a trial balloon to test public reaction.

May Propose Plan Again

When he sees how the wind blows he can offer the same plan to the new Congress which begins Jan. 3.

These are some of the arguments for a longer term for congressmen:

Because of his present short term, a congressman has to spend too much time thinking of re-election every two years.

This—and his campaigning — take his time and money. It's time which could be better spent in public service.

The longer term would spare him and the voters the expense of frequent elections.

The longer term would mean more continuity in the work of legislation. A man serving four years builds up more experience than a man serving two.

Congressmen Close To People

Here are some arguments against the longer term:

Under the present arrangement the voters have a chance at least every two years to register their approval or disapproval of what their congressmen are doing.

This means the congressmen are closer to the people than the senators who have six-year terms. By campaigning and hustling for votes, the congressmen learn what the people think and want.

Under Lea's plan the whole House of Representatives would not face election every four years. Every two years about half the House would stand for re-election. The other half's turn would come two years later.

Postwar Cooking By Electronic Process May Change Tastes

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (U.P.) — Megatherm, a war-born electronic process described as "megacycle heating," may do much of your cooking in the postwar era, but you'll have to get used to the results, for they are different from cooking by ordinary flame.

So Vernon W. Sherman, manager of the Industrial Electronics Division of the Federal Telephone and Radio Corp., Newark, told a recent meeting of associated chain druggists. The new process, he explained, probably will cut the time of cooking by 25 per cent.

Because we have been educated to like food that is burned, seared or caramelized, we will have to get used to the new cooking and probably will develop new tastes, he said.

"I believe the palate will welcome crustless bread, crustless cookies and certain other foods which, electronically cooked, will take on a changed appearance but will remain nutritious and acceptable to the taste.

"Megatherm heating differs from other heating because it penetrates uniformly and simultaneously all parts of food subjected to it."

The device, Sherman added, operates on ordinary lighting current and requires no more skill or training than a roaster or a waffle iron. Its cooking oven contains two metallic plates, between which food is placed. The new process uses high frequency energy as its heating medium.

If you need bifocal help and you've hesitated because you believe this type of glasses more conspicious, we have good news for you. Ful-Vue bifocals are so inconspicious that even your best friends won't be able to tell them from ordinary glasses.

More than that, you won't need that customary "breaking in" period to get used to Ful-Vue bifocals. Bothersome "jump" has been reduced and you won't see double. If you suspect you need a little extra help from your glasses, see your oculist (eye physician) for a thorough eye examination. If you do need bifocals, let us fit you to Ful-Vues. T.C.U. To Meet Oklahoma Ags In Cotton Bowl; Duke And Alabama In Sugar Bowl

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Eleven Saturdays of college football have determined the casts of the various New Year's day bowl games, decided a majority of the conference championships and left the Army-Navy clash as the top attraction for this weekend.

The Cadets and Middies tangle Saturday in Baltimore before a war-bound crowd in a game Army must win to retain its No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press poll.

Previous Saturdays this fall have brought about this program for the Jan. 1 bowl games (team records in parenthesis):

Rose Bowl—at Pasadena: Southern California (7-0-2) vs. Tennessee (7-0-1).

Duke To Meet Alabama

Sugar Bowl—at New Orleans: Duke (5-4-0) vs. Alabama (5-1-2).

Cotton Bowl—at Dallas: Texas Christian (7-1-1, one game left to play) vs. Oklahoma A&M (7-1-0).

Oil Bowl—at Houston-Rice (4-6-0, one game left to play) vs. opponent still to be selected.

Sun Bowl—at El Paso: Both teams still to be selected.

Ohio State Wins Title

Big Ten: Ohio State defeated Michigan Saturday, 18 to 14, and annexed the title, replacing the Wolverines and Purdue, co-champions of 1943. The Buckeyes were denied a chance to play in the Rose Bowl when Big Ten faculty advisors voted 7 to 3 against lifting past season ban.

Big Six: Oklahoma must defeat Nebraska Saturday to retain the title outright for a second straight year.

Missouri valley: Oklahoma A & M was voted the laurels after defeating Tulsa, last year's champ, 46 to 40, on Oct. 28.

Duke Crushes North Carolina

Southern: Duke crushed North Carolina, 33 to 0, and won the crown for the eighth time in the past decade.

Pacific Coast conference: Southern California, which took their title on Jan. 1 by drugging Washington in Rose Bowl, repeats as champion.

Southwest: Texas Christian, given little chance at outset, ended two-year reign of Texas Longhorns by slipping past Rice Saturday, 9 to 6. Previously the Frogs had nipped Texas, 7 to 6.

Southeast: Georgia Tech, blanked by Notre Dame in 21 to 0 contest, must defeat Georgia Saturday to retain crown. Tennessee closed its season unbeaten with a 21 to 7 conquest of Kentucky.

Yale, Penn Unbeaten

East: Yale and Pennsylvania both unbeaten in the cloistered Ivy league but Army and Navy will clash Saturday for the Lambert trophy, emblematic of eastern football supremacy.

Service: Randolph field, voted No. 1 among the service outfits, swamped Amarillo Air base, 33 to 0, to keep that honor while Bainbridge, unbeaten since the sport was adopted there two years ago, romped over Camp Peary, 21 to 13.

Games this week in addition to the Army-Navy struggle are: Thursday: Tulane at Louisiana State, William and Mary at Richmond, Texas A and M at Texas, and Maryland at VMI.

Friday: Tulsa at Miami.

Saturday: Great Lakes at Notre Dame, Texas Christian at Southern Methodist, Virginia vs. North Carolina, Nebraska at Oklahoma, Georgia Tech at Georgia, Southwest Texas at Rice.

Algiers Navy (New Orleans) 6; Gulfport (Miss.) Navy 0.
Keesler (Miss.) field vs. Fort Benning (Ga.) Third infantry, postponed.

SNEAD WINS TOURNEY

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 27 (AP)—Samuel Jackson Snead, of Hot Springs, Va., hitting the comeback trail after 26 months of Navy service, was professional golf's man of the hour today, winner of the $15,500 war bonds 72-hole Portland open tournament. He tacked up a 289 to head a fine field of pros and amateurs and with the victory pocketed $2675 in war bonds.

Champion Frogs To Meet S.M.U.

Texas, Texas Aggies To Clash Thursday In Top SWC Game

(By The Associated Press)

Champion Texas Christian of the Southwest conference plays its last game of the year Saturday but a couple of teams battling for second place steal the football spotlight for the week.

The annual Thanksgiving day scrap between the University of Texas and Texas A. and M., a game steeped in tradition, is definitely tops.

T. C. U., which clinched its first title since 1938 last week by trouncing Rice 9-6, will meet Southern Methodist at Dallas in an anti-climax. The outcome will affect nothing except prestige and that only for the Horned Frogs should they lose to the cellar-dwelling Methodists.

Rice, Southwestern To Clash

These two are the only conference tilts scheduled. Rice takes on Southwestern at Houston and Arkansas meets Arkansas A. and M. at Fayetteville.

The fact that Texas and Texas A. and M. will be fighting for second place in the final conference standing will make the battle at Austin no more intense than if they were scrapping to get out of the cellar. Aggies and Longhorns have been battling for more than 50 years and the result of this game is the gauge on whether the season has been successful.

Both Texas and A. and M. have two victories and two losses in the conference race. Should they play to a tie there would be a three-way deadlock for second place since Arkansas has finished with two wins, two defeats and a tie.

A. and M. Has Better Record

A. and M. has the better season record. It has won six and lost three. Texas won four and lost four. But the Longhorns will be playing in Memorial stadium where a Texas team never has met defeat at the hands of the Aggies. And Bobby Lane, ace Texas passer, will be in top shape after playing only spasmodically for several weeks due to an injured knee.

The Horned Frogs won the hard way from Rice at Houston Saturday. The game was in doubt until the final gun sounded with T. C. U. halting a Rice drive that carried to the one-yard line with only 15 seconds to go. A penalty for too much time and three yards in losses set the Owls back to the nine as the game ended.

T. C. U. In Cotton Bowl

T. C. U. automatically became host team in the Cotton Bowl and will meet potent Oklahoma A. and M. Jan. 1 in Dallas. It is the fifth bowl game for TCU—they played in the Cotton Bowl in 1937, in the Sugar Bowl in 1936 and 1939 and in the Orange Bowl in 1941.

There were no other conference games last week. S. M. U. defeated the Texas Tech Raiders 7-6 at Lubbock. Arkansas earlier in the week, on the nation's first Thanksgiving day, had lost to Tulsa, 33-2.

After this week's game, only one will be left for 1944. The Aggies meet Miami university at Miami, Fla., Dec. 8.

Randolph, Bainbridge Sought For Oil Bowl

HOUSTON, Nov. 27 (U.P.) — The Oil Bowl committee met here today in an attempt to decide on opponents for the 2nd annual football classic to be staged New Year's day.

Holly Brock, bowl committee chairman, said before the meeting that efforts still were being made to match the powerful Randolph field Ramblers with Bainbridge naval in the Houston post-season game.

It was believed Rice institute, next to the bottom in the Southwest conference, would not be considered as the host team except as a last resort.

Brock said the War department had not yet turned down the Oil Bowl bid for Randolph, but indicated it would make some decision on the matter this week, possibly Wednesday or Thursday.

The thick, granitic crust that surrounds the earth is entirely absent beneath the Pacific ocean.

Sugar Bowl Winner Sure To Please Wade

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 27. (AP)—No matter who wins the Sugar Bowl football game between Duke and Alabama, Wallace Wade can view the outcome with pride.

Wade, Blue Devil mentor on leave with the Army, coached both schools to gridiron prominence. He took three Alabama teams and two from Duke to the Rose Bowl.

CARDS SIGN PITCHER

GUELPH, Ont., Nov. 27. (AP)—Jack Hough, 17-year-old right-handed pitcher, has signed with the St. Louis Cardinals and will play for their Winston-Salem, N. C., farm club. Hough attended the baseball school operated by the world champions at Hamilton this fall.

Field To Be Cut To 16 Teams This Week; 10 Winners Determined

District Races In Final Lap

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Texas schoolboy football field will be cut to sixteen teams this week as the decks are cleared for the "sudden death" round in the battle for the state championship opening the first week in December.

Six more district championships will be determined to go with the ten decided through last weekend.

San Angelo's defending state champions will have to wait until Friday before they'll know for sure that they are again in the fight for the title.

Bobcats Need Win

San Angelo was at first listed as a district champion after the Bobcats beat Abilene 46-0 but it now develops that San Angelo must first beat Sweetwater before it can be certified for a place in the bi-district round next week.

San Angelo school officials were under the impression that district 3 had a rule providing for a championship in the event two teams tied for the lead and one of them had beaten the other in season play but V. Z. Rogers of Lamesa, district chairman, said the rule held that should teams tie the committee would have to certify which was to represent the district.

Thus these championships will have to be decided this week:

District 3—San Angelo at Sweetwater. Sweetwater can't tie for the title with a victory but defeat of San Angelo would place Abilene in a deadlock with the Bobcats. Abilene has finished the district race with five victories and one defeat.

Paris To Meet Greenville

District 5—Paris at Greenville, the winner to be champion.

District 6—Highland Park (Dallas) at Sulphur Springs. Highland Park is undefeated but Sulphur Springs has lost only one game and would be tied with Highland Park should it beat the Scotties.

District 10—Temple at Waco, the winner to become champion.

District 13—Milby (Houston) vs. Lamar (Houston). Lamar would be tied for the lead by San Jacinto if Milby won: Lamar can win the title by beating or tying Milby.

District 16—McAllen at Edinburg. McAllen can win the title by a victory or tie; a loss would leave McAllen in a tie with Brownsville for the lead.

10 Champions Determined

District champions definitely determined are:

1—Amarillo; 2—Wichita Falls; 4—Austin (El Paso); 7—Paschal (Fort Worth); 8—Sunset (Dallas); 9—Breckenridge; 11—Marshall; 12—Lufkin; 14—Port Arthur; 15—Austin.

There will be at least three undefeated teams in the first round. Paschal and Austin are unbeaten and untied and have finished district play. Sunset is undefeated but has been tied. The Dallas team also has finished up.

Waco, another undefeated, untied eleven, still has Temple to play.

Giants, Redskins To Battle For Title

NEW YORK, Nov. 27. (U.P.)—The New York Giants, with a timely assist from their old enemies the Chicago Bears, were ready to fight it out today with the Washington Redskins for the eastern division National league football championship.

The Giants, eyeing the scoreboard gleefully, gained a hard earned 7 to 0 triumph over the Brooklyn Tigers at the Polo Grounds yesterday, while the Bears were knocking the Philadelphia Eagles out of the lead with a 28 to 7 upset victory in Philadelphia. Meanwhile, the Redskins kept pace with the Giants by defeating the visiting Boston Yanks 14 to 7.

That combination of victories and defeats set the stage for a championship meeting when the Giants and Redskins close out their regular schedule with a home and home meeting. The teams play at the Polo Grounds next Sunday, at Washington the following Sunday and will determine the site for a third game, if necessary, by the flip of a coin.

Green Bay, with the western division title clinched, let down a little at Chicago, but still had sufficient momentum to beat the Card-Pitts 35 to 20. Don Hutson caught two touchdown passes and made five conversions for 17 points.

Frankie Sinkwich threw three touchdown passes in a 26 to 14 Detroit victory over the Cleveland Rams.

Speculation Rife On Landis' Successor

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (U.P.) — Speculation as to who will succeed the late Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis as commissioner of baseball was rife today with the most logical choice for the post definitely on record as saying he would not accept it.

He is Leslie O'Connor, Landis' long-standing friend and hand-picked secretary, who told the United Press recently, "I positively will not take the commissioner's post if it is offered to me."

O'Connor will continue to handle the administration of baseball's government until the Dec. 11-13 major league meeting here at which time the club owners will select Landis' successor.

Although he said he would refuse to take the commissioner's post alone, O'Connor added he might consider a possition on a three-man commission. That type of governing body has been frequently mentioned as the probable choice, with President William Harridge of the American league, President Ford Frick of the National league and O'Connor presiding.

The body of the aged commissioner was cremated Saturday, shortly after his death, and in conformance with his wishes, no funeral service was held.

Farthings have been in use in England for 243 years.

Mighty Ramblers Win 33 To 0 Over Amarillo Sky Giants

FORT WORTH, Nov. 27 (AP)—Randolph field's mighty Ramblers have cleaned up all opposition available in the Southwest and South and now will turn their attention to the West—a game with the Fourth Air force of March field in Los Angeles Dec. 10.

The Ramblers finished their regular schedule here yesterday with a 33-0 decision over the Amarillo Air field Sky Giants. It was their ninth straight victory and brought their total for the season to 409 points—an average of more than 45 per game.

A crowd estimated at 11,000 sat in biting weather to watch the Ramblers and Sky Giants put on a pleasing football exhibition. Bill Dudley, Randolph's great halfback, ran 68 yards for one touchdown, passed 21 yards to Harry Burrus for another, set up a third with a coffin-corner kick to the Amarillo two-yard line and intercepted a pass to race back 41 yards and lead the way to a fourth counter.

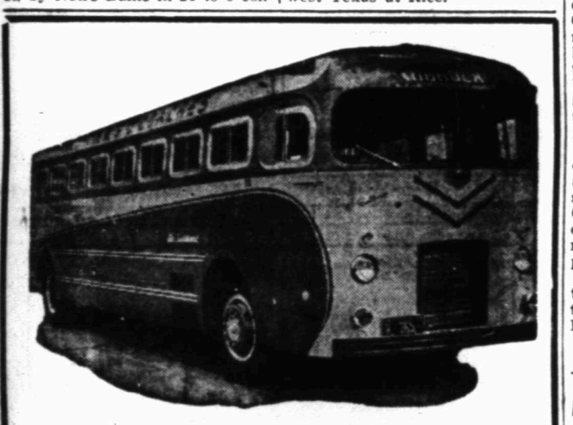

Sky Giants Fight Gamely

Amarillo Air field put up a better game than the score indicates. The Sky Giants gained 161 yards rushing and passing and rolled up 10 first downs to 9 for the Ramblers but never could get closer than the Randolph 34-yard line. Twice more they were in Rambler territory but only to the 49-yard line. Randolph field rolled up 335 yards rushing and passing.

Bobby Paffrath, the former Minnesota star, was the standout for Amarillo, especially on defense.

It was a rough game and at one stage some of the opposing players almost came to blows.

Scoring touchdowns in addition to Dudley and Burrus were Tippy Madarik, Everett Elkins and Clint White. Bill Causey kicked two extra points and Dudley one.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS

Dear Plainsman: The people of Lubbock apparently do not have sons, husbands and sweethearts in the service. If they have, how can they expect to have their soldiers well-treated wherever they are stationed when they are so negligent about the soldiers stationed here?

This letter was prompted by a visit to the library at South Plains Army Air field. The library, at first glance, is a wonderful place to spend free time. It is beautifully decorated; well lighted; furnished with the deep lounge chairs and large, comfortable sofas which appeal to a man; and everything is arranged for the soldier's comfort and convenience. But when one takes a second glance an entirely different aspect presents itself. Where are the books? True, there are a few books there: books which look as though they were discarded from an attic during spring housecleaning. . But aren't our fighting men worthy of something better than that?

Let us remember that many of these boys interrupted their education to offer their services to Uncle Sam that this might be a world fit to live in; a democratic world; a democracy in which education for all is a dominant factor. Can't we civilians at least provide them with books more fitted to their young enthusiasm for knowledge?

With Christmas coming, now would be a good time for every individual in Lubbock to donate one good book to these men. Let that be your Christmas gift to that man in the service. And rest assured that your gift will be highly appreciated. Don't hesitate to purchase a book lest your taste might not be that of the men. Somewhere, among the soldiers, there is sure to be one interested in the same field of literature you are. These boys come from all over the United States and from all walks of life. They represent average American youth at its best. Let's help keep American youth that way—at its best.

The field librarian admits that the library is sorely in need of books, but she can do nothing about the situation since no allocation for the purchase of new material is forthcoming.

There's an old adage — "They also serve who only stand and wait." We who are waiting can be doing our country a service by providing books for those who are serving.

A Reader.

Referring to talk about cigaret hoarders, a friend of ours remarked:

"Well, I've heard of pack mules all my life, but this is the first time I've ever heard of pack hogs!"

THE overwhelming majority of Lubbock people want some sort of municipal auditorium and they want it constructed and ready for use as soon as possible after victory.

There may be a few people who are opposed to such a building, but from what we hear they are very few. By and large, the populace agrees that a municipal auditorium is Lubbock's No. 1 need and unless business goes to pot in the immediate postwar period they'll vote a whacking bond issue to pay for it.

But what sort of an auditorium will the majority of our people want?

There's likely to be a big difference of opinion there.

Like many another citizen, L. A. Howard, the lawyer-stockman, has been giving some thought to Lubbock's needs along the auditorium line. And let us say right here that while Mr. Howard is rarely ever seen marching in parades, he does as much serious thinking about making Lubbock a better place in which to live as anyone around here. The truth is, he's something like Al Smith was in 1932, and like Wendell Willkie was in 1940—he's usually thinking far ahead of the crowd.

Whether he's too far ahead in his thinking along the auditorium line, or not, only time will tell. But, anyway, he thinks Lubbock will make a big mistake if it builds something similar to what other cities erected in the years between 1925 and 1941—in other words, just a big convention hall.

MR. HOWARD dropped into our cubbyhole the other day to outline his idea. In brief, he thinks we ought to have coliseum, rather than a convention hall and he thinks it should embrace the best of the new features which architects and builders have to offer.

He suggests that the building embrace, of course, a convention hall—but one which may be adjusted to suit different crowds by the use of movable walls and partitions. In other words, if we have a big convention with delegates numbering in the thousands, we'd use the entire hall. But when we have smaller groups, numbering in the scores or the hundreds, the space can be adjusted to fit the need.

He thinks, too, that the main space in the building should be flexible in another regard. He thinks it should be adjustable to a dairy show, for instance, or a horse show, or a flower show. He thinks it should be applicable to housing basketball games, wrestling matches, boxing matches, as well as traveling shows and entertainments of all kinds.

In short, Mr. Howard's idea is to have a utilitarian building, such as the coliseum at Tulsa, which takes care of everything from ice skating to opera and indoor circuses; lectures, dancers, boxing, wrestling, patriotic gatherings and all-city religious revivals.

With undeniable logic, Mr. Howard contends that the average municipal auditorium of the convention hall type is a "white elephant" on the hands of the citizenship which owns it.

Amarillo and San Angelo, for instance, have jim-dandy convention halls; they are attractive and because of them many gatherings and entertainments which cannot be taken care of here can be nicely cared for in those cities. But they are, in the final analysis, just convention halls and as such are closed and locked most of the time.

Under his plan, Mr. Howard says a coliseum here could be used in part every day, for in it could be housed such organizations as the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, the chamber of commerce. Also in its smaller rooms it would care for meetings of women's clubs, P-TA's, etc. One section of it could house a library, too, and certainly Lubbock is going to have a real library in the postwar period. If it doesn't, we should all hide our faces in shame.

WHAT about the cost of such a municipal structure? Well, Mr. Howard has at least a partial answer to that. Says he:

In the first place, a coliseum wouldn't cost so terribly much more to construct than a convention hall and over the years would attract much more in the way of revenue and give much greater satisfaction to more people.

In the second place, people are more awake to better living than ever before and will be willing to pay for it. Visualizing that money will have to be "cheap" for many, many years to come because of taxes and debts, Mr. Howard says people are going to measure their expenditures by what they will return in satisfactory living, rather in the number of dollars involved.

He thinks Lubbock people would rather spend $500,000 for instance, for a coliseum that can be used to the greater benefit of the greatest number, than half that sum for a convention hall that would remain useless for most of the time.

The Plainsman is inclined to agree with him.

Mr. Howard's suggestion is more than something for The Plainsman to write about, and for people, generally, to chat about—and then forget.

It is something that the public should carefully consider for the good of the community and all of us who live here.

At first blush, it may look like "too big a bite" for our town, but careful study of the idea may prove that it just "looks too big," and really isn't.

By all means, it should be studied by all those who believe in a better Lubbock in the future.

INCIDENTALLY, O. B. Hankins called the other day with the suggestion that Lubbock should erect some sort of war memorial when peacetime rolls around again. Pointing out that our people never got around to memorializing the men of World War I, Mr. Hankins says that whatever sort of a memorial we have after World War 2 should include the men who wore uniforms in 1917, as well as those who wear them now.

Mr. Hankins thought maybe whatever sort of auditorium Lubbock builds might include the memorial idea and we agree with him on that.

What, if anything, could be a better memorial to the men who served in both wars than a coliseum, such as Mr. Howard suggests?

MOST people mistakenly believe that only in hot weather is there any danger of food poisoning. That such is not the case was proven out at Texas Tech the other day when approximately 100 boys experienced stomach upsets as the result of damaged food being served in one of the dormitory diningshalls.

Doctors who were appraised of the situation, and who sent large quantities of medicine to the college to combat the illness, say the trouble apparently came from leftover turkey and dressing. At least, they can ascribe the attacks to nothing else.

Housewives will do well to carefully inspect leftover foods in general, and leftover turkey and dressing, in particular, these days.

If spoilage can happen in a Tech dormitory kitchen, where there is outstanding cleanliness and sanitation plus expert supervision, it can happen anywhere.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

A CHICAGO judge recently tried a new experiment in the hope of patching up three marriages—but it turned out to be a flop.

MILLETT

He sent three divorce-headed couples to a movie about wartime marital troubles, "The Impatient Years." But instead of coming back to the judge in the mood for saying they were ready to patch up their difficulties and try to make a go of their marriages—the couples remained unconvinced.

The judge should have known better than to expect to use a movie as a means of reconciliation between fighting husbands and wives. Even the happiest couples can find something to fight about when going to a movie.

To begin with, when the movie hour rolls around, chances are the wife will be raring to go, and the husband will have decided he'd rather stay at home after all.

MATING MIRACLE

AND if both of them enjoy the same kind of movies, it's a miracle of perfect mating. Then, too, odds are in favor of the wife's taking so long to put on her face and her hat that her husband will yell at her before they start: "If we can't get in at the start of the movie—let's just stay home."

And, life being what it is, men who like to sit way down front invariably marry girls who like to see their movies from a distance.

And there's always a sour note if the man in back has to ask the little woman to remove her hat—or if the husband laughs more uproariously than his wife thinks he should and so gives him a nudge, to keep still, for heaven's sake.

And women being the inveterate movie goers they are, there is a chance that after the first few minutes of a movie the wife will say, "Why I've already seen this movie" and either insist on leaving or on staying, so as to be able to tell her husband just what to expect.

No wonder the judge's experiment failed.

Today's Journal Editorial

AN INDIVIDUAL POSTWAR PROBLEM

It is a fair assumption that practically every American is hoping for a return of conditions, not all of them economic, to which it is natural to look back upon as enjoyed before war upset the world. "The good old days," some call them.

The cry in some form is found throughout literature. There was the beautifully phrased lamentation of the Psalmist: "By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion."

What Americans recall of their temporary Utopias would make fine subjects for debating societies. It is undeniable that there have been periods in American history when comfort and cheer were apparently pretty well distributed. Such times were cheered and illuminated by a humor that was truly a feature of the American way of life.

Hardly a county but had its own citizen with a gift for lending a funny twist to things. His comments on current events might be wise as well as droll. These often attained a considerable circulation through local newspapers, whose editors frequently possessed a funny streak of their own.

In discussion of postwar America, what is desirable and essential is that the tolerance that is a natural accompaniment of humor shall always be in the background. The day's casualty lists are a continuing sorrow. The men and women who are making their sacrifices are not only a loss to their kindred and their communities, but the nation has lost just so much of the buoyancy and joyousness of youth that are blended in the American spirit.

The dislocations due to war can not be overcome in a day or even in years, but those who are afflicted with nostalgia for times when wholesome mirth was part of the national life need not be discouraged. "Defeatism" is not a desirable word in the American vocabulary. It has been employed much too frequently in the war years. No doubt it will be deleted from their lexicons by patriotic Americans when American humor is free to bubble again.

This much we all should—we all must—remember:

Man's time here below is short at its best; human life is beset by trial and trouble, but it does no one good to coddle sorrow and tribulation.

All of us should wring from life all the pleasure and all the wholesome good humor we possiby can. So in the much-talked-of postwar world it will behoove us all, as individuals, to do our tiny bit to relegate worry and sadness to the sidelines as much as we possibly can.

No government-appointed "planning board" can do that for us.

It's a job we must do for ourselves.

Selassie Protests To U. S. Against British

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The State Department is trying to hush it up, but Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia has sent a strong protest to the United States Government against the British government for refusing to evacuate Ethiopian territory.

The soulful, white-robed figure of the little Emperor, whose pleading speeches before the League of Nations against Mussolini's aggression in 1935 brought world public opinion to his support, now can no longer appeal to the League, which is dead, so he has written to the United States.

PEARSON

Last month, he also attempted to communicate with this columnist but, either because of British censorship or the State Department, the communication was stopped. Now, however, through other channels, this writer has ascertained that the British are not only occupying parts of two Ethiopian provinces, Ogaden and Harar, but apparently intend to keep them.

Three years ago, when the Italian armies finally were pushed out of Ethiopia, "Haile Selassie, the Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, Elect of the Lord, King of Kings of Ethiopia" was restored to his throne with considerable pomp and circumstance.

Newspapers all over the world, especially in London, made quite a fuss over the restoration. There was much rejoicing. The first seeds of war had sprouted when Mussolini romped roughshod over the peace machinery of the League and sent his heavy artillery against the rhinoceros-hide shields, the curved scimitars and the breech-loading rifles of His Majesty's army. Therefore London newspapers editorialized that the first wrong of the war had been righted.

BRITISH REFUSE TO LEAVE

UNDER the agreement by which the British restored the Emperor, the British could occupy Ethiopia for two years. Last March, that agreement was extended for another year, at the urgent demand of the British, thought the Italians and Germans long had been gone from Africa.

Last month, however, the Emperor, still under the illusion that this war was being fought to free the world, asked the British if they would leave his territory by the end of the year. In reply, the British Government informed His Majesty that the natives of the rich Ogaden and Harar provinces did not want him as Emperor any more but desired to pay allegiance to a more powerful monarch, King George VI of England.

Discouraged, but never surrendering, the Lion of Judah pressed the point. He was told that the British had no intention of leaving. Parts of Harar and Ogaden provinces, it became clear, were to be annexed to nearby British Somaliland.

At this point, the Emperor, greatly disillusioned, addressed his appeal to the State Department. Distressed State Department officials have been sitting on the lid, trying to keep the matter quiet, though making polite representations to the British Foreign Office that it should respect the rights of little nations.

NOTE—There are only two independent countries in Africa — both, incidentally, Christian. Liberia, founded by American slaves, is under American protection. Ethiopia, now under British protection, has appealed to the United States several times in the past.

When the British wanted to build a dam on Lake Tana to control the headwaters of the Blue Nile, the Ethiopians countered by arranging a deal with the J. G. White Corporation of New York, figuring they would build the dam without any political strings attached. The British hit the ceiling. But Henry L. Stimson, then Secretary of State, stood behind the Ethiopian-American dam contract, sent various U. S. experts to Addis Ababa to advise and assist the Emperor. Haile Selassie showed his appreciation by sending his personal Bible as a present to the National Cathedral.

SNUFF BOXES AND TREATIES

VENERABLE Senator Theodore Francis Green, aristocratic chairman of the Senate campaign expenditures committee, looks the part of a movie Senator. Despite his appearance, however, he is one of the most progressive members of Congress.

Last week, at a Washington party, Green was asked why there should be Senatorial resistance to the idea of ratifying international treaties by a majority vote rather than the two-thirds vote.

"Oh, before you can get my colleagues to agree to that," replied the Senator from Rhode Island, "you'll have to get them to stop using snuff-boxes."

NOTE — Snuff-boxes, like the 150-year-old system of ratifying treaties, are still official Senate equipment.

SOCIAL SECURITY REVISION

ONE of the first things Roosevelt will put before the new Congress is a revision of the entire Social Security Act, plus a new "cradle to the grave" social welfare program.

White House aides have been keeping it quiet, but they have talked this over with Senator Wagner of New York, Senate majority leader Alben Barkley, and Senate Finance Committee Chairman George of Georgia. All three are willing to go through with it.

Inside fact is that Roosevelt considers his re-election a mandate for new social security legislation. He has pointed out to intimates that Governor Dewey said "me too" to social security extension and criticized Roosevelt's program as not going far enough.

As a result, Roosevelt is prepared to make the following recommendations for a new bill as soon as the new Congress opens and he is reinaugurated:

1. A permanent floor under wages of 60 cents an hour, as advocated by Senator Pepper.

2. Extension of social security to cover farmers and returning servicemen.

3. Lowering of the age at which old-age benefits can be obtained from 65 to 60 years.

4. A general over-all increase in benefits to be paid those eligible for assistance under the Social Security Act.

5. Extension of the act to assist those losing wages due to illness or disability.

6. Enactment of an over-all Federal unemployment insurance program.

NOTE—Roosevelt will probably reveal his plan in his State of the Union address to Congress in January, will follow with a special message shortly thereafter.

Anderson's reputable investigative group . . . When the Speaker of the House announced the contempt action, Rankin queried: "Mr. Speaker, what is necessary to dispose of the document which the Speaker has just read? Will it require a resolution? Resolution by the House or will it be referred to some committee?" . . . The Speaker replied: "That is not necessary under the statute. It is before the court now" . . . Rankin persisted: "I understand, but in order to call for court action, it will be necessary, as I understand it, to have a resolution from the House" . . . The Speaker: "The Chair thinks not under the law."

In short—Rankin was foiled in his hope to pigeon-hole it.

The Watch On The Rhine

Foreign Peoples Astounded Over American Interest In Helpless

U. S. Is World's Greatest Force For Good

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — A group of us, a few newspapermen and some government officials, sat about a nice dinner, enjoying the quick give-and-take of a post-mortem on the election, with much gay chatter and good humor, punctuated by occasional sharp thrusts and sly remarks about big political figures.

Stokes

Few were spared. It's a good old American custom.

Then the things were cleared away and we settled back to cigars and cigarettes and a young man, the guest of honor, began to speak. He was Ira A. Hirschmann, who worked in the Near East, in Turkey and the Balkans, cutting red tape to get out refugees. He was a representative of the board designated by President Roosevelt, consisting of Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of War Stimson, and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau.

Tells Gripping Story

He sat and talked informally. He mentioned the election as he started, and then went into an account of his work. He told of the horrors of persecution in the Balkans; of massacres; of a thousand children who waited and waited and waited, literally at the docks, lost waifs with no country and no home, for whom it seemed nobody could find visas. He got them to Palestine and he reported that, on a visit there later, he found them different little beings, recovering rapidly, physically and emotionally. All told 50,000 persons were moved to Palestine.

As he talked, the fear that grips the souls of men who dared to speak out against the Nazis, the hidden lives they had to lead, the deaths that so many of them died — all this rose up about that table with its white linen and its bowl of flowers. It made his listerners a serious and sober group.

THEN, as he talked on, you recalled with a bit of shame the earlier gay and trifling talk about the election.

But, back in your mind, as you began to see that in a different light. For we have no fear here. We held an election in the midst of war. We walked into the polling places as free men and voted as we pleased.

Later we talked about it as we pleased, just as we had talked about it in the campaign, and as we had talked about it at that dinner, joshing the big men, taking them apart, criticizing them.

Our guest had hinted at it once.

"You went around there always looking behind your back," he said.

* * *

People Are Amazed

He told about meeting people in secret places.

Then he told what it means to be an American citizen over there, and his voice was filled with emotion. He told what it meant to represent our government. Officials of other governments he met there were amazed at his visit.

"You mean that your government is interested in what happens to people over here?" they asked. "And the American people — are they so interested?"

They couldn't understand it, but when they found out about it, they were moved to action.

AND the average person on the street — how they look to America, and how they welcome Americans!

"You should see their faces," he said. "You can't realize what power the United States has. We can get anything we want if we'll only recognize that."

He was speaking of the better things, of accomplishing something for people in other parts of the world.

So there is something to be thankful for, not only on Thanksgiving Day, but on every day, if we will only realize the power for good we can wield.

Austin Man Is Named Rationing Official

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP) — Appointment of Emmette S. Redford of Austin as assistant deputy administrator for rationing has been announced by the Office of Price administration.

On leave from the University of Texas where he is a professor of government, Redford joined the OPA in January, 1942. Since that time he has been assistant regional price executive in Dallas.

Hull Resigns

tions committee was told of it, he said:

"It is tragic that Secretary Hull is retiring. He has made a great secretary. His outstanding achievements toward world peace remain a monument to his service. The nation and the world have suffered a tremendous loss in his resignation."

In Hospital Five Weeks

The official reporting the resignation would not be quoted by name.

Hull has been at the naval hospital in Bethesda, Md., for five weeks, suffering from a throat ailment. His illness was not described as serious, but as requiring a long rest from his cabinet duties.

Establishment of machinery to insure the world against aggression has taken the major part of the secretary's time and energy during the past year, and he had often expressed his determination to see through the struggle for enduring peace.

Even out of office, Hull undoubtedly will continue as far as his doctors permit to show his interest in the foreign policy he guided for almost twelve years.

Officials say that surely Hull would have at least the position of a revered elder statesman as soon as he is rested, and probably will take as active a part in international affairs as his health will allow.

There was speculation that President Roosevelt might make him a special adviser with cabinet rank, such as Donald Nelson now has.

University Inquiry

Nov. 20 expressing "confidence in the judgment and wisdom of the board of regents" and declaring that the medical school's "unwise administration" was corrected only after the board of regents conducted an investigation.

"The medical school faculty had determined as a matter of policy to stay out of the controversy," Dr. Stone said, "and it did so until Dr. Rainey testified in this investigation.

"We had basked for more than two years in the sunshine of academic freedom and happiness but we didn't feel good when references were made to sabotage and mediocrity because we were attempting to do a job in a good way."

Instances Listed

Dr. Stone listed instances of what he claimed were not good administrative methods with reference to the medical school.

He said the regents had a rule which permitted the medical faculty to select its standing committees by annual ballot but the Rainey - Spies administration changed the rule so that the administration could appoint standing committees after consultation with the dean.

"The change completely emasculated the faculty; made it subservient to the administration," he said.

Another "wrong" at the medical school, he added, was the personality of Dr. Spies.

Brutal Methods Cited

"I can attest personally to his methods of brutality with the faculty," Dr. Stone asserted.

"As a personality he was cold, ruthless, brutal and self-seeking. He had no previous experience in medical education. His past record did not inspire confidence in his leadership."

Dr. Stone testified further that a budget recommendation proposed by the faculty's budget council had been returned to the council with an allotment of $8,000 for an unfilled faculty position.

"Dr. Rainey asked me how I would like it if the dean's brother filled that position," he said.

"I told him I thought he was not qualified and that, besides, we had one Spies too many on the faculty. Dr. Rainey said that Louisiana State university had made the dean's brother a flattering proposition but that he did not want to go to L. S. U. He said that his coming here was contingent upon me stepping down and giving him my position. The board of regents evidently didn't hire him but I have noted that in the 1942-43 edition of Who's Who in America he is listed as a professor in absentia from the university Medical school."

SELECTIVES CONTEST MILD SELLING

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP) — Selected stocks contested mild selling with moderate success today although many market leaders exhibited notable rising apathy or backed into slightly losing territory.

Dealings were quiet throughout and transfers were in the neighborhood of 700,000 shares.

In the plus column the greater part of the day were Chicago and Northwestern, at a 1944 high; Southern Railway, Glenn Martin, International Telephone, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville, Allegheny Preferred, Eastman Kodak, North American and J. C. Penney.

A number of railway bonds improved.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP) — Evening up operations in December dominated trading in the cotton futures market, anticipating first notice day tomorrow. Short covering, which had steadied prices in early trading brought out increased liquidation in the spot months and prices eased as the selling met only scale-down covering and mill buying.

Futures closed 10 to 40 cents a bale higher.

Fighting In China

Japanese only 110 miles to go to establish a final link between Manchuria and French Indo China. Abandonment of the airstrip indicated that this may already have been virtually accomplished by the enemy.

Near Kweichow Border

Meanwhile Japanese troops driving westward from Liuchow along the Kwangsi - Kweichow railroad were close to the Kweichow border today.

Chinese troops in Yunan to the southwest clearing the China end of a supply route from India meanwhile have driven the last enemy forces from the mountain passes between the Mangshih and Chefang valleys and are only 33 miles from the Burma border.

On the Burma side Chinese troops operating between Bhamo and the Chinese border made slight advances yesterday and captured a Japanese strongpoint at the southern end of the Bhamo airstrip.

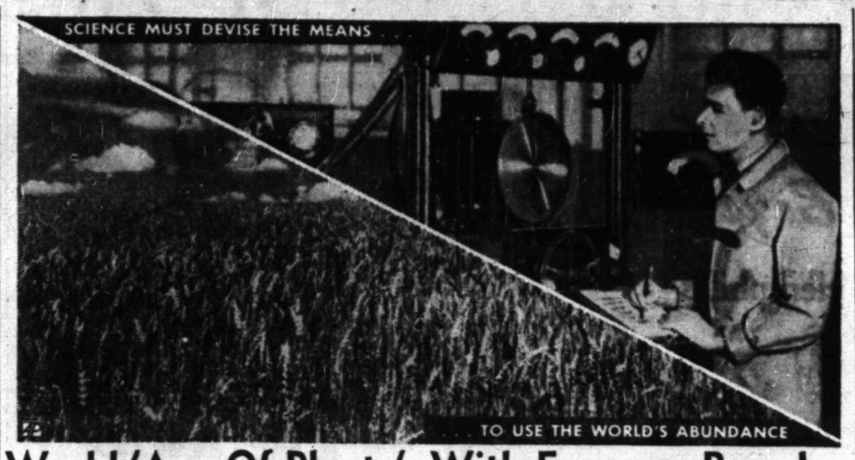

The evacuation of Nanning was relatively a minor operation compared to similar withdrawals from the larger Chinese air bases lost to the enemy.

Twelve transports from the India-China division of the air transport command sufficed to bring out somewhat more than 100 persons and 75,000 pounds of cargo.

Italian Government Offers Resignation

ROME, Nov. 27 (AP) — Premier Ivanoe Bonomi's government has offered its resignation as a result of two weeks of crisis over a program for war-torn and hungry Italy, but his cabinet was reported still conducting normal business last night.

A brief communique yesterday said Bonomi had decided to resign when representatives of the six parties forming his coalition government failed to agree on a program for governing the country.

World 'Age Of Plenty', With Economy Based On Abundance Is Foreseen In Postwar Period

BY FRANK C. WHITMORE
Dean Of The Pennsylvania State College School Of Chemistry And Physics
(Written For The Associated Press)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 27 —At the turn of the century, civilization was about at the point where it could leave the old era of scarcity and embark on one of potential abundance, made possible by science and its applications.

Whitmore

World War II will have demonstrated completely the fact that man can overproduce all his material needs, including food, clothing, shelter and everything else of a material nature which he requires, even to luxuries we cannot even visualize now.

This overproduction is made possible by a combination of the relative physical insignificance of man as compared to the raw materials available to him.

Hendrik Willem Van Loon reminded us that a box one-half mile long, one-half mile wide and one-half mile high would contain the entire human race. With an estimated 2,200,000,000 humans, each six feet high, eighteen inches wide and six inches thick on the average. Van Loon's box would be only half full.

Raw Materials Plentiful

In contrast to this we have thousands of cubic miles of raw materials on and near the face of the earth which can be converted into more food, clothing and shelter.

The earth's potential raw materials constantly are increasing due to increase in our knowledge.

It should be emphasized that this potential age of plenty is not limited to our own country but is possible for the entire world. To make this an accomplished fact three things are necessary:

1—The technical knowledge.

2—The technical men to apply this knowledge.

3—The wisdom to create this plenty and distribute it effectively.

Of these three, we have only the first. In the second we would need perhaps 100 to 1,000 times as many technically trained men as the world has ever had at any one time.

System Based On Scarcity

As to the third item, we are practically helpless because for the last 10,000 years we have been building up a system of economics based on scarcity. It is not strange that in less than 50 years we have been unable yet to work out a system of economics based on potential plenty.

We should recognize that we not even now are getting ready for the age of plenty. Instead of training additional chemists and other technicians we have allowed a few of our misguided rulers practically to kill off ten years' supply of new technical graduates.

Our wealth of knowledge of how to convert the thousands of cubic miles of raw material into more of everything will be useless without a tremendous army of technically trained men and women to put this knowledge into effective use.

Sight Of Man's Eye Is Restored During Plane Trip Sunday

DALLAS, Nov. 27. (U.P.) — His first plane trip at 9,000 feet restored David Lefkofsky's sight of his left eye—blinded for more than forty years.

Lefkofsky, Corpus Christi business man, lost the vision of his left eye during a fight with four boys in Russia, where he was born 61 years ago.

He was flying to Dallas Sunday —against the wishes of his wife. He said he had been reading the paper with his good right eye as the plane neared Austin. As he closed the eye to rest it, he realized that he could see the people on the plane clearly with his left eye.

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for that trip," the Russian said as he laughed. "I called to tell my wife as soon as I got to Dallas. A telegram would have been too slow."

A Dallas eye specialist said investigation of the case might show that a cataract had dropped under the high altitude pressure, thus the restoration of vision.

On the other hand, he explained that it might be the result of a gradual recovery of the vision, or a psychological result of extreme excitement.

OPA To Study Effect Of Wage Increases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — The Office of Price administration expects to determine in about a month whether pay increases awarded CIO steel workers would necessitate higher steel prices.

OPA officials said today that a study will begin at once on this question.

The War Labor board announced Saturday night wage awards, principally on shift differentials, that are expected to average around 5 cents an hour for 400,000 steel workers.

The WLB made the awards on the basis of eliminating inequities, without altering the Little Steel formula which limits pay increases compensating for living cost gains to 15 per cent above Jan. 1, 1941 levels.

The union's principal demand, for a 17 cents hourly increase that would crack the wage ceiling, has been passed along to the White House.

The steel workers' second major request, for a guaranteed wage plan, was rejected on the grounds that it would subject the companies to "serious financial risks."

Woman Changes Mind About Suicide

HOUSTON, Nov. 27. (U.P.)—Apparently there's nothing like a good ducking in ice-cold water for changing the mind of a person with suicidal inclinations.

Three young men reported to police last night that a 17-year-old married woman stopped on the Buffalo bayou bridge and asked them if the water was cold.

"Too cold for swimming," said one of the boys.

"Well," said the young woman, "it's not too cold to die in." Whereupon she dived into the bayou.

She changed her mind fast, one of the boys said, and began screaming for help less than a half minute after her suicidal plunge.

Police rescued the young woman.

Highway Barrier In Po Valley Outflanked

ROME, Nov. 27 (AP) — British troops, outflanking the Po valley town of Faenza, have reached the Lamone river at a point three miles southwest of that Bologna-Rimini highway stronghold and are pressing against a new main German delaying position, Allied headquarters announced today.

The village of Belvedere was taken.

The Germans appeared to be preparing to fight another house-to-house battle.

Northeast of the town still other British units moving northwest from Eda occupied Scaldino and reached Albereto, between the Routine and Lamone rivers.

Farther southwest Polish troops gained a foothold on the ridge between the Marzeno and Lamone rivers.

On the Fifth army front south of Bologna American and British forces repulsed several German counterattacks.

Pallbearers will be Louis Mueller, V. H. Macha, D. H. Draper, Lynn West, Tom Dulin, W. C. Huffaker, O. A. Corley, E. Evans, Charlie Lichey, Elmer Rice, Rudy Kaleich and Adolf Shaffener.

Western Front

between the larger fort groups of Jean Darc and Driant. The 9th infantry gained a mile and a half through outer pillboxes of the Maginot line reaches Coume, Eblange, Velbring and Teterchen in an arc five miles southwest of Saarlautern. The Third army increased its prisoners by 708 in a day's span.

Despite low clouds over the Cologne plain, Thunderbolt fighter bombers came sweeping in to support ground attacks and to batter German artillery beyond the Roer. Varying weapons of increasing numbers were used on that sector against the Ninth army. The Germans rolled up some railroad guns. One shell hit barracks for American Red Cross girls but caused no casualty.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army fought through Maginot line fortresses on a sector southeast of the new penetration into Germany, moving within four miles of the Saar border.

Seventh Broadens Corridor

Seventh army troops broadened the Strasbourg corridor to almost 15 miles and spilled through the Saales pass to open a new route to the French city at the Rhine. They were within eight miles of still another clean break through the Vosges mountains in the Ste. Marie pass east of St. Die.

Heavy fighting continued in the Aachen sector where assault teams of the U. S. First and Ninth armies closed in yard by yard upon the Germans' Roer river line from Julich to Duren, nine miles to the southeast. Improving weather permitted air support.

One goal of the First army is to break clear of the Hurtgen forest and drive into more maneuverable country where their tanks will be able to give the infantry close support. The Americans have almost reached the edge of the forest but are not yet clear of it. A staff officer said last night, "we definitely are not out of the forest. The Germans are fighting stubbornly with no indication yet of any collapse."

Third Captures 10 Forts

In their drive toward the industrial Saar basin, Third army troops captured 10 forts in the Maginot line and outflanked another. A free breach in the line was scored today.

At the northern end of the 400-mile western front the British second army probed into the formidable western defenses of the Dutch border city of Venlo, a gateway to Germany's Ruhr.

The Dutch had thrown up some of these defenses against the Germans in 1940. The British still had to cross an anti-tank ditch 25 feet wide and five to six feet deep. The enemy's once dangerous salient west of the Maas river had been cut to three or four isolated pockets of troops.

British Troops Gain

Other British troops on the northern flank of the battle area beyond Aachen gained a 500-yard stretch of high ground overlooking the Wurm valley north of Geilenkirchen.

In Alsace, American Seventh army troops which pushed through the Saales pass spread out on the Rhine plain 10 miles southwest of Strasbourg. The pass was cleared yesterday in a swift advance between the upper and lower Vosges and this advance virtually boxed off 150-squares miles of the forests of Domaniale.

In Strasbourg itself French units under Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's command captured two enemy generals and squeezed the Germans back to compact bridge heads on the western ends of three great Rhine spans which according to latest reports still were intact. Forts Ney, Petain, Kleber and the others in the ring around France's eastern pillar city were captured.

German Generals Captured

Maj. Gen. Wilhelm Ullersperger, fort system commander, was caught trying to get back to Strasbourg from one of the forts south of the city. Maj. Gen. Franz Vaterbot, Strasbourg operations commander, and his chief of staff, Lt. Col. Willing Waiser, also were captured.

The Ninth army of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson, "Texas Bill" to his intimates, destroyed five more tanks on the approaches of the heavily fortified Roer river town of Julich. This raised its total for the offensive to 141, many straight from factories to the front. The Ninth encountered heavy opposition including dug-in tanks at Koslar, just west of Julich. The Germans fired white phosperous shells on the Ninth army's left flank.

Seventh In Sight Of Rhine

Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's U. S. Seventh army fought within sight of the broad Rhine in the Strasbourg area from a point four miles south of Andover to another 12 miles north of the Alsatian city. Since Nov. 13, the Seventh has killed, wounded or captured 37,000 Germans.

Gains in the north of the sodden Cologne plain were painful and bitterly contested, won only with heavy casualties. The fate of Germany perhaps was at stake for on the rac before Cologne, Marshal Von Rundstedt had massed the bulk of his fighting power in the west, depending on the rough terrain of the Black forest and the Saar to defend the southern end of his front.

Gen. Eisenhower poured on more and more power before Cologne and watched for the break.

Drive Near Duren

The First and Ninth armies pressed within four miles of Duren, which like Julich, is a key bastion on the Roer river line. The Duren - Weisweiler highway was cut six miles west of Duren and the Nazis were being shoved back steadily but slowly.

The Ninth, fighting left of the First army, fought house by house in the village of Koslar and contended with German delayed action shells. The enemy also made a feeble, four-plane bombing and strafing attempt but his major counterattack with tanks and infantry was smashed yesterday with the help of air power.

Britons to the north captured Blitterswijk and isolated two more pockets of Germans.

South of Strasbourg, Maj. Gen. Jacques le Clerc's Second French armored division drove near Graffenstaden where the Germans blew a canal bridge in an effort to halt its progress.

French farther south captured Ventron and Oderon Wass, 3,000 feet in the Vosges, and the town of Bussang in the pass of that name.

Bangkok And Tokyo Raided

Tokyo time) conducted a daylight bombing mission against strategic targets in the Bangkok area of Japanese-occupied Thialand, Gen. H. H. Arnold, in his capacity as commanding general of the 20th Air force, announced at the War department.

"This operation from India bases is a separate attack from the Marianas base strike against the Tokyo area which took place simultaneously."

Second Raid On Bangkok

This was the second time Superfortresses attacked Bangkok. The giant bombers visited the Thailand port on the first bombing flight in Asia early last June. That attack, however, was not reported until after the initial strike of B-29s against targets on Japan's Kyushu island on June 16.

These jointly-timed attacks demonstrated forcefully the growing power of the B-29s. And it's a lot of weight they can throw around — these world's biggest bombers can carry as much as ten tons of explosives each.

In the original announcement, there was no estimate of the number of Superfortresses returning to Tokyo today. Last Friday's contingent was described as a "large task force."

A Japanese imperial communique said about 40 Superforts from Saipan raided Tokyo and other industrial areas of Honshu island to the west and south for more than an hour and a half. The big bombers came over at 1 p. m. (Tokyo time). Bombardiers were handicapped by a drizzling rain and low-hanging clouds, Japanese propagandists said. They reiterated their customary claim that only slight damage was done.

Great Potential Reported

Vegn Haugland, Associated Press war correspondent on Saipan, reported that the 21st Bomber command has a great potential of Superforts and personnel. Most of today's crews, he said, were making their initial flight over Japan. He reported this formation was about the same size as Friday's, which Tokyo said included about 70 Superforts.

Of the two Superforts lost Friday, one spiraled into the sea with its crew of 11 still aboard after an interceptor crashed into it, shearing off the tail. The crew of the other B29 was rescued from the ocean north of Saipan.

18 Jap Vessels Sunk

Topping other air raids was last Saturday's (Manila time) carrier raid on Manila bay and adjacent sectors of Luzon island. Eighteen vessels were sunk. They included a previously damaged cruiser and a destroyer and ranged down to two luggers. The attackers also wiped out 72 Japanese planes and damaged ground installations.

Two more Japanese convoys, involving four transports and three small cargo ships, were wiped out Saturday and Sunday as they tried to run 2,000 troops and supplies to reinforce rain-drenched Leyte island. Altogether the Nipponese have sacrificed five convoys, 33 ships and 17,000 soldiers in these reinforcement attempts.

Most of the other ships hit were bombed in the central Philippines or off Borneo. One was hit in a Japanese port on Honshu by a B29 that couldn't reach Tokyo Friday, another during repeated raids on the Bonin islands, along the bomber route to Japan.

military training, and hospitalization for the wounded.

The New York Herald-Tribune in a dispatch from London said Mrs. Luce told reporters five hours after the press conference that she had been instructed to keep quiet by an Army public relations officer attached to the United Kingdom base.

"When informed there had been no authorization for this request," the Herald-Tribune story said, Mrs. Luce "also discussed the cigaret shortage."

The account quoted her as saying "every civilian ought to give up smoking if it is necessary in order to let the GI's have cigarets, and the women ought to be the first to do it. And I am a heavy smoker myself."

When disturbed, woodcocks grasp their young in their feet and fly to safety.

Battle Is Specially Bitter Near Aachen

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Allied and German battlelines at the entrance to the Cologne plain continue to struggle fiercely at close grips, with the Hitlerite front sagging and giving ground in spots under terrific pressure—but still not breaking.

The fighting which is raging in this Aachen sector opposite the great Rhenish city of Cologne is some of the toughest that western Europe has seen since D-day. For instance, take the case of Weisweiler which was captured by the American First army yesterday. The Yankee doughboys fought for twenty-four hours through the streets before they took this strategic town which sits astride Hitler's great six-lane motor highway to Cologne.

Bitter Conflict In Cards

Still, this bitter conflict was in the cards, for the German defenses in this zone are the key to the rolling terrain a bit further eastward—across the river Roer—towards Cologne. That open plain bids fair to be the amphitheatre for the decisive showdown.

We are, of course, still witnessing the preliminaries to this battle of the Cologne plain. The Allied offensive hasn't yet reached its full intensity.

Nazi Field Marshal Von Rundstedt probably already is employing about as many reserves as he can rake up to the defenses of the Roer, which represtnts the last great obstacle between the Allies and the Cologne plain.

May Be Last Big Battle

If Von Rundstedt really has accepted the gage to combat in the Cologne plain he will indeed be a smart general if that isn't his last big battle.

Once he's committed to such a stand—and he seems to be so already—he will have fantastic luck if he is able to withdraw any considerable portion of his troops back across the Rhine. The bridges over that great and swift river are at the mercy of the Allied bombers and can be destroyed at any moment. Those bridges not only are Von Rundstedt's means of escape but they also are his life-lines for supplies.

Senate Committee To Study Water Treaty

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — Senator Connally (D-Texas) says the Mexican-United States treaty distributing waters of the Colorado, Rio Grande and Tijuana rivers will be considered by the Senate foreign relations committee between January 15 and 20.

Connally has informed Senator Downey (D-Calif) that the controversial treaty will be the first called up for review by the committee when the new Congress meets next year.

In the Senate the water treaty faces the opposition of senators Downey and Johnson (R-Calif). Downey said he believes it favors Mexico and Texas at the expense of California by the way it distributes Rio Grande and Colorado waters.

Farmer Is Jailed For Impersonating Officer

DALLAS, Nov. 27 (U.P) — A 28-year-old farmer was in the Dallas county jail for investigation on charges of impersonating an officer and accosting a female after he used a sirene on his automobile to force a woman motorist to stop her car and attempted to get her to enter his car on the pretense that he was "the law."

Suspicious, the woman drove home with the "officer" in pursuit, and told her husband, who got out on the street in time to catch the license number of the car and trail the suspect to a tavern. The farmer was held there until officers arrived.

Body Of Farmer Is Found In Thicket

DALLAS, Nov. 27 (AP) — Officers chopped their way through a thicket near Garland, Texas, yesterday to recover the body of Olaf Ollinger, 43-year-old Plano, Texas, farmer and former game warden and officer. Ollinger had been missing since Oct. 5.

Justice of the Peace Newt Morrison of Garland held an inquest and found that Ollinger had died from exposure.

First Group Of WACS Lands In Philippines

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 27 (U.P) — The first 10 WACS to arrive in the Philippines stepped off transport planes on Leyte this morning and soon were arranging their school building barracks in preparation for the arrival of a second contingent, among which will be a couple of Texans.

The G. I. Janes were conditioned to the battle of the Philippines a few minutes after they arrived when anti-aircraft units shot down a Japanese plane near the airdrome.

The school building with showers and other modern conveniences, also will house 34 more WACS scheduled to arrive shortly.

The group was headed by Capt. Juanitas Stryker of Starkville, Miss. They will fill secretarial posts. Second Lt. Alice M. Einberg of Chicago, one of the first WACS to land on North Africa, also was among the group.

Accompanying them was First Lt. Mable Robertson, a nurse who had been in the Philippines before the war.

The 34 other WACS scheduled to arrive include T/5 Dorothy Costello of Uvalde, and T/5 Emma Duboise of Alice, Tex.

U. S. Airmen Damage Two Jap Cruisers

CHUNGKING, Nov. 27 (AP) — Two Japanese light cruisers were damaged when a U. S. 14th Air force Liberator attacked an enemy convoy in the South China sea Saturday night, Maj. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's headquarters announced today.

The action took place northeast of Tourane, on the French Indo China coast, the communique said. One of the cruisers suffered two direct hits.

Another B-24 sank an enemy submarine chaser in a separate action in the same area.

The communique said P-51s yesterday bombed the Japanese-held airfields at Hengyang, Lingling, Kweilin and Liuchow.

Flood Control Bill Slipping

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP) — Two threats hung menacingly over the House-approved flood control bill today and some Senate backers conceded glumly its chances of passage by this Congress are dwindling.

The Senate begins its second week of debate on the billion dollar authorization measure today with no outward signs of a compromise between its sponsors and advocates of the St. Lawrence seaway and Missouri Valley authority projects.

The actual submission of either of these two proposals as amendments would in the minds of the bill's backers, probably kill the flood control measure.

Filibuster Threatened

Senator Clark (D-Mo) already has made a veiled threat to talk the legislation to death if the seaway project is offered by Senator Aiken (R-Vt.)

Senator Overton (D-La), floor manager for the bill, said Senator Murray (D-Mont) was trying to kill the flood control measure by proposing action now on the Missouri Valley authority (MVA).

Murray has said he is determined to force a vote on his proposal. Contending that if the down-river improvements provided for in the pending bill are authorized there would be little use talking about an MVA in the future.
