Seventy Enemy Surface Craft Are Damaged

Blow At Central Philippines Is Almost Unopposed

BY LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Tokyo radio reported the capture of one of the three remaining advanced American airfields in China today as U. S. fleet carrier forces added up the most remarkable record of ship and plane destruction of the Pacific war.

In an almost unopposed raid on the Central Philippines, sea-borne fighters and bombers sank 22 Japanese ships, damaged about 70 other surface craft, and destroyed 36 planes. The raid, Sept. 23, (U. S. time) cost the attackers ten planes and eight airmen, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced last night.

This was the seventh day of sweeping raids over the invasion-threatened islands since Sept. 8 by the air arm of Adm. William Halsey's Third fleet. Altogether they have wiped out 1,014 Nipponese planes and sunk or damaged 360 surface craft. This mark surpasses most monthly totals for the entire Pacific.

Only Seven Interceptors

Only seven interceptors dared oppose the raiders as they wrecked shipping, defensive installations and "thoroughly bombed and strafed" airfields on Cebu, Leyte, Negros, Mactan, and southern Luzon islands. All seven were shot down. The meager opposition illustrated Nimitz' statement that the enemy's air defense had been broken. Tokyo radio said replacements have since been flown in.

A skip-bombing Navy Catalina flying boat, from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Air forces patrolling the southern Philippines, intercepted a convoy near Jolo, sank a 10,000 ton transport and damaged a smaller freighter-transport.

Other U. S. Bases Imperiled

A Tokyo communique asserted Japanese columns captured Tanchuk, one of the last three U. S. airfields in southeast China, the remaining two—at Kweilin, 90 miles to the north and Liuchow, about 200 to the south—were threatened. Their fall would force

Security Plan's Framework Set

Russian Phase Of Parley Ends

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The Dumbarton Oaks security conferees announced today they had reached "a large measure of agreement" on plans for a world organization during the Russian phase of the conference.

The Russian talks, which have lasted six weeks, and failed to settle all issues, were concluded yesterday with a series of speeches by the British, American and Soviet delegation chairmen.

The American and British delegates were scheduled to meet a Chinese group this afternoon for concluding security talks expected to last about ten days.

Joint Statement Issued

A joint statement issued today by Undersecretary of State Stettinius, chairman of the conference, Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British chairman, and Soviet Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko, said:

"Conversations between the United States, United Kingdom, and Soviet Union delegations in Washington regarding the establishment of a world security organization have now been completed.

Conversations Useful

"These conversations have been useful and have led to a large measure of agreement on recommendations for the general framework of the organization, and in particular for the machinery required to maintain peace and security.

"The three delegations are making reports to their respective governments who will consider

'Mystery Drive' On In Balkans

By CLINTON B. CONGER
United Press War Correspondent

ROME, Sept. 29.—A mystery Army called the "Allied Land force of the Adriatic" is waging a mystery campaign which may go far toward breaking the already weakened Nazi grip on Albania and Yugoslavia.

The strength, composition and designs of the Army are secrets the Germans would love to know. The Allies are leaving to the enemy the task of finding out those things, and consequently are saying nothing of the invasion across the Adriatic by sea and air, announced two days ago.

(The British radio quoted Ankara and Sofia advices as reporting new Allied landings in Albania and Greece. It said the locality of Berat south of Tirana, the Albanian capital, is in Allied hands, and parachutists dropped at various places in Greece.)

Secrecy Maintained

A fortnight ago I landed with British commandos—a unit of the ALFA—occupying an island. Now I am permitted to report in general terms something of what operations in Albania and Yugoslavia are like.

ALFA is the title of the command which, with the Balkan Air force, directs Italy-based operations against the Nazis in Yugoslavia, Albania and Greece.

It does not indicate any established body of troops, but may comprise anything from a handful of British commandos or line regiments trained in amphibious operations — now reinforced by British airborne units—to divisions, corps, or even an Army, if higher headquarters should so direct.

Also operating under ALFA is the hush-hush American-British special Balkan service. Originally

FDR Orders Speed In Plan For Reich

State Department Given U. S. Part In Rendering Postwar Germany Harmless

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—President Roosevelt today ordered a speed-up in American plans for rendering Germany harmless after the war, and specifically put the job under State department guidance.

The order was issued in a letter to Leo T. Crowley, chief of the Foreign Economic administration, and while it covered non-German subjects in its eight points, it apparently is the outgrowth of the sharp division in the President's postwar cabinet committee over a German peace plan submitted by Secretary Morgenthau.

This division reflected a fundamental policy disagreement between Secretaries Stimson and Hull on the one hand and Morgenthau, who proposed the virtual de-industrialization of Germany to prevent its making future wars.

To Restore German Economy

Hull and the State department, which had exercised unquestioned direction of long-range German planning until Morgenthau won attention for his plan, have tentatively counted on restoration of Germany's industrial economy under ruthless Allied controls. Under the President's order today this policy now apparently is to prevail.

Point seven of the President's letter to Crowley said:

"You have been making studies from the economic standpoint of what should be done after the surrender of Germany to control its power and capacity to make war in the future.

Must Accelerate Work

"This work must be accelerated, and under the guidance of the Department of State you should furnish assistance in work and when requested to do so in personnel by making available specialists to work with the military authorities, the foreign service, and such other American agencies and officials as participiate with the United Nations in seeing to it that Germany does not become a menace again to succeeding generations."

Other than on this point, Mr. Roosevelt's order to Crowley cov-

Vote Urged On Moving School

AUSTIN, Sept. 29. (AP) — The board of regents of the University of Texas was asked today by a San Antonio delegation to submit the matter of changing the location of the medical branch

TO STAY IN GALVESTON
AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP) — University of Texas board regents today adopted a recommendation of its medical committee that the medical school be retained permanently in Galveston.

to the people, and not to act hastily in accepting an offer of $2,000,000 for construction of a new general hospital at Galveston.

Dr. Conn Milburn of San Antonio told the regents location of the school in Galveston was "a mistake in the first place" because of lack of clinical facilities in the state.

Before the board was President Homer P. Rainey's recommendation as a part of his idea of long range development for the university, thata the medical branch be moved from Galveston to Austin. Any move from the present location would require a constitutional amendment. The recommendation was first made two months ago to the regents, who took no action on it. The proposal to move the medical branch from Galveston, and the dental school from Houston, provoked a storm of protest from those cities.

First Order Of Business

The San Antonio proposition, brought by a delegation of approximately 25 civic leaders, was the first order of business before the regents. Dr. Milburn was presented by Charles H. Turner, spokesman for the delegation.

Dr. Milburn said that San Antonio had several private hospitals with more than 1,000 beds, and that the Army is going to make San Antonio its medical center in the postwar years, of-

Joseph Buerckel Is Reported As Dead

(By The Associated Press)

Joseph Buerckel, minister in Hitler's government and one of the highest ranking Nazis, died today of inflammation of the lungs, the German radio announced.

Among posts he held at various times were those of civil administrator of Lorraine; head of the civil administration in Moravia; and governor of the Saar, one of Germany's richest sections on her western boundaries.

Buerckel was 49. Berlin said he died at Neustadt.

The broadcast identified him as "first gauleiter of Austria" and "one of the oldest and most loyal of Hitler's supporters." In his various administrations, he particularly oppressed the Jews.

Former Mayor Of Ft. Worth Dies

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29 (AP)—William Bryce, 83, mayor of Fort Worth from 1927 to 1933 and long associated with the city's industrial and cultural progress, died in a hospital here today.

He suffered a heart attack Tuesday.

Bryce was a native of Scotland and began his career as a brick mason in Fort Worth in 1883. At his death, he was chairman of the board of Acme Brick company and a director of the Fort Worth National bank, Millers Mutual Fire Insurance company and the State Reserve Life Insurance company.

Funeral arrangements await word from Mrs. Annie Mears of Toronto, Canada, a sister and only survivor.

Eddie Cantor Needs Rest; Hospitalized

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29 (AP) — By doctor's orders comedian Eddie Cantor was resting in Cedars of Lebanon hospital today.

Dr. Elmer Belt said the actor was in a run-down condition, nothing serious, and needed a few days of complete rest as the result of a strenuous program of camp tours and other work.

McPherson Autopsy Is Not Conclusive

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 29 (AP) —Pathological tests were to be started today on the stomach of Aimee Semple McPherson, famed woman evangelist, to determine the cause of her death here Wednesday morning.

Decision to make the pathological tests was reached when a 2½ hour autopsy conducted yesterday failed to determine the cause of death. It was disclosed, however, that Mrs. McPherson's death in a hotel room was not the result of a heart attack.

October 6 has been tentatively set as a date for an inquest. Stomach tests will take from one to five days to complete, autopsy surgeons said.

At Los Angeles Angelus temple officials announced plans to have Mrs. McPherson's body lie in state Sunday in the church she founded while her followers pay tribute to her memory. Eventual interment in the family sarcophagus at Forest Lawn Memorial park, Glendale, is planned but final funeral arrangements have not been completed.

RAIL PRESIDENT DIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP) — Frederick E. Williamson, 68, who recently resigned from the presidency of the New York Central railroad because of illness, died here today.

German General Staff Already Plotting New War, Eden Says

LONDON, Sept. 29. (U.P.) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Commons today that the Allies have information that the German general staff, "recognizing the inevitability of defeat, already is thinking in terms of the next war."

Eden warned, however, that it would be an error if "we read into the marked improvement of our fortunes a signal that the main battle is won."

He spoke during the war debate which was opened yesterday by Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who said none could guarantee that the European war would not continue well into 1945.

Eden said reports had been received that Nazi Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler already is making preparations for continued resistance during the occupation of Germany by "fantatical young Nazis who are now being trained."

He said the hardest problem would not be the military occupation of Germany, but the civil administration "which must be done by the Germans."

"What we mean by unconditional surrender is that we are not prepared to make a negotiated peace with Germany, and the rea-

Labor Attacks Wage Formula

President Fails To Answer Plea

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 — President Roosevelt's labor advisory committee, composed of AFL and CIO leaders, recommended to him today that the Little Steel wage formula be scrapped but got no impression from him, members said, how he feels about the proposal.

The labor advisory committee is headed by William Green of the American Federation of Labor and Philip Murray of the Congress of Industrial organizations.

Both men said after the meeting that they told Mr. Roosevelt the Little Steel formula is outmoded and should be revised upward. The formula limits wartime wage increases to 15 per cent above January, 1941, levels.

Under Attack Before WLB

It is under attack now in several cases pending before the War Labor board.

Green said the President asked many questions during the discussion on relaxing wage policies but "made no comments whatsoever."

"I," added Murray, "got no indication how he (the President) feels about it."

Mr. Roosevelt earlier told his news conference he doubted the conference today would discuss the Little Steel matter.

Mr. Roosevelt said the pending Little Steel cases are a detail and that his talks with the committee, composed of high AFL and CIO leaders, probably would deal with larger policies of labor. The meeting was called, he said, because he hasn't met with the group for a long time.

Mr. Roosevelt's news conference assertion came as public members of the War Labor board were prepared to recommend to him a relaxation of war controls effective soon after victory in Europe. CIO leaders view this with alarm as a possible substitute for their goal of a general

September Has Cost Japs 1,100 Planes

(By The Associated Press)

The Japanese air force is in the throes of its most disastrous month of the war.

With only a few days to go, September already has cost the Nipponese upwards of 1,100 planes.

In August, few Japanese aircraft could be found in the skies. Allied pilots complained they had little opportunity to become aces. Military leaders said enemy aircraft probably were being conserved for defense of the Philippines or Japan itself.

"It must be lack of good pilots or lack of air thinking," commented Artemus Gates, assistant secretary of the navy. Aboard a carrier hovering in the shadow of the Philippines he awaited with others the counterstroke of the enemy, was surprised by the "total lack of aggression in the air on the part of the Japs."

Forty-nine Allied planes were reported lost in running up the one-sided score against the Japanese.

Hungary's Role Darkens Under Red Pressure

Rumors Of Peace Feelers Floated On Turk Radio

BY DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Red army's three-way offensive against Hungary from Romania and Yugoslavia developed swiftly today while rumors of peace feelers by the Budapest government indicated Hitler's last important satellite may be on the verge of deserting him.

Hungary's defensive position was dark as strong Russian forces, pressing forward in a 100-mile arc on the Romania-Hungarian frontier, increased their mountain salient and utilized Marshal Tito's permission to cross Yugoslav territory and strike the Hungarians and Germans from the south.

The Russian war bulletin disclosed that Soviet troops had fought their way into Lupkow pass leading from Poland into Czechoslovakia, taking Vydran, a Czechoslovak rail station nearly three miles inside the frontier.

Peace Rumors Afloat

(The American broadcasting station in Europe, quoting the Turkish radio, said last night the Hungarian premier was reported to have asked the Turkish ambassador in Budapest to learn Allied peace terms, and to act as an intermediary in preliminary negotiations for Hungary's exit from the Axis).

(Enemy reports asserted Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, commanding combined Russian and Romanian forces, was using 30 divisions, or upwards of 300,000 men, in an offensive that reached to within 15 miles of Szeged, Hungary's second city, and within 102 miles of Budapest).

(Berlin reports said Russian troops had crossed from Romania into Yugoslavia at a point east of Belgrade).

Airmen Pound Siegfried Line

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—American and British medium bombers took the spotlight in the air war over Germany today, with attacks on various Siegfried line defenses and railroad yards at Saarbrucken in southwestern Germany and at Goldern on the Dutch border.

Bombing through openings in the clouds, Ninth Air force Marauders from British plastered the Saarbrucken junction with what returning crewmen said were good results. Other Marauders struck at Nazi concrete fortifications in the Weibenhein area 20 miles to the east. No enemy aircraft were encountered and it was announced all the bombers returned.

The freight yards at Goldern serve the German forces in Holland.

7,300 Sorties Flown

It was the first day in a week that the mediums had not been pushed into the background by the far-flung operations of Fortresses and Liberators, which in four days flew approximately 7,300 sorties with losses under four per cent.

The round-t' e-clock air offensive was carried on by waves of planes which streamed across the channel in daylight after RAF Mosquitos came home from moonlight attacks on Brunswick and

Yanks Getting Mad; Nazis Fail To Quit At German Frontier

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS In Germany, Sept. 29 (Delayed) — The sustained stand being made by Nazi armies at the borders of Germany is a rude shock to the average G.I. Joe and for the first time in almost three years of war he is getting a real front line peeve against the enemy.

In Tunisia, Sicily, Italy and France, American soldiers have fought with valor and success against opposing forces they despised—or some times reluctantly admired—but rarely hated. The war to them was something of a deadly game rather than a personal vindictive passion.

Didn't Hate Germans

They didn't hate the Germans as did the British and the Russians because their homes had not been bombed and their relatives killed by Nazis. And when they took their first big batches of yellow-haired Germans and saw no horns growing out of their heads, their first reaction was "why, hell — these guys are just like us."

Now, they are beginning to realize that, while the German soldier may look like the guy they

New Plunge Into Germany From South Indicated

U. S. Third And Seventh Armies Within Sight Of Strategic Pass; Patton's Men Smash 82 Tanks; Nazi Thrusts Repulsed

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Doughboys of two American armies on the southern end of the Allied front advanced to within sight of the famous Belfort pass today and worked forward to within 20 to 25 miles of the four main passes through the Vosges mountains—French windows looking across the Rhine into Germany.

Twenty miles north of Aachen, the U. S. First army gained a mile at Echterbosch along the German-Dutch border.

Fighting off repeated German counterattacks through a chill drizzle, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army and Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh army marked up advances of three to five miles—the most impressive gains of any on an Allied front bristling with menacing offensives.

Patton's men alone knocked out 82 tanks yesterday in the advance, it was announced from the field. Eight or 10 villages were captured by the two armies, and Belfort, at the entrance to the strategic cap, was only 11 miles away.

Heavy Battle Developing

A large-scale battle was developing for Rambervillers, 30 miles southeast of Nancy and 50 miles north of the gap, with the Americans only 3½ miles south of that center of an important web of highways and eight miles to the north of it.

To the north, meanwhile, the British Second army closed up to the Maas (Meuse) in Holland along a 20-mile front from two to three miles from the German border in a bulging movement south of Kleve, and beat off three counterattacks from the Reichswald, the forset concentration center just below that Siegfried anchor.

In a coordinated drive the U. S. First army smashed bitter resistance on the German-Dutch border six miles northeast of Sittard.

Cavalry Scores Advance

The mile advance here was scored by American cavalry.

First army artillery bombarded a column of 42 vehicles with 1,000 men in a woods northeast of Aachen, and Allied planes shot up 30 railroad cars and cut rail lines at 53 places.

Below Aachen, at the lower corner of Luxembourg, the First army also pushed the front to the German border at yet another place, capturing Remich.

Along the channel Canadians overran the last of the big German cross-channel guns which had bombed at Britain from Cap Gruis Nez for four years, and attacked anew at Calais after a 10-hour overnight lull in which the German commander asked for an armistice to receive surrender terms. He was told that only his unconditional surrender would be received, and the battle was resumed.

Remich is on the Moselle boundary between Luxembourg and Germany, 20 miles southwest of the German city of Trier.

No Word From Salient

There was no word from the First army's salient through the Hurtgen, 14 miles southeast of besieged Aachen, in the push toward the Rhine at Cologne. There the biggest Allied guns—10-inchers—have been duelling with German batteries and knocking at strategic targets.

Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 21st army group forces pushing out westward from their salient in Holland, where they threatened to cut off some 200,000 Germans, also moved to within five miles of 'S Hertogenbosch and, closing in from the south, extended their bridgehead

Nazi Influences In Argentina Rapped

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP) — President Roosevelt today denounced the Argentine government for what he termed the growth of Nazi-Fascist influences developing in that country at the very time when Nazi forces are facing defeat in Germany.

Mr. Roosevelt said Argentina has repudiated a solid inter-American system for defense against Nazi aggression and stated—in the words of Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain—that every nation will be judged by the parts they play in the war, neutrals and belligerents alike. He said his statement today is important now because of deceptions on the part of Nazi radio broadcasts beamed to Argentina which say Allied councils are divided in their attitude toward Argentina. Mr. Roosevelt described the broadcasts as fabrications.

COMPLIANCE ANNOUNCED

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 29 (AP)— The Argentine government has informed Great Britain that this country will bar entrance of war criminals and will prohibit them from depositing funds or acquiring property here, the foreign office announced last night.

Mrs. O'Leary's Cow Cleared; Dice Game Started Big Fire

CHICAGO, Sept. 29 (AP) — Another version of Chicago's great fire of 1871 was disclosed yesterday — a dice game, not Mrs. O'Leary's cow, started the conflagration.

The new fire story was reported by Kenneth Olson, dean of the Medill school of journalism of Northwestern university, upon receipt of a $35,000 estate from Louis M. Cohn, 89, an importer and world traveler who died Feb. 20, 1942.

Cohn's version, Medill school said, was that he, one of Mrs. O'Leary's sons and some other boys were shooting dice in the O'Leary barn by the light of a lantern, which overturned, starting the fire.

The players fled and Cohn, the school said, was the last, adding "he never denied that he stopped long enough to scoop up the money."

Rockport Waterfront Blaze Loss $20,000

ROCKPORT, Sept. 29. (AP)—A waterfront fire originating in a cabin cruiser belonging to Dr. C. L. Curlee of Sinton destroyed a boathouse, four of 5 boats it housed, seven skiffs, 600 duck decoys, anchors, ropes and scores of rods and reels, and slightly burned Dr. Curlee here.

Damage was estimated at approximately $20,000.

The Rockport fire department, shipyard workers, and Navy personnel from a nearby watchtower unsuccessfully attempted to extinguish the flames which spread rapidly. A coast guard boat equipped with fire fighting apparatus arrived from Port Aransas too late to lend effective aid.

Boats considered a total loss belonged to Dr. Curlee, T. Noah Smith of San Antonio, E. M. Baker at San Antonio, and Jim Hanway of Rockport.

Feed Mills In Texas Using Argentine Corn

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29. (AP) — Texas mixed feed mills, facing a shortage of Texas corn due to labor difficulties and other factors, are now receiving Argentine corn through New Orleans, Fort Worth grain men said here today.

The imported product is bringing about $1.45 to $1.50 a bushel. Fort Worth, El Paso and Amarillo are sharing in shipments.

A cargo of Argentine corn is due at Houston Nov. 1 and may be among the last due to the embargo placed by the United States on ships flying the U. S. flag stopping at Argentine ports. However, shippers in Argentina said this week cargoes going north would not be curtailed as the majority were moved in Argentine vessels.

'Whitewash' Of PAC Charged By Senator

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 29. (AP) — Senator E. H. Moore (R-Okla) said today the opinion of Attorney General Francis Biddle that the CIO political action committee is not violating the Hatch act "amounts to an official whitewash of this New Deal subsidary."

Biddle ruled Monday in reply to a complaint from Moore that the PAC had confined its activities to primary elections and was guilty of no corrupt practices.

Moore declared in a statement that the PAC had advocated the renomination of President Roosevelt at the Democratic convention and since that time has been openly campaigning for his re-election. He added:

"Is there any doubt what Mr. Biddle's opinion would have been if a group of corporations should have contributed to a political committee advocating the nomination or election of an anti-New Deal candidate?"

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Marshal Tito's government has refused to accept United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation aid for Yugoslavia, the free Yugoslav radio said today, because "Yugoslavs wanted the relief distributed through their own organizations but UNRRA insisted it should be distributed by special UNRRA machinery set up in Yugoslavia."

Eden Likely Wishes He Had Answered This Late Call

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Representative Mundt (R-SD) said today he had a recent talk in London with Britain's foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, and the latter told this one on himself.

Eden went to bed late after a heavy day, only to be awakened by his bedside phone about 3:30 a.m. The foreign secretary just grabbed the phone, said "I am not talking to anyone" and hung up.

The phone rang again and the procedure was repeated.

The next morning Eden received a cable from Prime Minister Churchill in Quebec stating:

"Tried to get you on trans-Atlantic telephone last night, but unable to reach you."

Pretty Girl Tells Court Her "Celestial Marriage" Secret

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 29 (AP) — Stories of a child bride's "celestial marriage" and of a broken home, both blamed by witnesses on activities of of "fundamentalists," were related to a district court jury which continued to hear evidence today in the trial of 32 men and women accused of conspiring to preach and practice polygamy.

A strikingly-pretty 17-year-old girl said she went three years ago to a nearby canyon with Ross Wesley Lebaron and Charles W. Zitting, heard the latter pronounce "some kind of ceremony" while Lebaron held her hand, then spent several hours with her "husband" while his first wife stood watch.

Parents Took Her Home

The girl was Mrs. Alice Caldwell, who said Zitting told her, in discussing the "marrigae," that "all I'd have to do was to raise children."

After the canyon ceremony she said she went with Lebaron to a creek at the rear of his home.

"We stayed there," she said, "from about 6 o'clock in the evening until 2:30 the next morning. Then Thelma (Lebaron's wife) came looking for us. She said Mama and Daddy were there looking for me."

Mrs. Caldwell said she went home with her parents and two weeks later returned to the Lebaron home and remained there until juvenile authorities removed her several hours later.

Controversial Life Related

Mrs. Helen Smith, the attractive, auburn-haired ex-wife of another cult member, Heber C. Smith, jr., told of her efforts to dissuade her husband from becoming a "Fundamentalist." They failed, she said, and when she was introduced by her husband to his plural wife, Juanita Barlow, "I called her a name."

"She asked me why I had called her the name," Mrs. Smith said, "and I told her that she had slept with my husband three or four nights. She replied, 'So what?'

"She told me that if I'd try, I could be happy in this plural marriage. She said she loved me as a sister wife and that sometime I'd have to expect her to have a little girl just like my little girl."

Shortly thereafter Mrs. Smith obtained a divorce.

Youth Center Plan OK By Commission

The City commission Thursday afternoon approved extension of the city recreation program through the winter months with the establishment of a youth center where handicraft, arts, drama and others recreation events may be held.

City Manager Marlin R. Smith was authorized to negotiate a lease for the old First Christian church building at Sixteenth and Ave. J for the program after Mrs. Grace Dyess, city recreation director; Chas. Whitacre and Knox T. Thomas, recreation council members, had presented the proposition to the commission.

Thousands Take Part

In connection with the program, Mrs. Dyess reported that a total of 88,739 persons had participated in the recreation program in the first five months of its operation either as participants or spectators. The program during that period cost $8,574, a saving of $364 under the budget set up by the commission.

A total of 57,364 boys and girls participated in the parks program at the seven points of operation, Mrs. Dyess reported. In softball there were 9,750 persons who participated as players and spectators during the season. A total of 27,364 participated as players or spectators in the 210 junior baseball program.

The commission also approved tentative plans for a gigantic Hallowe'en parade for Lubbock children on the night of Oct. 31 which the recreation department will supervise. Prizes will be offered for the best costumes, best groups, etc., for the parade, participants of which will assemble at the various parks and parade to downtown Lubbock.

Other Matters Routine

The recreation report and review highlighted an otherwise routine three-hour meeting of the commission.

Reappointment of members of the City Parks commission to comply with provisions of the city charter was made. Appointments were as follows: K. N. Clapp, 1944-45; Mrs. Lou Stubbs, 1944-46; J. B. Maxey, 1944-47; Mrs. Clark M. Mullican, 1944-48 and H. A. Davidson, 1944-49. Davidson was appointed to succeed Mayor O. W. Ribble, who had previously served in that capacity.

Accounts from warrant No. 2304B to 2480B both inclusive were approved.

Purchases of a mixed car of vitrified tile sewer pipe from Western Windmill company for $657.15 to be delivered in 20 days at a 3 per cent discount; fire hydrants and 3, 4, 6, 8, and 10-inch valves from Clowe & Cowan, Inc.; 4,100 feet of Transite water pipe and fittings from Johns-Mansville Sales Corp, for $3,197.63; and three 75 K.V.A. transformers from Line Material Co., for $1,160.04 were approved.

Fire Plug Installation

One thousand feet of the water pipe will be used to install a fire plug near the Lubbock Compress company for additional fire protection in that area.

Public works and gas fitter's bonds for G. H. Brown were approved.

The commission also reappointed members of the Airport board substituting the name of Robt. H. Bean for J. Doyle Settle, resigned. Bean was named to a three-year term; A. F. Holt, two years and R. F. Hinchey, one year.

A resolution authorizing the First National bank of Fort Worth to release to the Citizens National bank here $172,000 in 7/8 per cent U. S. Treasury certificates of indebtedness, series F-1944, due Oct. 1, 1944, and the substitution therefor of $172,000 7/8 per cent U. S. Treasury certificates of indebtedness, series F-1945, maturing Oct. 1, -945, was approved. These securities cover funds deposited by the City of Lubbock in the Citizens National bank.

RMA Debt Cancelled

After reading a letter from A. B. Davis, manager, which revealed that revenues of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association, cooperative credit-reporting agency, had dropped from $18,009.65 in 1941 to $8,830.79 in 1943 and that the association was now $5,672.90 in debt, the commissioners charged off $1,800 rent owed by the association and voted not to charge any more rent until improved conditions warrant it.

The commission authorized City Manager Smith or other representatives to attend a state-wide meeting in Austin Monday for the purpose of effecting an active organization to promote the protection, development, conservation and utilization of the state's water resources for all beneficial purposes.

Wesley Read, member of the City Planning commission, chamber of commerce representatives and others interested from this area plan to attend.

Smith was also authorized to attend the City Managers' association convention which meets in Chicago, Oct. 12-17.

The meeting was the first occasion in several weeks that full quarum was present. Mayor Ribble presided and members present were: Commissioners W. B. Price, Hub Jones, J. Ray Dickey and Fred Childress; City Attorney Dudwood Bradley, City Manager Smith and City Secretary Lavenia Williams.

Auto Makers Ask Priority

DETROIT, Sept. 29 (AP)—Leaders of the automobile industry appealed today for a priority ahead of other civilian production for machines and tools whose prompt delivery, they said, would help cut about three months from the period of unemployment during reconversion.

"If the German war is over by the first of year, it already is too late to get some of the needed machinery in time," said C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors corporation.

"Symposium" Held

Executives of the Ford, General Motors, Chrysler and other motor makers subjected themselves to a "symposium" news conference on reconversion problems arranged by the automotive council for war production. Their answers to the questions of some 40 correspondents revealed:

That it would take six to nine months to get autos into production if V-day in Europe came tomorrow, but only three to four months if advance preparations can be made and machinery built and made ready for installation.

That Ford motor company—in the words of Henry Ford II, vice president and grandson of the founder—"would like to be ready to build a car with a lower price than the lowest competitive model now built," if there is a market for a low-priced car.

That new cars won't cost 36 per cent more than pre-war models, as some in the industry predicted, but on the other hand "cannot be sold for the March, 1942 price" proposed by OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

Democrats Go After Pennsylvania Votes

(By The United Press)

The Democrats sought to swing Pennsylvania's 35 electoral votes to President Roosevelt today while Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, turned to state affairs in the New York capital after completing his first campaign trip.

Vice President Henry A. Wallace argued the Democratic cause in Pennsylvania. In Wilkesbarre and Scranton, Pa., yesterday he said the reelection of Mr. Roosevelt would open the door to "an age of abundance and full employment" and declared the Democrats' war experience gave them more qualification to handle postwar problems.

Others Sound Off

Others in the campaign news:

Gifford Pinchot, former Republican governor of Pennsylvania who is now supporting Roosevelt, charged Dewey supporters with putting up "the most enormous campaign fund in the whole history of politics in America."

In Albany, Dewey's campaign manager, Herbert Brownell, jr., told Dewey his western tour had brought hundreds of thousands of Independent and Democratic voters into the GOP column.

In Washington, Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes said he would resign if "the incredible comes to pass" and Dewey is elected. Noting Dewey's threat to fire him, he said the New York governor should have known "the primary school fact that the cabinet of an outgoing president automatically resigns with its chief."

No Majority, Wage Ceiling Is Not Set

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 29 (AP)—Lack of a majority vote by eligible West Texas cotton producers fr setting of a wage ceiling for picking and pulling cotton has caused the Texas War Food administration wage board to decline to recommend establishment of any ceiling to WFA Administrator Marvin Jones.

Acting board Chairman E. R. Alexander of Texas A. and M. college said yesterday that returns showed that of 33,227 eligible producers, about 40 per cent, or 14,741, ave voted, of which number 13,643 favored the setting of ceilings.

Alexander explained that although nearly 93 per cent of the voting producers favored the proposal, the law requires that a majority of all cotton producers within an area request that action before the wage board can recommend the setting of ceilings to the administrator.

The board plans no further action on cotton wage ceilings, said Alexander.

Expected Them To Quit

"Once we drive them back to their own country they'll come to their senses," has been the thought and consolation of most soldiers ever since invasion day last June. "Then we'll have a walkaway parade to Berlin and the war will be over. They will never fight in their own country."

But they are. And it's making the American soldier madder, tougher and more anxious to smash through to Berlin every day. Many of these combat troops have been overseas for two years or more and secretly had hoped their reward for a quick victory might be to return home by Christmas. Now they realize that is an outside chance and they are uncomfortably aware of the possibility that the European war may well last through a cold and forlorn winter.

Service Units Ready

The "special service" units are ready to scout or interpret or even to administer temporarily the occupied territory.

These cloak-and-dagger specialists accompanied us in the landing on the island which I am not permitted to identify. They sent in an advance party by Kayak, then ranged into th hills to establish contact with the partisans.

Mostly they are men of dual nationality, with extensive special training so they are ready to accompany any type of military force—British, American or partisan, commando, airborne or infantry.

The service newspaper Maple Leaf said British and Allied forces have been in Albania for weeks, living in caves and mountain hideouts. They trained and coordinated partisans for preliminary sabotage and to support the final landings.

"Must Not Repeat Risks"

"We cannot take these risks again. We have information that the German general staff, recognizing the inevitability of defeat, already is thinking in terms of the next war."

Eden said Allied arrangements for the occupation of Germany are nearly complete.

He said it was envisaged that France should be an equal and potent partner in all affairs, and that discussions with the Allies were in progress "as to the point at which there should be recognition of the French provisional government."

Plans Complete For Inaugural

By VIRGIL MIERS
Journal Staff Writer

Formal inauguration of Dr. William Marvin Whyburn as fourth president of Texas Tech will take place at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the college gymnasium.

Principal speakers will be Dr. Ivan Lee Holt, Methodist bishop of St. Louis, making the address at the inaugural, and Dr. E. C. Barker of the University of Texas, making the principal address at a formal dinner in honor of President and Mrs. Whyburn, to be given at 7:15 o'clock Saturday night in Women's Dorm No. 2.

Representatives of 30 colleges from five states will be guests. Fourteen college presidents will be in Lubbock for the occasion. Others to attend include members of the Texas Tech dictorate, state and government officials, state and federal board of education members, and representatives from various branches of the armed forces.

Faculty members of Texas Tech and all representatives will participate in an academic procession that will march from the Textile building to the gymnasium, preceding the inaugural. They will be robed in full academic regalia. There are approximately 190 faculty members now at Tech.

Tech's Matador band, who in full dress will play the processional, will be seated in the center of the north end of the gym, with the Tech chorus, dressed in white and black, sitting on both sides of the band. The speaker's platform will be directly in front of the colorful band and chorus.

In memory of the late Dr. Paul W. Horn, the band and chorus will present, "O College Mother, Beautiful," followed by an invocation from Rev. John A. Winslow of St. Paul's on-the-Plains Episcopal church.

The band and chorus will present the song "Doxology" in memory of the late Dr. Bradford Knapp.

Charles C. Thompson, head of Tech's dictorate, will make the presidential investiture. Dr. Whyburn will then make his address.

Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church, will give the benediction, followed by the recessional.

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, head of the inaugural committee, extended an invitation Thursday to the public to attend the services, adding that many seats will be put up outside the gym, with a loud speaker bringing the entire program to the outside audience.

Mark McGee of Fort Worth, vice chairman of the board of directors, will act as toastmaster at the dinner Saturday night. J. Evetts Haley, well-known West Texas historical writer and rancher, will introduce Dr. Barker, evening speaker.

Saturday afternoon classes at Tech will not meet.

Included among the representatives of the state and church colleges that will participate are:

Charles Zarafonetis Shows Storied Flag

One of the first flags hoisted by U. S. invasion troops on foreign soil during World War II was sent home by a former Lubbock resident, Lt. (jg) George Zarafronetis, U.S.N.R., before his death, and is now in the hands of the naval officer's father, Charles Zarafonetis, who is visiting here.

Mr. Zarafonetis, of Hillsboro and Dallas, is at the Hilton talking with Lubbock friends of his son, who was maitre d'hotel there before entering the service.

The Naval officer was killed in an accident in Arzew, Algeria, Oct. 14, 1943.

The story of the flag sent home by George before his death goes back to the time when it was purchased in Scotland. Lt. Zarafonetis carried the flag from Scotland to Africa and personally hoisted it over the port of Arzew, Algeria, Nov. 8, 1942. It is believed to have been the first American flag raised on African soil in connection with the invasion, the father said.

Little by little the officer returned to his father a log of his travels, mementoes of the places he had been, and last of all the flag, together with a letter giving its history.

Now, step by step, the father is able to retrace those days. He is even able to feel, in a sense, that he has seen his son's grave in Oran. For the Navy chaplain carefully took pictures of the full naval escort attending Lt. Zarafonetis' burial, the bugler blowing taps, and the grave itself. The pictures were sent to the father.

Carrier Planes Give Manila Foretaste Of U. S. Strength

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The first on-the-scene description of the American Third fleet's carrier-based attack on the Manila bay area, Sept. 21-22, coinciding with heavy, new attacks on the Philippines, follows. Its author, United Press War Correspondent George E. Jones, a veteran of Pacific war reporting, was aboard a carrier-flagship. Transmission of his dispatch was delayed until the carrier force could break radio silence).

BY GEORGE E. JONES
United Press War Correspondent

ABOARD CARRIER FLAGSHIP, Off Luzon, Sept. 22 —(Via Navy Radio)—Hundreds of American dive bombers, torpedo planes, and fighters circle over the sprawling city of Manila. It is the rendezvous for the second battle of Manila bay.

They had taken off in rain squalls from the pitching, rolling decks of aircraft carriers off the coast of Luzon and battled through heavy clouds and over mountains to the capital of the Philippines.

Manila radio has finished the morning setting up exercises. It is playing "Music for Your Morning Mood." Suddenly the announcer breaks in, a howling voice: "Attention all listeners! This is an air raid warning."

Action Is Lively

Bombers and torpedo planes with a fighter cover streak across the city from the east, circling north and east of Cavite naval base and its big anti-aircraft guns.

Helldivers scream down from 10,000 feet and pull out over the ships inside the breakwater of the inner harbor.

Torpedo planes come skimming in over the bay from the west, a long, thin line of grayish blue planes.

Planes are peeling off on Nichols, Clark, and Hhielson fields. Others are circling over the old, walled inner city, over circular Bilibid prison, over the stately government buildings, seeking out their targets.

Targets Plastered

Torpedos streak the waters of Manila bay. Ships are blowing up. The floating dry dock, called the U. S. S. Dewey when in American possession, is blazing and so are the great Atlantic Gulf and Pacific refinery and oil storage depots along the water front.

Smoke billows over the Pasic river and south over the Manila hotel where live high Japanese officers. Anti-aircraft fire erupts from vacant lots and the four-lane Dewey boulevard, which now serves as take-off strip for Japanese planes. A Zero streaks desperately almost at water level, dodging from side to side with two Hellcats on its tail.

Sheep population of Australia is estimated at 112,000,000, or 18 to every one of the human population.

166 Meat Handlers To Face OPA Suits

DALLAS, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Office of Price administration said that civil and criminal suits would be filed today against 166 slaughterers, wholesalers and other handlers of meat in four southwestern states for violation of price regulations. Some of the suits were scheduled for filing this afternoon.

This action was mapped by OPA's enforcement division to beat down the black market in meat prices before the anticipated supply shortage grows more acute this winter, William A. (Bill) Orth, regional administrator, Dallas, declared.

The suits, mostly civil, were to be filed by district offices in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Louisiana.

Included among the cases will be several for treble damages totaling about $132,000, Orth said.

Charges of upgrading utility or grade C meat to grade A, and grade B to grade AA, will account for the bulk of the complaints and applications for injunctions, Orth said.

APPEAL DISMISSED

Food, Nutrition And Rationing News . . .

Swiss Steak Is Season Favorite

This season's favorite in steaks is Swiss steak, a popular dish for which the ration-free Utility beef steaks are excellent. Perhaps we should say "braised steaks," to include all the many delicious variations—for some people insist that a true Swiss steak must be cooked with tomatoes! At any rate, the method of cookery used is braising, which calls for long, slow cooking by moist heat to make the meat tender.

Any cut of beefsteak may be cooked by braising, says Jessie Alice Cline, home economist. The general method is the same in any case. The variety comes in the style of service (as one large steak, individual steaks, stuffed rolls, or beef "birds") and in the seasonings used.

The following recipes suggest numerous possibilities. Other variations include Spanish steak, with peppers added; cream Swiss steak, cooked in sour cream; and deviled round steak, which is sometimes marinated in a spicy French dressing before cooking.

Swiss Steak With Onions

3 pounds round or arm steak
¾ cup flour
1 teaspoon mustard
1 cup water
3 teaspoons salt
¼ cup lard or drippings
2 cups sliced onions

Mix dry ingredients. Pound flour into meat until all is absorbed. Brown steak slowly in lard or drippings. Add water; arrange onions on top of steak. Cover and cook in slow oven (300 degree F.) *3 hours, or until tender.

Potted Beef Steaks

6 individual steaks from round or chuck
Flour for dredging
Lard for browning
1 large onion, sliced
3 or 4 carrots, sliced
1 cloves
2 bay leaves
1 cup ketchup
1 cup water
Salt and pepper

Have steaks cut 1 inch thick. Pound flour into steaks and brown on both sides in bacon drippings or lard. Add onion, carrots, spices, ketchup and water. Season with salt and pepper, cover closely, and cook slowly on top of range or in oven about *3 hours, or until tender.

Plank Steak—Creole Style

1 large flank steak
1 pound bulk sausage
2 cups tomatoes
2 bay leaves
1 medium onion, sliced
Salt and pepper

Have flank steak scored at market. Shape sausage into a cylinder as long as the steak. Roll steak around it and tie with string. Place steak in baking pan, pour tomatoes over it, add bay leaves and finely chopped onion. Season to taste. Cover closely and cook in slow oven (300 degree F.) until steak is tender, about *3 hours. Thicken the tomato sauce and serve with it.

Cooking time given is for Utility beef. Choice and good grades of beef requires less time.

Breakfast Should Be Well-Balanced Meal

"Good breakfast" time is here. This fall, the Food Fights for Freedom program, in cooperation with the National Wartime Nutrition program, is stressing the importance of starting the day with a well-balanced breakfast, built around the "Basic 7" foods.

Nutritionists have "boiled down" the drive to two major themes, the first being careful planning of the morning meal so that each member of the family sits down to a breakfast which represents the foods known to build and sustain energy. Prominent on the list of breakfast "musts" are "fruit or fruit juice and a whole grain or restored cereal with milk."

Surveys indicate that apparently the stumbling block in most households is the second step of the program, "Allow time to eat," which urges that everyone should take time to eat a good breakfast, one that will provide plenty of nourishment until lunch.

Whole-grain cereals are unanimously classified as one of the most outstanding energy-builders. It is easy for a homemaker to follow both "good breakfast" suggestions when her morning menu is planned around a 100 per cent natural whole-wheat cereal. Not only is she supplying a sturdy food of acknowledged value, but she is beating the fast-ticking clock by quickly serving substantial, whole-grain cereal that needs only the addition of whole milk and fruit. Here is a simply-prepared breakfast main dish starring three of the basic foods, that can be counted on to put drive in your daily work.

A cooked smoked beef tongue is ready to serve in a moment. Cover a smoked beef tongue with cold water and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 2½ to 3 hours or until tender. Leave tongue in liquid to cool. Then skin and keep covered in refrigerator.

Serve Swiss steak often with variations. For full rich beef flavor brown well and add hot water for a brown gravy. Or for added flavor use hot tomato juice, lemon sauce, fruit juices, onions, whole vegetables, pickle relish or horseradish sauce.

Have you noticed the point-free cuts of lamb? They're lamb breast and flank, neck and shank and are meant for unforgettable lamb stew, or lamb patties wrapped in bacon and broiled.

Quick Coconut And Raisin Puddings Make Fine Desserts

Quick desserts, that are different too, are always in demand, so here's a new way to dress up an old favorite, vanilla pudding, with cocoanut, raisins and a toasted meringue topping.

The combination of raisins with lime or lemon and fresh cocoanut is a great favorite throughout Middle America. This tropical land boasts plenty of coconut palms as well as their great world-famous, and world-supplying banana plantations. Now that we have been cut off from supplies in the Far East, we're discovering that the raw materials were right here all the time, just waiting to be developed in a dozen different commercial ways.

These coconut and other varieties of palm are a marvelous near-at-hand source of the valuable palm oils, so essential to the food and cosmetic industries, and now-a-days almost impossible to obtain.

A palm tree offers a great deal more than the nuts that provide the coconut meat to be packaged or canned and exported!

To say that packaged shredded coconut will do just as well as the fresh is, of course, purest heresy from the Middle American point of view—where one stroke of the machete lops off the top of the nut and provides a refreshing draught of coconut milk as well as great chunks of thick white coconut meat.

Most of us wouldn't know how to handle a machete even if we knew what it looked like, so unless you're extraordinarily skillful with the ice pick, butcher knife and hammer, by all means choose the easier way of buying it in a box and keep all your fingers and thumbs intact! I'm sure our Middle American neighbors will forgive us when they compare their great cool kitchens, hung to the ceiling with efficient cooking tools and great colorful earthenware pots, with the size of one of our average kitchenettes!

Coconut Raisin Pudding

1 pkg. vanilla pudding
2 cups milk
½ cup shredded coconut
½ cup raisins
1 Tbs. lemon juice
1 egg white
2 Tbs. sugar
2 Tbs. coconut for topping

Make the vanilla pudding in the usual way, using the two cups of milk. When the pudding has thickened, remove from the heat and stir in the coconut, raisins and lemon juice. Pour into small glass custard cups. Cool. Make a meringue with the stiffly beaten egg white and sugar and swirl lightly on top of the custards. Sprinkle with the additional coconut and bake in a slow oven, (325 F) for 15 minutes, or until golden brown.

No Parking Limit On Refrigerator Cookies

How long can you store refrigerator cookies before baking? A home economist friend tells us she kept some for three months—and they were crisp and fresh when baked. Not that you'll ever keep cookies on hand that long! Once the family's had a taste, they'll demand you bake another roll immediately.

But here's an idea for cookie variety. Mix two or three kinds of refrigerator cookies at one time. Form into rolls, cover with paper and store until needed. Then you can bake several flavors at once. It's a nice tip for lunch box packers.

Chocolate Refrigerator Cookies

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
½ cup butter or margarine
1 egg
1 cup whole bran
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Melt chocolate over hot water. Blend butter or margarine and sugar thoroughly; beat until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Stir in chocolate and whole bran. Add milk and flavoring. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, and work into first mixture, a small amount at a time. Knead and shape into roll about 1½ inches in diameter; wrap in waxed paper, covering ends so dough will not dry out. Store in refrigerator until firm. Cut into thin slices and bake on ungreased cookie sheet in moderately hot oven 400 degree F.) about 12 minutes.

Yield: 4 dozen cookies (2 inches in diameter).

Butterscotch Refrigerator Cookies

1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups brown sugar
1 egg
1 cup oven-popped rice cereal
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

Cream butter or margarine; add sugar gradually and beat until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Stir in oven-popped rice. Sift flour with baking powder and work into first mixture, a small amount at a time. Knead and shape into rolls about 1½ inches in diameter; wrap in waxed paper, covering ends so that dough will not dry out. Store in refrigerator until firm. Cut into thin slices and bake on ungreased cookie sheet in moderately hot oven (425 degree F.) about 10 minutes.

Yield: 7½ dozen cookies (2 inches in diameter).

Note: One tablespoon water or milk may be added to dough if it is difficult to shape into rolls.

'Japs Are Licked,' Says Gen. Krueger

BY RALPH TEATSORTH
United Press War Writer

U. S. SIXTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Sept. 29 — "The Japs are licked" —but final victory has not been won in the Pacific and the "way to win this war is to put our hearts, souls and bodies into it," Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, alert 63-year-old commander of the Sixth army, said today.

KRUEGER

"I believe I represent every American soldier when I say that the way to end this war quickly is to work day and night with everything we have. That's my only program," the veteran army officer stated as he reviewed the Sixth army's record in this theater and discussed the future.

Discards Wishful Thinking

Brushing aside any wishful thinking or wild speculation about the end of the war, Krueger, in an exclusive interview with the United Press, said that "what we are battling is time and that's impossible to reckon. You can depend on it that I'll do anything I can to shorten the war by even a month, a week or a day."

"The Japs are licked," he said emphatically. "Make no mistake about that. We can beat the Jap wherever he is or whatever he does. However, we cannot predict when he will crush him finally because there are so many unpredictable factors.

"The Japs are hard hit. This is no time for us to relax. I believe we should hit him now with both fists."

Praises Allied Forces

Pacing up and down the floor in his simple headquarters where he works until 11:30 every night, Krueger said "sound strategic conception by our high command and excellent coordination in execution by our land, sea and air forces," was the most important factor in the victorious New Guinea campaign.

Krueger believes that Japan's position is so hopeless that "any sensible nation would have surrendered. It is honorable surrender when you have put up a stubborn fight, but the situation is hopeless.

"Japs Can't Wear Us Out"

"Possibly the Japs think differently of war than we do and think they can wear us out — but they can never do that!"

"If we could get the Japs all in one place," he said, "we could put a similar force against them and there wouldn't be any doubt about the result. But we are not fighting that kind of war. We have to track down small numbers of well-entrenched Japs over a wide front."

Krueger is a veteran of 46 years of military service — senior soldier in the entire army — and despite his confidence would not make a statement on the possible length of the war.

"A fighter may be confident he is going to beat his opponent but would be a fool to say he will do it in three rounds," he said.

City Manager Ticket Victors In Houston

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 (U.P.) — Mayor Otis Massey, six incumbent councilmen and two new nominees on the city manager charter committee ticket today accepted nomination and reassumed their obligation to further city manager government in Houston for a second term.

Mayor Massey accepted his renomination with an affirmation of faith in the city manager form of government. He expressed a conviction the form of government has been a success in Houston, "replacing political administration of the city's affairs with honest, efficient business administration."

Future German Wars Big Issue

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The problem of rendering Germany incapable of launching future wars appears to be shaping up as the greatest single issue immediately before the United States, Britain and Russia for joint decision.

It is believed here to be one of the main considerations underlying Prime Minister Churchill's strongly worded statement to Parliament that a meeting must be held, before the end of the year if possible, by himself and President Roosevelt with Marshal Stalin of Russia.

The President and the Prime Minister, at their recent talk at Hyde Park following the Quebec conference, had ample opportunity to explore their respective opinions on the fate of Germany but at the moment neither has more than a rough idea of what Stalin plans.

Among postwar problems is the question of Russian versus British influence in the Balkans, a historic ground of conflict between the two great powers; the future of Poland and its exiled government, which Britain and the United States recognize and Russia rejects; the status of the Baltic states which Russia has taken into the Soviet Union in a move not yet recognized here; the future of Italy which has enormous strategical importance in the Mediterranean and, overall, the great question of whether the three big powers can develop attitudes of cooperation instead of relying on the more traditional methods of power politics.

Ultimately this cooperation is expected to take prominent form in the proposed world security organization, partial plans for which are now being completed on a four-power basis, China included, at Dumbarton Oaks here. Immediately officials look on the German issue as of utmost importance in respect to the question of Anglo-American-Russian cooperation.

'The Voice' Chats With FDR On Art Of 'Swooning' Girls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Frank (The Voice) Sinatra had tea with the President Thursday and joined with him in a little chat about the art of making girls swoon.

Sinatra, Comedian "Rags" Ragland, and "Toots" Shor, New York restaurant operator, flew down from Manhattan for the White House tea at the invitation of Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman.

It started this way, as Ragland put it:

"We were sitting in Toots Shor's last night and Bob (Hannegan) suggested that we come to Washington today to see the President. So we flew down—it was the biggest thrill I ever had in my life."

Their visit brought the biggest crowd of reporters to the east gate of the White House since the day Vice President Wallace and Jesse Jones got into a row over the operations of the Board of Economic warfare.

Sinatra had little to say after the tea. The President didn't ask him to sing.

"He kidded me about the art of how to make girls faint," Sinatra grinned.

"And Frank swooned himself," put in Ragland. "We had to pick him off the floor twice."

Both men said they did not discuss politics at the tea, but both are avowed fourth-termers.

"Why are you a fourth-term supporter?" a reporter asked Sinatra.

"Well," thoughtfully replied The Voice, "You might say I'm in favor of it."

German Control Is Urged By Speaker

Declaring there is no distinction between Germans and Nazis, Andre M. Michalopoulos, former minister of information of the Greek government-in-exile, addressed approximately 90 persons Thursday night at the first meeting of the Lubbock Knife and Fork club this season, in the ballroom of Hilton hotel.

"There is no distinction between them," he said, "because they have never practiced democracy and they have always been willing to accept the rule of a clique." He stressed the fact that liberal-minded people were to be found in Germany. The very basic characteristic of the German people made them easy prey to iron-clad dictatorship.

Michalopoulos believes the spirit of the German people can be broken, if the three great powers, Russia, Great Britain and the United States, do not allow sympathy to dot the i's of the peace terms. To control Germany, he said an international political organization among these powers would be the basis of an invincible barrier against Germany.

Two Suggestions

He submitted two suggestions for this organization: 1. Russia, Great Britain, and United States for a unity-working plan, effective for a long period of time. 2. Formation of a world economic board for the regulation to trade, boycotting Germany.

"Democracy in the hands of the American people will not fail to work because you have the greatness coupled with kindness," Michalopoulos said in paying tribute to the United States. "Perhaps you can make way for a glimmer of light to enter the black souls of the Germans."

Purpose of the fan of an automobile motor is to draw in air when the motor is idling; it could be cut out at speeds over 40, as it was on the new extinct Wills-St. Claire.

Less Cash For Europe Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Tighter purse strings in dealing with European nations were urged today by two congressmen just back from a five-week tour of Britain and France.

One of them, Rep. Mundt (R-SD) also advocated a powerful and permanent international air force as "the best deterrent to any possible future aggression in the world."

The congressmen were interviewed separately.

Asserting he did not believe American expenditures "are appreciated," Rep. Richards (D-SC) said:

"I do not believe the people of any European nation fully realize the magniture of the American war effort and the tax burden the people will have to bear to meet the cost.

England, France Nationalistic

"My impression is that England and France are just as nationalistic as America and that the welfare of their own nations comes first and the international viewpoint a poor second."

Mundt asserted that "Britain has moved much further and planned more constructively in the field of postwar rehabilitation and commerce than has the United States."

The congressmen made the trip as representatives of the House foreign affairs committee.

TEXAS SOLONS SPLIT ON TERMS FOR GERMANY

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 29 (AP)—Reps. W. R. Poage of Waco and O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, touring North Ireland, split today on peace terms for Germany.

Poage said in an interview he favored a hard peace, but Fisher, disagreeing, suggested "collaboration among great Allied nations could resolve possibility of a misunderstanding" in treatment of Germany.

"It shocks me," Poage declared, "to hear some British talking about Germany being a great nation. I talked to a lot of people in England who said they wanted to help rebuild Germany, and I simply was amazed.

Central Europe Rotten

"If by a soft peace Germany is encouraged to launch a third war in Europe I don't see how America could be expected to take part. Central Europe is rotten to the core, and if we don't cut out that core we'll have a rotten apple.

"We must not spare the knife."

The Texas congressmen are on a tour of Europe as representatives of the House foreign affairs committee.

Draft Dodgers To Lose Citizenship

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Rosevelt signed 27 bills into law today — including one which created a group of "men without a country."

The measure provides that persons who left this country to evade military service shall lose their citizenship and be denied readmission to the country. In such cases, Justice department officials said, the persons usually can not achieve citizenship elsewhere.

A report on the bill by the Senate immigration committee said there were nearly 1,000 such cases near El Paso, Texas, alone.

A. & M. President To Be Honored Here

An informal dinner honoring Gibb Gilchrist, new president of Texas A. and M. college, will be given by South Plains A. and M. Ex-Students club at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Hilton hotel.

Gilchrist, who is coming here for the inaugural of Dr. William M. Whyburn as president of Texas Tech, is scheduled to arrive at 5 o'clock this afternoon. He will be accompanied by E. E. McQuillan of College Station, secretary of the A. and M. Ex-Students association. Both are scheduled for short informal talks at the dinner.

W. L. Bradshaw, secretary of the South Plains club, said that at least 75 persons were expected to attend, including Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president-emeritus of Texas Tech. An invitation was extended to Dr. Whyburn but he will be unable to attend, Bradshaw said.

New Office Created To Guide Nation Through Reconversion

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—The new Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion — to be set up under the bill passed by Congress — will be the guide through the home front jungle leading back to peace.

The director of OWMR — when he is named — will be boss over the government agencies that have anything to do with changing this country over to a peacetime economy.

Will Boss Three Agencies

But specifically he will be boss over these three agencies, all created by Congress for reconversion:

1. The Office of Contract settlement. This agency will handle the cancellation of war contracts.

2. The Surplus Property board which will have to dispose of more than 100 billion dollars worth of surplus war property. This three-man board, created by Congress, will succeed the surplus war property administration which was created by the President.

3. Retraining and reemployment administration. Its job is to coordinate all the efforts of government agencies which deal with retraining and reemployment.

To Keep Congress Informed

The director of OWMR also will be responsible for planning and for keeping Congress informed of reconversion progress.

Congress laid down this rule for OWMR: Any plant able to reconvert to peacetime work should be permitted to, whether or not other firms in the same field are still doing war work.

This has been a sore point for months. For some business men contend it's unfair to let one firm get a head start on its competitors after the war.

States May Get Help

Here are some of the other main provisions in the act creating OWMR:

The federal government will help out states hard hit by paying out unemployment compensation to jobless workers.

This, in a general way, is how it will work:

States operate their own unemployment compensation systems. The money, however, goes into a government trust fund. The states draw from that fund as they need to. Now there is about 5¼ billion dollars in the fund.

Many Jobless Foreseen

There will be many jobless after the war. So the states will have to dip into their share of that fund. When those payments drag a state's share down below a certain level, the government will step in to help out with a loan.

A lot of states have plans for building public works after the war. Some of those plans are in blueprint form, some only in the talking stage.

To spur all the states and cities into getting their plans completed the OWMR act provides:

That the government shall help finance the cost of completing these plans. In other words: Help pay for the architects' fees and the expenses of planning groups.

This money will be distributed on a population basis.

Lubbock, Big Spring To Clash Tonight

Westerners After Third Straight

The Lubbock Westerners level their sights on the Big Spring Steers tonight at Big Spring, seeking their third win in a row over district 3-AA opposition.

The Westerners left today for their first battle on foreign soil, but with the team crippled by injuries and failing grades. Six players have been lost, four of them regulars, but two of these are with the team, and may see some service. They are Wingman Billy Bob Harris and Fullback R. W. Moyers.

Reserves Get Chance

Westerner reserves will get a chance to show what they can do in the way of filling the gaps in the Westerner lineup, and the work of the new faces will be closely watched by both coaches and fans.

It has been no secret that the Westerners have been woefully short handed in the way of reserves, and played the San Angelo battle last week with only 12 men.

While the Westerners have roared through two victories over tough teams from the 3-AA district, the Big Spring Steers have divided a pair of games, losing the opener to Colorado City, 6-0, and winning lustily over a stronger Cisco eleven, 33 to 6.

This indicates that the Steers are improving fast, and with the Westerners "caught short handed" the going is expected to be plenty tough on the local lads.

The Westerners took it easy Thursday afternoon as they tapered off for the game, and at the same time, took no chances on further injuries striking at the club.

Jim Lowrey filled in for Moyers in the Odessa ball game, and his work in that game stamped him as a star. He will again be back at the fullback post in Moyers place, but the other three positions in the starting lineup will be manned by green, but promising youngsters off last year's Cowhands.

Gerald "Dinky" Davis is scheduled to step into the wing position in place of Harris with Stoney Wall and Billy Harless scheduled to take over in the guard slots.

The Steers are reported to have a well balanced team, with Leo Rusk, 196 pound guard, as the outstanding performer in the line, and rated as one of the greatest guards ever produced in District 3-AA.

The backfield attack is built around Bobo Hardy, Hugh Cochron and Pete Cook, all lettermen, and rated as fast and tricky runners.

The rest of the Westerner lineup is expected to be the same as started last week with Johnny Davis and George Brewer expected to team with Lowrey to handle the bulk of the Westerner offense.

Pearson has been an outstanding performer in the Westerner line, as well as co-captain of the team, and filling his position will be the greatest worry of the local coaches.

The probable starting lineups:

| Lubbock | Pos. | Big Spring |
|---|---|---|
| Benefield 162 | LE | Huett 145 |
| Giles 160 | LT | Bryan 215 |
| Wall 162 | LG | Clinkscales 141 |
| Pressley 173 | C | Smith 145 |
| Harless 180 | RG | Rusk 196 |
| Foster 185 | RT | Harris 155 |
| G. Davis 131 | RE | Cunningham 160 |
| Cole 153 | QB | Hardy 163 |
| Brewer 167 | LH | Cochron 149 |
| J. Davis 191 | RH | McLaren 133 |
| Lowrey 140 | FB | Cook 160 |

All 1-AA Gridders Have Home Games Except Westerners

West Texas schoolboys will start swinging on all fronts today as the big day of the third week of the 1944 football season rolls around, and all teams in District 1-AA have home games, except the Lubbock Westerners.

Lubbock, the football hotbed of the area, will have three schoolboy teams in action this afternoon and tonight.

The Cowhand Black team will remain at home this afternoon to entertain the powerful O'Donnell eleven from District 6-A while the Cowhands Gold team goes to Meadow to play the Class B powerhouse from that school. The Westerners play at Big Spring.

The local game will be played at Chapman field this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Westerners On Road

The Westerners will be the only District 1-AA team to take to the road this week with the spotlight centered on Amarillo and Plainview where undefeated, untied teams battle in Amarillo when the Vernon Lions move in. The Electra Tigers, also from District 2-AA along with Vernon, are expected to give the Plainview aerial circus a real test.

Pampa will be host to Oklahoma City Central, a team of unknown quality, while Borger and Brownfield play Class A rivals in Canadian and Seminole respectively. Borger has been having trouble getting started, losing twice to Class A teams, but Brownfield is not expected to encounter much trouble from the Indians.

5-A Conference Play

Two conference games take the spotlight in District 5-A with Sudan moving into Muleshoe while Littlefield goes to Morton. The visitors in both cases will be favored.

Levelland's Lobos are expected to give the powerful Tahoka Bulldogs a real test in a battle at Tahoka while Olton will journey to Lockney.

The Lamesa Golden Tornados will put their undefeated record on the line, and open the conference race at the same time, when they move into Odessa to battle the Bronchos in the 3-AA conference opener.

The Spur Bulldogs take on another tough foe tonight at Seymour where the Panthers are reported to have another strong eleven.

Coach Shelby Jobe's Plains eleven will test the power of the Denver City Mustangs at Denver City while Petersburg goes to Floydada for another battle against Class A opposition. Abernathy is scheduled at Ropes in a Class B conference game that rounds out the area schedule.

Ramblers Due To Lick Rice

Ags, TCU Get Nod Over Tech, SPAAF

(By The United Press)

When the kickoff gun cracks around the Southwest Saturday, the 1944 grid battle will get underway at full tilt with Rice institute playing the limelight game against the powerful Ramblers of Randolph field and Texas university and Southern Methodist making their season debuts.

The Ramblers, a star-studded outfit rated one of the top service teams in the country, are expected to breeze through Coach Jess Neely's Owl squad with little effort. However, the Owls are supplied with a better-than-ever crew of fleet-footed backs and are favored to make a powerful bid for the Southwest conference title this year.

Rice Looked Good

Rice, with its newly - adopted T-model formation, looked good Saturday night in drubbing Galveston Army Air field, 57 to 0. But they stack up short against such Randolph men as Bill Dudley, 1941 all-American at Virginia and 1942 all-pro with the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Fliers have a host of other gridiron greats, including Dippy Evans of Notre Dame and Pete Layden of Texas fame.

The mighty Longhorns of Texas university make their 1944 bow Saturday in a game at Austin against the Pirates of Southwestern university. The game should be interesting, since "little" Southwestern was the only team to defeat the 1942 and '43 titleholders from T. U.

Southern Methodist university also gets into the fray, the first game against North Texas A. and M. at Dallas. The Mustangs are favored to win in a walk.

Aggies Favored Over Tech

The Texas Aggies play Texas Tech at San Antonio Saturday night, and the odds are down on the A. and M. cadets, runnersup of 1943. The Aggies defeated Bryan Army Air field last Saturday, 27-13, and Homer Norton's machine was running smoothly with only a fumble here and there.

Texas Christian, victor over Kansas university last weekend, is expected to better its 7-0 score against the Jayhawks when the Horned Frogs meet South Plains Army Air field on the T. C. U. field at Fort Worth.

However, the South Plains crew is a tough one, boasting some 10 former college players and coached by Lt. Ray B. Cagni, three-letterman from the University of West Virginia and former Stetson university mentor. If occasion demands—as it did last year—Cagni can step into a backfield position.

Arkansas university's Razorbacks, winners of a close 7-6 game from Missouri at St. Louis last Saturday, will not play Saturday, but have a Friday night game against Oklahoma A. and M. at Oklahoma City.

CARDINALS TEXAS CAMP

DENISON, Texas, Sept. 19 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals will hold their final baseball try-out camp of 1944 here today and Saturday at Miller field. It will be the fourth camp for the purpose of finding new talent for Cardinal minor league clubs.

DEMO WORKER NAMED

FORT WORTH, Sept. 29. (AP)—E. O. Gillam of Fort Worth has been appointed assistant to the regional finance director for the Democratic party's presidential campaign in six southwestern states. The region includes Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

TRAFFIC KILLS 14,430

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Traffic accidents took the lives of 14,430 Americans during the first eight months of this year, the National Safety council reported today.

Raiders Off To San Antonio For Saturday Game With Ags

The Texas Tech Red Raiders are enroute today to San Antonio where they clash with the Texas Aggies Saturday night in what promises to develop into a wide open battle as the Raiders seek revenge for a 13 to 0 defeat suffered in their meeting last year.

Just who Coach Dell Morgan will take with the team, and just who his starters will be, remained very much in doubt Thursday night as the team finished off their hard drills for the coming game.

The chief problem will be finding the men to step into the shoes of Hoot Gibson, the classy running back from Paris, and Homer Lawson, the All-District lineman from Lubbock, both of whom were injured last week in the season's opener with Lubbock Army Air field.

Morgan has a promising array of boys battling for the positions, but the Red Raider coach indicated that there might be several changes in the lineup that started the opener.

Cowboys Win 14-7 Over Tahoka Pups

Coach Curtis Barrett's Blue team of the Lubbock Cowboys pushed over touchdowns in the first and third periods to nose out Coach Leo Jackson's classy Tahoka Pups, 14 to 7, at Chapman field Thursday afternoon.

Little Joe Minor, a baby brother of the famed Minor brothers of Tahoka, sparked the Pups, and showed much promise that he would carry on the tradition set by older brothers. Minor was the outstanding back on the field for the afternoon.

It was in the second quarter that Minor led the Pups from behind with a series of long end runs to score, then tied the ball game 7-7 by plunging the line for the extra point.

The Cowboys took the lead early in the ball game with Arlan Trice plunging over from the three yard line, then Lester York plunged the line for the extra point.

The Cowboys regained the lead in the third quarter when Jimmy Bass smashed through to block a punt and recover for Lubbock on the Tahoka 40. The Cowboys moved on down the field and Herman Laxson scored from four yards out, and Trice plunged across for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter, Bass blocked another punt to start another threat by the Cowboys, but the drive failed to reach pay dirt.

Just like Minor stood out among the backs, John Kallas, 187 pound tackle of the Cowboys, was the outstanding lineman on the field, and played a great game all the way.

LIPPY LEO REHIRED

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (U.P.)—President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that he had signed Manager Leo Durocher to direct the team again in 1945 and that he was satisfied despite the fact that the team will finish the current campaign in the National league second division.

LAAF To Clash Here With 'Sky Giants'; SPAAF Is At T.C.U.

The clash between unbeaten, and power laden Service teams will hold the local football spotlight here Saturday night when Lubbock Army Air field defends Tech stadium against the invasion of the Amarillo Army Air field Sky Giants.

Both clubs won their openers this season, both beating Border conference teams, and much interest is being attached to the game. LAAF opened the season by outscoring a scrappy Texas Tech club while Amarillo's Sky Giants took to the air to beat a Marine bolstered New Mexico university club.

The Sky Giants were given a big boost recently with the addition of John Gill, former Texas Longhorn star and a product of Amarillo High school. Gill is expected to add much punch to the already star studded lineup of the Sky Giants.

SPAAF ABOUT EQUAL TO TCU IN WEIGHT

South Plains Army Air field's Winged Commandos will take a final tuneup this afternoon at TCU stadium for their opening game Saturday afternoon with Dutch Meyer's pass minded Frogs.

Weights of the two teams will stack up about even, with the SPAAF team average at 178 pounds and the Horned Frogs about the same. However, SPAAF's 190-pound average line will outweigh the TCU forward wall slightly and the Frog backfield will scale some 10 pounds heavier than the SPAAF backs on the average.

SPAAF will start a backfield averaging only 158 pounds against TCU, but fortified with two good passers in the same starting quartet of backs, Joe Eager and Virgil Sullivan. Eager and Sullivan are the only SPAAF backs with college experience, with Eager a two-letter man from Louisiana Tech and Sullivan a former Rice star.

Besides Eager and Sullivan, there are only four men with college experience on the entire SPAAF squad making the trip. Guard Ray Truitt, line, coach, won three letters at Marshall college and played with the Detroit professional Lions. End G. D. Young lettered twice at Wayne university; Center R. C. Bostwick has one letter from the University of Illinois; Tackle C. B. North won a freshman numeral at the University of Southern California.

A shortage of tanks, possibly caused by lack of ball bearings as well as destruction of factories in some cases, has forced the Germans in northern France to fall back on obsolete French models.

Postponements Due To Aid Tigers Most In American Race

(By The Associated Press)

Rain sent the "experts" hunting for new angles today to figure out whether Detroit, St. Louis or New York would profit most by postponements in the American league pennant race. The answer appeared to be Detroit.

If it pours until Sunday night, the Tigers could sit home by the fire and plan their World Series strategy while the Browns, one game back, and the Yankees, three lengths out, rued lost opportunities.

All clubs were scheduled for doubleheaders today after yesterday's complete washout but even another day of rain wouldn't wash any games off the calendar for keeps. The same teams play one another the rest of the season four games and could make them up with twins on both Saturday and Sunday.

Cards Polish Off Giants

In the East, the pennant-winning St. Louis Cardinals were polishing off some unfinished business with the Giants and getting lined up for Wednesday's opener in Sportsman's park. Billy Southworth took Stan Musial, Walker Cooper, Ray Sanders and Marty Marion out for a rest and only used Johnny Hopp in the last of the ninth yesterday as Rookie Blix Donelly blitzed New York, 2-0, with five hits.

Ray Mueller set a new major league record by catching his 152nd game in Cincinnati's 10-6 romp over Brooklyn. Leo Durocher learned just before game time he had been named to boss the Dodgers in 1945 but his joy was short as the Reds scored nine runs in the fourth. Other National leaguers were not scheduled.

Frankie Hayes of the A's can also pass out Ray Schalk's old catching record, upping his total to 152 by catching both games in Cleveland.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

VETERAN WRITES

Dear Plainsman: I am a veteran of 24 with 20 months across. I have only been back five weeks, and as I am disabled I visit the churches and social gatherings. From what I hear, the girls of about 20 to 25 are worrying because they are afraid they will all be old maids. With three years in the service and knowing the boys and their worries, I believe there is no quicker way than the route they are taking—giving parties and trying to force the boys in service to notice them.

The average soldier would appreciate them a lot more if they would try helping take care of their wives and mothers at home that have no one to look after them. There is not one out of every hundred soldiers who doesn't have a wife or a sweetheart at home that they worry about a lot more than they do a place to go, or the entertainment that the girls put on for them.

It looks as if some of them will have to live to a ripe old age before they wake up to the fact that no boy wants a girl that tries to force her company on him. Any boy will get acquainted if he is interested in a girl.

A Veteran of World War II.

DEFENDS LUBBOCK

Dear Plainsman: I am overseas, have been getting the Lubbock paper, and have been reading about the Dogies (soldiers), or some of them, who don't like our home town—I say "our home town" because I have lived there for 15 years—and I grew very fond of the city in that time.

I have seen quite a lot of places and things and I haven't found one, not one, city or town, which has equalled Lubbock. The Dogies will say, "yes, but you have lived there almost all your life." Well, that is true, too, but the people who have come out of the sticks long enough to see what is going on like the city. I can't, and don't, expect everyone to like Lubbock, but most of them who don't have been in the hills so long they don't know how to act when they find a nice clean town.

I fully understand that, wherever you are, home is the best place; but I have also found that if you try, you can like other places, so, for my own personal feelings, would you please tell some of those wise guys to open their eyes and look around? They might like this old world.

P. S. I am in the Pacific—and in the Navy, not the Army.

Sincerely,
Hershel English—S.C. 3/c

EVEN in times like these, there seem to be plenty of Americans with nothing important to do—at least so we judge after reading a report of a recent "scientific survey," made and offered in all seriousness.

The Wisconsin Medical society has released a bulletin on the gentle art of snoring. It reveals that scientists, after long research, have been able to reduce snoring to its lowest common denominator—although it doesn't claim to have reduced the racket involved. Anyhow, these erudite gentlemen have tabulated the emanations from the soft palate and uvula according to resonance, tone, pitch, volume and frequency.

For the benfit of wives who have husbands given to sleeping on their backs after consuming big suppers, we pass on that the researchers discovered that only one snorer in 10 knows that he has the habit, even if he is awakened by his own nasal symphonies.

They also discovered that snoring has many causes, ranging from simple relaxation of the jaw muscles to something more serious, like enlarged adenoids.

Excessive smoking, they assert, unquestionably contributes to the habit.

THE payoff in the survey, as far as we are concerned, comes in the society's summary, which says: "There is little more to learn about the snore today."

That may satisfy the Wisconsin scientists, but it doesn't satisfy those who occasionally are forced to spend a night in a Pullman car.

The world, of course, wouldn't be what it is today if it weren't for science and man undoubtedly owes a big debt to the laboratory brigade.

But in this particular example of science we can't get away from the question:

If Wisconsin scientists know so much about the snore, why don't they do something about it?

That would be a real contribution—one which would stand side-by-side with scientific triumphs like control of contagious disease through use of serums, harnessing the electron and conquering the stratosphere!

A guy was appealing to his gasoline rationing board for more motor fuel.

"I'm telling you," he blustered, "that my wife and I ain't got enough gas to even do essential things. We just gotta have more."

"Let me call your attention to one fact before you say anything more," said the board chairman. "You are under oath. You must tell the truth and the whole truth, or run the risk of going to jail."

The applicant thought a minute, and then replied:

"Gotta tell the whole truth, eh? In that case, rather than do a stretch in jail, I'll tell you. We ain't married!".

"What!" ejaculated the lawyer, "you walked up? Why didn't you take the elevator?"

"Well, I meant to," said the East Texan, "but I missed it!"

THERE'S been a good deal of talk going around lately, most of it more than medium loose, about how, after the war, the freight carrying plane will sound the doom of most other forms of transportation.

It is true that freight planes will carry a lot of material over a lot of miles. But a careful — and thoughtful—look into the matter will show that freight planes, or no freight planes, the older and less sensational methods of transportation will still be doing plenty of business for a good many years to come.

Robert Lovett, an expert on transportation, told members of the Academy of Political Science in New York that too many "wild claims" have been made on behalf of air transport. Then he set out to prove his point.

Lovett took as an example the problem of transporting 100,000 long tons of freight per month from this country to Australia. To perform this task with ocean vessels would require 44 surface ships with crews totaling 3,200 men. The ships would consume 165,000 barrels of fuel.

But to do the job by air would require 10,022 four-engine planes with a flight personnel of 120,756. The planes would require 8,996,614 barrels of fuel outside this country and it would take 85 large tankers to transport the fuel to spots along the route.

Thus it would take almost twice as many tankers to supply oil outside this country for planes as it would require surface ships to carry the actual cargoes.

LOVETT, who knows considerable about airplanes, told his listeners that he is not opposed to air transport, nor to its development. As a matter of fact, he said he is more or less a "nut" on the subject and that he sees wonderful possibilities for air freight transport in the future.

But neither Lovett, nor anyone else who takes time out to study the problem is willing to prophesy the junking of older forms of transportation in favor of the plane immediately after the war—or any time soon.

A great deal remains to be done in the way of consolidation and of "working out the bugs" in global air transport.

IN telling men overseas how to become successful letter writers the Navy bureau of personnel gives a long list of subjects that are "sure fire."

MILLETT

The list is headed by "love," ended with "love." And "love" is also stuck in the middle of the list—just to remind the men that it is number one in importance. If the men overseas will just take that to heart — they'll be successful at writing letters, all right.

For though the women back home want to know as much as will pass the censor about the experiences their men are having and their personal reactions to the war — the thing they most want to hear is that their men still love them and are anxious to get back to them.

If every letter a service man sends his wife or girl hammers home that subject, his letters will be read over and over and carefully saved. And the woman who loves him will be convinced he writes the most wonderful letters in the world.

WANT BILLETS-DOUX

THE SAME thing is true in reverse, of course, and any list of topics that a woman might include when writing to her man should be headed by "love"— ended by "love" and have "love" in the middle of the list.

Somehow most of the people who gave advice on letter writing at the start of the war didn't realize that the only really satisfactory letters written by men to women, and vice versa, are essentially love letters. And so those who were separated by the war were told not to dwell on love or loneliness, but to fill letters with cheerful, chatty news.

But it was discovered in short order that letters filled with cheerful, chatty news don't do much in the way of morale building. Only the assurance of love seems capable of doing that.

THERE'S NO SHORTAGE OF CAPABLE MEN

For entirely too many days now, Democrats and Republicans have been arguing whether Sen. Harry S. Truman did or did not say in a public address that Mr. Roosevelt is 'indispensable" to the nation.

The distinguished senator from Missouri says he didn't say it. GOP-ers, from Mr. Dewey on down, say he did. As far as we have been able to learn, Mr. Truman didn't use the exact word, although he did intimate that the President is the only man capable of administering to our domestic affairs between 1945 and 1949 and, at the same time, treating with those two other leaders of allied nations, Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin.

We do not care to argue here whether Mr. Roosevelt is, or is not, the more acceptable of the two candidates seeking the presidency for the next four years. Most readers already have made up their minds on that subject, anyway. But in all the hue and cry recently heard from the national political arena we have found ourselves occasionally wondering if, perhaps, there aren't several hundred men in the land—men unknown on the national scene—who might do the job just as well, or even better, than either Mr. Roosevelt, or Mr. Dewey.

That's entirely possible.

This is quite a country we've got here and it couldn't be what it is if there were any dearth of able men. Whatever else they may or may not be, neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Dewey is a miracle man and both, we have it on good authority, pull on their pants one leg at a time, just like all other males who habitually wear conventional trousers.

If this be treason, make the most of it. But don't forget we American voters are choosing among two men only because they happen to be the only two available under our political system. There may be—there probably are—whole regiments of nationally obscure gentleman with just as much, or even more, on the ball than the Squire of Hyde Park or the Pride of Pauling.

Don't forget it was a 5-acre farmer named Cincinnatus—Lucius Quintius Cincinnatus, to be exact—who was hauled from behind a plow in 458 B. C., to take over and straighten out a tottering Rome.

Eisenhower's Plan Works Well In France

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Army observers report that there is all the difference in the world between the way the civilian population of France is being handled and the system employed in North Africa and Italy. They give credit for the efficient operation to General De Gaulle.

General Eisenhower arranged to turn things over to De Gaulle's provisional government immediately after the Allies captured a town or city. So in the wake of the Allied Armies, posters are tacked up which are brief and to the point.

They read: "All laws and decrees of the Vichy government are hereby rescinded. The laws of the French Republic are hereby restored. The Provisional French government will be in control until elections can be held.

PEARSON

General Eisenhower is also turning all French collaborationists to De Gaulle's provisional government. He is not attempting to punish them himself, is even giving the Free French all Allied records on the pro-Nazi activities of Frenchmen.

This is in contrast to the occupation of North Africa, where State department Diplomat Robert Murphy meddled incessantly, tried to protect certain Frenchmen, decreed what Frenchmen should run the government.

The efficient plan now operating in France is partially prompted by Ambassador William Phillips, political adviser to Eisenhower, whom the British forced out, following his critical report on India. Now the same meddling Bob Murphy has been appointed to handle the political set-up in Germany.

JONES' NEPHEWS

JESSE JONES is complaining to friends that he is having nephew trouble. He says that his nephew, George Butler, got him into a lot of trouble when he was chairman of the Texas Democratic convention last May, which instructed its electors to vote against Roosevelt in the electoral college next November.

"And now," moans Jesse, "folks are saying that Herman Jones is my nephew."

Herman Jones is the law associate of Roosevelt Leader Alvin Wirtz, and is just as strong for Roosevelt as George Butler is against. So when Jesse's remark reached Herman Jones, he asserted:

"If anyone says I'm Jesse Jones' nephew, I'll sue him for libel."

CALIFORNIA'S Governor Warren cancelled engagements, gave all his time to trust-busting Assistant Attorney General Wendell Berge when the latter came to Sacramento. Berge sold him on the idea that as long as monopolies prevail the West will be hamstrung. "It is the big steel companies of the East," Berge told him, "that won't let steel mills get started in the West." . . . With a real unemployment problem to face after the war, Warren is now an enthusiastic cartel buster . . . When the nine old men and all Circuit Court of Appeals chief justices sat down with the Federal Bar association for their annual luncheon, they talked not about law, but about European battlefields. The speaker was Under Secretary of War Patterson, just back from France, and a former Circuit court judge himself. Go-getting Assistant Attorney General Tom Clark, president of the Federal Bar, conceived the idea . . . Governor Dewey is reported to have made a big hit with Scandinavian leaders in Seattle. About 100 came in for a private session from all parts of Washington. Most went away singing his praises . . . Dewey also adopted the private meeting strategy with labor at Seattle, met with about 40 AFL leaders, who fired questions, seemed friendly. One Electrical Worker chief asked if he thought labor had a right to strike against government-owned power projects at Grand Coulee and Bonneville Dewey said no, government should serve as the neutral arbiter between labor and business, must never be the target of a strike.

SHOWDOWN ON ITALY

THE MEN most responsible for Roosevelt's confidential showdown with Churchill at Quebec over more relief for Italy are Brig. Gen. Bill O'Dwyer, former Brooklyn prosecutor, and Generoso Pope, foremost Italo - American publisher.

General O'Dwyer, who was candidate for mayor of New York against La Guardia in 1942, was sent to Italy by Roosevelt to study the entire Italian civilian picture, brought back an urgent program which the President gave Churchill in Quebec.

Publisher Pope was among the first to organize the American Friends of Italian Democracy for relief to Italy, and has hammered home the right of Italo-Americans to help feed and clothe their friends in Italy. He has told the President that this could save money to the U. S. tax-payers, as well as encourage Democratic principles inside Italy. Army brasshats, however, have wanted to handle the job — inadequately — themselves.

Publisher Pope, who came to this country as an orphan immigrant at the age of eight, was born in the village of Terranova, a community which up until 1928 never had electricity. But in 1928 Pope sent $20,000 to his brother asking him to have electric current brought into the village. Later Pope went to Italy to praticipate in the ceremony of turning on the lights.

As he pulled the switch, lights brightened the streets. It was one of the greatest moments of his life. Later Pope learned that the village would not have the money to pay for the electric current, so he has been paying the bill ever since, until the war started.

"GI Correspondent" Explains Early Fighting

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle is resting following his service with frontline troops in Europe and next plans to go to the fighting zones of the Pacific. While he is on leave The Journal will publish here some of Ernie's earlier articles, not previously printed in Lubbock, upon which first was built the mutual esteem between Pyle and "GI Joe.")

By ERNIE PYLE

ORAN, Algeria, Jan., 1943—Men who bring our convoys from America, some of whom have just recently arrived, tell me the people at home don't have a correct impression of things over here.

Merchant Marine officers who have been here a couple of days are astonished by the difference between what they thought the situation was and what it actually is. They say people at home think the North African campaign is a walkaway and will be over quickly; that our losses have been practically nil; that the French love us to death, and that all German influence has been cleaned out.

ERNIE PYLE

If you think that, it is because we newspapermen here have failed at getting the finer points over to you.

Because this campaign at first was as much diplomatic as military, the powers that be didn't permit our itchy typewriter fingers to delve into things internationally, which were ticklish enough without that. I believe misconceptions at home must have grown out of some missing part of the picture.

It would be very bad for another wave of extreme optimism to sweep over the United States. So maybe I can explain a little bit about why things over here, though all right for the long run, are not all strawberries and cream right now.

No Miracles Anticipated

In Tunisia, for instance, we seem to be stalemated for the moment. The reasons are two. Our Army is a green army, and most of our Tunisian troops are in actual battle for the first time against seasoned troops and commanders. It will take us months of fighting to gain the experience our enemies start with.

In the second place, nobody, knew exactly how much resistance the French would put up here, so we had to be set for full resistance. That meant, when the French capitulated in three days, we had to move eastward at once, or leave the Germans unhampered to build a big force in Tunisia.

So we moved several hundred miles and, with the British, began fighting. But we simply didn't have enough stuff on hand to knock the Germans out instantly. Nobody is to blame for this. I think our Army is doing wonderfully — both in fighting with what we have and in getting more here — but we are fighting an army as tough in spirit as ours, vastly more experienced, and more easily supplied.

So you must expect to wait a while before Tunisia is cleared and Rommel jumps into the sea.

OUR losses in men so far are not appalling, by any means, but we are losing men. The other day an American ship brought the first newspaper from home I had seen since the occupation, and it said only 12 men were lost in taking Oran.

The losses, in fact, were not great, but they were a good many 12 times 12.

Most of our convalescent wounded have been sent to England. Some newly arrived Americans feel that, if more of the wounded were sent home, it would put new grim vigor into the American people. We aren't the sort of people from whom wounded men have to be concealed.

The biggest puzzle to us who are on the scene is our policy of dealing with Axis agents and sympathizers in North Africa. We have taken into custody only the most out-and-out Axis agents, such as the German armistice missions and a few others. That done, we have turned the authority of arrest back to the French.

The procedure is that we investigate, and they arrest. As it winds up, we investigate period.

Everybody's Puzzled

Our policy is still appeasement. It stems from what might be called the national hodgepodge of French emotions. Frenchmen today think and feel in lots of different directions. We moved softly at first, in order to capture as many French hearts as French square miles. Now that phase is over. We are here in full swing. We occupy countries and pretend not to. We are tender in order to avoid offending our friends, the French, in line with the policy of interfering as little as possible with French municipal life.

We have left in office most of the small-fry officials put there by the Germans before we came. We are permitting fascist societies to continue to exist. Actual sniping hrs been stopped, but there is still sabotage.

The loyal French see this and wonder what manner of people we are. They are used to force, and expect us to use it against the common enemy, which includes the French Nazis. Our enemies see it, laugh, and call us soft.

Both sides are puzzled by a country at war which still lets enemies run loose to work against it.

THERE are an astonishing number of Axis sympathizers among the French in North Africa. Not a majority, of course, but more than you would imagine. This in itself is a great puzzle to me. I can't fathom the thought processes of a Frenchman who prefers German victory and perpetual domination rather than a temporary occupation resulting in eventual French freedom.

But there are such people, and they are hindering us, and we over here think you folks at home should know three things:

That the going will be tough and probably long before we have cleaned up Africa and are ready to move to bigger fronts. That the French are fundamentally behind us, but that a strange, illogical stratum is against us. And that our fundamental policy still is one of soft-gloving snakes in our midst.

Armadillo Derby Is Set At Camp Swift

BASTROP, Tex., Sept. 29 (U.P.)—Camp Swift soldiers invited nation wide entries today for an armadillo derby.

Call for entries was issued through the camp newspaper with a hospital detachment committee named to take charge of the novel racing.

Favored now is "Army," a fleet runner from the Texas hill country. In fact "Army" is responsible for the whole idea and for the hospital detachment being in charge.

Returning from a week-end furlough a soldier brought the armadillo back to camp. It wandered into the hospital and when an attempt was made to evacuate him, the hospital unit discovered how fleet a runner the armadillo is despite his armor, which is like that of a tank.

Staff Sgt. Cy Berg found "Army" could be controlled as to direction and the race plan was born. Distance and rules are to be determined after test heats.

Lt. Lumsden Now At March Field

MARCH FIELD, Cal.—1st Lt. William G. Lumsden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Lumsden, Wilson, Tex., arrived at this Fourth Air Force field this week to assume duties as an instructor-navigator. He saw overseas duty in the Southwest Pacific and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Oak Leak clusters and the Air Medal. His wife is in Wilson. He attended Wilson High school and graduated from Texas Tech in 1938. In civilian life he was an assistant bank cashier.

Today's Thought

Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.—Jeremiah 21:8.

* * *

I strove with none; for none was worth my strife.
Nature I loved and, next to Nature, Art;
I warmed both hands before the fire of life;
It sinks, and I am ready to depart.—Landor.

Fourteen-Ton Projectile To Be Nazis' Vengeance Weapon

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Sept. 23. (Delayed) (AP)—A 14-ton projectile with an explosive radius of three kilometers—almost two miles—is scheduled as the third in Hitler's series of vengeance weapons, it was learned today.

V-1 is the robot bomb launched from a platform.

V-2 is the long range rocket fired from a carrier plane, for which the Germans are reported using the Heinkel 111.

Weapon Not Yet Used

V-3, so far as is known here, has not yet been used against either England or the attacking Allied armies.

(This dispatch, written last Saturday and only today cleared through Allied censorship, did not expand upon the explosive radius of V-3. However, the implication was that its power to wreck or damage buildings extended almost two miles from the point of impact.)

Information on the "V-3," the successor to Hitler's flying bomb and long range rocket, was obtained by American Third army troops in their drive into Germany.

This information disclosed the projectile is just short of 60 feet in length, is five feet five inches in diameter and weighs 14 tons at the take-off. Propelled by a mixture of liquid air and alcohol, it is shot into the air vertically, then is controlled by radio.

No other details were disclosed, but it was believed the Germans have not yet placed the V-3 into operation.

No Arrangements In Death Of Lt. West

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. West, sr., of 2630 Twenty-third, were informed Thursday of the death of their son, Lt. J. G. West, jr., 21, when he crashed Wednesday night with 11 other men in a B-24 about 23 miles east of Tucumcari, N. M.

No funeral arrangements had been made early this afternoon.

Lt. West was a former student at Texas Technological college. The West family has lived here about two years, and the father is employed at Kuykendall Chevrolet Co.

Eight of the victims were officers, three enlisted men. All were stationed at Albuquerque's Kirtland field.

Names of other dead were withheld pending notification of relatives.

over the Antwerp-Turnhout canal.

But the fiercest fighting was to the south.

Gen. Patton's Third army struck five miles due east of Pont-A-Mousson, between Metz and Nancy, and liberated Port-Sur-Seile.

Third Holds Firm

Thirteen to twenty miles in an arc northeast and east of Nancy the Third held firm against four major counterattacks near Pettoncourt, Bezange and Coincourt and smashed ahead to high ground in the forest of Parroy.

It was in and around that forest that the Germans rushed in most of their tank strength—and where they lost the heaviest.

One of the biggest battles was developing for the important road center of Rambervillers, 30 miles southeast of Nancy, midway between Luneville, and Epinal.

From there and Epinal, Lure and Remiremont — cores of the Allied front — the Vossges slope up 3,000 feet to the passes of Salles, Bonhomme, Schluct and Bussang, gateways to the Rhine.

Advances Total 3 Miles

Bult, three and a half miles south of Rambervillers, and the village of Destord just south of Bult, were captured in advances of three miles.

Somewhere south of Remiremont, 150 miles southeast of Nancy, strongly dug-in German forces ambushed an American advance force. But farther south another attack force cleaned up the last German resistance in Servance and several nearby villages and hammered on east.

Servance, 13 miles northwest of Belfort, is only 40 miles from the Rhine border of Germany.

Forest Is Cleared

The forest of Mont de Vannes, 11 miles northeast of Belfort, was cleared and the advance continued.

The Germans lashed out again and again with counterblows, but the Americans gave no ground.

East of Lure, smashing through head on, the Seventh army also won a foothold close to the 15-mile-wide valley that is the Belfort gap to Germany.

They captured Clairegoutte, eleven miles west of Belfort, gateway to the gap.

Along the whole front Canadian, British, American and French forces were getting strong fighter and fighterbomber support. Their planes flew almost 2,500 sorties of direct support yesterday.

Only 60 to 70 German planes were sighted over the front the whole day.

Control Of Germany

ered what FEA should do in readjusting its long-standing operations to the defeat of Germany.

"Lend-lease should continue to be furnished in whatever amounts are necessary for the most effective prosecution of the war," he said, making clear that this meant the flow of lend-lease aid should be continued as needed to defeat Japan as well as Germany.

Would Free Exports

In advising Crowley on future operations of the Foreign Economic administration, "when the military resistance of Nazi Germany" ends, Mr. Roosevelt directed:

1. Exports controls should be relaxed as quickly and fully as possible to promote international trade by affording increased opportunity for private industry and private trade.

2. Strategic and critical raw materials which FEA has purchased abroad should be adjusted to meet the reduced needs of waging the war against Japan.

3. Preclusive buying has already passed its peak but should be continued in so far as necessary to aid the war against Japan.

4. Economic warfare, concerned with evaluating the enemy's war potential, must be focused on Japan.

Should Continue Lend-Lease

5. Lend-lease should be continued to the extent necessary to defeat Japan as quickly as possible.

6. Surplus property accumulations as a result of FEA purchasing programs abroad should be avoided.

7. Control of the war-making powers of Germany must be a subject of accelerated study.

8. Reconstruction and future foreign trade. Of the first the President said that it is in the interest of this country and the rest of the United Nations that "the destruction and devastation of war be repaired and that the foundations for a secure peace be laid." Of foreign trade, he said that any improvement in economic conditions in this country will improve the condition of "peace-loving peoples of the world" and aid materially "in the building of a durable peace."

The policy statement included a direction for international trade after Germany collapses "on as full and free a basis as possible not only as a sound economic foundation for the future peace, but in order that we may have fuller production and employment at home.

"Split" Is Denied

The President said reports of a cabinet split over a plan by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau to deindustrialize Germany at the war's end were newspaper stories and described them as essentially untrue in basic facts but he did not go into detail.

But Mr. Roosevelt said he expected no further meetings of the cabinet committee—Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of State Hull and Morgenthau—which has been working on a German plan.

Negro Problem Not Met, Willkie Says

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP) — Platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties fail to meet the negro problem realistically, Wendel L. Willkie says in an article in the current issue of Collier's magazine, in advocating equal rights for 13,000,000 negro citizens.

While terming both platforms as "tragically inadequate," the 1940 Republican presidential nominee said the Republican plank was "distinctly better than the Democratic."

Willkie declared neither party offered any workable program to outlaw poll taxes and lynching, but added that the Republicans met a "fourth evil," the discrimination against negroes in civil life, by offering a "forthright pledge of a permanent Fair Employment Practices commission."

However, he said the Republican proposal for a constitutional amendment to abolish poll taxes ignored "the fact the South's 'white supremacy' congressmen would filibuster it to death.

Meeting Of "Big 3" In December Rumored

LONDON, Sept. 29 (U.P) — The London Daily Mail's diplomatic correspondent said last night that a Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting is planned for some time in December, probably in Turin, Italy.

FDR's Plan Is To Make Single Speech

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP) — President Roosevelt said today he has no political speaking plans now beyond a radio broadcast to Democratic party workers Oct. 5.

SPECIALTIES CARRY RECOVERY

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP) — Assorted specialties carried the recovery ball in today's stock market while many leaders either failed to get in the play or stumbled to offside territory.

Scattered aircraft and machinery issues achieved a certain amount of popularity as postwar business predictions were cheering. Dealings were quiet from the start and trends pretty well jumbled toward the last. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 650,000 shares.

In the "new high" section were Texas Pacific Land Trust, Bucyrus-Erie, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, General Steel castings preferred, Ex-Cell-O and Joy Mfg. Cuban-American Sugar was up on a boosted dividend. Forward inclinations were exhibited by Southern Pacific, General Motors, Glenn Martin, J. C. Penney and Sears Roebuck. Hesitant were U. Upward leaners in the curb were Aircraft Accessories Corp., Sullivan Machinery, G. A. Puller common and preferred, Republic Aviation and Berium Steel.

Father Attempts To Drown Two Of Sons

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 29. (AP) —Warren Patterson, a slender 31-year old machinist whom Prosecutor Russel E. Lyons said admitted in a signed statement that he stood on a bridge and dropped two of his four sons into Mohican river because he had no home for them, was held in jail today.

One of the boys, Larry, 1½, drowned, and Lyons said he would file a murder charge this afternoon.

The other, Raymond, 7, crawled from the stream, wandered most of the night in a cold rain and finally was picked up by a motorist, Lyon said.

The two other boys, Gene and Glenn, 8-year-old twins, were put out of their father's automobile a half mile from the bridge and left with a blanket under a tree. They stayed there 16 hours in a rainstorm, the prosecutor added.

Lyons said that Patterson told him and Sheriff Jay Abbott in the statement that he intended push the twins into the river too, but "hadn't the heart" to go on after dropping the first two.

A search disclosed the drowned child's body, Abbott said.

The prosecutor said Patterson told him he and his wife separated two months and that the four children were with their mother for three weeks and then he took custody of them.

He was unable to find a home for them, Lyons said Patterson related, and finally he became "frantic."

Segregation Of Sen. O'Daniel Is Urged

AUSTIN, Sept. 29. (U.P)—Next convention of the Texas State Federation of Labor will be in Houston. The 1944 session ended here late yesterday after cheering delegates adopted a resolution asking U. S. Sen. Tom Connally to "segregate" Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel from the Democrats in the Senate. Its preamble recited that Senator O'Daniel either did not know the true meaning of democracy or wilfully refuses to represent the Democrats of Texas.

Last year's federation endorsement of a fourth term was followed at this year's convention with resolutions expressing confidence in Mr. Roosevelt and urging support of the National Democratic tieket.

A resolution advocating maintenance of highest prevailing labor standards brought some discussion from delegates who though the word "prevailing" too indefinite. Port Arthur and Beaumont were cited as cities in the same country with differing scales.

Reports of the legislative and resolutions committees were adopted, however without change.

Strike Brewing On Missouri Pacific

HOUSTON, Sept. 29. (U.P) — Threat of a strike by 97 per cent of the 1,700 clerks of the International Great Northern and Gulf Coast lines of the Missouri Pacific railroad existed today following breakdown of negotiations for contribution of the present union contract.

A strike vote taken by the clerks revealed that 97 per cent of them favor a walkout, if the company refuses to maintain provisions of the existing contract. The company wants to make several drastic changes in the contract, union officials said, and the clerks have raised a protest.

Meanwhile, however, the clerks have agreed to continue work at least until after a meeting called for Monday morning, brotherhood officials said.

H. R. Lyons of St. Louis, vice-president of the railway brotherhood, has arrived in Houston to attend the Monday meeting.

P. J. Neff, senior executive assistant with the railroad management, returned from Fort Worth Friday but would not comment on the strike threat.

Aerial Offensive

enemy airfields deep in Central Germany.

The German radio reported this morning that "weak" formations of bombers were over the Reich for the fifth consecutive day.

Allies Lose 135 Planes

Armadas of more than 1,000 Fortresses and Liberators, with an average daily escort of 700 fighters, have been over Germany every day since Monday, when 2,000 planes launched a new campaign to smash railroad centers and war plants feeding the German army.

Losses from Monday through Thursday were 110 heavy bombers, each carrying ten crewmen, and 25 one-man fighters. The heaviest losses occurred yesterday, when more than 100 enemy fighters ganged up on one bomber formation attacking Magdeburg and ignored others heading for Kassel and Merseburg. Forty-nine bombers were knocked down and 12 fighters failed to return, although several are reported to have landed in France after running out of gasoline.

Thirty-six German planes were destroyed, 26 by fighters and 10 by gunners in the bombers.

AIRCRAFT, LOCOMOTIVES BLASTED IN GREECE

ROME, Sept. 29. (AP) — Balkan Air force Mustangs shot up five grounded planes, two gliders and six locomotives in sweeps yesterday over the Sedes-Salonika area of Greece, the Allied command announced today.

There was no official word, however, on the activities of the small airborne and seaborne units which were disclosed two days ago to have landed in the Adriatic coastal areas of the Balkans.

(The American broadcasting station in Europe said last night the Allies had captured Chimara on the south Albanian coast and "are now within striking distance of the Greek frontier." The broadcast was reported by NBC).

these reports and will in due course issue a simultaneous statement on the subject."

It appears possible that further big power talks among top-ranking officials, will precede a full-scale United Nations meeting to organize the world.

Accomplishment Satisfactory

In his closing speech yesterday, made public today by the State department, Stettinius said:

"We have every reason for satisfaction with what has been accomplished. We have developed in the brief period of six weeks a wide area of agreement on the fundamental and necessary principles for an international organization to maintain peace and security. These principles will be of vital importance in guiding our governments at every step that must yet be taken to bring into existence the organization which we have here envisaged."

Juvenile Court Must Decide Tangled Case

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 28 (U.P)—A juvenile court will determine today whether W. W. Holland, a naval veteran of World war II, may keep his 11-year-old bride Shirley Mae Vaughn.

When the couple married last month, the bride's father, Eugene Vaughn, gave her age as 18. Later, seeking an annulment, he told her true age to the juvenile authorities, who have filed delinquency charges against her.

Fifth Captures Key Heights

ROME, Sept. 29 (AP)—Battling northeastward through mud and rain, American troops of the Fifth army have captured Mount Battaglia, 11 miles from Imola, important Po valley city on the Bologna-Rimini highway, Allied headquarters announced today.

The doughboys also seized three key heights commanding the direct route north to Bologna.

In the Adriatic sector British Eighth army forces made gains in the southeastern edges of the Po valley. The enemy has dug in along strong defense lines that parallel the Fiumcino river, the first major water barrier encountered since the break-through into level country, and is fighting savagely.

Weather Slows Yanks

Adverse weather which precluded air support slowed the American attacks toward Bologna, but the doughboys knocked the Germans off additional heights on both sides of highway 65, all roughly 20 miles south of the historic city.

The gains gave the Americans observation over the road for many miles to the north.

Allied headquarters gave no specific information on gains on the west flank of the Fifth army, where the Brazilians and some American units have been keeping a steady pace, but said "important advances have been made" and "the entire Gothic zone has now been penetrated with the exception of a small area of the west coast."

Wage Controls

increase now by government order.

Would Facilitate Raises

Relaxation of wage controls, as championed by Chairman William H. Davis, would mean that wage increases agreed to by employers would not need approval of the War Labor board. A measure of collective bargaining thereby would be restored, but labor would be expected to continue to withhold the strike weapon until the defeat of Japan.

The theory is that with a relatively ample supply of labor after war production cutbacks are ordered, employer pressure on wage ceilings will be eased and stabilization can be achieved without continuing the present restrictions on voluntary increases. The bulk of WLB work now is the increases sought or agreed to by employers.

UAW CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE CHANGE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO United Automobile workers, called on the War Labor board today to correct what he called a "lopsided operation of the stabilization program" without waiting for the fall of Germany and without regard to the political campaign.

Dissatisfaction and a "mounting sense of frustration" are growing at an alarming rate in auto and aircraft plants, Thomas said in urging that the Little Steel wage formula be breached. He added:

"A decision needs to be made without consideration for double-talking politicians—including one aspirant to our highest office — who are ready with balanced impartiality to damn this board for making wage increases or to damn it for denying wage increases."

Living costs have increased 25.2 per cent, according to the Bureau of Labor statistics and 45.3 per cent according to CIO findings, Thomas said.

fering additional clinical opportunities for medical students. Robert B. Green hospital, he said, would be given outright to the school.

"Bottleneck" Cited

"Why bottleneck the medical school at Galveston when San Antonio has the best facilities in the state?" he asked. "There is plenty of clinical material and a good climate."

The present plant at Galveston need not be abandoned, Dr. Milburn suggested, but could be devoted to post graduate studies in the fields of tropical medicine and neuro-psychiatry.

"We feel that if we miss this opportunity to move the school, it will be gone forever," he said. "All doctors will work for its removal to San Antonio."

Allied Operations In Albania Minor

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting For DeWitt Mackenzie)
Associated Press Staff Writer

It is clear now that Allied operations in Albania are minor, airborne and commando units having been landed to help plug any gaps through which enemy forces fleeing Greece might escape to northern Italy or through the loosely-held Yugoslav partisan territory to Austria.

It is doubtful that the western Allies plan any major action in the Balkan area, leaving it instead to Russia and partisan forces.

The intensity of Allied interest in the situation, however, is indicated in the announcement of an Allied over-all command for Greek partisan forces which not so long ago were fighting among themselves.

Greeks Split On Command

One of the headaches which the Greek government in exile was unable to solve in recent unity conferences was the matter of command. The Elas army of the leftist Eam, which has claimed control of a large portion of Greece, insisted that other partisans, including the Edes which also had been very active against the Germans, should come under Elas command. This was refused.

Now, apparently, the Allies have stepped in to take over the whole show, probably with the approval of both sides.

The main job against Germany, of course, is to be done by the Allies in the west and Russian forces from Poland. But a southeastern front is rapidly being developed which may prove, in the long run, more important than the Italian campaign in the actual battle for Germany.

Nazi-Held 'Alamo' Unit Surrenders To Davey Crockett

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Davey Crockett accepted the surrender of the Toulon arsenal and 500 German troops during the Allied invasion of southern France.

He is Lt. David Stanley Crockett, Indianapolis, Ind., Navy fighter pilot and descendant of the original Davey Crockett of American pioneering days.

The Navy told today of the surrender of the French "Alamo" and its garrison to Crockett and 23 other prisoners of war held there.

Crockett, who was shot down and captured, told how the commanding officer of the arsenal unstrapped his gun, throwing it on the bed and surrendering.

"The war is finished," Crockett said the German told him.

"He told me we were free and that he was surrendering to us. Then he went outside and ordered his men to throw down their arms.

"I went back and got the other prisoners. We strapped guns on and marched the German garrison out of the arsenal with their hands over their heads."

Withholding Taxes Plan Is Modified

DALLAS, Sept. 29. (AP) — Employers will be notified Saturday of several changes in the withholding of taxes from salaries, S. L. Mayo, assistant collector of internal revenue, said here.

Under the new law all employes from whose salaries withholdings are made will be required to fill out a new exemption form by Dec. 1 so employers may begin the new schedule by Jan. 1. New tables for taxes will be issued between Oct. 15 and Nov. 1, Mayo said.

If the employe fails to fill out the new form, employers will be required to withhold taxes as if the employe had claimed no exemption.

A flat exemption of $500 for present $500 for single persons, $1,200 for married persons and $350 for dependents is provided in the new law.

Cold Wave In Texas As Storm Moves Out

(By The Associated Press)

A cool wave moved into Texas as a tropical disturbance moved out Thursday and the forecast for today over most of the state was clear and cooler.

It was almost blanket weather in Dallas and East Texas as a cool spell followed recent drizzles. Clearing weather, but cooler, was forecast with maximum temperatures in the 70's. It was 69 in Dallas at 5 p. m. yesterday.

An alert was discontinued on the upper gulf coast yesterday as the Houston Weather bureau said danger from a tropical disturbance in the gulf faded when the disturbance turned abruptly north and moved inland near Port O'Conner.

Rain varying from showers to heavy downpours followed in the wake of the disturbance. Beaumont reported 4.57 inches, Houston 4.29 and Galveston 3.53. Farther north, Wichita Falls received 3.24 inches, the heaviest rain since October of 1941. Parched ranges, depleated stock tanks and fall grain crops benefited.

The property of radioactivity was discovered in 1896 in connection with uranium and its compounds.

Jap Allocation Plan Advanced By Downey

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP) —Senator Downey (D-Calif), proposing a national postwar "share the Japs" program today suggested the expulsion of disloyal Japanese and a voluntary distribution of the remainder among the states.

Some 125,000 Japanese—most of them American citizens—were concentrated on the west coast before the war, the Senator said. Most of them now are in government relocation centers.

"It is my hope," he said, "that some mutually agreeable basis can be found, one that would be fair and acceptable to Japanese who are citizens, for dispersing them throughout the country. A few hundred or a few thousand in New York would not hurt, or a few thousand in New England or in Illinois or Ohio or somewhere else. Then there would not be any problem."

DSC Given To Big Spring Sergeant

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, ITALY — (Delayed) —(U.P.)—Second highest honor bestowed by the U. S. Army, the Distinguished Service Cross, has been awarded T/Sgt. Charles H. Bussey, Big Spring, Tex., for extraordinary heroism near Cassino at the start of the Fifth Army push in Italy.

Bussey, at the time a private first class with the 34th "Red Bull" Infantry division, was acting squad leader in an attack on hill 362. When his first scout was wounded, Bussey took over and captured an enemy radio man near the top of the hill, depriving the Germans of vital observation.

Then, Bussey tossed a hand grenade into a machine gun nest, killing one man and wounding another. Leading his men onto a small ledge in the face of heavy small arms fire, the Texas soldier's action enabled his squad and platoon to take the hill.

Later, Bussey took part in the Rome offensive. His rifle company was one of the first to enter the city. In this drive, he distinguished himself by participating in a brilliant maneuver which drove the Germans from the fortified hilltop town of Rosignano, scene of havy fighting. He and a comrade captured a three-man German outpost.

Prewar production of crude oil in Romania was rated at over 4,600,000 tons annually.

The Mennonites take their name from Menno Simons, who was born in Holland in 1492.
