New Sugar Stamp Valid on April 1

Spare stamp number 11 in the OPA family ration book will become valid on the first of the month for ten pounds of sugar. That's a five pound bonus over the current stamp, which expires at the end of this month.

Validation of the 10-pound stamp will mark OPA's change-over from the 5-pound ration procedure for household users. The current stamp No. 53, good for five pounds, will expire March 31.

Stamp No. 11 will be good through Sept. 30 but OPA said a second stamp good for 10 pounds will be validated July 1 providing sugar imports meet expectations.

OPA officials said it is possible that still another 10 pounds, bringing the year's total for household users to 35, may be made available Sept. 30.

OPA emphasized that new stamps being validated include sugar for both regular home and canning use. No separate stamps will be issued for canning. Last year household users got 15 pounds of sugar for regular use and 10 for home canning.

Purchased from Meacham and Sheldon of Hedley, the hog brought $174. He weighed 945 pounds. "I have never seen a larger hog except show hogs," Mr. Smith declared. He plans to butcher the hog and render the fat for lard.

City Federation Gives $150 to Oxygen Tent Fund

A contribution of $150 toward the George Richards Memorial fund for the purchase of an oxygen tent has been made by the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Feeling that this worthy drive was one which would benefit many people during the years to come, the Federation Council early expressed an interest in the work, and authorized the announcement of their donation late last week.

This amount almost completes the needed $600 for the purchase of the oxygen tent, which will be placed at St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington.

The fund was started in memory of the late George Richards, who before his death requested that his friends not send flowers to his funeral, but instead contribute to such a fund.

Passion Week Services Set

A series of Passion Week services will be held at the Methodist Church in Wellington, beginning Sunday, March 29, and continuing through Good Friday, Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor, has announced. These will begin at 7:30 p. m. each evening.

A sermon in keeping with Passion Week and its significance will be given at each service, and appropriate music will be furnished by the choir.

"We extend a cordial invitation to all of you to attend. During these days, we should prepare ourselves, through meditation and prayer, for that greatest of all religious days of the year, Easter," Rev. Armstrong said.

The churches of Wellington will unite in presenting an Easter Cantata, "He Arose Again," Good Friday evening, April 4 at the Methodist Church.

This musical program is dedicated to the men and women of Collingsworth County who served in the armed forces during World War II.

The cantata tells the traditional Easter Story, of the life of Christ, his crucifixion and resurrection. Approximately 40 voices will be heard, representing a number of the town's churches.

Mrs. William Barjenbruch is directing the mixed choir and Mrs. Luther E. Gribble is organist.

The presentation of the cantata will climax the pre-Easter worship activities of the city's churches, and will lead directly to the services of the individual churches on Easter Sunday.

"Residents of the entire Wellington trade area are invited to attend the cantata on Good Friday evening. It is with a feeling of reverence in keeping with the anniversary of the crucifixion that this will be presented, and we urge all of you to join with us at this time," those in charge said.

Mickey Boyd Serving With Infantry Unit On Sasebo, Japan

Sasebo, Japan, an island off the south coast of Japan, is a long way from home, but according to his reports, Cpl. Mickey Boyd of Wellington will be there until some time in July.

At present Cpl. Boyd, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boyd of Wellington, is assigned to the fire department of the 34th Infantry Regiment. He has been overseas since July, 1946, and has seen quite a bit of that foreign country. In addition, he has told many exciting stories in letters to his parents. He has sent many interesting pictures, too, including one recently of Cpl. Boyd and his buddy, S-Sgt. Dennis Wall, riding in a carrier strapped to the back of an ox.

W. W. Neeley, 71, Former Mayor, Dies March 19

W. W. Neeley, former Wellington mayor and an early-day school teacher in the county, died at his home at 9:35 p. m., Wednesday, March 19. He had been in ill health since suffering a heart attack about two years ago. Recently he became ill with flu, and after complications set in, his condition became critical.

Mr. Neeley was 71 years of age and had lived in Collingsworth County for approximately 50 years. For many years he engaged in stock farming, but retired and moved to Wellington 22 years ago.

He served Wellington as its mayor from 1931 to 1933. He had in addition rendered many services to the town and county of a purely voluntary nature in his efforts toward helping develop this area.

A native Texan, Walton Wesley Neeley was born at Iola, Grimes County, July 27, 1875, and at the time of his death he was 71 years, 7 months and 22 days of age. He was a member of a pioneer Texas family, both his parents having been born in this state. His boyhood was spent in Grimes, at Whitt in Parker County and at Jacksboro. He received his education in the schools at these places.

When he was 22 years old, Mr. Neeley came to Collingsworth County and taught his first school at Buck Creek. He remained there three terms. Trustees during that time were T. C. Jones, Henry Atkin, and J. W. McIntosh. He later taught at Fresno for two terms and at other county schools. Altogether, he taught in this county for 10 years.

In the meantime, he bought some land, so he quit the teaching profession and began stock farming. He remained in this business until he moved to Wellington in 1925. For some time after coming here, (Continued on Page Four)

Other members of the Samnorwood faculty will not be elected until later in the year.

Jan Garber Orchestra To Play Here Thursday

Jan Garber and his orchestra, one of the top name bands of the country, will be in Wellington Thursday night, March 27—and here to dance to their music will be couples from almost every town in the lower Panhandle and some who will come from a distance of more than 200 miles.

Sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, this dance will be the highlight of the winter's entertainment as offered by them.

Wellington is the only stop that Jan Garber and his orchestra are making in the Panhandle.

"We've had a lot of enthusiastic response from people in surrounding towns who have heard him on the radio and danced to his recordings. Now they want to dance to the band itself, and they'll be on hand Thursday night when the doors open," Russell Yates, who is in charge of the arrangements, declared.

The dance will be given in the community building, considered to have one of the best dance floors in the Panhandle. Seats will be provided for those who wish to listen to the music but who do not wish to dance.

In spite of the tremendous following which Jan Garber has created with his swing band, he has recognized the current trend toward sweet with a beat music and has augmented his band, making it one of the finest orchestras of any type in America today.

Jan Garber's new band was previewed recently and the immediate (Continued on Page Eight)

County Cotton Ginning for Season Totals 16,908 Bales

Collingsworth County's cotton crop for the 1946 season, ginned prior to March 1, 1947, totaled 16,908 bales, a report from the bureau of census this week stated.

This is approximately 800 bales less than was ginned for the entire 1945 season, when a total of 17,725 bales was ginned.

While it was believed all along that the crop for the season just ended would be smaller than the previous one, the difference was smaller than was anticipated.

New Oil Test Will Be Drilled on the Bob Glenn Ranch

The contract has been let for the drilling of the county's first deep oil test, it was announced Monday, March 23. The well will be drilled on the Bob Glenn ranch, in about the middle of section 87, block 11, according to Dick Wiley of the First National Bank. This is approximately 14 miles northeast of Wellington.

The lease is held by the United Gas Corporation, and the well will be drilled by Moran Brothers of Wichita Falls.

Equipment is being unloaded at the location and the well will be spudded in as soon as this can be set up.

The contract calls for the well to be drilled to a depth of 7,200 feet. This is nearly 3,000 feet deeper than other test wells that have been drilled in the county to date.

Approximately 15 men have arrived here and will be connected with work on the well.

This makes the second well to be drilled in the county during the early spring, as the contract was let recently for the drilling of a well on the Edgar Wischkaemper land approximately 5 miles north of Lutie.

The two wells are approximately 12 miles apart.

Red Cross Funds For Local Work Needed

The Red Cross needs your money for work right here in Collingsworth County!

Just now the Red Cross here is getting far more calls for help than it got a year ago, and as many as it got during the busiest months of the war, Miss Katherine Boverie, home service chairman, declared Tuesday evening.

"There is a world of work that the Red Cross, being the only charity organization here, has to do," she pointed out.

Right now, the Collingsworth county chapter of the Red Cross is helping to pay the doctor bills of a woman of this county who would otherwise die of cancer. The community in which she lives is paying part of the bill, but the Red Cross is seeing to the remainder.

*Firemen to Aid In Burning Grass, Weeds in Town

"Folks aren't waiting for the official city-wide clean-up day, they've already started cleaning around their premises," Bura Handley, city manager, said early Wednesday, as the city completed plans for the intensive clean-up campaign Thursday, March 27.

The first time the city has officially set such a campaign in approximately 5 years, the enterprise is being entered into enthusiastically by residents of every part of town.

All business houses will close between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. in order that both employers and employees may have an opportunity to clean up around their homes and on vacant lots that may be adjoining.

The city has announced that firemen will be on hand and that any person wishing to burn off grass or weeds in places where there may be danger of setting buildings on fire should phone the fire station and a burning crew will come out with equipment to see the blaze doesn't get out of hand. The phone number is 100.

"We want to make this one of the really successful clean-up days from every standpoint," Mr. Handley said in urging every family to take part.

As explained last week, the city is requesting each family to provide means for disposing of its own trash, since the city does not have the facilities for collecting trash throughout the town. "There would be a lot of it scattered out again if we tried to get around to everyone," Mr. Handley explained.

There will, however, be someone on hand at the dumping ground on the highway north of Wellington to supervise the disposal at that point, he said.

Clifton Earl Hunter Recovering from Foot Wound

Clifton Earl Hunter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hunter, is recovering from a painful foot injury received Thursday, March 20, when he was accidentally shot through the right foot with a .22 rifle.

The accident occurred while Hunter and several other boys were hunting near town.

Although he is still confined to his bed, he expects to be able to walk again with crutches this week.

her husband is dependent on the Red Cross for food for her small children and herself. She will likely return to relatives elsewhere, but in the meantime, the Red Cross sees to it that she and her family do not go hungry.

On one of the coldest days recently, a family that included five small children was discovered camped in a wagon and in an almost starving condition. The Red Cross fed them.

The Red Cross is trying to get family allowances for the wives and children of several soldiers now serving overseas. Some of these have no other means of support and they must be helped until the allotments begin to come.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

J. A. Wants to Be a Legislator, As He Likes a Long Week-End

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek comes to the defense of the Texas Legislature in his letter this week.

I was sittin out here Monday on Buck Creek watching the tumble weeds and stray copies of newspapers blow by. I got hold of a copy of some paper I couldn't read the name of which is just as well as there ain't much difference in them big papers no way and sat down on the bank in the afternoon sun and read where some editorial writer was ravin and rantin over the legislators in Austin takin such only week-ends, sayin it was a outrage for them to draw their ten dollars a day for a full week and them adjournin on Thursday for the week-end and not showin up again till around on Monday.

Now I ain't defendin the politicians in Austin and the kind of laws they pass or don't pass, bein kinda like my neighbor who is worried fifty percent of the time they won't pass a bill and fifty percent of the time they will, but I rise to the defense of anybody who takes a sensible view of work-in hours.

Ain't nothin but custom demands that a week-end shouldn't last no longer than Saturday at 10 p. m. to Monday at daybreak. Us thinkin and farseein men have found that there really ain't no fixed limit on how long a week-end should be, it all depends on how you use your brain while the workin week is on. Frequently I knock off work Wednesday afternoon, or maybe Wednesday mornin to keep from breakin off too suddenly, and start my week-end right then, maybe not goin back to my Johnson grass plowin until Monday afternoon or even sometimes Tuesday mornin to keep from startin up too suddenly.

Now I ain't sayin I'm no rip-roarin success and I may not have gotten around to payin my 1928 taxes yet, but I can't see no difference much in me and my workin neighbor, the one who sits at the turn-row every mornin waitin for it to get light enough to see to plow and then keeps on in the afternoon so late he has to lean over and squint to see the ground, and feels guilty if he takes off a few hours

Sunday afternoon to sit on the front porch, and even then he's figurin what he'll do at daybreak Monday.

If the ability to take a long week-end is a requirement for membership in the Legislature, that's where I ought to have been all the time.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Uncle Remus Lives In 'Song of South'

When he chose the folk stories of Uncle Remus by Joel Chandler Harris as the basis for his first Technicolor live action feature photoplay, "Song of the South", which opens at the Ritz Sunday, Walt Disney was not satisfied with fables by themselves, amusing and significant as they might be. He was reaching for a means to show that the truth of fables was the hardest kind of fact when applied to human relations.

The answer was obvious: Place living human beings in the same dilemmas and situations, and make the fable a kind of running commentary to weave in and out of the action.

Thus, while the misadventures of Brer Rabbit, Brer Fox and Brer Bear as told by Uncle Remus are self-contained but indirect and subtle, they are shown as sharp parallels of human folly and doubt.

To demonstrate this on the screen called not only for a new idea but a new technique. The integrated cartoon then comes to the rescue. For this new Disney process, in which actual humans enact dramatic realism, the integrated cartoon appears and disappears as the element of imagination and fantasy.

Disney's musical romance pictures a family of the aristocratic old South, torn by emotional conflicts, which are solved by wise old Uncle Remus, who opens their understanding by means of comical and revealing fables presented on the screen in animated art.

A brilliant cast of screen players brings luster to the real-life portions of "Song of the South", in Technicolor. The principal roles are those of Bobby Driscoll as Johnny, Ruth Warrick as his mother, Luana Patten as Ginny, and James Baskett as Uncle Remus. Tric Rolfe, as the father of Johnny, Hattie McDaniel as the autocratic family cook, and Lucile Watson as the stern but loving grandmother, have other exacting roles, the cast being rounded out with Glen Leedy, Mary Field, Anita Brown, George Nokes, Gene Holland, "Nicomachus" Stuart and Johnny Lee.

Gospel of Christ

(Rom. 1:16)

SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE
Countless theories are numbered as facts of science, but "science" means that which is known, not supposed or guessed. True science has never contradicted the Bible.

Until a few years ago scientists thought the earth was flat. If they had believed the Bible that absurdity would have been avoided, for Isaiah wrote the fact 750 years B. C. He said, "God sitteth upon the circle of the earth." (Isa. 40: 22)

Scientists have found in recent years that all human blood is the same, but not the same as Mr. Darwin's monkey. Paul revealed that fact 1900 years ago. "God hath made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth." (Acts 17:26)

Every fact made acceptable by the spade of the archaeologist, the studies of the anthropologist, the researches of the psychologist and the accounts of the historian were revealed in the millenniums past by the writers of the Bible.

This could be only because God is, and these writers were directed unerringly by Him. The Bible is pre-scientific and true, because it was written by "men who spake from God, being moved by the Holy Spirit." (2 Pet. 1:21)

Let the atheist, the deist, or the infidel parade before his own ego. His belief has no higher authority. Had I the might his affectation displays, I'd never bend to the Power that brings night and day and calls forth the seasons I'd change he happen-so!

Local Women Attend Federation Meeting

Mrs. Luther Gribble, Mrs. Walker Todd and Mrs. Cleo Templeton attended the 26th annual convention of the seventh district Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Childress on Thursday, March 20th.

The official opening of the convention started at 9:30 Thursday morning at the First Methodist Church. At noon the delegates, members and visitors enjoyed a luncheon in the basement of the church.

Highlight of the afternoon session was an address on "Mental Hygiene" given by Rev. Joe Z. Tower who is pastor of the First Methodist Church in Wichita Falls. Rev. Tower was a forceful, interesting and entertaining speaker.

Mrs. J. P. Lewis of Phillips, District Art Chairman, gave a very impressive talk on Art following Rev. Tower's address. Mrs. Lewis ask more clubs to sponsor art exhibits and encourage this work as much as possible. The four towns in this district who are doing outstanding work prospectation in art are Pampa, Amarillo, Crowell and Borger.

A tea was given for the members in the Women's Dept. Club through the courtesy of the First National Bank of Childress and the Executive committee of the Women's Club were hostesses. The art exhibit was also held at the same time in the Women's Dept. Club.

Miss Cornelia Maness and Mrs. Roy Coffey of Childress rendered an organ and piano number which was followed by the Childress quartet. The evening address was given by Miss Loula Grace Erdman and her subject was "Why Do People Write." Miss Erdman is a member of the faculty of West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon and has been writing for several years. Recently she won a $10,000 prize on her novel, "The Year of the Locust." Miss Erdman convinced her audience that she had achieved the fine art of writing as well as the fine art of living.

Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard of Memphis was elected president of the seventh district Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for the coming year and Mrs. E. J. Stone of Sudan was elected vice president.

At present Winter's ship is being reconverted so that women and children can be carried more comfortably than at present, although several hundred women have already returned to the states from Pearl Harbor aboard it. Like the other ships of its type, however, it hasn't been very convenient for children traveling aboard.

DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Dr. C. C. Colvert, of the University of Texas, and Joe Gibson and Charlie Dameron of Childress came by to see me Tuesday afternoon to explain more about the proposed junior college at Childress.

At the time they came, it was too late to get a detailed story in this issue of the paper; but there will be one next week. But here are some facts about the proposed college I picked up from them that I think you ought to be turning over in your mind.

There are a number of these colleges in operation in Texas; but there is only one that involves more than one county. This three county college is at Uvalde and the district is composed of Zavalla, Real and Uvalde counties. In all the others the county where the college is located voted the tax on itself to operate the junior college.

Trustees are elected by the district as a whole. One is not selected from each county as some people here think. This is according to Dr. Colvert. Two per cent of the voters of the district can nominate a candidate for trustee; but bear in mind that this is two per cent of the voters of the entire seven county district. In short the county that takes the most interest could nominate and elect all of the trustees. It is not probable that they would all be from Hall county at any term or that they would all be from Foard county at any one term; but it is both legally and politically possible that they might all be from Childress county. That is the way the law is written.

Here is another angle worthy of your consideration. It will cost a student from this county $50 a year in tuition if we go into the district. But any person in the state of Texas can attend the college by paying a tuition fee of $150. If our county does not go into the district there will be no free bus service. That is the difference.

I am not opposed to Childress county organizing a junior college if they will do it with their money like others have done. My position is this: If we can afford additional tax why not improve our public schools. Our own schools need more equipment for the laboratories. Teachers in Wellington tell me that our school does not even have enough books. And I am confident that those in Dodson, Quail and Samnorwood could use more equipment.

I suspect that the Childress college will teach few courses that could not be taught equally as well in our high schools if we spent even half the money. In fact Dr. Colvert's own prospectus says one objective is to offer terminal courses to the young people of the area—terminal high school diploma and terminal courses to those of junior college age who do not have a high school diploma. One question to ask yourself is this: Are we going to vote a tax to build a fancy named high school in Childress before we bring our own school systems up to what they ought to be. There will be another story about the proposed college next week. There are good features to the college, of course, but I can't help but think that the new tax will be just that much of a brake on the progress of the four major school systems of this county.

Jess Cook may cancel his church ad; but this is too good to keep out of the paper. Last week a representative of the gas company told him that workmen in felling a tree had broken a gas line and that they wanted him to bring his tools and help them immediately. Jess started making excuses, saying that his tools were all out in the country—he had more work than he could do in a week, etc. But you don't understand, the man explained—the break in the line is not on the other property. That is where the tree stood. The break is at your house, Jess Cook jumped to his feet and hollered at Jess Young: "Get the tools and get them quick. We have an emergency job to do."

Spring came in as the story books say it should last week and not according to the historic Panhandle pattern. Sunday the thermometer on Mr. McCarver's back porch registered 92 degrees in the shade. This is bound to be something of a record for March 23.

The 1947 car tags are becoming more evident as are the flowers. But Monday morning I stood on the street in front of the Stevenson Implement Company and counted 50 cars. Eleven of these had the new plates and 39 had their old plates. Wednesday morning a similar count ran 26 new and 24 old. Why do people wait until the last minute to do things. The car tags must be on by midnight March 31; but you won't get arrested probably if you go out real early April fool morning and put them on before the highway officials start circulating.

Thursday is the big clean-up day in Wellington. You are asked to make arrangements for hauling off your own trash before it can spread. The city does not have the facilities to do it in one day.

Here is another informal poll: People here favor by a large majority President Truman's plan for aiding Greece which was actually the promulgation of a foreign policy for the United States. They are worried about it and not too sure of what the final results will be. But they are for calling a halt to what they think is the aggression of Russia both ideologically and territorially. They have lots of respect for Secretary Marshall.

Signs of the times. The selective service law ends next Monday. You won't have to carry your registration card any longer; but due to unsettled times draft boards will not destroy their records. Mack Wood will continue working for the paper; but he is in the Army still just as are all men of officer rank. They do not have discharges. All they have is a piece of paper saying that they served in a certain branch of the service for a certain length of time honorably. One little telegram and they would be on their way. So the hostilities are over and this is peace!

Collingsworth in Richest and Safest Part of the United States

Editor's note: In this article Roger W. Babson, noted analyst, explains why he believes the central portion of the United States is both the richest in time of peace and the safest in time of war of any portion of the United States.

The circle reaches Omaha and Sioux City on the north, Springfield and Memphis on the east, Fort Worth and Dallas on the South and nearly reaches Denver on the west. This includes the eastern part of the Texas Panhandle. Why I Am Coming to Kansas

By ROGER W. BABSON
Babson Park, Fla.—"Only a world spiritual awakening can prevent World War III. If another war comes, some of our large coastal cities will be destroyed. The military should be given full power now to defend these cities; but, in addition, our government should now inaugurate a well-planned program of decentralization. This should include moving the important Government Departments from Washington, D. C. to the Central Area of the United States. Naturally, the real estate and allied interests of these large cities will violently fight such decentralization programs, but nevertheless they should be insisted upon. Otherwise their populations may starve, freeze or be killed if World War III comes.

"Whatever is done concerning these coastal cities, the people of the great Central Area should strengthen their resources, keep their children at home and invest their money where they make it. This Central Area will not only be the freest from attack, but it is the richest and most self-contained of any part of the United States. When the rest of the country is panic-stricken and knows not where to turn, this Central Area should be prepared to take the leadership, unharmed, and in a strong moral and economic position. Its 16,000,000 people will then be independent of the rest of the country and can be the nucleus of the new and better Democracy which will follow World War III if it comes.

"The geographical center of this Area is Eureka, Kansas, which also is practically at the center of the entire United States. To awaken the people of this Central Area to their wonderful opportunities and responsibilities, I am—purely as a gift—founding there a non-profit educational institution. I have named it Utopia College, believing that this Central Area should become the 'utopia' of America. The College work will be designed for adult men and women, given in short Five-Week-Courses and limited to families now residing within this Central Area.

"As the future of America depends upon the people of this great Central Area, I am dedicating my life to help them. I agree with Bernard De Vota (see Harpers Magazine for January, 1947) that the large Eastern cities have for years been draining this Central Area of its wealth and people. My efforts will be directed to reversing this trend, believing that those who cooperate will both perform an important service to the nation and protect and increase their own property holdings through wise estate planning."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to our many friends and neighbors for their many thoughtful acts and deeds during the illness and death of our brother and husband. We also wish to thank the Masons who came to sit up before Mr. Neeley's death. Also for the floral offerings and the food.

Examinations Set for Social Security Offices in Area

Examinations for jobs in the field service of the Social Security Administration, to be filled in 30 offices in Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico, were announced today by the U. S. Civil Service Commission. Beginning salary for the positions, designated as Field Assistant and Claim Assistant, is $2394 per year.

Application cards and copies of the official announcement may be obtained from the Regional Director, 14th U. S. Civil Service Region, 210 South Harwood St., Dallas 1, Texas; the Regional Director, 10th U. S. Civil Service Region, Customhouse, New Orleans, Louisiana; the Regional Director, 13th U. S. Civil Service Region, New Customhouse Bldg., Denver 2, Colorado; any first—or second—class post office; or from the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Social Security Administration, 912 Maverick Building, San Antonio 5, Texas.

These are key entrance jobs in the social insurance program because of their direct contact with wage earners, claimants, employers, and the public. Successful performance in these positions is excellent preparation for advancement in the service.

Applications for the examination must be filed with the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Social Security Administration, 912 Maverick Building, San Antonio 5, Texas, not later than Mar. 31, 1947.

Army Day Set For April 7

"The million and more men and women in our Army are instruments of the nation's will for security and peace," General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, Chief of Staff, stated urging his fellow Americans in the observance of Army Week.

Army Day, usually observed on April 6, the date of the United States entry into World War I, was set by President Truman's proclamation for April 7, since April 6 is Easter Sunday.

Citing the loyalty and courage of "free men who, throughout seventeen decades of our history, have served the United States that we might stand strong and safe among the nations of the world," General Eisenhower said "your Army is a part of the people. It is composed of your sons. It is a faithful implement of democracy."

helped more families deserted by the husband and father than at any time in years.

There are still many requests from soldiers seeking furlough extensions and families seeking to have a son in service come home due to serious illness of some member or because of some other emergency. By Army agreement, these things must be handled by the Red Cross. All of it adds up to heavy telephone and telegraph bills for the local chapter.

These are only a few of the cases the Red Cross is helping now. The aim of the Red Cross is to help in emergencies—but it is going to

Black Cats Open Season April 6

The Wellington Black Cats, colored baseball team that has functioned here for more than 15 years, is getting ready for another season, Earl Shamblee, manager, announced late last week.

Wellington merchants last week contributed approximately $70 to help the Cats finance their team. Others contributed merchandise.

"The season will open April 6, but we don't know yet who we will play," Shamblee said.

Among the players this year will be James Mathis, Lee Mathis, Chas. Ray Mathis, Tommy Riley, R. D. Dawkins, N. D. Boyd, Jack Boyd, Holly Washington, Howard Jackson, Herman Kilgore, Tol Kilgore Jr. and Little Jack. Others will probably be added to the team later.

Shamblee has served as manager of the team for approximately 15 years.

response was so tremendous that his entire library of musical numbers has been changed to allow for his present style.

The present Garber organization is composed of some of the top instrumentalists and artists in the country, in addition to his new outstanding staff of arrangers.

Garber's popularity over the years has won him and his orchestra many choice spots in motion pictures and features. "So's Your Uncle" for Universal, "Where's Elmer" for Republic, "Jam Session" for Columbia, and short features for both Universal and RKO, have been his lot in the flickers for his outstanding showmanship and musical ability.

Garber's popularity with the armed forces was also tremendous and was featured many times over the NBC Network.

tended for ladies, men are invited and are asked to see that their wives and daughters have an opportunity to attend. Girls 16 years old and over are included in this meeting," Rev. Killian said.

A speaker for the youth meeting April 4 has not been chosen, but someone outstanding in his work with youth will be secured, Rev. Killian explained. This meeting also will be held at the high school auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Every young person from the age of 13 and upward is invited. Parents are also invited to attend and bring their boys and girls.

The Church fellowship meeting will be in the form of a supper, to begin at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Frank Kennedy is social chairman and is in charge of the program for the evening.

These will be followed by the revival meeting which starts Easter Sunday, April 6. Rev. W. D.

Baker of Fort Worth, of the Rural Extension Department of the Texas Baptist General Convention will do the preaching.

Rev. Killian said early this week that he is very encouraged over response to the program the church is now carrying out. Sunday School has more than doubled during the last six weeks, and attendance for the last two weeks has been 77 and 89. Even larger attendance is expected.

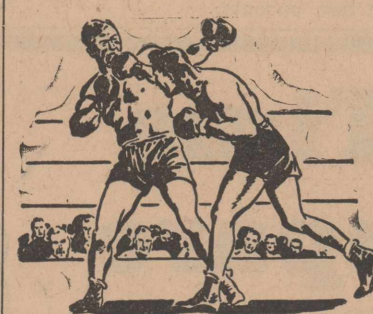

Friends here have learned that Robert Young, formerly of the Lurie community, is now serving in the Marine Corps and is stationed in Nevada. His rating is private first class. Young is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Young who now live at Weatherford.

On October 1, 11,486,000 persons were working on farms in the United States.

LOCAL FIGHTERS OUTCLASS ABILENE

Norwood, Quail and Wellington Boxers Meet in Tri-School Match Here Friday

A triangular boxing meet with boys from Samnorwood, Quail and Wellington taking part, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, March 28 and 29, at Wellington. This will close the boxing season for the county.

Although the Quail and Samnorwood boys have worked out only a short time, due to a late basketball season, their boxers are expected to give the Wellington boys some stiff competition, and at the same time show boxing fans that there's good boxing talent in every part of the county.

Between 20 and 40 fights are scheduled for the two nights, John Lee, Wellington boxing coach, who is in charge of the meet, declared. These will range from bouts between little boys, weighing around 65 pounds, up to one heavyweight fight between Richard Overcast of Samnorwood and Garland Turner of Wellington. This is slated as the featured fight of the entire meet.

The fights will begin at 7:30 each evening.

"This is the last opportunity the friends of these young boxers will have to see them in action, and we cordially invite every one of you to be out," Coach Lee said.

He explained further that one of Wellington. This is slated as the featured fight of the entire meet.

Norwood Juniors Present Comedy Friday, April 4

The Samnorwood Juniors, in announcing their annual play, a three-act comedy, declare, "It's Tough to Be Rich." Their play, by this name, will be given Friday night, April 14, beginning at 8:00 p. m.

The story concerns Pa and Ma Ross, played by Ernest Overcast and Joyce Rene Price, who are perfectly satisfied with poverty and are greatly alarmed when Aunt Bertha, played by Ravena Cunningham, suddenly deposits $25,000 to their account.

Dodson's high school baseball team will open its season Thursday afternoon, March 27, against the Centralview, Okla., team. The game will be played at Dodson, beginning about 1:00 p. m.

Under the direction of Coach Phillip Wynn, approximately 20 boys are working out on this year's team. Star performer is expected to be Darvin Chrisco, one of the star-pitchers of the Red River Valley league last summer. Out of the play, however, is Ralph Carter, who had been counted on heavily, but who has just undergone an appendix operation.

Starting players for the team have not yet been picked.

Two other games scheduled for the spring will be with Blair, the first at Dodson on April 19 and the other at Blair April 25. The team will also meet Vinson, Okla., but the date has not been set, according to Supt. T. E. Lennon.

Red Cross Quota Half Raised, But Monday Is Deadline

Approximately one-half of the county's Red Cross Roll Call fund quota has been raised—but Monday, March 31, is the deadline for making contributions, John Forbis, chairman of the campaign, warned early this week.

To date approximately $725 has been reported to Miss Katherine Boverie, who is handling the funds.

"We urge all community workers who have not already contacted the people of their area to do so some time this week," Mr. Forbis said.

"Never in time of peace has the American Red Cross been called upon to render such extensive services to the military forces at home and abroad and to veterans as now required," he continued.

"Approximately 75 per cent of Red Cross funds are still spent in war-related services at home and overseas. We still have more than 2,000 workers serving outside of the United States. As our work in army and navy hospitals and other installations gradually decreases during the next few years, work with veterans and their families will increase.

"Just remember, when the Red Cross worker asks you for your contribution this year, that it is your dollar, and the dollars of your neighbors that must carry on this important work."

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER says:

"Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

We second the motion
We'll do our part!

International Harvester has reduced prices to save users of its products $20,000,000 a year. The reductions apply to a selected list of various products made by the Company.

In making its announcement to the general public last week, International Harvester said:

"We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of goods people buy.

"The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry.

"Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks involved."

As International Dealers we will do our part. We will pass International Harvester's price reductions to our customers.

And now a word of gratitude to our friends who have patiently waited for the new machines they need. As most of our customers are aware, International Harvester has done everything possible—and some things that seemed impossible—to maintain and increase production.

The outlook is somewhat better. Soon we hope to supply equipment to all of those who have cooperated so faithfully with us.

Meanwhile, the same top-quality International Service and Parts that have kept equipment operating for our customers during the difficult years are available from us. We urge our friends to continue to use these facilities to obtain maximum operating economy.

International Harvester is doing its part with quality, increased production and reduced prices.

We will do our part in this territory

"NC65541, this is Wellington Tower. You are cleared into position and cleared to take off."

You see, our plane has been O. K'd by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, and we now have a number commencing with NC rather than NX. NX designates an airplane as experimental, and its uses are greatly restricted. NC means the aircraft has been passed in all respects as air worthy—restricted only to its placarded inherent limitations.

While we circle Wellington and take a birds eye view, the writer would like to make clear that this is primarily a column on aviation and that at no time is it meant or intended to infer that flying or an airfield is more important than fundamental urban necessities.

When you citizens of Wellington voted the recent bond issue, you voted for progress on two fronts—distinctly separate, but nevertheless related.

On the one front you voted to improve the city's health by better sanitation from the development of a modern sewer system and by better recreation from the availability of a swimming pool. On the other front you voted to improve business potentiality by getting your foot in the door of modern transportation with an airport. One is an immediate vital fundamental; the other is a vital future business opportunity.

According to the weather man, local winds are high with flurries of frozen sleet and may develop into a real norther if the barometer of understanding does not rise. It is important to remember that there is considerably more equipment, material, labor, and engineering involved in producing a sewer system and a swimming pool than the leveling off of several runways at the airport. During and ever since the war both materials and labor have been critical and at times non-existent. While the essentials are being obtained for these first priority projects, and they are being obtained, it is wrong to proceed with necessary engineering with a plow, a disc, a scraper, and a roller at the airport—particularly since federal aid can be drawn into the local treasury? The weather has been a major factor in holding up these two projects and not the airport.

Finally, as we circle Marian Airpark in NC65541, known in the Army as the "Bamboo Bomber", actually a twin engine trainer and sometimes used as an auxiliary transport plane built by Cessna Aircraft, and now being sold as surplus property, let me make clear that the writer's interest in this column, in Marian Airpark, and both local and universal aviation rises strictly and solely out of a lifetime interest and belief in aviation itself.

Furthermore, for the benefit of the inevitable 4 per cent who can never trust even their grandmothers not to hit 'em in the back of the head with a grand piano, I want to point out that there is a CAA lighted auxiliary field a few miles south of Arlie and not many miles farther from home than Wellington. There is Hollis, Oklahoma, about an equivalent number of miles from home, and finally there is a stalk field right in my own backyard.

I own my hangar, and Bruce Hite, for a certain amount, would be glad to sit her on Pikes Peak if I gave him the word—provided Mooney Stall would kind of bolster up a few of the joints, which "McSnurd" Wood, now a better newsman than a carpenter, forgot to truss or perhaps didn't believe it necessary. And by the way "McSnurd" is not just a sparrow in the air. He was one of "Uncle Sammy's" Eagles, and some day I will give you the low-down on how Mr. Wood became "McSnurd". Wellington Tower, this is NC-65541. Roger, Wilco and out. (This is technically very poor radio form, but at one time a popular abuse.)

Questions on Veterans Aid

Q. I served four months in the Army during World War II, was honorably discharged last September and have been unable to find a job. Am I eligible for readjustment allowance and how do I go about getting it?

A. Yes, you are eligible because you served over 90 days. Application for readjustment allowance may be filed at a local office of the U. S. Employment Service or of the state employment agency. You must register as able to work and available for suitable work.

Q. Since leaving the service, I have negotiated a G. I. loan which matures in 25 years. Will I be permitted to pay it off before date of maturing?

A. You have the right to accelerate your payments or repay your loan in full at any time without premium or fee. Additional payments must be made in one installment or multiples of $100 each, whichever is most desirable.

Q. I am operating my own business but losing money at present. As an honorably discharged veteran of World War II, can I claim readjustment allowance?

A. If you served over 90 days, part of which was World War II service, you are eligible for self-employment allowance and may file application at a local office of the U. S. Employment Service or your state unemployment agency.

Q. Will the Veterans Administration guarantee a loan made to me by my uncle, who is a non-supervised lender?

A. Yes, but loans made by non-supervised lenders require prior approval of the Veterans Administration. Your uncle should submit the proposal to the local VA regional office for approval.

Pneumonia Deaths Far Too Numerous

AUSTIN — According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,460 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring months.

Pneumonia is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble, when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

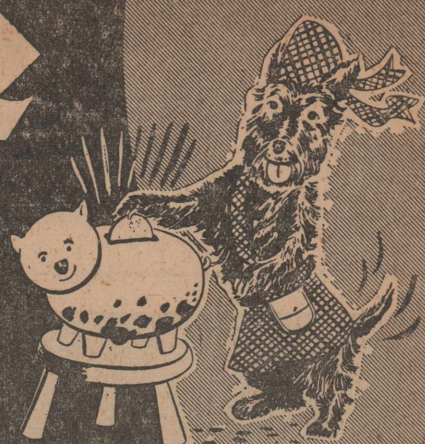

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice if temperature persists or the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon starting treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once when pneumonia is suspected. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develops in such cases.

A Major Food Crisis Still Faces World

A major food crisis still confronts the world. Over wide areas of China famine conditions have prevailed for many months. Many people in Europe are living on a diet of 1500 calories or less and the European situation will deteriorate sharply in the spring, since in several countries domestic food supplies will become exhausted. Meanwhile people in food exporting countries are eating better than prewar; United States consumption in 1946-1947 surpasses the record level of 1945-1946.

Nutrition and health are little better than last year and in some countries worse. Many people have been living for five to six years on a subnormal diet and the cumulative effects are now becoming apparent. Surveys among certain groups have shown increasing incidence of hunger oedema, anemia, and vitamin deficiency diseases. Infant mortality rates remain high and tuberculosis has become more prevalent.

Food production in the war-damaged areas of Europe, Russia, and the Orient is beginning to recover slowly. In surplus producing countries food output is higher this year than last year, especially in North America. But because of price increases, decontrol, and the termination of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, total food exports will be no more and possibly less in volume than last year. The prospective situation in deficit countries in the coming months is such as to warrant an immediate tightening of controls and food economy measures in all countries and a reconsideration by exporting countries of the quantities they feel able to make available for shipment.

Widows May Get Husbands Benefits

Most widows attaining the age of 65 whose husbands had died after December 31, 1939, and were fully insured under the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system and who received a lump-sum payment may be eligible for monthly benefit checks for the rest of their lives, unless they have remarried, Mr. J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Social Security Administration field office at Amarillo, Texas, said. These widows must file claims, however, to receive payments and should contact the nearest Social Security Administration office for correct information.

Despite information furnished at the time of husband's death, many widows do not understand they may receive monthly benefits when they reach age 65.

Although efforts have been made to contact the widow in these cases, very often she has moved and cannot be located. "Only recently a widow came into our office," Mr. Sanderson said, "and learned that she had lost several months' payments because she had delayed filing."

Oriental peoples eat in complete silence.

SETTING FOR EASTER PAGEANT

Seventy-five scenes of the life of Christ are presented from various parts of the Holy City, while many thousands of spectators watch each Easter morning from a natural amphitheater across a valley a hundred yards away.

TEAMWORK MAKES YOUR GAS SERVICE DEPENDABLE...

GUY BUMPAS, Division Engineer, who plays a major position on this team, HAS THIS TO SAY...

"Because we have had the background of technical training, we in the Engineering Department are fully appreciative of the tremendous investment and vast resources necessary to maintain and safeguard your fine gas service.

"To folks who have always lived in this 'natural gas country,' dependable gas service becomes commonplace. Like the daily rising of the sun, we come to expect natural gas service without realizing what it takes for United Gas to provide that service.

"It takes mechanical perfection; it takes more than 5,000 well-trained men and women; it takes vast investments in equipment and pipe lines and thousands of acres of gas reserves."

All of this is your assurance of efficient, dependable gas performance of the four big jobs of gas in your home. So keep it in mind as you and your family enjoy the low-cost convenience of CP automatic gas cooking... better gas heating... trouble-free gas refrigeration... and adequate gas water heating. Good gas service doesn't just happen!

LETTERS From The PEOPLE

JUNIOR COLLEGE FOR COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY

In a short time a very important question will be decided by ballot and it is my wish that every voting person be correctly informed about the same both pro and con.

The question is whether or not we accept the buildings owned by the government to set up a Junior College that will accommodate the seven counties centering around the government project located at Childress.

The benefits for the county, as I see them, by setting up such college training unit are as follows: That every graduating student of this year, every person who has graduated from and live in Collingsworth, and every veteran regardless of grade achievement a year of college for less money going out of the COUNTY than one year of college would cost sixty percent of the graduates of 1947 to go to any other college. Students coming to the Junior College from other counties not belonging to the COUNTY UNIT will be required to pay the regular tuition charges of other colleges.

Our boys and girls can live at home under parental guidance for two more years, and at the end of that time will be more mature physically and mentally where they can better cope with the competition fronting them because of age and experience in Senior Colleges and in field of professional work. As you know our boys and girls are graduating from school between the ages of 16 and 18 years. Two years of this type of environment will give them time to find themselves.

It is virtually impossible to enroll in colleges unless you enroll long before the starting date, this period of doubt would not be the only factor taken care of by our college. In an over crowded school of any type, individual instruction is impossible, and with the board of education being set up one from each county, enrollment could be controlled for our best interest.

The actual cost to the tax payer is a very small amount for by receiving the buildings as a grant such college can be set up and maintained by a maximum figure of twenty cents tax out of every hundred dollar valuation. This twenty cents will not only maintain such institution, but will create enough surplus after the first two years to build a sinking fund for any and all necessary repair and replacement of building and equipment. The state also pays sixty dollars tuition for every student that attends this college, and each student belonging to the COUNTY UNIT is required to pay a tuition fee of fifty dollars a year. Their transportation to and from is done by a college bus at no cost to the riders.

The question of setting up such college by taxation seems to hinge around whether every one of the county should share in the cost of educating the counties' boys and girls or leave it to the individual to do so.

To leave the cost to the individual, we find that many will not be able to further their education beyond the high school, because board and room away from home usually cost more than the entire family food cost at home, and last, the individual alone cannot receive his proper share of the three million dollar buildings and free bus service to and from college.

It is well for everyone to remember that the buildings that are requested for transfer to seven counties still belong to the government, and rather than being afraid that we will be voted into such an organization, we should all put forth all our efforts to get these buildings while they are available without cost to this district. It is my wish that not only ten percent of the voters of this county sign this petition, but fifty percent or more. These petitions will be left with the school authorities of each district and it is respectfully requested that at your most convenient date you go by and sign to petition this election.

JayCees Approve Paid Secretary

Final approval was given to the plan for a paid secretary at the Wellington Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night. Ralph Stowell was unanimously approved for the job. At their meeting the same night the City Council voted to give the former police office, rent free, as the office for JayCee headquarters, and Mr. Stowell can now be contacted there at any time. His phone number is 443.

Raburn Holton was elected to the board of Directors to replace Mr. Stowell.

Funds were voted to pay any medical bills incurred in the case of some needy children in Wellington, and Richard Bailey, Ralph Stowell and Tom Bryant were voted a committee to take care of this and such other cases as might arise in the future.

New members voted into the JayCees were Olan Alexander, Rolly Fisher and Hiram Cudd.

The waltz was danced for the first time at the Paris opera in 1793.

Cottle-King Horse And Colt Show Set

The Fifth Annual Cottle-King Horse and Colt Show will be held in Paducah, Saturday, March 29. This show, which is sponsored each year by the Lions Club and American Legion Post, will be staged in a new livestock arena in the City Park.

George Gillham of Jericho, Cy Courtney of Matador, and Leige Reed of Iowa Park will be the judges of the colt show. The popular score card system of judging will be used in placing the colt classes in both the thoroughbred type and quarterhorse type divisions.

Classes of colts to be judged in each division are the following. Filly Foals of 1946, Stud Foals of 1946, Filly Foals of 1945, Stud Foals of 1945, Champion Filly and Champion Stallion. Ribbons and prize money of five, three and two dollars will be awarded to three winners in each class, except the championship ones which will receive rosettes.

Judging of the colts will begin at 12 o'clock noon at the new arena.

The internationally famous Hardin-Simmons Cowboy band, which will give a band concert on Friday night at the high school auditorium preceding the show, will lead the all-mounted parade. It will form on East Backus Street at the City Park at 2 P. M.

Editorial

Back in 1920 H. G. Wells made the remark that the "fortunes of the world were dependent upon the outcome of a race between education and catastrophe." We all should know by this time which won the race: it cost the world 60,000,000 lives and three trillion dollars to buy itself a chance to start over again.

America's part of the cost, in money, was about 300 billion dollars; its part in lives lost and ruined cannot yet be computed. We can realize something of the comparison of five years of war by noting that in one year of it we spent 90 billion dollars—more than we have spent on education since the nation was founded.

The United States is currently spending about 2 1-2 billions a year for all forms of education; about 2 1-2 per cent of the 100 billion a year income. It is enough when our success in the future, in either war or peace, is dependent upon the trained mind and the skilled hand?

Education should be the business of every American, for it our only insurance against a chaotic future. Education should be made available to all in a much broader system than we are now following. In our present set-up, each community or civic unit taxes itself on its own local valuations for its primary and intermediate schools.

Where these physical assets are least, that is to say, in the poorer districts, education is perhaps needed more than in more fortunate areas. Yet, under our present system, these areas are served by schools which are wholly inadequate to the tasks. This is but one of the problems of education which needs immediate solution, though one which is often overlooked in the long view of the problem.—Amarillo Daily News.

A Russian scientist says baby pigs can learn. Then why do they always make hogs of themselves?

Other Editors Say

• Presidential Trend

President Truman finds the presidency exciting. He is crazy to be re-elected and he will try his dead level best to be a leader of his party. He has only started to gather up the reins in his own hands, but he has made a start. He is said to be the easiest man in Washington to meet; every day he talks to visitors from the grass roots. He is selecting his own political organization, and there are indications that he may really start cracking the whip in healing party wounds and moving out the disturbers and misfits. If Truman succeeds in establishing discipline and efficient organization and loyalty in his own party, he could be President for another four years.—Gene Howe in The Amarillo News.

• The Pig that Goes to Market

The little pigs that go to market these days must have pearl teeth, ruby eyes and silk purses for ears. They are glamorous descendants of the poor old WPA swine Hoppy Hank Wallace offered as an unacceptable sacrifice on the altar of farm prosperity back in the thoughtless thirties. Remember.

Who wants a pork chop, anyway? Let butch stack 'em up till the ice-box smells like a pig-pen, and the price will crash like Hottentot on skis. That is what high brow economists call buyer-resistance and the labor leaders call a buyer's strike. To the folks who learned the economics the hard way, and earned their take-home-or-spend-for-beer check without benefit of New Deal hokum, it's just common sense. And, brother, common sense is sure an uncommon commodity these days.—Ed Erard in The Kingsville Record.

• Careful Planting

Elimination of plantings of shrubs and bushes at street corners, where they made blind intersections and create traffic hazards is being urged by the Olney Garden Club.

Officials of the club point out that the plantings may seem safe when set out but the shrubbery or bushes soon grow so big that a blind corner is made.

Keeping such large plantings inside yards as a traffic safety measure, will be a 1947 project of the club.—Jetty V. Clare in The Olney Enterprise.

• Shamrock Adds Water Supply

Shamrock's water supply is to be replenished soon by a new well which is being drilled near the city's four old wells, 14 miles north of town.

Contractors estimate the well will produce 350 gallons of water per minute. Their calculations are being based on the result of a 24-hour test. Drilling operations are now underway and the well is to be completed in 60 days.—Arval Montgomery in The Shamrock Texan.

Farm and Ranch Chatter

With Layne Beaty, WBAP, Fort Worth

Even though the radio and newspapers have ceased taking notice of it, forest fires in east Texas continue to ignite and burn many acres before the efficient, but, under-manned, Texas Forest Service protection crew can stamp them out. J. O. Burnside and W. T. Hartman, chief and assistant chief respectively of the protection service tell us that every day that the humidity is low some fires burn, and this will continue until the grass and leaves get green. Altogether more than 50,000 acres of Texas timber land has burned since January 1.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has elected to hold its 1948 convention in El Paso. At the recent 70th annual convention held in Fort Worth, Henry Bell reported that 949 new members were gained in 1946. C. E. Weymuth, Amarillo, president; James M. Brook, Brady and Bryant Edwards, Henrietta, vice presidents; Henry Bell, Fort Worth, secretary and general manager were re-elected.

A series of five important meetings—important to cotton producers of Texas—will be held at five points over the state during the next four weeks. The seven-step cotton production program is designed to help farmers put cotton production on a sounder and more profitable basis, by increasing yields and improving quality of cotton grown. Yields, we are told, can easily be increased by 100 pounds of lint per acre on most farms.

The schedule of meetings follows: March 23, Corpus Christi; March 26, Taylor; March 28, Dallas; April 14, Lubbock; April 15, Abilene.

When Senor Oscar Flores, undersecretary of agriculture of Mexico, and U. S. secretary of agriculture Clinton P. Anderson signed a joint agreement of a battle plan against foot and mouth disease in Washington last week, trainloads of digging equipment, sprays, etc., started rolling from this country to Mexico to help in the fight. It is equipment obtained from the army by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for lending to Mexico. This nation will send technicians and doctors into the foot and mouth disease area of Mexico to work with Mexican officials, and will pay half the cost of the eradication program, estimated now to cost $18,000,000 and take two years. Livestock will be slaughtered in the infected areas, and indemnities paid the owners. Actual U. S. participation is expected to begin about April 1. Meanwhile, none of the disease has been found within 300 miles of the United States.

Nine Texas counties are among the 100 leading cattle counties in the United States. Name and national rank follows: Harris, 26th; Deaf Smith, 51; Bexar, 61; Matagorda, 69; Gonzales, 74; Victoria, 84; Wharton, 95; Atascosa, 97; DeWitt, 98. There are over 2,000 counties in the United States. Harris county had 107,000 head of cattle of calves on January 1, 1945.

A man wearing a necktie made from rabbit fur in Fort Worth the other day received publicity on a national radio hookup originating here. A firm in southeast Texas makes the tricky cravats.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Apple Tree Versus Wheat Field

If you ever visit Jeb Crowell's farm, he'll take you right out on that back porch of his and show you his apple tree.

"There," says Jeb, "is nature's noblest creation—fifty years, and bearin' still the finest cider apples in the county!"

But last fall, when a group of us was there, Lud Denny points across the river to his grain fields and says: "There's an even finer sight! Acres and acres of golden grain you can make dozens of appetizing things with—including wholesome, sparkling beer."

Both of them got so eloquent on the subject, that the rest of us worked up quite a thirst; so Jeb goes to the icebox for beer and cider. And when the refreshments come, Lud chooses cider, and Jeb takes the beer!

From where I sit, that's the answer to most disputes. You can talk all you want, but when it comes to tastes and preferences, there's just no argument.

GENUINE MARBLE AND GRANITE

MONUMENTS

All indications point to higher prices for memorial work in the near future. We have absorbed a number of recent increases in wholesale costs without advancing retail prices, but, obviously, price adjustments will soon have to be made.

For more than forty-five years we have offered, and will continue to offer, nothing but the finest genuine marble and granite memorials at the lowest prices consistent with sound business principles. We will never sacrifice quality in order to sell at low prices. If you are considering the purchase of a monument or coping for your cemetery lot to be set before Memorial Day, May 30, it will be to your advantage to make your selection now.

Visit our display in Wellington at the corner of Fort Worth and Tenth Streets where Mr. Lewis Cotton is in charge—telephone 284-M.

Good Stories are Priceless

Everyone enjoys a good story—children, young people, adults—there are no exceptions. The better the story is told, the more thrilling the action, the more appealing the characters, so much greater is the enjoyment. And if the story is true, then new lustre is added.

Parents are continually looking for stories to tell their children. And wise parents look for stories that also teach everlasting truths about life, and how it can best be lived.

The stories in the Bible are the cherished stories of generations. They are told by masters in the art of story telling. Their characters are interesting, their plots exciting. They are stories of real people, containing time-less truths.

You and your children will find these stories unique, wholesome and thrilling. You and your children can look forward to many happy evenings, as you discover together the eternal appeal of the Bible stories.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
