INCUMBENTS SOUNDLY BEATEN

3 Newcomers Elected To Council Positions

There'll be a heavy turnout in City Council Monday night when newly elected councilmen take their oath of office.

Three councilmen who have served individually from 2 to 6 years will step down from official duties.

And in their place will be 3 newcomers — all receiving their baptism in the policy making for municipal government.

Taking the oath of office Monday night will be Glenn R. (Bob) Robinson, head of Robinson Drilling Company; H. I. Berman, retired business man, and Dr. John Chinn, partner in Rhode-Cowan Clinic.

They were elected Tuesday by decisive majority in a field of 7 candidates on the municipal ballot.

Trailing at the bottom half of the ballot were the trio of incumbents who were turned down in their bids for re-election — Mayor Trevor Crawford, who has served 3 complete terms as councilman; Sie Hamm, who served 2 terms, and Garlan Green, who was running for his second term.

Robinson, named last winter as the Chamber of Commerce's outstanding member in 1959, led the ballot with 450 votes. In No. 2 spot with 367 votes was Berman and with 339 votes for third place was Chinn.

Losing their bids for any one of the 3 council positions decided in the election were Ed Majors, who polled 324 votes — just 15 less than Chinn; Crawford with 265, Hamm with 181 and Green with 123.

A total of 716 persons cast ballots in the municipal election — a near record.

At least 2 controversial measures — an ordinance that puts a graduated, but higher minimum charge on large size residential water taps; and the Colorado City Housing Authority's plan for a $519,000 low rent public housing project — had bearing on the election's outcome and contributed to the turnover of the incumbents.

However, Robinson attracted voters from all segments — those for some incumbents and those against all incumbents — to gain an impressive lead over the entire field of candidates.

The new trio of councilmen — Robinson, Berman and Chinn — will join 4 holdover members on the council. Holdovers are Lawrence Rudick, Sam L. (Buzz) Majors Jr., Ira Utz and A. W. Hubbard.

Pvt. Charles Allard, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Allard of Route 2, is home on leave after completing Army basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. He will report to Fort Sill, Okla., for missile training.

TO COUNT 'FLOATERS'

Census Going to Jail Friday Night

They don't want to miss a single person, so Friday night census enumerators will go to jail.

That's absolutely right. Local census takers will visit the jail to count the persons there who do not have a fixed address.

The jail visit is part of the special April 8 effort in the 1960 Census to track down "floaters," those persons with no fixed address, and be certain they are counted in the census.

There are other locations which will be visited in other cities — like all-night theaters, parks where transients sleep over night and etc. But here in Mitchell County, the jail is about the only place not checked in other phases of the enumeration, said County Supervisor H. I. Berman.

Persons who do not have fixed addresses, Berman said, are included in the population of the community in which they are located by the census takers.

Berman reported Thursday that the census project was moving along with good progress in all areas of Mitchell County. Cooperation from citizens is good, he emphasized.

The supervisor reminded again, however, that under the U. S. Census law, all persons 18 years old and over are required to answer official census questions.

The same law specifies that personal information collected by census takers must be kept confidential.

Nowell Succumbs in Grand Prairie

Anthony Nowell, 42, former Colorado City resident, died Monday in Grand Prairie following a short illness.

Funeral services were conducted in Moore Funeral Home in Grand Prairie Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock with graveside rites conducted Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Colorado City Cemetery. Rev. E. V. Brooks, pastor of Oak Street Baptist Church, officiated at the local rites.

Moore had lived in Grand Prairie for several years. He was employed by Chance-Vaughnt Air Craft Corp., and was a member of the Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Doris Rogers five sons, Roger, Jimmy, Mickey, Gene and Royce, all of Grand Prairie; a brother, W. E. Nowell of Abilene and a sister, Mrs. J. H. Yarbrough of Fort Worth.

Kiwanis Cash Adds $32.50 for Library

Kiwanis members visited Mitchell County Federation Library Tuesday and followed in the path of Lions.

They contributed $32.50 in cash for purchase of new books at the library. Just the Friday before the Lions had put $50.37 into the library book fund while on their visit.

The Kiwanis tour followed by Tuesday luncheon in the House.

Applicants Discussed At Meeting

City Council and councilmen-elect conferred at City Hall Thursday night to look over the list of applicants for city manager.

The list included 9 bona-fide candidates for the post which will be vacated next week by Rollin K. Sneathen, who moves to Corsicana as manager there.

Considered a top prospect among the candidates is Earl Keaton, 31-year-old administrative assistant to the Midland city manager.

However, the meeting of councilmen — including lame ducks and those who will take the oath of office next Monday — was not for the purpose of electing a manager.

It was called by Mayor Trevor Crawford so that newly elected councilmen could study the qualifications of applicants on file and have a voice in what avenue the manager search next will take.

Sneathen, who has been manager here for 4 years, will leave City Hall about Wednesday in preparation for the advancement and higher-paying position in Corsicana.

Present members of City Council — 3 of these leave office Monday — have been hoping to obtain qualified replacement for Sneathen as soon as possible so that the city will be without a manager for as short a period as possible.

The Thursday night meeting was to allow the newly elected trio — Bob Robinson, H. I. Berman and Dr. John Chinn — to become up to date on the manager situation and also express their opinion about ways and means for filling the vacancy.

Keaton, the administrative assistant at Midland, has been in Colorado City for one conference with councilmen. He definitely is a candidate for the job.

Keaton, who is married and has a family, has a B. A. degree in government from North Texas State College in Denton and lacks only his thesis for a master's degree at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

He has been the administrative assistant at Midland for 2 years. Prior to that he was employed as on-the-job city manager trainee by the City of Dallas.

Anderson Dies; Rites Saturday

Gene Anderson, 27, died in Johnson Hospital in Loraline Wednesday morning. He had been a semi-invalid since he was stricken with polio at age 11.

Graveside services will be conducted Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in Colorado City Cemetery with Rev. James Carraway, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating.

Anderson was born in Arkansas, Jan. 9, 1933. He had lived with his parents in and around Colorado City the last 11 years.

He is survived by his parents, Carl Anderson of Snyder, Rex Anderson of Roscoe, Dale Anderson and Donald Anderson of Colorado City, Jimmy Anderson of Sulphur, Calif., and Johnny Anderson of Sheppard Air Base, Wichita Falls, and four sisters, Faye Anderson and Fern Anderson of Colorado City, Mrs. Wilfred Bradford of California, Kay and Mr. Gene Anderson of Loraline, Okla.

11 Candidates Named For Miss Tumbleweed

Mitchell County's prettiest girls are lining up as candidates for Miss Tumbleweed of 1960.

And the entry list Thursday already totaled 11 as clubs in city and outside Colorado City hurried to sponsor candidates. The candidates will be featured in the Tumbleweed Festival here April 28-29, along with Governor Price Daniel and TV-movie funnyman Pat Brady.

Miss Tumbleweed, selected in 2 nights of pageantry that will feature Sons of the Pioneers from Hollywood, will reign as queen over the festival.

Here are the contestants and their sponsoring organizations as officially entered in the competition Thursday: Sharon Redwine, representing Mitchell County Farm Bureau; Sue Jarman, candidate of Looney Home Demonstration Club.

Sue Blackard, sponsored by Colorado City Jaycees-ettes; Janie Faye Reed, representing the Self Culture Study Club.

Janet Stone, candidate of Kiwanis Club.

Byrdie Herring, sponsored by Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Gloria May, representing 1921 Study Club.

Nati Lynn Smith, candidate of 1949 Study Club.

Shana Noble, sponsored by Zetaganian Study Club.

Marilyn Russell, representing Colorado City Garden Club.

Charla Warren, Colorado City Lions.

Professional judges will select Miss Tumbleweed from the array of candidates. The parade of beauties is scheduled at both night stage shows of Sons of the Pioneers, April 28 and 29.

The candidates will appear in both bathing suits and formal attire. And finalists will be asked 3 questions in the final judging.

Candidates must be unmarried and between the age of 16 and 21 years. They may be in high school, college or non-students, according to Mrs. Joe Gunning, chairman of the contest committee.

Clubs and organizations sponsoring candidates must officially list their contestants with Mrs. Gunning. Deadline for entries originally was set for April 10.

OPENS APRIL 15

Sons of Pioneers Ticket Sale Set

Advance ticket sale will begin April 15 for the 3 Tumbleweed Festival stage shows by Sons of the Pioneers and Pat Brady.

The Hollywood stars of stage, screen and TV will entertain from a stage in Colorado High Wolf Gym the nights of April 28 and 29.

In addition the musicians — only western band ever to play a concert in Carnegie Hall — will present a special matinee performance in the gym the afternoon of April 29.

The matinee performance will climax the big Tumbleweed Festival daytime program which will include appearances by Governor Price Daniel and a parade featuring tumbleweed floats, area bands and riding poses.

Advance of tickets to the Sons of the Pioneers entertainment will be for the night shows only. These are performances which also will share the spotlight with the Miss Tumbleweed beauty contest.

There will be no advance sale of tickets for the matinee show.

Price of all tickets — for all 3 shows — will be $1 per person.

The advance ticket sale was mapped Wednesday by festival leaders in a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

At the same time 2 committees were named to prepare for 2 other projects in conjunction with the festival. See TICKET, pg. 8

2 TRUSTEES RE-ELECTED

Phones Hum as School Write-in Is Defeated

Supporters of 2 Colorado Independent School District trustees rallied their votes Saturday in the face of an organized write-in campaign.

Result was the re-election of Dr. E. Rhoads, board president, to a third term and re-election of Dr. H. Jene Steakley, board secretary, to his second 3-year term.

Rhoads, ballot target of the write-in, polled 199 votes and Steakley received 249.

Poling a surprisingly high total of 79 votes was Curtis Latimer, former school board member and a principal at Junior High, whose name was not on the printed ballot. He was the candidate of the write-in forces.

Seven additional write-in votes were scattered 3 for H. J. Jene, 2 for George E. Williams, 1 each for Miss Thelma Farrar and Willie Landau.

Rhoads and Steakley were unopposed for re-election on the official ballot since no other persons had filed as candidates for the 2 board places open in the election.

But an opposition group developed a late write-in campaign that gained momentum Friday and election day.

Balloting, usually light when no opposition is listed on the ballot, climbed to a total of 772 votes — an unexpected high.

Momentum behind the write-in were telephone calls, especially election day. And as word of the write-in spread, supporters of Rhoads began their own phone call campaign to increase the turnout of voters.

Callers for the surprise write-in made no bones about the fact that they were urging the "Scratching" of Rhoads' name on the ballot and the write-in of Latimer. But their criticism on the phone was not so much at the board president as against his support of Supt. Frank Wilson and his close conferring with Wilson on school matters.

Latimer declared that he did not organize the write-in and did not seek it. Latimer, who resigned last year as Junior High principal to devote full time to ranching and farming, reported he was approached by a group to be the write-in.

"I only told them that if I was elected to the school board, I would vote my own votes," Latimer said.

3 Trustees Elected At Loraine

Two incumbents and a newcomer were elected Saturday as trustees for Loraine Independent School District.

They are Dr. Joe Terry and Gene Baird, re-elected to the board, and Loyd Brame.

Terry led the ballot with 167 votes followed by Baird with 164 and Brame with 98.

Defeated in bids for school board positions were Harold Johnson, 87 votes, Edgar Baumann, 72 votes, and Jasper Doye, 29.

Elected county school trustees from Precinct 4 was J. M. Templeton.

Friday is the final date for cotton producers to release any unused cotton allotment acreage.

The date also is the deadline for farmers to apply for re-appointment of released acres.

Willie Brooks, president of Westbrook Cemetery Association, urged additional donations Thursday so the cemetery can construct a fence.

The fence has been planned for several months and the fund has reached $360.37. Between $400 and $500 is the amount required.

"Those persons who desire to contribute to the project can contact me," Brooks said, "and the fence will be built as soon as the financing is obtained."

Cubs in Pow-Wow Saturday to Learn Indian Stomp Dancing

Don't be surprised if you see a few redfaces around the Courthouse Saturday morning.

They'll be Cub Scouts as they take a few lessons from Eagle Scouts in the loud and colorful Indian stomp dance.

The instruction for all Colorado City Cub Scouts is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. on the Courthouse lawn, according to Joe Bohannon, Lone Buffalo District scout executive.

Eagle Scout Stanley Martin and his Order of the Arrow Indian dance team will be instructors for the stomp dance. They will give pointers for making breech clothes, painting of bodies and the dance itself.

Den mothers and cubmasters are urged also to attend the instruction.

4,200 Vehicles Get Inspection Stickers

Inspection stickers have been placed on 4,200 motor vehicles in Mitchell County for the 1960 period.

But there are hundreds more to go — and only a week before the April 15 deadline.

There were a total of 4,539 vehicles registered here before the deadline last week for 1960 license plates. This total is slightly lower than the 5,000-plus reported at the same time last year.

Registered for 1960 were 3,496 passenger cars, 190 commercial, 351 farm, 190 trailers, 70-truck tractors, 3 buses and 10 mopeds.

Four Colorado City citizens have been assigned important roles in the overall planning and directing the circus.

M. L. Kirschbaum is co-chairman of the entire circus committee, serving along with J. C. Woodridge of Snyder.

Henry Lewis is co-chairman of tickets and finance with Bill Wilson of Snyder. Serving as co-chairman of publicity is Eddie Kissinger, who shares the duty with Bill Brown of Snyder.

Heading the circus staff as co-directors are Colorado City's John T. Merritt and Snyder's George Stewart.

Tickets will be distributed to leaders of Scout and Cub units for sale at the district roundtable next Thursday night, April 14, at Snyder High School. The roundtable will be for all cubmasters.

Seven mothers, scoutmasters and cubmasters will be in charge of the

INSURANCE WANTED

What we would not give to protect this innocent girl of ours from the hurts and pains of life. If there were an insurance policy that could do this we would pay any premium. There is, however, no such policy, for God has not made the world that way. God has made a world in which pain and suffering are always a part of life, but never forget, He pronounced that world, all of it, good. It is our failure to trust in God that makes us want to keep part of life from ourselves and from our children. We think part of life is bad and would rule it out. Only trust in God will enable us to deal adequately with life's sufferings and hurts. This is the divine life insurance which guarantees life eternal, believe in God! Be sure you make it to Church this week to learn of Him and praise His Holy Name.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH

Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. The Landers, Looney and Fairview Home Demonstration Clubs met in the Lone Wolf Building March 23 with Mrs. J. D. Gibson, president of the Looney club presiding.

Guest speaker for the day was James Hull, electrification advisor of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative Inc., and he explained the importance of adequate electrical wiring for our modern day homes.

He stated wiring that had been done 10 years ago was not adequate for today's appliances and homes. He demonstrated the difference between inadequate wiring with the uses of an iron, 100 watt bulb and fan.

Hull also showed the difference sizes of wire used in our house wiring and their purposes.

Following the speaker, a question and answer session followed.

IN FRIDAY MEETING

Background of Poets Traced By 1921 Study Club Members

"Ezra Loomis Pound was one of the most controversial figures of the period and unquestionably the most brilliant expatriate of his generation," Mrs. Sam L. Majors Sr., explained to members of the 1921 Study Club when it met in the home of Mrs. Pete Ainsworth Friday.

Mrs. Majors was explaining some of the highlights of the life of Ezra Pound and Mrs. Ainsworth told the group some highlights of the life of Conrad Aiken.

Mrs. Majors said that Pound entered the University of Pennsylvania at the age of fifteen and at sixteen, he began studying comparative literature.

"After arriving in London, he published a work which, though small, contains some of his most arresting verse," she explained.

She stated that too often Pound seemed to become theory—logged, to sink himself in an intellectual Sargasso Sea, to be more the archivist than the artist.

"Beside his poetry, Pound wrote, translated, and edited more than 14 volumes of prose," stated Mrs. Majors.

Mrs. Ainsworth presented some of the highlights of the life of Conrad Aiken.

She said that he was born in Savannah, Ga. in 1889.

In his early 30's she stated, he was determined to live in England and made his home in the Sussex town of Rye.

She pointed out that a few years later he returned to America as a tutor in English at Harvard and, for the next few years he alternated between both sides of the Atlantic.

"Aiken's possession for music is exceeded only by his preoccupation with psychoanalysis," she continued, "the attempted fusion of the two has made his poetry distinctive but undisciplined."

She said that by the time he was 52 he had published 4 novels, 4 collections of short stories, 2 books of criticism and 18 volumes of poetry.

He received the Pulitzer

Prize in 1930 for his selected poem and in 1958 he received the Academy of American poets award.

A FAVORITE RECIPE

Easter Treat Idea

Mrs. Francis Winn of the Spade Home Demonstration Club says that her favorite recipe is pineapple preserves cake.

She says that all the ingredients necessary for the cake are 2 sticks margarine, 4 whole eggs, 1 cup pineapple preserves (thick), 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 2 cups sugar, 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, dissolved in 1 cup buttermilk, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 cup nuts.

After combining all of these ingredients, she says, cream margarine and sugar, add eggs 1 at a time. Then add vanilla, preserves and nuts. Sift all dry ingredients together and alternate with buttermilk and soda.

She suggests that you bake in a greased tube pan for 1 hour and 15 minutes at 350 degrees and do not open the oven door until after this time.

ZETAGATHIANS HEAR BRAND

Modern Man Is Challenge for Church, Minister Tells Club

To view the contemporary religious situation of today we must consider the religious situation as it appears in the world, in our culture, customs and society.

That was a point Rev. John Brand, minister of First Presbyterian Church, emphasized Thursday when he spoke to members of the Zetagathian Study Club.

Brand was principal speaker at the club's meeting in the home of Mrs. J. S. (Joy) Craddock Jr., discussing current trends in religious thinking.

His talk was another in the series of studies conducted by the Zetagathians during the current club year under the theme of "The Road Ahead." The minister commented on origin and continued existence in the world," he explained, "and its thought and behavior is more often than not inexplicable apart from the influence of the culture of the day."

"Hence, while we firmly believe that the church is not of the world—that it belongs to a kingdom that is more than an earthly kingdom, it nevertheless is at the same time in the world."

"And before its members become church members they become world members in a well-nigh indelible sense."

Therefore, the minister emphasized that what is happening in the chaotic world today is happening to "those of us" in the church.

"In short," Brand emphasized, "we are modern man."

"This naturally constitutes a challenge to the church: If set about to become completely modern, we sever our connection with word of God who transcends modernity to include a past and future."

"If, on the other hand, we deny any connection with modern man, we see our ministry as that of speaking to and ministering to the church itself."

"While in the former our voices become the mere echo of the culture," the minister stated, "in the latter it becomes the monotonous drone of a bore who is in truth talking to himself."

Mrs. Elmer Martin, vice president, presided during the meeting.

Mrs. W. S. Rhode presented a report on the county federation meeting.

The club voted to make draperies for the Big Spring State Hospital.

Shana Noble was selected to be the club candidate for tumbleweed queen.

Attending were Mrs. Henry Lewis, Mrs. Clarence Collins, Mrs. Craddock, Mrs. Trevor Crawford, Mrs. James Trammell, Mrs. Curtis Latimer, Mrs. Eldon Mghon, Mrs. Sam L. Majors Jr., Mrs. Don McCoy, Mrs. Ray Noble, Mrs. W. S. Rhode, Mrs. Bob Robinson, Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. George Witten, Mrs. John Brand, Mrs. Jim Roberts, Mrs. O. E. Trulock Jr., and Mrs. Otis Holladay.

Corvair named "CAR OF THE YEAR"

"Four-wheel independent suspension totally unlike any other U.S.-built car" ... "air-cooled aluminum engine ... not dependent on the properties of a liquid coolant" ... a rear-mounted transaxle "allowing a flatter floor and a lower roofline. ... These are some of the praises heaped upon Corvair by the editors of Motor Trend—the world's largest general automotive magazine—in announcing their coveted Car-of-the-Year award. Other cars didn't even come close. The Motor Trend experts, who evaluated every make in the country, were unanimous in their decision, published in the April issue. But, unless you have personally driven a Corvair, you can't appreciate what this engineering achievement really means in combining compact car economy and agility with big car ride, room and sure-footedness. What do you do when you can't wait?

WHEN A CRISIS COMES

...and you need a prescription filled at midnight

...or your plumbing starts leaking

...or your car won't start

...or you run out of clean shirts

...or when the cupboard or the baby is bare

DO YOU saddle up and take a day off to get the matter taken care of in the City, or do you write to a catalog house for help?

OF COURSE NOT. Likely you hardly recognize these and similar predicaments as crises.

Because YOU'VE GOT NEIGHBORS, right here at home ... with their skill and their money invested in establishments able to take most of your troubles on their own shoulders so quickly that you scarcely notice they are difficulties at all.

But HOW MANY skilled craftsmen, and good business men, and good neighbors, and good workers in civic and church affairs, and good taxpayers
... how many of these have cut down their stocks, laid off employees, or left the country ... because all you were buying from them was the things you couldn't wait to get somewhere else
... and how many will leave in the future to go where your money is going?

CANCER IS FATAL

Geller, Ex-Owner Of Record, Dies

Byron (Pete) Geller, former owner and publisher of The Colorado City Record, died Saturday in Detroit, Mich.

He had been ill with cancer for several months and recently was hospitalized.

The 56-year-old Geller and his family lived in Colorado City and Michigan during the 2-year period he was owner of The Record.

Geller, a former metropolitan city newspaper reporter and assistant attorney general of Michigan, purchased The Record June 30, 1950, from W. W. Whipkey. Until then, the local newspaper had been under ownership of the Whipkey family since 1905.

Less than a month after the purchase, Geller expanded the weekly Record to a semi-weekly publication. And the twice-weekly schedule of publication has continued ever since.

Geller sold the Record March 1, 1952, to Roy V. Fox and Joe Bell, present owners and publishers.

Geller was an assistant attorney general for the State of Michigan from 1933 to 1938. Previously, he had been a news reporter for the Detroit Times, the Windsor (Ont.) Star and for Cincinnati and Toledo, Ohio, newspapers.

He passed his bar examination in 1932 and turned from news reporting to law. Later, he turned from the practice of law to the business of manufacturing agent.

DISTRICT MEET SATURDAY

Snyder Speed Expected
To Grab 3-AAA Title

Colorado City High's im-high jump speciality. Last week in the Brady Relays he won first in high jump with a leap of 5 feet 1 1/2 inches, but had to be content with second in the broad jump when he could do no better than 20 feet 4 inches.

The Wolves will trot onto the track, and field in the shadow of Snyder High's star-studded team, favorite to repeat as champions.

But if Coach Sam Christy's lads can parlay 3 or 4 first places onto a spread of other points, then they breathe down the neck of the defending champs.

In other words, the improving Wolves are contenders for a surprising second place ahead of Sweetwater, Lamesa and Lake View.

However, Colorado City will be handicapped even in their uphill battle. For Wolf Jerry McKay, one of the state's outstanding high jumpers and a threat for the district broad jumping title, is nursing a pulled muscle in his leg.

The injury may knock him entirely from the broad jump and won't be any help in his second in the broad jump when he could do no better than 20 feet 4 inches. Christy will be relying upon a small squad of only 10 youths to battle against powerful Snyder and the other 3-AAA schools. And that will hurt, too, as larger squads can gain points with quantity for third, fourth, fifth and sixth places.

Snyder, though, will enter the meet in the favorite's role on the proven fact of winning performances in meets this season. The Tiger team has almost certain first places points in a half-dozen events.

Hurdler Stanley Woolever, who has skimmed the 120-yard high in 14.8 seconds for record relay performances this spring, is counted to hand Snyder firsts in both the high and low hurdles.

Jimmy Maroney, who set a 10-second record in San Angelo Relays to beat Abilene's best, will be a heavy favorite in the sprints for Snyder. Tommy Minton, who has tossed the shot to almost 50 feet, is a standout in the weights, too.

And Snyder will team Maroney, Billy Harless, Jesse Crawford and John Weaver in the 440-yard sprint relay. That's the quartet which won first San Angelo Relays ahead of Abilene, Del Rio and Dumas.

Colorado City will be strongest with McKay in the high jump, and possibly the broad jump, with Jim Womack, Robert Womack, Kenneth Northcutt, Gary Lightfoot, Randolph Cupp and Wayne Reed in the 440-yard relay.

The sprint 440 relay four-some, although not as good as Snyder, would have won third place in the Brady Relays behind Big Spring and Brownwood ahead of San Angelo and New Braunfels.

but it was disqualified on a baton pass. Disqualification came when the Wolves overstepped the line which was hard to see on a wet cliche track.

And the mile relay quartet finished fourth at Brady and has beaten Sweetwater in practice.

Reed, Cupp and Lightfoot will enter the 100-yard dash. All 3 qualified for the semifinals at Brady and Reed was among the 7 finalists.

Jim Womack and Northcutt will be entered in the 440-yard dash while Joe Tarter and Ronald Lyons will be entrants in the 180-yard low hurdles. Lyons also will be in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Lightfoot, Tarter and Jim Womack will run the 220-yard dash. John Johnson, who was fourth in the 880 at Brady last Saturday, will be the Wolves' half mile hope. Robert Womack, who was fifth behind Johnson at Brady, will be switched to the mile run if district officials will allow the change.

Robert is eager to try an iron-man effort in the district meet. About 15 minutes after he finishes the mile run, he will race a 440-yard lap on the Wolves' hopeful mile relay. He did it in practice this week with surprising efficiency.

Northcutt, the young sophomore, may add valuable points with the shot put and discus. His 44-foot toss of the shot at Brady, although not on par with Snyder Minton's 48-plus, could be No. 2 in the district meet. It earned sixth at Brady.

Northcutt's discus heave was 126 feet 3 inches at Brady, good enough for 6th too. And it could help the Colorado City point-making Saturday. McKay also is expected to try his hand at the discus in the hope of picking up an extra point or 2.

Students Know From Where They Speak

Colorado City High students speaking to civic clubs during National Library Week have nailed down solid reasons for libraries, books and reading. Their timely talks of good sense have proved them exceptional ambassadors.

Statistics from our public school libraries and Mitchell County Federation Library reveal they speak not with empty words, either, for these facilities are put to constant use by our students and young citizens — both in study and worthwhile leisure.

For an idea of how the citizenship as a whole is turning more and more to books and good reading, Mrs. Boyd Dozier revealed that in a 6 hour period Saturday 176 volumes were checked out of the County Federation Library. And these do not include reference materials used during the day of additional persons visiting the county-wide facility.

Still there are many who belittle the offerings of literature, become too rushed within our busy society to begin adventures in reading and become addicted to hearsay and the non-fact instead of seeking knowledge from factual printed words.

Whether persons of the sort realize it or not, they and all of us in the world depend upon the printed word. Infact, the every-day conversation of the average man is filled with allusions to things he has read in the newspaper, subjects he has been exposed to in school books, moral and social tones founded on Bible scripture, governmental and business principles from the lessons taught by our nation's forefathers, traits and human psychology picked up unknowingly from characters and heroes of novels.

To a large extent the work we do, the people with whom we associate, the kind of a person we marry is determined by our education and our reading habits in our most impressionable and formative years.

The world right now is going through social and technical revolutions of tremendous depth and speed which effect every city and every home within the world — Colorado City as well as Moscow, Capetown, Bombay, Beirut. And the signposts tell us that our ability to live with ourselves in peace and brotherhood has never caught up with our ability to invent and develop the material.

Therefore, we must be more alert, better educated, more concerned, more efficiently prepared for understanding for the whole world around us. And one of the best sources for this knowledge is through experience — experience of the greats and not-so-greats recorded in the printed word in good books with in our libraries.

Festival Offers Business Opportunity

Developments move rapidly for Colorado City's Tumbleweed Festival, April 28-29. Even Karl Farr, long-time guitar player for Sons of The Pioneers, writes that the event will be something of a homecoming for him because of the fact he once lived for a while in Colorado City.

The fact of the matter is that Colorado City is obtaining publicity on a major scale as the idea and plans for the unique festival move along. There can be little doubt the festival itself — with its tumbleweed parade, stage shows by Sons of The Pioneers, the queen's contest, our Governor and all the rest — will attract thousands to our city for the night and day event. Community enterprise and cooperation are an essential role in this celebration. And the combination has been ready and willing at every stage, too.

But it seems that Colorado City will be waving goodbye a wonderful opportunity if it does not coordinate shopping and business appeal with the entertainment and festivity. There is no reason whatsoever why merchants could not make attractive a Tumbleweed Festival of shopping buys. It takes just a little planning, a bit of extra merchandising, some promotion and the festival would benefit along with local business.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

TV or Grownups, Which Is Worse?

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek discusses television this week. At least we suppose that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:

It never has worried me much about what other people thought about me, consequently I don't get riled up over what the television industry thinks of the American public, but this doesn't go for some people.

I was reading in a newspaper only this morning where the head of the national PTA was outraged at what the television people are offering the public, especially the children.

She said there is far too much violence, too much silliness, too much trash, offered the 30 million children watching T. V. these days. Also she said if the television industry would take a survey they'd find the American public isn't as moronic as the industry apparently thinks.

Well, it's my opinion that the television people aren't in much shape, mentally speaking, to be surveying anybody's intelligence, judging by some of the programs I've had a chance to see.

But back to the violence angle. The brutality, the shooting, the crime, the delinquency, the stupidity, shown on television, with millions of kids watching, I know there are some people who say if you don't think your children ought to see such programs, turn the thing off, but they don't understand the control the kids have over the situation. The only way to keep most children of most parents from watching television is to wait till the picture tube blows out.

Consequently, the argument is that the only way to improve the situation is to improve the programs, and until they do, we're liable to have more juvenile delinquents, more youthful crime, more children with the wrong viewpoint toward life, etc.

Well, now, I'll tell you, I think a lot of kids could stand some improving, but I doubt if improving television will do it.

And if you want to protect children from hearing about violence, silliness and stupidity, you'd better not let them read the newspapers or listen to the radio or read history. In fact, you'd better not let them associate with adults at all.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

State's Freeways Only Sixth Complete, But Most in Nation

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Texas leads all other states in the building of new interstate highways since the beginning of the program four years ago.

Today, 562 miles have been completed in Texas, says State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, and 355 more miles are under construction. Cost so far: $460,400,000.

Target for the State is to have 3,030 miles in this main, heavy-duty trunk system.

These roads, Greer points out, have built-in safety features and are three times as safe as ordinary highways.

Features that enable these roads to cut the traffic toll by one death a year for each 10 miles of length are:

1. Dividing of traffic to eliminate head-on collisions.
2. Grade separations to cut out intersection accidents.
3. Wide lanes with surfaced shoulders to provide ample room for passing.
4. Controlled access entrances and exits to ease cars on and off the highway.

But the super-roads are only a fraction of the program in the state with more miles of public roads than any other in the country.

In the less elaborate divided highways not in the interstate system, Greer says the state now has 1,029 miles of divided highways, with a goal of at least 2,700 miles by 1975.

Most Texas mileage is in the farm-to-market system, now up to 30,156 miles.

INDUSTRY SEEKING

Reorganized Texas Industrial Commission is setting out toward some tall goals with a short stick.

Commission, with a staff of one man plus a secretary, is after a Texas-sized share of new industries for the state. Its appropriation for the year is only $23,750.

Other agencies of government have assisted, however, with research. Questionnaires already have been sent to Texas cities to build up a permanent file of data on potential sites.

NO SPACES — As Texas prairie gives way to subdivisions, more and more Texans are getting in each other's way.

Problems growing out of the population explosion and rapid urbanization of Texas were the subject of a two-day Austin conference for newspapermen, civic leaders and planners.

Texas newspapers were commended by Steve Matthews, executive director of the Texas Municipal League, for their efforts in keeping the reading public informed on complex and changing city problems.

Conferees pondered how to plan orderly, pleasant communities for the two million additional residents expected to be added to Texas cities in the next ten years. Also, how to correct the all-too-prevalent bane of "acres of hot asphalt and cold stone," congested streets and the "grotesque suburban sprawl."

A court order from the district court in Amarillo said the defendants had given notice of appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals, Austin.

Since the cases were criminal cases — driving while intoxicated, contributing to the delinquency of a minor — the civil court could not handle them.

And since they were appealed to the civil court, the criminal court could not handle them.

HOME HELD UP — Highly controversial $100,000-plus home for the Sam Houston State College president will not be built unless the governor and legislative budget board give the green light.

Henry Sears, chairman of the board of regents for teachers' colleges, made this promise to the Senate cost of government committee. It budget board opinion follows that of many legislators' recent comments. It will take a dim view of the project.

Senators told Sears they were linked with the teachers' college board for what they regarded as a "complete breach of faith" and an apparent by-passing of legislative intent to keep a check-rein on college building programs.

TOURISTS FALLS — Texas had a $100,000,000 slip in tourist spending between 1957 and 1959.

State Highway Department's 1959 Tourist Industry report shows: for 1957, 10,300,000 visitors; $331,000,000 spent; for 1959, 9,600,000 visitors; $431,000,000 spent.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Pendulum Swings Toward Big Labor

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

One of the simple laws of physics we learned as a child is that when a swing goes far out in one direction the force of gravity invariably pulls it back to center and then momentum carries it out in the other direction.

In more than 30 years of association with Washington we have learned that there exists a similar and equally true phenomena in government. Public opinion, in this case, serves the same function as gravity does in the example of a swing.

Congress and the administrative agencies of government react to public opinion in the same manner as an object, such as a swing or pendulum, reacts to gravity. One excess almost invariably is followed by an excess in the opposite direction.

The colonists reacted to excessive taxation by the British with violence that erupted at the Boston Tea Party. An early Congress enacted trade barriers and tariff walls to halt cheap competition from abroad.

Business, protected by high tariffs and aided by cheap labor, adopted a policy of "the public be damned" and in the process accumulated huge personal fortunes. A wave of public resentment forced through Congress anti-trust and other repressive laws, some of which have since been modified.

At the time of the formation of Standard Oil and the U. S. Steel Corporation, the pendulum was far on the side of the power of big business. The excesses that occurred in this period resulted in the pendulum starting to swing toward government regulation.

The public demanded "protection" from the excesses of big business. Congress created the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Anti-trust Division in the Justice Department.

The pendulum had begun to swing away from business. Teddy Roosevelt gave it quite a push and later his cousin, Franklin, helped push it further. Congress created the Federal Communications Commission, the Securities Exchange Commission, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the TVA, NRA and other alphabetical control agencies.

While business was being shackled with regulations, Congress passed the Wagner Labor Relations Act which gave labor many advantages, including exemptions from anti-trust regulations imposed on business. The result was Big Labor in the place of Big Business.

Irresponsible labor leaders promoted a reign of intimidation and in many instances, lawless terror through strikes and violence. Government sanctioned, and in some cases, encouraged those excesses.

Recent hearings and investigations by the Senate McClellan Committee into labor union practices have shown very clearly that the pendulum has swung too far on labor's side. They show that legislative advantages given labor have been misused and in some instances have endangered the democratic principles of self-government.

Public opinion has begun to demand that the government curb the activities of such labor officials as James Hoffa. The pendulum has begun to swing away from labor dictators and the innocent will suffer with the guilty.

Editor's note: The second column in this series will discuss irresponsible procedures of government regulatory agencies.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Accumulative Gain Pays for Retailer

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher.

In every community there are stores to which a consumer will always look first for a particular kind of product.

The retail firm which attains this primary position has built an asset more valuable than inventory or property. It is an advantage which is not quickly attained or easily maintained.

When a consumer automatically goes to a certain store to look for garden tools it is because of some image of the store which was implanted in his mind.

Strictly Fresh

One of the best exercises for a teenager is early training in stretching dollars.

Middle age is here when you complain about the rough ride in the golf bag.

You know spring has arrived when the first of the late snows start to fall.

In the past, The creation of images which result in unconscious patronage of a business is one of the most important functions of advertising.

The creation of distinctive company images is a slow and subtle process. The effects are not immediately apparent.

A young mother shopping for her first baby clothes might choose a shop because she was favorably impressed by advertising she read while still in high school.

Her husband, for the first time, in the market for an outboard motor, might just as automatically go to a certain hardware store because of the impression made by a motor boat ad published three years earlier.

The importance of these long range benefits from advertising was noted by a Memphis department store executive when he said:

"We are not so much concerned about the response to our advertising the day after publication; but we are greatly concerned about the accumulative effect five years from now."

BIBLE COMMENT

Greatest Element In Jesus' Promise

In the long course of history, it is appalling to realize how many of the world's great have had as a chief purpose in their life.

It has been not only on the battlefield "where thousands die to lift one hero to fame," but in the last of conquest and power entire peoples have been exterminated.

In contrast with all that dark and terrible record are the records of many whose distinction has been in life-protecting and life-saving. In many cases, their immediate inspiration and example is Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus declared his mission was to give life, and to give it more abundantly (John 10:10).

What is that more abundant life that Jesus gives to man? First of all, it is life itself a sense of the reality of being one's self, of belonging, of consciousness that is ours, not a faraway beginning in a dim and distant Adam.

It is an awakening, a quickening of the soul, when man realizes some of the wonderment of his own being.

With this sense of life's value, of belonging, is the sense of performance — that life in a spiritual sense is never destroyed.

In what does the abundance of the Christian life consist? Undoubtedly its deepest element is a sense of inward peace. In those who have been most truly Christian that inward peace has been an indelible possession, triumphing over suffering and persecution.

Junior High Coach Wins Movie Prize

Two persons will receive six-month theatre passes in a presentation on the stage of the Palace Theatre, Wednesday at 9 p. m. as winners of the Record's Academy Award Contest.

Mrs. Annie Dixon, manager of the theatre, will make the presentations to the following:

Jeff Walker, seventh grade coach at Colorado Junior High School and Cara Terry of 944 East 13th Street.

The two winners each missed one classification. Walker picked Ed Wynn instead of Hugh Griffin as best supporting actor, while Cara Terry picked Elizabeth Taylor as best actress, over Simone Signoret, winner.

Other Oscar winners were best actor, Charlton Heston; best supporting actress, Shelley Winters, and the best movie, for 1959 was "Ben Hur."

The two winners are requested to be present Wednesday night at the Palace, as guests of the theatre. They will be presented the six-month pass, good from April 15 to October 15, 1960.

Letters To the Editor

Dear Sir,
In the April 3rd edition of the Record you ran a column by Vern Sanford entitled "Outdoors in Texas." Speaking of fishing he wrote, "Assume that our fish are ten feet deep and the barometer is very low at 29.50. This means that the pressure on the fish is about 18.80 pounds per square inch."

My rough calculations give 18.729 psi. If Mr. Sanford is to jest about people who go deeply into a subject, then he should be meticulous enough to round his figure to 18.7 psi. He does slightly redeem himself when he writes that the "barometer reading jumps to . . . 30.50. If the fish remain at ten feet, the pressure will increase half a pound per square inch." Mr. Sanford has rounded off correctly here, for the increase is roughly 0.5094 psi.

This may appear to be hair-splitting; but if Mr. Sanford and a lot of other people would spend more time at elementary physics and math, then the rest of us would have time to fish.

Furthermore, if we had some of the money back that it took to send all of those footlockers to Germany some 14 million dollars lost because of a misplaced decimal point then we might be able to buy some worms.

Sincerely yours,
Girvin Harkins

IN A FULL-SIZE WAGON! You'd never know it by looking, but this is America's lowest-priced* full-size wagon! Its 97 cubic feet of loadspace is the biggest in its field. Extra-wide rear gates open easily, with one hand, to make loading a cinch. And this Ford Ranch Wagon is built for people. You get a foam-padded front seat, plus leg, hip and head room to spare. And it's built for savings, too. It thrives on low-cost regular gas. A Pull-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles without an oil change. The aluminum muffler normally lasts twice as long as conventional types. And its Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing.
