Recon Plane Missing Out Of Seoul

SEOUL (AP)—A U.S. Air Force reconnaissance plane with two men aboard disappeared today on a routine training flight and a search was launched. An American military spokesman said there was no possibility it was lost over North Korea.

The spokesman said South Korean and U.S. planes were looking for the RF4C from Osan Air Force base 30 miles south of Seoul. The plane carrying a pilot and navigator had been dispatched to the Taegu area about 150 miles southeast of the South Korean capital. It was due back at its base by 1 p.m. (11 p.m., EST).

Meanwhile, American border sentinels thwarted another North Korean attempt to sneak into South Korea Wednesday night in a brief exchange of fire, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Soldiers of the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division spotted an intruder on the western front. They fired several rounds, drew a few rounds and fired back a few more. There were no American casualties and no evidence of any damage to the enemy.

Poisoner Ruled Insane

CORDELE, Ga. (AP)—Janie Lou Gibbs has been declared insane after she admitted killing five members of her family with arsenic.

Mrs. Gibbs, 35, showed no emotion Wednesday as the Superior Court jury's verdict was read. A psychiatrist said the plump matron had explained the deaths by speaking of a need "to do something in a compulsive manner which she could not explain."

The jury deliberated 40 minutes before committing Mrs. Gibbs to a state mental hospital, thus ruling out a murder trial on a charge of killing her son, 19-year-old Roger Gibbs, with several milligrams of arsenic.

Two other sons, a grandson and the accused woman's husband, died within the past two years.

The psychiatrist said Mrs. Gibbs admitted she poisoned five members of her family, including Roger, but refused to believe the boy was dead. Turner said she showed no sign of feeling guilty.

JUDGE DECIDES

Must Cut Hair

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—A judge has ruled he will not order the Norwalk school system to reinstate boys suspended from a high school for wearing their hair too long.

Judge Thomas O'Sullivan denied the applications Wednesday by the Civil Liberties Union for an injunction to reinstate the boys at once.

Dr. Luther Howard, principal of Brien McMahon High School, suspended 51 boys Jan. 29 because they violated a rule which forbids a boy's hair long enough to cover eyes, ears or collars.

All but 16 boys had their hair cut to conform to the regulation.

Marina Shows Up

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Russian-born widow of Lee Harvey Oswald is a reluctant witness before the grand jury in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's probe of the assassination in Dallas of President John Kennedy.

Marina Oswald Porter, the remarried widow of the man named by the Warren Commission as the lone assassin, is under subpoena to testify today and Friday.

Mrs. Porter opposed extradition to New Orleans, saying she knew nothing to help Garrison in his inquiry.

A judge in Dallas ruled she was "a material and necessary witness."

Discrimination

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A white janitor has charged his Negro foreman with discrimination.

The charges are being pressed on the janitor's behalf by Edgar Moon, a Negro and assistant grievance committee member of United Steelworkers Union Local 7174.

Gerald Roman, 26, filed the grievance, accusing Morris Fountain of refusing to let him leave his job to smoke, have a soft drink or engage in conversation.

Roman is the only white man among 21 office janitors at Mesta Machine Co.

Legalizes Booze

EAST TAWAKONI, Tex. (AP)—Residents of this recently incorporated village on the Rains County side of Lake Tawakoni voted 38-32 Wednesday to legalize sale of liquor.

It was the first local option election since the county voted dry early in the 1900s.

Atlanta-Bound, But Snowbound

A number of cars (at left and in median strip) were abandoned today when icy pavement slowed traffic to a crawl on Atlanta's expressway system. An unexpected Wednesday night snow storm glazed streets and highways in the area. This scene was taken on an expressway north of Atlanta this morning.

Expected Offensive May Have Started

SAIGON (AP)—The long-expected Communist offensive to drive U.S. forces from the two northernmost provinces of South Vietnam may have started.

North Vietnamese troops made a heavy artillery and ground attack on the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh today after taking the Lang Vei Special Forces camp nearby in the northwest corner of the country.

AP correspondent John T.

Wheeler reported from Khe Sanh that the Red gunners fired more than 300 artillery, rocket and mortar rounds into Marine positions there, and North Vietnamese troops drove the Marines from part of a hilltop outpost a mile from the perimeter of the Khe Sanh base.

The Leathernecks counter-attacked and, with heavy artillery and air support, drove the North Vietnamese down the hill. During the attack on Lang Vei

Wednesday, the enemy troops ringing Khe Sanh moved in closer to the American lines. Marine officers at the base believed a major assault was imminent on the Marine base and the air strip which is its chief avenue of supply and reinforcement.

Officers at Khe Sanh said the Communists appear bent on a drive to the South China Sea along east-west Route 9, the western end of which Khe Sanh guards.

LAST LEAVE

The last American, South Vietnamese and Montagnard forces were driven from the Lang Vei camp three miles west of Khe Sanh after an 18-hour siege in which the defenders suffered heavy casualties.

Fourteen of the 24 Americans escaped, and eight of them were wounded, some critically. The other 10 were dead, captured or trying to make it to Khe Sanh.

Of about 400 South Vietnamese and Montagnard irregulars in the camp, some 25 wounded were lifted to safety by U.S. helicopters along with the U.S. troops. Nearly 150 more irregulars made it to the Khe Sanh base during the night or today, leaving about 225 dead or missing.

Survivors reported that after a heavy artillery bombardment Tuesday night, the camp was hit on two sides by North Vietnamese tanks being used in the war for the first time, while foot troops came in between them.

ENDED QUICKLY
The battle ended quickly, but eight of the Americans retreated into the headquarters bunker under three feet of reinforced concrete and two feet of steel. The North Vietnamese hurled small explosive satchel charges and tear gas and incendiary grenades down the air shafts.

The summary for last week showed 2,757 Americans wounded, with 1,228 of them not requiring hospitalization. The number of South Vietnamese wounded during the seven-day period was listed at 2,230.

The Command said last week's tolls raised to 108,428 the number of Americans wounded in the war.

As of the end of last week, 997 Americans were listed as missing, captured or interned.

THIRD PARTY CANDIDATE

Wallace Jumps Into Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—George C. Wallace announced today as a third party candidate for president, declaring that neither major party is heeding the "wishes of the American people" and pledging "I will run to win."

The former Alabama governor, who withdrew from a similar third-party campaign bid four years ago, told a news conference: "I am in the race irrevocably."

HOPES
Wallace said he hopes his name will be on the ballot on all 50 states and that he will be able to finance such an effort.

"I believe the American people will finance any effort to give themselves a voice in the affairs of our country," he said.

When he withdrew in 1964, after the Republicans nominated Barry Goldwater for president, he said this showed his message for states rights had been heeded.

Today, Wallace noted he has repeatedly stated that unless the Republicans or Democrats offer the American people what he termed "a real choice in 1968" that he "would lead a political effort which would in fact offer this choice."

"There has been no response from either of the parties which would show the American people that they are heeding the growing disillusionment with what amounts to a one-party system in the United States," he said.

He said, "The American people are hungry for a change in the direction of our national government. They are concerned and disturbed about the trends being followed by our national leadership."

He called for an end to "crime running rampant in ev-

Connally May Call Special Session Soon Deal With Liquor Problems

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally said today he may have to call a special session to deal with Texas' liquor control problems.

Connally also told a hurriedly called news conference that he is giving serious consideration to asking the legislature again to pass a liquor by the drink bill and to put curbs on legislators who also act as lobbyists.

STRESSED

Connally stressed that 1969 appropriations and taxes needed to support them would be the first order of business at the yet unscheduled special session.

"I think it would be one of the best things that could happen to Texas if the legislature would pass a law making it illegal for senators and House members to practice before state boards and agencies," Connally said, speaking very emphatically.

He said he knew of specific instances when senators and representatives had used their influence as legislators to affect actions of state boards and agencies, including the Texas Liquor Control Board, but he refused to use any names.

"There have been times when they threatened to cut off appropriations if a certain agency did not accede to the wishes of some senator," he said.

The governor said he might not have time to prepare a full "conflict of interest" bill for the next legislative session should at least prohibit senators and representatives from representing clients before state boards and agencies. He said he did not think such a law would stop them from appearing as elected legislators representing their constituents in a public matter, such as a highway hearing.

REASON

Connally said one reason he is considering resubmission of the liquor by the drink bill was that "some of those today who appear so shocked and amazed at happenings (in the liquor control investigation) were among those who opposed my stricter liquor controls last year."

"I am still very strong on my liquor by the drink program and I will do everything I can to do away with the brown bags and the private clubs that are a subterfuge to state law."

Connally said he thought the "bad situation" now in liquor control "is very much like it was during prohibition. The true matter is that a vast majority of people in Texas favor liquor by the drink. But there is a militant minority composed of prohibitionists, teamed up with bootleggers and some of the industry itself to defeat the wishes of the majority," Connally said.

Connally said he had full confidence in the investigation being conducted by the TLCD, aided by the attorney general's department and the Department of Public Safety.

He said he "applauded" the announced House investigation into need for revision of state liquor laws but he did not think a House General Investigation Committee was needed to take over the investigation.

ABOUT NOEL

Connally was asked what he planned to do about the TLCD chairman, W. D. Noel of Odessa, whose term expired in November. The governor said Noel asked that he not be reappointed "long before all this began. But I do not want to do him an injustice. If I named a successor immediately I am afraid it would appear to reflect on him and I sure don't want to do that."

Release Of Names Seen As An Encouraging Sign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield calls North Korea's identification of the USS Pueblo's dead and wounded an encouraging sign the crew may be released. But the State Department cautions against expecting a quick follow-up.

Mansfield said in an interview he is optimistic because Panmunjom negotiations with the Communists are "being carried out on a reasonable level without the usual vituperation from the other side."

ENCOURAGING
"I think that the North Koreans' release of the names of the dead and wounded is an encouraging sign that we may get the crew members back," he said.

Mansfield, being briefed daily by the Johnson administration said he regards as significant the U.S. removal of the aircraft carrier Enterprise from the sea of Japan, where it was stationed after the North Koreans captured the intelligence-gathering Pueblo and her 83-man crew.

Sources at the United Nations said removal of the Enterprise was suggested to the United States last week by Hungary's U.N. Ambassador Karoly Csatorday, who said it would be a conciliatory gesture.

Still sailing in the Sea of Japan are two other American carriers, plus destroyers and support ships, with about 20 vessels making up the force.

Meanwhile, the Soviets have moved 10 or 15 warships into the same area.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey called conciliatory gesture.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey called

"positive" the furnishing of the list of the Pueblo's dead and injured.

But he added: "I don't want that act to lead to an assumption that we feel a breakthrough or a conclusion of this case is in any way imminent." Additional meetings are expected to be held with the North Koreans, he said.

Factory Explosions, Fire Kill Six And Injure 78

CHICAGO (AP)—Fire and a series of explosions ripped a sausage factory Wednesday killing six persons and injuring 78.

The body of the president of the firm, Roy R. Laidly, 61, was found in the rubble hours after the fire was extinguished. One person was missing and feared buried under fallen timbers and bricks.

FIREMEN

Three of the dead and 18 of the injured were firemen who were fighting the blaze when the main explosion shattered the building. A policeman said the blast hurled bodies of firemen and workers across a street. "People were running, falling, screaming everywhere," said Frank Shear, 52, general manager of the plant. "You could see bodies going up in the air."

A bystander, Charles Peppers, 23, said he saw a boy, about 10, with a badly cut face run out of a damaged house across the street from the factory.

"Help me, mister, help me!" the kid was screaming," Peppers said. "I lifted him over a fence but he ran away and I couldn't catch him."

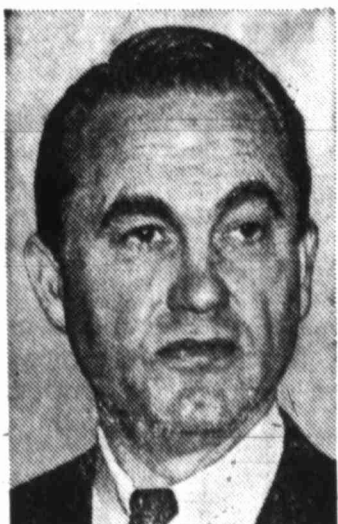

Windows were shattered in buildings and cars a block from the Mickleberry Sausage Co., located on the South Side, near the International Amphitheatre. Cars parked on streets along the building and in a used car lot across the street were battered by the debris.

About 250 firemen with 50 pieces of equipment battled the fire for hours in freezing temperatures before bringing it under control.

Nine Congressmen In Free

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

Four Texas congressmen face opponents in both parties in their bids for reelection in Associated Press survey shows. Nine others drew no opposition.

As the filing deadline passed, Texas Republicans, bidding for a two-party system, fielded candidates in 12 races and will re-elect one without opposition.

He is Rep. George Bush of Houston, the handsome, debonair oilman who won his House seat two years ago as the representative of the so-called silk stocking 7th District.

Political observers could not recall when a GOP congressional candidate ran in Texas without Democratic opposition.

"The probable reason," asserted William N. Blanton Jr., Harris County Democratic chairman, "is that George Bush has proved himself a better Democrat than Republican."

Bush's only Republican colleague, Bob Price of Pampa, is without primary opposition, but faces Dick Brown, Hartley County Democratic chairman, in the general election.

Democrats now hold 21 of the 23 Texas seats.

The four incumbents with twin challenges are Reps. Joe Pool of Dallas, J. J. Pickle of Austin, O. C. Fisher of San Angelo and Bob Casey of Houston.

Democrat David Ivy and Republican Jim Collins, both from Dallas, are after Pool's seat.

Anti-war candidate Fagan Dickinson, Austin Democrat, and Republican Ray Gabler, an Austin wholesale textile distributor, are trying to oust Pickle.

Odessa attorney Gordon F. Johnson takes on Fisher in the primary and Republican Jack Alexander, Odessa, a county commissioner, awaits the nominee.

Three contenders, Paul P. Priddy, Henry A. Diehl and Walter Henley, clash for the Republican nomination and a shot at either Casey or his Democratic opponent, Pasadena Mayor Clyde Doyal.

INDEPENDENT FILES

Two contests match incumbents against fellow Democrats, with the primary winner assured of election since no GOP opposition emerged.

One is in Dist. 2, where Rep. John Dowdy of Athens is challenged by Dempsey Henley, mayor at Liberty. The other is trying to unseat Rep. John Young.

Other than Bush, the eight unopposed House members are Wright Patman, Ray Roberts, Olin Teague, Jim Wright, Eligio de la Garza, Omar Burleson, George Mahon and Abraham Kazen Jr.

Rep. Bob Poage drew only token resistance, from Laurel N. Dunn of Waco, who filed as an independent.

OTHER CONTESTS

Here are other contests matching Democratic incumbents against GOP challengers:

Dist. 5—Rep. Earle Cabell vs. Carl Nixon and Dr. Roy Wagner, both of Dallas.

Dist. 8—Rep. Bob Eckhardt vs. Joe Stevens, Houston.

Dist. 9—Rep. Jack Brooks vs. O. C. Galloway and Henry C. Presler, both of Beaumont.

Dist. 13—Rep. Graham Purcell vs. Frank Crowley, Dallas Republican, and Henry L. Sullivan, an independent from Lewisville.

State Senators Face Rough Races

AUSTIN (AP)—Nine of the 15 state senators who must run for reelection this year are home free but at least four others face rough primary campaigns.

And both Republican senators face Democratic opponents.

MIDLAND RACE

Leading the list of senatorial primary conflicts is the Democratic battle shaping up in the 25th District where Sen. Dorsey Hardeman, 64, San Angelo attorney who is completing 20 years in the Senate and four in the House, is challenged by W. E. (Pete) Snelson, 44, Midland advertising man and former senator. Snelson lost to Hardeman by only 61 votes in 1966 after both were thrown into the same district by redistricting.

The winner faces Ernest Angelo, Midland engineer, Republican.

Sen. Bruce Reagan, Corpus Christi, is opposed in the Democratic primary by Rep. Ronald Bridges, who lost a hot Senate contest to Reagan earlier, and by Marty Garza and Mike McKennon, all of Corpus Christi.

Sen. Charles Herring, Austin, is opposed by Rep. Wilson Foreman in the Democratic primary and John S. Flannery, Blanco, Republican.

LIBERAL LEADER

Sen. Jim Wade, Dallas, is opposed by Mike McKool, Dallas leader among liberal Democrats, and B. W. Cruce Jr., also a Democrat. Robb Stewart, Republican, also is in the race.

Sen. Henry Grover, one of the two Republicans in the Senate, is opposed by Bill Stinson, Houston.

Sen. Ike Harris, Dallas Republican who was named in a special election to succeed the late Sen. George Parkhouse, Democrat, is opposed by Democrat Joe Moody of Dallas.

Those unopposed in either primary include Sens. A. M. Aikin, Paris; Barbara Jordan, Houston; Charles Wilson, Lufkin; William T. Moore, Bryan; Ralph Hall, Rockwall; A. R. Schwartz, Galveston; William N. Patman, Ganado; Jim Bates, Edinburg and Joe Christie, El Paso.

'The Rebel' Found Dead In Bedroom

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The body of actor Nick Adams was found Wednesday night in an upstairs bedroom of the West Los Angeles home where he lived alone.

The cause of death was tentatively listed as natural. An autopsy was scheduled. Police said there were no marks on the body.

Adams, 36, was the star of television's "The Rebel" several seasons back and appeared in a number of movies.

The actor's lawyer, Ervin Roder, said he climbed through a rear window because the door was locked and found Adams' fully clothed body sprawled on an unmade bed.

NICK ADAMS

DIVORCE PENDING

Adams and his estranged wife, actress Carol Nugent, became involved in cross divorce suits. For a time Adams had custody of their two children, Allyson 7, and Jeb Stuart, 6. A date for their divorce trial was pending, Miss Nugent's lawyer said.

The news of his death "upset her extremely," her attorney added.

In the last three years, Adams' career had fallen off, although he made several films abroad. His Hollywood pictures were limited to such movies as "Monster of Terror," "Young Dillinger," and "Frankenstein Conquers the World."

His lawyer said Adams was to film two new movies.

Adams was born July 10, 1931, in Nanticoke, Pa. His father was a coal miner and during the Depression Nick and his brothers were shunted to relatives. His real name was Nicholas Adamchick.

'Black Sergeant' Back Home—Still Wanted Man

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Melvin Murrel, the "Black Sergeant of Tuy Loan" who had a $6,300 price put on his head by the Viet Cong, is back home—still a wanted man.

This time, by private, civic and service organizations that have besieged the Marine hero with requests to speak to them of his experiences in Vietnam.

"It has kept me pretty busy and I still am a little up in the air about the future," says the tall Negro who was discharged last month after two tours of duty in the Southeast Asian country.

Murrel, who less than two months ago faced a daily diet of combat, terror, hardship and little sleep, has found his early days as a civilian safer but just as hectic.

Since his discharge, he has married his high school sweetheart, corresponded with Marines and Vietnamese villagers, the State Department, colleges and spoken to numerous gatherings.

"I just haven't had time to sort it all out," he said. "I have thought of going back in some civilian capacity, possibly with the U.S. AID mission, but my immediate plans are for college. I'd like to get a political science degree. Then I could be of more help."

NEED BOOST

At meetings, the man known to the enemy as "Tung-si Jen" (The Black Sergeant) or "Tung-si Mel" (Sergeant Mel) stresses the need for American involvement "to halt communism."

"The South Vietnamese need a boost, and the Americans are the people to give it to them," he says.

"If we sell out the Vietnamese, the United States will lose all it has gained in Asia, in the Philippines, in Japan, in Laos, everywhere, because the Asians will know that the United States is only a paper tiger."

Murrel, 21, is the youngest of six children of Mrs. Eulia Mai Smith and the late Sydney Murrel Smith of Syracuse. Born Melvin Murrel Smith, he said he legally changed his name "for no special reason" when he enlisted in 1964 following graduation from Nottingham High School.

TWICE-WOUNDED

The twice-wounded Leatherneck said he volunteered to go back to Vietnam for a second tour in January, 1967, because "there was a lot more to be done and I also wanted to find out a little bit more why America was there."

As leader of a combined action platoon in the village of Tuy Loan, a few miles south of the big Marine base at Da Nang, Murrel quickly gained the confidence of the villagers and became a thorn in the side of the enemy.

Stewardesses Win First Round

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We're going to continue fighting the good fight because we're convinced we're right," says a spokesman for United Air Lines after losing a round in its battle to keep stewardesses single.

United fired three stewardesses on grounds of misconduct after they secretly married, but the stewardesses maintained they were improperly fired and deserved state jobless benefits.

The California Unemployment Appeals Board has ruled in the stewardesses' favor, saying California law voids any contract restraining marriage of an adult.

Though some airlines permit stewardesses to marry, United is against it.

At the annual business meeting, Miss Lucille Tucker, a registered nurse with the Texas State Department of Health, spoke on in-service training for nursing homes and extended care facilities.

The Big Country chapter of TNH Association represents 31 counties in the area, including homes from Knox City to Graham and from Brownwood to Abilene, to Snyder, Lamesa, Big Spring and San Angelo.

The chapter meets the last Friday of each month at Abilene and has 38 members. Purpose is to educate members on changing rules and regulations in the nursing home field, and to promote advancement of all nursing homes and related facilities for care of the aged.

Workshop Event Scheduled Tonight

Dr. Frankie Williams, clinical director of Big Spring State Hospital, will emcee the banquet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Allred Auditorium for those attending the workshop on the emotionally disturbed child being held at the state hospital.

The adolescent unit at the hospital will present a play, "Wagon Train Headed West," which they have written and produced. The play concerns the experiences of an eastern girl and her mother who travel west by wagon train.

Friday the workshop will open with a talk by C. G. Fairchild, assistant commissioner of Texas Education Agency, Austin, on "A statewide view of the program for the emotionally disturbed." Establishing a school program for the emotionally dis-

Five Watters Elect Officers

The Big Spring Five Watters, a citizens' band radio organization, have named the Rev. Johnny Welborn, pastor of the North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church, as president.

Other officers elected are D. B. Merrell, vice president; Mrs. Janie Fritz, secretary; Mrs. Albert (Vada) Heckler, treasurer; Albert M. Heckler, reporter; Darrell Pollock, parliamentarian.

There was some discussion by the 14 members attending of a CB trip to the Monahans Sandhills State Park. At the last meeting, Bob Fritz, who has gone to Kansas for five weeks of special training before going to Thailand, was honored. The club meets each first and third Monday of the month at Birdwell Lane Methodist Church. Fifth Mondays are for social affairs.

Jason Tollett Named To Honor

Jason B. Tollett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tollett, 606 Hillside, has been named to the superintendent's list of New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N.M., according to Maj. Gen. Sam W. Agee, superintendent. To achieve this, the cadet must first be named to the dean's list (3.0 or more on a 4.0 maximum grade schedule) and the commandant's list (high degree of proficiency in military conduct and discipline). Only 8.9 per cent made the superintendent's list. Jason is a sergeant in the cadet corps at NMML.

ANTI-CRIME PROPOSALS APPLAUDED

Johnson Stages Antiriot Surprise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief surprise in the crime control program President Johnson submitted to Congress was his appeal for antiriot legislation similar to a proposal the administration wouldn't endorse last year.

The bill Johnson proposed Wednesday would make it a felony, punishable by up to five years in prison, to go from one state to another with intent to incite or organize a riot.

BOGGED DOWN

A similar measure was passed by the House last summer during widespread racial disorders but got bogged down in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The antiriot bill was among more than a score of anticrime steps outlined by Johnson.

Chairman James Eastland, D-Miss., of the Judiciary Committee said he was gratified Johnson recommended the antiriot bill. "There is no doubt about the urgency of this legislation," he said.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen suggested the President's bill may be inadequate.

TERROR

Sens. Philip Hart, D-Mich., and Edward (Teddy) Kennedy, D-Mass., who spearheaded opposition to the House-passed measure last year, expressed reservations about the antiriot legislation.

Hart asserted the bill should not prevent legitimate protests and infringe on what he called freedom of speech and assembly.

Kennedy told the Senate last year there was no real need for federal legislation in this field and that it might mislead people into thinking the riot problem had been dealt with adequately.

Johnson said in his message the bill was "not a solution to our urban problems," but would empower the government "to act against those who might move around the country inciting and joining in the terror of riots."

GUN-CONTROL

Generally, Johnson's anticrime proposals were applauded by Congress.

But there also were areas of controversy, like the President's renewed appeals for gun-control legislation and a measure to ban wiretapping except in cases directly related to national security. There is considerable opposition to the gun-control bill and some Congress members contend the wiretap ban would hamper police.

Speculation was that Johnson would modify his wiretap proposal in an effort to win passage of the safe-streets bill he first submitted last year. He didn't do so and the legislation he submitted would ban most police wiretaps.

Marine's Parents Study Letters With Sad Pride

DALLAS (AP) — "Victory in Vietnam today will mean less fighting in the smaller, less powerful countries of tomorrow," wrote Pfc. Carl W. Dorries.

His letters came from South Vietnam and the young Marine's parents reviewed the content with saddened pride Wednesday.

The word they had feared came Sunday—Pfc. Dorries, 21, was killed in action Jan. 31 as his platoon was wiped out trying to repel part of the massive Viet Cong offensive against all populated areas in South Vietnam.

MUST NOT FAIL

Dorries had served nine months in the northernmost part of that embattled country, twice suffering wounds.

Some of his letters didn't arrive here until Monday's mail, and those helped a lot, said his father, Carl Dorries, mechanic for a new car dealer and himself a Navy veteran of World War II.

Parents of the slain Marine felt that, in writing often of his deeply personal feelings, he explained his commitment to the Vietnam conflict best when he told them:

"If we fail here, if we forsake Vietnam, we fail ourselves and, in fact, forsake the world."

Young Dorries left North Texas State University after two years to enlist in 1966. He was assigned under a combined action program placing small Marine units in Vietnamese villages to help the people there defend themselves.

FREEDOM THREAT

"The people here," he wrote, "are striving to attain freedom from a tyrant that threatens them today, the world tomorrow."

One of his main concerns, Dorries said at another point, was the attitude of some people back home. He expressed a wish for a couple of draft card burners to be assigned to his unit, observing, "I know they wouldn't fight, but at least they could pack a little ammo."

The Marine from Dallas had mentioned some anxiety about being in an exposed position at Thua Thien, near the Demilitarized Zone, and he wrote in December about a massive buildup by the Viet Cong. He asked that his family pray for him.

The father voiced a hope that the three packages of supplies he mailed only Saturday would be kept by the Marines receiving them and put to good use.

"He lived and died for what he believed," said the elder Dorries, who has one other son. "I always told my boys to live what they believe and practice it."

Computers Nab 651 With Errors

Only 651 blushing Northern Texas taxpayers were caught with their errors showing by the IRS computer during January, according to Ellis Campbell Jr., district director for Northern Texas. Campbell says that 27,779 taxpayers' returns were processed by the computer. The 651 errors represents a small 2.4 per cent as compared to the 6.6 per cent error rate by taxpayers from this region last year.

Taxpayer slips were: 37 failures to send statements or schedules required; 57 omitted, incomplete or erroneous Social Security numbers; 64 missing forms W-2; 84 missing signatures; 157 math errors; and 252 wrong tax table, line or column.

A Devotional For The Day

In the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed. (Mark 1:35)

PRAYER: Our Father, we need Thee every hour. Strengthen us in our special time of meeting Thee that we may receive love, strength, and peace needed today. In the Master's name. Amen.

Action Underway

The city is moving to meet the first phase of the development schedule for the historic "big spring" site, a special committee on the spring program was told at a Tuesday meeting.

Access, both from existing roads and from the City Park side, is one of the first steps, according to Larry Crow, city manager. Installation of a circulating pump to animate the "spring" which has been dry for more than half a century, also is high on the list of priorities, along with fencing, sanitation, policing, etc.

The special committee received a list of half a dozen steps suggested by Marvin Springer, city planner, in his visit here Tuesday. One result was establishment of a steering committee to expedite the work.

Signs point to some action on the project, and we hope that it proceeds apace. There is little time to lose in making it easily accessible and as reasonably attractive as time will permit by the time HemisFair '68 visitors begin streaming through here in late spring and summer.

The time for talk is now short; action is the necessity of the day.

Pointing Wrong Way

Charles de Gaulle's apologists argue that his apparently anti-American policies are really nothing more than balance-of-power politics in new dress, or an effort to restore equilibrium in world affairs upset by the ascendancy of U.S. power. However that may be, he has succeeded in creating an unprecedented Franco-phobia in this country, more widespread and intense than the Anglophobia of an earlier and simpler era.

Certainly his latest pronouncement will acutely strain Franco-American relations. That is the confirmation of his defense minister's shocking report that new French military strategy will aim France's developing nuclear missile arsenal in all directions, meaning it will be targeted on the United States (Germany and Britain, too, no doubt) as well as on the Soviet Union.

Unless De Gaulle is hopelessly senile and immune to rational advisers, of which there is no evidence, then this must be taken as a diplomatic maneuver rather than a military strategy. For it is inconceivable that France and the United States would ever have cause for a nuclear exchange, and France's small nuclear power and vulnerable compactness would make such an exchange with either the United States or Russia suicidal.

De Gaulle's purpose, apparently, is to convince the Soviet Union of France's sincere support for East-West détente and determination to try to lead Western Europe into third-force neutrality in the Gaullist concept of equilibrium. But how can he persuade Americans to trust an ally who doesn't know which direction to point his guns?

Our Reaction In The Pueblo Affair

WASHINGTON — When the naval ship "Pueblo" was seized off the coast of North Korea on January 23, the American people were shocked and bewildered. Their confusion has by no means been removed, though two weeks have elapsed since the capture.

The reason for this is that many persons, including members of Congress, are not familiar with the operations of the American intelligence system. Partisan politicians promptly accused the administration of neglect of duty, failure to protect the ship, and other things which will be found upon examination to be irrelevant and only bring about unnecessary controversy.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE McNamara has made a clear explanation of why the U.S. vessel was not protected by planes or warships. He gave the information during a television interview on NBC's "Meet the Press" last Sunday. What he said was no surprise to anyone who understands intelligence operations in a military sense. He was asked how the "Pueblo" could be captured so easily and why it was not better protected. He replied:

"FIRST, to have protected it would have been a provocative act. Secondly, it would have compromised the mission. This ship went undetected by the North Koreans for 10 to 12 days. During that period of time it carried out its mission. Not only would it have been subject to capture during that period had it been detected, but also their reaction, a reaction it was sent there to determine, would have been quite different. And, finally, the protection itself always runs the risk of leading to military escalation . . .

"WE ARE OPERATING on the high seas in an entirely legal fashion. Neither the Soviets nor we protect ships of this kind."

"Any reaction force (to rescue the ship after its seizure) that would have moved into the area would have moved into the air control sectors of the North Korean air defense, manned by about 500 aircraft. And almost surely any reaction force that we could have mounted, or could have been expected to mount, would have faced a bloody battle at the time. And, finally, I think it is quite clear with hindsight that no reaction force could have saved those men."

SECRETARY OF STATE Rusk, who was on the same program, made it plain that, as far as the United States knows, the American vessel was at no time in territorial waters, which means it was more than 12 miles out to sea. Even if it wasn't, he pointed out, there was no right of seizure under international law.

The reason the United States government did not react with a retaliatory force to the ship's capture was that the crew of more than 80 Americans aboard the "Pueblo" would have started a military action might have meant the instant execution of the American sailors.

THE AMERICAN crew will doubtless be released. The reason for it would be that the North Koreans would not wish to precipitate a climax in relations with this country.

If the American crew is not freed, there may be a renewal of the whole Korean conflict, which has been in a stalemate since the armistice was signed in 1953. North Korea is in no position to defend itself without the aid of Red China and the Soviet Union. It is improbable that either Peking or Moscow would wish to start a large war in the Far East, not only because of the financial drain but the possibility that internal disturbances might as a consequence be provoked in Red China.

Russia, moreover, may find it advantageous to use its influence to try to resolve the "Pueblo" controversy amicably, though it may take several weeks for a final settlement to be reached.

Supports Police

HONOLULU (AP) — Earle Stanley Gardner, Perry Mason's creator, says he feels policemen should get better pay.

"And I don't mean just in folding money but in appreciation and cooperation," Gardner, 78, said in an interview on his arrival here aboard the liner Mariposa.

"We need better public support of the police and obedience to the law," he added. "There is too little of this right now."

Remember When Bean Soup Cost 15 Cents?

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a waking dream.

It brightens today and softens the harsh reality of yesterday, bringing back the best and glossing over the worst of the events that happened to us before along life's busy and fretful highway.

YOU'VE COME a long way down that traffic-clogged road yourself if you can look back and remember when—

For 15 cents you could get a steaming bowl of bean soup that would keep you from hunger the rest of the day.

As a boy you learned about women by looking at the corset illustrations in an old-time mail order catalog.

Car Safety Rift Heats Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over auto safety standards, now heating up again in Congress, soon may shift to the Supreme Court.

There the lawyer for an injured young ex-sailor is seeking a ruling that could force auto manufacturers to stop making cars that can zoom 150 and 160 miles an hour. If they did not, they could be held liable to innocent victims of high-speed accidents.

William Haddon Jr., director of the National Highway Traffic Safety Bureau, observing that accidents often can be attributed to high speeds, remarked last August:

"WE WOULD like to see cars built so that they cannot exceed a certain speed, say, for example, 80 miles an hour."

One of 47 safety standards proposed by the bureau last October was that all cars by 1970 or 1971 be equipped with devices to limit their maximum speed.

At the moment, the governing law on auto accidents is far different from the ruling sought in the appeal of Philip Michael Schemel, the injured ex-sailor from Springfield, Ohio.

Early one April morning in 1964, Schemel, then 19, was stretched out on the back seat of a car traveling a highway outside Oakland City, Ind. Suddenly the car was struck by a 1960 Impala zipping along, according to papers in the case, at 115 miles an hour.

THE YOUNG sailor was temporarily paralyzed below the neck and later got a medical discharge from the Navy.

His appeal contends General Motors, manufacturer of the Impala, is legally negligent in making cars that can go so fast.

Several courts have held the manufacturer's duty is to avoid hidden defects and latent dangers. The fact that cars can be driven way beyond speed limits has been ruled out as a hidden defect.

Also, the courts have said manufacturers cannot be bound for reckless use of cars.

In October, 1966, the Supreme Court would not hear a widow's claim that GM was negligent in designing a station wagon with an "X" frame that did not have side frame rails to protect the driver from a side collision.

Suggestions On Excessive Perspiration

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What can I do about excessive perspiration? I have tried numerous anti-perspirants without success — Mrs. H. L.

Most commercial anti-perspirants are really deodorants and do not necessarily reduce the amount of perspiration. That is under nervous control.

You might try a 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride, or a similar solution of an aluminum preparation. If such a solution, dabbed on the skin and allowed to dry, proves to be irritating — it can bother some sensitive skins — it may be necessary to use a weaker solution. Say 10 per cent. Some folks have the druggist add some aromatic material to give the solution a pleasant odor.

Another possibility is using a 10 per cent solution of formaldehyde in rubbing alcohol. This will reduce perspiration but it, too, may be irritating to some individuals. It also has a chemical odor that you may not like.

In very severe cases, a relatively simple operation can be performed to remove sweat glands from the armpits.

The extent of perspiration is governed by many factors: Temperature, humidity, warm clothing as opposed to lighter garments which allow for better circulation of air, and thus evaporation.

Anxiety, tenseness and fear also cause an increase in perspiration — this is the "nervous control" to which I referred earlier. If you can learn to relax, it will help.

Over-activity of the thyroid is associated with moist skin, and therefore can be a factor in excessive perspiration. "Night sweats" can be from tension — and also from some chronic infection.

Dear Dr. Molner: What do you do about pimples on the back? My mother just said to keep it clean and I should be glad they are not on my face. My complexion is better than most kids my age. 14.

One girl friend said to rub alcohol on it every night. Does this actually help? They bother me because they itch and because I would like to clear them up by next summer because they will be noticeable with a bathing suit. — S. D.

Mother is right so far as her comment goes. Acne most often attacks the face and/or back, and you can be glad it doesn't bother your face. Best advice I have for you is to read my booklet, "Acne, the Teenage Problem," and follow the instructions for skin care. The alcohol rubs might help and wouldn't hurt you. For the booklet send 25 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, in care of The Herald.

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out whether the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for send for Dr. Molner's booklet, "You And Your Gall Bladder." Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Facts Basis For Accurate Communication

I'm not so sure anymore that our modern communications are so good or worthwhile. At the very least, our present-day systems appear to fail just when we need them most.

CONSIDER this highly lauded network in the light of the recent Pueblo incident. This ship was loaded with every device — secret or merely sophisticated — known, yet could not get out a message sufficiently clear to get help to the scene. More, the information it did send has been interpreted and reinterpreted so many times, that all sides of every question related to the incident can use it a substantive argument.

At first, the event appeared as a plain case of piracy, and most folks were all for storming the shores of the Communists and turning loose our boys. The initial reports put the ship clearly on the high seas.

BUT SINCE that time, the whole thing continues to be watered down, as the interpreters hand out this report and that. Every day brings us yet another story, and frankly, I wonder if anybody really knows where the Pueblo was when it was overtaken. About all they seem to agree upon is that it was in the Pacific Theater.

EVEN some of our learned men in Congress appear to take the side of the commies, and almost every cable from that area brings another side to the issue. Despite the brief broadcast from that boat, it appears now that there is no agreement where it was or had been, nor exactly what was meant by the meagre reports someone sent before it went off the air.

AS FAR as giving us any facts, all that expensive and sophisticated equipment is of no more value than if we merely waited until the boat returned home, say as in the case of Columbus. At least that way, we would have less hullabaloo and fewer reinterpretations of the reinterpretations.

To be sure, there is considerable verbiage passed around with this modern marvel and the words get around a lot quicker. But what's the good if we still don't have adequate facts on which to draw some conclusions? — V. GLENN COOTES

How They Broke The News To Johnson

WASHINGTON — There has been a great deal of speculation as to why President Johnson had been informed so late on the capture of the Navy intelligence ship Pueblo.

Here is one version I heard, though I, of course, cannot verify every fact. When the news hit Washington at 11 p.m., it was first passed through lower channels at the Pentagon and the State Department before it was brought to the attention of Secretary McNamara and Secretary Rusk.

McNAMARA CALLED Rusk and said, "I think you'd better notify the President. This is a diplomatic problem."

"The heck it is," said the usually taciturn Dean Rusk. "That was a Navy ship and it's Defense's problem. You'd better notify the President."

"Wait a minute, Dean," said Secretary McNamara. "I just had to tell the President about us losing four hydrogen bombs over Greenland. He's going to start thinking of me as a purveyor of bad news."

"BESIDES," McNamara added, "that ship wasn't on a Navy mission. It was on an intelligence mission."

"Then Dick Helms of the CIA ought to tell the President," Rusk concluded.

A call was placed to Helms and when Secretary Rusk informed him of the situation, Helms couldn't have been more surprised.

"You better tell the President," Rusk said.

"I'd rather not if it's all the same to you," Helms said. "Besides, I don't have the White House telephone number. Say, I have an idea. Let's get Walt Rostow to tell him. Walt works in the White House so he's probably adept at breaking bad news to the President."

WASHINGTON — Whatever became of the Peace Corps after Sargent Shriver left it? And what will become of the War on Poverty when he departs?

Like Broadway, Federal Washington has its "great white way" where the glamor shows are staged. The star system prevails in both places.

A great lady or gentleman of the stage can carry a mediocre show, and a great play or musical can be the making of a rising young talent.

IT'S THE SAME way here. J. Edgar Hoover, the old trouper, packs 'em in at the FBI, despite groans from the critics' circle, but the CIA hasn't had a crowd-pleaser since Allen Dulles muffed his lines at the Bay of Pigs. The Defense Department gets a new lease on life behind the shy, winning smile of Clark Clifford. A Mister or Miss Personality can do for a dull theater what Betty Furness was brought in to do for Consumer Specialty after Mrs. Peterson had flopped.

BACK TO SHRIVER, his directorship of both Peace Corps and the anti-poverty War on Poverty gave him top billing in two popular but limited-run vehicles. The drippy sentimentality about loving peace and loving poverty was certain to cloy on the public taste, and to run out of Congressional backing. Perfectly cast in both roles as an Executive Suite evangelist, Shriver kept the shows before attentive audiences when lesser performers would have lost them. Only when he quit, did the Peace Corps have to move off Broadway with its new leading man, Jack Vaughan, and it now appears that the OEO is also headed toward slow oblivion with some other name at the top of the playbill.

BY HEROIC EFFORT last autumn, Shriver caused a bare majority of the House to give him enough money to carry on for a year or two. But the Congress stands convinced against its will and went home unconvinced still. This was a logic time for Shriver to remember the show-biz proverb: "Leave 'em laughing when you say goodbye."

Well known as he is in Washington, Shriver's expected transition into a candidate for Everett Dirksen's Illi-

SECRETARY RUSK woke Walt Rostow up and told him the news. He suggested Rostow go over to the White House immediately and tell the President. Rostow agreed and drove to the White House. He was quite frantic about how he would break the news to the President at such an ungodly hour. Nervously he walked up the stairway to the President's bedroom.

As he got to the room an inspiration hit him. He opened up the door and got down on his hands and knees and started crawling toward the bed. When he got there he grasped the President's hand.

"THAT YOU, Lynda Bird?" the President sleepily inquired.

"No, it's Walt."

"Walt who?"

"Walt Rostow, your White House aide."

"Well, what in tarnation are you doing on your hands and knees at this hour?" Eartha Kitt isn't coming to breakfast, is she?"

"No sir, I have something else to tell you."

"What is it?" the President said.

"DO YOU MIND if I get in bed?"

"It's very confidential."

"Blast it, Walt, what do you want to say?"

"Well, I know you're not going to believe this . . ."

At that moment Lady Bird woke up. "What's going on Lyndon?" she demanded.

"Nothing, Lady Bird. Walt Rostow is just trying to tell me something important."

"Whew, I had a fright there for a moment," Lady Bird said. "I was afraid Lynda Bird and Chuck had had their first fight."

The Show Must Have A Star

But the Congress stands convinced against its will and went home unconvinced still. This was a logic time for Shriver to remember the show-biz proverb: "Leave 'em laughing when you say goodbye."

Well known as he is in Washington, Shriver's expected transition into a candidate for Everett Dirksen's Illinois Senate seat has been surprisingly misdescribed. He would not, as variously reported, be a carpetbagger in Illinois, nor a third or fourth "Kennedy" to try for the Senate, nor a Great Society dropout like Secretary McNamara, Secretary Gardner and some others.

SHRIVER HAS always regarded himself as an Adlai Stevenson protégé on loan to the federal government. He always intended to return to Illinois and file a claim for some high office to which his work in the Stevenson governorship gave him political entitlement. Shriver has never been as close to his Kennedy brothers-in-law as is generally supposed. It was Lyndon Johnson who befriended Shriver when he first arrived, took him to the ranch, threw a party of Texas editors for him, considered him for a running mate in '64 and built him the starring part in OEO.

IF SHRIVER leaves the administration, it won't be from failure or unpopularity — he's an undiminished figure — and it won't be to join Bob Kennedy in harassment of Johnson whom Shriver likes so well.

All that's certain is that the OEO is nearing its life expectancy as a glamor show, and that Shriver is at liberty, as the saying goes, to look around.

Got Him Going And Coming

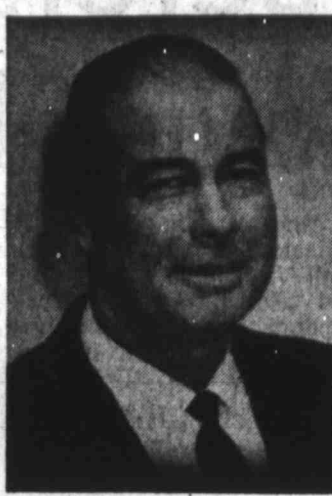

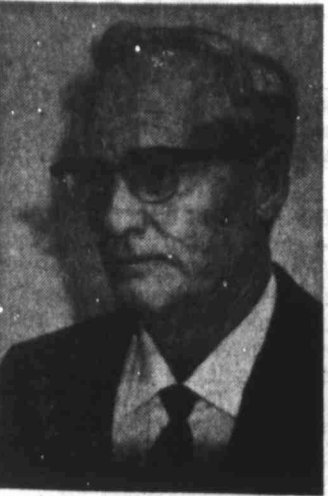

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — James F. Arp, 28, of Casper, found out he had lived in Wyoming too long — and not long enough. He was fined in justice court on both counts the same day. First Arp was fined $35 for swearing a false oath in obtaining a resident hunting license. A year's residency is required and Arp had lived in the state only six months.

Then he was fined $10 for not registering his motor vehicle after having lived in the state more than 120 days.

Chilly Winds Raking State

By The Associated Press

It's still overcast weather across Texas at night and in early morning, even though the atmosphere is warm to springlike mildness.

Today fits right into that pattern, but the raw north wind raking most of the state 24 hours earlier subsided into generally light breezes.

Skies remained clear aside from some high, thin clouds over much of West Texas and a few other areas.

Temperatures at 5 a.m. ranged down to a chilly 18 degrees at Perryton and 19 at Plainview, both in the Panhandle-Plains section.

Among other cool spots were Amarillo and Lubbock 24, Lufkin 25, Fort Worth, Texarkana and Wichita Falls 29, Dallas 30, Childress and San Antonio 31 and Tyler 32.

Generally in the 30s but held as high as 44 at El Paso and Galveston, and 46 at Corpus Christi.

The early morning marks compared with Wednesday afternoon highs from 67 at Presidio and 63 at McAllen down to 51 at Abilene, Childress, Mineral Wells and San Angelo.

Warning Applies To Mini Group

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — A warning to girls of "the Roaring 20s" also applies to the modern miniskirt set.

The Wichita Falls Times reprinted an article that was published in a newspaper here Dec. 10, 1927, warning of frostbite of the knees:

"Chicago—A warning to girls to cover their knees to save them from frostbite was issued here today by Dr. A. H. Kagel, Chicago health commissioner.

"Short skirts and silk stockings expose the legs to a point where freezing threatens.

"We have a bulletin showing 14 girls are in hospitals in Win-limbs," he said. "Although the temperature does not go as low as it does in Winnipeg, I would say that there is danger of frost-nipped legs here for girls who wear short skirts, silk stockings and insufficient underclothing."

Knees are as easily frostbitten as noses, the health commissioner said.

Alert defense by West produced a substantial swing when this hand was dealt in a recent team-of-four contest. A final contract of three no trump was reached at both tables by North and South on an identical sequence of bids.

At one table, West opened the five of hearts, East put up the king and South played the ace. The latter could count eight top tricks—five diamonds, two clubs, and the heart. In order to score a ninth, it is necessary for declarer to sneak thru a spade trick before the opposition is put on the alert.

A small spade was led by South at trick two and West followed with the deuce. The king was played from dummy and when it held, declarer scampered for home with his nine tricks—cheerfully conceding the balance to the defense.

At the other table the play began in an identical manner; however, when the six of spades was led to the second trick, West paused briefly before putting a card on the table. South's failure to touch diamonds first indicated that the latter held the ace and the suit was, therefore, ready to run.

If the declarer also had the ace of clubs which appeared reasonable on the basis of his opening bid, then eight tricks were in plain sight, and the king of spades would round out the latter's quota on the deal.

On this reasoning, West rose with the ace of spades and cashed the queen of hearts. If his partner held the jack, West expected him to drop it under the queen to avoid blocking the suit. When the jack actually fell from South's hand, West cashed out to defeat the contract by one trick.

TO NAME INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

Barnes Enters LCB 'Mess'

AUSTIN (AP)—Speaker Ben Barnes said Wednesday he will appoint a committee to investigate Texas liquor laws to help "clean up the mess that exists in Texas today."

Barnes said the subcommittee would be composed of lawyers and would have subpoena power.

He said the group would investigate the state's liquor laws, but said he did not know if the Texas Liquor Control Board would be a subject of the group.

"I don't know whether the committee should get into lack of enforcement or poor administration," Barnes said. He said the state liquor act itself "leads to situations that could be interpreted as bad administration."

The Barnes-appointed body will be the first legislative group to take any action into the burgeoning controversy surrounding the Liquor Control Board. State Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, who chairs the Senate Investigating Committee, declined to convene his group, saying the legislative branch should stay out of the investigation to keep from hampering other probes.

Barnes said the state attorney general's office and the Department of Public Safety are doing all that needs doing now in looking into the LCB. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said his report on the situation probably will be ready in two weeks.

In Dallas State Sen. Oscar Mauzy, a frequent critic of the LCB, said he did not believe any committee could investigate liquor laws without going into the LCB itself.

"I don't know how you could investigate application of a law without investigating the agency enforcing it," Mauzy said. Barnes said he told Gov. John Connally of his plans to set up the committee and said "the governor seemed pleased. "Only Connally could decide whether to open the 30-day special session of the legislature this year to consider revising the liquor law.

Connally made history in Texas last year in proposing adoption of liquor-by-the-drink on a local option basis in Texas. He called the state's private club system of dispensing hard liquor a "subterfuge."

Barnes said one possible change needed in the liquor law would be a requirement that the name of anyone representing a client before the LCB should be a matter of public record. He said the law needs to be more specific on disposition of confiscated liquor.

Barnes said he regretted using the word "mess" Wednesday at his news conference. "Maybe I used the word 'mess' based on hearsay evidence," he said, "but there is enough hearsay evidence that it justified my taking this action."

He said his five-man group probably would come from the House State Affairs Committee.

Henry Ford II May Get Trowbridge's Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ranking Senate Commerce Committee member hints Henry Ford II will replace ailing Alexander B. Trowbridge as secretary of commerce.

The senator, who declined to be identified, commented amid persistent rumors Ford might be tapped for a high government post. Neither Ford nor the White House has ruled out such a possibility.

The senator said he understood that Trowbridge, who was recently hospitalized with a heart ailment, would resign soon. This could not be officially confirmed.

"There hasn't been any resignation or indication of one," White House press secretary George Christian had said earlier.

Should Trowbridge resign, President Johnson's nomination of a replacement would go before the Commerce Committee and then to the full Senate for confirmation.

The Commerce Committee member said Ford has long been interested in problems dealing with exports and trade generally, including the balance of payments deficit. He added the board chairman of Ford Motor Co. has helped the administration on many of these matters.

There have been reports Ford, 50, would take a government job not on the Cabinet level but the Senate source said it seemed logical that if he's going to take any government job it would be as commerce secretary.

Ford told newsmen Tuesday in Detroit he had no plans to take a government post "at the present time."

Taxicab Driver Robbery Victim

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Donald Marsh, 48, quit driving taxicabs in December after being held up. He took it up again a month later, saying he wanted to drive only long enough to acquire enough money to start a grocery business. Tuesday he was held up again and robbed of $17. Wednesday he was found shot to death in his cab—apparently the victim of another robbery, police said.

Barnard Calls Raps Absolute Nonsense

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Christiaan Barnard said today several South African doctors, concerned by the publicity given his pioneer human heart transplants, have tried to place complaints against him with the medical board.

Barnard called these complaints "absolute nonsense" and said he doubted whether the board would take action.

Barnard was cheered at the airport by a crowd of several hundred on his return from Europe.

"What can publicity do to me?" he asked. "I still earn my same salary. Even if I had 10,000 patients, the publicity is not going to improve my financial status. I am not in private practice."

DOCTOR'S DUTY

"With some people the fact that there is publicity is an obsession. But I don't believe in being secretive. I believe in living by my own convictions."

"It is the duty of the doctor to serve the public and also to let the public know what is going on. After all, the public is asked to make donations and they also constitute the patients. Therefore they are entitled to know, through publicity, what is going on. The practice of withholding information and being secretive belongs to the past."

Too little is written about scientists, while sports heroes are publicized, he said, adding: "That is why our sons never like to be scientists, but rather boxers or other sportsmen."

Asked how he felt about being an international figure, Barnard replied: "I am still only Prof. Christ Barnard and will remain that. I am only human and of course I enjoy being internationally known."

Employees Of Cabot Due Safety Awards

Twelve employees of Cabot Carbon Corporation will be honored tonight at a special safety banquet for all employees of the company and their wives. Over 140 people are expected to attend.

Robert Rodman, office manager, said that certificates for outstanding safety records would be awarded following the dinner, which begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Cosden Country Club. The banquet is an annual affair to promote plant safety, Rodman said.

Receiving 25-year certificates will be Walter W. Beauchamp, Paul O. Russell, Howard L. McCarthy, William L. Lile and William F. Borsoske. To be awarded 20-year citations are Alton A. Cunningham, Billy B. Ford, Walter A. Rau, L. Marshall and Walter A. Huse.

Richard J. Shields and John W. Davenport will receive five-year awards.

Representatives from the Pampa office are expected for the dinner. Bert Arney, safety director for Cabot Carbon, western division, and Dave Redus, also of the Pampa plant, will attend. Rodman said. Others to be guests include O. M. Prigmore, production manager; Russ Allen and Buck Burdett, retired executive vice presidents; and W. S. Dickinson, district supervisor.

A. R. Davenport is local plant manager.

Water Permit Hearing Set

The Texas Water Rights Commission has set a hearing in Austin for 2 p.m. March 7 on an application by the Colorado River Municipal Water District to amend its permit for the Robert Lee lake.

The amendment will be for a terminal storage for highly mineralized waters removed from the normal low flow of the Colorado River above Colorado City. It does not increase the district's appropriation of water.

Included in the original permit was a provision for low water diversion works in order to improve the quality of water going into the Robert Lee basin. The permit, however, did not include provision for a terminal storage beside the river to hold the diverted, mineralized waters.

Because this does not alter the amount of water appropriated to the district and because it will improve quality of water below the diversion works, O. H. Ivie, general manager, said he was hopeful that the application would find no opposition.

If the amendment is granted by the commission, a meeting of the CRMWD board likely will be called a few days later to let contract for the diversion works and terminal storage. Also due to be let at that time is a water filtration plant for Humble's IAB Field in Coke County.

John J. Clancy Jr., social worker at the Veterans Administration Hospital, will attend a program on alcoholism treatment at the VA Hospital in Houston on Feb. 11-16.

Jurors To Eye Hippie Case

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The case of the slain hippie will be the biggest item for a grand jury to be impaneled today in this Northeast Texas city.

A grand jury commission was to meet at 10 a.m. to name members of the probing panel. The slaying victim was Joseph E. Montcalm, 25, of Negaunee, Mich., whose slashed and battered body was found on a trash heap off a rural road near here on Jan. 21.

Four young men, described by police as hippies, were charged with murder after their arrest in Baton Rouge, La.

Two of the youths, Thomas D. Hartley, 21, of Oakland, Calif., and Calvin C. Whiddon, 20, of Hialeah, Fla., were returned here Tuesday after waiving extradition. They waived a preliminary hearing and were held without bond.

Charles R. Perkins, 21, of Miami Beach, Fla., and Robert S. Thomas Jr., 18, of San Francisco, Calif., refused to waive extradition and were in custody of Baton Rouge officers.

Louisiana police quoted some of the youths as calling the slain man "a fat slob named Joe."

Officers said the slaying occurred during a spree in which all five took pills, sniffed glue and drank wine in large quantities.

Cameron McKinney, district attorney here, said he would start extradition action against Perkins and Thomas if the grand jury returns indictments against them.

Cantu Charged With Battering Sheriff's Auto

Joaquin Cantu, 22, Coahoma, has been charged with damaging property in excess of $50 and has been filed on in the court of Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter. The charge, a felony, will be taken before the grand jury. Bond has been set at $1,500 which Cantu has not as yet posted.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said the case grew out of vandalism inflicted on an official sheriff's car driven by Deputy Sam Roberts. Roberts was attending a school function at Coahoma and when he returned to the parked car, the windshield had been broken and the top light battered, apparently with a tire tool.

Investigation led to Cantu's arrest.

Houston Books Big Bond Vote

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston City Council has set Feb. 24 as the date another election on a $66 million municipal bond issue which was turned down by voters Jan. 27.

The council announced the date Wednesday at the end of an all-day meeting.

Mayor Louie Welch said the city's only chance for a balanced public works program lies in immediate approval of the bond issue. He acknowledged that "the risk (of defeat) is substantial."

The issue was rejected last month in turnout of only 26,465 voters.

Reading Parley Attracts Teachers

Big Spring teachers will not be attending the first state approved reading conference at Baylor University Friday and Saturday, but they will attend a similar parley in Dallas Feb. 29-March 1.

The conferences are sponsored by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading and are cooperative endeavors between the universities and public schools in the area. Twelve such confabs are planned throughout the year on various college and university campuses.

Station Looted

Hiltbrunner Shell Station, 1520 and Andrews Highway, was burglarized Wednesday night and $124.90, an undetermined amount of money from a cigarette machine and some chewing gum was stolen. Entrance to the station was made by breaking out a window in the east overhead door.

Police also received a vandalism report Wednesday of broken headlights on a pickup belonging to Don Tolle, 2102 Alabama.

Enrollment Dip

Enrollment in Big Spring schools stood at 7,354 at the end of the past week, a decline of nine from the previous week. Elementary totals mounted to 4,019, five less than the preceding week. Airport lost six, Marcy and Boydston four each, but Washington picked up 12. Junior highs were the same and senior high lost four, leaving it with 151.

Surgery Progress

Progress in surgery will be described in reports by surgeons from the nation's leading medical centers and hospitals at the three-day sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons in Dallas Feb. 19-21.

Dr. B. B. Cowper, of Cowper Clinic and Hospital, and a representative from the Veterans Administration Hospital will attend.

Green Berets Lose Fight With Soviet Iron Giants

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — When North Vietnamese tanks rumbled out of Laos Wednesday to attack the Lang Vei Special Forces camp, the U.S. Green Beret troopers inside decided the strange sound came from the camp's erratic generator. Minutes later the Americans, South Vietnamese and Montagnard tribesmen were battling desperately to keep the iron giants from overwhelming them.

Savings Bonds Below Quotas

Local and District 4 of Area I sales of United States Savings bonds fell below quotas in 1967, according to figures received today by Larson Lloyd, district bond chairman.

The total of $1,210,763 was slightly over the $1,180,770 for the previous year, but it was only 86 per cent of the enlarged quota.

Percentage of quota, the amount of sales in 1967 and (1966 sales in parenthesis) for the various counties of the district were:

Andrews 65 per cent, $58,282 ($55,984), Dawson 78 per cent, $100,822 ($90,908), Gaines 66 per cent, $59,346 ($62,104), Howard 91 per cent, $636,620 ($653,818), Martin 127 per cent, $38,111 ($37,558), Mitchell 99 per cent, $168,304 ($163,190), Scurry 88 per cent, $148,885 ($116,201); totals, 86 per cent of a $1,400,000 quota, $1,210,763 ($1,180,770).

Area I achieved only 78 per cent of its $1,400,000 quota. State sales of $1,610,850 were 92 per cent of the Texas goal for 1967.

YMCA Campaign Near Completion

Team captains in the YMCA participating and sustaining campaigns are urging all workers to complete their cards this week, according to Curt Mullins, Y general secretary.

Frank Hardesty's participating drive has raised $9,272.50. Mullins said, and Mrs. O. S. Womack's sustaining campaign has brought in $8,199.

W. C. Stovall II, Knott Farmer

William Charles Stovall, II, 64, who operated a farm near Knott, was dead on arrival at a hospital here at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday. He apparently was stricken with a heart attack.

Mr. Stovall was a retired civil service engineer and farmer. Services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday at the Nalley-Pickle Chapel with the Rev. Roy Collins, pastor of the Prairie View Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Garden City Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, the former Genevieve Carter, to whom he was married in 1930; two sons, Gene Schafer, Midland, and Mark Schafer, Garden City; two daughters, Joyce Fuller and Ray Susan Walker, Big Spring. He also leaves nine grandchildren; one brother, Ben Schafer of Glasscock County; and one sister, Mrs. Pearl Baker, Big Spring.

Mr. Schafer was born June 11, 1891, in Glasscock County, was reared there and went into the ranching business first with his father, then on his own. For over 60 years he ran the same B.S. brand.

He could remember how as a lad he helped his father mow grass for hay, so prolific was the cover in those days. There were almost no mesquites, which he attributed to the Comanches having burned off the land. What few stumps were left were in prime demand for fuel.

When he began to help his father, all this country was open range with one drift fence south of Amarillo and one south of San Angelo. Cattle drifted by the Schaffer ranch in the winter, and cowboys from more than a dozen ranches would ride the drift fence, cutting out herds and driving them back home to the north in the spring.

The Schaffer ranch had been established in 1887 when his parents homesteaded land near Garden City. The ranch was noted for its Percheron horses, saddle horses and mules by the hundreds. The Schaffer place was for many years the only horse ranch in the area. Later, the horses gave way to Hereford cattle, and until illness forced him from activity, not long ago, there was hardly a day that Mr. Schafer was not in

Sooner Services For Mrs. Fauver

Mrs. Letha Fauver, mother of Mrs. J. E. Fickling Jr., and Judge Fauver, both of Big Spring, died this morning in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church, Minco, Okla., with burial in the Minco Cemetery.

Survivors include 10 children, 32 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

No Hat In Ring

CAUSEY, N.M. (AP) — The filing deadline for the March 5 election of municipal officers has passed and no one threw a hat in the ring. Village Clerk Mollie Parnell said an election will be held Friday to give voters a chance to write in names.

First Time

They lost the fight but destroyed seven of the 10 tanks which the North Vietnamese were using for the first time in the war.

The attack began shortly after midnight with tanks hitting the camp on two sides and an infantry assault up the middle.

Before the onslaught against the camp three miles west of the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh, the North Vietnamese pounded it with a furious artillery and mortar barrage.

"How much did they fire? The Lord only knows," Spec. 4 Franklin Doores, 23, of Waynesboro, Va., said.

The tanks smashed through the camp's outer defenses with ease. A wounded American survivor commented: "That barbed wire just doesn't slow tanks down at all."

STRANGE SEIGE

The defenders fought the tanks with recoilless rifles and grenades. Men clambered atop the tanks, which were firing 76mm rounds into the camp's bunkers, and tried to toss gre-

'Building Men' Is Club Topic

COAHOMA (SC) — Lewis Lovelace of the Brazos Presbyterian Church will speak at the Presbyterian Church Saturday. He is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovelace.

Leon Miller, district Scout executive, spoke on "Building Men" at the regular meeting of the Coahoma Lions Club Monday at 6 p.m. in Richter's Cafeteria. H. C. Wallin, program chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Twenty-two attended.

The Coahoma Fire Department snuffed out two grass fires Tuesday afternoon.

DEATHS

Bismarck Schafer, Pioneer Rancher

Services for Bismarck Schafer, 76, pioneer Glasscock County rancher, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel.

Mr. Schafer, who had been hospitalized for the past two weeks, died here at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Services will be in charge of the Rev. Pat Bullock, pastor of the Garden City Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. Bill Goughly, pastor of the Salem Baptist Church. Burial will be in the Garden City Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, the former Genevieve Carter, to whom he was married in 1930; two sons, Gene Schafer, Midland, and Mark Schafer, Garden City; two daughters, Joyce Fuller and Ray Susan Walker, Big Spring. Docket Grows By 62 Cases

A net increase of 62 cases of all types found their way onto the 118th District Court docket books in January as compared with the totals for December.

Fern Cox, district court clerk, said there were 1,141 petitions of all kinds pending on Jan. 31 compared with 1,079 at the end of December.

Nineteen new tax suits and 26 criminal indictments contributed importantly to this increase.

A drop of four was noted in the number of compensation cases. There were 25 when the month began. Four were disposed of during January.

Divorce suits increased five. Twenty-two new petitions were filed and 17 pending cases disposed of. The total on hand Jan. 31 was 206.

No tax suits were disposed of and the new petitions filed brought the total to 326.

There were 17 civil suits other than divorce, tax and compensation, filed during the month and 21 were disposed of. The total was 16 higher at the end of January—327. Criminal cases increased with the filing of 26 new indictments. None were disposed of and there were 55 on hand when the month ended.

The court granted 15 divorce petitions and denied none in January.

Four Mishaps, Woman Hurt

Dixie Luce Masters, 703 Douglas, is reported by attendants at Cowper Hospital to be in satisfactory condition. She was involved in an accident with Monico E. Delgadillo, 1304 W. 2nd, at West Third and Brown at 5:54 p.m. Wednesday.

Three minor accidents were also reported to the police Wednesday. A car which left the scene of the accident collided with the parked car of A. J. Allen, 1620 E. 17th, at 901 Johnson.

Barbara Louise Pringle, 2713 Larry, and Thomas Anthony Taroni, 2320 Brent, were involved in an accident at Tenth and Owens. Bob Charles Parks, 800 W. 15th, collided with a highway barricade at FM 700 and Cedar.

BIG SPRING BUSINESS REVIEW

BIG SPRING (TEXAS) HERALD, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1968

STATE NATIONAL BANK
You can bank on their banking experience

Experience For All Needs At State National Bank

At the State National Bank, you can bank on their banking experience. Nine tellers have a total of 158 years of banking experience which more than qualifies them to meet the needs of their customers.

The tellers, whose chief duties are taking and paying money, are actually in the public relations department of the banking business for there are many customers who have done business with the State National Bank for a period of years and whose only experience at the bank has been with the tellers.

Mrs. Bonnie Arrick is head teller and those serving as tellers in the bank are Mrs. Jonell Camp, Mrs. Mildred Cherry, Mrs. Mary Ann Vaughn, and Ynez Yanez. Drive-in window tellers are Miss Janice Bollinger, Mrs. Anita Hickey and Mrs. Jackie McKinney. Mrs. Fay Reed serves as collection teller.

Besides taking care of the customers that come into the bank, the tellers take care of the deposits that are mailed in and those that are placed in the night depository. It is their responsibility to see that the deposit slips are properly made out and that the checks being placed for deposit are correctly endorsed.

Each teller must keep the money at their assigned post counted and properly balanced. Since the amount of money constantly changes through the incoming and outgoing procedure at their cage, this takes accuracy.

Part of their time each day is spent in securing information for their customers. People need to know the balance of their personal account or if a particular check has reached the bank. According to the tellers, something new is always coming up and their job is never monotonous.

If you should take a check to a bank for cashing where you are not known personally, do not feel badly if you are asked a number of questions. This is routine procedure for the tellers who are trained to watch for certain points in cashing checks.

The teller must judge whether to cash a check or to refuse to make payment on it.

They can not accept a check that shows any sign of being changed or a check written with pencil. Also they are not permitted to cash checks having "Hold" or "To Hold" written on them. If a check is made payable to two people, both are required to be present to make the endorsement when cashing the check.

Tellers are trained to ask for identification when cashing checks for individuals they do not know and when the check is on another bank. Being asked for identification just means the teller is doing his job. They are told to be suspicious of anyone who tried to make an impression by telling who he knows.

Checks to be cashed must not be dated ahead nor should the date be too old. Most establishments do not wish to cash checks whose date is over 30 days old.

They are taught to avoid cashing a check for intoxicated persons. They must also know state laws governing signatures. If a check is signed with a mark for a signature, it must be properly witnessed.

They are careful to watch all foreign checks and money orders to see that they are written in the equivalent of U.S. dollars. For example, Canadian dollars are currently worth less than U.S. dollars.

Mrs. Reed, as collection teller, makes collections for individuals and firms that have turned accounts over to the bank. She keeps records on the collection made and the payment that is in turn made to the individual or firm. She also sells traveler's checks and cashes bonds. It is also her duty to answer inquiries that come in by mail on saving accounts and personal checking accounts.

The nine tellers at the State National Bank are busy people, but never too busy for a friendly smile and concern for the banking problems of their customers.

Brokerage houses aren't innocent either, especially 10 or 15 percent companies. But registered representatives in some highly respectable firms also have been a bit more aggressive than usual in prodding customers into activity. And brokerage house advertisements have been provocative of great dreams.

The listing standards of the exchanges also may have a bit to do with speculation. The floating stock, or the amount of stock available for trading, is rather small in some listed companies. Their prices consequently are greatly affected by buying or selling pressure, and speculators know this.

Many of these speculators have put their money in brand new companies which are now exploiting the mountains of research built up during the past 20 years, and which now are experiencing an earnings explosion.

Stated some speculators and individuals are accomplishing this goal, and doing so not in years and decades but in weeks and months, they are example No. 1 for others.

New Idea In Warehousing Is Introduced

AAA-You-Store-It & Lock-It Warehouse, 1224 W. 3rd, which will hold its formal opening in the near future, is announcing a new method of storage for individuals and merchants of the Big Spring area.

The new masonry and steel fireproof warehouse structure is divided into 22 individual compartments, each being served by an overhead door. The tenant supplies his own lock and may enter his compartment as he desires.

Each storage compartment consists of 250 square feet of space. Should more space be needed, it is possible to remove the metal partitions between the sections to give double or even triple storage area. The compartments each have an electric outlet, which will permit the use of additional lights or small electrically operated equipment should it be needed.

All rentals and collections for these storage compartments will be handled by the Bell Mayflower Transfer and Storage, who will occupy the large warehouse adjoining the AAA-You-Store-It & Lock-It Warehouse.

Call 263-2541, AAA-You-Store-It & Lock-It Warehouse, for additional information on individual storage compartments. Henry Bell and his staff are offering a solution to any storage problems an individual or business might have.

Barriers Are Up

Bill Bridges (32) of the St. Louis Hawks prepares to shoot as John Havlicek (17) and Don Nelson (19), both of the Boston Celtics, make their defensive moves in their National Basketball Association game at Boston Garden Wednesday night. Boston won 102 to 101.

Celtics Vanquish Hawks In Thriller

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks had the Boston Celtics right where they wanted them. At least, they thought they had.

There were six seconds left in the National Basketball Association game at Boston Wednesday night, and St. Louis had a 101-100 lead and the ball out of bounds.

But, the Hawks threw the inbounds pass out of bounds and Boston took over. The Celtics set up Bailey Howell, and his shot went in at the buzzer for a 102-101 Boston victory.

In the first game of a double-header at Boston, Philadelphia trounced San Diego 125-103. New York edged the Bulls 114-111 at Baltimore in the only other NBA game.

In the American Basketball Association, Houston bombed Pittsburgh 133-112. Indiana nipped New Jersey 106-105. Denver topped Dallas 97-87 and New Orleans downed Oakland 111-107.

In the nightcap at Boston, the score was tied 97-97 with a minute to go when St. Louis' Len Wilkens sank four straight foul shots to put the Hawks in front 101-97.

John Havlicek then cut it to 101-98 on a foul shot and Larry Siegfried narrowed it to 101-100 with a basket.

Sam Jones scored 27 points for the Celtics, who stayed 3 1/2 games behind first-place Philadelphia in the Eastern Division.

Hal Greer poured in 27 points and Wilt Chamberlain controlled the backboards as Philadelphia handed San Diego its 10th straight defeat. Don Kojis topped San Diego with 18 points.

New York took over late in the third quarter and fought off a closing Baltimore spurt for its victory. Walt Bellamy scored 32 points and grabbed 21 rebounds for New York. Earl Monroe led Baltimore with 30 points.

With a 0-2 record and without Falkman, Williams planned a revision in U.S. play, saying European teams have trouble with the heavy body checking customary in Canada and the U.S.

"We laid off the Czechs and virtually did the same against the Swedes," he said, "but now we realize we can only win by playing our own game—and that means heavy body checking. And the referee will have to like it or lump it."

Franco Nones, 27, did what the Americans have all but failed to do when he won the 30 kilometer cross country ski race. No one outside of Scandinavia and Russia had ever won the race before in the Games.

Nones led all the way, edging Odd Martinsen of Norway and defending champion Eero Maentyranta of Finland.

U.S. ski hopes also suffered a jolt when ace Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., fell in practice Wednesday and sprained an ankle.

Zapata is now employed at the Big Spring State Hospital but has been granted a leave of absence.

Zapata played the outfield for the Steers in 1967 and performed for sandlot teams during the summer.

Local friends wrote letters to the Astro management, asking that Zapata be granted a tryout, and the communications drew a reply.

Jayhawk Queens In Friday Tilt

Winners over Texas Tech in their last start, the HCJC Jayhawk Queen basketball team returns to play Friday night in Weatherford.

The Queens ventured to Lubbock Tuesday night to humble Tech, 58-44, for the second time this season. The HCJC team holds one other win over Tech and has also beaten McMurry. Its losses have come at the hands of HSU and Wayland's Queen Bees.

HCJC plays its next home game against Tech the night of Feb. 22.

HCJC (58) — Kathy Howell (30), Gina Williams (13), Ginger Medrano (8), Gloria Garcia (7).

TEXAS TECH (44) — Trimmer (14), Jennings (11), Childers (10), Dudley (8), Sifton (6).

Sunland Glows After Big Day

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Sunland Park had its biggest handle of the 3-day-old season last Sunday when $197,452 was wagered on 11 races. A crowd of 3,566, the fourth largest of the year, was on hand.

It marked the ninth time in the last 16 racing days that attendance was up. Sunday's attendance was up eight per cent over a like day last year.

The handle, some $12,868 more than the same day last season, was up 6.9 per cent.

Hockey Team Fares Badly In Olympics

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — An Italian pulled off one of the biggest upsets in Olympic history in cross country skiing, but any such prospects for the U.S. hockey team have faded after three losses — two in the standings and one in the hospital.

The U.S. team, which must meet heavily-favored Russia on Friday, had nursed some hopes of winning a surprise medal until Craig Falkman suffered a severe leg sprain and slight dislocation, and the Americans fell to Sweden 4-3 Wednesday without him.

The U.S. lost to Czechoslovakia 5-1 on Tuesday.

"It hurt us," said U.S. Coach Murray Williamson. "He was playing great and we were forced to use a defenseman in the attack. Falkman will not play again in these Olympics and we will miss him."

Falkman, a 24-year-old salesman from Golden Valley, Minn., had scored once and assisted on a goal by Len Liljohm of St. Paul, Minn., as the Americans led 2-1. Then the veteran slipped and crashed against the boards while chasing an ice puck.

Williamson and Swedish Coach Arne Strömberg sharply criticized the Canadian referees.

"The referees sure had quick whistles around the creases," U.S. defenseman Doug Volmar said. "The Canadians usually complain about quick whistles in European play, and then it is a Canadian who calls it against us."

With a 0-2 record and without Falkman, Williams planned a revision in U.S. play, saying European teams have trouble with the heavy body checking customary in Canada and the U.S.

"We laid off the Czechs and virtually did the same against the Swedes," he said, "but now we realize we can only win by playing our own game—and that means heavy body checking. And the referee will have to like it or lump it."

Winners over Texas Tech in their last start, the HCJC Jayhawk Queen basketball team returns to play Friday night in Weatherford.

The Queens ventured to Lubbock Tuesday night to humble Tech, 58-44, for the second time this season. The HCJC team holds one other win over Tech and has also beaten McMurry. Its losses have come at the hands of HSU and Wayland's Queen Bees.

HCJC plays its next home game against Tech the night of Feb. 22.

HCJC (58) — Kathy Howell (30), Gina Williams (13), Ginger Medrano (8), Gloria Garcia (7).

TEXAS TECH (44) — Trimmer (14), Jennings (11), Childers (10), Dudley (8), Sifton (6).

Sunland Glows After Big Day

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Sunland Park had its biggest handle of the 3-day-old season last Sunday when $197,452 was wagered on 11 races. A crowd of 3,566, the fourth largest of the year, was on hand.

It marked the ninth time in the last 16 racing days that attendance was up. Sunday's attendance was up eight per cent over a like day last year.

The handle, some $12,868 more than the same day last season, was up 6.9 per cent.

Yank Hopes Soar Again At Grenoble

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Peggy Fleming, America's teenage queen of international figure skating, gracefully swept within easy reach of a gold medal in the 1968 Winter Olympics today while Billy Kidd's speedy recovery from an ankle injury bolstered U.S. skiing fortunes at the storm-plagued Games.

Miss Fleming, the 19-year-old world champion from Colorado Springs Colo., finished her five compulsory figures in the women's skating competition with a whopping 77-point margin over runner-up Gabriele Seyfert of East Germany.

DRAWN AHEAD

Skating with awesome precision, Peggy drew steadily ahead of the 32-girl field today after taking a 30-point edge in her first two school figures Wednesday.

The American beauty, unanimously rated first by the nine judges in the decisive ordinal placings, thus goes into Saturday's climactic free skating phase, which counts the remaining 40 per cent of the total score, with an overwhelming lead.

Kidd, 24-year-old ace of the U.S. Alpine team, pronounced himself ready to go in today's scheduled downhill race at Chamrousse after he had been virtually counted out because of a sprained left ankle suffered in a spill during Wednesday's practice run.

The Downhill, however, was called off because of inclement weather. Poor weather conditions also forced postponement of opening heats in men's and women's luge competition.

"I feel okay. I will go in the race," Kidd said about an hour before the scheduled start of the Games' initial Alpine test, which was washed out by snowfall, high winds and fog.

The first starter, Guy Perillat of France, was at the starting spot when Marc Hodler, president of the International Ski Federation, announced the postponement. Race officials will decide later today on a new date.

At Villard-de-Lans, unseasonably mild weather forced postponement of the first two heats in the luge singles. Temperatures hovering around 39 degrees made the ice track too soft, and light snow further impaired the task of keeping the track in condition.

Luge officials also were to meet later today to decide whether the first two of four singles runs could be staged tonight.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, through games of Saturday, Feb. 3, and total points:

1. Long Island U. (17) 144
2. Evansville (3) 128
3. Kentucky Wesleyan (1) 93
4. SW Missouri St. (1) 91
5. SW Louisiana (1) 89

7. Norfolk State 52
8. Guilford (1) 45
9. McNeese State (2) 38
10. Pan American 36

The Blackbirds topped three more teams last week to boost their record to 14-0 through games of last Saturday.

As a result, LIU received seven first-place votes from the national panel of 16 sports writers and sportscasters and a total of 144 points. This gave them a 16-point margin over Evansville's Aces, who received three first-place votes and 128 points.

The Aces won their two games last week for a 15-2 record. In last week's poll, Evansville just trailed LIU by five points.

Kentucky Wesleyan 12-3, Southwest Missouri 12-3, and Southwestern Louisiana 12-2, also won all of their games last week and maintained their 3-4-5 positions.

But Indiana State, ranked sixth a week ago, was beaten by Evansville and Depauw and fell right out of the Top Ten's list with a 1-3-7 record.

McNeese State College of Lake Charles, La., 14-2, which was unranked, filled the gap in the No. 9 spot.

Trinity, Tex., 15-4, moved up from seventh to sixth and unbeaten Norfolk State, 15-0, advanced from ninth to seventh.

Guilford, 14-1, and Pan American, 13-4, maintained their eighth and 10th positions, respectively.

Borden Coyotes Sweep Dawson

GAIL — After a modest start, Borden County Coyotes poured on the coal in the second quarter to build a 29-14 lead at the half and coast in for a 50-32 victory over Dawson. Jay Smith led with 18 for Borden and Roy Morris with 10 for Dawson.

In the girls game, also played Tuesday evening, Borden won 56-33. Gale Hughes got 17 points in a vain bid to hold off Borden, but Sheryl and Debra Williams, a sister combination, whipped out 30 points between them.

Spot In Nationals Awaits Champion

The eight teams competing in the 1968 Region V Junior College Basketball tournament scheduled here Feb. 29-March 1-2 will be shooting for a place in the NJCAA tournament which will be held in Hutchinson, Kan., March 19-23.

In all, 16 teams will be at Hutchinson. Moberly, Mo., won the crown last year, beating San Jacinto, Tex., in the finals by one point.

Ranger College won the Region V meet a year ago, when it was staged in Amarillo. The

Williams Plans To Call It Quits

WAXAHACHIE (AP) — J. W. Williams, one of the most successful basketball coaches in Texas, will wind up his career with the current season.

He will become assistant principal and his assistant, Rick Blythe, will move up to head coach.

In the 16 years Williams has been coaching Waxahachie, he won 14 district championships, took the state Class AAA title in 1958 and twice finished as state runnerup.

Jones To Take Job At Cooper

ABILENE — DeWitt Jones, assistant football coach at Ranger High School has resigned his post and will accept a job with Abilene Cooper as soon as approval is made by the Abilene school board.

Jones, a graduate of Abilene Christian College, has been at Ranger one year.

Rangers will be entered in this year's meet and will probably be seeded No. One, judged of the success the team has experienced to date.

The Region V title plays the Region III winner in the first round at Hutchinson. Region's III representative last year was Binghampton, N. Y.

That contest is down for 1 p.m. Wednesday, March 20. The Region 14 title, which also comes from Texas, opposes the Region 11 king in the final game of the first round at 2:45 p.m. Wednesday, March 20. Last year's Region 14 champion was San Jacinto while Burlington, Iowa, won the Region 11 crown.

The National tournament is sponsored by the Hutchinson American Legion post. The Region V meet here is to be sponsored by the American Business Club, which already has tickets on sale for the three-day event.

As the host school, HCJC automatically wins a spot in the tournament. Judged of the record to date, the Hawks would have automatically qualified for a spot in the meet, however.

All the tournament will take place in the high school gymnasium rather than the Jayhawk fieldhouse. The high school gym seats 1,700, the HCJC fieldhouse only about 1,100.

Basketball fans here are going to get a bargain, if they subscribe for season tickets to the tournament. Adults pay a modest $3 for a ticket that admits them to all eight games. The students pay only $1 for the same ticket.

By session (each session is two games), the price range is: Thursday afternoon — adults $1, students 25 cents; Thursday, Friday nights — adults $1.25, students 50 cents; Saturday night finals — adults $1.50, students 75 cents.

Children six years of age and under will be admitted free to the gym, if accompanied by parents.

If the tournament is a financial success here, chances are it will be returned in 1969. However, that will not be determined until attending coaches decide on the bids during the meet.

Turner Mark Is Updated

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Curtis Turner's year-old qualifying record of 180.8 miles an hour for the Daytona 500 stock car race was beaten unofficially by five drivers — three of them in Mercury Cyclone GT's — Wednesday in practice runs for Sunday's official trials.

Cyclones driven by Cale Yarborough and Tiny Lund both were clocked at speeds more than five m.p.h. above Turner's record, which he set in a Chevrolet, as they turned the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway track in stiff winds that frequently caused trouble on the banks.

Yarborough, from Timmons, S.C., came in at 185.75 m.p.h. The 265-pound Lund, of Cross, S.C., was recorded at 185.74 m.p.h.

Others beating Turner's mark on the tune-up runs were Dave Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., who logged 183.84 m.p.h. in a Ford; Leroy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., who hit 184.354 in another Mercury; and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., who came in with 182.785 in a Plymouth roadrunner.

Top qualifier for the race gets the pole position on the start and a $5,000 purse. The 500 carries a purse of $100,000.

Parker Resigns Lubbock Post

LUBBOCK — Earl Parker, baseball coach at Lubbock High School has resigned.

He will become assistant football coach at Aldine High School.

In eight years his baseball teams have won 128 and lost 105.

Bound For Houston

Melvin Robertson (right), one-time Stanton coach and now a member of the University of Houston football staff, came to Big Spring Wednesday to sign Bill Burchett (left) to a pre-enrollment blank. Burchett is the star quarterback of the 1967 Big Spring Steers who cannot sign a letter-of-intent until after baseball season. Robertson said his school was harvesting a fine crop of high school graduates. He went from here to Ozona to talk with Gary Sutton, star lineman.

Johnson, Clendenin Top Bovine Point-Getters

The Big Spring Steers have two players who appear destined to go over the 500-mark in total points this year (one already has) plus another who is going to crowd past the 300-mark.

Wayne (Goose) Johnson leads the Longhorns in scoring with 525 points, with three games still to play. His game average is 18.7.

Danny Clendenin is second in scoring with 470 points and leads in both free shots made with 160 and in percentage of free shots made with .83.

Snake Tucker, third in the scoring derby, has 288 points. The Steers, who have won 16 while losing 12, have averaged 65.7 points over the season. They return to play here Friday night against Abilene High, with their hopes still high for a first place finish in second half play.

Fans Follow Tiger Star

By The Associated Press
You could call Pistol Pete Maravich the Babe Ruth of college basketball.

He draws the fans to watch his fantastic shooting in much the same manner as the late Sultan of Swat did baseball fans when he was hitting home runs for the New York Yankees.

Whether his team wins or loses, the sophomore sensation for Louisiana State has been getting his average of 45 points per game with several bursts of 30 or more points.

Maravich did it again Wednesday night even though LSU lost on the road to Auburn 74-69. He threw in 49 points, including a streak of 25 in a row at the start of the second half, and set a Southeastern Conference season scoring record of 793 with eight games still to play.

"It was just an average game," Maravich said after he had erased Bob Pettit's old SEC scoring mark. Pettit, former LSU All-American, tallied 755 points in 25 games during the 1954 season.

NATIONAL RECORD?

Maravich's 25 points in a row is believed to be a national collegiate record. In fact, he accounted for 31 of LSU's 37 points in the second half.

Maravich's heroics overshadowed the 72-71 squeaker sixth-ranked New Mexico scored over 10th-ranked New Mexico State in the only game involving teams in The Associated Press Top Ten.

Greg Howard's free throw in the closing seconds gave the Lobos the victory in the see-saw struggle on their home court at Albuquerque, N.M.

Howard, who had been thrown out of two games already this year, one last Saturday when Arizona ended New Mexico's 17-game winning streak, said the Aggies tried to get him mad by crowding him.

"I wasn't about to get thrown out of this game," Howard said later. "I just told the referee about it."

Ron Sanford, with 23 points, paced the Lobos, who at one time led by nine points at 63-54 with six minutes left. The Aggies rallied to tie at 71-71 on Bob Evans' free throw with eight seconds on the clock before Howard was fouled and converted the winning point.

New Mexico's season record now is 18-1, New Mexico State 17-3.

Don May scored 21 points, including four straight baskets at the start of the second half, to pace Dayton to a 64-56 home court triumph over Xavier of Ohio.

In other major games, all home court successes, Louisville edged Drake 67-66, Toledo drubbed Western Michigan 83-71, Navy downed Georgetown, D.C., 89-85 in overtime, Temple defeated St. John's of New York 82-55 and Iowa whipped Purdue 94-87 despite 31 points in a losing cause by Rick Mount.

C-City Wolves Crush Stamford

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The rampaging Wolves of Colorado City jumped on Stamford like a duck on a June bug and captured a 5-AA victory here Tuesday, 79-53. This pushed the C-City record to 7-1 in conference play.

Lionel James led with 15 points for the winners, who distributed scoring evenly. Anderson had 25 for Stamford, which is now 3-5. Colorado City led 23-11 at the first quarter and built a 44-25 half-time lead. In the B game, Colorado City defeated the visitors 58-38. Randy Riley poured through 22 points for the victors.

STRATAGEM BACKFIRES

BUHL, Idaho (AP) — The scoreboard at the Buhl High Team 62, Visitors 61. Nine seconds remained.

Basketball Coach Chris Cagle, a native of Buhl, looked at the familiar hometown scoreboard and ordered his players to stall the last nine seconds. They did. And lost.

In the confusion, Cagle forgot that he is now an outsider to the hometown scoreboard. He was coaching the visitors from nearby Burley.

Al Mitts Named Coach At Wilson

WILSON — Al Mitts, former Lubbock junior high coach, has been named head coach and athletic director of Wilson High.

Mitts will fill the vacancy created when Bobby Davis resigned at mid-term.

The new coach came to Wilson this year from Lubbock where he coached at Evans Junior High for the past six years.

By JO BRIGHT

It's incredible how the soft sound of snow can reverberate through the mountains and survive desert spaces to echo like bugle blasts in the ears of eager skiers. The call has come, and this morning the caravan moved toward the pass.

The advance scouting party, to mark the trail, is made up of Mr. and Mrs. William Prior Edwards Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newton Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Eugene Nabors and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Clyde Shapland. The gentlemen will be hosts for a festive breakfast Saturday morning at Cree Meadows Country Club in Ruidoso, N.M. The fifth host, Wilson Connell Edwards, although quite a remarkable fellow, is still unable to be in two places at once, so he will be there in spirit while chained to Spain with the Confederate Air Force. They are still working on that "Battle of Britain" movie, and Connie may not be home for more shirts until April.

You don't have to leave town for a gay evening, though. Take tonight, for example, when a group of the more conservative party throwers will be entertaining friends with a Valentine dance at Big Spring Country Club. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boren, Dr. and Mrs. Houston J. Zinn, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Burns, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Deats, Mr. and Mrs. Garner McAdams, Mr. and Mrs. Walton S. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sheppard and, from Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crim. They've sent to Nebraska for the music of Jess Gayer, who, incidentally, will be back here March 1 for a dance at Cosden Country Club. The Cosden dance will be for members and accompanied guests, and Manager George MacConnell says reservations are necessary as well as $2 per couple. On the other hand, he's in such a good mood today, he might let you in free. The MacConnells, along with Mr. and Mrs. Edward McClement of Leonardo, N.J., are grandparents. Sgt. and Mrs. James McClement of the Isle of Crete cabled the news that Dawn Michele was born Feb. 7 in Weisbaden, Germany, and weighed seven pounds, eight and one half ounces.

If you want to circle your calendar, several interesting things are slated in the days ahead, including the hair style show, Feb. 13, under the direction of Gary Don Cary, which will be held in conjunction with National Beauty Salon Week. The PBX Club "Boss of the Year" banquet is down for Feb. 23.

If you're an engineer (or know one who will invite you) you're probably planning on attending the awards banquet here on Feb. 24 which is being sponsored by the Texas Society of Professional Engineers. Add things - I - wouldn't know if Wayne Vaughn hadn't told me: This annual affair is always held during the week of George Washington's birthday because, besides being the father of his country, he was a pretty fair civil engineer!

The Jaycees may come up with a fancy reason for their Rattlesnake Roundup Dance, too, but as of now, think it's just planned for fun and profit. That one is slated March 23 if you want to slither out to Cosden Club that night. The Desk and Derrick Club seminar will be April 20, and the Area Two Homemaking Teachers will get together here to talk it over on June 6-7.

TIDBITS: Mr. and Mrs. Don Ellerbe, Clint and Kim of Tampa, Fla., are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roger. Mrs. Ellerbe is the former Mary Evelyn Roger. Her young brother, Bobby Roger, is being patted on the head by the family this week since he was in the group of seventh grade students at Goliad named to the National Junior Honor Society. The ceremony was held Tuesday with Lee Freeze presenting the youngsters. Mr. and Mrs. James Jones and Sammy, along with Mrs. S. P. Jones, flew to Denver for the wedding of ex-local boy, David Agee and Miss Toni Clair. Sammy will be going to Austin to give a Boy Scout report to the governor. Roe Fulgham at Coahoma says he'll survive the emergency surgery and Mrs. Fulgham says he's being a good patient. Working girls got a break this week when the House of Charm announced that it will remain open until 11 p.m. for the convenience of the desk set. My campaign for this sort of thing has fallen on deaf ears for years, but then, maybe the demand was not enough to justify it.

I've got more notes here that intrigue me a little, but it's deadline, so we'll save them for Sunday.

Call Joe?

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1968 SEC. B

J. O. Hagood Named 'Boss Of The Year'

Members of Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association honored their boss Tuesday evening during a dinner at Holiday Inn.

Guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Kyle Cauble, and the response was given by Joe Price, 1967-68 Boss of the Year. Price read the winning paper for Boss of the Year which was written by Mrs. A. C. Hagood, tax collector for the Big Spring Public School System. An engraved statuette was presented to Hagood as a memento of the award.

In writing of her boss, Mrs. Hagood said, "He never asks us to do anything that he himself would not do; when we have a trying day, he suggests that we take a little time to relax; and he never objects if we must take time off as long as the work gets done. He stands up for his people and hands them a "bouquet" when they deserve it."

Hagood has held his present job for 18 of the 22 years he has lived in Big Spring. For a time, he and his wife, Juanita, operated the Snack-A-Ritz Restaurant but sold the business some years ago.

Mrs. Gene Haston was mistress of ceremonies, and the history of ABWA was given by Mrs. Herman Taylor. The national organization has 653 chapters in 40 states, and the Cactus and Scenic chapters are the two local units. Named as Boss of the Year in the past were Gene Campbell, Grover Cunningham Jr., K. H. McGibson, Champ Rainwater, Gerald Wooten, Randall Polk, and Price.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, tax assessor-collector, gave the vocational talk, emphasizing the need for bringing car title and license receipt when registering a car. She noted that it is time to declare homesteads for 1968. The guest speaker was Mrs. Anna Emerson, RN, who works under contract for the Texas Education Agency through the Big Spring State Hospital Vocational Rehabilitation Department. She showed slides of facilities and activities at the hospital, telling of therapy methods used in rehabilitation. Patients are taught a trade which they pursue in natural surroundings for four months. Theoretically, if they remain with the job that long, they will be happy in it after dismissal and can become more readily adjusted to regular work.

Twenty-two members and 35 bosses and guests attended. The head table was centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums interspersed with black ribbon to carry out

Rebekahs Plan Valentine Tea

Mrs. Alton Allen, noble grand of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153, announced a Valentine silver tea will be held Feb. 13 at the Tuesday meeting in the IOOF Hall.

The tea will honor Miss Myrtle Russell, Rebekah Assembly secretary. A resolution of sympathy was read by Odell Buchanan in memory of Mrs. Glass Glenn.

M. E. Burnett announced the Odd Fellows will serve supper Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the IOOF Hall. All Rebekahs and their families are invited to attend.

Twenty-six members were present, and 40 visits to the sick were reported.

WCS Plans Sales To Raise Funds

Mrs. Don Crockett presided at the Tuesday business meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at the Wesley Methodist Church. The president announced that the group will sell vanilla as a fund-raising project. Mrs. David Pohl worded the opening prayer, and Mrs. W. B. Morris gave the devotion and led closing prayer. The Browder Circle served refreshments to 18.

Mrs. J. Bodinee Named TOPS Queen

Mrs. James Bodinee was named January queen at the Tuesday meeting of the TOPS Pounds Rebels at the YMCA. Mrs. Henry Stewart presided. The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Al Scott, and the money tree was given to Mrs. Harold Bell. Following the meeting, the group adjourned to the Continental Health Spa to participate in exercises. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the YMCA.

J. O. HAGOOD AND MRS. A. C. BREWER

The colors of ABWA. Place cards, drawn by Miss Shirley Lee, depicted various occupations. Mrs. Paul Guy pronounced the benediction. The chapter's eighth anniversary will be observed March 5 with a party at Coker's Restaurant, and the Spring Hand of Friendship tea will be held March 17 in the First Federal Community Room.

Bride-Elect Is Honored With Pre-Nuptial Party

Miss Linda Lu Lile, bride-elect of Joe Robert Spencer, was honored with a gift party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Harry Middleton at Luther.

Cohostesses were Mrs. George Archer, Mrs. G. U. Murphy, Mrs. Ulysses Hall, Mrs. Winston Kilpatrick, Mrs. Jeff Painter, Mrs. Louis Sturm, Mrs. V. E. Hanson, Mrs. Jack Buchanan, Mrs. Ralph Proctor, Mrs. O. L. Nabors and Mrs. L. C. Underwood.

Miss Lile greeted guests in a white A-line dress and a bright pink corsage. She was joined by her mother, Mrs. Loyd Lile, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Neil Spencer. Both were presented carnation corsages.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a white wedding bell tied with avocado green and pink ribbon. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Approximately 100 were included on the guest list.

Gardeners Hear Talk On Design

Mrs. M. R. Hurt of Odessa, a member of the National Board of Garden Clubs, spoke on horticulture and landscape design at the Wednesday meeting of the Big Spring Garden Club. The group met in the home of Mrs. Arnold Marshall, 900 Highland.

Cohostesses were Mrs. H. A. McAlister and Mrs. W. G. Wilson.

Mrs. Hurt is state chairman of horticulture, district chairman of landscape design, and a nationally accredited flower show judge. Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow introduced the speaker.

Mrs. H. G. Keaton presided and appointed Mrs. D. O. Gray and Mrs. Hayes Stripling as decorating committee for the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of red carnations and valentine hearts.

Women Work In Stanton Activities

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Clayton Burnam was presented a certificate of perfection at the Monday meeting of the Stanton Rebekah Lodge. Mrs. Henry Louder presided, and a Valentine party and salad supper was slated Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the lodge hall. Eleven attended.

Mrs. L. D. Snell led the study on "Christ and the Faiths of Men" at the recent meeting of Circle Two at First Methodist Church. Those on the program were Mrs. Richard Payne, Mrs. James Biggs, Mrs. Bill Terry, Mrs. Nolan Simpson and Mrs. Bill Morrow.

Mrs. Harry Haislip completed a review of the book, "East of Eden," by John Steinbeck at a recent meeting of Circle One of First Methodist Church. Mrs. Dewey Williams led prayer, and fourteen attended.

Stewardship Is Program Topic

The call to prayer and prayer for missionaries was led by Mrs. Jack Boyett when the Woman's Missionary Union of East Fourth Baptist Church met Monday in the home of Mrs. T. B. Clifton, 704 Johnson. Mrs. Aaron Combs presided, and the program on stewardship and Royal Service was given by Mrs. Howard Shanks. Mrs. Eugene Wilson and Mrs. Tommy Nichols. Eighteen attended.

IN TUESDAY TALKS

P-TA Groups Urge Attention To Youth

Guest speakers and student groups presented programs for Parent-Teacher Association units which met Tuesday.

MARCY

Past leaders of the Marcy P-TA were honored Tuesday in observance of Founder's Day. Mrs. Loran Warren and Col. George E. Franks were introduced as past presidents, and charter members recognized were Mrs. Warren, Mrs. John Noble, Mrs. Brooke Eubank and William Dawes. Also, Mrs. Monroe Casey and Mrs. David Rhotan were cited for their leadership with the group.

Mrs. Douglas Wingate presided, and the devotion was given by Mrs. Roy Watkins. Mrs. Wingate expressed appreciation to workers and contributors for producing $738.38 for the Mother's March of Dimes.

The program, "When the Child is Angry," was presented by Dawes and concerned the emotional health of children. It was based on an article by the NEA Elementary Instructional Service. He showed a film, "The Angry Boy," which related to helping children resolve their frustrations. The film was developed by the Michigan State Mental Health Department.

Room count was won by Mrs. Bill Nixon's second grade and Mrs. Jerry Phillips' fourth grade. Refreshments were provided by mothers of students in Mrs. Nixon's second grade and Mrs. J. B. Cushing's second grade.

Approximately 100 attended, and named to the nominating committee were Mrs. Thomas Black, Mrs. Harold Berry, Mrs. Leo M. Terrell, Mrs. R. C. Nichols and Dawes.

MOSS ELEMENTARY — Lloyd Cannon, minister of Birdwell Lane Church of Christ, spoke on "Forgetting the Things Behind Us and Looking Toward the Future" at the Tuesday meeting of Moss Elementary P-TA.

Mrs. Reg Hyer introduced Mrs. Harold Rossen, senior counselor at Big Spring Senior High School, who talked on "Keeping Youth in School."

Mrs. Donald Judd presided during the business session, and introduced Mrs. T. A. Harris, P-TA City Council president, who was a guest.

Bill Irwin, principal, reported that clocks will soon be placed in classrooms. The club's project is the purchase of clocks and film strips. Miss Elizabeth Korzinski, librarian, and Mrs. Mary Fowler, second grade teacher, were introduced as new faculty members.

The nominating committee was elected, and the slate will be presented at the next meeting. Those on the committee are Irwin, Mrs. Ralph Caton and Reg Hyer.

Approximately 30 attended.

WASHINGTON PLACE

Mrs. Carl Bradley directed the fifth grade classes in a musical program pertaining to the lives of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington at the Tuesday meeting of the Washington Place P-TA.

Mrs. R. E. Ray, district vice president, discussed Founder's Day, and Mrs. Gerry Potot presided. Mrs. Cecil Hamilton brought the devotion.

Officers elected to fill unexpired terms were Mrs. Ben Boadle, vice president; and Mrs. Edman McMurry, secretary. J. B. Cushing, Mrs. McMurry and Mrs. Jim Bumgarner were elected to the nominating committee.

Room count was won by Mrs. B. M. Keese's room. Refreshments were served to 45.

What Haunted This Home?

By ED SYERS

"Talk about tall stories!" exclaims Mrs. Lawrence Hall of Post in re certain tales we have traded recently. "Well, I can tell you some, too." And she certainly has something new to me in the way of ghosts. Would you believe a haunted house?

"It was in the haunted house where I was born, in Jack County," declares Mrs. Hall. "My mother, who really didn't believe in any ghosts but this one, was laughed at for telling it; but it's true." The ghost, to both mother and daughter, was either a traveling rock or a mighty heavy footfall. The locale was Jacksboro, many years ago.

In that house at different times "would come the sound of a large rock, or what sounded like one, falling into the center of the upstairs room. After a pause, it would bump down the stairway. Right through the door under the stairs, it would go; then through the floor (there was no hole) to hit the ground under the old house.

HELP PLEA

"People of Jacksboro should be able to tell you of this house, which was there in 1918, when I arrived in this world."

Well, I hope you Jacksboro folks really can help Mrs. Hall trace what happened to—or finally in—that house. I simply don't see a haunted rock; too unimaginative for a first-rate ghost. Now the noise could have been the bumping jar of a heavy box or chest, laboriously dragged by one pair of hands down to hiding, dug under the old house.

Neighbors Help Loop Fight Fires

LOOP, Tex. (AP) — Three neighboring towns lent a hand in the organization of this Gaines County community's fire department — newest on the South Plains.

The Seagraves fire department assisted with a fire truck and other equipment, with the Seminole fire department having previously furnished a truck. The Denver City fire department donated foam nozzles and other equipment.

A water system was installed at Loop early last year with 14 fire plugs. The town has a population of 475.

Just think of what could be in it!

KISSING OAK

Here is something on Sam Houston's "Kissing Tree," which we've sought for some time. It's from my friend Walter Buckner, who gave San Marcos one of this state's best weekly newspapers.

"Several years ago," says Walter, "I ran a little feature on our tree, doing quite a bit of research with the help of historians. The story is in the Texas Tech library archives, with the tree's picture."

"When Sam Houston was making his last race for governor in 1859, he started at Waco and stopped at Belton, Salado, Georgetown, Austin and San Marcos before going on to San Antonio and the towns toward Galveston."

"At San Marcos he stayed the night with Judge Cheatham on the San Marcos River. Next day he spoke under a tree on the river bank where the American Legion home and the Sam Houston Boy Scout Hut now stand."

"A group of ladies presented him with a Texas flag, whereupon the General graciously kissed so many of them, the oak drew its name. Mrs. E. L. Thomas, now deceased, told me that her mother was one of the ladies kissed."

(Note: That flag at that time had to stir strong emotion in Houston. He won the governorship in the stormy days preceding Civil War, though most Texans knew him as steadfast to the U.S. as to Texas. As governor, he was deposed by the legislature when he contended Texas should remain in the Union and finally refused to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederacy. What few knew was that he also refused the insistent offer of Lincoln to send 50,000 Federal troops to hold Texas.)

BOTTLE COLLECTING

Prospectors' Club's A. T. Evans of Odessa notes a recent search here for places to find handsome, antique bottles. He reports that the very old town dumps at both Menard (toward San Angelo) and nearby Fort McKavett have yielded, over three years, some 600 rare specimens to Menard's Mrs. Ila Mae Davis and son, Garry Dane. In a really old dump, trash-picking can be intriguing; it is often, after all, a rewarding pursuit for archaeology.

Thief May Receive Good Chewing Out

at Keithley Junior High School may be in for a good chewing out—that is, if Storaasli gets his things back. Deputy Sheriff John Shields reports the teacher's false teeth were among the missing items.

Red Winesap Apples Make Deliciously Tart 'Valentine'

The richly-red Delicious and Winesap apples are the most natural of Valentines. They abound in wholesome flavor, and lend their goodness to scarlet-sparked salads, spicy tarts or pies, and an endless array of favorite desserts.

Since the all-purpose Winesap variety is now in our markets, this is ideal for the apple cake recipe selected to fete St. Valentine. The Cinnamon-Cream Apple Cake festoons a light angel food cake, made from a mix, with the Basic Cinnamon'd Apple Slices.

You can also use this basic apple recipe as a base for a salad, as a garnish for a roast or fowl, or just as it is, as a refreshingly simple dessert.

CINNAMON-CREAM APPLE CAKE

- 1 pkg. angel food cake mix
- 3 large apples
- 3 cups water
- 2 cups sugar
- 1-3 cup cinnamon candies
- 3/4 tsp. red food coloring
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix angel food cake according to package directions. Fill two ungreased heart-shaped or round nine-inch cake pans two-thirds full and bake at 350 degrees F. for about 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool and remove from pans.

Peel apples, quarter, core and slice thinly. In a large saucepan or skillet, heat water, sugar, candies and food coloring until candies are dissolved. Add apple slices and simmer until translucent and tender, but not soft. Remove apples from syrup, drain well and chill. Boil remaining syrup until it is reduced to about two cups. Reserve one cup.

In saucepan, combine gelatin and cold water and stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in reserved syrup and chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture will mound slightly. Whip cream, fold in gelatin mixture; chill just until mixture will hold shape. Arrange half of the cinnamon'd apples on top of one cake layer, spread with gelatin-cream mixture. Place second layer on top, spread with gelatin-cream mixture, then arrange apple slices on top. Chill until filling is set. (If necessary, hold top layer in place with toothpicks until set.)

CINNAMON'D APPLE SLICES

- 1 1/2 cups water

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cup red cinnamon candies
- 1/4 tsp. red food coloring
- 4 Winesap apples, peeled, cored, and cut into 16ths
- 1 cup heavy cream

Combine water, sugar, candies, and food coloring in a skillet or large saucepan. Simmer until candies are dissolved. Add apple slices and cook slowly until apples are tender and translucent, adding more food coloring if necessary. Chill.

MERINGUE SHELLS

- 4 egg whites
- 1 tsp. lemon juice
- Dash of salt
- 1-3 cups sugar

Beat egg whites and lemon juice until frothy. Beat in sugar a little at a time. Cover a large cookie sheet with brown paper and form meringue into eight shells by using a pastry tube or by dropping into eight mounds, then hollowing centers with back of spoon. Bake at 275 degrees F. for 50 to 60 minutes, or until delicately browned. Then turn off oven and leave meringues in oven until cooled.

At serving time, whip cream, sweeten to taste, and stir in cinnamon apple syrup to tint a delicate pink. Layer cinnamon apples and cream in meringue shells and top with two apple slices placed together in a heart shape. Serves eight.

Strawberry Desserts Taste Good

Valentine parties over the years have featured molded strawberry desserts because they taste good, look pretty and are an appropriate pink color. But nowadays if you like to be up-to-the-minute in culinary matters, you'll probably enjoy making the mold with a modern technique.

Turn the dessert into a large heart-shaped mold. If this isn't on hand, and you have small heart-shaped molds, use these. If your individual heart molds hold between 1-3 and 1/2 cup, you will have enough desserts to feed at least a dozen guests.

STRAWBERRY VALENTINE DESSERT

- 1/4 pkgs. (each 10 ounces) frozen sliced strawberries
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 container (8 oz.) sour cream
- 3 egg whites
- 1/4 cup sugar
- Valentine garnish

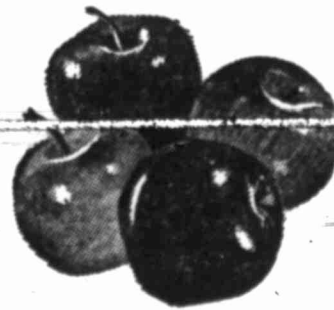

Have strawberries thawed enough so that they will be icy but not hard-frozen. In a medium saucepan, sprinkle the gelatin over the milk. Over low heat stir constantly until gelatin dissolves — about five minutes; remove from heat. Add salt and icy-cold strawberries plus any strawberry juice; stir until berries are completely thawed; mixture should thicken somewhat. Add sour cream; stir until blended; any small white blobs may be gently whisked or combined with a rotary hand beater. Beat egg whites until they hold stiff straight peaks; gradually beat in sugar; continue to beat, if necessary, until very stiff; fold into strawberry mixture until completely combined. Turn into a 7-cup heart-shaped or other mold. Chill for a few hours or until completely set. When top is firm, cover with plastic wrap.

Unmold before serving: with the tip of a small sharp thin-blade knife or small spatula, loosen edges of dessert; dip bottom of mold in hot water for a few seconds; place serving plate over top of mixture; invert plate and mold; remove mold. Makes eight to 12 servings.

Arrange slices of fresh strawberries, cut side up, around bottom edge of dessert; at top of slices add a narrow border of whipped cream put through a pastry tube and pipe heart and arrow outline over top surface of dessert.

Dear Abby

Better Tell Her Now

DEAR ABBY: I recently married Barney secretly. We are both 25. Barney had never been married before, but I was a divorcee with three children. Barney wants to wait at least a year before telling his mother about our marriage. I know he loves me and the children, but he says his mother won't understand his marrying a woman with a ready-made family.

I know I have a limited education and I feel somewhat inferior to his mother, but she couldn't love Barney any more than I do.

Please help me express my feelings to Barney and convince him that it's best for his mother to know about us. He is in the service and will be going overseas for a year soon. Thank you.

BARNEY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Barney is foolishly trying to postpone a difficult and disagreeable task, but he is only kidding himself. His mother won't "understand" any better a year from now. Furthermore, a service man's marriage must become a matter of record, and as such, it would be practically impossible to keep it from his mother for long.

If Barney deliberately keeps it off his record, he is being unfair to you, and asking for trouble. If you can't persuade Barney to tell his mother now, suggest that he talk it over with his chaplain, and let HIM explain why he must.

DEAR ABBY: We have a son in his early teens, and we were recently blessed with a very much wanted and prayed-for baby daughter!

We feel so fortunate that the good Lord sent us this beautiful child and are completely thrilled about it. But why do some people take the joy out of such happiness, and hurt new parents just because they happen to be 40 years old, or a bit older?

How do we answer these so-called friends who ask, "Was it a mistake?" NEW PARENTS: DEAR PARENTS: Reply, "A mistake? Of course not! God never makes mistakes."

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "WORRIED,"

Attends Meet

S. M. Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Public Schools, is in Atlanta, Ga., today and Friday attending the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools area meeting. The conference will include discussion of new accreditation standards.

Horoscope Forecast

FOR TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER—

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until about 5 p.m. so much tension and strife exists about you that it is wise that you do nothing that can further cause irritations and broken promises. However, the evening then becomes a time when most everyone, including yourself, can have happy moments of the things you like to do the most. Be happy.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be more alert in motion or you could get into some trouble, accidents and then you can be with those you like in a.m. Take care you do not speak sarcastically to others. Keep all harmonious.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Avoid some heavy investment or something too much for recreation during day. Plan how to increase your regular income instead to a goodly extent. Be more sure of yourself and know your ability. Use it wisely.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) One who has control over his life is easily demanding during day, so do only what you want to do and don't let your temper. Then the evening is fine and you are able to do what you wish at that time. Be happy.

MOON (June 22 to July 21) You may have secret worries during day hours and will find it necessary to carry through with what you had planned in a.m. and evening. Confer with experts. Assist those in need during a.m. (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show sensitivity with those who are having a rough time and could be a little short with you. Then end socially in a happy mood. Your aims become more clear to you by evening. Go after them in a direct fashion.

LIBRA (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Much care must be exercised in talking to high-ups and friends during day, or there can be trouble. Get that old bill paid up. The evening is fine for worldly affairs you like.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) First study that date you get from others before putting it to use, so that you do not make errors in any way. Be with a charming newcomer in a.m. for the right kind of recreation. Avoid those you are not sure of.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Do not renege on some responsibility or you can get into a bit of hot water later on that would be unpleasant. Once you have finished your work, discuss that new plan with mate. Get approval, support.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Listening actively and saying nothing until he has finished, is the best way to come to a real understanding with an associate now. Or wait until a.m. before answering. Handle that problem that arises in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Duties may seem tedious during a.m. but perseverance sees them nicely handled just the same. Take it easy in a.m. Don't permit that co-worker to irritate you any further; be firm with him or her.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take care you do not let one you love very much and then you can have a delightful, happy time together in a.m. Keep at that particular hobby you like. The right answer may not come to you until tonight, however.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Although you may feel you are not progressing as well as you should by evening you find there is nothing to be upset about. Rid yourself of whatever is annoying. Some entertaining at home tonight is fine.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he or she will be one of those highly nervous young people and it is important that you give early much care to diet and lots of rest. Any professions that require nimbleness of mind and fingers are here especially in the fields of selling and public affairs. Give spiritual training early, also. Call me a must here.

been to home plate. Now, at age 15, she's got a reputation that won't quit.

No matter what anybody says, a 14-year-old girl is TOO young to date. They all think they are mature enough to control themselves, but it doesn't seem to work out that way. I know. At 15, I got to "second base," and was well on my way to third when I came to my senses. Thank God my parents wouldn't let me date until I was 16. If I could get as far as I did in my living room, I dread to think how far I could have gone in a car.

I am much wiser now, and I'm glad the only reputation I have is that "I am fun to be with."

So, Abby, keep telling girls not to try to grow up too fast. It isn't worth wrecking your teen years for. You'll be glad you waited. I know, I am.

16 AND HAVING FUN CONFIDENTIAL TO "GO OR STAY HOME?" If your husband "begs" you to accompany him on some of his business trips, go as often as possible. I'd rather have someone else take care of my children than my husband.

Reagan Takes Lions Club On Vicarious Hunt

Horace Reagan took the Down town Lions Club on an Alaskan hunt Wednesday, bringing back a grizzly bear and a Dall sheep head as trophies.

Reagan projected slides of the trip he took to Alaska last year, hunting in rugged mountains northeast of Anchorage.

He could have bagged a caribou and other game had he bought licenses for them, he said. The hunter must buy a permit for every head and kind of game he intends to bag.

Alaska protects its game reserves by not permitting hunting by anyone who has been airborne within the past 24 hours. This is to prevent some from chasing game by air, then landing and picking off the exhausted animals.

His prize trophy — "the realization of a 30-year dream" — came after he had climbed over tricky rock slides nearly to the crest of a mountain and spotted a 200-pound Dall ram.

He had pictures of a glacier, permanently snow-capped mountains, tundra, and of a cabbage that would fill a wash tub.

"Got anything in Texas like that?" his guide asked.

Reagan didn't answer but pointed to a turnip about the size of a balloon.

"Is that a radish?" he asked, unimpressed.

Jimmy Ray Smith, president, reminded that the Lions Ladies

Night program is set for 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Cosden Country Club. This will be an occasion for the visit of Dist. Gov. J. Marvin Allen of San Angelo. The banquet will take the place of next Wednesday's meeting.

Aubrey Bryans urged families that have children with physical disabilities to contact him for an application to attend the annual Lions Camp for Crippled Children. Two have been received thus far, but more are sought. The camp is entirely free to the children, and the club provides transportation.

No Quick Navigation Planned For Red River

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — There will be no quick navigation of the Red River by freight barges or other craft in the near future, businessmen of a four-state area learned Wednesday.

The Red River Basin Coordinating Committee adjourned a public hearing after reporting that navigation of the big stream is not economically feasible at this time.

Railroads serving the area — Texas & Pacific Railway, Missouri Pacific Railroad, and the Texas & New Orleans — have fought the project for years.

They questioned the theory that either open channel or barge traffic would lower consumer prices.

The report Wednesday said the project is still being considered as a possible future program which might be effective in a decade or so.

About 200 persons heard the committee report presented by Col. Thomas J. Bowen of the Army Corps of Engineers. Representatives of agencies in Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma attended the meeting. The Corps of Engineers began a feasibility survey in 1965.

At that time the engineers concluded that navigation of the river could be justified only to the 12-mile Bayou north of Shreveport.

TOYAH HAS LITTLE TO OFFER

Trainmen Glad To Be Home

By SAM BLACKBURN

Five Big Spring railroaders, who were left high and dry in Toyah when the current strike of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen struck Monday night, came home Wednesday afternoon — via bus.

Ten other trainmen, from El Paso, also caught out when the T&P trains shut down, were en route west from Toyah. They, too, made their way home aboard buses.

W. E. Wozencraft, one of the local men, said that the situation was a little difficult for stranded trainmen in the near-ghost community of Toyah.

"If it hadn't been for the residents of Toyah," said Wozencraft, "things could have been a lot more unpleasant."

Toyah, once a bustling railroad division point, boasting numerous businesses, hotels, cafes and other activities, has now nearly ceased to exist as a town.

Wozencraft pointed out that the only cafe left in the community has now closed down and there is no place to eat.

"Since the cafe ceased to operate, and prior to the strike," said Wozencraft, "trainmen who were caught in Toyah were admitted to the old waiting room. There was a hot soup machine and a coffee machine there."

With the strike in effect, the trainmen would not and could not enter the waiting room. The soup and coffee machine stood idle.

"The Toyah Booster Club," said Wozencraft, "was quick to see the opportunity that was open. They cooked meals which they served to the trainmen at $1.25 each. We were happy to get the food. The nearest cafe from Toyah is in Pecos."

The operation will be continued by the Boosters, in all probability, since pickets from the El Paso Lodge are assigned to Toyah duty and will be wanting to eat.

"Booster Club food was fine," said Wozencraft. "They cooked and served it in the school's home economics department. They planned to serve sandwiches today."

The stranded Big Spring and El Paso men were assigned to picket duty.

"The Toyah people," said Wozencraft, "brought us a big tarpaulin which we hung up on poles to keep the wind away from our campfire. They also hauled us a lot of wood to keep the fire going and one of them left a pickup parked at the place so we could drive to a telephone if we had to make a call. They were always dropping by asking how we were getting along and suggesting that we go home with them for a meal."

He said that a number of trainmen, whose duties cause them to be in Toyah often, have their own trailer houses there. The old Toyah Hotel is still operating and provides rooms for sleeping. Wozencraft personally has a house there.

"Sleeping quarters are not the problem," he explained, "but getting something to eat is an issue when things are like they are now."

There's one small store which opens about two hours a day, he added, but it has a very small stock. The proprietor does not even stock milk.

The other Big Spring men who were caught with Wozencraft at Toyah were conductor G. H. Briden, the other train brakemen, W. H. Smith, the engineer, D. W. Pierce, and the fireman, M. Y. Butler.

Mrs. Raymond Hamby
Buys Casual Shoppe Here

Mrs. Raymond Hamby has purchased Fisher's Casual Shoppe, 1107 Eleventh Place, and is now managing business there.

Mrs. Hamby will continue to stock the same line of clothing that the Casual Shoppe has always carried and will make no staff changes.

"We have done some remodeling, including the addition of carpet," she said. "This has been the only change."

Mrs. Hamby is a native of Big Spring. Her husband is in the automobile business and they have three children: Ronnie Hamby is in his second year of seminary at Perkins School of Theology and is married to the former Jean Stalcup of Big Spring; Kenny Hamby is a freshman at Howard County Junior College; and Regina Hamby is a sophomore at Big Spring High School.

The family resides at 2701 E. 25th and attends the Kentwood Methodist Church.

MRS. CHARLES BURNSED

Bride Learns Skills In Managing Home

By RHODA LEMONS

Mrs. Charles Burnsed, Apt. 33, Ponderosa Apts., has been a bride since Dec. 22, and already she has made giant strides in becoming an accomplished, efficient homemaker.

One thing she has learned in this short period is that her husband desires and needs a large breakfast. Mrs. Burnsed is of the group that "could care less" about any kind of morning meal, but she is learning to prepare breakfast and attempt to eat at an early hour. Her husband does prepare the meal some of the time when she is running a little behind schedule.

Mrs. Burnsed is librarian at Rumsel Junior High School, and Burnsed is Physical Science teacher at Big Spring Senior High School.

Mrs. Burnsed is the former Miss Joy Redman of the Vincent community. She attended Howard County Junior College and Hardin-Simmons University. Burnsed is an East Texan, having lived in Marshall most of his life. He graduated from East Texas Baptist College and has been in Big Spring for the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnsed met shortly after his arrival here, and he admits to having become thoroughly acclimated to life here.

Because both work and have the same hours, the Burnseeds spend all their non-working hours together, and they share most of the household duties. Mrs. Burnsed is learning by doing, and she finds that if she thoroughly cleans the apartment on Saturday that it will remain neat during the week if they are careful to tidy up before going to bed.

Both shop for groceries, but occasionally, Burnsed does the shopping alone. They make a list of needed items and try to live within a budget. They pool their incomes, and Burnsed takes care of the actual bookkeeping, although they discuss purchases and payments before going shopping.

Mrs. Burnsed could cook before her marriage, but admits that her main fault lay in the organization. She now plans menus in advance and keeps something sweet baked at all times because her husband enjoys desserts.

They entertain infrequently and informally but enjoy having friends over for cards or snacks. Mrs. Burnsed has not tried many sit-down dinners as yet, but plans to entertain in this fashion during the summer months when she is not working. Part of her summer is spent taking extra credits at college, so that she may become a more qualified teacher. She formerly taught at Goliad Junior High School.

The Burnseeds spend most of their weekday evenings watching television or reading. While Burnsed grades papers, Mrs. Burnsed catches up on the laundry or ironing, and oftentimes, she assists him with his paper work.

They travel to neighboring towns on weekends, visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Redman in Vincent, or go to Marshall to be with his relatives.

They both enjoy music. Mrs. Redman plays the piano, and Redman is a violinist. They are of the Baptist faith.

GRILLED PORK CHOPS WITH SAUCE ROBERT

3 pork chops, each about one and one-half inches thick
Salt and pepper
Sauce Robert
Trim chops leaving half-inch fat.
Mallet to flatten slightly. Prepare charcoal fire or preheat broiler. Grill or broil chops, turning once or twice. They should be well cooked, 10 to 15 minutes per side. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve with Sauce Robert.

SAUCE ROBERT

1/2 cup dry white wine
1 tsp. finely chopped green or white onions
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 tsp. dried thyme
1/2 cup tomato puree
1/2 cup chicken stock
1/2 cup brown sauce or canned beef gravy
1 tsp. finely chopped parsley
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. butter
Combine wine, onion, garlic and thyme in saucepan and simmer until wine is reduced to about one tablespoon. Add tomato puree, chicken stock and brown sauce and cook 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove thyme and add parsley. Bring sauce to boil and remove from heat. Stir in mustard and swirl in butter. Do not cook further but serve hot. Yield: About 1/2 cup sauce.

SOUR CREAM COFFEECAKE

1 cup butter
2 cups plus 4 tps. sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sour cream
1/2 tsp. vanilla
2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup chopped pecans
1 tsp. cinnamon
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Cream butter and add two cups sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Fold in cream and vanilla and fold in flour sifted with baking powder and salt.

Combine remaining sugar, pecans and cinnamon. Place about one-third of batter in well-greased and floured bundt pan or nine-inch tube pan. Sprinkle with three-quarters of the pecan mixture. Spoon in remaining batter. Sprinkle with remaining pecans, and bake about 60 minutes or until done. Cool on rack.

CHERRY SALAD

1 No. 2 can dark red sweet cherries
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
1 cup pecans
Heat juice from cherries and pineapple and stir into gelatin. Cool. Add two bottles of cola beverage. Add fruit and nuts. Chill.

CUCUMBER SALAD

1 pkg. lime gelatin
3/4 cup hot water
2 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. horseradish
1/2 tsp. salt
3/4 cup drained, shredded, unpeeled cucumber
1/4 cup finely sliced green onions
Dissolve gelatin in hot water, add cheese, mayonnaise, horseradish, salt and lemon juice. Beat with electric mixer until partially set. Stir in cucumber and onion. Turn into mold and chill until set.

JAM DESSERT

1/2 cup lemon juice
1 can sweetened condensed milk
2-3 tps. favorite preserves or jam (we prefer raspberry jam)
1/2 pint whipped cream
1/2 cup pecans
1 1/2 cups rolled graham crackers
Stir lemon juice into condensed milk. Add preserves or jam. Fold into whipped cream. Add chopped pecans. Line a 6 x 10 pan with graham crackers. Cover with half of mixture, add more crackers and rest of mixture. Sprinkle cracker crumbs on top, if desired. Refrigerate for several hours and cut into squares.

PEACH PIE

1 pint fresh or frozen peaches
1 unbaked pie shell
1/2 cup sugar
2 tps. flour (heaping)
1/2 cup butter
2 eggs
Put fruit in an unbaked pie shell (nine inches). Combine sugar, eggs and flour. Add melted butter, and pour mixture over the peaches and sprinkle cinnamon on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

TOPPING

1/2 cups sugar
2 tps. flour (heaping)
1/2 cup butter
2 eggs
Put fruit in an unbaked pie shell (nine inches). Combine sugar, eggs and flour. Add melted butter, and pour mixture over the peaches and sprinkle cinnamon on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

Use Beef Dressed As Party Fare

"Me serve ground beef to my guests?"

Why not, particularly if it's dressed up in a fancy Stroganoff style? They will certainly like it! And if the homemaker can be budget-wise while entertaining, she'll probably have guests for meals more often.

This is a dish that's festive enough for holiday time, when it's served in a chafing dish, accompanied with noodles.

Round out the menu with green beans almondine, a large molded fruit salad, assorted relishes and rolls with fruit cake or plum pudding as dessert.

HAMBURGER STROGANOFF

1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
1/2 cup minced onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 cup lard
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 can (8 oz.) mushroom stems and pieces
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) cream of celery soup
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tps. parsley flakes or minced parsley
1 pkg. (8 oz.) noodles, cooked
Cook onion and garlic in lard until tender. Add ground beef and brown lightly. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add mushrooms and liquid and cook five minutes. Add undiluted cream of celery soup and simmer uncovered for 10 minutes. Add sour cream and parsley and cook just until heated through. Serve over noodles. Makes six servings.

Use Melted Sauce

Combine dairy sour cream with a dab of concentrated garlic spread, set in a warm spot to melt garlic spread, stir and spoon over hot drained canned green beans.

Bake Fun 'Kookies' For Pop.

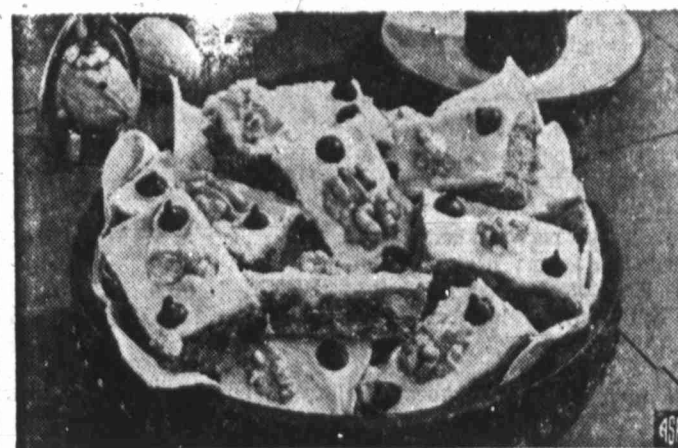

Make this fun dessert for the children on Valentine's Day. Perhaps, if they are large enough, they can share in the fun of preparing it for that special man in their life... their dad.

KOOKY-POPS

3/4 cup (1 1/2 sticks) butter
3/4 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 tsp. vanilla
2 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
1 1/2 tps. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
3 tps. milk
Colored sugar

In a mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; gradually add to creamed mixture. Blend in milk. Chill for ease in handling. On lightly floured surface, roll dough to 1/4-inch thickness. Working quickly, cut with floured cookie cutters; place on baking sheets. (If necessary, refrigerate remaining dough before re-rolling and cutting.)

Insert a wooden skewer and reshape slightly. Decorate with colored sugar if desired or frost after baking. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 10-12 minutes. Allow to stand a few minutes before removing to wire rack to cool. Yield: Two dozen. Variation: Use smaller heart shaped cookie decorated with colored sugar and press it on to larger frosted heart.

VALENTINE TEMPTERS
Crunchy bars are sweet and good

No Need For Treasure Hunt With Walnut Bars

You don't need to go on a treasure hunt to find good home or party recipes, not when chocolate and walnuts are teamed as cookin' cousins in Walnut Treasure Bars. There is a masterful blend of flavors with brown sugar, a bit of sherry, instant coffee powder, cinnamon and, of course, those tasty semi-sweet chocolate morsels and crunchy walnuts. Walnuts are readily available in-the-shell in cellophane bags or already shelled in handy vacuum cans or clear bags.

WALNUT TREASURE BARS

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup sherry
1 2-3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp instant coffee powder
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. cinnamon

1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
1 6-oz. package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
Icing

Cream together shortening, sugar and egg. Add milk and sherry. Resift flour with coffee powder, salt, baking powder, soda and cinnamon. Add to creamed mixture, and blend to a smooth batter. Stir in walnuts and semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Spread in greased pan 10 by 15-inches. Bake at 375 degrees about 20 minutes, until top springs back when touched lightly. Cool in pan. Spread with icing. Decorate tops of bars with additional walnuts and chocolate morsels if desired. Cut into bars. Makes three dozen bars, about 2 1/2 by 1 1/2-inches.

Icing: Combine 2 1/4 cups sifted powdered sugar, 1 1/2 tps. soft butter, two tps. sherry, one tsp. milk and one tsp. instant coffee powder and beat until smooth.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

For stuffed baked fish, choose a fish that weighs from three to five pounds and have it scaled and cleaned. The head, tail and fins can be removed or left on, just as you please; when epicures prepare a baked fish, they leave them on!

Enjoy the flavor of herbs? Add a little marjoram to creamed veal or chicken that is going to be topped with pastry for a main-dish pie.

If a recipe calls for "prepared flour" it means self-rising flour to which leavening and salt have been added.

Know how to close a fish after you've stuffed it? Lap the edges of the fish over the stuffing with small skewers and then lace with string.

To make "cheese carrots for garnish, mold soft cheddar lance with string.

Cameraman Escapes Red Attempts To Execute Him

SAIGON (AP) — A Vietnamese free-lance cameraman captured by the Viet Cong said today the Communists made three unsuccessful attempts to execute him.

Vo Thanh Son, 33, was taking televised news film for the Columbia Broadcasting System around the Cho Ray hospital in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese section, when he was captured on Wednesday.

ROBBED, TIED

Son said he was stopped near the hospital by a group of armed Viet Cong dressed in civilian clothes who asked if he was a policeman.

"They took me to their command post and robbed me of everything," Son said. "They tied my hands and they led me away after blindfolding me."

"About 3 p.m. one guy came and asked me if I worked for the Americans. I said I was a journalist and a cameraman and carried American accreditation. They said I would be pardoned if I signed a confession that I was an American spy."

"At four o'clock they told me they had orders to execute me." He said the Viet Cong had captured 18 persons including South Vietnamese soldiers.

"I heard a roll-call and about 12 were released," Son said. "They told the six of us to go, and they marched us to a place we didn't know. Then they lined us up and told us to kneel down."

BIG BANG

"I heard two bursts of gunfire, probably from automatic rifles, and I had the impression that I was dead. But after a few seconds I heard some noise around and I knew I was still alive. I had the initiative to feign death."

"They shouted for the coup de grace to be shot at each of us. I was in the middle of the six, and I was the last one."

TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE FOR 'THE FANTASTICKS'

There were still some tickets available this morning for the two holdover performances of "The Fantasticks" Little Theatre of Big Spring production in the Lamplight Theatre on the mall. Curtain time Friday and Saturday will be 8:15 p.m.

Tickets, at $2 for adults and $1 for students and children, are available at Montgomery Ward, Condra's, and Gray Jewelry, and persons desiring delivery of tickets may call Condra's, 263-4511, and tickets will be sent out.

"The Fantasticks" was sold out three nights last week, and the holdover performances will be the final shows of this musical drama, the first ever staged by amateur dramatists here.

Foreign Aid Faces Tough Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asks Congress today for $3.04 billion in foreign aid for the coming fiscal year amid signs of another rough round on Capitol Hill for the overseas assistance program.

The President's program for $2.5 billion for economic assistance and $540 million for military aid abroad during the fiscal year starting July 1, to be sent to Congress in a special message, is about $750 million above what the legislators were willing to grant him last year.

Congress chopped nearly $1 billion out of Johnson's $3.2 billion aid budget for the current fiscal year.

Some congressmen who saw Johnson's aid figures in his budget message last month have already said they intend to cut again. Rising federal spending, the dollar drain, criticism of the administration's Vietnam policy and demands for more outlays for social welfare at home have added to pressure for reducing the overseas program.

In offering his budget, Johnson said foreign aid is essential to U.S. efforts to promote world peace, both through raising living standards in less-developed areas and through contributing to the defenses of non-Communist nations.

BILLION PLUS

The $3.04 billion for the aid-administering Agency for International Development and global arms assistance is a large portion but by no means all of the U.S. assistance extended abroad.

AID chief William S. Gaud calculated total U.S. economic aid programs for fiscal 1969 at $4.23 billion, up from $3.98 billion this year, including along with his agency's outlays those under the Food for Freedom program, contributions to international banks and spending for Peace Corps volunteers.

The $540 million military aid outlay does not include undisclosed amounts for Vietnam, Laos and Thailand, which are included in the regular U.S. defense budget.

African Abbie Back In Custody

Nixon Asks Sooner Voters To Join 'New Coalition'

By The Associated Press

Republican candidates sought out voters in Oklahoma and New Hampshire and former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace flew into Washington, apparently to announce he'll run for president on a third party ticket.

Wallace has scheduled a news conference to reveal what his aides termed his "intentions regarding the 1968 presidential campaign." One aide said privately Wallace wouldn't go to Washington to say he's not going to run.

ROCKY HASSLE

In New Hampshire, political aides of Michigan Gov. George Romney indicated a personal tour by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York may be used to bolster the Romney campaign with New Hampshire voters.

One Romney campaign source said a Rockefeller visit would be designed to discourage support for the New York Governor in the March 12 New Hampshire primary.

"Whatever Rockefeller can do to minimize this vote, he'll do it," said Leonard W. Hall, chairman of Romney's national campaign organization.

"Gov. Rockefeller has indicated as thoroughly as the English language will permit him to indicate that he's not going to be a candidate, that he doesn't want to be president," Romney has said.

'NEW COALITION'

In Oklahoma City, Richard M. Nixon drew large bursts of cheers and applause when he told a GOP fund-raising dinner that he intends to give the nation new leadership. He asked them to join a "new coalition" that he said crosses all party and ideological lines.

Oklahoma Republicans will elect the nation's first delegates to the GOP's national convention when they hold district conventions this weekend.

The former vice president put in his bid for their support before flying to Denver where he is to meet with his campaign heads in 14 western states.

In other political developments

—Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner declared he will not seek a third term because of personal reasons concerning "the health and happiness of my family." A list of possible contenders to succeed him includes R. Sargent Shriver, director of the federal antipoverty program and Illinois State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III, son of the late ambassador to the United Nations.

—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy,

D-Minn., also campaigning in New Hampshire, said he is willing to debate all the Republican and Democratic presidential possibilities—including President Johnson.

Probe Unveils Weed Smoking

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Officers investigating a slaying have uncovered 64 instances of marijuana smoking by youths in Brownsville, police said Wednesday.

All the youths, the police statement noted, were between the ages of 12 and 21. The marijuana smoking came to light during an investigation into the death of Arthur Louis Ziegelmeyer III, 20, of Fort Worth. His body was found last week in a reservoir between Brownsville and Los Fresnos. He had been beaten on the head and shot five times.

Police Lt. Ruben Garcia said officers have taken statements from 27 individuals and 64 persons have been implicated as a result.

Garcia said his investigators discovered the marijuana cases while probing the Ziegelmeyer death. All the incidents, he added, apparently occurred recently.
