The criminal docket will be called next week.

Petit jurors as follows have been notified to appear for service during the second week of court, starting at 10:00 a. m. on Monday, September 15:

Much interest is being shown in the showing of the latest creations of Dame Fashion for midday, which will be displayed on live models in the windows of the Edwards' Toggery, tonight, Thursday, September 11, starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Edwards, proprietor of this popular and exclusive shop, has gone to considerable expense, and has put in much time, in order to make this show a success.

Arrangements have been made for taking care of the large crowd that will assemble in front of the store to see this showing which will feature the latest and newest arrivals in ladies dresses, coats, suits, millinery and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beymer and daughters of Sublette, Kans., spent the week-end visiting in the home of Mrs. Beymer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Carter.

M'LARTY BUYS OUT PARTNER

R. L. CHRISTOPHER TAKES OVER INSURANCE BUSINESS OF PERRYTON LAND CO.

Announcement was made this week of a change in the Perryton Land company, C. E. McLarty purchasing the interest of W. D. Christopher in the firm, becoming the sole owner, while R. L. Christopher has taken over the insurance department and has opened a general insurance agency, opening an office over the First National bank.

Mr. Christopher has not decided definitely upon his future plans but is contemplating going back into the cattle business. He wishes to thank the many customers of the firm for their past patronage and hopes they will continue letting the Perryton Land company serve them.

H. L. Christopher has been identified with the insurance department of the firm for some time and has made a remarkable record in this work.

MAKING PLANS FOR 1931 CONVENTION

FOOTBALL TEAM TO PAMPA FRI.

RANGERS WILL PLAY FIRST GAME FRIDAY; HARVEST- ERS ARE OPPONENTS; CLASS "A" TEAM

The fighting "Rangers" of Perryton "Hi", will play their first football game of the 1930 season on Friday afternoon, September 12, when they meet their old foe, the Pampa Harvesters, on the Pampa field. This will not be a conference game, as Pampa, on account of the size of their school has passed into the Class "A" class, having over five hundred pupils enrolled in high school.

Coach Shupe will put an untried team into this game, only three regulars of last year being in the lineup. They are Carter, Witt and Tucker. Schollenbarger and Rupprecht of this year's squad, made their letters last year, but were not regular first string players. From forty to fifty men are coming out every afternoon and it looks like Shupe will be able to develop one of the best teams in the history of the school. The team will be light, not averaging over 143 pounds, but what they lack in weight, will be made up in speed.

The probable line-up for the Pampa game tomorrow afternoon is as follows: Carter and Murphy, centers; Dean, Rupprecht, Withers and Morris, guards; Johnson, Mounts, Bradford and Jines, tackles; Hamker, Schollenbarger, Garrison and Firestone, ends; Tucker, Witt, Grogan, Shockey, Sanford, LaMaster and Berkstresser, back field.

May Exhibit at Dallas

Ochiltree County Farm Products May Be Shown at Both Dallas And Lubbock Fairs

T. D. Moss, secretary of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce, states that it is very probable that the exhibit of Ochiltree county farm products which is now being prepared for showing at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo on September 22-27, will later be taken to both the Lubbock and Dallas fairs.

This display is now being prepared by Mr. Moss and Guy R. Sheets, Ochiltree county farm agent. This is the first time that an attempt has been made to enter an exhibit from this county. Ochiltree county is one of the leading agricultural counties of the state, and without question, it is the banner wheat county of all Texas. Small grains will feature the display.

Mrs. E. G. O'Dell returned Friday from a two months visit in Ohio and West Virginia.

M'CONNELL NOW DISTRICT ATTY.

GOVERNOR MOODY APPOINTS M'CONNELL AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY WHEN CAL- HOUN RESIGNS

Appointment of W. L. McConnell of Panhandle, Democratic nominee for district attorney of the 84th judicial district, to fill the unexpired term of Clem Calhoun, has been announced by Governor Dan Moody.

Calhoun was appointed district attorney to succeed Johnny Holmes when he was assassinated several months ago. Calhoun resigned last week to enter private practice of law at Amarillo, entering into a partnership with Col. E. O. Thompson.

McConnell was given the Democratic nomination in the first primary by a nice majority. He has accepted the appointment and has taken over the duties of the office.

McConnell has served as county attorney of Carson County and has also held the office of city attorney in one of the large cities of East Texas.

He is a capable lawyer and is well fitted for the position to which Governor Moody has appointed him. He has been a resident of Panhandle for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Fair returned Friday from Amarillo. While there, Mrs. Fair had her tonsils removed. Mrs. Carroll Dodd is assisting at the C. E. Stone company store while Mrs. Fair is absent.

IS FIRST GENERAL DOWNPOUR SINCE LAST FALL OVER NORTH PANHANDLE

OVER TWO INCHES FALLS HERE IN PAST WEEK; BREAKS LONG PERIOD LOCAL SHOWERS; PARTS OF TERRITORY REPORT HEAVY RAINFALL

At last the long period of local showers over this section of the Panhandle has been broken with the general rain on last Monday night, and the coming of this much needed moisture has brought joy to everyone in this area. Right at this time, rain and plenty of it is the best kind of farm relief that could come to the agriculturists of the Panhandle.

FIFTEEN FIRE CALLS IN 1930

LOSS IS LESS THAN $6,000 FOR YEAR; ONLY ONE CALL IN MONTH OF AUGUST

Only fifteen fire calls have been turned in up-to-date during the year, according to Fire Marshal Z. H. Gamel, the loss being recorded at $5,892.00. Only one call was turned in during August and no damage was reported. None have been turned in this month.

Of the fifteen calls, three were in January, two in March, one in April, two in May, none in June, three in July and one in August. The heaviest loss was in January, reported at $3,650. March losses totaled $2,000, with July set at $242. No losses were reported, most of the fires being of a very minor nature.

Much credit for this splendid fire record is due the members of the volunteer fire department, who are taking such an active interest in the work. The department drills every Monday evening at 6:00 o'clock. Their splendid work, in addition to the work being done by Fire Marshal Gamel and the equipment furnished by the city, is responsible for the reduction in the insurance key rate.

Perryton has had a fifteen cent reduction in the key rate for good fire record since Mr. Gamel first assumed the duties of fire marshal except one, that was in 1925 and a nine cent reduction was given that year. At present the key rate is forty-two cents and application is being made for a nine cent reduction to which the city will be entitled when the present paving project is completed, also covering the water main extensions made last spring.

Perryton is dotted with thirty-two fire hydrants and is supplied with 44,500 feet of water main, varying in size from two to eight inch. The fire fighting equipment includes a 500-gallon Segraves pump-truck, a chemical truck and a hose cart. The trucks are equipped with 3,000 feet of standard fire hose.

The fire department is composed of eighteen members. All of them have electric sirens on their private cars, which are often used in answering fire calls.

LIGHTNING STRUCK FARM HOME; DAMAGE IS SLIGHT

Lightning struck the John J. Pauls home, north of Farnsworth, last Saturday morning at about 1:00 o'clock during the electrical storm and rain, but luckily very little damage was done.

It is thought that the bolt came through the roof, but it was not damaged. The upstairs room was filled with smoke and papers were scattered about and a hole burned in some clothing stored there. No flames were discovered and nothing else was damaged by the bolt.

Miss Verna Lawrence and Miss Kubah Norman, teachers in the Spearman school, spent the week-end in the home of Miss Verna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. French Lawrence. The Lawrences recently moved into their beautiful new home just west of town. It is a brick veneer, containing seven rooms, bath and full basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hawk visited over the week-end in Shattuck, Okla.

On Monday night the first general rain of any consequence fell over the entire Perryton trade territory, the precipitation in this city measuring 1.31 inches, according to Attorney Jack Allen, keeper of the official government rain gauge. Reports from north, east, south and west, all give the same story. Some parts of the territory got more rain than others, both Farnsworth and Nolla reporting over two inches.

The rainfall on Monday night brings the total since last Thursday to 2.18 inches. On Thursday night, .77 of an inch fell and on Sunday the precipitation .10. It is thought that the long drought over this area is now broken. Some parts of this territory have had plenty of moisture, while others have had none at all. The rains during the summer months have all been local.

NATIONAL LEG- ION BROADCAST

NATIONAL PROGRAM ON THE AIR, THURSDAY, SEPT. 18; JOINT MEETING AT LEGION HALL

A joint meeting of the Pierce Johnson Legion Post of Perryton and the American Legion Auxiliary Unit will be held at Legion Hall on Thursday evening, September 18, for the purpose of listening to the nation-wide American Legion Convention Corporation program. The regular meeting on next Monday night will not be held.

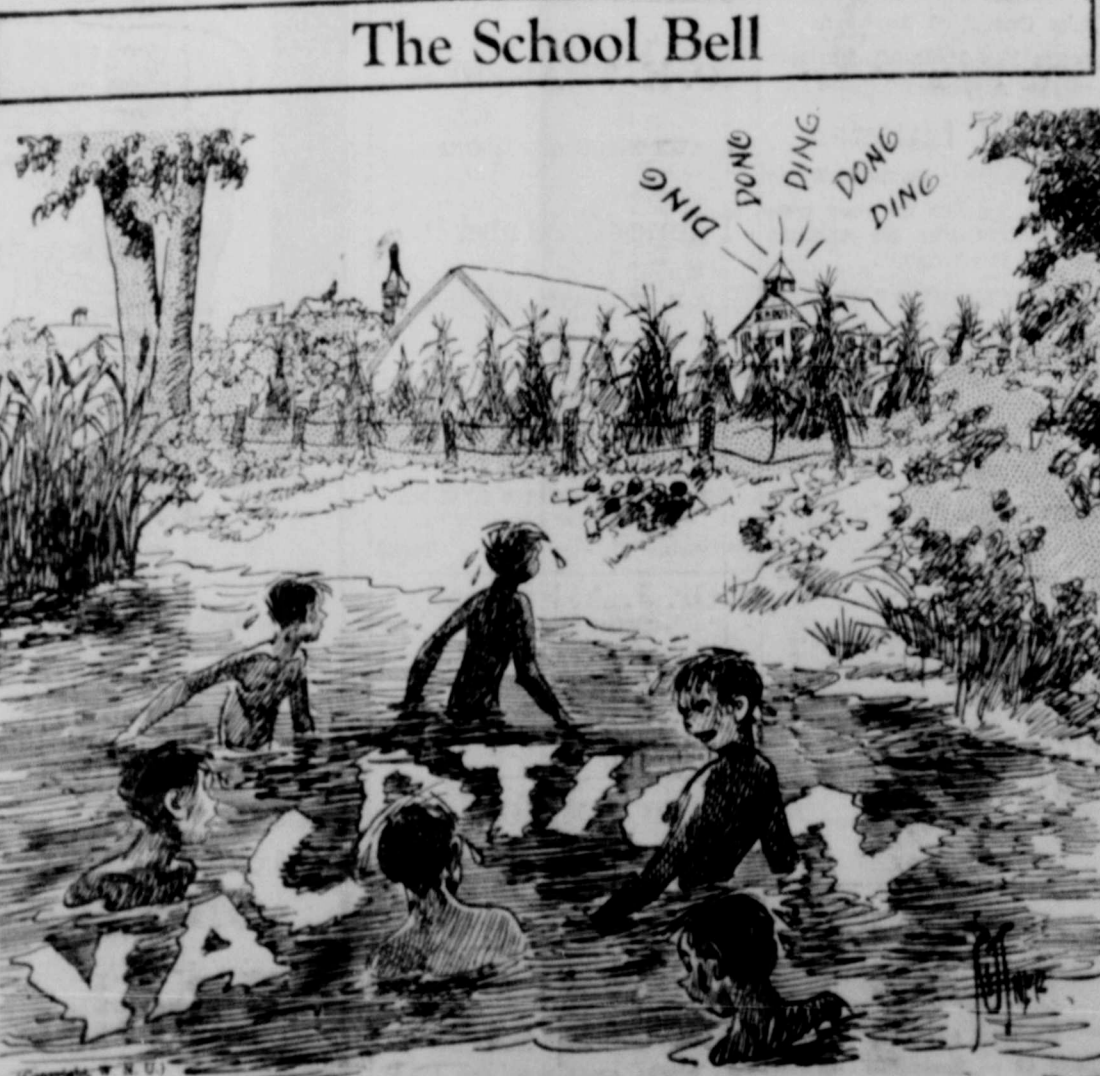

This meeting is called at the request of National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer, and simultaneous meetings will be held in 10,500 Legion halls throughout the United States. The national program is made possible through the kindness and generosity of the Victor division of the R. C. A. Victor Company and the National Broadcasting Co., cooperating with the American Legion Convention Corporation of Boston, the next national convention meeting place.

This program will present the largest and most comprehensive broadcast in the annals of radio over the gigantic coast-to-coast network of all the stations of the National Broadcasting Co. from 8:00 to 9:30, our time. A new model Victor combination radio-victrola will be furnished the Legion and placed in the hall through the courtesy of R. T. Shindler, owner of the Shindler Drug Co., Victor dealers for Perryton.

The main program will be broadcast from Faneuil Hall, "The Cradle of Liberty," in Boston, but parts of the entertainment will come from the tower of Old North Church, Washington, D. C., Chicago, Maine, Oregon, California, Texas, Florida and other states.

Legionnaires and Auxiliary members are urged to be at the hall promptly at eight o'clock so that not a single part of the program will be missed. Refreshments will be served by the Auxiliary. New officers will be elected by the Legion following the national broadcast.

JEREMIAH—THE PROPHET OF INDIVIDUAL RELIGION
 Jeremiah 1:4-10; 31:27-34
 Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Jeremiah wrought through the reigns of four kings: Josiah, Jehoiachin, Jehoiachin and Zedekiah at which time Jerusalem was taken captive in 586 B. C. Throughout all his ministry this prophet sought to stop the people in their entrenched sins. When this could not be accomplished golden promises were given for the future although the nation was about to begin their seventy years of Babylonian captivity.

Getting started right and as early as possible is of vast importance. Jeremiah had much to be thankful for in his home associations. He, like Timothy, was brought up in the midst of God-fearing surroundings. At about the age of 23 he understood that the Lord was calling him to definite service as a prophet who should speak forth divine messages to a sinning people. The modesty of the youth is apparent as he calls himself only a child in wisdom. Boldness in work, however, is manifested as soon as he is assured that he is to be an ambassador for Jehovah in dealing with both kings and people. He believes that the God who calls will adequately equip for the required service.

Trying to excuse self when in the wrong is not a new attitude in life. It had become quite the custom then to lay the blame for the present on the doings of the past. This was often expressed by saying "The fathers have eaten a sour grape and the children's teeth are set on the edge." This is just another way of blaming hereditary and environment for all of our present situation. A new psychology, or way of thinking, was called for. Jeremiah made it clear that God was not dealing with the people as a group but that everyone was individually responsible unto Him. This great principle is further enlarged in the New Testament. Paul, in our Golden Text, stated: "Each one of us shall give an account of himself unto God." Romans 14:12. This fact gives a new incentive in living. We may be handicapped by the past but not bound down by it.

No matter how bad present conditions may be there can be a worthwhile future. Jeremiah boldly presents this fact by his wonderful sweep of prophecies. He is addressing a people about to be taken captives and yet he tells them that in time they will return to their beloved Jerusalem as a center, and that the nation still has a glorious history as their heritage. The horizon for blessings is still further enlarged as the world is looked upon as a vast neighborhood with Jehovah as the one loving father. Jeremiah looks out upon progress down the ages from the view-point of the Almighty. In that day "they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord." Divine favor is extended to this world-wide family of God for He will "forgive their iniquity and remember their sin no more." Such hope enables us to be steadfast today and enlarge our efforts in righteousness tomorrow.

AGE SECRET UNKNOWN

Often interviewed on his birthday and asked the secret of his long life, Major Charles Manley Stedman of North Carolina, now 89, and the oldest member of Congress, has had little light to throw on the subject. Once he said: "The whole secret of my long and active life is the providence of God." This answer was concise enough, but it would perhaps be of little benefit to anyone else. Pressed for further details, he went on to tell something of his personal habits, saying:

"I smoke more cigars than the ordinary man, and have smoked a great deal most of my life. I eat, anything I like that is set on the table before me. I do much walking at home, but in Washington I take no particular form of exercise."

Surely this is not a difficult regimen, but it might not work out with others as it has with the venerable Major, who first went to Congress when he was 70 and is now in his 20th year of service at Washington.

While persons of extreme age often believe that certain habits of life, or lack of habits, are responsible for their longevity there appears to be no old age secret. Some folks just happen to live a long time, usually without making any special effort to do so.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Slogan: "A Changing Christ for a Changing World."

Holy Communion will be celebrated Sunday morning. The subject of the sermon will be, "What Must a Christian do in Order to Receive the Full and Complete Benefit and Blessing From the Lord's Supper?"

The Lord's Supper is a sacrament, a means of grace. It is not merely a memorial ceremony. Lutherans believe and teach that the body and blood of Jesus Christ are truly present in and with the bread and wine in the Sacrament of Holy Communion, are taken by all who eat and drink at the Lord's Table, are received by the believing Christian for the strengthening of his faith and his growth in godliness, and should be given to those only who have professed their faith. Closed communion is practiced in our church, that is, the Lord's Supper is given only to communicant members of our church.

Until November our morning services will begin at 10 o'clock followed by Sunday School at 11 o'clock. You are welcome.

H. W. Hartenberger,
 Pastor.

few farms and few people." "Another of the valuable rock products of the South is the petroleum or crude oil, found especially in the coastal sections of Texas and Louisiana and in Oklahoma." A child studying books in which the above quotations and countless others as untrue appear, would never realize that in 1929 West Texas produced practically 40 per cent of the cotton crop of Texas; nor would it have any reason to know that West Texas produces one-seventh of the petroleum or crude oil of the United States, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Publicity Committee contends.

In addition to sponsoring the effort to effect corrections in public school textbooks on misleading statements concerning West Texas, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Publicity Committee has undertaken several other projects of importance including the distribution of several hundred thousand lithographed stamps advertising the attractive features of West Texas; publication by all towns in the West Texas territory of interest compelling literature and also lending assistance to a campaign to popularize Texas made goods and increase their consumption in the state.

TENOR'S VOICE BRINGS THRILL

SONGS AND ART OF MCCORMACK HAVE SPREAD HAPPINESS THROUGH WORLD

The fact that at the Ellis Theatre next Monday and Tuesday local movie lovers are to have the privilege of both seeing and hearing the world's greatest tenor, through the medium of a Fox movietone production in which he is starred, brings to mind the thought that, to speak of John McCormack's successes is to invite a certain uniformity, so unvaried in his long list of triumphs, "Song O' My Heart" is the latest in the series.

Since his American debut at the Manhattan Opera House, New York City, with Madame Tetrazzini, his career has been meteoric. His name is spoken in almost all sections of the habitable globe and in this country he is a national figure. To America he is enshrined in the hearts of the public.

A famous editor recently wrote: "John McCormack's voice and art have given more real delight and inspiration to a greater number of people than any other voice of all time. He has taken happiness and peace into thousands upon thousands of homes. His life and work have made millions happy and for that he deserves honor and happiness himself."

Primarily, that added millions might hear the voice of this great singer was the reason that Winfield Sheehan, vice president and general manager of the Fox Film Corporation, induced McCormack to accept a picture starring contract. The clarity and the definiteness of Fox movietone makes his acquisition invaluable. In the picture, directed by Frank Borzage and based on a story written especially for McCormack by Tom Barry, the supporting cast includes Maureen O'Sullivan, J. M. Kerrigan, Farrell Macdonald, Effie Ellsler, John Carrick and Tommy Clifford.

A'AIN KONJOLA SHOWS WHAT IT CAN ACCOMPLISH

Prominent San Antonio Man Eager
In His Praise of New Medicine

MR. CHARLES OLIPHANT

"I am glad to endorse Konjola to any who suffer as I did," said Mr. Charles Oliphant, well-known San Antonio railroad man, 423 Lamar street, San Antonio. "About a year ago I suffered a breaking out on my skin. Little patches of pimples appeared and were called water-blisters. They itched and burned severely, and, though I tried many remedies I gained only temporary relief. From Konjola, I gained miraculous results. The breaking out disappeared within three weeks after I began taking Konjola. I had kidney trouble but now the pains in my back and the swelling under my eyes have disappeared also. I feel better in every way and have gained weight. I think Konjola is a very fine medicine."

Konjola is recommended over a six to eight weeks period and is designed to relieve ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Perryton, Texas, at the Perryton Drug Company drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. 33-11-c.

SHEETS

To determine why cotton fabrics wear out, the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics has made a laboratory test of 400 sheets discarded by a big Washington hotel.

The results of the tests have been submitted to manufacturers of sheeting, who are trying to find ways to make sheets which will wear longer in the parts where these gave out.

Not a matter of great national importance, perhaps, but an illustration of the way in which scientific research by the Government aids manufacturers and incidentally helps to provide the public with better goods.

INDUSTRIES

Economists, statesmen and capitalists are hunting for new industries to take up the slack in permanent employment resulting from the extensions of labor-saving devices in established industries.

One thing that is being seriously considered by one of the great concerns which manufactures mechanical devices, is a machine which can be installed in the home, like a radio or a refrigerator, which will cool the house, or at least the room it is in, in summer. In the laboratory it is possible to do this now. What is needed is the development of this on a commercial scale, to sell at a price within the reach of the average family.

In time, and perhaps in a very short time, something like that will become a great industry.

AIRPLANES

For the first time since flying was invented, anybody can now buy a serviceable, up-to-date plane, complete with engine and all necessary equipment, for less than $1,000.

That does not mean, however, that flying is about to become as popular as motoring. For one thing, an airplane still needs a lot of room from which to take off and land in; it is not adapted to the use of the city dweller. Parking space for airplanes is not easily found.

Nevertheless, young folk are practicing flying in increasing numbers and planes are being steadily improved as to stability and durability in the air. Thousands more lives will be sacrificed before the safe airplane is perfected, but it is safe to say that in another fifty years the air will have lost most of its danger.

CONCRETE

In writing the history of human progress a thousand years from now one of the important milestones which will have to be recorded will be the invention of Portland cement, in the early 1800's. The use of concrete, consisting of Portland cement and sand, gravel or crushed stone is one of the great advances made practically in our own time. It is still so new that all of its possible applications have not been realized.

An improvement in concrete, making it at once lighter and more nearly fireproof, has just been developed. Tests by Columbia University experts proved that it resists a temperature of 1,800 degrees and weighs less than a third of ordinary concrete, bulk for bulk. It is made by adding aluminum powder and soda to the aggregate. The aluminum generates hydrogen gas and makes the concrete rise like bread, so that it takes only a third as much to fill a given space. Two inches of the liquid mass poured for a floor, for example, will rise to nearly six inches thick, drying as it expands.

Fireproof and heatproof homes will be regarded as necessities a hundred years hence.

REST

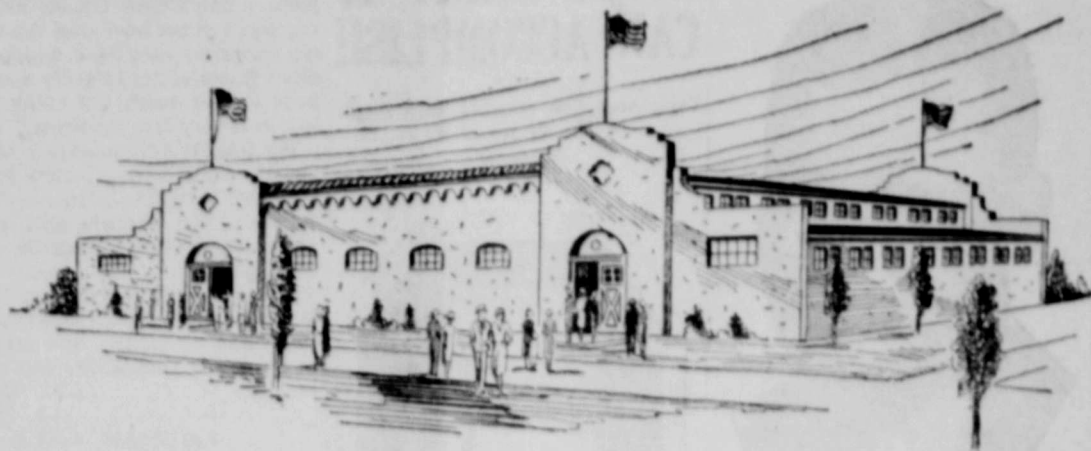

A ten-minute rest every two or three hours is a better stimulus to continued efficiency than lopping off an entire hour from the working day, the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor reports. Tests of the recuperative power of the human machine have proved that it takes four times as long for the muscles to rest when they have been worked to the endurance limit, as it does for them to regain their tone after working half as long.

In one large New York publishing house there is a ten-minute rest period at 10:30 in the morning and another at 3 in the afternoon.

The same office closes down all day Saturday from April to October. Its record of production, is higher than in any office with which its work has been compared.

Mental workers as well as physical workers benefit by complete relaxation at frequent intervals.

Automobile Show Room at Tri-State Fair

Here is an architect's drawing of the first permanent building to be constructed on the Tri-State Fair grounds at Amarillo, the new $25,000 automobile show room which will be ready for the fall exposition, September 22 to 27. The new building is of the Spanish type of architecture, finished in yellow stucco and brick. This style has been adopted for all permanent buildings to be erected in the future. Dimensions of this unit will be 150x140 feet, so constructed that it can be added to at any time. The complete building will be 300x150 feet. There will be 2,300 square feet of floor space, accommodating 100 cars.

Boosts Tri-State Fair

Panhandle Lumber Company Is Donating Advertising for Big Amarillo Exposition

The Panhandle Lumber company, with yards located throughout the Panhandle-Plains, is so convinced of the need of encouraging farmers to attend the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, September 22nd to 27th, and see the progress being made throughout the territory in diversified farming, that it is using commensurate newspaper advertisements toward that end in every city where the company has a yard and newspaper is located.

John E. Hill, general manager of the company, states the situation on diversified farming as follows: "Diversified farming is both practical and profitable in the Panhandle-Plains; and the future of our area depends in no small degree upon the realization of this by our farmers. Our company is taking an active interest in advertising the forthcoming Tri-State Fair at Amarillo because we are convinced that the agricultural exhibits at this annual event will visualize this year as never before the possibilities for profit and success in diversified farming."

The Tri-State Fair is on a better footing this year than ever before, according to Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the Tri-State Fair association. The free gate feature, the

CHRISTIAN RE-
VIVAL SEPT. 28REV. BYERLY ANNOUNCES RE-VIVAL MEETING TO START
SEPTEMBER 28; DR.
FIFE TO LEAD

The Christian Church announced last Sunday that they expect to begin a revival meeting Sunday, September 28th. Some time ago, according to the announcement made, the church voted to have a meeting and to send a call to Dr. Clyde Lee Fife of Robinson, Illinois, to direct. Dr. Fife has accepted and will be on hand and the entire church is getting ready to make this Perryton's greatest revival meeting.

L. O. Byerly, pastor of the church, gives us the following information concerning Dr. Fife: "Dr. Fife is a big man, in body, mind and soul. He is over six feet tall and weighs over two hundred pounds. He has been educated into all the mysteries of modern education and is a great thinker. He is in love with humanity and wants everyone to have a complete and happy life here and hereafter. Dr. Fife is a very accomplished musician, being a splendid baritone singer and a violinist of merit. Also he plays on the guitar and other instruments. His motto, '15,000 souls in 15 meetings,' is an actual accomplishment of his and in looking forward to his work in Perryton makes this statement: 'The sky is the limit, with all the people willing and God to direct, hundreds of souls should be saved.' 'As pastor I feel the same way.' Mr. Byerly states, 'I have tried to serve Perryton unselfishly and to help everyone. I hope that in the announcing of this meeting we have your prayers and your good will and your help in as far as possible.'

The above words of 'Preacher' Byerly, as he is generally known, should cause every one to keep the date of the meeting in mind and to drop around and see for themselves. The likeness of Dr. Fife as it appears in this column seems to fulfill the announcement as made and if the man himself when he appears is as pictured and announced we are sure that the Christian Church will have a wonderful meeting.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas citrus industry, little more than a decade old, now represents an investment of $100,000,000. Shipments in 1931-32 are expected to total 12,000 to 15,000 cars.

Texas tax values for 1930 are $4,280,496,578, increase of over $70,000,000 for the year. Real values are more than $12,500,000,000, increase of $2,649,000,000 in the past eight years or more than $300,000,000 a year.

Texas is second among the states in number of airports with 115. Ohio and Pennsylvania with 85 each tie for third place.

"Progress" vs. Long Life

There is no doubting that this earth was designed for the occupancy of man and for the lower animals, and everything needed for health and long life was placed within their reach and for their benefit.

"Civilization" has brought with it many diseases unknown to the cave-dweller, the primitive man. The oldest man I ever saw was 101; he had lived next to nature all his long life; he had not tried to turn night into day, and had lived the way God intended him to live; long life was his reward. It was no accident, no freak of nature that he did this; he simply obeyed nature's laws.

I saw a man this very day, tubed and tugged in the very latest—on his way to the golf links. Apoplexy was written all over him. He wore a flannel suit, soft cap, knee breeches, flat shoes, and was smoking furiously to keep his internal machinery "hitting on all six." He had probably never had his toes or fingers in the dirt in his life—nor had he likely ever done a lick of manual labor.

Here he was out seeking health, breathing like a porpoise. He was, doubtless worth plenty of money, man's goal these days it seems. But a careful observer wouldn't insure his LIFE for five dollars! He was apparently between fifty and sixty years of age—the time when a man should be at his best; dear reader, would you be in his condition for what he has accumulated for his heirs to squander? Frankly, I would not, nor for a hundred times that much.

We make a "great game" of this life of ours—and call it civilization and progress. Is the game worth what it costs? If more people put in a few hours of actual physical labor each day, and followed it with eight hours of good, sound sleep, there wouldn't be so many youngish widows out in the social suburbs. I know I'm ancient but I'm taking sense!

Home Ownership Plan

Phillips Petroleum is Offering Stock
To Employees and Retail Customers

Local customers and friends of the Phillips Petroleum Company will be interested in their recent announcement of the adoption of the policy of "Home Ownership" in order to increase the number of its stockholders and customers in the territory where the company operates, thus allowing them to share in the ownership and earnings of the company that serves them. The company distributes motor fuels and liquefied petroleum gases to customers in 33 states through a marketing organization that includes over 950 company owned and operated service stations and more than 8,000 other retail distribution outlets. No new capital will be raised by the offering. Since 1921 the company has paid over $35,000,000 in cash dividends in addition to stock dividends and during the same period has accumulated an earned surplus of over $36,000,000. The company has also, from time to time, given valuable rights to its stockholders. The stock will be sold by over 6,000 Phillips employees in a special campaign between September 2nd and September 15th. Purchasers of stock during the campaign will participate in the regular quarterly dividend of 50c, payable October 1st.

BEAUTY COMMANDMENTS

By Venus of Hollywood

Absolute cleanliness is the most important Commandment that beauty imposes. You must cleanse your skin at least twice each day. The ideal cleansing is with a good cleansing cream, one that dissolves into an oil-soluble heat so that it will go deep into the pores and cleanse them.

Any woman who wants delicate, lovely skin must never use soap and water, as they will destroy the delicacy of texture due to the alkalinity. Tiny particles of soap will lodge in the pores and clog them causing large pores and sometimes pimples. Soap and water are drying to the skin and will definitely encourage wrinkles to form. Cream will soften the skin and at the same time cleanse the pores to a depth that mere water cannot reach. After a cleansing with cream, dash a bit of skin freshener or ice astringent on a pad of cotton, over the face to take away the oily feeling. Never go to bed with any makeup on.

Put a band around your hair to keep it from contacting the cream. In the palm of your left hand place a small amount of cleansing cream. With the two middle fingers of the right hand soften it, then with the same two fingers pat it on the face.

SELLING TO FARMERS

Business men of the country spend $50 million dollars a year for advertising to reach city dwellers, but only $6 million in reaching the farmers, according to Samuel R. McKelvie of the Federal Farm Board.

He added that this disproportion in advertising efforts was all the more striking when it is considered that the farmers of the country have a normal purchasing power of ten billion dollars annually.

He might have gone further by stating that no class of prospective customers are more responsive to honest advertising than farmers and farmers' wives. Generally they take fewer newspapers and other periodicals than city dwellers and consequently read those they do take more thoroughly.

Merchants would do well to give more consideration to newspapers which reach the rural population.

If He Isn't the World's Oldest He Looks It

Doctors who have examined Zor Agha, the Turkish visitor to the United States who claims to be 154 years old, say he is certainly of great age and good for many years more. He fought in 14 wars, has lost 12 wives, drinks nothing stronger than milk, eats no meat, and has had three sets of teeth.

Cheating

Once upon a time I hired a man to do a certain piece of work. He was well along in middle life, and I wondered why he had not made more progress, since he seemed honest and industrious.

I said to him: "I cannot be here to watch this work and so I shall have to trust you to do it as if you were working for yourself."

He was profuse in his assurances. He seemed to want the job.

At the end of six months I visited him. He had done fairly well, but was rather glib with alibis. Other people were always holding him up. The weather was always very bad. He would have done so-and-so if he had been sure just what I had wanted, but I had failed to let him know.

I put this down as the grumbling habit of an old man.

"At least he is honest and means well," I said.

But one day, after about a year, I happened to appear unexpectedly.

He was not in evidence. Upon inquiry I discovered that he was using my time and some of my materials on a little private job of his own. We had a solemn conference and decided to part.

When you put a man on his honor and then have him take advantage of your trust it is a blow to your faith in human nature. So I was depressed and a little sore.

But only for a few minutes. Then I said to myself: "How foolish I am to let this thing worry me. This man has cheated me out of a few hundred dollars, but what a petty thing that is compared with the way he has cheated himself. All his life he has held a nickle so close to his eyes that he couldn't see a dollar. All his life he has lived on alibis, watching the clock, stealing a little here and there from his employers, and imagining that he was doing well for himself."

"And where is he at sixty? Poor and jobless, and a failure. Reaping what he has sown."

The old idea of Heaven and Hell was very bad because it made us think that our reward or punishment is coming to us in some far-off place hereafter.

In the same way most people misinterpret the verse in the Bible which reads: "Be sure your sin will find you out."

They say: "Lots of people sin and are never found out. Therefore the verse is untrue."

But the verse does not say that your sin will be found out. It says, "Be sure your sin will find you out"—be sure that it will settle down in your heart and mold you in its own image.

That's a terrifying thought, or a very encouraging one, according to the way you live. Everything you do has its influence on what you are.

When you cheat you cheat yourself. And whatever you do that's decent automatically and inevitably builds you up.

A PLEA FOR CHILDREN

It is becoming more and more a matter of common information that the health and general well-being of people depend to a great extent upon a proper diet. Not the diet prescribed by food faddists, but one based upon scientific research and common sense.

In this connection it is declared by home economists that insufficient attention is paid to the feeding of children, whose needs in this respect are deserving of more consideration than is given in many homes.

Everyone knows that milk is good for the growing child, but as many children object to plain milk, especially when it is forced upon them, it is recommended that it be offered in more palatable forms, which may be easily prepared in any home.

One suggestion is that in hot weather milk shakes made of milk, sugar and a cereal beverage will appeal to a child who may not relish plain milk. In cooler weather the same beverage may be served hot.

It is also suggested that by this means the child may be prevented from becoming a tea or coffee addict at an age when these stimulants are positively injurious. In a few states campaigns have been begun by health authorities for the purpose of educating mothers concerning the evil effects of tea and coffee upon their children.

Another important recommendation is that children be encouraged to drink water freely between meals, as an aid in keeping the kidneys active and healthy, so as to eliminate impurities from the system.

These simple means recommended in the interest of the child's health are worthy of adoption by every mother.

This is How Texas May Be

By Bascom N. Timmons

Texas, on the basis of its population of 5,331,272, as announced by the Census bureau in preliminary figures is definitely entitled to 20 members of the house of representatives and unless, as seems improbable there is a material change either in Texas or some other state, will be entitled to 21 members. It now has 18 members of the house of representatives and this will certainly gain two and almost surely gain three.

Thus, the Texas legislature will be faced with the task of dividing the state into 20 or 21 districts. How the legislature will go about its task is, of course, a matter that will determine for itself, but a careful compilation of the Texas figures, county by county and section of the state by section of the state today, revealed a layout of districts that can be varied but little in the redistricting of the state.

If Texas has 21 districts as the preliminary figures of continental United States and Texas indicate, the average population of the Texas congressional districts will be 253,893. It is should fall to 20 members, as seems very unlikely, the population per district will be 266,563.

Figures, therefore, have been made for both 20 and 21 districts. Heretofore Texas legislatures have begun to district from the east side of the state and then when they had worked out the districts in the eastern, southern and northern parts of the state, humped all the remainder into the ten western districts, one in which Amarillo is the largest city and the other of which El Paso is the largest.

Districting probably will start from the eastern side of the state again this year, but before starting from the east side they must first form three districts in the western part of the state and then arrange the pattern in the other sections of the state accordingly.

For the western and northwestern part of the Lone Star state has shown the most tremendous growth of any section of the state.

The 15th district, running from the South Plains to the Oklahoma line on the north, and bordering New Mexico on the west lacked only 240 persons of doubling its population between 1920 and 1930 and it was districted on the basis of the population of 1910, as were all other Texas districts, heretofore. In addition to its 99.5 per cent gain from 1920 to 1930, in redistricting its gain in population between 1910 and 1920 must also be considered.

The result will be that the district must be cut in half by a line running north and south, leaving Amarillo in the western half. There will be pushed out the eastern half of this district which has three counties from the 13th district and a pair from the 17th district will form another district, which will virtually hang out a "congressman wanted" sign as no sitting member of the house of representatives lives in this vast territory.

The district of which El Paso is the chief city also must pull its present eastern boundary westward because of its population increase. All three of these proposed West Texas and Panhandle districts will get new members. On the assumption that present deductions are borne out and Texas is given 21 members of the house of representatives, the El Paso district probably will be No. 19, the district formed from portions of the present 13th, 17th, and 18th will be No. 20 and the district in extreme northwest Texas and the western South Plains will be No. 21.

For the first time in Texas history county lines must be cut in Texas counties. Two of them, Harris and Dallas must be cut whether the number of representatives is 20 or 21, and a third Bexar, must be cut if there are 21 districts.

Bexar county has no resident congressman and here is another place where a district will be created ready-made for some aspiring candidate for congress.

On the basis of 21 house members, as is almost certain, the third place for a new congressman, it is indicated, would be in a district to be formed out of parts of the present 14th, present 15th and present 18th districts.

No combination of counties under the population growth will operate to throw the home counties of any two sitting congressmen into the same congressional district, although it would appear that the redistricting will place, Cherokee, the home county of Representative John C. Box into the seventh district, now represented by Representative Clay Stone Briggs, who has been renominated. Judge Box, however, will not be a member of the next congress. Nearly every Texas member, however, would lose some part county.

Along the Texas-Louisiana border, a rearrangement is necessary in the First and Second Congressional districts. Under an apportionment of 20 members, Lamar, Hopkins and Delta would probably go into the Fourth district to the west. The Fourth showed an actual loss in population in the last ten years, one of the few districts to do so.

On the basis of 20 districts, it is indicated that only one, the Twelfth, would remain absolutely intact. On 21 districts the Twelfth also would undergo a slight alteration, changing Erath county for Basque.

Great differences will be made in the make-up of most of the eastern, southern and northern Texas districts, depending on whether or not there are 21 districts as now seen certain or 20 districts in the final figures show some other state has taken one member from Texas under the major faction system used. It is now believed Texas will get.

For instance, under 20 members, part of the Dallas county excess will go to the present Third district. Under 21 districts the Third district must be filled up elsewhere and part of the Dallas superfluous population pushed into the Fourth district.

Under 20 districts Grimes and Cherokee, excess from other districts handily fill up the present Seventh district, which has not grown rapidly. Under 21 districts the Seventh would have a vastly different make-up.

With 20 districts the Harris county excess would go into the Tenth district made up much of the same as it is now. Under 21 districts the Tenth district would have only a few of its present counties, and in fact, it is probable that a new district probably would be formed, with the western half of the present Tenth a component part.

Some of the significant facts indicated for the redistricting of Texas are:

All the Mexican border will remain in two congressional districts as at present, whether or not there are 20 or 21 districts.

San Angelo will go into the district with Abilene, in either a 20 or 21 district set up. San Angelo is now in the district with El Paso.

Every major Texas port will be in a separate congressional district as at present.

The Fifth district will lose Ellis and Rockwall counties in any plan of redistricting and the Eighth district will lose Grimes, Waller and Fort Bend counties.

Bexar county will be entirely cut away from the Fourteenth district under a 20 district plan and a small portion of its population will be in the Fourteenth district under a 21 district plan.

The Ninth district will be but slightly changed from its present borders. Under 20 district plan it will add Fort Bend county, under the 21 district plan it will not add Fort Bend, but will add Austin.

The Sixth district will add Ellis in all events and will drop Milan and Brazos in all events. Under the 21 district plan it would also drop Madison and Robertson and add Anderson.

The Thirteenth district will be shorn of its western tier of counties under any plan. These counties are Wilbarger, Bailey and Throckmorton. Under a 20 district plan it would add Palo Pinto, Stephens and Eastland and under a 21 district plan it would not add Eastland, but would take on Palo Pinto, Stephens and Erath.

The Fifteenth district will lose at least ten counties, due to the heavy increase in population in the lower Rio Grande valley.

Panhandle and West Texas counties would be grouped a stollies under the new district plans:

This Week

—In— Washington By Radford Mobley

Washington—A 4-H club's use is to help the young farm idea to spread. It should never try to help other folks through its young members. They have their own agencies which have their own part in the extension scheme of state and federal extension systems.

This was the policy laid down a year ago by federal officials deeply interested in the proper development of the 4-H club. It isn't fair to the youngster and it isn't fair to his elders to use him to reach them, it is said. How has this advice worked out when applied to the practical realities of advising farmers on crops, combating the drought, increasing his poultry revenue, weeding out his stock?

The best answer, says George L. Quay, the department of agriculture expert who keeps his finger on the pulse of extension work in every state, lies in the demand for home economics and county agricultural agents.

In nearly every state in the Union, the director of extension work is going to add from one to six home economics experts; provide additional funds to enable state directors of 4-H club work to keep in constant contact with the work; and to put on new subject specialists.

A feature is the interest this year in marketing specialists. Two-thirds of the states are adding these men to give local advice as to how to take full advantage of the vast federal farm board program. The contact of these specialists with the boys and girls of the 4-H clubs is expected to furnish one of the best avenues to success in the farm board plans.

Not only is the budget for this year in extension work more extensive as regards allotment of the federal funds, but every state is expected to increase its expenditure. So insistent has the demand become that a special $1,000,000 appropriation was asked of Congress and was granted just before the session ended. This brings the federal expenditure for the work to more than $4,000,000 for the fiscal year just beginning. With the state funds added, the total for the country will not be far from $10,000,000.

Washington offers few contrasts for visitors which equal that between the dry-as-dust figures being ground out by the census bureau as a result of the enumeration just ended and the army of workers who do the grinding. There is nothing dry-as-dust about one of the long card-punching rooms in the bureau, for nearly every one of the 6,000 or so temporary employees who do the routine work of compiling the figures is a flapper apparently a year or so short of college.

Because Director W. M. Stewart felt youth was a requisite for the alertness and speed needed, an age limit of 35 was set for these employees. As a result the age limit appears to have been 20. Hall after hall in the ugly temporary shacks of the bureau blossoms with rows of sprightly youngsters, most of them feminine. But for all their youth Director Stewart is highly pleased with the speed and accuracy thus far displayed.

Just as the government reached the end of the $10,000,000 pocket-book out of which has come money to battle the corn-borer, nature stepped in to help out. The drought, which has meant destruction to many grain farmers, will be a boon to many others if, as is expected, it halts the advance of the borer. Only $125,000 remained of the corn-borer fund for use this year and it will be exhausted by the end of the year. Many moths of the borers died before coming out during the drought and others did not lay the usual number of eggs.

The army and the navy have been so bitterly engaged in a controversy over which branch of the service shall control coastal air defense that the President has been asked to intervene to settle the matter and Charles Lindbergh has been called in as youthful arbiter. The fight is of long standing, but was renewed recently when the army discovered that the navy has equipped planes for fighting as well as for scouting in Hawaii and Panama. The army has contended that its air forces shall do the fighting from land, and the navy has been permitted to have only scouting planes on a land base. The navy has replied that such a distinction is impossible, asking whether a navy plane must seek an army flyer when an enemy is found over land.

LEGION POLICY LIMIT SET UP TO JAN. 2, '35

Pierce Johnson Post, No. 254, American Legion, of Perryton, wishes all ex-service men to know that the time for filing applications on adjusted compensation has been moved up by congress from January 2, 1930, to January 2, 1935, according to word from Roy B. Orrill, post adjutant.

A dead-line had been set on the filing of such applications for last January. When congress convened in June the time was advanced. This makes it possible for ex-service men of World War service who are entitled to adjusted compensation, to make proper application.

This adjusted compensation works in this manner: The ex-service man gets credit for his service on the basis of $1 per day for service in the states and $1.25 per day for service overseas. This credit applies as the premium on a paid-up insurance policy for whatever face amount that money will pay for. It really entitles him to a certificate which amounts to a policy.

At the end of two years this policy has a loan value of nearly nine per cent of the face value and the loan value constantly increases with each passing year.

The state convention, recently held at Austin, passed a resolution asking that these certificates be paid off at 80 per cent of the face value and it is hoped by the Legion that such legislation will be formulated some time in the near future to the end that the policies may be paid off.

Mrs. Troy Davis and her brother, Mr. Putman, spent the week-end visiting in Amarillo.

Humming Bird
Full Fashioned Hosiery

in Dull Finish

This dullness is knit into the fabric of Humming Birds—you can't rub or fade it out—as America's smartest dressed women have discovered.

There is a vast difference between the dull finish produced by multi-twisted yarns and that produced by chemical methods.

The former produces a beautiful uniform finish that lasts and actually improves the wearing qualities of the stockings, while the latter soon fades out, besides having a tendency to rot the fabric.

The Story of a Dime

OR

How a Man Lost His Job

[Reading Time, Two Minutes]

"We'll work for 1¢ Prosperity!"

This particular store had been contemplating for a number of weeks the idea of redecorating the store. At this juncture of our story the decorator who had planned and figured on the job came in. Happy in the thought of a fine big job he was just ready to close, he approached the proprietor.

"Well, we are ready to start the job, the men will be down tomorrow to erect the scaffolding."

"Mr. James," said the proprietor, "I think we will have to hold off on that job for about two months. Things look mighty shaky, customers are coming in, but don't buy anything. Many do not even come in now; we'll have to hold off awhile."

A very disheartened decorator returned to his office. In the midst of his despondence entered an old employee, John Simpson. John was the estimator and inspector for this particular contractor.

"Well, John," said our decorator, "I hate to do it, but it looks pretty bad in general. I'll call you up if things liven up."

Dick will never know, but that cigar was responsible for it all.

Pushing his chair back from the table where his meal remained scarcely touched, Dick Roberts walked disgustedly to the cashier's counter and paid his check.

"H'lo, Roberts; how's the boy?" a friend greeted him.

"Rotten!" he retorted in a voice that sounded just as his frown looked. "Got a headache all the time, no appetite. Business is rotten, too. Just got a wire from the old man telling me to come in Saturday."

As the friend offered polite sympathy and strolled away, Dick Roberts once more passed the news stand and glanced down at a magazine headline:

"PERIOD OF DULL BUSINESS REMAINING—LONGER THAN ANTICIPATED," he read; "Decorators Report Forces Cut Due to Cancelled Orders for Fall Remodeling. Buying Down."

MORAL: Hard times are the result of rumor; never of hard work. Business is good for those who are going after it. Too many people during the past few months have been THINKING HARD TIMES; and their influence has widened just as ripples on a pond. In other words, THE BUYING OF THAT CIGAR HAS JUST BEEN POSTPONED TOO MANY TIMES, LATELY, BY TOO MANY PEOPLE! ARE YOU ONE OF THE GUILTY ONES?

—Credit given to William Easterwood, Jr. Company of Dallas, Texas.

Bradley Anderson Dead

Dies Suddenly from Heart Failure at Farnsworth Home on Sunday Afternoon

This entire community was shocked Sunday afternoon when the word came that Bradley Anderson had died suddenly from a heart attack which came on him at his home at Farnsworth. Mr. Anderson was in the yard at the time of the attack and lived but a short time after being taken into his home.

The deceased was engaged in the grain and oil business at Farnsworth and also was a very extensive farmer. He was a successful business man and his sudden demise brought sorrow to a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Bradley Anderson was born November 7, 1872 in Wayne county, Kentucky, and passed to his reward at Farnsworth on September 7, 1930, at the time of death being 57 years and 10 months of age. He lived in his native county until 1906 when he moved with his family to Supply, Okla., where they made their home until 1920, when they came to this county.

On March 14, 1894, he was united in marriage with Miss Pollyana Neal of Cummins City, Kentucky. To this union, nine children, five daughters and four sons, were born, all of whom survive, with one exception, Samuel, who died December 27, 1921. Loved ones left behind are the wife, Mrs. Bradley Anderson, Farnsworth; Mrs. Jesse Eads, Woodward, Okla.; Mrs. Samuel Lewis, Mrs. John King, Mrs. Miles Pearson and Mrs. Harland Harold, all of Farnsworth; Bradley Anderson Jr., Sherman Anderson and Harold Anderson, also of Farnsworth. Four brothers and two sisters survive, of whom one sister, Mrs. Frank Walden, Ethel, Mo., was present. Fifteen grand children also survive.

Bradley Anderson leaves a host of friends to mourn his death. He was a loving husband and a kind father, a true friend and neighbor and a good citizen.

Funeral services were conducted at the Christian church in this city on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. C. E. Pike, pastor of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. C. Lex Shelby and Rev. L. O. Byerly, after which the remains were laid in the final resting place in the Ochiltree cemetery. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge and that organization had charge of the services at the grave.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whippo and son, Charles and Bobby, returned Thursday evening from Rochester, Minn., where Charles was taken through the Mayo clinic.

Rev. C. Lex Shelby spent the weekend in Cherokee, Okla.
