Hoffa Begins 8-Year Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa left Washington about 11 a.m. today en route to the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa., to begin serving an eight-year federal jury tampering sentence.

Hoffa, 54, still contending his conviction was a result of a federal vendetta against him, said "if the government can do this to Hoffa, it can do it to anybody."

Hoffa was to be fingerprinted and then taken by car and plane to the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Hoffa said he still had faith that his lawyers will ultimately be successful in their efforts to win him a new trial.

But he added: "It's a very unhappy day of my life.

"I pleaded innocent in Tennessee and in all my appeals I have charged that there has been wiretapping, eavesdropping and surveillance," he said.

"They did everything they could unconstitutionally to place me in jail and they have done so temporarily, but my attorneys will appeal."

"I appeal to all members of organized labor to tell them that none of the courts or legislators understand your problems. Only you who work with your hands know your problems.

"The organization I left behind is a strong one. And I hope to return to it. My health is good.

"I hope that everyone knows that this is not purely a question of getting Hoffa. It's a question for every citizen. If they can do this to Hoffa, they can do it to every citizen. And I tell everyone to look out for his rights."

Hoffa made his comments in a brief statement to 50 or more newsmen assembled on the steps of the District of Columbia Building. He paused only briefly in the rain to make his remarks.

Hoffa then went directly to the office of U.S. Marshal Luke Moore, where Moore said the judgment and commitment papers would be checked.

Three others convicted with Hoffa of trying to bribe jurors in the 1962 Nashville, Tenn., trial surrendered to federal marshals also.

Larry Campbell, Teamsters Detroit business agent, surrendered at 9 a.m. in Detroit, but had no comment for newsmen. Ewing King, secretary of the union's Nashville local, and Thomas E. Parks, Nashville undertaker's assistant, both surrendered in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Hundreds Homeless In Eastern Floods

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A deluge of snow — as much as seven inches in six hours — staggered a heavily populated section of the East today.

Floods fed by downpours of rain drove hundreds from their homes in parts of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Virginia. West Virginia counted one dead and two others missing and presumed dead.

Tornadoes killed two persons in Alabama during the wild, widespread March outburst.

Within six hours seven inches of snow piled up in Boston and Bedford, Mass., and Peterborough, N.H.

Five-inch falls coated streets and roads in Albany, N.Y., and Scranton and Allentown, Pa.

The Weather Bureau said 6 to 12 inches of snow would fall during the day over much of New York State and New England. Gale winds were expected along New England's coast.

Wind-driven snow lashed West Virginia, already beset by floods reaching from the northern panhandle area as far south as Williamson.

Snow ranging from five to eight inches was reported in much of the Ohio Valley in Pennsylvania and westward.

Up to 15 inches of snow snapped off wires and tree limbs, closed schools and airports and clogged highways in Pennsylvania.

Evacuation continued through the night at Glenville, W.Va., as the Little Kanawha River continued to rise. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at Wheeling, W.Va., said the Ohio River would crest at Wheeling Wednesday morning at 34 feet — two feet below flood stage.

At Weston, W.Va., National Guard units moved families from their threatened homes, while the Red Cross at Clarksburg — city of 30,000 — evacuated 70 families by midevening.

At Ripley, W.Va., fire department dispatcher Don Brubaker told newsmen: "Our rescue teams were using hip boots, but we had to go to boats when the waters of Mill Creek kept rising."

More than 4 inches of rain fell in 24 hours in West Virginia.

The rain-fed waters of the Powell River overflowed into a two-mile strip of Big Stone Gap's residential area in Virginia. Operations to evacuate about 100 families were put into effect by the National Guard. The Miss Virginia sewing factory was reported moving out materials and two small business firms in the flooded area also were ready to move.

Flooding forced the evacuation of some homes and blocked roads in low-lying areas along the headwaters of the Ohio River as western Pennsylvania braced for a predicted overnight accumulation of 10 inches or more of snow.

Forecasters said rivers in Pittsburgh would crest at flood stage of 25 feet today and from 5 to 6 feet above flood stage at communities upstream. The snow followed a weekend of steady rain. Two suburban Pittsburgh families fled their homes when the rain and snow loosed a cascade of mud, trees and debris on five homes. No injuries were reported.

NATCHEZ MARCHERS ON THE RUN — Negro demonstrators taking part in a memorial march for Wharlest Jackson, a Natchez, Miss., Negro who died in a truck bombing, break and run down a Natchez street after a report of several white youths wielding a pistol. Several hundred Negroes who were among some 2,000 who marched to the courthouse, left the procession and ran to where the incident reportedly took place. Many Hurt In Rail Crash

By HOWARD F. ANGIONE

BOSTON (AP) — More than 100 persons were injured today when an elevated train slammed against the rear of another train halted at a station in Boston's historic Charlestown section.

No one was reported to be critically injured.

Massachusetts General Hospital said 55 persons were brought to its emergency department. A hospital spokesman said most of the injuries were cuts, strains and back injuries — "relatively minor."

Boston City Hospital said 41 persons were treated there.

Several persons were not injured seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

The accident came during a heavy, wet snowstorm. A spokesman for the commuter line said the operator of the train that hit the waiting train applied brakes but "kept sliding."

At least 20 ambulances raced to the scene in city square, across the inner harbor from the old North Church where the lanterns signaled the start of Paul Revere's famous ride just before the Revolutionary War.

Ferdinand Strauss, assistant director of the hospital, said most of the injured would be able to go home today after treatment. A few would be kept overnight, he said.

"There were people laying all over the place," said AP photographer J. Walter Green. "there must have been at least 11 stretcher cases."

Green said most of the injured were in the second car of the train which was moving.

One woman, her knees bloodied, waved off a stretcher bearer and said "take that man over there." The man was lying back against a seat, apprently hurt more seriously.

Some of the seats in the rear train were ripped out by the impact of falling passengers.

Robert Stanley, 20, of Medford, one of the injured passengers, said he was on the train that hit the waiting train.

"I landed on the floor with a bunch of people on top of me. Women were screaming. There were a lot of teen-agers. When I got up, I found I had gone right through the seat, the metal was all bent."

Stanley said when he boarded the train there seemed to be some trouble with its brakes.

Rites Pend For Victim Of Mishap

Funeral arrangements were pending at Bell - Seale Funeral Home here today for William L. Johnson, 30, who died in a traffic mishap late last night near Monahans.

Mr. Johnson, a truck driver for the Halliburton Co., was killed when the car he was driving rolled off Texas Highway 18 on a curve six miles north of Monahans at about 11:30 p.m. Monday. William Prater, also 30, who was a passenger in the car, was reported in fair condition with multiple cuts and bruises. Both men were thrown from the car.

Born Jan. 28, 1937, in Tennyson, Tex., Mr. Johnson had lived in Monahans for the past 3½ years. He is survived by his wife, the former Dorothy Miller of Fluvanna; a daughter, Lori; a son, Larry; his parents, L. B. Johnson of San Angelo and Mrs. Letha Johnson of Anson; three sisters, Mrs. Jo Cotton of Snyder, Mrs. Cloma Cranfield of Rankin and Mrs. Lou Kilgore of Dublin; two brothers, Dewayne Johnson of Anson and James Johnson of Dallas.

Blowing Snow In Panhandle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Blowing snow laced the upper Texas Panhandle today as a blustery cold front swept into the state.

Winds at Dalhart gusted up to 35 miles an hour and light snow whitened the countryside as the system raced through.

The mercury was expected to plunge to 8 degrees at Dalhart by Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would reach Amarillo by noon, and that the front would move into South Texas by nightfall.

Reds Lob Shells At US Big Guns

SAIGON (AP) — Communist mortars hammered again at the big American guns just south of the demilitarized zone today with 500 shells in three attacks as they kept up pressure on U.S. Marines operating in the area.

The shelling of Camp Carrol, latest in a series of such attacks, killed six Marines and wounded 15 but damaged none of the powerful 175mm guns with which the Marines shell North Vietnam and the demilitarized zone, a U.S. spokesman said.

The Communist failure to hit the big guns was attributed to the elaborate defenses which the Americans on the plateau eight and a half miles south of the demilitarized zone have thrown up for the artillery.

Counter-mortar fire resulted in one secondary explosion in the hills from which the Communists were firing, a U.S. spokesman said.

U.S. spokesmen reported 14 Americans killed, 44 wounded and four missing in ground actions Monday and Tuesday, along with 61 communist dead.

Two sizeable ground clashes were reported.

Several miles north of Camp Carrol a Marine patrol made contact with the Communists. Several companies of Marines were rushed up as reinforcements, and contact was maintained through the night, but the enemy — believed to be North Vietnamese troops — escaped this morning, a U.S. spokesman said.

Three Hurt In Mishap

Three persons were injured in a one-vehicle mishap on a dirt county road 12 miles southeast of Hermleigh about 2 p.m. Monday.

Driver of the vehicle, a 1964 Model Chevrolet pickup, was Mrs. Lola B. Rinehart of Hermleigh. She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by private car for treatment of minor injuries. Her condition was described as good.

Two passengers in the pickup, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walton of Route 2, were taken to Simmons Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater by Snyder Ambulance Service. Walton sustained a possible fractured wrist, and his wife was treated for possible chest injuries.

Highway patrolmen said the vehicle overturned when the driver apparently lost control while traveling west. There was extensive damage to the front end of the pickup.

Council Passes Ordinance Approving Project Figures

The Snyder City Council last night passed an ordinance approving estimates on assessments for downtown improvements and set a date for the required public hearing.

The assessments, based on the low bid of T. E. Shelburne and Son, amount to $12.36 per front foot of abutting property. This will be the price of 12-foot sidewalks, which is the limit of the assements planned. In some areas, where sidewalks already conform to the proposed plans except for special treatment, the costs will be the actual prices charged by the contractor, based on unit prices from the low bid. The latter figures will vary with different pieces of property because of differing amounts and types of work required. Most of the areas where less than full treatment is planned will involve some "sawouts" and installation of segments with exposed aggregate to assure uniformity with the remainder of the project.

The hearing is set for 7:30 p.m. March 20 at the city hall. Meanwhile, an assessment roll made a part of the ordinance adopted last night will inform property owners of their respective assessments under the program. The ordinance was adopted as an emergency measure and become effective immediately.

The city is anxious to get the project on its way if approved. One reason a speedup is desirable involves a Texas Highway Department street maintenance project. The THD already has a contract in force to overlay brick paving on U. S. 180 and Texas Highway 350 in the downtown area. The city hopes to get new curbing installed simulataneously with the overlay if the project is approved.

Also, if the local project is undertaken this year, city officials hope it can be completed no later than mid-September. Several factors make it undesirable to have downtown streets torn up during fall and winter months.

In other business last night the council conferred with representatives of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and Texas Electric Service Co. on relocation of lines and a new street lighting system, respectively.

Telephone Co. representatives attended the session at the council's request to discuss the possibility of putting some cable underground on Twenty-fifth Street east of the square. Ultimately it was decided that the cable involved could be handled on proposed new poles for street lighting.

H. F. Clark, Texas Electric Service Co. Manager, proposed a new flat rate plan for all street lighting in the city and advanced the possibility of putting in a type of mercury vapor lamp at all street light locations in the residential area. The council will study the proposals before making a decision.

Wilson Bright and John Collins were reappointed to the city's board of tax equalization. Bill Sikes was named as the third member of the board, replacing R. J. Walker who asked that he not be reappointed after serving two years.

Machinery Bought By Commissioners

County Commissioners purchased a loader and a dump truck Monday.

They awarded the bid on the dump truck to Wilson Motors. The low bid, less trade in for a 1961 Model Chevrolet, was $2,189.80. Patton Equipment Co. of Abilene submitted a bid of $13,997 including trade - in for the loader, and it was accepted.

The dump truck will be used in Precinct 1, and the loader is for use in Precinct 2.

Liquor Bill May Die In Committee

AUSTIN (AP)—A Fort Worth legislator's poll of the House Tax Committee shows Gov. John Connally's liquor by the drink bill may die without ever reaching the floor.

Rep. W. C. Sherman, who favors liquor by the drink, polled all 20 committee members, not counting Chairman Ben Atwell of Dallas.

Sherman said three members are for the bill, three undecided and 14 against.

Those against included eight who said "under no conditions would they vote for the bill," he said.

"Some said they might go for it if changes are made," he said.

It takes 11 votes to get the bill out of committee.

Solon Asks Curb On Draft Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee says Congress should curb President Johnson's authority to set military draft procedures.

Rivers' comment came after Johnson's message to Congress Monday asking an extension of the Selective Service law, and pledging sweeping changes in the draft to be accomplished by executive order.

Johnson's call for a national lottery to replace current selection of draftees by local boards drew fire from Rivers.

"There will be no lottery if I have anything to say about it," the South Carolina Democrat said.

He indicated he'll push to have his committee amend the draft law to require the continuance of draft boards. The Armed Services Committee will open hearings in April on extending the law.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, said he is taking immediate steps to put into effect reforms recommended by the President. But Johnson said many of the changes he proposed may not go into effect before 1969.

Johnson's message on the draft drew mixed comment from congressional leaders. Most appeared to favor his plan to draft 19-year-olds first, but few seemed pleased with the lottery proposal.

An exception was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who earlier this year suggested the lottery concept and urged Johnson to put it into effect by executive order, rather than waiting for action by Congress.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he thought the proposals "are in the interest of equal treatment, but that doesn't solve the problem."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the proposals "need a good deal of scrutiny and some straightening out."

IF BUSINESS CONTINUES SLUGGISH

Tax Boost May Be Reconsidered

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources acknowledged today that President Johnson may reconsider his request for a July 1 tax boost if business continues to be sluggish.

This word, perhaps partly intended to reassure nervous businessmen, came from policy advisers who nevertheless stick to the official forecast that the 6 per cent surcharge on income taxes will be needed to curb reviving inflationary forces.

If signs of the anticipated midyear pickup are not visible by April or May, one high administration official said, "We are in a position to modify the surcharge request."

He explained: "If our projections were wrong, we could ask for a smaller surcharge, or no surcharge at all. Or the President's message to Congress could propose a later effective date — say Sept. 1 instead of July 1."

And if the slowdown should become a downturn — a development which government officials reject as well-nigh unthinkable, unless peace comes suddenly in Vietnam — the surcharge plan could even be thrown into reverse. A shorttime tax cut could be asked.

The only hard and fast commitment is to the principle of tax flexibility, the official said. Small but frequent tax changes, up or down as needed, are now considered to be a proven, effective, quick-acting and fairly precise instrument for economic stabilization, he added.

This departure from historic American reluctance to tinker with taxes was noted by the Council of Economic Advisers in its annual report to the President and Congress.

"Annual tax changes have, in fact, become the rule rather than the exception," the council said. But the technique — and especially the President's pending plan — is viewed with suspicion in Congress and with outright hostility by many businessmen.

In passing two anti-inflationary tax bills on short notice last year, Congress showed itself able and willing to break with tradition. Nevertheless, many members fear a 1967 tax increase could bring on a recession; others do not believe in any case that the tax rules should be changed for businessmen and consumers without substantial cause.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our only child, a son, died leaving his young widow and a baby boy I'll call Billy. His widow subsequently married and now she has two more sons besides Billy.

We remember her and her two other sons generously at Christmas, but naturally we go all out for our only grandchild.

Now the mother refuses to let Billy spend week-ends with us because we favor him over the others. What is your advice?

HURT GRANDPARENTS

DEAR HURT: The boy's mother is unfeeling to punish you for favoring your only grandchild, but she calls the tunes, so don't alienate her. Since Billy must live with his half-brothers, don't make it tough for him by making him the object of jealousy.

If you want to do something "special" for your only grandchild (and who can blame you?) go "all out" on his birthday, or set up a trust to be used for his education. But treat all the boys with equal generosity at Christmas time.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of high school girls with a problem. Our boy friends are on the "B" basketball team, and the coach told them if they get caught going with girls they would have to turn in their suits.

But listen to this: The boys on the "A" basketball team go with girls, and the coach doesn't say a word to them because the "A" team has won lots of games, but the "B" team hasn't won many. Do you think this coach is fair?

"B" TEAM'S GIRL FRIENDS

DEAR GIRL FRIENDS: I think the coach is not only unfair, but he's exceeding his authority as a coach. The school administration should blow the whistle on his ideas about rewards and punishments, especially when they conflict with normal, natural boy-girl relationships.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A gal signed "GOING TO PIECES" wanted to know what to do about her boy friend, whom she described as a "swell guy." He was locked up in the stockade for going AWOL for a second time— and for 58 days yet!

You told her to lose him, but you didn't make it strong enough.

As an army wife I know that these "swell guys" are told exactly what will happen if they overstay their leave. And anyone who disregards these warnings is no "swell guy" — he's an irresponsible jerk. And anyone who does it TWICE is just plain stupid. "Going to Pieces" should get going and find herself a really swell guy who will be a responsible husband with regard for his obligations.

Mt. McKinley Mystery Deepens

TALKETENA, Alaska (AP) — The mystery on Mt. McKinley deepened when a garbled radio message was received Monday night from members of the party attempting the first winter climb of the 20,320-foot peak.

The fading, static-filled voice message made no mention of injuries and did not explain the international distress signal stamped in the snow Sunday. There was no report on any plans or a clue as to whether the summit had been reached.

The unidentified senders radioed they were transmitting from the 8,250-foot base camp. The message said only that two climbers were there and two others at the 10,000-foot level. It did not account for the other three members of the party.

This was the first radio message received from the party since the portable transmitter gave out more than a week ago.

Two climbers were spotted Sunday by plane at the 10,000-foot level where they had stamped out a signal indicating they wanted medical aid. Earlier Sunday, another pilot spotted two other climbers at the 17,000-foot level but they made no signal.

Bush pilot Don Sheldon was turned back by turbulent winds up to 100 miles an hour Monday when he tried to reach the mountain in his small plane. He landed and spent the night at McKinley Park headquarters.

The Army planned to send helicopters and the Air Force was to send a communications plane to aid civilian craft in an emergency rescue mission. Several rescue parties, including doctors, are ready to land on the mountain if weather permits.

The original party of eight flew to McKinley late in January. One climber, French-born Jacques Batkin, 36, Anchorage, was killed when he fell into a crevasse Jan. 31.

Gregg Blomberg, 25, Denver, Colo., is leader of the party. Other members are John Edwards, 35, Cleveland, Ohio, and Art Davidson, 22, Dave Johnson, 24, George Wichhman, 39 Spiro Nishimae 31, and Ray Genet, 35, all of Anchorage.

Plea Is Entered

Albert Raymond Ekholm pleaded no contest in County Court Monday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was apprehended Saturday by highway patrolemn and Sheriff's Authorities.

His punishment was set at 30 days in jail plus a $100 fine and court costs. The jail term portion of the sentence was probated for one year.

Panel Has CIA Under Surveillance

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man pulled tight his black raincoat and walked into the night.

His interrogator told a newsman "it's none of your business" what went on.

A Central Intelligence Agency operation?

Well, sort of — but this time the CIA was being investigated, not doing the investigating.

A covert probe by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had the CIA under surveillance despite the opposition of Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

Mansfield said once again there is no need for a special investigation of the CIA and its subsidies to the National Student Association.

But the Foreign Relations Committee spent three hours Monday questioning two former NSA leaders involved in the uproar over CIA subsidies.

In cloak and dagger fashion, one witness was dismissed before the second was interrogated — and nobody said a word about what went on.

"We've had an executive meeting and I don't care to comment on it," said Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Pressed for an account of the session, he replied: "It's none of your business."

Moments later, Philip Sherburne, 24, a former NSA presidential committee room. He wouldn't talk dent, emerged from the committee either.

"I think it would be best not to do so," he said, walking in his black coat from the Capitol into the rainy night.

The first witness was Michael Wood, 21, who once was in charge of NSA fund raising. It was Wood who went to Ramparts magazine with the explosive story of CIA financing.

The committee session was not announced. Fulbright did his best to keep it that way. Earlier, asked what was going on, he said, "Nothing."

But Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., blew the cover. He said Wood was being questioned.

Speculation Says Lodge Is Quitting

By KENNETH L. WHITING

SAIGON (AP) — There was renewed speculation today that Herny Cabot Lodge plans to resign as U.S. ambassador to Saigon, but it is understood he will remain on the job until South Vietnam's new constitution is promulgated in the spring.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said "it's news to us."

Other American sources said the 65-year-old diplomat had asked President Johnson on a visit to Washington last Christmas to begin seeking a successor. Lodge denied at that time he was quitting.

One American source quoted Lodge as saying recently, however, that he "won't die on this job."

Promulgation of the new constitution will be a big step toward return of South Vietnam to civilian rule. The Constituent Assembly is expected to complete this document in about two weeks. By law it must be promulgated by May 3. A presidential election is to follow.

A new ambassador would be starting with a new government.

Lodge is now in Baguio, the Philippines, attending a meeting of U.S. ambassadors stationed in Asian countries. He has served two terms as ambassador to South Vietnam, from August 1963 to June 1964 and from Aug. 19, 1965 to the present.

A number of possible successors to him have been considered, sources said. These include Deputy Ambassador William J. Porter, now in charge of the revamped pacification program, and the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg.

Former Governor William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania was reported among the leading Republican possibilities to replace Republican Lodge.

Election Set To Fill Powell's Post

NEW YORK (AP) — A special election has been called for April 11 in the state's 18th Congressional District to fill the seat made vacant last week by the ouster of Democrat Adam Clayton Powell.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller set the date Monday but made no further comment. He received official notification of the vacancy Saturday from House Speaker John McCormack.

Powell, who remains at his vacation retreat on the island of Bimini in the Bahamas, may enter the contest if he so chooses. He has said that, if necessary, he would run for the seat again.

The necessity may arise since a lawsuit to overturn the congressional exclusion action — expected to be filed soon in federal court in Washington by Powell's attorneys — may not have run its course by the election date.

Powell's lawyers also are reportedly considering filing a second suit in New York against Gov. Rockefeller seeking to enjoin him from calling a special election.

The 18th Congressional District — a predominantly Negro area in Harlem — includes the Abyssinian Baptist church of which Powell is pastor. He has been an enormously popular figure in the district, winning 12 straight congressional races by wide margins.

Solons Told Of Sniper's Addiction

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) — Charles J. Whitman, the University of Texas sniper who slaughtered 16 persons last summer in a 12-hour murderous rampage, ate drugs "like candy" and passed some on to friends who studied with him, a lawyer said Monday.

Dean Davis of Austin, testifying before a legislative committee, said the drugs which Whitman always carried in a brief case were obtained from an unknown illegal source.

"Investigation has been able to document that Charles J. Whitman routinely used amphetamines," said Davis, counsel for the State Board of Pharmacy and Texas Pharmaceutical Association. "Whitman, it appears, was quite open and matter-of-fact about his drug usage.

"He was never without the amphetamines and other pills which he carried in three bottles in his brief case.

"Investigations into numerous leads with respect to the source of the drugs, which Whitman seemed to always have available, has indicated that the amphetamines and barbiturates which he used came from sources other than legitimate ones....

"All indications are that the source of Whitman's drugs were in the illicit channels of drug distribution."

Whitman was so concerned with drugs, Davis said, that it is thought he returned to the apartment where he had killed his mother five hours earlier just to pick up a forgotten bottle of pills.

Davis said Whitman's friends described his usage of amphetamines by saying "he ate them like candy." One quoted Whitman as saying, "I eat them like popcorn and they won't hurt you."

Davis said Whitman, 24, always had with him "amphetamines to induce insomnia, stimulate his activity; tranquilizers "to calm the jittery nerves caused by the overuse of the amphetamines" and headache remedies "to alleviate headaches caused by the abuse of the first two drugs."

He told one person, Davis said, he got them from a "friend."

Davis was one of numerous witnesses who squeezed their way into the hot, crowded old Supreme Court chambers to testify before the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee on bills regulating LSD and other drugs.

The bills, by Reps. Dave Finney, Fort Worth; Burke Musgrove, Breckenridge, and Lee Duggan, Houston, were sent to subcommittees.

Finney's bill adds LSD to the dangerous drug list and provides up to 10 years in prison on a second conviction of illegal possession; Musgrove's adds LSD and other hallucinogens to the list, as does Duggan's, and both provide 10-year prison sentences.

The latter two bills also make illegal possession of barbiturates and amphetamines a felony.

REFRESHING FRESH orange slices top a baked meringue shell filled with orange-lemon custard and frosted with whipped cream. Scrumptious!

This Dessert Tops Them All

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

SHOULD YOU be on the lookout for an absolutely delectable and elegant dessert, one that never fails to gain the most terrific applause, then do try this Orange Snowflake Meringue. The combination of sweet meringue, whipped cream and orange - lemon custard, topped by refreshing slices of fresh orange, is really something to savor.

This dessert makes the perfect ending for a dinner party. The major part of the dessert may be prepared ahead. We find that if the baked meringue shell is stored in a tightly covered tin box — you'll need a large one — the meringue will keep its crispness for a few days.

The day before the dessert is to be offered, we prepare the custard filling, turn it into a glass jar, cover it tightly and refrigerate it. We peel and slice the oranges a few hours ahead of serving time and refrigerate them.

Two to three hours before the dessert is to be brought to the table, we whip the cream and do the major part of the assembling. At the actual serving time, the orange slices and whipped-cream garnish are added.

ORANGE SNOWFLAKE MERINGUE

2 egg yolks
1-3 cup plus 1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup fresh orange juice
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 pint heavy cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 large seedless oranges
Baked Meringue Shell

In the top of a double boiler, with a spoon, slightly beat the egg yolks, add the 1-3 cup sugar and the orange and lemon juice. Cook and stir constantly over boiling water until this custard is about as thick as heavy cream — takes about 7 minutes. Cool, cover tightly and refrigerate. Custard thickens as it chills.

Two to 3 hours before serving spread the custard over the bottom of the Baked Meringue Shell. Beat 1½ cups of the cream with ¾ teaspoon vanilla until stiff; spread some over the custard and use remainder to frost completely the top and sides of the meringue. Refrigerate.

Meanwhile cut rind away from oranges so they are membrane-free. Slice oranges into thin rounds; cover and refrigerate.

At serving time, overlap orange rounds in meringue shell. Whip remaining ½ cup cream with 1 tablespoon sugar and remaining ¼ teaspoon vanilla; use as garnish for orange slices. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

BAKED MERINGUE SHELL

2 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
½ cup superfine sugar

Spread a piece of wax paper over a large cookie sheet. Using a 9 inch layercake as a guide, with the tip of a small sharp knife, mark a 9 inch circle on the wax paper. In a medium mixing bowl beat the egg whites until frothy; add the cream of tartar and beat at high speed until the whites hold soft peaks — they will tip over slightly when beater is slowly withdrawn. Very gradually beat in the sugar; continue beating, if necessary, until sugar is dissolved and whites hold stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Spread a layer of the meringue over the entire surface of the marked circle, forming a ridge around the edge of the circle that is about 1 inch high and ¾ inch wide. Bake in a 225 degree oven for 2 hours. With wide spatulas at once remove meringue to wire rack; cool completely. Meringue shell may be stored in tightly covered container as long as a couple of days before using.

North Viets May Count On American Anti-War Hubub

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration looks baffled by the failure of the North Vietnamese to give some sign they will cool down their part of the war if the United States stops bombing them.

They have a good reason for sticking it out as long as they can, since their goal is to communize all Vietnam. They would have to make concessions and their supporters might lose heart if they stopped fighting to talk peace.

They may have another reason, just as valid to them, for yielding nothing: the hope that if they hang on long enough American politics and public opinion may force the Johnson administration to back down.

They know American public opinion is divided. The antiwar hubbub here, in and out of Congress, is heard around the world. No wonder if the North Vietnamese believe, given time, the antiwar opinion will prevail.

Nor would it be a wonder if both political parties take on a more dove-like look as the American presidential election draws near if by then the antiwar feeling grows more intense here.

What would you think about your war chances if you were a North Vietnamese and saw or heard what follows in one day, one week, or a month?

Two Democratic senators, Thomas J. McIntyre, N.H., and Robert C. Byrd, W.Va., solidly backed President Johnson's decision to use Navy guns against North Vietnam. But another Democrat Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Pa., was unhappy.

He wanted Congress to make it necessary to declare war before continuing the bombing raids. He spoke three hours. But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., was against the idea.

Such a declaration, he said, might bring into force treaties involving the Soviet Union, Red China, and others in the hostilities. At the same time he hit at Johnson for being too soft, saying he had been victimized by false peace rumors.

Another Southern Democrat, Sen. John L. McClellan, of Arkansas, wanted to see the bombing stepped up. But not Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat and constant critic of Johnson. He said you can't seek peace with bombs.

In the House 11 Democrats opposed the bombing. Michigan State University faculty members called for a halt to it. Antiwar demonstrations continue around the country.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, another Arkansas Democrat and a constant Johnson critic, suggested it might be more profitable to bomb North Vietnam's bicycles, rather than its bridges, since the Communists depend on bicycles so much.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara publicly admitted the bombing had not stopped North Vietnam's supplies to the south but thought the bombing helped South Vietnam's morale.

A Republican, Rep. H. R. Gross, Iowa, complained the bombing wasn't tough enough and said Johnson had 'diabolically shackled our fighting men," besides having a "no-win" policy.

But New York's Republican senator, Jacob K. Javits, wanted the bombing stopped and urged Republicans to become the party of peace in presidential 1968, saying they could right Johnson's mistakes and end the war. He also suggested the Viet Cong be allowed into the South Vietnamese government.

But the Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., wanted no part of that. He posted a challenge to any peace conference which included Viet Cong. Another Republican disagreed. This was a new senator, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who said "you must negotiate with those you're fighting."

Edwin O. Reischauer former U.S. ambassador to Japan, urged Americans to keep the war out of the 1968 election because, if pressed for an end to it in the next 18 months, they might agree to an unwise settlement.

And most recently New York Democratic senator, Robert F. Kennedy, irked Johnson no end by suggesting this country end the bombing and wait—he didn't say how long—to see if the North Vietnamese would then show peace signs.

Some Things Not Worth Asking

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the surest ways to put your hoof in your mouth in this world is to ask the wrong questions.

Being inquisitive is a sign of intelligence. It reflects innate curiousity, the hallmark of learning. Who would want a child that didn't ask questions?

But it is also a test of maturity to learn to know what questio, to ask, and where, and when.

Some questions simply aren't worth asking because they are bound to lead to nothing but trouble.

Such as:

"What if it is a one-way street, officer? I'm only going one way, ain't I?"

"Are you asking for volunteers for this patrol, lieutenant?"

"Does it mean that I'll get more money back if I bet on a horse to win than if I bet on him to place or show?"

"Why don't you try picking on someone your own size, you big bully?"

"Sez who?"

"Who was the lady I saw you with last night — or was it your wife?"

"Harry, tell me the truth — how do you really think I'd look in a miniskirt?"

"How many shares of this growth stock would I have to buy now to be able to retire in five years?"

"Whose turn is it to buy a round?"

"Did the children behave today?"

"Would you mind telling me frankly what you think my future with the firm is, sir?"

"How much do you really need?"

"What do you want a diamond engagement ring for, Myrtle? Wouldn't you just as soon have a good slave ring to wear in your nose?"

"Let's don't break up the party now. Why don't we all go over to our house and keep it going?"

"You don't suggest that I go on a diet, do you, doctor?"

"That's a swell idea, boss, but it'll take an awful lot of time. Whom do you have in mind to carry it out?"

"If it was good enough for my mother, why isn't it good enough for you?"

"Shall we draw straws tonight to see who carries out the garbage?"

Junior Editors Quiz on STATIC ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: What is static electricity?

• • •

ANSWER: All material things are electrical in part. In the circle is an atom, one of the incredibly small particles of which all matter is composed. The two black balls revolving around the central nucleus are electrons, the smallest particles of electricity. Laura is demonstrating static electricity, one way in which electricity works. She has rubbed a comb across a woolen cloth. Some of the electrons in the cloth have been rubbed off—and the comb has gained them. Electricity has both positive and negative charges. Since electrons are negatively charged, the comb is now negatively charged too. The bits of paper on the table are uncharged. In electricity, a charged thing will attract an uncharged one; so the bits of paper cling to the comb when it is lifted. We show another way electricity works. When a wire connects two poles in a battery, a movement of certain electrons, which can jump from one atom to another, is caused. This movement, from the negative pole of the battery to the positive one, is an electric current.

Bruins Enjoy Lofty Status In Final Poll

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's college Coach-of-the-Year says his UCLA Bruins "could now beat any team in a series of games."

Coach John Wooden made that response after learning that his basketball squad was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final major college basketball poll of the 1966-67 season.

Wooden added:

"It's possible that other teams are also deserving, but certainly we rank with the very best. Our improvement has been consistent all year long.

"I am well aware that there are many fine teams which may be able to beat us on a given night, though."

The Bruins, unranked last season, were named the top team by all 30 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the poll. The squad boasts a 25-0 record.

Finishing second was Louisville, followed in order by Kansas, North Carolina, Princeton, Western Kentucky, Houston, Tennessee, Boston College and Texas Western.

The Bruins placed first in the final poll only once before. That was in 1964, when it compiled a regular season record of 26-0.

If UCLA plows unbeaten through its regular campaign this year, it will become the sixth college squad in history to do so.

Along with the 1963-64 Bruins, the other unbeaten squads were Columbia in 1950-51, San Francisco in 1955-56, North Carolina in 1956-57 and Ohio State in 1960-61.

Defeated in postseason tournaments were Columbia and Ohio State.

The Bruins have one regular season game left, against the University of Southern California.

The year's final poll moved Kansas ahead one spot to third, switching places with North Carolina.

Boston College and Texas Western swapped places with the Eagles grabbing ninth and the Miners dropping to 10th place.

The voting saw Louisville gain 253 points — awarded on the usual basis. Ten points were cast for a first-place choice, nine for second and eight for third etc.

Louisville has a 23-3 record for the season.

Last year's final poll leader, Kentucky, won only 12 games this season and lost 13. Duke was runner-up and the remaining Top Ten, in order, were Texas Western, Kansas, St. Joseph's, Pa., Chicago Loyola, Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, Michigan and Western Kentucky.

The final Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-etc. basis:

1.	UCLA (30)	300
2.	Louisville	253
3.	Kansas	197
4.	North Carolina	178
5.	Princeton	163
6.	Western Kentucky	149
7.	Houston	125
8.	Tennessee	61
9.	Boston College	52
10.	Texas Western	48

Can Clay Keep His Mouth Shut?

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Claiming "On this fight, I plan to keep my mouth shut," heavyweight champion Cassius Clay came to town and discussed his upcoming fight with Zora Folley, the Black Muslims, Viet Nam, Oscar Bonavena, Joe Frazier, Wilt Chamberlain and hypocrisy among his critics.

In New York Monday to wrap up arrangements for his March 22 championship fight in Madison Square Garden with Folley, Clay insisted, "I don't plan to enter controversy this time as I have in some other fights."

Clay and Folley underwent brief physical examinations and signed license applications and the 34-year-old challenger expressed satisfaction at getting a shot at the champion after being a top contender for 10 years without ever having a title fight.

Both fighters were pronounced in excellent shape and Clay dispensed some opinions:

"Folley is a nice, clean, civilized man. He can hit me. Terrell couldn't," Clay said, referring to Ernie Terrell, his most recently defeated opponent.

Of the Black Muslims, Clay, who prefers the Muslim Name of Muhammad Ali, said "We are fighting in Vietnam for people's freedom and I am being criticized for my religious beliefs. That seems to me to be hypocritical."

Clay said his next bout might be against Oscar Bonavena of Argentina rather than Joe Frazier, 1964 Olympic champion from Philadelphia, because Frazier refused the bout.

"Frazier said he wasn't ready — he didn't want me. He's smart."

Of talk that Wilt Chamberlain, the professional basketball star, had considered fighting Clay, the champ said, "I'd like to fight Chamberlain anywhere —in the ring, in an alley. He'd never play basketball again."

Clay left town today for a training camp in the Catskills, about 100 miles from New York. Folley also will train in the Catskills but planned to remain in New York on business for a few days.

Jeff Fitch Is Unanimous Choice

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jeff Fitch of East Texas made the All-Lone Star Conference basketball team for the third straight year and was the unanimous choice of the coaches.

Howard Payne, the league champion for the second consecutive year, dominated the team with three players — Tom Carter, Eddie Nelson and Dan Smith. The latter was the only other repeater from 1966 except for Fitch.

Stephen F. Austin's Surry Oliver and Sam Houston's Calvin Oliver were the other first team selections.

The second team is made up of Bill Overall and Morris Ogden of Southwest Texas: Jim Adams, McMurry; Bill Gaines, East Texas; Chuck Meyer and Danny Faubion, Howard Payne, and George Johnson, Stephen F. Austin.

Young Hopefuls Look Forward

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros resumed training today after a one-day rest, and the young hopefuls began looking forward to the time of trial which begins with the exhibition season Friday.

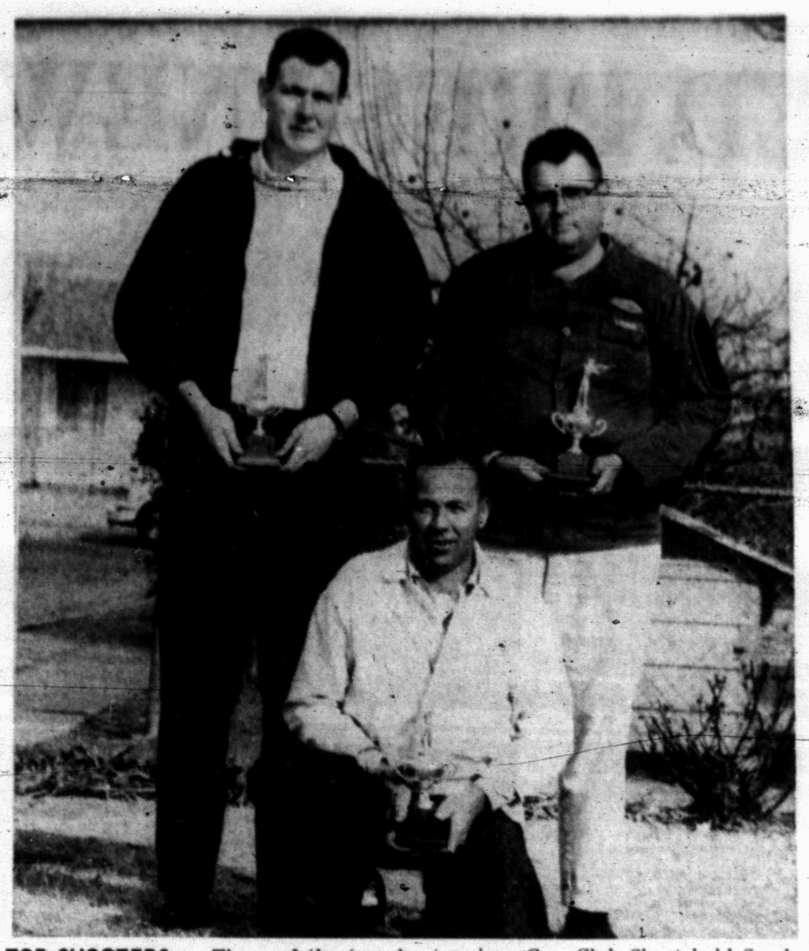

Youngsters such as pitchers Don Wilson, Danny Coombs, Bruce Von Hoff and Tom Griffin have looked strong in intrasquad play, along with others, and Wilson is considered a cinch to start.

John Nullen, manager Grady Hatton's right-hand man said, "You've got to remember that it is still early. Some of these kids look real good, but the real test is yet to come."

He added, "(Arnie) Umbach, Griggin and Coombs have thrown real good and (Jose) Herrera is swinging a real good bat. He may be one of those natural hitters, but we'll just have to see how he does in the exhibitions."

GAINS POINTS — Joe Breeden added some valuable points to the Tiger total in the Canyon Reef Relays by copping second in the shot put and third in the discus behind teammate Jerry Simons. The Bengals will be gunning for another crown at the Border Olympics in Laredo this weekend.

Volunteers Win In 3rd Overtime, 78-76

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Tennessee Volunteers, trying to extend their basketball season, almost overdid it.

Going to extremes to win their first Southeastern Conference title since 1943, the Vols muddled through three overtimes and barely missed a fourth before squeezing by Mississippi State 78-76 at Starkville Monday night.

Now, instead of being further delayed by a three-way playoff for the SEC crown, the Vols can move directly into the NCAA postseason tournament.

Kansas took a much shorter, although precarious, route into the tournament by holding off Colorado 66-59 at Lawrence in regulation time.

But while Tennessee and Kansas ended their conference races, the Big Ten competition stretched on and on.

Indiana and Michigan State each won and remained tied for first place, which will be decided by their final games Saturday, if then.

Each has 9-4 league marks after the Hoosiers staggered past last-place Michigan 96-90 at Bloomington, and the Spartans shook off host Minnesota 67-59.

Eighth - ranked Tennessee, which meets the winner of Saturday's Western Kentucky-Dayton game in the Mideast Regional March 17, needed two free throws by Bill Justus with six seconds left in the third extra period to get by Mississippi State.

State's Dave Williams almost kept it going, but his shot missed at the final buzzer.

The final game victory gave the Vols a 15-3 conference mark and avoided a three-way tie with Florida and Vanderbilt, each at 14-4 after Vandy dropped Louisiana State 75-66 at Nashville.

Third-ranked Kansas never trailed after breaking a 15-15 tie, but Colorado nipped at the heels of the Jayhaws the rest of the way as Pat Frink scored 27 points.

The victory gave Kansas its 20th conference title with a 12-1 mark and a 21-3 over-all record that it will take against Saturday's Houston-New Mexico State victor in the Midwest Regional March 17.

Colorado, 9-4, fell out of a second-place tie with Nebraska and into a third-place deadlock with Kansas State in its bid for the NIT berth that goes to the conference runner-up.

Nebraska, 10-3, which plays at Colorado Saturday, crushed Oklahoma State 88-71 while Kansas State clipped Iowa State 81-68. Kansas State plays Kansas Saturday.

Indiana blew an 11-point lead and then came from behind on Butch Joyner's 27 points. The Hoosiers took the lead for good at 89-88 and Vern Payne and Bill Russell split four free throws and Joyner hit a three-point play to protect it.

Michigan State broke a 50-50 tie on Matt Aitch's three-point play and a basket by Lee Lafayette. Tom Kondla paced the Gophers with 27 points.

Indiana hosts Purdue and State entertains Northwestern Saturday. Should both fall, the winner of tonight's Iowa-Wisconsin match could make it a three-way tie.

In other games Monday night, Don Sidle scored 42 points as Oklahoma stumped Missouri 90-75, spoiling Tiger Coach Bob Vanatta's final game; Pat Riley fired in 28 points and powered Kentucky past Alabama 110-78; Ohio State trounced visiting Illinois 100-79 despite 27 points by Dave Scholz; Washington beat Oregon 78-67 and Oregon State outlasted Washington State 51-49 in overtime.

Indians Sign David Creswell

ABILENE — McMurry College of Abilene has secured the signature of David Creswell, All-District and All-Area tackle from Hermleigh, on a pre-enrollment application.

Creswell, 6-4 and 235 pounds, was president of the junior and senior classes at Hermleigh, where he is an honor student. He lettered four years in football and basketball and two years in track. He is a member of the National Honor Society.

He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Creswell.

Several schools, including the University of Kansas, had sought the stellar athlete.

Dies Of Cancer

DALLAS (AP) — Robert Boyd Smith, who earned his varsity letter in football at Baylor a year after he was found to have cancer, was buried Monday.

Coach John Bridgers and his staff and most of the Baylor squad attended the services.

Smith signed for a football scholarship in 1963 on finishing at Dallas Samuell High School. While he was a Baylor sophomore, cancer was found, but he fought back and won his letter in 1965. He died last Friday.

Aggie Nine Is Undefeated

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas A&M remained unbeaten with a 9-3 victory over Trinity but other Southwest Conference baseball teams couldn't play because of the weather Monday.

Southern Methodist was to have met Sul Ross at Dallas and Baylor to play Lamar Tech at Waco. Both games were put off because of rain and cold and were to be made up in doubleheaders today.

Trinity pitchers literally walked A&M to its victory. The Tiger hurlers gave up 12 bases on balls. Pete Maida led the Aggie batting attack with a two-run homer.

Rice and Texas Christian were to open the conference race today but the game was postponed because of rain and cold and will be made up April 1.

A&M hosts Houston Baptist and Texas takes on Texas Lutheran at Austin today.

To Tax Astrodome?

HOUSTON (AP) — The city of Houston will bill Harris County for taxes on the county's domed stadium, the Houston Post reported today.

It said the plan is based on a June, 1966, ruling by the Texas Supreme Court that public property used for private profit is taxable. The city of Beaumont has asked for a rehearing of that suit, and Houston lawyers are reportedly waiting for the final outcome.

The Houston Sports Association has told Harris County Tax Assessor-collector Carl Smith that the value of the lease on the dome is zero.

When Bret Hanover, now retired to stud, was voted Harness Horse of 1966 he became the only three-time winner of the award.

When Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State played football at Syracuse two of the Orange assistant coaches were Biggie Munn and Bud Wilkinson.

Bell To Ring For St. Marys?

BROWNWOOD (AP) — A spot in the NAIA tournament March 13-18 will be decided tonight when Howard Payne and St. Mary's meet in the rubber game of a series that decides the Dist. 4 championship.

Howard Payne beat St. Mary's 76-64 Monday to tie the series at a game apiece.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Some 800 delegates to the annual convention of the American Quarter Horse Association gathered Monday for a meeting and some good times in New Orleans French Quarter.

AQHA President J. L.Rhodes of Odessa, Tex., said he anticipated no major problems during the three-day meeting. "You might say we came to New Orelans for a good time and we're doing just that," Rhodes said.

Ags Corral Dinero

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Mike Dinero, schoolboy star from Ohio, has signed with Texas A&M and some 25 other major colleges of the country now must look elsewhere.

Dinero, a 195-pound flanker, was highly sought in Ohio where he was all-state and made the scholastic all-American team.

Notre Dame, Alabama and Michigan State, the top three teams in the nation last fall, were among those trying to recruit Dinero.

Camera Records Baseball Errors

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

The Cleveland Indians No. 1 catcher in spring training can't hit but not much gets by him — ah, it.

No. 1 is a television camera, whose job it is to catch mistakes made by players.

In two intrasquad games last weekend, No. 1 caught more mistakes than Joe Azcue, a catcher who can hit, caught balls.

Azcue was having trouble holding on to certain pitches, and his mistakes showed up on the Indians' new instant replay television equipment.

So, Azcue is being given some personalized instruction by former catching stars Del Rice, a Cleveland coach, and Ray Mueller, an Indian scout.

There were no reports concerning television coming out of the St. Louis camp, but the Cardinals did get some apparent good news from a set of scales.

Julian Javier weighed in Monday at 187, prompting Manager Red Schoendienst to say the extra poundage would help Javier's effort to come back as the Cardinals' regular second baseman.

Javier, who has had his best seasons with the Cardinals when he weighed 185, reported to camp the past two seasons underweight. In 1965, he hit just .227 and last year .228.

The news out of the Baltimore Orioles' camp was good, providing your name isn't Mike.

Frank Robinson the American League's Most Valuable Player last year, hit a single and home run and first baseman Boog Powell collected three hits in the Orioles' first intrasquad game.

But highly regarded rookie Mike Epstein was struck above the right elbow by a pitch in batting practice and Mike Fiore, another outfield candidate, was ordered to report to Ft. Bragg, N.C., today for active duty with the Army Reserves.

Of Epstein's injury, club physician Dr. Leonard Wallenstein said:

"There is no bone damage, but it is unlikely that Epstein will be able to swing a bat until Friday. Mike has an ugly blood bruise near the elbow."

News out of the Boston Red Sox base also was good, if you were not trying out for center field with George Thomas, rookie Reggie Smith and Jose Tartabull.

In an intrasquad game, Thomas hit a two-run homer, Smith a three-run blast and Tartabull an inside - the - park homer with a man on.

DALLAS (AP) — Midwestern has qualified for a spot in the NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City March 13-18.

The Indians beat Bishop 94-87 here Monday night to sweep the best of three series and clinch the Dist. 8 title. They had won the opener 83-78.

North Viets May Count On American Anti-War Hubub

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration looks baffled by the failure of the North Vietnamese to give some sign they will cool down their part of the war if the United States stops bombing them.

They have a good reason for sticking it out as long as they can, since their goal is to communize all Vietnam. They would have to make concessions and their supporters might lose heart if they stopped fighting to talk peace.

They may have another reason, just as valid to them, for yielding nothing: the hope that if they hang on long enough American politics and public opinion may force the Johnson administration to back down.

They know American public opinion is divided. The antiwar hubbub here, in and out of Congress, is heard around the world. No wonder if the North Vietnamese believe, given time, the antiwar opinion will prevail.

Nor would it be a wonder if both political parties take on a more dove-like look as the American presidential election draws near if by then the antiwar feeling grows more intense here.

What would you think about your war chances if you were a North Vietnamese and saw or heard what follows in one day, one week, or a month?

Two Democratic senators,-Thomas J. McIntyre, N.H., and Robert C. Byrd, W.Va., solidly backed President Johnson's decision to use Navy guns against North Vietnam. But another Democrat Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Pa., was unhappy.

He wanted Congress to make it necessary to declare war before continuing the bombing raids. He spoke three hours. But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., was against the idea.

Such a declaration, he said, might bring into force treaties involving the Soviet Union, Red China, and others in the hostilities. At the same time he hit at Johnson for being too soft, saying he had been victimized by false peace rumors.

Another Southern Democrat, Sen. John L. McClellan, of Arkansas, wanted to see the bombing stepped up. But not Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat and constant critic of Johnson. He said you can't seek peace with bombs.

In the House 11 Democrats opposed the bombing. Michigan State University faculty members called for a halt to it. Antiwar demonstrations continue around the country.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, another Arkansas Democrat and a constant Johnson critic, suggested it might be more profitable to bomb North Vietnam's bicycles, rather than its bridges, since the Communists depend on bicycles so much.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara publicly admitted the bombing had not stopped North Vietnam's supplies to the south but thought the bombing helped South Vietnam's morale.

A Republican, Rep. H. R. Gross, Iowa, complained the bombing wasn't tough enough and said Johnson had 'diabolically shackled our fighting men," besides having a "no-win" policy.

But New York's Republican senator, Jacob K. Javits, wanted the bombing stopped and urged Republicans to become the party of peace in presidential 1968, saying they could right Johnson's mistakes and end the war. He also suggested the Viet Cong be allowed into the South Vietnamese government.

But the Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., wanted no part of that. He posted a challenge to any peace conference which included Viet Cong. Another Republican disagreed. This was a new senator, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who said "you must negotiate with those you're fighting."

Edwin O. Reischauer former U.S. ambassador to Japan, urged Americans to keep the war out of the 1968 election because, if pressed for an end to it in the next 18 months, they might agree to an unwise settlement.

And most recently New York Democratic senator, Robert F. Kennedy, irked Johnson no end by suggesting this country end the bombing and wait—he didn't say how long—to see if the North Vietnamese would then show peace signs.

Junior Editors Quiz on STATIC ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: What is static electricity?

• • •

ANSWER: All material things are electrical in part. In the circle is an atom, one of the incredibly small particles of which all matter is composed. The two black balls revolving around the central nucleus are electrons, the smallest particles of electricity. Laura is demonstrating static electricity, one way in which electricity works. She has rubbed a comb across a woolen cloth. Some of the electrons in the cloth have been rubbed off—and the comb has gained them. Electricity has both positive and negative charges. Since electrons are negatively charged, the comb is now negatively charged too. The bits of paper on the table are uncharged. In electricity, a charged thing will attract an uncharged one; so the bits of paper cling to the comb when it is lifted. We show another way electricity works. When a wire connects two poles in a battery, a movement of certain electrons, which can jump from one atom to another, is caused. This movement, from the negative pole of the battery to the positive one, is an electric current.

Some Things Not Worth Asking

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the surest ways to put your hoof in your mouth in this world is to ask the wrong questions.

Being inquisitive is a sign of intelligence. It reflects innate curiousity, the hallmark of learning. Who would want a child that didn't ask questions?

But it is also a test of maturity to learn to know what questio, to ask, and where, and when.

Some questions simply aren't worth asking because they are bound to lead to nothing but trouble.

Such as:

"What if it is a one-way street, officer? I'm only going one way, ain't I?"

"Are you asking for volunteers for this patrol, lieutenant?"

"Does it mean that I'll get more money back if I bet on a horse to win than if I bet on him to place or show?"

"Why don't you try picking on someone your own size, you big bully?"

"Sez who?"

"Who was the lady I saw you with last night — or was it your wife?"

"Harry, tell me the truth — how do you really think I'd look in a miniskirt?"

"How many shares of this growth stock wolld I have to buy now to be able to retire in five years?"

"Whose turn is it to buy a round?"

"Did the children behave today?"

"Would you mind telling me frankly what you think my future with the firm is, sir?"

"How much do you really need?"

"What do you want a diamond engagement ring for, Myrtle? Wouldn't you just as soon have a good slave ring to wear in your nose?"

"Let's don't break up the party now. Why don't we all go over to our house and keep it going?"

"You don't suggest that I go on a diet, do you, doctor?"

"That's a swell idea, boss, but it'll take an awful lot of time. Whom do you have in mind to carry it out?"

"If it was good enough for my mother, why isn't it good enough for you?"

"Shall we draw straws tonight to see who carries out the garbage?"

Bruins Enjoy Lofty Status In Final Poll

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's college Coach-of-the-Year says his UCLA Bruins "could now beat any team in a series of games."

Coach John Wooden made that response after learning that his basketball squad was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final major college basketball poll of the 1966-67 season.

Wooden added:

"It's possible that other teams are also deserving, but certainly we rank with the very best. Our improvement has been consistent all year long.

"I am well aware that there are many fine teams which may be able to beat us on a given night, though."

The Bruins, unranked last season, were named the top team by all 30 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the poll. The squad boasts a 25-0 record.

Finishing second was Louisville, followed in order by Kansas, North Carolina, Princeton, Western Kentucky, Houston, Tennessee, Boston College and Texas Western.

The Bruins placed first in the final poll only once before. That was in 1964, when it compiled a regular season record of 26-0.

If UCLA plows unbeaten through its regular campaign this year, it will become the sixth college squad in history to do so.

Along with the 1963-64 Bruins, the other unbeaten squads were Columbia in 1950-51, San Francisco in 1955-56, North Carolina in 1956-57 and Ohio State in 1960-61.

Defeated in postseason tournaments were Columbia and Ohio State.

The Bruins have one regular season game left, against the University of Southern California.

The year's final poll moved Kansas ahead one spot to third, switching places with North Carolina.

Boston College and Texas Western swapped places with the Eagles grabbing ninth and the Miners dropping to 10th place.

The voting saw Louisville gain 253 points — awarded on the usual basis. Ten points were cast for a first-place choice, nine for second and eight for third etc.

Louisville has a 23-3 record for the season.

Last year's final poll leader, Kentucky, won only 12 games this season and lost 13. Duke was runner-up and the remaining Top Ten, in order, were Texas Western, Kansas, St. Joseph's, Pa., Chicago Loyola, Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, Michigan and Western Kentucky.

The final Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-etc. basis:

1.	UCLA (30)	300
2.	Louisville	253
3.	Kansas	197
4.	North Carolina	178
5.	Princeton	163
6.	Western Kentucky	149
7.	Houston	125
8.	Tennessee	61
9.	Boston College	52
10.	Texas Western	48

Can Clay Keep His Mouth Shut?

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Claiming "On this fight, I plan to keep my mouth shut," heavyweight champion Cassius Clay came to town and discussed his upcoming fight with Zora Folley, the Black Muslims, Viet Nam, Oscar Bonavena, Joe Frazier, Wilt Chamberlain and hypocrisy among his critics.

In New York Monday to wrap up arrangements for his March 22 championship fight in Madison Square Garden with Folley, Clay insisted, "I don't plan to enter controversy this time as I have in some other fights."

Clay and Folley underwent brief physical examinations and signed license applications and the 34-year-old challenger expressed satisfaction at getting a shot at the champion after being a top contender for 10 years without ever having a title fight.

Both fighters were pronounced in excellent shape and Clay dispensed some opinions:

"Folley is a nice, clean, civilized man. He can hit me. Terrell couldn't," Clay said, referring to Ernie Terrell, his most recently defeated opponent.

Of the Black Muslims, Clay, who prefers the Muslim Name of Muhammad Ali, said "We are fighting in Vietnam for people's freedom and I am being criticized for my religious beliefs. That seems to me to be hypocritical."

Clay said his next bout might be against Oscar Bonavena of Argentina rather than Joe Frazier, 1964 Olympic champion from Philadelphia, because Frazier refused the bout.

"Frazier said he wasn't ready — he didn't want me. He's smart."

Of talk that Wilt Chamberlain, the professional basketball star, had considered fighting Clay, the champ said, "I'd like to fight Chamberlain anywhere —in the ring, in an alley. He'd never play basketball again."

Clay left town today for a training camp in the Catskills, about 100 miles from New York. Folley also will train in the Catskills but planned to remain in New York on business for a few days.

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros resumed training today after a one-day rest, and the young hopefuls began looking forward to the time of trial which begins with the exhibition season Friday.

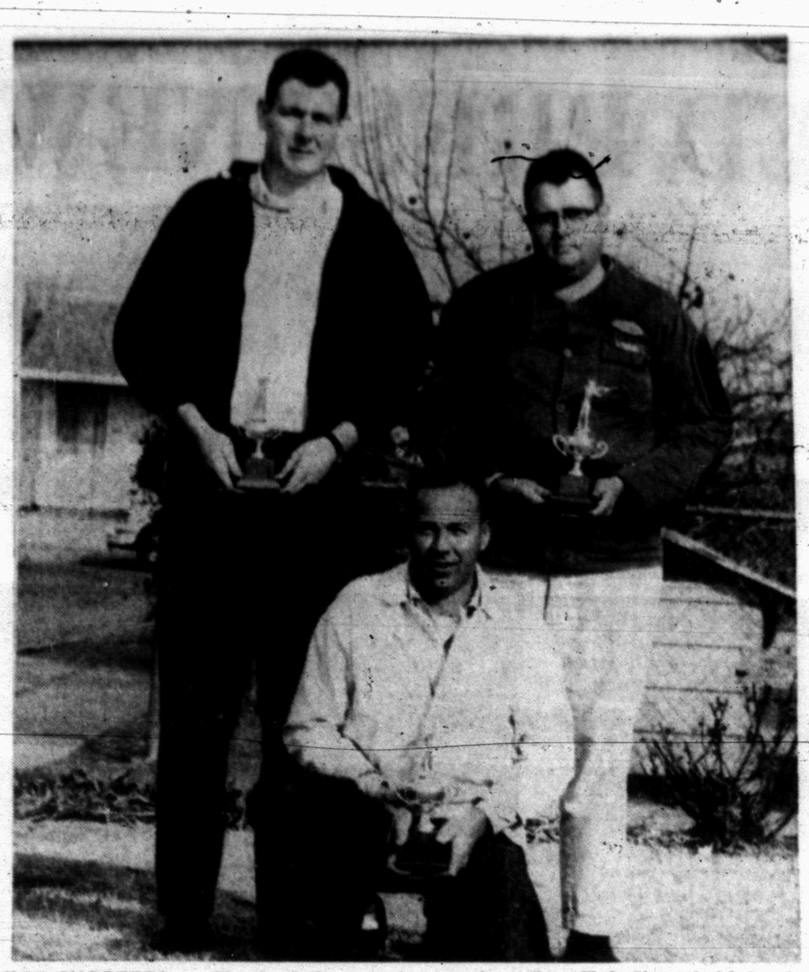

Youngsters such as pitchers Don Wilson, Danny Coombs, Bruce Von Hoff and Tom Griffin have looked strong in intrasquad play, along with others, and Wilson is considered a cinch to start.

John Nullen, manager Grady Hatton's right-hand man said, "You've got to remember that it is still early. Some of these kids look real good, but the real test is yet to come."

He added, "(Arnie) Umbach, Griggin and Coombs have thrown real good and (Jose) Herrera is swinging a real good bat. He may be one of those natural hitters, but we'll just have to see how he does in the exhibitions."

GAINS POINTS — Joe Breeden added some valuable points to the Tiger total in the Canyon Reef Relays by copping second in the shot put and third in the discus behind teammate Jerry Simons. The Bengals will be gunning for another crown at the Border Olympics in Laredo this weekend.

Volunteers Win In 3rd Overtime, 78-76

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Tennessee Volunteers, trying to extend their basketball season, almost overdid it.

Going to extremes to win their first Southeastern Conference title since 1943, the Vols muddled through three overtimes and barely missed a fourth before squeezing by Mississippi State 78-76 at Starkville Monday night.

Now, instead of being further delayed by a three-way playoff for the SEC crown, the Vols can move directly into the NCAA postseason tournament.

Kansas took a much shorter, although precarious, route into the tournament by holding off Colorado 66-59 at Lawrence in regulation time.

But while Tennessee and Kansas ended their conference races, the Big Ten competition stretched on and on.

Indiana and Michigan State each won and remained tied for first place, which will be decided by their final games Saturday, if then.

Each has 9-4 league marks after the Hoosiers staggered past last-place Michigan 96-90 at Bloomington, and the Spartans shook off host Minnesota 67-59.

Eighth - ranked Tennessee, which meets the winner of Saturday's Western Kentucky-Dayton game in the Mideast Regional March 17, needed two free throws by Bill Justus with six seconds left in the third extra period to get by Mississippi State.

State's Dave Williams almost kept it going, but his shot missed at the final buzzer.

The final game victory gave the Vols a 15-3 conference mark and avoided a three-way tie with Florida and Vanderbilt, each at 14-4 after Vandy dropped Louisiana State 75-66 at Nashville.

Third-ranked Kansas never trailed after breaking a 15-15 tie, but Colorado nipped at the heels of the Jayhaws the rest of the way as Pat Frink scored 27 points.

The victory gave Kansas its 20th conference title with a 12-1 mark and a 21-3 over-all record that it will take against Saturday's Houston-New Mexico State victor in the Midwest Regional March 17.

Colorado, 9-4, fell out of a second-place tie with Nebraska and into a third-place deadlock with Kansas State in its bid for the NIT berth that goes to the conference runner-up.

Nebraska, 10-3, which plays at Colorado Saturday, crushed Oklahoma State 88-71 while Kansas State clipped Iowa State 81-68. Kansas State plays Kansas Saturday.

Indiana blew an 11-point lead and then came from behind on Butch Joyner's 27 points. The Hoosiers took the lead for good at 89-88 and Vern Payne and Bill Russell split four free throws and Joyner hit a three-point play to protect it.

Michigan State broke a 50-50 tie on Matt Aitch's three-point play and a basket by Lee Lafayette. Tom Kondla paced the Gophers with 27 points.

Indiana hosts Purdue and State entertains Northwestern Saturday. Should both fall, the winner of tonight's Iowa-Wisconsin match could make it a three-way tie.

In other games Monday night, Don Sidle scored 42 points as Oklahoma stumped Missouri 90-75, spoiling Tiger Coach Bob Vanatta's final game; Pat Riley fired in 28 points and powered Kentucky past Alabama 110-78; Ohio State trounced visiting Illinois 100-79 despite 27 points by Dave Scholz; Washington beat Oregon 78-67 and Oregon State outlasted Washington State 51-49 in overtime.

Aggie Nine Is Undefeated

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas A&M remained unbeaten with a 9-3 victory over Trinity but other Southwest Conference baseball teams couldn't play because of the weather Monday.

Southern Methoidist was to have met Sul Ross at Dallas and Baylor to play Lamar Tech at Waco. Both games were put off because of rain and cold and were to be made up in doubleheaders today.

Trinity pitchers literally walked A&M to its victory. The Tiger hurlers gave up 12 bases on balls. Pete Maida led the Aggie batting attack with a two-run homer.

Rice and Texas Christian were to open the conference race today but the game was postponed because of rain and cold and will be made up April 1.

A&M hosts Houston Baptist and Texas takes on Texas Lutheran at Austin today.

To Tax Astrodome?

HOUSTON (AP) — The city of Houston will bill Harris County for taxes on the county's domed stadium, the Houston Post reported today.

It said the plan is based on a June, 1966, ruling by the Texas Supreme Court that public property used for private profit is taxable. The city of Beaumont has asked for a rehearing of that suit, and Houston lawyers are reportedly waiting for the final outcome.

The Houston Sports Association has told Harris County Tax Assessor-collector Carl Smith that the value of the lease on the dome is zero.

When Bret Hanover, now retired to stud, was voted Harness Horse of 1966 he became the only three-time winner of the award.

When Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State played football at Syracuse two of the Orange assistant coaches were Biggie Munn and Bud Wilkinson.

Indians Sign David Creswell

ABILENE — McMurry College of Abilene has secured the signature of David Creswell, All-District and All-Area tackle from Hermleigh, on a pre-enrollment application.

Creswell, 6-4 and 235 pounds, was president of the junior and senior classes at Hermleigh, where he is an honor student. He lettered four years in football and basketball and two years in track. He is a member of the National Honor Society.

He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Creswell.

Several schools, including the University of Kansas, had sought the stellar athlete.

Dies Of Cancer

DALLAS (AP) — Robert Boyd Smith, who earned his varsity letter in football at Baylor a year after he was found to have cancer, was buried Monday.

Coach John Bridgers and his staff and most of the Baylor squad attended the services.

Smith signed for a football scholarship in 1963 on finishing at Dallas Samuell High School. While he was a Baylor sophomore, cancer was found, but he fought back and won his letter in 1965. He died last Friday.

DON'T LOOK NOW, BUT . . .

Camera Records Baseball Errors

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians No. 1 catcher in spring training can't hit but not much gets by him — ah, it.

No. 1 is a television camera, whose job it is to catch mistakes made by players.

In two intrasquad games last weekend, No. 1 caught more mistakes than Joe Azcue, a catcher who can hit, caught balls.

Azcue was having trouble holding on to certain pitches, and his mistakes showed up on the Indians' new instant replay television equipment.

So, Azcue is being given some personalized instruction by former catching stars Del Rice, a Cleveland coach, and Ray Mueller, an Indian scout.

There were no reports concerning television coming out of the St. Louis camp, but the Cardinals did get some apparent good news from a set of scales.

Julian Javier weighed in Monday at 187, prompting Manager Red Schoendienst to say the extra poundage would help Javier's effort to come back as the Cardinals' regular second baseman.

Javier, who has had his best seasons with the Cardinals when he weighed 185, reported to camp the past two seasons underweight. In 1965, he hit just .227 and last year .228.

The news out of the Baltimore Orioles' camp was good, providing your name isn't Mike.

Frank Robinson the American League's Most Valuable Player last year, hit a single and home run and first baseman Boog Powell collected three hits in the Orioles' first intrasquad game.

But highly regarded rookie Mike Epstein was struck above the right elbow by a pitch in batting practice and Mike Fiore, another outfield candidate, was ordered to report to Ft. Bragg, N.C., today for active duty with the Army Reserves.

Of Epstein's injury, club physician Dr. Leonard Wallenstein said:

"There is no bone damage, but it is unlikely that Epstein will be able to swing a bat until Friday. Mike has an ugly blood bruise near the elbow."

News out of the Boston Red Sox base also was good, if you were not trying out for center field with George Thomas, rookie Reggie Smith and Jose Tartabull.

In an intrasquad game, Thomas hit a two-run homer, Smith a three-run blast and Tartabull an inside - the - park homer with a man on.

Nails Down Berth

DALLAS (AP) — Midwestern has qualified for a spot in the NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City March 13-18.

The Indians beat Bishop 94-87 here Monday night to sweep the best of three series and clinch the Dist. 8 title. They had won the opener 83-78.

Bell To Ring For St. Marys?

BROWNWOOD (AP) — A spot in the NAIA tournament March 13-18 will be decided tonight when Howard Payne and St. Mary's meet in the rubber game of a series that decides the Dist. 4 championship.

Howard Payne beat St. Mary's 76-64 Monday to tie the series at a game apiece.

Picked Right Town!

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Some 800 delegates to the annual convention of the American Quarter Horse Association gathered Monday for a meeting and some good times in New Orleans French Quarter.

AQHA President J. L.Rhodes of Odessa, Tex., said he anticipated no major problems during the three-day meeting. "You might say we came to New Orelans for a good time and we're doing just that," Rhodes said.

The organization has a membership of 39,000.

Ags Corral Dinero

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Mike Dinero, schoolboy star from Ohio, has signed with Texas A&M and some 25 other major colleges of the country now must look elsewhere.

Dinero, a 195-pound flanker, was highly sought in Ohio where he was all-state and made the scholastic all-American team.

Notre Dame, Alabama and Michigan State, the top three teams in the nation last fall, were among those trying to recruit Dinero.

East Germany Is Torn By Subtle Psychological War

By HUBERT J. ERB

WEIMR, East Germany (AP) — Artillery thumps in the distance, taking part in a maneuver near the West German border. High above, an American airliner flies toward West Berlin.

These are symbolic, perhaps, of East Germany today.

It is actively and heavily supported by the Soviet Union.

It is overlooked by the West.

This is the part of Germany left in Communist hands after World War II.

The party membership, of both the hardcore and expedient kinds, is said to total about 1.5 million in a population of about 17 million. These are the men and women who wear red flag pins in their lapels.

For the most part, the ideological Communists seem to move apart from the remainder of the population, living among it but coming into real contact with it primarily in the work place.

There party and people share a mutual interest — the Communists in trying to make their centrally run economy work, the people in trying to earn as much as they can to live as well as they can.

They clash in spirit in the churches, the schools, the homes. Told one thing by the party, young people often hear something else from teachers, clergy or parents.

"My young daughter," one man said, "brought home from school the idea that the May 8 holiday commemorates the day the Soviet forces arrived here triumphant to the resounding cheers of the population. I had to set her straight."

So goes the often subtle psychological warfare between party and people.

In one respect it is open war. Any East German who tries to cross into West Germany or West Berlin risks his life. Mines along the border may blow him up and guards may shoot him on orders of the Communist regime.

This is a relentless pursuit to prevent badly needed manpower from escaping. From the outside it gives East German life a grim look, grimmer perhaps than when seen inside East Germany.

As long as he stays away from the borders and does not protest loudly against the regime, the average citizen is left pretty much alone in his private life.

One big diversion is West German television. It can be seen in about 65 per cent of East Germany. People in the southeastern corner near Dresden, and along the controversial Oder-Neisse border receive Polish transmissions of U.S. programs.

"My favorite program is a Western," a Dresden man smiled. "It is in Polish but the picture is enough."

Western radio and television may make life a little bit more entertaining, but the Soviet presence is real.

Soviet MIG and YAK fighters zoom overhead. Red army truck columns roll along autobahns built originally to ease German troop movement to the East. Signs in Russian and German disclose that certain crossing points are for tanks.

Still, the Russians, estimated to number as many as 400,000, keep pretty much to themselves off duty. "Obviously, it is an order from their commanders", one knowledgeable East German says.

There is little American presence in most of East Germany at any time. "I saw five Americans last year," a Dresden teenager who lives near a hotel said. "Usually, they come over from the Leipzig fair."

The sight of a late American car brought immediate reaction everywhere along a 1,500-mile trip this reporter made. Passersby circled the vehicle for a critical look. Some took photographs.

Officially, the East German regime pursues a hard anti-American line currently pegged to the Vietnam war. In the quiet industrial town of Finsterwalde a large sign shows a gun-wielding GI threatening a Vietnamese mother and child.

Yet the reception given an American by the average East German is very friendly.

Through the mass exodus of Germans from Eastern territories after the war, many an East German has a distant contact with the United States.

A gas station attendant in Weimar asked, "Do you know my brother Max? He lives in New Haven."

Said a Dresden delivery man, "My son lives in Santa Monica (Calif.). He telephoned last week and we talked for 15 minutes. He told us he had gone to Las Vegas. He lost money."

The man spoke English. "I myself was a prisoner of war for two years in Arizona and Utah," he recalled. "It was beautiful country."

Tradition and culture are active outlets for pent-up interests.

Weimar is where the great German poets Goethe and Schiller lived and worked, and they lie in caskets side by side.

Manager Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox has a contract which extends through the 1969 season.

Production Halted At GMC Plant

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Production ground to a halt today at General Motors Corp.'s Fisher Body division plant — hit by a major strike last month — as employes scheduled for the day shift failed to report.

A dispatcher at the Richland County sheriff's office said pickets appeared at the plant at 6 a.m. and began "holding up production workers." A plant spokesman said operations had been completely shut down.

Police reported that one picket was hit by a station wagon but that it apparently had nothing to do with the walkout. A police spokesman described it as a pedestrian accident.

It became apparent late Monday night that a labor dispute at the giant plant was in the works. One union official said he thought a strike almost started last night.

"I think they started to have one, but they kind of backed down," said a United Auto Workers Union official, William Hall, commenting after another labor leader flatly declared, "We're on strike."

A "confirmed" report of a labor dispute at GM's Fisher Body Division plant here came late Monday night from Frank Petty, shop committee chairman of UAW Local 59, who declared a strike was under way. Petty, however, would offer no further details.

Hall, Local 549 president, said he thought some workers wanted to strike but that he had no first-hand information. "A couple of fellows who went early for the third shift called and said there were pickets," Hall added.

"I told them I didn't know anything about it."

Sheriff's deputies confirmed there had been some picketing at the plant despite several inches of snow and freezing temperatures.

An eight-day strike at the plant ended last Feb. 22 when UAW President Walter P. Reuther ordered the men back to work. The strike resulted when workers protested the "farming out" of work to other GM plants.

During the strike here, GM laid off nearly 200,000 workers at other plants, saying that the Mansfield strike caused a part shortage. The Mansfield plant produces doors, floorboards and other items for all makes of GM automobiles.

Indicted On Charges Of Dope Smuggling

AUSTIN (AP) — Mrs. Anna Littles, 40, of Newark, N.J., has been indicted on charges of conspiracy in an alleged $2.5 million marijuana smuggling operation.

She became the 17th defendant in the case. The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury in Waco, was filed in federal court here Monday.

Government attorneys say the dope was smuggled into this country from Mexico over a four-year period for distribution in the New York-New Jersey area.

US Pupils Show Low Math Rating

CHICAGO (AP) — An international study of how well students in 12 countries learn mathematics puts U.S. pupils near the bottom of the list. But don't blame it on the "new math," one authority says.

Benjamin S. Bloom, professor of education at the University of Chicago, reported Monday that students who had been exposed to "new math" did considerably better than those with traditional math.

"But," he added, "relatively few students tested had been exposed to the new math, so we can't draw any general conclusions."

The study, conducted by the International Project for the Evaluation of Educational Achievement, showed that the United States is among the least effective of 12 countries tested in developing mathematics talent.

Educators cited the highly comprehensive education system in the United States and lack of opportunity to learn some phases of mathematics as reasons for the poor showing of American students.

Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University and noted critic of America's educational system, declined comment on the study because he hadn't read it. He did say, "I think that making comparisons on the basis of tests is very tricky."

The project tested some 133,000 students in 12 countries in what is believed to be the largest international educational research project ever undertaken. Japan appeared to do the best over-all job of mathematics instruction in public schools.

"The differences (between countries) really begin to show up at the seventh- and eighth-grade levels," Maurice L. Hartung of the University of Chicago told a news conference. Hartung was one of five American educators who participated in the project.

"There is an implied indictment in this study of our eighth-grade math teachers," said Arthur W. Foshay, a professor and assistant dean of the Teachers College at Columbia University.

Other countries taking part in the study were Australia, Belgium, England, Finland, Israel, The Netherlands, Scotland, Sweden and West Germany.

Refinery To Expand

NEW YORK (AP)—A $15 million expansion program for the Phelps Dodge copper refinery at El Paso, Tex., was announced Monday. It will increase the refinery capacity by one-third, or 100,000 tons a year, by mid-1969.

Nelson Eddy Funeral Set Wednesday

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Nelson Eddy, whose singing thrilled millions, will be laid to rest Wednesday following a private funeral service in Hollywood Memorial Park Cemetery.

Eddy's body is being returned today from Miami Beach, Fla., where the 65-year-old baritone suffered a fatal stroke on the stage of a night club Sunday night.

Doctors said a blood clot on the brain caused Eddy's death early Monday.

Eddy starred with Jeanette MacDonald in many Hollywood musicals. He turned to night club singing in the last few years and recently returned from three weeks in Australia. He was beginning a new U.S. tour.

He lived in a colonial-style home in Los Angeles with his wife of 28 years, the former Ann Denitz Franklin. They had no children, but she has a son, Sidney Franklin Jr., by a previous marriage.

Eddy also leaves his father, William D. Eddy, Jamestown, R.I., his stepmother and a half-sister, Mrs. Lloyd Brown, Pawtucket, R.I.

Solon Asks Standards For Brick

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN (AP) — A man can lose his life investment if weak bricks are used in his home, says the executive director of the Southwest Productions Association.

Tom Grimm testified before the House Committee on Commerce and Manufactures Monday in support of a bill by Rep. Charles Jungmichel of La Grange that would require that bricks have a compressive strength of 2,500 pounds per square inch if they are to be used in buildings for human inhabitation.

Grimm cited what he called an average case where someone builds his house with inferior bricks.

"Here's a man of modest means who has put everything he has in his house and literally it goes to hell," Grimm said. "Believe me, a lawn sprinkler has been known to work a brick loose from a man's house...It's not fair."

Mike Butler of the Elgin Brick Co., Elgin, Tex., also spoke for the bill. Butler said he was not against Mexican brick — about 100 million of which are imported into Texas every year—but against all inferior bricks.

The 2,500 pounds per square inch merely is the minimum standard established by the American society for testing materials, "the bible of our business," Butler said.

C. L. Reeves, representing the Texas association of home builders, spoke against the bill.

"The only failure I've ever had was with one of Mr. Butler's bricks," Reeves said.

Mexican brick costs $53 a thousand, compared to $73 a thousand for domestic brick, he said. Since the average brick home uses about 10,000 bricks, the price difference would be approximately $300, he said.

Also speaking against the bill was Frank Montgomery, representing the Texas Apartment Association, who said, "if a man has a better product, he lets the public know through advertising and use. He doesn't ask for statewide legislation."

Only about 25 per cent of the Mexican brick imported into Texas would be affected by the bill, Jungmichel said.

The bill was referred to subcommittee.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Question — Where do I report money from a pension?

Answer—File Schedule B with your Form 1040 to report this income.

Question — we paid sales tax on a color TV as well as a new car last year. Can we add this to the amount shown in the sales tax table?

Answer — You may add the sales tax paid on the car to the amount shown in the sales tax table but not the tax paid on the television set. Of course, if you can show you actually paid an amount greater than shown by the table, you may deduct this greater amount.

Question — Our son works a paper route. Will he have to file an income tax return?

Answer — A return is required if he earned $600 or more for the year. He should also file a return to get a refund if his income was less than $600 and income tax was withheld from his pay.

Question — I heard there was some new procedure for taxpayers who are over-withheld because of the new graduated rates. Where can I find out about this?

Answer — Instructions for claiming additional withholding allowances based on large itemized deductions are explained in Schedule A (Form W-4). Copies have been supplied to employers and are available at local IRS offices.

To reduce withholding under this procedure a taxpayer must have filed a return on 1966 income.

Question — Looking over some of the settlement costs I paid when I bought my house, I noticed an item for county transfer tax and another for revenue stamps. Are these deductible?

Answer — No, these costs are not deductible when paid in connection with the purchase of a house for personal use but they should be added into the cost basis of your home. If the house was purchased for rental or income producing purposes then these expenses could be deducted as a business expens.

The two main items a homeowner may deduct are real estate taxes and interest paid on mortgage loans.

Question — What's the Social Security tax rate on self - employment income?

Answer — Net earnings from self-employment are taxed at a rate of 6.15 percent for 1966. This rate goes up to 6.4 percent for 1967 earnings.

Question — Do you have to be 65 to take advantage of retirement income credit?

Answer — No you don't. If you retire before reaching age 65 under a public retirement system you may be eligible to use this provision of the tax law.

Question — I read in the papers where some taxpayers have gotten their tax refunds already. Are you getting them out faster than last year?

Answer — The time it takes to process complete, accurate returns is little different from last year. However, taxpayers who file early will find that refunds will be processed faster.

To avoid delays in receiving refunds, be sure to check whether all the information required has been supplied. Missing signatures, W-2 forms, Social Security numbers and supporting forms and schedules will all hold up expected refunds.

Question — Where can I find a good tax man to help me with my return?

Answer — Local accounting and legal societies will be able to provide a list of qualified tax advisers in this area. If you just have several questions about your return you may be able to get the help you need from your local IRS. office.

Question — Can I deduct the Federal tax shown on my monthly phone bill?

Answer — No. Federal excise taxes are not deductible as an itemized deduction.

Question — I sold shares of stock in a company I have been investing in for years. How do I identify the purchase price of the shares I sold since I bought them at various times at various prices?

Answer — The principle that applies here when no other price identification can be made is "first-in, first-out." In other words, consider the shares you sold first to be the first ones you bought and use their cost, the next shares you bought to be the second ones you sold and so on.

Question — I received some dividends last year I was not entitled to because they were declared after I sold the stock. I returned the dividend check but I now have a copy of a statement showing the amount as having been paid to me. Should I ignore this statement when I file my Federal tax return?

Answer — Only report the correct amount of dividends on your return. You should also notify the corporation paying the dividends of the error in their statement so a correction can be made. An explanation of the error should be attached to your return.

Question — Where do I report dividends from a savings and loan account? Are they dividends or interest?

Answer — This income is considered interest and should be entered on line 2a of Part II of the 1040 or on line 6a of Form 1040A, if this form is used.

Drought Is Still Critical

AUSTIN (AP) Unseasonably warm weather helped Texas farm work last week but dry weather was still the main worry.

The weekly crop report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture said the warm temperatures allowed major plantings of crops to begin in the Rio Grande Valley and along the Texas Coast where soil moisture is adequate.

Cotton planting is 13 per cent complete in the Rio Grande Valley, and will begin soon in other southern portions.

Wheat condition remained poor with moisture conditions critical in the western two-thirds of the state. Oat conditions also remained poor and did not furnish any significant grazing.

Planting of grain sorghum and corn progressed in the lower Rio Grande Valley and the coastal bend. Some fields of sorghum are up to a good stand in the lower valley where planting is 36 per cent complete.
