City To Call Election On Parking Meter Question

City Commission Pledges Election After Contract Up

Eastland voters will have a chance to vote on whether they want parking meters after the city's six-month contract with the Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Company has expired, members of the City Commission said in a statement approved Thursday night of last week.

Earliest possible vote on the matter will be in February, 1950, since the parking meters went into effect in August.

When the parking meters were first announced, the Commission told of the six-month contract.

The statement, prepared before last week's commission meeting by Mayor W. W. Linkenhog and presented to the other commissioners for discussion, defended the city administration's position on the parking meter question, and denied any intention to harm anyone.

The statement said that it just happened that the meters were installed in Eastland at the time a general business slump hit this part of the country, and that business in Gorman and Carbon was off also, even though merchants there expected the meters here to help them.

The statement pointed out that the city was obliged under its agreement with the parking meter company to keep the meters for six months, said there really is a parking problem in Eastland, regardless of what some have said, and pointed out benefits to the city from the money derived from the parking meters, including cash to revamp the sewage disposal setup, make enlargements and improvements at the water pumping and treating plant and lay new sewage lines.

Taxes would have to be increased 25 per cent to do these things, it was said.

Reading of the statement at the meeting followed a discussion by the commissioners present, including Linkenhog, Pearson Grimes, Jack Muirhead and Herman Rushing, and Victor Cornelius and H. G. Vermillion.

Cornelius accused Vermillion of "crucifying" the City Commission in the writing in his column in The Record about the parking meters, and this Vermillion denied.

Cornelius took the position that as a former commissioner and mayor he felt the city badly needed additional revenues, and the parking meters offered the opportunity to get them easily.

Vermillion said he had been only reporting what he felt was popular sentiment on the matter. Linkenhog and other members of the commission said that City Manager I. C. Heck, whose replacement Vermillion had suggested the week before, had been acting entirely under their direction in his activities, and said that if he should resign, they should too.

Cornelius Donates Free Parking Lot

The vacant lot across the street from the King Tractor Company on Main Street, owned by Victor Cornelius, has been offered to the City of Eastland as a free parking lot, and will be maintained as such, City Manager I. C. Heck said Thursday.

A maintainer will blade off the lot and a sign will be erected saying parking there is free, Heck said.

He pointed out that the lot is just one block from the Courthouse.

Heck said the lot will be gravelled later if it proves necessary.

Two Rotary Club Officers Elected

To replace officers who resigned, Hubert Westfall was elected secretary and Eugene Hickman treasurer of the Eastland Rotary Club Monday.

The club heard Dave Pickrell of Ranger speak on the proposed Eastland-Ranger dam on the Leon River for development of a joint city water supply.

Keep Poll Tax Cash For Now, Says Day

Don't send in your money for your poll taxes with your tax payments this year, Eastland County Tax Collector Neil Day urged this week.

Day pointed out that on Nov. 8 Texans will vote on a constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting, and until the vote is certified no one will know the status of the tax for next year.

Several persons have sent in money already for poll tax payments, Day said.

The trouble is, that even if the amendment passes, the money will have made a one-way trip, he said. He can't pay it back because there is no legal way to do so.

City Rescinds Cemetery Lot Fee

Members of the Eastland City Commission at their meeting Thursday night of last week voted to call off a previously imposed $6 a year charge for upkeep of lots in the Eastland Cemetery.

The action came after a discussion between members of the commission, City Manager I. C. Heck and Victor Cornelius, who argued against the charge.

Cornelius said that many persons, including those out of town and those who have only distant relatives in the cemetery, will not pay the charge.

Would the city then, he asked, let the graves grow up in grass and weeds where the fee was not paid?

The commission decided to drop the whole thing and go back to the former practice of no upkeep charge.

Eudaly To Speak At Barbecue Here

E. R. Eudaly of Fort Worth, livestock specialist who spoke at the annual spring show of the Eastland County Dairy Association in Eastland last spring, has been secured as the principal speaker for the barbecue of the dairy association and the Eastland County Livestock Association to be held in the Eastland City Park Thursday of next week, it was announced this week.

Eudaly is a specialist on the feeding of cattle, and formerly was animal husbandryman of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

The joint barbecue of the two associations is the first in their history. In previous years, the livestock association has held the barbecue alone.

It was announced that barbecue tickets will cost $1 each.

Judge Milburn Long of Eastland is program chairman for the affair.

Since the affair, unlike other such barbecues in the past, will feature admittance by tickets, it was hoped by Judge Long that as many persons as possible will get tickets by Oct. 15 so the committee will have an idea how many to prepare for.

Tickets may be obtained in Eastland from Judge Long, George I. Lane, Travis Wheat, H. H. Durham, Harold Courtney, Ed Steele, H. J. Tanner and M. D. Fox; in Cisco from Dr. J. H. Denton and A. V. Clark and from Henry's Feed Store, and in Ranger from Leslie Hagaman.

Judge Long said the barbecue will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Six New C. Of C. Directors Named

Six new directors of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce were elected by mail ballot are Pete Parker, Theo Lamb, W. B. Harris, J. P. Kilgore, V. T. Seaberry and John Osborne, Sr., it was announced this week after the ballots were counted.

The new directors will take office at the next meeting of the board, to be held next Tuesday.

At that time also new officers of the chamber of commerce are scheduled for election.

Eastland, Winters Are Rated Even For Game Friday

Playing without the full-time services of two first-string backfield men, the Eastland Mavericks will go to Winters Friday night for a football game that should be hard fought and close.

Eastland Coach Wendell Siebert said Tuesday before the Eastland Lions Club that his team and Winters may be ranked about on a par.

Siebert also indicated that he was pointing far more for the Dublin game next week than for Winters this week. In fact, he said he wouldn't want to win against Winters if it will hurt chances of winning from Dublin.

For that reason, he likely will use Fullback Roy Smith and Halfback Larry Falls sparingly, if at all, against Winters.

Smith tore a knee cartilage in the Albany game, and Siebert said that although the swelling is out of the knee now, the big fullback likely will see little if any service at Winters.

Falls was jarred up a good bit in the Mavericks' 26-13 win over the Graham B team Thursday night of last week, and will be sent in only if urgently needed, Siebert said.

He pointed out that with these men out, the holes would be filled by sophomore backs, and "although Rodney Stephen is as good a back as you'll find, pound for pound, there aren't enough pounds of him."

Eastland won from Winters 13-12 last year for its first victory of the season.

This year, Eastland goes into the Winters tilt with a 500 mark for the season, having lost to Coleman and Albany and won its games from De Leon and the Graham B team.

The Mavericks easily dominated play in the game last week, scoring 20 of its points in the first half before Graham scratched. The Graham eleven scored two touchdowns on long passes against the Eastland second and third string players in the second half.

Eastland touchdowns were by Doug King, Kenneth Williamson and Larry Falls in the first half, and by Glenn Garrett, who took a pass in the second half from Jimmy Spalding and romped for the score.

Smith did not play in the game. Dublin will be Eastland's second district opponent, and was classified by Siebert as one the Mavericks will have a chance to beat. Rated highest in the district are Ranger and Hamilton in that order.

T. L. Morgan of Eastland and W. C. Garrett of Ranger fished at Possum Kingdom Tuesday and returned home with about ten pounds of fish, which they said they considered a very good catch.

Winters Contest Will Be Played

Despite rumors to the contrary, the Eastland-Winters football game will be played in Winters Friday night as scheduled, Eastland Coach Wendell Siebert said this week.

Siebert said he had no idea how the report started.

The Record regrets that a portion of this week's issue was printed before an error on the football page was found which said the game was scheduled for Eastland. The game is to be played in Winters Friday night.

Band Is Assigned Role For Fair

Eastland High School Band will give a concert in front of the Hall of State at the Texas State Fair in Dallas at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, Band Director T. R. Atwood was advised this week.

At the same hour, the Cisco High School Band will be giving its concert under the roof of the Picnic Pavilion at the fair.

Atwood said the band members will go to the fair by bus, and will pay their own way. An offer of the Band Boosters Club to pay the band's way to Dallas is being rejected, he said, because the club already has done so very much for the band, and money the club is raising is needed to pay off the club's $2500 debt, incurred for band uniforms and instruments.

The Eastland band is one of 23 Texas high school bands honored by being invited to the fair event. Five orchestras and seven choral groups also will perform.

All the groups will combine at the big "Marchiesta" event in the Cotton Bowl Wednesday night.

In the first gigantic formation, the combined groups will spell out "HOWDY FOLKS TEXAS GREETINGS YOU" with the outline of the Texas map in the center of the formation. The Eastland band will form the second E in "greetings" in the formation.

In the second formation the local band will be the first T in "Southwest" as the groups form the words "SHOW WINDOW OF THE SOUTHWEST" around a big Lone Star of Texas.

Various numbers will be played while the bands are in the formations.

The affair will begin at 7:45 p. m. and will be concluded by the annual fair fireworks display.

Over 2600 Texas high school musicians and instructors will take part in the performance.

COMMUNITY SINGING TO BE HELD SUNDAY

The Eastland Community Singing will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Church of God, located at Lamar and Valley Streets, it was announced this week.

All lovers of gospel music were invited to attend.

Over 400 Students Take Part In Fire Safety Contests

Over 400 students in the Eastland schools took part in the annual Fire Prevention Week contests this year, spurred on by prizes offered by the Fire Prevention Committee of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce and by their teachers.

Over 150 students worked on fire prevention posters, which are to be on display all day Friday in the Eastland High School Library, located on the second floor of the high school building. The public was invited to view the display there.

First prize in the grade school poster contest was won by Benny Cogburn of the Fifth Grade of South Ward; second place by Patricia Crowley of the Fourth Grade of South Ward, and third place by the Third Grade of South Ward. Honorable mention was won by South Ward's Fifth Grade.

In the junior high division, W. C. Brashear won first prize, Paul Gattis second prize and Raymond Soto third prize. Raymond Coats and Gene Bowles drew honorable mention.

The high school poster contest was won by Edith Cox, first, Norma Lee Harbin, second, and Eddie Haines, third. Herman Hassell's poster won honorable mention.

In the high school fire safety essay contests, held in two divisions, the junior and senior group first place was won by Sara Ellen Peel, second by Billie Irene Farr, and third by Ben Green. Honorable mention was won by Stanley Stephen, Nancy Freyschlag, Doug King, Jeanine Howard and Cura Williams.

In the freshman-sophomore essay division, first place was won by Herman Hassell, second by Louise Seabourne and third by Norma Lee Harbin.

First prize in each contest was $3, second $2 and third $1.

Proposals Made For Next Year's Derby

A number of matters concerning next year's Eastland Horned Toad Derby were disposed of Monday night at a meeting of the derby committee in the Eastland Chamber of Commerce office, and it was agreed that another meeting of the committee should be held in three months.

Mrs. Jack Carothers proposed that a bathing beauty or queen contest be held in connection with the affair, and a number of other suggestions were considered.

As the result of a suggestion at the meeting, Chamber of Commerce Manager H. J. Tanner later in the week contacted Mr. and Mrs. Horace Horton, and said the Horton Ceramics plant will produce small ceramic horned toads to be sold or used as prizes in next year's derby.

'Mom' Goes To Second Grade In Eastland And Approves Of It

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Josie K. Nix, who long has been one of the leading community figures at Morton Valley and especially was active in the Morton Valley Parent-Teachers Association, is the "Mom" in the following article she wrote for the Record. She entitled it, "Mom Goes To The Second Grade.")

By MRS. JOSIE K. NIX

The thought of leaving our lovely, friendly school where so many happy hours were spent gave "Mom" a very sad feeling.

You see, "Mom's" oldest girl started to school at Morton Valley. A black haired little girl who played basketball, volleyball, represented the school in declamation and other things, just as did many other little girls (and boys) who went to Morton Valley for their first days in school.

Then "Mom" sent a boy to Morton Valley for his first school. The second girl and the third girl started there, and finished there.

Through the years, Mom watched the school grow. From a three-room school house to a fine two-story brick building. From three teachers to eight teachers.

The P.T.A. became a working body in 1934. It became a very interesting part of the community. Mom watched the youngsters in programs for the P.T.A. Her own four, and her neighbors' and children's children. Starting with the first grade at the first of school, each teacher prepared a program as her grades' time came, through the grades and high school. Each program well gotten up and so very much enjoyed.

Through the grades form the first to the seniors, she and the patrons of the community were very happy, and proud of our teachers. They never let the P.T.A. A. down. Certificates show the association to have grown to a superior rating.

A teacherage was added, a lunchroom, a new gym replacing the old one that burned, and a lovely new curtain for the stage added since Christmas, 1948.

A grandson, son of Mom's first girl, started to school at Morton Valley. Mom was room mother again in the second generation of her children.

Then Morton Valley was moved to Eastland. It was a sad, trying time. Our trustees and superintendent read and re-read the law trying to find a clause that would let us keep our school.

The grandson said, "Mom, we'll have to go to Eastland."

Sept. 6, 1949, school opened at Eastland. The grandson went to South Ward. Two teachers who had taught at Morton Valley were there.

The teachers were introduced by the principal, who is a very lovely lady. They were so friendly and seemed happy to welcome the newcomers from everywhere that the new school seemed "our school" to everybody.

In West Ward, in Junior High and in High School the same friendly fellowship prevailed. Word came around that it was nice, friendly and well liked.

Since the school had to move, Morton Valley is very happy to go to Eastland. And Mom is happy to go to Eastland South Ward's Second Grade.

City Has Only One Minor Fire In Year, Chief Says; Urges Keeping Up Record

Side Issues

HENRY G. VERMILLION

In the last week of service of the Record's society editor of Lynn Lovelace, who will go to Eastland Saturday to enter school.

She was getting a different education here, but she needed a different kind of place to be filled by Mrs. Williams, a relative new to Eastland who is very very interested in the city and I think will do well at her if you can.

Mrs. Williams, welcome; to Lovelace, best of luck.

Something coming up do not foresee, I have had to do with the parking meters and the problems, including City Heck.

City Commission has promised an election as soon as they are possible, and I rely on the word. An election will be the will of the people; that of the people be recorded in my desire.

In the past, I will well print, to the limit of my space, any letters you wish to write on any of the parking meter or any other question.

I intend to continue to express my sentiments on any matter, in this under my name.

Before this was written I intended to start over. I have not been opposed to parking meter any time. But I did feel a majority of the merchants and the people were them, and that I could not have a much-needed voice.

At the time comes, the voice of the people now can be heard. That is as it should be. The point has been won—will be an election. So I am, bowing out of the not to return unless a development demands it.

Right back of Mrs. Vermillion and me at the Texas-Oklahoma game in the Cotton Bowl were Jim Smith and Hicks, Eastland High athletic stars of past years are attending East Texas at Commerce.

More than those two, in the long on the fair grounds I only two persons I remember having seen before, of those I knew only

ELECTRIC COOKING IS THRIFTY...

Electric cooking is thrifty cooking. Heat from the surface units is applied directly to the food being cooked and less water is required. In baking and roasting, oven units are on only about one-third of the time—after the correct oven heat is attained, stored heat does most of the cooking. Meat shrinkage is much less, making the food dollar go farther. Plan now to cook the thrifty way —of course, it's electric.

Warning Given On Lockjaw

AUSTIN.— Lockjaw, or tetanus, is a very serious disease caused by a tiny germ that looks like a stick with a ball on one end—some thing like a microscopic lollipop, says Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. This ball is called a spore and it is the seed of the germ. Lockjaw germs are found in the soil, especially in manured soil of the barnyard or garden; in blank cartridges; etc.—in fact just about everywhere. These germs grow best in wounds where there is considerable tissue destruction and in which chips of glass, wood splinters, or grains of dirt have been embedded.

Every accident seen by the physician must be considered from the lockjaw angle; and whenever there is any question, tetanus antitoxin should be given, for it is the antitoxin that has helped to keep the incidence of lockjaw at its low level. Your physician will advise you as to its use. Its disadvantages are that it gives only temporary protection; it does not get rid of the lockjaw germs in the wound; and it does sometimes cause hives and other disagreeable symptoms for a few days, particularly if the subject has had previous injections. Should lockjaw develop, it requires much antitoxin and entails great expense; and even then, not all cases can be saved.

It is not possible to free the environment of lockjaw germs, but now there is a method of active immunization. The subject becomes his own manufacturing establishment for antitoxin to combat lockjaw poison.

One nice feature about the treatment is that it can be combined with diphtheria and whooping cough prophylaxis. The concurrent immunization is, preferably, carried out in infancy. Should a child already have had his diphtheria toxoid and whooping cough vaccine injections, he can take the lockjaw toxoid injection alone; and these can be given at any time with very little discomfort.

NEIL DAY
TAX ASSESSOR & COLLECTOR
EASTLAND COUNTY

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR . . .

Dear Editor:

I have lived in Eastland for many years, during most of which I have operated a dry goods store in my own right. I have done my best through these years to do everything I could for the best interest of our town and trade territory, paying taxes, donations and contributing time, money and personal service along with hundreds of others to this end.

I have made no bones in being opposed to Parking Meters in Eastland.

The silly and ridiculous statement of the Commission in regard to meters being installed in Eastland hurting business also in Corpush Christi, San Saba and Lubbock, in which we are not interested, being interested only in business at home, is fully answered by the hundreds of names of our citizens, including a great majority of business men, on the petitions against the Parking Meters.

The general business recession started last May. Meters were installed here in August and OURS started then.

I personally do not think the Commission intended to hurt anybody but I think they made a terrible and disastrous mistake in putting them in without the consent of the people, by vote, and WE think they should be big enough and fair enough to admit it instead of continually trying to mislead the people with alibis.

Is it fair to tell grown people, capable of running their own business, "We will cram them down your throats and let you tell us after six months whether you like them or not?"

Was it fair to skip some of the best spots in town, in favor of certain ones in authority, but put them at the Prairie Building, two blocks away from the square, where every "Old Age" person in the county must go to get a few much needed dollars for their existence?

Everyone knows what happened in District Court, and immediately following. If they fail to "merely discuss" the matter with direct representatives of owners of property as they did in regard to county property, and then violate an agreement, how do we know that we will have a chance to vote on it after six months?

And if they can't keep an agreement with local people, why keep one with the parking meter company?

Yes, you were elected to represent the best interests of ALL the people, even extending to the trade territory. Have you done it? We think you should tell the people you have made a bad mistake in "hamstringing" them for six months, in as much as they are NOT CAPABLE of knowing what they want until six months. Please instill just a little bit of Democracy and common decency into the matter.

The Commission might well heed the words of the great Thomas Jefferson, who cried out to the world: "I believe in a wise and frugal government which shall restrain men from injuring one another; which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvements, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned."

The few pennies and nickels the city is getting from meters is costing the merchants many dollars.

CARL JOHNSON

To The Editor:

Parking meters in Eastland have solved a most serious parking problem. We, the customers and shoppers, should certainly be considered.

In times before the meters were installed, we were forced to drive around and around, or park two blocks away and carry our groceries or dry goods. The owners of businesses and office workers used parking space that should have been available to the customers.

One cent for twelve minutes is not nearly so costly as driving several blocks out of the way. This not only solves the shoppers' problem but is an economical way to avoid paying higher city taxes.

Parking meters are also a mark of progress. Let's keep Eastland in step with other towns of our size and let's back our City Government.

Gayle's swallowed a hobby pin!

When her two-year-old daughter swallowed a bobby pin late one evening, Mrs. Chenoweth rushed to the telephone—and this series of calls followed. She says that she wouldn't even try to guess what these calls were really worth to her. But she can tell you what her actual cost was—less than 2c each!

Mrs. Chenoweth knows the cost because she kept an accurate record of all her telephone conversations, then check-ed it against her monthly bill. "I never realized before," she reports, "how much the telephone helps me run our house, keep in touch with our friends and meet emergencies. It's a real bargain!"

To Mrs. Chenoweth's verdict, may we add: We're doing our best to make your telephone service a real bargain today... and to keep it growing in value every year. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

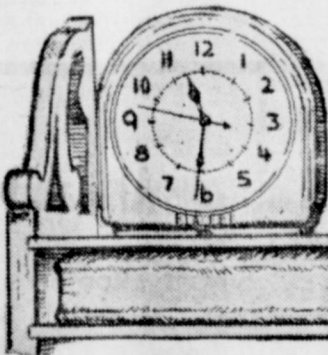

What else gives so much for so little?

Called Gayle's doctor. She's swallowed a bobby pin. But he isn't home!

Got our family doctor. Gayle's not choking, so no real danger!

Gayle's doctor called. We can relax, bring her in for X-ray in the morning.

Dogies Lose 25-19; To Play Comanche

In a wierd game that easily could have been won by the Eastland High School Dogies without a single first down, the Dogies bowed to the Ranger Bullpups Tuesday night at Ranger, 25-19.

Ranger piled up a 19-0 score in the first half, but after the third touchdown in the second quarter, Eastland received the kickoff and on the first play Gil Gaeta passed to tall End Ecekey Jordan, who ran the rest of the 53 yards for a score.

A few moments later Ranger had to punt, and little Jamie Jessop gathered in the ball on the Eastland 8 and raced 92 yards for another score.

As the third quarter opened Ecekey took another pass over the heads of the Ranger secondary, but this time was stopped on the Ranger 13 after an over-all gain of 40 yards. This was Eastland's sole first down of the game, and Ranger recovered a fumble on the next play.

Ranger scored again in the last quarter to bring the score to 25-12, but a few moments later young Jessop again took a punt and ran it back for a score, this time for 665 yards. Gaeta kicked the point.

The Smartly-coached Dogies got possession of the ball with an onside kickoff just before the game ended, but it was too late.

The Dogies played without their star halfback, Gerald Ables, who was hurt in a car crash the night before. Gaeta and Jordan, also in the accident, were hurt only in a minor way and played most of the game.

The Dogies will meet Comanche at Eastland Thursday night of next week.

Four Are Injured In Car-Truck Crash

Four persons, including three Eastland Junior High School football players, were injured slightly Monday night in a car-truck accident just north of Eastland.

The pickup driven by Gil Gaeta, one of the football players, was passing a car driven by Alex Kimes of Breckenridge when the truck hit a soft shoulder and swerved into the car. Both overturned.

Ecekey Jordan and Gerald Ables, riding with Gaeta, were injured (slightly, and Mrs. Kimes, with her husband, was shaken from shock after the accident.
