

Hoorah for Good News Wind....

By WES BURNETT

Cheering and applause broke the quiet morning air yesterday when "Chief" Frank Runkles pointed the feather toward the northeast, predicting a very good year by the "Taba'na Yuan'e" ceremony.

There was a little anxiety amongst the audience just minutes earlier, when the wind blew the smoke from the east and southeast...but just at the moment of sunrise, 6:48 a.m., the wind shifted directly from the northeast.

Continuing a tradition of being one of the coldest mornings of the year, Tuesday broke with cloudy skies and a cold, brisk breeze.

Following the "Taba'na Yuan'e" ceremony, visitors were treated to a Chamber of Commerce sponsored breakfast of eggs, bacon, sausage, biscuits, coffee and orange juice, catered by Jackson's Cafeteria.

Supported by Post merchants, the breakfast was served to approximately 150 people at $1 per person.

"Chief" Frank Runkles starts the traditional Taba'na Yuan'e fire, using age-old Indian methods of two-sticks rubbing together. The fire was nursed carefully by "Chief" Runkles, who at sunrise determined the wind direction as he has done since 1973.

Membership Drive Seeks Support

An intensive membership drive will be conducted tomorrow afternoon by Post Chamber of Commerce board of directors, as more than 60 area businesses will be offered the opportunity to join the organization.

There are now 89 members of the Chamber of Commerce, with 57 businesses and 32 individual memberships.

"Our goal is to make sure every business in Post has a chance to be a part of the chamber," membership chairman Don Glidewell comments.

"We are planning some really aggressive projects for this year, and we're going to need lots of help to accomplish our objectives," Glidewell adds.

Chamber of Commerce president Jack King also outlined another reason for the membership drive, "frankly, we need to have everyone in town pulling together to make this a better place to live and work."

To answer the inevitable question from prospective members, "what has the chamber done for me and what will it do for my business?" Directors will outline past achievements and accept ideas for the future.

"It's not just enough for the directors to decide what the chamber ought to be doing," King emphasizes, "members need to be

Twin Cedar News

To start our news this week we had a great time Thursday on St. Patrick's Day that we had a party in our bright and cheery sunroom. We had a good time visiting with each other.

We all dressed up in our best. We would like to thank Tina for our lovely shamrock pins she made us with our names on them.

We have enjoyed wearing them this month and especially today. We also enjoyed the dancing. Our refreshments were homemade ice cream and shamrock cookies that Lola Ledbetter brought and also the home made shamrock cookies that Janet Justice made.

We thank Janet and Lola for their kindness and thoughtfulness it means a lot to us. Everything was just so good.

The Seniorettes entertained here Wednesday night, they are Bea Dodson, Evelyn Gurley, Doris Jones, Beulah Eilenberger and Charlene Nelson was also here. They sang and the residents also sang along with them. They said they had a great time. We invite you to come sing Wednesday nights with us and to spend the day and have lunch with us and see what a big happy family we really are.

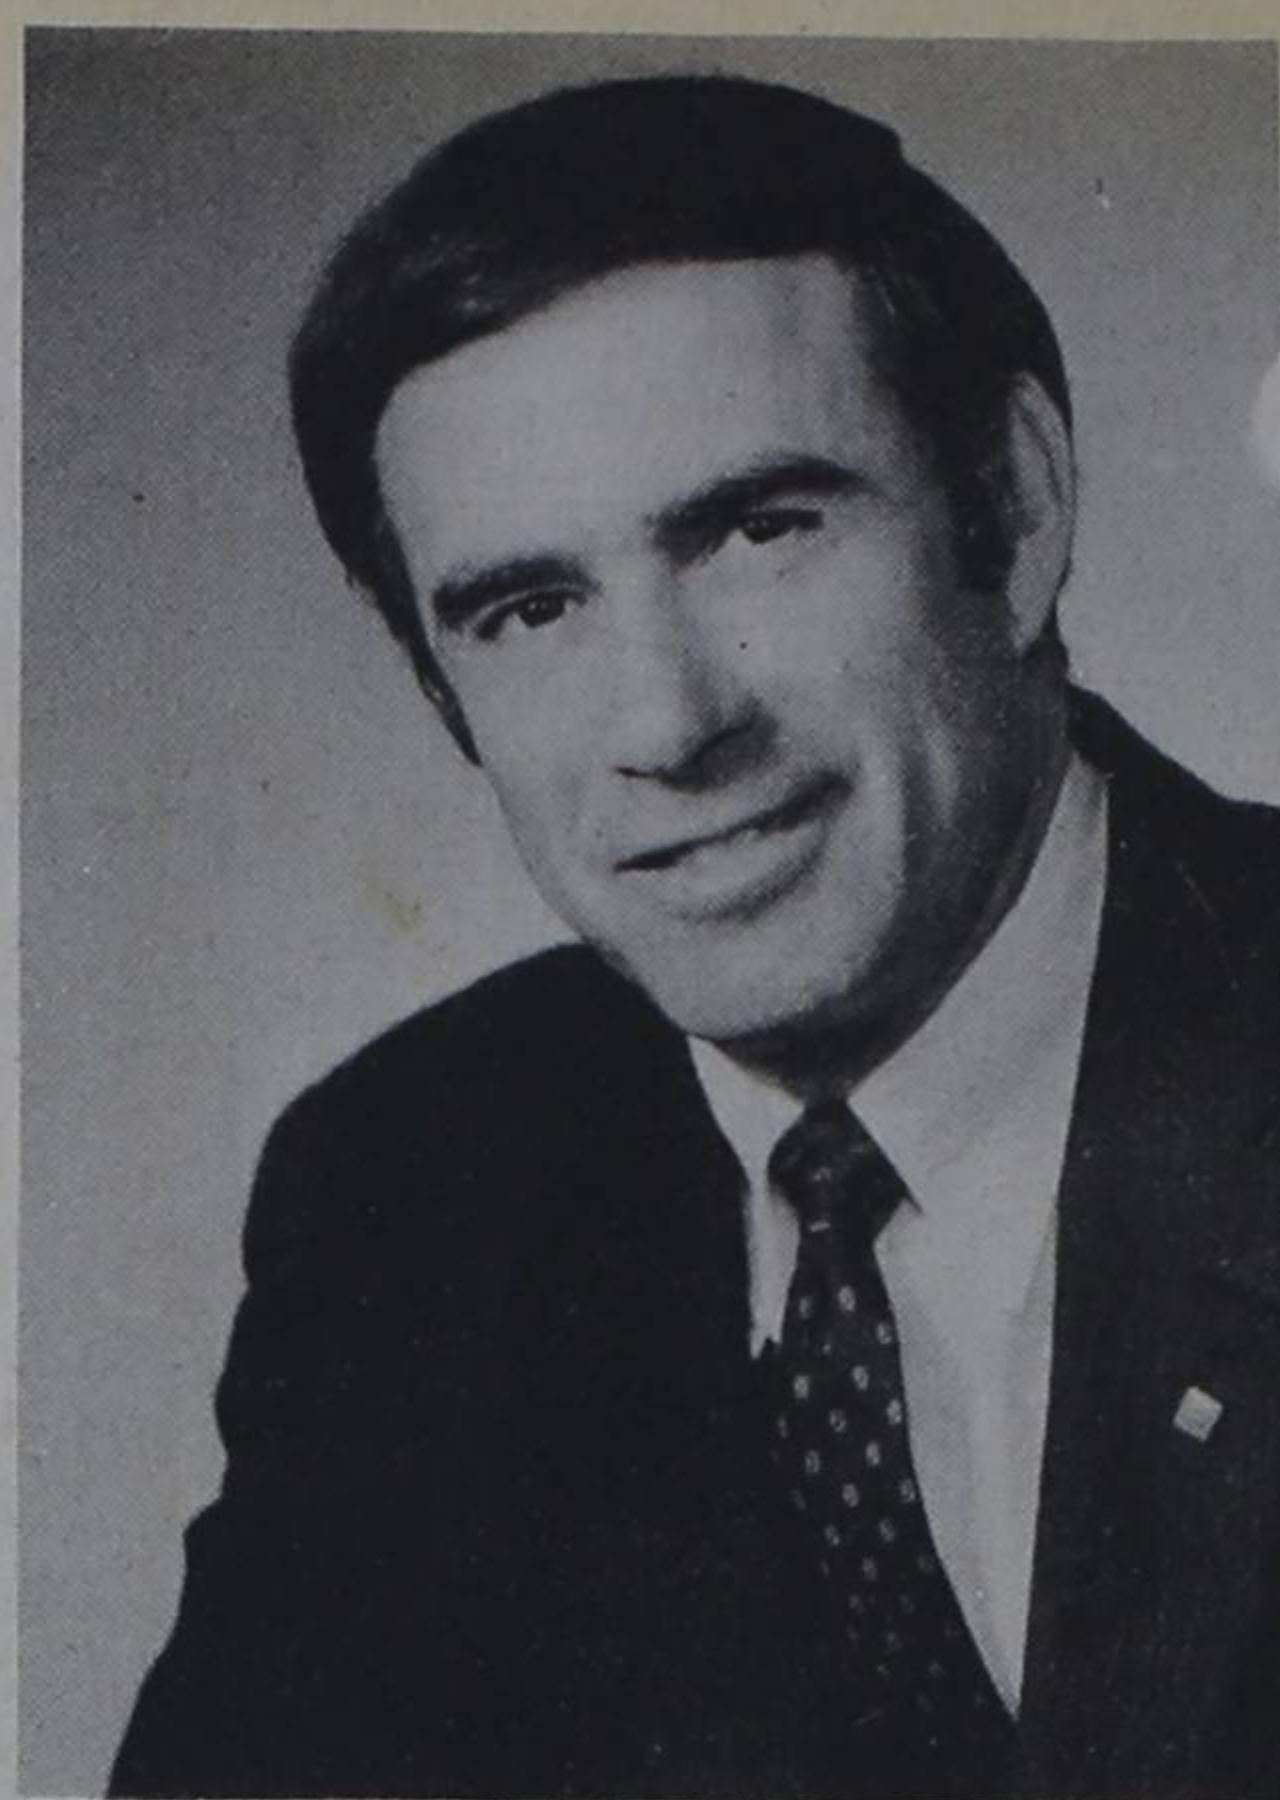

We thank everyone that has come by to visit and hope you all keep coming.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Burnett:
I appreciate your invitation to join in your salute to agriculture. I am enclosing the article as you requested. Please let me know if I can be of further assistance to you.

Your strong support of our nation's largest industry is very timely in light of the problems which our farmers and ranchers are facing today. Greater public understanding of agriculture's importance is very valuable in building the public support which our farmers and ranchers need in facing these problems.

Sincerely,
Lloyd Bentsen

Pleasant Home Services

By Annie Gilbert

Pleasant Home Services were wonderful throughout the day. First on the agenda the Junior and Senior Brotherhood program was a great success. God Bless everyone for their deeds well done. On Sunday March 20, 1983 we rendered service for all the residents at United Convalescent Home. God truly was in the midst and all had a hallelujah time.

Brother Porter gave a very good teaching, he also read St. John Chapter 4, verse 24. He taught from St. John Chapter 14, verses 1 through 12 and the junior and senior choir sang praises to God and residents, beautiful from their hearts and souls.

Morning devotional service by Deacon Jim Osby, Sister Callie Harper and Sister Mozella Mitchell. Sister Harper read Psalms 23.

Altar call was very highly prayed by Rev. Kelly, everyone was moved by it.

Then Rev. James read Matthew Chapter 5, 1 through 12 which was loved by all then the choir came on again with more beautiful song service.

Rev. Kelly's sermon was from Revelation 14:1-6. His subject was "The Gospel" with the thought coming from the sixth vers. Lets remember to pray for all the sick and shut ins of all churches and the Community.

Sheriff's Office Recovers Shoe

No job is too small, proves to be true of the Garza County Sheriff Department, as is evident in the following letter of thanks received by the Sheriff's Department last week.

The story has it that two young ladies were driving through Post on their way to Sudan, and stopped on US 84 on top of the cap to change drivers, and in doing so a tennis shoe belonging to one of the girls was kicked out of the car. They notified the department here in Post, and one of the deputies found and returned the shoe.

The letter follows:
Dear Sirs:
Just a note to say Thanks to those who were responsible for finding our lost tennis shoe.

I was really more surprised that you didn't send someone after me to take me to the padded cell, than I was that you found our shoe.

I'm sure if your evening was dull this event ended that.

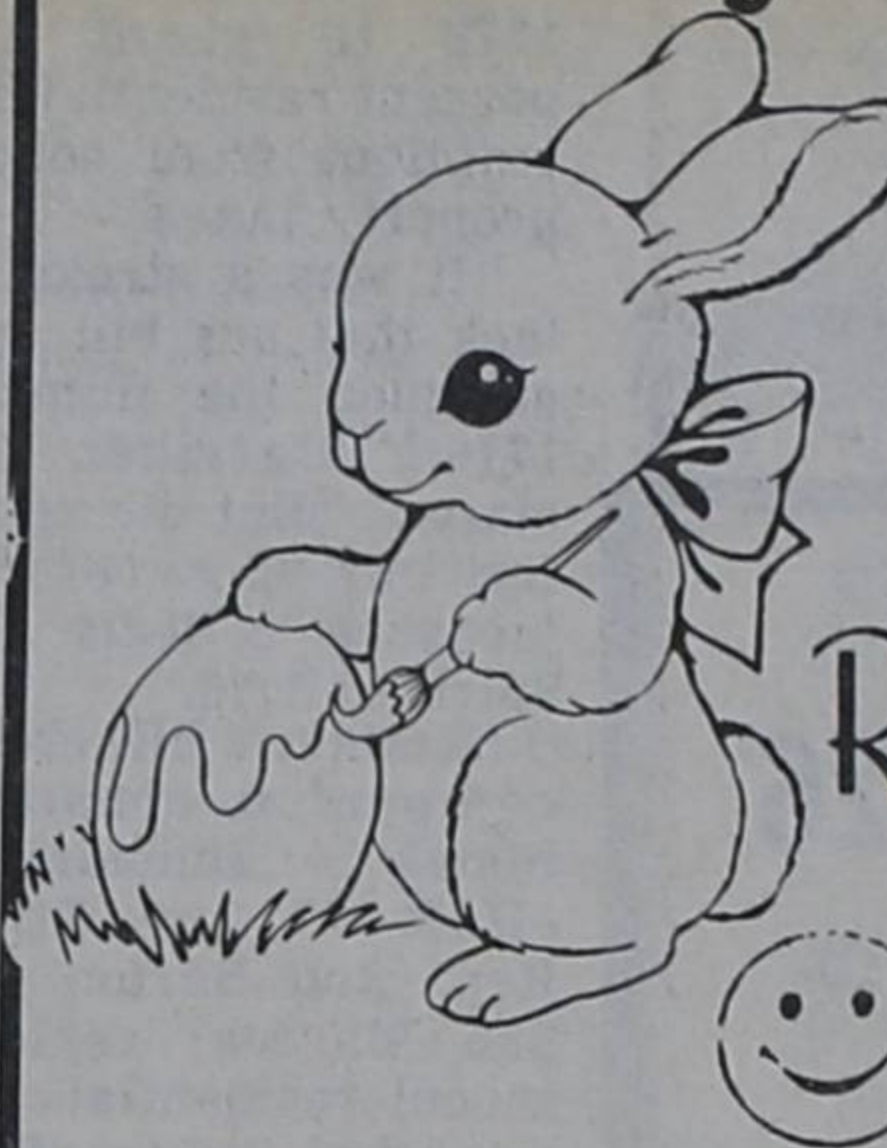

I know you really are a special bunch of people and I am proud to know whenever you are needed you are there.

Ever in Sudan Texas, look us up, we owe you one.

Carriker Reports from Austin

Calling it a "Declaration of Independence for local taxpayers," State Rep. Steve Carriker (D-Roby) last Thursday filed H.B.

1776 to grant 100 percent residential exemptions from school property taxes.

"It was a stroke of luck that our bill was assigned the number 1776," Carriker declared. "But the spirit for our tax reform measure reflects the Spirit of 1776."

Carriker's bill and a companion constitutional amendment (HJR 77) by State Rep. Bob Barton (D-San Marcos) replace school residential and personal automobile tax revenues with a one-cent increase in the state sales tax.

"When the state legislature mandates increases in local property taxes, it is the equivalent of taxation without representation," Carriker declared. "That's what we fought our revolution about in 1776."

"Texas taxpayers are on the verge of revolt because of skyrocketing property taxes," Barton added. "These bills offer significant relief while providing school districts with more than enough funds to replace those revenues."

"Our projections show that a one-cent increase in the sales tax will more than offset the anticipated loss of revenue by the school districts," Barton said.

If enacted, the legislation will mandate distribution of the additional sales tax revenues to school districts on a per-student basis.

"The beauty of this legislation is that it provides major tax relief for overburdened property taxpayers. At the same time, it protects school districts from losses in revenues," Carriker said.

If the bills are approved by the legislature, Texas voters will have the opportunity to "win liberation from a regressive property tax" by voting for a more equitable sales tax to help fund education, he added.

The two bills are the result of a statewide grassroots movement called "Proposition Zero" started by Hays County Commissioner Rafael Gonzales.

Leadership School

Administrators and teachers in leadership roles from seven Lubbock area schools will participate in a March 22-24 leadership conference at Texas Tech University.

The conference, with 45 participants expected from Lubbock Cooper district and schools in Ralls, Post, Slaton, Southland, Spur and Tulia, will begin at 12:30 p.m. March 22 in the University Center.

Dean Robert H. Anderson of the College of Education will speak at 1:30 p.m. March 22 on "The Changing Patterns of School Leadership, Instruction and Working Relationships."

Dr. Yvonne Katz with the Texas Education Agency will speak at the March 23 luncheon.

Editor started Audobon Society Early in this century the demand for egret plumes as decorations for women's hair and hats became so great that the Great Egret nearly became extinct. Editor George B. Grinnel appeared in the magazine Forest and Stream for a halt to the slaughter of wild birds. Readers responded so enthusiastically that he formed a society named in honor of famed ornithologist and artist John James Audobon. Local societies joined to form a national organization in 1905.

Barley - Hazlewood vows read in Stanton

The First United Methodist Church in Stanton was the setting for the marriage of Amy Carole Hazlewood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hazlewood, Jr. of Stanton, and Shelby Lee Barley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Glen Barley of Post.

Dr. Jack Kyle Daniels of Waco performed the double ring ceremony March 13 at 4 p.m.

The ceremony was performed before an altar marked with the bride's unity candle and a large arrangement of flowering wild plum and spring flowers in the bride's chosen colors of mint and yellow. Accenting the altar on either side were brass candleabras and arrangements of wild plum and mixed spring flowers.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, was attired in an A-line silhouette gown of silk chiffon and venise lace. The fitted bodice was overlaid and highlighted with venise lace forming the Queen Ann neckline and extending into the cap of the sleeves. Sheer sleeves were gathered to deep lace-trimmed cuffs closed with tiny buttons, which also marked the center back above the waistline traced with lace. Soft gathers marked the flowing silk chiffon skirt and chapel train with bridal pearls and iridescent accents enhanced the lace.

Silk roses and lace accented the headpiece of fingertip length veil of silk French illusion. Hair-loom pearls that have been passed down to her great-aunt, once belonging to her great-great-grandmother, that other brides in the family have also worn. The bride carried her and the bridegroom's birthdate pennies in her shoes and wore a blue garter given to her by her aunt and uncle. She wore pearl earrings that were a gift from the groom.

The bride carried a nosegay of white bridal roses, yellow frisia, mint carnations, baby's breath and touches of flowering wild plum on a Bible, a gift to her father in 1949 from his maternal grandmother and was carried in the bride's sisters' weddings. Inside the Bible was a handkerchief belonging to the bride's mother.

Serving as maid of honor was Ada Beth Wood of Stephenville, Leann Oren of San Angelo, matron of honor, and Marcia Martins of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Paiga Lou Eiland, tanton, Lori Oden, Leona and Flecia Mikan of Georgetown serving as bridesmaids.

They were attired in identical gowns of mint green with bateau necklines, a featuring symmetrical hemlines and flutter sleeves with slit openings. Accenting the dresses were belts of rattail cord of dark green and mint. Each carried nosegays of yellow sweetheart roses, mint carnations and a touch of flowering wild plum and baby breath carried on brown Bibles.

Best man was Glen Turner of Stephenville, and groomsmen were Bruce Waldrip of Lubbock, Bud Jones of Snyder, James McBride, brother-in-law of the groom of West, Steve Garlington, brother-in-law of the bride, of Stanton, and Clay Fulton of Houston.

Ushers were Karl Kerzog of Odessa, Stanley Louder, of McAllen, both brother-in-laws of the bride, Tony McBride, of West, nephew of the groom, and Greg and Chris Herzog, of Odessa, nephews of the bride.

Candlelighters were Karen Walker of Burleson, and Terri Davis of Granbury.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall.

The bride's table featured an arrangement of flowering wild plum and mixed spring flowers in her colors of mint and yellow, around a five branch candleabra with candlelight tapers. The cake was decorated with yellow silk carnations and daisies. Serving at the bride's table were her sisters, Mrs. Karl Herzog of Odessa, Mrs. Stanley Louder, of McAllen and Mrs. Steve Garlington of Stanton.

An arrangement of silk flowers in shades of candlelight with touches of brown with a three branch silver candleabra with scroll design holding tapers adorned the grooms table. The groom's cake was in the shape of a pair of brown boots. Serving at the groom's table was his sister, Mrs. James McBride of West, and Mrs. Leonard Wood of May.

Passing out rice bags were the groom's neices, Jamie and Teri McBride of West and Justin Louder, nephew of the bride of McAllen.

Following a trip to The Inn of the Mountain Gods, in New Mexico, the couple will live in Stanton. The groom is employed by Professional Geophysical Inc. in Midland.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on March 12 in the church Fellowship Hall with fifty-five attending.

Failure or Triumph

By Pastor Steve Traw hailed as the expected First Christian Church Messiah. The people As Christ rode into Jerusalem, He was ascribed to Him the hymn used by Passover pilgrims on the way to Jerusalem. Christ was declared the king of Israel. "Hosanna" was shouted to express their cry to "save now." An immediate triumph was wanted and expected.

Yet the king rode in humility on a donkey. He came without pomp and ceremony amid the celebration of joy and palm leaves that awaited Him.

The immediate future was one of apprehensive rulers, plots and betrayal. The trial and crucifixion lay ahead.

All too often the brightest events in daily life lead only to our greatest disappointments and apparent failures. But failure is that dependence on world values and motivations. It is seen in the disciples who did not understand at the first, on the day of entry into the holy city. When Jesus was glorified they saw anew with insight to the past events that were once accounted as failure.

What is success? Is it not that understanding that comes from applying God's grace to past failures? It is found in understanding how we can be accepted by God despite our bitter past experiences. And remembering the entry of the One into Jerusalem on a donkey led beyond the cross and tomb to the resurrection.

In recent church action, the congregation of Calvary Baptist Church has called Travis Ellis to serve as interim pastor until a permanent replacement has been found.

The pastoral vacancy occurred when the Rev. Vernon Andrews resigned, effective March 13, 1983 to

"The Best We Can Afford - But Not Overboard"

The best education we can offer our children must meet the needs of the "A" student and equally the needs of the "B", "C" and "D" student. Without a program that reaches every learning level our efforts will not be well rounded for the total.
