AAA Changes To Be Voted On By House Today

DEMOCRATS CONTINUE WITH EFFORTS TO PUSH ROOSEVELT'S "MUST" LEGISLATION SO AS TO BRING ADJOURNMENT BY JULY 15

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINTON, June 18—Urged on by its leaders, the house headed today toward a vote on the disputed AAA amendments, possibly this afternoon.

The amendments—which are designed to strengthen Secretary Wallace's farm policies and to prepare for coming Supreme court battles—are one of four pieces of legislation the Democratic pilots want passed this week.

Seek July 15 Closing

Speaker Byrns set the pace yesterday. After a $501,000,000 "nuisance tax bill" had been approved in 40 minutes, he asked the representatives to meet earlier and stay later so that the session could be ended by July 15.

Six hours of debate on the farm amendments have been allotted. After the vote the leaders will try to jam through the Wagner labor disputes bill and a deficiency appropriation measure this week.

Give Too Much Power

Many Republicans and some Democrats have been fighting the AAA amendments, asserting they give the secretary of agriculture too great powers over producers and handlers of crops.

Carefully revised after the Supreme court's ruling invalidating NRA, the legislation now would permit the secretary to "order" marketing agreements on six commodities if 50 per cent of the handlers of a

SENATE OCEAN MAIL COMMITTEE'S REPORT SAYS SHIP SUBSIDY POLICIES LED TO "SATURNALIA" BY OFFICIALS

BY PRESTON L. GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 18. (AP)—Charging that ship subsidy policies led to a "saturnalia" by men bent on "robbing the taxpayer," the senate ocean mail committee today denounced past operation of merchant marine subsidies and demanded drastic terms for any future government aid.

It also charged that some public officials "flagrantly betrayed their trust" and said "government officials made a farce" of the competitive bidding provision of the Jones-White merchant marine act of 1928. It said "the standards for computing compensation" under this act are "unworkable and predictive of fraud."

Advocates Government Ownership

Frankly advocating government ownership and operation of merchant marine, the committee nevertheless conceded that bitter opposition would prevent this and so it recommended an alternative plan of "government ownership and private operation the operation to be subsidized where this is proved necessary."

The committee consists of five members, of whom only two signed the report without reservation. They were Senators Black (D-Ala), chairman, and McCarran (D-Nev). Senator King (D-Utah) signed it with the reservation that he disagreed with any form of subsidy. He proposed tariff adjustments and other legislation to build up a merchant marine.

REPORT ASKED ON CHARGES

HOUSE COMMITTEE IS TO ASK FOR FULL EXPLANATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The house military committee today instructed Chairman McSwain (D-SC) to ask Secretary Dern for a report of the army inspector general on which the secretary last week based his reprimand of Major Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, army air corps chief.

The committee had recommended that Foulois be relieved of his command for "violations and evasions of law and army regulations" and "gross misconduct and inefficiency."

Dern cleared Foulois of these charges but reprimanded him for giving a special military sub-committee "exaggerated, unfair and misleading" statements during an inquiry into war department business methods.

Representative Rogers (D-NH), who headed the sub-committee, made the motion to ask for the report.

"The incident may be closed as far as the war department is concerned," he said, "but it isn't so far as the committee is concerned."

TEXAN URGES ROAD WORK

HINES SAYS HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT BEST FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Chairman Harry Hines of the Texas Highway commission and D. K. Martin, a member, told Senators Shepard and Connally today they believed that highway improvement would be the best way to relieve unemployment in Texas.

Hines said he wanted it understood that a delegation of road development enthusiasts here for conferences this week did not want, by asking $100,000,000 for this work, to create the impression that Texas was seeking "more than its proportionate share of highway funds set apart in the work-relief administration."

"We simply are bringing to our senators and representatives the impression we believe whatever Texas' share of the work-relief fund could be used best on highways," Hines said.

Hines said the visitors were spending the first few days of their visit here canvassing the possibilities of obtaining a huge sum for road work and tomorrow would report back to Hines at a closed meeting.

"Then," Hines said, "we will be able to better to proceed. We will find out at this meeting if there's anything up here we can do but didn't know about and if so take advantage of it."

Hines said 29 Texans had arrived here this morning.

TOLAR FARMER IS DROWNED MONDAY

SNYDER, June 18. (AP)—W. T. Vick, 50, farmer in the Tolar community 25 miles north of here, was drowned in a small creek near his home late Monday afternoon when a torrent of water from a cloudburst in that area swept down the creek.

Water in the creek receded rapidly and Vick's body was found, plainly visible, in the bed of the creek about 100 yards below a crossing at 9:30 p. m. His foot was caught in a crevice in a rock, which apparently had pinned him beneath the flood waters.

There were no witnesses to the accident.

LABOR STANDARDS OR TRADE PRACTICES TO BE WATCHED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 18—The new NRA was directed today by President Roosevelt to examine closely any changes which occur in labor standards or fair trade practices following abolition of codes.

In a letter to James L. O'Neill, acting administrator, the president stated: "It is of primary importance that this work should be done very carefully and under the supervision of an impartial committee."

Proposes Impartial Committee

He proposed a committee including an impartial chairman, a representative of management and a representative of labor and members designated by the departments of commerce and labor.

The president's letter follows:

"In line with our recent discussion, I am requesting you to set up in the division of business cooperation a section devoted to accumulating, checking and reporting accurate information concerning the extent to which changes occur in the maintenance of labor standards or fair practice provisions of codes of fair competition, following the abolition of such codes.

Should Be Done Carefully

"It is of primary importance that this work should be done very carefully and under the supervision of an impartial committee, which might be constituted as follows: an impartial chairman, a representative of management and a representative of labor and a member designated by the department of commerce and another by the department of labor.

"Through such a committee this work may be coordinated with the informational services of the departments of commerce and labor and with similar services maintained by organizations of employers or employes.

To Be Published

"Information should be collected through field offices and other available sources under such supervision that reports sent to Washington can be checked, compiled and put in form for appropriate publication with assurance that they are accurate and as comprehensive as possible.

"It should be emphasized that the purpose of this work is the gathering and publication of reliable information and to counteract any propaganda from private sources which my be designed to promote a special interest."

Thrift Practiced Even In Death House By Bruno

TRENTON, N. J., June 18 (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann is thrifty even in the death house.

When he was served with legal papers in a suit by his first counsel, James M. Fawcett, he was told that he had ten days in which to take steps to contest the case.

Hauptmann asked a guard to inform C. Lloyd Fisher, of Flemington, one of his lawyers. The guard asked if he should send a telegram.

"No, send him a postcard," Hauptmann replied. "I've got ten days."

CATO ON STAND IN HEARING

GARZA SHERIFF TELLS OF SHOOTING IN DAMAGE SUIT

Following the allowing of a plea of intervention by Mr. and Mrs. William G. Stafford, Brooklyn, N. Y., parents of Spencer Stafford, slain federal narcotics agent, testimony was resumed this morning in the $25,000 damage suit of Mrs. Spencer Stafford against Sheriff W. F. Cato and his bondsmen in United States district court here.

Cato was under cross-examination at noon.

Details His Version

For more than an hour he was examined on direct testimony by Joe Moss, his attorney, and C. C. Crenshaw, attorney for the bondsmen. He detailed his version of events that led to the shooting of the federal agent.

Cross-examination by Frank B. Potter, plaintiff's counsel, was marked by numerous defense objections as to the line of questioning, which brought out statements made on the stand in the recent murder trial. Virtually every defense objection was overruled by Judge James C. Wilson.

Objection Overruled

After Judge Wilson had allowed the intervention, defense counsel objected on the ground that the paper was not signed personally, but by a typewriter. Judge Wilson overruled that objection.

Testimony in the case was begun Monday.

Following making of the plea, defense counsel sought an instructed verdict, which Judge Wilson,

Another Pioneering Feat On Clipper Log

HONOLULU, June 18 (AP)—Another pioneering feat — the first flight of a commercial plane to and from Midway island—went into the log book of the Pan American's Clipper today as mechanics groomed the huge flying boat for the return hop to Alameda, Calif., next Friday.

Greeted more like a slightly overdue ferryboat than a sky trail blazer, the Clipper swooped down out of the afternoon sun at 4:28 p. m. (9:58 p. m. eastern standard time) yesterday and came to rest on the waters of Pearl Harbor just 10 hours and five minutes after leaving lonely Midway island, 1,323 miles to the northwest.

DOCUMENTS OF OFFICE ARE TAKEN OVER

INVESTIGATING GROUP TO START PROBE OF J. E. McDONALD

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 18—Texas rangers, acting under orders of a legislative investigating committee, today were in charge of records of the state department of agriculture.

J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, said Ranger Fred Holland came to his office last night, accompanied by Representative E. E. Hunter of Cleburne and two representatives of the state auditor, and assumed charge of the records.

McDonald, whose official conduct is under investigation by a committee of the house of representatives, said he welcomed the action of the rangers, that he had nothing to conceal and that they might "stay until Christmas" if they wished.

Signed By Hunter

The official order of the committee, signed by Hunter, directed the Rangers to "seize, take charge and guard all the records of the department of agriculture located in the the files and the lower floor of the building wherein they are situated and to take charge, guard and present to this committee when so commanded to do."

Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt declined to discuss the case other than to say Rangers had been assigned to assist the investigating committee. He is commander of the Rangers.

YOUTHS WILL MEET HERE

FFA CONVENTION WILL DRAW HUNDREDS HERE ON JULY 24-26

The largest representative group of Texas high school boys ever to meet at Texas Technological college was predicted for an annual convention of the Texas association of Future Farmers of America at the college July 24-26 by C. Luker, district supervisor of vocational agriculture.

Luker, Herbert Mills of Sterling City, state president of FFA, and J. B. Rutland of Austin, state adviser of FFA, have made a tentative program which will include; a stunt night, probably July 25; a banquet, probably July 26; a band concert by the state FFA band, which was judged the largest FFA band in the United States last year at a national convention in Kansas City; a parade; trips to cattle feeding projects in Brownfield and Littlefield.

To Give Reports

Business sessions will center in reports of last year's work and plans for next year's.

Two official delegates are allowed each chapter. Luker, who is making entertainment and housing arrangements in Lubbock, anticipates an average of three boys from each of 200 schools and at least 100 vocational agriculture teachers. From 15 to 20 delegates probably will come from several chapters in this section, he said.

Luker and others will route students from each areas of the 10 so they may visit points of interest on the way here. Groups plan to visit Carlsbad caverns before and after the convention and may go to Palo Duro canyon and other scenic points while the convention is being conducted.

Rutland is to release a tentative program in a few days.

RIVER SURGES INTO TOWN

TEN BLOCKS COVERED BY WATER TODAY IN COLUMBUS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 18.—Hastily constructed levees crumbled before incessant pounding today and the Colorado river, flooding southwest Texas, poured into Columbus in a wild, downstream" surge.

The river, already responsible for damage approaching $4,000,000, beat over levees near Columbus and rushed into the town at a stage of 38 1-2 feet. Ten square blocks were inundated quickly and observers feared the stream would reach 40 feet before the crest had passed.

Death Toll Reaches 17

Residents sought safety as Texas counted 17 dead from storms and the flood. The latest victim was Jimmie Scotty Brent, 20, killed by lightning during a storm near Mineral Wells.

All highways into Columbus were under from three to seven feet of water, but train service over the main line of the Southern Pacific still was maintained.

Further Rise Expected

At Wharton the Colorado was 32.2 feet. A further rise of five feet was expected within the next 12 hours. The crest was not due before tomorrow.

The Guadalupe river neared its crest after flooding 20,000 acres of rich bottom land in Dewitt county. The stream stood at 28 feet at Cuero, and engineers at the central power and light company dam said they expected it to go two feet higher in a short time, but no higher than 31 feet altogether.

Three Highways Blocked

Three highways into Cuero were blocked, and the water lapped at the Cuero-San Antonio highway.

LANSING, Kas., June 18 (AP)—Violence broke out in the Lansing prison coal mine today when a group of miners attempted to capture the gun cage manned by five prison officials, on the 730-foot level.

arms or weapons other than clubs, rocks and possibly a few knives.

The fate of the unarmed guards was unknown but prison officials expressed belief they would not be seriously harmed.

Apparently included among the hostages was a twelfth prison official—Mine Superintendent Robert Murray who went down after the mutiny became known and, unarmed and alone, struck off into the 730-foot mine level in an effort to negotiate with the miners. Several hours later he still was missing.

Cause Not Known

Deputy Warden Albert J. Graham, veteran of several prison breaks here, said he was not sure what the men were striking for but declared the prison was in a better position than ever before to cope with the situation.

OPPOSITION TO MOVE GIVEN

CHAMBERLAIN OPINES WAR DEBTS TO U. S. MUST BE SETTLED

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 18—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the house of commons today that the Lausanne agreement, virtually canceling the German war rparations, cannot be finally ratified by the World war allies until their war debts to the United States are settled.

William Mabane, liberal member, asked whether the chancellor would propose to France, Italy, and Belgium that this condition be waived precedent to the ratification of the Lausanne agreement, "giving final authority to the instrument which now is capable of being disturbed by the independent act of any one of six governments."

Stay With View

Chamberlain replied: "No. His majesty's government is not prepared to depart from the view that ratification of the Lausanne agreement is bound up with the problem of war debts as a whole."

Pressing his point, Mabane asked: "In view of the international situation would not the position be eased if this anomoly were regularized?"

Chamberlain replied: "I do not think it possible to regularize it that way."

ADDITION APPROVED

WASHINGTON, June 18. (AP)—Secretary Ickes today approved an additional allotment of $182,317 to the war department for completion of an army hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. The additional allotment for the hospitals which already has received $1,481,468, was to cover increased construction cost.

"IRON MAN OF MEXICO" FLIES NORTH TO TAKE UP VOLUNTARY EXILE FROM POLITICS; NEW CABINET IS FORMED

BY CLARK LEE
Associated Press Foreign Staff

MEXICO, D. F., June 18.—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, "the iron man of Mexico," flew north into voluntary political exile today, but judging from the crowd which gathered at the airport to see him off, he will have plenty of influential friends to aid him when and if he decides to return.

The former president took a specially chartered plane for El Tambor, in Sinaloa.

Opinions Vary

Most of the public regards Calles' retirement, after eight years of directing Mexico's destiny as the unofficial "chief of the revolution," as an admission that he has lost power but the "desperida" his friends accorded him at his departure indicated the contrary.

At least ten former cabinet ministers as well as several powerful army generals were among the several hundred persons who crowded around the former president to shake his hand.

The presence at the "desperida"

ROOSEVELT SECURITY PROGRAM NEAR FINAL VOTE IN SENATE TODAY WITH TAXES FOR PENSIONS HIGHER STILL

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 18. (AP)—The Roosevelt social security program was approaching a final vote today in the senate, with its major provisions intact.

The taxes recommended by the administration to finance the old age pensions and unemployment insurance had been raised, rather than lowered, though even in the beginning they represented the largest levy ever recommended by a president.

Senate approval would assure enactment of the program virtually as it was put forward by the president, because the house already has passed it. Administration leaders were pressing for the vote today.

As it stood today, the bill would:

Offer federal grants of $15 a month, to be matched by the states, for each needy individual over 65 years of age or blind.

Would Tax Employers

Dr. Pepper — GOOD FOR LIFE! — 5¢

WHY does Lifebuoy make complexions fresher, clearer, healthier? For two reasons. (1) Its lather deep-cleanses—rids pores of impurities that dull the skin. (2) Lifebuoy is gentler. Scientific skin tests on hundreds of women show it is more than 20 per cent milder than many so-called "beauty soaps".

Guards daintiness

Lifebuoy's rich lather purifies and deodorizes pores, stops "B. O." (body odor)—a fault we all must guard against, especially as the weather grows warmer and we perspire more freely. Lifebuoy lathers generously in hardest water. Its own clean scent vanishes as you rinse.

NAVAL TREATY IS REVEALED

GERMANY CAN HAVE A NAVY 35 PER CENT OF BRITISH TOTAL

BY ALBERT W. WILSON
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

LONDON, June 18. (AP)—A final agreement between Germany and Great Britain on all important points of a treaty to maintain the German navy at 35 per cent of the British strength was announced officially today.

It was stated officially that the principle of the 100 to 35 ratio "should in general apply to each category."

Allowed Same Latitude

It was understood that this means Germany will be allowed some latitude in building submarines because of the French and Italian undersea fleets which are larger than the British.

It was stated that Germany would be allowed to make a limited transfer of 35 per cent of her tonnage from one category to another but that the ratio would be strictly maintained in regard to the entire under-age "effective" fleets of the two nations.

Follows Meeting

The announcement followed the first full meeting of the delegations in several days. It was attended by Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, and Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty.

It was stated that "further meetings on technical questions will be held during the next few days and the conference is likely to conclude Friday." The announcement of the agreement confirmed information that Great Britain and Germany would be bound regardless of the attitude of other powers.

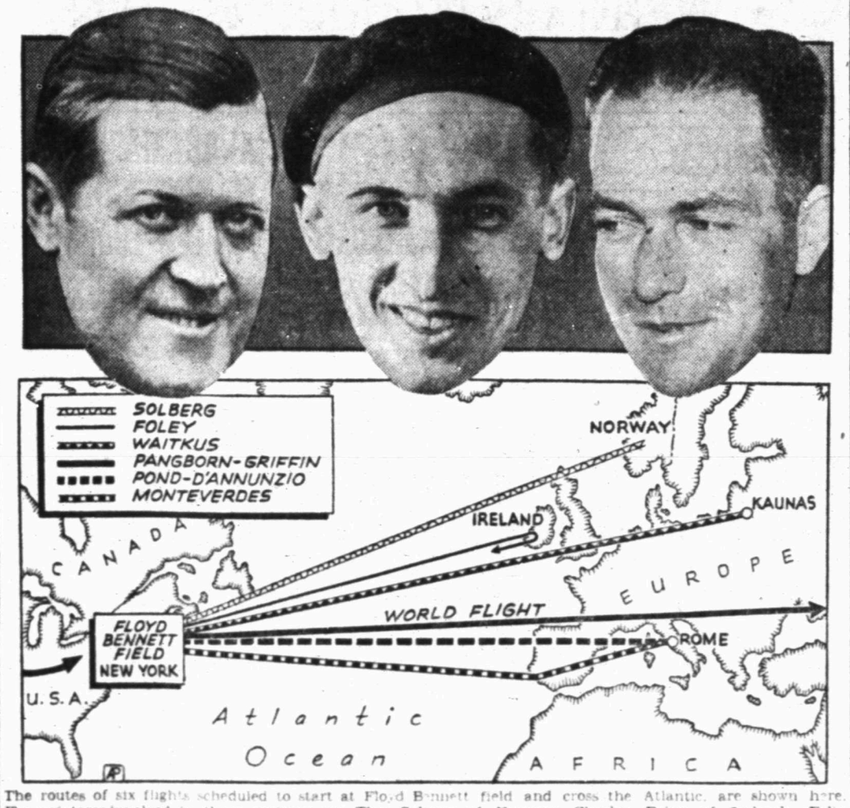

Raise No Objections

An Italian note which was received was described as "short and noncommittal" and similar to those received from the United States and Japan, who raised no objections to the treaty.

It was stated that "constant consultation has been carried on with the French government which is continuing" and that the French government "has neither approved nor rejected" the agreement.

There have been several interviews with French representatives both in London and Paris.

FREAKISH WIND BLOWS ROOF FROM RESIDENCE HERE MONDAY AFTERNOON

Lubbock had a sample of a whirlwind's freakish destruction about 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon when half the roof of a frame residence at 2105 Fifteenth street was lifted off while the surrounding scene was undisturbed.

Mrs. J. C. Sherrod and her 6-year-old daughter, Carol Ann, were in the kitchen. The roof was removed above them, but they were uninjured.

D. J. Schlagg, City electrical inspector, estimated that 660 square feet of roofing was torn off the back of the house. The roof, in two pieces, was hurled about 30 feet back of the house. In addition, the front porch covering was folded back on top of the house.

The Sherrod residence, owned by Dr. W. B. Lanning of Lubbock and Sebastian, is a 5-room building. One or more vacant lots are on each side, but there are residences across the street from it and back of it. They were undamaged.

WHITE HUSSARS PLEASE CROWD

The Texas Technological college summer artists course presented Herbert Petrie and his White Hussars before an estimated 1,200 persons in Lubbock High school auditorium Monday night.

Lighting, stage setting and White Hussar costumes aided the group in colorful presentation of numbers ranging from opera excerpts to comedy novelty numbers.

Texans Responsive

Contrary to beliefs of others, Mr. Petrie does not think Texas audiences unresponsive. He finds them as responsive as northern audiences, he said.

Selections enthusiastically received were the march from the opera Aida; "Will You Remember?" from the operetta Maytime; several trombone solos by H. Phillips, who was once chosen national champion trombone player at a meeting in Denver, Colo.; and others. Other solos and a large number of ensemble numbers were presented. A novelty selection consisted of four men trying to harmonize four numbers they played at the same time.

Members of the quintet, which was to leave this morning for Las Cruces, N. M., to play at the New Mexico state college there Wednesday evening, are Mr. Petrie, Miss Blanche Elaine Frye, who sang several times and was piano accompanist, J. L. Greenup, B. Ritzenthaler and Mr. Phillips.

CHAINS ATTACKED BY CONGRESSMAN

TEXARKANA, June 18. (AP)—Congressman Wright Patman of Texarkana last night declared he had opened a fight intended ultimately to outlaw what he termed "discrimination between chain corporations and independent merchants."

Speaking before Southwest Arkansas jobbers and representatives of merchants in Texas and Oklahoma, the Texas congressman declared that a recent investigation conducted by a committee headed by himself "and subsequent disclosures of unfair trade practices of big scale retail and wholesale buying and selling organizations have gained momentum for campaigns against chain corporations."

Patman said he believed an amendment to section two of the Clayton act would strengthen it to provide for elimination of price discrimination in the form of quantity discounts, brokerage paid to buyers and advertising allowances.

He said he believed the amendment would be put through both houses of congress by Jan. 1, in the event a special session was called.

Rowing Classic To Be Run Today

SPORTOGRAMS
By Collier Harris

MAYBE IT'S THE heat, or too much golf, or something; maybe it was that dream about baseball—a couple of crack West Texas teams playing in a fenced park, on a grassy infield before a grandstand full of South Plains fans. Anyway we feel a goofy spell coming on.

So we're gonna run a baseball contest this week.

The Lubbock-Amherst game Sunday which we didn't see, a letter from Doc Cook, former manager of the Wilson ball club (printed below) and the billboards advertising a baseball picture at the Palace theater this week-end, combined with our hopes of putting on a good tournament next month, all of these items fairly warms us up for a good old fashioned reader contest.

Get out your pencils, boys and girls from 6 to 60 and up, and let's see if you've forgotten the baseball language.

So old and definitely established is the game of baseball that it has a language all its own; "slanguage" to you Walter Winchell fans. Since it's settled that we're going to have a lot of baseball around here this summer, it is meet that you should know what we're talking about when we go to throwing around such terms as "dunkers," "truck horses," "yodelers," "lambs" and "mackerels" in describing a game.

To make the contest more interesting, we have made arrangements with Hal Grady, the big Palace-Lindsey-Texan magnate, for winners to receive "Annie Oakleys" to Joe E. Brown's cinematic ball game Friday and Saturday at the Palace. The name of the picture is "Alibi Ike", and if the picture is as good as the original story by the late lamented Ring Lardner, it's a honey of a show.

We're giving you 20 of the 200-odd baseball expressions used by players and baseball scribes. The rules are simple. You copy the words and phrases listed below, and opposite each one write your own interpretation.

Only one list will be accepted by each contestant, whose name and address must be signed. The ten contestants turning in the largest number of correct answers by noon Friday, June 21, each will receive a free ticket to the Joe E. Brown show. Now hop to it.

1. Alibi Ike. (Don't get crossed up here; this is really a baseball term, and not the name of a picture).
2. Apple knocker.
3. Around the horn.
4. Banana stalk.
5. Barger.
6. Black Betsy.
7. Bleeder.
8. Busher.
9. Can of Corn.
10. Clinker.
11. Collisions.
12. Count the stitches.
13. Cousin.
14. Dick Smith.
15. Duster.
16. Horse and Buggy League.
17. Rabbit ears.
18. Two o'clock hitter.
19. Horse collar.
20. Line drive to catcher.

Don't forget to have the answers on the sports desk by noon Friday.

Now for Doc Cook's letter. Some time ago we printed an epistle from Fred (Football) Rich, the Anton pedagogue, in which he went to great length describing the records and potentialities of his Wolfforth Wolves. Writes Cook:

"Dear Collier,

"Since I am great baseball fan and read all you have to say in regard to it, I just want to make mention of a record a small town hung up in 1932, 1933 and 1934. In your column recently I noticed that our Public Enemy No. 1, Fred Rich, had lots to say about how his Wolves walloped Wilson last summer. Well, Wilson is the town with the record.

"It is true that Fred's boys let us down twice, one time here in Lubbock, and I give them credit for that victory, but when they beat us at Wolfforth I don't think they had much to brag about since the Wilson team that day was composed mostly of boys who were still playing high school baseball. Well, we tried for two seasons to get Wolfforth to come to Wilson for a game and they haven't been there yet. The Wilson team has whipped out some teams that have really let the Wolfforth boys down.

"Here is the record. 1932, won 33 games, lost 6; 1933, won 41 games, lost 8; 1934, won 28 games and lost 8 including the losses at the Lubbock Tournament. For the three seasons that is 102 won and 22 lost. We didn't pick our opponents, either . . . most of them were the best teams on the South Plains, or in West Texas.

"I will offer some excuse for the Wilson boys for not winning first place in your tournament last year. They didn't all get together, and some of the boys had not played with us before. The regular Wilson team HAS PLAYED TOGETHER FOR FOUR YEARS. Even at that, we won second place, and that was a lot farther than the Wolfforth team went.

"I happened to manage the Wilson team for the three years mentioned, and we played a lot of good games. I am now living in Lubbock and will offer my support any way possible to build up baseball here and will help put over any proposition for the benefit of the game.

"Yours for more baseball,

"M. Doc Cook."

The letter and Mr. Cook's offer of assistance is most appreciated. It will take a lot of work and a lot of cooperation to bring baseball back here, and the same applies to preparation for the tournament. Wilson is being counted upon as one of the entries, and Wilson's record is a good enough to make it one of the entries, and Wilson's record is good enough to make it one of the ranking pre-tournament favorites. The three Crews boys, Alvin, Leroy and Olin, play with the team, although Leroy will be out of the game until he recovers from an operation for appendicitis.

Our word "sincere" is derived from two Latin words meaning "without wax."

CALIFORNIA BEARS ARE FAVORED BUT OTHERS HOPE FOR VICTORY

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—The annual job of beating California was turned over today to the oarsmen of Navy, Washington, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse and Columbia, as the little city of Poughkeepsie revelled again in its annual day of crowds and excitement — the 37th intercollegiate regatta.

Each year it gets tougher, this problem of turning back the brawny Golden Bears little Ky Ebright brings east for the four-mile struggle.

Have Won Twice

Twice in a row, the Bears have sailed to victory. This year's crew, if anything, looks better than the varsity eight that nailed its far-west rival, Washington, by three full lengths at the 1934 finish with Navy closest of the eastern fleet.

Al Ulbrickson's Huskies from Washington and Buck Walsh's Midshipmen from the Naval academy at Annapolis, are figured the chief competition again as California sought to pull a notch closer to the four straight record Cornell's great eights scored in the varsity duels from 1909 through 1912.

The Huskies have a crack eight in the two-mile freshman race, opening the day's festivities at 4 p. m. (e. s. t.) and the sophomores, who "went sour" after the California victory, for the three-mile junior varsity tussle at 5 p. m., an hour before the varsities pull from the starting boats. Ulbrickson wants to sweep the river this time.

GOLF STARS ARE ARRIVING TODAY FOR TEXAS PLAY

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—Texas' outstanding golfers were arriving here today for tomorrow's start of the 29th annual Texas Golf association championship at the Brook Hollow golf club.

Because of a heavy rain last night the course was closed today at the request of tournament officials who expressed a desire to have it in top condition for tomorrow's 18-hole qualifying test.

Leland Hamman of Paris, who was a finalist in last year's championship and is the current Trans-Mississippi champion, was on the scene and after a practice round yesterday reported his game ready for another championship effort. Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth; Dees McDermott of Waco and others were here for the tournament.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas, defending champion, played a practice round yesterday but did not announce his score.

Mrs. Hill Leading In Golf Tourney

OMAHA, June 18 (AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, medalist in the Women's Trans-Mississippi golf tourney, was paired today in the first round of the championship flight with Mrs. E. Devilbliss, also of Kansas City.

Mrs. Hill's 77 was two under her nearest rival, Mrs. Charles F. Newbold, Wichita, Kans., who was matched with Mrs. J. A. Walter, Kansas City, who qualified with a 92.

IT LOOKS LIKE MAX AND JIM THIS FALL

SCHMELING WILLING TO COME OVER FOR ANOTHER FIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 18.—It looks like Braddock vs. Schmeling in September.

Jimmy Johnston, peppery little matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, said last night he had been informed Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, was ready to come to this country from Germany if issured a title go and that he, Johnston, had decided to stage the fight in the Long Island Bowl in late September.

Although he has not received the final sanction of Jimmy Braddock and his manager, Joe Gould, Johnston said they had told him they would agree to a meeting with either Schmeling, Lasky or the dethroned Max Baer.

GOLF TOURNEY SCHEDULED

MEADOWBROOK CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP TO START SUNDAY

Local golf activity re-opens next week with the Meadowbrook club staging its annual championship tournament.

Manson Allen will be defending his title won last year when he established a new course record. A field of about 60 Meadowbrook golfers participated in the tournament, and officials believe that many will play this year.

While qualifying is officially billed to start Monday, June 24, Meadowbrook officials have announced that those who desire may qualify Sunday. All qualifying scores must be in by Wednesday night. Match play begins Thursday and winds up the following Sunday.

All golfers who play at Meadowbrook, regardless of whether they are permanent members or not, are eligible to enter the tournament. A nominal entry fee will be charged. If enough interest is displayed, it is hoped to stage a Calcutta party on the eve of match play.

THE RIGHT THAT FAILED

BIG BAD CHICAGO GREEK AND FIERY RED MICHAEL MEET WEDNESDAY EVE

The groggy Greek from Chicago, rough John Felix, slips into a special event slot at Sled Allen's open air wrestling arena, taking on young Red Michael of Pampa.

Michael proved he had something when he stayed with Ernie Arthur, roughster from Toronto, Can., for the full 30-minute period of the semi-final last week, and the kid is given a fair chance to drub the grizzled Greek Wednesday night.

Michael and Felix are on the card which features the Masked Marvel and Bob Castle, Kansas City villain, in the main event.

Castle Gets Chance

Castle has been howling for a chance at the Marvel ever since he hit the circuit several weeks ago, and he gets in the no-limit battle at the 13th street arena. The Marvel, in his best physical condition just now and always anxious for a rough go, rules a favorite to chase Castle all over the ring and maybe clean out of the arena, but he's due to take some punishment himself if the uncouth Castle grabs one of his torturous holds.

The fans will greet a newcomer this week in the curtain raiser when Buddy Harrison, who bills from Littlefield, takes on Art Belcher of Amarillo for a scheduled 20-minute brawl. His friends say Harrison is a grappler of courage and ability, due to develop into a real contender.

Ringside and general admission tickets may be purchased in advance at the Hotel Lubbock Drug store.

NANKING (AP)—Because China's growing network of motor highways has run her annual import tire bill up to more than $2,000,000, the ministry of industry is planning to cooperate with private interests in establishing a tire factory in the near future.

CLUBS FACING SHATTERING OF PLANS

PYTLAK AND BLANTON ARE SICK; PIRATES MOVE HIGHER UP

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The season pennant contenders fear, and few manage to avoid, seems to be coming on major league baseball. That's the time when some important player gets sick or is hurt, and the managers' carefully laid plans have to be re-arranged.

The latest victims of the scourge are the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians.

Pytlak Goes Home

Cleveland's first-string catcher, Frankie Pytlak, finally gave up his effort to recover from an illness while wandering around with the club and left for his home in Buffalo. The Tribe didn't miss him much when Bill Brenzel substituted ably and made two hits in an 11 to 2 triumph over the Red Sox.

The Pirates got a worse blow just after they had slugged the Phillies into submission 12 to 5 without their leading clouter, Arky Vaughan, who is nursing a charley horse. Darrell (Cy) Blanton, brilliant rookie pitcher who has won nine games against five losses, was stricken with acute appendicitis and hurried to a hospital for an operation.

Tribe Moves Into Third

The Indians, after being delayed a half hour by the rain which wiped out three other American league games, piled up 17 blows, including home runs by Earl Averill and Bruce Campbell, to trounce Boston for the fourth straight time and move into a tie with Detroit for third place in the American league.

Pittsburgh gathered in 22 blows off three Philly pitchers and increased its margin over the third-place St. Louis club to a game and one-half as the Cardinals were buried under a 14 to 3 score by the league leading Giants. For the Phils Johnny Moore belted his twelfth home run of the year to tie Mel Ott of New York for the league lead.

Giants Best Paul Dean

The Giants got going against Paul Dean for three runs in the second inning, belted him to cover in the fourth when the Cards blew up for three errors and four more runs counted and finished against Ray Harrell for a total of 19 hits.

The cellar-dwelling Braves smote the Reds twice in the course of the Bunker Hill day doubleheader, 8 to 3 and 5 to 1, and left the losers only a few points ahead of Philadelphia. Two homers by Chuck Klein, each with a man aboard, gave the Cubs their winning margin in a 5 to 3 triumph over Brooklyn.

"ALABAMA" PITTS IS FACING JOB OF MAKING GOOD IN BASEBALL; LANDIS RULES HIM ELIGIBLE TO BE PLAYER

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., June 18—Edwin C. "Alabama" Pitts, one-time Sing Sing prison athlete, today faced the job of making good for the friends whose faith caused Kenesaw Mountain Landis to unbar the doors of professional baseball.

Landis, baseball's high commissioner, late yesterday in Chicago over-ruled a decision banning Pitts from baseball but made it clear that his action resulted from the numerous appeals in behalf of the ex-convict.

Rules Him Eligible

He ruled the 24-year-old parolee might play with the Albany club of the International league but insisted his activities be limited to regular games of the schedule.

He explained he agreed with the stand taken by Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Minor Professional Baseball Leagues, and the association's executive committee, in barring Pitts because he is an ex-convict but added:

New Situation Arises

"Since then (the executive committee decision), however, a new situation has arisen. Conditions have been created as the result of which there cannot be much doubt as to the destructive effect upon Pitts effort toward rehabilitation, of not permitting him to enter baseball employment. This was not contemplated, nor is it due to the ruling of the president and the executive committee of the national association.

"And in this situation, reputable people have expressed to me their belief that there has been a complete reformation of Pitts character . . .

Only Regular Games

"Solely for these reasons, Pitts will be allowed to play, on condition that a new contract be executed by the Albany club and Pitts containing a covenant, that during the year 1935 Pitts shall appear only in regular league games and shall not appear in or at exhibition games, this condition being imposed because it is distinctly in Pitts interest that mere notoriety be not exploited and capitalized."

The young southerner who served five years of an eight-to-16 year term for an armed robbery in New York City was quick to express his appreciation.

"Judge Landis will never regret having made that decision," he said.

Los Angeles Man Wins Pistol Title

AUSTIN, June 18. (AP)—J. J. Engerbrecht of the Los Angeles police team won the Texas State Rifle association pistol championship Monday as his group captured the team title and 13 out of 16 matches in the two-day meet.

Engerbrecht shot 1,310 for the title. Charles Askins of El Paso and A. C. Cantrell of Dallas scored 1,293 to tie for second place.

Mrs. R. F. Tate of San Antonio won the women's division with a score of 192, while her daughter, Virginia Tate, placed third with 187. Mrs. O. W. Kilday of San Antonio shot 190 for second honors.

Los Angeles, Dallas and San Antonio police teams finished in order in five-man team matches, scoring 1,080, 1,033 and 1,012, respectively.

All officers of the association were reelected.

INDIANS WIN IN LONE TEXAS LOOP GAME ON MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

The Oklahoma City Indians trounced the Texas league leading Galveston Bucs for a 5 to 1 victory last night while the other six teams in the loop took another day off because of rain.

San Antonio was stranded at Dallas, Beaumont at Fort Worth and Houston at Tulsa.

With the Bucs on their home lot, Pitcher Brillheart of the Indians kept the Galveston batters guessing most of the evening. He held the Bucs scoreless until the eighth inning while his teammates helped to hold a lead they had grabbed in the opening inning.

The Indians got their three counters in the first and the Bucs had to wait until the eighth to get their one run.

Cole worked the mound for Galveston.

PWA SESSIONS BEING HELD

EXPLANATIONS WILL BE MADE AT FORT WORTH TODAY, WEDNESDAY

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, June 18.—Architects, engineers and attorneys in various proposed PWA projects throughout the state gathered here today to learn the new requirements.

There will also be a state wide meeting Wednesday of officials of the various political subdivisions interested in seeking PWA financing of improvements.

Both meetings will be in the nature of a school to explain what is required for the financing of a project through the PWA for the various types of political subdivisions such as municipalities, counties, school and water districts.

Julian Montgomery, acting state director of the PWA, expressed the belief that 1,000 public officials will attend the Wednesday morning meeting.

Copies of model applications will be distributed at the meetings and all questions will be answered.

subsidy measure was attacked in the report, and Senator Austin (R-Vt) not only declined to sign it, but indicated they would submit a minority statement.

After declaring subsidy had been "piled on subsidy" in grants of "mail pay" and construction work in the past ten years, the committee, which also investigated air mail contracts, said:

"Private ownership and operation of merchant and aerial transportation with government subsidy has resulted in a saturnalia of waste, inefficiency, unearned exorbitant salaries and bonuses and other forms of 'compensation,' corrupting expense accounts, exploitation of the public by the sale and manipulation of stock the values of which are largely based on the hope of profit from robbing the taxpayer."

Only 28 Ships Built

The whole subsidy program of the past dozen years, the report explained, was based on an attempt to build up a merchant marine. But it stated that of the 43 "mail pay" contracts in effect under the 1928 Jones-White act, only 20 required building of new ships. Of the 81 ships called for in the contracts, only 28 have been built.

The report was packed with instances in which it was alleged companies violated the "spirit" of the contracts to "pipe" profits into their own tills instead of devoting the money to building up the merchant maripe.

The report said J. P. Grace, president of the W. R. Grace and company, operator of several Grace Lines, together with banking and other business interests, received in 1928 salary, commissions and dividends of $971,660.

Commission Cited

As another instance the committee declared that "R. Stanley Dollar received from his Dollar Steamship Line and Admiral Oriental Line $698,750 as commission incident to the purchase of ships from the United States government at low prices."

The report said the Admiral Oriental Line, with a $500 capitalization, operated government-owned ships at a net profit of $4,640,204 in three years and five months.

As another item the report cited: "The Roosevelt Steamship company, which took its name from Kermit Roosevelt in 1920, with a then outstanding capital of $22,000, made profits under a lump sum agreement from 1931 to 1933 inclusive amounting to $371,987."

Competitive Bidding Evaded

Competitive bidding for the "mail pay" contracts was evaded, the report charged, and it quoted W. Irving Glover, former second assistant postmaster general in the Hoover administration, as saying in connection with the negotiation of one contract that "I think it is well to word your advertisement so that it might fall into the lap of the Colombian Steamship company." The statement was made, the report said, during an executive meeting in which the awarding of contracts was discussed.

The report comes at a time when some senators are seeking an investigation of accusations hurled at the commerce department in connection with ship subsidy by Ewing Y. Mitchell, who was removed as assistant secretary of commerce last week by President Roosevelt.

"Against Public Interest"

Mitchell contended that a contract consummated by Secretary Roper for laying up the liner Leviathan was "against the public interest," and that "those interested in the company, including F. A. S. Franklin, John M. Franklin, Vincent Astor and Kermit Roosevelt," would benefit by it.

Senator McCarran made known he is prepared to demand that the accusations be investigated by Chairman Black's committee if the senate commerce committee does not inquire into them. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) plans to ask that the commerce committee call Mitchell, whose general charges included an allegation that "favoritism and graft abound" in the commerce and other departments.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 18 (AP)—Higher prices prevailed at the start of trading today on the cotton market with opening sales from 4 to 7 points above the previous close.

The early advance was based on the bullish weather reports from the belt. Too much rain and damage to cotton lands by floods were reported from many quarters.

July opened six points higher at 11.57, Oct. was up 7 points at 11.28 and Dec. up 5 points at 11.29.

During the morning a very thin market prevailed and prices held within a point or two of the opening levels. Business fell off considerably after the first half hour and a quiet but steady tone was shown.

July transferred at 11.55, Oct. at 11.25, and Dec. at 11.28. With trade interest in the market only when it becomes absolutely necessary to protect actual purchases of cotton and professional and public support lacking, the market was undergoing an extremely dull day of trading.

The weather map showed rain in many sections of the belt, but traders failed to follow up the early advance on this news.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 3 to 5 higher on predictions of further rains in the western belt and spot house buying. July 11.60; Oct. 11.33; Dec. 11.34; Jan. 11.36; March 11.40; May 11.47.

Further rains overnight in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas brought in some of the early buying and the market advanced further during the early trading with Oct selling up from 11.31 to 11.36 and the general market showing net advances of about 5 to 9 points at the end of the first hour. Liverpool cables were irregular.

Trading became quieter later with prices easing 3 or 4 points from the highs under local selling. Pressure was not heavy, however, and prices were ruling about steady at midday with Oct. selling at 11.33 and the general market showing net gains of 2 to 5 points.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 18 (AP)—Grain prices were higher early today with bulls in wheat deriving some incentive to buy on reports of continued wet weather delaying the harvest in parts of the southwest. Fear was expressed rains in the corn belt would further retard planting operations and cause some replanting. Opening 3-8 to 3-4 cent higher compared with yesterday's close, July 80 3-4 to 7-8, wheat later gained more. Corn started 3-8 to 1 1-2 up, July 81 1-8 to 1-2, and then held near this range.

Wheat closed 1 1-8 to 1 3-4 cent higher compared with yesterday's finish, July 81 3-4 to 7-8, and corn was 1 1-8 to 2 1-8 up. July 81 7-8 to 82. Oats gained 5-8 to 3-4, rye 1 to 1 3-8 and barley was unchanged. Provisions were steady to firm.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 18 (AP)—Demand for grain continued steady here today. Receipts were only 7 cars wheat and 2 corn.

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat No. 1 hard (old crop) 1.00 3-4 to 1.02 3-4. Barley No. 2 nom. 57-60; No. 3 nom. 56-59. Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 2.16-2.15; No. 3 milo nom. 2.08-13. No. 2 white kaffir nom. 1.85-90; No. 3 kaffir nom. 1.83-88.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn (shelled) No. 2 Mexican, 95 per cent white, 1.06-07; No. 2 white northern 1.14 1-2 to 15 1-2; No. 2 yellow 1.09 1-2 to 10 1-2. Oats No. 2 red (old crop) 54-55; No. 3 (old crop) 53-54.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—The stock market groped for higher levels today but bullish forces were more than ordinarily cautious and buying continued highly selective.

Grains rallied as heavy rains were believed to be delaying harvests. Cotton also improved. Bonds were somewhat mixed. The French franc was firm in foreign exchange dealings, reflecting further optimism over the recent aid given this currency by the United States treasury.

The activity in stocks was not pronounced. Advances of fractions to a point or more, however, were registered by Johns-Manville, American Can, Du Pont, American Tobacco "B" Bayuk Cigar, Radio Preferred "B" American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, Macy, J. C. Penney, Woolworth, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and N. Y. Central.

The steels, motors, chemicals and metals were unchanged to a shade higher or lower.

TEXAS FLOODS

The road to Gonsales was closed, and approaches to the Goliad river bridge two miles from Cuero and the Hell's Gate bridge three miles from town were under several feet of water.

The crest of the largest rise in the Rio Grande since the big floods of 1932 and 1933 moved past Rio Grande City, with major levees on both sides of the river holding. Water spilled over into the floodway in Hidalgo county. Little damage was expected as the flood control system, rebuilt by the federal government at a cost of $3,000,000, receives its first major test.

A few private levees had broken.

CALLES LEAVES

of Emilio Portes Gil, former president and now head of the National Revolutionary party, was regarded as most significant because yesterday Portes Gil sat during the opening of the International Rotary convention at the right hand of President Lazaro Cardenas, whose dispute with Calles culminated in the latter's departure from the capital. It was generally believed that Portes Gil was backing the president in his political controversy with Calles.

But today Calles chatted in a most friendly manner with Portes Gil.

Business Fears Results

Several United States businessmen were also present. One, the manager of one of the largest foreign companies in Mexico, commented: "I still can't believe he is leaving and I want to believe it less. His statement on economic conditions last Thursday, which precipitated the political crisis, was a sane and sensible view of the situation. If the present attacks against capital are continued, we will be forced to leave Mexico in six months, and without the restraining influence of Calles, we are afraid of the consequences."

A new cabinet took office under President Cardenas today, more conservative than had been expected.

Composed Of New Men

The incoming government, with the exception of Fernando Gonzalez Ros, former ambassador to Washington, and General Francisco J. Mujica, the only holdover, was composed of men who never have held important office.

The only man whose name had been mentioned in speculation before the announcement of the incoming secretaries was General Saturnino Cedillo, agrarian leader of San Lusi Potosi, who in the post of secretary of agriculture, was expected to dominate the new government.

A tadpole does not grow its hind legs first. The arms and legs develop simultaneously, but the arms grow beneath the gill chambers, and cannot be seen until they burst through the skin.

JUDGEMENTS ARE ALLOWED IN CASES

Twenty-five cases, including 12 in which default judgments were allowed by Judge James C. Wilson, were called in United States district court Monday. The remainder were dismissed, continued or passed for the term.

Slightly more than an hour was consumed in hearing the cases.

Ten judgments, amounting to $23,199.09, were awarded Frank A. Blankenbeckler, receiver of Plainview National bank; four cases were dismissed at the request of W. D. Girand, attorney for Mr. Blankenbeckler; three cases were continued, one passed to the equity docket and three passed for the term.

Judgment By Default

R. Leland Keeney, in two cases against R. McMillen and against J. F. Boyd, was awarded judgment by default. James Kilpatrick was attorney and the cases were not contested. Judgment was to quiet title.

The commodities are milk, tobacco, fresh fruits except apples, fresh vegetables, soy beans and turpentine. The "order" provision takes the pace of the "license" feature of the original amendments which was removed when the NRA decision was handed down.

In addition, the legislation contains special safeguards written, Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee said, to protect processing taxes collected to finance the AAA crop control program in the event the Supreme court should at any time rule against the Agricultural Adjustment act.

only by his regular guard shift, hovered over the air shaft and sought to learn from Guard O. A. Johnson, on the 730-foot level, what the convicts were doing.

Sends First Word

Johnson, armed guard who had preceded the day shift of miners into the shaft, sent first word of the trouble to the surface.

When the last two men came down on the shaft cage, he reported by telephone, they were met by three others who assisted them in piling empty mine cars on the cage to prevent its being returned to the surface.

Johnson fired his gas gun at them from his armored guard box and they fled back into the mine.

Johnson managed to free the air shaft cage and that was the only means of entrance into the mine, the main shaft cage having been blocked. Johnson's telephone also was the only one to escape damage, all others having been cut off.

Four men were sent to aid Johnson. They were Superintendent Murray, John Christian, Council Grove; Fred Murray, Kansas City, Kas., and John Stewart, Lansing.

Graham listed the unarmed guards held as hostages as follows: Pit Boss Nathan Van Meter, John Heslop, Levi Day, Milt Gould, James Skahan, John Edwards, Gabe Kanershack, Dave White, James Wilson, Joe Studdard, and Frank Sawaski.

after hearing arguments of Alex Mood and E. L. Klett of the prosecution, and Crenshaw and Ed Burleson, defense, overruled. Plaintiffs announced they rested direct testimony.

Cato First Witness

Cato was the first witness when court opened yesterday afternoon. He was followed by V. C. McCullough, partner of the dead man on the ill-fated visit to the Post veterinarian's office in Post February 7 last. Mrs. Stafford followed.

McCullough was cross-examined at length by George W. Dupree, after Mood had examined him. Moss asked a few questions.

Mrs. Stafford told her story simply. When Defense Counsel Crenshaw asked where she made her home, and found it was with her late husband's parents, he asked if both were living. He then made his plea on her reply. Judge Wilson announced he would hear arguments Tuesday morning and it was then that Mood said the plaintiffs rested.

Rowing Classic To Be Run Today

SPORTOGRAMS by Collier Harris

MAYBE IT'S THE heat, or too much golf, or something; maybe it was that dream about baseball—a couple of crack West Texas teams playing in a fenced park, on a grassy infield before a grandstand full of South Plains fans. Anyway we feel a goofy spell coming on.

So we're gonna run a baseball contest this week.

The Lubbock-Amherst game Sunday which we didn't see, a letter from Doc Cook, former manager of the Wilson ball club (printed below) and the billboards advertising a baseball picture at the Palace theater this week-end, combined with our hopes of putting on a good tournament next month, all of these items fairly warms us up for a good old fashioned reader contest.

Get out your pencils, boys and girls from 6 to 60 and up, and let's see if you've forgotten the baseball language.

So old and definitely established is the game of baseball that it has a language all its own; "slanguage" to you Walter Winchell fans. Since it's settled that we're going to have a lot of baseball around here this summer, it is meet that you should know what we're talking about when we go to throwing around such terms as "dunkers," "truck horses," "yodelers," "lambs" and "mackerels" in describing a game.

To make the contest more interesting, we have made arrangements with Hal Grady, the big Palace-Lindsey-Texan magnate, for winners to receive "Annie Oakleys" to Joe E. Brown's cinematic ball game Friday and Saturday at the Palace. The name of the picture is "Alibi Ike", and if the picture is as good as the original story by the late lamented Ring Lardner, it's a honey of a show.

We're giving you 20 of the 200-odd baseball expressions used by players and baseball scribes. The rules are simple. You copy the words and phrases listed below, and opposite each one write your own interpretation.

Only one list will be accepted by each contestant, whose name and address must be signed. The ten contestants turning in the largest number of correct answers by noon Friday, June 21, each will receive a free ticket to the Joe E. Brown show. Now hop to it.

1. Alibi Ike. (Don't get crossed up here; this is really a baseball term, and not the name of a picture).
2. Apple knocker.
3. Around the horn.
4. Banana stalk.
5. Barger.
6. Black Betsy.
7. Bleeder.
8. Busher.
9. Can of Corn.
10. Clinker.
11. Collisions.
12. Count the stitches.
13. Cousin.
14. Dick Smith.
15. Duster.
16. Horse and Buggy League.
17. Rabbit ears.
18. Two o'clock hitter.
19. Horse collar.
20. Line drive to catcher.

Don't forget to have the answers on the sports desk by noon Friday.

Now for Doc Cook's letter. Some time ago we printed an epistle from Fred (Football) Rich, the Anton pedagogue, in which he went to great length describing the records and potentialities of his Wolfforth Wolves. Writes Cook:

"Dear Collier,

"Since I am great baseball fan and read all you have to say in regard to it, I just want to make mention of a record a small town hung up in 1932, 1933 and 1934. In your column recently I noticed that our Public Enemy No. 1, Fred Rich, had lots to say about how his Wolves walloped Wilson last summer. Well, Wilson is the town with the record.

"It is true that Fred's boys let us down twice, one time here in Lubbock, and I give them credit for that victory, but when they beat us at Wolfforth I don't think they had much to brag about since the Wilson team that day was composed mostly of boys who were still playing high school baseball. Well, we tried for two seasons to get Wolfforth to come to Wilson for a game and they haven't been there yet. The Wilson team has whipped out some teams that have really let the Wolfforth boys down.

"Here is the record. 1932, won 33 games, lost 6; 1933, won 41 games, lost 8; 1934, won 28 games and lost 3 including the losses at the Lubbock Tournament. For the three seasons that is 102 won and 22 lost. We didn't pick our opponents, either . . . most of them were the best teams on the South Plains, or in West Texas.

"I will offer some excuse for the Wilson boys for not winning first place in your tournament last year. They didn't all get together, and some of the boys had not played with us before. The regular Wilson team HAS PLAYED TOGETHER FOR FOUR YEARS. Even at that, we won second place, and that was a lot farther than the Wolfforth team went.

"I happened to manage the Wilson team for the three years mentioned, and we played a lot of good games. I am now living in Lubbock and will offer my support any way possible to build up baseball here and will help put over any proposition for the benefit of the game.

"Yours for more baseball,

"M. Doc Cook."

The letter and Mr. Cook's offer of assistance is most appreciated. It will take a lot of work and a lot of cooperation to bring baseball back here, and the same applies to preparation for the tournament. Wilson is being counted upon as one of the entries, and Wilson's record is a good enough to make it one of the entries, and Wilson's record is good enough to make it one of the ranking pre-tournament favorites. The three Crews boys, Alvin, Leroy and Olin, play with the team, although Leroy will be out of the game until he recovers from an operation for appendicitis.

Our word "sincere" is derived from two Latin words meaning "without wax."

CALIFORNIA BEARS ARE FAVORED BUT OTHERS HOPE FOR VICTORY

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—The annual job of beating California was turned over today to the oarsmen of Navy, Washington, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse and Columbia, as the little city of Poughkeepsie revelled again in its annual day of crowds and excitement — the 37th intercollegiate regatta.

Each year it gets tougher, this problem of turning back the brawny Golden Bears little Ky Ebright brings east for the four-mile struggle.

Have Won Twice

Twice in a row, the Bears have sailed to victory. This year's crew, if anything, looks better than the varsity eight that nailed its far-west rival, Washington, by three full lengths at the 1934 finish with Navy closest of the eastern fleet.

Al Ulbrickson's Huskies from Washington and Buck Walsh's Midshipmen from the Naval academy at Annapolis, are figured the chief competition again as California sought to pull a notch closer to the four straight record Cornell's great eights scored in the varsity duels from 1909 through 1912.

The Huskies have a crack eight in the two-mile freshman race, opening the day's festivities at 4 p. m. (e. s. t.) and the sophomores, who "went sour" after the California victory, for the three-mile junior varsity tussle at 5 p. m., an hour before the varsities pull from the starting boats. Ulbrickson wants to sweep the river this time.

GOLF STARS ARE ARRIVING TODAY FOR TEXAS PLAY

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—Texas' outstanding golfers were arriving here today for tomorrow's start of the 29th annual Texas Golf association championship at the Brook Hollow golf club.

Because of a heavy rain last night the course was closed today at the request of tournament officials who expressed a desire to have it in top condition for tomorrow's 18-hole qualifying test.

Leland Hamman of Paris, who was a finalist in last year's championship and is the current Trans-Mississippi champion, was on the scene and after a practice round yesterday reported his game ready for another championship effort. Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth; Dees McDermott of Waco and others were here for the tournament.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas, defending champion, played a practice round yesterday but did not announce his score.

Mrs. Hill Leading In Golf Tourney

Mrs. Hill's 77 was two under her nearest rival, Mrs. Charles F. Newbold, Wichita, Kans., who was matched with Mrs. J. A. Walter, Kansas City, who qualified with a 92.

SCHMELING WILLING TO COME OVER FOR ANOTHER FIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 18.—It looks like Braddock vs. Schmeling in September.

Jimmy Johnston, peppery little matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, said last night he had been informed Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, was ready to come to this country from Germany if issured a title go and that he, Johnston, had decided to stage the fight in the Long Island Bowl in late September.

Although he has not received the final sanction of Jimmy Braddock and his manager, Joe Gould, Johnston said they had told him they would agree to a meeting with either Schmeling, Lasky or the dethroned Max Baer.

GOLF TOURNEY SCHEDULED

MEADOWBROOK CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP TO START SUNDAY

Local golf activity re-opens next week with the Meadowbrook club staging its annual championship tournament.

Manson Allen will be defending his title won last year when he established a new course record. A field of about 60 Meadowbrook golfers participated in the tournament, and officials believe that many will play this year.

While qualifying is officially billed to start Monday, June 24, Meadowbrook officials have announced that those who desire may qualify Sunday. All qualifying scores must be in by Wednesday night. Match play begins Thursday and winds up the following Sunday.

All golfers who play at Meadowbrook, regardless of whether they are permanent members or not, are eligible to enter the tournament. A nominal entry fee will be charged. If enough interest is displayed, it is hoped to stage a Calcutta party on the eve of match play.

THE RIGHT THAT FAILED

BIG BAD CHICAGO GREEK AND FIERY RED MICHAEL MEET WEDNESDAY EVE

The groggy Greek from Chicago, rough John Felix, slips into a special event slot at Sled Allen's open air wrestling arena, taking on young Red Michael of Pampa.

Michael proved he had something when he stayed with Ernie Arthur, roughster from Toronto, Can., for the full 30-minute period of the semi-final last week, and the kid is given a fair chance to drub the grizzled Greek Wednesday night.

Michael and Felix are on the card which features the Masked Marvel and Bob Castle, Kansas City villain, in the main event.

Castle Gets Chance

Castle has been howling for a chance at the Marvel ever since he hit the circuit several weeks ago, and he gets in the no-limit battle at the 13th street arena. The Marvel, in his best physical condition just now and always anxious for a rough go, rules a favorite to chase Castle all over the ring and maybe clean out of the arena, but he's due to take some punishment himself if the uncouth Castle grabs one of his torturous holds.

The fans will greet a newcomer this week in the curtain raiser when Buddy Harrison, who bills from Littlefield, takes on Art Belcher of Amarillo for a scheduled 30-minute brawl. His friends say Harrison is a grappler of courage and ability, due to develop into a real contender.

Ringside and general admission tickets may be purchased in advance at the Hotel Lubbock Drug store.

PYTLAK AND BLANTON ARE SICK; PIRATES MOVE HIGHER UP

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The season pennant contenders fear, and few manage to avoid, seems to be coming on major league baseball. That's the time when some important player gets sick or is hurt, and the managers' carefully laid plans have to be re-arranged.

The latest victims of the scourge are the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians.

Pytlak Goes Home

Cleveland's first-string catcher, Frankie Pytlak, finally gave up his effort to recover from an illness while wandering around with the club and left for his home in Buffalo. The Tribe didn't miss him much when Bill Brenzel substituted ably and made two hits in an 11 to 2 triumph over the Red Sox.

The Pirates got a worse blow just after they had slugged the Phillies into submission 12 to 5 without their leading clouter, Arky Vaughan, who is nursing a charley horse. Darrell (Cy) Blanton, brilliant rookie pitcher who has won nine games against five losses, was stricken with acute appendicitis and hurried to a hospital for an operation.

Tribe Moves Into Third

The Indians, after being delayed a half hour by the rain which wiped out three other American league games, piled up 17 blows, including home runs by Earl Averill and Bruce Campbell, to trounce Boston for the fourth straight time and move into a tie with Detroit for third place in the American league.

Pittsburgh gathered in 22 blows off three Philly pitchers and increased its margin over the third-place St. Louis club to a game and one-half as the Cardinals were buried under a 14 to 3 score by the league leading Giants. For the Phils Johnny Moore belted his twelfth home run of the year to tie Mel Ott of New York for the league lead.

Giants Best Paul Dean

The Giants got going against Paul Dean for three runs in the second inning, belted him to cover in the fourth when the Cards blew up for three errors and four more runs counted and finished against Ray Harrell for a total of 19 hits.

The cellar-dwelling Braves smote the Reds twice in the course of the Bunker Hill day doubleheader, 8 to 3 and 5 to 1, and left the losers only a few points ahead of Philadelphia. Two homers by Chuck Klein, each with a man aboard, gave the Cubs their winning margin in a 5 to 3 triumph over Brooklyn.

J. A. Dewar's Fair Trial won by three lengths with Mrs. C. L. MacKean's Solerina second and Lord Garnarvon's Monico, third. Twenty two ran.

"ALABAMA" PITTS IS FACING JOB OF MAKING GOOD IN BASEBALL; LANDIS RULES HIM ELIGIBLE TO BE PLAYER

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., June 18—Edwin C. "Alabama" Pitts, one-time Sing Sing prison athlete, today faced the job of making good for the friends whose faith caused Kenesaw Mountain Landis to unbar the doors of professional baseball.

Landis, baseball's high commissioner, late yesterday in Chicago over-ruled a decision banning Pitts from baseball but made it clear that his action resulted from the numerous appeals in behalf of the ex-convict.

Rules Him Eligible

He ruled the 24-year-old parolee might play with the Albany club of the International league but insisted his activities be limited to regular games of the schedule.

He explained he agreed with the stand taken by Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Minor Professional Baseball Leagues, and the association's executive committee, in barring Pitts because he is an ex-convict but added:

New Situation Arises

"Since then (the executive committee decision), however, a new situation has arisen. Conditions have been created as the result of which there cannot be much doubt as to the destructive effect upon Pitts' effort toward rehabilitation, of not permitting him to enter baseball employment. This was not contemplated, nor is it due to the ruling of the president and the executive committee of the national association.

"And in this situation, reputable people have expressed to me their belief that there has been a complete reformation of Pitts' character . . .

Only Regular Games

"Solely for these reasons, Pitts will be allowed to play, on condition that a new contract be executed by the Albany club and Pitts containing a covenant, that during the year 1935 Pitts shall appear only in regular league games and shall not appear in or at exhibition games, this condition being imposed because it is distinctly in Pitts interest that mere notoriety be not exploited and capitalized."

The young southerner who served five years of an eight-to-16 year term for an armed robbery in New York City was quick to express his appreciation.

"Judge Landis will never regret having made that decision," he said.

Los Angeles Man Wins Pistol Title

AUSTIN, June 18. (AP)—J. J. Engerbrecht of the Los Angeles police team won the Texas State Rifle association pistol championship Monday as his group captured the team title and 13 out of 16 matches in the two-day meet.

Engerbrecht shot 1,310 for the title. Charles Askins of El Paso and A. C. Cantrell of Dallas scored 1,293 to tie for second place.

Mrs. R. F. Tate of San Antonio won the women's division with a score of 192, while her daughter, Virginia Tate, placed third with 187. Mrs. O. W. Kilday of San Antonio shot 190 for second honors.

Los Angeles, Dallas and San Antonio police teams finished in order in five-man team matches, scoring 1,080, 1,033 and 1,012, respectively.

All officers of the association were relected.

INDIANS WIN IN LONE TEXAS LOOP GAME ON MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

The Oklahoma City Indians trounced the Texas league leading Galveston Bucs for a 5 to 1 victory last night while the other six teams in the loop took another day off because of rain.

San Antonio was stranded at Dallas, Beaumont at Fort Worth and Houston at Tulsa.

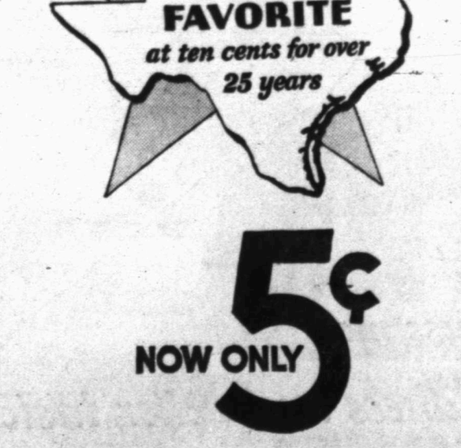

With the Bucs on their home lot, Pitcher Brillheart of the Indians kept the Galveston batters guessing most of the evening. He held the Bucs scoreless until the eighth inning while his teammates helped to hold a lead they had grabbed in the opening inning.

The Indians got their three counters in the first and the Bucs had to wait until the eighth to get their one run.

Cole worked the mound for Galveston.

PWA SESSIONS BEING HELD

EXPLANATIONS WILL BE MADE AT FORT WORTH TODAY, WEDNESDAY

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, June 18.—Architects, engineers and attorneys in various proposed PWA projects throughout the state gathered here today to learn the new requirements.

There will also be a state wide meeting Wednesday of officials of the various political subdivisions interested in seeking PWA financing of improvements.

Both meetings will be in the nature of a school to explain what is required for the financing of a project through the PWA for the various types of political subdivisions such as municipalities, counties, school and water districts.

Julian Montgomery, acting state director of the PWA, expressed the belief that 1,000 public officials will attend the Wednesday morning meeting.

Copies of model applications will be distributed at the meetings and all questions will be answered.

subsidy measure was attacked in the report, and Senator Austin (R-Vt) not only declined to sign it, but indicated they would submit a minority statement.

After declaring subsidy had been "piled on subsidy" in grants of "mail pay" and construction work in the past ten years, the committee, which also investigated air mail contracts, said:

"Private ownership and operation of merchant and aerial transportation with government subsidy has resulted in a saturnalia of waste, inefficiency, unearned exorbitant salaries and bonuses and other forms of 'compensation,' corrupting expense accounts, exploitation of the public by the sale and manipulation of stock the values of which are largely based on the hope of profit from robbing the taxpayer."

Only 28 Ships Built

The whole subsidy program of the past dozen years, the report explained, was based on an attempt to build up a merchant marine. But it stated that of the 43 "mail pay" contracts in effect under the 1928 Jones-White act, only 20 required building of new ships. Of the 51 ships called for in the contracts, only 28 have been built.

The report was packed with instances in which it was alleged companies violated the "spirit" of the contracts to "pipe" profits into their own tills instead of devoting the money to building up the merchant maripe.

The report said J. P. Grace, president of the W. R. Grace and company, operator of several Grace Lines, together with banking and other business interests, received in 1928 salary, commissions and dividends of $971,660.

Commission Cited

As another instance the committee declared that "R. Stanley Dollar received from his Dollar Steamship Line and Admiral Oriental Line $698,750 as commission incident to the purchase of ships from the United States government at low prices."

The report said the Admiral Oriental Line, with a $500 capitalization, operated government-owned ships at a net profit of $4,640,204 in three years and five months.

As another item the report cited: "The Roosevelt Steamship company, which took its name from Kermit Roosevelt in 1920, with a then outstanding capital of $22,000, made profits under a lump sum agreement from 1931 to 1933 inclusive amounting to $371,987."

Competitive Bidding Evaded

Competitive bidding for the "mail pay" contracts was evaded, the report charged, and it quoted W. Irving Glover, former second assistant postmaster general in the Hoover administration, as saying in connection with the negotiation of one contract that "I think it is well to word your advertisement so that it might fall into the lap of the Colombian Steamship company." The statement was made, the report said, during an executive meeting in which the awarding of contracts was discussed.

The report comes at a time when some senators are seeking an investigation of accusations hurled at the commerce department in connection with ship subsidy by Ewing Y. Mitchell, who was removed as assistant secretary of commerce last week by President Roosevelt.

"Against Public Interest"

Mitchell contended that a contract consummated by Secretary Roper for laying up the liner Leviathan was "against the public interest," and that "those interested in the company, including P. A. S. Franklin, John M. Franklin, Vincent Astor and Kermit Roosevelt," would benefit by it.

Senator McCarran made known he is prepared to demand that the accusations be investigated by Chairman Black's committee if the senate commerce committee does not inquire into them. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) plans to ask that the commerce committee call Mitchell, whose general charges included an allegation that "favoritism and graft abound" in the commerce and other departments.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 18 (AP)—Higher prices prevailed at the start of trading today on the cotton market with opening sales from 4 to 7 points above the previous close.

The early advance was based on the bullish weather reports from the belt. Too much rain and damage to cotton lands by floods were reported from many quarters.

July opened six points higher at 11.57, Oct. was up 7 points at 11.28 and Dec. up 5 points at 11.29.

During the morning a very thin market prevailed and prices held within a point or two of the opening levels. Business fell off considerably after the first half hour and a quiet but steady tone was shown.

July transferred at 11.55, Oct. at 11.25, and Dec. at 11.28. With trade interest in the market only when it becomes absolutely necessary to protect actual purchases of cotton and professional and public support lacking, the market was undergoing an extremely dull day of trading.

The weather map showed rain in many sections of the belt, but traders failed to follow up the early advance on this news.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 3 to 5 higher on predictions of further rains in the western belt and spot house buying July 11.60; Oct. 11.33; Dec. 11.34; Jan. 11.36; March 11.40; May 11.47.

Further rains overnight in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas brought in some of the early buying and the market advanced further during the early trading with Oct. selling up from 11.31 to 11.36 and the general market showing net advances of about 5 to 9 points at the end of the first hour. Liverpool cables were irregular.

Trading became quieter later with prices easing 3 or 4 points from the highs under local selling. Pressure was not heavy, however, and prices were ruling about steady at midday with Oct. selling at 11.33 and the general market showing net gains of 2 to 5 points.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 18 (AP)—Grain prices were higher early today with bulls in wheat deriving some incentive to buy on reports of continued wet weather delaying the harvest in parts of the southwest. Fear was expressed rains in the corn belt would further retard planting operations and cause some replanting. Opening 3-8 to 3-4 cent higher compared with yesterday's close, July 80 3-4 to 7-8, wheat later gained more. Corn started 3-8 to 1 1-2 up, July 81 1-8 to 1-2, and then held near this range.

Wheat closed 1 1-8 to 1 3-4 cent higher compared with yesterday's finish, July 81 3-4 to 7-8, and corn was 1 1-8 to 2 1-8 up. Juy 81 7-8 to 82. Oats gained 5-8 to 3-4, rye 1 to 1 3-8 and barley was unchanged. Provisions were steady to firm.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 18. (AP)—Demand for grain continued steady here today. Receipts were only 7 cars wheat and 2 corn.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—The stock market groped for higher levels today but bullish forces were more than ordinarily cautious and buying continued highly selective.

Grains rallied as heavy rains were believed to be delaying harvests. Cotton also improved. Bonds were somewhat mixed. The French franc was firm in foreign exchange dealings, reflecting further optimism over the recent aid given this currency by the United States treasury.

The activity in stocks was not pronounced. Advances of fractions to a point or more, however, were registered by Johns-Manville, American Can, Du Pont, American Tobacco "B" Bayuk Cigar, Radio Preferred "B" American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, Macy, J. C. Penney, Woolworth, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and N. Y. Central.

The steels, motors, chemicals and metals were unchanged to a shade higher or lower.

The crest of the largest rise in the Rio Grande since the big floods of 1932 and 1933 moved past Rio Grande City, with major levees on both sides of the river holding. Water spilled over into the floodway in Hidalgo county. A few private levees had broken.

CALLES LEAVES

of Emilio Portes Gil, former president and now head of the National Revolutionary party, was regarded as most significant because yesterday Portes Gil sat during the opening of the International Rotary convention at the right hand of President Lazaro Cardenas, whose dispute with Calles culminated in the latter's departure from the capital. It was generally believed that Portes Gil was backing the president in his political controversy with Calles.

But today Calles chatted in a most friendly manner with Portes Gil.

Business Fears Results

Several United States businessmen were also present. One, the manager of one of the largest foreign companies in Mexico, commented: "I still can't believe he is leaving and I want to believe it less. His statement on economic conditions last Thursday, which precipitated the political crisis, was a sane and sensible view of the situation. If the present attacks against capital are continued, we will be forced to leave Mexico in six months, and without the restraining influence of Calles, we are afraid of the consequences."

A new cabinet took office under President Cardenas today, more conservative than had been expected.

Composed Of New Men

The incoming government, with the exception of Fernando Gonzalez Roa, former ambassador to Washington, and General Francisco J. Mujica, the only holdover, was composed of men who never have held important office.

The only man whose name had been mentioned in speculation before the announcement of the incoming secretaries was General Saturnino Cedillo, agrarian leader of San Lusi Potosi, who in the post of secretary of agriculture, was expected to dominate the new government.

JUDGEMENTS ARE ALLOWED IN CASES

Twenty-five cases, including 12 in which default judgments were allowed by Judge James C. Wilson, were called in United States district court Monday. The remainder were dismissed, continued or passed for the term.

Slightly more than an hour was consumed in hearing the cases.

Ten judgments, amounting to $23,199.09, were awarded Frank A. Blankenbeckler, receiver of Plainview National bank; four cases were dismissed at the request of W. D. Girand, attorney for Mr. Blankenbeckler; three cases were continued, one passed to the equity docket and three passed for the term.

Judgment By Default

R. Leland Keeney, in two cases against R. McMillen and against J. F. Boyd, was awarded judgment by default. James Kilpatrick was attorney and the cases were not contested. Judgment was to quiet title.

Judgments were as follows: W. M. Wilson, $6,579.22; E. E. Cox, $5,718.64; E. S. Keys, $685.66; James E. King, $721.07; W. M. Weathers, $4,203.26; J. W. Ratjen, $2,281.03; L. S. Kennedy and others, $4,551.29; G. H. Phillips, $6,519.25; Frank Case, $778.43; D. P. Wright, $1,161.24.

Shropshire, Earl Jefferies and Ernest Thornton were continued; cases against H. E. Matthews, E. C. Anderson and J. W. Heavin were passed. The case against I. Pricer and others was transferred to the equity docket.

only by his regular guard shift, hovered over the air shaft and sought to learn from Guard O. A. Johnson, on the 730-foot level, what the convicts were doing.

Sends First Word

Johnson, armed guard who had preceded the day shift of miners into the shaft, sent first word of the trouble to the surface.

When the last two men came down on the shaft cage, he reported by telephone, they were met by three others who assisted them in piling empty mine cars on the cage to prevent its being returned to the surface.

Johnson fired his gas gun at them from his armored guard box and they fled back into the mine.

Johnson managed to free the air shaft cage and that was the only means of entrance into the mine, the main shaft cage having been blocked. Johnson's telephone also was the only one to escape damage, all others having been cut off.

Four men were sent to aid Johnson. They were Superintendent Murray, John Christian, Council Grove; Fred Murray, Kansas City, Kas., and John Stewart, Lansing.

Graham listed the unarmed guards held as hostages as follows: Pit Boss Nathan Van Meter, John Heslop, Levi Day, Milt Gould, James Skahan, John Edwards, Gabe Kanershack, Dave White, James Wilson, Joe Studdard, and Frank Sawaski.

McCullough was cross-examined at length by George W. Dupree, after Mood had examined him. Moss asked a few questions.

Mrs. Stafford told her story simply. When Defense Counsel Crenshaw asked where she made her home, and found it was with her late husband's parents, he asked if both were living. He then made his plea on her reply. Judge Wilson announced he would hear arguments Tuesday morning and it was then that Mood said the plaintiffs rested.

Three Negro Youths Held For Robbery

Three negro youths were charged with robbery by assault in a complaint filed this morning in Peace Justice J. T. Trigg's court. They were D. C. Harmon, 21; Emmet Spears, 19, and L. C. Crews, 19.

An elderly negro, Anderson Clark, reported they choked and struck him and took $15 from him early today after he found them in bushes outside his home in the 1600-block Main street. He was struck on the face with a stone, Clark said.

Police arrested the three suspects early today. They were transferred to county jail.

Wool Market Is Revived By Sales

The West Texas Wool & Mohair association of Mertzon sold 110,000 pounds to L. M. Murphey at 25 cents and about 700,000 pounds to Albert Schneider at an average of 23 cents. Co-Ed Denies Her Sister Wrote Notes

TAHLEQUAH, Okla., June 18 (AP)—Lois Thompson, 19-year-old Northeastern State Teachers college co-ed, denied from the witness stand today that her sister, Lelia, 24, wrote a series of extortion notes she claimed prompted her to shoot Daniel Shaw, Chinese student.

Lois, on trial for assault with intent to kill the 27-year-old Chinese, declared the notes, several of which threatened death, was not in the handwriting of her sister, as alleged by the state.

Meantime, the state called a department of justice agent, C. A. Appel, jr., from Washington, D. C., to testify in rebuttal that the notes were in Lelia's handwriting. Appel, County Attorney Sanford Martin declared, will be called to testify after the defense case is completed.

Florence who is head of the Republic National bank in Dallas, and R. L. Thornton, president of Mercantile National bank in Dallas, were the principal speakers.

Thornton voiced opposition to government intervention in the banking industry and urged bankers to work out their problems locally.

The Panhandle group went on record as favoring cooperative investment and insurance with some one company after Charles Maedgen of the Lubbock National bank had read a paper urging such a plan.

SUDAN STAGES BANQUET

DURWOOD BRADLEY IS SPEAKER LAST NIGHT IN ANNUAL EVENT

(By Staff Correspondent)

SUDAN, June 18—Stressing possibilities of closer cooperation between rural and urban leaders, Durwood H. Bradley, director of the Lubbock Board of City Development, in an address to the Sudan Chamber of Commerce last night, urged a home beautification program for both farm and city properties.

"Encourage the 4-H club boys and girls in their calf club and other club work," he advised.

Predicts Prosperity

"I believe the United States is in for a period of sane prosperity," Mr. Bradley declared. "We have overcome depressions before; I believe we can do it again."

Mr. Bradley suggested the Sudan Chamber of Commerce encourage farmers in beautification of their places by plaanting of trees. He added that people in the towns could do the same.

Salem Toastmaster

Joe T. Salem, president, was toastmaster of the occasion. Invocation was given by Rev. C. A. Joiner, Baptist pastor. Mayor W. W. Carpenter welcomed the visitors and County Judge Simon D. Hay responded. Betty Lou Teal, three, gave a special welcome.

Miss Yvonne Mason sang a solo and a trio, composed of Herman Lyle, John Boyles and Knox Damron, sang several numbers.

President Salem introduced visitors and several special guests. Secretary W. A. Fincher outlined plans of the organization for additional improvements. Numerous committee reports were made by group chairmen.

The banquet was the third given by the group since its reorganization and the installation of a paid secretary. There were a number of ladies present, the total attendance being around 60 people. Ladies of the Methodist church, where the banquet was held, served the meal.

Of course, it is apparent on the face of things that the law was enacted to assist Wisconsin's important dairy business.

But even so, is the law constitutional?

We doubt it, especially since the nine aged gentlemen have had their say-about NRA!

And we wonder what would happen if the thing were taken to court—either by a cafe man who didn't want to pay for what people didn't order, or by a customer who just doesn't want cheese and butter on his plate!

ONLY the discerning readers of The Journal will remember the name of Jack Hawkins.

He was here too many years ago, joining us from the New York Telegraph, but never-the-less he was here.

But since he left us to our own devices, he has gone places and done things.

He has been editor of the Roswell Disgust—or is it Dispatch?

He has been the star reporter of the El Paso Herald and Times.

And he has been editor of the Pecos Enterprise—the latter job being by far the best. He's still there.

But anyhow, he has been one of our boys and we're proud of him. And here's what he has done to bear us out: He has cleaned up the office of The Enterprise at Pecos.

We don't know whether Jack cleaned up the office of his own accord, or whether Barney Hobbs told him to; or whether his wife suggested it. But anyhow, he did. And here's what happened, in Jack's own words:

"We've run across all kinds of weird things which pop up in a print shop, from type lice and live snakes to hand-painted earmuffs . . . but one article, found this week while cleaning up the place, takes the all-time prize.

"Neatly boxed and wrapped in cotton, reposed the upper plate of a set of false teeth, apparently in good condition. The box was found under a type case which hasn't been moved for upwards of forty years.

"We don't wish to compete with Doctors Magee, Lackey, and Heiser, but we know a place where you can purchase one-half of a set of teeth, in good condition, very, very cheap. Apply at Enterprise office."

Pretty neat, we'd say!

Charles Laughton Seeks Love Role—And Fan Mail; His Success In "Red Gap" Stirs Him To Portray Versatility

BY DAN THOMAS
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 18.—Charles Laughton wants to be a lover!

But only in a professional way, of course. He's already won his spurs off the screen. His wife, Elsa Lanchester, will testify any time that he's the world's best real life romancer.

But that doesn't satisfy his newest thespian ambition. The heart of the 36-year-old ex-innkeeper is set upon wooing and winning a beautiful damsel while movie cameras make an everlasting record of his amorous actions.

"I am convinced that an actor occasionally must be enveloped by a romantic atmosphere if he is to capture the imagination of the American public. So I want to portray such a character," Laughton confided to me in the soft, low tones he has made famous on the screen.

"It might surprise you to know," he added, "that I have never received more than 12 fan letters a week since I became a motion picture star. Until I played a comedy role in 'Ruggles of Red Gap' I was a complete nonentity insofar as fan-letter writers were concerned. Then an avalanche of letters began to swamp me—one or two every day.

"But after I played Javert in 'Les Miserables' the letters stopped again. And I actually heard myself hissed in a theater, a most unusual experience for me."

Laughton carefully explains that it isn't the desire for more fan mail that prompts his craving for a romantic role. Still, it's not likely he would throw away unopened the missives scores of ga-ga girls would be bound to write him.

"It's simply that I enjoy diversity of characterization and don't want to become stamped as one type, particularly a type in which the American public shows very little interest," he says.

Laughton's desire puts him in the same class with Charlie Chaplin. Recognized as the greatest living comedian, Charlie's big ambition is to portray heavy drama. For years he has nursed the thought of bringing "Hamlet" to the screen.

So it is with Laughton. Outstripping everyone else in pictures as a sinister character—he can express more villainy with a single glance than any other man on the screen—he craves romance.

And soon his dream is to be realized—after a fashion. When he finishes "Mutiny on the Bounty," he's going back to England to do "Cyrano de Bergerac." Rather a grotesque lover, 'tis true, but nevertheless a lover.

A Midget Pompeii

You'd never believe that the entire ancient city of Pompeii could be reconstructed on a 30-feet square, or that Mt. Vesuvius could be put inside of a studio stage. Yet both of these things have been accomplished.

With plaster of paris, workmen have constructed in miniature the entire city of Pompeii, with Mt. Vesuvius rising 20 feet above it. Actually, this is the city you will see wiped out in "The Last Days of Pompeii" when molten "lava" pours from the volcano, depicting the disaster of A. D. 79.

What's Up?

Hollywood is wondering if Maureen O'Sullivan's trip to Ireland in August is for the purpose of marrying John Farrow, screen writer, in the presence of her parents—or to reconcile them to the fact that she already is married.

She and Farrow went to Ireland last summer for the avowed purpose of being wed. But their plans went awry when they were denied official sanction by the Roman Catholic church because Farrow has been divorced.

Since then, however, they are reported to have been secretly married. At least they are wearing twin wedding rings.

Tough On Alice

Alice Brady and horses just can't get along. A double was used for her in the fox hunt scenes for "Lady Tubbs." But some closeups were necessary. For these a mechanical horse of the type made famous by the late Calvin Coolidge was pressed into service. But even the iron steed and Alice didn't hit it off so well.

After two hours of "riding," the actress called a halt until the saddle could be padded with a thick layer of soft cotton.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

JAPAN WHITTLES CHINA

Step by step, Japan proceeds to gain control of China, employing peculiar processes which baffle the international lawyer. To all intents and purposes, Manchuria is now Japanese in all but name. There was a "revolt" in Manchuria; Japanese soldiers had to protect Japanese property, so the army moved in. Then Manchuria "proclaimed her independence" and set up the state of Manchukuo, promptly recognized by Japan. The army is still in Manchuria; Manchukuo exists because of that fact.

Now the army, moving sufficient forces to Tientsin, tells the Chinese forces to get out of Hopei, because they constitute a danger to Japanese soldiers and traders. There have been anti-Japasese "incidents" that can not be endured.

Note how the move was accomplished. The order to the Chinese commander came from the Japanese army, not from the Japanese government. Tokyo is outside the picture. If some foreign government protests, the Japanese foreign office can ask, first, whose business it is if the army takes precautions for its safety and that of Japanese merchants, and second, what other nation has been injured? And if the intrusive foreigner continues to howl, the foreign office can point out that the army acted on its own responsibility, and proclaim, as it did in the case of Manchukuo, that the Japanese government is not concerned, that all treaties will be observed, and that no one has the slightest cause for complaint.

The moral is that if China does not want to be dismembered, she must make herself strong enough to protect her territory and her rights. Nobody is going to undertake a conflict with Japan to preserve Chinese integrity, if only for the reason that it is scarcely worth while to spend several billions to protect an annual trade of a few millions. And Chinese trade is all that interests the other nations.

Dutchers' News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 18—Lobbyists seeking to defeat or modify the Economic Security bill took on new hope after the supreme court demolished NRA.

Chief target is the compulsory contributory old age insurance provision, under which employers as well as employes would be taxed at a gradually increasing rate, culminating with 3 per cent on wages and payrolls for each group after 1948.

Certain very large corporations, actively aided by firms which make a business of setting up private retirement and insurance systems, are pushing propaganda for exemptions.

They would prefer to set up systems of their own, which would be less expensive and less effective, at the same time strengthening their "company unions."

Both the Pennsylvania Self-Insurers' Association, composed of such corporations, and the Medical Society of the State of New York, which fears a tendency toward health insurance, have circulated a pamphlet called "Will America Copy Germany's Mistakes?" by a German who purports to show how social insurance failed in the Reich.

Officials of the president's Committee on Economic Security unite in branding the pamphlet a tissue of untruth.

Lobbyists Juggle Figures

Other groups have issued estimates of cost in which the figures assume astronomical proportions. Some of these figures are obviously exaggerated. Others are guesswork.

Lobbyists seek to persuade senators from the poorer states that their states will have to contribute from 12 to 18 times as much as the cost will actually be.

Backstage efforts are being made to convert Secretary of Labor Perkins to wide, vitiating exemptions which would permit employers to save large sums by ignoring older workers—specially provided for in the bill—and place a premium on discharge of workers at relatively early ages.

Lobbying is concentrated on the Senate in an effort to amend or block the measure, which passed the House by a huge majority.

Kennedy Puzzles 'Em

No one knows whether to take seriously the recent reports that Chairman Joe Kennedy of the Securities and Exchange Commission is about to resign.

The fact is that Kennedy started telling his friends he was going to quit very soon after his appointment last summer.

These private assurances finally found their way into print. But whether he is really as fed up with the job of regulating Wall Street as he pretends to be is still known only to Joe.

Too Busy Reading To Shoot

This government is up to all kinds of things that you never hear about. For instance, FERA is using unemployed school teachers to instruct thousands of men and women in backward areas how to read and write.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman tells how the other day he went to Asheville, N. C., to greet nearly 5000 people from the hill regions who had been brought together in ceremonies celebrating their achievement of literacy through FERA.

Spokesmen from 78 counties testified and gave thanks. One man among them said:

"I thank God we can all write our own names now and read the Bible. It's been a mighty good thing for us. Up in our country we ain't had a shootin' bee for the last 90 days."

Revenge For McSwain

Supporters of the TVA amendments, designed to strengthen TVA against court attacks and kept from the House floor by a 13 to 12 vote of the Military Affairs Committee, are blaming easy-going Chairman John J. McSwain of South Carolina for the tie-up of the measure.

McSwain presumably could have put sufficient heat on at least one recalcitrant Democratic member to let the bill out so the House could decide the issue.

But not long previously McSwain had been publicly rebuked by Roosevelt for an error which led to publication of sensational secret testimony by two generals who had ideas about seizing some Canadian territory for air bases in event of war.

Roosevelt's tactlessness at the time seems to have caused McSwain to leave him in a hole.

ENEMY'S KISS

by Evelyn M. Winch

SYNOPSIS: Alison Rede has come to a lonely house in Sussex in response to a telegram ostensibly from her father. But her father does not meet her; instead she is frightened by a horrible hairless man, and saved by another and very personable man. But neither can explain why Alison's father should neither have met her nor have let her know why. Although in the back of Alison's mind is the fact that her father is about to remarry.

Chapter Seven
MYSTERY DEEPENS

Alison abandoned the argument. She said defiantly, "I'm going to Warley now, to telephone."

"I think not."

"Who's going to stop me?" She had a small round chin and she stuck it out firmly.

"I am. You're under orders." He said it good-humoredly, his eyes twinkling, but there was a faint, steely inflection in his voice. "And you're going to do what you're told. You've just had a bad shock. You're not fit to trudge six miles in the rain at this time of night. You're going to lie down here while I go into Warley."

"I'd really rather go with you!" The thought of renewing her vigil in the house shook Alison completely.

"You won't be alone." He strode across to the window and flung it open, leaning out, gave a shrill whistle. Something large and white flashed up from the wet darkness outside and, bending, he pulled up over the sill a very large, wet, white bulldog.

"Oh!" Alison stared at the dog which was leaping excitedly up on its master and spattering drops across the kitchen from its threshing body and tail. A dog superbly ugly with a tan patch over one eye.

"Down, down, there! Meet Gaffe. We call him that because his manners are so bad." He forced the dog down and made it lift one paw. But Alison was not looking at the dog. She had gone white.

"Was he out there—all the time?"

"Yes. I left him on guard. Why?"

"D-don't you see? You said the—the thing I saw got out of the pantry window—"

"Yes?"

"If that's true, why didn't Gaffe get him?"

"That's certainly a point."

There was no laughter now. They were both serious as they stood facing one another.

"But we've searched the house!"

"I know."

"But the doors were all locked inside, and the windows."

"That's just it."

"You — you don't think Gaffe would have missed him?" she asked it almost hopefully; the notion of that grey face hiding now in some dark corner, waiting, was too horrible.

"No, I don't." Gaffe's master was decisive. "But I don't believe in ghosts either."

"Then you mean?"

"There's some other way in and out, that's all. . . ."

"I'm not going to stay here alone!"

"No, you can't do that," he agreed at once. "But you can't walk six miles either, in this storm." He shut the window slowly, frowning. "Do many people know you're here?"

"No. No one. Except my father."

He nodded. "You don't know anyone round about?"

"No. You see—" Breathlessly Alison plunged into her story. He listened until she had quite finished, watching her with a rather intent gaze.

"I see," he said at last. "Then you haven't a notion why your father asked you to come?"

"I simply can't imagine!"

"It's—odd."

"Isn't it?"

"You don't think it's even the sort of house he'd be likely to take?"

"No. I don't!"

He pondered a minute.

When he spoke again, the question startled Alison.

"What does your father do? I mean for a living?"

"Father? Nothing. I mean, he's got enough money and he's retired. He simply travels a bit and lives in London."

"I see. And you've just finished school?"

"Yes. . . ."

He said slowly "I don't understand it. There's something fishy about it somewhere, isn't there? But I'm not going to leave you here, and apart from getting a chill, we can't turn up at a hotel in Warley together round two o'clock in the morning without luggage, can we?"

"I suppose not."

"Then there's only one thing to be done." He was brisk now. "There's a perfectly good bedroom upstairs and you're going to use it. Now don't look at me like that! You'll be quite safe. You're going to lock the door inside and take Gaffe with you. I don't care what you saw, if Gaffe once gets his teeth into it that'll be that. I'll wait down here and explain to your father when he comes."

"But—" she began.

"Not but." He was smiling. "There's no 'but' about it at all."

"I'm not going to leave you to sit up alone with that!" declared Alison.

He laughed softly. "My dear girl, I don't mind little Herbert!"

"You haven't seen him!" she retorted.

By way of answer he took her firmly by one elbow and led her towards the door.

"You've got Gaffe," he said, "and if little Herbert's human, God help him, that's all! I'll be awake and listening if you call. Personally, I'm non-psychic, ghost-proof and impervious to suggestion, so don't worry about me! The thing for you to do's to get straight off to sleep. You're dead tired and you're shivering."

"I'm not, only—"

"Only the thought that little Herbert may be lurking about gives you the jimjams?" he guessed.

MEET the WIFE

MRS. SAMUEL INSULL

Years after Gladys Wallis deserted the stage to wed Samuel Insull she found herself "leading lady" in an off-stage drama more strenuous than any in which she had played behind the footlights. . . . Accustomed to presiding over Chicago society as a dictator, she proved herself just as much at home in a courtroom as a spectator at her husband's trials. . . . By her charm and "folksy" attitude she won over her most caustic critics. . . . In 1925, before the days of the crash she made a comeback in the theater and played Lady Teazle in "School for Scandal" in a Chicago benefit financed by her husband. . . . Boxes sold for as much as $1000 and the theater was crowded for all performances. . . . In those days liveried chauffeurs and several luxurious residences were at her command. . . . Now she rides with the public on buses and taxis and is happy with a small suite in a modest hotel. . . . She says she likes it. . . . "I've found you can meet the big problems of life easily," she says, "it's the pin pricks that hurt." That sums up her philosophy.

Theses Subjects At Univ. Of Texas Are In Vast Contrast

AUSTIN, June 18 (Special)—Interesting contrasts are offered in the titles of theses submitted by the 69 candidates for the various masters degrees at the University of Texas at the recent commencement. Antiquity, modernity as timely as today's newspaper, food costs at fraternity houses and college conversation, all are represented in these dissertations preesnting the findings of the respective writers as the result of original research.

Up-to-the-minute is the thesis of Guy Cummings Hill of Hearne, on "The History and Purpose of the Lower Colorado River Authority." Louise Alvina Schubert of Austin delved into the past in her "Euclidean Constructions with Ruler and Restricted Compasses." Mrs. Elizabeth Chewning of Austin went far afield for material on a "Comparison of the Cultures of the Bushmen and Fuegians, with Special Reference to the Mental Aspects," while Mary Isabel Fain of Dandridge, Tenn., and Warren Richard Jackson of Austin wrote on "local color" subjects, "A Study of Food Costs for a Girls' Dormitory and a Fraternity House at The University of Texas" and "A Sociological Analysis of the Table Conversation of a Group of University Men Students," respectively.

Nervousness And Dizzy Spells Gone; Like A New Man

Gly-Cas Wasted No Time In Getting To Source of Lubbock Man's Health Troubles—Even When All Else Had Failed In Case

It is actually astonishing what this new Gly-Cas will do in the most stubborn and severe cases of rheumatism, neuritis, stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood troubles. Many Lubbock residents now realize how fortunate they are in having this new remedy introduced here—as they have found it to be just the medicine they had been needing for years.

MR. C. A. ASHLEY

Just recently, Mr. C. A. Ashley, 2313 Texas Ave., Lubbock, respected local gentleman, made the following praising statement to the Gly-Cas Man at the Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, that his friends might learn of this new remedy and benefit by it as he has:

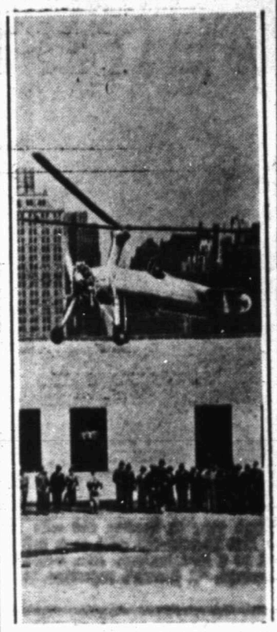

"For years I would suffer terribly after each meal—regardless of my diet," said Mr. Ashley, "Gas would form in my stomach and press against my heart so bad I could not stand it if I was sitting or lying down. I could not even take a drink of milk without it souring dreadfully on my stomach and of course such foods as meat and cabbage I did not dare eat at all. Dizzy spells were quite frequent, nervous, couldn't sleep and lost my appetite entirely. Foods were not tempting to me at all. It was terribly discouraging—trying all kinds of medicines and treatments continually and still no results and I had about decided that I was doomed to finish life in suffering when friends persuaded me to give Gly-Cas a trial.'

"I found Gly-Cas to be even more than it was recommended to be," continued Mr. Ashley. "For the first time in years I can eat and enjoy my meals without any suffering afterwards. Gas, bloating and indigestion are all in the past and I am even able to eat the foods I hadn't dared touch for years. Those dreadful dizzy spells are gone too, appetite is much better and my nerves are quieted. It is wonderful to feel so good, sleep so well and enjoy life as others. I hope there are others that will learn of this new remedy through me and benefit by its use as I have."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway where he is introducing and explaining the action of this amazing new remedy.

Gly-Cas $1.00 per box—6 boxes $5.00. Add 2c postage for each box ordered. Send money orders made payable Mark Halsey Drug Store Don't send cash. Checks not accepted. No. C. O. D. mail orders.—Adv.

BRIGHT SPOTS

What Is It Then?

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—Is a crayfish a fish? Magistrate H. G. Thayer can't be sure and he seeks enlightenment.

Two boys were arrested on a charge of using nets to catch fish. They told Thayer they were only after crayfish which look like small crabs and which the boys claimed weren't fish.

Thayer thought the matter over for a week and finally postponed the trial until the state game warden can get around to the trial and give his opinion.

Added Injury

BOSTON—It wasn't the dent in the rear fender of Alex Truskolsky's automobile that made him so angry, it was what happened later.

He told police his car was in a slight collision with that of a woman who then asked to see his license. Truskolsky handed her his wallet, containing $20 in addition to his credentials.

Away sped the woman, wallet and all.

Fisherman's Luck

NEW YORK—Jeremiah Findley, 42, got more than he bargained for when he went fishing in the Hudson river.

His line became tangled with that of another fisherman close by, and they both started pulling to get the lines apart.

The other's sinker suddenly flipped over and struck Findley on the head, knocking him unconscious. He's in a hospital with a fractured skull.

'HOPE CHEST' PASSE

SAN JOSE, Cal. (AP)—Girls of today no longer prize "hope chests," according to a survey taken at San Jose State college which disclosed not one of 1,200 coeds keeps a chest.

RICHARD COLE AND HIS BAND PLAY IN CITY TONIGHT

Richard Cole and his 16-piece dance orchestra will play for a dance in the Auditorium from 9 o'clock tonight until 1 o'clock Wednesday morning. The young maestro and his orchestra played for a capacity house at Amarillo last night.

The Cole musicians, who played 371 consecutive evenings in the Empire room of the Palmer house in Chicago, are en route to the Antlers hotel in Colorado Springs, where they have an open engagement.

Two Artists Featured

Featured artists with the orchestra are the vocalists, Paul Cadieux and Mary Joe Stroud.

The Auditorium cooling system has been improved to make possible a cool hall.

In addition to playing in the Palmer house, Cole's orchestra played for radio listeners of NBC and WGN.

A member of the orchestra, which was to arrive this morning, is J. R. (Dick) Dickerson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Dickerson of Lubbock. He attended Lubbock High school in 1920 and 1921, and later was a member of the Worth theater orchestra at Fort Worth. He joined Cole 18 months ago.

Murder Charge Is Filed In Killing

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—A charge of murder has been filed against Jack Baker, 30, in connection with the killing of William Henry Hunter, 31, his cousin, in a suburb Sunday.

Preliminary hearing was set for Thursday.

Baker surrendered to officers immediately after the shooting.

Five years ago Hunter was nobilled by a grand jury investigating the fatal stabbing of Baker's father.

World consumption of platinum last year amounted to 200,000 troy ounces as compared with 175,000 troy ounces in 1933 and 75,000 in 1932.

Baby Born To 12-Year-Old Wife

Mary Cummings left the fifth grade last year to become the wife of Truman E. Keller, 25, a farmer. Now the 12-year-old wife is a proud and happy mother. Here she's pictured in a Birmingham, Ala., hospital with her baby, very pleased with marriage. "I haven't regretted it a moment," she declares.

LAST RITES FOR H. AUSTIN HELD

Last rites were conducted at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Hammond Austin, 614 Avenue N, at the First Baptist church. Rev. Marshall Rhew, a Methodist Episcopal minister of Lueders and formerly of Lubbock, was to officiate.

Burial, directed by Sanders Funeral home, was in Lubbock cemetery. Mr. Austin, who would have been 27 years old June 29, died of peritonitis here early Monday afternoon. He was a graduate of Lubbock High school and had attended Texas Technological college two years.

FIRST HEAT VICTIM

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—Jesse Myers, negro laborer, became the first victim of heat prostration in Dallas this season when he collapsed while digging a ditch. He died before reaching the emergency hospital.

STOCKMEN FIGHT MODERN RUSTLER

CODY, Wyo., June 18. (AP)—The modern-day cattle rustler, who whisks livestock away in his truck, became the target here today of western cattlemen.

Joining forces, representative cattlemen from Wyoming, Colorado, Montana and South Dakota opened war on the "rubber tired rustler" through a cooperative plan of livestock brand exchanges.

The plan was outlined as representatives assembled for the opening session here of the Wyoming stockgrowers association convention.

Stockmen branded the new day stock thief as the "public enemy No. 1 of modern rangelands," charging that his depredations cost the stockmen thousands of dollars annually.

"With brand inspectors already working at big markets such as Denver, Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and others, this new cooperative service should plug loopholes through which modern rustlers have been escaping," said Russell Thorp, Wyoming cattleman.

SIMMONS BODY SENT TO HOME; RITES HELD HERE

Body of E. Clifford (Al) Simmons, 27, who suffocated in a fuel oil storage pool here early Monday, was sent to Santa Anna today for burial. Rites were said at 8 o'clock this morning at the First Baptist church by Rev. P. J. Ausmus, pastor of the Primitive Baptist church, and J. D. Riddle, educational director of the First Baptist church. Rix-Bynum Funeral home directed local arrangements.

Simmons, a Texas Technological college graduate and a varsity football player in 1929-30, entered an oil storage pool at Lubbock Laundry company plant, 1001 Avenue G, to adjust a fuel pump. He had been installing an oil burner.

Pallbearers were W. B. Rushing, A. B. Brown, Jasper Hubbard, John Lindsey, James Atcheson, and R. V. Davis.

Abilene Men Drown After Boat Upsets

ABILENE, June 18. (AP)—J. B. Barton and M. E. Downing were drowned late Monday afternoon, while fishing from a boat in Lake Kirby, municipal reservoir five miles south of Abilene. It was believed their boat had capsized.

There were no witnesses to the mishap, but a farmer, residing nearby, heard cries of the men and rushed to the lake in time to reach one of the men. He was unsuccessful, however, in bringing the man to safety.

Barton had been married about a month. Both men resided here.

RAT ROUTING BACKFIRES

CHERAW, S. C. (AP)—Two years ago a warehouse operator loosed a pair of white rats in his warehouse, having heard they would drive out common gray rats which were overrunning the place. The gray rats vanished all right—but now the operator is trying to figure out a way to get rid of the white ones which are more numerous than the grays ever were.

Enemy's Kiss

By Evelyn M. Winch

"Madam, by tomorrow morning, either Gaffe or I will have laid little Herbert permanently, we'll bring you the remains with morning tea. In the meantime, you're going to try and get some sleep."

"But—I don't see why you should. I mean I can sit up all night—there's no reason why you should do all this for me."

"Oh, I'm used to it." He added rather quickly, "Let me see you get into that room and lock the door. By the way, is there a key?"

"They're all in the pantry."

She let him pick out the right key, lead the way upstairs, fit it into the lock on the inside and made sure that there was no sign of any grey-faced ghost inside the room, carefully.

FIELD EXTENDED

HOUSTON, June 18. (AP)—The Anahuac oil field of northern Chambers county, six miles due east of Anahuac, received a 2100-foot northeastern extension yesterday at Humble Oil and Refining company's No. 3 Archie Middleton. The initial production of the new extension was 770 barrels of oil per day produced through a quarter-inch choke from a plugged-back depth of 7100 feet.

It marks the fifth oiler for the field, being 2100 feet northeast of their Number One A. Middleton, the discovery oiler. In the same field Humble's No. 2 Clark was drilling at 1526 feet in shale.

SUPPORT IS GIVEN FOR MUSEUM HERE

Groups of this section are sending telegrams to the chairman of the centennial advisory board of historians, L. W. Kemp, at Austin in an attempt to obtain part of the $575,000 centennial funds to be spent outside of Dallas for a museum on the Texas Technological college campus.

Dr. W. C. Holden and A. B. Davis have gone to Austin to confer with Mr. Kemp and his committee.

Towns from Muleshoe to Snyder and from Seminole to Matador and Spur have sent telegrams to the committee, signed by county judges, chamber of commerce officials, editors and representative business men.

A representative telegram reads, in part: "This county believes that the Plains is entitled to part of this centennial fund and that it will be of more common value in building a museum at Texas Tech to preserve all historical and sacred exhibits for posterity. Please give petitions for said funds your approval."

CHEAPER BY LINER

LONDON (AP)—Negotiations are in progress for the Duke and Duchess of Kent to visit South Australia during its centenary in 1936. As warship travel comes so high, officials are hoping the royal couple will consent to make the voyage in an ordinary liner.
