Band Concert To Be Presented March 5th

The Clarendon High School Band will be presented in a concert Friday evening, March 5, climaxed by a day long Band Clinic. Ray Robbins, Bandmaster at Phillips High School, will be in charge of the clinic and appear as guest conductor with the group for the evening performance.

J. H. Gain, Bandmaster in the Clarendon Schools, has devoted a lot of time to preparation for the Day of Band and reports students progressing satisfactorily. He feels Mr. Robbins needs no introduction to people of this area as he was previously bandmaster in the local schools. Mr. Robbins will devote his time Friday morning, March 5, to students in High School, and the afternoon to those in Junior High and Grade School.

There will be a nominal admission charge for the concert this year with proceeds going to the Band Parents. The money will be spent for uniforms and payment for a recorder now in use by band students. Should sufficient funds be made, it is hoped that jackets and awards may be bought. In fact there are many good places to spend any money available.

Set aside the date, MARCH 5, and make your plans to attend this program. You are given an opportunity to see for yourself the splendid improvement made by the students this year and at the same time help them to acquire some of the many supplies necessary to their work. There will be no other official public concert by the band this year. Tickets will go on sale soon.

It Could Easily Happen Here

The stray dog situation here in Clarendon could cause lots of worry and trouble in a very short time should rabies spread to this area. An outbreak has been reported in Amarillo which is only a short distance away and a quarantine has been placed on all dogs there.

City officials announced last week that all dogs must be vaccinated and tagged before March 10th. To date only ten dog tags have been issued at the City Hall. If you own a dog, you should have it vaccinated and tagged right away, for your dog or your child might become a victim if a case of rabies should show up here. We have all thought of and discussed, at one time or another, the problem of getting industries interested in locating in Clarendon, as does all towns. Whether we are in favor or not, we have all given the idea some thought and consideration. Why does a small Agricultural town such as Clarendon need industry? One man's opinion is this. Those people in Agricultural areas who have to depend upon seasonal work for their livelihood would be given steady work. Industry helps greatly in stabilizing the economy of a community which is subject to seasonal and periodic economic slumps due to seasonal crops and droughts. Industry helps make cities grow by providing more opportunity for employment. Any development which makes a city grow or helps stabilize or increase its economic development can do nothing but improve our schools. In fact one could go on and on describing the good that could come from a more stabilized economy. We may say, industrial development would only bring in undesirable people, but have you ever thought that the average person who moves into a community is as concerned about the type of community he is moving his family into.

I attended an Industrial Conference recently in Abilene which was sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and would like to pass on a few thoughts picked up which you might like to "kick around." An Industrial Program is a long range project taking five or ten years and often longer which can do wonders in Civic Development whether the original plan of industrial development is accomplished or not. Eighty-one percent of all industry in Texas is developed locally and employs an average of 42 people. Many plants do not need a great quantity of water, only enough to furnish fire protection and dispose of waste products.

There are a few things to consider before endeavoring to attract industry. Do the citizens want industry? Does our community have undesirable features which would discourage industrial development? Do we actually need industry? In our case yes or no to the first consideration is the determining factor. Think it over and talk it over with your neighbors and above all consider all the features of industrial development of our town before you come to a conclusion.

The Rt. Reverend Mosignor Joseph McQuire who serves the Pueblo Indian Mission at San Jaun, N. M. and Father Paul Hatch, parish priest of the famous 200-year-old church at the Ranchos of Taos were visitors in the city Monday; guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Stocking.

GABIE BETTS BURTON
LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

We were rather fortunate this week as a friend brought us three dozen pocket book editions. These are not duplicates of what we have, and so many men enjoy these western editions.

For the boys we received "The Lone Ranger West of Maverick Pass" and the girls have "The Forbidden Chest", a Judy Bolton series, also a Dorothy Smith story, "The Secret of the Light House." The children have a new edition, "Smoky's Big Discovery." It is a clever rabbit and carrot story.

The Fort Worth & Denver Rail Road presented the Library with a book entitled "Gulf to Rockies". The Heritage of the Fort Worth and Denver Colorado and Southern Railways 1861 - 1898. We are elated to receive this volume.

Our magazine rack has been generously replenished by Mrs. Frank Phelan and Mrs. Hershel Heath. These magazine gifts mean as much to our patronage as our books. Most of our "left over" magazines are stacked and distributed to some one, and we now have a collection to take to the colored district.

A memorial book given in memory of Dr. B. L. Jenkins is "Hudson's Southern Gardening." This is a large useful edition and given by Mrs. Ernest Clark of Clark Hospital, Memphis, Texas. Then Albert Scheitzer, The Man and His Mind" by George Seaver was dedicated to the memory of Dr. Jenkins by Bill, Helen and Cindy Lowe. These books make Living Tokens of remembrance of our Loved Ones as they pass on.

Our Library is small, but has some excellent reading.

Urges Support of 1954 Texas Heart
Fund Campaign

Additional support of the 1954 Texas Heart Fund campaign has been urged by Dr. W. R. White, Baylor University president and state chairman of the current month-long drive to raise funds in Texas to combat heart disease.

"Early campaign reports indicate Texans are contributing generously to the Heart Fund," Dr. White reported as the February drive passed the half-way point, "but additional contributions are needed if the state's citizens are to uphold their reputations as strong supporters of worthwhile causes."

Appearance of the traditional heart-shaped plastic receptacles in communities throughout the state served to remind Texans of the need for funds to support medical research programs to discover the causes and cures of heart diseases, the campaign chairman reported.

American Legion posts and auxiliaries throughout the state "have thrown their wholehearted support behind the Heart Fund efforts, and early reports indicate that additional funds were received as a result of the observance of Heart Sunday last Sunday in several Texas communities," Dr. White said.

"The sole purpose of the February campaign to raise funds for heart disease research and educational programs is summed up in this year's campaign slogan—'Help Your Heart Fund—Help Your Heart'." Dr. White pointed out. "More contributions to the fight against the nation's number one killer—heart and blood vessel diseases—mean more research, and more research means quicker discoveries of the causes of these dread diseases."

Contributions to the 1954 Heart Fund campaign in Texas may be made to local Heart Associations, or mailed to "Heart", care of the postmaster, Dr. White reminded.

THE JAYCEES SPEAK

What do we here in Clarendon have to be real proud of? A Junior College that is of top notch quality. Why do we need to do something about it? Have you ever seen some of the other colleges in the state? They all have a pretty campus sprouting with green grass and beautiful trees. They make an attractive scene for the prospective student. What can be done to our own campus? The Jaycees now have a project going to improve the CJC and CHS campus. It is no small project either, it involves some $750 of expense. This is for trees, shrubs, and flowers with grass planting planned in the proper season. These trees and shrubs need setting out now! What is holding us back? The usual time worn thing—MONEY! We are asking everyone who can to help us in this venture. If you can contribute in any amount we will assure you it will be welcome. Our college brings more money to town than most of us realize. An out of town student can hardly expect to spend less than $900 to $1200 in the town in the course of the school term. That is a lot of money coming into Clarendon when you count the out of town students let alone the resident students. We don't like to solicit money but we feel this project is worthy of such measures. Don't you? If you would like to contribute just let any Jaycee know and he will be glad to help. Arlis Mooring, at Gordon Hardware, will be glad to show anyone the detail plans drawn up by George Watson, at Watson & Antrobus Hardware, will be glad to assist in any way he can in relation to questions concerning the issue. Just ask, we will tell you all we can. Wouldn't it be a pleasure to show off a beautiful campus to visitors and prospective students? WILL YOU GIVE US YOUR SUPPORT?

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Smith and Mrs. Victor Smith were in Amarillo last week for Optical treatment.

Nuptial Vows Read In Morning Service

In a morning service at 9 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church, Clarendon, Texas, Sunday, February 14, Miss Genevieve Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith of Clarendon, became the bride of Winburn Lee Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Smith of Vernon. Rev. Ernest Phillips read the double wedding vows with Rev. William A. Cockerell offering prayer.

Vows were exchanged against the altar which was banked with tree fern and branched candelabra bearing white tapers flanked with baskets of white gladioli marked with white satin bows. Lee Ellen Bell, wearing a blue nylon dress and a wristlet of pink rosebuds, lighted the candles.

Mrs. H. R. Beck, organist, played a nuptial prelude including "Because," "Salut d'Amour," "O Perfect Love," "Ava Maria," and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Delbert Robertson attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Walter R. Smith was his son's best man.

Ushers were Lee Bell and Curtis Mears. At the church door, guests were registered by Miss Lola Mae Underdown.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white suit with black patent accessories and a small white hat designed with white velvet trim. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses. She carried a white Bible borrowed from her aunt, and followed all the traditions of something old, new, borrowed, and blue.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. W. B. Smith, chose a black faille suit with black and white accessories. Mrs. Walter R. Smith, mother of the groom, wore a purple dress with accessories of purple and beige velvet. Both wore corsages of red and white carnations.

H. Heath of San Francisco, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lamberth of Electra, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas of Amarillo.

YOUR SENATOR
REPORTS

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

COST OF LIVING:
Do price supports for farm products add substantially to the cost of living, as some people have been saying?

Farm value of the cotton in a white shirt is less than nine per cent of what you pay for the shirt. A one-pound loaf of bread sells for nearly six times what the farmer gets for the wheat in the bread. Even for so simple an item as corn meal, the farmer sells the corn for less than one-third the retail cost of the meal.
Cotton, wheat and corn are all under the farm price support program. If the price paid the farmer were cut in half, the retail cost of these products would be affected very slightly. But the farmer would be ruined.

FARM INCOME:

Anybody familiar with the situation knows that farmers are not profiteering. That is true in Texas. It is true in the Nation.

In 1947, American farmers had a realized gross income of $34,- 000,000,000. Their total net income in that year was $11,600,- 000,000.

In 1953, gross income from agriculture was $35,100,000,000.
But the farmers' NET income had dropped to $7,400,000,000.

Net income is what counts.
With the total net farm income over four billion dollars less in 1953 than in 1947, certainly neither farmers nor the price support program can be blamed for the high cost to consumers of farm products.

HOME LOAN BANKS:

Texas building and loan association managers are protesting a proposal that the Federal Home Loan Bank System be put under the charge of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

They say such a move—which would require congressional action—would jeopardize the efficient management of the Federal Home Loan Bank System
under the direction of its board.
They make the further point that ownership of the Federal Home Loan Banks by some 6,000 associations throughout the United States is in line with the American system of private enterprise.

AGREEMENT: If you find 100 men in complete agreement—you can bet your bottom dollar 99 of them are doing the agreeing and one is doing the thinking.

James Whistler signed his correspondence and paintings with a small drawing of a butterfly.

1954 WHEAT:

Anyone who has not designated his over-planted wheat should come by the County Office on or BEFORE March 1st and designate the fields or plots of over-planted wheat. Performance reporters will start measuring all wheat in the near future.

1953 ACP:

All applications for payment have been completed except for those producers who have an approval for a winter cover crop practice. The applications for payment will have to be held in this office until they have been signed by the producer. If you have been notified to sign your application for payment, please do so at your earliest convenience. These Forms must be signed before payment can be made.

COTTON ACREAGE INCREASE:

The local ASC committee is now making the necessary calculations for eligible farms to receive an increase in cotton acreage. As soon as the calculations have been completed and checked carefully, revised allotments will be mailed to the farm operators. Therefore, it will not be necessary for a farm operator to make application for an increase in his farm allotment under the new legislation.

1954 ACP:

Please report performance of 1954 ACP practices as soon as they are carried out. Also when approvals are mailed out, please notice the expiration date, and if you find that the practice cannot be carried out by the date shown on the approval, either write or come by this office and request an extension of time. If an extension of time is not requested, the approval will automatically be cancelled on the date of expiration shown on the approval.

LEROY "PETE" LAMASTER

LaMaster Announces For Congress As Republican Candidate

PERRYTON — Leroy "Pete" LaMaster today announced his candidacy to become Representative in Congress for the Eighteenth Congressional District.
Furthermore, Mr. LaMaster, who has been a life-long Democrat heretofore, also announced that his candidacy will be subject to the Republican Party primaries
in July.

"When I ran for Congressman
in 1950 it was as a conservative Democrat. In 1952 I supported President Eisenhower. Since then I have studied his administration's program carefully; and am now in thorough general accord with it. Thus my candidacy now is properly as a Republican. If elected, I shall be a full member of the administration team, assist in organizing a Republican Congress and be in a position to serve the Panhandle to utmost advantage."

In the Congressional election four years ago, Mr. LaMaster ran third, only failing to achieve the run-off by some 700 votes. Remarkably, he accomplished this result with little organization and modest funds of his own.

"Pete", as he has been known since childhood, plans to take specific positions on the important Panhandle and national problems requiring solution. Thus he is vitally interested in agriculture; oil and gas; and water.

As to agriculture, he favors a continuance of the present farm program until it appears certain that a better one can be worked out. In regard to oil and gas, he plans to work to maintain present depletion tax allowances for farmers, ranchers and lease owners to encourage drilling of new wells and an adequate return for the risks involved. As to water, he favors pushing very actively co-operative measures in Congress which will assist in the building of the Canadian River Dam at the earliest possible date.

"Pete" LaMaster was born and raised in Ochiltree County, one of ten children of a pioneer farm and ranching family. He attended John Tarleton Agricultural College, Texas Tech and graduated in agriculture at Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville in 1941.

In 1942 he volunteered for Navy service, this extending for 3½ years. Included was participation in three major assault
landings and in the initial occupation of Hokido Island of Japan.
Since then, "Pete", who is now 35, has been a wheat farmer near Perryton. His wife is the former Carolyn Conley of Ochiltree County.

Mr. LaMaster hopes that his many supporters in both major parties, and all other voters who favor the Administration's program, will give full consideration to his candidacy. He states that his one desire is to serve effectively all of the people of all of the 28 counties in the district. He feels strongly, that, as a Republican Congressman from Texas in a Republican administration he will have maximum opportunity to do this. He regards it as entirely likely that he will be made a member of the powerful House
Agricultural Committee,

"WE HAVE GROWN BECAUSE—WE HAVE HELPED OTHERS TO GROW"

There is a new bulletin just released by the Superintendent of Documents in Washington, D. C. called Ways To Cook Rabbit. Goodness sakes alive, I hope they are not preparing us for any special diet that might be in store for us.

A little prayer we like;
Oh Lord,
"For greater strength from thee
we pray,
To face the problems along the way.
Each dawning morn again we say;
We need Thy help to meet the day."

Recently when the moon was to be in total eclipse on that night, the teacher was telling her pupils to be sure and watch for it.
"Oh", said little Johnnie, "Which channel is it on?"

One of our relatives was telling her mother in law: "Sometimes soon I would like to make a trip through New Mexico, especially around the town of Alberquer-que."

"Why", said the mother-in-law,
"You've been over there. You spent your honeymoon there."

"Yeah, that's right. But then I couldn't see anything but that son of yours."

Moral to this tale might be;
"Don't take your honeymoon until you can enjoy the scenery too."
Or it might be: "If you want to kill two birds with one trip, wait until the new bird gets a little older."

Newest member to the Ain't Smoking Right Now Society is
W. H. Hardin of Box 156 Canyon, Texas. Mr. Hardin says he feels better alright but he does still have a problem that of what to do when the seams on his trousers have been let out the limit.
If we should try to give an answer to this problem someone might take one look at our figure and say, "Look who's talking."

Mrs. C. B. Hunter of Rt. 1, Claude, Texas is looking for a poem that goes something like the following. She would like the whole poem as well as the name of the author. It goes from memory;

Better than grandeur, better than
gold,

Better than rank and title a thousand-fold;

Is a healthy body, a mind at ease.
And simple pleasures that always plesae.

Lowly living and lofty thoughts,
Enable and enrich a poor man's cot . . .

Someone please send Mrs.
Hunter the correct lines and the name of the author.

Miss Dorothy Johnson, who writes to this column regularly from way up at 307 N. East St., Oberlin, Kansas, sends us the following clever little bit of humor. Even though the joke is on us we just couldn't help using
it;

Woman, they say
In humor is lacking—
That's so she can love man
Instead of laughing.

Miss Dovie Brown, a shut-in who writes to us often from 648
N. E. Park St., Oklahoma City sends us this thought, "Use the talent you possess, for the woods
would be very silent; if no birds sang except the best."

Nationwide at the end of 1953,
there were 252,000 widowed mothers with children under 18
in their care who are getting survivors payments under social security. The average monthly payment to a widow and two children is now $111.00 monthly.

Famed Scientist Gives Views On Long Life

PEARL RIVER, N. Y. — Dr. Benjamin Minge Duggar, discoverer of the "wonder drug" aureomycin, says that his philosophy for a long, satisfying life is: "Keep active, mentally and physically."

He was 81 years old on September 1st of this year.

Dr. Duggar practices what he preaches. At an age when most men would be content to sit in the shade and reminisce, this famed scientist still carries on a full-time research program.

He also finds time to have a small vegetable garden every summer—raising tomatoes, corn, okra and lettuce—and to play an occasional round of golf. He also fishes and in the winter he gets in some bowling.

Dr. Duggar is not a physical superman. He stands about five feet-five inches and constantly weighs 122 pounds.

The story of how this man gained world-wide prominence is one of the most dramatic stories of our time. In 1943, at the age of 71, he was forced by state law to retire from the University of Wisconsin, where he taught botany. Not content to sit in the shade and hold his hands, Dr. Duggar came to Lederle Laboratories and began searching for an antibiotic that would be more effective than penicillin.

Dr. Duggar worked three years with teams of chemists, bacteriologists, pharmacologists and other scientists, culturing thousands of earth molds, before the "golden wonder drug" aureomycin was isolated and developed for commercial production. The antibiotic was put on the market in 1948, when Dr. Duggar was 76.

But his scientific endeavors did not stop there. He is still working with the mysterious molds which live in the earth, hoping to find another antibiotic drug which will be even more beneficial than aureomycin.

Dr. Duggar was born in 1872, at Gallion, Alabama, son of a country doctor. There were five boys. One brother is still living (79), and the others, two of whom were older than the scientist, died in recent years. Dr. Duggar's father lived to 82 and his mother to 79.

He recalls that he was riding a horse at the age of four. He has never been seriously ill, and even escaped many of the usual childhood diseases.

Does he smoke? Yes, a pipe—but with moderation. He also has an occasional brandy or highball. "Moderation is a wonderful thing," he advises. "Work and play with moderation."

Does he ever plan to retire? He says he does, but most of his associates take this with a grain of salt, for Dr. Duggar is a man with an insatiable curiosity about things scientific.

What could keep a man working at his age? Dr. Duggar sincerely hopes that he can make another substantial contribution to medical science.

"Also, I love my work," he says, "and that's very important. I get a great personal satisfaction from scientific accomplishment."

Dr. Duggar feels strongly that there is a wonderful future in the field of scientific research for young people who have the interest and talent. Industrial laboratories, he says, are opening up vast new horizons that were unknown to the college researcher years ago.

"We now have real teamwork," he explains. "The colleges and universities constitute our principal reservoir of scientific talent; the industrial laboratories can supply the developmental know-how, the money and the sales. Together these two great scientific interests should carry us to magnificent new discoveries which will make life safer and longer."

John Law's scheme for exploiting the resources of French Louisiana was known as the Mississippi Bubble.

Maryland is called the "Free State of Maryland" because it was the first and for many years the only state definitely to proclaim religious toleration.

It gets you brilliant performance. It gets you more economy. It gets you added safety.

District Farm Bureau Meeting Feb. 26th

Important issues now before Congress will be discussed at a District Farm Bureau meeting February 26th at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo, according to Lee Shaller, Secretary of the Donley County Farm Bureau.

Officers, members of the legislative committee and the publicity chairman of the Donley County Farm Bureau have received invitations from Texas Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond. In urging them to attend, the state farm leader stressed the importance of the meeting as it relates to national legislation affecting agriculture.

"Farm Bureau members have spent a good deal of time and effort in developing the policies of the organization," Hammond stated. "These policies, to be worthwhile, must be executed. For that reason, and because of the nature of the meeting agenda, it is vital that we have Farm Bureau leaders from each county in attendance."

The meeting is one of a series of 12 policy execution sessions being held over the state in February and March. Subjects include agricultural price supports, natural resources, labor-management and foreign trade. Speakers include C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice-president of the Texas Farm Bureau; Loys D.

Barbour of Iowa Park, District 3 director; R. G. Arnold of Auburn, Ala., assistant organization director for the Farm Bureau Southern Region; and M. C. Jaynes of College Station, organization specialist for the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

The meeting for counties in this district will begin at 10 a. m.

and SOCIAL SECURITY

Most people who are sole owners or partners in a trade or business were brought under social security coverage as of January 1, 1951. J. R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, points out that these self-employed persons will be making their social security reports on their net profits for 1953 before March 15. He lists the following guides for the preparation of complete reports.

1. Coverage under the law and reporting of net profits for social security purposes is required by law. It is not voluntary.

2. The self-employed person is required to report under his own social security number, just like people who are employees.

3. The self-employment return is filed once a year and is a part of the individual's income tax return. It is made on a special form, Schedule C, furnished by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

4. Investment income, such as rentals from real estate and income from stocks and bonds, is not covered and should not be reported. Likewise, income from operation of a farm or from the practice of most professions is excluded and not to be reported for social security purposes.

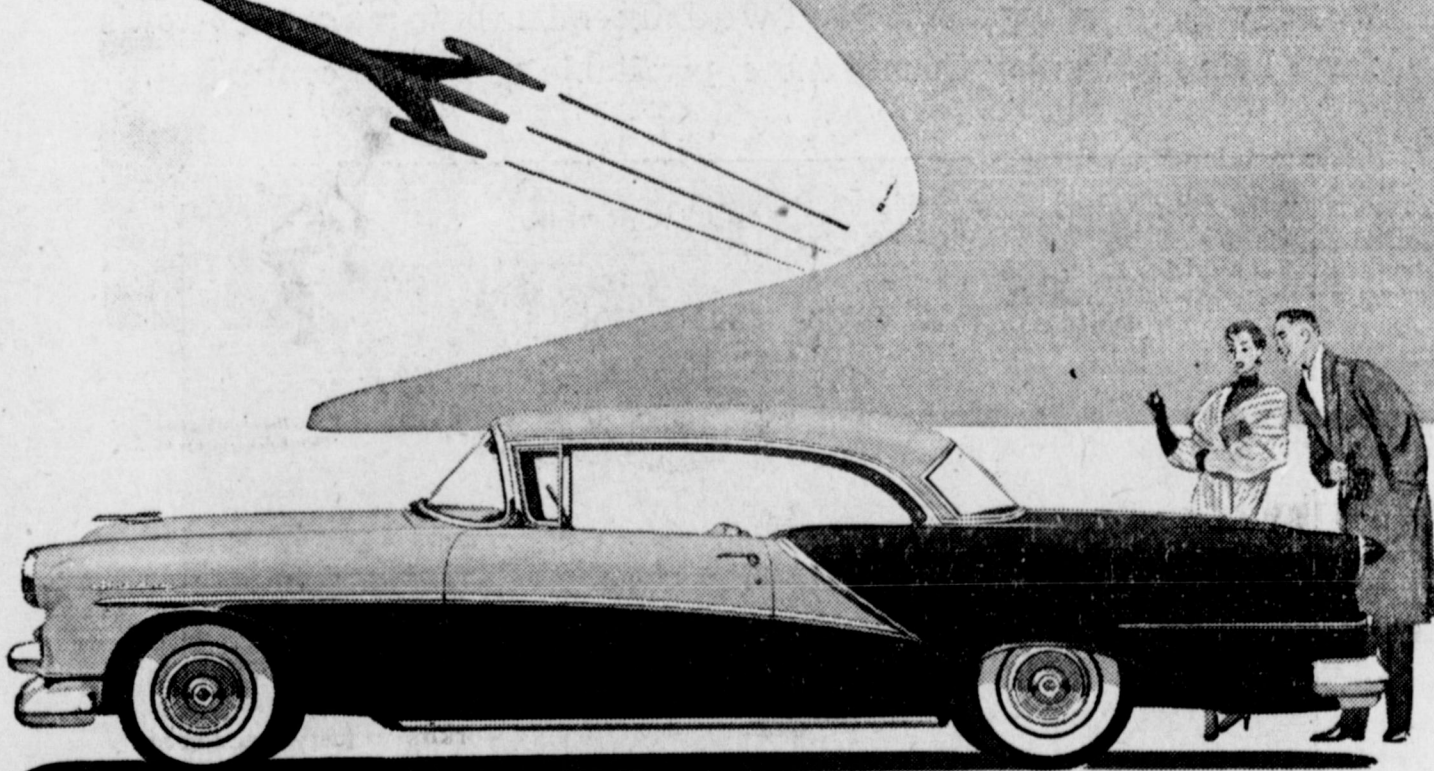

5. All business expenses which are allowable deductions for income tax purposes must be taken for social security purposes. This is true even though total income is so small that no income tax has to be paid.

The Amarillo Social Security Office has just received a supply of a new pamphlet called "Helpful Guides on Reporting Your Self-Employment Tax." These pamphlets are free and can be obtained by contacting that office by letter, by phone, or in person.

"Be Modern — Cook Electrically"

West Texas Utilities Company

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

BEWARE, PETER COTTONTAIL

Peter Rabbit is coming into quite some prominence. The U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, has recently issued Home and Garden Bulletin

No. 35. Its title, "Ways To Cook Rabbit." This is a sixteen page booklet for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., for the price of ten cents per copy. It is, no doubt, intended to appeal to all nationalities, as it contains twenty recipes, among which we find Rabbit Chop Suey, Creole Rabbit, Curried Rabbit, and Hassenpfeffer, not to mention the old American stand-bys of Rabbit Pie, Rabbit Hash, and Plain Stewed or Fried Rabbit, with or without dumplings. It not only gives pointers on cooking, but also on buying and thawing rabbits. I was somewhat amazed, because the researchers who prepared the booklet overlooked the main item. They should have at least had a paragraph on "How to Catch a Rabbit." I have eaten a lot of rabbit in my day under quite a few aliases. Most church cook books carry a pretty good run of recipes for preparing the animal after it is caught. I never experienced any trouble in the cooking. It was always the catching that seemed to be the most trouble.

USE OF THE MAILS FOR LEWD AND FILTHY PUBLICATIONS

My good friend, J. C. Phillips, over at Borger, sent me a magazine the other day that is entered as second class mail. He called my attention to several stories and articles in the magazine that could be described as nothing short of absolutely filthy. I have forwarded this publication to the Post Office Department with proper request for investigation into the matter and prosecution by the Justice Department if warranted.

The Department recently conducted rather extensive hearings, which were no doubt rather costly to the taxpayer, concerning a postcard that was being mailed out by an Oklahoma cowboy. There was one word on the card that was certainly not acceptable in decent society and should not have been used. However, as far as pure unadulterated filth is concerned, that postcard couldn't get within forty miles of the publication that J. C. Phillips sent me. Of course, the publishers of that magazine are not some poor Oklahoma cowboy. They are unknown, as far as the publication shows. In fact, the ones who make the profit out of these filthy publications are hiding behind some corporate name or other type of name that does not disclose their identity. If the Oklahoma cowboy's activities caused such an uproar, the publication that I sent them should make the lid go off; that is, if it's decency instead of politics that some of the bureaucrats are interested in. These publications should not only be taken out of the mails, but they should be taken off the news stands and completely out of circulation.

THE TEXAS DELEGATION

I have just come back from an open meeting of the Texas Delegation in the Speaker's dining room at the Capitol. The delegation meets each Wednesday. Some of the meetings are closed and others are open. Today we had as speaker Sir Roger Makins, Ambassador to this country from Great Britain. He expects to make a trip to Texas in the near future, but will probably confine his schedule to the eastern and central parts of the state. I extended to him an invitation to visit the Panhandle, but he advised me that he had already seen the Panhandle and would take advantage of the invitation at a later date. There were quite a number of visitors at the meeting.

THE HYDROGEN BOMB

The President made public the other day the fact that this country had exploded a thermonuclear bomb at the Island of Eniwetok in the autumn of 1952. Since that announcement, Members of Congress have been given further information on the subject. I have just returned from viewing films of this operation. The information conveyed to us by these films is, of course, strictly classified; therefore, I can give you no information as to anything that I saw or heard. I can tell you, though, that you should never underestimate the progress that this country is making in this field.

The Army maintains 111 procurement offices and market centers to buy all items other than those locally procured for its operations in the United States and overseas. Eighty-three of the offices and procurement centers are located in the United States. The remaining 28 are overseas.

Anxiety for the well-being of soldiers in combat rose to such a pitch that during one five-month period of the Korea war the Adjutant General's Office received more than 45,000 telephone inquiries.

Old-age and survivors insurance benefits at the rate of $254 million monthly were paid under the social security program in December 1953. Of this total, $190

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—What will happen at a special session of the Texas Legislature, to convene about March 15, depends upon action—or inaction—by the U. S. Supreme Court on this state's gas gathering tax.

There are three possibilities: 1. That the high court will not hand down its decision before or during the session. In that event, a new tax bill must be passed if the teachers are going to receive their pay increase.

2. That the court will declare the tax invalid. Under those circumstances, the Legislature could rewrite the bill so as to remove the court's objections.

3. That the court will approve the tax. If this is the ruling, Texas will have sufficient funds on hand and in sight to grant the teachers their salary hike.

In announcing that he would call the legislators to Austin for a 30-day meeting around mid-March, Governor Shivers said that if the gas gathering tax is ruled out by the court, "it probably will result in increasing some existing taxes."

House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt disagreed with the governor on several points.

Primarily, Senterfitt reasoned that the Legislature should not be called until the Supreme Court's ruling on the gas tax is made.

Money to pay the teachers should come from the gas gathering tax, the speaker argued, and it will be extremely difficult to pass any other kind of a tax bill during a 30-day session.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey said he considers the March 15th date "good timing." He pointed out that the best indications are that the U. S. Supreme Court will rule on the gas gathering tax late in February or early in March. Ramsey pledged his full support to the teacher pay raise plan endorsed by Governor Shivers and the Texas State Teachers Association.

If the teacher pay problem is resolved before the special session's 30 days are ended, other subjects may be submitted to the Legislature for its consideration, Governor Shivers said.

Among these subjects he included: laws to clamp down on Communists; building programs for medical college branches and rehabilitation of Texas School for Deaf buildings; additional pay raises for state employees.

With the special session in the offing, political activity was in the doldrums.

Speculation continued as to whether Shivers would run for reelection, seek some other office, or retire, but the governor wasn't talking.

Reporters asking him about his plans got this answer: "I might be too busy to make any announcement."

Senterfitt, who had announced his intention to become a candidate for governor, declared, "I have had no change of mind since then."

For the present however, Senterfitt said, he will have his mind on the special session.

There was no word from other prospective gubernatorial candidates, all of whom apparently were waiting to see what the governor would do.

—tpa—

A Houston group, the Citizens Association for Fair Telephone Rates, wants Governor Shivers to place the subject of utility rate regulation before the special session of the Legislature.

Walter Keith Jr., head of the association, said that the organization has 4,000 signatures on a petition asking for the establishment of a state utilities commission.

More subject matter to come before the Legislature, sooner or later, is the motor vehicle inspection law.

Flaws in it have been found, says an announcement by the Texas Legislative Council, and revision is needed in several respects.

For example, the council pointed out, it is now possible for a driver to lose his license even though he was without blame in an accident, if the other party involved failed to sign a waiver.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH CARBON MONOXIDE

Automobile exhaust fumes, which contain poisonous carbon monoxide, are a real hazard too often ignored. The tail pipe of the car ahead of you can spill its gases right into the heating and ventilating system of your car. To prevent headaches, drowsiness and more serious effects of carbon monoxide, follow these rules. When driving in traffic close behind other cars, keep air-intake ventilators closed whenever possible. When your own heater is operating, always keep a window open an inch or two.—CHANGING TIMES.

When people believed the world flat, they said it rested on four elephants, and the elephants rested on a turtle.

ALL FAITHS

Are You One of These?

'Let your light so shine before men that they will see your good works and glorify thy Father, which is in Heaven.'

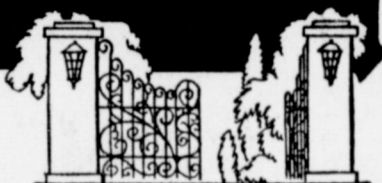

In the busy world of today, we are too often prone to forget this simple truth and become a false leader of men. Our responsibilities to our God are to follow His teachings. Your life on earth should be a pattern for others to follow. Make sure that your church is a great influence in your life, because others are following after you, and your life will serve as an example to them. This week and every week, join your friends in the church of your choice.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN—Hottest news out of Austin is the Duval County scrap which continues to make headlines.

Governor Allan Shivers says he will declare martial law if necessary "to help clean up that mess in Duval County." He amplified that statement by answering that he will take any and all necessary steps to assure the people of their freedom and rid the state of "political thieves and ballot gangsters."

The present furor stems from a courthouse tussle between George B. Parr, often referred to as "The Duke of Duval," and a couple of Texas Rangers—Captain Alfred Allee and Joe Bridge; plus a Federal investigation of income tax returns of political figures in the turbulent South Texas area — including Parr; and a state investigation of other matters.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd reports that he has had investigators working in Duval County for the past year, looking into the use of state school, public welfare and highway funds in the county.

U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell reported from Alice that three special agents of the Treasury Department are investigating income tax returns of George Parr and a few others.

Shivers has asked that six more be assigned to assist in an investigation of the county's financial affairs.

Rangers Allee and Bridge were charged with assault with intent to murder George Parr. They are free on bond.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says Allee and Bridge "were sent down there to preserve the peace and to protect life and property and to enforce all laws — and they will remain there."

The U. S. Department of Justice has placed a fugitive warrant against Alfredo Cervantes, named as the trigger man in the 1952 "mistake" slaying of Buddy Floyd — son of Jacob S. Floyd of Alice, the attorney who is defending Allee and Bridge. The senior Floyd testified that his son was killed because he was mistaken for him.

Mario (El Turko) Sapet, a former deputy sheriff under Parr, was convicted of murder and conspiracy to murder in the shooting. He was sentenced to 99 years.

Nago Alaniz, then law partner of the present District Attorney Raeburn Norris, was charged with conspiracy to murder and murder in the case, and is free on bond. He has not yet been tried.

Parr once was convicted and served some time in prison for income tax violation. He received a pardon from President Truman.

He is free now on $1,500 bond on a charge of carrying a pistol illegally near a meeting of the Freedom Party, his political opposition.

It was while awaiting this hearing that the Parr-Rangers scuffle occurred.

Involved with Parr was his nephew, Duval Co. Sheriff Archer Parr. It started when one of the Rangers (Bridge) slapped the sheriff for what the Ranger termed an insulting remark. The second Ranger (Allee) and George Parr then became engaged in a scuffle.

Parr claimed Allee pulled a gun and was going to kill him, but the screams of Mrs. Caro Brown, an Alice Eco reporter, prevented.

Another probe is being made by the Duval County Grand Jury. District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin, Parr-backed office holder, ordered the grand jury to find out from everybody—including Shepperd—what they know about law violations in Duval County.

J. C. King, foreman of the Duval Co. Grand jury, is Parr's partner in a San Diego automobile sales agency and also is chairman of the county's Democratic executive committee.

Laughlin, who is awaiting the outcome of a suit brought by a group of lawyers practicing in his court, to remove him from office for alleged official misconduct, noted in his charge that neither he nor District Attorney Norris had been asked to assist in an investigation.

Shepperd has requested the Treasury and Post Office departments to send more investigators.

"We need more people down there before the courthouse burns down," he said.

Five Texas Rangers are in the immediate area now, and Shivers says he will send 50 if necessary. "Just as there is no room for communism in Texas, there is no room for political thieves and ballot gangsters," he said.
