Local teacher salaries average for area

Teacher salaries in Iowa Park and Holliday school districts are slightly below state average, but about average for districts in this area.

The information was released recently by the state comptroller's office, to be used in considering possible legislative action in raising teacher salaries over the state.

Comptroller Bob Bullock was appointed by Gov. Mark White to the

Select Committee on Education, and reasoned that the figures "are important in any discussion of education in Texas."

Iowa Park teachers in elementary classrooms averaged last year receiving $17,068, while secondary teachers received an average of $19,363.

Holliday teachers received average salaries of $16,603 and $19,214, respectively.

All the figures in the list include full-time teachers, excluding special education, vocational and bilingual teachers. Average salaries were compiled from information furnished to the Texas Education Agency by local school districts, and include state base and local enrichment.

Also included in the comptroller's figures were the 1982-83 salary of the districts' general superintendents, the average daily attendance (ADA), and the ratio of administrators to teachers.

Averages can differ between school districts not only because of what is paid above state scale, because of degrees held and number of years in education.

The average salaries for elementary and secondary teachers in this area are below the state averages. They are $17,449 and $19,090, respectively.

The same holds true for teachers in District 3-AAAA: $17,479 and $19,215, respectively. These averages do not include teachers in the Saginaw Boswell schools, because their's are part of the Fort Worth district and were not considered.

Gainesville had the highest salaries in Dist. 3-AAAA, paying $19,138 and $20,458. In the immediate area, Wichita Falls was the highest, with average salaries of $18,705 and $19,942 respectively.

Other average salaries paid in the district to elementary and secondary teachers are: Azle, $15,838 and $17,867; Burkburnett, $17,859 and $18,307; and Vernon, $16,266 and $19,355, respectively.

While Iowa Park pays its superintendent, Harold Cowley, slightly above the state average, $41,271 as compared to the state's $41,176, it is still considerably lower than the salaries paid in the district and area.

The average salary for superintendents in Dist. 3-AAAA is $49,515, while in the area the average salary is $47,783.

Iowa Park's ADA is the lowest in the district, 1,632. Others in the district are: Wichita Falls, 12,849; Azle, 3,329; Burkburnett, 3,180; Gainesville, 2,465 and Vernon, 2,357.

All schools in the district, with the exception of Azle and Burkburnett, have a ratio of administrators to teachers of 1-6. The other two are 1-8.

Deer Park, near Houston, is the envy of most educators when it comes to salaries. The average salary for elementary teachers there is $27,090 and the secondary $28,818.

By contrast, the lowest paid elementary teachers work in the Newcastle ISD, $11,848, while the state's lowest paid secondary school teachers earn an average salary of $10,934 in the Sulphur Bluff ISD.

Houston ISD had the highest ADA, 175,329, while Allamoore had the lowest, eight.

Superintendents' salaries ranged from a low of $24,416 at Cranfills Gap to a high of $96,000 for the Houston ISD.

Holliday had an ADA of 725 and 1-6 administrator-teacher ratio.

Electra's average salaries were $18,117 and $18,221, respectively, with an even 700 ADA and 1-9 ratio.

NO INJURIES resulted from a spectacular one-vehicle accident shortly before noon Friday. Todd Bearden, 17, of Kamay, was traveling north on Coleman Park Road when, as he approached the 90-degree turn east, his brakes failed to stop the Blazer he had purchased only two weeks earlier. Additionally, applying the brakes caused him to be unable to steer the vehicle, and he ran head-on into a Texas Electric pole, breaking it. The hot lines sparked, setting dry weeds afire along the fence row, but was extinguished quickly by volunteer firemen. Bearden was alone at the time of the accident.

IOWA PARK AND HOLLIDAY

June good month for sales taxes

Sales taxes for June were up both in Iowa Park and Holliday, according to the latest information from the state comptroller's office.

Iowa Park's sales tax rebate for last month was $7,980.79, some $1,600 above the $6,339.21 received for June of 1982.

Holliday's check was more than $1,000 greater than the same month last year. June's sales tax was $5,067.94, compared with $4,018.71 last year.

To date, Iowa Park has received 41.55 percent more sales tax than it did for the same six-month period of last year: $67,546.62 as compared to $47,717.82.

Even with last month's increase, however, Holliday has received 22.47 percent less in sales tax this year as compared to last year: $42,211.23 and $54,441.88.

Other Wichita County cities thus far this year are running behind last year. Wichita Falls is down 6.56%, Electra 28.95% and Burkburnett is almost breaking even, 0.88% down.

Only Lakeside City and Windthorst are on the plus side for the year in Archer County.

Lakeside began collecting sales tax last year and is 42.30% up over last year, even though the community's check for June was $720.07. Windthorst is 16.78% over last year, having received $9,455.28 during the first six months of 1983.

Archer City is down 18.11%, Scotland 12.83% and Megargel 59.33%.

Council approves two spending resolutions

The city council took care of two pieces of business Monday night before plunging into a scheduled budget work session.

Both pieces were taken care of by resolutions, one pertaining to the Southwestern Bell Telephone rate increase request and the other to an expenditure for Burnett Field.

Resolution 83-11 expressed support of the Texas Municipal League to investigate the rate request. A part of that support is financial, appropriating four cents per capita for a total of approximately $250.

The second resolution authorized Administrator James Barrington to make expenditures up to $4,200 for repairs to Burnett Field, which was heavily damaged in a major wind storm recently.

One of the main light poles, on which switches and a transformer were attached, was broken in half by the winds. A contractor had given a maximum cost for repairs which was used as the base to be considered.

Barrington told the council the contractor was aware of the time element for repairing the equipment, referring to a four-day slow pitch tournament which is slated to get underway this evening and sponsored by the MuleSkinners.

As the council began its study of the 1983-84 budget, Barrington said "we want to balance this budget. The past year's budget was not balanced, and has been covered by some carry-over funds."

No indication has been given on whether a rate increase of hike in service charges will be required for the new budget. With more workshops planned, including one this evening, aldermen will be working to see what can be cut and what can be included to finalize the new budget.

jewelry, a coin collection, 128 silver spoons from around the world and French antique candelabras more than 200 years old.

Griffin has offered a $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of those responsible and information should be given to the Iowa Park Police Dept.

The home was on the department's house watch list, and the burglar was apparently frightened by the arrival of an officer.

Entry appeared to be through a back door, and exit through a bedroom window.

Police turned over a report to the county welfare department of an advertisement to give or sell a young male child.

Though it is believed to be a hoax, a local woman found on the bulletin board of Davis Wash House a hand written note accompanied by a photo of an unidentified child, offering the child for $600. No contact address or phone number was listed.

Rape, burglary reported Sunday

An aggravated rape and major home burglary were reported by police over the weekend.

Police said a 28-year-old woman was awakened at 5:50 a.m. Sunday and was sexually assaulted after being threatened.

The victim, alone in the house at the time, described her assailant as white with medium build. Because no lights were turned on, she was unable to describe his age, height and weight.

Entry into the house was through a screen the assailant had reportedly cut.

Sometime between 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 2:47 a.m. Sunday, the home of Walter Griffin at 607 W. Clara was burglarized.

Griffin and his wife were notified by Iowa Park police after they had arrived in Florida on a vacation trip. He flew home to determine the loss.

Included among the items taken, valued at about $10,000, were

Cowley named recipient of Houston scholarship

Officials of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo handed out $400,000 in college scholarships at San Antonio Thursday, and an Iowa Parkan was there to get his share.

James Cowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cowley, was among 50 Future Farmers of America recipients of a four-year, $8,000 scholarship awarded by the Houston organization.

James was named valedictorian of his spring graduating class at Iowa Park High School. An FFA member three years, he was a member of the land and livestock judging teams and was a participant at the state FFA convention. He also attended leadership conferences and received awards for public speaking and showmanship.

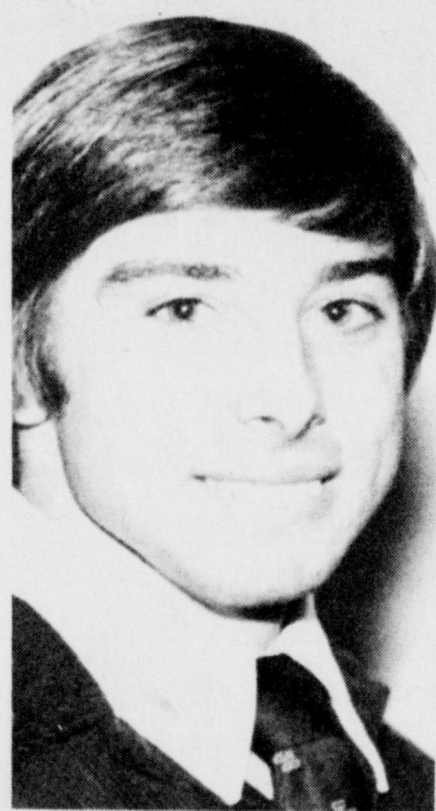

While in high school, he placed in district University Interscholastic League competition in public speaking, informative speaking and calculator use. He was a member of the varsity tennis team and a patrol leader at the Boy Scouts National Jamboree.

Cowley, who plans to major in agricultural education at East Texas State Univ., where he has already enrolled, was one of 50 scholarship recipients at the state FFA convention.

The Houston show, which also presented 50 similar scholarships to 4-H members during the State 4-H Roundup last month, is the largest donor of agricultural scholarships in the United States. During the coming school year, the show will have 499 students on scholarships in Texas colleges and universities, at a commitment of more than $2.2 million.

The winners, carefully selected from hundreds of applicants, are the best in the state from the standpoints of academics and leadership. They must major in some form of agriculture at a Texas college or university in order to receive the scholarship.

The monies used to fund the scholarship program come directly from the proceeds generated by spectators at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, a civic, charitable organization whose efforts, actions and revenues are used directly to benefit youth and support education.

In presenting the scholarships, show president Norwin Gerhart noted that the efforts, hard work and dedication of the show volunteers are geared toward this direction.

"We want to help these exceptional students become leaders in the agricultural field. Presenting these scholarships and insuring an education for these young people is one of the highlights of our year," he said.

Cowley had earlier been notified of four other scholarships he would receive.

Two of them were from East Texas State Univ. One was a $4,000 scholarship which he will use one-quarter of this year and return the balance because it conflicts with the Houston scholarship.

The second was a $500 ETSU entering freshman scholarship that is given to 75 enrolling students at the institute each year.

Besides the state scholarship awarded to class valedictorians, which pays tuition and fees to any state-supported school one year, Cowley was also named recipient of the $150 Bob Cole Scholarship, awarded by the Rotary Club.

Commissioners' Court here Monday

The Wichita County Commissioners' Court will hold a regularly-scheduled meeting in Iowa Park Monday.

To begin at 10 a.m., the meeting will be held in the county agricultural building. The meeting's agenda was not available at press time.

Free bedding straw is available

Bedding straw which can be used for improving lawn and garden soil will be available free today and Friday at the Iowa Park FFA project barn on East Ruby.

George Brandt, one of the agriculture teachers, said residents can pick up the straw between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. either day. The straw is left over from last spring's FFA and 4-H Project Show, and also from some of the pens where project animals are kept.

Community brochure report given

Reports on new office hours for the Chamber of Commerce and progress on a community brochure were heard Monday at the monthly meeting of Chamber board of directors.

The Chamber's new hours are 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, and the office will remain open through the noon hour, according to Linda Merrick, president.

The new hours became effective when Mrs. Dwain (Winnie) Holmes assumed the position as Chamber secretary.

Wayne House reported on a study he had made toward having a new community brochure printed. The current brochure was printed some 15 years ago.

Hefner, Perry nuptials solemnized Saturday evening

The altar decorations at First Baptist Church Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Deena Denise Hefner and Brett Lyl Perry attested to careful planning and ingenuity in creating a perfect setting devoid of over embellishment.

The setting was illuminated by a distinctive atmosphere provided by white cathedral candles uprising from two 15-branched brass candelabra decorated with plaques of leatherleaf greenery and pink and white carnations in the center of the altar. On either side, the candles shed their light in spiral candelabra trimmed in duplicate fashion. At the far left and far right of the altar, tall brass stands held urns of Boston fern. A prayer bench in the foreground keyed the reverence of decorations.

Family pews were designated with white candles burning in clear hurricane globes banked by leather-leaf.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hefner of Iowa Park and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyl Perry of Waukomis, Okla. Rev. Howell Farnsworth officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The music provided by Paul Tate, pianist, Mrs. Kenneth Via, organist, and Mrs. Russell Guyette, soloist, helped to create a proper mood for the service. For prelude selections, the pianist played "Evergreen," "Rustles of Spring," "Piccadilly Canon," and "Somewhere in Time," playing the last number while the mothers were being seated. Mrs. Via furnished the wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn and the accompaniment for Mrs. Guyette's solo "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was glowing in an exquisite gown that radiated her happiness on the day of her dreams when she entered the sanctuary with her father, who escorted her to the altar where he placed her hand in the groom's hand and presented her in marriage for her parents.

Her lovely ivory formal wedding gown was fashioned of matte taffeta and French Alencon lace. The natural waist bodice of lace was fitted and featured a sabrina neckline with a deep V plunge in the back with a drop waist. The charm of the bishop sleeves cuffed at the wrists was enhanced with inserts of lace trimmed in crystal pleating.

The full skirt was distinguished with a lace insert adorned with crystal pleating on one side that formed a chapel length train encircled with the dainty pleat trim.

The bride's headpiece, a perfect complement for her gown, featured a wreath of Alencon lace and pearls from which her bridal illusion veil drifted to fingertip length.

Her silk bouquet, created by her mother who made all the bouquets, corsages, centerpieces and boutonnieres for the wedding and reception, captured the special beauty of ivory roses, both full and sweetheart, pink roses and accents of baby's breath and narrow multi-folded flat satin bows.

Remembering to keep traditions, the bride carried a prayer book that had belonged to the groom's great-grandmother and a watch that had belonged to her great-grandmother for "something old." She chose her mother's pearl ear rings for "something borrowed," her wedding gown for "something new" and a garter made by Mrs. John Cassidy Sr. and presented to her when she was graduated from high school for "something blue."

The bride's chosen colors of ivory and pink came into full view in her attendants' gowns and bouquets. Their ivory crepe gowns were designed with scoop necks and puff sleeves bordered with lace ruffles. The waists and sleeves were trimmed with satin ribbon, and the full gathered skirts fell to the floor from beneath lace peplums.

They carried silk colonial nosegays composed of pink roses, ivory sweetheart roses tipped in pink with baby's breath and ribbon bows providing accents.

Four of the bride's longtime friends and classmates and the groom's sister composed the charming quintet. Mrs. Shannon Guthrie was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Melvin Maly of Enid, Okla., sister of the groom, Mrs. Dale McCreary, Miss Mary Miller and Mrs. Russell Guyette.

The groom's attendants, all of Enid, Okla. were Trey Perry, his cousin, the best man, Melvin Maly, his brother-in-law, James Kokojan, John Lephart and Dan Fluman, the groomsmen. Guests were ushered and seated by Lynn Fulfer and Russell Guyette of Iowa Park.

The groom wore a black peak tuxedo with tails, ivory pleated shirt, black bow tie and cummerbund. To match the flowers in the bride's bouquet, he wore an ivory rose tipped in pink for a boutonniere. The groomsmen, fathers and ushers wore black peak tuxedos, ivory pleated shirts, black bow ties and vests and each wore a pink rose combined with baby's breath boutonniere.

Mothers of the bride and groom graced their long gowns with corsages formed of dusty rose sweetheart roses and ivory carnations.

Mrs. Hefner was attired in a mauve Qiana gown designed with V neck, long chiffon sleeves, pleated skirt and a wide belt covered in seed pearls. Mrs. Perry chose a mauve chiffon gown featuring a V neck bordered with double rows of ruffles, cap sleeves and a gathered belt.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Jane Dickey sat at the wedding book in the church foyer to direct signatures of the guests. The round table that held the book was covered with dusty rose chintz cloth overlaid with ivory lace. It was appointed with the book, plume pen, a lacy colonial bouquet of ivory and dusty rose roses, a pink candle in a decorative hurricane globe raised by a pink glass holder.

The Fellowship Hall of the church, which was the setting for the wedding reception hosted by the bride's parents, was transformed into a fairytale realm that excited admiration and wonder where only ingenuity and talent could have created such a perfect picture.

The bride's table clearly stood apart in the room. It was covered with an ivory lace cloth over a dusty rose chintz cloth featuring a ruffle at floor level. The decorative scheme included a basket of pink and champagne carnations for the centerpiece, a silver punch bowl, silver trays of hand-molded wedding symbols-shaped mints, pink napkins engraved with "Deena-Brett, July 16, 1983," and the cake.

The "wonder of wonders" cake was an ethereal three-tiered candlelight structure completely covered in floral ornamentation of pink, ivory and white snowballs, roses, bridal trumpets, carnations, pearl-centered stephanotis, the pattern broken briefly with a set of sugar pillars separating the second and third tiers, then picked up to cover the top for the crowning touch.

Mrs. Kame Oshiro, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Roger York and Miss Valerie Ward presided at the bride's table.

The groom's round oak table was covered with brown linen overlaid with ivory lace. The unusually interesting appointments were a wooden-based oil lamp, round chocolate cake decorated with colorful marzipan fruits and vegetables and icing fashioned in stalks of wheat in respect to the groom's vocation, cowboy boot-shaped chocolate mints. Mrs. Joe Gonzales, aunt of the bride, served the cake, and Mrs. Brent Catlin served coffee from a silver service on a wooden tea cart nearby.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Glen Miller, Gilbert Mueller, Nancy Padgett, Glen Linthicum and Bud Mercer.

The wheat bags made of ivory lace were passed out by Blaine Hefner, brother of the bride, and Kame Lee Oshiro, her cousin, from pink taffeta baskets covered with ivory lace featuring ivory satin bows on the handles. The baskets were placed on a round table covered with ivory lace over dusty rose chintz that held the matron of honor's bouquet in a pink fluted vase. The bouquets of the other bridal attendants were arranged around the base of the table.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Holiday Inn Downtown Wichita Falls Friday evening.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and has attended Midwestern State Univ. for two years. She plans to continue her education at a university in Okla. The groom was graduated from Waukomis, Okla. High School and is employed by Perry Cattle Co. at Enid, Okla. where the couple will live after a trip to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Taman of Hannah, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hefner of Frederick, Okla., grandparents of the bride, Mrs. Nellie Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Johnson of Enid, Okla., grandparents of the groom, were special wedding guests.

Nowell, Gray wedding held in Wichita Falls

The Floral Heights United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls was the scene of a Saturday evening wedding where Miss Tammy Dean Nowell and Danny Wayne Gray exchanged double-ring vows under the direction of Dr. James Palmer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy R. Nowell of Wichita Falls and the groom is the son of Mrs. Mearlene Gray of Iowa Park and the late Alfred Gray.

The couple repeated their lines at an altar illuminated by candles in two nine-branched brass candelabra. Don Unwin, organist, played the traditional marches and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of white Chantilly lace designed with basque waist bodice featuring a square neckline enhanced with three lace ruffles, and long fitted sheer sleeves. The bouffant skirt ended with six deep hemline ruffles that picked up on the side and swept into a chapel length train.

She selected a waltz-length veil of bridal illusion with blusher edged in matching lace that flowed from a cap of lace embroidered with seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a silk cascade of white sweetheart roses, blue almond blossoms, pink and yellow carnations.

The bridal attendants and flower girl wore floor length pastel blue chiffon gowns over taffeta styled with high waists, off-the-shoulder necklines and full skirts featuring back bustle effects. They carried nosegays repeating the flowers and colors in the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Steve Williams of Wylie took part in the wedding as matron of honor. The bridesmaids, all from

MRS. DANNY WAYNE GRAY

Wichita Falls, were Miss Susan Brooks, Miss Cyndi Solnok, Miss Ranae Piatt, and the flower girl was Miss Jennifer Piatt.

The groom wore an all-white tuxedo. The male participants and ring bearer were attired in navy blue tuxedos. Eric West served as ring bearer. Coy Lee was best man, and the groomsmen were Casey Maloney, Clint Owen and Randy Griest. The ushers were Robbie Gray, brother of the groom, and Tiff Covington.

The bride was graduated from Wichita Falls High School. She attended Midwestern State Univ. for two years and was graduated from Bethania Hospital School of Vocational Nursing. The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School and is employed in construction by Rose & Sons of Abilene where the couple will live.

In connection with rehearsal for the wedding, a brunch was held Saturday morning at the Market Place.

The bride's parents hosted the wedding reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The three tables in the setting were covered with white lace cloths over white satin.

The bride's table was appointed with clear brandy snifters filled with pink, blue and yellow carnations, the bridal napkins, a silver punch bowl and cake, a three-tiered confection with one set of sugar pillars over a splashing fountain, arrayed in pastel gum paste roses, sweetpeas and carnations, the same ornamentation noted in the top piece to complete the picture.

The groom's table held a three-layered German Chocolate cake and silver samovar.

Reception assistants included Miss Vicki Nowell, who directed signatures of the wedding guests, Mrs. Ted Kwas, Miss Carolyn Cassreino and Miss Debbie West presiding at the bride's table, and Mrs. W.C. Covington who served at the groom's table.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

A friend of mine just brought by a copy of your latest publication. He mentioned that I might be interested in your column, "as I see it. . ."

He was right; your column did interest me. Of course I was concerned that you or your source believed we had inaccurately reported the figures on new car sales. In checking our story (which ran on Friday, July 8 instead of Sunday, as you indicated) I discovered that perhaps your interpretation was in error.

I am including a copy of our July 8 issue with the report written by Tommy Thompson, one of our business writers. As you'll note, his lead sentence indicates that the sale of new cars was down in the first half in Wichita Falls.

The second paragraph clearly indicates that reported sales for Electra, Burkburnett and Iowa Park were behind last year's figures through May. It next says that June figures for those communities were not yet available.

I have also enclosed a copy of the July 7th Commercial Reporter, to which your column referred. As you'll note, Tommy's report reflects new car sales as reported by The Commercial Recorder. Pickup and truck sales, by the way, are tallied on page 2 of that day's report and indicates an even greater gap between 1982 and 1983.

In short, I don't believe we need to issue a correction, since our report was accurate. I'm sure that in the interest of objectivity, fair play, and accuracy you will want to inform your readers of the errors in your own column.

Let me also assure you that we here at Times Publishing Company would never "look down our noses" at the resident of Iowa Park. After all, more than 1,700 of them are subscribers to our newspapers - just like yourself. They are our customers. We are pledged to provide them fair, accurate and complete coverage of Iowa Park and all the communities we serve.

I hope this note answers your questions. Of course, we welcome your comments and criticisms as we do those of all our readers, no matter where they live.

Best Regards,
Gary K. Shorts

EDITOR'S NOTE: There's just no getting around it, I and others plainly misread the article. I stand corrected. But to offer a suggestion, since your own staff is collecting the information for The Commercial Recorder, why can't similar months be reported for Wichita Falls and the surrounding towns?

Worth Quoting

An editorial in the Tuesday, June 14, edition of The Wichita Falls Record News produced a steady flow of visitors and telephone calls to the editor of The Clay County Leader. I had hoped that the controversy over Henrietta's former city administrator would die as soon as possible, but my big city cousin's editorial rekindled the feud with new vigor.

First of all, let me explain that the Wichita Falls newspaper and the Henrietta newspaper are separate entities. The Clay County Leader is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Glassford and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Simmons. The Record News is owned by a mega-buck corporation known as Harte-Hanks.

The only thing that The Clay County Leader and The Wichita Falls Record News have in common is that we are members of the Fourth Estate. So, don't call me with your praise or belly-aching about the Wichita Falls newspaper. I don't want to hear it. I don't have anything to do with how that newspaper is operated. By the same token, don't call the Wichita Falls newspaper concerning something in The Leader. We is us and they is them, so don't confuse the two.

Now, back to the issue at hand. The Clay County Leader has tried to be objective in its coverage of the Henrietta City Council despite attempts by opposing factions to have us "slant" our coverage toward their points of view. I take a great deal of pride in the professional objectivity of The Leader's news columns because I argue straight forward reporting is the paramount task of any newspaper journalist.

Editorials and columns such as this are different. My column clearly is entitled "Opinion" and that's what it is designed to represent.

My opinion is that the departure of Kyle McCain as city administrator was predestined in April when Chuck Hilliard, Jack Brown and Junior Johnson were elected.

Interviews with candidates published in the Leader and their comments at a "meet the candidates" forum clearly indicated their intentions to seek new directions for city government.

Events that led to McCain's departure "did not fairly represent public opinion in Henrietta," according to the Wichita Falls newspaper's editorial. I take issue with that observation.

Hilliard was elected with a 76 per cent margin, Brown was elected with a 47 per cent margin and Johnson was re-elected with a 57 per cent margin. It was a clear-cut majority for two candidates and a plurality for the other. The elections results represent the prevailing public opinion. That's the way a democracy operates, right or wrong.

The Wichita Falls newspapers' editorial also observed that Johnson's previous motions to fire McCain "always had died for lack of a second." The editorial writer didn't do his homework.

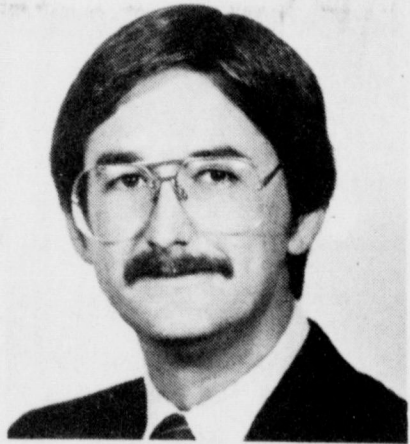

On Feb. 4, 1982, a motion by Johnson to fire McCain was defeated by a 3-2 margin. Johnson and former councilman Paul Parr voted to fire McCain; the motion was defeated on the votes of councilman Carl Zachry, former councilman Jimmy Ben Gill and former mayor Bob Mataska.

On two subsequent occasions - Aug. 9, 1982, and Feb. 7, 1983 - Johnson failed to receive a second to motions to fire McCain. I do not intend to argue the attributes or faults of Kyle McCain, the city council or the voters.

All I know is that prior to last April's elections there was crystal clear evidence about where Hilliard, Brown and Johnson stood on the issues. Therefore, McCain's departure should not come as a surprise to anyone.

The election has long since passed, so let's mend our fences and try to bring a little bit of harmony back to our town.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

A new program of the Wichita Falls Times and Record News can very well lead to financial problems of every weekly newspaper in this part of the country, even to the point of a few ceasing publication.

"News Plus" was introduced here Tuesday morning at a "meet the editors breakfast" held by the newspaper personnel and attended by a number of local citizens.

Four such publications are to be printed weekly, one for each direction from Wichita Falls. The first "zoned section" was introduced in the northern area some three months ago, and the second will be in this direction the second week of August.

There is no problem as far as news coverage goes. This won't hurt the smaller newspapers. But the aggressive sales of advertising in our communities is what will hurt those of us in the community newspaper business.

This has been demonstrated at Burkburnett, where the advertising in the Informer/Star has clearly declined.

Let me assure you, there is not one small town newspaper in this part of the country that can withstand a dilution of its advertising revenue, without it seriously hampering its ability to maintain quality and personnel.

Every newspaper counts primarily on its revenue from advertising to pay its bills. Income from subscriptions and newsstand sales would hardly pay the utilities.

If it were another newspaper attempting to start up in our towns as competition, that would be one thing. The competitor would have to pay local taxes, hire local people who work exclusively on that publication, pay the building rent and utilities, and pay their local community dues as citizens by taking part in local activities.

But to have a standaway newspaper, part of the multi-million-dollar Harte-Hanks chain, to come into your community with an eye on making money. . . that's an entirely new and dangerous ballgame.

The Times and Record News, hereafter known as "Brand X," has long held the respect and cooperation of area weeklies. But I suspect it is rapidly coming to an end.

To ask us to share part of our income and continue smiling is a bit much. One Sunday edition produces more dollars than all of us generate together in at least a month.

The program is designed primarily as a circulation builder, I suspect. The corporate minds evidently figure as how they need to grow more than they have, and the only way is to get more subscriptions from us in the outer areas.

As one Brand X representative said at the meeting, "It won't hurt the local newspapers." Well, it's obvious he has never tried to run a community newspaper, paying salaries and expenses and have something for himself after the year is over.

The most common complaint registered at Monday's meeting by Iowa Parkans was that Brand X primarily paid attention to this community when there was something sensational to report.

Brand X response was, News Plus was designed to report the common news about the community.

Problem: those complaining about coverage wanted people in Wichita Falls and other area towns to know about the good things that happen here. This new section will be seen only by the people of Iowa Park, Electra and Holliday. And they already know the good things.

I'm sorry the Brand X people made this decision. It's much easier to be friends than opponents.

Parent company of Brand X now owns Nortex Press in Wichita Falls, the central printing plant where this publication has been produced almost 15 years.

Because of this, today's issue is now printed at another firm. I'll not spend more than $30,000 a year with a firm that wants to take bread from my table.

Worth Quoting

We've been criticized for taking shots at our "big city brothers" the past two weeks and maybe justifiably so. Our zest to express our fondness of small town living may have come across as critical of "big-city folk."

Yes, they are people just like us. And, yes, they have chosen that lifestyle. And, yes, who am I to say that our lifestyle in small town U.S.A. is any better or worse.

I've always heard "The more the better." There are more people residing in big cities than in rural America, so according to that rule of thumb. . . big city must be better???

Our point of concern is not really life in the big city. Those who live there and are happy there, we're proud for them. . . I could not be.

I am happy, here, in Smalltown and I don't want to see it fade away. I want to see Smalltown offer the opportunities for those who choose to stay, raise their families and live their lives with the pleasures they choose.

I don't want to see Smalltown bled to death by Bigtown and that's a main reason why we climb our soapbox so often for "shopping at home." Yes, we may get a better deal in Bigtown, but each dollar spent elsewhere helps to crumble Smalltown's foundation a little more each time.

That foundation can continue to crumble until Smalltown reaches a point where it can be classified by a term I totally disgust "bedroom community." Or, we can realize the need for community loyalty and build a secure future for our families and community.

Smalltown merchants must realize that they are not just in competition with the store down the street, but merchants in Bigtown as well. That effort to meet Bigtown competition must be met with an equal effort by the consumer to support local merchants.

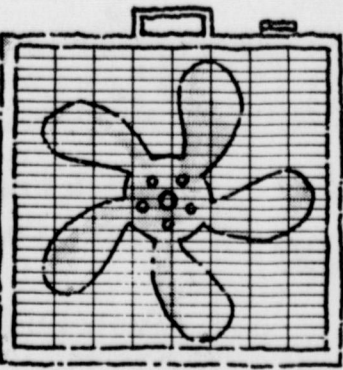

Securing the future of Smalltown is not a simple two-handed understanding between businesses and consumers, but it is a necessity to keep the foundation together.

Cook of the Week

Most cooks have learned to capitalize on fresh fruits and vegetables when they are in season, and when they are not to substitute frozen or canned ones. For the most part, the consensus is that nothing can really substitute for the taste of fresh produce.

This is the season to capitalize on fresh fruits and vegetables, and placing emphasis on the latter, there are many ways to spark the vegetable appetite when it is "tired" or to serve "favorite unfavorites" in the vegetable department in new and interesting ways.

Pam (Mrs. Steve) Ayer gives us two recipes this week that cooks may find an amazing transformation from the plain okra and squash dishes.

Okra, a close cousin of the beautiful tropical flower, hibiscus, comes from Africa where it was called "gumbo." It traveled to Brazil in the 1600s and arrived in Louisiana with the French in the 1700s. Thomas Jefferson, an appreciative gourmet, knew the vegetable and mentioned it in his Garden Book. Most people prefer to eat the pods fried; others like it boiled and seasoned with salt, pepper and butter, and the pods are also used to thicken and flavor soup.

Squash is a native of the New World where it was widely cultivated by the Indians long before European settlement. Roger Williams, the founder of Rhode Island, described the vegetable as "vine apples of different colors." The squash got its name from the Indian word "askutasquah," meaning eaten raw or uncooked.

Mrs. Ayer, the former Pam Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Huff, was graduated from Iowa Park High School and Midwestern State Univ. with a degree in elementary education. She has taught in the Iowa Park school system and is presently teaching high school and junior high subjects at the Liberty Baptist Christian School. She and her husband, Steve, who is an accountant for Cobra Oil Co., are members of the Liberty Baptist Church where they are Sunday School teachers and she sings in the choir. They have two children, Julie, six years old, and Greg, four years old.

Pam said that she has been cooking since she was four years old and lists cooking as one of her hobbies along with ceramics, quilting and macrame.

Council hears plans for new subdivision

Holliday City Council came away from Monday night's regular meeting both impressed and optimistic after Wichita Falls' realtor Charles Chandler and engineer Mike Brannon gave their presentation for a possible subdivision in Holliday.

Alderman John Goforth summed up what appeared to be the consensus of the entire council by telling Chandler, "I like this presentation, and I like what you have done. . . it is excellent."

If the preliminary plat for the proposed subdivision, already named "Judy Ray Estates", is fully realized, it would indeed be an excellent boost for Holliday's economy. Encompassing over 33 acres of land bordered by Holliday Circle and FM 368, the subdivision would contain a maximum of 104 new homes with curb and guttered streets appropriately named after various kinds of wood in keeping with the consistent nature of Holliday's street names.

In addition, Brannon presented detailed maps of both the water and sewer easements throughout the proposed development. "I think Holliday will quickly become the bedroom community for Wichita Falls," commented Chandler. "We would like to do this development, he continued, "and I think it would help your city greatly." Chandler also noted that, if the subdivision's potential was realized fully, and homes averaged $60,000 in cost, it would mean an additional $6-million in assessments for the city.

With Mayor James Cook absent from the meeting, mayor pro-tem Jim Virdell asked city attorney Gary Southard for his opinion of the presentation. Southard noted that the presentation was a routine procedure, and the next step would involve a final plat, which would have to be accepted by the council before building permits could be issued. Southard added that the preliminary presentation would give both the city and the developer a chance to voice recommendations or offer advice on the plat.

In order for the presentation to be recorded in the minutes of the meeting, council accepted the preliminary plat subject to final approval.

One point which will have to be negotiated between the city and Chandler is the paving of Maple St., which Chandler is asking the city to either pay for the costs of paving or allow a tax break to contractors who pay for it.

In other business, Holliday Chamber of Commerce board member Gary Shaefer received permission for the Chamber to hold a street dance free to the public from 9 p.m. until midnight August 20, and that the location be at Olive and Bois

'd Arc, where a street dance was last held during JuneFest activities. Shaefer said the chamber was sponsoring the dance at the request of several senior citizens.

Street work progresses after delay

After a one-day delay, county roadworkers were going full-tilt in Holliday Wednesday, and, by the end of today, more than two miles of city streets should be resurfaced.

The county crew began work on the city's northside early Wednesday morning, beginning with North Pecan and Main, and work should continue on East and West Maple, North and South Cedar, then Southwest Ave. and West Myrtle.

Workers will also be resurfacing West Live Oak and West Chestnut, Oak St. (two-block area), and the two standby streets, if the two loads of materials hold up. They are East Myrtle and East Live Oak.

City administrator Jim Hamill, viewing the work being done Wednesday, said the city had received a good-sized first load, and that it was his hope that all designated streets would be resurfaced by this evening.

Hamill also asked that residents on the designated streets cooperate with city while work is being done by keeping the cars off the road until the job is completed.

New business opening today

A new Holliday business, Owen's Bookkeeping Service, will officially open its doors to the public at 10 a.m. today with a Grand Opening and ribbon cutting ceremony.

Directors of the Holliday Chamber of Commerce will be on hand at the office, located at 107 W. Olive next to Greg Roberts Insurance, to participate in the ceremonies.

Owner Doris Owens will serve refreshments following the ribbon cutting.

PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT - City workers last week installed a slide, swings and other equipment for childrens' enjoyment at Rotary Park. The facility is located slightly southwest of Bradford Elementary campus.

Soccer camp set Aug. 8-12

A summer soccer camp will be co-hosted Aug. 8-12 by the Optimist Club and Iowa Park Soccer Club.

Open to boys and girls age 5-13, instruction will include basic soccer skills, with a special session for goalies.

The camp will be held at the field on the east side of Gordon Lake. Sessions will be 6:30-8 p.m. Monday through Friday, except for Wednesday, which will be 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Cost will be $5, with an additional $1 for each additional student in a family who attends. All proceeds will be used for field improvements, according to Allen Shewmake, Optimist Club spokesman.

Parents must attend the first session to register their child.

Hawk Band to begin practice for season

Hawk Band members will begin two weeks of preparation for the marching season starting August 15, according to Greg Miller, director.

Footballers should get physicals

Athletes who plan to play football either for Iowa Park High School or Junior High this fall should have their physicals taken in the near future, according to Head Coach David Baugh.

Forms for physicals are available at the high school field house or at Park Clinic, Baugh said.

High school players will begin workouts Aug. 8. Junior high players will not begin working out until Aug. 29, when school starts.

But practice begins earlier for squad leaders, drum majors, and members of the flag and drum sections, who start Aug. 10.

The early groups will have three days preparation before the rest of the band starts. Squad leaders and drum majors will meet 1:30 - 5:30 p.m. July 10-13. Drum and flag sections will meet 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 - 5:30 p.m. the same days.

During the first full week, Aug. 15-19, freshmen are to report at the high school at 8:30 a.m. and practice until 11:30.

Both weeks of Aug. 15-19 and 22-26, all band members will observe the following schedule: woodwind and percussion sectionals, 4:30 - 5:20 p.m.; all brass, 5:30 - 6:20 p.m.; full band, 6:30 - 9:30 p.m.

Upper classmen are also to report for the 8:30 - 11:30 morning session on both Fridays, as well as the regular sessions.

Uniforms will be checked out Aug. 22-26, between the hours of 4:30 and 6:20 p.m. The $10 rental fee must be paid at that time. Uniforms must be tried on for fit and Miller says students should wear shorts and shoes while fitting.

Anyone wanting a complete old uniform can check them out Aug. 22. The following day will be for seniors, juniors on Wednesday, sophomores on Thursday and freshmen on Friday.

A list of possible stores where gloves and shoes can be purchased will be available at the band hall.

EXPERIMENT WITH US...

It is the goal of the Wichita Falls Museum & Art Center to provide a preschool of experimentation through the use of "hands on" museum resources and natural science materials. Classes will meet for two hours weekly, with 3-year-olds meeting on Tuesday, 4-year-olds on Thursday and 5-year-olds on Wednesday. The Fall semester will run for 15 weeks beginning the week of Sept. 6, 1983. For more info contact: Anne Gavin, 692-0923

Senior All-Stars battle way into finals

Iowa Park's Senior League All-Stars rebounded from an opening-game loss to Burkburnett in the area tournament in Olney last week and captured the loser's bracket championship before bowing to the Burk team a second time in last Saturday night's finals.

But not before drilling the tourney winners 16-3 the night before!

In a remarkable display of teamwork and timely gambles, Iowa Park kept itself in the tournament despite the loss in the first game of the double elimination tourney.

After losing 14-6 to Burk in the opener, with pitcher Ray Sefcik taking the loss, Iowa Park rebounded one night later to down Seymour 18-0. A fiery defense supported winning pitcher Robert Adams in the win while the green-and-white bats found the groove.

Thursday the local all-stars landed a 5-1 win against Sheppard A.F.B. with Sefcik evening his record in the tourney at pitcher.

Friday night featured a double-header, the first game featuring Iowa Park against Brazos Valley in the loser's bracket finals. Pitcher Scott Eaton kept the Brazos batters at bay through much of the game, and Iowa Park went out ahead 4-2 before Brazos Valley tied it 4-all in the seventh.

The best indication of the local team's confidence came in the last half of the final inning. Pinch hitter Robert Adams singled to start things off, and soon the bases were loaded with no outs. Going for the gamble, Steve Johnson laid down a perfect squeeze bunt, according to coach Leon Biddy, scoring Adams and winning the game 5-4.

"This is the best bunch of boys I have ever worked with," Biddy said. In his ninth year as a coach, Biddy added, "The boys showed they just don't know how to quit."

And quit they didn't, as Iowa Park blasted Burkburnett in the second game of the double-header 16-3, with the aid of a nine-strikeout performance by Adams. "If we would have played Burk for the tournament championship that night instead of Saturday, there is no doubt in my mind we would have won it," remarked Biddy.

The tournament rally fell short for the locals, however, as Burkburnett regained its composure to win in the championship game 5-1, with Sefcik suffering the loss. "They went that far on hustle more than anything else," Biddy commented, adding that any of the 13 players selected for the team were capable of starting, but that none of them were heads and shoulders above the rest. "It was strictly a team effort," said Biddy.

FOLLOWING COLLISION - Frances Mayes of Wichita Falls searches for her belongings after colliding with Janis Monroe, 301 E. Diamond, at the intersection of FM 1814 and Iowa Park Rd. early Tuesday evening. Mayes reportedly was attempting to cross Iowa Park Rd. travelling north when she collided with Monroe, who was driving west on the highway. Both suffered minor lacerations. The accident was investigated by the Department of Public Safety.

Williamson family farm seeks heritage registry

By DON DECKER
County Agent

John Williamson of Wellington Lane is the first in this county to file for the family land heritage registry with the Texas Department of Agriculture. The family land heritage program is designed to honor those families who have owned and continuously operated a farm and ranch for 100 years or more.

The 400-acre farm is located three miles northwest of Burkburnett along the Red River. This rich farm has been owned and operated by the family since Oct. 1, 1882. The application is now being reviewed by County Judge Tom Bacus, who gives final verification of the applicant's admission to the family heritage program.

The application will go on to the Texas Department of Agriculture, and the Williamsons will be given a certificate in the name of the land, and it will be listed in the Texas Family Land Heritage Registry.

More ownership of the land for 100 years will not qualify owners for the program. It is seeking to honor those farms and ranches whose history of agricultural productivity has been in the same family continuously and uninterrupted for a century or more.

Vona was best and Payne was runner up in the wheat variety demonstration conducted by Lalk Brothers, northwest of Electra, this year. Vona produced 59.5 bushels per acre which was closely followed by Payne with 56 bushels per acre.

Other top producers were Centurk 78 with 55.5 bushels per acre, Newton - 55 bushels, NK 812 with 52 bushels, and Rocky with 51.9 bushels. The Centurk 78 was a surprise because it usually does not produce near the top in Wichita County demonstrations.

Other varieties and their yield and bushels per acre included NK 835 - 50 bushels, Sturdy - 45, NK 30 - 44.6, Golden Acres Sitation - 43.5, and Hawk - 43.2.

The varieties in the lower one-third of the test included Texred - 42.5 bushels, TAM 101 - 41.7, Golden Acres 5221 - 39.6, Caddo - 37.8, TAM 105 - 34.9, and Harpool 114 - 27.6 bushels per acre.

The site was located on a frankirk loam. The fertilizer was applied before planting with 70-35-0. This plot was planted by Rex Lalk, and it was harvested by Jimmy Lalk.

A wheat seeding rate study was planted along side the variety test. The more seed planted, the higher the yield under this year's conditions, according to results of this test.

The pounds of seed per acre and the yield in bushels per acre included 40 pounds of seed - 42.9 bushels, 60 pounds of seed - 48.8 bushels, 75 pounds seed - 45.7 bushels, 90 pounds

- 47.26, and 120 pounds of seed - 51.9 bushels per acre. With the favorable growing conditions this spring, the heavier seeding rate approved to be the most profitable.

Shower fetes bride elect

Miss Lori Huckobey, who will be married to Don Bohannon Friday evening at the Assembly of God Church in Graham, was honored Monday evening at a miscellaneous shower held in Texas Electric Reddy Room. Hostesses were Mmes. Tom Gruber, Clifton Weaver and Eddie Ewing.

Decorations for the affair emphasized apricot and brown, the honoree's chosen colors. She was presented with a corsage of apricot silk roses and apple blossoms accented with brown ribbons and bows.

The refreshment table was laid with white lace and appointed with two candelabra holding white candles, a white sheet cake detailed with apricot floral and wedding symbol designs, and "Don-Lori, July 22, 1983," and the crystal punch service.

The gift table was centered with a heart-shaped ornament framed with net accented with apricot ribbon and bows from which streamers lettered with names of the engaged couple and their wedding date extended. The heart was flanked with apricot candles burning in dove-shaped holders.

Special guests were Mrs. William Huckobey of Graham, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Aubrey C. Bohannon, mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. A.L. Bohannon and Mrs. P.L. Wright, his grandmothers.

HUMONGOUS SQUASH - Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skinner, 314 E. Aldine, compare this Mexican-variety squash to the domestic version, and it looks like the 23-inch, 23-pounder wins hands down. According to the couple, the squash was grown from seeds given them by Mrs. Skinner's niece, Dorothy Pyle of Portales, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Edwards of Biloxi, Miss. announce the birth of their first child, Ryan DeLand, a nine pound, six ounce son, born July 17.

The new baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Criston of Yukon, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Edwards of Iowa Park.

Norman D. Nettleton, Pastor 211 So. Yosemite

The strain of attempting to get reality in touch with the things we wish for can be like trying to connect two tracks that refuse to meet. After a while, we may feel like it's not worth the effort.
We make a lot of wishes and fantasize about that better position, that right person, that changing situation. But these seldom link with reality. You see, optimism is based on right circumstances. If everything is going well — if by chance things work out right — we can be optimistic. When life falls apart — what then?
Hope is different. It's deep and unassailable. Jesus was a hopeful person. Even in the midst of pain, distress, unease, and the stresses of life, He gave and gives hope. Connect your reality to a living hope.
