“Open Howard College” plan.

The board will continue to consider contacts and leads gleaned from the Howard County Leadership Summit in December of 2021. Among those under consideration at Monday’s meeting will be a partnership with Texas Tech to help students progress from an Associates Degree in Nursing to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing; the college’s veterinary tech program and the USDA’s National Institute of Food and Agriculture grant; an Upward Bound grant; and the planned BAM BIZHUB partnership for entrepreneur certification.

The board will consider several items for the college’s San Angelo campus, including a partnership with the San Angelo Museum of Fine Arts for an “Artisan Series,” a partnership with Hands Up Interpreting for American Sign Language instruction, a pathway to electrical certification through a International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) partnership, and a partnership with Angelo State University for “2+2 Engineering.”

The board will consider action on Advisory Council membership and a summer dual credit session at the SouthWest College for the Deaf.

provide readers with intellectual ammunition to rebut arguments of those who would justify abortion.

According to Newman, there have been more than 60 million abortions in the United State since 1973. He supports The Life Center, whose professionals work to respect you, your body, and your choices. The Life Center offers information on a variety of subjects, including pregnancy symptoms, abortion, adoption, parenting, STI/STDs, and sexual health.

The Life Center is a non-profit, faith-based alternative to abortion. It teaches sexual wellness in three different areas of outreach: teaching about the different sexual risk, helping both men and women throughout pregnancy, and healing through restoration.

The Life Center has many different locations in Midland, Andrews, Odessa, and at 1801 S. Main St. in Big Spring.

According to The Life Center, it upholds and promotes the value of human life at every stage of existence and development. They support mothers and fathers, promote sexual wellness, and offer common educational tools, spiritual support, and help men and women choose, enjoy, and nurture healthy relationships. All services are free and confidential.

Services offered include:

Pregnancy testing — An advocate will assess how to best meet your needs. A urine pregnancy test may be administered. Following the assessment, you will receive educational information.

Nurse consult — a registered nurse will discuss your health and prenatal nutrition with you.

Limited Ultrasound — based on nurse’s assessment, an ultrasound may be scheduled.

Prenatal Classes/ Parenting Education — they have a variety of classes available to prepare you and your partner for parenting, and advocate, equip and support individuals with parenting and communication tips to build a healthy family. They offer a Baby Boutique, which is where moms and dads who participate in the educational programs earn free baby items that include baby and maternity supplies, clothing, equipment, and more.

Adoption Information and Referrals — if you choose adoption they will help you by providing you with information and referrals.

Material Assistance — diapers, wipes, formula, gently used maternity and baby clothes as well as other baby items are free for children up to 36 months.

M.A.R.Y Mentoring — a discipleship program in which young moms ages 15-23 can receive help to grow physically, emotionally, and spiritually.

D.A.D. U — a program that helps equip fathers with tools and education to make good decisions for their families and themselves for life.

All In — a class that equips individuals with the tools for building successful relationships.

Keep Calm and Thrive On — a class to help manage stress, anger, and conflict.

One-on-One mentoring — available by appointment only.

The Life Center will also provide the resources and referrals for treating sexual addiction, abuse, grief, and depression. The Life Center is there for anyone in need help, or even to provide someone who will simply listen to you and help point you in the right direction for caring and loving support.

The Life Center in Big Spring is located at 1801 S. Main St. Hours of operation are: Monday to Thursday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Friday 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Call 432-606-5041 for more information.

COUNTY

The meeting will begin with County Treasurer Sharon Adams presenting personnel considerations, her Treasurer’s Monthly Report for January, and her Monthly Payroll Report for February. Adams will also present an item on COVID Paid Leave for county employees, an Affordable Care Act Reporting and Tracking Service (ARTS) renewal agreement through the Texas Association of Counties (TAC), and a Health and Employee Benefits Pool (HEBP) item through TAC regarding county employee insurance rates.

County Auditor Jackie Olson will present an update from the Public Power Pool regarding the county’s contract and procurement for 2022. Olsen will also present a proposed change order for the county’s fencing project, and bids on boilers and windows. She will present a donation to the county from the Friends of the Library, as well as invoices, purchase requests and budget amendments.

County Elections Administrator Jodi Duck will present a request for commissioners to sign and order the May Constitutional Amendment Election, as well as notice of election for the commissioners’ signatures.

Commissioner for Precinct 1 Eddilisa Ray will present an item on possible contracts, and Commissioner for Precinct 3 Jimmie Long will present an item seeking permission to go out for bids on chiller repair or replacement at the courthouse. Both items are marked “1:30 budget” indicating the commissioners plan to discuss the items in the 1:30 workshop session before voting on them during the 3:30 meeting.

Howard County Librarian Mavour Braswell will next address the commissioners. Braswell will present the item regarding the mural project at the library, and will present an annual state report and long-range plan for the library.

County Road Engineer Briank Klinksiek will present his regular Roadway Maintenance Update.

Before the meeting adjourns, commissioners will have the opportunity to mention items for future meeting agendas.

The meeting is open to the public, or can be viewed via video conference at www.facebook.com/Howard-County-Info-Tech110733893888746/.

BLACK BEAUTY RANCH

TUMBLEWEED SMITH

By Tumbleweed Smith
Special to the Herald

Black Beauty ranch, just outside of Murchison near Athens, is one of the most unique places in Texas. The 1,400-acre facility is a refuge for 40 different species of neglected and abused animals including reptiles, lions, tigers, bears, monkeys, antelope, deer, buffalo and farm livestock like goats, sheep, cows and chickens. You won't find any penguins or polar bears there because of the climate. The 800 animals on the ranch come from all over the country. Black Beauty has an animal hospital, 2 veterinarians, a staff of 15 and several volunteers. It is non-profit and funded by donations, grants and its affiliation with the Humane Society of the United States. It was founded in 1979 by nationally known writer Cleveland Amory, who had concerns about animals in crisis. "He picked this area because it was good horse pasture land and it was cheap," says Noelle Almrud of Black Beauty Ranch. "Some of the animals have to get used to being treated with kindness and care, but that's our goal, to give them respect and dignity for whatever time they have left. It takes dedication and passion for what we do. This is not a typical 9 to 5 job."

When Amory, author of the book RANCH OF DREAMS, learned that donkeys in the Grand Canyon were facing grave danger he decided to do something about it. "He heard that in the 1990s the Bureau of Land Management was set to exterminate donkeys in the Grand Canyon because they were over-breeding and there weren't enough resources to handle them and there was no way to remove them from the canyon. He said that's not true and so he organized a rescue over two years and had them airlifted one by one with a helicopter, 577 of them, without a single injury or loss. He adopted as many as he could and those that couldn't be adopted came to Black Beauty on the original 80 acres."

The ranch is named Black Beauty because when Cleveland Amory was a child he read the book BLACK BEAUTY, published in 1877 by English author Anna Sewell, about an abused horse that was turned out to pasture after it could no longer be of use to its owners. "It always stuck with him," says Noelle. "The last line of the book says something like 'my troubles are over and I am at home.' That's kind of our motto and really sets the tone for what we're about and what we do."

During normal times, the ranch is open to visitors a couple of times each month. "We are closed now just for the safety of our staff and the animals. We have small pre-scheduled guided tours on a bus for groups no larger than 24. We drive them around with a tour guide not only showing them the animals but we're explaining how they came to be here."

Amory's ashes are on the ranch. "We took the urn with his ashes and put it around the neck of his favorite burro named Friendly, the youngest of the original donkeys that were rescued. As she wandered about, his ashes were scattered on the property." The website is blackbeuty ranch.org

THE IDLE AMERICAN Cats Causing Calamities...

DON NEWBURY

by Dr. Don Newbury
Special To the Herald

The suggestion that I dislike cats would be erroneous indeed, splashing down in the ever-growing sea of untruths.

I prefer dogs. However, I have no desire to debate or defend. Indeed, I'd rather let sleeping cat lovers lie in their slumber.

Unlike the late Al Capp--best known for his satirical comic strip Li'l Abner--I'd sooner avoid jousting about pet preferences. He enjoyed controversy. In fact, he took on Jane Fonda, sometimes referring to her as a "different breed of cat."...

During his frequent public appearances, Capp always wanted to set things straight about his Fonda views.

"Lots of folks think I'm prejudiced against Jane," he drawled.

Indicating that such folks would be wrong, he'd add, "I'd send her a dozen roses this very night—if only I knew which jail she was in."....

I understand that cats are here to stay, and that feline lovers are entitled to remain staunch in their affection, despite new evidence suggesting that some cats are arsonists. Purring their innocence of all charges, none would admit to setting fires.

Instead, they'd likely rub against the legs of detractors, trying their best to change the subject.

They've sounded a "cat alert" in Seoul, South Korea. It was but a short account in the newspapers, but that the story saw the light of day at all is surprising. Since "20/20 vision" went haywire a couple of years ago, newspaper space has been crowded with topics such as COVID, booster shots, national debt, global warming and other ever-present issues....

A statement from the Seoul Metropolitan Fire and Disaster Department said that cats caused a total of 107 house fires in less than two years by switching on electric stoves. They said that when overheated, appliances can catch on fire. The announcement further advised the removal of flammable objects--such as paper towels--from the stove.

What are cats to do? They are admittedly curious, some eventually paying the ultimate price for their curiosity.

The department blames "touch-sensitive buttons." Maybe they should go back to toggle switches, you think? Wayda minute. When cats land on "touch-sensitive buttons," the results might be considered coincidental. However, substitution of old switches might cause cats to spring into action, believing that toggle switches invite toggling....

Though this problem surfaced on the other side of the globe, the American Humane Association claims that pets are responsible for about 1,000 house fires in the U.S. annually.

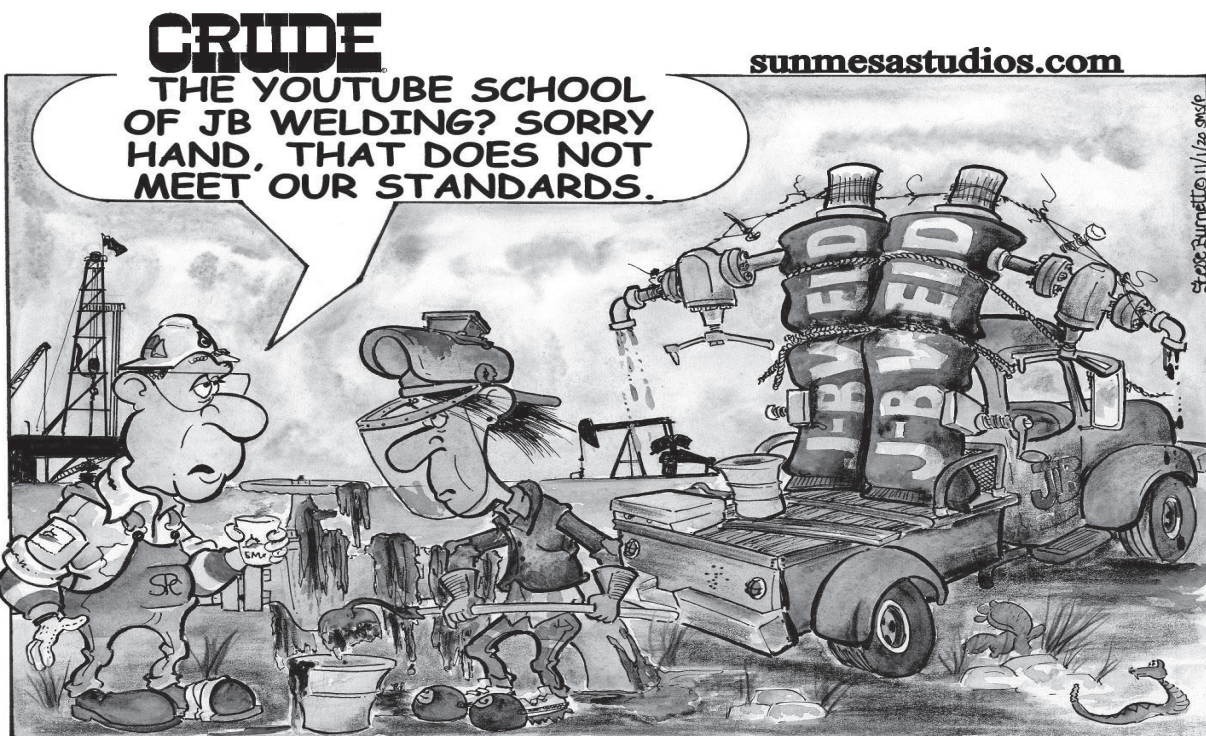

Note that the AHA (couldn't resist an acronym which might be confused with laughing) didn't specify which pets are more guilty of arson. Instead, they followed the lead of many other associations, choosing the "politically correct freeway" instead of the high road.

The association encourages owners to put covers on--or simply remove stove knobs--as safety measures, adding that pet owners should discourage their pets from interacting with stoves. Look for pet trainers to begin an advertising blitz guaranteeing that successful "graduates" from their schools will have nothing to do with stoves. (Brenda doesn't care if I move our knobs, suggesting that I can turn on the burners with pliers if I'd like.)...

Mark Twain may have foreseen such a problem years ago. He once made this observation: "If a cat sits on a hot stove, that cat won't sit on a hot stove again. It won't sit on a cold stove, either. That cat just don't like stoves."

Sailor, our rescue dog, has promised to leave our stove alone and to refrain from even entering the kitchen as long as he's provided gourmet vittles morning and night. He's been somewhat forlorn, since COVID's cancelling the Westminster Dog Show this year. I mentioned that maybe later there'd be a "Westminster Cat Show," or a similar attraction. He whimpered a quick response, "Don't count on it."

I don't own a dog; a dog owns me....

Second Time Around

By STEVE BELVIN
Contributing Writer

Region I. What a great region for Class 3A girls basketball. Small school girls basketball rocks in that region. Before the playoffs began there were nine teams from Region I in the top 20 of the state. All the way from No.1 Canadian to No. 20 Wall. In between you have the likes of Jim Ned, Idalou, Shallowater, Peaster, Bushland, defending state champion Brownfield and Wall. I hate the UIL moved the Region I-3A tournament from Midland's Chaparral Center . It was easy access for great basketball viewing. Two years ago it was moved to Plainview at Wayland Baptist University's Hutcherson Center. This year the tournament will be in Lubbock. The girls will play at Frenship High School gym. The boys tournament, next week, will be played at Lubbock Christian University's Rip Griffin Center. Another regional basketball tournament the area is losing in Region I-5A which was held in Snyder's Scurry Coliseum. Those tournaments will be played at Wichita Falls' Kay Yeager Coliseum.

LADY STEERS PROVE THEIR METTLE

Kudos to Eric Tuttle and his Big Spring Lady Steers basketball team. Leaps and bounds. That's how far you've progressed in the last couple of years. Coming one win ahead from playing in the Region I-4A tournament was so unexpected and so welcomed. Upset wins in both playoff games, won by two each game. Big Spring went to the dreaded Panhandle and conquered Hereford. They went out west to catch a El Paso Mountain View squad looking ahead. Big Spring made them pay Next stop was a real, real good Seminole squad. Second meeting. The first game was 80-15 Seminole. Second game same thing. I'm thinking Seminole is the real deal. Basketball, on any given day, is a mystery like all sports. In a tournament game in November, Mountain View beat Seminole 63-55. Go figure it. Coach Tuttle may be turning the corner as far as Big Spring girls basketball goes. He's He relates to his team well. Young and energetic, breathes confidence into his players. Lady Steers surpassed the bar this season. Switching gears. Steers guard Chris Martinez is only 5-6 but I'm hoping he gets a chance at the next level. One of the quickest players I've seen. He can get himself open for a shot with his quick release. His shot is deadly. Give him a few screens and he's instance offense. Here's hoping he gets a chance.

AREA BALLERS HAVING SUCCESS

Two players with local ties are getting lots of playing time for the Sul Ross State University Lobos basketball team. Caitlyn Corley and Keona Loftis are a pair of 5-foot-8 sophomore guards. Corley, who played at Coahoma High, has played in 20 of 25 games this season, starting 10. Corley averaged of 12 minutes playing time per game. She's averaging two points and two rebounds per game. Loftis played her high school ball at Bushland n the Amarillo area. She came to Sul Ross via playing one season at Howard College. She's played in all 25 games for the Lobo, starting 15.. She averages 22 minutes per game. Loftis is averaging six points and two assists per game. Sul Ross is 14-11 for the season. Omar Boone played his high school ball at Colorado City High. The 6-5 junior forward is a starter for the Colby- Sawyer (NH) Chargers. He's averaging 12 points and six rebounds per game. He shoots 46 percent from the floor and 77 percent from the foul line. Colby- Sawyer, like Sul Ross, is a Division III school. The Chargers are 9-14 this season.

STEERS WIN FIRST TRACK MEET

The Big Spring Steers won their season opening track in Midland Greenwood last week. The Steers scored 118 points, three more than runner up Fort Stockton. The Lady Steers finished third in the team race behind Monahans and Greenwood. The Steers were led by Adrian Solis who won the 800 and 400 meters. Braxton Pearson won the discus and finished third in the shot put. The Steers foursome of Abram Jackson, Jose Munos, Z Franklin and Abraham Jackson won the 800 relay. The Lady Steers got a strong performance from sophomore Alexa Mehan who easily won the 100 and 300 hurdles events. Kayla Mathews ran away from the field in the 200 and Jha'Niah Johnson placed second in the discus and third in the shot put.

Forsan boys basketball season comes to a end after great run

MLB 4 days from deadline to cancel games and shorten season

By RONALD BLUM
AP Baseball Writer

JUPITER, Fla. — Another negotiating session produced only minor movement and no proposals on big-money issues, leaving Major League Baseball four days from management's Monday night deadline for a deal to salvage opening day and a 162-game season. Both sides appeared Thursday to be in a you-make-the-next-move stare-down on central economic issues of the lockout, such as luxury tax thresholds and rates, the minimum salary and the proposed bonus pool for pre-arbitration players. Given those stances, it appeared the earliest movement on the main issues would be in the hours before management says it will carry through on its threat to start canceling games and costing players salary. The union came away with the impression that management said it was out of ideas until players offer new proposals on key issues. Clubs say the union hasn't altered its luxury tax plan since November, and players say they are waiting because management told the union luxury tax usually is among the last items addressed. Players also want to reduce revenue sharing and expand salary arbitration eligibility, and teams say they will not agree to either proposal. Both sides agreed to meet again Friday, the fifth straight day of bargaining and the 11th on core economics since the lockout started Dec. 2. Baseball's ninth work stoppage, its first since 1995, enters its 86th day Friday. Players have not accepted Monday as a deadline and have suggested any missed games could be made up as part of doubleheaders, a method MLB said it will not agree to. The union told MLB if games are missed and salaries are lost, clubs should not expect players to agree to management's proposals to expand the postseason and to allow advertisements on uniforms and helmets. Baseball commissioner Rob Manfred has not publicly commented on the talks since Feb. 10 and union head Tony Clark since Dec. 2. Players modified part of their formula for additional service time for top young players, covering the top 15 in each league by WAR among starting pitchers, relief pitchers and outfielders, down from 20, and the top five at other positions, down from seven. The union says such a mechanism is needed to prevent teams from holding players in the minor leagues to delay free agency, such as the union claimed in an unsuccessful grievance against the Chicago Cubs over Kris Bryant that was decided by an arbitrator two years ago. Teams say they won't agree to such a proposal.

The union also tweaked its complex plan for a lottery to decide the top seven amateur draft picks to prevent a team that pays revenue sharing from picking among the top nine if it finished among the lowest eight winning percentages in each of the two previous seasons or the bottom 12 in each of the previous three. That provision would start in 2024. A club paying revenue sharing that finishes among the bottom 12 in winning percentage in each of the previous four or more seasons would have its pick dropped to 18th along with any team receiving revenue sharing that finishes among the bottom eight in the three previous seasons. The draft lottery would assign a 15% chance of picking first to each of the three teams with the lowest winning percentages, 12.5% for fourth-lowest, decreasing to 10% for fifth-lowest, 8% for sixth-lowest, 6.5% for seventh-lowest and 5% for eighth-lowest.

Big Spring Steers get first win of the year on the diamond double up Stanton 10-5

Right: Ricky Escovedo looks to drive a pitch for his Big Spring Steers in a game against Stanton this Thursday, Feb. 24. Middle: Gabriel Baeza stands in the box, waiting to find a pitch to hammer deep. Right: Braxton Sizenbach discusses with Steers Head Coach Brad Harmon along the third baseline. The Big Spring Steers won their first game of the year Thursday evening when they took on the Stanton Buffaloes in Stanton. This was only the second game of the season for the Steers as they were coming off a loss to the Greenwood Rangers earlier in the week by a score of 5-1. This game only happened because of the icy conditions we all experienced on Thursday morning, as the Steers were set to take a trip to Pecos for a tournament. Because of the icy conditions, the trip to Pecos was replaced with a game against the Buffaloes in Stanton. The game turned out to be just what the Steers needed as they had an excellent performance in all aspects of the game. The Steers started the game off on a hot note as they batted around driving in three runs in the first inning. That was just the beginning of the run-scoring for the Steers as they had an even bigger fourth inning where they tacked on five more runs. The Steers held off the Stanton Buffaloes for a 10-5 win with good pitching on the mound and some clutch hitting in between. The win was not only the first win of the season for the Steers; it was also Coach Harmons first Victory as the Steers head coach.

Left: Congratulations to this group of 5th & 6th graders who earned a movie field trip for having perfect attendance for the first semester of school. This is a huge accomplishment. Right: Our 6th grade math team dressed up for 2-22-22 day and did a team rotation where the kids received a math lesson from 2 different math teachers. It was a great way to mark this historical day that will not come again.

STANDING TALL FOR WEST TEXAS

So much love was shown to our family; friends coming as far as North Carolina, Missouri, and not to mention those who braved their way across Texas in the ice storm. The hugs, cards, food, plants, flowers and phone calls warmed our hearts. We kept with tradition and became regulars at the Pharmacy Bar, where our pain was dulled, and the walls were filled with great stories and laughter.

Although we left Big Spring many years ago, every one of you are still a huge part of our tribe. Thank you for caring for Clyde in our absence, and for being there for us and celebrating the “Last Fandango.” He went out with a bang, and we all know he wouldn’t have wanted it any other way!

#Godspeed - The “Young” McMahon’s

As the West Texas dust has settled, it’s clear, another cowboy has rode away...

Clyde McMahon Jr was serenaded by the awe-inspiring a cappella voice of Terry McDaniel, witty and theatrical stories were told by his best friend, Ricky Hamby, and the loving and kind words of Lanny Hamby rested our souls.

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass 1♥ Pass 1♠
Pass 2♥ Pass 3♠
Pass 3 NT Pass 4♠
Opening lead — king of hearts.

This deal occurred in a pairs championship. Most of the South players wound up in four spades, and South then either made the contract or went down one.

West usually started by cashing the K-A of hearts, then shifted to a diamond. Declarer won in dummy, led a spade and, when East followed low, went into a trance.

Those declarers who played the king made four spades, losing only two hearts and a spade. Those who finessed the jack lost to the queen and went down one.

A good case can be made for playing the king instead of the jack, but whether this is technically the correct play is debatable. It can be argued that West, having shown up with the A-K of hearts, is unlikely to have the ace of spades also, thus making the king a better play than the jack. But against this it can be argued that East might have had the A-Q-x, making the jack the winning play.

At one table, the argument for or against the king play was entirely academic. South went down one, and there was nothing he could do about it. Here, after cashing the A-K of hearts, West decided that there was no good reason to shift to a diamond and so continued with the queen of hearts.

East put on his thinking cap at this point and emerged with the killing play. He trumped his partner's high heart with the ace(!), after which declarer could not avoid losing a second trump trick to West's queen.

East reasoned that by ruffing with the ace, he could defeat the contract if his partner had either the Q-x or J-x-x of spades. East couldn't have been more right.

Tomorrow: Famous Hand.

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Advanced

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANSWER:

Meatless chili helps chase away the chill

Warming up on cold days can be a challenge, especially when the weather outside is frightful. Bundling up near the fireplace is one way to keep warm, as is dining on hearty meals that have staying power.

Chili is a cold-weather staple that is full of delicious, fresh ingredients. A little chili goes a long way, and it can be spiced up to increase its warming power. This recipe for "Kidney Bean Double Chili" courtesy of John La Puma, M.D., ChefMD, is a healthy take on this beloved, hearty dish.

Kidney Bean Double Chili
Serves: 4

2 large poblano chili peppers, seeded, chopped*

4 cloves garlic, minced

8 ounces frozen beef flavored crumbles, such as Boca or Beyond Beef brands

1 tablespoon chili powder, such as ancho or chipotle chili powder by McCormick brand

2 teaspoons dried Mexican oregano

1 cup chipotle salsa, preferably Frontera brand

2 15- or 16-ounce cans no salt added kidney beans, rinsed, drained

2 medium yellow summer squash or yellow zucchini, cut into 1/2-inch chunks (2 cups)

1/2 cup reduced fat sour cream

1/4 cup chopped cilantro or flat leaf parsley

Cook chili peppers and garlic in a large saucepan coated with cooking spray over medium heat for 2 minutes.

Add frozen crumbles, chili powder and oregano and continue to cook 1 minute.

Stir in salsa. Cover and reduce heat to medium-low.

Cook 5 minutes or until chili peppers are tender.

Stir in beans and 1 cup water. Stir in squash.

Cover and cook until squash is tender, 8 to 10 minutes. Season to taste with salt, if desired.

Ladle into shallow bowls; top with sour cream and cilantro.

*If fresh poblano chili peppers are not available, substitute 1 or 2 jalapeño chilies, minced and seeded, and add 1 large green bell pepper, diced. If chipotle salsa is not available, substitute your favorite salsa and add hot pepper sauce to taste. Ancho or chipotle chili powder will give the dish more heat than regular chili powder. Beef stock may replace the 1 cup water.

Power Alignment in Capricorn

Every living system has a power structure, a circuitry to deliver the vital energy to every necessary part of the whole. Jellyfish, families, daffodils and corporations are all organized to move energy in a particular way. You don't have to understand it to be affected by it, but it helps, as this lunar conjunction of Venus, Mars and Pluto points out.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Cozy up to your inspiration. Listen intently to your whispering muses. They will like and trust you when you show your interest. The more you develop the bond, the more they favor you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Two paths converge, resulting in a blockage. Neither path is better than the other, but the issue must be solved or progress cannot be made. Herein lies your role as the great negotiator.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). While you are reluctant to air your grievances, the time is now. Those who need to hear them will receive them well and do their best to make corrections.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). As long as you don't dwell on the negative aspects of your situation, identifying the ways in which you are not happy will help you find happiness. Choose one problem to focus on and work it until it's fixed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Promptness speaks volumes. However casual the appointment may be, you get there when you say you will and do what you planned to, which is the basic tenant of human interaction to uphold and expect of others.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You have true friends who do not give a hoot where you live, what you wear or what vehicle you drive. But not everyone is like that. Avoid relationships with those whose interest seems superficial.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). The intensity is turned up and you'll channel it positively and appropriately. When you apply yourself to a worthy activity, you excel -- although you might be initially attracted to a superhuman know-it-all type.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). A group of like-minded people will fascinate you with their intense concentration of energy. This will be an influence tempered by your own research and knowledge, which is becoming extensive lately.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Experience has taught you what you're good at. You know your own tricks and what you could pull off if you practiced a little more. It will benefit you to put the time in. Practice makes perfect!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Many stay in a situation they don't like because, as bad as it is, the problems involved are already known. You've chosen to explore the unknown instead, which will be a supreme and well-earned benefit to you.

DAY (Feb. 27). You will live daringly. Even when afraid, you will find the strength to overcome it. Powerful people admire your courage. Decide where you want to be this time next year; a mentor will help you get there. Friendships and fun are the spring themes. Love is found on a getaway. Summer will bring financial success. Libra and Leo adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 10, 3, 33, 28 and 49.

FORECAST FOR THE WEEK AHEAD: The transition into February comes with this radical idea: Though most wonderful things are built on the brawn of a thought process, thinking isn't always the answer.

Thinking sometimes creates more problems than it solves. That's when we can switch to a feeling mode. Ask, "What am I missing?" then push your feelings into the situation and try to sense your way around the issue. The Pisces sun nudges us along a journey of intuition. It's an invitation to widen your lens, tend to the periphery and tune in to subtlety. It's a cosmic nod that validates your hunches, rewards your whimsy and emboldens your inklings. But more than anything, Pisces solar energy lends clarity by filtering noise and turning up sensory sensitivity.

Wednesday, state your creative intentions under the new Pisces moon, a fairy godmother granting artful wishes.

Saturday, Mars and Venus enter Aquarius within minutes of each other and align perfectly shortly after, an omen of solidarity. Diverse teams of all sizes will unify for the higher causes affecting large numbers, all for one and one for all.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Summer will bring the angelic tones of Josh Groban back to the world stage, though it's not the only return in the works. Groban will also come back to acting this year in the role of Billy Joel in "The Miranda Obsession," a podcast series drama. Groban has natal sun and Mars in soulful Pisces, an indicator of high artistic standards, a soft, caring heart and strong intuition.

Today in History

Today is Sunday, Feb. 27, the 58th day of 2022. There are 307 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Feb. 27, 1922, the Supreme Court, in Leser v. Garnett, unanimously upheld the 19th Amendment to the Constitution, which guaranteed the right of women to vote.

On this date:

In 1807, poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was born in Portland, Maine.

In 1933, Germany's parliament building, the Reichstag (RYKS'-tahg), was gutted by fire; Chancellor Adolf Hitler, blaming the Communists, used the fire to justify suspending civil liberties.

In 1939, the Supreme Court, in National Labor Relations Board v. Fansteel Metallurgical Corp., effectively outlawed sit-down strikes.

In 1942, the Battle of the Java Sea began during World War II; Imperial Japanese naval forces scored a decisive victory over the Allies.

In 1951, the 22nd Amendment to the Constitution, limiting a president to two terms of office, was ratified.

In 1973, members of the American Indian Movement occupied the hamlet of Wounded Knee in South Dakota, the site of the 1890 massacre of Sioux men, women and children. (The occupation

During congestion, customers on this plan may notice speeds lower than other customers and further reduction if using >50GB/mo., due to data prioritization. Video typically streams at DVD quality (480p). Tethering at max 3G speeds. Unlimited on our US network; see details for roaming & international usage. Unlimited talk & text features for direct communications between 2 people; others may cost extra. Limited-time offers; subject to change. Postpaid only. Credit approval, deposit, support charges may be required. Monthly Regulatory Programs (RPF) & Telco Recovery Fee (TRF) totaling $3.49 per voice line ($0.50 for RPF & $2.99 for TRF) applies; taxes/fees approx. 10–33% of bill. Without AutoPay, $5 more/line/mo. May not be reflected on 1st bill. Free Smartphones: For well-qualified customers; plus tax. Contact us before canceling service to continue remaining bill credits, or credits stop & balance on required finance agreements are due (e.g. $299.99 - OnePlus Nord N10 5G). Tax on pre-credit price due at sale. Qualifying credit & new line for each phone required. If you have cancelled lines in past 90 days, you may need to reactivate them first. Up to $300 via bill credits; must be active and in good standing to receive credits; allow 2 bill cycles. Max 12/account. May not be combinable with some offers or discounts. Coverage not available in some areas. Network Management: Service may be slowed, suspended, terminated, or restricted for misuse, abnormal use, interference with our network or ability to provide quality service to other users, or significant roaming. On-device usage is prioritized over tethering usage, which may result in higher speeds for data used on device. See T-Mobile.com/OpenInternet for details. See Terms and Conditions (including arbitration provision) at www.t-mobile.com for additional information.
