PROPOSED SAND CREEK WATERSHED

This is the 40,675 acre area covered by the proposed Sand Creek Watershed, which is being sought through Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. The City of Wellington has given its co-operation. The Commissioners Court is due to consider it Monday. Development of this watershed would eliminate flooding of the north and Southeast areas of Wellington, such as occurred last summer.

Three Crucial Games Coming for Rockets

"Every ball game is a must for us now. If we can win that game over Seymour Friday, it will be one big step toward the championship for the Skyrockets," Coach James Stavenhagen declared this week.

The Rockets will travel to Seymour Friday, Feb. 7 in an effort to even up the loss to that team earlier in the season.

Perhaps the crucial game of conference play comes Tuesday Feb. 11 when the Childress Bobcats play in Rocket Gym. Childress is one of the two teams that have defeated Wellington in District 2-A games, and the closeness of the score in the earlier meeting has left no doubt among Rocket fans, and players, that Wellington is the stronger team.

This game is due to draw the largest crowd to Rocket Gym of the entire season.

Both the Seymour and Childress games will have the Wellington Junior Varsity boys in the second game of the double header, as the Rockettes finished conference play with the Shamrock game Tuesday, Feb. 4.

Wellington Skyrockets will close out their season against the Quanah Indians Friday, Feb. 14.

Wellington Rockettes completed their conference schedule against Shamrock Tuesday night, Feb. 4, but they have two more matched games coming up.

They will travel to Panhandle Tuesday, Feb. 11, then play the Canyon Eaglettes at Canyon Saturday night, Feb. 15.

"We feel we need some strong competition now to prepare us for our bi-district game," said Coach Stavenhagen.

Gun Club Sets Shoot Feb. 16

Wellington Gun Club members have set another merchandise shoot for Sunday, Feb. 16, on the Jerry Nix farm 2 miles north of Wellington on US 83. It will start at 1 p.m. and continue as long as anyone wants to shoot, according to Pat McAlister.

Plans for the event were made at the regular Gun Club meeting Monday evening, Feb. 3.

The first merchandise shoot of the new year was termed successful by the members, in spite of cold weather and high winds. Out of town participants came from Shamrock, Borger and Clarendon.

In the Monday night meeting, Wilson Porter was appointed to pick up more clay pigeons in Amarillo and plans were discussed for building a trap house of concrete blocks.

Guest Speaker Due at Church

Philip Torgrimson, a junior in Bethany Nazarene College at Bethany, Okla., will be the guest speaker at the services of Wellington Nazarene Church Sunday, Feb. 9, according to the Rev. Ronald Crosley, pastor.

Mr. Torgrimson grew up in Peru, the son of missionaries, and at the evening service he will show slides of that country. It will began at 6 p.m. and the public is invited to attend, Rev. Crosley said.

Mr. Torgrimson will also speak at the Nazarene Young People's Zone banquet in Dodson Saturday evening.

Bowen Heads Band Parents for 1969-70

King Bowen was elected president of the Band Parents Club following the report of the nominating committee at the organization's monthly meeting Monday, Feb. 3.

Results of the election were announced by Jesse Peters, the Band Parents president this year.

Dee Burba was chosen vice president, Mrs. Jimmy Cochran secretary and Mrs. Leon Hartman treasurer. Mr. Peters will be concession chairman.

These officers will be installed in September to serve through the 1969-70 school year.

Quail-Hedley Tie for Top Place in 4-B

Friday night, Feb. 7, will see key games as far as the Quail Quails and Bobwhites are concerned.

At present, Quail and Hedley boys are tied for the top place in round robin play of District 4-B.

The Bobwhites, at the same time, are tied with Samnorwood for second place, with the Lakeview girls leading the district.

This week's schedule will see Quail at Dodson Friday night, while Hedley will meet Lakeview. These latter two boys teams have met once in district play with Hedley winning. Lakeview has only one reserve player, yet that team is considered strong enough to cause trouble for any championship aspirant.

It is not the outcome of the game the Quails themselves play Friday night that concerns them, it is the outcome of the Lakeview-Hedley tilt.

Dodson, which had a slow early season, has picked up momentum and skill in their latter games.

Christian On 5 Committees

Freshman Republican Representative Tom Christian has received five committee assignments from House Speaker Gus Mutscher for the current session of the Texas Legislature.

Mr. Christian has said in Austin that he considers the committee appointments good ones.

Bloodmobile Work Begins; Visits Here February 28

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Wellington Friday, Feb. 28, and on that one day it will receive blood under a program that insures this county as much blood as may be needed for transfusions throughout the year.

Donald Nunnelley, who directed the highly successful first visit of the Bloodmobile, will be chairman of the local blood program.

Recruitment of blood donors will begin well in advance of the Bloodmobile visit.

Preliminary plans were set up Monday night, Feb. 3, in Shamrock, when Col. A. J. Mason of the Red Cross Blood Program in Amarillo met with administrators and technicians of the hospitals at Wellington, Shamrock and Wheeler. Sister Mary Perpetua, administrator, and Don Smith, technician, represented St. Joseph's.

Gen. Wm. L. Lee, Ret., discussed recruitment for the blood program.

A former commanding general of Amarillo Air Force Base, he is now a volunteer worker with the program.

Gen. Lee will be in Wellington Saturday, Feb. 15, at 1:30 p.m., to help local workers set up the program.

The blood quota will be 125 pints, as far as is known now.

"This program is not for the benefit of the Red Cross. It is for the benefit of the people of Collingsworth County," declared Sister Perpetua.

On the last two visits of the Bloodmobile to Wellington, the county did not reach it quota of blood.

"Many think it comes down, and takes the blood out of the county and we never see it again. Actually, we receive more blood from the Red Cross than we have donated," the hospital administrator continued.

The number of pints of blood used in the county has no connection with the amount of blood that is drawn from the county, it was explained.

"The quota is taken from the fact that approximately four percent of the population must have a pint of blood a year as a transfusion. But even if 15 percent of the people or more needs blood, we can still get it through the Red Cross Blood Program," Sister Perpetua pointed out.

St. Joseph's Hospital entered the Red Cross Blood Program two years ago, after it had become difficult, sometimes impossible, to secure walking blood donors when they were needed.

Not only had the number of available donors decreased, but the needs of modern medicine call for blood in larger quantities than it did even a few years ago.

Under the contract with the Red Cross Blood Program, St. Joseph's Hospital can receive as much blood in any form—whole blood, plasma, packed blood, blood cells or other derivitives—as the hospital needs, whenever it is needed.

But in return, the people of the county are to supply the quota of blood at the regular visits of the Bloodmobile.

It is the county's part of this blood contract that will be fulfilled on Feb. 28.

Mrs. Ben Brewer, Pioneer County Resident, Dies

A member of one of this county's pioneer families, Mrs. Brewer was the former Mittie Lanie Ingram, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ingram. Four years later she came with her family to Collingsworth County, where other members of that family had settled even earlier.

She attended the public schools of the county.

On Dec. 24, 1913, she and Mr. Brewer were married in Wellington.

She was a devoted member of First Baptist Church and served as an officer in its Sunday School. She also was active in Home Demonstration Club work.

Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Rockettes Still on Top

Rockets Continue to Fight for 2-AA Title

Wellington's Skyrockets continued their fight for at least a share of the District 2-AA championship, as they won over Memphis on the Cyclone court, and over Electra here.

Improved Wellington defense and greater accuracy in hitting the basket, along with aggressiveness and hustle accounted for the 69-57 victory over Memphis and the 74-45 win from Electra.

At the same time, Wellington girls continued to hold their district lead by defeating Memphis girls 57 to 43 and Electra girls 59 to 31.

The Memphis game was not as close during most of the play as the 69-57 victory might indicate. The Rockets jumped to an early lead and continued to build to it. Some of this lead was lost late in the game when Coach James Stavenhagen gave his reserves an opportunity for action.

"The kids are doing a real good job defensively and as a result it is helping the offense," Coach Stavenhagen said.

Glen Barber led Wellington scoring with 21 points, Lester Robinson made 19 and Chuck Wilbur 10. Ronny McFall scored 18 for Memphis and Cliff Bradshaw had 16.

Rockets-Electra

The first quarter with Electra looked like this was going to be a pretty good game, but Wellington pulled away during the latter stages of the first quarter and during the second the Rockets scored 29 points while Electra made 6. After that it was a matter of letting time run out.

Larry Robinson scored 17 points for Wellington, Glenn Barber 16, Tony Hurst 12 and Chuck Wilbur 11. High pointer for Electra was Gary Fisher with 17, while Mike Rouse scored 11.

Rockettes-Memphis

The 57-43 margin that ended the game between the Wellington and Memphis girls was the widest it had been any time. It was a hard-fought tilt all the way to the last part of the fourth quarter, when the Rockettes were able to get a lead, then employ their delay game and force Memphis into some costly mistakes.

Mary Lou Holton led Rockette scoring with 34 points while Memphis' Sue Melton had 35.

Wellington girls simply had too much finesse for the Electra team and the final score of 59-31 was never in doubt. Well jumped to an early lead and continued to build to it.

Mary Lou Holton scored 27 points during the first half and 36 altogether, with reserves playing most of the second period. Betsy Trapp made 14. The high pointer for Electra was Pierce with 17.

Collingsworth County FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

Due to a 30% increase in the use of commercial fertilizers in Texas over the past five years per acre crop yields have materially increased.

A continuing search for conditions that will provide profitable returns from fertilizer use is in progress because of the low cost of plant nutrients in relation to other agricultural production inputs. The average price of plant nutrients has increased very little during the past 15 years, and the cost of some nutrients has declined during recent years. This means that agricultural producers should strive to make maximum use of plant nutrients.

One particular soil condition that needs more attention if many producers are to keep their production on the increase is soil variation. Soils vary from farm to farm, from field to field and even within fields. This variation must be recognized and evaluated.

Low production can often be diagnosed by a soil test. Soil testing procedures are being constantly improved and more data are available to calibrate the laboratory test so that results express the level of the available nutrients.

When collecting information on which to base next year's fertilization, be sure to include results from previous soil tests, soil variables, and previous fertilization.

Fertilization and Harvest Timing Vital in Quality Hay Production

Hay quality in 1969 will depend, in the main, on two things—ample fertilization and early harvesting.

Adequate rainfall last year caused many hay fields to draw heavily on plant nutrients in the soil and these must be replaced for high quality hay this year. Fertilizer should be applied early in the spring, or about the time the last frost is expected.

A soil test is the only sure way to tell how much fertilizer is needed. Approximately 80-100 pounds of nitrogen should be supplied for the first cutting in addition to the phosphorus, and other nutrients recommended by the soil test. Hay should be top-dressed immediately after each harvest for maximum quality as rainfall can be utilized more efficiently when hay crops have been adequately fertilized.

Harvesting before plants mature is of equal importance for high quality. Johnsongrass and hybrid sorghums should be harvested before seedheads emerge.

The amount and quality of hay produced are largely determined by the amount of plant food and the stage of growth when the crops are harvested.

A forage test is a good way to determine the quality of hay being produced this spring, and the county agent's office can supply information on this as well as soil tests.

If adequate control measures are not taken, post harvest disease of peach and plum can reduce the potential income of a commercial fruit grower or homeowner by 100%.

The first step to a good control program is orchard sanitation. All mummies (decayed fruit which has dried) that might still be hanging on the trees from last year's crop, should be removed. Also, the decayed fruit that was left under the tree should either be removed completely from the orchard or should be plowed under.

If the mummies are left exposed to the air next spring, they will serve as a source of inoculum for the blossom blight stage of brown rot. By reducing the amount of the blossom blight stage, inoculum buildup in the orchard will be reduced and less brown rot will be experienced at the harvest.

This practice of orchard sanitation is as important for the homeowner as for the commercial fruit grower.

Alfalfa is native to Asia, did not reach this country until 1850.

America's rural electrics are concerned about the crisis in our cities.

It is a crisis made up of inadequate facilities to meet the demands of a swelling population, created in great part by the migration of people from the countryside to the city. Many electric power systems have failed to keep pace with increasing demands, and this contributes to the urban crisis.

Another electric power blackout is the last thing the people in cities need this summer. But once again many of them will hold their breath as the demand for electricity rises with the temperature.

This recurring summertime electric power crisis destroys the myth that America has an over-abundance of electricity, readily available whenever and wherever needed.

We need all the electric power that can be generated by all suppliers—commercial, public and cooperative—and the kind of high-capacity transmission system that will instantly put the power where it's needed.

This summer, dependable electric power may be more important than ever in averting another crisis in our cities.

Linda Haning, Raymond Sanders Marry in St. Matthias Church

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haning of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanders of Wellington.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Charles Hawn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal length A line gown of imported candelight bathea. The wedding band collar was embroidered with seed pearls and crystals, as were the cuffs on the elbow length sleeves. The short chapel train fell from the shoulders and the veil of illusion was attached to a dior bow embroidered with seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and fuji mums.

Miss Holly Haning, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Mary Haning, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Tammy Ann Sanders, sister of the groom, was the flower girl.

Formal gowns of lotus pink moire taffeta worn by the bride's attendants were fashioned with empire waists and a self ruffle around the oval neck line. Their headdresses were dior bows of the same material covered with pink lily of the valley.

Richard Lee Sanders and Allen Ray Sanders, brothers of the groom, were candlelighters. Lynn McLain served as best man. The groomsman was Craig Bergvall and ushers were Tommy Haning, Johnny Jones, Tommy Holley, Robert West and Marvin Cox.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rawson, 115 Leland Drive. The bride's table was laid with a white cloth. Centering the table was a silver epergne containing white candytuft and pink ranunculas which were flanked by pink tapers. The table appointments were silver.

Trend Toward Modern Styled Furniture Grows

COLLEGE STATION.—Furniture for 1969 will accommodate living needs, explains Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

Modern-styled furniture promises to be a big item with a continued increase in the use of plastics, metals and sprayed-on materials.

Upholstery for molded forms will require the use of stretch and spray-on fabrics. Geometrics will be a common pattern with a continuation of the leather-look from last year, says the Texas A&M University specialist.

Geometrics will also appear in carpets. There will be a continued increase in the use of indoor-outdoor carpet and area and shag rugs.

New colors for '69 in home furnishings will be no-colors or neutrals, off white, ivory, beige, sands and light browns. Miss Lay predicts that cranberries, mauves, peaches and purples will be on the increase.

Off-White Still Most Popular

COLLEGE STATION.— Each year, some colors are "in" and widely used in home furnishings while others are used rarely.

Faber Birren, one of the world's leading authorities on color makes some predictions for 1969.

Off-white will contnue to be the most popular color in paints and wall coverings and will continue to be used for contrast with bold, vivid colors.

Gold, avocado green and brilliant blue will continue to be used extensively in home furnishings. These colors will continue to become clearer and brighter.

"White walls, brilliant home furnishings, muted walls are the order of preference in '69," according to the color expert.

Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, explains what makes color fashion. The consumer establishes color trends through the selections he makes in the market place. Color trends are natural and spontaneous.

Color research experts establish and interpret color trends by analyzing retail purchases in various consumer areas from year to year. Computer analysis of sales records of consumer products including paints, carpeting, furniture, draperies, accessories, linens, appliances, and automobiles also determine color trends.

Cards of Thanks

OUR CUP IS RUNNING OVER because of the kind words and the warm-hearted generosity of so many friends in the past three weeks. Our biggest loss is for words that can adequately tell you how deeply grateful we are to each and every one of you.

Billye and Bo Castleberry.

With our deepest gratitude we wish to thank all who were so thoughtful and kind in our time of sorrow. For all of the beautiful flowers, the food and the ones who prepared it, the cards and prayers.

May God bless each of you.
The family of

We wish to thank everyone who helped take care of us during our recent illness.

Especially do we thank our good neighbors for caring for our livestock, for the food they brought to our home. Also thanks to the doctors and nurses who cared for us; for each card, letter, visits, prayers, and flowers.

"Tiles" Answer to Carpet Paths

COLLEGE STATION. — The answer to carpet paths worn by continuous traffic is here—carpet tiles.

The tiles, not permanently attached to the floor, rearrange to create an original floor covering design, adds Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishing specialist.

Since most carpet tiles can be applied directly to all types of floors, they also can be switched from room to room. When one moves, he can take up the carpet and move it with him, Miss Lay adds.

Carpet tiles come in various sizes, colors and textures. They are available in differing fabrics—a combination of animal fibers, artificial and synthetic fibers; polypropylene, which is like some indoor-outdoor carpet and other synthetic fibers.

For unusual decorative wall treatment, apply carpet tiles to a wall, suggests the Texas A&M University specialist. To attach these to the wall, double-stick carpet tape can be used very easily. All types of patterns can be created with the tiles.

One Record We Set Was Not a Good One

In 1968 Collingsworth County set one record for the Southwest Panhandle of which none of us is proud.

For that 12 months, six persons died on our rural highways—more than in any other county in this part of the Panhandle. Only two counties in the entire 31-county Department of Public Safety District 5-B had more deaths and one of those was Potter, our most metropolitan county. Most of those six lived here.

By contrast, 5 counties had no rural deaths at all: Childress, Dallam, Lipscomb, Ochiltree and Roberts.

In the 31 counties making up the district there were 2554 accidents in 1968, causing 103 needless deaths, 1362 injured and $2,485,383 property damage.

Add to this the grief and readjustments that must be made by families of those killed, the pain and hospital costs by those inpured, and the loss of income, often for long periods, and the toll is even higher.

During this same 12-months period, we have had two highway patrolmen and a state Liquor Control Board representative stationed here. These conscientious young men are doing an excellent job, but their work cannot prevent these tragic fatal accidents unless we who drive use the self-descipline and self-restraint that make for safe driving.

Two Kinds of Highways

Are we moving into an era in which two kinds of highways may become a reality?

The increasing number of trucks on our major roads is necessary due to the expension of our economy, the increased population problem, and the need to move merchandise more rapidly.

At the same time, passenger car and light vehicle traffic is growing every month.

We do not have enough super highways. We need to give consideration to highways for passenger cars. Both needs are being studied by engineers in transportation in many states, and nationally.

We talk about our gigantic road-building program —but most motorists are quite certain that we have just started because our needs apparently increase more rapidly than our federal and state highway planners can speed the building of roadways.

Back-Pat for Banquets

An annual banquet, whether it be a civic club, Chamber of Comerce, professional group or what have you, serves to bring members together in good fellowship to take a fresh look at the aims and objectives of the organization, and usually those that attend can learn something from the speaker. We know that the people who attended the Chamber of Commerce banquet in Perryton last week learned something from Wales Madden, Jr., if they were listening. We heard Judge Herman Jones of Austin speak at a meeting in Houston last Saturday and we learned something from him. We find out things from every banquet speaker that we didn't know before.—Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald

"You're Both First"

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.—Even while awaiting committee assignments during the third week of the session, legislators boomed through two bills of a semi-emergency nature.

First passed was a $905,815 appropriation measure to forestall a welfare cut (in aid to dependent children), to assist growing junior colleges and to help finance legislative and governor's office operations this year. A fund transfer of $35,000 headed off a $28 cut in aid to needy families. Governor's office got $130,000 for new personnel, equipment, travel and postage. Colleges got $335,815, the Senate $325,000 and House $115,000.

Second bill urged by Gov. Preston Smith increased retirement benefits of some 6,500 retired state employees an average of 10 percent. Minimum benefit would be raised from about $30 to $50 a month. A retirement boost for elected officials will be the subject of a separate bill.

Senate Reforms Rules

Senate lost no time in adopting rulebook reforms designed to curb free-wheeling conference committees and to relax its own secret-vote provisions.

They voted 25-6 for new joint rules. Most dramatic change would limit conference committees named to adjust differences between House and Senate bills to doing just that—rather than writing totally new legislation behind closed doors. The House has yet to act.

Senate later approved 30-1 revisions of its own operating procedures which for the first time direct open committee hearings on appointments by the governor (unless a majority of the nominations committee votes for executive session).

Senators also were authorized to announce how they voted on confirmation of appointments.

Legislation Rains In

Bulk of legislation proposed by Gov. Smith—and a lot he didn't ask for—in his first message to the 1969 legislature already has rained into hoppers of both houses.

Constitutional amendment proposals would lower the voting age to 18, shore up women's legal rights and authorize horse track betting on a local option basis in Bexar and Harris counties.

Among other bills introduced in the House and Senate are:

—A proposal by Sen. Criss Cole of Houston to make air and water pollution a misdemeanor offense — for corporations as well as individuals.

—A Texas Meat Inspection Law, sponsored by Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg. (Without a state act, the federal government will take over meat inspecting in Texas.)

—Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria wants to abolish common-law marriage and permit divorce because of unsolvable discord between husband and wife.

—Liberals will try again for a minimum wage with a bill sponsored by Reps. Raul Longoria and Lauro Cruz setting a state minimum of $1.10 per hour.

—Senator Bates also has a bill prohibiting private clubs—including country clubs — in "dry" areas (based on his premise that if an area votes to be dry, it ought to be completely dry).

—Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio wants to extend until 2 a.m. every day the time in which alcoholic beverages may be sold. (Such a bill passed in 1967 but was vetoed by Gov. Connally.)

—Affirmative action is expected on the industry-labor compromise bill to increase the maximum weekly payments under the Workmen's Compensation system to $49.

—Reps. Hilary Doran of Del Rio and Guy Floyd of San Antonio will run with a bill exempting Texas from Daylight Saving Time.

—Representative Cory wants a code of ethics for teachers and a state commission to enforce it.

—A proposal by Rep. Neil Caldwell of Alvin to require cities and counties to designate the right of way at intersections and put up traffic signs within two years to help establish blame in accidents.

—Rep. Caldwell also would prohibit games, puzzles, and other advertising techniques such as those used by gas stations.

There has been a shortage in only one field. Nobody is rushing forward with tax ideas. Although that may soon be the subject of a new address to the Legislature by Gov. Smith.

Budget Work Begins

A record $5.6 billion in spending proposals of the Legislative Budget Board has been placed before the House appropriations and Senate finance committees as a starting point for the 1970-71 budget-making.

Bill calls for $1.1 billion in general revenue spending, an increase of $170.4 million, but it does not provide for teacher pay raises, new senior colleges and many other high-priority items.

Starting bill calls for $14.9 million for the judiciary; $277.2 million for health, hospitals, special schools and youth institutions; $2.67 billion to executive and administrative departments and agencies of the state; $2.63 billion for education; and $16.7 million for the Legislature.

Courts Speak

Federal district court judge here ruled that a college student with a I-S deferment from the draft may finish out his academic year.

State Supreme Court told a San Antonio judge he could not order an insurance company to reveal its auto liability policy limits when involved in a lawsuit.

Supreme Court upheld lower courts rulings that a Vidor youth who promoted an illegal drag race was not entitled to damages for injuries received when he was hit by one of the racers.

Life sentence given a Wichita County man in 1928, for assault, was thrown out by the Court of Criminal Appeals because the man had no lawyer in two prior convictions cited in his trial.

Attorney General Martin obtained a permanent injunction in an Austin district court against an aluminum concern to halt "bait and switch" selling tactics or misrepresenting price cuts.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held constitutional a 1935 law against synthetic milk that includes both vegetable oil and dry milk solids.

Parents in the Edgewood School district in San Antonio brought a federal court suit challenging the constitutionality of the tax system under which some school district property owners pay higher taxes than others for the same or inferior educational opportunities.

Appointments

Gov. Smith, according to advance predictions, appointed former State Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo to a six-year term on the State Board of Insurance. He plans to name Hardeman chairman of the board, which regulates the state's second largest industry, when he is confirmed by the Senate.

C. R. Baskin of Austin has been named chief engineer of the Texas Water Development Board. Baskin has been acting chief.

Some 15 appointive posts on boards and commissions expired on Feb. 1.

Attorney General Opinions

Couny Commissioners' Courts may not, under Texas law, authorize payroll deductions for union dues. So said Atty. Gen Crawford Martin in an opinion requested by Dist. Atty. Jules Damiani, Jr. of Galveston.

In another opinion, Martin ruled that when a city annexes an area, then holds a local-option liquor election, the annexed area is to abide by the same liquor rules as the rest of the city. Inquiry came from Charles Allen, district attorney in Harrison County, concerning a dry area annexed to wet Marshall.

Texas Pavilion

Texas will have a pavilion at Japan's World's Fair, Expo '70 at Osaka, if the Legislature approves a half-million dollar appropriation for expenses.

Texas' interest in the fair is partly a result of Japanese interest in HemisFair '68 at San Antonio. Plans call for a pavilion of about 3,000 square feet at an estimated cost of $504,500. This could include the pavilion, transportation and housing.

Pavilion would be run by a triumvirate of state agencies—Texas Industrial Commission, Texas Department of Agriculture and Texas Tourist Development Agency.

TIPS IN DETECTING COUNTERFEIT BILLS

There are several ways to detect counterfeit bills.

First, learn what portraits are displayed on various bills. Always remember that: Washington is on one dollar bills; Jefferson on twos; Lincoln on fives; Hamilton on tens; Jackson on twenties; Grant on fifties; Franklin on one hundreds; McKinley on five hundreds; Cleveland on one thousands; Madison on five thousands; and Chase on ten-thousand dollar bills.

On all genuine bills the printing must be perfect. Counterfeiters invariably get tripped up by poor reproductions. The portrait may be flat and spotty, the background smudged and dark, while fine lines of the border are not distinct.

On a genuine bill the sawtooth points around the treasury seal rim are sharp and even while the counterfeit shows irregularities.

Hughs Return from Nassau Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hughs returned Tuesday, Jan. 25 from a trip to Nassau, Bahama Islands, a trip which he received for exceeding his sales quota of RCA products by a greater percent than any other dealer in the district.

They were members of a party of 43 who were guests of Nunn Electric Co. of Amarillo, the RCA distributor for this area.

With Carl Hare, president, and managers of the Amarillo firm as official hosts, the group stayed at the famous Emerald Beach Hotel.

They were taken sightseeing over the island and on a boat tour around it. Buster and Frances Hughs found the history of these British-owned islands interesting, as they walked through its old forts and dungeons where pirates once were held. Another stop was at the straw market, the largest in the world.

He played golf one afternoon.

Another highlight of the trip was the 35-mile motorbike ride the couple took.

"Driving on the left hand side of the street will kind of foul you up," he remarked.

"British customs are carried out at the hotels. For instance, for the native employees, serving in the dining room is an art, not a job. And some of the women commented they'd hate to have to wash all those dishes."

The economy of the islands is good, the group was told, and there is plenty of work, a job for everyone who wants one.

1968 was the first year in which tourists passed the million mark, Mr. Hughs said. Air travel was up 28 percent that year. Many people still come on excursion boats, which crowded the harbor.

"If there was anything outstanding, besides the trip itself, it was the people we were with," said Mr. Hughs of the friendliness that marked the trip.

"There was just one thing we missed—the side trip to Havana," he added, with relief.

The young soldier was the husband of the former Marcella Vandivere, and went overseas immediately after the birth of their daughter, Kimberly Dawn.

A native of Salinas, Calif., Cantrell graduated from Carter, Okla., high school and moved to Amarillo in December of 1967.

His body arrived in Amarillo Saturday at midnight and lay in state until Sunday night, when it was carried to Sayre, Okla.

Services were conducted at the Baptist Church at Carter, Okla., Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 2:30 p.m. Officiating was the Rev. Virgil Howell, pastor of the Full Gospel Church of Christ at Hollister, Calif., a close friend of the family. Assisting was Rev. A. C. Lyons, Baptist minister of Amarillo.

1968 Traffic Toll is 6 Killed, 27 Injured

Six persons died in rural traffic accidents in Collingsworth County during 1968, one of the highest fatality records of recent years, Lt. Fred D. Marshall of the Texas Department of Public Safety for Region 5, Lubbock, reports.

Besides this, 27 persons were injured and a total of 49 accidents were reported by the DPS.

Property damage resulting from these accidents was high, $68,128.

Only two other counties in the 31-county district 5-B had more people killed in traffic accidents in 1968 than did Collingsworth. Patter County had 17 persons to die and Swisher County had 7. Two other counties tied Collingsworth, Carson and Parmer.

However, several other counties with fewer accidents had more persons injured and higher property damage.

Childress County, which had no traffic deaths at all during the year, had 43 persons injured in 66 accidents and property damage amounting to $86,720.

Gray County, which had four deaths, also had a total of 215 accidents, 110 injured and $266,582 property damage. This was the largest damage figure for any District 5-B county.

The 1968 record for other area counties is:

Cottle: 31 accidents, 1 death, 22 injured, $39,215 property damage.

Donley: 55 accidents, 3 killed, 38 injured, $110,886 property damage.

Hall: 52 accidents, 3 deaths, 36 injured, and $50,750 property damage.

For the three months period, ending Dec. 31, 1968, net income, after Federal taxes, amounted to $139,092, or approximately 9 cents per share, as against $69,243 or approximately 4 cents per share in the corresponding period a year ago. ## Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

By Mrs. Leta Hill

Leg Wear for Spring

Women's legs are declining in prominence but not importance in the fashion world. The spring look in clothes is soft and the legs will look natural to accompany the look.

Many designers show sheer, nude hosiery that dresses down for the clothes. They are good, especially for the new detailed shoes.

"I'm using a lot of prints, and the subdued natural leg looks right with them," one designer said.

For daytime wear, some light textures, small flowers and tiny designs are in the air. There will be some cool clear pastel colors and many grays and beiges in hosiery.

Hosiery World Expands

The hosiery world has expanded to the neck—literally and price wise.

The hosiery industry has crossed an enormous price boundary. Prices range from $12.50 to less than $1.

Hosiery covering the entire body is called the body stocking. Several designers are emphasizing this type of dinnerwear which fits like a second skin.

The knee-high are forerunners in hosiery for spring. They are sheer or textured and give the leg a new sportive gait. These work with slacks and skirts for every mood.

Milk Research

Milk can last as long as seven weeks in the refrigerator—if it is stored at freezing temperature or slightly above, U. S. Department of Agriculture research has discovered.

Milk stored at 32 degrees to 40 degrees F. stayed fresh up to seven times longer than milk stored at 45 to 50 degrees F.

They suggest homemakers put milk in the refrigerator as soon as possible after buying it and keep milk as cold as possible without freezing it.

The research also has pointed out that milk pasteurized under higher-than-normal temperatures would keep as long as 20 weeks or more.

The specialists say the new findings may lead to drastic changes in the storage and distribution practices of the fresh milk industry. This research, done under USDA contract, is a part of a continuing Agricultural Research Service program to protect the nation's milk supply in the event of nuclear attack or accident.

Fondue

Fondue is a new twist to cheese cookery. It is a Swiss specialty dish made with melted cheese, thinned with milk or bouillon and seasoned with pepper and nutmeg. Fondue is served in a delightful way. Guests gather around a bubbling pot of Fondue and a bowl of cubes of crispy french bread. They spear the bread on long forks and swirl it in the hot cheese mixture, then pop into the mouth. It is an exciting and delicious way to eat a really special cheese dish. The Americans love the cheese fondue, but they have come up with fudge Fondue, a popular dessert fondue. With fudge fondue spear cakes cubes, marshmallows, cubes of fresh fruits on forks; dip in sauce then in cocoanut or nuts.

You can use a Fondue pot or a chafing dish for any fondue recipe.

Police Chief Speaks at Club

The 1954 Study Club met on Thursday, January 30 in the home of Mrs. Don Lacy. Mrs. Glen Taylor was in charge of the program and introduced the guest speaker, Police Chief Donald Nunnelley, who spoke on "Safety in Our Community."

"One of the basic elements of safety is the common courtesy that each person should extend to another," he said. He pointed out that nearly all accidents stem from unintentional acts of carelessness, many of which arise from individual habits.

Chief Nunnelley discussed the traffic improvements made on Fifteenth Street in the vicinity of the schools and also other plans for improved traffic safety that the city hopes to put into effect in the future.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Lynn Courtney, Mrs. R. L. Templeton, Mrs. A. J. Fires, Mrs. Bill Hatch, Mrs. Leon Hartman, Mrs. Glen Taylor, Mrs. Thayne Amonett, Mrs. James Richardson, Mrs. E. W. Clement, Mrs. Fred Cox, Jr., Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Mrs. Sam McGill, Mrs. Cal Hurst, Mrs. Bob Goforth, and the hostess, Mrs. Lacy.

If Tom Christian and Malouf Abraham, two of the state representatives from the Panhandle think they have distances to travel in their respective districts they should think of George Baker of Fort Stockton. Here are some of the counties in his district: Pecos—his home county—Presidio, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Brewster and enough other huge counties to total 13. He does not have El Paso County or Ector which contains Odessa, or Midland; but he does have a colossal terrain, an astounding amount of mountains, desert and fertile land to represent in Austin. He also has a few people.

What a district to try to cover. You could drop Collingsworth, Donley, Wheeler and Gray—our old district—into one of these vast counties and still have sections to spare.

George Baker is a freshman in the House of Representatives but Austin and the Capitol are not new to him. He has been the editor and publisher of The Fort Stockton Pioneer for over 30 years. He is a past presidtnt of The Texas Press Association and has held many local and district offices that took him to Austin. One of his daughters was a senate secretary before he was elected and still is and his wife and two of his sons publish the paper while he is away. He should have no trouble in getting his report to the people published in at least one newspaper and his work in Austin should be an interesting experience for an interesting and capable man.

As usual, the new Texas Highway map is a beauty. It shows 127 miles of new Interstate Highways making nearly 2,100 miles of these highways in the state. It has detailed maps of all the large cities as well as special insets of Metropolitan areas such as the Rio Grande Valley, the Houston-Galveston megapolis and this year the Longview-Kilgore-Tyler area has been added. Last year 2.1 million copies of the map were distributed and the number is expected to exceed 2.5 million in 1969. You can sign for one of the maps in the courthouse or pick up one in any district or tourist office of the Highway Department.

For the first time since the twenties there will be a restaurant named the City Cafe in Wellington. Velma Cates will open what was formerly Otis Grill under that name this coming Monday. Right after World War I, the City Cafe was located on the south side of the square and later became Goats Cafe. Under either name the place was famous for its food for miles around. During the ownership of G. B. Hopper, many people stopped out of curiosity to find out about the peculiar name; but they returned because of the cheerful hospitality of a talkative man and the quality of the food.

Otis Roberson is completing 25 years of work in the same location and it was good work for he and his wife served good food and they made many friends. I have eaten many a meal with Otis and this includes the days when he helped his father run his hamburger and chilli place. They served other food but I knew it only as a hamburger and chilli stand and traded there on my way home from the high school on the west side of town. I even had a charge account and was supposed to settle up once a week. Can you imagine anyone having a charge account at a hamburger stand in these times?

In talking about the number of auction sales that are being held on the plains this spring, Earl Keller told of a man he visited last year. He was working 600 acres of irrigated land and had 13 tractors with a plow hooked up to each tractor on account of he did not have time to change plows when the need of plowing was urgent. Earl said: "Why even F. O. Masten has time to change plows."

Mrs. Velma Cates Will Open City Cafe Monday

Mrs. Velma Cates announced this week that she had bought Otis' Grill from Mr. and Mrs. Otis Roberson and would operate it in the same location under the name of City Cafe.

"We remodeled the cafe from front to back, installed some new equipment and feel that we will be able to provide our customers with real old fashioned tasty food in clean cheerful surroundings," Mrs. Cates said.

"On the whole we will serve the same type food that Otis Roberson prepared so skilfully as well as some additions," she said.

"We will hold open house from 8 to 11 o'clock Monday morning, Feb. 10," Mrs. Cates continued, "when we will reopen the cafe for business. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend the opening."

Alert Called for National Guard Sunday

An alert was called for Wellington's National Guard Unit about 7 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 2, bringing men from as far as Fort Worth, Mineral Wells and Amarillo for a simulated emergency operation.

"It worked real good, and all the local boys were there within from 20 to 45 minutes," M/Sgt. Robert Valliant reported.

Here to check the unit during the alert was Lt. Oran L. Karley, commander, Headquarters Company, and the Army advisor sergeant, M/Sgt. Robert L. Ewing, both of Amarillo.

Guards were posted around the armory, gas masks were tested, the men manned all radios and checked them, got vehicles out and lined them up in position to leave the armory, and drew weapons.

From the alert, the men in the unit went into the regular monthly drill .

Under a system set up within the unit, the men were notified in the quickest way possible, most by telephone, but a few by word of mouth, Sgt. Valliant said. Those in the distant points are also expected to attend these alerts, and this brought Steve Smith, Edwin G. Sisco and Robert D. Lane from Fort Worth, eight men from Amarillo, two from Memphis, three from Paducah, one each from Panhandle, Wheeler and Mineral Wells, and six from Memphis.

Ironically, two who were the hardest to locate for the alert live within a few miles of Wellington. Both had gone out early Sunday morning to feed cattle, Sgt. Valliant reported.

The unit is headed by Lt. Gary M. Bradford, armory commander and mortar platoon leader, and Lt. John A. Jackson, anti-tank platoon leader.

Thirty-nine men are listed on the unit rolls. Six are on active duty, and all of the remaining 33 were present for the alert Sunday.

Welfare-Nursing Home Changes Pointed Out

Mrs. Murray Dodson was in Lubbock recently to attend a joint meeting of the Texas Nursing Home Association and the Texas Department of Public Welfare to explain the changes in policies that affect nursing homes caring for welfare patients.

"There has been a complete change in the policies and standards set by nursing homes to participate in the vendor payment for welfare recipients," Mrs. Dodson said. "Heretofore, nursing homes could keep all types of patients, but now they must have designated facilities for each type of patient in order to meet the required standards," she continued.

The three types of patients are those requiring skilled nursing care, those requiring a minimum of nursing care, and custodial patients.

"A home that is classified to give only custodial care cannot keep patients classified as needing skilled nursing care," Mrs. Dodson explained. More licensed nurses will be required for patients needing skilled care.

These new regulations are for homes keeping welfare recipients, Mrs. Dodson emphasized. Nursing homes can made their own arrangements for private patients.

Bob Price Urges Seniors to Check on Government Classes

Congressman Bob Price announced today that five courses sponsored by a Presidential Classroom for Young Americans will be held in Washington, D.C., this spring.

"The Presidential Classroom," the Congressman commented, "is open to all American high school seniors and will give them an opportunity for an in depth, on the spot study of the intricacies of the United States government. The Classroom is also intended to encourage dedication to and an understanding of the American system, which all too often seems remote, bureaucratic and inaccessible to today's young people."

Price said that the curriculum will focus on the three branches of the United States government—the executive, legislative, and the judicial. Classes will be held in the actual physical location of many of the government branches, agencies and departments being studied and the teaching will be supplemented by lectures, seminars, and meetings with key officials from numerous areas within the government.

Classes will last one full week from 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon, thru the next Saturday morning and there will be five classes, each of which will hold a maximum of 350 students: (1) Feb. 22 thru March 1; (2) March 1 thru March 8; (3) March 8 thru March 15; (4) March 22 thru March 29; (5) March 29 thru April 5.

Price suggested that all interested high school seniors contact his office in Washington, or the Senior Class Advisor of his or her high school, who has been furnished all available information on the program.
