Baseball Stockholders Find 'Ifs' on 1954 Continuation All Center Around Money

There are a lot of "ifs" as the Artesia baseball stockholders met last night to discuss the future of the club. The "ifs" are centered around one thing—money.

A decision was made in last night's stockholders' meeting as to the future of Artesia Baseball Club, Inc., owner of the club.

It was clearly indicated that Artesia will have baseball next year if the stockholders can gather enough money to continue the club.

A complete look at the financial statement of the Artesia Baseball Club for 1953, turn to page 2.

By passing the hat in the next 60 days to the club's back debts, including an $8,000 bank note and $3,000 in federal amusement taxes.

The Longhorn league in its 1954 season, Oct. 25 goes along with the league's salary limit, which is $3,400 a month.

It is estimated that the Longhorn league will pay $3,400 a month to its players.

There are eight clubs in the Longhorn league in 1954.

Last night's meeting adjourned until Tuesday, Oct. 27, after the Longhorn league meeting.

"We cannot make an informed decision here tonight," said Lanning told stockholders.

Interested fans, "until we see what the league is going to do."

we can play another year," Lanning told stockholders.

They must pay an old obligation of $10,000.

The settlement was later made by Clyde Guy at close of meeting, who pointed out the club can raise the $10,000 in 40 days.

Accounts is "to pass the $10,000 is the last note on an old debt incurred by the Drill team's first season."

He said the directors knew and spent a lot of money in the club could have been saved, but a lot of mistakes were made.

Expense could be reduced by cutting down on expenses, Lanning said.

He said he has already cut down on expenses on the club's salary limit enforced by the Longhorn league.

Suggested the Longhorn league salary limits as a basis for the club's salary limit.

Question Plan To Pave Street

Clearance for paving on W. Moseley, Adams, W. Missouri, and N. Fourth street was given by city council Wednesday night, but another project presented to the council in recent weeks threatened to bog down.

The city promised property owners on the four streets money would be found in the city street fund to guarantee liens for the necessary repair.

Missouri is to be paved between Twelfth and Thirteenth, Adams between Fifth and Sixth, Moseley between First and Roselawn, and N. Fourth from Chisum to Adams.

But pavement on Sears, for which the large majority of property owners have signed, is questionable unless city money can be found to guarantee for several months liens necessary on property.

Thirteen appeared before the council in connection with the two paving projects.

Sears residents also protested cost of paving. They were quoted as a figure for a 30-foot wide street, paid for by home owners, which cuts actual width of the street to be paved to 28 feet, property owners said.

However, a city contract with Sam Sanders, paving contractor, provides that width of a street is measured from curb to curb, rather than from inside edge of one curb to inside of another.

Senator to Speak Before Rotary Club Tuesday

U.S. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico will be speaker at next Tuesday noon's Artesia Rotary meeting.

The senator is former district governor and former president of Rotary International. In government he was secretary of agriculture under Pres. Harry Truman.

Rotarians in the Artesia area are being invited to attend next Tuesday's luncheon. It will be held in the Masonic Temple.

Sen. Anderson will attend as a guest of T. E. Brown of Artesia.

Red Feather Luncheon Set At Noon Today

With a third of its $9,748 budget contributed in two weeks of campaigning, Community Chest will meet in a luncheon session this noon for a mid-campaign pick-up.

Artesia Hotel will be host to the luncheon, scheduled for 12 noon in the hotel's basement dining room.

Thirty Community Chest volunteer workers and drive leaders are to attend this noon's meeting, called by Mrs. H. R. Paton, Red Feather campaign chairman.

About $3,000 has been collected in the drive so far, less than a third of the campaign goal.

This noon's meeting is designed to speed up the drive, which is scheduled to end in two weeks, just ahead of the annual Boy Scout fund campaign.

Community Chest represents five agencies, including Girl Scouts, Artesia Council of Social Agencies welfare fund, the North Eddy County Health and Welfare Center, United Defense Fund, and the New Mexico Heart association.

Campaign quotas for the five agencies are Girl Scouts $3,355, United Defense Fund $500, campaign expense $407, North Eddy County Health and Welfare Center $2,186, New Mexico Heart association $300, and Council of Social Agencies welfare fund $3,000.

The Community Chest Red Feather campaign is sponsored by the Council of Social Agencies, to which more than 40 civic and social organizations in Artesia have representatives.

This year's campaign, Mrs. Paton points out, combines five campaigns in one, and if successful, may next year include even more agencies in the United fund-seeking effort.

A brief address and distribution of prepared campaign cards are scheduled for this noon's luncheon, as well as collection of campaign funds held by workers and not yet turned into the campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Double Benefits To Result From Broom Campaign

Double benefits to the blind and visually handicapped will result in the Artesia Lions club Broom Selling campaign next week, Chairman L. D. Nelson pointed out today.

Lions are selling brooms, throw rugs, and door mats from New Mexico Industries for the Blind, the adult education work program attached to the state school for the visually handicapped at Alamogordo.

Sixty per cent of the purchase price is paid the workers for the brooms, financing their factory.

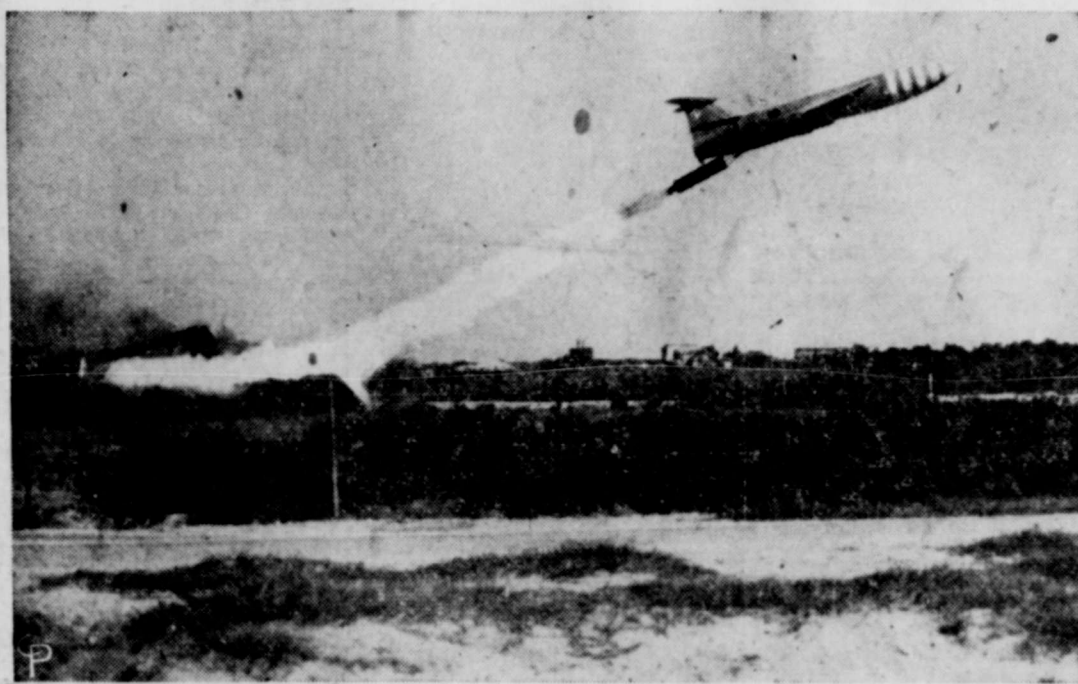

Forty per cent is given to Lions as commission. Artesia Lions are, in turn, devoting their share in the proceeds to their sight conservation program.

That program in the past month has paid more than $700 for bills for eye examinations and glasses for children of families not otherwise able to afford recommended eye care.

Part of the fund also will be used for the purchase of a new car. (Continued on Page 8)

FIRST PHOTO OF USAF'S NEW PILOTLESS BOMBER

PUSH-BUTTON WARFARE draws a step closer as USAF's first tactical, unmanned weapon, the Martin B-61 Matador pilotless bomber, takes off from launcher at the U. S. Air Force missile test center, Cocoa, Fla. This is the first public photo of the Matador, now in production. The weapon is being used for training pilotless bomber squadrons at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla. The Matador takes off from a launcher which can quickly be towed from one site to another. A rocket gives it thrust to be airborne, after which a turbojet engine takes over. (International)

Protest Cemetery Road Proposal

Protest over changing the access road into Woodbine cemetery from its present location to Centre street was given the city council Wednesday night by E. P. Tatman.

Tatman said both the cemetery board and the Santa Fe railroad are opposed to use of Centre as an access road to the cemetery.

The change was proposed several weeks ago to the council, but no action was taken until the cemetery board could be asked its views.

Councilmen said in a post-meeting informal discussion the council would take no action contrary to wishes of the cemetery board concerning the access road, and that the present route is satisfactory so far as councilmen can learn.

Thief Takes Pastor's Radio During Church Service

It takes a lot to shake a minister's faith in people.

Take Rev. Orvan E. Gilstrap, pastor of the First Christian church, for instance.

Wednesday night he volunteered to conduct weekly Bible lessons at the First Presbyterian church in the absence of its pastor.

Following the service he entered his car to find the radio and cigarette lighter had been very carefully removed.

He quickly told other people who had been in the church to check their cars for possible stripping.

No one else's car had been touched.

Compromise on Parking Meters Agreed by Council

Compromise over police department parking meter enforcement methods was reached at Wednesday night's city council meeting, with the police department instructed to use more tact and courtesy in writing tickets.

The matter was brought up by Acting Mayor W. H. Yeager and discussion began after Paul W. Scott, Chamber of Commerce manager, reported the chamber retail trade committee requested a study of enforcement matters.

Merchants, Scott said, do want parking meters because of their traffic control value, and do want meter ordinances enforced.

Need Courtesy However, Scott pointed out, there is strenuous objection to a lack of courtesy and tact in issuing parking meter tickets.

In a discussion which developed councilmen and Scott said they objected to the practices of:

1—Asking drivers who return to their car while a ticket is being written to put a nickel or dime in the meter in exchange for tearing up the ticket.

2—Giving tickets to drivers who are backing out from meters showing the red violation sign.

3—Issuing tickets after a car owner declares he went into a store to get change for the meter and was returning to feed the meter.

Chief of Police Frank Powell said councilmen told him to enforce the meter ordinance, and he had ordered it done. If the council did not want to enforce the meter laws and wanted a return to the business of an officer stepping in the door and telling the car owner he was going to get a ticket, he would follow their orders, he said.

Councilmen insisted on strict enforcement of meter laws, but without in effect calling the citizens liars in the process.

Chief Powell asked the council what should be done when a passenger is sitting in a car parked on a red meter. The council said (Continued on Page 8)

Veterinarian Is Hired as City Meat Inspector

Dr. D. T. Gabbard was hired Wednesday evening by city council as city meat inspector, succeeding C. R. Covington, who is hospitalized in Albuquerque.

Dr. Gabbard was hired for $150 a month, half the salary paid Covington.

Councilmen also discussed only briefly possibility of again enforcing city dog ordinances now that a veterinarian is a resident in the city.

Artesia to Host Annual 4-H, FFA Stock Show, Sale

Artesia will be host to the annual 4-H and Future Farmers of America Livestock Show and Sale Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30-31, Kiwanis club Pres. Vernon Bryan has announced.

The animal show and sale is scheduled for the barn of the Artesia Wool Growers Co-op, and 4-H displays are to be held in a school auditorium in Artesia.

The show is sponsored annually by Artesia Kiwanis club and the Carlsbad Farm and Ranch Improvement association.

Kenneth Aldridge is chairman of the event.

Artesia vocational agriculture students under Truman Short, instructor, are preparing the wool warehouse for the show.

Aldridge has called a meeting of club members on financing and conducting the show for 1:30 today at the Artesia Alfalfa Growers association office. He pointed out some sales held recently have had poor results because of improper planning.

Two Run-Aways Caught Before Committing Crime

Two run-away boys from Tyler, Texas, were arrested by Artesia police early Wednesday morning while studying a service station to break in.

Arrested were Carl Ray Painter, 8, and a 15-year-old companion.

The youths had run away from home Oct. 7.

They were wanted for breaking and entering into a Hobbs service station at 11 p. m. Tuesday night and for entering a filling station, pool hall, and night club in Tyler.

At the service station in Hobbs the two youth had picked up flash lights, batteries, cigarettes, and four knives. They were wanted for stealing $4 in pennies from a Tyler night club and $5 in pennies from a pool hall in Tyler.

They were arrested at a Phillips service station at the north city limits by Artesia patrolmen on a routine patrol.

Chief of Police Frank Powell said the two officers became suspicious when the youths were seen lurking about the service station.

They were returned to Hobbs Wednesday morning.

Junior Golf Qualifying Set Saturday

Qualifying rounds in a junior golf tournament for boys 14 and under will be held Saturday at Artesia Country club.

Boys who played in the city tournament this summer are not eligible.

The event will become an annual affair if boys are interested, according to Artesia Country club officers.

Successful Deep Tests Influence Deal

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. is reportedly buying an estimated 3,000 acres of deep oil rights in North Eddy county, reliable sources told the Artesia Advocate this week.

It is believed more than $400,000 is involved in the deal.

A Stanolind spokesman in Roswell Thursday confirmed the company is buying deep rights from Dean and White of Lubbock, with negotiations expected to be completed about the first of November. Amount of land involved or size of the transaction was not revealed.

The Stanolind purchase is generally believed to have been encouraged by completion of its discovery well on Twelve Mile Hill, which in late August disclosed a potential of 30 million cubic feet of gas daily.

Stanolind has since announced one new location and is reliably reported locating another as soon as spacing is cleared by the state oil conservation commission.

Dean and White are Lubbock cotton brokers, and are reported to be selling all their North Eddy county shallow rights. The firm is understood to be retaining some deep rights in Eddy county, however.

Stanolind spokesmen in the firm's Roswell land office would not reveal location of the tract Thursday.

Halloween Party At Loco Hills Is Scheduled

Woman's Club Study Group Reviews Trieste Hot-Spot, St. Louis Symphony

Several interesting subjects were discussed by members of the study group of the Artesia Woman's club Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. H. T. Gissler.

Mrs. R. E. Glaze, chairman, presided.

Mrs. Louis Hamilton spoke on notes on the theater, during the early part of September Mayor Impellitteri of New York City, designated one week as Rogers and Hammerstein week, she said this honor was accorded the composers in recognition of the almost unbelievable record that four of Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein great musical productions were running simultaneously in New York City.

Mrs. R. E. Glaze, whose subject is music, told that the St. Louis Symphony orchestra will make a concert tour of Southwest towns for the second consecutive season.

For those in the Southwest who may be interested, the dates are Feb. 18, at Waco, Feb. 19 at Fort Worth and Feb. 20 at Wichita Falls.

Mrs. M. C. Livingston spoke on India. She related how the government of India is trying to eliminate liquor from public life. All diplomat representatives abroad are to substitute fruit juices for cocktails at all official functions.

Mrs. S. M. Laughlin's subject is books. She discussed the book "Good Wives" by Louisa M. Alcott. This is a sequel to "Little Women." It is now included in the new children's illustrated classic edition and is in the Artesia public library.

Mrs. C. G. Clark spoke on inter-

Pecos Valley WMU Of Baptist Church Preview Program

Pecos Valley Women's Missionary Union executive committee met Friday, Oct. 9 at Emmanuel Baptist church, Artesia, to preview plans for the new year.

The meeting opened with the song of the year, "Jesus Saves," and Scripture and prayer by Mrs. Burly Morgan. Mrs. Whitefield presided.

It was voted to send $75, which is proportioned out to each church to the Chama Valley Medical Mission for the kindergarten and fellowship fund.

It was voted that Nov. 16 would be the day the truck will stop to pick-up supplies from churches in the valley for the children's orphan's home in Portales.

Plans for the first quarter were presented by the following chairmen: Mrs. Bill Parsons, young people; Mrs. Saide Tobey, mission study; Mrs. Burly Morgan, stewardship and Mrs. Burr Clem, community missions.

Members were reminded that a Women's Missionary Union officers clinic would be held at Emmanuel Baptist church at 10 a. m. Thursday, Oct. 22.

Women's Missionary Union presidents attending the meeting were Mrs. Garland Stuart, Emman-

Hagerman Couple Wed in Lovington

Mrs. Mabel Troublefield Johnson of Hagerman, became the bride of Roy Noreau on Tuesday, Oct. 6, at Lovington.

The attendants were Mrs. F. L. Martin of Eunice, twin sister of the bride, and Robert Noreau of Boerne, Texas, brother of the groom.

The bride chose for her wedding a modish gray suit with half hat in red and red accessories.

Those present included all members of the groom's family, Mrs. George Moreau, Robert Moreau and family, Boerne, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ahlers and family of Comfort, Texas; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis, Boerne.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin at Eunice.

Later the couple left on a short honeymoon trip which included a visit to Carlsbad Caverns.

The bride is a daughter of W. R. Troublefield and Mrs. Maud Troublefield, both well-known Hagermanites. She is a member of the Hagerman Methodist church and active in the work of the Sunday school.

The groom is a son of Mrs. George Moreau of Boerne. He is a veteran of World War II, and is now employed at Hagerman Co-op Gin.

Donna Mays Is Given Farewell

Donna Kay Mays was honored with a farewell party Thursday afternoon, Oct. 8.

Several girl friends entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verble Baker, 910 S. Fourth.

The girls came dressed in long dresses and played ladies and other games.

Donna Kay was presented a gift, as she is moving with her parents to Cuba.

Refreshments were pink lemonade, poured by Toressa Baker, cookies, cream cheese crackers, and mints.

Guests were the honoree, Lois Solga, Cathy Coffin, Margaret Geiser, Charlotte Bunch, Annetta Mays, Ann Francis, Toressa Baker, Gwynda Gable and Kay Goodson.

Miss Janice Knoll, Steven Lowak Wed In Hagerman Ceremony Held in Home

Miss Janice Nadine Knoll became the bride of Steven Lawrence Lowak in a home wedding at Hagerman Oct. 2.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dacus Parker on W. Argyle was decorated for the occasion by large floor baskets of white and pom-pom chrysanthemums placed at each end of a white satin kneeling bench.

The vows were read by Rev. G. H. Woolf, pastor of Hagerman Methodist church, who used the double ring ceremony.

Miss Priscilla Brown played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the couple entered the room. As they knelt, Mrs. Ray Gobson, sister of the bride, sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, with Miss Brown and Mrs. Welborn playing the accompaniment.

The bride was given in marriage by Dacus Parker. She was dressed in a pink faille afternoon dress with molded bodice, ending in scallops and with three-quarter length dolman push-up sleeves and full skirt.

She carried a white Bible topped with a spray of white carnations and long white ribbon streamers tied with seed pearl hearts. For the traditional something old, she wore the wedding ring of her grandmother, Mrs. C. W. Curry. It had been used in her wedding 63 years before. For something borrowed a rhinestone pin belonging to her sister, Mrs. Gibson.

Mrs. Donald Kuykendall, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and Mr. Kuykendall served as best man.

Mrs. Kuykendall wore a gray taffeta frock with black velvet trim.

Mrs. Parker, mother of the bride, wore a brown iridescent orlon suit trimmed with rhinestone buttons. Her corsage was of white carnations, and Mrs. S. L. Nowak, mother of the groom, wore a purple ensemble with white carnation corsage.

Mrs. C. W. Curry, maternal grandmother of the bride, presided at the bride's book at the reception which followed the wedding at the Women's club house.

The serving table was centered with an artistic arrangement of white blossoms flanked by candleholders holding blue tapers. The lace cloth was used over blue in carrying out the color scheme of white and blue.

The four-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom in the traditional manner and served with assorted nuts, mints and punch.

Those assisting with the serving were Mrs. Ray Gibson, Mrs. Donald Kuykendall, Miss Kathleen Harmon, and Miss Mary Lee Taylor.

Background music was furnished by Miss Priscilla Brown and Miss Gloria Menoud, pianists, and Mrs. Ramon Welborne, violinist.

Out-of-town guests were Rev. and Mrs. Frank Curry, Tularosa; Miss Helen Curry, Roswell; Mrs. B. F. Knoll-Carlsbad, the paternal grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Chuck Mielke, Carlsbad; Mrs. Reed Taylor, Mrs. Dennis Taylor, Portales; Mrs. Wayne Adams, Roswell; and Miss Sue Busby, Dexter.

The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Dacus Parker and the late Coyo Knoll, is a member of a well-known pioneer family, a graduate of Hagerman high school, class of 1933, a talented vocalist member of the Methodist church of Hagerman, member of the church choir, and teacher in Sunday school.

The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Nowak, well-known Dexter farm family. He was graduated from Dexter high school in 1932 and since that time has been employed by the state engineers office in Roswell.

After returning from a honeymoon spent at El Paso and in Old Mexico, the young couple will be at home at 1810 N. Lea, Roswell.

Injured Bulldogs Meet Kermit Here Tonight

Artesia Bulldogs, banged-up from last Friday's first conference game, took on the unpredictable Kermit, Texas, Yellow Jackets in a non-conference grid contest tonight at 7:30 at Morris Field.

It will be Kermit's fifth outing of the season, and a chance for Artesia to solve what has been a puzzling dilemma since start of the football season.

Kermit racked up a 28-0 victory over Hobbs in its first game of the season, and nailed El Paso high school 21-19. The Yellow Jackets have lost to Monahans (which Hobbs later defeated) and to Sanderson, Texas, last Friday. Kermit swarmed over Pecos 20-6.

Hobbs' loss to the Yellow Jackets was seen as a combination of poor condition of the Hobbs team for a non-conference game, and a Yellow Jacket combination that couldn't miss.

Two Halftime Shows Slated For Tonight

Artesians will have the opportunity of witnessing two halftime shows at the football game tonight. The Kermit Yellowjackets band of 125 members will be here together with 35 members in their pep squad to present time half-time show.

The Bulldog band has been working on a show, titled "School Days," according to Justin Bradbury, band director.

G. Gilligan is the director of the Kermit high school band, and has a very outstanding record in Texas contests.

Besides the "School Days" theme, the band will introduce to Artesia audience a Community Chest song. It has been written by the director to spur on the Red Feather drive, which continues in Artesia through the month of October.

The band will sing this song in formation.

This will be the fifth show presented this season by the Bulldog bandmen.

Audio-Visual Equipment Used Heavily

Audio-visual equipment is heavily used in Artesia Public Schools, according to a first-month report submitted by Abraham Trop, high school audio-visual coordinator, to Travis Stovall, Senior high principal.

The department's equipment was used a total of 189 periods during 24 class days in September, Trop reported, for a total of more than 64 hours.

Equipment includes three 16-mm film projectors, two tape recorders, the public address system, two filmstrip projectors, record player, and classroom radio.

Most heavily used equipment items were the movie projectors, used a total of 45 hours by the schools.

Filmstrip projectors received second heaviest usage, logging a month's total use of 18 hours.

In September the schools used 35 film titles and 12 filmstrip titles, he equipment was used a total of 144 hours.

NOTICE OF BIDS FOR A FRONT END LOADER
Sealed bids will be received by the City Clerk of the City of Artesia, New Mexico, at the City Hall, until 7:30 P. M., October 28, 1955 for the furnishing of a 3/4 or 1 cubic yard (capacity) rubber tired front end loader, to be delivered F.O.B. Artesia, New Mexico, within 10 days after bid is accepted, with the following specifications:

1. With electric starter, horn, muffler, drawbar, boom guard, lights, oil bath air cleaner, oil filter, and hydraulic brakes.
2. Machine to weigh no less than 10,700 lbs.
3. Machine to be powered by a gasoline engine, developing at least 46 horsepower.
4. Machine to have four speeds forward and four reverse.
5. Machine to have a dumping clearance of at least 7' 8".
6. Machine to have no less than 13.00x24" rear tires as drivers, and 7.50x16" front.
7. Machine to have fully hydraulic controlled bucket, lift and dump.
8. Machine to be at least 3/4 or 1 cubic yard as loader, and have crane lifting capacity of not less than 4000#.

All bids shall be marked "Bids to be let on October 28, 1955" and the Council reserves the right to refuse, or accept any and/or all bids in the best interest of the City.

By Order of the City Council
CITY OF ARTESIA,
NEW MEXICO,
W. D. Fowler,
City Supervisor.

Kermit is reported to be a rough and ready combination which last week, for instance, sidelined for the rest of the season three Pecos players.

But Artesia Coach Reese Smith doesn't want anyone hurt in tonight's game. Smith attitude implied that win, or lose, Artesia is not going to be injured tonight.

Already the Bulldogs have been hard hit.

Sam Golden is nursing his left arm, dislocated in last Friday's Clovis game and at first thought to have been broken. The arm has been snapped into place, but Golden will be out for three to four weeks.

Wayne Westerman and Leo Barker are nursing serious head injuries. Westerman was reported in the hospital early this week, while Barker's injury is unknown in its extent. It is believed he can play Friday night, but only of necessity.

Louis Campanella, mainstay of the Artesia line for the past two seasons, has been out of town for the past two weeks because of deaths in the family, and has missed all practice sessions in the period.

Kermit can pose a pass offense, and Artesia coaches have been preparing for that. To the observer this week, it looked like the Bulldogs are catching on to stopping any serious pass threat.

Coach Jack Barron is drilling backfielders in passing offense, but coaches agreed it is doubtful if Artesia will mount a capable passing attack, at least in tonight's game.

Kermit's line stacks up as slightly heavier than the Artesia line, and the backfield is reported by scouts who saw last week's march over Pecos to be equally as speedy as the Artesia combination.

Artesia tonight will be playing its fifth game of the season, taking an unspooled record into the contest.

The game, in view of Hobbs early-season defeat by Kermit, is seen as important by some fans, but generally discounted by the Artesia coaching staff as significant football conference race.

Episcopal Church Confirmation Class to Start

Friday night, at 7 o'clock, at St. Paul's Episcopal church, 307 S. Seventh the Inquirers class will start. There will be meetings each week for the next seven weeks.

The classes will last for one hour. There will be 45 minutes of talk and 15 minutes of questions and discussion.

All who are interested in the Episcopal church, what it teaches, what it preaches, and what it requires are invited to attend.

Although the class is called the confirmation class, those who attend do not have to be confirmed.

The bishop coadjutor of New Mexico and Southwest Texas will come to Artesia Sunday, Dec. 13, for the 11 a. m. service for confirmation of those who decide they would like to be Episcopalians.

New Concept of Soil Conservation Evolves, Calls for Proper Use, Rebuilding of Soil

By R. M. SALTER

Chief, Soil Conservation Service

No job in agriculture is more important than conserving and building our soils for sustained production of food and fiber in the amounts needed for a constantly growing population and for defense or other emergency demands.

The strength of our nation lies in the strength of the land. Yet, we have very little land left that is suitable for economic crop production beyond that which already is in cultivation. More over, we are still depleting our soils faster than we are building them up, despite the good progress made in soil conservation the past 20 years.

A new concept of soil conservation has evolved over the years. We are concerned today not with erosion alone. Modern soil conservation is the application on the land of all necessary measures in appropriate combinations to build up and maintain soil productivity for efficient, abundant production on a sustained basis.

Soil conservation accordingly means proper land use, protecting the land against all forms of soil deterioration, rebuilding eroded and depleted soils, conserving moisture for crop use, proper agricultural drainage and irrigation where needed, encouragement of beneficial wildlife, and increasing yields and farm income—all at the same time.

QUESTIONS

- 1.—What famous football stadium was named after the school's first grid captain?
- 2.—Amos Alonzo Stagg was a member of what All-American football team?
- 3.—What major league player hit three homers off one pitcher in a 1950 game and duplicated the feat against the same pitcher in 1952?
- 4.—Name the eight race horses that have won the "Triple Crown"—Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes?
- 5.—How wide are football goal posts?

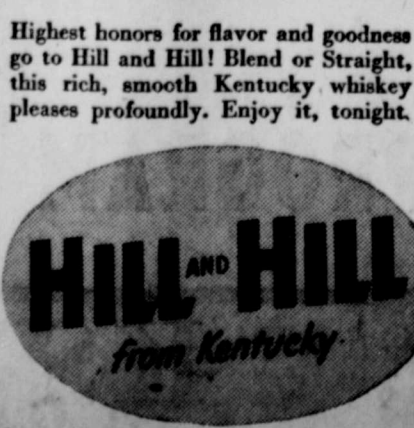

ANSWERS

- 1.—Michie Stadium, at West Point, was named after D. M. Michie (pronounced MY-kee), who captained the Army team of 1890.
- 2.—Mr. Stagg, who recently celebrated his 91st birthday, was a star end at Yale and was selected as a wingman on Walter Camp's first All-American eleven in 1889.
- 3.—Hank Sauer, of the Chicago Cubs, who hit three homers off Phillie pitcher Curt Simmons in 1950 and 1952, both times at Wrigley Field.

directly with district and other farmers. About 90 per cent of the service's personnel is out in the smaller towns and communities, working day by day with farmers and ranchers.

Some states and soil conservation districts hire additional technicians of their own to help speed servicing of farmers waiting for assistance in establishing their conservation systems. Through improved planning and other procedures, the service is constantly improving the efficiency and speed of its operations—with conservation being applied on district lands now at a rate about 4 1/2 times faster than the rate of application 10 years ago, and with the production per technician stepped up substantially.

The soil conservation service accordingly is a service organization; and its employees are civil service career people, the overwhelming majority of whom are devoted to the cause of agricultural improvement and welfare, much as doctors and nurses are dedicated to human health and well-being. George Washington said:

"I know of no pursuit in which more real and important service can be rendered to any country than by improving its agriculture."

To which I like to add: Soil conservation work affords a unique opportunity for the kind of service that brings lasting personal satisfaction.

In addition to having the opportunity of exercising abilities and vision of a high order, soil conservation field employees enjoy many benefits career-wise. Salaries, which are uniform, grade by grade for equivalent positions throughout the country, range from $2,750 a year for beginning sub-professional aids working with farm planners and engineers, through $3,400 for the first grade of permanent professional farm planners and other technical specialists, to the $6,000 bracket for the top field worker positions.

Below the one Washington, seven regional and 51 small state and territorial offices, which perform overall technical and administrative functions, and service field needs, soil conservation service employees are assigned to area and work unit field offices.

Each of the approximately 300 area offices supervises a number of the almost 2,900 work units. Each work unit normally is staffed by a professional conservationist and one or more aids, who work

NOT GUILTY, YOUR HONOR

NABBED ON CHARGE of not wearing some article of cotton clothing at the national cotton picking contest in Blytheville, Ark., this girl puts up a defense. The Junior Chamber of Commerce judge just can't keep from cottoning to. Dress is synthetic fiber, but she does manage to display cotton unmentionables, proving she's a belle of the Old South. The Junior Chamber sponsored the cotton picking contest to stimulate use of cotton. (International Soundphoto)

Occasional Furniture Important

Don't underestimate the value of your occasional pieces of furniture. They are the important touches to a room setting.

Select tables to go with chairs and the sofa. Height, style and purpose are important factors to consider. A low table next to a sofa with high arms is inconvenient to use. Balance and proportion are important to the complete setting.

Occasional pieces do not have to be of the same period as the larger pieces of furniture in the room. Change of style is often a pleasant relief and adds interest to the setting as a whole. Don't select an occasional piece of furniture just because you happen to like the styling. Answer these questions: How will it look in your room? Will it blend with the other furnishings in the room?

Then, too, choose occasional pieces of furniture that serve a purpose. There are lamp tables that have shelves for magazines and books. Commodes, made to fit next to the arm of a seating unit, are a particularly wise investment. They give drawer space

Cause of Rheumatism Discussed By Local Doctor

A patient suffering from rheumatism in his right leg was told, "Why, Jim, at your age you can expect rheumatism." And Jim replied, "But, Doctor, my left leg is as old as my right leg and I don't have rheumatism in it!" Jim's answer was logical, it couldn't be his age that caused his rheumatism. What caused it then? Rheumatism, like other illnesses, is caused primarily by a vertebral subluxation. When one of the vertebra in your spine becomes misaligned, it produces pressure on nerves and interferes with the proper transmission of vital force within the body. If the body cannot get this vital life force in the proper quantity and quality, illness results. When the Chiropractor removes the subluxation through his scientific adjustment, he removes the cause of illness and so puts your body on the road to health.

It is not right to say "everything possible has been done" unless Chiropractic is included. For further information about Chiropractic you are invited to consult Dr. Kathryn Behnke, Palmer Graduate Chiropractor, 408 W. Richardson, phone 861.

English Couple Use Airplane, Boat to Visit Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon-Smith of 27 Brock St., Bath, England, arrived in Artesia last week to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin of 304 South Nineteenth.

This is Gordon-Smith's first visit. His wife's last visit was in 1947, when she made the journey by air. This time they came on the Queen Mary, but owing to the New York dock strike, the boat with its 1,800 passengers was diverted to Halifax, Nova Scotia.

The Cunard Co. had made arrangements for sleeping car trains to take passengers to New York, and those who had plane reservations were flown to New York. Due to a mishap of a plane, 29 air passengers had to wait until Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon-Smith being among them.

At 6 a. m. a bus took them the 30 miles journey to Halifax airport, and after a good breakfast provided by the Cunard Co., they left in a four-engine Trans-Canadian plane for Boston. After custom formalities they left in a two-engine Eastern Airways plane for New York.

They were landed at the Idlewild airport by mistake and transferred to LaGuardia airport by bus, arriving about 8 a. m. as heavy rain had commenced they were unable to visit New York City.

They left again at midnight by TVA, 64-passenger plane which was full. The view over New York City was like fairyland with the thousands of neon lights of various colors. Gordon-Smith comments. Arriving at Chicago nearly all passengers left the plane but it soon filled again. Kansas City was reached at 6:30 a. m.

At 7 a. m. they were off again in a four-engine Superconair and after several stops reached Carlsbad at 2:15 p. m. to be met by Mr.

Great Books Second Year Books Received

The books for the second year of the Great Books discussion group were received this week by members of that group.

The group will meet at 7:30 and Mrs. James Griffin and their sons.

Breakfast and lunch was served on this last portion of the journey of thousands of miles.

p. m. Thursday, Oct. 22, at public library. The book for discussion is Homer's "Odyssey." Miss Lois Nethery and Mrs. Allyn Terrell will be the discussion leaders.

It was decided at the last meeting that both those who had finished the first year books and those just coming into the group for the first time would meet as one group and read only the second year books.

Anyone who did not attend the last meeting but is interested in joining the group will be welcome to come on Thursday, Oct. 22. However, only those who have read the book may participate in the discussion.

Loco Hills Church Young People Serve Dinner

No adults allowed in the kitchen was the theme for the first family night of the winter season, held by the Sherman Methodist church of Loco Hills on Thursday evening.

A chili supper was served by the young people of the church under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Short.

Highlights of the evening was the screening of color slides by Milford D. Estill on a two-month tour of Europe this summer. The evening close with a play period for the children.

Charlie Williams Has Happy Cow, Gets No Doves

Charlie Williams of the Williams Grocery, Loco Hills, went out Sunday afternoon with the intention of closing out dove season by bagging the limit.

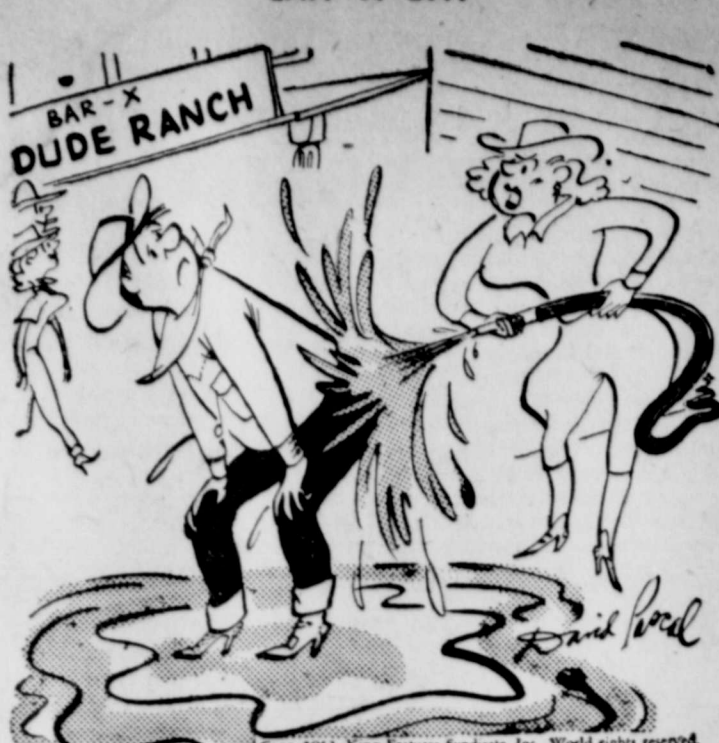

Williams went to a small pond north of here where he found a cow mired up to her shoulder in mud.

After quite a struggle, Williams secured a rope around the cow's neck and pulled her out with his truck.

Result: One happy cow. One muddy Charlie. But no doves.

What OIIC Is

The Oil Industry Information Committee (OIIC) is a national organization of volunteer workers from all segments of the oil industry. It is sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute to give the public facts that will develop better understanding of the American oil industry.

What OIIC Seeks to Do

The objective of the Oil Industry Information Committee is: To make clear how well the people of the United States are

Ticklers

By George

"There's Gran'paw asleep walkin'! Even in his sleep he likes to live dangerously!"

Parking Meters—

If a car begins to back away from the curb and a red meter, then pulls back in when the officer passes, it should be ticketed, too, the council told Chief Powell.

Work Racket

Chief Powell declared "there are a lot of people trying to work a racket on these parking meters. They say they're going after change, but if the officer waits, they come out without the change."

"Some people tell the meter officer they put money in the meter and it didn't work. The officer takes money from his pocket, puts it in, and it works," the chief continued. "So what's the officer to believe?"

Councilmen said questionable tickets should be referred to the police judge.

The practice of requesting nickels and dimes should be stopped, councilmen said.

And under no circumstances should a car pulling out from a meter on red be ticketed, councilmen said. When the car pulls out as the officer goes by, then pulls in after he's passed, it's another thing and the officer should ticket the driver.

1954 Baseball—

Lanning said the league could cut number of veterans to three and the teams' rosters to 14 each. Lanning also noted "some fans think someone is making money out of this deal."

J. D. Smith, secretary-treasurer, recalled "we directors had to get together before every payroll last summer and go out and somehow squeeze out money on accounts."

Actual debts of the club were listed as $12,097.89.

Discount Rumor—

Reports a major company might operate the ball club were discounted.

Charles K. Johnson, banker and ball club director, declared "We all know baseball is the finest entertainment the community has had. But we also know we can't afford a club costing $70,000 to $90,000 a year. If we could cut the cost to $50,000, no one would hurt."

Noting the league now has only six clubs, Lanning said Artesia couldn't continue baseball with a six-club league. "It would hurt us at the gate," he said.

Bauman declared again that "no matter what the league salary limit is, if this club adheres to it we will wind up in eighth place."

The president suggested "some players might play here for less money if they were assured of a good job the day after the season ends."

Smith, Bert Muncy, and Ralph Pitt were re-elected as directors at Tuesday's meeting.

Double Benefits—

Thursday and Friday will be house-to-house sales days, with selling by Lions club members scheduled to start at 5 p. m. both

Cogdill Assigned to Jet Plane Training Base in Phoenix

Aviation Cadet Lloyd Dale Cogdill arrived early Thursday morning from Marana Air Base, Tucson, for a two-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cogdill, 1008 N. Roselawn and with relatives and friends of Artesia and Lake Arthur.

Cogdill just completed a six-month primary pilot training course in T-6 training aircraft.

He is on his way now to Williams air base, Phoenix, where he will start training in jet aircraft in about six weeks.

Cogdill graduated as aviation group commander which is the highest rank obtainable in that phase of training.

He is a native of Clovis but received most of his schooling at Lake Arthur. He graduated from high school at Granbury, Texas, in 1951 and enlisted in the Air Force in November 1951 at Dallas.

He was assigned for basic training at Lackland Air base at San Antonio, where he graduated and was assigned as an instructor until January 1953.

Cogdill later entered the cadet pilot training program for pre-flight which lasted three months.

He was assigned to Marana Air base with a class of about 100 other American and foreign students.

This was the first experimental class for airmen with less than two years college and for men under 20 years of age.

The class set a record at the base in that the accident rate was much lower and the rate of elimination was smaller than any previous class at that base.

Bethel Baptist Contest Winner 'Marriage' Set

A highlight feature in the Bethel Baptist church finance drive will be the "marriage" Sunday evening of a winner to an as yet unannounced but nevertheless handsome groom, Rev. J. H. Horton, pastor, has announced.

In the bridal contest, the contestant with the largest amount of money raised will be the bride.

The public is invited to attend the event, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Sunday evening.

Jack Bentley Is Officer in ENMU Accounting Club

Jack Bentley of Artesia has been appointed as a member of the rules committee for the ENMU Accounting club, which held its first meeting recently.

The club is limited to students taking accounting courses.

The Reporter Says...

WHY THEY ACT FRENCH: "We frequently complain, in our country, that the French are critical of us and not good enough friends of America; but we forget that they are bitterly critical of themselves, and that many a Frenchman is not a good friend of himself. The French are still playing at being a great power, for they know what a great power is, having been one. Some of their parties are still playing at revolution—there have been so many revolutions of all possible kinds in the French past."

NEW GIMMICK IN AD-LAND: The merger of psychologists and ad-men has introduced a brand-new phrase—"motivational research"—to the jargon of the advertising world. This involves exploration into the real reasons why a consumer buys or rejects a product. Motivational research applied to the sale of prunes shows, "Prunes are symbols of old age... prunes are disliked as a symbol of parental authority... prunes are plebeian and without prestige... The prune is a witch."

A FARMER SPEAKS: "Farmers look to Washington in good times and bad. Those of us who live on the land often boast of our independence and rugged individualism, yet when the going gets tough, like every other sector of the population we expect the government to do something about it. ... There is one thing about which the vast majority of farmers was and is certain. ... This is that some sort of government support for farm prices is a permanent fixture in the American economy."

THE LADY COMMENTATORS: On the basis of the radio programs to which the typical female listens, one would guess that she is "interested in fashion, home decoration, and children. She is concerned about civic corruption and social welfare. She wants to know about new books and the arts. ... She believes in the popularized tenets of modern psychology. ... Her world is not an eccentric or a passionate one, but it is a pleasant world where problems are solved with 'counseling,' 'packaged savings,' 'Dromedary cake mix, and good will.'"

Excerpts from THE REPORTER MAGAZINE, 220 East 42nd St., New York, N. Y.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Golden and daughter Marsha returned Monday from Arvin, Calif., where they visited Mr. Golden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Golden. Mrs. Golden has been ill and was improved when the Golden's left. Other brothers in their parents' home were Mr. and Mrs. Ulas Golden of Kingman, Ariz., Harold Golden of Eunice and Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Golden of Longmont, Colo.

WAFB Boxers Start Trials

The boxing team has been practicing for the winter sports tournaments. Although the team is small, practice will be held every evening starting Monday for replacements to fill the roster. All weights will be used according to AAU rules.

All men interested in these boxing tryouts, contact S-Sgt. Diego Garcia at the athletic office in the base gymnasium. Experience is unnecessary.

Instruction in medico-military matters will be given at the Naval Medical School, Bethesda, Md., Oct. 12-14, 1953. Eligible for the course are Reserve Medical, Dental Medical Service, Nurse, and Hospital Corps Officers of the 1st, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 8th, and 9th Naval Districts, and the Potomac River Naval Command. To be considered are recent advances in military medicine and surgery and methods of dealing with chemical, bacterial and radiological warfare.

The Lockheed Aircraft Co. of California is conducting preliminary design studies for nuclear powered aircraft under an Air Force contract. No details have been revealed.

Saturday Is Proclaimed as AV Forget-Me-Not Day Here

Proclamation of Saturday as Disabled American Veterans
Forget-Me-Not Day in Artesia has been proclaimed by H. Yeager, mayor pro-tem.

Text of the proclamation is as follows:

Whereas, It is the moral obligation of everyone of us to feel sympathy for those men and

Every Home Needs Business Center

Businessmaking is a big business.
Why every home should have a conveniently located, well equipped center where its business is conducted.

A business center need not elaborate but it should have writing surface, filing space for letters, bulletins, letters and papers which cover business operations, and storage space for equipment and supplies.
Business center can be equipped with built-in furniture or with new furniture normally found in the home or office.

A business center needs a good light, especially near writing surface. Fatigue and strain can be avoided or at least reduced by having lighting
meets standards for quantity. The location of the business center should be carefully planned. It may be in any room of the home depending on the arrangement of the house and the habits of the family. Good light for both day and night, a comfortable temperature for summer and winter and other conveniences for the homemaker are some of the points to keep in mind when planning the center.

The desk or writing surface in the business center can be elaborate or simple, built-in or moveable, new or remodeled from other furniture. The surface should be a comfortable height for writing and have ample space for spreading out papers, etc.

Probably one of the most important sections of the home business center is the filing system. A good system will mean the difference between hunting and finding. The current file should be in a convenient place in the business center and organized so that material may be quickly and easily located. The older retired files,

Peeled Potatoes -

Did you know that you can buy potatoes already peeled and diced to suit your needs?

Marketing of potatoes in this manner has gained wide popularity among hotels, restaurants, hospitals and other quantity users.

The potatoes are peeled mechanically and sold as whole potatoes, diced, sliced or in other forms required by the user. The product is treated against discoloration, and dry-packed in 30-pound paper bags with plastic liners.

Users find that potatoes bought in this manner saves them money because they meet their specific requirements. In addition, they save in labor and there's practically no waste of food.

This method of marketing potatoes has become so popular in metropolitan areas that users have asked the U. S. Department of Agriculture to set up standards for the product.

These peeled white potatoes would be designated as U. S.
Grade A or U. S. Fancy; U. S.
Grade C or U. S. Grade Standard; and Sub-standard. The grade of the product would be ascertained by considering in conjunction with other requirements the respective ratings for the factor of color, uniformity of size and shape, absence of defects, and texture.

Average Fan Gets Idea of Baseball Cost from Driller Financial Report

What does it cost to operate a baseball club for a year?
Stockholders in Artesia Baseball Club, Inc., which owns the Artesia Drillers, and the general public were given a good idea this week with release of the club's financial statement for study by stockholders.

In presenting the statement, Pres. Steve Lanning pointed out "too many people can't understand why we charge the admission we do. They think the players have only to go out there and play ball."

Lanning pointed out baseball, even in Artesia, is big business.

Because of the high interest in baseball and the lingering question as to whether or not the community shall support the sport on a professional basis another year, full text of the financial statement is printed below:

Check Old Installations

ONE OF THE REAL problems which confronts those inspectors checking gas lines and connections for natural gas and butane gas are old installations.

In many cases, it has been pointed out by inspectors for both the public service commission and the state plumbing board, these installations were made several years ago. In some cases they were made prior to the requirements they be inspected and some of them have been made by those not qualified to make them.

Inspection of connections and lines for natural gas are made by the state plumbing board or city inspectors while those for butane or propane gas are made by the public service commission inspectors.

Prior to the present state administration there was little checking or inspecting of the butane gas lines and connections. Today the public service commission has a chief inspector and five inspectors scattered over the state to do this work. Every effort is being made to check new installations and the inspectors are always available to check old installations.

Far too often, however, the average citizen feels that a gas line is safe and as long as it works he goes along with little or no thought as to the safety factor.

We take the attitude that if the line is checked and something is found it is going to have the corrections made. So, wanting to avoid this, we overlook the possibilities of an explosion which can cause great property damage as well as take human life.

We are going to continue to have explosions and blasts from leaky gas lines, bad connections, and unsatisfactory cut-off valves just as long as we refuse to have these inspected and checked.

And the time to have the inspection made is before the blast occurs.

It is always wise to have a gas installation checked, regardless of who makes the installation. Sometimes employees of licensed plumbers can be careless and make mistakes, too.

But if a state inspector goes over the lines, checks the connections and valves—the chances of having an explosion are far less.

Just as long as we continue to take chances, just as long as we fail or refuse to have the lines checked, and just as long as we think everything is fine as long as it works—just that long we are taking chances.

Deserve Special Rate

THERE IS CONSIDERABLE discussion and comment being made today concerning the rates charged all automobile operators for their public liability and property damage insurance as well as the protection they buy on their own cars or motor vehicles.

For years the insurance companies have based their rates on the number of accidents, the losses they pay, and the damages resulting over the nation.

THIS LAND OF ENCHANTMENT

State Engineer Resigns, Thinks Useful Life In Controversial Post Has Become Ineffective

STATE ENGINEER JOHN Bliss is resigning from office, probably to leave sometime in November.

An individual loses his effectiveness after a period of years in such a controversial job. Bliss told the interstate streams commission.

Gov. Ed McChes said he would appoint John Erick, chief engineer for the commission, to Bliss' job.

The governor added "It is the feeling of all concerned that this reassignment of specific engineering abilities is advantageous and desirable."

Bliss is going to stay on for a while as consultant to the state engineer's office. He will later take over Erickson's interstate duties.

"IN AN HISTORIC MEETING with representatives of the U. S. Indian bureau and the press, Taos Pueblo Council has re-emphasized its strong opposition to the recent state constitutional amendment permitting purchase of liquor by Indians," El Crepusculo of Taos reports.

The pueblo council announced its intention of enforcing a strict local option prohibiting possession of use of beer, wine, liquor, or other intoxicants on the Taos reservation.

"Even if we are the only people in the United States, we intend to keep the door closed to liquor on our reservation, said Manuel Cordova, former pueblo governor and senior member of the council.

"A man should drink good water to live a long time and not other things which make him a fanatic wanting to fight," he added.

CHAVES COUNTY VALUATION has increased 2,115,454, according to county commissioner budget estimates. The 1953 valuation stands at $39,273,491.

OTERO COUNTY COMMISSIONERS are planning a new courthouse at Alamogordo and have already called for a study of plans and estimates before setting bond election machinery in motion.

Every time some individual has a car accident and collects from an insurance company, every policy holder helps pay for that. It is a well-known fact that many drivers have had a good many accidents. They have become a bad risk. Sometimes such a risk the insurance companies do not want them.

But on the other hand there are good drivers over the nation who have gone along for years and never collected a claim and never had to pay a claim because they were responsible for an accident. Insurance firms like these clients. They are glad to sell them insurance.

But the discussion we mentioned centers around the fact that the good driver has to pay just as high a rate for his or her insurance as that bad risk pays for his.

Many are contending now that the good driver deserves to be recognized for his ability as a driver and deserves to be able to buy insurance at a lower rate than the individual who seemingly is always involved in some sort of an accident.

It seems perfectly reasonable that the good driver should not have to pay the same rate for his or her insurance as the bad driver.

Up to the present time, however, the bad driver has set the rate that all drivers pay, the good and the bad. And most of us are inclined to agree this isn't fair or just.

Since rates are determined by the losses the companies pay, why shouldn't the good driver be given something to encourage him to continue to drive safe and let the bad risk pay for his own experience?

Life insurance policies are figured so that the health or physical conditions of the individual determines his or her rate of premium. We see no reason why automobile insurance couldn't be figured the same way.

Red Feather Drive

RED FEATHER campaign officials have reported receiving several large checks from Artesia businesses which include all the contributions the business wishes to make for the year.

Included in the checks are sums for non-participating agencies as well as Red Feather agencies. Community Chest workers tell us they split up the check as the donor desired, passing on the money to the non-member agencies.

While some business houses prefer to make donations for campaigns as they come along, others find giving one lump-sum check a convenience they prize. Bookkeeping is simplified and time-consuming calls by representatives of privately-supported agencies considerably reduced.

With one check a business in Artesia this week combined its contributions for at least a dozen agencies it considers worthy of support. We believe the individual amounts for the separate agencies designated in the one check were all as large, if not larger, than the company would have given in a number of campaigns.

How one gives to worthy agencies is one's own business. But for the person unfamiliar with the possibilities of united giving, even to non-participating agencies, the lump-sum contribution is one worthy of consideration.

Hoover Again

FORMER PRESIDENT Herbert Hoover has again been given a presidential commission for a study of government, this time by President Eisenhower.

Under former president Harry Truman, Hoover led a study task force which made sweeping recommendations for reorganization of sprawling government machinery.

According to one source, that first study resulted in 70 per cent adoption of its recommendations and savings of government operation cost estimated at $3 billion.

While the first study was concerned with the how of government operations, the new study will dig into the "why"—it is aimed largely at finding the reasons for the government being in so many fields today.

The commission will look into the spread of government interest in subjects so far apart as medicine and electric power production. It will study the government's part in developing power, in supplying medical services, especially to veterans and to men with non-service connected ailments.

Unlike the first Hoover commission, the second study group will be dealing with subjects certainly more difficult to study and to sell to the American people, who denounce "creeping socialism" on one hand and believe "the government should do something about it" on the other.

MESSAGE FROM THE WIDE OPEN SPACES

NEW MEXICO EDITORS ARE SAYING—

Chaves County Concerned Over Government Intervention in $10 Million Cotton Crop

CHAVES COUNTY CONCERNED

Any time government meddles with the cotton growing industry, Chaves county is involved and interested, for it grows more than 15 million bales, will intrigue cotton growers for they will know what it about to happen.

Therefore, announcement yesterday by the Department of Agriculture that the current crop may produce more than 15 million bales, will intrigue cotton growers for they will know what it about to happen.

The ag department declared some time ago that if the cotton crop came to more than 12 million bales this year that it would create a surplus and probably would invoke acreage restrictions next year.

It will be remembered that a couple of years or so ago, acreage was materially reduced in this county because of the surplus that was produced the previous years, and which affected the annual production of new wealth.

If we remember correctly the crop was reduced around 10,000 acres.

The same thing is apt to happen again the next season if two-thirds of the nation's cotton growers approve quotas at a referendum election to be held some time in December.

Perhaps, growers here, and everywhere, would come out as well in dollars if the quotas are set up, but it is not likely that any of them are going to submit to the quota scheme too willingly.

They know that in order to keep price up supply must be limited, but it is the nature of growers to plant as much as they can, and reducing crops has never squared with the natural tendencies of those who produce wealth from the land.

But, before we get too excited about it let's wait until the cotton has all been ginned and see how good the estimate of yesterday turns out.—Roswell Record.

THE GRAND JURY

While many of its critics are calling the recent Eddy County grand jury the body cannot but have a wholesome effect upon the community. Grand juries serve as searchlights, enabling the citizenry to explore into reports of wrong doing and possible means of improving the lot of the citizen from an enforcement angle.

Though the grand jury returned no indictments the very fact it was called will put at rest the gossip that builds up over a period of months concerning various phases of law enforcement. Judge Roy Anderson is to be commended for calling the grand jury. The citizens who sat on the panel should receive the appreciation of county residents for devoting their time to such a thankless task.—Eddy County News.

ANOTHER GRAND JURY?

We can't see that much will be accomplished if another grand jury is called in the near future in Eddy county, as those now circulating petitions wish.

It was just a week ago that the grand jury called by District Judge C. Roy Anderson finished its work. Whatever else you may say about that grand jury, nobody has accused it of not working hard; of not trying to look into everything that was presented to it. We criticized the first grand jury for straying what we considered too far afield in its report, but we believe the jurors were conscientious and worked diligently at their job. The jury did not bring any indictments and we are satisfied it did not find anything of sufficient seriousness to warrant an indictment.

Furthermore, we seriously doubt if a second jury will turn up with any more than the first.

If called, a second grand jury will just be an additional expense to the taxpayers.

Those circulating the petitions should think it over carefully before turning them over to Judge Anderson.—Carlsbad Current-Argus.

LIVE LONGER

Now there will be more motorists who feel abused because they didn't know the cops were looking when they violated the law. The state police last weekend used a plane to spot violators—one of them even "raced" the airplane without knowing an officer was radioing ahead to a patrol car on the ground.

New Mexico's traffic toll is well above the one per day mark. The death rate is increasing. The next victim could be any of us. As Theodore Van Soelen pointed out in a letter to The New Mexican last week, the purpose of citations is to prevent deaths, not to punish. If the patrolling officers—whether they use airplanes, radar traps or just plain old-fashioned patrolling—can save a few lives, the police are willing to accept the criticism of those who tried to cheat on the law.

Human nature being what it is, and modern 150-horsepower automobiles being what they are, policemen still must hide behind signboards, figuratively, to keep violators in line.

We repeat: The way to keep from being "trapped" on the highway is to obey the law at all times. You live longer that way, too.

This is amply demonstrated by today's news reports, in which the story is told of excessive speed killing one person on the highway, and probable fatigue killing the other.

Had an officer halted either one down the road a ways, they might be alive today.—New Mexican, Santa Fe.

COFFEE TALK—

Parking Meter Department Gets $2 Contribution to Buy Roller Skates

AFTER READING AN editorial in the Advocate the other day suggesting roller skates or a motorscooter for the parking meter men, an Artesia woman sent Chief of Police Frank Powell a $2 contribution toward the purchase of the skates.

There's no doubt that the city has one of the best parking meter men in the business—he does his job the way he was told to do it. In fact, the city has had to curb his zealotism, as reported on P 1 today.

We hope a satisfactory understanding can be reached on the method of enforcing the meters with the present meter man—he could be one of the best ever.

A MOTHER OF A PARK school child called up the other day to comment on speeding she sees on Thirteenth street as she picks up her children twice a day.

She realizes the police can't cover all the schools twice a day. She notices the cars patrol the school areas, but finds when they leave to cover another school, the speeding goes on just the same.

The police do the best job they can. That's agreed.

But many parents feel as this one does, that something more needs to be done. What is the answer? Is it a school patrol of children, or perhaps of mothers, organized through the PTA? That's been done in many places, and the mothers are glad to do it.

Whatever the answer, there needs to be "something done about it." It has long been a source of concern to parents, and as we were told by this interested mother, traffic is constantly increasing—and moving faster.

ACCORDING TO THE LITTLE Argus, reliable sources are saying Dick Westaway, county assessor or deputy assessor for these many years, may be about to give in to the urging of friends who want him to go after the Democratic nomination for governor.

Westaway is reported to have had his fingers on the pulse of political life in the state in the past few weeks, and is encouraged with the friendliness toward his potential candidacy.

THOUGHTS IN PRINT

Bag-Lugging Redcap in Railroad Station May Be College Graduate

THAT BAG-LUGGING REDCAP may be a college graduate. Ed Townsend writes in The Christian Science Monitor:

Among railroad redcaps, members of CIO's United Transport Service Employees, are many who have medical or law degrees, are ordained ministers, hold teaching certificates, or are college graduates or students.

Robert Lewin, labor writer for the Chicago Daily News, recently toured the city's nine major railroad stations. He reported afterward that he had found in them redcaps able to help those who need a doctor, the advice of a lawyer, the comfort of a minister or a quick answer to a scholarly question. And he commented that he had found that Chicago's redcaps quite obviously are among "the nation's most educated" laborers.

The work of a redcap is not just a job; it's a profession, one that pays reasonably well ($75 to $90 a week, on the average, with many earning considerably more and that gives a satisfying sense of service.

The situation in Chicago is typical of that throughout the country; redcap jobs are filled substantially with the graduates of colleges or of students in colleges and professional schools.

THE HIGH COST OF TRAFFIC

snarls in New York City, as reported by Newsweek:

One of the nation's biggest balking concerns, which estimates the companywide operating cost for each truck at 32 cents a mile, estimates the same cost in New York at $1.25.

A major oil company has a clutch job done on each truck every 40,000 to 50,000 miles outside New York; trucks in town have to have new clutches every 18,000 miles.

Wages paid for extra time worked because of traffic delays amount to $350,000,000.

Extra cost of gasoline attributable to the high delivery costs amounts to a quarter cent a gallon.

A time-and-motion study made on one auto showed that it got 19 to the gallon on the open road, and 9.77 in Manhattan between 11 a. m. and 6 p. m.

WHO FIRST THOUGHT OF putting a white line down the middle of a highway? James C. G. Conniff writes in Coronet:

From Bangor to San Francisco, a white line stretches down the center of America's highways to keep traffic within its proper lanes.

Merely to keep that familiar line visible costs the states nearly 3 million dollars in paint alone

Let it be noted here that Westaway is one of the few men in Eddy county who can gather the backing of the entire county in state political contest.

THIS HASSLE WITH JERRY Brown over recognizing football players could go on and on. Let it be noted that Brown here is real sore.

Let it also be noted we are convinced Artesia has three potential all-stars. Numbers one and two are linemen—No. 3 is a backfield man.

We have been deplored for gutless sports reporting and blather, but still think we are better for real clinches, which we more probably develop as Artesia rolls into the tough, last half of its schedule.

We think folks here generally appreciate our attitude, even though they do not agree with it. One publicizing of a few players here in past years has hurt them—did last year, for sure.

We're convinced we're on the right path; the Current-Argus sports editor is sure he's on the straight and narrow, without favor. Let's let it stay that way.

COMMENT IN THE LITTLE Argus: "The Artesia Country club should be doing big business as soon as its members find out what grand food is now being served there under the direction of the new club manager, William A. McGeachy, formerly of the Bel-Air Country club, Beverly Hills, Calif. Carlsbad people who have dined there recently report the food tops. Local Riverside Country club members have the privilege of using the Artesia club will no doubt take advantage of it when they visit Artesia.

HERE'S A CLIPPING FROM the Santa Fe magazine too good to pass up:

COULD BE YOU ARE I'd like to be a could-be. If I could not be an are. For a could-be is a may-be. With a chance of reaching for. I'd rather be a has-been. That a might-have-been by far. For a might-have-been has never been. But a has-been was an are.

every year. But who could any price on the head-on collisions it has prevented? The property damages it has saved. The emergencies it has averted. Or the lives it has saved?

Yet the National Safety Council isn't even sure who deserves to be applauded as the inventors of this unique safety device, though dozens of claimants have vied for the honor, the B. Goodrich Co., after a national search in 1939, awarded it to Ward N. Hines of Detroit.

This was the earliest individual claim: 1911. As highway commissioner of Wayne County, Michigan, Hines witnessed near-collision on a bridge between a horse and buggy and automobile. The fault was not the road but in the drivers, there was plenty of room to pass, provided each vehicle kept to its own side of the road. The Hines reflected, might lie at the center of the highway.

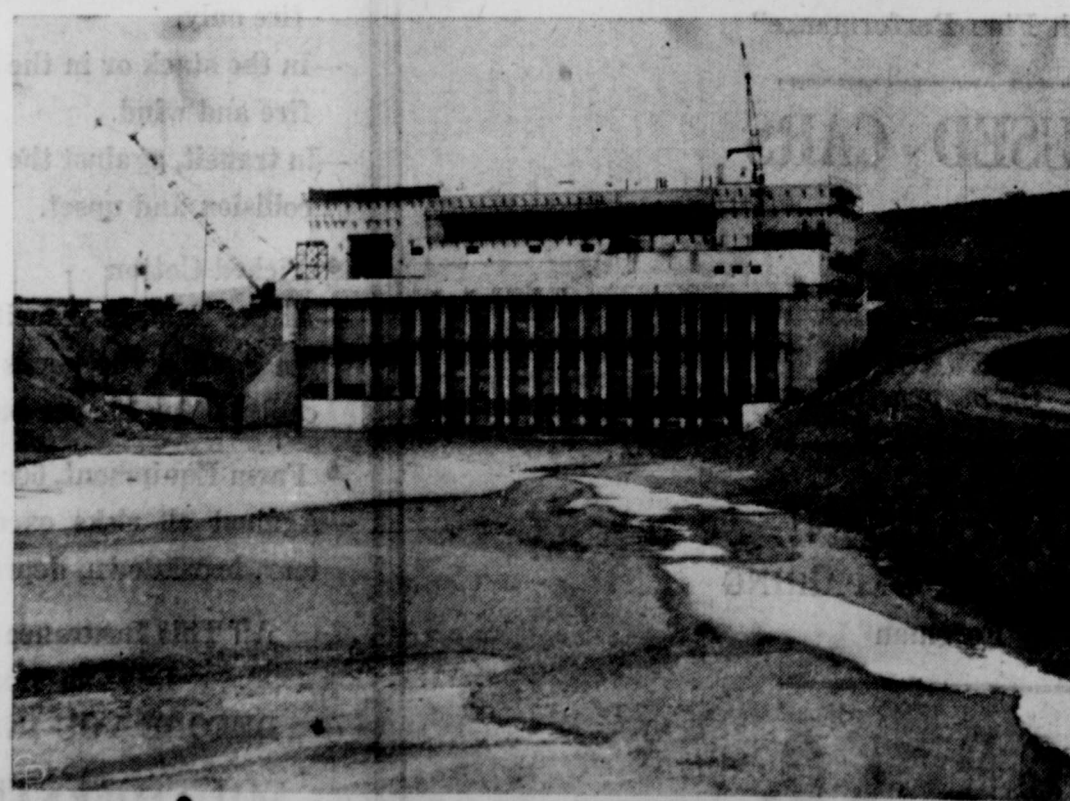

Experimenting with his idea, the commissioner painted white lines on several well-known danger spots: blind curves, bridge underpasses. Accidents dropped so sharply that Hines promoted his safety device to Wayne county. The white lines had begun its trek across the nation!

Crossed

ARMS, not to mention temples, crossed, Russia's Andrei Viarsky rants in the UN poll committee over placing of Korean peace situation last agenda. But the 60-nation committee ignored his plea that thereby there might be peace parity and voted against him 48-6. (International)

DAM TO BE DEDICATED IN U. S.-MEXICO CEREMONY

THIS IS FALCON DAM, at which President Eisenhower will make a dedication speech Oct. 19. The dam is 86 miles upstream from McAllen, Tex., on the Rio Grande. Mexico's President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines also will participate in the international ceremony. Not all gates were installed in the dam when this photo was made, but 930,000 acre feet of water was impounded. (International) of her mother, Mrs. C. W. Curry.

Mrs. Opha Gibson of Los Angeles has returned to her home after spending a week at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. E. Bowen and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bowen.
The Hagerman community booth at the ENM State Fair won second place. It was quite attractive and carried out the theme of Hagerman community projects, dollars being dressed to represent the various projects of different organizations.
Mrs. Lloyd Kirkpatrick, president of Hagerman Women's club, planned the booth and decorated it with the assistance of Mrs. E. S.
Bowen, Mrs. Julius Ables, Mrs. Bill Langenegger and Mrs. C. G. Mason. R. W. Cumpsten, Lloyd Kirkpatrick, H. R. Menefee and Horace Freeman did the carpentry work.
Wesley Menefee spent the weekend at the home of his parents. He is a student at New Mexico A&M college.

Lankford, Mrs. E. S. Bowen, Ger-va Ackerman, Dot Bledsoe, Jean Elliott, and Phyllis Jumper motored to Lovington to attend the installation of officers of the Lovin-ton Rainbow Assembly.
A former member of the Hagerman Rainbow Assembly, Ima Jean Johnson, was installed as worthy advisor of Lovington Rainbow.
Hagerman members presented
Miss Johnson with a gift.
Mrs. Wallace Pressley and children of El Paso are visiting Mrs.
Pressley's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
A. A. Bailey.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Copeland of Ralls, Texas, announce the birth of a daughter October 7, 1953. She has been named Ruthie Lee. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Foster of Hagerman and the paternal grandparents, Mr.
and Mrs. Copeland of Ralls. This is the first grandchild in both families.
Leroy Hammons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hammons, who is attending New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces, spent the week-end at home and enjoyed a birthday dinner and cake Sunday.
Miss Pearl Herrington returned from Norman, Okla., where she had been called by the death of her mother.
Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Foster have been visiting at the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Copeland of Ralls, Texas.
Mr. and Mrs. Jake Mendenhall and children of Lovington were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Franklin and daughters.
The WMU of the Baptist church met Wednesday for installation of officers.
Mrs. Joe Luce was installing officer and installed Mrs. W. P.
Jumper, president; Mrs. D. L. Newsom, first vice-president; Mrs.
Julius Ables, second vice-president; Mrs. Joe Ford, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. R. O. Sparks, stewardship; Mrs. W. R. Goodwin, mission study; Mrs. Scott New, community missions; Mrs. William Solomon, publicity; Mrs. Alex
White, children's home; Mrs. D. C.
Dennis, literature; Mrs. Paul Jenkins, literature.
The regular royal service lesson,
"A Sinful World, a Sufficient Savior," was led by Mrs. Newsom, who was assisted by several other members.
Present were Meses, Julius Ables, Joe Luce, W. F. Jumper, D.
L. Newsom, Joe Ford, R. O.
Sparks, W. R. Goodwin, Paul Jenkins, D. C. Dennis, William Solomon, Scott New, Bill Langeneg-ger, L. H. Shockley, and Elton Lankford.

Lake Arthur

Lake Arthur school faculty held its regular meeting in the home economics room Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Bernice Swinney, home economics teacher, served refreshments.
A 3C Raymond Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pearson of Cottonwood, arrived home last week from Sheppard Field at Wichita Falls, Texas, where he graduated from the school there.
He is on a 15-day furlough. He will be transferred to Walker Air base at Roswell and is being promoted.
Mr. and Mrs. James Norris attended the Eastern New Mexico State Fair and parade Tuesday in Roswell. They were accompanied by Mrs. Norris' mother, Mrs. W. E.
Taylor.
Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Donaghy of Cottonwood have word from their son, Jack, who recently went to work with the forest rangers at Fresno, Calif.
James Norris and Paul Coffin of Artesia left Wednesday for Grants to attend to their cattle and sheep interests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Whatley are building an addition to their home.
When it is completed it will be one of the most attractive homes in Lake Arthur. They are adding a large living and dining room on the south side of the present structure, which contains four rooms and bath. On the north side they are adding another bedroom, and a work or service room. On the east they are planning to add a breezeway and carport. They are remodeling the old part. They plan to remove the roof and put a new roof overall. It will be painted a dark green to harmonize with the light green stucco exterior walls.
Mrs. Eva Crook took her school bus to Roswell Monday loaded with materials to set up the Lake Arthur Extension club booth.
Ladies accompanying her were Meses, Carroll Jackson, Sr., and May McDonald. Meses, Delbert
Robinson, Ray Pate, Herbert M.
Whatley and John Havener, Jr., motored to Roswell later and assisted in setting it up.
Theme of their booth was "Picture Framing and Matting," which had been demonstrated at a meeting during the club year. Burgundy, rose and green colors were used in the background which was very effective in displaying the pictures which had been framed by the members.

Lake Arthur school was dismissed for the opening parade and Easter New Mexico State Fair Tuesday in Roswell. Almost everyone attended and reported the biggest and best fair ever.

Hope News

Several members of the Church of Christ in Hope motored to Roswell last Saturday for a meeting.

Mrs. Houston Teel, Mrs. Riley Teel of Artesia visited in the community last Tuesday.

John Bush and Denzil Burnam spent Thursday and Friday helping Carl Lewis work sheep.

Little Jane Merritt had the misfortune of getting her arm broken while playing ball on the school ground Thursday and was taken to Artesia for medical treatment.

Bobbie Barley left Thursday for Roswell where he will pick up a truckload of their cattle shown at the fair in Albuquerque and at Roswell and will take them to the State Fair in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. James Munson and family spent several days visiting Mr. Munson's mother, Mrs. Mark Fisher and family, from their home near Carlsbad.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met with Mrs. Martin Hibbard Thursday for an all-day meeting. A lovely covered dish dinner was served at the noon hour.

In the afternoon the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. John Bush.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Hibbard started the new book study. Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Hibbard and Mrs. Bush. Meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Bobbie Barley. Present were Mmes. Richard Rounds, George O. Teel, Fred Martin Bob James, John Bush, Bobbie Barley, Lincoln Cox, and hostesses, Mrs. Martin Hibbard.

Funeral services were held in Artesia for Hugh Rutledge on Thursday. Interment was in the upper cemetery at Hope. Mr. Rutledge was a resident of Hope several years ago.

Mrs. Ada Belle Trimble and Mrs. Ethel Altman were business visitors in Artesia Thursday afternoon.

The cottage prayer meeting conducted by the Methodist church was held in the John Bush home Wednesday night with Chester Teague as the leader. Prayer meeting has been changed from Thursday to Wednesday, and as always, everyone is invited to attend these meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lea made a tour through the mountains Sunday afternoon.

Several from Hope attended the Sacramento Mountain Singing Convention at Pimon Sunday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cox, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Teel and children, Mrs. Ida Prude, and Mrs. Lincoln Cox and daughters, Ruth Ann and Shirley.

John Bush has been helping Robert Parks with his sheep for the past few days. Mr. Bush and Mr. Burnam motored to Artesia on Monday on business.

Sunday in the home of Mrs. M. C. Lee.

Mrs. R. T. Schneck, who has been ill, is improved. She spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week as a guest of Mrs. A. C. Crozier in Artesia.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Phelps and family of Portales, and Wesley and Pike Orand, niece and nephew of S. W. Stockton, visited their uncle and wife on Saturday. On Sunday they went through Carlsbad Caverns.

Rev. Bill Irwin and family of Sand Springs, Tex., spent last Friday and Saturday with his sister, Mrs. Sam Stockton and Mr. Stockton. Sunday, Rev. Irwin preached at the Baptist church where he will move his family to conduct the church for the coming year.

Mrs. R. L. House and Mrs. Hugh

Norwood spent Sunday in the mountains near Weed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murdock and children of El Paso are visiting for two weeks in the Forrest Lee home and in the Rev Charles Murdock home in Atoka.

Rev. Lee and family spent Sunday with the Arvil Reynolds family at Atoka.

R. C. Kornegay and family of Carlsbad were guests in the homes of Albert Lee and Mrs. M. C. Lee Sunday afternoon, Oct. 4. Mr. Kornegay was a former teacher in the Lakewood schools.
