Kennedy Stresses Peace, Responsibility To Troops

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—In an obvious challenge to French President Charles de Gaulle, President Kennedy called on the Western Allies today to fulfill their responsibilities to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and build it into "a vigorous instrument of peace."

Speaking at the U.S. military base at Hanau today after reviewing 15,000 U.S. troops, the President took his theme from the presence of Canadian, West German and French troops in the honor guard welcoming him.

"It is not always easy in times of calm," he said, "to maintain the solidarity of an alliance. If all of us fulfill our responsibilities, we can make NATO not only a strong bulwark against attack but also a vigorous instrument of peace."

Kennedy noted that the alliance has survived 15 years and said it has a bright future if its members stand together. He called the record "almost unprecedented" in the history of alliances, which he said usually fall apart when dangers decline.

Kennedy, in the major address of his European tour later today, planned an even more pointed reply to de Gaulle's call for a Western Europe increasingly independent of the United States.

Speaking from historic St. Paul's Church in this ancient German trade city, Kennedy was expected to hammer home at a need for across-the-board cooperation between Western Europe and North America.

At a news conference in Bonn Monday, Kennedy bluntly warned that without close harmony among Western allies on trade and financial issues, living standards would decline and financial unity, which would develop, leading finally "to the breakup of our defensive alliance."

"No nation by itself can maintain its own security and a successful management of its own fiscal affairs," Kennedy said. "There has to be the closest cooperation."

Kennedy reminded the allies that the United States has borne heavy burdens for free world security for more than 18 years and now maintains 400,000 troops in Europe. He urged that European governments take this into account in formulating trade policies—which can expand or reduce markets for U.S. products.

The President did not mention de Gaulle by name, but the policies he criticized, directly or by implication, had been advocated by the French president. Kennedy strongly endorsed French-German reconciliation, embodied in the treaty of cooperation signed earlier this year by de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. But of the treaty itself he said that two-nation agreements do not strengthen the Atlantic alliance as much as arrangements joined by many allies.

"We want to make sure that NATO stays strong," Kennedy said, "because I think NATO is essentially the security of the Federal Republic (West Germany) and we regard it as essential to the security of the United States."

Those who do not place comparable importance on it," he added in an obvious reference to de Gaulle's views, "seem to me to be outside of the future."

The President had a full day of conferences with Adenauer and other West German leaders in Bonn Monday. He was reported to have told them that in view of the heavy cost of its contribution to Western defense, the United States urgently needs their cooperation in lowering trade barriers and increasing U.S. exports.

Kennedy is understood to have remarked that he was concerned with broad policies of economic cooperation. He warned against letting the enterprise be "ruined by bookkeepers' haggling over details."

Kennedy and Adenauer, in a communique summing up their talks Monday, declared their agreement "that every effort will be made to strengthen common defense planning and joint operation of NATO defense forces."

This emphasis contrasted with de Gaulle's view that Europe needs a French national nuclear force because in some future crisis Europe may not be able to rely upon U.S. power. de Gaulle also has held his cooperation with much NATO military activity to a minimum and recently withdrew units of the French Atlantic fleet from NATO command.

Before leaving Bonn for Frankfurt today, Kennedy met for just under an hour with Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin and chief of the opposition Socialist party.

Brandt said they had a very good breakfast and a satisfactory discussion of German, European and international problems.

Brandt's talk with Kennedy, scheduled in secrecy some weeks ago, was reported in the first official German version of Kennedy's schedule. Adenauer's reluctance to publicize his opposition also extended to his economic minister, Ludwig Erhard, who will succeed him this fall, despite the old-chancellor's objections to Kennedy's first talk with Erhard, scheduled for later today, was omitted from the first German program.

After seeing Brandt, Kennedy took a helicopter to the U.S. Army base at Hanau to inspect American troop detachments there and have lunch at an enlisted men's mess.

Convention Site Named By Demos

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats will hold their 1964 presidential nominating convention in Atlantic City, N.J., the week of Aug. 24.

The decision announced by the party's national committee today puts the party's annual gathering on the Atlantic coast for the first time since 1948, when Harry S. Truman was nominated at Philadelphia.

The final vote in the site committee came at a breakfast session but formal action by the full committee did not come until about three hours later.

Earlier Chicago representatives had virtually conceded that their city had been eliminated from consideration because its new Convention Hall would not be available the week the Democrats wanted it.

Apparently both Chicago and Miami Beach, Fla., remained in the running until the final vote this morning.

Neither the Democratic nor the Republican National Committee has ever held a nominating convention in Atlantic City.

Hughes said the state and city offered the Democratic party $625,000 in cash to bring its nominating committee to Atlantic City plus free rental of the city's huge convention hall. Hughes estimated the hall would be worth $25,000.

The hall can seat more than 25,000 persons comfortably in its main arena. A second-floor auditorium can seat an additional 5,000 persons.

In making the selection, the Site Committee had these factors to weigh:

Miami-Maxine Beach put in the high bid of $700,000 and reportedly will go higher—for the pleasure and rewards of being the host city. However, some committee members were understood to be fearful that Miami's vast number of Cuban exiles might produce an embarrassing demonstration, although Florida spokesmen have given assurances there is no reason to fret on that score.

Atlantic City has bid $625,000 cash.

Chicago has offered $450,000 plus $150,000 to ready the convention hall for the Democrats.

Mayor Richard J. Daley, indicated the city felt the competition was getting stiff.

Said Daley: "Mayor Daley has said repeatedly that Chicago will beat any reasonable bid, when you get that high the bids just aren't reasonable."

Another problem is that Chicago's big new McCormack Place convention hall will not be available until the Democrats want it—third and fourth weeks in August—But Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey has made clear that this does not put the city out of the running because the International Amphitheatre—the site of many a political convention—is available.

Before Kennedy has spoken a few words in Chicago's favor.

Khrushchev Plans Quick Germany Trip

Filibuster Is Threat

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev will make a morale-boosting trip to East Germany this weekend, just a few days after President Kennedy winds up his swing around West Germany and West Berlin.

There were reports in Western circles that the premier had already left for Bucharest, Romania, en route Romanian Communist line and such a trip would have been a trouble-shooting expedition.

However, the Foreign Ministry's press department denied it has said it "understands" Khrushchev had left for the Romanian capital.

The premier is scheduled to arrive in East Germany Sunday in an obvious attempt to counter some of the effect of Kennedy's West German tour and visit to the Berlin wall.

The announcement early today of Khrushchev's trip called it a friendly visit in connection with the 20th birthday Sunday of Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's old-chancellor's objections to Kennedy's first talk with Erhard, scheduled for later today, was omitted from the first German program.

After seeing Brandt, Kennedy took a helicopter to the U.S. Army base at Hanau to inspect American troop detachments there and have lunch at an enlisted men's mess.

viewed Khrushchev's plans as an effort to counterweight Kennedy's visit and boost East German morale, always the low point in the Soviet bloc. A West German government spokesman in Bonn agreed.

"The demonstration of friendship of the German and American people during the visit of President Kennedy apparently made it necessary to freshen up Ulbricht's damaged prestige on somewhat short notice," said Karl Guenther von Hase, West German press chief.

The announcement of Khrushchev's trip caught Communist circles in Moscow by surprise. Some claimed Western news agencies to find out if Kennedy and Khrushchev might be in Berlin at the same time.

There was no indication in Moscow, however, that Khrushchev would arrive in East Germany before Sunday. Kennedy flies from West Berlin to Ireland on Wednesday.

The Soviet news agency Tass, in announcing Khrushchev's trip, did not indicate whether he would visit East Germany or some other East German city was his destination.

CRITICALLY WOUNDED—Major Gen. Thomas J. Gent Jr., high-ranking Air Force officer, was in critical condition in an Oklahoma City hospital with a bullet wound in his right temple. The shooting occurred at Tinker Air Force Base while Gent prepared for departure to Ft. Monroe, Va., and a new assignment as deputy commander of Joint Task Force 4. He has been commander of the 32nd North American Defense Command (NORAD) Region and the 2nd Air Division in Oklahoma City. WASHINGTON (AP)—The floor of administration leaders to sign off a majority of senators use it, once it reaches the Senate floor as a vehicle to which Kennedy's other civil rights proposals could be attached.

As sponsors for President Kennedy's sweeping civil rights legislation added fresh evidence today that the program faces a rough road in Congress.

Sen. Robert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant majority leader, had expressed confidence when the bill was introduced last week that more than half the 100 senators would join as sponsors.

So far only 46 have signed—37 Democrats and 9 Republicans.

Not only is this five votes shy of a Senate majority, but is far short of the two-thirds margin that would be required to smash a Southern filibuster by clamping a time limit on debate.

Backers of the Kennedy program estimate it will take 22 Republican votes and 45 Democratic votes to check off a filibuster if all senators are present when a showdown comes.

Southerners opened fire again Monday on Kennedy's civil rights program.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., accused the President, in effect, of giving aid and comfort to civil rights demonstrators.

"I have not heard the first of our liberal forebears try to make any of the demonstrators for protesting against the law of the land," Russell said in the Senate.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-NC, contended Congress does not have the power to force even privately owned public accommodations to all citizens.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said in an Atlanta speech that Kennedy's executive order against discrimination on federal projects "hardens on dictatorial policy."

Also joining the list of GOP sponsors is Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Dirksen and other Republicans have questioned the constitutionality of one part of the administration program—prohibiting racial discrimination by stores, restaurants, hotels and other privately owned places of public accommodation.

This proposal came sharply attacked by Southern foes as an assault on private property rights.

It has been offered separately, and referred to the Senate Commerce Committee for consideration.

The leadership strategy is to try to get quick action on the public accommodations bill and possibly later the over-all civil rights measure was referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss. Leaders have no hope of shaking it loose any time soon.

The Commerce Committee, which had planned to start hearings today on the public accommodations bill with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as the lead-off witness, rescheduled them for the first of next week. Indications were that the administration preferred to have Kennedy appear first before the House Judiciary Committee, which will start hearings Wednesday on the President's package program.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., the lone Southerner on the Commerce Committee, threw a roadblock in the committee's original schedule of hearings on the public accommodations bill. He served notice he would block any unanimous consent request to let the committee sit while the Senate was meeting.

Synthetic Rubber Will Better Tires

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Manufacturers are perfecting a new general purpose synthetic rubber that increases tire wear 25 to 100 per cent.

Scientists and technologists at the World Petroleum Congress heard the synthetic—CIS Polybutadiene—described today as a true petrochemical that provides a new and probably large outlet for hydrocarbons of oil and gas.

Paul Cornell of Cleveland, Ohio, said the product has achieved considerable commercial success when it will be ahead of the can but relatively little is still known about the maximum extent to which it can be used.

"The possibilities are so varied that the Soviet gas giant gave us cannot now adequately predict the market position of this new rubber 5 to 10 years hence," Cornell said.

Cornell said CIS-Polybutadiene Karakal republics and in western Siberia figure prominently in plans for rapid future rubber production increases of both oil and gas.

He said use of the new product in blending processes has helped rubber industry meet needs of high speed driving conditions.

The oil scientists from 62 nations also heard Russia broaden its booming exploration success claims to include natural gas.

A paper prepared by 12 Russians revealed a claim that Russia's oil reserves surpass those of the United States.

"And the time is not far off when it will be ahead of the U.S. in its gas reserves," the new paper said.

As was the case last week with the Soviet gas giant, Cornell said the market position of this new rubber 5 to 10 years hence.

Cornell said CIS-Polybutadiene Karakal republics and in western Siberia figure prominently in plans for rapid future rubber production increases of both oil and gas.

Gunshot Victim Critical

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Major Gen. Thomas J. Gent Jr. remained in critical condition but is responding to treatment for the gunshot wound he received early Monday.

Damage from passage of a small-caliber bullet through the head of the outgoing commander of the 32nd North American Defense Command was described as "minimal."

Gen. 32, who is out of a coma and physicians at a hospital here said his condition looks favorable to rapid recovery.

Gent, who is under orders to report to Ft. Monroe, Va., as deputy commander of Joint Task Force 4, was found in temporary quarters at Tinker Air Force Base.

The shooting came 24 hours after the general's wife was arrested after an auto accident here on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Gent, 52, was taken to the base hospital and placed under sedation after the shooting. The Oklahoma Crime Bureau said there was no sign of gunpowder on Mrs. Gent's hands.

Sen. Frank Anderson, in charge of the search, said "nothing significant was observed."

He called Monday's 8,000-foot descent by Trieste extremely satisfactory, but said the operational part of view, but added, "The Trieste went down a little further to the east than planned."

The dive area is about 4,000 yards from the last known position of the nuclear submarine Thresher when she sank with the loss of 129 men during a deep test dive April 10.

14 Cmdr. Donald E. Keach, 34, formerly of Somerville, Mass., and Orington, Maine, and Kenneth Mackenzie, 40, of San Diego, a civilian engineer with the naval electronics laboratory, made the Trieste's first dive in the Atlantic.

Keach said Trieste covered about 100 square miles on the ocean floor.

Bathyscaphe Dive Delayed

AT SEA Aboard USS Fort Snelling (AP)—Further attempts of the Bathyscaphe Trieste to locate the bulk of the submarine Thresher was postponed today for 24 hours because of minor technical problems.

The first dive Monday brought no results.

Capt. Frank Anderson, in charge of the search, said "nothing significant was observed."

JFK Backed On Trade Negotiations

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional anxiety over Common Market tariff barriers sparked a bipartisan move today to put the Trade Expansion Act passed last year directly to the President to take all appropriate and feasible steps to eliminate unprofitable import restrictions maintained by any country against U.S. agricultural products.

Kennedy was reported to have voiced a vigorous appeal to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn, Germany, conference Monday for German support in an effort to rescind the tariff decisions.

Sen. Humphrey said in a statement he is deeply concerned by the growing evidence that EEC (European Economic Community) is moving toward protectionist trade restrictive policies.

Behind this complaint is a skyrocketing demand from all sections of the country for action by the administration to get record decisions which have all but closed the European market to U.S. frozen chickens and flour and threaten future exports of wheat, feed grains, rice, dairy products and many more products.

The Humphrey-Dirksen resolution noted that the Common Mar-

Voluntary Bible Reading Has Approval

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Atty. Gen. David P. Buckson said today that he has approved the reading of the Bible in public schools on a voluntary basis.

Buckson said Monday that state laws requiring such exercises have been "rendered" unconstitutional by the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

But he said "the same Constitution and articles thereof, which are now being interpreted to prohibit laws which make religious services a duty, may also be invoked to permit religious services as a right."

"No laws are necessary to compel the exercise and enjoyment of these rights and no laws will be enacted which will deny enjoyment of these privileges," Buckson's opinion said.

The absence of laws requiring the reading of the Bible and recitation of the Lord's Prayer should make it more meaningful when done voluntarily, he said.

Buckson also said privately that his chief, at the opening of the next school term, will read from the Bible in class, recite the Lord's Prayer and read the flag.

"It is my firm hope and belief," he said, "that other parents will choose to do the same, and that their children will voluntarily do the same."

Hearing Set For Today In Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A preliminary hearing will be held today in city court on the murder charge against Vernon de la Beck, 42, an Arkansas resident, of assassinating a Negro integration leader.

The routine hearing deals only with whether there is probable cause to hold Beck in the case.

Beck was arrested in the city of Jackson on June 12 after a chase in a dispatch from his confinement in a hospital in the state mental hospital at White Hall, an psychiatric hospital in the city of Jackson, next week.

The state reported sources said Beck was already being made with the hospital in case of indictment, and the mental tests may require as long as two months.

Waller said he would seek the death penalty against Beck.

Beck was accused of ambushing Medgar W. Evers in Jackson on June 12 after Evers drove up to his home.

The murder charge is not a federal case. The federal government postponed indefinitely any action on its civil rights violation charge against Beck with a Citizens Council member.

In Greenwood, a legal defense fund was being collected for Beck.

Climax Of TFX Probe Draws Near

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate investigation subcommittee neared today the climax of its probe of the disputed TFX warplane contract award.

The subcommittee seeks to determine whether favoritism influenced award of the huge contract to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth despite military evaluations that the "Boving Co. offered a design and proposal for a better, cheaper plane."

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara has testified he made the decision on merit—that the military evaluations were faulty. He has not yet been cross-examined.

Chairman John McClellan, D-Ark., said the secretaries of the Navy and Air Force, deputy Secretary of Defense Russell G. Galpin and McNamara will testify starting Wednesday, but not necessarily in that order.

McNamara has pictured the TFX tactical fighter, experimental as the potential herald of a new era in manned warfare design.

The high-flying TFX, intended to have wings which may be retracted for flight at more than twice the speed of sound or extended for slower missions, still is in the design stage.

McNamara said estimated, it cost $6.5-billion to develop and produce 1,700 of the planes. He contends his award to General Dynamics will permit big savings not possible under the Boeing proposal.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Shame on you for twisting the forked-up spaghetti into the hollow of a large spoon. That's like condoning drinking coffee out of a saucer after "tanning it with your hat."

SPAGHETTI AFICIONADO

DEAR ABBY: Where did you get the idea that one uses a fork AND A SPOON for spaghetti? According to Emily Post it is not considered etiquette either here or in Italy. Please correct yourself in your column before millions of Dear Abby fans start eating their spaghetti-like Italian peasants.

DEAR ABBY: The world is about to go up in smoke and you and your readers are concerned about how to eat spaghetti. If you insist on dealing with such trivia in your column, may I add my two strands worth: When dining at home, one should allow himself the luxury of eating with any implement he finds the most convenient. When dining out, one should order only that which is easy to eat. I have always avoided fried chicken, French fried potatoes and crisp bacon because I get so nervous worrying about whether I am presenting a pretty picture that I invariably get indigestion.

DEAR ABBY: I finally came so exercised over the spaghetti-eating controversy that I sent for following cable to a well-bred Italian friend in Florence, Italy: "In Italy, is it considered proper etiquette to eat spaghetti with a fork and large spoon?"

DEAR ABBY: I followed through on my memo, telephoned a number of the leading Italian restaurants in the Los Angeles area, and asked: "How do your customers eat spaghetti?"

Panel Okays Loan Plan For Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee approved today a bill to give education and home loan benefits to veterans discharged since Jan. 31, 1955.

Known as the "GI Bill '55," the legislation has been sponsored both by the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations. The Veterans Administration has estimated its education costs could exceed $3 billion.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., sponsor of the measure, told members "this bill would be a boon for college education, and to raise one educational level, than anything that could pass."

The bill passed the Senate in 1959 but died in the House. In the preceding Congress, it was cleared by the Labor Committee but was not called up for a vote in the Senate in the face of Kennedy administration opposition.

The bill would make available for veterans, serving since 1953, college and vocational education payments similar to those received by World War II and Korean War servicemen.

The Korean War benefits expired Jan. 31, 1955. The bill approved today would cover the period to July 1, 1967, when the current draft law expires.

Singer Pleases Homesick Boys

By ROBERT EUNSON

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—There's a rattle of drums, a baby blue spot light shines the stage which suddenly jitters out of the dance floor, the trumpets blare, and a leggy blonde with an overflowing bosom glides toward belting, "I left my heart in San Francisco."

Until that instant you might have been in Charlie Maple's Sky Room in Reno.

But when the blonde in the sparkly dress mentions San Francisco, Dallas, Milwaukee or any town east of the Golden Gate and west of Washington Bridge, the audience starts to stomp and whistle.

Then you know you're in Korea with a bunch of homesick boys. Even though the amply filled dish on stage goes by the name of Doris Lee, to them she's Agnes Brown, the girl next door or the one left behind crying a river because her soldier boy had to do another tour overseas.

Walker Hill, the $5 million playground of the Republic of Korea built on the banks of the Han River to increase its dollar holdings, is losing money. A recent Saturday was a record night, however, and the management hopes it has found the formula.

"Soldiers would jeep, half-way across Korea to hear a pretty girl sing," a management spokesman said. "But such cool cats as Louis Armstrong and the Mills Brothers are for more sophisticated audiences."

Neither of these famous acts paid expense at Walker Hill. But filling the night club isn't the only solution. The biggest percentage of Walker Hill's 240 bed-rooms have been vacant since the opening April 8.

Two weeks ago, however, the 8th Army approved Walker Hill as a rest and recreation hotel. Approval came after sanitary inspectors okayed the kitchens, restaurants and water plant.

A plan was set-up to include Korean girl hostesses for the "Monkeys," as U.S. soldiers dedicated to celibacy while in Korea now call themselves.

Slot machines are the only form of gambling on the premises. There still is considerable controversy over Walker Hill, but having such a beautiful establishment in such a distressed area is so incongruous, the contrast alone might make it a success.

"I wouldn't go to the damned place," snarled a major. "I got a stake in Korea, after ten months duty here, and I can't see the ROKs spending their money for Walker Hill. Just go to one foundling home and you'll see what I mean."

In addition to high kicking chor. us girls and specialty acts, the night club has an 18-piece orchestra and serves diners. Officers and enlisted men dance with their wives or dates, who may be girls from the services or Koreans from nearby Seoul.

The slot machines in the lobby take about the same percentage of your nickels or dimes as the managed band in Vegas.

Five restaurants and three bars offer cuisine all the way from exotic oriental to good old plain American.

Walker Hill takes its name from Gen. Walton Walker who commanded the 8th Army in Korea until he was killed in a jeep accident in 1951.

Automation Increases In Oil, Gas Industry

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Automation continues to speed gains in the oil and gas industry. Refiners and producers are using automation to speed production and control costs. The use of automatic and remote control facilities now is spreading rapidly through the production and marketing segments of the industry.

Two major marketers have opened in recent months terminals to serve the metropolitan Houston area.

Gulf Oil Corp. opened what it calls the "hull advanced, automated product terminal" in the industry.

modern equipment includes three things through more efficient use of motor gasoline, two of manpower and one of material.

The company's annual report revealed this spring that other producing areas are being evaluated with a view to monitoring and controlling them in a similar way.

The Continental Pipe Line Co. installed centralized dispatching facilities at Ponca City, Okla., last year.

This equipment permits remote supervision from Ponca City of automatic stations along crude and products pipeline systems in for a products line which a partially-owned subsidiary, Cherokee Pipe Line Co., operates in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Illinois.

Humble officials describe their "new Houston facilities" as an experiment to determine maximum use of electronic controls at gas-line terminals. The new terminal has a storage capacity of 95,000 bbl. wells separated by distances ranging as much as 100 miles.

Future discoveries will become part of the system.

Continental officials say the half the time required before the automated equipment was installed. The terminal serves customers within a 100-mile radius.

Cuban Speech Boycotted By Italians

The American delegation of 63, sponsored by the Women's Strike for Peace organization, sat through both the Japanese and Cuban speeches.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT THIS "CAR KILLER" KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING A SOLID, SILENT SUPER TORQUE FORD

This steel-edged pothole is probably the world's toughest test of a car's suspension. We drive into this car killer at 30 mph, locking our brakes as we go so the wheels can't roll through the hole as they normally would. The car slams against the far edge of the hole with such impact that it literally bounces out.

If you added up the cumulative effect of all the jars and jolts your car's suspension system experiences in years of normal driving, it wouldn't match the impact of one trip through the hole. Yet—a Ford must run this test three times to prove its strength.

How can a Ford take it? Because Ford's front suspension has extra beef in springs, springs, suspension arms—in fact, it's about 20 pounds heavier than the front suspension of our principal competitor's car.

We don't expect you to abuse your car the way we do our test cars. But, however you drive, you'll welcome the extra strength of a total performance Ford. Ford strength is tested in a thousand ways in Ford's laboratories and proving grounds—and in open competition in the world's toughest rallies and stock car events.

Swap Paying Off For Sox

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
The White Sox hit the Bullseye when they pulled off a multiple-inning swap that included Pete Ward, a young third baseman who has been right on target since he kicked the Ty Cobb habit.

Ward, who used to bat with his hands spread apart in the Cobb manner, but now is taking a steady grip on things, triggered a 5-3 victory over American League leader New York Monday night that moved the White Sox to within one game of the Yankees.

Continuing his bid for Rookie of the Year honors, the 23-year-old left-handed swinger got the White Sox rolling with a second-inning homer, then singled in a four-run fourth inning, suggesting that just out of the Yankees' reach.

Ward, who came to the White Sox along with Ron Hansen, Dave Nicholson and Hoyt Wilhelm in the big deal with Baltimore that sent Luis Aparicio and Al Smith to the Orioles, now has a .300 batting average to go with nine homers and 42 runs batted in.

He credits his new-found power to the fact he made his hands neighbors again. In college "I spread them about an inch for better control," he says, and in the minors "I kept spreading them apart even further until I guess I had about 4 or 5 inches between them."

While the White Sox were moving up, Boston closed to within four games of the top by beating Cleveland 7-5. Minnesota whipped Baltimore 6-4, the Los Angeles Angels edged Washington 3-2 and Kansas City downed Detroit 6-3.

In the National League, San Francisco took over first place by defeating St. Louis 4-3, the Los Angeles Dodgers moved Cincinnati 5-4 and Milwaukee shut out Houston 3-0. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Ward's homer matched one by Roger Maris, and the Yankees and White Sox stood at 1-1 going into the fourth. Singles by Nicholson and Ward plus a walk to Hansen loaded the bases. Yankee starter Al Downing, 2-7, then walked Tom McCraw to force in the lead run and Camilo Carrasco followed with a bases-clearing triple. John Buzhardt, 9-3, got the victory with Wilhelm's relief help.

The Indians twice rallied to tie, the last time on Billy Kirkland's two-run seventh-inning homer, but Gary Geiger won it for Boston with a two-run, two-out, two-strike homer in the bottom of the ninth. Le Clinton and Chuck Schilling also homered for the Red Sox. Jack Lamabe, 3-0, got the victory with Jerry Walker, 6-2, the loser.

The Twins struck quickly against Mit Pappas, 5-4, scored twice in the first inning and three times in the second to beat the Orioles. Winning pitcher Jim Kaat, 7-4, drove in what turned out to be the decisive run with a double in the third but needed Bill Dalley's relief help to nail the victory. Jackie Brandt homered for Baltimore.

The Angels, shut out on two hits for seven innings by Claude Osteen, erupted for three runs in the eighth to beat the Senators. Hank Poles' homer got Lee Anderson started and singles by Lou Thomson, Ed Sadowski, Albie Pearson and Jim Fregosi finished the job. Art Fowler, 2-0, worked two scoreless innings to pick up the victory. Osteen is 1-4.

The A's came from behind to down the Tigers with Bobby Del Greco and Jerry Lumpe supplying the key blows in support of Ed Rakover, 7-5. Del Greco tanned a two-run homer in the third and Lumpe lashed a two-run triple in the fourth to tag Don Mossi, 4-5, with the defeat. Ken Harrelson homered for Kansas City while Bill Bruton connected for Detroit.

Joe Says Sugar Ray Still Good

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former middleweight and welterweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson is 43 but he's still good enough to beat most middleweights, according to Joe Giardello, who scored a unanimous 10-round decision over the aging former champ Monday night.

But Robinson seemed uncertain he'll be tackling any more fighters, middleweights or otherwise.

Robinson, who said after the fight "I'm not sure what my future plans are. I can't make up my mind now."

Robinson, 1984, had hoped to gain a shot at middleweight champ Dick Tiger. Instead he suffered his 13th defeat. He has won 133.

Giardello, 1901, is now 92-29 and won the right to challenge the champ. Giardello has had eight draws.

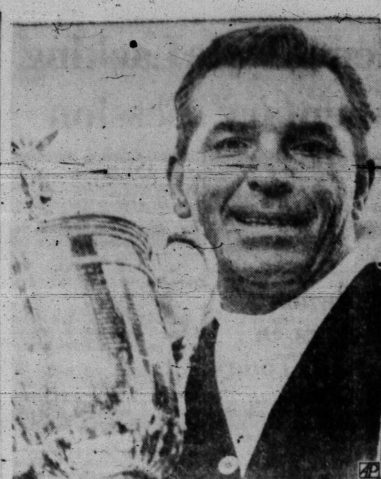

"I knew I was in with a good fighter when those body punches didn't slow him up," Giardello said. "And he's a smart fighter. Look at the way he threw that right hand lead at my head to open the eighth. It was great, but I was expecting something like that all through the fight. Don't sell this guy short—even if he is getting old—he can fight any middleweight around today and beat them."

Sprinkling Of Top Pros In Odessa Event

ODESSA (AP) — Seventy teams will square off July 4-7 in the annual Odessa Professional Golf Tournament with a liberal sprinkling of professionals on the PGA tour in the crowd.

Don January, Billy Maxwell, Jimmy Demerit, Jacky Cupit, Bo Winger, Ernie Vostler and Don Massengale are among pros entered in the 72-hole tournament.

Doug Sanders, who paired with Richard Crawford to win last year, is not returning.

REPEAT OPEN WINNER—Julius Boros poses with the trophy after winning the 1963 U. S. Open golf championship at The Country Club in Brookline, Mass., in a play-off match with Arnold Palmer and Jacky Cupit. Boros also won the Open crown in 1952. (AP Wirephoto)

White Sox, Braves In LL Victories

The White Sox pounded 10 runs across the plate in the fifth inning to break up an American Little League game last night. The big fifth inning gave the White Sox a 22-1 lead over the Indians, ending the game on the 16-run rule.

In the second game, the Braves took a 4-2 decision over the league-leading Cubs in the National League.

The White Sox rapped out 10 hits in their scoring marathon, and Tommy Holis had the distinction of blasting a home run and a double in the same inning as the Sox.

The Braves got the jump on the Cubs by scoring two runs in the second without a hit.

David Casey limited the Cubs to four hits, two of them by Mitch Rabinovich who had a double and a single. The Braves got six hits off Charlie Johnson, only one for extra bases—Tommy Anger's double in the fourth.

Sox batted around, and scored six runs in the fourth. Bennie Ward, who picked up the pitching victory had three singles for the Sox.

Tom Chorn had a home run and a single for the Indians, his round tripper coming in the second frame when the Indians scored three of their runs.

Minor Loop Head Dies Of Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George M. Trautman, who never made it as a professional player but went on to become one of baseball's top administrators, is dead of cancer.

Trautman, 73, who had headed the minor leagues since 1947, had suffered for some time with a heart condition but doctors said cancer was the cause of his death at his home here Monday.

He began his administrative career in baseball in 1923 and he became president of the Columbus (Ohio) Redbirds of the American Association.

Later, he became president of the American Association and for six years was vice president of the Minor League Association and chairman of its executive committee.

In 1946, he became vice president and general manager of the Detroit Baseball Club, but was released from his contract to head the minors.

As president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (the minors), he succeeded the late Judge W. G. Brannan.

Under Trautman's guidance, the minor leagues reached a peak of 59 leagues with teams in 448 cities in 1949. Today, 123 teams are competing in 14 leagues.

Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, said in New York: "His job was to keep the minor leagues in operation and he worked at it 24 hours a day. He made a great contribution to baseball and he will be missed."

Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, said in Cincinnati that he regarded Trautman's death as a "great personal loss."

"Baseball has lost one of its most dedicated servants, one who gave unselfishly of his time and energy to further the best interests of our game," Giles said.

Denver Bears Rout To 13-5 Victory

By The Associated Press
There was no stopping the Denver Bears Monday night. They collected 16 hits as they overcame the San Diego Padres 13-5 in a Pacific Coast League baseball contest.

The Denver assault was led by Lou Klimchuck, who pounded out his eighth and ninth home runs of the season and drove in four runs.

In other PCL action Monday, Salt Lake City and Seattle split a doubleheader, with Salt Lake taking the opener 3-3 and Seattle the nightcap 5-2.

Dodgers, Rebels Tie; Phillies Win

The Dodgers and the Rebels hooked up in a defensive duel that went 10 innings to a 2-2 draw last night in PCL League play.

Robb and Buddy Powell combined to pitch a 5-hitter for the Dodgers, while Freddy Benitez and Terry Holt allowed the Rebels 6 hits. Frank Grinnett had a double and a single for the Dodgers, and Ronnie Shields a double and a single for the Rebels before the time limit halted activity.

In PCL League action, the Phillies bounced the Yankees, 8-1. The Phillies got two of their five hits in the fifth to combine with four walks, and an error to score seven runs.

The Yankees got their lone run in the fourth. Kenneth Dower went the distance for the Phillies, while Jerry Owens and Les Brown shared mound duties for the Yankees.

ees. David Cadena had two singles for the Phillies, and Larry Jones got a pair of one-basers for the Yankees.

Kansan In Line For Title Try

DALLAS (AP) — Speedy Johnny Brooks of Wichita, Kan., appears right in line for a crack at the Texas lightweight championship held by Vic Gaffio of Port Arthur.

That's what he was supposed to be fighting for Monday night when he met Benito Juarez of San Antonio.

He stowed Juarez away on a technical knockout in the eighth round, dropping the San Antonio boy for a nine count and then driving him through the ropes as he arose.

Referee Pat Riley stopped the fight because Juarez appeared helpless.

Each weighed 136 pounds. Juarez led on points through seven rounds, but two left hooks by Brooks landed on the chin and in the stomach and Juarez was through.

CLIFFORD C. TERRY

Snyderite Leader In Drive At LCC

LUBBOCK — Clifford C. Terry, 2249 Sunset, Snyder, has been named a vice chairman of the Board of Development of Lubbock Christian College. He will direct the "Bright Future Campaign" for the college in 13 counties surrounding Snyder.

Terry is owner of the Basin Wax Products Company and an elder of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ in Snyder. He is also a member of the LCC Board of Trustees.

College President Dr. F. W. Mattox met with the board of trustees at the beginning of the summer school session to create the new Board and name its directors for the next three years.

In accepting the appointment, Terry stated, "With the June 17 ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court concerning Bible reading in the Lord's Prayer in public schools, we need strong public schools, but we also need strong private schools where Bible study and religious training, can be engaged in freely, for America is a Christian nation."

President Mattox said, "Although LCC had students last year from 16 states and five foreign countries, the majority came from 114 counties of West Texas and New Mexico. We are organizing our Board of Development for a

Tyler Trial Continues

TYLER (AP)—Disputing government claims in a hot oil case, a defense witness said Monday it would have been unreasonable to make a dummy well appear to produce crude.

This testimony came from a consulting engineer, W. Harlon Echols of Longview, as trial of a case originally involving three men and an oil company entered a fourth week.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Sheehy upheld a defense motion Saturday for acquittal of E. B. Hearn Sr. of Houston and dismissed all but one of 29 counts against E. B. Hearn Jr. of Longview.

Daryl Ganner, also of Longview, is still being tried on 15 counts and Associates Drilling Co. on 14 counts charging interstate shipment of contraband oil and the filing of false production reports. Prosecutors contend the defendants angled their 2-X well on the L. Givens lease in the East Texas Field under an adjoining Shell Oil Co. lease and made its production appear to come from a dry hole identified as the 1-X well.

Echols said such an arrangement would not have been reasonable.

Nelson Decker, a former Railroad Commission employee supervising oil field operations in this area, denied under cross-examination that any of the defendants paid him to sign a report showing the 2-X well flowed 18.4 barrels of oil in 24 hours. A government witness described the 2-X earlier as a flowing well.

U.S. Atty. Leighton Cornett asked if a report signed by Decker was a factor in his discharge from the Railroad Commission post.

"If it is," replied the witness, "it is news to me."

Decker acknowledged that he was fired May 14, 1962, after state and federal authorities began a slant hole drilling investigation.

Released Woman Back With Family

PASSAIC, N. (AP)—Tears flooded the woman's eyes as she left the airport, "I'm happy, I'm very happy to be back home," she said. Then she ran to embrace her family.

Helen Kozersky, 32, had returned to the United States after more than three years in a Communist Czechoslovakian prison as a spy.

She arrived at New York's Idlewild Airport from Prague Monday night, afraid, a son said, "that nobody would be there to meet her, that she would be alone."

She was startled by newsmen and photographers awaiting her, but then spotted her daughter, Helen, 14. "You've grown up!" she cried. The girl is a head taller than her mother.

Meeting her at the airport were her husband John, 35, a factory worker, and Michael, 23, public

John Jr., 22, and Helen.

Mrs. Kozersky declined to discuss her espionage conviction. Michael said she is to meet with representatives of the State Department about the charges and her imprisonment.

Mrs. Kozersky was pardoned by Czech President Antonin Novotny last Tuesday. Rep. Charles S. Joeson, D-N.Y., had been active in trying to secure her release after family appeals to him, President Kennedy and the State Department.

She had been arrested May 27, 1960, while visiting her native Czechoslovakia, and sentenced to 23 years imprisonment for spying. The sentence later was reduced to 10 years. Specific charges against her never were made public.

Grants Made Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Urban Renewal Administration made these grants Monday:

Texas State Department of Health, $36,040 to aid Addison, De Soto, Duncanville and Lancaster in planning programs.

Hearne, Tex., $91,352 to plan rehabilitation of a 10-acre tract near the central business district. The URA said it was reserving $652,240 in federal grant funds until after planning is finished.

Men Plead Guilty To Wagering Violation

AUSTIN (AP)—Two Beaumont men pleaded guilty Monday of violating the federal wagering act.

U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Rice sentenced James Tuppen to six months and a fine of $200 on two counts. If the fine is paid within 30 days, the prison sentence would be changed to three years probation.

Rice will sentence Curtis (Pigmeat) Oakley July 16.

Both were arrested Sept. 12 in Beaumont.

Mortgage Funds Seem Available

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Mortgage funds are readily available in most sections of the nation despite tightening of credit in the short-term money market. And building of housing units this year should about equal last year's output, while other construction is expected to rise above 1962.

Foreclosures have been rising, however, despite a steady increase in personal incomes enjoyed by most home owners.

Taking the long look, the Family Economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. points out one of the problems.

"Encouraged by modern liberalized mortgage financing and rising postwar incomes, the Minneapolis-based firm says, 'non-farm home ownership in the United States has expanded by nearly 100 per cent since the end of World War II. But in those same 17 years, the annual toll of defaulted residential mortgages resulting in foreclosures has zoomed more than 700 per cent.'

The figures are: At the end of the war 18 million nonfarm families owned their homes; today 31 million do. But in 1962 more than 28,000 nonfarm houses were foreclosed, the highest total since 1935 and capping 10 straight annual increases.

Official estimates put foreclosures off the first three months of 1963 at 23,500, compared with 21,000 in the like period of 1962.

The insurance company thinks the trouble is the "old American custom of overdoing a good thing, in this case the easing of mortgage credit to encourage home ownership."

It reports that 44 per cent of the nation's homes were mortgaged in 1950 for an average of 42 per cent of their value. Today more than 60 per cent are mortgaged to an average of more than 50 per cent of their value.

In the field of commercial construction Dr. Reierman notes two trouble spots this year—"reports of difficulty in finding tenants for the steadily increasing supply of office space in New York and some other areas of the country, and a cutback in the construction of new shopping centers."

But completion of the large number of projects begun last year will keep 1963's total at about the same level.

As he looks for industrial construction to improve in the months ahead, as well as greater activity in public construction. Adding them all up, the New York banker looks for $6.5 billion of construction this year, 2 per cent higher than last year's record.

The funds are available, the urge to build or to own one's own home is still high—and the mortgage terms are still attractive.

Families Grew, Grew, Grew

PRAIRIE VILLAGE, Kan. (AP)—The population really exploded in this eastern Kansas community this summer.

City Clerk Jane Scott discovered it after the community swimming pool opened. The pool operates with a sliding scale of charges from individual single admissions to a "swim all you want" arrangement for families.

This summer, Mrs. Scott said, she discovered that one couple which had no children last year, now claims five. Another registered with six, although census records show it has none.

A few telephone inquiries, the clerk said, resulted in 19 swim suits passed her by, surrounded by persons with guilty consciences.

Junior Editors Quiz on INSECTS

QUESTION: How do insects find their way around?

ANSWER: We often fail to realize how well equipped insects are to live their lives. The fact that these tiny creatures are very short means they have no time to learn anything; there is no schooling for an insect. They start right in to live by following deeply laid instincts about which we know very little. But we do know that they use senses which in many cases are much keener than ours. A honeybee, for example, can see ultra violet light; certain butterflies have a taste sense said to be over 1000 times more sensitive than ours. Using such senses, the insect's instinct tells him what to do and where to go.

Insects have delicate organs of smell, located in the antennae usually projecting in front of their eyes. Using these, bees can smell the flowers and know which kind gives the best food supply. When honeybees find a new food supply they return to the hive and perform a kind of dance, which tells the other bees where the flowers are (C). The bee dances straight up if the flowers are toward the sun, at an angle if the flowers are in that direction from the sun. The large ant is laying down an odor trail by touching her abdomen to the ground (A). Then other ants will be able to push out along this trail and reach the food supply we has found (B).

FOR YOU TO DO: One can usually locate groups of ants looking for food. Drop a bit of cookie cake them and watch for foraging ants to find it. You can't see the odor trail, but you can tell there is one when swarms of other ants head toward the cookie.

View Over Wall Allowed Kennedy

By GEORGE BOUTWOOD
BERLIN (AP)—A special platform has been built so President Kennedy can peek over Berlin's
Red wall into Communist-ruled East Berlin.

On the 10-foot-high observation tower before the Brandenburg Gate, he will be surrounded by sights recalling the Kaiser and Adolf Hitler, war and revolution.
When the President drives to the wall on his one-day visit Wednesday he will pass an enormous column, topped by a giant gilt goddess of peace, commemorating the Prussian victory over France in 1871. Then he will go along the broad boulevard named June 17th to mark the anniversary of the East German revolt against communism in 1953.

That will bring him to the Brandenburg Gate, the city symbol of Berlin. The President won't be able to go through it.

The massive wall dividing the city runs before the gate, which is on East German territory. But from his platform, Kennedy will be able to look over the wall and through the portals of the gate.
He will see Unter den Linden, the most famous Boulevard in Berlin. At the end used to be the royal palace. The Red regime razed the bombed ruins and turned the site into the Marx-Engel Platz, where big Communist rallies and parades are held.
The Communists have tried to restore the glitter of Unter den

Linden. But it is drab and dreary.
Its most prominent building now is the Soviet Embassy, built in the ponderous style Stalin liked.
If Kennedy looks half-right, he will see the ruins of the once-luxurious Adlon Hotel just behind it is the Wilhelmstrasse and the empty grass patch where Hitler's chancellery used to stand.
By turning his gaze right, the President will follow the Red wall to the Potsdamerplatz. Once it was the city's busiest intersection.
Now it is a sad waste of bombed sites, traversed by the concrete wall, barbed wire and iron tank obstacles.

Then there is the massive shell of the Reichstag, burned in 1933.
Three hundred yards behind the President's platform is the Soviet war memorial to the soldiers who died conquering Berlin. There always are two Russian sentries there. The memorial is surrounded by barbed wire, put up by British troops to protect it from angry Berliners when the wall was built.

It is a glimpse of more recent history the President will drive to Friedrichstrasse and the U.S.
Army's Checkpoint Charlie. Officers will point to a white line across the street, marking the border between East and West.
The line was all that separated
American and Soviet tanks during their 16-hour confrontation at point-blank range at the height of the Berlin crisis in October 1961.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Today we have heartening news from the child psychologist who suggests that children be permitted to paint what they see.

It seems that when adults try to teach small children to make pictures which look real to adults, they are saying in effect that the child's own ideas stink.

So for this is a pretty vague problem in Mexico, Oh, it's coming because progress is here. But child psychology right now consists mostly of adults running the house and a leather belt applied at strategic moments.

You see a Mexican father dusting the trousers of his heir with a switch and ask him, "How come you are striking that child?"
The father says, "I told him not to go off anywhere without permission, which he did, and this will keep his memory refreshed."

So you say, "Violence is considered contrary to the current theories of handling children. Psychologists say you might retard his motor coordination and cause him to develop complexes."

And the father, raises his eyebrows and asks, "What's complexes?"
This is the lamentable situation that prevailed when I was scarcely out of diapers. My folks were terribly ignorant and didn't know any more than to merely raise me.

Today, I'm pleased to report
Dr. Spock and a host of his colleagues are coming out on the bookshelves of Mexico City.
The beauty of studying child psychology is that it never gets bored. It is changed about the time you begin to get the hang of what should have been done last year.

Researchers in these matters publish literature informing the public that archaic must be kept in tow at all times. Along comes a scientist who has been giving monkeys shock treatments and announces the offspring should be permitted to do what they want in order not to grow up inhibited.

And after that, a psychologist discovers that if children do everything they want, we are in for some embarrassing consequences.
Shops order a new set of books and the old ones are thrown out.
I forget where we are now.
Whether the little ones are given a free hand or should be required to do their homework and be polite.

At any rate, the Lady from Puebla and I were discussing our brood the other night and she complained that her books on child raising were a bit vague.

"I have one that says let them eat when they want," she said.
"And another that says they should keep a schedule. If you could get me a new one I could at least pick the best two out of three."

And I said, "I guess I shirk my family duties, but I haven't been to the bookstore today. Maybe you aren't supposed to feed them at all according to the latest."
So she said, "Just find something up to date. The last one I got doesn't even say whether I should give the baby a Martini when he wants one."

And I told her about this lady psychologist who feels children should be encouraged to paint but under no conditions must we attempt to guide them. Let them paint what they see.
The Lady from Puebla said it was a marvelous idea and she was going out to get little Miss Mary a smock and all sorts of brushes and paints so she could express herself.

She did. And when I got home that night the book covers were purple, a couple of lamp shades were red and part of the picture window was a sort of roan color.
Well, nobody in his right mind expects to win these days. But it would be nice to get a tie game once in a while.

The father says, "I told him
not to go off anywhere without permission, which he did, and this will keep his memory refreshed."

So you say, "Violence is considered contrary to the current theories of handling children. Psychologists say you might retard his

Trinity River Program Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., reported Tuesday approval by the chief of Army Engineers for the proposed $37 million Trinity River improvement program.

The project calls for flood control, navigation and water conservation improvements on the stream from Fort Worth to the Gulf of Mexico.

Lt. Gen. W. K. Wilson Jr., chief of the engineers, recommended two changes in the proposal, Wright said.

Referring to a proposed canalization of the Trinity inland to Fort Worth, Wilson recommended that a pipeline which would return water from Tennessee Colony Reservoir to Benbrook Reservoir for navigational use be made a repayable item with local interests meeting the cost.

Wilson also recommended that the over-all project be authorized with the understanding that Congress should review cost-benefit ratios in light of the most up to date data before appropriating construction funds.

Already approved by the Board of Army Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, the Trinity report now goes to the secretary of the Army for submission to Texas Gov. John Connally and all interested federal agencies for comment.

Cost of the proposed Trinity River project, including both federal and local shares, is estimated at $600 million. The net federal share is estimated at $277 million. The pipeline involved in the change of plans recommended by the chief of engineers would be 98 miles long and 44 inches in circumference. The cost of this phase of the project was not listed in the report Wright received from the Army Engineers.

Data submitted with the report indicated the cost of the pipeline would be about $48 million. This figure was not included in the estimated total federal cost of $277 million.

Police Quiz Four After Shooting

FORT WORTH (AP) — Police quizzed four men today in the ambush-type shooting of James Clardy, used car salesman convicted with lawyer Jack Mackin of murder.

Clardy was in critical condition after the shooting in a secluded place north of Fort Worth. He was paralyzed from the waist down with two wounds in the neck and one in the back.

Sheriff Lon Evans said he would file assault to murder charges today.

Clardy told officers he was gunned down for revenge. He identified the men.

Two surrendered and police arrested the others.

Clardy was convicted in January for the Aug. 4, 1961, murder of Clarence Louden Jr. of Fort Worth. He was free on appeal of his 15-year sentence.

It's All In A Roof
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The right kind of roof can help you beat the summer heat, says Dr. J. W. Newbauer of the University of California.

A flat, black roof is murder, he told the American Society of Agricultural Engineers Monday.

"A white roof is 15-degree cooler," he said. "Roofs with steep slopes are the coolest, flat roofs are the hottest; roofs that slope in the north are the coolest, south test."

Texas, Cattle Go By Boat To Market

OMAHA Neb. (AP) — A Texas cattleman scrambled a pair of rugged American traditions and sailed up the Missouri River to market today with a herd of 1,000 steers.

Rivermen said it has been half a century or more since cattle have come up the Missouri by boat. And never, until, rancher Gerald Harrison put a riverboat captain in charge of a cattle drive, had there been anything like the Lulu Belle and its cargo.

The Belle was once a three-deck automobile barge. Harrison converted it into a floating feedlot. On June 15, at Greenville, Miss., ranch hands herded his halting Brahmas crossbreeds aboard and the barge began its 1,400-mile trip up the Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

Unlabeled here, the cattle will be trucked to a feedlot for fattening. Then they'll be carted off to pens of South Omaha's sprawling market.

The railroads withered traffic. In the last few years, commercial shipments on the Missouri have been picking up. One of those attracted to its advantages was Harrison, whose home is Houston but who owns ranches in Mississippi and Arkansas.

His idea was that cattle shipped by boat could eat and drink all the way and wouldn't lose weight as they do shipped by truck or rail. Sure enough, as soon as they tromped onto deck the critters headed for the feed bins.

Other cattlemen have been keeping an eye on Harrison's experiment.

But, said Tom Wright, Memphis engineer, who helped install the Lulu Belle's automated feed tanks "if this becomes a popular way of transporting cattle, the cowboys who ride along are going to have to learn some new skills. They will have to be skilled mechanics and pretty fair electronic technicians."

One of the elemental spectacles of the American West, a century ago, was a cattle drive up, from Texas to the railroads and deep grasses of the Great Plains. When the railroads penetrated farther west, the drives ended.

The Missouri has been a traditional route of immigration and commerce, since Lewis and Clark's pirogues pushed up the river at the beginning of the 19th century. But again, the coming of

Russian Craft Explosion Noted

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON (AP) — One of several Soviet spacecraft about which the Russians have said nothing apparently exploded into 24 orbiting pieces shortly after launching last fall, the U. S. space agency reports.

In any event, it probably was the biggest bust-up in space since the U. S. Transit 4A satellite vehicle shattered into 186 separate pieces after a launching June 29, 1961.

The hitherto unreported Soviet spraying of orbital debris occurred last Oct. 24. There was no indication in the U. S. report whether the spacecraft could have been manned.

The breaking up of the Soviet satellite was brought to light in a satellite situation report published semi-monthly by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md.

The disclosure clearly was the result of the recently announced change in policy under which NASA is to make public all non-classified space flight data sent to it by the North American Air Defense Command and other agencies. NORAD, among its other duties, tracks foreign objects in orbit.

For many months, virtually all information on Soviet shots, except for data announced by Moscow, was withheld from the NASA reports even though the information had no apparent military significance.

The pieces of the unsuccessful Soviet shot began dropping back into the earth's atmosphere on Oct. 29, five days after launching, NASA said.

The last section left orbit Feb. 26.

The big breakup of the U. S. satellite involved the Navy's launching of the 475-pound Transit 4A navigation satellite with two smaller scientific satellites, Injun 3 and Greb, riding piggy-back. The two satellites detached themselves from Transit satisfactorily but not from each other, and went into orbit with Transit as the 95-pound Injun satellite. Three of the fragments have fallen out of orbit.

Paul Keaton, owner of Snyder Truck & Tractor Co., was elected a director of the Bantam Dealers Association of Texas and will be installed at a convention in Dallas at 8 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Keaton said that about 2,000 bantam dealers from all parts of the state will hold a three-day convention in Dallas beginning Thursday and ending Saturday.

There's A Risk Involved

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge said it was a "crazy line with a certain risk."

Superior Court Judge Frederick F. Houser Monday dismissed the $25,000 damage suit Benjamin Satz, 38, had filed against a Las Vegas resort hotel. Satz claimed a choline induced him to join a conga line and one of the girls kicked him, causing a blood clot in the leg.

Satz, a Long Beach, Calif., furniture man, said he had lost weight—from 220 pounds down to 160—and claimed he suffered permanent injuries. The judge said he had assumed his own risks when he climbed on the stage to dance.

It's Been A Long Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The scantily clad girl in the camera magazine was identified as Yvette Mimieux.

Not so, said the blonde actress. "It was someone else." Furthermore, she said, in a suit filed last November, the girl was "indecently exposed," and identifying her as Yvette Mimieux libeled Miss Mimieux exactly $50,000 worth.

The court ruled against Miss Mimieux Monday, agreeing with attorneys for Fawcett Publications and Photographic Rembrandt Inc. that the actress waited too long to file suit. The magazine came out in July 1961 and a libel suit is supposed to be filed within a year of publication.

Casual Relationship Indicated Between Party Girl, Airmen

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Department investigators questioning three U.S. airmen have found so far only a casual relationship between them and British party girl Christine Keeler, informed sources said today.

There has been no evidence of any intimacy — it looks as though their paths had crossed, one informant said in discussing the progress of the investigation since the airmen were brought back from England for questioning last Friday.

More importantly, the sources said there had been no indication thus far of any link between the three Air Force men and Capt. Eugene Ivanov, former Russian naval attaché in London who shared Miss Keeler's affections with former British War Minister John Profumo.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester, the Pentagon's chief spokesman, confirmed Monday return of the airmen for questioning after reports of the action appeared in British newspapers.

Saying, "Security is our basic concern," Sylvester told reporters that so far the investigation indicates no U.S. military personnel have been involved in any security aspect of the Profumo-Keeler case.

Sylvester declined to identify the Air Force men on grounds it would be unfair to them. He would only go as far as describing them as uncommissioned and enlisted personnel and saying they were with the 3rd Air Force with headquarters at South Ruislip near London.

The Defense Department information chief refused to say exactly where the airmen are, but it was "questioning" could be done better, he said. Sylvester told newsmen when asked why the probe wasn't conducted in England, "It's our job to do it here."

Investigators said the airmen are not spies, agents, and that no charges have been lodged against them. It could not be learned whether they were being given lie detector tests.

"We are not making it a moral case," Sylvester said. "We have felt that in view of the whole complex involvement the Defense Department has checked into the case completely, and is continuing to check and as of now we have no connection with the security aspects."

Other sources said "there is not a bit of evidence" to tie Capt. Thomas Murphy into the case. Murphy has been naval attaché in London and newspaper recently published a photograph of Mrs. Murphy kissing Ivanov at a party in December 1961. Mrs. Murphy has explained that this was part of a traditional ceremony involving an Elizabethan "kissing cup" and said "I wasn't kissing him, he was kissing me."

Murphy is being transferred to Washington next month. The U.S. embassy has said the Navy four-striper's transfer had nothing to do with the picture and that he had received his orders before the photograph was disclosed.

On the questioning of the airmen, Sylvester said the first knowledge the Defense Department received that any U.S. military personnel might be involved with Miss Keeler came from newspaper reports a week ago last Saturday.

Subsequently, he said, the department received direct reports giving names of U.S. personnel.

The British newspaper reports had said two airmen had been recalled for questioning, and named them as Charles Lee Wright of Mount Vernon, Ill., and Sgt. George Hopkins of Bel Air, Ohio.

Without confirming that these were two of the men being questioned, the Pentagon said that a Sgt. Charles Lee Wright of Mount Vernon, Ill., and a T. Sgt. George Hopkins of Bel Air, Ohio, were listed as serving with the 3rd Air Force in South Ruislip.

Peace Corps Is Launched

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — In launching its "German Development Service" with a helping hand from President Kennedy, West Germany has beaten at least a dozen other nations to the line in pulling into operation the first organization modeled after the U.S. Peace Corps.

Kennedy joined in ceremonies at Bonn Monday, along with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and President Heinrich Lübke, marking the official beginning of the West German version of the Peace Corps.

"The U.S. Peace Corps commenced in 1961," Kennedy said, "and I believe it has given us an opportunity to harness the idealism which is, I think in the field of economic help, but in the human relations which must exist for a happy understanding between people."

The Peace Corps, first proposed by the President during his 1960 campaign, provides trained manpower, teachers, skilled workers and other technicians in the developing nations.

The number of U.S. Peace Corps members in the field is now 10,000. The number will be increased to 50,000 in 1964 and 100,000 in 1965.

In Europe, Belgium has established a volunteer program which will be built up to 200 to 300 volunteers in service as agricultural experts, doctors and sanitary officers in Africa and teachers in secondary schools in Latin America.

Denmark expects to have 20 volunteers in the field by October on its program, financed by public contributions and government appropriations.

Norway also expects to have 20 volunteers in the field soon, most of them probably in Africa.

The Netherlands will start the first group of 50 volunteers training in August. By the end of 1964, 150 volunteers are expected to be in the field.

Great Britain and France have Peace Corps projects in the planning stages.

In Latin America, Argentina, El Salvador and Honduras all have announced plans to establish Peace Corps organizations.

In the Far East, both Japan and New Zealand have announced plans for Peace Corps-type groups.

Thirteen nations took part in the first international workshop for Peace Corps development held last month and all are planning to follow through with their own versions of the Peace Corps.

West Germany plans to send about 250 young men and women most of them to African nations. The number will be increased to 500 in 1964 and 1,000 in 1965.

Don't Sting, It Is Just Me

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Brian Diekhoff is only 5 and perhaps too young to know about bees and bees. But he does know plenty about bees.

Brian dived into a beehive Monday without a protective net and came up with an armful of honeycombs, bees and all. He did it to prove his grandfather's contention that Brian is Greater Cleveland's youngest beekeeper.

Brian has been helping Grandpa Otto Kosman run his 200-hive bee operation in suburban Middleburg Heights since he was 4. Kosman was county bee inspector until he resigned a few weeks ago.

Brian admits to having been stung a couple of times when he first started in the bee business. Now he has the immunity that comes with fearlessness, according to Kosman, a beekeeper for 40 years.

"Bees won't attack except in defense of their lives or their hives," explained the grandfather. "People get in trouble when they start swinging."

Kosman admitted, however, that bees don't always follow the book. Their nerves get on edge, he said, when they see their food supply fall from frost and drought. This is a highly nervous year in bee circles, he added.
