Cheated Chick

This introduces Jerilyn Chilcott, 20, who is a blonde, weighs 115, and is 5-foot-5 and hails from Auburndale, Fla. Jerilyn is a truck driver and everyone's candidate for Miss Truck Driver of All Time. She complained to police that 20 cases of eggs were hijacked from her 15-ton refrigerated tractor trailer while she and her partner-father were making deliveries in New York City. They had come to town with 600 cases of eggs from Iowa.

U.S. To Name 9 New Astronauts

HOUSTON (AP) — Officials of the Manned Spacecraft Center said today nine new astronauts will be named here Monday.

John Peterson, chief of the news communications branch, wouldn't identify the men but said they will be at a 1 p.m. news conference Monday at the University of Houston.

The nation has seven astronauts, although one, Donald Kent Slayton, has been removed from the current Project Mercury one-man orbital flights because of a heart condition.

The training base for the astronauts was transferred to Houston in early July, as the final step in moving the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Spacecraft Center here from Langley Air Force Base, Va.

The center headed by Dr. Robert Gilruth also is responsible for designing and developing future spacecraft.

Wilson Has Date With Grand Jury

HOUSTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson appears before the grand jury today to tell about the crooked-hole oil scandal.

Wilson said he expects grand juries in Wood, Rusk, Gregg and Upshur counties will also seek out information soon, which could lead to prosecution of persons involved in the production of oil by means of a deviated well.

Wilson complimented Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe for taking the initiative in checking deviated well operations. He said he hoped other district attorneys will follow suit.

The Railroad Commission was preparing to extend its no-plugging order in the Hawkins and East Texas fields for another 30 days. The action will extend the no-plugging of any wells in East Texas to Oct. 15 and in the Hawkins Field to Oct. 19.

Water Pollution Committee Meets

BALLINGER, Tex. (AP) — The House Interim Committee on Water Pollution convened here today to take testimony on oil field salt water problems.

The committee, headed by Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont, spent Thursday in the field in Ronald and Coleman counties inspecting a score of possible salt water spots.

M. V. Marshall of San Angelo, Railroad Commission supervisor of Dist. 7-C, was called today to tell of operations in his area.

Cabinet Quits

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha and his cabinet resigned today after failing to get a wrangling congress to approve a referendum to give full executive powers to President Joao Goulart.

Webb-Community Council To Note AF's Birthday

Tuesday will mark the 15th anniversary of the United States Air Force as a separate service.

In honor of the occasion, Webb AFB is planning a dinner for the members of the Big Spring-Webb AFB Community Council to be held Saturday evening. The theme will be the recognition of their community relations efforts as the Air Force notes its birthday.

A proclamation issued by Mayor of Big Spring George Zachariah, declares Tuesday as "Big Spring-Air Force Day," in Big Spring in recognition of the 15th Anniversary of the United States Air Force.

Wing Chaplain (Maj.) B. F. Mencham has contacted churches and civic organizations which have expressed a desire to cooperate in honoring the Air Force.

Incident Moves Up Talks On Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The meeting of a U.S. advisory committee on oral polio vaccine has been moved up following a recommendation by the Canadian Health Department that general use of the Sabin oral vaccine be suspended.

The Canadian move, announced Thursday, was accompanied by a report that at least four persons who took the Sabin vaccine developed paralysis.

A spokesman for the U.S. Public Health Service said the advisory committee will meet within the next few days instead of Sept. 27 as scheduled.

The spokesman said that 12 cases similar to the four in Canada were reported in the United States on Aug. 22, but that none has been reported since. He said the U.S. advisory group studied the 12 cases and decided it could not be determined that Sabin vaccine caused them.

The Canadian Health Department said that although four cases of paralysis among four million Canadians who took Sabin vaccine "is extremely low, it was considered that there should be a temporary deferment in the oral vaccination program to allow time for a full investigation of all cases of poliomyelitis occurring in Canada during the current period."

The department added that paralytic polio was at a low point in Canada this year and that the older Salk dead-virus vaccine has effectively protected much of the Canadian population.

Salk vaccine is administered by injection. The Sabin live virus vaccine is taken orally.

Immunization Against Polio Set At C-City

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County residents will have six places available to participate in the mass immunization against polio Sunday. Beginning at 12 noon the Mitchell County Medical Association will have doctors and nurses ready to start the battle to stop the spread of the crippling disease.

The first dose of Sabin vaccine will be given.

Colorado City residents may go to the primary school building, St. Ann's Catholic school, and Wallace School. Loraine residents will be handled at the school cafeteria, Westbrook at the Westbrook school, and the sixth location will be at the Teak school.

"We have had a lot of interest in the move against polio," a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said Friday. "The interest is general and we believe we will have a large turnout for the immunization program."

One Texas Town Delays Vaccine

By The Associated Press

One Texas town postponed its planned Sabin oral vaccine program Friday because of questions raised by Canadian authorities, but a spot check showed that other cities and towns are going ahead as scheduled.

The only place reporting postponement was Stamford, Dr. George Pryor of Stamford announced the delay. The vaccine distribution was scheduled for Sunday.

Canada announced suspension of the inoculations after four persons developed polio after taking the vaccine. Some of the cases showed symptoms of polio before taking the vaccine. Authorities also have raised the question that the cases there may be a "wild" strain of the virus against which the Sabin vaccine offered no protection.

San Angelo, Tyler, Galveston, Waco, Del Rio and Greenville announced plans to go ahead with their Sunday vaccinations.

NO CHANGE

There has been no change in local plans to use the Sabin oral polio vaccine in the county mass immunization drive scheduled Nov. 11, according to Dr. B. Broadrick, director of the program. Canadian officials have suspended its use, after four persons developed paralysis.

Does This Look Familiar?

Personnel of U.S. Army's 3rd Reconnaissance Squadron work to free an M-41, 26-ton tank from mud in northeast Thailand during a training mission. The Army group, based at Korat, Central Thailand, was conducting an exercise with seven such tanks to learn how to conduct tactical operations at the height of Thai monsoon season. The column encountered 100 miles of dirt road which turned into a mass of red-brown mud. (Members of Big Spring's National Guard unit, which recently returned from the muck of Fort Polk, La., may find this picture of passing interest.)

JFK Signs Works Bill, Asks Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy signed today the $900-million public works authorization bill and promptly asked Congress for funds to put it into effect.

In signing the bill before a big delegation from Congress, Kennedy called its enactment "a significant milestone in our efforts to strengthen the economy and provide a greater measure of economic security to the unemployed."

Kennedy issued an executive order designating Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges as coordinator of the program. He authorized Hodges to issue rules, regulations and procedures and to allocate funds to other federal agencies involved.

Kennedy served notice that he intends to ask the next session of Congress for a big standby public works program. His request for such a program was not enacted by the present session of Congress.

Kennedy said the program will be designed to carry out worthwhile and necessary projects in areas with high rates of unemployment.

It will be the purpose, he said, to provide jobs for the largest possible number of unemployed persons.

Kennedy said he intends to submit to the next session of Congress another request for standby authority for a big public works program.

The present session of Congress turned down Kennedy's request for a $2-billion standby program which would be set in motion when employment dropped to certain levels.

The money can be spent on a wide variety of projects. They include flood control, rivers and harbors, reclamation, hospitals, water pollution control, airports, highways and general community facilities.

The projects are limited to areas designated as eligible for aid under the 1961 Depressed Areas Act and to communities which have suffered six per cent or more unemployment in nine of the past 12 months.

One-third of the total funds will go to rural areas which qualify.

The measure gives Kennedy more for immediate projects than the $600 million he originally requested, but omits the $2 billion in standby public works authority he wanted.

However, the bill provides that the federal government pay 50 per cent of the cost of each project, and up to 75 per cent in communities which are unable to put up one-half.

Several hundred areas, including both cities with high unemployment and rural communities, have been declared eligible for aid under the 1961 Depressed Areas Act. They automatically qualify under the new legislation.

School construction projects cannot be financed under the bill.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Barring complications, the United States will orbit a man for 24 hours early next year, have three men in orbit together by 1965 and be on the moon by 1970 according to Brainerd Holmes, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration official.

Holmes outlined the space program Thursday to the Dayton chapter of the National Security Industrial Association.

Gradual Lowering Of Race Bars Ends

DALLAS (AP) — Paula Elaine Jones, 17, registered at Southern Methodist University today to become the university's first Negro freshman.

The girl was an honor graduate from the Harwood Girls School in Albuquerque, N.M.

She will not live on the campus but will make her home with her parents in south Dallas.

The announcement that SMU had enrolled its first Negro undergraduate was made by Dr. Keith Baker, vice president for university relations.

Dr. Willis Tate, SMU president, made this statement:

"Southern Methodist University has enrolled students without regard to race and religion in Perkins School of Theology since 1958. Since that time this practice has gradually been extended in other schools in the university. A Negro undergraduate was enrolled in Dallas College (an SMU night school) in Dallas during the past year.

"Special students have engaged in advance seminar courses in the College of Arts and Sciences during summer sessions for several years, and a Negro undergraduate student attended this year's summer school session of the college.

"Every student granted admission to SMU is a person of high scholastic and personal qualifications. This is the case of Miss Paula Elaine Jones, who is the first Negro student enrolled in the undergraduate college during a regular academic year.

"Miss Jones was an honor student in high school and is intellectually and personally qualified to pursue studies in this university.

"The policy of SMU is to admit qualified students without regard to race or religion to the College of Arts and Sciences and other schools, but each student so admitted will meet extremely high standards of scholarship and character."

Glider Helps Space Tests

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A small kite-like glider is helping scientists to work out landing techniques for the two-man Gemini spacecraft.

The experimental Parsev-Paraglider Research Vehicle—towed by a plane to an altitude of 6,000 feet and cut loose Thursday. It dropped swiftly toward earth with test pilot Milt Thompson controlling its flight by tilting its wing which is shaped like a kite.

Thompson utilized a single control, a stick, to pull on wires leading to the wing and flew the craft through a series of wide circles and S-turns down to a gentle landing near the flight test center here.

The Parsev, being tested by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is a preliminary test vehicle that will be followed later this year by a Gemini trainer incorporating a full-scale spacecraft and a landing wing that will replace a parachute and permit glide maneuvers.

Sunny Weather Still In Texas

By The Associated Press

Summery weather held on throughout Texas Friday.

A light shower fell at El Paso in early morning. Skies were clear to only partly cloudy elsewhere.

Forecasts called for no major changes for at least a couple of days. Isolated thundershowers were predicted along the coast and in Northwest Texas.

There wasn't enough rain to measure anywhere in the state Thursday. Afternoon temperatures ranged up to 102 degrees at Presidio and 100 at Laredo and Wink.

Readings early Friday varied from 67 at Dalhart to 83 at Galveston.

Storm Moves By Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Tropical storm Celia was kicking up her heels 600 miles east of Puerto Rico today with winds whirling up to 60 miles an hour.

Celia's forward speed had diminished to about 12 miles an hour. Forecasters expected no appreciable change in size and intensity of the storm before tonight.

It moved northwest to west northwest.

Three planes probed the storm. Early reports from one hurricane plane placed the eye of the storm at latitude 19.3 north, longitude 56.7 west, or about 1,620 miles east southeast of Miami.

Weathermen said that Celia was expected to pass Puerto Rico at a considerable distance to the north. As a result, strong winds were not expected to lash Puerto Rico, the Leeward Islands and the Virgin Islands. A precautionary hurricane watch was continued.

Tshombe Mum On U.S. Plan

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP) — President Moise Tshombe declared today "Katanga remains true to the line it has chosen" — but he left up in the air whether he will go along with a United Nations plan to unify the Congo.

September Blizzard?

No, but this unidentified Minneapolis fireman looked snowed-in when he became engulfed in a heavy, fire-fighting foam the department was testing. Two gallons of the concentrate, mixed with 38 gallons of water, reputedly would fill a three-story building in about 10 minutes, smother any flames—and, as the picture proves, coat any fireman who got in the way.

Opponents

Edward J. (Eddie) McCormack, left, Massachusetts attorney general, and Edward M. (Teddy) Kennedy, youngest brother of President Kennedy, are candidates for Democratic senatorial nominations in the upcoming Massachusetts primary election.

JFK Image Major Factor In Campaign

By RELMAN MORIN
BOSTON (AP)—"They look at Ted," said the Massachusetts politician, "and see Jack."

Translation: President Kennedy is hugely popular in his home state and his image is a major factor in the drive of his youngest brother, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, to win the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

The Massachusetts primary, next Tuesday, names candidates for both major political parties. How much of the President's popularity is rubbing off on Ted? This question is haunting his opponent, Edward J. (Eddie) McCormack Jr., state attorney general. He puts it this way:

"Jack Kennedy can do no wrong with the voters in Massachusetts. But the rub-off? It's like an iceberg. You can't see how much lies beneath the surface."

ANOTHER TIE

Ed also is the beneficiary of a tie with Washington. His uncle, silver-haired John W. McCormack is Speaker of the House of Representatives. The vote-rich wards of Boston have been re-electing him for more than 30 years. This primary, in fact, goes beyond Ted and Ed as a battle of the sons. Striving for the Republican nomination is George Cabot Lodge, son of former senator and United Nations ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. He goes against Rep. Laurence Curtis.

But the main interest pivots on the clash between Ted and Ed. They have a good deal in common.

Each is much in the image of the modern politician—youthful, incisive, intelligent, handsome, highly articulate. Ted is 30, Ed 38. Each has a beautiful wife and attractive children.

QUIET MANNER

McCormack is slim, with honey-colored hair and electric blue eyes. He campaigns in an easy, quiet-spoken manner, using a deceptive soft sell.

Kennedy is tall, big-shouldered, 6-foot-2, 202 pounds. He lost 10 since the campaign began. He has wavy hair, rock-crusher jaws, the Kennedy profile. Campaigning, he is more intense, and at least as dynamic as the President.

He incites female riots everywhere. In South Boston, a woman comes boiling out of a store, clamps a headlock on Ted and shrieks, "here's my boy."

It's pretty much the same with McCormack. As he strolls the street, you hear, "My, he's good looking. . . Isn't he the sweetest thing. . . Too bad he's married."

FOR MINORITIES

Each is attentive to the state's minorities. In a tannery, Kennedy pauses to talk with a Polish refugee. He trades ideas with the Greek help in a restaurant kitchen. He stops his sound truck to shake hands with an Italian policeman.

Touring a predominantly Jewish district, McCormack trades quips in Yiddish, learned from a Jewish roommate at the U.S. Naval Academy. He also knows some French, Italian, Greek and Lithuanian.

McCormack supporters say the Kennedys are trying to give Ted a political carte blanche. He has held no elective office and is only a few years out of law school.

For Ted to "start at the top," as the McCormacks phrase it, is putting the blanche before the carte.

Ed emphasizes his own record, 10 years in public life. He was elected to the Boston City Council and was its president for one term. He was elected attorney general in 1958, re-elected in 1960.

AT THE THROAT

In the first of two televised debates, Ed went for the jugular. Fixing his eyes on Ted, he gritted out, "If your name were simply Edward Moore—instead of Edward Moore Kennedy—your candidacy would be a joke."

Ted took it stoically. "I had to dramatize the point of his inexperience," Ed says. "That was the only way." He says the reaction was unfavorable. Three persons have told this correspondent in substantially the same words, "I didn't like that. I was undecided before McCormack attacked him, and I made up my mind then to vote for Kennedy."

Who's going to win? Ed is strongest in the Boston area. Polls indicate Ted has an edge elsewhere around the state. About 60 per cent of the total vote comes from the area in a radius of about 16 miles from the heart of Boston. An estimated 1.2 million independent voters may tip the balance.

At the moment, it looks neck-and-neck.

HELP WANTED

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, 2800 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1383

I have not been able to locate the verses which justify many of the popular church doctrines. If the verses do not exist which justify the doctrines, why are the doctrines still held to and preached? If the Scriptures do exist, I cannot find them. Will you help me? Will you ask your preacher where they are found, and let me know? I will appreciate it.

HELP me find the verse that teaches salvation by faith only. I have found many verses which say salvation is by faith, but none of these say "faith only." Some of them do not name any other condition; but there are still other verses which name repentance, and do not name faith as a condition. Still others name baptism as a condition, and say nothing about faith and repentance (Acts 22:16). One set of these verses does not teach salvation by "faith only," any more than another teaches salvation by repentance only, or baptism only. I just cannot find one Scripture that teaches salvation by "faith only." Can you? Welcome to the services Sunday: Bible study, 9:30; worship 10:30 and 7.

Cuban Invasion Not Necessary, But Reds No Threat, JFK Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says U.S. military action against Cuba is not now "required or justified."

But he told his news conference Thursday that if the United States should ever have to take action, "All of Castro's Communist-supplied weapons and technicians would not change the result or significantly extend the time required to achieve the result."

At the same time, the President admonished critics urging the administration to use military force against the Communist outpost.

He said he finds it "regrettable that loose talk about such action in this country might serve to give a thin color of legitimacy to the Communist pretense that such a threat exists."

The President said, as he has said before, that Cuba poses no serious threat to the Western Hemisphere.

BUT WILL ACT
However, should the Castro regime — with Russian backing — ever endanger the security of the United States in any way "this country will do whatever must be done to protect its own security and that of its allies," he said.

This holds true, the President declared, should Cuba ever threaten any nation in this hemisphere or should it ever develop into an offensive base for Russia.

He said the United States will intensify its watch over the Caribbean area. But he said Washington is aware of what goes on in Cuba and is "fully capable of dealing swiftly" with any genuine threats.

Kennedy opened the nationally televised and broadcast conference with a statement on the situation in Cuba, which has prompted demands in and out of Congress for stiff action. Cuba remained the dominant topic.

Kennedy did take the opportunity to condemn the burning of two Negro churches and the shooting of two Negroes during voter registration in the South. He called the actions "cowardly as well as outrageous" and said the right to vote and freedom of worship are hallowed and will be protected.

EXTRA FORCE
"If it requires extra legislation and extra force," he said, "we shall do that."

The President said Castro had committed himself to a Soviet takeover in hope of preventing his own collapse.

The chief executive said he discussed Cuba, among other subjects, with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday but did not seek any agreement from Eisenhower to bar Cuba as a congressional campaign issue. Neither, he said, would he suggest that Republican shots at his Cuban policy were politically motivated.

Kennedy said he and the Joint Chiefs of Staff will analyze all available intelligence to determine whether or when Cuba does present an offensive threat. In the meantime, he urged North Atlantic Treaty allies to give a second thought to allowing their ships to carry supplies to Cuba and called on Latin American governments to be on the alert. He said the United States will pay no heed to Soviet threats of retaliation to a U.S. attack on Cuba—that it does not need Moscow's help in making decisions.

OTHER MATTERS

Of other matters, Kennedy had this to say:
Reserves — His request for standby authority to call up an additional 150,000 Reserves, approved unanimously Thursday by the Senate, was an intermediate step to cope with the possibility of threats short of a national emergency while Congress is out of session.

U2s—These high altitude reconnaissance planes have been sold only to Nationalist China, he said, and there are no plans to deliver U2s to any other government.

Berlin—Leaders of both parties have said there is no political division on Berlin policy and the U.S. position "would not be affected by whatever results may be in the November election."

Taxes—Kennedy implied he might not accept tax legislation, including the tax credit he wants for industrial investment, which is now before Congress. He said he will see what evolves from a Senate-House conference committee before deciding whether to sign it or wait for the general tax reform bill he plans to submit next year.

Space—Powerful rockets and techniques for applying them to exploration of space and other peaceful purposes could be adapted to military uses "if the situation should require."

Nuclear Tests—U.S. atmospheric tests will be resumed because the summer series was not completed and because they turned up information that should be tested further. He said steps have been taken to prevent a repeat of the July 9 high altitude test that created a new belt of radiation around the earth.

Industry-Labor—Kennedy expressed hope for quick agreement in disputes involving the aerospace industry and the Chicago and North Western Railway. Observing that most major industries have accepted the union shop, recommended by an aerospace study board, he suggested the companies will bear the responsibility if strikes occur at their plants.

Congress—He forecast passage of trade, tax, higher education and farm legislation "which two months ago seemed to be in the deep freeze."

Elections — He won't make across-the-board endorsement of all Democratic congressional candidates because there probably are some "who might not be particularly anxious for my support."

Transfer Law Out As School Race Hurdle

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said Thursday that a provision in Texas law for transfer of students making no reference to race or color is not sufficient for a school board to integrate without an election.

Wilson gave this opinion for State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar, who said officials of the Yoakum school board in South Texas had requested it. Yoakum is in Lavaca County.

A law passed by the legislature in 1957 states that schools can integrate on approval of qualified voters without losing accreditation and state funds.

The opinion said school board members will be penalized if they allow integration without an election unless they are under a court order to do so.

Many Texas school districts have abided by the law since its passage.

Wilson, in Houston to aid local authorities in a slant oil well investigation, said:

"I think there are extremely serious constitutional questions raised by the law."

The attorney general said he knew of no legal precedent where a local community may hold a general election to decide whether to obey federal law.

He said, however, the opinion

Edie Gets Kovacs' Girls

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"This is the way Edie would have wanted it," said Edie Adams after a judge awarded her custody of the late comedian Ernie Kovacs' two daughters by an earlier marriage.

Superior Judge Clarence L. Kincaid ruled Thursday that both Miss Adams and Kovacs' first wife, Bette, are fit and proper guardians but that the girls "are of sufficient age to form an intelligent preference."

The daughters, Bette Lee, 15, and Kippie Raleigh, 13, had testified they preferred living with Miss Adams.

The first Mrs. Kovacs, 39, wept bitterly as Miss Adams' attorney, Murray Chotiner, said the first wife was motivated by money love, not mother love, in seeking custody.

He said Mrs. Kovacs made no attempt to find and comfort the children after Kovacs died last January. The girls had been living with Kovacs and his second wife since 1955.

whenever the Navy gets the word. President Kennedy told his news conference Thursday the flow of Communist arms and supplies into the island will be met by increased American "surveillance of the whole Caribbean area."

The President did not spell out what had been done or what he had in mind.

However, Navy sources said later that there has been a step-up in aerial surveillance of Cuba in the last three weeks. They added that all of the Navy's resources, starting in European ports and ending just outside Cuba territorial limits, have been thrown into a constant watch that will be intensified without further notification from the White House.

Navy sources said that for many months patrol planes have been operating, virtually around the clock, from Key West, Fla., and the U.S. base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Surface vessels—principally destroyers—are operating night and day from Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, Guantanamo Bay and Key West, Fla., the sources said.

They said American officials and agents check ports "everywhere in Europe" on ships reported to be bound, or suspected to be bound, for Cuba.

A Navy spokesman said any ship leaving "anywhere in Europe for Cuba" is known before the vessel leaves port.

The same apparently is true of the air lanes. The Defense Department said Thursday Communist bloc flights to Cuba are followed and are well-known by U.S. authorities.

The Pentagon said in answer to inquiries it has known for some time that Communist aircraft, taking off from Europe, proceed through Gander, Newfoundland, on their way to Cuba. It said neither Canadian nor U.S. authorities know exactly what the planes carry.

The Pentagon explained that Soviet planes refueling in Canadian airfields always carry Canadian guide pilots for the flight southward along the American coast.

The Navy also said windward passage between the southern tip of the Florida Keys and Cuba is covered by Navy ships carrying out "normal training missions" in the area.

An official said that for many years Navy vessels cruising this passage used to brush off passing ships with a routine check. Now, he said, they take "a very close look" and in international waters ask for more specific details of what the ship is doing and where it is bound.

Fatal Storms Diminish

By The Associated Press
Stormy weather which struck wide areas in the Midwest and South and caused at least three deaths diminished today.

Thunder and electrical storms, with strong winds, hit areas in Michigan, middle Tennessee, Wisconsin, Iowa and northern Ohio Thursday. Two golfers were killed by lightning during an electrical storm in Clarksville, Tenn., while a Detroit woman collapsed and died of a heart attack at the wheel of her car after it had been pinned beneath a fallen tree limb.

Although the severe weather abated, thunderstorms continued during the night from extreme southeastern lower Michigan into northern Ohio, northeastern Indiana and southward into Western Kentucky. Isolated thundershowers hit areas in central Missouri and Tennessee and northern Alabama.

More than five inches of rain drenched Nashville, Tenn., a record amount for a 24-hour period. More than 100 motorists were forced to abandon their cars in flooded streets.

Strong winds lashed areas in North Dakota, Montana, New Mexico, Oregon, Arizona and coastal sections of Washington.

Tower Predicts Kennedy Downfall

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., told 600 Republicans at a $250-a-plate dinner Thursday that President Kennedy will be the first one-term president since Herbert Hoover.

"History has vindicated that great man (Hoover), but will not vindicate the fellow we've got now," Tower said.

He blamed the administration for unemployment, shrinking gold reserves and the stock market slump and said people "are fed up with the New Frontier."

He said Kennedy programs have encountered trouble in Congress because "Congressmen have been reading their mail and finding the programs are not acceptable to the people."

"In past year the GOP has been out-organized, out-financed and out-fought by the Democrats," Tower said. "If the Republicans don't win this fall it will be our own fault."

Ike Opens Up Attack But With No Names

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower opened a campaign tour for Republican congressional candidates Thursday night with a no-names-mentioned attack on government spending and "thirst for power."

At no point did he name President Kennedy or the Kennedy administration directly. The closest he came was use of the word "frontiersmanship," which he said had suffered defeats because of "statesmanship" by GOP congressional leaders.

Eisenhower was the featured speaker at a "Charlie Halleck Day" rally on the campus of St. Joseph's College in the home town of House minority leader Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., Eisenhower's top lieutenant in Congress.

Most of the estimated 25,000 guests ate barbecued chicken prepared over outdoor pits with six tons of charcoal in what was billed as the biggest cook-out in Indiana history.

Eisenhower, who also made brief off-the-cuff talks at Purdue University's airport at West Lafayette and at Rensselaer's courthouse square, avoided any mention of foreign problems.

Republicans, he said, favor a governmental climate "in which the enterprise and energy of our people work at their best."

"That climate is not fostered merely by appeals for rigid co-operation with programs presented by an administration. And it can be destroyed utterly if these programs are devised by theorists with free rein always to dream up bigger and more glittering federal projects," he said.

"Nor is such a creative climate nourished by the constant seeking for more governmental power over all our economic life."

"This is one of the most disturbing trends of our day—the apparent thirst for more and more power centered in the federal government, particularly the executive branch."

Eisenhower singled out "recently proposed farm legislation" as an example of programs which he said most citizens resent because of "blackjacks . . . the well-nigh explicit threat, though couched in legalistic language: 'Go along with us—or else.'"

"Certainly, frontiersmanship, confronted with their statesmanship, has had to abandon a number of its Alice-in-Wonderland adventures into areas lying beyond the horizon of common sense," he said.

The ex-president said most citizens reject the idea "that headlong federal spending of your money is evidence of federal vision."

"The dictum, 'the power to tax is the power to destroy,' has a corollary. The power to spend is the power to impoverish and bankrupt," he said.

Schirra Says Glenn Is 'Falling Behind'

NEW YORK (AP)—Comdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., slated for the nation's next manned space shot, says astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. has been falling behind in space work because of outside commitments.

Schirra told a network television audience Thursday night the space program needs the advice of Glenn, one of two Americans already put into orbit, but "his commitments have just about wiped him out of the space program."

In a taped interview over CBS-TV ("Our Next Man in Space"), Schirra said:

"He (Glenn) hasn't been able to maintain the currency that he should have with the rest of us. And we have frantic meetings trying to keep each other up to date on what he has been doing technically. John's falling behind, in other words."

Walter Cronkite, the interviewer, asked Schirra whether he thought it more important for Glenn to aid in preparations for other flights or to help exploit his own flight "as a propaganda weapon."

Schirra replied: "Well, we need John to help us on a lot of decisions. John can carry a lot of weight with a young engineer who has a brilliant idea—that may not be a practical idea."

"The fact that John has had this experience and there are only two of us, really, Scott (Carpenter) and John, who are capable of saying, 'Well, I did it. I don't know how you want to design it, but this is the way I need to have it done.'"

"Once you've flown," Schirra said, "you can come back and say these things exist and this man has to be in on some of the newer developments."

Schirra tentatively is scheduled to make his orbital flight Sept. 28. Since Glenn's flight last February, he has been making speeches, granting interviews, testifying before Congress, and briefing officials up to and including President Kennedy.

Schirra did not specify any outside commitments in his criticism.

In Houston last night, Al Chop, deputy public affairs officer for the Manned Spacecraft Center, said Glenn has undergone pressure for public appearances but has not fallen behind in his training.

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, and Glenn were not available for comment.

A spokesman for the center said: "They will have no statement to make until they have the opportunity to study the full text of the comments. Col. Glenn may have a statement tomorrow."

Contest Slated

The Mr. Big Spring contest will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the YMCA. Joe Leach, Y physical education director, has announced that three men have signed for competition so far, but that registration is still open. There will be no admission charge for the contest, which will be in the Y gymnasium.

U.S. May Enlist Cuban Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says it is working on plans to enlist refugees from Fidel Castro's regime in the U.S. armed services, and train them in all-Cuban units.

A spokesman said Thursday details of the program should be completed soon.

Happy-Go-Lucky For Laos Again

By ANTOINE YARED
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laos at peace has fallen back into its happy-go-lucky ways.

A month after the Geneva peace accords pledging this Southeast Asian kingdom to independence and neutrality, only the politicians show any impatience.

The easy-going 2½ million Laotians are content that things are much like they were before their strategic landlocked nation was plunged into civil war in the East-West struggle.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist premier of the new coalition government, returned, all smiles, from the Geneva conference and a visit to the United States and other countries.

"Well, gentlemen, how are things going?" he asked his Cabinet ministers.

"Nothing has been done," came the reply. "We have been waiting for your return."

While the premier was away, informants say, supporters of pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong and right-wing Gen. Phoumi Nosavan maneuvered for positions of strength in the new administration.

Most of the people seem unaware of the political undertones still prevalent in the capital.

"We expected it will take them (coalition Cabinet ministers) at least a year to be able to achieve something concrete," said one civil servant.

"We are happy the war is ended and Laotians are not being killed any more," said a businessman. "Now our politicians can have as much time as they want to make the coalition function properly."

Life goes on as usual with few complaints among a people who frown on hard work, love festivals and even make gay at funerals.

Government employees and other workers in the cities report to their jobs daily—on foot, on bicycles or on tricycles. Saffron-robed Buddhist priests at sunset make their rounds to collect donations. Villagers till their land without concern about things political.

The average Laotian lives on a modest diet of rice, vegetables and fruit. About 80 per cent of the population is self-sufficient. There are some shortages in the cities but no noticeable hardship.

"We Laotians have been accustomed to eat what is available from our natural resources, so whatever happens we will never die of hunger," said a Vientiane bank employee.

The quiet is broken only by sporadic clashes between Pathet Lao and right-wing forces still intact. These have been only minor localized incidents.

CAB Aide Says Midland-Odessa Stop Not Needed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A lawyer for the Civil Aeronautics Board said Thursday that American Airlines' Midland-Odessa Tex., stop should be eliminated.

Jerry McKinnon, counsel for the CAB's Bureau of Economic Regulation, supported a recently announced CAB conclusion that American should be relieved of service to Midland-Odessa.

McKinnon, in a brief to examiner Thomas Wrenn, said the main need of the twin West Texas cities is regional or short-haul service. Continental and Trans-Texas airlines, which serve Midland-Odessa, can fill this need, he said.

Abortion Death Suspect Gives Up

NEW YORK (AP)—A Queens County physician surrendered Thursday to face homicide charges in the abortion death of a Florida divorcee.

Dr. Mandel Friedman, 53, is charged in the death last Tuesday of Barbara Clark Covington, 35, daughter of a deceased Florida fruit packer and sister of D. D. Covington Jr. of Dade City, Fla., Democratic nominee for the state Senate.

Friedman, a gynecologist, was awaiting trial in an earlier abortion death when Miss Covington died as the result of what police said was an abortion attempt. In both cases, Friedman claims the death was caused by heart attacks.

Mustaches
Bring Passes?

DEAR ABBY: We were discussing men with mustaches and we'd like your view on the subject. Do you think a mustache improves a man's appearance, or do you think it makes him look like he's trying to be something he isn't? Why do men wear mustaches? Do mustached men really have more success with women than men without them? What do YOU think of mustaches, Abby?

NANCY, DOTTIE, PEG AND LUCILLE
DEAR GIRLS: Mustaches are personal and so are the reasons men wear them. If a man is too young, a mustache makes him look old enough. If he's too old, it makes him look young enough. Personally I think a neatly trimmed and beautifully cared for mustache is an asset. (Girls make more passes at guys with mustaches.) But let's not split hairs.

DEAR ABBY: A new family just moved into our block. They have two cars. One is a new one in the high-priced bracket and the other is an old pile of junk. The husband drives the rattle trap to work every morning and leaves the good car for his wife. She uses it to drive the children to and from school, for marketing and to get to the beauty parlor once a week.

Don't you think HE should drive the good car to work and let his wife use the jalopy?

THE NEIGHBORS
DEAR NEIGHBORS: Who drives which car is positively none of my business, and I am curious to know how it could be any of yours. If you will tell me why this is YOUR problem, I promise to give my best efforts to the solution.

DEAR ABBY: Every time my wife goes where men are she tells me the men make passes at her. She said a doctor tried to hypnotize her and a druggist tried to give her a "love potion," and she told me the man who takes the money on the toll bridge tried to hold her hand. When a strange man passes her and blinks his eye, she says, "He winked at me!" Abby, my wife is 50 years old. She is not a bad-looking woman but I give you my word that nobody is chasing her. Why does she make up stories like these? Is she trying to make me jealous?

HUSBAND
DEAR HUSBAND: Possibly your wife BELIEVES men are making passes at her. This could be an illness, demanding the attention of a physician—(preferably a woman doctor).

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SOUL SICK": Try the Greatest Physician of them all. When was the last time you saw the inside of a church?

Unload your problems on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of the Big Spring Herald.

Can you name this car?

Clue: It's never been changed for the sake of a change—and it won't be, either. Yet changes are constantly being made—but they're all to improve the car not make it obsolete. You'll find several improvements on the new 1963 model now being shown.

Clue: It cruises at 70 miles an hour all day long without working up a sweat or running up a repair bill.

Clue: Even on the hottest day, you won't see this car with its hood up. (The engine is cooled by air instead of water. Won't over-heat, won't freeze.)

Clue: In mud, sand, ice or snow, where other cars skid, this one will go. (The engine in the rear does it.)

Clue: Averages 32 miles to a gallon, regular gas, regular driving. Hardly ever needs oil between changes.

Clue: Every last part fits just so. It's so air tight that you should open a window just a crack before you close the door.

Clue: Parks where most cars can't, yet it actually has more head and leg room than many big cars.

Clue: Its initials are VW.

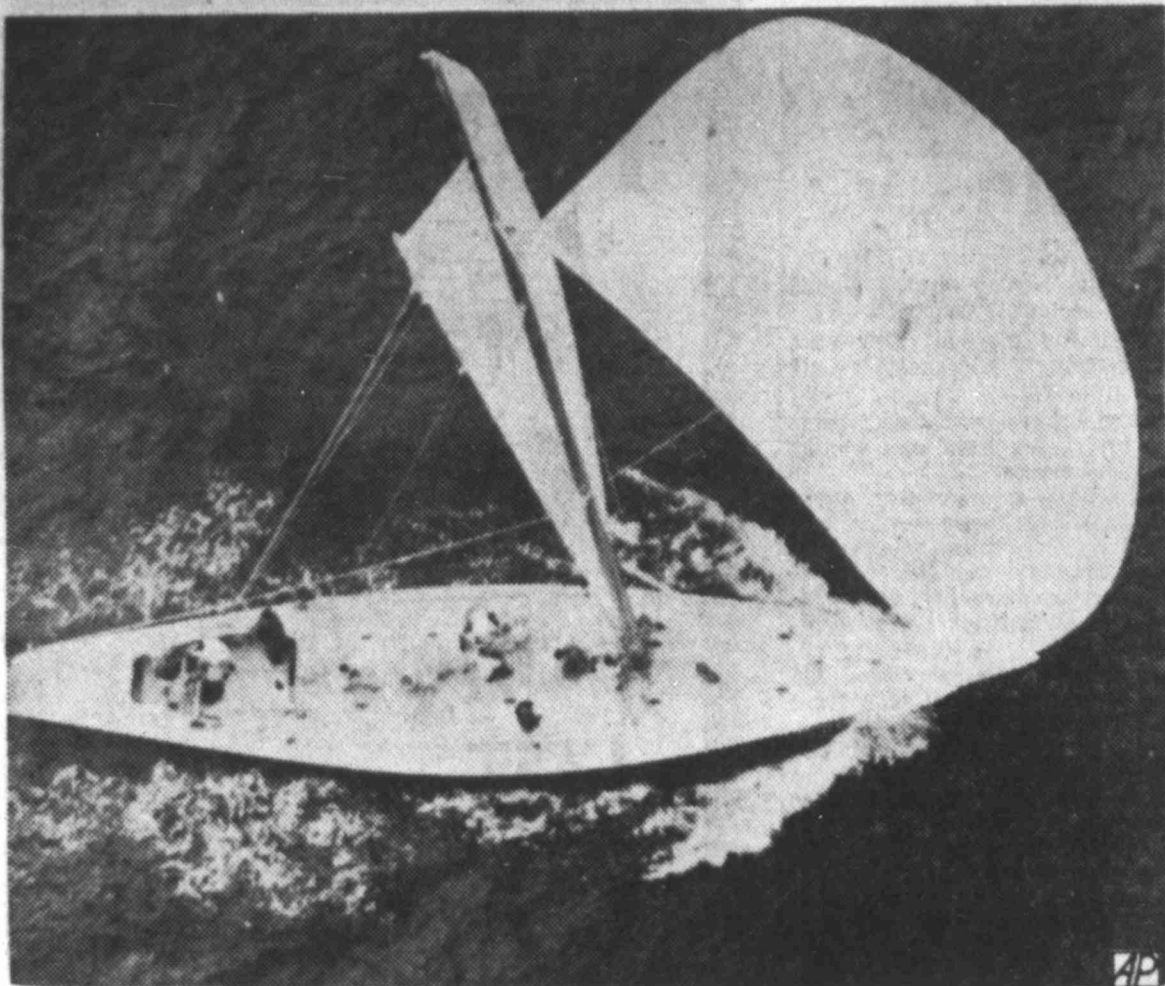

Come in and look one over. You'll know it the minute you see it.

Steers Launch Play At 7:30 Tonight

Big Spring tonight sets out to prove that the 7-3 won-loss record it compiled last year was no fluke. The Longhorns, with a brand-new coaching regime and practically a brand-new squad, visits Plainview for a practice joust with that city's Bulldogs. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

Last year, the Bovines flattened the Plainview team, 36-0, to start a miserable year for the Bulldogs. (They failed to win a game). Of last fall's excellent Big Spring contingent, Buster Barnes is the only returning regular. Eight other returning boys won letters.

The Steers are bigger and deeper than they were last year—new coach Don Robbins can field two units without running the risk of the Steers caving in. They've had to sacrifice speed, however. Rickey Wisener, a 156-pound senior, and Albert Fierro, 167-pound junior, will divide time at the controls for Big Spring.

Chief running threats for Big Spring are Baxter Moore, a fire-eating junior who plays halfback; and Dickie Spier, who tips in at 164—not very big for a fullback. Plainview's attack will be built around Timmy Bennifield, who piled up plenty of playing time last year, and halfback Larry Haydon, a real running threat.

Trent Jordan, 190-pounder junior tackle, is the outstanding Bulldog lineman and the Big Spring forwards will have to keep him at his distance if they succeed in moving the ball.

Don Williams, former Texas Tech athlete, is Plainview's new coach. He was head mentor at Littlefield last year. He's built his team around seven lettermen, including four boys who were regulars in 1961.

Don says he'll have to go along largely with sophomores this season. Some of the sophs look surprisingly good in the Plainview camp, among them Tom Sawyer, 150-pound quarterback. The Steers will probably try to give their ground game an acid test tonight, which means that Wisener and Fierro will be handing the ball off often to such boys as Moore, Spier and Eric Nichols, a tall wingback.

Nichols will also be used as a pass target, along with such boys as DeeRoby Gartman and Eddy Nelson.

The Steers can mount a beefy line, with such heavyweights as Dick Irons (210), Robert Wilson (190), Kenny Crane (193) and Big Daddy Randle (245) available.

Mike Houston, a guard; Ricca Flores, tackle; Rick Peters, a back or rover; and Charles West, a safety, are among defensive specialists who will perform for Big Spring.

Probably lineups:

BIG SPRING
Ends—Eddie Nelson, 172, and DeeRoby Gartman, 194, ends; tackles—Dick Irons, 210, and Walter Minter, 168; guards—Buster Barnes, 163, and Tim Smith, 172; center—Robert Wilson, 190; quarterback—Rick Wisener, 156; halfback—Baxter Moore, 150; wingback—Eric Nichols, 168; fullback—Dick Spier, 164.

PLAINVIEW
Ends—Tommy Craig, 143, and David Ritter, 148; tackles—Trent Jordan, 190, and Gary Gidewell, 210; or Richard Cook, 201; guards—Kenneth Gordon, 170, and Vance Bradford, 145; center—Eddie Spier, 160; quarterback—Timmy Bennifield, 158; halfbacks—Larry Haydon, 154, and Ray Gonzales, 160; fullback—Joe Don Ford, 170.

Local football buffs thirsting for a game can see the Big Spring High School B team in action here Saturday night against the San Angelo reserves. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m., scene of action the new stadium on the HCJC campus.

Those boys who do not play in tonight's contest involving the Steers and Plainview are eligible to play tomorrow night.

Since the coaches plan to take about 35 to Plainview, that means at least 35 will remain here for the Saturday game.

On offense the Dogs are apt to go with Richard White, 145; and Robert Goodlett, 145, at ends; Steve McCombs, 217, and Skipper Schbato, 163, at tackles; Marvin Bell, 168, and Howard Bain, 159, at guards; Junior Holland, 177, center; Rickey Earle, 151, quarterback; Larry Broughton, 153, halfback; and Tommy Erhardt, 145, wingback.

Tulsa forged into a 2-1 lead in the final Texas League playoffs by defeating the Austin Senators 4-3 Thursday night.

G. Bay, Dallas Are Favored To Post Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—It probably was a lot more pleasant trying to pick Miss America, and at first glance, probably a lot easier too than trying to forecast the winners of the seven National Football League games this weekend, or the three in the American Football League.

But, these are the likely choices:
Green Bay over Minnesota—The Vikings, showing an improved defense and jazzed up offense in their final two exhibitions, have the misfortune of playing in "Tittletown, U.S.A.," where Bart Starr, Paul Hornung, Jim Taylor, & Co. aren't allowed to lose.
New York over Cleveland—The Browns have made wholesale changes in their offense, but the defensive backfield still is a bit porous to the sharp-shooting of quarterback Y. A. Tittle and the strengthened Giants, whose defense isn't as old as a lot of people think.

St. Louis over Philadelphia—The Cards' John David Crow is running at full tilt and quarterback Sam Etcheverry's arm is sound which will bode evil for the Eagles, whose defenses still are weak and whose offense is still too one-sided toward the forward pass.

Detroit over Pittsburgh—The Lions and new quarterback Mill Plum have found their new relationship quite satisfying, while the Steelers' Bobby Layne still isn't ready to direct their new running game or conduct a passing offense.

Los Angeles over Baltimore—The absence of halfback Lenzy Moore, who broke a kneecap last weekend, make the Colts easier to handle. Zeke Bratkowski has found the range with his passing and the Rams strengthened defense should do the best.

San Francisco over Chicago—The 49ers are a cohesive unit, with John Brodie at the controls, while the Bears, winners in five exhibitions, still haven't found the key due mainly to injuries.

Dallas over Washington—The Cowboys have the defensive savvy of Coach Tom Landry, plus the new horses to help make it go, and the 'Skins will have to wait a game or two to show they are rejuvenated.

Buffalo over Denver—This AFL game is a Saturday night affair, and the Bills' secondary should mean the difference against Denver's fine passing attack that surprised San Diego last week.

Houston over Boston—The Oilers, still panting over their close call at Buffalo, won't have to worry about Boston's running attack and its own crunching running game should take advantage of some injuries in the Pats' defensive platoon.

San Diego over New York—The Chargers, weakened by injuries, still have too much overall power for the Titans, even though Lee Grosscup will try and work the same magic that beat Oakland last week.

AL Contenders Play Leap Frog; NY Idle

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
They laughed when Ralph Houk sat back and said: "What, me worry?"

While his New York Yankees were moving sluggishly along in the American League race the past few weeks, in the lead but struggling to stay there against the challenges of the Los Angeles Angels and Minnesota Twins, Houk said over and over: "I'm not worried. Things will straighten out. They haven't caught us yet."

From the looks of things, they aren't going to.

As the Yanks took Thursday off, the Twins and Angels played another session of leap frog with second place. Minnesota took over the runner-up spot by scoring a 5-1 victory over Chicago while Los Angeles was trimmed by Kansas City 5-4.

Though the Twins' first victory in their last five games edged them up a bit, they're still five games behind the Yankees. The Angels, four games out and rolling only three days ago, are 5½ behind.

Also in the AL, Baltimore overwhelmed Washington 7-1 and Detroit bombed Boston 14-6 in the opening game of their double-header, with the second game—the last meeting scheduled between the two clubs this year—cancelled because of rain after 2½ innings. Cleveland was idle.

Jack Kralick was a winning pitcher for the first time since his no-hitter over Kansas City Aug. 26 as the Twins ended the White Sox' five-game winning string.

The left-hander turned in an eight-hitter, did not walk a man and struck out six. Minnesota nipped John Buzhardt for four runs in the first three innings, one scoring on George Banks' sacrifice fly, another on Zoilo Versalles' triple and two on Bob Allison's bases-loaded single.

A two-run rally in the eighth inning brought the Athletics their victory over the Orioles, with Gino Cimoli's third hit of the day knocking in the clincher.

Mary Breeding, Jackie Brandt and pitcher Chuck Estrada all somered in the Orioles' romp against the Senators. Estrada turned in a seven-hitter and blanked Washington over the first seven innings.

The Senators' controversy-prone center fielder, Jim Piersall, was involved in an unscheduled pregame show. He went into the stands after a heckling fan and although police intervention prevented any blows, both Piersall and the spectator were arrested on disorderly conduct charges.

They were released after posting collateral and returned to the ball park, but Piersall did not play.

The Tigers erupted from a four-game string of losses with a home run barrage against the Red Sox as Jim Bunning won his 17th. Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash each hit his 36th homer, while Al Kaline and Chico Fernandez had a three-run homer apiece.

The Mavericks scored twice in the fourth. Whatley flipped an aerial to left halfback Danny Kirby, good for 32 paces and a score.

Later in the round, reserve halfback Randy French, who weighs only 101 pounds, ran 55 yards to score on a dive play. Reserve halfback Dickie Beard ran over the two extra points but they didn't count due to an infraction.

Snyder never managed to get inside Big Spring's 22-yard stripe all evening.

Line heroes were numerous for Goliad. Left end Harold Newton set up Big Spring's first score when he made a sensational catch of a pass, good for a 25-yard gain.

Left guard Ronnie Caldwell was a standout on defense.

Charles Thompson blocked very well. Right guard Gary Phillips was outstanding on defense. Right tackle Yogi Anderson excelled on both defense and offense, blocking very well. Nail was outstanding at right end.

Fullback Robert Gentile, fullback Terry Smith (the Mavericks' leading ground gainer) and others did much to administer the licking to Snyder.

Hill Leader At Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—Dave Hill, 25, Jackson, Mich., led the Seattle Open Golf Tournament field into its second round today.

In Thursday's opening round, played on rain-soaked Broadmoor Golf Course, Hill set his bad-weather sights on the lead and captured it with a 6-under-par 64.

Bunched at 65 were Mike Suchak, Grossinger, N.Y.; Bob McCallister, Claremont, Calif.; Al Geiberger, Carlton Oaks, Calif., and Larry Mowry from Bonita, Calif.

Don Massingale, Jacksboro, Tex., was alone at 66.

Fifteen scored 67, 3-under the 34-36-70 par. Heading that group was Jack Nicklaus, National Open and World Series champ. Two other top golfers, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, finished at 68 and 70, respectively.

Defending champion Dave Marr of Sun City, Ariz., was one of the 67 group.

Pinehurst Golf Course Poses Big Challenge

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—The National Amateur Golf Tournament will open Monday on a course the equal of any that has played host to its 61 predecessors.

That's the opinion of Joe Dey, executive director of the United States Golf Association.

Dey, here to oversee final preparations for the tournament at the Pinehurst County Club said today its condition and fitness and a true championship test never has been exceeded.

In addition, at 7,051 yards, the No. 2 course is the longest the amateurs ever have had to play.

But it's not mere yardage that makes old No. 2 the formidable but fair test of a golfer's game.

Dey pointed out that the course puts a premium on position for every shot. During the four months it was closed this summer various alterations were made.

Most of the changes will penalize the power hitters who are not accurate.

Texasan Dud Wysong, runner-up last year to Jack Nicklaus, now a professional, summed up the course condition in one word—"super." He added a bit ruefully, "If I could just improve my putting I'd be all right."

Another who was high in praise of the course was Charlie Coe, the slender Oklahoma who has won the tournament twice. He shot a 1-under-par 71 Thursday, the first time he ever had played the course.

Two hundred men are in the field which will play 72 first round matches Monday. The winners will join 56 men who received first round byes in Tuesday's second round. Two rounds will follow on Wednesday and Thursday, with Friday's semifinals and Saturday's finals at 36 holes.

Forsan To Host Klondike Tonight

FORSAN—Forsan seeks its second eight-man football victory in an 8 o'clock engagement with Klondike here tonight. Klondike played Flower Grove to a 6-6 draw last week while Forsan was mauling Dawson.

With TOMMY HART

The Big Spring Country Club, beset with financial problems, has asked each of its 220 stockholders to ante up $100 (payable over a period of four months) and instituted a $12 food assessment (including tax) against all members, stockholders and associate members alike.

Under the new arrangement, members will be paying $32 a month in dues and assessments.

"It was about the only way we could continue to operate," club president Zollie Boykin said. "We had a large turnout of members when the agreement was made on the new assessments and practically all of them seemed to understand that something had to be done. There was very little criticism."

Boykin added that the future looks much brighter for the club, now that the decision has been made to exact the levies.

In addition to its stockholders, the Country Club has about 100 associate members.

"Though the food assessment will be made every month, it doesn't have to be used in any set period of time," Boykin emphasized. "It can be saved up for a year, if the member wants it that way, and then spent to help finance a party. It's strictly up to him."

Jerry Green, the Country Club pro, would like to stage a "Mr. and Mrs." tournament sometime next month, but hasn't yet firmed up plans.

There's also talk a match between Country Club people and Webb golfers will be arranged and another Partnership tournament for all golfers in the area is in the talking stage. The first such meet held at the Country Club was very successful.

Dick Irons, the Big Spring tackle, could turn out to be a better football player than his brother, Jack, and that would be something. Jack was one of the best — good enough to rate the All-District 2-AAAA team as a linebacker.

Dick is handicapped by the fact that he didn't play football as a sophomore. However, he has come along fast this fall. If the coaches weren't so hard up for linemen, chances are they'd make a back out of him.

Irons, a junior, needs to trim down some. He also needs some work on the weights he's sure to get over a period of the next couple of years. He weighs over 200 pounds, which means he's already 40 pounds bigger than Jack ever was in high school.

Herman Smith, the former Plainview head coach who is now an aide here, says some of the top hands on the Plainview club have been working hard with the weights and tip the scales at an average of about 11 pounds more than they did last year. That weight could make a big difference tonight.

One of the hardest working boys in the Steer football camp is Willie Johnson, a Negro boy who is running at fullback. He's only a sophomore and he doesn't have too much football background but he hits hard and "listens good."

He should be terrific before he's through.

Nedlene Pitcock, who starred in several sports while a student at Forsan High School, is currently teaching there. She's now Nedlene Speoghe, though, and she resides in Big Spring. Nedlene is teaching third grade.

Gary Rogers and Ronnie Anderson scored the touchdowns as the Eighth Graders of Runnels Junior High flogged Sweetwater, 12-0, in a football game played here Thursday night.

Rogers, who plays quarterback, galloped 15 yards in the second period for Big Spring's first score at the end of a 55-yard offensive.

The Yearlings were on the Sweetwater nine when the half ended.

In the third, Gary Hise passed to Anderson for 14 yards and a score.

Tulsa Out Front
By The Associated Press
Tulsa forged into a 2-1 lead in the final Texas League playoffs by defeating the Austin Senators 4-3 Thursday night.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862—the same year that

IN TEXAS...near Galveston, Confederate General J. B. Magruder piled cotton bales on the decks of little river boats. These famous "cotton clads," manned by the 26th Texas Cavalry, trounced the Federal war fleet then holding Texas' largest port. As the war ships hastily departed, the event was toasted in good Texas-brewed beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Big Spring Runnels' ninth graders humbled Sweetwater Junior High, 28-6, in a football game here Friday night that must have warmed the hearts of the 1,000-plus spectators on hand.

The Yearlings dominated play throughout and built up a 20-0 advantage at the intermission. Sweetwater got its own score on a 45-yard drive in the final quarter on a 45-yard drive with the aid of 42 yards stepped off in penalties against Big Spring.

Randy Reid counted for the Colts on a three-yard pass from Mal Richards.

Runnels drove 79 yards in the second period for Big Spring's first score, halfback Bobby Griffin scooting through for the tally from 14 yards away. Lonnie Self opened the gap for him in the middle of the line.

A pass from Joe Jaure to Griffin, good for 30 yards, resulted in Big Spring's second touchdown. Freddie Stiehl, a center who played an outstanding defensive game, set up the tally when he recovered a Sweetwater fumble on the 30.

Griffin returned a punt 45 yards to set up Big Spring's third tally. Halfback Tony Saracho got it by plunging one yard.

Big Spring drove down to the Sweetwater's one in the third but lost the ball on downs. The Yearlings came right back to score, however, when fullback Ismael Holguin recovered a fumble on the Colt 20. Ray Navarette sprinted seven yards for the TD to make it 28-0.

Quarterback Joe Jaure, who played an outstanding game, ran for two extra points to get a total of four points.

Bobby Baker and Mel Daves, ends; Troy Hooser, Wesley Ballou and Mike Carey, tackles; Ruben Martinez and Ronnie Smith, guards and center Stiehl were among Big Spring's top hands in the line. Navarette led the Runnels ground gainers with 62 yards in eight carries.

Giants Can't Win Without Willie

By The Associated Press

From the time Willie Mays started running out from under his baseball cap on a full-time basis eight years ago, the Giants never have won a game in which the name Mays did not appear in the lineup.

They met with similar success Thursday night.

While Willie lay in a hospital bed undergoing tests to determine why he collapsed in Wednesday's game, Cincinnati dealt San Francisco's National League pennant hopes a stiff jolt as Jim O'Toole pitched a four-hitter for a 7-2 victory over the Giants.

The defeat dropped the second-place Giants two games behind the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, who were not scheduled. Both teams have 15 games remaining to play. The defending champion Reds, in third place five games back, have 13 games left.

The Mays case remained somewhat of a mystery.

The slugging San Franciscan, major league home run leader with 43, blacked out in the third inning of the opener of the two-game series—the last meeting between any of the contenders for the NL flag.

Manager Al Dark said there was no apparent indication of what felled Mays. Cincinnati team physician Dr. George Ballou said it apparently was acute indigestion. Giants vice president Chub Feeney said "He's feeling fine, but the doctors want him to stay in the hospital."

Emerson Opposes Becker In Meet

FORT WORTH (AP)—Top seeded Roy Emerson of Australia, delayed by a previously scheduled exhibition appearance, was due to swing into action today in the Colonial Invitation Tennis Tournament.

Laurence Becker of Kerrville was his opponent in a makeup first round match. The winner will face Mexico's Antonio Palafox.

In other top singles matches of today's second round it was Mexico's Rafael Osuna vs. Australian Davis Cupper Fred Stolle, veteran Ham Richardson of Dallas vs. Jon Douglas of Stanford University, and Mexican Davis Cup captain Pancho Contreras vs. No. 2 seeded Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo.

Of the favorites, only Stolle and Contreras had trouble Thursday. Stolle had to go three sets to turn back Cliff Richey, 15, a junior high student from Dallas, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5. Contreras was extended in defeating Al Hill Jr. of Dallas 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

Palafox beat Frank Willett of Chattanooga, Tenn., 6-4, 6-0. Osuna downed Kenney Wickett of Fort Worth 6-0, 6-2.

McKinley, U.S. Davis Cup star, had no difficulty smashing Jack Turpin of Dallas 6-1, 6-1. Douglas placed his shots flawlessly in blanking Darrell Willerson of San Antonio, a University of Texas student, 6-0, 6-0.

George Mira and Jim Traficant, two of the nation's top-ranked quarterbacks, have a football slugging duel scheduled Saturday afternoon that will make the opening of the 1962 college football season anything but dull.

Mira leads Miami's Hurricanes into Pitt Stadium to face the University of Pittsburgh and Traficant, in the key action on the opening day's schedule. The game will be televised nationally.

Mira, a 175-pounder from Key West, Fla., is considered the equal of any of the nation's college signal-callers, but he will have to prove his value against the punishment of Pitt's bruising, rugged team that is bulwarked with 24 returning lettermen.

Pitt's passing attack won't take a back seat to the Hurricanes' attack with Traficant at the controls. The 6-0 senior from Youngstown, Ohio completed 52 of 67 for 475 yards last year and is completely free of injuries that hampered him at the beginning.

Miami, a 15-14 loser to Syracuse in the Liberty Bowl last year, lost all-around back Eddie Johns for the year with a leg injury. The rest of the first team are veterans, but the bench is a little thin.

Pitt's ground attack is led by halfback Paul Martha and fullback Rick Leeson. Martha is an outstanding pass catcher. He averaged 5.1 in rushing a year ago.

Two Southern Conference games are on tap in other action, which also finds Utah State, the champ of the now-defunct Skyline Conference, Iowa State and Sun Bowl champ Villanova also getting under way.

In the Southern Conference, George Washington and Virginia Military play at Lynchburg, Va. while Virginia Tech goes against William & Mary. Utah State, stripped by graduation of the stars of 1961, travels to San Jose State for a night game while Dave Hoppmann, the 1961 individual offense leader, and his Iowa State Cyclones play Drake. Villanova meets neighboring West Chester (Pa.) State College.

In other games, the Citadel is at Florida State. Presbyterian visits Furman and East Carolina goes to the University of Richmond, all for night games in the South; Hardin-Simmons faces Tulsa and Louisville is at Wichita in night games.

Perkins To Seek Loi's Ring Title

MILAN, (AP)—Challenger Eddie Perkins of Chicago and champion Duilio Loi of Italy met tonight in a 15-round rematch for the world junior welterweight boxing crown. They fought a draw in their first meeting last October.

Both Loi and Perkins expressed confidence in the outcome. "I am going to knock out Loi in the seventh round," said the 25-year-old American. Perkins had an age advantage and the hungry determination of the title seeker on his side.

But tough Loi, at 32, is seven years older than his opponent, and the last hour odds still favored him.

Perkins has won 28 of 37 fights. Loi has won 114 of 124 bouts. He has lost two on points and drawn eight — and never has been knocked down. Tonight's match is his third title defense.

Weatherly Is Favorite In America Cup Race

By CHARLES FLOOD

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The overwhelmingly favored American 12-meter yacht Weatherly and her 11-man crew will cross the starting line at 11:10 a.m. EST Saturday to begin defense of the America's Cup against the Australian challenger Gretel.

President Kennedy will be among the spectator fleet of 1,500 vessels of all sizes off this famous New England seaport and social resort as the racing sloops meet in the 18th defense of an American sporting monopoly 111 years old.

An estimated $50 million has been spent since 1851 in the competition for the bottomless silver pitcher which is the symbol of international big-boat racing supremacy. America won the first race and has never lost.

Weatherly, 66 feet over-all and 46 feet on the waterline, and Gretel, 69 feet over-all and 45 feet on the waterline, will be sent on their way by the committee boat of the New York Yacht Club nine miles off the Rhode Island coast.

The first race of a best-four-of-seven series will be on a two-legged windward-leeward course, with the boats to go twice around for a total of 24 nautical miles. After a day's rest, the two sloops will go to the mark on Monday for a race once around a triangular course of eight miles to a leeward-leeward and even-numbered races will be on the triangular course.

The Australian boat is the product of a syndicate formed by Sir Frank Packer, Australian publisher and business magnate. Australian inexperience in the 12-meter class is testified to by the fact that Gretel's sails carry the number KA1, signifying that she is the first built in that country, while Weatherly's number is US17.

The lack of experience of the Aussies has become painfully apparent here since they arrived July 23. In two chance encounters, one in light air in August and a brush to windward last week, the American defender walked away from the Australian boat.

In addition, the Australians have continued to make relatively major changes on Gretel at a time when they should have been tuning her up at sea.

This past week a series of misfortunes plagued the challenger. Tuesday, her boom broke and as a result her training schedule during the crucial final week was thrown out of gear. Thursday, shortly before Gretel came out of the water for the last time before the opening gun, her crew was still drilling holes on her deck to rearrange cleats which had proven unsatisfactory.

The Australians got another scare Thursday night when Gretel slipped on her cradle while being hauled onto the ways and lurched forward. But the expensive sloop did not list and instead dipped into the water. An extensive check showed no damage.

Sands Mustangs Visit Lamesa

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs visit Lamesa Saturday for an 8 p.m. game with the Lamesa B team.

The Ponies will be seeking to return to winning ways after losing a 36-0 decision to Loraine last week.

A junior high school game between Sands and Coahoma here Thursday night was cancelled.

Seven Offer Guilty Pleas, Sentenced

Two men drew state prison sentences, one was given a suspended sentence and four others were granted probation in 118th District Court this morning. They pleaded guilty to various indictments.

Morris Minters, charged with forgery, was given a four year prison sentence.

William Charles Becker, charged with theft, drew two years in prison.

Dorman Theodore Totten, charged with forgery, received a three year sentence, suspended.

Gale Potter, Doyle Sharp, Jimmy Crosson and James Monroe Crosson, all charged with forgery and passing, each drew a three year probation sentence. These youths, all residents of Snyder, came to Big Spring with a plan to cash worthless checks.

The plan fell apart at the scene before it had more than started when a merchant, seeing the four busily writing as they sat in a car, became suspicious and followed them.

East Highway Cavity Filled

IS 20 almost had cavity trouble early today.

A place on the east bound slab, near the point where the Salem Road intersects the highway at Sand Springs, began to settle below the common surface of the road.

The state highway department checked its records. And, sure enough, right at that spot there had once been a residence which had as a part of its appurtenances an old underground cistern.

When the highway was built, the cistern had been filled in and paved over.

Now the heavy rains of recent days apparently worked their way into the pit and swept out some of the sand.

The department moved in men and tools, broke through the sagging slab, found the cavity and, with a huge auger, removed all loose earth. Trucks hauled in more stable material and refilled the hole. The department then repaved the area.

Highway patrol officers and employees of the department handled traffic while the repairs were being made.

Hotel Basement Flooded When Water Pipe Breaks

There was no flood in Big Spring Friday, but water caused some consternation at the Settles Hotel shortly before noon when a water pipe ruptured and let several inches of water into the boiler room and in the basement.

Electrical power was cut off from a part of the building to prevent damage from water. Elevators and air conditioning systems were stopped, and most appliances were off. Lights were off in most of the building, although the barber shop was operating.

Water was being pumped out of the basement at noon and power was to be turned on shortly, following an interruption of about an hour.

Radio station KHEM was off the air for 30 minutes, until candles and an extension cord could be rounded up.

Few Fire Calls

Big Spring firemen have made one run to fires in five days. A short in an air conditioner motor Thursday night resulted in a call from Johnny's Bar, 306 N. Gregg. Damage to the motor resulted.

OPENING SATURDAY In College Park Shopping Center

Park Drug Opens In Shopping Center

Another new business opens its doors Saturday in the College Park Shopping Center. Park Drug, owned and operated by Neil Hohenstreet, formerly of Midland, will hold a pre-opening sale beginning at 9 a.m.

The store features lines of merchandise ranging from prescription drugs to hardware and household supplies.

Regular store hours will begin with the opening. They will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday hours have not yet been determined, but the store will be open for at least a part of the day.

The air-conditioned store makes use of shelves, counters and display stands to show off the wide range of merchandise in the 7,200 feet of floor space. Customers can pick up purchases at the self-service counters and have them all checked out at once at either of two checkout stands at the front of the store.

A separate department cares for prescription drug needs. In addition there are numerous household medicines which can be purchased without prescription, dietetic foods, a special baby department, toys, stationery, toiletries for both men and women, costume jewelry and other gift items.

During the first month of operation, Park Drug will offer prescriptions at $1 plus cost. Among services are free home delivery. Another bonus to its first visitors will be free film developing service of black and white film during the first week of operation.

Hohenstreet comes from a family which has been in the drug business for many years. Although he is only 27 years old, Hohenstreet has accumulated some 12 years of experience working with his father. He attended Central College, Fayette, Mo., and St. Louis College of Pharmacy, St. Louis, Mo.

He moved to Midland 1 1/2 years ago. He and Mrs. Hohenstreet have two boys and one girl. All are below school age. They currently live in Midland, where he still operates a store, and expect to move to Big Spring soon.

Missile-Space Producers Called On For Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has called on four balking missile-space producers to adopt the union shop or bear responsibility for disastrous strikes.

The union shop, Kennedy told his news conference Thursday, is an accepted fact in American industry.

The President spoke out strongly in behalf of a White House board recommendation that the Lockheed, Convair, North American and Ryan firms require their 100,000 workers to be union members provided the workers give prior approval by a two-thirds vote.

"If there is a strike," Kennedy said, noting that two unions involved have accepted the board's peace formula, "the responsibility would be very clear, I think, to the American people for such action."

The President's comments were in response to a question as to whether he felt that the unions, having accepted while the companies have not, were being forced into a strike against the key government suppliers of space and missile equipment and planes.

With a strike threat looming at the four firms after Sept. 22, the President also acted to head off a possible walkout this weekend at Boeing Co., another major aerospace producer with 45,000 workers. The same union shop and other issues are involved.

Kennedy set up another three-man fact-finding board to hear the Boeing dispute and make settlement recommendations during a 60-day no-strike period running to Nov. 15. This board is due to start work at Seattle Monday.

In Seattle, Boeing said it is willing to keep the present contract running until Nov. 15 if the union will do so. Harold Gibson, international vice president of the International Association of Machinists, said the union will decide today.

In endorsing his aerospace board report favoring the union shop for the Lockheed, Convair, North American and Ryan firms, Kennedy said the required union membership provision had been adopted years ago by most other major U.S. industries, including auto, steel and aluminum producers.

Kennedy noted that in this case the two-thirds worker ratification condition gives the workers a veto.

The President said the unions, avoided, but they will not be integrated.

Barnett acted after a ruling by U.S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black cleared the way for James H. Meredith, a Negro, to enter the university next week.

Meredith, 29, reportedly was out of the state and unavailable for comment.

Mississippi is one of three states which have no integration in public education facilities. Alabama and South Carolina are the others.

During his 20-minute talk, the governor issued a proclamation placing the sovereignty of Mississippi between the federal government and state public schools and colleges—a legal device known as interposition.

An estimated 125 persons turned out for the First Presbyterian Church picnic in the City Park Thursday evening. The outing was held at the large pavilion in the park, and members furnished meat and other dishes.

Mississippi Governor Orders Court Defiance

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. Ross Barnett has ordered Mississippi officials to defy a federal court order to desegregate the University of Mississippi.

Describing efforts to integrate the university as Mississippi's greatest crisis since the Civil War, the 64-year-old governor said Thursday night he preferred jail to submission to "the tyranny of judicial oppression."

He called for the resignation of any state official not prepared to go to jail rather than submit to the court order.

In solemn tones, Barnett told a statewide television-radio audience Mississippi schools "will not be closed if this can possibly be the AFL-CIO auto workers and machinists, were agreeing to take a recommended wage increase that was "not particularly generous," and well within the administration economic guidelines.

The President was not asked, nor did he volunteer anything about the ethical argument over the union shop. The reluctant firms maintain it is wrong to require their non-union workers to join and pay dues to unions. The labor organizations contend that since they bargain and handle grievances for all workers, all should contribute toward union support.

Services will be in the Latin American First Baptist Church here with the Rev. Paul Quinn, pastor of the Emanuel Baptist Chapel in Midland, officiating. Burial will follow in City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

The body will lie in state at the Latin American First Baptist Church until service time.

Survivors include one nephew, Frank Mendoza, Midland; one niece, Paula Ramirez, Big Spring; and one sister-in-law, Mrs. Gregoria Mendoza, Big Spring.

Funeral will be at 4 p.m. Saturday for Mrs. Rayo Mendoza, a former resident of Big Spring, who died Thursday evening in a local hospital after an illness of about two weeks. She was 77.

Mrs. Mendoza came to Big Spring in 1948 from El Paso and moved to Midland in 1960 to make her home with a nephew, Frank Mendoza, 905 N. Colorado. She was born Jan. 6, 1885 in Shafter, Her husband, Bulfrano Mendoza, preceded her in death in 1945.

Foreigners Are Work Source For Germany

By GEOFFREY ATKINS FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A Greek fisherman, a Turkish carpenter, a Spanish farm laborer and an Italian bricklayer raised glasses of cold German beer.

"Let's drink a toast," said the Italian. "Let's hope there will be work here in Germany for a long time."

It was 6 p.m. in a Frankfurt bar.

It could have been in any of a dozen cities in West Germany as thousands of foreign workers poured out of factories, mills and building sites.

They are West Germany's gas-better (guest workers) imported to make up shortages of labor in this booming land.

There are more than 650,000 foreign workers in West Germany. Most come from poor, workless towns and villages in Southern Europe and the Balkans. For them the streets of West Germany, with its prosperity and high wages, are paved with gold.

MONEY AND GIRLS "We have money in our pockets and get on well with the girls," said Georgios Lattis, 24, who comes from a Greek village near Salonika. He sends money home to his family and is saving to buy a motor scooter.

For some of the older workers, the picture is not so rosy. They still have deep roots in their own countries. Homesickness is common.

They are also less able to adapt themselves to Germany's northern climate. Thoughts of their sun-drenched homelands make their longing to return even stronger. Even so, most are prepared to stick it out for a year, until they have saved up a small capital, or the economic situation in their own countries has improved.

The German government has agreements with Italy, Spain, Greece and Turkey for quotas of labor to meet the specific requirements of individual companies. The workers are guaranteed a minimum term of employment.

German employers sometimes go to staggering lengths to keep the force constant.

FRINGE BENEFITS One big construction company in Frankfurt houses 1,000 foreign workers in gaily furnished wooden huts, each well furnished with its own garden. They are free. The workers also get free laundry service, free language instruction, free medical attention, with TV and radio sets provided in recreation rooms.

They have sports fields and can buy a substantial meal in a canteen for one mark (25 cents).

This costs the company a lot of money, but one of its chief administrative officers, Rudolf Schaefer, said he is satisfied with the efficiency of the foreign workers.

"Once the initial language barriers have been broken down they soon become integrated and relations between them and the Germans are excellent," he observed.

"Many of them renew their contracts — usually lasting nine months — and some of them have been here for as long as four years. They are mainly younger workers. The older ones usually go home after their first nine months."

LOWEST PAID On top of all the fringe benefits, the lowest paid laborer working for this company gets a minimum of 132 marks ($33) a week.

Germano Vergilio, 23, from the North Italian town of Udine, earns $37.50 as a bricklayer. "There's work for me at home too," he said. "But I would only get half as much as here and certainly wouldn't get free accommodation and other benefits I enjoy in Germany."

Emilio Marino, 36, from Bari in Southern Italy, summed up the feelings of many:

"We are grateful for this chance to earn a good living. There is not much work for me where I come from, but when I have saved up some money I will go home. Back to my wife and family—and the sun."

The Post (Gloria) field in Garza County picked up a new site in Clarence A. Wheeler No. 2 Mrs. I. N. McCray. The site is about 12 miles east of Post.

A Martin County location is Guy Maboe No. 3 Maboe, about 14 miles southwest of Tarzan. It is set for 4,900 feet in the Maboe field.

Dawson Lario No. 1 Lindsey is drilling through line below 7,365 feet. It is C NW NW NW, section 79-M, EL&RR survey.

Standard No. 1 O'Brien cored from 8,405-436 feet and recovered 30 1/2 feet. No shows were reported, but pale to bright yellow fluorescence and faint odor was noted. Operator is now reaming at 8,420 feet. Location is C NE NE, section 13-26, Kent CSL survey.

Garza Clarence A. Wheeler No. 1 Mrs. I. N. McCray is projected to 3,000 feet to check the Gloria in the Post field. It spots 1,630 feet from the north and 2,934 feet from the east lines of Holmes. Driver and Long survey No. 2, 12 miles east of Post, on a 185-acre lease.

Howard Cosden No. 1 Burris, C SE SE, section 29-25, H&TC survey, is digging in shale below 7,430 feet. Pure No. 22 Chalk, C SE SE NW, section 125-29, W&NW survey, is drilling below 3,000 feet in dolomite and shale.

The farm labor problems of the Big Spring area were discussed at a meeting Thursday at Howard County Junior College. Taking part in the discussions were: (Seated, from left) The Rev. Father Patrick Casey, Carlton Chapman, Jack Irons; standing, Billy Gilum, Leon Kinney, and Joe Monahan of the Austin office of the Texas Employment Commission Farm Placement Division.

Panel Approves Callup Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee gave unanimous approval today to President Kennedy's request for stand-by authority to call 150,000 Reservists to active military duty.

The action clears the way for a House vote Monday on the resolution which the Senate passed unanimously Thursday.

If that timetable is followed, it would be one of the fastest moves Congress has made in recent years on a major bill. Kennedy made his request just last Friday.

The House procedure would bar amendments that might slow down the bill's progress and force it back to the Senate. It also would require a two-thirds vote for passage, but leaders have no doubts on that score.

Kennedy was asked Thursday at his news conference why he has requested special mobilization authority since he has the power to call up a million Reservists by declaring a national emergency.

Kennedy replied there are several stages of possible crisis and the call of a national emergency, I would say, is near the final step of a crisis. But there may be increased threats which would require us to call some Reservists, particularly in the air, maybe to sea, possibly on the ground.

"We might be in a situation where the declaration of a national emergency might not be the most appropriate step, and in that

More Tickets Printed For Fall Festival

Ticket sales for the Fourth Annual Fall Festival of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church Saturday have exceeded original estimates and more tickets have had to be printed, according to Wayne Basden, who heads the sales.

He estimated more than 500 adult tickets and about 200-300 children's tickets have been purchased. The Rev. Father Francis B. Beazley, pastor, and Bert Andries are in charge of arrangements, but the entire church membership is taking a role in selling tickets and putting on the festival. It will be on the school grounds southwest of town.

Booths will open at 4 p.m. They will include a food booth, soft drink stand, penny pitch, bottle throw, grab bag, fish ponds and cake-walk. Prizes will be awarded.

The main event, a barbecue supper, will be from 6-8 p.m. Ladies of the church will assist with serving. The festival will continue as long as attendance makes it necessary.

Tickets for the supper are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. There is no admission to the grounds and the public is invited.

Wears All Colors

Betty Lynn, star of the "Andy Griffith Show," is a vivacious redhead. Although she has been told redheads should not wear certain colors, she wears anything that appeals to her. She depends on compliments to whether it is suited to her.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Betty Lynn Tells Of Redheads' Problems

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — "I envy your tan. I envy anyone's tan!" exclaimed Betty Lynn when I visited the "Andy Griffith Show" set at CBS. And then she lamented about being a natural redhead. The sun makes her blister and peel.

"I have tons of freckles, but my mother was very clever when I was younger about telling me they were the sun's kisses and that I was very lucky because the sun didn't kiss everybody."

"This was fine until one day when we were riding in a street car and a little boy across the aisle asked in a very loud voice, 'What are all those spots on that girl's face?'"

"I must admit that after that I didn't feel the same pride about my 'kisses.' But I suppose it is a good thing to learn the lessons of life early, and I had to live with what I couldn't change."

"This time Mother assured me that even if one little boy didn't like them, men would like them."

She told me they'd be an advantage as I grew older. And she was right, for when I came to Hollywood they did not prevent me from getting work in pictures.

"I love to go without stockings in the summer, and it hurts me that my legs don't get brown, but I use a liquid bronze make-up that gives a nice stain and doesn't come off on my clothes."

Betty said she was told redheads should not wear certain colors. "But I don't agree with this. You can try to wear anything that appeals to you. You will soon know by the way you feel or the compliments you do or don't receive whether it is right."

Installation Is Held By TSFSA

Twenty-five members of the Big Spring chapter of the Texas School Food Service Association attended an installation program held in Goliad cafeteria Thursday. Mrs. John Annen, cafeteria director, installed the new officers, who were Mrs. E. R. Williamson, president; Mrs. Bill Smelser, president-elect; Mrs. Roger Miller, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Kathryn Littlejohn, representative; and Mrs. Frances Cochran, cards and flower chairman.

Eight members gave reports on a Lubbock workshop held this summer. Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Annen and Mrs. Williamson reported on the San Antonio convention.

Mrs. James Porter spoke on the qualities of a president and other officers and presented a corsage to each new officer. She also gave the president's gavel and the scrapbook to Mrs. Williamson. Mrs. Williamson reciprocated by giving Mrs. Porter a friendship book, a token of appreciation.

A Mexican theme was carried out using sombreros, serapes and Mexican pottery as decorations. Hostesses for the meeting were members of the Goliad staff.

The next meeting is scheduled at Marcy Elementary School, Oct. 11.

WEBB CLUB PLANS MEET

The International Wives Club will meet at Webb AFB Club Monday, 7:30 p.m., to welcome its president, Mrs. John Wood. She recently returned from a six-week vacation in California. Party games will be played, and a drawing will be held for a financed call to a member's native country. All military and civilian international wives are asked to attend.

Forum Has Planning Session

The Junior Woman's Forum met Thursday afternoon in the Texas Electric Service Company's conference room. Mrs. B. R. Newton and Mrs. Delnor Poss were co-hostesses.

Mrs. R. R. McCann, hospitality chairman, outlined social events for the coming year, and Mrs. Poss gave the year's program sketch on the theme, "Our World of Today." Members decided to show movies at the West Side Recreation Center, their project for the year.

"Introduction to Russia" was the program presented by Mrs. Horace Rankin. Appointed district junior director for national affairs was Mrs. J. R. Redden Jr., while Mrs. Ernest Welch became district junior director for conservation.

Elected secretary of the group was Mrs. Paschal Odom. Treasurer is Mrs. Rankin, and Mrs. Max Green is parliamentarian.

Thirteen members attended the meeting. Guests were Mrs. Melvin Lindsey and Mrs. Bill Pharr. Mrs. Green was a new member.

The next meeting will be a breakfast in the Cosden Blue Room, Sept. 27.

Blankenship Is Guest At P-TA Meet

W. C. Blankenship introduced teachers during a Thursday afternoon session of the College Heights Elementary P-TA.

Mrs. R. E. Ray, president, presented the welcoming address, after which Mrs. Royce Griffith read the P-TA prayer, and the group repeated the P-TA objectives and policies in unison. Mrs. Bob Carlisle gave a devotion in memory of the late Mrs. L. D. Hayworth. Mrs. Ray then introduced the executive committee and room mothers.

During the business meeting, it was decided to hold a carnival and chili supper at the school, Oct. 27. The membership drive will be Sept. 13-Oct. 11. Mrs. Ray named to the project committee Mrs. Mae Stinson, Mrs. Floyd Williams, Mrs. Blankenship and Miss Lillian Jordan.

Elected as delegates to attend the fall workshop at Stanton, were Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Blankenship. Alternates are Mrs. Buford Hull, Mrs. W. L. Bryant and Mrs. Williams.

The room count prize was awarded to Mrs. Jack Read and her first grade class. Refreshments were served to 125 parents, teachers and guests.

Mrs. Hanson Has HD Club Guests

The Luther Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. E. Hanson. Mrs. Francis Zant brought the program, a film on "Food for Fitness."

Members named to a nominating committee were Mrs. John Couch, Mrs. Ed Simpson and Mrs. Lewis Underwood.

Mrs. Virgil Little and Mrs. R. L. Ford attended the meeting as guests.

Next meeting will be Sept. 27, in the home of Mrs. Ed Simpson.

B-PWC Women Meet To Discuss Conference

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club gathered at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, Wednesday, for a noon session called by Mrs. Jane Ross of Pecos, director of District 8. The group met for the purpose of planning a district conference to be held in Pecos, Oct. 20-21. Mrs.

Nell Frazier was named chairman of the Big Spring workshop, to be held there.

During the business session, directed by Mrs. Fred McGowan, president, Mrs. Cass Hill gave a report on a planning conference held in Odessa, Aug. 19. Others attending the Odessa conference were Mrs. B. N. Ralph, Mrs. Zella Reeves, Mrs. Delphia Gordon and Miss Edith Gay.

Mrs. McGowan announced that National Business Women's Week is set for Oct. 7-13. Chairman, Mrs. Anne Hardy, will begin the week with a kick-off breakfast at the Wagon Wheel. The week's theme will be "How the B and PW Club Can Help the City."

Members were told that Mrs. Bess Beeman of Austin, chairman of national security under civic participation, is working to place B and PW clubs in the lead, promoting shelter management programs in their communities. Other points she stressed were individual training programs in schools, and making certain that club members, as well as other citizens, are educated in ways of self-preservation and security. Mrs. Frazier was appointed chairman of national security with committee members, Mrs. Lois O'Bar and Mrs. C. L. Rowe.

Members were urged to write to John Cox and John Connally, candidates for governor of Texas, stressing the importance of an equal rights amendment.

Wing Wives Entertain At Webb

Mrs. John Summa and Mrs. Robert McCann were co-hostesses to the Wing Headquarters Wives at the Officer's Club Tuesday. Mrs. Harry Hon, chairman, welcomed new members prior to a business meeting, during which several announcements were made.

Mrs. Wilson H. Banks announced that the Gray Ladies course will start next week. She urged all interested members to take the training, and render their services to the base hospital.

Help in making choir robes for the children's choir at the chapel is being sought as announced by Mrs. Bedford R. Underwood. Also ladies are needed for the thrift shop on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Helpers are asked to call Mrs. Veryl Hewitt at AM 4-8600.

Reservations for the OWC luncheons should be made before Oct. 2, as the new permanent list is being compiled. Bridge lessons, to be taught by Mrs. Glenn Lingsen, will begin Sept. 12 at 1 p.m. at the Officer's Club.

One guest, Sula Conoley, aunt of Mrs. Charles A. Smith, was introduced.

Program Is Presented

The Cedar Crest Parent Teacher Association had its first meeting of the year Thursday evening. Charlene Hulm delivered the invocation.

Members voted on a membership drive, and agreed that five dollars will be given to the room with the most members. They also voted that a program, including all the children, will be held on Father's Night which is scheduled in March. A money raising project will be the Halloween carnival.

Mrs. Park's second grade won the room count. Mrs. Stan Hudson won the door prize. A "Miss Cedar Crest Pageant" was presented, with each teacher modeling a gown and exhibiting her sewing skill. Mrs. Ruther Rutherford won the crown.

Lees Club Has Sewing Program

Mrs. James Eiland, Home Demonstration agent for Glasscock and Martin counties, presented the Lees HD Club program, Wednesday at the club house. Mrs. J. J. Overton was hostess.

Mrs. Eiland presented a demonstration on basic sewing steps. She stressed the importance of buying the correct material for the style, and to match the size of thread and needle to the fabric texture.

During a business session, conducted by Mrs. E. L. Newsom, president, members voted to change the meeting date to the first Monday of each month, 1:30 p.m. at the club house.

It was announced that Lees Club placed fourth in a community progress program, sponsored by Texas Electric Service Company.

The next meeting was scheduled for Oct. 1, 1:30 p.m., at the club house, with Mrs. A. H. Newsom, hostess.

Winter Cover Crop

This rye cover crop, grown on the Big Spring Experiment Station farm, shows how a protective cover can be used to prevent wind erosion in the Martin-Howard county areas.

Conservationist Stresses Need For Area Cover Crops

Sand, in the Martin-Howard County Soil Conservation District, generally needs no encouragement to blow. An annual job for the farmers in the area is getting prepared for the wind erosion season. Farmland without protective cover can be a sure way of asking for the sand to blow.

Charles O. Mickelson, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, who has recently been assigned to the Big Spring office, sets out some facts on cover crops.

"Farmers in the Martin-Howard SCS district are being encouraged to grow as much cover on their land as possible," he said. "A good growing cover crop can reduce wind erosion. The farmer has no control over blowing wind but he can reduce the amount of lost sand."

"This can be accomplished by using close-growing grasses, legumes, or small grains. Such crops provide a protective cover on areas subject to erosion during periods when the major crops do not furnish adequate cover. They can be worked into farming operations in several ways. For example, a cover crop of small grain qualifies as a conservation crop. Under the 1962 program the crop could be used for grazing from Jan. 1 to May 1, 1962," Mickelson said.

"Cover crops, such as small grain, can be planted on blank rows under the present system of skip-row cotton farming, and should be done in the fall. The cover will be growing during the winter and spring. Before cotton planting next spring, the cover crop can be killed and the residue left on the surface to help keep down wind erosion and retain soil moisture.

"Cover crops can also be used in rotation with soil depleting crops, such as cotton," Mickelson said. "These soil-improving crops are essential in maintaining and improving the condition of the soil. High residue producing crops return organic material to the soil, improving its condition. It adds to plant food content and pays off in succeeding crops. The soil's ability to absorb and retain moisture is also strengthened."

Mickelson said another use of small grain, as a cover crop, is in keeping roads and turnrows from blowing.

Judge To Take No Lie Test On Oil Deals

DALLAS (AP)—Dist. Judge David Moore of Gladewater has decided not to take a lie detector test about his East Texas oil dealings, the Dallas News reported today.

The newspaper said Moore advised the Texas House Investigating Committee of his decision Thursday. Committee members invited the jurist to undergo such a test Aug. 29 when he testified at a hearing on slanted wells.

"After careful consideration and extended consultations, I find no just reason for undergoing an inconclusive, unacceptable and experimental mechanical procedure as a measure of my integrity," Moore wrote to Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger, chairman of the committee.

Although Moore appeared before the committee last month, he failed to reappear as it requested at a further hearing the first of this week. Moore said he understood the House group had excused him as a witness.

Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, one of the committee members, invited Moore to undergo a lie detector test. The jurist said at the time he would consider the matter and advise the lawmakers later.

Moore had testified two slanted wells found among his oil holdings were deviated without his knowledge and he learned about this only after the state's current investigation began.

8 Persons Killed In 2-Car Collision

ANTONITO, Colo. (AP)—Eight persons were killed in a two-car collision three miles south of here Thursday.

Sheriff Amos Abeyta said one car apparently veered across U.S. 285 and hit the other.

The sole survivor, Fred Bradish Jr., 39, of Fort Worth, was in a hospital at Alamosa in critical condition.

Killed in one car were Sam Jose Rodriguez, Julian Trujillo, Robert Padilla, Gilbert Padilla, David Padilla, 18, and an unidentified man, all of Espanola or Hernandez, N.M. Dead in the other car were Ford Bradish Sr., 77, and his wife, Eunice, 68, of Fort Worth.

THE NEW CHEVROLET TRUCK... featuring power and durability

Chevrolet Lists Truck Features

A broad list of improvements is offered in the 1963 Chevrolet truck line.

Among the major features are a lighter weight, more efficient six-cylinder power, addition of an economical four-cylinder engine, suspension redesign for more favorable ride, durability, lead capacity and new frame designs tailored for specific load requirements.

J. E. Conlan, assistant general sales manager for trucks, outlined new developments in the line. He cited new 230 cubic inch and 292 cubic inch, six-cylinder engines of 140 and 165 horsepower; availability of the 153 cubic inch, 90 horsepower, four-cylinder engine in half-ton forward control models, the first Chevrolet four-cylinder truck engine since 1928.

He also pointed out the coil spring independent front suspension replacing torsion bars on most light-duty models; two-stage coil rear springs and optional cantilever leaf type auxiliary rear springs in conventional half- and three-fourth ton models; new front suspension in medium and heavy-duty series; ladder-type, channel section frames on most one-half and three-fourths ton models for easier mounting of special bodies; reduction of the overall width of most medium and heavy-duty models reduced more than seven inches for better maneuverability in narrow roads or alleys.

Other new features of the trucks are alternating current generators on all but the Corvair 95 series; self-adjusting brakes on all Corvair 95 series; positive crankcase ventilation system and improved exhaust system durability on all models; fuller Roadranger transmission available on heavy-duty diesels and all models with 409 cubic inch gas engines.

Ammeter and oil pressure gauges have replaced tell-tale gauges in the instrument cluster of 1½ and 2-ton models to give direct readings on the rate of generator charge and oil pressure, particularly important in operations involving long periods of engine idling. Adoption of alternating-current generators across the line, except for the Corvair 95, assures adequate electrical output at long periods of engine idle.

A safety feature of the new line is the relocation for better visibility of front directional signal lamps from the hood panel to the side face of the cowl on all medium and heavy-duty models, except tilt-cabs.

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Dean of students Robert Burks reported enrollment at Pan American College hit a fall semester record of 2,043 Thursday. The previous high was 2,038 students in 1960.

Jarratts Return From Baptist Meeting In Dallas

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Jarratt have returned from Dallas where he participated in the Texas Baptist Executive board meeting.

The session spotlighted an evangelistic crusade aimed at reaching more than two million Latin Americans with the Gospel message in 1964. Texas Baptists are backing a nationwide evangelistic crusade in Japan next year.

Of the 2½ million Texans of Latin American background, only about 60,000 belong to any evangelical Protestant church, according to Dr. C. Wade Freeman, director of evangelism for Texas Baptist State Missions. Speakers at the board meeting included Rev. Suichi Matsumura, Tokyo, director of the "New Life Movement," and the Rev. W. H. (Dub) Jackson, Southern Baptist foreign missionary to Japan.

Action on the Latin - American evangelism crusade must be adopted by the Baptist General Convention Oct. 31-Nov. 1 to be effective. The board recommended accepting a $5 million dollar Baptist hospital in Amarillo.

Fatal Collision

WAXAHACHIE (AP)—A car-train collision north of here killed Mrs. Dick Callendar of Waxahachie Thursday. Caroline Derr, also of Waxahachie, was injured as their car was hit by a south-bound passenger train.

Problem Of Agriculture Itself

The high point of the Billie Sol Estes inquiry came when Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles Murphy appeared as a witness before a Senate investigating committee. Previous testimony indicated that if favoritism had been shown Estes in his dealings with the Department of Agriculture, Murphy would have knowledge of it.

His testimony was anticlimactic. He disarmed his inquisitors (save Republican members) by expressing wonder that the sprawling bureaucracy of the Department of Agriculture worked as well as it did. He denied that any favoritism had been shown Estes, adding that he would have known about it since he had to approve questioned cotton acreage allotments. He pleaded guilty to bad judgment revealed by hindsight. A former subordinate subsequently testified that favoritism must have been shown, but he did not pinpoint. Even if Estes were to appear after his scheduled Sept. 24 trial, there is little possibility he would completely avoid refuge in the Fifth.

Thus, it now appears that the congressional phase of the Estes case has just about run its course. The whole record is clouded by the absence of a key witness, Henry Marshall, an investigator for the Department of Agriculture who died more than a year ago under mysterious circumstances. If the investigation serves to promote stricter regulation of cotton acreage allotments and stricter enforcement of grain storage regulations it will have been worthwhile.

But Estes, for all his flair for fantastic financial manipulations is but a small, revealed symptom of a much greater problem, that of American agriculture itself. The case served notice again on farmers, commodity warehousemen and all those associated with the farm program that they had better redouble their efforts to solve the farm problem. Just a few more cases like that of Estes could lead to drastic congressional action which might bring down the towering, jerry-built edifice that is the federal farm program.

wait until then to manifest support. These lads will be representing the city, regardless of their showing. It therefore is a community obligation to let them know that the city takes a pride in them and that it expects them to take pride in the city. If the team will be backed in this manner, and if it will represent us in this manner, this will be a successful season.

Pride Working Two Ways

Today begins a new season for the Big Spring High School football team. We hope it will be a successful one because it is a satisfying one. That does not put pre-eminence on a win-lost record, but upon playing the game in the best traditions and in an interesting, plucky manner.

It will be two weeks before the team opens at home, but there's no need to

Marquis Childs In Or Out, It Must Be Dealt With

LONDON—The latest public opinion polls show an increasing majority in Britain opposed to joining the European Common Market.

The issues involved in adhering to the Treaty of Rome, with its common markets, courts and councils designed to enforce a supranationality, are so complex that even the experts do not fully understand them. Therefore, popular polls are more or less meaningless. They do, however, reflect a hardening of opinion ominous for Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

THE VOCAL OPPOSITION comes from two extremes. On the right, Lord Beaverbrook, with his mass-circulation Daily Express, sounds the old trumpet call of Britain's grandeur and the imperial past. The anti-Common Market League is holding impassioned rallies to stir popular prejudice against linking proud old England with such a continental scheme. The latest Daily Mail poll showed the public opposition increasing from 41.7 to 52.2 percent. A bloc of left-wing Socialists argues that if Britain joins with Europe, the structure of social benefits and labor's control over hours and wages will be jeopardized.

This conveniently ignores the fact that only through high productivity and a continuing rise in exports to Western Europe and other major trade areas can the high standard be maintained. Forty percent of the total exports are going to Western Europe, and eventually—unless Britain becomes a member of the market—they will be subject to a prohibitive tariff wall.

HUGH GAITSKELL, leader of the Labor Party, is maintaining a shrewd neutrality. One local election after another during the past nine months has encouraged his belief that with liberal support he will become prime minister at the next national election. While most of the big unions support entry into the market, a surprising 2,000,000 votes were cast against it at the recent Trade Union Congress.

For Macmillan, the realities of power—or the lack of it—compel him to urgent efforts to find a satisfactory way out of today's tangled uncertainty. His inevitable discovery, as he tries to cope with the commonwealth prime ministers, is that their authority is provisional and tentative, just as is his.

THE ORIGINAL PLAN was to have ready for this week's Commonwealth meeting the terms agreed to by the Common Market commissioners at Brussels. With that having failed in a troubled all-night session at Brussels on Aug. 5, the most that can be hoped for is Common wealth accord on trusting the Macmillan government to look after Commonwealth interests.

That is a large order. Bluff, hearty

Big Enough To Be Worthwhile

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Bill Phelps, a retired repairman at a coal mine, considers his small-size model train a waste of time. His model is 12 feet long, 5 feet high and runs around a 400-foot track in his yard.

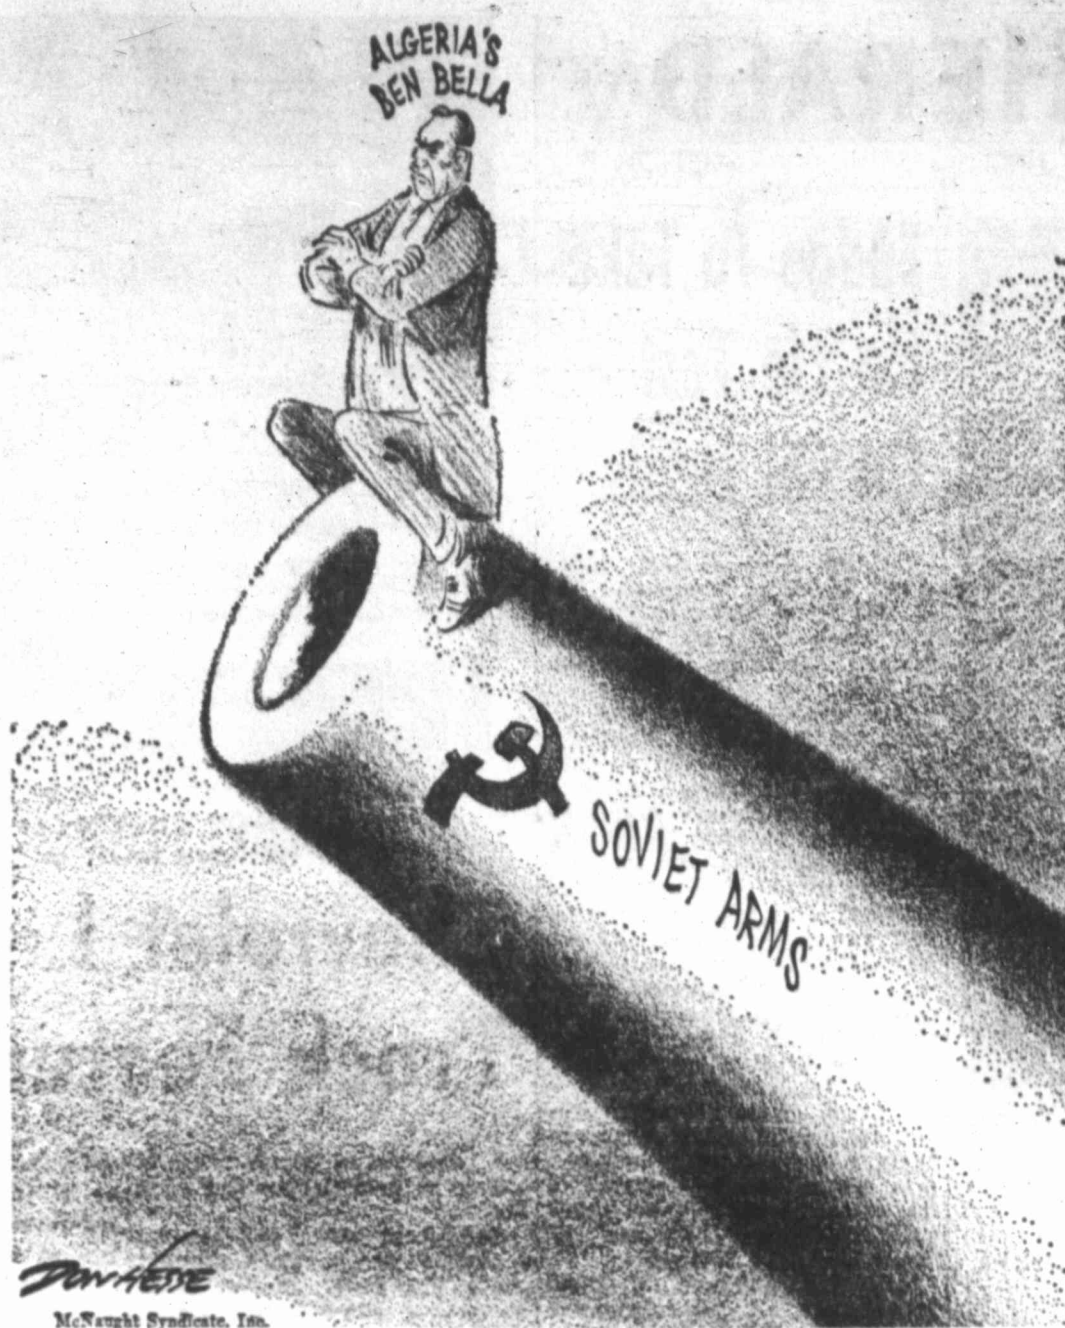

"I figure as long as a man puts in a lot of spare time on a hobby, he might as well get something out of it," he says as he rides friends around his private track.

A Man Can Grow Old

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—After 19 years of spare time labor, Walter Lieske has launched his boat.

The sailing craft is 34 feet long, 10 feet wide and has a 52-foot mast and a 4-cylinder auxiliary engine.

Lieske had been building the boat in the yard of his home since 1943.

James Marlow Cold Comfort For Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gave Fidel Castro cold comfort when he said this country sees no immediate need for American military action against Communist-run Cuba.

open for action—direct or indirect—by Cuban refugees with American help. Peace in the Caribbean looks a long way off.

Kennedy at his news conference Thursday warned Russia and Castro this country will move in militarily if Cuba gets aggressive toward the United States or any Western Hemisphere country.

AS OF NOW, the President said—explaining Cuba is under "our most careful surveillance"—"Communist supplies and technicians being supplied Castro do not justify or require direct American military intervention."

Then near the end of his prepared statement the President threw in a single sentence which is bound to keep Castro edgy and undoubtedly was intended to:

"We shall continue to work with Cuban refugee leaders who are dedicated as we are to that nation's future return to freedom."

It was Cuban refugees who made a disastrous invasion attempt on their homeland in the spring of 1961 at the Bay of Pigs. It was disastrous because they got no back-up American military support.

From Kennedy's words it seems sensible to conclude this country will help the refugees recapture Cuba from communism. Left unsaid was how or when. The months ahead should show what Kennedy meant.

PERHAPS THE Kennedy statement will put an end for a while to what has become a kind of international shouting match between him and Premier Khrushchev.

For weeks the American public has been informed through its newspapers that Castro was getting Soviet help in military supplies and technicians. Then Khrushchev thought it appropriate to

On Sept. 2 a joint Russian-Cuban statement in Moscow said the supplies and men were going to Castro. Members of Congress, inflamed by the statement which only repeated what was already known, called on Kennedy for action.

THE PRESIDENT acted in a statement of his own. This said the Cuban military buildup wasn't of the kind that could be used for aggression outside Cuba but if it ever takes that turn the "most serious consequences" will follow.

To Your Good Health Celiac Disease Is Common In Childhood

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: We have recently been told that our 2-year-old daughter might have celiac disease. Do you have any information on the subject?—M. C. S.

Increasing numbers of parents are learning that their children have—or may have—celiac disease.

It is an ailment that in recent years is being recognized more often. There's no indication that it is more frequent. Years ago it doubtless accounted for many a "sickly child" for whose problem no explanation was known.

The name itself—celiac—merely means "abdominal," because in some forms the stomach is distended and there are digestive troubles.

Technically, some prefer to call it a "malabsorption syndrome," because that is really what it is: symptoms which result when food is not properly absorbed by the system.

Total nutrition, and particularly vitamin absorption is insufficient, so the child is weak, loses weight, and shows other signs of lacking vitamins. Another sign is diarrhea.

This does not mean that the child has not been getting vitamins; it's simply that he can't make use of them. Large doses of Vitamin D, and specially-arranged diet are the basic treatments.

Some cases are probably hereditary; others can be the result of an acquired digestive disturbance.

Another form of the disease is called sprue, which is more severe and has been known longer. Again there are different varieties of this, but they follow much the same pattern: loss of weight and strength; gas; diarrhea; inflammation of the tongue; loss of pigment, or coloring matter, in the skin; distention of the abdomen.

Again it is a problem of the body not absorbing vitamins, particularly the fat-soluble ones, but also some of the water-soluble vitamins.

Treatment for sprue involves bed rest, special diet free of wheat and rye products and especially low in fats, plus large doses of vitamins.

Where in earlier times celiac disease went unrecognized, today the trend is in the opposite direction. Doctors, now realizing the significance of the ailment, suspect it when it may not in fact be present. But that, I certainly believe, is as it should be. A high quotient of suspicion is a good safeguard.

Since celiac disease isn't always easy to identify, especially in milder forms, some parents are going to be warned that their children might have it, and can be relieved when it's a false alarm.

Most of these cases can, in any event, be arrested or even ended by proper treatment, but skilled attention is required.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have always thought that oleomargarine is as good for you as butter, but my sister-in-law says people need animal fat. If this is so, don't you get enough animal fat from meats and whole milk?

I use margarine for economy but will change to butter if it means better health for my family.—G. T.

Don't change on my account. There isn't enough difference between them to affect the health. Of course you get animal fat from meats and from milk. I eat butter only because I like it better.

NOTE TO G. L.: There is no great risk in plastic surgery on the nose. And yes, the sagging skin around the eyes often can be helped by such surgery.

"Don't Quit Because Of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible, he uses readers' questions in his column.

Around The Rim

Voice From Valhalla

(This letter, bearing an unusual airmail stamp, was found in our mailbox yesterday, and is "reproduced" here verbatim—Bob Smith.)

Dear Moderns: From my vantage point up here where us old soldiers go after we just fade away, it seems to me that the thinking of my countrymen has undergone a radical change. In my day, we had genuine fire-eating politicians, and rabble-rousers second to none. Your lobbyists seem awfully pale by comparison. We always could raise an army overnight to fight for any noble cause, whereas it takes a major disaster to jar you out of your lethargy.

TIME AND AGAIN you talk when you should act, and you're just about talked yourselves right out of your position as the leader of the free world. Oh, you did fight back once over in Korea, but just when you had the enemy bleeding to death, you signed a peace treaty and let him claim the victory.

We didn't fight that way in my time. We fought to the death, no quarter asked and none given. Remember how I sent my division against a few duped Reds? Then that big debate came up and again, until our casualties reached preposterous proportions, but that did not stop us. We mounted one furious charge after another, until there weren't enough of us left to form a good drill team, but we took the hill. It was a glorious victory in spite of the fact that the hill had no military significance. And I'll guarantee you one thing—those Reds knew they had been in a fight when that day was over!

AS GLORIOUS as that battle was, however, my brightest hour was when I trapped Crazy Horse on the Little Big Horn. We demoralized those Indians so badly with that little set-to that they ran all the way to Canada, and never did come back.

But enough of my exploits. Let an old-timer give you people the benefit of some sound advice, based on a life's experience and an eternity of watching:

IF I ONCE more were mortal, I would send my armored cavalry charging into that wall in Berlin, smash it down, defy anyone to try to put it back up. I would ride over to Cuba and hang Castro and his cohorts from the highest pole in town. I would neither talk nor try to explain my actions. I would flex my muscles and dare the rest of the world to do anything about it.

Talk, no! Action, si!

THIS WOULD guarantee an evaporation of world tensions. And I can promise you this: When I got through with it, this would be a changed world!

But enough advice. I've a busy schedule with choir practice and that big debate coming up with the angels' team. But I would like to ask one small favor—if any of you ever happen to be in Canada, I wish you would keep a sharp eye peeled for a scalp with long, yellow, curly hair. Somehow, I'd feel better if I knew it were back in the good old U.S.A.

Yours very truly,
GEN. GEORGE A. CUSTER

The Tender Subject Of Taxes

Anyone who yearns to be all things to all men should write a column.

Only 10 days ago I wrote what seemed at the time a Milquetoastish column on the prospects of general tax reform and revision by Congress in 1963. It included my conviction that our Topsy-like tax structure certainly needs both. But it also stated my belief that a suggested flat tax rate of 22 percent on all incomes, both great and small, was (1) unfair and (2) would never get past vote-seeking politicians, anyway.

WELL, SIR, for my pains I have received a bushel of mail accusing me of being part of (1) the radical right because "you are obviously a rich white who doesn't want to pay her fair share of taxes" and (2) a member of the Communist conspiracy because "anyone can see you are jealous of rich people and want to take all their money away through taxation."

Others merely thought I was a John Birchite, a socialist, Attila the Hun, a liberal or a disciple of Henry Luce. All of which is added confirmation of a discovery made over the years, i.e., that nothing so rouses the beast in otherwise rational people as a discussion of taxes. It confirms my amazement that any tax measure got through Congress this year and my pessimism that real tax reform, so badly needed, will get anywhere in '63.

HOWEVER, my conviction that the graduated income tax is here to stay, like it or lump it, has strong confirmation in bills that were introduced in Congress this year, without results, and that probably will be reintroduced in much the same form in the next session of Congress.

These are bills for reform of personal and corporate income taxes, by Reps. A. S. Herlong Jr. (D-Fla.) and Howard H. Baker (R-Tenn.). These two members of the House propose sharp but graduated reduction in both fields over a five-year period. They are convinced that such reductions would be a stimulus to business and a sharp prod to economic growth at home, no less than to renewed confidence abroad in the American way and dollar.

THE MESSRS. HERLONG and Baker would, over a five-year period, reduce the present whopping 91 per cent tax rate in the highest income brackets to 42 per cent. In the lowest income bracket (up to $2,000 of taxable income), these congressmen would cut the take by one point annually until, at the end of five years, the tax stood at 15 per cent.

In between these extremes, the Herlong-Baker measures would make comparable cuts so that taxpayers now in the 30 per cent group would be reduced to 18 per cent, the 50 percenters would be whittled to 23 per cent and the 78 per cent clan would eventually be pegged at 32 per cent.

THESE MEN WOULD cut corporate taxes so that the present "normal" tax of 30 per cent on net income would wind up as 22 per cent at the end of five years; the 22 per cent surtax on all net income above $25,000 would be shaved to 20 per cent; and the combined tax rate would drop from 52 to 42 per cent.

The authors of these measures believe their bills would "usher in a new era of well-being for the American people and strength for the nation." Our economy, they point out, "is one of the most tax-oppressed among the major producing nations of the world."

WHETHER ONE AGREES with them in their theories or their percentage cuts, their bills show the way the tax wind is blowing in one sector of Washington. But taxation is such a tender subject, their noggins are apt to be bloodied, if unbowed, before the '63 session ends. And remember: If you think these two gentlemen are members of the radical right or the Communist conspiracy, for goodness' sake, write them and spare me!

Silence Gives Wrong Impression

WASHINGTON — Nearly two weeks have passed since the news was given out that the Soviets had begun an arms buildup in Cuba. The United States so far as known has sent no protest to the Soviet government against its flagrant violation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Meanwhile, the Soviet government has taken advantage of America's silence and has filled the broadcast waves of the world with one propaganda blast after the other, characterizing President Kennedy's call-up of reserves as a "provocative" action. The latest accusation actually turns the tables on the United States and warns the Washington government that it must not do anything in Cuba to interfere with the Castro government's policy of acquiring Soviet arms.

The claim is reiterated that Cuba is arming for "defense." President Kennedy thus has given away a propaganda advantage by appearing to accept the Castro and Soviet arguments that the supplying of arms and the sending of technicians are simply for defensive purposes.

IT IS a puzzle just why Mr. Kennedy chooses to forfeit the initiative in propaganda. Time was when the American government uttered its protests through formal diplomatic channels and made them public in situations comparable to the present controversy over the Soviet buildup in Cuba. The action of the Moscow government not only affects the Monroe Doctrine as a policy but is directly related to America's own security. To place missile pads and missiles in Cuba, which is just 90 miles away from our own shores, is an act that can be construed as hostile to the United States. Yet the administration prefers to say nothing by way of formal protest.

The seriousness of the situation is not diminished but actually increased by the failure to make any protest before the world. Unfortunately, the Soviets may come to believe that they have successfully bluffed the United States into silence, and they may take further chances in the "cold war." Moscow in its latest outburst even hints at a nuclear war if the United States does anything about Cuba.

THE IMPRESSION in Washington is that the administration has all along been afraid of "breaching tensions" by saying anything to Russia about the Cuban buildup. Still, the Soviets do not mind increasing tensions by their propaganda statements.

The administration has known for a long time about the Soviet arms buildup in Cuba. On Sept. 2, the United Press International in a dispatch from Washington said:

"A STATE DEPARTMENT spokesman said today that the Soviet announcement of arms aid to Cuba 'merely confirms what has been going on in recent months.' The spokesman said:

"The announcement doesn't seem to represent anything new. We've been saying right along that the Soviet Union has been sending military equipment and technicians to Cuba."

But the American people were not told officially about this until about two weeks ago, and there is no public record that the United States has filed any protest with the Soviet government concerning the arms buildup. Naturally, the Soviets would construe this as an acquiescence and would be inclined to increase their military buildup in Cuba and begin to send arms to other parts of Latin America which they are planning to infiltrate through agents already on the job.

SEN. STROM THURMOND (D-S.C.), referring to some of Mr. Kennedy's recent statements, said the other day in the Senate:

"The President's comments indicate strongly that the Monroe Doctrine has recently been reinterpreted with major omissions to the extent that the Monroe Doctrine is no longer a bulwark of U. S. foreign policy which it was for over a hundred years."

In Congress, members of both parties are restive and uneasy about the apparent surrender of the initiative to the Soviet Union. Authority to call up 150,000 reserves has been overwhelmingly endorsed, but this does not overcome the feeling in Congress that the United States is being portrayed over the airwaves as afraid to stand up to the Soviets.

Local Episcopalians Plan To Attend Mexico Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Anderson, Dr. Milton Talbot, and the Rev. Donald N. Hungerford, all members of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, are attending the Synod of the Southwest, Province VII of the Episcopal Church being held in Mexico City Sept. 17-21. This first synod meeting ever held outside the territorial United States, will be the largest gathering of Episcopalians ever held in Mexico. The host of the meeting is the Rt. Rev. Jose Garcia Saucedo and the Missionary District of Mexico.

In addition to these Big Spring delegates, others from the Northwest Texas Episcopal Diocese include The Rt. Rev. George H. Quarterman, Bishop; The Rev. Morris Elliot, St. Angelo; The Rev. Alan Conley, Colorado City; The Rev. James Mock, Plainview; The Rev. Edward Miller, Amarillo; James Whiteside, Lubbock; Tom Porter, Sweetwater; W. C. Hubbard, the Rev. Richard Neal and Mrs. A. T. Barrett Jr., Midland, and Mrs. Davis Scarborough, Abilene.

In addition to the opportunity to see first hand the mission program in the Spanish Rite Mexican Episcopal Church, delegates will hear Presiding Bishop Arthur Lichtenberger of the American Church, worship in 300-year-old Cathedral of San Jose de Gracia. The local delegates are flying a chartered flight on Braniff Airways from Dallas.

THE RESOURCES AVAILABLE TO A TRUE MAN OF GOD IN OVERCOMING OPPOSITION TO GOD'S PURPOSES

Scripture—Nehemiah 2: 4; 6:15.

By N. SPEER JONES
JUST AS last week's lesson was devoted to the rebuilding of the temple in Jerusalem, this week's is occupied fully with the rebuilding of the walls, which were also destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar's captain of the guard when that ruler captured the city in 586 B.C.

Here we meet the third of three tolerant Persian rulers, Artaxerxes I. His name means "he whose empire is perfected." He was also called Artaxerxes Longimanus (or "longhand"), because his right hand was longer than his left.

He ruled the Near East for 40 years, according to the throne in 465 B.C., and dying in 425 B.C. Plutarch tells us that he was famous for his magnanimous character and for his valiance, a fact borne out by the fact that when he discovered he had been put on the throne by his father's murderer, he killed the latter and his sons.

GOLDEN TEXT

"So we built the wall . . . For the people had a mind to work."—Nehemiah 4:6.

In a hand-to-hand fight in the palace. He was not a conqueror, but devoted himself to maintaining the empire against various insurrections and threats of war.

His reign also sanctioned and established the Jewish religion by law in Jerusalem. Ezra was appointed priest and scribe, and the monarch's former cup-bearer, Nehemiah, was appointed governor.

Nehemiah spent his early years in Artaxerxes' capital, Susa. As a descendant of exiles, he felt a strong attachment to Judah and Jerusalem, as witness his great sadness on hearing of the low morale and poor conditions which had returned once more to that area.

It is possible that he may even have been related to the royal house of Judah, for he mentions Jerusalem as "the city of my fathers' sepulchres" (Nehemiah 2:5), and "most sepulchres in that time be-"

Lutherans To Attend Teachers Meet In Odessa

A church workers institute for Sunday School teachers of the Permian Basin Sunday School Association will be held at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Odessa Sunday, according to A. A. Graumann, superintendent of St. Paul Lutheran Sunday School.

Participating will be St. Paul Lutheran of Big Spring, Grace Lutheran of Midland, Faith Lutheran of Andrews, Redeemer Lutheran of Odessa, Zion Lutheran of Monahans, and Trinity Lutheran of Pecos. Registration will begin at 2:15 p.m. with program activities beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

A feature of the program will be a demonstration on teaching beginner or primary Sunday school classes by Mrs. Ray Cantrell, Big Spring. The institute program will also include a tape recording of the Rev. Albert Jesse, president of the Texas District, Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, entitled "Seek to Excel."

A panel discussion on how to improve singing in the Sunday school, will be led by the parochial school teachers of Odessa and Midland. Following the panel discussion Dr. Martin Koehnke's discussion "Man on a Mission" will be presented. A report on the district Sunday school superintendents' conference in Austin will be given by Walter Schneider, Midland. The closing devotion will be conducted by the Rev. Clair Wiederhott, Big Spring.

Church Support Comes From Tax In W. Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German Christians who are lax in their church contributions are apt to be punished to the full extent of the state law.

It might surprise some Americans, ever sensitive about church-state relations, but in West Germany Catholics and Protestants pay a special government-collected tax for support of their church.

It generally works out to 10 percent of their regular income tax and about one per cent of the average man's total income.

Income tax and church tax are paid together. The government keeps the proceeds of the one for itself and distributes the other to the churches.

In cases of delinquency, the same methods are used to compel payment.

Jews and other non-Christians do not share in the arrangement. Total church tax receipts in 1961 came to roughly 2.8 billion marks ($700 million). West Germany is divided about equally between Catholics and Protestants, the latter combined in a single national church, so the receipts tend to be shared 50-50.

This source of revenue is far more important than voluntary contributions made during services, which average about 50 pfennigs (12½ cents), and income from church property.

The tax was provided for in the 1919 Weimar Constitution to take

"Phariseism," others laud it as a maturing of religious sensibility.

The Rev. Kermit L. Long, pastor of Central Methodist Church, Phoenix, Ariz., charges in a Methodist publication, "Together, that numbing specter of ritualism has infected many Methodist churches."

The Rev. Mr. Long said his plea is not for shallow emotionalism in worship or a return to the amen corner or sawdust trail of early Methodism.

He urges a renewal of the "spontaneity, creativity and fervor which carried Methodism over America on the wings of young ideas."

He brands the liturgical revival as "religious status-seeking" in which there is a drifting toward the "lawdry imitation of high churches which supposedly possess more dignity and rank higher in social acceptance."

"Tasks performed by vote involve neither the mind nor the spirit," he said. "Only when worshippers are personally involved with all their minds and souls are they stimulated to greater effort and achievement."

"Each service should take us back to the headwaters of our faith. I refuse to believe that Methodism's early vigor has been so spent that it now must walk upon the crutch of ceremony."

Opposing the Rev. Mr. Long in the printed debate, The Rev. Roy Pitt Marshall, pastor of Summerdale, Pa., Methodist Church, feels that true worship, which is liturgical worship, requires congregational participation in every phase of the service.

In his view, those who speak vaguely of freedom and spontaneity envision the worship service as a continual experiment—a Sunday workshop conducted by the minister.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall believes liturgical worship may take place in a bare hall without choir and without vestments. It all depends upon whether or not the people take part—and how they do.

He feels certain things assist in such worship—such as a church building which reminds them of God and certain symbols, such as a cross and candles.

"Rather than abandon these aids to worship, the minister should teach the people what they mean," he said.

Bibles Declined

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Bible Society said that an offer to supply Russian language Bibles to the Moscow Patriarchate of the Russian Orthodox church has been turned down. The Patriarchate said that all the Bibles it needs, as well as other books required for worship, can be printed "in our national print shops."

Shortage Seen Of Ministers

STRATFORD, Tex. (AP)—If current trends continue, the number of ministers in Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) in the United States will drop from its present 7,500 to 4,000 by 1970.

Elmer D. Henson, dean of Brite College of Bible of Texas Christian University, said the decline would be mainly because of decreasing rural population, from which the majority of ministers are drawn.

Current statistics show, he said, that "the brotherhood shall produce only 700 ministers in the next seven years. This is in the face of losing 500 ministers a year to deaths and other causes."

do you remember?

Do you remember the first time you listened to a sea shell? And when you watched a sunflower turn toward the sun? And when you tried to guess where the pot of gold was at the end of the rainbow? Life is full of sweet mysteries for the young. Do you remember?

In fact, life reveals even more sweet mysteries as we grow older. When we think of these things, the mysteries of life, of God's care of us, of the wonders of the universe—you know, that's a way of praying! Yes, just thinking about God.

Fortunately, too, we have the Church—your church—a place to contemplate such things, to pray, to ask questions, and give thanks to Almighty God. Go to the church of your choice this Sunday. There you will find some of the answers . . . to some of these wondrous mysteries.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

YMCA Locker Is Burglarized

Three Latin American boys, about 12 years old, were rounded up by police Thursday night following theft of a billfold, money, a railroad watch, and other items, from a locker at the YMCA building.

Tom Enloe, 2701 Lynn, who was playing handball at the Y, reported the theft from his locker.

The boys were asked to leave the locker room twice when they were found inside. The back door to the room had been left open.

The same boys went to the police station about 10 p.m. and told officers that they had found a bicycle. They were later brought back to the station and questioned about the robbery, then juvenile officer Bob Darland let them go home.

The empty billfold, and tracks, were found a short distance away from the building.

Coleman's Inn was also burglarized during the past 24 hours. Mrs. Hugh Coleman reported $5 in pennies and 60 cases of beer missing. Entry was gained by knocking the hasp off a back door. An attempt was made to open the cigarette machine and juke box.

Lyndol Tyler reported to police that the distributor cap and rotor were taken from his car while parked at the "66" Cafe Thursday night.

Cabinets, door locks, and other hardware were reported missing from a building under construction at 2719 Larry about Sept. 6 or 7. Wanda Kelly, Cortise & Milch Construction Co., reported the value of missing items as $84.35.

Lakes Spilling

Area lakes continued to spill at a relatively fixed rate Friday, a week after heavy rains. Lake J. B. Thomas was at elevation 2250.82 feet a decline of .12 of a foot for the day. Lake Colorado City was at elevation 2070.70, a decline of .15 of a foot for the day.

All Persons May Be VA Volunteers

If you are as young as 15 or as old as 90 years and have the desire to be a volunteer worker at the Veterans Administration hospital—there's a place for you.

"We don't care how young or how old you may be," said Tolford Durham, chief of the social service at the hospital, "there's a place in the volunteer program where you can be of service and importance."

Durham, in company with VA Hospital Director V. J. Belda and Chaplain Clark O. Hitt, were guests of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club at its Thursday luncheon. Their appearance was to acquaint the club with some phases of the volunteer program and to call attention to the big volunteer indoctrination and training program slated Monday night at the hospital.

Belda told of the thousands of men, women and teen-agers in the nation who faithfully devote part of their time each week as volunteers in the VA hospitals. He said that the contribution these persons make is of tremendous importance and does much to make the lot of the ailing or disabled veteran happier.

He said that in the years to come, the number of veterans who will have hospitalization is bound to increase and that the need for volunteers will increase proportionately.

Durham devoted his part of the program to a recital of the widely assorted tasks that volunteers perform in the hospital. They write letters, he said, for patients who are illiterate or semi-illiterate or who are too ill to write for themselves. They help with entertaining patients and they offer yeoman service in transporting patients from place to place in the hospital as need arises. Some, he said, who are depressed by being in the presence of ill persons, yet who want to work, are provided with important work rolling bandages and preparing dressings away from the wards. Others work on the reception and discharge desk.

Citing the unimportance of how old or how young a volunteer may be, Durham spoke of one woman, who at the age of 78 years, became a regular and devoted volunteer worker. She continued in the work until she died, he said, and gained tremendous satisfaction out of the part she played in making things more comfortable for the patients.

Both Durham and Belda echoed the hope that all persons who can spare the time and who have the desire will be on hand at the hospital next Monday at 7:30 p.m. to attend the indoctrination session.

The club paid tribute by silent prayer to the memory of J. E. Smith, a long-time member, who died Thursday morning.

Soc Walker, vice president, presided at the meeting.

Announcement was made that the club would have as its guests next Thursday, the 12 boys and girls from two junior high schools whose essays on "The Contribution of Air Power to Freedom" have been rated as best.

Out of these 12, the boy and girl who have the best of all the themes will be selected as honorary base commander and honorary WAF commander at Webb AFB for the Kids Day Program set Sept. 22.

Stewart Posts Bond, Released

Paul D. Stewart, who faces revocation of his probated sentence, made some kind of new law in Howard County court house circles this week.

Stewart had been arrested pursuant to the order of the court that he appear for hearing Sept. 17 on a motion by the district attorney to revoke the probated sentence hanging over his head.

In all earlier cases of this kind, bond has not been allowed for a defendant facing such hearings. He simply remained in custody until the court ruled on his case.

In this case, however, Stewart, through his attorney, John Richard Coffey, moved that he be released on bail. Guilford Jones, district attorney, protested the motion.

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, set bond at $5,000. Stewart posted a bond regarded as satisfactory by the sheriff's office and has been released.

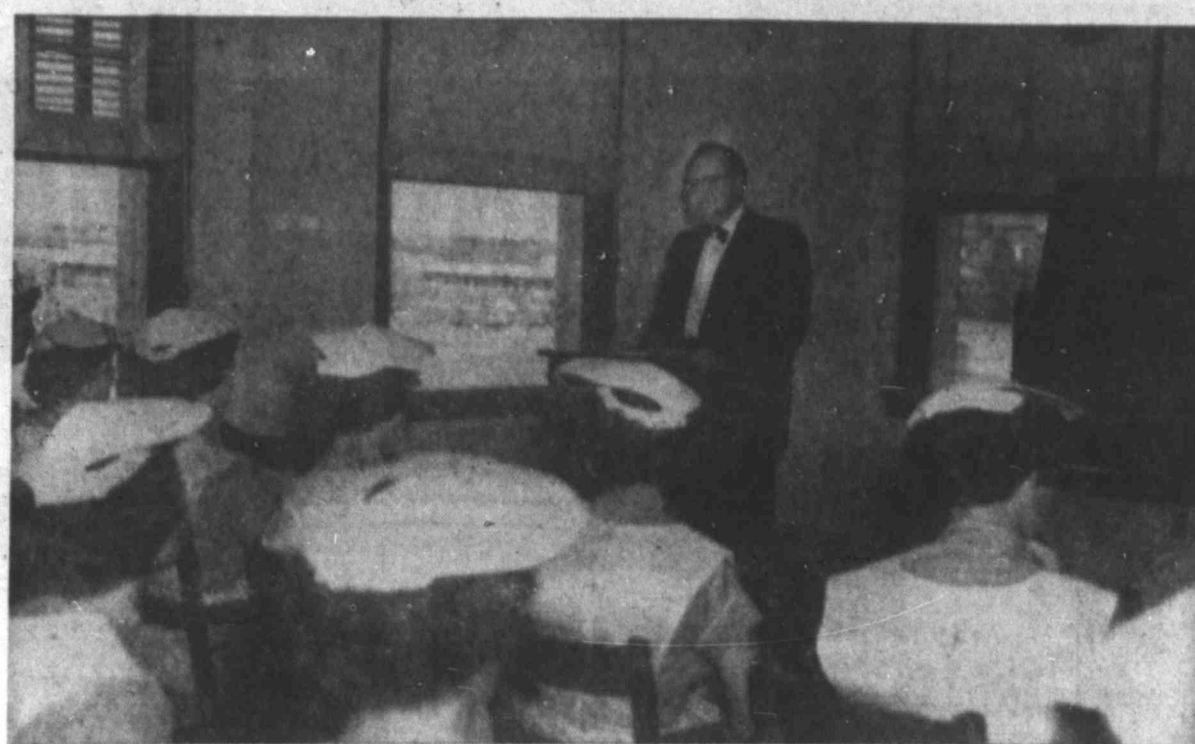

The hearing on his revocation will be heard Monday.

Coffman Child Dies This Morning

Wesley Carl Coffman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coffman, Coahoma, was found dead in his crib at 6:30 this morning. The justice of peace ruled death due to natural causes. Time of death was set at approximately 3:30 a.m. The child and his twin brother Leslie, were born last July 13.

Rites are pending at River Funeral Home.

Survivors include, besides the parents and twin brother, six brothers, Jackie Don, James Henry, Michael Dalton and twins Clifton and Clayton Coffman; one sister, Rebecca Marie; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Austin Coffman, Coahoma; paternal grandfather, Henry Harris, Big Spring; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bill Reynolds, Big Spring.

First Class Of Nurses

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, addressed the first class of student nurses to train at the hospital when they arrived here Thursday. They are attending the school of nursing at Odessa College.

and are taking the psychiatric portion of their training here. After orientation sessions Thursday and next Tuesday, they will begin working on the wards for most of their nine-week training period.

Eisenhower Urges GOP Unity At Dinner Honoring A Friend

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that Republicans should unite now and never let small differences damage the result.

Eisenhower came to this heavily Republican section of north-central Illinois as a guest at an appreciation breakfast honoring his old friend, Rep. Leslie Arends, House minority whip.

Eisenhower made a brief speech to about 1,000 enthusiastic citizens of this city of 28,000 population. "We should not allow small differences to separate our thinking. If two Republicans are competing in a primary election for an office, and one of them wins by even one vote, that man should have our full and unqualified support in the election," Eisenhower said.

"Let's never forget the basic purpose of Republicanism," Turning to the national picture, Eisenhower said: "We must never be weakened by any kind of a handicap that might carry the threat of domination. We do not want to foist our debts on our children, their children, and even their grandchildren."

"We must get the kind of people into office who will eliminate this Alice in Wonderland thinking. I believe we will obtain this with a GOP Congress," he said.

After his speech Eisenhower drove to the Kankakee airport to board a private plane for West Lafayette, Ind.

There, he was to transfer to a chartered plane for a flight back to Pennsylvania.

His reception in the Midwest was of a gala nature.

He came here at the head of a long motorcade from Rensselaer, Ind., for a ham and eggs breakfast in the Civic Auditorium.

"We will go well over last year's peak enrollment," Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, predicted. "There are enough students at Webb Air Force Base to put us over that mark and I expect to reach it Tuesday."

Last year's high was 729 students. The predicted new high of 750-800 students was indicated by the enrollment of almost 650 students during regular registration days Tuesday and Wednesday. Late registration continues through Sept. 21.

Classes began Thursday for both day and night courses.

College Enrolls 705 Students, Still Going Up

With more than a week of late registration remaining, Howard County Junior College enrollment reached 705 students Thursday night.

The building was completed last November, with kitchen, meeting room, store room, and rest rooms. It is completely air conditioned.

A barbecue will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Saturday, with members and guests present. A dance will begin at 9 p.m. with a band from Midland providing the music.

"We want every member present for this event," Post Commander Granville Miller said this week. "The auxiliary will join us for the barbecue and dance."

College Enrolls 705 Students, Still Going Up

With more than a week of late registration remaining, Howard County Junior College enrollment reached 705 students Thursday night.

The building was completed last November, with kitchen, meeting room, store room, and rest rooms. It is completely air conditioned.

A barbecue will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Saturday, with members and guests present. A dance will begin at 9 p.m. with a band from Midland providing the music.

"We want every member present for this event," Post Commander Granville Miller said this week. "The auxiliary will join us for the barbecue and dance."

Classes began Thursday for both day and night courses.

Smith Funeral Set Saturday

Funeral for John Enoch Smith, 54, who died Thursday morning, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the River Funeral Home Chapel. Elbert Garretson, Birdwell Church of Christ, will officiate. Following that, the body will be taken to Abilene for services at 3:30 p.m. in the Elliott Chapel, with interment in Elmwood Memorial Park.

Mr. Smith had been supervisor of customer accounting for Cosden Petroleum Corp. since his arrival here in 1956 and was an active member of the Kiwanis Club. He was a native of Bell County, Texas, and was employed with Wilson Packing Co. in Abilene from 1931 to 1955.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Adelle Smith; a daughter, Teresa Smith, Big Spring; two brothers, Carl Smith and Bishop Smith, both of Fort Stockton; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Cunningham, Big Spring, Mrs. Elmo Curry, San Angelo, Mrs. Delton Yarbrough, Fort Stockton.

Palbearers will be L. T. King, W. B. Crocker, R. O. Satterwhite, Ladd Smith, R. E. Dobbins and Maurice Griffith.

Wondering about having so-called "Bargain" glasses fitted...

...at a RISK to your VISION and COMFORT?

Don't let offers of so-called "bargain" eyeglasses fool you into risking your priceless vision. *Important elements could be left out of your prescription, and frames of inferior quality could be used in order to cut the cost of making your glasses. This could result in discomfort and improper vision.

At TSO, you can depend upon: (1) A careful, conscientious eye examination resulting in an accurate, complete prescription for the clearest, most comfortable vision possible, (2) The very finest quality lenses and frames, (3) Reasonable cost. ■ Finest quality single vision glasses are as low as $14.85; bifocals $17.85, including professional eye examination, lenses and frame. Finest quality single vision contact lenses are just $65, complete. Bifocal contact lenses also available at reasonable cost.

Convenient credit at no extra cost

INDEX

EXPLANATION: The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin relative to index of opposition, and is weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: A 50.0 team has been 70 points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of equal strength. It was originated in 1925 by Dick Dunkel.

Cambodia Has The World By Its Tail

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)

Cambodia is a dreamy land where peasants pull fish out of trees, the chief of state (ex-king) proclaims policy while clad in gym clothes and a river flows seasonally in opposite directions.

The nation has the world's great powers by the diplomatic tails.

The United States, Russia and China have important stakes in neutralist Cambodia. They have paid for their techs in money, goods and arms. Each is willing to pay more to woo Prince Norodom Sihanouk and his six million subjects.

The powers are vying over a comfortable little country that is never likely to starve.

Fish are so plentiful they literally leap into nets and can easily be plucked from the water by hand. Waters recede so quickly after the rainy season that fish sometimes are stranded in trees.

Communism and anti-communism have little meaning for the peasant. A U.S. official recently hired a servant whose last job had been with a Communist embassy. The servant was surprised when the Americans ignored a Communist holiday.

"I thought all Westerners were Communists," he said.

The peasant is content to fish and farm and leave the politicking to Sihanouk, their beloved and virtually unchallenged chief of state.

Sihanouk is full of surprises.

One of several princes, he was chosen king in the wartime 1940s by agreement of the occupying Japanese, Buddhist monks of two major denominations and the helpless French colonialists. In the post-war period Sihanouk abdicated to make his father king, and since his father's death he has chosen to be simply prince and chief of state. He plays piano and saxophone, likes Debussy, and composed "Cambodian Suite," a work played by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra on a world tour.

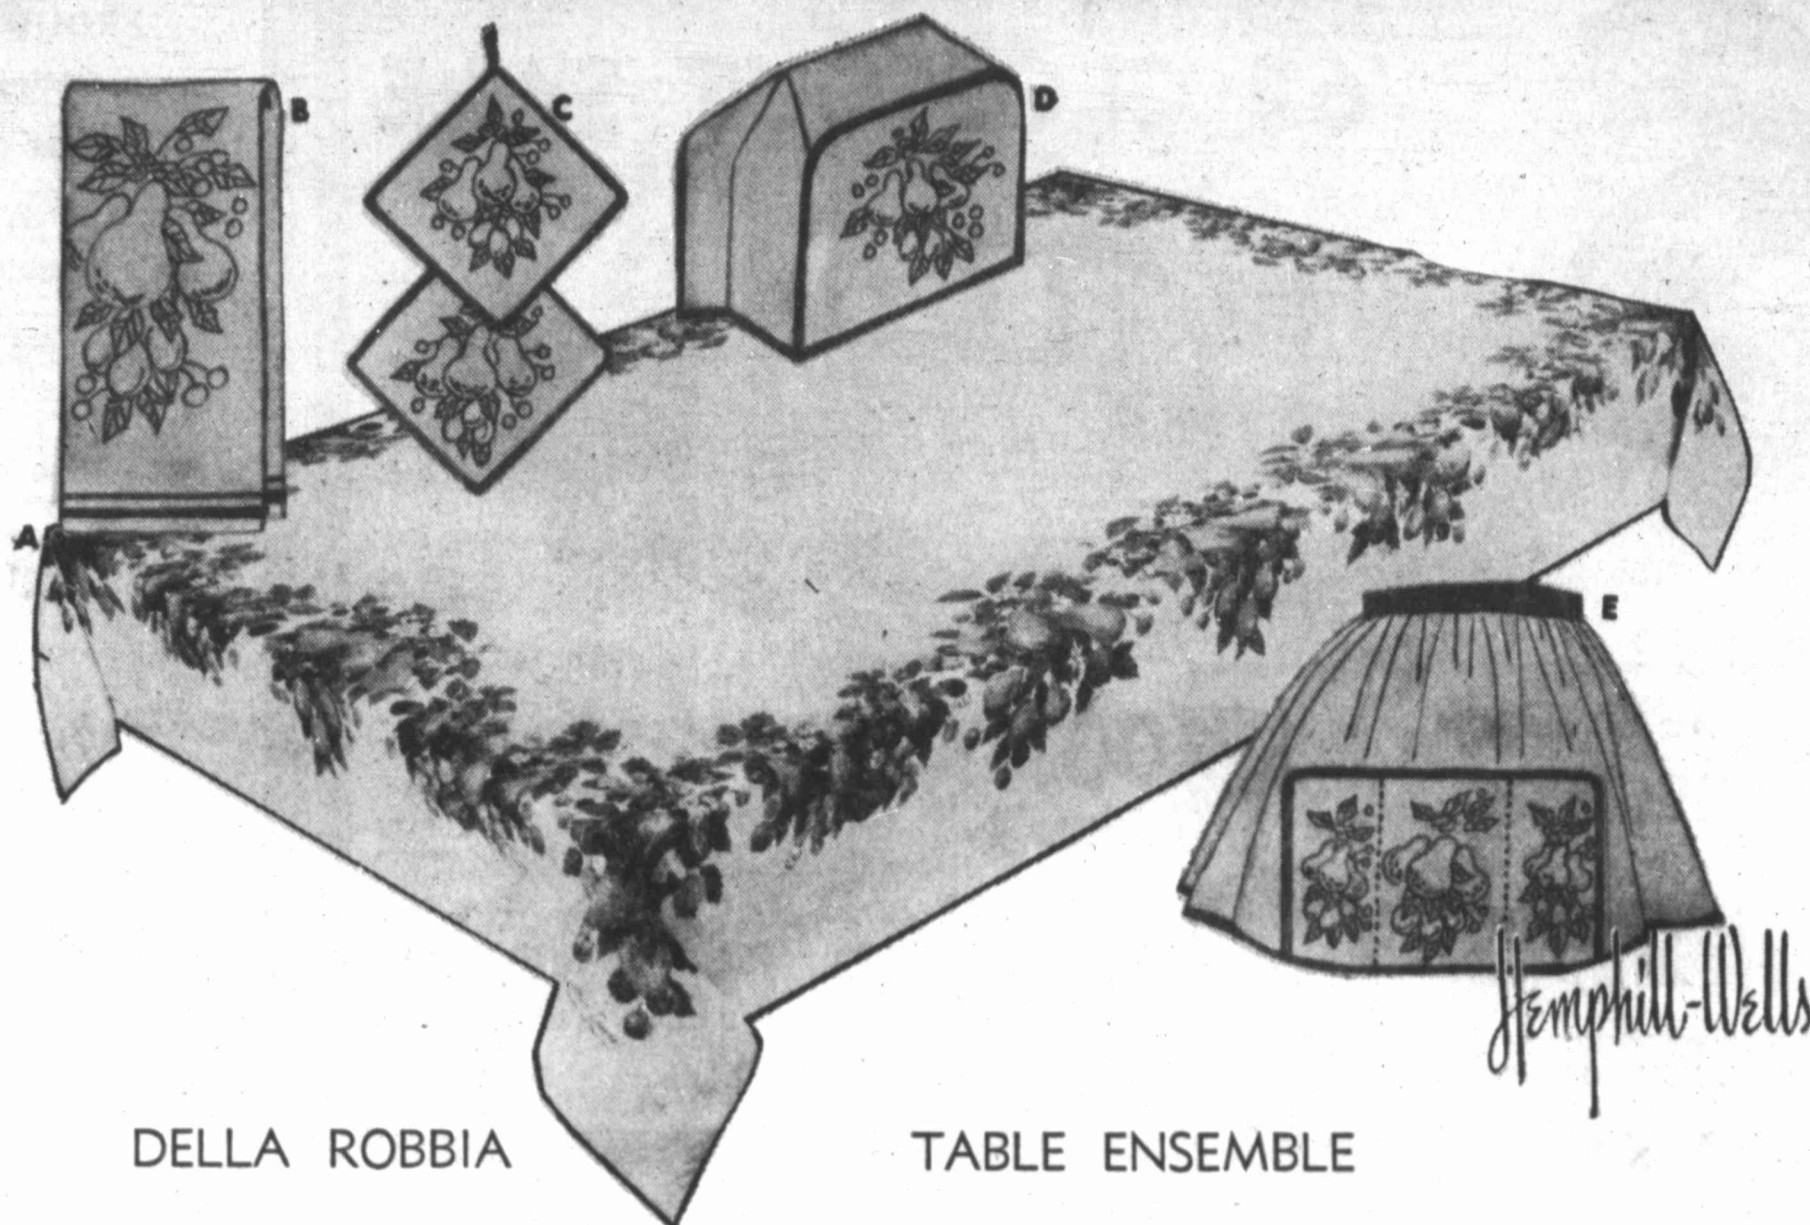

When Sihanouk is captain of the palace volleyball, soccer or basketball teams in match, the public is always invited. Sometimes his team even loses.

Possibly Sihanouk's favorite sport is discomfiting the great powers, knowing that much of his country's influence depends on his playing East against West. The powers put up with it because of what might be gained.

A Cambodian tip to the West could create a solid anti-Communist belt across the southern end of Indochina. A tip to the Communists might split Indochina down the middle and put Chinese troops on the borders of pro-Western Thailand and South Viet Nam.

Sihanouk has threatened to call in the Communist Chinese unless the West agrees to his latest proposal. He wants an 11-nation conference along the lines of the Geneva conference on Laos which would guarantee Cambodian neutrality.

The Communists quickly endorsed the proposal. The United States is hesitant.

To Be Candidate

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas County Republican chairman Peter O'Donnell, 38, said Thursday he will be a candidate for state GOP chairman. He made his announcement in telegrams to members of the Republican executive committee.

Congo Civil Service A Mass Of Confusion

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—The Congolese Minister of Interior had to take two hours out of his own working day to deliver an envelope to another government office. There were no messengers who knew where the office was.

Government ministers open their own mail—everything from diplomatic notes to electric bills. They cannot rely on secretaries or assistants to sort out important papers for their personal attention.

Individual citizens with grievances think nothing of telephoning a minister. Frequently ministers have to answer their own telephones.

A European political scientist studying the Congo's amateur civil service came up with a conclusion which helps explain the confusion in Congolese politics: "No Congolese minister can give any order—no matter how important or trivial—and be certain his own staff will carry it out."

TRAINING EFFORT

Training of future civil servants is one of the most constructive U. S. efforts in helping the Congo.

Even before June 30, 1960—the day of independence—Patrice Lumumba and other leaders consulted the Ford Foundation about the absence of qualified Congolese administrators.

Only one Congolese had ever been given an important post in the colonial regime—and he, tribal leader Jean Bolikango, was running for president.

The problem became acute when anti-Belgian feelings forced the withdrawal of thousands of Belgian administrators who were to have tided the new government over the transition period.

Behind the headlines of chaos and anarchy of those days, negotiations were under way for the start of a training academy for future civil servants.

FIRST IN 1964

The first hundred or so graduates will be available for government service in 1964. About 200 students are being admitted on scholarships each year, after finishing secondary schools. Entrance applications exceed available places fourfold.

An extension department has been opened for the unschooled wives of students, to draw them into the world of government and diplomacy they will have to accept as wives of high officials.

Two days a week about 60 gaily robed Congolese ladies, many of them with babies snoring on their backs, come for lessons in domestic science, hygiene and french. Most Congolese women speak tribal languages.

THE training of civil servants is a national task," Premier Cyrille Adoula has said. "The government will pursue this with every available means and encouragement."

YEARLY BUDGET

So far the government has contributed $250,000 to get the school going, a sum approximately matched by the U. N. and the Ford Foundation. The yearly budget is for $400,000.

Students take basic courses in history, geography and mathematics, then move on to political economics, public and constitutional law and civil administration.

There are special courses in African history and geography, and Congolese tribal law.

Advanced students can study English. Various programs of on-the-job training and foreign travel are being organized. About 30 students were booked for a study tour of the United States this summer.

Starting originally with a handful of teachers from Leopoldville's Roman Catholic Lovanium University, the faculty has grown to 31 professors, from Belgium, the United States, Britain, Canada, Greece, Lebanon, Syria, Nationalist China and Guinea.

ENTHUSIASM

"There is a heartening enthusiasm for learning among these students," says the school's secretary—general, James T. Harris Jr., an American Negro. "We have made it clear to them that this is no prestige gimmick, that they have to work to get through. If they don't make the grade, they leave."

Lions' Program Given By Duet

STANTON (SC)—Bob Deavenport, president, had charge of the regular meeting of the Stanton Lions Club Tuesday in the Belvue Restaurant.

Two high school boys, Rodney Roten and George Foreman, presented a "brass duet" program. Twenty-seven members and one visitor, Bob Howard, Midland, attended the luncheon.
