Judges Will Name Miss Floydada In Beauty Pageant Friday Night

By Billie Goode

Sometime during the night of April 4, an announcement will be made by master of ceremonies Ned Bradley to a tense crowd in the high school auditorium revealing the winner of the first annual Miss Floydada Beauty Pageant sponsored by the Senior class.

A host of approximately 25 lovely high school girls will parade across the stage to be judged by a panel of five judges.

They will be judged on such qualities as poise, grace, beauty, and general appearance.

The judges of the senior pageant will be Jimmy Willson, Mrs. Bill Brown, Mrs. Lon Davis, Jr., Mrs. Wallace King and Jim Word.

The winner, aside from having the honor of "Miss Floydada," will also receive a dozen red roses, and a wardrobe donated by six merchants.

The 25 original entrants will be narrowed down to five finalists. These finalists will be judged on their grace while wearing evening clothes and personality while answering personal questions.

The stage will be elaborately decorated by the Senior class.

Municipality Will Have Added Engine Generator This Autumn

With five engine generator units offered them at prices ranging from $149,073 to $198,200 the City Council of Floydada last week-end had their mayor sign a letter of agreement to purchase a new unit to be added to the municipal power plant this summer.

A 1,250 KW unit was bought at cost of $154,099 from the White Diesel Engine Division of White Motor Company. The new unit will be completely installed and set to work along with the necessary electric unit ready for use on September 1, the council and contractor agreed.

One machine by the same company, was offered at a lower figure. It was an 1,100 KW engine generator unit at $149,073.

Other bids were by:

Nordberg manufacturing Company, at $196,940;

Cooper-Bessemer at $166,094 for an 1100 KW unit, and $198,200 for a 1,305 KW unit;

And Worthing Engine Company for a 1163-KW unit at $174,650.

Formalities are to be completed in a meeting at the council room tomorrow afternoon.

The engine company will be paid cash for the machine when it is installed and accepted by the city, the city having arranged for an issue of revenue bearing bonds to meet the bill.

Six bids, none of which were satisfactory to the city, were submitted at a council meeting in February and rejected when the city determined to make another effort to buy within the figure they were willing to pay.

The machine which the city bought Friday was offered the municipality at a figure in excess of $209,000 four weeks before, Councilman M. H. Martin said. Martin said that he had viewed installations that duplicate the city's purchase at other points in the southwest during the last 60 days, and is convinced that the city made a good buy.

New Bonds Will Hike Taxes By 12 to 17 Cents

The order setting the tax rate in Floyd County for the current year, entered in the Commissioners Court minutes, will have to be revised upward 12 to 17 cents to take care of the new road bond issue voted in the early winter, it was indicated this week at the court house.

The new bond issue of $294,000 sold recently and will be issued this spring.

The constitutional tax levy of 80 cents, under the allocation permitted by vote of the taxpayers, was set at:

For the jury fund 5 cents on each $100 valuation;

Road and Bridge fund, 20c;

General Fund, 35c;

Permanent improvement fund, 15c;

Library fund, 5 cents.

In addition the levy will include 15 cents for the special road tax fund, 10 cents for the court house bond sinking fund; and 23 cents to cover the outstanding road bond issue.

These figures are the same as for last year.

It is the last-named tax item that will have to be revised upward.

In addition to the levy made by the county two other taxing bodies also will collect money through the county tax assessor-collector's office.

These are the High Plains Water District which levies 5 cents per $100 valuation on the area of the county within the district, and the Floyd County Weed Control District, which for the first time will collect a tax of 3 cents per acre.

Collections for the last two named taxing bodies are to be handled under contract with the county tax collector's office.

SCOUTS NEED OLD SHEETS FOR EMERGENCY SERVICE

Scout George Farris called attention this week to need of old bed sheets by the local Scout troop. Farris said this need is for the emergency service crew of the scouting program. Any material suitable for making bandages is acceptable.

The boys and their Scout masters have organized to serve the area in case disaster strikes. Anyone having material of this type may contact Jim Word or Jewel Elza by phone and the boys will pick up these articles.

BACK IN SCHOOL

Nine-Year-Old Benefitted By Surgery At Endowed Hospital

"A check and a check-up" is the slogan of the American Cancer Society, and one Floydada family heartily endorse both as a means of combating cancer. This word comes from Edna Hernandez, nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hernandez.

Edna is a cheerful little girl who likes school. She has missed some of late due to her illness, but returned to her classes Monday of this week. Cause of her absence was an operation she underwent at the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston where her left leg was amputated to try and prevent spread of the disease.

Edna was first believed to have had only minor injury on her leg caused from a bump or fall. Continued pain called her to attention of school nurse Mrs. Wesley Carr. Alertness of Mrs. Carr took her for an examination by Dr. D. H. Pitts of Floydada and later to Dr. English of Lubbock.

Both of these doctors diagnosed the ailment and recommended the Houston hospital where she went with her parents.

The Hernandez family expressed gratitude to the school, doctors, church, hospital, and all who assisted them. The Anderson hospital is privately endowed, and it's services were free.

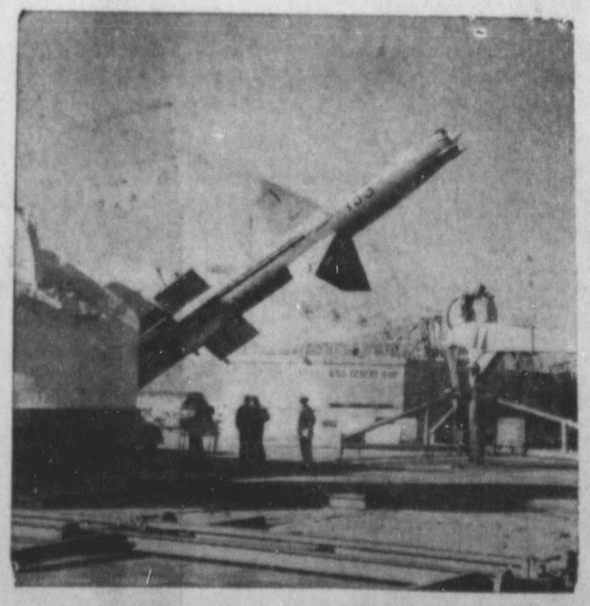

Daniel Hernandez, father of the little miss, is pastor of the Mexican Mission of the First Baptist Church. He told a Hesperian reporter this week that if their experience could aid others in their fight to overcome disease they would be indeed glad.

American Cancer Society has reorganized a Floyd County chapter and this month is starting a fund campaign. Support of this drive will aid in research, and treatment, as well as make local aid more readily available for Floyd County people.

LEGION MEETS MONDAY NIGHT

Regular meeting date of McDermett Post, American Legion, will be Monday night, April 7, Darnell G. Ayres, post adjutant, announces.

The meeting will be held in the American Legion Annex.

EN ROUTE TO THE FLEET ... The "Talos" guided missile, tested and approved at the White Sands Proving Ground in New Mexica, will join the Navy's arsenal in April. Capable of carrying an atomic warhead, the "Talos" was originally designed for anti-aircraft use, but but can make direct hits on ships and shore targets more than 25 miles distant. The first ship to be armed with the new missile will be the USS Galveston. The Galveston will join the Fleet in April when its conversion from a conventional to a guided missle cruiser will be completed at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard.

Henry Willis Is New Member Of City Council

Although Floydada citizens Tuesday turned out in numbers to re-name two members of the city council and to elect one new man to the board for a two-year term, it was an unofficial vote on changing the street naming system that drew the most interest and the biggest vote.

Two hundred thirty-eight "ballots" were cast against the change, 103 votes for, representing a hefty majority of more than two to one.

Henry Willis, 804 West Grover, is the new member of the city council. He will succeed Bill Hale, who has served on the council the past year.

The unofficial returns, with three alderman to elect, gave:

Roe Jones, 309 votes;
W. W. (Bud) Goen, 274 votes;
Henry Willis, 233 votes;
Bill Hale, 201 votes.

The street re-naming "vote" was on the proposition to change the street naming system from its present form to an alphabetical and numbering system, now in vogue in many cities. Merits claimed for the plan to make the change included "to make the location of business and residential addresses easier and to give the town a plan to follow in naming future streets."

Against the proposal claim is made that the change will "add $5 to $10 to the cost of every property owner's abstract, plus the cost of changing house numbers, stationery and business records," plus "endless confusion and inconvenience in mail, utility and delivery services." Opponents in a circular distributed Monday afternoon declared that "adequate marking of the streets as now named and of the houses as now numbered," will be ample for all needs.

Usually the results of a city election are canvassed and declared at the first regular meeting of the council following the election. If this custom is followed the date will be April 8, Tuesday night.

The council is due to have a called session Friday afternoon to consider formal approval of the city's new engine generator purchase and to get reports of a committee on the purchase of a street sweeper.

Tornado Alert Change Is Made

A new warning system for tornado alerts in Floydada is announced this week from the Floydada Fire Department.

The warning heretofore has been a continuous blast from the fire siren.

Henceforth the warning will be four long blasts of about nine seconds duration each, lasting half a minute or more, followed by silence.

Local two-way radio stations, including the city and county systems, also will be utilized in tracking down tornadic threats and alerting the area, in a pre-arranged spread out in all directions.

First alert of the season came Friday afternoon when radio and TV reported a tornado cloud south west of Sand Hill. The formation did not touch ground, however. A 10-minute squall brought 47-hundredths of an inch of rainfall during the mild storm.

Late Monday afternoon clouds dropped a little hail and light shower in a major portion of the county. However, no tornado formations were noted.

Many storm cellars have been completed or are under construction not only in Floydada but throughout communities all over the county, as families make preparation to seek shelter in event of tornado threat.

73, 913 Bales In Season of 1957

Actual figures for cotton ginning in Floyd County for the year 1957 are given by the Bureau of the Census at 73,913 bales, Plains Cotton Growers reports. The figures are for March 24.

This figure compares with 92,491 bales ginned in the season of 1956.

The cotton crop in the high plains contained the smallets proportion of higher-grade cotton of any crop produced in eight years, USDA is quoated as saying. Spotted cotton comprised nearly one-third of the season's crop, reflecting the many hazards which the untoward harvest season made for the cotton producer.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Terry were honored Saturday afternoon with a shower in the parlor of the First Baptist Church between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

In the receiving line were the honored couple, his mother, Mrs. J. R. Terry and his sister, Mrs. W. F. Daniel.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lee McNeill are parents of a daughter born March 31, at 8:22 p. m., in Lockney General Hospital. The young lady weighed five pounds and 15 ounces and has been named Jana Leigh.

She is the granddaughter of Commissioner and Mrs. Bill McNeill, east of the city, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Liles of Childress. She also has one set of great-grandparents who make heir home at Childress.

The father attends Texas Tech and farms. The mother is the former Betty Jo Liles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cantrell received word Monday of last week that their son, W. R., who is in the Air Force stationed at Maimi, Fla., is the proud father of a baby boy. His mother is the former Melba Archer of Lubbock. The boy, named Phillip, weighed 7¾ pounds at birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Davis and son Don, and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Holliday visited in Brownfield over the week-end with Mr. Davis's sister, Mrs. Bulah Atkins, his brother, Tommy Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, friends of the family.

Symbols are pretty important in some folks' lives. Those who don't believe in them should think on the New Jersey schoolteacher. Retiring after herding other people's brats through readin', writin' and 'rithmetic for 25 years, she wants her desk to take home! You'd think she would want to get as far from the schoolroom atmosphere as her tired legs would carry her. But she has asked and received permission from school officials to have the desk.

Seems kind of silly, doesn't it? The desk probably isn't even a pretty piece of furniture. It may have many scars and inkstains from long, hard use. Worst of all, you might say, it will remind her constantly of teaching.

Yet anyone who has ever worked with youngsters will understand. The schoolroom desk becomes home base. It is where the perennial Susie's gift of purple iris is placed - in a peanut butter jar -- each spring; where the young congressman, when a kid, laid a big red apple one Friday, and 20 years later returned to say hello.

In its middle drawer have been kept a collection of pea shooters, broken dice, fishing lures and other miscellany, taken away from mischievous boys, and varying little through the years. In the bottom drawer on the left, pushed well to the back, lie a few dreams -- notes for stories she never had time to write; kind letters from a few special parents; vacation folders; the picture of the house she once hoped to build.

Then there's another factor, too. Whoever folows her in the job really takes her place at the old desk; with a new desk there, it isn't quite the same.

Symbols aren't silly. Sentimental, yes; but what's wrong with a little sentiment now and then?

Jr. High Track Meet Re-Dated For April 19th

Floydada Lions Club Junior High Track Meet originally scheduled for Saturday March 29, was posponed because of the heavy rain shower Friday evening. The track was left under water in many places and was too muddy for use.

New date set for the event is Saturday, April 19. All other details are the same. Prelims start at 9 a. m. with semi finals just before noon and finals starting at 1:00 in the afternoon.

The 12 teams which accepted invitations to the event have been notified of the change and are expected to show up on the new date.

A fine list of trophies, badges and ribbons furnished by the Lions are expected to make the junior high meet of the season for area teams and to climax track activities for this age group this spring.

Coach Pete Fuglaar and Principal A. W. Coltharp in picking the new date said that conflicting events forced the postponement to the 19th. This week-end is the Easter holiday and next week is district track meet time.

This gives the boys nearly three weeks additional time to prepare for the occasion and will greatly improve the calibre of performance of the individuals and teams.

The trophies are now on display at Bradford Jewelry.

$1,000 OPERATION AVOIDED BY LOCAL WOMAN

A local woman, 59, suffering from low back pains and severe pain in her left leg. The muscular contractions were strong enough to pull her into a distorted position. She had been medically diagnosed as having a slipped spinal disc and was taking shots and pills to deaden the pain. Recent medical recommendations had been to be put in traction for a while and followed by an operation on her back.

Altho this woman was somewhat skeptical of chiropractic, thru a couple friends urging her, she decided to try chiropractic and came to the Patzer Chiropractic Clinic.

We made a complete spinal examination on this lady and located her trouble which was not where she was hurting. We told her regardless what her condition was called, be it "slipped spinal disc", or "herinated disc", or Sciatica or what have you, the cause of her trouble was coming from a pinched nerve. The pinching action was from a misaligned spinal bone. By correcting the misalignment, the nerve pressure would be removed and thusly her trouble in the low back and leg would be corrected. This woman has been coming in 3 weeks now and has shown tremendous improvement already. Her posture is no longer distorted and she is almost completely free of pain already. We would say this is better than traction and an operation. Besides this woman finding the easy way back to health, we are saving her practically the entire $1,000.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Why Pretend about Protection?

You would not dream of setting out for work or school without shoes on your feet, a dime in your pocket. Yet, many people neglect to fortify themselves with another essential . . . a good breakfast.

Without this protection, one is no more ready for the day ahead than was the legendary emperor who was sold a bill of goods by two unskilled weavers. The weavers promised the emperor the most beautiful robes in the world. By passing the word about that stupid men and those unfit for office could not see the robes, the tailors were able to collect their fee without delivering the goods. When the emperor appeared in the royal procession, only one small boy had the courage to say, "Why, he doesn't have any clothes on."

Although the protection offered by breakfast may be no more visible than were the emperor's royal robes, it is real. Its value is plain to see all that lasting time . . . late morning. Studies at State University of Iowa have shown that when men and women, girls and boys ate a good breakfast, all were quicker in their reactions—both physical and mental—turned out more work, were better at games, and were actually stronger during the morning "lag" hours than when they skipped breakfast or settled for a cup of coffee.

The C and C breakfast—coffee and a cigarette — unless it's teamed with food, exposes one to the temptations of high-calorie snacks. To play it safe, eat breakfast and stay slim. A breakfast, liked by most people, that will help to protect us from ourselves includes: Fruit or juice; egg, or cereal with milk; and enriched or whole grain toast.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The proposed new Federal budget is not destined for easy sailing through Congress. Totalling $71.9 billion, it is by far the largest peacetime budget ever asked by Congress.

And there are some hard facts developing out of consideration of this budget.

One of the most inescapable and unpalatable parts of the whole budget is the fact that $8 billion of this must be used to pay the interest on the national debt.

C. W. Harder

In other words, almost 11 cents out of every tax dollar collected must be used to pay an interest on the debt.

This is a huge sum. Yet, faced with the necessity of paying out $8 billion for interest, the budget requests almost another $4 billion to be thrown away in form of give aways. Thus, there is combined to pay off on past dead horses, and to give-away on present dead horses, almost 17% of entire federal budget.

Or looking at it another way. Huge as the current budget request is, it just about equals what the U. S. has thrown away in foreign give-aways and other global WPA schemes in the past few years.

In fact, government appears to be getting so confused over this tax matter, that it is now even considering taxing itself.

A major recommendation was that a tax of 3.5 cents per gallon be placed on jet fuels. While it is true that in a short while, there will be some commercial jet airliners in operation, their fuel consumption will be but a drop in the bucket compared to the necessary military use of jet fuels.

Thus, if this proposed pay tax were to bring in any appreciable new revenue, it would be collected on fuel used to protect the United States. This would be carrying the taxing situation to the nth degree of ludicrousness.

It was rather a shock to Washington that in a recent issue of a popular national magazine, General Douglas MacArthur sharply assailed the present taxing policies in the U.S. Many had long assumed that military men are not overly concerned with the weight of taxes.

Yet the nation's outstanding military leader, and hailed by many foreign experts as the greatest military expert of the age, states flatly that there seems to be no restraint on the lust for taxes and recalls how Lenin, propagator of Russian communism, predicted in the 1920's the United States would eventually spend itself into bankruptcy.

General MacArthur also recommends the sure cure to excessive governmental spending which between federal and local is now taking one-third of the national income. That cure is to shut off the sources of taxes, thus forcing economy on government.

And the General adds flatly that it has been charged, without any challenge, that this year the government of the United States proposes to spend more than all the rest of the governments in the world combined will spend.

In this connection it is not to be forgotten in Korea General MacArthur ordered "Operation Head Axe" which meant destroy the enemy at every occasion. What apparently is needed now is the same type of operation on non-essential government spending, before all independent enterprise in America is throttled.

Vegetable Planter Cuts Costs And Speeds Operation

L. A. Marshall this week said trail runs of his vegetable crop planting machine indicated that it had capacity to speed up planting and cut costs considerably on onion plants.

The machine will lend itself to tomato and cabbage planting equally as well, he is sure.

A tractor that will travel slow enough will be required. It can be operated by an eight-man crew to good advantage.

Marshall built the machine several weeks ago to prove that mechanical planting could be effectively done and get away from much of the slow and stooping methods in vegetable crops.

"I didn't build the machine to make money and will loan it to any farmer who can get a crew to operate it," Marshall said, adding that the Anglo-American crews won't man it because it takes the place of manual laborers.

A farmer can make a great deal more speed, get more done easier and save at least half on the cost of setting plants, he believes.

TRY TURKEY WITH ORANGE STUFFING THIS EASTER

Surprise the family with a luscious turkey treat for Easter this year. The most economical buy at the meat counter, turkey is not only inexpensive, but nutritious and delicious as well . . . especially dressed for Spring with fluffy Orange Stuffing served in fancy orange cups . . . a special creation by Betty Crocker. Serve the meat with a tasty Orange-Currant Sauce for an added attraction. The orange cups are easily made, simply cut off the tops, scoop out the pulp and notch the edges with a kitchen scissors.

Turkey with Orange Stuffing and Sauce

Roast turkey according to your favorite directions.

Orange Stuffing

12 cups small dry bread cubes, firmly packed
1 tbsp. salt.
1 tbsp. dried sage, thyme, or marjorum
1 tsp. pepper
1 cup butter, melted
1½ cups celery, chopped (stalks and leaves)
¾ cup onion, finely minced
2 tbsp. grated orange rind
3 cups diced oranges

Toss crumbs and seasonings together. Add rest of ingredients and toss lightly. Blend well. (If desired, cook onion in butter until golden, but not brown.) When spooning stuffing into turkey cavity, do not pack. Bake extra dressing in separate pan during the last 30 to 45 min. of roasting time. Baste occasionally with pan drippings or broth from cooked giblets. Use baked stuffing to fill orange cups.

Orange-Currant Sauce

1 tbsp. prepared mustard
½ tsp. salt
grated rind of 1 orange juice of 2 oranges (about ½ cup)
¼ tsp. cayenne pepper

Whip jelly and mustard together with fork. Add rest of ingredients; blend well. Makes about 1 cup sauce. Heat to serve or serve cold with leftover turkey.

Outdoors In Texas

(By Vern Sanford)

It has long been said that the moon is made of green cheese. Now scientists everywhere seem to be determined to find out if it's so.

Army, navy air corps and civilian experts apparently are scrapping among themselves to see who gets there first.

Anyway, whether it is the Sputnik or the Uhnik, the shots so far have gone higher than the devices.

It's true then, all of us want to know what's in outer space. We're not complaining about the costs, for all of us are interested in the rest of the universe.

Also there are a good many of us who want to know more about what's going on "down below". Fishermen in particular are interested in the creatures of the deep.

So, maybe you'd like to hear about a little experiment that is going on along the Texas coast. There, aquatic biologic scientists are trying to find ways to create an artificial snapper reef.

They have an adequate budget. Not as big as the nuclear scientists, but adequate. The Game & Fish Commission has earmarked some $7,000 for the venture. This money will buy a couple hundred old automobile bodies. These bodies will be linked together with a piece of oil field cable and dropped into the Gulf of Mexico at the 10 fathom curve near the whistling buoy off Port Aransas.

Tentative coast guard approval already has been given. The old autos must be planted where they will be a little too deep to affect navigation, and away from the range of shrimpers' nets.

This will be one of the most interesting experiments ever undertaken in Texas to increase off-shore fishing for red snapper and other saltwater fighters. If it works, other artificial reefs will be created from time to time to improve fishing conditions along the Texas coast.

This little experiment may make the world a better place in which to live -- rather than one to get out of.

At the present time snapper fishing is done mostly from party boats at ranges from 15 to 100 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico. There has been a little snapper fishing around the oil derricks in the offshore waters. These derricks are indicative that snapper can be caught around the artificial reefs.

It is hoped that the old automobile bodies will work like a brush shelter and serve as a hideaway for red snapper, ling, pompano, barracuda and other smaller fish. That of course means that the big ones will be lurking nearby. Result: good fishing for everyone.

Alabama has tried the idea with some success. If it works in Texas our costal fishing will be much better, because these artificial reefs will afford cover not only for snapper, but for many other good fighting fish.

It might also be a good place to get rid of thousands of old automobile bodies -- which can't be shipped to the moon.

It has been suggested by some that old auto bodies might be used in fresh water lakes to provide cover for fish.

This would be very dangerous. Our lakes in Texas are not large enough. Even a few old automobile bodies dumped into Texas lakes would produce navigation hazards we don't need. Let's keep them clean.

Bass Tournament Dates — If your fishing is of championship qualities then you will be interested in knowing that the Texas Bass Tournament will be held this year on three of the Highland Lakes, near Austin.

For several years this annual bass tournament has attracted many fishermen to Lake Whitney. Moving it to the Highland Lakes will draw more fishermen, especially from Southwest Texas.

The tournament is scheduled for May 23-25 on Buchanan, Inks and Granite Shoals Lakes. Tentative headquarters will be at the Inks State Park.

Check Your Lines — At the risk of becoming redundant, we want to remind fishermen again to check your lines. Too many big fine fish are lost every year because we take a chance on a line that has been used for two or three years and we think it still is good.

If you decide your line is good, then at least take off the first 10 feet. This is the part which gets the most strain, running through the guides, hanging in rush and getting much more usage than the rest of the line.

Return To Life

In a recent report on one of the newer drugs for mental illness, often called tranquilizers, a case history deals with a 42-year-old woman, a victim of schizophrenia, who has been an inmate of a large state mental hospital since 1952. The report of mental illness as our society is perhaps best understood by thinking of the sufferer acted out to her as a young woman -- thirty-four years of confinement as a human vegetable.

This particular drug, one of many developed in the past four years by pharmaceutical manufacturers, helped to free this patient from many of the horrifying delusions which had made her by turns angrily aggressive or dull and stuporous. Unfortunately, no drug now known can set her completely free, but, after 34 years, she is able to care for herself and observe the world around her.

For this patient, as for half a million like her, new drugs from the laboratories of pharmaceutical companies constitute progress but no final answer. But for patients now being diagnosed earlier and, because of the new agents, receiving intensive treatment, sooner, there is an even brighter outlook.

Although half of U.S. hospital beds are still occupied by the mentally ill, the new drugs are changing the trends of admissions and releases. In 1955, for the first time in history, the number of hospitalized mental patients was a few hundred less than in the previous year. In 1956 came another reduction, this time of 7,000 patients, and last year another reduction of about 5,000 was observed.

At last year's meeting of the American Psychiatric Association, two physicians from the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene authoritatively attributed this stunning reversal of a seemingly unchangeable trend to the use of the new mental action drugs. They noted that the use of straight jackets and other forms of restraint had also dropped by 75 per cent during the period.

More important, perhaps, than the immediate effects of new drugs are their uses as tools in all researchers in understanding the basic causes of mental illness. From this research there may yet come victory over the great plagues of mental disease.

Meanwhile, drugs now available from laboratories of the pharmaceutical industry have already reduced our mental hospital population by about 12,000 patients.

At an average cost of three dollars a day, each of these patients cost U.S. taxpayers some eleven hundred dollars each year. Multiplied by 12,000, their release from hospitals means a total saving of thirteen million dollars.

There is also to be considered the fact that most of these discharged patients are again productive members of society, producing goods, buying goods, paying taxes -- enjoying life.

U. S. Highway 70 Progress Good

R. H. Bennett, director of public relations for U. S. Highway 70 Association, will be in Floydada on Wednesday of next week to direct the annual association membership campaign in the community.

In addition to meeting with local Chamber of Commerce officials and businessmen, Bennett will be guest speaker at the noon meeting of the Floydada Rotary Club. He will tell the story about the history of Highway 70 and look into the future for the progress possibilities of the Coast to Coast Highway.

Purnell Powell of Floydada heard Bennett open the Texas campaign on Tuesday night of this week when he attended the annual meeting of the Texas Association in Paducah.

The Twenty representatives of U. S. 70 Towns from Vernon to the New Mexico line heard a progress report from the Association President, Leonard Stair, and made plans for future action to improve the business opportunities of Highway 70 Communities.

The prospect of future development of the Highway seems exceptionally bright, it was pointed out at the Paducah meeting as U. S. Highway 70 is the Shortest coast to coast all-weather route across the United States.

News of Broadway

(By Mrs. T. E. Thornhill)

BROADWAY, April 1 — Our revival attendance was quite good last week regardless of the damp, foggy weather. We know we, as well as others, missed a blessing each time we were not present. Rev. John Gillusple is a fine speaker.

Mrs. Eugene Hardin was a Thursday caller in the home of Mrs. Anna Baldwin in Dickens.

Tho we have never been a fan of Elvis Presley, isn't it a shame that news hounds and teen agers will not let him just spend his two years in service for his country as any other normal young man.

Mrs. Alvin Ratheal of Lorenzo visited her parents, the J. C. Joplins, one day last week. At the last report Mrs. Joplin seemed to be improving. We hope she will soon be able to be up and going again.

Mrs. J. C. McCracken was a Tuesday afternoon caller of the Ben Beckhams and T. E. Thornhill homes.

We are happy to report that the Donvill Moores are getting quite a bit done on the construction of their new house, replacing the one that was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

Ronnie, son of Rev. and Mrs. Audye Wiley, has been having to stay home pretty close with the chicken pox. On Thursday morning of last week Mrs. M. R. Givens and Mickey visited with Ronnie while Mrs. Wiley attended church services, and Friday morning Mrs. J. C. McCracken visited with Ronnie during the church service.

Crankcase Crisis!

It seems this nice old lady drove into a Phillips 66 Station to fill up with Flite-Fuel. When the attendant checked the dipstick, he found she had only about a quart of oil left in her car. When he pointed this out, she replied: "Fine . . . as soon as I use that up, I'll put in some more!"

Of course the Phillips Dealer explained that she needed five quarts of oil for adequate lubrication!

Now that spring is here, it's time to think about the oil in your crankcase. If you are still using "winter grade" oil, it's time to change it. But why use two, when one will do? Better switch to Phillips 66 Trop-Artic* which gives you the effects of 10w, 20 and 30 grade oils. Compared to old-fashioned oils Trop-Artic Motor Oil can actually double engine life. Drive in today for your spring change-over. *A trademark

VIEWS AND COMMENT

★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆

The Smart Thing. One thing about school affairs that teachers may have noted and may have been unable to combat is the tendency amongst the kids for it to be smart not to know. This may have come about through boredom, not enough work for the agile-minded, too much work for the others who have other things on their minds or are just naturally slow on the uptake. Anyway it has been smart not to know.

—o—

Which reminds us that the old-fashioned one-room way of having several classes working before each other had a challenge in it. We note some "modern" fellow found that it sharpened the wits of the boys and girls for different age groups to work before each other. Also, you'll note that some boys and girls start to school with the firm idea that they're going to school because they have to, not to learn, and they're going to get out as soon as they can. This kind of a youngster doesn't help the spirit of the classes he is in, makes a problem the teacher has to cope with. He can be more easily handled in a varied-age group.

—o—

We find fault with the report cards of the schools in a thing that is a small matter, in a way, but it is as big as a horse to some parents. Their little tads come home with S on their cards. S probably has ample meaning to the teacher. The mamma and papa wonder what the teacher has in mind when she reports "S" for "Satisfactory." Also on the older children's cards there are many many lines while a few would do. Is the kid behaving himself, is he learning to read and write and spell and add and subtract? Perhaps the other kind of a card is fine for college parents but a lot of us are far from that category. Anybody, teachers included, can make a mistake assuming the IQ or learning of the person they are dealing with is as high as their own. Get the report cards simple enough for the simple ones. The others will take it in stride, of course. No ill will in this and good is intended. We hope no offense is taken. Certainly we don't expect a revolution in report card making in the next few weeks.

—o—

Choice Of Subjects. The times bring changes in school affairs as in other affairs of the human race. Thus it is most likely that fewer "elect" subjects will be taken by pupils in Texas schools for a time than has been the rule in times past. The brighter kids of the classes which have graduated in recent years, learned quickly that the faculty strove to get the dumber ones through school whether or not they made the grade. The theory apparently has been that a dummox in school trying to learn so as to be a useful citizen is a better bet in later life than if he quit school because of embarrassment. Thus some of the "electives" came about. And did the smart ones elect?

—o—

For Simplified Spelling. If a California man has his way simplified spelling would come to the country in a big way. As a member of Congress he has introduced a resolution that would establish a National Grammar Commission and an official United States Dictionary. In his book all unnecessary letters would be eliminated, for example: Have, hav; are, ar; rough, ruf; give, giv; and so on for 6,000 words or more. He claims the idea has been supported by men prominent in American life all the way from Noah Webster to and including Franklin D. Roosevelt. Something is a crying need. Mayhap the California man has it tagged.

—o—

New Storm Cellars. A good many Floydada and Floyd County residents who have planned storm cellars against the spring and summer months, (when their radio and television reports are going to keep them running from storms) are now beginning to "build" their cellars. If you can't afford a "nice" storm cellar it's time to begin buttering up some of your friends you note are doing so. Down east they used to dig a hole in the ground throw some cross ties over it, pile on some dirt, make a door of some kind and crawl down in it when the clouds look angry. Water dogs, chicken snakes and the like also fancied this kind of an arrangement but they make unpleasant company. So much nicer to have some place to go where you can sit around, play cards, drink coffee and the like—and somebody else to clean up the mess when the clouds have gone drifting by.

—o—

A century and a half ago it was claimed by economists and sociologists of a certain school that the time was not far distant when all of mankind would be in poverty and distress. They proved by good logic that the fast increasing population could not be fed. Too many people, not enough food. therefore most all would have to go hungry. There would be famine, disease and death. In that day it took 12 farmers to feed themselves and one other. The march of agriculture may not have proved their theories incorrect. Presumably it yet could happen. But at least, their time table has been upset. For one farmer now can feed himself and 20 others.

—o—

The Laredo Times continues to conduct, in its columns and through direct mails, a campaign to dry up narcotics peddling and the corruption which it alleges has taken over in many places in the state. The newspaper's editor declares that much of the corruption in the south part of the state has stemmed from unsavory sources in Laredo itself. Dope addicts, he says, are responsible for half of the crime in Texas. To quote: 'Every dope addict in the State of Texas can be rounded up in 48 hours, if the state, county and city officials will honestly concentrate on this group who are responsible for half of the crime in Texas."

—o—

The Fishing Center. Arrival of spring is a reminder of what an acquaintance said the other day—Floydada is in the center of the fishing country . . . exactly 500 miles in any direction to a good place to fish.

—o—

The God who gave us life gave us liberty at the same time. —Thomas Jefferson

—o—

A man who's wrapped up in himself makes a mighty small parcel.

—o—

Keep in mind that even if you're on the right track you'll get run over, if you just sit there.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

Isaiah 14:24, 25, 26, 27

The Lord of hosts has sworn
"As I have planned,
So shall it be,
And as I have purposed,
So shall it be,
And as I have purposed
So shall it stand,
That I will break the Assyrian in My land,
And upon my mountains, trample him underfoot;
And his yoke shall depart from them,
And his burden from their shoulder."
This is the hand that is stretched out over all the nations,
For the Lord has purposed
And who will annul it?
His hand is stretched out,
And who will turn it back?

Isaiah 17:13, 14

Ah the roar of nations
They roar like the roaring of many waters, but he will rebuke them, and they will flee far away.
Chased like the chaff on the mountains before the wind,
And swirling dust before the storm
At evening time, behold terror:
Before morning they are no more.

Isaiah 31:1

Woe to them who go down to Egypt for help
And rely on horses,
Who trust in Chariots because they are many
And in horsemen because they are very strong,
But do not look to the Holy One of Israel,
Or consult the Lord.

What do you think of the above quotations from the Scripture, prophesied before the coming of Christ? It seems to me that if the prophet had just uttered the words and they would make the headlines of tomorrow's newspapers, be on radio and television, they would not be any more timely than they were when he tried to make the nations see that Almighty God ruled the "heavens that He had stretched and the foundations of the earth that He had laid."

If I had a bouquet of the loveliest red roses that were ever grown, the white lillies, so pure and fragrant, the heavenly blue of the spring irises I would put them by the bedside of Rev. West of Floydada. He has been a beloved pioneer preacher of this district, preaching at Emma, in Garza County and many other places. People loved him then for his gentle, Christian manner.

We still love him for the same and for the devoted life and example he has set for the generation to follow. He loves the good and beautiful in life, in nature and all the grandeurs that God made for His children. He loves his many friends and is overjoyed when they write or visit him. He is so patient, altho suffering he does not complain. So you see that he deserves all the bouquets that come his way.

God richly bless you, dear old friend of ours and many, many others.

In a contest in Egland for highway safety posters, one youngster came up with the following suggestion:

He looked, she didn't;
He is; she isn't.

A sign in a western state reads, "1029 people died of gas in this state last year. Two inhaled it . . . 27 put a lighted match to it. . . . and 1000 stepped on it."

Now this last should not have been in the fun column.

every confidence," said the governor, "that the prophets of gloom and doom will not talk us out of a continuation of our unparalleled progress."

Water Board Commended — Governor Daniel fired back a specific reply to the AFL-CIO's urging to "push the water conservation program."

Water conservation has been one of Daniel's "most-pushed" projects since gubernatorial campaigning days.

Daniel said, in effect, the new Water Development Board had moved in a cloud of dust to get organized, set up rules, establish procedures, begin hearings and give preliminary approval to two projects -- all within 90 days after taking oath of office.

Two projects, if finally approved, would lend $5,000,000 to the Sabine River Authority for a new lake and $350,000 to the Williamson County Water District No. 1 for a water diversion project.

TEC In Fuss Parade — Internal fussing contagious with state boards has spread to the Texas Employment Commission. AFL-CIO is stoking the fire from outside.

TEC's member representing labor, R. F. Newman, blasted the fuss into orbit by accusing the other two members, Chairman Perry Brown and Maurice Acers, of dealing him out of policy decisions. Brown represents the public and Acers the employers.

Argument focused initially on policy toward employes within TEC itself. Newman contended morale of TEC's 2,000 employes was shot. They live in fear, he said, of knife-in-the-back retaliations, salary cuts and demotions when their decisions offend trade groups, corporation lawyers or volunteer legal counselors.

Acers retaliated in a letter to trade organizations and employers charging Newman and "representatives of organizer groups with using recession to gain their own ends.

That brought AFL-CIO leaders into the fray. State President Jerry Holleman fired back that Acers was flagrantly wasting state funds for propaganda purposes. Acres was also accused of denying just claims for unemployment compensations and forcing workers to go to court for rightful benefits.

Acers had a reply for that, too. Merely another attempt by AFL-CIO to influence commission policies, he said.

TEC supervises collection of unemployment taxes from employers and payment of benefits to unemployed workers.

No Help From Ike — More tears than oil flow these days in Texas petroleum circles. President Eisenhower's token tightening of the voluntary oil import quota plan just won't help, oilmen say.

They had pled for an import crackdown to relieve the slump in demand for domestic oil. What they got was "much too little and much too late", said J. J. O'Brien of San Antonio, president of Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

Governor Daniel called the action from Warhington wholly inadequate. Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray didn't see how the effort could be effective.

Eisenhower's plan called for a minute curtailment of voluntary imports of crude oil but left products untouched and the import door wide open to newcomers.

Texas fields were on a nine-day production pattern throughout March with an eight-day pattern ordered for April.

Two Plus Two — In most educational circles, prime interest has shifted from "Why Johnny Can't Read" to "Why Johnny Can't Calculate the Orbit of a Satellite."

But even before Sputnik, the State Board of Education set up a special 20-member commission to study the effectiveness of mathematics teaching in Texas public schools.

School administrators, teachers and board members making up the commission began their one-year study at a meeting in Austin. Board aims are to discover whether requirements are adequate, courses sound and teaching methods effective.

No Break Yet — Payments to the jobless hit a record high of $1,568,958 in one week, according to the Texas Employment Commission's latest report.

Number of persons filing compensations claims inched up from 89,309 the pervious week to 92,435.

TEC's mid-February report showed some 75,000 persons covered by unemployment insurance out of work. At that time it was hoped that approach of spring would bring the usual pick-up in jobs.

Instead, unemployment has increased more than 20 per cent.

Short Snorts — Miss Doris Connerly, legislative reference director for the State Library, was cited as "Public Employe of the Year" at the first awards banquet of the Austin chapter, American Society for Public Adminstration.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rogers of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKinney and son, Bobby, of Clovis, N. Mex., were guests Sunday here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McKinney and other relatives.

WHAT'S EASTER?

Easter is tulips and daffodils,
With potted lillies on window sills;
Easter is baskets of colored eggs,
And new-feathered chicks on wobbly legs;
Easter is bonnets with frills and lace-
A child's happy, eager, smiling face.
Easter is promise of tomorrow,
The sweet oblivion of all sorrow-
Easter is Faith and Eternal Life-
The death of pain-truimph over strife;
Easter is Hope - a victory won
As man lives again- through God's own Son.

Anything GAS can do gas can do BETTER!

The handsome ROPER Built-In Gas Range with completely automatic controls.

A meat thermometer holds roasting heat to a constant minimum for best results.

The Burner-With-A-Brain acts like a robot pot watcher to end burning and scorching.

A luxury of Gas cooking is closed door broiling — the live flame consumes vapors!

The best cooks have found they get Better Results with the precision accuracy of a gas oven.

"Better" is a word you have to back up with facts! And when we tell you Gas cooks "better," we have the facts in hand! What's your prime requirement for roasting meat to perfection? Low, low temperatures, of course! Only a Gas flame can maintain really low temperatures with an absolute minimum of fluctuation. That means with Gas you get less shrinkage, less drying, so that your meats have wonderful texture and flavor! What's the secret to turning out delectable pastries, airy and delicate? The answer is perfect heat control, of course! Even the pastry cook with the "lightest hand" imaginable is no match for heat that's unvariable. And that's why the best cooks insist on Gas which, alone of cooking fuels, can hold an oven temperature within a margin of five degrees. These are sound reasons why Gas would be best at any price, but again facts prove that Gas consistently costs less! It costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate. And with Gas, lifetime parts cut maintenance right out of the picture. We'd like to give you all the facts, or we invite you to visit a gas appliance dealer, soon!

SAVE YOUR LEGS AND BACK WITH A MODERN AUTOMATIC WATER SYSTEM

A modern pressure water system provides the gateway to modern living—No longer is it necessary to carry tons of water every month, as the pioneers were forced to do. Modern living demands a modern water system.

So many of the new electric appliances you want and need are dependent upon a constant supply of fresh water . . . water heater, automatic laundry equipmnt, dishwasher and garbage disposal, not to mention new sinks, baths, showers, toilet facilities and modern livestock watering equipment.

CHECK THESE ADVANTAGES:

1. Saves carrying 25 tons water yearly. More if you carry to any of your livestock.
2. Strengthens the family health habits.
3. Makes food preparation easier.
4. Furnishes adequate fire protection.
5. Makes for more leisure time on farm.
6. Provides water for farm beautification.
7. Increases pride of ownership.
8. Raises value of the farm.

Will You Air Condition This Summer?

New room air conditioners are more efficient and lower in price than ever before— and cost surprisingly little per month to operate. No longer is it necessary to suffer through the hot nights and swelter through the hot days. Some of the new models even have a warming unit, which will warm the house on chilly mornings when full central heating plant use is not indicated.

Another marvel of electricity at work! And you can own an air conditioner on relatively easy terms

YOUR COUNTY AGENT

(By Cecil Lewis, County Agent)

The season is fast approaching for the need of a good storm cellar. This might be the best time to build one before the danger is upon us.

Here are a few pointers in selecting a site and building hints to use in planning a storm cellar.

Since tornadoes usually move from southwest to northwest, the storm cellar should be located southwest of the house. The entrance should face northeast. It should be located far enough from the house that a falling wall, large trees or other debris will not block the entrance. If possible a well drained site which can be landshaped to harmonize with the home surroundings is best.

Available in the County Agent's Office is a leaflet "The Disaster Cellar." This leaflet gives instructions for construction and other information.

A bullentin on potential markets for West Texas vegetables is available in the County Agent's Office This publication contains cost figures, and shows the markets and the supplies of vegetables during various seasons of the year. It also shows where and when the different vegetable producing areas will sell on certain market. It can be a valuable tool in planning your vegetable production.

If you are planning on planting some grain sorghum early and are wondering which hybrid to use these suggestions may be of help.

Texas 601 has proven to be the best adapted hybrid for early planting. It is very similar to Martin Milo. Texas 601 is not as sensitive to day length and has proven to be a consistely good yielder.

R. S. 590 is an early maturing variety and is best adapted to late plantings. It can be planted in July and will mature by frost. R. S. 590 is best adapted for dryland or farms with a small supply of water.

R. S. 650 and Texas 660 are adapted for areas of high fertility and plenty of water. These are very similar to Plainsman and Caprock with better head exsertion than the varieties.

Texas 620 is probably more widely adapted on most soil types and can be expected to produce good yields.

Storm Cellar Good Insurance

COLLEGE STATION, March—If you were to see the destructive, black funnel of a tornato rushing directly toward your home, where would you and your family go for protection and safety?

No, this question is not far-fetched. In fact, many Texans have experienced this and other similar disasters from time to time. Many of them had never realized the value of a safe place just as we never miss the water until the well goes dry.

But, why not construct a storm cellar before a tornado strikes to remind you that you need one? It can be constructed easily without any special skills and only a few special tools.

Since t ornadoes generally move from southwest to northeast, the storm cellar should be located southwest of the house. Its entrance should face northeast. It should be located far enough from the house that a falling wall large trees or other debris will not block the entrance. Too, select a well-drained site which can be landscaped to harmonize with the home surroundings.

Storm cellars should be construcetd strong enough to withstand the impact of falling debris. It should also be watertight, economical and relatively easy to keep.

The size of the cellar depends on expected use. For an extended period of comfortable occupancy, allow about 10 square feet of floor area per person. Short occupaney requires only about two square feet per person. Adequate ventilation should be provided.

Instructions on constructing a satisfactory storm cellar plus other information, such as other uses for the cellar, food storage, for example, is contained in a Texas Agricultural Extension Service leaflet, L-388, "The Disaster Cellar". It may be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, Collegt Station, Texas.

South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, March 31 — Farmers here were able to get into some of their fields to cut stalks and the like by Wednesday but field work was short lived, for the rain showers came on Friday afternoon giving us around .3 of an inch of rain. It seems almost impossible that Easter is just around the corner, in fact next Sunday will be the day for new spring hats and other finery.

J. D. Webb, John Key West, Leighton Teeple, and Don Marble were working on their storm cellars this past week, and E. W. Newton has his near completion. On Friday afternoon we thought for awhile we might be needing our storm cellars as tornado warnings were out for the first storm of the season.

Visitors in Lubbock on Tuesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure spent Thursday afternoon there on business.

Mrs. Ray Smith was absent from her school duties in 3-5th grades from Tuesday until Friday as her mother, Mrs. R. L. McNeill was very ill. Mrs. I. H. Parks taught the first part of the week for her, and Rev. Larry Faus taught on Thursday.

Bud Higginbotham and Dwight Teeple accidently ran together on the ball field at school on Thursday afternoon. Allen Adams took Bud home as his left leg was bruised and hurt-looking. His parents thought it was sprained and took him to the doctor on Friday morning, when they discovered the big bone in his leg was broken. He is in a cast which goes nearly up to his hip, and will have to wear it for several weeks. He won't be able to go to school for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harper, who now live at McAllen, came to Plainview on Wednesday with Mrs. Ruby Lemons, and on Thursday they were in Floydada on a business trip. They report lots of moisture down in their locality this past winter, but with nice warm days the past two weeks.

Mr .and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry spent all day Friday with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hutson of Vigo Park. On Saturday they visited in Cedar Hill with his father, who is ill, Mr. and Mrs. John Fortenberry .

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Spitzer and two children moved to South Plains on Saturday from Petersburg and are temporarily living in the teacherage. He is employed at the E. L. Morrison Gin Company.

About 75 attended morning church services at the Baptist Church with visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Spitzer and children. New members added to the church were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Park, who came by leiter from the Trinity Baptist Church at Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor of Lockney were visiting here on Saturday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor and family, and enjoyed lunch with them at noon.

Training Union director Don Probasco had as his guest speaker, A. C. Pratt of Floydada who came Sunday night and graciously showed his slides of Korea and Japan, which he took while he was stationed in those countries.

Kendis Julian and Alton Higginbotham from WTSC at Canyon came home on Friday afternoon to spend the week-end. They found the roads icy, with the windshield icing over, and driving difficult, to Silverton, where they met a bad rain storm with driving winds.

Mrs. Fred Fortenberry and Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh visited on Thursday in the home of Mrs. Roy Bledsoe who has been ill for sometime, but is better this week and able to be out and around.

Club Meeting Held

Home Demonstration Club members met on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Wilson with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wilson assisting in hostess duties. A neighbor, Mrs. Kenneth Bean, was a visitor.

Mrs. L. T. Wood led the group in recreational games.

Mr. Livesay, of the Singer Sewing Machine Company of Plainview was a guest of the club and gave a thorough and comprehensive demonstration on attachments for the Singer machine and also showed the newest Singer model and the ease of sewing buttons and many other wonderful things that can be done with a machine.
