Blockade Of Spain Proposed

ACTION TO ISOLATE WAR IN SPAIN IS TO BE SPEEDED

(By The Associated Press)

The international "hands off Spain" committee was called into session today to confirm three recommendations to isolate the Spanish civil war from Europe.

Approved by a sub-committee, with only Portugal dissenting and Germany and Italy in agreement with France, Great Britain and Russia, the proposals were:

Ban Voluntary Aid

1. Each nation to ban voluntary aid to either Spanish faction by February 20.

2. The committee, also by February 20, to complete a plan to stop shipment of men and guns to Spain.

3. An agreement to put the supervisory plan into operation by March 6.

Opposition Is Ignored

Portugal's opposition to establishment of an international patrol on her frontiers was ignored by the other powers which, while hopeful of ultimate Portuguese cooperation, determined to police Portuguese entrances to Spanish by a naval blockade.

In effect, the plan embodies two main points:

1. Establishment of more than 1,000 neutral observers along the Franco-Spanish and Gibraltar-Spanish frontiers to report violations, the committee to make representations to offending governments and its members to share the estimated $2,000,000 cost.

Place Naval Cordon

2. Placing a naval cordon around the whole peninsula, Portugal and Spain, with warships of the great European powers. The naval observers, unauthorized to stop or search suspected violators, would function similar to the land patrol. Ships bound for Spain would pick up observers at control points to insure the admissibility of their cargoes.

To beat the volunteer deadline, hundreds of volunteers trooped across France.

Madrid's defenders, on the first birthday of the socialist-led popular front government, claimed advances on several fronts.

British officials announced use of the destroyer express had been offered the Spanish government to ship food from Alicante, Spain to refugees in the Almeria sector where 150,000 persons were declared homeless in the path of an insurgent seaboard advance.

BAPTISTS ARE IN SESSION

CONVENTION IS BEING HELD IN TAHOKA BY CHURCH GROUPS

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Feb 16—Approximately 175 workers from 14 Baptist churches of the Brownfield association are attending a Sunday school and Baptist Training union convention here, Rev. George A. Dale, pastor, said at noon today.

Rev. C. G. Sewell of Slaton discussed "A Five-year Program for the B. T. U." at this morning's meeting and Dr. Williams, Hobbs, N. M., Baptist pastor, spoke. A business session and conference were held.

To Receive Reports

Rev. J. H. Gerault of Meadow will give the devotional this afternoon. Reports will be received from training unions of the association and Rev. Boyd P. Milburn of Lubbock College Avenue Baptist church, will give the closing address this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Dale is presiding.

Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the Lubbock First Baptist church, and Leo Waite and R. E. Key of Lubbock appeared on last night's program.

Others who were to appear on the program were: Miss Clara May, Wilson; Rev. A. Brian, district missionary; Ira M. Powell, Big Spring; Rev. Paul McCasland, Wilson; Rev. V. E. Boyd, Plains; and Rev. R. E. Day, Big Spring.

Man Confesses He Killed An Infant

ONEONTA, N. Y., Feb. 16. (AP)—Clyde Proctor, 27, was held on a second degree murder charge today after District Attorney Joseph Molinari quoted him as confessing he "shook to death" a 15-months-old baby "because it bit me."

Molinari said Proctor made his statement concerning the death of an infant son of Mrs. Thomas Hinkley last night in the presence of Chief of Police Frank N. Horton.

SEVEN ARE KILLED

ALFRETON, Nottinghamshire, England, Feb. 16. (AP)—Seven miners were killed and four injured, it was learned today, in an explosion last night at the Waterloo seam of the southern Normanton colliery.

WIFE OF NAVY MAN DETAILS EXPERIENCE

SAYS SHE WAS TAKEN FROM COTTAGE AND TREATED HARSHLY

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, Feb. 16—A story of assault recalling Honolulu's sensational Massie case was told and retold today by a navy officer's wife under protracted police questioning.

Mrs. Bennett S. Copping, 24-year-old wife of a submarine commander, reported she was dragged from her hotel cottage across 75 feet of open yard into a garage and attacked.

When Dr. Henry M. Akina, assistant city-county physician, announced after two examinations there was no indication she had been attacked, police questioned her through last night and into the early morning hours today.

Under repeated questioning Mrs. Copping reiterated her story but was not able to furnish a detailed description of her assailant.

Police Chief William A. Gabrielson said the questioning would be resumed later today and Mrs. Copping would be given a third physical examination.

Woman Remains Calm

The young woman who was born and reared in the Philippines, where she married Lieutenant Copping seven years ago, remained calm under questioning.

She said, Gabrielson related, that as she left her hotel room at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, some hours after an all day drinking party of navy folk, a man suddenly appeared about 15 feet down the hallway. As she turned to switch on the lights the man seized her by the throat with both hands.

Mrs. Copping said she lost consciousness. She said she recovered consciousness in the garage as her assailant was leaving, speaking to her solicitously.

American Is Blamed

Unlike the assault upon Mrs. Thalia Massie, who said she was attacked by five young men of mixed races, Mrs. Copping said the man who assaulted her was a white American.

She said he was dark-haired, tall and wore a grey sweater and dark trousers.

She is near sighted and admittedly had been drinking heavily, so was unable to give a more detailed description.

The third medical examination was ordered to determine whether bruises on her throat indicated she was choked sufficiently to cause her to lose consciousness. Her arms and feet were also bruised.

Attempting to clear up Mrs. Copping's movements on Sunday after-

Huge Clock To Be Suggested As Gift

A clock 18 feet high, including the base, will be suggested to the senior class of Texas Technological college as their gift to the college at a meeting at 7 o'clock tonight.

The clock would be placed on a tower of the administration building, said Wilmot Eaton, chairman of the gift committee. Face of the clock would be 36 inches in diameter.

Each senior class presents a gift to the college. Last year's class presented "Victory" bells, which were placed in the east tower of the administration building and are rung after Tech has won a victory.

Committee Favors Retirement Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—A senate judiciary subcommittee approved today the Sumners bill to permit the retirement of federal judges at full pay upon reaching seventy years of age.

The retirement measure has been approved by President Roosevelt as a part of his court reorganization program.

Trio Released By Fleeing Convicts

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 16 (AP)—State highway patrolmen on motorcycles augmented by searchers in airplanes, apparently were balked today in their search for seven prison farm convicts who freed three hostages unharmed last night.

The trail was lost after the inmates of the Caledonia prison farm released Capt. I. D. Hinton, W. L. Roberts, steward, and Walter H. Willard, 19-year-old civilian near Pinehurst.

Entire State Is Covered By Dust

FIRST VISITATION OF SILT IN TWO YEARS IS NOTED ON COAST; MOST SERIOUS OF SEASON

(By The Associated Press)

Strong north winds from 2,000 to 6,000 feet above the ground whirled a blanket of dust over Texas today, bringing to gulf coast points the first visitation of silt in two years.

The United States weather bureau reported the dust haze extended roughly from slightly east of Dallas to Columbus, N. M. and from Oklahoma and Kansas south to Brownsville in the southernmost tip of the Rio Grande valley.

Visibility Is Reduced

Visibility at Corpus Christi was reduced to one-half mile. Residents of San Antonio could see three-quarters of a mile. Houston had visibility of two miles, Big Spring one mile, Waco two miles, Wichita Falls three-quarters of a mile, Lubbock one mile and Amarillo three-quarters of a mile.

At Santo, west of Fort Worth, visibility was one-half mile. Brownsville had three miles.

Ground winds were variable and not strong.

An airplane pilot at San Antonio reported the top of the dust there was 3,000 feet. Observers said they believed the blanket varied in thickness up to 6,000 feet.

Sun Is Blotted Out

The dust swirled into Texas yesterday on a 40-mile-an-hour north wind, blotting out the sun in some communities and spreading discomfort over a wide area.

During the night ground winds died and changed direction but the silt continued to filter down from upper strata where there was no appreciable change in wind velocity.

Galveston reported the air was dusty and a light norther was blowing.

Weather bureau attaches said today's dust was by far the most serious storm of the season. There have been several local "dusters" but none so widespread, they said.

DASHES OF SLEET AND RAIN TODAY

Cloudy skies and intermittent dashes of sleet and rain today followed Monday's duster which originated in Oklahoma and the Panhandle.

R. B. ANDERSON QUITS AS CHAIRMAN FOR STATE GROUP

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 16.—R. B. Anderson resigned today as chairman of the state unemployment compensation commission and the name of Orville S. Carpenter, director of old age assistance, was sent to the senate for confirmation as his successor.

Announcement of the official changes was made by Acting Gov. Walter F. Woodul, who said the appointment of Carpenter was in both his and Gov. James V. Allred's name, so there would be no question about it. Governor Allred was in Washington and conferred with Woodul by telephone.

Gets Higher Salary

The director of old age assistance receives a salary of $5,000 a year, while that of unemployment compensation commissioner is $7,500.

The board of control said Jack Little, Carpenter's assistant, would act as pensions director until a permanent administrator could be chosen.

Anderson will be associated as an attorney with the W. T. Waggoner properties at Vernon.

Two Men Are Dead In Fire At Tulsa

TULSA, Feb. 16. (AP)—Two men working in an elevator of an office building were burned to death today when paint remover they were using caught fire.

The men were Sherlie E. "Buddy" Goodsell, 34, an employe at the building for the last four years and Cliff Tislow, a part time worker.

Assistant Fire Chief C. H. Moore said the men were trapped in the cage between the basement and the first floor.

PADUCAH, Ky., Feb. 16 (AP)—Four firemen were injured in a wall collapse when a spectacular fire early today threatened the downtown district in this flood-battered city.

SCHOOL LEADER DIES

ABILENE, Feb. 16 (AP)—Funeral services were pending today for R. D. Green, 62, Abilene school superintendent and former president of the Texas State Teachers association. He died suddenly last night after his third heart attack within a year.

MARKET WEEK DATES SET

SEMI-ANNUAL AFFAIR WILL BE HELD HERE MARCH 11 TO 14

March 11 to 14 inclusive were the dates announced for Wes-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing Market association's spring market event after a meeting of the board of directors at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the office of the chamber of commerce.

Members of the board are O. J. Sexton, president; Luther Godwin, L. A. Stephens, Morris Levine, Jno. D. Mitchell, C. I. Wall and Hal Grant.

Invitations Mailed

Invitations are being mailed today to the business concerns which are expected to participate in the semi-annual style show.

Tentative plans were discussed at the meeting yesterday, but no final arrangements were announced by the body. Further plans for the event, expected to be one of the greatest the organization has promoted, will be announced later, according to board members.

It will be held at the Hotel Lubbock.

Two Convicts Flee Texas Prison Farm

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 16. (AP)—Prison officials said today two Retrieve farm convicts, H. C. Campbell and Robert Stewart, slipped away from a construction gang building a new dormitory yesterday and escaped.

Capt. H. W. Miller, in charge of guards pursuing the pair, reported late last night the chase was so far unsuccessful.

Mussolini Starts Work Upon Subway

ROME, Feb. 16. (AP)—Premier Mussolini swung a pick high over his head today and buried its point deep into the pavement of Piazzo Bocco Del Verita to inaugurate construction of Italy's first subway.

Stream line trains are expected to start service four years from now, serving the thousands of visitors Rome hopes to attract at that time for its world exposition.

BIG PROBLEMS SAID FACED BY STATE

AID IS PROMISED TO EVERY COUNTY IN SAVING LAND

(By The Associated Press)

STAMFORD, Feb. 16—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters here, and the extension service of the Texas Agricultural & Mechanical college are jointly sponsoring a statewide soil and water conservation act now before the legislature.

The bill is senate bill No. 4 and house bill No. 24, introduced by Senator Davis of Brownwood and Rep. Fuchs of Brenham. Public hearing has been set by the agricultural committees of the two houses for next Wednesday, Feb. 24, and a Westex delegation probably will be on hand urging passage.

Has Been Approved

J. O. Guleke, Amarillo, and D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas chamber, who, with Davis, Fuchs and representatives of the extension service wrote the new bill, said it will be in harmony with federal soil conservation and flood control legislation, thus qualifying for federal aid, and has been, in fact, approved by federal agencies. Bandeen made public letters from Alvin R. Allison of Levelland, president of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association, and from Van Zandt Jarvis, WTCC president, quoting this excerpt from Jarvis' letter to all Westex chamber directors:

"The destruction of our land by wind and water, and the retention of our water where it falls, is a problem which West Texas must solve if we are to retain and preserve our land, agricultural and livestock industries. This bill will render aid to every county and every landowner in a program of keeping our top soil where it is and our water where it falls.

No New Local Taxes

"In addition, the bill renders aid to our cities and towns in their water, flood and allied problems. It does all this without imposing new local taxes. Furthermore, no new agencies are created and we use the agencies and political subdivisions already in existence. The bill in my opinion is the most practical method yet proposed for attacking our various types of conservation problems. Under its provisions, facilities are offered so that every-

FINES ARE GIVEN IN COURT TRIALS

Three fines of $25 and costs and one 60-day jail sentence were assessed in county and justice of the peace courts this morning.

Glen Burks, who waived a jury and stood trial before Justice of the Peace Walter Davies, was convicted of theft of a leather jacket. He was fined $25 and costs. Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney, prosecuted the case.

Richard Sanders, 26, was fined $25 and costs for theft of a bicycle and was sentenced to serve 60 days in county jail for carrying a pistol by Judge J. J. Dillard. Sanders, a Plainview negro, pleaded guilty.

Judge Dillard fined Johnny Collins 19, a negro, also of Plainview, $25 and costs for theft of a bicycle. Collins pleaded guilty.

County Attorney Robert J. Allen represented the state.

Three Men Killed In Airplane Crash

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 16 (AP)—A plane which side-slipped and crashed near the Corpus Christi municipal airport last night carried three men to their deaths.

J. L. Dimotsis, 50, Corpus Christi cafe operator, was killed instantly. Louie Pietasch, electrical worker, and Clyde A. G. Crabtree, the pilot, formerly of Oklahoma City, died a short while later.

DIZZY OFFERS HIS WISDOM TO HOPEFULS

(By The Associated Press)

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 16—Dizzy Dean held out his contract wars with the St. Louis Cardinals today as a model for baseball hopefuls who may reach the major leagues some day.

He is demanding $50,000 with the assertion if he is worth the $400,000 price the Cardinals placed on his head last winter he never will don a St. Louis uniform for less than he is asking.

"When you get to be a big star some baseball managers and owners will try to cut down on your salaries. Don't let 'em do it," the great one told some 300 students at a baseball school.

"I've got those Cardinal managers just where I want them now and I'm telling you to do just what I'm doing now. Stick 'em for all you're worth."

ORDER IS GIVEN TO SLASH PROVISIONS FOR TAX BOOSTS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 16—The house of representatives today killed the combination pension liberalization and natural resources tax bill drawn by a sub-group of the state affairs committee.

By a vote of 82 to 57, it sent the proposal back to committee with instructions the tax provisions be deleted.

May Come Up Separately

The action did not mean the death of either more liberal old age pensions or higher natural resources taxes as separate bills.

The bill recommitted would have increased the tax on carbon black from one-twelfth of a cent to one cent a pound, on natural gas from three per cent of value to one cent per thousand cubic feet, on oil from 2 3-4 to 4 cents a barrel and on sulphur from $1.03 to $2.00 per ton.

No Public Hearings

Opponents based their arguments chiefly on the fact the committee held no public hearing on the tax

PRAYERS FOR LOST MAN ANSWERED

(By The Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 16—The prayers of 2,000 Travis Avenue Baptist church members in Fort Worth apparently were answered this morning when a young amnesia victim was identified here as Roland Leath, 25, choir leader who disappeared Jan. 19.

The young man, who was found in a dazed condition leaning against a wall of the Muskogee police station, was identified by three friends—Rev. C. E. Matthew, pastor of the Travis Avenue church where Leath is choir leader; Walter Hamilton, church trustee, and C. W. Shahan, a member of the church.

The three left Fort Worth late last night when they heard the description of the Muskogee victim.

When they viewed him in the Muskogee general hospital, he stared blankly at them, showing no sign of recognition.

Dr. J. H. White, a Muskogee physician, declared the young

SECURITY AND HOMES ASKED FOR MASSES

FEDERAL PROGRAM TO PROVIDE FUNDS TO TENANTS SOUGHT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—President Roosevelt told congress today that "action to provide security" for the nation's farm population is imperative.

Sending to the legislators a report of his special committee on farm tenancy, the chief executive declared "we can no longer postpone action."

Necessities Emphasized

"Most Americans believe," Mr. Roosevelt said, "that our form of government does not prohibit action on behalf of those who need help."

The committee, he said, emphasized these necessities:

"First, action to open the doors of ownership to tenants who now have the requisite ability and experience but who can become owners only with the assistance of liberal credit, on long terms, and technical advice.

"Second, modest loans, with the necessary guidance and education to prevent small owners from slipping into tenancy, and to help the masses of tenants, croppers and farm laborers at the very bottom of the agricultural ladder increase their standards of living, achieve greater security, and begin the up-

LABOR LEADER RAPS UNION

ORDER FOR EXPULSION BRANDED FOR GREEN AS "HITLERISM"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, assailed today as "Hitlerism" the order for his expulsion from his own union, the United Mine Workers.

"I won't take it lying down," he told reporters after the miners' international policy committee had accused him of "treason" in the General Motors strike and called on union officials to take away his membership.

Compared To Germany

"I have committed no act that would justify such treatment," Green said. "I think in Germany Hitler sends them to concentration camp, doesn't he, when they oppose his will?

"Here they expel you from your union."

The auto strike was supported by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, which is seeking to organize workers in each large industry into a single union.

Green and other federation leaders favor organizing workers by separate crafts.

PARROT DRINKS LIKE AN OLD SOAK

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 16—Jimmy, a pint-sized parrot that spends his days and nights parading up and down the bar of a saloon, must have his nip of beer every few minutes.

For three years Jimmy has been virtual boss of Jimmy's bar, a side-street saloon here.

Jimmy drinks like an old soak, and rarely gets drunk nowadays. When he first began his iniquitous career, he used to fall off the bar and fly into the big mirror behind, knocking glasses and bottles from the shelves.

Jimmy often takes a nip from a customer's beer or cocktail with or without invitation. He climbs upon shoulders, and likes to explore overcoat pockets.

One tipsy customer carried Jimmy away in his overcoat pocket a couple of years ago. Maynard Cadmus, the proprietor, traced Jimmy and his escort from one saloon to another. When he finally caught up, they were both drunk.

Jimmy is about 15 years old and once toured the country with a magician who pulled him out of a high silk hat every night.

Miss Mary White Is Guest Speaker At Banquet For Girl Scout Enthusiasts

Seventy-Five Are At Monday Affair

Approximately 75 Girl Scout enthusiasts attended a dinner in the women's residence hall at Texas Technological college Monday night honoring Miss Mary White, who is conducting a leaders' training course in Lubbock this week. Miss White is a member of the Girl Scout advisory staff with headquarters in New York City.

Miss White is continuing her lectures at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the R. O. T. C building on Tech campus, after having met with the local training and personnel committee at 1:30 o'clock at the Hilton hotel. Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock Miss White will confer with the publicity committee.

Attending the Monday dinner were members of the local Girl Scout advisory board, the local council, Girl Scout leaders and examiners of the city and numerous Girl Scouts and Brownies and their parents.

Pink Is Featured

A T-shaped table was arranged for the dinner with three large crystal bowls filled with pink carnations as centerpieces. At intervals were placed gold candelabra with pink tapers.

Mrs. H. F. Godeke, local commissioner, presided for the program on which Miss White was principal speaker. She introduced four board members: Carroll Thompson, G. O. Walker, J. A. Williams and George Finberg. Ten other members were unable to attend.

Mrs. Bradford Knapp welcomed Miss White to Lubbock and to the college campus. Mrs. M. C. Overton, deputy commissioner introduced the following council members: Mesdames W. D. Wilson, secretary-treasurer; N. H. Holt, A. B. Cunningham, Albert Barnett, Dan A. Blair, F. A. Kennedy, Walker, B. F. Hinchey, T. C. Delaney, Finberg and Miss Margaret W. Weeks. She also introduced the following examiners: Mesdames E. L. Reed, Leroy T. Patton, Kennedy, E. L. McBride, Mary Neathery and Miss Mabel D. Erwin.

Leaders Introduced

Miss Doris Hopping, president of the Girl Scout leaders group and captain of Troop 4, introduced Tina Mae Wright, lieutenant, and Mrs. Sam Newmark, captain, of Troop 2; Juanita Chance, lieutenant of Troop 4 and Mary Ann Davis, lieutenant of Troop 1.

Miss Hopping explained the need of equipment for carrying on local Scout work, emphasizing the need for a meeting place. She said the girls do not have an adequate place to play games, pass tests in homemaking and other phases of Scout studies and for storing collections.

Miss White described the underlying philosophy of Girl Scout work and enumerated ways in which Girl Scout training made for a better adult home life. She suggested that a part time paid director might be sufficient for Lubbock for the next few years, describing the need of one.

Typical Girl Scout songs were sung by Ann Crenshaw, Jean Renner, Betty McBride and Mary Claire Barnett, accompanied by Dona Huff. The program was concluded with group singing of the Girl Scout taps song.

Arrangements were made by Mesdames Kennedy, Blair and Cunningham, with Mrs. Cunningham chairman.

BEWARE OF COLDS WHEN CONSTIPATED

In winter, colds and other germs collect in every crowded place. People whose resistance is low are easy victims.

That's why you should guard against common constipation. It saps your vitality, pulls down your defenses against infection.

Keep on your toes this winter. Protect yourself from constipation by eating a natural laxative food. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a generous source of corrective "bulk."

Within the body, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, and gently sponges out the system. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood.

How much better than taking weakening pills and drugs. Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into recipes.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. In severe cases, with every meal. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

This Safe, External Treatment
Helps END A COLD Quicker

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warmed cloth.

Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once—two direct ways:

1. Through the Skin, VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages. This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

During the night, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Avoids Risk of Stomach Upsets This safe, external treatment cannot possibly upset the stomach, as constant internal "dosing" is so apt to do. It can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

HOW FOLGER'S RARE "MOUNTAIN FLAVOR" WINS MEN'S HEARTS

Folger's has a keen, bracing tang and rare wine-y flavor—that's really satisfying to a man's taste! It's different—because Folger's is mountain grown!

Most of the world's coffee is lowland grown. But this unique flavor in Folger's comes from a hilly region in Central America—known to coffee experts as the world's "coffee paradise"!

Up there, the soil's different—a volcanic ash! The rainfall's different—tropical downpours! The air's different—fresh, bracing mountain air!

And what a difference that makes in coffee! The beans literally swell with flavor to the bursting point! And Folger's scientific roasting and vacuum-packing—bring it to you fresh!

That's why Folger's is served on 15 great railroad systems, modern planes—and in famous restaurants and hotels! So if you want to thrill a man—just try serving him Folger's, and hear him cheer!

Quality always pays! Folger's mountain flavor is so much richer, home-makers tell us that they use ¼ less of Folger's than of ordinary brands! So it's real economy to enjoy this world's finest coffee in your home! Folger Coffee Company, Kansas City—San Francisco.

DRIP COFFEE-LOVERS—NOTE: To get richer drip coffee use Folger's Drip Grind—designed especially for drip-makers. Slice and pulverize coffee-makers. Never crushed, or mashed—but cut by scientific processes to assure perfect results.

Hard-Fisted Hooligans Launching Reign Of Terror In New York

MANY ATTACKS BEING MADE

NEW YORK POLICE ARE HAVING HARD TIME WITH PROBLEM

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—Driven off the streets by the swift "flying squad" efficiency of radio patrol cars, roving gangs of subway knuckle-busters are giving New York a new headache.

The radio cars will reach any spot in Manhattan within three minutes—on the surface. But they can't "submerge" for a riot in a subway express car flashing along at 40 M. P.H., non-stop for a dozen or more blocks.

Frequent outbreaks of subway violence, usually late at night when the cars are almost empty, have convinced police that the hard-fisted hooligans who used to pick their victims on side streets have taken their homicidal capers underground.

One subway rider took a terrific beating that put him in the hospital for weeks. He sued the subway company, charging that the conductor was the guardian of subterranean peace in the absence of the police, and collected more than $2,000 damages.

Recently a young eccentric who startled a carload of citizens in transit by whipping out a long-bladed pocket knife, announcing that he "couldn't stand it anymore"—whatever it was he had in mind, at the time—and chilling the spines of the passengers by offering to wager:

"Five to one there'll be a corpse on the floor before the next station!"

Nobody offered to take him up. Three women and several men were slashed before he was subdued.

Police officials now are seriously considering a new detail—bolstering their forces of airplane police, river police, and plain street-pounding flatfoots—with a modern and literal version of the "undercover" cop, in the subways.

SCOUT AFFAIR IS STAGED

ANNUAL BANQUET FOR BROWNFIELD SCOUTS HELD ON MONDAY

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 16 (Special)—Approximately 115 boys, parents and organization workers of the southwestern district of the South Plains council of Boy Scouts attended the annual get-together meeting here last night and re-elected the entire staff of 1936 officers to serve in 1937. A varied program was presented.

The affair was staged in the high school gymnasium with members of the Brownfield High school home economics classes, in charge of Miss Mamie Sue Parrish, preparing and serving a tasty meal.

All Officers Re-Elected

Officers re-elected were:

District chairman, Clyde Coleman; district commissioner, M L. H. Baze; program chairman, Burton G. Hackney; promotion chairman, H. F. Heath; court of honor director, R. A. Simms; and finance chairman, James Harley Dallas. The Southwestern district is that portion of the South Plains area council including Terry, Gaines and Yoakum counties, and the southeast part of Hockley county.

Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche and Evening Journal, made the principal address on the program which was presided over by County Attorney Burton Hackney. The visiting newspaperman took as his subject "Americanism In These Changing Times" and called upon scouts, parents and workers to so "build that the boys of today, who will be the men of tomorrow, may stand firm for the American traditions in spite of whatever efforts may be made to alter the present form of free government."

Others On Program

Other Lubbock men taking part on the program were Earl M. McClure, scout executive for the South Plains area; W G McMillan city commissioner and longtime scout worker; and Prof. V. L. Doughtie, of the mechanical engineering department of Texas Tech, director of the council's 10 year scouting plan.

M. L. H. Baze, superintendent of Brownfield schools, was honored upon completion of 10 years of scout work and other Southwestern district scout leaders were introduced by Chairman Hackney, as was A. J. "Andy Jack" Stricklin, editor of the Terry County Herald.

Outstanding on the program was a violin presentation by Miss Lois Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Watson, of Lubbock, music teacher in Brownfield Junior High school. Accompanying Miss Watson at the piano was Principal Emmitt Smith, of Brownfield High school, who also played for group singing led by Mr. Baze.

Howard Scott, local teacher, led 13 scouts in a Tenderfoot investiture and Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of First Methodist church, offered the invocation.

FOUR SENTENCED HERE ON MONDAY

Sentences totaling 16 years in the state penitentiary were assessed against four men who Monday afternoon waived juries and entered pleas of guilty in 72nd district court before Judge Daniel A. Blair.

Another person was found guilty of the offense charged and a three-year sentence was suspended.

Alton Sheffield, who had been sentenced recently in 99th court for armed robbery, answered nothing in bar when asked why a three-year suspended sentence assessed by Judge Pharr of 72nd district court after a plea of guilty of forgery last year should not be tacked onto a five-year sentence. Judge E. L. Pitts, sitting for Judge Blair, who was disqualified to act, formally sentenced him. The eight years will run cumulatively.

Robbery, Burglary And Forgery

The four sentenced to a total of 16 years were: J. T. Collier, 20, two years for forgery; Fred Pinkard, 49, two years for burglary of Edwards Wrecking yard; Elijah Stephenson, about 50, two years for swindling over $50, and Lonnie Roush and J. D. Stotts, five years each for armed robbery of Smith Drug store at Shallowater.

Earl Harris, 24, of Tennessee, allowed suspension of sentence, said he forged a $2.85 check to buy food. He passed the instrument at a small store, getting a loaf of bread, canned pears, and tobacco. He did not take the "change" from the purchase, saying he would return for it later. He never returned.

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, his assistant, represented the state at the hearings.

Stomach Gas So Bad Seems To Hurt Heart

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adlerika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never felt better." —Mrs. Jas. Piller.

Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adlerika gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Dr. E. L. Shook, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation.

Barbara Stanwyck says: "Luckies make a hit with my throat"

"When talking pictures arrived, my stage experience on Broadway gave me my chance on the screen. Taking care of my throat became serious business with me, so I changed to Luckies—a light smoke. Of course I smoke other cigarettes now and then but sooner or later I come back to Luckies. They make a hit with my throat and also with my taste."

Barbara Stanwyck

RKO RADIO PICTURES' STAR NOW APPEARING IN "THE PLOUGH AND THE STARS"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Stanwyck verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

NEW MEXICO BOXERS WIN 15 OF THE 20 BATTLES STAGED

CLOVIS, N. M., Feb. 16 (AP)—Amateur mittmen of New Mexico and West Texas swung leather with more dynamite than science in the opening rounds of the New Mexico-Texas A. A. U. Golden Gloves tournament here last night.

Only four of the 20 bouts managed to last the full three two-minute rounds. Seven didn't get through the first stanza. New Mexico boxers won 15 of the bouts.

Action Comes Fast

Action came especially fast in the light heavyweight division. Ray Love of Clovis, flattened George Caviness of Canyon, Tex., in 25 seconds. Tom Slack of Canyon polished off Harold Collier of Portales, N. M., in 34 seconds, and Joe Kuykendall of Portales followed up with a 44-second kayo of Leo Jackson, Canyon.

Other Texas winners:

H. W. Bradley, Littlefield, Tex., featherweight, knocked out Santos Huerta, Clovis, in the second. Lawrence Thornton, 135, Littlefield, defeated Vernon Mulhair, Clovis, by a technical knockout in the second. Earl Brown, 160, Adrian, Tex., defeated Hugh Lawrence, Clovis, by a technical knockout in the second. Julian Alsobrook, Pecos, Tex., heavyweight, knocked out Jim McArthur, Las Vegas, N. Junior high school basketball teams of Lubbock county will compete for the county championship in a tournament at the Roosevelt High school gymnasium this week-end, Roy Boyd, coach at Roosevelt, said yesterday.

A tentative schedule has been arranged, calling for titles to be determined in both boys and girls divisions. Three games are scheduled for Thursday night, four Friday night, and four Saturday night.

Junior interscholastic league rules will apply. Any boy or girl under 15 years old is eligible to compete.

Idalou and Frenship girls are to start the tourney at 7 o'clock Thursday night. Cooper and Roosevelt girls play the second game. Idalou and Slaton boys are opponents in the third game.

New Deal and the winner of the Idalou-Frenship girls game play at 9 o'clock Friday night, Posey meeting the winner of the Roosevelt-Cooper game at ten. Roosevelt boys are to play Posey at seven o'clock and Frenship boys play at 8 o'clock.

Admission price will be 10 cents up to the finals, which will be 15 cents, Boyd said.

Texas Tech Cagers Facing Heavy Schedule

SPORTOGRAPH by COLLIER PARRIS

Copyright, 1937

THEY DO PLAY offensive basketball in the Border conference.

Just ask the Tech Red Raiders, who scored enough points nearly every night of their eight-night tour of Arizona and New Mexico to win a dozen games or more.

But they won just three.

Berl Huffman, the coach who can "take it" and come up smiling, was shaking his head and grinning sort of embarrassed like.

"I dunno," he mused. "We played some mighty good basketball. Got no kick to make. We scored a lot of points. But they (meaning the tall Arizonans and the short speedy Latin stars of New Mexico teams) scored more.

If you follow the scores of the Southwest conference and the high school leagues and a lot of the other college conferences, you'll see that a team capable of scoring an average of 30 points wins a lot of games. Under the new rules, some of which ought to be traded off for a set of joke books, the pressure is on the offensive team. Not many points are being scored nowadays, when the teams are anywhere near matched.

On its recent trip, the Tech team's smallest total was 31, its biggest, 42. Yet the Raiders lost both games. They did score 42 points and win one game. Both times these scores were against the New Mexico Aggies, who scored 66 points to win the first game and 36 to lose the second. Tech scored a total of 84 points in the series to split the Aggies winning with 102.

"You know," chattered Huffman, "the night the Aggies scored 66 points against us, we were playing our dead level best. It was the very best we could do. It was the highest score we had made. You just can't do anything about a bunch of fast, short, clever boys who stand off 10 to 25 feet from the backboard and swish the net every time. Doesn't do any good to have tall men under the basket to catch the rebounds. Nobody wants the ball but the referee after one of those guys shoot."

(Note: Last night at Las Cruces: New Mexico Aggies 72; New Mexico Military institute 34.)

That happened the first night out. Three nights later the Raiders were at Tempe to play the Teachers. They were slightly favored to take both games. They won the first one 36 to 34. They scored 38 points in the second and lost it—by one point. Tech shot a field goal just before or just after the final gun that would have won the game, 40 to 39, but Arizona's scorekeeper said the gun had already fired. The Tech boys tell us that the Tempe boys told them that it had not fired. The crowd was in an uproar, as you might well imagine, and nobody heard the gun but the players and the timer and the official scorer. But that's just another "break" of the game.

The Raiders and their coach had a lot to say regarding the fine hospitality and sportsmanship of the Tempe coach and players—in fact, of all the teams they played.

"There's a new spirit among them," the boys tell us. "They're not so hard to get along with as they used to be. Treated us swell everywhere we went. The games were pretty fast and rough, but nobody got mad; it was fun."

Huffman and the boys had a lot to say about the good officiating, and that is most unusual. It's better than it ever has been in the Border loop, they say. In fact, it's as good as you'd want.

From Tempe the road led to Flagstaff for a couple of games. Tech had swept the Lubbock series with the Flagstaffers. They won the first one there, 33 to 32. Thirty-nine points were not enough to win the second, because the Lumberjacks made 58.

There was another one-point victory at Albuquerque, but not for Tech. The University of New Mexico won the first game, 36-35, and the second, 38-31. Tech had made the long drive from Flagstaff the day of the first game.

Tempe's cagers come here this weekend, play at the Tech gym Friday and Saturday nights. They ought to be plenty hot and fast. University of Arizona plays here next Monday and Tuesday nights.

J. A. DUNLAP of Brownwood writes: "Can you give me the names of the West Texas Golf champions and where they were from for the past 7 years? Also the state champions? We are having quite an argument down here."

The West Texas Golf association champions:

1930—Dennis Lavender of Abilene, at Brownwood.
1931—Charlie Quail of Post, at Lubbock.
1932—Jimmy Phillips of Ranger, at San Angelo.
1933—Carnes Wilson of Abilene, at Wichita Falls.
1934—Carnes Wilson of Abilene, at Big Spring.
1935—John Marston of San Angelo, at Abilene.
1936—Morris Norton of Wichita Falls, at Mineral Wells.

The Texas Golf association champions:

1930—W. C. Hunt of Houston.
1931—Gus Moreland of Dallas.
1932—Gus Moreland of Dallas.
1933—Gus Moreland of Dallas.
1934—Reynolds Smith of Dallas.
1935—Harry Todd of Dallas.
1936—Don Schumacher of Dallas.

FOUR BATTLES ARE SLATED FOR CLUB

CONFERENCE TOUR IS DISASTROUS; DROP TO THIRD PLACE

Texas Tech's basketball Red Raiders, somewhat cowed and cringing but not without hope, will make a desperate effort to get back in the thick of the Border conference championship race this week-end and early next week, playing four games in five days against opponents from Arizona.

Coach Berl Huffman's cagers were undefeated in conference play when they pulled out nearly two weeks ago for an eight-game conference tour. But they went from first place to second, and then to third, never getting better than a split series and finally losing a complete series in one of the toughest basketball leagues in the Southwest.

Wildcats Next Week

The Tempe, Arizona, Bulldogs, with whom the Raiders divided a series in Tempe last week, are coming to Lubbock for two games Friday and Saturday nights of this week. After winning the first game, 36-34, the Techs lost the second, 38-39, at Tempe.

University of Arizona's Wildcats, veteran rivals of Tech, come here next Monday for a two-night windup series at the Tech court. It will be the first meeting of the teams. Arizona is defending champion, and is crowding Tech for the last mathematical chance for championship honors this year.

Huffman brought his cagers home Sunday. Although triumphant in only three of the eight road games, the Raiders and their coach were not looking down their noses. "We had a swell time, good officiating, and we played good basketball," Huffman said. "We were keenly disappointed at not being able to do any better regarding victories, but the boys did the best they could, and I have no kick coming. They play mighty fast basketball in that league, and that's all there is to it."

Aggies Ho'd Lead

No team in the league has a commanding league. The New Mexico Aggies, probably the most powerful club of the circuit, hold first place just now, with University of New Mexico, who took both games of the series from Tech, in runner-up position. But the clubs are dividing series among themselves and if they continue to do so, and if Tech can handle the rest of its schedule—meaning if they can win all four games—the Raiders will still have a mathematical chance of winning a fourth conference championship. After winning three in a row, they were displaced last year by University of Arizona.

Eight o'clock will be the starting time each night during the series with Arizona State of Tempe here Friday and Saturday night. Preliminary games are to be played by the Tech freshmen.

The Tech team came home in good physical condition, and should be at its top strength and ready to shoot the works in the remaining four contests. Hugh Snodgrass, captain and guard, sustained a slight hand injury in Flagstaff while bobsledding with teammates, but it did not hinder his playing last Friday and Saturday nights. A finger was split when the sled overturned, but the injury is not necessarily serious.

Broillard Is Loud With His Protests

MARCEL THIL VICTOR ON FOUL; LOU SAYS BLOW NOT LOW

PARIS, Feb. 16 (AP)—Lou Broillard let out a howl that could almost be heard back in his Massachusetts home today as he protested last night's foul that meant a third straight failure in his efforts to win Marcel Thil's claims to the world middleweight boxing title.

In a bout that was almost a duplicate of their meeting a year ago, Thil retained his International Boxing Union championship recognition when he won on a foul in the sixth round. Some 12,000 fans protested loudly at the Palais Des Sports last night when the referee after counting out the French veteran, consulted the judges and then announced he was the winner on a foul.

Didn't Hit Low

"I'll never box in Paris again," Lou roared today. "That's twice I've knocked Thil out and twice they have disqualified me. I didn't hit him low. I hit him in the stomach."

Some ringsiders figured the knockout blow struck even higher. They saw a smashing right hand on the Frenchman's jaw just before he dropped to the canvas clutching his middle.

PROTECTS LEAD

ABILENE, Feb. 16 (AP)—Lewis Parker scored 21 points last night to protect his Texas conference scoring lead as he paced his Abilene Christian college mates to a 59 to 41 victory over Austin college. Bowe and Perry, Kangaroo guards, hit the basket from long range to tally 13 and 10 points, respectively, and lead the Austin attack.

Lubbock Athletes Off For Campaign

In Fort Worth to "warm up" in a period of intensive training before continuing their Golden Gloves campaign are two young Lubbock athletes, who will represent Texas in the national boxing tournament at Chicago next week.

Babe Ritchie, state amateur and state Golden Gloves champion, has recovered from an attack of "flu" and is expected to be in good shape by the time the Texas party leaves Fort Worth Friday or Saturday. With him is Lewis Terrell, the flyweight sensation of the state tournament. Both are Lubbock High school students. Ritchie is captain elect of the 1937 Westerner football team.

The two won in their weight divisions in the district tournament at Fort Worth to qualify for the national joust at Chicago.

Jackrabbits Again Beat Lamesa Crew

RALLS, Feb. 16 (Special)—Ralls High school's Jackrabbits held another three-point victory over the Golden Tornadoes from Lamesa today. In the district tournament at Lubbock last week, the Rabbits beat Lamesa, 29 to 26. Here last night, the score was 23 to 20.

It was the first game of a play-off for the district 5 Class B conference championship. District 5 football schools organized the basketball league which has nothing to do with the interscholastic league race.

Ralls won the northern half of the district, Lamesa the southern half. The teams meet Tuesday night at Lamesa. If a third game is necessary, time and place will be set Tuesday night.

The score was even, 10-10, at the half last night. Wheeler with 10 points and Arstead with 7 led the Jackrabbits scoring. They are regular forwards. Reed is center, Weight and Dendy, guards. Sandel and Ross, Hill, Hogg and Easterwood played for Lamesa.

BROWN IS ALL READY TODAY FOR LOUIS

HEBREW PROMISES HE WILL GIVE BOMBER SOME TROUBLE

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 16 (AP)—Natie Brown insisted today Joe Louis is no brown bomber when it comes to Mr. Brown.

Two hundred pounds of eagerness, the Washington Hebrew expected to do even better in his 10-round engagement with Louis tomorrow night than he did in 1935. Then he stayed 10 rounds with Joe—but he can't remember seven of them so well.

Manager Takes Blame

Billy McCarney, Brown's manager, takes the blame for the knockdown Louis scored in 1935. McCarney said he sent Brown out to carry the fight to the bomber. Brown landed two pretty lefts, tried again, and the roof fell in. Louis hit him with a right and left close together as Saturday and Sunday. Brown was mentally absent the next seven rounds.

McCarney assured the same error will not be made tomorrow night. Brown will make no errors, his pilot said—and Louis will do his share of the catching.

If Brown fails to go the route, it will not be because he doesn't know his way about.

He has been fighting since 1928, the records and his face show. He has been knocked out only twice, once in 1930, and last year by Leroy Haynes. He took decisions over Leo Lomski, Kayo Christner, Eddie Sims and Hans Birkie, and drew with Mickey Walker and Walter Neusel.

Louis was expected to leave for Kansas City today. He has been training in Chicago.

YESTERDAY, as the yellow dust permeated the atmosphere and the nasal passages, lo, and behold, what should arrive but a letter from Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian church, who is resting, after illness, in Navasota.

In Jack's letter was enclosed a literary effort of Harry Blocker, sr., the cotton buyer, who had sent the item to Doctor Lewis some time ago when the last sandstorm was raging here.

Knowing full well that Harry Blocker is not a drinking man, The Plainsman presents his "Ode To A Sandstorm (With Apologies to Mr. Longfellow)" not only as a literary gem but also as proof of what sandstorms do to otherwise complacent persons:

"Filled was the air with a dreamy and magical haze.
And the landscape, obscured and bedimmed.
Lay as if new-created in all the blurriness of embryonic revealment.
An ominous oppression seemed to settle like a pall upon the earth, and the restless fury of the wind, whipped and goaded by a thousand evil passions, seemed ruthless and wanton.
There were no sounds save one. E'en the strident tones of the traffic-light bells were engulfed in the giant cacophony of screaming wind and howling gale.
And the great sun
Blood-red and aflame and grown distorted and huge, looked with a malevolent eye through the golden vapors around him.
While arrayed in their robes of russet and scarlet and yellow.
Opaque with the sheen of the sand.
Each glittering word in the Lubbock and Hilton hotel signs
Flashed like the plane-tree the Persians adorned with mantles and jewels."

Those sand and dust storms sure do something to folks!

Getting back to Doctor Lewis, he says he is feeling much better but that his enforced convalescence will have to last until about March 1.

"But when I get back," he writes, "I expect to be in good shape again."

That's good news to his many friends of all denominations.

OVER at a local hatchery the other day a couple of farmers were talking about good setting hens.

"I'll never forget one we had on our farm in East Texas, when I was a boy," the first one related. "That hen would hatch anything from a doorknob to a tennis ball. Why one day she sat on a chunk of ice and hatched out two quarts of hot water."

"That's nothing," said the second one. "When I was a boy my mother had a club-footed hen and, by mistake, had been feeding her sawdust instead of oatmeal. Well, sir, she laid 12 eggs and sat on them and when they hatched, eleven of the chickens had wooden legs and the twelfth was a woodpecker!"

LATEST information to seep into the United States from below the Rio Grande is that the Stalin clique in Mexico is making it so tough for Exile Leon Trotzky that he plans to move to this country if he can get permission to enter.

We suspected that all the time—and we view almost hopelessly the probable official ruling when Trotzky asks to move his place of residence to the United States.

To think that Old Bolsheviki Trotzky could do much in the way of fomenting serious trouble in this country is, of course, foolish.

The Plainsman wouldn't, were he the judge, bar entrance to Trotzky on such feeble grounds.

But on the principle that this country is no haven for revolutionists, should be no such haven, and will not be such a haven, we'd slam the door in the face of the man who repeatedly has violated his promises to avoid intrigue while residing in countries which have hospitably offered him succor.

INSTEAD of offering hospitality to such persons as Leon Trotzky, this country should do away with some of the hospitality we are already extending to aliens who are doing their best to undermine the American government from within.

Old, worn out, Leon Trotzky is not the dangerous man he once was, because age has slowed him down.

But he is a symbol of everything that is unhealthy in our national life and as such a symbol should be kept out of the U. S. A.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Rex Moore has returned from a round trip flight to America. But he had a temporary recurrence of his old blindness upon landing, has found that he may in time go completely blind, and does not tell Laurie, whom he loves, the truth. She believes he has grown cold; their situation is entangled by the innocent lie they told Mark Albery, their employer. It was that they were married. Laurie wishes to tell the real situation to everyone; Rex asks that she wait until he has flown the Pacific.

Chapter 33
PARTING PLAN

"Of course, I don't want to see you found out!" Laurie's eyes blazed. "I made a bargain, and I'm prepared to stick to it. Besides, I'm in it, too! And, as you've so often pointed out, I've made a good thing out of it!"

"You're a sport," said Rex. "Well, it's like this. I want to do the Pacific flight as soon as possible. At once. And I must have a free mind. This mock divorce business will take time. It's got to be a fool-proof plan, or we shall look like a couple of idiots, as well as crooks. There's not a soul who would understand our position."

"But I can't think it out, with the Pacific flight before me. Will you agree that we let it stand over until I come back?"

His voice had the eagerness of a boy's. He loved her, but he was a man, and love could not be everything in his life, and for the moment he was in the grip of a fixed idea.

His words fell coldly on her heart.

"I don't want to interfere with the Pacific flight," she said. "But I won't stay here any longer. It's not right. Why should we go on sponging on Mr. Albery? I've got my own place to go back to. That's what I shall do."

"Of course, as you please. Perhaps it would be better if we just met occasionally at first. We don't want people to talk too much all at once, do we?"

"I suppose not. Am I to tell Mr. Albery?"

"I leave that to you. Perhaps a hint would be wise. Always remember, when you're playing the end of this game, that it is all my fault!" He laughed again. He was on fire with jealousy of Albery, just as Albery raged with jealousy of him.

"And you will tell Mrs. Steele," she suggested. "I would like you to do that. And it would be a good way of getting it about."

The man gave a twisted smile at this piece of sheer femininity but he said coldly:

"Yes, I will tell Mrs. Steele when I have an opportunity. But I shall be grateful if you don't make it out an absolute break, Laurie."

"All right, then," said Laurie, and added quite gaily: "It'll be a great relief to get back to normal life."

"Thank you," retorted Rex grimly. "You've been a brick. I'll get on to Albery and fix things up. You'll stay here the night?"

"Oh, yes. I'll have to. Glad will be tired when she gets back from the show. And tomorrow is Saturday and Mr. Albery won't be up, so I shall have all day to move."

Rex went to the telephone.

Laurie went into the kitchen. She was sure he would like some tea. He still looked grey and exhausted and, in a queer way, different. She had dispensed with Mrs. Budd after the early morning while he was away.

"It's all right," he said, coming into the kitchen a few minutes later. "Albery was pretty beastly at first, because I'd not rung him up from Ireland. But, of course, he's glad that I did the flight. I'm to have the bungalow and start getting ready at once. So now the stage is set again, Laurie, this time for the final curtain!"

He went into his bedroom to pack his meager belongings in his shabby suitcase, while Laurie got the tea.

He drank two cups, as if he were thirsty, but would not eat anything.

"Well, I'll be off, Laurie! I suppose we can both be trusted not to make idiotic mistakes. I'll write to you at your place, then?"

"Rex," she said suddenly, "there's one thing I'd like you to do for me one of these days."

"What's that?" He looked at her, his eyes lighting up with that eager frankness that she had known during their queer comradeship of enmity.

"Take me up in a plane before you go off again." She spoke the words mechanically, as if they had been put into her mouth. It was an uncontrollable impulse. A moment ago she had not had the slightest idea of wanting him to do such a thing.

"Why, of course, I shall be delighted," he said, looking slightly blank. "Have you never been up?"

"Yes, once. Last year Mr. Albery gave a party to all the staff, and there were little joy trips all day."

I went up and I loved it. And I would like to go up again."

"Any time you like," he said.

"I'll let you know when I can get off. Of course, any Sunday." It was a person in a dream who spoke, but she looked quite natural.

"Right, let me know, Laurie! I'll go and call the porter now to get me a taxi."

He came back and stood looking at her awkwardly. In his strange grey eyes struggled a thousand things that no words could express. What he did say was commonplace enough.

"It's a nice hole, this flat, I think. But you'll be glad to get away."

And suddenly, he came up to her and laid his hand on her shoulder, and said in a hoarse, stifled voice: "I'm glad you're going away. I'm glad I'm not going to see you any more like this. I wouldn't want you to be near me any more—now—I couldn't bear it! Good-bye!"

And he was gone.

Laurie was working with Mark Albery in his room at the office, ten days later.

The time had slipped by, as periods of life do when the brain and heart are dazed by emotion. Laurie had had a large amount of special work to do, and her employer had been very little in London.

When she first left the flat in Chelsea and returned to her own rooms, he had commented on it, but appeared to regard it as natural, now that her husband was at Gretton, preparing for his great flight, and would be away for some time after he had started on it. He had had very little personal conversation with her, seeming to be absorbed in business.

But today, when they had finished, and she was just getting up from her chair, he came swiftly towards her, with his graceful, cat-like steps, and laid his hand on her arm.

"Don't go! I want to talk to you. I have been thinking of you night and day. I can't sleep for thinking of you. Why wouldn't you come down to Gretton on Sunday?"

"I had an appointment that I couldn't break, Mr. Albery. It was very kind of you to ask me."

"Why won't you come down and stay at the bungalow? You could do your work there just as well. In fact, last week you would have been very useful to me. And when I'm up here, any of the men can take my correspondence."

"You did not say I would be useful, Mr. Albery. If I had known you wanted me, of course I would have come."

"Don't you want to be with your husband?"

Laurie felt herself coloring. The moment had come. It was the first opportunity to do what she and Rex had discussed.

"Is there anything wrong between you?" he went on. His voice was more toneless even than usual; his face more impassive. But his eyes gleamed between his half-closed lids with a watchful fire. "Moore never mentions you. I've seen quite a bit of him. He gives me the impression that he doesn't want to talk, so I haven't asked him anything."

Laurie took the plunge.

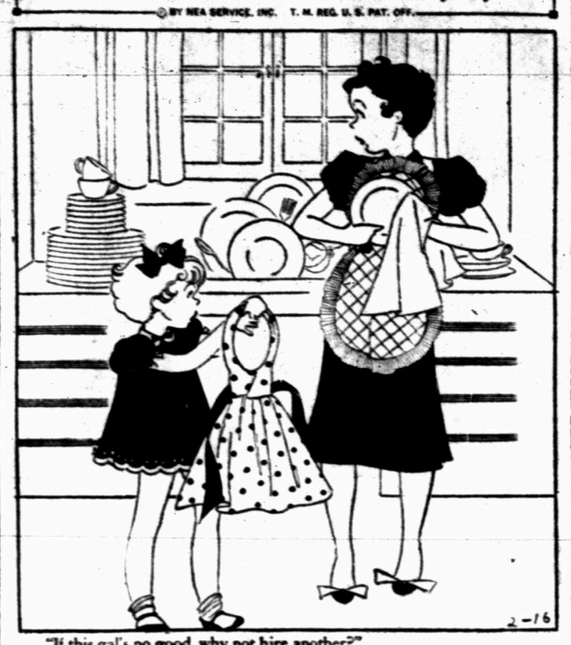

"We are not sure that we are getting on very well, Mr. Albery. We have decided to part for a time. I don't know why Rex didn't tell you. Of course, he is very busy. We have decided not to do anything definite until he comes back from his flight."

"You can't expect me to be sorry," he said. "Moore doesn't understand women. I have seen all the time that he makes you unhappy. And now I suppose he is carrying on with that old friend of his, Mrs. Steele?"

Laurie shook her head dumbly. She could not find words to answer that. The very thought was like a knife in her heart.

Laurie is made a strange offer tomorrow.

EXTENDING THE TERMS OF CONGRESSMEN

That the opposition to President Roosevelt's so-called "court reform" bill will come in and from the Senate, everyone is agreed. There is no doubt that the "rubber stamp" House will jump through the blazing hoop at the command of the Chief Executive, just like a fox terrier in the free attractions at a county fair.

What is behind this situation? Are the men in the House of different opinions than those in the Senate? Are they of a different breed, a different school of thought?

The answer is that the gentlemen of the House come up for election every two years—the gentlemen of the Senate every six. Because they fear the President's popularity with the voters, Representatives, facing campaigns a year from this coming summer, will meekly bow to the command from the White House, not because they necessarily agree to the President's "court stacking plan" but because, in an effort to save their own hides, they are willing to do anything.

The situation shows up the glaring weakness in our method of electing members of the lower house of Congress.

Because elections come so thick and fast, there is scarcely a moment when the House member is master of his own soul and his own mind. It's a bad state of affairs, but it is true.

As Mr. Roosevelt and his visionary advisors seek to make changes in our governmental setup they might well turn an eye to the system which so handicaps the alleged representatives of the people. Extending House terms to four or six years would tend to give representatives some opportunity for using their own judgment and might improve the calibre of the average man in the House.

At any rate, it's worth thinking about.

From Hollywood
MOVIE SIDELIGHTS
Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY ROBBIN COONS
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16—The benign old gentleman, between sniffles, insisted he ought to die.

At least Boris Karloff, who was present somewhere beneath the benign old gentleman's exterior, insisted for him. The nice old boy, central figure in "Night Key," really had nothing to say about it. He was merely a pawn to be juggled by scenarists, producer, director and (Karloff hoped) by Karloff.

BORIS KARLOFF

His fate would have to be decided pretty soon, too. For one thing, they were well into the picture. For another, the sniffles belonged to Karloff, not to the old man, and Karloff, not long out of a hospital bed, was working on a draughty, clammily frigid sound stage.

A 'Chucksniffer'

"He's got to die," said Karloff between scenes. "He's a sympathetic character — sniff — old and nearly blind. He's honest, and the things he does are not intended to harm anyone but merely to get back his rightful share from the man who robbed him of his invention. It's not his fault that gangsters step in. And if he doesn't die—sniff—what can be done with him?, Have him shake hands with his old enemy and live happily—sniff—ever after?"

I suggested facetiously that perhaps the old enemy could present him with a Seeing-Eye Dog. Karloff, a sniffle overtaking a chuckle, croaked:

"Not so loudly. A writer might be hiding under a stone and hear you. Ah, but there's the villain of the piece, the producer. Excuse me. I'm going to speak to him about this cold stage."

Karloff and the benign old gentleman left together to confer with Bob Presnell, while set attendants trundled into Karloff's canvas dressing hut an army cot. Over it they set up an arc light for warmth. Karloff and Presnell huddled, and then Karloff had to do a scene.

After it he joined me in the hut, where the heat was good but dangerous — when you left it. He wouldn't lie down, although he was supposed to. He insisted on being courteous, which was more than I'd have been, wheezing and sniffling and make-up forbidding a handkerchief. There ought to be a limit to this show-must-go-on thing.

Happy In New Role

But Karloff was happy, in a way. This picture was his first in six years that couldn't possibly be called a "horror" film. As a matter of record, he said, the only strictly "horror" stuff he had done was the Frankenstein duo. The rest were just mystery pictures. . . .

"By the way," I asked, "did you get anything done about some heat?"

"Forgot it," he chuck-sniffed. "All we talked about was the way the picture should end."

Which goes to show what matters really in an actor's life.

Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery, both movie veterans, are co-starred in "Slave Ship," a sea-going melodrama about pre-Civil war slave trade.

The picture has a climax that should be eminently satisfactory to two co-stars. Both of whom, as veterans, are versed in all the tricks of their trade. Baxter pumps lead into Beery's stomach, and Beery, just before going out for the count, lambasts Baxter over the head with a belaying pin.

WALLACE BEERY

I missed the first event, the shooting of Beery, but was on deck — on the roller-equipment, picturesque old boat freshly aged on the sound stage — for Beery's revenge.

This was slow in coming, for after a rehearsal the camera misbehaved and had to be mollified with new insides. Beery, sitting up from his dying position, and Baxter holding his pistol and hovering over him, chatted amiably and

The Seven Ages Of Man
AS THEY MAY APPEAR IN FEDERAL LAW

Lines Of Strategy Being Drawn In What May Be Century's Biggest Battle; Court Reform Bill To Be Hotly Opposed

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Lines of strategy in what may prove this century's most historic battle now begin to take form.

A struggle—at least comparable in bitter intensity and probably of more far reaching importance than that over the League of Nations—is in prospect over Roosevelt's program for judicial reform. The opposition, with such old time "irreconcilables" as Senators William E. Borah and Hiram Johnson among its leaders, will seek to employ tactics used in the league fight.

Dutcher

And Franklin D. Roosevelt, as his chief Woodrow Wilson once did, will take his cause to the country—this time through the ether from the fireside at the White House to the firesides of the nation.

The Senate will be the battleground again, as a Roosevelt victory in the House is commonly conceded. When the attack on the league began in 1919 hardly anyone thought Wilson could be beaten. The late Senator Brandegee had assured Borah it was hopeless and Borah had said, "Well, let's go ahead today Borah is saying, "Well, we've got a chance to beat it." Borah and Johnson, like the six justices who would quit the Supreme court if Roosevelt had his way, are over 70 years old now.

Will Broadcast Warnings

The successful idea Borah, Johnson, Lodge, Brandegee and others had 18 years ago, was to prolong hearing and debate until they could din into the nation's ears what they considered the dangers of entry into the league. Today the idea is to bring on a parade of nationally-known figures who will broadcast warnings as to the Roosevelt plan while Republicans and conservative Democrats keep raising hue and cry on the Senate floor.

Republicans are remaining mute for the present, as a matter of concerted policy, explaining privately that "Democrats must win this fight." Reduced to impotent minorities at November's election, they realize they cannot now provide leadership, but will throw their force behind Democrats who take the lead.

Just Rubber Stamp

Chief among the opposition charges will be that Roosevelt has made Congress a rubber stamp and now hopes to bring the Supreme court completely under his thumb, making himself an "absolute dictator." Lobbyists and lawyers for special interests are on the job, fearing that if Roosevelt gets more appointees in the court, their last refuge from New Deal laws passed by Congress will be gone.

The Roosevelt plan may be harder to beat than the League of Nations because Republicans had a Senate majority in 1919 and isolationists needed only to prevent a two-thirds majority ratification vote. It is also uncertain how influential will be the criticisms of nationally-known men who were conspicuous in the campaign against Roosevelt.

The administration campaign to popularize the program began with a national broadcast Thursday night by Congressman Maury Maverick, who introduced the bill, followed by an all-important radio speech from Roosevelt.

They Had $20,000

It will be continued with public assertions that the judicial power has been outrageously abused, that reforms which Roosevelt has promised and presumably were endorsed in the election can be had in no other way. Speakers will say that pre-depression justices who lived comfortably through the depression on $20,000 a year should not be al-

PARKING SOLUTION NEEDED

Dear Plainsman: Now that Lubbock has rid itself of parking meters and again is back on premeter parking standards, I hope that the following purely personal observations may be in order.

During the period that parking meter installation was discussed pro and con by Lubbock officials and business men, I tried sincerely to see the advisability of their use on Lubbock streets. Cognizant of the real need for some practical way of controlling parking on the down town streets of our city, it was with a great deal of interest and hope that I watched the trial use of the little nickel devices. In an attempt to be open-minded, and with the hope that eventually their use would prove successful here, I believe that I can say that I overlooked most of the many objections that arose during the first few weeks of their use. But it was to no avail; parking meters certainly were not accepted by Lubbock citizens. Merchants held rightly that they were hurting their business, motorists insisted that the nickel charge for parking was just another tax, and objected to paying it. Business houses complained that they could not afford to pay for the many stops made by their delivery cars each day in the business district. Finally city officials agreed that delivery cars should have free parking, and then trouble began brewing in the ranks of the housewives. In their shopping tours of the city they, too, made many stops, and could not afford to pay for each one. Culmination of these multitudinous difficulties was the removal of parking meters from Lubbock streets. And so another battle for city improvement lost; due to no person or persons, you understand, but because of an innate weakness in the parking meter system somewhere.

And now may I come to the point of this letter. Lubbock needs more perfect control of downtown parking. Not because the local police force neglects its duty; that is not so. Like police the land over, however, they are only human, and can only do their best, which has not proven quite enough to keep the parking hog off the business streets. All over the country today there is a desperate need for some system that will do it, some system that is free to all, yet infallible in apprehending the violators. Surely such a system is possible, and will be developed. Only then will our public streets be taken away from the street hogs and returned to the use of all. Only then will Lubbock have solved her parking problems.

All right, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, what can you suggest?

Sincerely yours,
A Reader.

BILL EARNEST IS CHARGED

FORMER OFFICER HERE FREE ON BOND IN ACCIDENT CASE

W. E. Earnest, cattleman and former peace officer here, today was at liberty in $5,000 bond set late Monday by Justice of the Peace S. E. McMillan after Earnest had been charged with failing to stop and render aid after an automobile accident.

The complaint was drawn by Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and was signed by Deputy Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter. Earnest's bond was signed by Fred Snyder and C. L. Adams.

Aftermath Of Mishap

The charge was an aftermath of an automobile mishap, near Wolfforth, where Mrs. Henry A. Ballman, 29, of Carlsbad, N. M., suffered fatal injuries and her 29-year-old husband and 5-year-old daughter were injured.

Earnest served as police patrolman under John LeMond, former police chief, as a deputy sheriff under former Sheriff Wade Hardy, and as a policeman under Wiley L. Metcalfe, former police chief.

Funeral of Mrs. Ballman was to be conducted at Floydada at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Burial was to be in the Floydada cemetery.

Conditions of Ballman and his daughter, Doris, 5, were satisfactory this morning, it was said at West Texas hospital.

Schedule In Girls Tourney Announced

The opening day schedule in the District 3 girls basketball tournament at New Deal High school this week-end was announced by A. L. Paubion, superintendent and tournament director, yesterday.

At 7 o'clock, Abernathy, the Hale county champion, plays Plainview, Class A team of the county. The Prenship girls, Lubbock county champion and district favorites, clash with the Southland sextet at 8 o'clock, and Spade, Lamb county champion, plays Lorenzo, representing Crosby county, at 9 o'clock.

The tourney continues Friday night, with finals set for Saturday night. All games are to be played in the spacious New Deal gymnasium.

Mystery Men Lose To Wayland Squad

The Tip-Top Cafe basketball team met its master at Plainview last night; losing to the Wayland college Jackrabbits, 26 to 21, in a fast, close game.

The red-hooded "mystery men" who go by numbers instead of names led at the half, 10-9, and got ahead on a 11-point lead in the second half. But the college Jackrabbits "got hot" and caught up in the final minutes. A field goal and a free pitch broke a tie and gave Wayland the victory in the final seconds.

The Tip-Toppers return to play Plainview High school Tuesday night.

Argument In Civil Case Heard Today

Argument in the civil action of Delia Chase against Bankers Life and Loan association, a corporation was heard by J. J. Dillard, presiding judge of county court this morning.

Testimony in the damage suit was heard several days ago. At noon today the judge had not rendered his decision.

The plaintiff was represented by Vickers and Campbell. Attorneys for the defense were Wilson and Bradley.

Funeral Services Held This Morning

SLATON, Feb. 16 (Special)—Last rites were read at 9 o'clock this morning at the Catholic church here for Mrs. Henry Kitten, 68, longtime Slaton resident. Burial was in Slaton cemetery by Foster Funeral home.

She died at a local hospital at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon after a week's illness.

Moving here from Lincoln, Neb., she had lived here 21 years.

She was survived by her husband, eleven children, two brothers, two sisters, and forty-four grandchildren.

Matador Youth Is Claimed By Death

Audrey Gene Hodges, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hodges of Matador, died in a sanitarium here at 11:04 o'clock Monday night of a blood stream infection.

The infection resulted from a pimple on the boy's chin.

He was admitted to the sanitarium Sunday afternoon for treatment and at that time his condition was described as "very serious."

The body was removed early this morning to Matador by a Roaring Springs Funeral home.

Last Rites Are To Be Conducted Here

Last rites were to be read at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church by Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor, for Allen Larue Parker, 19-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Parker of 2213 Seventeenth street.

Burial was to be in Memorial Park cemetery by Rix Funeral home.

The baby died in a sanitarium here about 11:30 o'clock Sunday night.

Pallbearers were P. H. Laverty, W. K. Johnston, L. W. Bell, and W. H. Edgett.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 3 higher to 1 lower, on trade buying of old crop months and liquidation in new crop months. March 12.86; May 12.51; July 12.34; Oct. 11.90; Dec. 11.85; Jan. 11.85.

Early price changes were narrow and irregular in moderate trading. The initial orders were mixed but after they were filled the market became barely steady under increase in March liquidation, western selling and hedging.

While dust storms in the southwest attracted a little attention, the demand for new crop months was limited. Traders continued to await from Washington more definite information on releases of loan cotton and pending agriculture legislation.

May sold off from 12.51 to 12.47 and the list shortly after the first half hour showed net losses of 3 points in active positions.

Liverpool reported a small market but with prices steadier on scattered buying and trade calling which met hedging.

Prices lost a few points further later in the morning under slightly increased hedge selling which was believed to be against loan cotton. Interest otherwise was confined to trade accounts transferring from nearby to distant positions. The volume of business was small. May sold off to 12.42, with mid-day prices 2 to 3 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 16 (AP)—The demand in the cotton market shifted to old crop months today, bringing nominal advances in these positions while the later positions showed small declines.

March opened at 12.57, May at 12.47, July at 12.32 and Oct. at 11.88.

The irregularity was attributed to buying in or hedges and long holdings in the nears and transferring them to the distants, a technical movement. There was little change in the general picture as it affected cotton.

Commodity Credit corporation officials were still reticent about the amount of cotton that was being repossessed.

The weather turned a little colder in the central and southern belt, but still permitted plowing operations to move ahead briskly.

Both here and abroad the uncertainty over the loan cotton and the next year's acreage plans kept dealings to limited proportions. Even from Liverpool came urgings from the cotton trade there that some change be made in the government's plan for repossessing this staple.

At mid-day prices were within 2 to points of the previous close at New Orleans, and business was very limited.

With conjecture over loan cotton making up most of the day's news the market was unable to move away from dead center. There was some scattered price fixing and hedging but only in small amounts.

Latest advices indicated the dust storms in the southwest had little appreciable affect on cotton regions.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Steels bogged down today dulling the edge of stock market enthusiasm whetted by an early rally in coppers.

Although Wall street was at a loss to interpret the droopy action of steels, a suggestion heard in some circles was that profit selling had been attracted by recent sharp gains in this sector.

Coppers shot ahead fractions to 2 points or so on the rise in domestic and export metal prices to new recovery tops but backed away a little from their peaks by afternoon.

Losses of 2 or more points in U. S. Steel and Bethlehem contrasted with gains of fractions to more than a point for Kennecott, Anaconda and Cerro De Pasco.

Down fractions to around a point were General Motors, Goodyear, Case, International Harvester, American Telephone, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas Corp., American Can, Du Pont, Santa Fe, New York Central, Union Pacific, Yellow Truck, White Motor and Loews. Allied Chemical, a high-priced issue, sold off about 4 on a few sales.

Moderate improvement was scored in Chrysler, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, North American, Westinghouse, General Electric, St. Joseph Lead and Southern Pacific.

Scout Session Is Set At Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 16. (Special)—Members of the executive board of the South Plains Boy Scouts will meet at 7 o'clock tonight at the Littlefield hotel.

Dr. F. B. Malone, council president, will preside at the session which will be devoted to business items.

Plans for a summer camp and other business and routine matters are to be discussed by the executives.

GAME IN FRONT

NACOGDOCHES, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks were a full game in front in the Lone Star conference basketball race today after a 46 to 25 victory over the Sam Houston Bearkats last night. The Lumberjacks and the Bearkats previously were tied for the lead.

FARM TENANTS

ward climb toward land ownership.

"Third, the retirement by public agencies of land proved to be unsuited for farming, and assistance to the families living thereon in finding homes on good land.

"Fourth, cooperation with state and local agencies of government to improve the general leasing system."

The president said action along such lines "should furnish a sound basis for the beginning of a program for improving the present intolerable condition of the lowest income farm families."

He asserted the only solution was "a nationwide program under federal leadership and with the assistance of states, counties, communities and individuals."

Grave Problem Revealed

Discussing the report the president said it revealed "a grave problem of great magnitude and complexity."

He pointed out two of every five farmers were tenants while on some farm lands the ratio was as great as seven out of every 10 farmers.

The tenant population has been increasing at the rate of about 40,000 annually for ten years, he said, observing that "the agriculture ladder, for these American citizens, has become a treadmill."

"When fully half the total farm population of the United States no longer can feel secure, when millions of our people have lost their roots in the soil," Mr. Roosevelt said, "action to provide security is imperative, and will be generally approved."

Blame Is Placed

Blaming the problem on long-time "unthinking exploitation of our agricultural resources, both land and people," the president asserted work must begin at once "with such resources of man-power, money and experience as are available, and with such methods as will call forth the cooperative effort of local, state, and federal agencies of government, and of landlords quite as much as tenants."

"Necessarily," he said, "whatever program the congress devises will have to be closely integrated with the existing activities for maintaining farm income and for conserving and improving our agricultural resources."

BIG PROBLEMS

body everywhere can be benefitted."

The bill declared (A) that the farm, grazing and timber lands of the state are among its basic assets and their preservation is necessary to protect and promote health, safety and the general welfare; (B) that the consequences of soil erosion are almost incalculably tragic; (C) that to conserve soil resources and prevent erosion appropriate land use practices are essential including construction of terraces, check-dams, lower water dams, rodent control, strip-cropping, lister and contour furrowing, forestation, reforestation, crop rotation, planting of soil-holding crops, retirement from cultivation of highly erosive areas, and other measures.

Would Create Board

The bill would create the state soil conservation board of nine members, of whom five would be selected from as many districts whose boundaries are fixed in the bill to bring equal representation to all sections of the state. Members would be paid not to exceed $10 for each working day, with travel expense. The state treasurer would have custody of all funds and securities of the board. A $10,000 appropriation is asked for, to get the program started; and, for the next biennium, $50,000 appropriation.

The bill would create county soil conservation districts co-extensive with the boundaries of any county, which may be formed into a conservation district by vote of its qualified citizens. When a district is created, the county judge and county commissioners would become the governing body. A district board would assist landowners in carrying out soil conservation measures, to be financed, so far as the state is concerned, by the diversion to each district, for a period of ten years beginning 1937, of funds accruing from ten cents of the state ad valorem tax rate.

significance in the change from dust to moisture. They were hopeful it meant dust storms and sand would be held to a minimum this spring.

Temperatures remained above freezing. The experiment sub-station had a minimum temperature of 34 degrees this morning, and the municipal airport reported 44 degrees at 11:30 o'clock.

Land In Good Shape

"I'm not looking for a bad spring," said Don L. Jones of the sub-station. He based that statement on the fact that farm land is in "good shape."

"The bulk of the farmers have their land in good shape," he said. "The land is put up properly and is cloddy. Hence it is not likely to blow as in other years."

The wind was from the west this morning.

BODY DRAGGED FROM POND

DEATH OF MAN AND A BOY PUZZLING TO COUNTY HEADS

RATON, N. M., Feb. 16 (AP)—Colfax county authorities puzzled today over reports brought in from Farley and Van Houten that the body of a rancher had been dragged from a pond and a 7-year-old boy had been shot to death.

The battered body of Frank Bacon, 35, prominent rancher near Farley, sixty miles southeast of here, was found in a 12-foot deep pond late Sunday. He disappeared Saturday.

Sheriff Barney Mitchell held three men.

In the meantime District Attorney Verdan Doggett was investigating the shooting of little Uisente Gutierrez at the home of a neighbor, Joe Rodman, a few miles southwest of here Sunday.

The lad had gone to the Rodman place with his father, Rosario Gutierez, to help butcher hogs. Mrs. Rodman, said the district attorney, went into the house to get a knife. There she found the boy sitting on a chair at the table, a .22 calibre rifle at his side and a bullet hole through the back of his head.

"I have found no one," said District Attorney Doggett, "who heard the shot and no one who saw the boy go into the house or anyone leave."

NATIONAL GRANGE GROUP IS FORMED

Before an audience of 75 persons, officers of the Shallowater National Grange chapter were installed Monday night.

Officers were: Master, Bob Crump; overseer, Roy Evans; secretary, Z. L. Evans; treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Blackmon; gatekeeper, R. D. Evans; lecturer, Glenn Blackmon; Pomona, Mrs. Roy Evans; Ceres, Mrs. Bob Crump; Flora, Mrs. Tom Groves; steward, Robert Gibson; assistant steward, Richard Evans; lady assistant steward, Gladys Evans, and chaplain, Rev. V. Henderson.

An installing team from Roosevelt High school assisted. It was composed of Katherine Harmon, marshal; Peggy Polk, regalia bearer; Marie Wilson, emblem bearer. Others from Roosevelt who were on the program were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Monk, Miss Thelma Dumas, Miss Snodgrass, Mesdames Harlson, Hammit and Michel. Miss Kathlyn Caraway of Shallowater played piano numbers.

Harold W. Gaulrapp, National Grange deputy, attended. He will organize the Becton chapter Wednesday night. Tonight he will attend an all-county organization meeting at Crosbyton.

ATTACK CASE

noon and evening, police questioned Lieut. W. Johnson, attached to the cruiser Louisville; Lieut. W. R. Allen of the fleet air base here, and Miss Delores De Reck, a Honolulu nurse.

They said they accompanied Mrs. Copping to her hotel Sunday evening from a drinking party at nearby Pearl Harbor, where the United States naval base is situated.

The trio said they left Mrs. Copping at the hotel, where her husband was asleep, about midnight after taking a few drinks. Police confirmed their statements that the two naval officers returned to Pearl Harbor by midnight.

OPTOMETRISTS TO END MEET TODAY

A three-day clinic for optometrists of West Texas and New Mexico will be concluded this afternoon at Lubbock hotel. Dr. A. M. Skeffington, director of the Graduate Clinic Foundation of Research in Optometry, St. Louis is in charge.

Approximately 75 optometrists have registered for the clinic.

The clinic is being conducted for the study of visual problems of students.

Doctor Skeffington maintains that 40 per cent of the nation's traffic accidents are caused by defective vision.

"Not only the traffic problem, but the educational and juvenile delinquency questions are vitally affected by the treatment of children's visual ineffectiveness," he said. "A report from the Illinois legislature has shown that 40 per cent of adolescents found in reform schools are there because of revolt against the school system, brought on by visual ineffectiveness," he said.

Open House Today Is Held By Store

South Plains Music company is conducting open house today at 1214 Broadway in observance of its being the oldest such establishment on the South Plains, the biggest in Texas west of Fort Worth, its removal to new quarters, and other attainments.

The public will be received until 9 o'clock tonight, said Fred Higbee and B. Elmore Adair.

The company is 12 years old and is reputed to be the only music house west of Fort Worth that buys pianos in carload lots. Its stock, including sheet music and teachers supplies, is the most complete of any other in this section of West Texas, it is claimed.

"The move from 1109 Avenue G was made in the interest of our customers," said the proprietors, "so we could best serve their interests at a time when business volume steadily is increasing."

Cotton Laboratory Being Sought Here

Invitation to establish a cotton research laboratory in this territory was extended by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, and M. E. Heard, head of the college textile department, at a meeting sponsored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in Dallas Monday.

Facilities of the college were offered, should the laboratory be located here.

A movement has been under way for some time to establish such a laboratory to serve Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

A "Health Wreck" Before The Gly-Cas

Mr. Cathright's Nerves Quieted, Kidneys Regulated, Entire System Freed Of Poisons; Gives Gyl-Cas All Credit For His Present Good Health

"Gly-Cas was worth many hundreds of dollars to me," sad Mr. J. F. Caithright, Strong, Ark., (near El Dorado). "I was almost a nervous wreck the past ten years, practically lost control of myself. My entire body was sore all over, especially my arms and limbs and was in such condition it looked as if I would never be well again. My kidneys were terribly disordered too, up at all hours of the night and of course sleep or rest was impossible. I was growing worse every day and try as I did I could not find anything to help me. I had also suffered severely with a pain in my side. Constipation also added to my already miserable condition and I had been nothing but a total "health wreck" the past ten years. But once I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to help me I found it to be the very medicine I should have had all these years."

MR. J. F. CATHRIGHT

"Gly-Cas gives results even when all else fails," he continued. "I am like a new man today, freed of all my former health troubles and would not take anything for this new Gly-Cas. I feel I would not be doing right if I would not tell other sufferers of this new remedy that they too may find their health through Gly-Cas as I have."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Teachers To Meet For Banquet Here

A banquet and program will be conducted by Lubbock county school teachers at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the First Methodist church, with A. L. Faubion of New Deal school as toastmaster.

Wayne Eubanks, director of public speaking, Amarillo college, is in charge of the entertainment. A skit, announced as a take-off on Bing Crosby and Bob Burns, will be presented by Eubanks and S. A. Shaw of the Beacon quartet, Amarillo. Other numbers will be given by Mrs. Eunice Castleman, a whistler and Miss Mary Robert Warner, pianist and violinist.

Howard Martin, band director of Frenship Rural high school, is to present a program of special numbers.

Mr. Faubion said all teachers in the county were invited to attend.

Bulletin Rules To Be Followed Here

The Lubbock county Interscholastic League contests in March will be conducted in accordance with the state bulletin, the county executive committee decided at a meeting Monday night in the office of Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent.

Among other changes resulting from the decision, schools entering the choral singing contest will be required to learn 10 songs instead of five heretofore demanded by the county setup.

The meet will be conducted in two divisions, dates for which previously had been announced as March 19-20 for the grammar schools and March 26-27 for the high schools. Grammar schoolentries must be postmarked on or before March 9 and high school entries on or before March 16.

A. L. Faubion, director-general, presided at the meeting.

Director No Delver

Tay Garnet, directing this picture, of its period from an Alexander Woollcott broadcast the other night than he had known before. He thinks it is a good idea for a director not to delve too deeply into a picture's setting and background. Such a scholastic attitude, he holds, tempts the director to try injecting extra "touches" of atmosphere which tickle him but mean little or nothing to the average fan.

This principle is in agreement with the directorial school that insists a director, charged with filming a novel, should read the book—if he must — only after the picture is done. Otherwise he tries to film the novel instead of the screen play prepared from it.

This is not as funny as it sounds. A novelist can spread himself over any number of pages but a film director is confined to a certain footage. If he imprudently reads the book, he may try to work too much of it into the film—and films, which suffer frequently because compared with the novels from which they were adapted, must follow a straight line or run the risk of becoming audience lullabies.

lowed to threaten agricultural prosperity, minimum wages, collective bargaining, relief, anti-sweatshop and anti-child labor measures or public works and that the country should not be kept in turmoil two or three years or the welfare of 120,000,000 perosns gambled with while a constitutional amendment is sought.

Ten States Needed

The country will be reminded, as Mrs. Roosevelt already has begun to remind it, that although everyone professes publicly to abhor child labor, the child labor amendment is now 13 years old, with 10 more states still needed for ratification. This amendment merely permits Congress to "regulate or prohibit" labor of persons under 18. The North Carolina House and Governor Hurley of Massachusetts recently have turned down Roosevelt's plea for ratification.

A primary administration argument will be that in this government of checks and balances the executive has a check on Congress through the veto and Congress a check on the executive through power of the purse and power to override the veto.

However, the judiciary has a complete check over both and neither Congress nor executive any check over the court's judiciary.

GET UP NIGHTS DUE TO BLADDER IRRITATION?

It's not normal. It's nature's "Danger Signal." Make this 25c test. Use buchu leaves, juniper oil, and 6 other drugs, made into little green tablets called Bukets. Flush out excess acids and impurities. Excess acids can cause irritation resulting in getting up nights, scanty flow, frequent pains. Just say Bukets to your druggist. In four days if not pleased your 25c will be refunded. Bowen's Drug.—Adv.
