Bus Segregation In Montgomery Halted

TWO PERSONS were injured early last night in a head-on collision one mile south of Ira on State Highway 350. The accident occurred at about 6:15 p.m. Driver of the 1955 Plymouth sedan at right was Abraham Barrera, 27, of Thirteenth Street in north Snyder. Driver of the 1954 Chevrolet pickup shown on its side here was Onsby Bedford Durham, 64, of Spur. Both were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell ambulance. Barrera suffered a broken knee, bad lacerations on his scalp, and multiple contusions. Durham had scalp lacerations and a chest injury. Witnesses said the pickup, apparently out of control, was heading north and was on the lefthand side of the road when the wreck occurred. Frank Bean, highway patrolman, investigated. Girl's Fear May Result In Suicide

NEW YORK (AP)—A 14-year-old girl was missing today—feared a possible suicide in the mistaken belief she let her infant sister die while baby-sitting.

Margaret Julie Mizzi ran away from her Queens home Monday, leaving this note:

"I was washing the dishes. I went over to look at the baby. The pillow was on her face. I took it off. I shook her but she did not move. I think she is dead. I got scared. I am running away.

"Daddy will kill me when he finds out. I want to save him the job. By the time you read this I will be dead. I will always love all of you."

But when Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mizzi returned home after spending an hour shopping for a Christmas tree they found 4-month-old Carol sleeping soundly and healthily in her crib.

Julie, as the older girl is known to the family, was gone. She was wearing blue jeans and a red coat and, as far as is known, had no extra clothes, food or money with her.

Mizzi, 39, an employe of the New York City Transit Authority, notified police. They have spread the alarm in 14 states.

"I am worried sick," Mizzi said.

Five Injured Over Protest

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Police charged with clubs drawn into a crowd of 400 demonstrators today outside the building where South Africa's mass treason trial is being held. Five Africans were injured.

It was the third day of demonstrations and violence arising from the trial of 153 persons, most of them known opponents of the government's racial segregation policies. They are accused of trying to establish a Communist - type regime in South Africa.

Officials announced the hearing had been adjourned until Jan. 9.

There has been no detailed information on accusations against the defendants from inside the courtroom set up in Johannesburg's drill hall.

The fact that the defendants are charged with trying to establish a Communist-type regime came from defense counsel in arguments before the Supreme Court that defendants be admitted to bail which was granted.

No Violence Is Reported

MONTGOMERY, Ala (AP)—Racial segregation ended on city buses in Montgomery today, bringing to a dramatic close a pattern in public transportation dating back for many years.

The first reported incident of actual race mixing on the buses came shortly before 7 a.m., nearly two hours after the buses started their early morning runs.

Two Negroes were seated in front seats on a Highland Avenue bus when it pulled into the Court Square stop downtown. A middle-aged white man in working clothes boarded the bus and took a seat by himself behind the Negroes. Previously, Negroes sat to the rear.

The white man made no comment as he boarded the bus.

Later in the morning, a well-dressed Negro boarded a bus at the Court Square stop and sat in front of a white man. There was no visible reaction.

On a third bus as it pulled into the stop, a white man and a white woman were seated behind a young Negro. The white man got off and five white women boarded the bus, all taking seats behind the Negro.

The Rev. M. L. King Jr., a Negro minister who led the bus boycott, alighted from a bus along with the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, another boycott leader. They said the bus they rode was "pretty thoroughly integrated."

The Negro clergymen said the bus driver, whose name was not available was "courteous" to them.

A similar report came from still another Negro minister, the Rev. W. F. Powell. He said drivers he saw were "exceptionally nice." Powell said a comparatively few Negroes rode the buses this morning but that the number probably will increase.

There were no reports of violence as the integration began but four carloads of white men and others in a pickup truck kept close watch on the downtown bus stop.

One or two at a time, the cars left but returned shortly afterward. The riders got out once and conferred on a street corner and returned to the cars.

A fifth car bearing three white men drove by and one of the riders signaled with his arm. One of the parked cars drove away.

In another automobile, a white man shouted to photographers, "Go ahead and get that black ---- ----'s picture," referring to a Negro aboard a bus. None of the Negroes standing nearby answered the man.

On other buses earlier in the morning, there was no evidence of actual integration. White passengers normally reach town later in the morning.

Nixon Confers With Austrian Leaders

VIENNA (AP) — Vice President Nixon met with Chancellor Julius Raab and most of the Austrian Cabinet for an hour and a half today, discussing hard facts and figures of the problem created by 140,000 Hungarian refugees.

Nixon is seeking first-hand information to guide President Eisenhower and Congress in dealing with the aftermath of the Hungarian revolution.

Although Nixon and members of his small party declined to discuss the meeting with the Austrian leaders, authoritative sources have disclosed that the Australian government will have spent more than seven million dollars caring for refugees by Jan. 1. This does not include spending by provincial and local governments or private donations.

The Austrians hope the United States will help pay the bill, as well as take more of the refugees off their hands.

As Nixon started the second day of his study, newly arrived refugees reported they had experienced "great difficulties" in reaching the border area.

Only 688 Hungarians crossed into Austria during the night, compared with 1,000 or more nightly earlier this week. The refugees said that strict checks were being made on Hungarian trains and that most of those who sought to quit the country had to hitchhike or walk to the border.

The Hungarian government of Soviet - supported Premier Janos Kadar announced yesterday that entry into the frontier zone would be limited to persons with special identity cards.

Nixon hurried from his meeting with government officials to a makeshift home for 424 refugees in a four-story Vienna schoolhouse.

After shaking hands all around and chatting with many of the refugees, he: visited Interior Minister Oskar Helmer, recuperating from a minor operation in a hospital; watched U.S. immigration officers interview a Hungarian family preparing to go to the United States; and visited the office of the International Committee for European Migration where refugees are processed and assigned to planes and trains for transportation to the United States and other countries.

Nixon was to leave for Salzburg tonight for a look at refugee camps in that area and then proceed to Munich tomorrow. There he will visit the "Safe Haven" operations base from which the U.S. Air Force is flying refugees to the United States.

The vice president is expected to start his own flight back to the United States Sunday morning.

In addition to the information he is collecting, Nixon with his visit is boosting the morale of many refugees who were becoming afraid they were about to be forgotten by the West.

Six Killed By Duluth House Fire

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Six persons—a mother and five of her six small daughters—died early today in a residence fire which started when a space heater exploded, spreading flaming oil throughout the dining room.

The mother died in a futile attempt to rescue her daughters. The father and the couple's oldest daughter, Gloria, 15, escaped along with the children's paternal grandmother, who was seriously burned.

Victims were Mrs. Lola Clark, 33, and her daughters Ruth, 6; Claudia, 9; Lorraine, 10; Mary, 12; and Shirley, 14.

William Clark, a railroad worker, was taken to a hospital in deep shock. His mother, Mrs. Bessie Kadunce, 65, also hospitalized, suffered serious burns about her fcae and arms, as well as shock.

Clark tried to enter the burning home but was driven back by smoke and flame. He said his wife got out safely but went back into the building in an attempt to save the girls, all of whom were in bed. She never returned.

Youth Killed While Fleeing From Patrol

AUSTIN (AP)—The Department of Public Safety today reported the state's first automobile traffic death of the holiday season when a teenager was killed while fleeing the highway patrol near El Paso.

The victim was Ralph Blea, 18, who died instantly after the car he was driving overturned 11 miles east of El Paso on U.S. 62 at 1:20 a.m. Blea was driving a stolen car, the DPS reported.

False Alarm On Accident

A vicious hoax caused considerable excitement last night but turned out to be only a false ambulance alarm.

About 9 o'clock last night Bell Funeral Home received an urgent call from a woman saying that there had been a bad car wreck on the Roby highway three miles east of town, and that at least three ambulances were needed to carry the wounded to hospitals.

However two ambulances were sent to where the wreck was reported to have been, and could find no wreck.

Thinking that the wreck might have been further out on the highway, the ambulances went at least 10 miles out, then finding nothing crossed to the Camp Springs road, and ambulances, highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies searched the entire area, but could find no wreck.

Apparently no wreck existed.

Law officers say that if anyone who is apprehended in turning a false alarm af that nature will be delt with severely.

Not only does it inconvenience emergency personnel, but could actually endanger lives of many persons, Frank Bean, Texas highway patrolman, said.

Postmaster Has Puzzler

DALLAS (AP) — Regional Postal Director George Gray said today he's trying to solve a puzzling problem in a small town in West Texas which uses combination lock devices on its postoffice boxes.

The postmaster in the town reports that an elderly lady patron always sends her neighbors for the mail. The clerks have to hand them the mail, a time consuming —and seemingly unnecessary—operation.

Finally, Gray says, the postmaster suggested that the elderly woman teach her neighbors the lock combination.

"My goodness," she replied, "I couldn't possibly do that. I don't trust them."

Gray did not name the town.

Firm Issues Threat Of Action On Maps

HOUSTON (AP)—Threats of legal action against anyone using its stolen maps were made by Gulf Oil Corp today from its Pittsburgh headquarters.

The company said that if information obtained from the stolen maps "has been used to secure oil and gas leases, royalties or other interests in prospecting oil properties," that Gulf would "initiate civil action to recover the properties."

DURING STATE HOLIDAY

Death Toll Of 115 Predicted

By The Associated Press

The count of persons killed in Texas in highway accidents from 12:01 a.m. Friday until the end of the New Year's holiday has started.

The chief statistician for the State Department of Public Safety, N. K. Woerner, estimated that 115 persons would die in street and highway accidents in a 12-day period ending Jan. 1.

Last year 106 persons died during this period. Woerner had forecast 112 deaths.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the safety department, has ordered all available members of the State Highway Patrol, the motor vehicle inspection and license and weight divisions into service for "dangerous drivers who threaten the safety of the motoring public."

The officer asked Texas drivers to "be patient, obey traffic laws, and consider that more dangers than usual await you at each turn of the wheel."

In Fort Worth, police were in the midst of a special campaign to cut down traffic deaths. Special signs have been put up throughout the city.

Police in Houston have circulated thousands of leaflets urging sane driving during the holidays.

Dallas police made special radio and television appeals urging citizens to take special precautions. Extra forces will be on duty Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

In the lower Rio Grande Valley Cameron County ordered criminal deputies to patrol in unmarked cars to trap speeders and other violators.

Instructions On Delivery

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Juanita Hunt's job as a baby sitter yesterday ended after she helped deliver a baby with the aid of telephoned instructions from a doctor.

Mrs. Hunt agreed to baby sit for Mrs. J. H. Newberry who had to go to the hospital to give birth.

By time Mrs. Hunt arrived at Mrs. Newberry's house the baby was on its way.

A next door neighbor, Mrs. Ruth Beisenherz, arrived, and phoned Mrs. Newberry's doctor. The doctor's instructions were relayed to Mrs. Hunt as she delivered the baby.

Mrs. Newberry and her 7 pound, 2 ounce daughter were doing fine in Methodist Hospital later in the day.

Wilson Makes New State Appointment

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen.-elect Will Wilson today appointed assistant district attorney Bob Smith to the land division of the attorney general's office effective Jan. 15.

Smith, 34, is assistant to Dist. Atty. Les Procter and played an important role in the veterans land trials of ex-Land Commissioner Bascom Giles and B. R. Sheffield. He is from Brownwood.

U.S. Living Costs Increase Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today reported another slight rise in living costs—one-tenth of one per cent—during November. This took its cost index to the fifth peak reached in a 1956 climb.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said that net spendable earnings of factory workers and their buying power moved to an all-time high, more than offsetting the rise in retail prices.

Net spendable earnings—meaning take-home pay—rose 17 cents over the month to $75.20 a week for a factory worker with three dependents and to $67.79 for a worker with no dependents.

None Injured In Mishap Near Here

A monor accident about a mile west of the city limits on U.S. Highway 180 here last night resulted in no injuries.

Involved in the accident, which occurred at about 6:55 p.m., were a 1952 Pontiac driven by Mrs. Theris Bowen Pannell and a 1950 GMC truck-trailer driven by Edgar Poe Hays, Jr., of Lamesa.

Mrs. Pannell, headed west, applied her brakes when a large tumbleweed blew across the road in front of her. The truck, which was behind the car and headed the same direction, skidded into the back of the car when the driver applied his brakes.

J. C. Massingill, sheriff's deputy, investigated. He said damage to the car was about $200. There was no noticeable damage to the truck.

Minister's Daughter Shot To Death Today

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — A pretty, 15-year-old minister's daughter was shot to death in the bedroom of her Grand Prairie home at 1:20 a.m. today and a youth she had dated pleaded with police to "please kill me."

Linda Carol Housewright, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Housewright, died in Methodist Hospital in Dallas an hour after the shooting.

Police arrested Wesley Allen Cox, 17, of nearby Arlington, Tex.

Teacher Captured For FW Burglary

FORT WORTH (AP)—Frank Robert Dyleski, 33, reading and spelling teacher at W. C. Stripling Junior High School, was captured by police early this morning burglarizing a drug store here.

The handsome ex-Marine was surrounded by four policemen inside the store about 2 a.m.

He told officers he broke into the building because "my family is broke and hungry."

He said he made $3,450 a year, and found the going pretty hard on that salary.

Widespread Unrest Is Gripping Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist leaders in Russia and her satellites are described in reports collected here as fighting widespread Iron Curtain unrest with a combination of economic handouts and police state tyranny.

These reports, most of them published although some are unconfirmed, have been appearing ever since the October revolt in Hungary.

Mostly they are about student opposition to Communist doctrine and restrictions. Some tell of demonrstations and strikes by workers.

What they all add up to is a matter of speculation. American and other diplomats studying them caution against laying too much emphasis on their meaning.

Perhaps, they say, cracks are showing up in the once-monolithic Soviet system. But they add that does not mean the Soviet system is collapsing from Moscow to East Germany.

Such reports presumably lie behind two statements this month by dissimilar figures:

1. Allen Dulles, chief of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, told a Princeton, N.J., audience Dec. 12 that "we have well-substantiated reports that the students are becoming restive" inside Russia.

2. India's Prime Minister Nehru said here Wednesday that education of the Soviet people is a big factor in curiosity and questioning which he said are causing a "fundamental" change and leading to eventaul "liberalization and democratization" of the Soviet government.

The satellite regimes, apparently on cue from Moscow, attacked unrest by precautionary moves and concessions, according to the reports.

This was said to have brought tighter security, more patrols and arrests, stepped-up propaganda about "spies" and, in the case of restive Romanian students, more homework to keep them out of mischief.

The concessions reported included improved pensions in all the satellites, price cuts in Albania and Czechoslovakia and wage increases in Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania.

Report On November Accidents Is Given

AUSTIN (AP)—The Department of Public Safety said today 239 persons lost their lives in automobile wrecks in Texas during November.

The November total kept the 1956 death toll ahead of last year with 2,337 deaths through November compared to 2,284 for the date a year ago. In November, 1955, a total of 231 persons were killed.

Mystery Cloaks Missile Testing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military officials continue to cloak their missile test operations in official secrecy — although the test center on Florida's populous east coast is open to public view from the sea.

Secrecy obscures even nonsecret work at Patrick Air Force Base, site of the armed forces missile test center.

It is known that three months ago technicians fired a test type of the projected Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM). This Army missile appears to have shot up more than 600 miles and to have flown more than 3,000 miles into the South Atlantic.

The Pentagon still declines to acknowledge such a test was conducted.

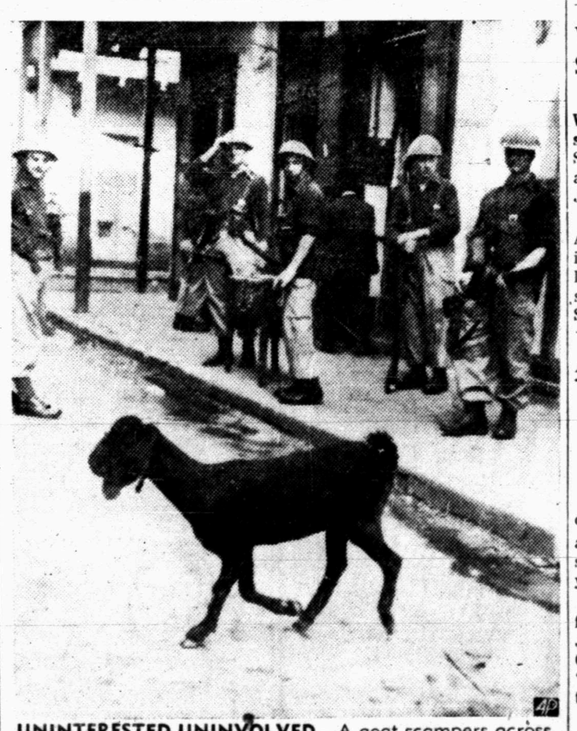

The Defense Department refused to permit advance notice of the recent test firing of a standard Viking rocket similar to the first-stage engine planned for launching the projected earth satellites. Newsmen, in requesting permission to go to the base for such a test firing, cited an earlier government statement that the satellite project, a purely scientific effort, would not be encumbered by military security. The explanation for the refusal was that other military test equipment was on the base.

The missile test center is heavily protected on land by fences and armed guards. But most of its area is in plain sight from a beach across a narrow strip of water. And civilian-operated boats are free to sail close to shore, where launching equipment and missiles are in easy camera range.

Security officials say the test firings are supposed to be conducted without preliminary publicity. But for safety reasons, boats and aircraft are warned away from the launching area and down-range path several hours before firings. This is an unintended invitation to sightseers.

One reason for locating the test center in this heavily populated area is the fact that the Caribbean Islands, over which the outgoing missiles pass, provide ideal sites for instrument recording stations.

UNINTERESTED UNINVOLVED—A goat scampers across the street in the Arab sector of Port Said, Egypt, drawing attention of men of the Royal Scots regiment conducting a house-to-house search for missing British Lt. Anthony G. Moorhouse. Moorhouse was believed kidnaped by Egyptian commandos December 11.

AFTER 15 YEARS

Escapee Gets New Chance

CHICAGO (AP)—A man who escaped from prison 15 years ago and has lived a respected life since then was given a chance yesterday to remain free.

The opportunity to make a bid for freedom was granted by Chief Justice Wilbert F. Crowley of the Criminal Court with the comment "This man ought never to be returned to prison."

The fugitive, Joseph Mc Arthur, now 43, was sentenced in 1935 to a 1-to-20 year term for auto larceny. In 1941, while a trusty working outside the walls of Stateville Penitentiary, he walked away.

He changed his name, learned the building repair trade and got married in 1945. He and his wife now live at Long Lake, Ill., as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke. They have a daughter, 9 and his wife has two other children by a previous husband.

Mc Arthur was arrested last summer in a dispute over some clothing. No charges were presed, but Mc Arthur's fingerprints were checked, his true identity became known and he was returned to the penitentiary to serve out his sentence.

Judge Crowley released Mc Arthur Oct. 7 on $2,500 bond pending a ruling on a petition for liberty on a writ of habeas corpus.

Mc Arthur's attorney, Edmund Grant, told the judge that Mc Arthur had served six years in prison, which he called an abnormal length of time for a first offender a model life since his escape.

"The law ought never be vengeful," judge Crowley commented. "This man, in my opinion, ought never be returned to prison."

Be he said it was a question of procedure, and suggested that the Stratton and the Illinois Parole Board to review the case.

The judge continued the hearing on the writ petition to March 25.

FOR NEEDY FAMILIES—Snyder Kiwanis Club members are shown here preparing to distribute a variety of items to underprivileged families. In the top picture, food and toys are packed in boxes and parcels, while, at left, clothing is prepared for distribution. Food and toys were distributed Thursday, and the clothing distribution was to begin today. The Kiwanis Club heads up the program for aiding underprivileged families on Christmas each year. Many other organizations, business firms and individuals contribute to the program. Some 125 families were expected to receive Kiwanis Club packages this Christmas season. (Lee Watson Photographs)

Reports On Integration Are Slated

DALLAS (AP)—Two more reports on the problems of integration in Dallas schools will be released next spring, School Supt. W. T. White said yesterday.

He said the reports are part of a 12-point study ordered by the school board in 1955. Six of the reports have been issued.

White said the studies will probably be on the "over-all impact on the individual pupil" and the "social life of the children within within the school" in an integrated system.

He said the two problems have been studied very carefully because the over-all impact of the pupils in school "is a most critical problem because there the child becomes an individual person."

White said the second report will study the school integration problem from the recreational standpoint and from a "broader concept of the social relationship —understanding, fellowship and good will."

The 12-point study was an issue in the suit brought by the parents of 19 Negro children to gain admission of their children to all white schools in Dallas.

The suit was dismissed Wednesday by U.S. Dist. Judge William H. Atwell who said he wanted to give the school district ample time to work out its integration problem.

C. B. Bunkley Jr., attorney for the parents, said the decision would be appealed.

School Superintendent White said "The court recognized the seriousness of the purpose which has motivated the board of education and the school administrative staff.

"We shall find ways to put into effect decrees of the Supreme Court, as well as any decrees that may follow, to maintain a good climate for school work."

Members of the Beaumont Citizens Council sent a telegram to Judge Atwell commending him for his decision in the case.

The message, sent last night, said: "Words of a telegram cannot express the honor and esteem we wish to offer on your ruling in the Dallas integration case. We thank God that a gentleman and a jurist of your stature may still be found on a federal bench."

U. S. Army Major General Raymond C. Maude graduated from West Point in 1926 and was immediately ordered to Yale to study electrical engineering for four more years.

Man Makes Confession

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A 29-year-old car body repairman said last night in a written statement that he killed his wife because she wouldn't get out of bed to quiet their crying child.

Robert Lee Henderson told White Settlement Police Chief Arron D. Stephens that he hit his wife in the face and then held a pillow over her head last Friday.

An autopsy reported submitted yesterday indicated that Mrs. Henderson, 23, could have died of suffocation. A preliminary report said she died when strangled on food particles.

Henderson said he called the family doctor, but his wife was "cold" when he touched the body.

Chief Stephens said Henderson made the statement after submitting to a lie detector test in Dallas.

Henderson and his wife were married about seven years ago in his home town, Independence, Kan. They have three children, 2, 3 and 6.

The couple moved here from Inglewood, Calif., last January.

Cavness Plan Submitted To Price Daniel

AUSTIN (AP) — The "Cavness Plan" has been resubmitted to Gov.-Elect Price Daniel and the 55th Legislature.

The plan, originally released in July, 1955, would free many million dollars each year to current public school and higher education and also reduce new tax demands.

He said yesterday that if the plan had been adopted when first recommended, about 75 million dollars additional would have been made available for public education and that the permanent funds would have grown by 30 millions anyway.

The plan would put all mineral lease rentals and bonuses and 72½ per cent of the royalties into the public school fund rather than in the permanent university fund, which would get the remaining per cent.

Cavness said by increasing the amount of money in the public school funds, appropriations from the general revenue fund usually appropriated for the schools, could be turned over for other purposes.

Fog Covers Big Area Of State Today

By The Associated Press

Drizzle and fog covered parts of Texas Friday on the first day of winter, but the Weather Bureau promised mild weather for most of the state.

Fog cut visibility to one-eighth mile at College Station and heavy fog was reported at Corpus Christi and Austin. A light rain and drizzle fell on Corpus Christi.

Skies were clear over West Texas, partly cloudy in the central section of the state and cloudy in the east portions.

A thundershower drenched the drought stricken area around Kennedy in South Texas early Friday. More than 1½ inches of rain fell.

Other rainfall reported to the U.S. Weather Bureau in the 24-hour period ended at 6:30 a.m. Friday included .18 of an inch at Cotulla, .01 at Laredo and a trace at Corpus Christi, Lufkin, Palacios and Gainesville.

Overnight minimum temperatures Friday ranged from 18 degrees at Dalhart to 59 at Brownsville.

Fog, drizzle and rain extended over wide areas from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Appalachians today, slowing air and highway traffic.

The fog spread eastward during the night toward the Atlantic Coast. Many Midwest airports were forced to close last night. The defense fog extended from Nebraska to Pennsylvania and southward to the Gulf of Mexico.

Rainfall in most areas was light except in eastern Pennsylvania and New York state, which reported from a quarter to half inch.

The fog was expected to continue during the day over most of the Ohio Valley and more rain or drizzle was indicated from the upper and middle Mississippi Valley to the East Coast except in New England and the Gulf states.

Hungarians Learn The Most Important Word

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—It didn't take six Hungarian refugees long to learn a basic word in their new vocabulary after they arrived in this East Texas town yesterday.

A newsman had their interpreter, Dr. George Kehler of Kilgore Junior College, teach them what he considered the most important word they would need to know.

They were soon able to say "Texas" perfectly.

WOMEN

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

How's your teen-ager getting along in school? Forget what the last report card said. How is he getting along right now? Do you know?

Can you name the courses he is taking and differentiate between those he prefers and those he does not?

It may come as a shock to some of you, but there are parents who know little more about their teen-ager's school life than the length of the school day and whether the child takes or buys the lunch.

Yet the parents' attitude toward a good education and their interest in homework and academic projects greatly influences whether the teen-ager feels schools is a waste of time or a marvelous opportunity.

Recently I heard a fine mother exclaim, "It's my fault," when discovering her child's interest in music lessons was waining. "When I listen to her practice and offer praise when she plays a piece well or when she works very hard on difficult measures, she responds wonderfully. But when I leave her to practice alone, when and if she feels like it, she becomes bored with her music."

It is much the same with a history lesson or a page of algebra problems.

True, a teen-ager isn't a child anymore, but a person almost grown, and shouldn't require a full-time overseer. However, being a person subject to the same lethargy and discouragement as the rest of us and tempted away from the routine by mid-week dates, new records, television, telephone and the like, parental interest and encouragement serve as just the boost in morale that is needed.

Without nagging, find out what homework assignments are. Discuss them, adding interesting supplementary information and show how isolated homework assignments can be of practical value.

Praise your teen on work well done. That pleased look in your eyes is a prize worth striving for.

If parents only realized their full power for good in the lives of their teens, even those of high school age, they would agree being a good parent is a full time job and they would find the job gloriously rewarding.

(What will you tell your teen-agers about the coming cocktail season? Send today for your free leaflet on "drinking for teen-agers." It is a wholesome treatise you'll want. Send a self-addressed stamped envolope to Beverly Brandow in care of this newspaper.)

Yule Customs Are Related

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Martha Ann Clubhouse with Mrs. Charles Tyer, president, presiding.

Members answered roll call by relating their families Christmas customs. Mrs. J. E. LeMond opened the program with a quotation by Dickens "I Will honor Christmas in my heart and try to keep it all the year."

The group led in proyer by Mrs. I. W. Boren. Mrs. LeMond then gave the Christmas story "Christmas, What it Means". She stressed that Christmas should be genuine contentment and relaxation, for it commemorates the greatest event in history, the birth of a poor boy who was to become ruler and king. Among other things this babe was to teach humility; patients and righteousness. All nations should rejoice over the event which happened over 2000 years ago, as all have benefited from his birth.

Mrs. H. J. Brice gave a beautiful reading entitled "The Great Guest Comes".

At the close of the regular meeting a gift exchange was held. Mrs. Ola Leath hostess served refreshments to 16 members present.

FOR GOOD EATING

Time - approved Parkerhouse Rolls are a nice choice for Thanksgiving dinner:

PARKERHOUSE ROLLS

1 package yeast, compressed or dry
1 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
1 cup milk
1-3 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1-3 cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
6 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk and add sugar, salt and shortening. When lukewarm, add 1 cup flour and beat thoroughly. Add egg and yeast, and beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Roll out inch thick, brush with melted butter or margarine. Cut with 3-inch biscuit cutter. Fold each round in half and seal edges. Place rools 1 inch apart on greased baking sheet. Brush with melted butter or margarine and let rise until doubled. Bake in hot oven (425 F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

Makes 3½ dozen rolls.

Dunn Group Has Luncheon

DUNN—Mrs. Walter Brown was hostess Tuesday to the annual luncheon given by the Ladies Bible class of the Church of Christ at Dunn. The luncheon was given honoring their teacher, Joe Drinkard, and the ladies who come from Snyder.

The home was decorated throughout with gala seasonal motifs, with a large Christmas tree in the living room. The table was laid with Christmas designed linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of cedar, red oak leaves and red berries.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, vegetables, salads, pie, coffee and hot tea.

Class study was held from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hays of Sterling City, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Drinkard, Mrs. Roy Brown and Mrs. Hale Brooks all of Snyder; Mrs. Jack Ellis, Mrs. Lynn Fox, Mrs. Blake Durham, Mrs. Fred Bowers, Mrs. Clyde Bolding, Mrs. Fred Cotton, Mrs. Ernest Sorrolls, Mrs. Houston Cotton, Mrs. Mark Holmes, Mrs. Graham Smith, Tony Smith and Lanny Brooks.

YOU BE THE JUDGE

DOES IT PLEASE GOD? "Keep Christ In Christmas" is a popular slogan these days. Was Christ ever "in" Christmas? If so by what authority? It is certain the Heavenly Father never did put Christ in Christmas! How can it please God for man to place Christ as the center of a pagan festival and claim it is His birthday? God did place Christ upon the throne of David (Acts 2:30,31) to reign at His right hand (1Pet.3:22) where Christ is now ruling over His kingdom (1Cor.15:25). Man is the originator of the idea to celebrate the birthday of Christ and he does not even know "when" Jesus was born! The Holy Spirit says, "But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." (Matt.15:9). Does it not seem reasonable that had God wanted man to celebrate the birthday of Christ, He would have revealed it? You be the judge.

IS IT SIN? The Holy Spirit says, "So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." (Rom.10:17). Also, " . .. for whatsoever is not of faith is sin." (Rom.14:23b). Since no man knows the birthday of Christ it cannot be a matter of "faith" to say December 25, January 6 or March 25 is His birthday. Since it is not of faith, is it not sin to claim December 25 as the birthday of Christ—as per the above scripture? You be the judge.

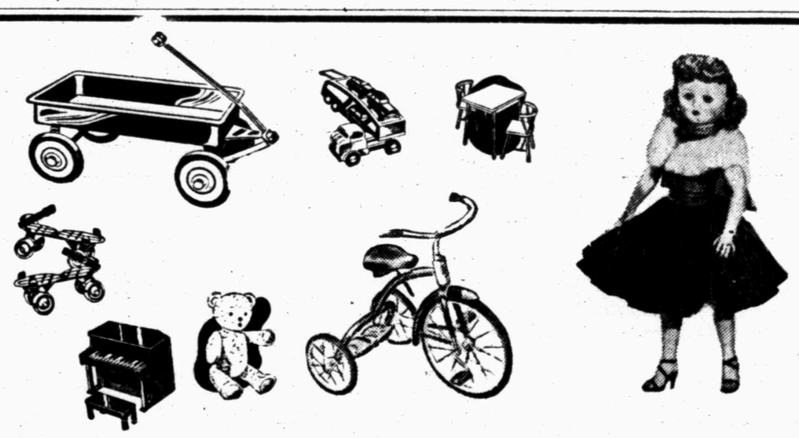

IS CHRIST HONORED? The Christmas holidays are a national affair. The family celebrates with a big dinner; children come home; gifts are exchanged; a spirit of rejoicing pervades the atmosphere. Is it not wonderful! But who is honored? Christ or self? It not Christ honored when men and women live holy lives each day, the family worships God each day, and the whole family attends church regularly? You be the judge.

WHAT ATTITUDE TOWARD CHRISTMAS? Since Christmas had its origin in paganism and man decided to "christianize" the pagan festival of the worship of the sun and make it "the birthday of Christ," what attitude can faithful Christians have toward Christmas? The Christian respects Monday without worshipping the moon, also he respects Thursday without worshipping the pagan god, Thor, similarly he can respect the Christmas holiday season as a purely secular, national holiday. He can exchange gifts and send greetings any time any where. He knows it is sin to celebrate Christmas as "the birthday of Christ" (Rom. 10:17; 14:23b) but he can respect the national holiday custom (1Cor. 9:19-23). Such a course by the Christian is safe and it is a matter of faith ,is it not? You be the judge.

Bible Thought

The meek also shall increase their joy in the Lord, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel. Isaiah 29:19.

EDITORIALS

Some Odds And Ends

We heard the name of North Carolina's capital city pronounced three different ways on a single program, so we got to wondering. In Webster's Gazetteer only one pronunciation of Raleigh is given to rhyme with polly. But over in the Biographical Names section Sir Walter Raleigh (also Raleigh) draws no fewer than three variations. The first rhymes with polly, the second with rawly, and the third with ally . . .

The voters on November 6 went through the motions of voting for a President, but their overwhelming approval of Ike did not become official, and could never have been put into effect, until December 17. On that day the presidential electors in the 48 states met in their respective state capitals and put their okay on what the voters had done in November. In a technical sense there is no national "electoral college." Each state has its own electoral college, which is what assembled this week. Incidentally, there is nothing in the Constitution that compels a presidential elector to choose the same man the people of his state "elected." He has a free choice, and could vote for anyone who was qualified to hold the office. In Alabama one elector refused to vote for Adlai Stevenson, chose instead a man named Jones.

In case you're wondering what would happen should Mr. Eisenhower become unable to assume the office of President on January 20—well, that contingency was covered in the 20th Amendment to the Constitution. In that case the vice president is sworn in as chief executive. In this case that would be Richard M. Nixon, who was elected on December 17 by the "colleges." . . .

To change the subject again: When the Christmas spirit seizes on the people they become pushovers for fake "charity" appeals. It is estimated that from $100 million to $250 million went down the rathole last year to these rackets. Incidentally, that is more than is contributed annually to the American Red Cross . . .

Nehru's Attitude

It might be considered a discourtesy to a distinguished guest in certain circles, but this week's U.S. News & World Report, published in Washington, pulled the record on India's voting habits in the United Nations at the moment India's Prime Minister Pandit Nehur was conferring with President Eisenhower.

The record represents the work of V. K. Krishna Menon, who heads India's delegation to the U.N., but as the magazine points out Nehur is his own foreign minister, so Menon's record is Nehur's.

The article lists 15 crucial occasions in U.N. when India either voted with the Soviet bloc and against the West, particularly the United States, or abstained from voting when the chips went down. Samples: when the Soviet Union asked U.N. to hear Red charges that the U.S. used germ warfare in Korea, India abstained on the first vote, Oct. 21, 1952. Six months later when the Soviet Union again brought up this proposal, India voted with the Soviet bloc. The resolution was defeated on both occasions, of course .

When the General Assembly condemned Red China for holding American prisoners in China in violation of the Korean armistice, India abstained. It abstained also when the Assembly condmned the Reds for atrocities which caused 30,000 U.N. deaths in Korea .

On many occasions over the years both Menon and Nehru himself have spoken harshly of the United States and its Western allies, sometimes gratuitously, with never a forthright harsh word for Soviet acts and atrocities.

Whether this pro-Soviet, anti-American attitude is a product of India's fear of Russia, and the feeling that she can criticize the U.S. with impunity, we do not know. If it isn't, we can only conclude that Nehur and Menon like the Soviet way of doing things and dislike the Western or American way.

DETROIT (AP)—Bigger and better locomotives posed a problem at the Henry Ford Museum. Nine locomotives were all right. But the tenth was too much.

A railroad gave the museum a huge Allegheny type locomotive, one of the largest ever built, to add to its collection of nine railway engines.

The Allegheny turned out to be some 16 inches higher than the huge oak doors of the museum. So rather than dismantle the doors, engineers removed part of the train's superstructure and reassembled it after getting the locomotive inside.

Limits Of NATO Are Clearly Defined, But Indirect Interests Can Cause Problems

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The news from Paris about the NATO conference is meager, there being no reporters present and no available transcript of what is being said. But two interesting questions have been raised. One is the the oretical question: how far can a member be expected to go in consulting NATO when the issue arises outside the regional limits fixed in the NATO treaty — say in the Far East or in the Middle East?

The other is a question of practical policy. It has been raised by the German Foreign Minister, Mr Von Brentano, by putting NATO on notice that there may be an uprising in Eastern Germany similar to that in Hungary.

The theoretical question poses one of those problems that are insoluble in the abstract and can be solved only by common sense, loyalty and good will. In theory, the jurisdiction and the obligations of NATO have precise geographical limits. They include, for example, most of Western Europe but not Ireland, Sweden, Switzerland, or Spain. They include Greece and Turkey but not Iran or any other Middle Eastern country. NATO is, juridically speaking, not a general alliance at all but a collective pact for the military defense of a carefully defined group of territories. Theoretically, what goes on beyond the geographical limits of NATO is not the business of NATO.

But in fact, the NATO powers are bound to be concerned with anything which happens elsewhere that bears upon the effectiveness of NATO. Mr. Dulles, for example, seems to have said in Paris that we are not bound to consult with NATO in case we feel that we have to go to war over Formosa. According to the words of the NATO contract, especially the fine print in the contract, this is true. But what if a war with Red China drew in China's ally, the Soviet Union? It is our theory that NATO, and along with NATO our bases in NATO territories could be neutral in such a war? So it is in the Middle East where in theory Britain and France have no strict legal obligation to consult NATO. But as a whole of NATO is universal in the mainfold consequences of what they have just done in the Middle East, it is impossible to argue that the Middle East is none of NATO's business.

The point of all this is that whatever the letter of the contract may say, its spirit and its substance requires continual consultation when the issue is peace or war in any part of the world. This obligation cannot successfully be defined in some kind of general formula. If this were attempted, so many holes would be picked in the generalization that it would be useless.

What is needed is not a formula of words but a habit, almost one might say an accepted routine, in the conduct of foreign affairs. There should be a habit of consultation among allies so that none is taken by surprise. And for that consultation it should not be necessary to convoke great conferences, or for the Foreign Ministers to shuttle back and forth in airplanes. The habit of consultation should prevail not merely at the summit but at the working levels of diplomacy.

• • •

There is plenty for NATO to consult about without consulting very much in the abstract about how much it ought to consult. The question raised by the German Foreign Minister of what is to be NATO policy in view of the danger in East Germany is indubitably NATO business. The meeting now going on in Paris will be a great disappointment if it adjourns without taking serious notice of the East German danger.

To take serious notice would mean, it seems to me, not merely to wait and see whether an explosion has taken place and then to try to react to it, presumably with grandiose moral declarations. To take serious notice of the danger would be to take the initiative, to act now rather than to react later, to propose a renewal of negotiations with the Soviet Union for the unification of Germany, for the thinning down and moving backward of the armies, and for an all-European system of security. Five Texans Helping With Study Of Tax Structure

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five Texas men are among the 35 lawyers and accountants helping congressmen study the federal tax structure and its administration by the Internal Revenue Service.

They are J. B. Jarret and Herbert B. Story, Wichita Falls accountans, and lawyers; Paul Jackson, Dallas; Marvin K. Collie, Houston, and Rupert Gresham, San Antonio.

When Congress adjourned last summer a special subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee was set up to study the Internal Revenue Code and the IRS operation to see if any changes were needed to improve the efficiency and fairness of the federal tax system.

The seven-member subcommittee, headed by Rep. Mills (D-Ark), decided a good way to get about the mission was to seek advisory services of top authorities in the field of taxation.

Rep. Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls, the lone Texan on the House Ways and Means Committee and a member of the Mills group, saw to it that Texas was so well represented among the professional men.

"We knew that the cost would be prohibitive if we went out and tried to hire the services of the best recognied law and accounting firms," Ikard commented.

"After discussing the situation with the American Bar Association and the American Institute of Accountants, we hit upon the idea of asking these top men here as a public service. They are paid on a per diem basis to cover their expenses."

Johnson and Jarrett are serving with a subcommittee group studying administration and enforcement problems. Collie is with a group concentrating on corporate organization. Greshman is on the group looking into estates and trusts, and Story with those delving into the tax structure as it applies to partnerships.

A newcomer among Texans in Washington is Lyn (Happy) Fore, former auto dealer and mayor of his hometown of Happy. A 1943 graduate of Hardin-Simmons U and a World War II Navy veteran, Fore is now administrative assistant to Panhandle Congressman Walter Rogers.

Marine Sgt. Rob L. Roark of Fort Worth on Dec. 7 was awarded the annual Daughters of the American Revolution award for platoon leaders class achievements. A senior in engineering at the Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Roark won the award for his leadership grade of 100 per cent at a platoon leaders class last summer at the big Marine base in Quantico, Va.

Family Makes Dream Come True With New Hotel Hhat's Ritzy, Even For Florida

By HAL BOYLE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "It's nice sometimes to find that dreams really can come true," said the blue-eyed, middle - aged lady, looking down from the balcony to the sun-worshipers on the beach.

"Yeah," said her husband, comonarch of all they surveyed except the ocean itself.

They are Al and Sadye Tisch who, with their two sons, Larry, 33, and Bob, 30, in a single decade have become the "world's largest family resort owners."

Their dream come true is the fabulous 17-million-dollar Americana, Florida's "hotel of the year."

The building is a 15-floor luxury symbol of the postwar prosperity spree that has come to the United States and to a family—the four Tisches. It is the house that jack built, and there's more jack where it came from.

Ten years ago Al, a former New York City college basketball player, and Sadye wearied a bit of their chores in running two enterprises—a prosperous clothing business and a successful children's camp. They, like their sons, were interested in the hotel field.

"We came to Florida in 1946, but we couldn't make the right deal," said Sadye, who is vivacious and does the talking for the elder branch of the family.

"Yeah," said Al, who is balding, silent and friendly.

So they picked up the million dollars or so they had to invest and began buying hotels elsewhere — Laurel - in - the - Pines in New Jersey, the Belmont Plaza in New York, the Taymore and Ambassador in Atlantic City, and some six other properties. Whatever they touched turned to gold, or, if it didn't they got rid of it quick.

"But we still had Florida sand in our shoes," said Sadye. "We kept coming back to our first dream."

In the spring of 1955 they bought a 10-acre site here, a 650-foot beachfront, and 17 months and 17 million dollars later they had the Americana.

The original million dollars or so they started with has been parlayed into properties which the Tisches themselves value at 50 million or more. There are rumors that some of the glamor hostelries here have been financed by foreign adventurers, including racketeers from New York and gamblers from Las Vegas.

"Every penny in this hotel is ours," said Sadye. "We are a closely knit family, and the money all comes from the same pot."

Each hotel the Tisches buy becomes a monument to one of the family, and the Americana is "Larry's baby—he deserves all the credit."

It is hard to describe the hotel. At last week's NBC convention its 475 rooms housed more than 900 guests who were cared for by a staff of more than 900 employes.

It has a lobby big enough to play half a football game in and quietly features an indoor "mountain" and the world's only indoor rain forest.

Some one-bedroom suites have two private entrances and two bathrooms. A $100,000 art collection hangs on the walls and so do the seals of 21 American nations. There is enough wood, metal and concrete in the hotel to build 800 air-conditioned homes.

Without leaving the hotel grounds you can swim in the ocean, see a doctor, eat in six restaurants, order a $25,000 diamond bracelet or a newspaper, get a massage or a haircut, buy a share of AT&T stock, a $2.50 teddy bear, or an aspirin tablet.

Have the Tisches gone mad in a luxury - mad world? Isn't their magnificent hostelry one step too much—even for Miami Beach, the frontier of the frantic dollar?

"No," said Sadye, "the surface of the prosperity to be here has been barely scratched, in spite of all the hotels that have gone up since the war ended."

"I don't understand it myself," said Al. "Before we even had a guest in the place we were offered 10 million dollars more than we had put into it."

"It's comfortable," said Sadye. "It's our dream come true."

"Yeah," said Al. "Of course, you never know when another deal will come along."

WASHINGTON LETTER

Sixth Annual Food Fair Draws Big Capital Crowd

By ANNETTE DAVIS
(For Jane Eads)

WASHINGTON — Washington's international food fanciers elbowed their way through a human traffic jam to sample delicacies of 10 foreign countries. The occasion for this adventure in eating was the YWCA's sixth annual International Food Fair.

Countries participating this year were China, Germany, Greece, Italy, the Philippines, Argentina, Denmark, Indonesia, Turkey and Pakistan — the last three for the first time. Proceeds from the fair, after a token payment is made to the YWCA's of the participating countries, go to further the work of the International YWCA.

Again this year, a favorite at the fair were Chinese spring rolls, so named because they are made especially during the Chinese spring festival. The rolls were so popular that by 1:30 p.m. more than 800 had been sold and a sign was hung on the booth saying: "Sorry, out of spring rolls. See you next year." Chinese Ambassador Hollington K. Tong — the only envoy to brave the mobs — was spotted nibbling an Italian pizza while crowds surrounded his embassy's booth.

Another fast-seller was Turkish coffee brewed over hot coals in a waist-high brass stove called a mangal. Mrs. Altemur Kilic, chic and charming wife of the press attache at the Turkish embassy, explained that the mangal was once used for heating in Turkish homes but is now mainly ornamental.

Decorations seemed more spectacular than ever. Pakistan's booth was draped with native silks and rugs, a perfect backdrop for the large model of the Badshahi Mosque in Lahore, largest mosque in the world. Germany's miniature houses, painstakingly made of Christmas cookies fascinated shoppers but looked too pretty to eat.

Latecomers who missed out on many of the foods were entertained by 10-year-old Katherine Yu, daughter of the third secretary of the Chinese embassy and Mrs. I-Yuen Yu. She performed a classical Chinese dance dressed in a copy of a 500 year old costume.

Another entertainer was Titi Supeapti of Indonesia, who performed a traditional and ancient harvest dance in costume.

Aspirin Demand Going Up, And For Good Reasons

By INEZ ROBB

We live in parlous times, all right, and it is no surprise to me to read that the annual consumption of aspirin, the poor man's palliative, is increasing at the rate of 10 percent per annum. This is almost twice the annual increase in the nation's population.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus, but never doubt that he takes aspirin, too. The world trembles at home no less than abroad, and no man knows from what quarter the next cruel blow will fall.

Jackie Robinson to the Giants!

The mond boggles at such perfidy on the Gowanus and takes refuge in Lord Lyttelton's dictum, "Gratitude is a fruit of great cultivation; you do not find it among gross people."

How the Bums could trade Jackie to the Giants in this season of peace on earth, good will toward men constitutes another day of infamy. As the helpmate of a Dodger fan, I have lived through times that have tried the soul when the Bums blew a pennant or muffed a world championship, but nothing quite as devastating as this.

As Christmas approaches, the halls of Chez Robb are decked with equal parts of holly and gloom. And I have been surreptitiously spiking the Yule eggnog with large parts of aspirin.

Dodger fans are a peculiar breed, not exactly without the law but just barely in it, and I anticipated extensive mayhem along the Gowanus when Jackie was bartered away. But even I, an expert on the care and feeding of such a fan, had once more failed to dig the resiliency, the tough fiber and the ultimate loyalty of this motley tribe.

They—the tribe—took it lying down. No one stormed Borough Hall or marched on Ebbets Field.

"We are hardened to the slings and arrows of outrageous fate," said the head of Clan Robb, "even if we are not reconciled."

My innocent idea that he might transfer his loyalty to the Giants caused him to recoil as from a viper.

"I take my motto from the Marine Corps," he said, " 'Sic Semper Fidelis.' That is, until they trade Pee-Wee Reese. Come that day—," But I fear I cannot repeat in a family paper what he said.

But scarcely had our household begun to absorb the Dodger treachery, when scholars at Princeton University bared evidence that Izaak Walton may turn out to be the greatest literary poacher of his day.

It is possible that Izaak was not only "The Compleat Angler" but "The Compleat Liar" who cribbed much of his great volume on fishing from a much earlier manuscript by an unknown author?

That's what the Princeton scholars indicate, pointing out shocking similarities between Izaak's work and the earlier manuscript.

Is it possible that the patron saint of all fishermen is just another plagarist? Are we in for a revival of the old controversy as to whether all fishermen are liars, or all liars fishermen? It may turn out that the big one that got away with it for years was Walton.

Pass the aspirin, pappy. Things are tough all over.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

REBEL BRASS, by Frank Vandiver. Louisiana State University Press.

Some months ago, Professor David Donald of Columbia University suggested that the time has come for a change of course in Civil War writing. He reasoned that comparatively little knowledge remains to be gained from pursuit of undiscovered source material. Instead, he urged future emphasis be placed upon interpretation.

"Rebel Brass" is a first-rate example of what Donald was talking about. It is a concise study of the Confederate command system, both civil and military, and undertakes to point out wherein it failed, and why.

It is not a definitive work, nor does the author make any pretense in that direction. But it opens broad avenues for further exploration and, within its tight compass of 126 pages, is a searching, authoriative analysis of Confederate policies and practices and of the men who forged them.

THE DECISIVE BATTLE OF NASHVILLE, by Stanley F. Horn. Louisiana State University Press.

Nashville was the one battle of the Civil War which ended in total defeat and rout. John B. Hood's Army of Tennessee never amounted to anything as a fighting force after it was smashed by George Thomas in front of Nashville Dec. 15-16, 1864.

Horn describes the battle in the bold framework of Hood's desperate gamble to invade Tennessee and Kentucky. He is not complimentary to Hood's generalship; Thomas emerges as author of a battle plan which has been hailed as "a perfect exemplification of the war."

Horn's over-all thesis that Nasville was THE decisive battle of the war is open to argument. There is no gainsaying that it was the most conclusive in results, and that it smashed the Confederacy's western power.

The argument comes on the question whether Nashville would have been so conclusive had it not been preceded by the disatrous battle of Franklin, where Hood lost 6,000 men. It would seem much sounder to refer to the decisive Franklin-Nashville campaign than to the decisive Nashville battle.

Hollywood Today

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What will the new revision in the film industry's censorship code mean to you, the moviegoer?

You'll see franker movies, but not necessarily sexier ones. You'll see more chaste kissing, hear more "damns" and "hells." You'll see treatments of previously banned moral and social problems.

Last week's announcement of the first big change in the film industry's self-censorship code in 26 years was long expected. Recently producers have been rankling under hard and fast rules. They wanted to deal with topics their rivaps in TV could tackle frankly.

They felt they needed more freedom to lure the fickle public back to the theater.

But the code revisions brought not only freedom. Some rules became stricter. This was the result of other forces. Foreign censors have long complained that Hollywood movies are too brutal. Church groups, especially the Catholics, have criticized increasing sexiness of films.

So provisions concerning brutality and sex have been tightened.

Other elements in the code changes:

1. Miscegenation is no longer mentioned in the code. That gives the green light to the recently filmed "Island in the Sun."

2. Abortion, white slavery and dope addiction, completely banned until now, may be treated on the screen but with restrictions.

3. Open - mouthed kissing is banned.

4. The code now admits the use of "hell" and "damn" can be dramatically valid, but advises restraint.

5. More limitations are placed on seduction, rape and details of crime.

6. Nudity is still forbidden, but, oddly, infants' sex organs can now be shown.

7. Bans on sex perversion, veneral disease and sex hygiene still remain.

The results of the code revision will not be completely seen for a year, when today's scripts will hit the screen. Even then, the changeover will be gradual. Hollywood has learned not to make drastic changes in its moral positions, lest a multitude of censors sweep down on the industry.

Ira Downs Hobbs In 2 Tilts

SUCCESSFUL BLOCK—Jerry Ford of Ira uses a height advantage to keep Hobbs sharpshooter Doyle Hayes from scoring in last night's cage game, which Ira won 42-32. Ford is about 6 feet, 2½ inches, Hayes about 6 feet. In the background is Ira's Dwayne Rosser.

By HOWARD JONES

The Ira Bulldogs last night had an easy time of it except for two spots as they downed the Hobbs Panthers 42-32 in a basketball game at Hobbs.

Ira jumped into 6-0 lead by the end of the first quarter. During second period, Hobbs sharped up but was still behind 12-6 at the half. At the end of the third, it was 25-16, with Ira still leading.

In the girls game, Ira edged Hobbs 55-50.

Tommy Echols paced the Ira team in the victory with 16 points, followed closely by James Earl Autry with 13.

Joe Neal Smallwood, an Ira guard, was injured in the second period when a blow under the eye cut a gash. He was forced to leave the game to get medical care.

Although Ira had a fairly easy time with the game most of the way, the second and fourth quarter were the thrillers, with Hobbs picking up enough to give the Bulldogs some trouble.

After Ira got the 6-0 lead, Hobbs began to score and matched Ira point-for-point in the second. George Gantt sacked up the first Hobbs field goal 40 seconds deep in the second, and he followed that a little later with two free throws.

Once in the fourth stanza, Hobbs pulled within two points of Ira, 33-31, but Autry quickly hit two field goals to put Ira far out front again. There was only one minute to go at that time. Ira began to stall the ball, and a few field goals combined with free throws from desperation fouls by Hobbs helped Ira to get its final 10-point margin.

Gantt topped Hobbs scorers with nine points, and Mack Etheredge had eight.

The girls game was close throughout, with Hobbs leading 15-14 at the end of the first period, Ira ahead 30-29 at the half. The score was tied 40-40 at the end of the third, and Ira finally pulled out for the five-point win.

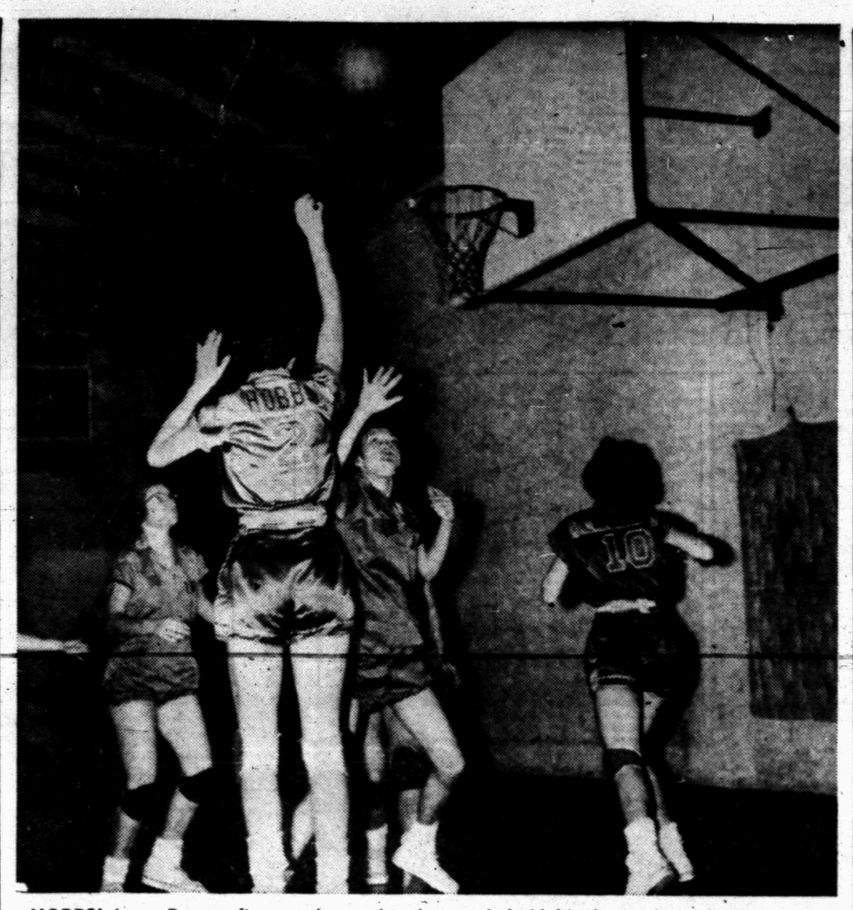

The winning margin was the farthest ahead either of the teams got during the night.

With three minutes to go, Ira led 51-46. Anna Rogers got one field goal for Hobbs to make it 51-48, and Baleria Eubanks answered that with a shot for 53-48. Rogers then came back with another goal, but Eubanks got two free throws to make the final score 55-50.

Eubanks led Ira scorers with 33 points, and Peggy Taylor scored 20. For Hobbs, top scorers were Rogers with 31 and Darlene Ogden with 12. Eubanks hit 15 of 17 free throws.

Officials in the games were W. C. Hodges of Hobbs and Roy Sallee of Ira, alternating with R. C. Taylor of Ira. Regular officials did not show.

Tobin Rote Plans Grid Retirement

HOUSTON (AP)—Tobin Rote, quarterback of the Green Bay Packers, announced yesterday that he plans to retire from professional football.

Rote, who has played pro football for seven years, said "As far as I am concerned I'm through. Salary will have something to do with whether I return, of course. I wouldn't take a cut and I wouldn't go back for what I got last year. Seven years is enough of pro football for me."

He said he plans to return to work in the sales department of a local transportation company.

Rote said the decision was "up to Betsy," his wife.

"We have three children and another on the way. Two will be in school next year, and my wife definitely says she will not return to Green Bay. She just doesn't want to move every year."

Speaking of the controversial tackle end Ed Meadows of the Chicago Bears made on quarterback Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions last Sunday, Rote said:

"This Layne-Meadows thing is a lot of sorry publicity for pro football oversomething that happens every day.

"There have been cases where Detroit players used questionable tactics. Last year in the Thanksgiving game at Detroit Lou Creekmur of the Lions put me out cold for 10 minutes. I had thrown a pass, had it intercepted and was jogging off the field. Creekmur caught me on the back of the head with his forearm.

"In my opinion the Bears this year just had a good, rough team. They were the best team in the league as far as I was concerned, but they weren't dirty.

"There isn't a dirty team in pro football. You might find one or two individuals who get in an illegal lick now and then, but pro football isn't any dirtier than college football.

"Meadows had a right to bust Layne. The lineman can't see where the ball is going. Layne is liable to have been faking, then wound up and tossed a touchdown pass if Meadows hadn't carried out his assignment.

"Layne has been playing long enough to know not to turn his back to the line of scrimmage after handing off. That's murder.

"Layne isn't the first one that sort of thing happened to."

Tech Fans Flocking To Basketball Games

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech fans are flocking to see the Red Raiders play basketball as they never have before.

The Raiders have pulled in 24,000 fans for the five home games this season. That's 8,000 more than saw the mplay all last year.

The main reason for the increase is that the Raiders are playing in the huge Lubbock Municipal Coliseum. The Coliseum has 7,500 permanent theater-type seats and room for 2,500 folding chairs.

Woodard Is Named Coach At Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The University of Wichita announced last night that Chalmer E. (Woody) Woodard had accepted a three-year contract as head football coach.

The 39-year-old Woodard will receive $10,500 the first year, $11,000 the second year and $11,500 the third, Robert Kirkpatrick, director of athletics at the Missouri Valley Conference school, announced.

Woodard, a native of Wichita, recently resigned as head football coach at Southern Methodist University. He said he would fly here today from Dallas to meet the Shocker team and to take care of the "particulars."

He replaces Pete Tillman, who resigned the Wichita coaching job last Saturday.

During Woodard's four years at SMU, the Mustangs won 19 games, lost 20 and tied 1. This year the team finished fifth in the Southwest Conference with a 4-6 record.

His first college post, before shifting to SMU, was at McPherson College in Kansas. There he served as director of athletics and was head football, basketball and track coach.

The new Shocker mentor played collegiate football at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kan., where he was graduated in 1939. Woodard also coached at Kingman, Dodge City and Lawrence, Kan., high schools before entering college ranks.

National League Buys Contracts Of Umpires

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National League today bought the contracts of umpires Ken Burkhart from the Texas League and Tony Venzon from the American Association.

National League president Warren C. Giles said Burkhart, a former major league pitcher, and Venzon would succeed Bill Engeln and Art Gore. Giles said Engeln was quitting to devote his full time to private business in Palo Alto, Calif., while Gore's contract will not be renewed.

Skulboy Finals Start Friday

By The Associated Press

The big showdown in Texas schoolboy football starts Friday as Stanford's 31-game winners meet the challenge of Brady at Abilene.

This clash for the AA championship is a prelude to the biggest Saturday in schoolboy football history, a day that will see three titles decided and with Abilene battling to keep a fantastic winning streak going.

The big one will be played in Memorial Stadium at Austin where Abilene seeks to repel Corpus Christi Ray, a team that's in the state finals for the first time. Abilene, twice champion of AAAA and with 36 straight victories behind it, is a heavy favorite to make it three and take over as the winningest school in Texas high school football.

Abilene has won five championships to rank second behind Waco with five and a tie. If the Eagles win over Ray they will take over first place with six championships.

Class AAA's final will be at Nederland where a newcomer to title play—Nederland—meets Garland.

Class A will be the last division to crown a champion. Stinnett and Hondo will play their final Saturday night at Sweetwater.

Stamford won the AA title last season and has been even more impressive this campaign. The only close game was a 7-6 affair with AAA Sweetwater. In whirling through 14 games this season the Bulldogs have rolled up 517 points—second only to undefeated, untied Stinnett, which has put 537 points on the scoreboard in 14 games.

Brady, Stamford's foe, has one loss on its record and several close victories. But the Bulldogs from Brady have been most impressive in the playoffs.

A top defensive team has been Abilene, which has allowed 13 opponents only 64 points. While the Eagles have a strong offense featuring the great Glynn Gregory, their long suit is defense. Ray may have a hard time moving the mighty Abilene forward wall.

The best defense in Texas, however, has been that of Nederland. The Bulldogs have permitted 13 foes only 63 points. Garland, loser of one game during the season, has given up 79.

The Stinnett-Hondo game is the only one in the state matching undefeated, untied teams. It also is between veterans to the playoffs. Stinnett was in the finals last year, losing to Deer Park. Hondo has been in the playoffs four of the last five seasons.

TCU Player Hurt

FORT WORTH (AP)—The regular guard on the Texas Christian freshman basketball team, F. A. Davis, suffered a broken left collar bone during a short scrimmage yesterday. He will be out the rest of the season.

Texas Bowl Teams Having Good Drills

By The Associated Press

Texas' football teams heading for bowl games had good workouts Thursday but their New Year's Day opponents either rested or were hampered by muddy Oklahoma ground.

The Baylor Bears looked snappy and TCU held its first scrimmage since the regular season ended. Syracuse, TCU's foe, was bothered by wet ground at Norman where the Orange is working out in preparation for the Cotton Bowl game. Tennessee football players went home earlier this week for a Christmas vacation. They meet Baylor in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

Bear coaches reported improvement against the single wing which the Bears are expected to run up against when they meet Tennessee. Coaches said the team also had a lengthy offensive drill against Tennessee defenses and ended the day with a session on play timing and punt protection.

Syracuse, which spent about 15 minutes outdoors Wednesday because of rain, spent the entire day indoors Thursday because of muddy ground.

During the morning the team ran through some plays in the Oklahoma University gym. In the afternoon, Coach Ben Schwartzwalder let the team do what it pleased to get limber. Most of the players wrestled, played basketball or ran around the gym.

Jim Swink was one of the top performers as TCU's first unit participated in a scrimmage. He caught several passes from quarterback Chuck Curtis before he re-hurt an ankle and left the session.

Trainer Elmer Brown said the injury was not serious and that Swink would be in top shape in a day or two.

The Frogs will hold drills through Saturday before being dismissed for the holidays.

STORY OF THE BIRTH

". . .UNTO US A CHILD IS BORN ."

Jesus Brought Up In Simple Home

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Newsfeatures

A child is an enigma. He is a private place, like a never-traveled road whose course ahead is unknown.

Into the household of Mary and Joseph came such a charge—a robust, little Son—to open the sealed pages of a life.

Its beginning was marked by striking omens.

But Mary and Joseph were unassuming country folk, and in that manner, they reared the Boy, giving a plain, small-town upbringing to the Youngster who later would be called:

"The Light of the world...the Bread of Life...The Alpha and the Omega...The Beginning and the End...That Which is and was, Which was and is to Come."

He did not have a select or even safe—introduction to this earthly existence. He first drew breath in a crib of hay. Herod wanted Him killed. But He had the staunch, undaunted care of Mary and Joseph.

They nurtured Him in affection, courage against danger, discipline and hard manual work.

It was an amazing thing at His birth when the shepherds came with their breath-taking account of a heavenly celebration. Almost overwhelming. Mary didn't even speak of it afterward, but pondered it in her heart.

Certainly, it didn't ease their responsibilities.

They lacked means to give the Child any social advantages. Joseph was a worker with wood. And laboring men earned only about a drachma (20 cents) a day. But they gave full devotion to the Lad of Whom it would be said:

"In Him are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge."

He grew up in a tiny village, Nazareth, with its dirt streets and mud-brick houses, where ox-drawn carts lumbered into town with melons and lentils, where herds of goats grazed on the hillsides.

The circumcision of the Child at eight days old denoted, in Jewish law, the putting off of fleshly sin. He shared the ordinary obeisance of others:

"He...Who did no sin...made Himself of no reputation and took upon Him the form of a servant... He humbled Himself and became obedient unto death..."

There were simple joys, and good air and soil in the Child's home village. Youngsters played in the fields of fox-ear wheat and romped in the orchards, while their mothers shook down olives with wands.

When they took the Boy to Jerusalem to dedicate Him to the Lord at 40 days old, they had only the sacrifice of the poor to give, and Joseph paid the five-shekel temple tax for a first born—$3.60 to redeem Him Who would be called:

"The Lord of Glory...the only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth...In Whom also we have obtained an inheritance..."

But there remained the workaday duties of providing for Him, the hours at the loom and millstone, the leeks, mustard, citrons and pears to gather and preserve, the water to be carried from the one well in Nazareth.

The family settled in this sleepy town to stay when the Child was about 1. He had been several months old when the Eastern wise men came with their gifts and homage to Bethlehem. Afterward, came the brief stay in Egypt to avoid the knives of Herod's soldiers. Now, Herod was dead.

The Child grew and waxed strong. He was a perceptive Boy, His keen interests sometimes puzzling Mary and Joseph, but He was likable, and found favor with people, long before it was said that through this Boy:

"God...made known unto us the mystery of His will."

The Boy was nourished in scripture. The young of all devout families were taken regularly to the synagogue for "hearing of the law." They memorized the words, studied with them inscribed on leather bands about their head and arms.

The Boy also learned carpentry, likd Joseph. It was a trade of sweat and calluses, of the shearing rhythem of the adz, the fine eye of measuring line and rod, the stroke of saw and bikhammer, the cut of wedge and chisel.

There was abundant fishing in the lake of Galilee, an hour's walk away, and the Boy was free to grow in the clear outdoors, to stroll the vineyards and groves of cedar, to learn to make a burro's pack, this Lad of Whom it would be said:

"He was in the world and the world was made by Him...In Him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily..."

Not until He was 12 did He accompany His family on the yearly trip to Jerusalem for the Passover feast, and there He saw the great temple. More than 5,000 priests served it in bi-monthly rotation.

There, in the city, was the turmoil of cluttered cultures, the traffic in slaves, with their felt caps and aprons, the Roman soldiers in laced boots, the beggars and outcast sick, the chariot races, the pipers to snakes, the shaven men and ornamented togas.

Strating back to Nazareth, Joseph and Mary missed the Boy. For three harassed days they searched, finally finding Him in the temple in a discussion with scholars, staggering them with His deft questions.

"Never spake a man like this man," many would say of Him later.

But then, His worried mother had rushed to Him, "Son, why hast Thou thus dealt with us? Thy father and I sought Thee sorrowing."

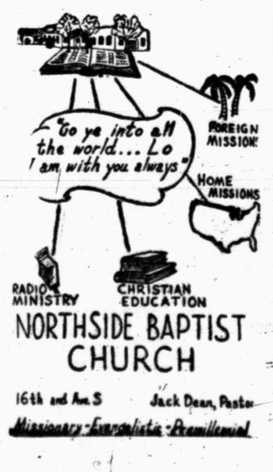

He said: "Knew ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

It perplexed them. They could not fathom His meaning. But He was an obedient Boy, and returned home.

So the Boy was molded into Manhood in the wide spaces of Galilee, there in those calm, fertile valleys, 600 feet below sea level, with the feeding flocks, the wild gazelle on a distant hill and the lilies on the marsh.

This was the stage from which stepped forth this observant, sturdy Youth of Whom these words resound:

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son so that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

SNYDER AREA CHURCH NOTES

Services With Christmas Theme Are Planned Here

Special Christmas programs for this weekend and Christmas Eve have been planned by many Snyder churches.

The junior choir will be in charge of special Christmas music at the Sunday 10:55 a.m. service at the First Methodist Church, when the Rev. J. Lennol Hester, pastor, will speak. At the 7 p.m. service, the children's division, from nursery through junior departments, will be in charge of a special Christmas program, and a film, "Holy Night," will be shown.

• • •

At the Avenue D Baptist Church, the Rev. A. J. Martin, pastor, will speak on "We Have Seen His Star and Are Come to Worship at the Sunday 11 a.m. service, and at the 7:30 p.m. service his subject will be "Ultimate Victory." The church has begun a weekly radio broadcast on KSNY at 7:45 a.m. Sunday, and the pastor's subject on that Sunday will be "God's Christmas Gift to the World." Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m., training union at 6:30 p.m.

• • •

The traditional Christmas Eve candlelight service and midnight Eucharist beginning at 11 p.m. will highlight Christmas observance at St. John's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Donald N. Hungerford, vicar, will be the celebrant and preacher. Mrs. William McClatchy, soprano solist, will sing special Christmas music, accompanied by Mrs. A. T. Nicholas at the organ. Daniel Redwine will be organist for the service. Other services include the preparation for Christmas on the fourth Sunday in Advent, the Litany and Ante-Communion at 11 a.m. The vicar's sermon will be "Watch In Expectation." At 4:30 p.m. Sunday a children's Nativity pageant will be presented by members of the church school. This will be followed by an informal Christmas party for children of the parish.

• • •

The Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will speak on "The Light of the Star" at the Sunday 11 a.m. service. There will be a tenor solo by Bill Alexander. At the 7:30 p.m. service, his subject will be "Heaven's Cristmas Tree," and the men's quartet will sing special music.

• • •

The annual White Gift service of the First Christian Church will be held at the Sunday 7 p.m. service. At that time the church will receive an offering for the Juliette Fowler Orphan's Home at Dallas. The candlelight service will depict the Nativity scene as the center of worship. The junior and adult choirs will sing traditional carols, and the chancel choir will sing a Christmas anthem. At the 11 a.m. service the Rev. John Reaves pastor, will have a sermon on the Christmas theme and the choir will sing a special anthem.

• • •

Subjects of the Rev. T. Gerald Cates, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Sunday will be "No Vacancy" at the 8:30 a.m. Calvary Baptist Hour on KSNY, "The First Christmas" for the 10 a.m. Bible study, "Finding Our Way to Christ" for the 11 a.m. service, and "The Song of the Angels" at 7:30 p.m.

• • •

The Rev. Paul Janson, pastor of the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, will speak on "Putting Christ Into Christmas" at the Sunday 10:45 a.m. service. At Christmas Eve vespers at 7:30 p.m., his subject will be "No Room for Him." Services are at the West Elementary School.

• • •

"God Word" will be the subject of the Rev. Julian T. Hendren pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, at the Sunday 10:55 a.m. service, when the junior choir will sing "The First Noel" and the adult choir will sing "Good Christian Men, Rejoice." There will be no vesper service. At 7 p.m., there will be a Christmas party in the sanctuary.

• • •

"The Christmas Message" will be the subject of the Rev. Henry C. Thomas, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, at the Sunday 11 a.m. service. At 7 p.m. Sunday, there will be a Christmas program by intermediates and young people. Christmas bags for children will be given at Sunday school that morning.

Christmas Party At First Christian

A Cristmas tree party will be held at the First Christian Church at 7 p.m. Sunday in fellowship hall.

After Santa Claus presides at the Christmas tree and a Christmas program is presented by children of the church, there will be a fellowship hour, hosted by the Earnest Workers Sunday school class.

Insurance Triple

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The growth of Mexico's economy has tripled insurance business in five years.

The National Insurance Commission says total premiums paid in 1955 amounted to $86,600,000 U.S. compared with $30,800,000 in 1950.

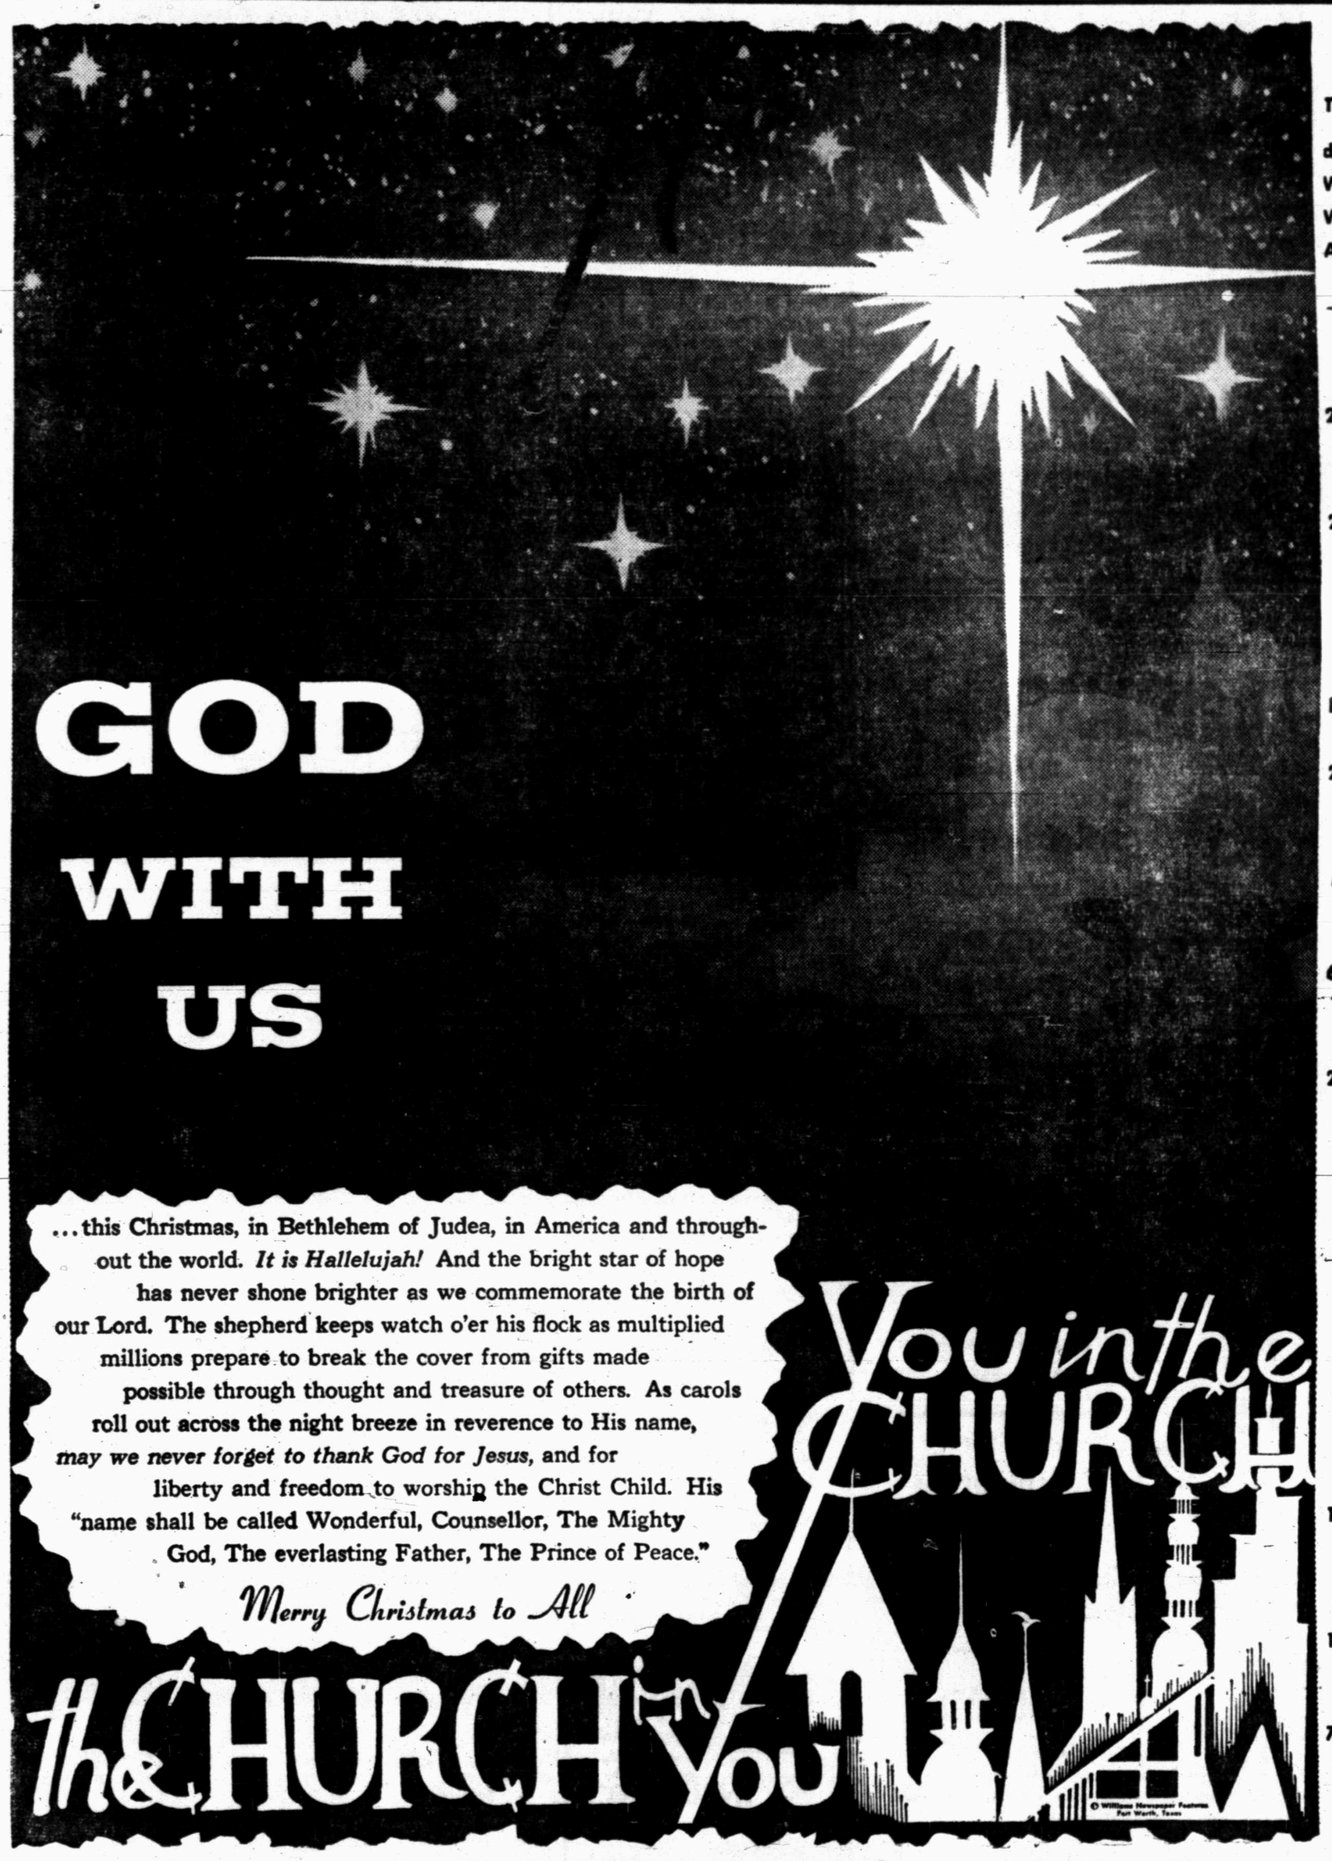

QUESTIONED IN EMBEZZLEMENT—Ray Humphreys, chief investigator for the district attorney, talks with Mrs. Cora Zidan regarding accusations that she embezzled $48,000 to $50,000 from a Denver, Colo., loan firm during the past six years of her employment.

Improper Account

RUSSELL SPRINGS, Ky. (AP)—Sometimes it doesn't pay to be businesslike.

An account book found at the scene of a bootleg whisky raid led to the issuing of 16 warrants against persons suspected of dealing in illegal whisky sales in dry Russell County.

Object To Santa

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When a costume-bedecked Santa Claus set up his Christmas tree stand replete with carols, bells and canes, neighbors objected. They found he was playing carols over a loudspeaker system while selling his trees. But police reported he could not be quited down—the public address system was turned as low as it would go.

Longview Woman Reported Missing

LONGVIEW (AP) — Mrs. Idell Frances Crouch, 39, missing since Oct. 27 from her home here, is being sought by law officers, Sheriff Noble Crawford said yesterday.

He said her son, Ronald, 12, is despondent about her disappearance and wants her home for Christmas.

Mrs. Crouch has been disturbed for several years since the death of her father, and has been under care of doctors, the sheriff said.

Expecting Fourth

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Donna Reed and her husband, producer Tony Owen, have announced that they are expecting their fourth child in April. The Owens' three children are Timmy, 7; Tony Jr., 9, and Penny, 10.

Senators Support Segregation Plan

MARSHALL (AP)—About 20 state senators and representatives yesterday pledged their unanimous support of proposed legislation to keep Texas schools segregated.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd addressed the lawmakers, who were invited to the meeting by Rep. Reagan Huffman of Marshall.

Taking part in the discussions were three members of the legal and legislative subcommittee appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers to study the segregation issue.

Proposed bills dealing with segregation were explained by Shepperd who said their purpose was to "put our public schools back on the same basis as the 1953-54 term."

The bills were drawn up by Shepperd's department.

In general the laws would:

Require that all schools be designated by the local trustees as white, Negro or integrated units;

Permit transfers to be made on the basis of health, compatibility or scholastic competence;

Continue segregated systems in all school districts unless abolished by a popular vote of the electorate;

Exempt any child from compulsory attendance at any integrated school upon application by the parent;

Withhold state funds from any school that fails to comply with the proposed legislation;

Prohibit any local or state agency from employing a member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People;

Require all organizations aimed at promoting or opposing integration to register with the secretary of state and open their records to the public.

Shepperd said a few Texas school districts with a negligible percentage of Negro students should be allowed to work out their own solution. Under such circumstances integration would be approved by popular vote.

Girl Who Lost Both Arms Injured Again

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP)—Nanette Baldridge, 5, who lost both arms after an accident last year, was in critical condition today for the second time in her short life.

Nanette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baldridge, who live on a farm near Portales, was wounded in the head yesterday when a .22 rifle discharged accidentally.

She was visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Baldridge, on their farm. The grandfather placed her in his pickup truck and was about to drive off when the rifle, on a rack behind the seat, discharged. The bullet ricocheted, striking Nanette.

Bandages Are Removed To Get Peek At Santa

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—David Stephens, 6, has been wearing bandages on his eyes for six weeks but the doctors granted a Christmas wish—he got a quick peek at Santa Claus.

The doctors permitted removal of the bandages the other day when Santa Claus came to visit, bringing a guitar for David. Next day the boy underwent a second operation for correction of detached retinas.

The doctors said it is possible, if all goes well, that the bandages can be removed by Christmas.

Drinking Drivers

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Montana's highway patrol chief says unprecedented highway road blocks will be set up to catch drinking drivers in the holiday season. Highway deaths are at a record 259 this year. Patrol supervisors Alex B. Stephenson said "the drinking driver is the No. 1 cause of fatal accidents in Montana and every driver who shows evidence of drinking will be grounded immediately."

No Christmas Here

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — There won't be any Christmas for Christmas this year. Airman Charles E. Christmas of nearby McClellan air base learned yesterday he will have to be on duty with his radar maintenance squadron both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Plans For College

DALLAS (AP) — Some 95 Texas Baptist leaders and lawyers are expected here today to discuss plans for building additional Baptist junior colleges.

Americans will consume some eight billion frankfurters this year. Linked up, the hot dogs would reach 600,000 miles, more than the distance to the moon and back.

AFTER TERROR-FILLED NIGHT

Girl Reunited With Parents

DENVER (AP)—A pretty teen-ager whose freckled face and arms are swathed in bandages was reunited in her hospital room last night with the parents she last saw held at gunpoint and trussed by her wild-eyed husband and a companion.

The tearful meeting was the first between Mr. and Mrs. John Mowatt and their 17-year-old daughter since they saw her taken from their Daly City, Calif., home last Monday night.

Across the hall from young Mrs. Clo Ann Wiegner in Denver General Hospital lay her husband, surly Mike Weigner, 16, a California mental hospital escapee.

Both in serious condition, they relayed vows of love to each other through detectives who sought to question them.

A wide search for Mrs. Weigner ended before dawn yesterday when she and her husband were pulled from the wreckage of a stolen car in which Weigner tried to elude a Denver police cordon.

Wiegner's companion Jesse Eastman, 34, was arrested late yesterday in another stolen car by state patrolmen in suburban Brighton.

Both escaped from the Napa, Calif., state hospital last Monday before taking the girl from her home 50 miles away and starting their stolen car jaunt over four states.

No charges have been filed here against either man. Webb W. Burke, FBI agent in charge, said he awaited a reply to a query to San Francisco concerning a "kidnaping angle." Burke said he would present a stolen car complaint to [illegible] attorney here.

In San Francisco, Wiegner and a "John Doe" are accused of assaulting the Mowatts with a deadly weapon, auto theft and burglary. A warrant also issued there charges Eastman with unlawful flight.

Questioned by detectives, Wiegner and Eastman, a Sioux Indian also known as Red Cloud, contended Mrs. Wiegner accompanied them voluntarily after they crept into her parents' home four days ago.

The girl's mother disputed this. "If someone put a gun at your head and said 'Come on,' You'd go."

Suffering from a possible skull fracture, broken ribs and a broken left arm, Mrs. Wiegner said flatly she accompanied her husband voluntarily "because I love him."

Appeal To Be Filed

EDINBURG (AP) — Prentice Leland Scafe Corpus Christi, gave notice of appeal on a verdict of life in prison for being a habitual criminal, delivered in district court Wednesday night.

The verdict was returned shortly before midnight by a jury of 10 men and two women. They had deliberated three hours. The trial began Wednesday morning.

Scafe was arrested after several bogus checks were found in South Texas, Dist. Atty. Jim Bates said. Bates said an earlier charge of forgery was changed to the stronger habitual criminal charge.

Yesterday's hearing was originally scheduled as a sanity hearing, but testimony on Scafe's sanity was presented with other evidence on the habitual criminal charge. Scafe was ruled sane at the time of the crime and at the time of the trial.

Scafe had previous convictions on a forgery charge, a charge of transporting a machine to forge securities across state lines, and several other charges, the district attorney's office said.

Good Sale On Trees

EDINBURG (AP)—That smile on Dr. Henry Forcher's face is there because the sale of Christmas trees is booming in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Many families in the western part of the Valley have been searching for Christmas trees several days now, but the stock of most merchants is gone.

Dr. Forcher, chairman of the Kiwanis Club Christmas tree sale, was a bit concerned at the sight of hundreds of trees still left at the sale headquarters earlier this week. Now it appears the club will sell most of its trees.

Our prices are a little higher than those of most merchants, but you aren't just buying a tree—you're helping some under-provileged child have a merry Christmas," Forcher said.

Right-Of-Way Is Bought By State

AUSTIN (AP)—The initial move to modernize the expressway from Texarkana to Dallas took place yesterday as the State Highway Department paid $5,890 for the first right-of-way ever bought by the state.

"This tract represents the first step toward bringing U.S. 67 up to full expressway standards from Dallas to Texarkana," State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said. "It marks a new era in highway building in Texas."

He said the tract was bought from E. D. Florence in Dallas County. The tract is on U.S. 67 about five miles east of the junction of U.S. 67 and 80.

It's Kind Gesture But Too Much Steak

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A deliveryman brought automobile dealer Emmett A. Darby 74 cooked steaks yesterday.

Darby was overwhelmed by the kindness he didn't expect. Then another 74 orders of fried chicken were delivered.

A third truck brought a load of flowers to the agency.

The deliverymen presented their bills. Police are still seeking the prankster.

At Least Christmas Card Is Different

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP)—A Christmas card received by Mr. and Mrs. James D. Van Woert bore this notice:

"Three cents due."

The card was from Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Bertuzzi.

Bertuzzi is the postmaster here.

Egg Grading Law Boosted

WACO (AP)—Gene Leach, a legislative representative of the Texas Farm Bureau, said yesterday that Texas housewives can expect to benefit from a proposed egg grading and labeling law if it is approved by the next Legislature.

Leach said that Texas is the only state that does not have an egg grading and labeling law. He made the remarks at a meeting of poultry representatives, Farm Bureau officials and Texas A&M College specialists who met to work out final details of a proposed bill.

Because Texas does not have a law Leach said, "Texas has become a dumping ground for low quality, culled eggs from other states."

He said that the proposed law would establish a set of standards. "Housewives will know by the label whether or not they are buying a high quality egg."

Site To Be Developed

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The first first building to be constructed on the 775-acre camp site given the Alamo Area Boy Scouts by Capt. and Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker probably will be a mess hall.

Harold D. Herndon, Alamo Area Council president, said between $150,000 and $200,000 will be needed to develop the site given the Scouts Wednesday by the Rickenbackers. The famous air hero is now board chairman of Eastern Air Lines.

Herndon and C. G. McAleb, council campsite chairman, accepted the title deed to the 775-acre portion of the Rickenbacker ranch west of Kerrville. Capt. and Mrs. Rickenbacker made the presentation in San Antonio.

Herndon said the council has some "general ideas" for developing the site, a select plot of hill country land. He said a mess hall would probably be built first.

Herndon called the gift "not only a wonderful thing for the Boy Scouts but a nice thing to have happened to Southwest Texas."

'Merry Eggsmas'

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — The University of Rhode Island's poultry department held its annual Christmas party last night. The decorations were wishbones and eggshells and—swears the URI publicity man—all wished each other a "Merry Eggsmas."

Salvation Army's Donations Decline

DALLAS (AP)—Lt. Col. John A. Morrison, state commander of the Salvation Army, said yesterday contributions to its Christmas Fund this year are down about 10 per cent while requests for assistance are about eight per cent higher than a year ago.

Morrison said the Salvation Army helped more than 92,000 of the less fortunate Texans through its Christmas Fund last year.

Thieves At Parsonage

DALLAS (AP)—When the Rev. Cecil A. Brockman, pastor of the New Bethel Baptist Church, and his family returned from services they found someone had entered their house through an unlocked door. Missing was a shotgun, a record player and some records, including a recorded sermon.
