Sharp Cut In Allowable For October

AUSTIN (AP) — With the Middle East oil crisis eased considerably, the Texas Railroad Commission has reduced the state's oil production allowable to its lowest percentage factor since July 1.

The commission pegged October production Monday at 42.8 per cent of potential, a sharp cutback from the 46.7 per cent factor in force for September and the second straight allowable reduction.

"It appears that the demand for Texas crude oil created by the Middle East crisis has eased considerably," the commission said.

After hearing recommendations from major purchasers of Texas crude at its monthly proation hearing last Wednesday, the commission put off action on the allowable until it could determine Hurricane Beulah's effect on Gulf Coast refineries.

'From information available to the commission, it appears that althrough Hurricane Beulah caused considerable damage, and temporary disruptions of producing operations, it caused no major damage that would materially affect operations during the month of October," the commission said.

The October factor brings production below the 42.9 per cent of potential set for July. That factor was boosted in mid-July to 48 per cent, and the Middle East crisis escalation of production factors peaked at 54 per cent in August and the first week in September. The commission slashed September's allowable Sept. 7 to 46.7 per cent.

October's potential factor provides a calendar day allowable of 3,463,241 barrels, down 217,666 from the allowable as of Sept. 15, with actual production estimated at 3,024,429 barrels per day, the commission said.

Fifty-four per cent was the largest allowable issued since the producing factor system was started in January 1963.

The commission said crude oil stocks were up while purchasers' nominations and the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of demand for Texas crude were down from September.

Calendar day allowables for October, by district in barrels per day: 1—65,748; 2—185,233; 3—437,051; 4—285,720; 5—38,041; 6 (East Texas outside)—169,726; 6 (East Texas Field)—147,213; 7B—142,295; 7C—198,085; 8—891,827; 8—542,487; 9—240,047; 10—119,768.

Baptists To Aid Victims Of Floods

Southern Baptist Churches in the Mitchell-Scurry Association, have launched an effort to aid residents of the Lower Rio Grande Valley flood area.

Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of First Baptist Church in Snyder, said that in telephone conversations with flood area residents it was learned that they are in particular need of furniture, cooking utensils and money.

"They report that many supplies of food and clothing are arriving, but they have nothing with which to cook the food and many have no places to sleep," said Dr. Lightfoot. The Southern Baptist Churches in this area were involved in mission work in the Rio Grande Valley region during the past summer and came to know many of the residents there.

A truck will be furnished by Fluvanna Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. Thomas Hall, had reported. The truck will be stationed on the parking lot just north of the First Baptist Church in Snyder for the convenience of those who may wish to contribute items of furniture and bedding. Cash contributions to aid the flood victims also will be accepted there.

Brown Makes Peace Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—British Foreign Secretary George Brown called today for immediate peace talks on Vietnam, but charged that Communist Hanoi has "declined to grasp the many opportunities to negotiate that have been offered.'

In a wide ranging policy speech before the 122-nation General Assembly, Brown appealed anew for a settlement of the war on the basis of the Geneva conference on Indochina.

"I see no reason why a balanced settlement embracing these principles should not be achieved on the basis of the Geneva agreements," Brown declared.

"Both the United States and North Vietnam have said that this basis would be acceptable to them."

As cochairmen of the Geneva conference, the Soviet Union and Britain have the authority to bring Vietnam before that body. But Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko remained adamant against the idea when Brown sounded him out over the weekend.

Brown said that over the past year "abortive" efforts to achieve a Vietnam settlement had been overshadowed by death and destruction. "There has been no progress in the fighting," Brown said. 'There has been no progress toward a solution."

The gloomy picture he painted reflected conclusions Brown and Secretary of State Dean Rusk reached after private talks Monday that prospects for a Vietnam agreement at this stage were "none too bright."

Rusk and Gromyko conferred for three hours Monday night on world problems and informants said the Soviet minister hinted that he would not be too tough about Vietnam during the current Assembly session.

Vietnam is expected to come under examination again tonight when the Big Four foreign ministers—Rusk, Brown, Gromyko, and France's Maurice Couve de Murville — are guests of Secretary General U Thant at a "dinner discussion."

Sharp Earthquake Shakes Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A sharp earthquake shook Santiago today, knocking cornices from buildings, cutting off electricity in some areas and sending people running into the streets in panic.

After the tremor at 5:11 a.m., the national police office said it had received no reports of casualties.

The force of the quake was estimated at 5 to 6 on a scale whose maximum reading is 12.

Tijuana Children Poisoning Victims

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Ten children are dead in an apparent outbreak of poisoning in this Mexican border town, 15 miles from San Diego, Calif.

Mexican state police rounded up about 20 dairy operators, cheese salesmen, store owners and other persons Monday as parents from the city's poorest districts continued to stream to hospitals with their blanket-wrapped, retching children.

Authorities were checking milk supplies as a possible source.

Police said no charges had been filed against the 20 persons, but that they were being held for investigation.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Hector Valdivia said 10 children have been confirmed as dead in the outbreak, but Tijuana police said as many as 20 could die eventually. The dead ranged in age from three months to 10 years.

Scores of children crammed the wards of the city's hospitals, some two to a bed. One hospital reported three dead and more than 60 ill. Doctors worked feverishly to save the ailing children, but said several of them would not survive.

Physicians used universal antidotes and antihistamines to treat the poisoning, after pumping out the stomach of each child. They said milk was found in the stomach of every child treated.

Dr. Jorge Salas Cepeda said six adults were suffering from the same symptoms as the children. He said the victims suffer from vomiting, diarrhea and general weakness.

Pedro Luna Sanchez, standing outside the crowded Red Cross hospital, said his 10-year-old son developed the symptoms within a half hour after he had a breakfast of bread and milk.

Luna Sanchez, a day laborer and the father of 11, said "it seemed strange. Three other children who had milk from the same bottle did not become sick."

The first case of poisoning was reported early Monday at the Red Cross hospital. The number of cases increased rapidly until all three of Tijuana's hospitals and several clinics were swamped with sick children and worried parents.

WATER STILL RISING

Damage Estimates Top Billion Dollar Mark

By PAUL RECER
Associated Pres sWriter

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Rio Grande floodwaters surged into downtown Harlingen today and crept over roofs in some residential sections as runoff rainwater loosed by Hurricane Beulah thundered toward the Gulf of Mexico.

At least 200 homes, some of them in $50,000 class, were inundated. More than 5,000 persons, or one out of eight in this South Texas city of 41,000, were evacuated.

Damage estimates went past the $1 billion mark for devastation wrought since the gigantic storm, one of history's most powerful hurricane, slammed into the Texas-Mexico coast Wednesday.

Some 20,000 persons throughout the 40,000 square-mile Texas region struck by Beulah remained in Red Cross shelters. Most rivers affected were receding today but many remained above flood stage.

The Nueces River at Calliham, for example, was at 30 feet today, 15 feet above flood stage.

The state highway department said 15 major arteries remained closed due to high water.

Harlingen residents continued to flee as debris laden water coursing in from the Rio Grande, 15 miles to the south, rose higher in the Arroyo Colorado.

The water level in the arroyo was 43.10 feet above mean sea level shortly after dawn today, and rising about an inch an hour.

The death toll from Beulah and tornadoes spawned by the hurricane - created turbulence stood at 44, including 11 in Texas and 33 elsewhere in the big storm's wake from the Windward Islands through Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The Red Cross said it was sheltering more than 25,000 refugees in 17 cities, not counting 4,500 Mexicans who sought emergency shelter in private U.S. homes. The Mexican government counted 100,000 homeless on its side of the Rio Gande from Camargo 100 miles downstream to Matamoros, near the river's mouth.

The flooding became serious Sunday night after a diversion dam on the Arroyo Colorado broke, sending tons of water down that wide diversion channel. Conditions worsened Mon when another floodway diversion structure broke at Madero, farther upstream.

An International Boundary and Water Commission spokesman said late Monday night the situation would get no better during the next two days.

Volunteers labored through the night sandbagging levees along the Arroyo Colorado, used as a diversionary channel in the multi-million-dollar Rio Grande Floodway.

National Guard troops stood by ready to move patients from the Texas Tuberculosis Hospital, 300 yards from the Arroyo where the water was rising about one inch per hour.

Evacuations continued into the morning as hurriedly stacked bags of sand held back the watel elsewhere. At one Harlingen street, the level was two feet up the side of a 4½-foot dike.

The flood, rising steadily, reached 42.65 feet at 3:30 a.m., up from 42.05 at midnight and 42.40 at 1 a.m. Boundary commission officials said the rate of climb was slowing.

In downtown Harlingen, however, streets were awash and river water entered the Elks Lodge. A major evpressway was closed by the rising flood as residential evacuation continued before dawn.

Victims Of Mishap Taken To Midland

An Odessa couple and their daughter, all painfully injured in a traffic accident here late Sunday, were transferred Monday afternoon from Cogdell Memorial Hospital to Midland Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman W. Ray and their 11-year-old daughter, Cindy, had been hospitalized since Sunday evening when their station wagon and trailer plunged off the overpass on U. S. 180 and fell beside the Santa Fe Railway tracks in Southeast Snyder. Mrs. Ray and Cindy both were listed as in critical condition, while the injuries of the husband and father were listed as serious. Two sons, Randy 16 and Terry 14, had been taken to the Midland Hospital Sunday night following the mishap here.

AT U.S. MARINES

Reds Rain More Shells

SAIGON (AP) — Embattled U.S. Marines at the strategic northern outpost of Con Thien today took the brunt of the heaviest sustained Communist firepower in Vietnam since the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu. The Marines hurled back 10 shells for each one fired at them.

More than 1,000 shells fell Monday on Con Thien, a scarred fortress 2½ miles south of the demilitarized zone and the key to the Marine defenses astride Communist invasion routes to the south. The Marines reported two dead and 202 wounded, and said they believe enemy losses are running high.

Sixty-three Americans have been killed around Con Thien in the three weeks since the Reds started a battle of attrition whose eventual goal, some observers say, may be control of South Vietnam's important northern tier provinces. U.S. sources say there may be as many as 35,000 North Vietnamese massed in and above the DMZ.

U.S. bombers and jets rained 600,000 pounds of explosives on enemy gunpits but the North Vietnamese fire continued.

It was their loss at Dien Bien Phu that convinced the French in 1954 to get out of Indochina.

The Red gunners raked other American installations in the battle area, including the Navy patrol boat base at Cua Viet. When the shelling started, the fleet of swift boats sped out to sea and called upon the nearby destroyer Morton to open up on the Red shore batteries.

Further north, the destroyer Mansfield was hit by enemy shore guns. One sailor was killed and two more wounded.

The Mansfield was shelling coastal barges near Dong Hoi when Red batteries opened up. One shell ripped a four-foot hole in the base of her forward stack and shrapnel flew through the fire room and passageways. The Mansfield shifted her fire to the shore guns and silenced them while dodging an estimated 47 shells that splashed into the water around her.

Spotty weather over North Vietnam limited U.S. pilots to 124 missions, mostly in the panhandle area stretching north from the demilitarized zone.

A few strikes went into the well-defended heartland. The most significant was a Navy raid on the highway and rail bridge a mile from the mining port of Cam Pha, the third biggest in North Vietnam and the port from which the Hanoi regime exports coal to pay for some arms purchases.

Although there were scattered skirmishes up and down Vietnam, the main ground action was at Con Thien, the sandbagged fortress 520 feet above sea level, atop a rolling hill of red clay. It commands the coastal plain below the demilitarized zone.

Besides the 63 dead at Con Thien this month, the Marines have lost 987 wounded the equivalent of nearly a full Marine battalion.

Request For Survey Is Given Study

County Commissioners this morning were conferring with representatives of agencies involved on the possibility of appointing a commission to make a water and sewer survey of the county.

Such a commission is required, commissioners were informed, to clear a grant for the Union-Fluvanna Water Authority. Dan Cotton, attorney for the Union-Fluvanna group; Joseph Box, manager of the Farmers Home Administration office here, and George Patterson, Snyder City Manager, sat in on the session.

Box said the survey is a state requirement before grants can be cleared. The Union-Fluvanna Water Authority has received Federal approval for a loan and a grant, both needed to put their proposed water supply system into operation. The survey requirement provides that a commission be named in behalf of two government agencies for the purpose of making the survey. Yesterday, L. M. Dawson, on behalf of the Union-Fluvanna water authority, requested that the county and the city set up the commission.

Monday afternoon, commissioners ultimately decided to penalize the general contractor 30 days (amounting to $3,000) for excessive time on construction. The county had originally indicated that it would withhold $4,500. The contract called for completion of the project in 400 calendar days. Some extra days were allowed for bad weather and for time lost during a lathe workers walkout several months ago.

Over Four Score Make Farm Tour

Conservation of soil and water got much attention Monday on the annual agri - business tour conducted by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee in cooperation with the various agriculture agencies.

More than 80 persons were on hand for the luncheon which was served at the Fluvanna Community Center. The tour continued through the afternoon, with some of the group making an added stop at the hydroponic gardens near Lake J. B. Thomas. The latter project had sustained considerable damage from hail storms during the spring and early summer, but is now back in production and will soon have a crop ready for harvest.

Other projects viewed were highlighted by pasture development demonstrations that had involved spraying of mesquite, re-seeding with native grasses, fertilization, irrigation, etc.

Farms visited on the tour included those of Carl Williams, Helen Meeks, Bill Davidson, R. H. Odom, Gene Best, Bill Eiland, J. J. Key, Roy Lee Beaver, E. J. Ainsworth, Marvin Boulware, Claude McCormick Mrs. Clara Mae Johnson, and Delvin H. Murry.

Joining the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee in sponsoring the tour were the county agent, the Soil Conservation Service, the ASCS, the Farmers Home Administration.

Drive Launched By United Fund

Workers in the Scurry County United Fund Campaign of 1967 literally hit the ground running this morning following a challenge at the kickoff breakfast at the First Baptist Church.

Over 80 campaign workers were on hand for the breakfast session and heard Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, First Baptist pastor, admonish all to accept the United Fund as a community responsibility.

"What you think of your community, your community thinks of you," he declared. As an example he said a person who gives a dime is worth about that much to his community. He also reminded that it is easier to build a good life than to try to mend a broken one.

The Scurry County United Fund is seeking approximately $40,000 this year to support six participating agencies.

Campaign leaders, including general co - chairman of the drive, Rev. John Bollinger, also were on the program at the kickoff to set the drive in motion.

Agencies participating in the United Fund this year are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Scurry County Boys' Club, American Red Cross and the USO.

Campaign expenses are being held to a minimum. Workers contributed from their own pockets to pay for the kickoff breakfast and volunteer workers prepared and served the meal. The kitchen crew included Olin Bunch, George Patterson, R. C. Patton, Gary Stevens, Rev. Bollinger, Rev. Jack Riley, Gene Merrifield, Tommy Deffebach, Dawson Moreland and John Selman.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office which employs mostly men. One of the men here is a great talker, and his favorite subject is SEX. He doesn't ask, "How are you?" He asks, "How's your love life?"

He's forever stopping by my desk to tell me an off-color story. No matter what is said, he turns it into something personal and downright embarrassing. (If I say, "Good morning," he asks, "And what, pray tell, happened last night to make the morning so good?")

He can't possibly believe that I am not interested in discussing my private life with him because I have given him no encouragement whatsoever.

What should I do?

HELEN

DEAR HELEN: Tell the man that you find his off-color stories embarrassing and his personal references irksome. If he doesn't get the message, tell your superior. If he IS your superior, there are other jobs.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Being in the real estate business, I read with interest the letter from the real estate salesman who objected to the "lookers" who were in no position to buy a house, but wanted him to spend his time showing what was available anyway.

You should have told that salesman to ask those lookers exactly how much money they HAD to buy a house. It would save a lot of time, tires, and gasoline.

ALSO IN REAL ESTATE

DEAR ALSO: Sorry, but I wouldn't recommend that approach. Some lookers might find it insulting, and I wouldn't blame them. A good salesman will have learned how to size up a prospect by asking pertinent questions and drawing his own conclusions. Ask any successful oil man how many dry holes he drilled before he struck oil.

DEAR ABBY: I have a married daughter and a married son. Once they left home I began serious work on a creative project in which I had been interested for years.

My daughter and her husband fell into the habit of dropping in with their children any time they pleased, invading my workroom and disturbing my work. After repeated interruptions, I asked them to please telephone before coming over, but they continued to drop in whenever it suited them. I finally had to ask them to please come over by invitation only. The result: They became angry with me, and we are not on good terms.

Now my son and his wife are doing the same thing. I do not want to drive them away, neither do I feel that I should be imposed upon by them. How do you tell married children that you are no longer holding open house? I might add, both these young couples were invited to dinner frequently and not once have I ever visited them without calling first to ask if it was convenient. What is your answer?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I happen to believe that mature and well-bred people respect the privacy and wishes of others, whether they are related or not. It is easy to understand why children continue to regard their parents' home as their own because that's the way it as for so long. But once told, they should remember. It is unfortunate that your daughter and her husband became "angry" because you demanded the courtesy of a call before they dropped in. Unless you prefer the inconvenience of being interrupted in your "project" to being estranged with your son and wife, give them the same treatment.

Suit Names Industrial Corporation

A $150,000 suit has been filed in behalf of Jack L. Head against the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp.

The petition asks $50,000 actual damage and $100,000 in punitive damages alleged to have occurred against the plaintiff when the corporation filed an undated option to purchase a quarter section of land from Head. The petition alleges breach of terms of the option by the corporation and that the corporation filed the option for the purpose of clouding the title to his land.

The suit was filed by Perry Barber, Colorado City attorney.

There was no comment from officials of the industrial development corporation. However, it had been indicated several weeks ago that the land involved in the suit had been considered as site for the American Magenesium Co. Plant. However, another site in the same area was acquired for that purpose.

Royalty Not Apt To Favor Book

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — A book went on sale here today that is not likely to become favorite reading matter in Buckingham Palace.

"The Secrets of Gotha," by Ghislain de Diesbach contains a chapter on the House of Windsor that does some frank commenting on Queen Elizabeth II's royal ancestors.

On George I, founder of the present House of Windsor: "George consoled himself by having two official mistresses, two creatures who were ugly in different ways. One was enormously fat and the other was as slim as a rake.

"Since George I did not speak a word of English (he was German) and hardly troubled to learn any, these ladies had at least the merit of acting as interpreters."

Of George II: "Delicacy of feeling was by no means his strong point, and those who recorded life at his court stated that his greatest pleasure was to recount his amorous exploits to his wife, with all the revolting details."

Of George III: "Unfortunately he did not have their (his predecessors) relative degree of intelligence and the little that he possessed was to lapse into madness which made him deliver speeches to the trees in Windsor Park or run madly up and down the palace corridors."

And this: "During the last years of the 18th century the English royal family was like a nonstop musical comedy, with such complicated stories of secret marriages, romantic laisons, public adultery, intrigues and clandestine births that memoir writers lost track of them and the king lost his reason."

There was not much said, though, about Elizabeth II in the account of European royalty to present times.

Showers In Panhandle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light showers fell in the Panhandle-Plains country of Texas early Tuesday, peppered the Pecos Valley and swept into the Big Bend Country along the Rio Grande.

Considerable cloudiness covered nearly all of West Texas. Skies were clear to partly cloudy over eastern sections of the state.

Shortly before dawn, light rain covered 70 per cent of an area 30 miles in diameter and centered about 30 miles east northeast of Lubbock. A thunderstorm rumbled 40 miles north northeast of Roswell, N.M.

Wink caught .35 inch of moisture early Tuesday. Late Monday night, showers fell west of Clarendon, west of Childress, and in the vicinities of Lamesa, Denver City, Levelland, Plainview, and Vega.

Temperatures early Tuesday were in the 60s and 70s and expected to climb into Monday's top range of from 95 at Presidio to 78 at Dalhart.

Forecasts called for widely scattered showers over the state, becoming more numerous about the weekend. Little change in temperatures was foreseen.

Medders Check Fraud Trial Delayed

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge W. C. Boyd has continued a pretrial hearing for Mrs. Margaret Medders and delayed her trial on a check fraud charge until the December court term.

Defense lawyer Jack Gray of Denton asked the postponement. He said Mrs. Medders is ill and is under the care of a Sherman psychiatrist.

A former Memphis, Tenn., nurse, Mrs. Mebders gained fame as a society hostess in North Texas within a few years after arriving at nearby Muenster, a German - Catholic settlement.

She is accused of giving a Dallas society photographer a worthless check in an attempt to defraud.

Both Mrs. Medders and her husband, a former Memphis truck mechanic, were tried last spring on charges of selling mortgaged cattle in an attempt to defraud.

The trial ended in a hung jury, and Judge Boyd declared a mistrial. Her trial on the check charge had been set for Oct. 2.

The pair built Colonial Acres Farm at Muenster on borrowed money and they admitted to bankruptcy last April after nine Dallas and Gainesville firms filed involuntary bankruptcy petitions.

Judge Joe Huffstutler of Tyler, U.S. referee in bankruptcy, ordered the Medders' assets sold at auction after two hearings in Sherman. The ensuing sale in the Medders' huge livestock exhibition barn, yielded about $450,000 for creditors who claimed debts of around $2 million.

The big exhibition barn, where the sale was conducted by Dallas auctioneer Wayne Cook, was the site of lavish parties Mrs. Medders gave at costs up to $40,000.

While the Medders were building their paper ranch empire, he gained fame as a horse and cattle man, his Angus cattle and Apaloosa horses winning championships in major expositions around the nation.

Reuther Asks H. Ford To Join Talks

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther suggested today that Henry Ford II should take a personal hand in contract negotiations at Ford Motor Co. which is in the 20th day of a strike.

Reuther's comments to newsmen came a day after Henry Ford II said, "The UAW should come to the negotiating table ready to settle."

Reuther, who rejoined the UAW's bargaining team at Ford headquarters today, said, "Maybe Mr. Ford does not know what is happening at the bargaining table and it might be a good idea if he came down here for a couple of days and sat in, because obviously he is not being told or does not understand when he says we are not making an effort."

Reuther said the UAW "is doing everything to bring about good-faith, responsible bargaining."

Plan Will Draw Little Support

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neither the Johnson administration nor Congress is expected to show any enthusiasm for a U.N. association panel report urging U.S. support this year for seating Communist and Nationalist China at the United Nations.

The national committee of 26 scholars and businessmen studying China policy contended Monday that Peking's development of thermonuclear power and the intensified internal struggle for leadership made it urgent that options be available to any new leaders that may emerge on the China mainland.

In Congress, however, timing is considered bad because of the rapidly approaching presidential election and because Communist China and the United States have been glaring at each other over the North Vietnamese border.

While there are plenty of Vietnam doves in the U.S. Senate, none seems ready to champion Peking's representation on the Security Council and a seat in the General Assembly at this time.

Senate Democratic Leader Sen. Mike Mansfield observes Peking has not sought a U.N. seat and is not likely to accept one if it were offered.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., has been outspoken on the need for a change of U.S. policy toward mainland China, but he has not specifically endorsed a Security Council seat with the power of veto for Communist China.

The State Department declined formal comment on the new report but referred questioners to Secretary of State Dean Rusk's comments at a Sept. 8 news conference. Rusk said then "Peking has made it very clear it is not interested in joining the U.N. unless the Republic of China is expelled. Now the Republic of China is a charter member of the U.N. . . . and a substantial majority of the membership of the U.N. simply is not going to expel the Republic of China . . ."

The China panel declared it was risky for the United States to continue its present policy.

"While the U.S. cannot hope to influence decisively the outcome of the power struggle in mainland China and while there is at present no certainty that any emergent leadership would adopt a significantly less militant attitude, it is important for any Chinese leadership to be aware that options are open for a more active and responsible participation by Peking in the international community," the panel reported.

J. W. Kizer Dies At 81

Word was received here late Monday night of the death of J. W. Kizer, father of Fred Kizer of Snyder.

The elder Mr. Kizer, 81, died in a hospital at Mount Pleasant. He had been ill for some time and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kizer had visited him over the weekend. They left early today for Pittsburg, the family home. Funeral services will be held at the Smith Funeral Chapel in Pittsburg at 3 p.m. Wednesday. Graveside rites and burial will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the cemetery at May, Tex.

District Consultant Speaks To Snyder AAUW Branch

Adlai Stevenson once said, "Now is the time for me to talk and you to listen. Let us hope we both finish at the same time."

Thus, Mrs. Gary P. Sims of Big Spring challenged a group of University Women and their guests as she began an informative lecture on the three phases of "The Value of Membership in the American Association of University Women," on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Sims is district consultant for District II which is composed of Midland, Howard, Dawson, Tom Green, Nolan and Scurry Counties.

First she noted that the Snyder Branch and the Texas Division are part of a National and International organization with lofty purposes and high ideals.

Membership in AAUW is a point of embarkation for college graduates on a journey of learning. For some, it is a continuous journey, for they have just finished their college education. For others who have been docked for a while, it means setting out anew.

Mrs. Sims said this journey can be challenging to those who have been accustomed to thinking, studying and budgeting their time wisely. Reading and discussing topics at home, away and outside their own professional field provide mental stimulation that gives new avenues for thought.

Mrs. Sims commended the Snyder Branch for selecting the topic "Society's Reflection in the Arts," for student during the ensuing year. The topic has so many facets that it can be fruitful and rewarding if fully premeated, she said.

Second, she noted that by becoming a member of the association, a person affirms his belief in education for women. For example, at both the division and association levels, AAUW maintains a roster of qualified women in all fields. If the governor or president wants to appoint a qualified woman in any field the roster is ready made and no time is lost. It is to be remembered that President Johnson appointed more women to high positions that all other presidents combined during the 20th century.

Today, however, fewer and fewer women are taking advantage of higher education which qualifies them for government and business, although women comprise more than half the total population.

Why are there so few women in government and business? The answer in the past has been prejudice. But this has diminished greatly during the last decade. Much of it now lies with women themselves, who have neglected to have visions and high ideals to begin with, or the means or perseverence to follow through.

A vital project undertaken by AAUW is the college faculty program, whereby women 35 or older with the baccalaureate degree return to college to be trained for a position in higher education. A stipend of $2,500 or more, as the need may be, is awarded to women who can qualify.

Another worthwhile project is the Fellowship Program. Again AAUW is unique in being the only women's organization in the United States which gives assistance exclusively to women for completing work at the doctorate and post - doctorate level. Last year, $350,000 in fellowships were awarded to 100 gifted women scholars. Half of the fellowships were awarded to women in the United States who may study anywhere in the world and half to gifted women from other countries to study in the United States.

Third, and highly important is the means of AAUW's involvement in our own community and society as a whole.

"We believe that educated women have a special responsibility to discharge to society and only when members of the association accept this challenge can AAUW perpetuate its high ideals, and ideologies," Mrs. Sims concluded.

Mrs. Glen Holladay, president, presided at a short business session. Plans were made for the branch to have a booth at the Scurry County Fair. Mrs. Forrest Beavers was appointed chairman.

Tentative plans were also made for the Snyder Branch to host the district workshop to be held Oct. 14.

Guests other than the speaker were Mrs. Jack McGlaun, Mrs. Mel Galloway, Mrs. Lacy Turner and Mrs. Wilson Bright, all of Snyder, and Mrs. B. J. Cunningham of Big Spring.

A new member, Mrs. Wraymond Sims, was introduced.

Constitution Oversimplifies Field Of Foreign Affairs

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It seems simple and is anything but. Presidents from the beginning to Lyndon B. Johnson all knew it. Some found out the hard way. And there has been some tragedy in the process.

Deals with other nations were mostly by treaty 180 years ago when the Constitution - makers were stitching the document together. Never imagining the problems to come, they gave foreign affairs a fast brush.

Almost all the Constitution says about the foreign field is in Article II: The president can make treaties with the "advice and consent" of the Senate, if two-thirds of the senators approve.

In short, the president can take the initiative in foreign affairs but the Senate can veto him. This was an invitation to conflict since presidents and the Senate are jealous of their powers. Conflict followed.

The oversimplified formula did not allow for the difficulty of getting a two-thirds Senate vote—particularly when the opposition party controls the Senate. There were no political parties in 1787. Nor was allowance made for such human factors as ill-will in wrecking a treaty. President Woodrow Wilson and the powerful Republican senator, Henry Cabot Lodge, hated each other.

Lodge was captain of the forces which killed Wilson's plea to the Senate to approve joining the League of Nations. History would have been different if Wilson had won.

Exactly what does "advice" mean? And when should a President ask the Senate for it: after negotiating a treaty down to the last detail or before he even starts on it, not knowing what details the other side wants?

George Washington, as first president, had to get the first answers. Naturally, he thought getting the Senate's advice on a treaty meant getting it before he made one. He was working on a treaty with the southern Indians.

He went before the full Senate and had Vice President John Adams read the main points. Outside, passing carriages made so much noise the senators could not hear Adams. He had to re-read.

Then the senators got into an argument among themselves over whether they should see all, or just some, of the documents. One of them finally suggested turning the whole business over to a committee.

Burned up, Washington stalked out, saying "this defeats every purpose of my coming here." One senator, burned up at Washington, wrote later that the president was trying to step on the senators' necks.

After that presidents might talk with individual senators about a treaty-in-the-making but they finished their treaties before sending them to the Senate for "advice and consent" and the two-thirds vote.

Just waiting for that two-thirds approval means delay on a major treaty. Wilson thought he could stir public opinion to pressure the Senate into approving the League. He barnstormed the country, made 37 speeches, and then physically collapsed, never fully to recover. And his fight was lost.

With all these two-thirds difficulties in mind presidents began finding shortcuts by making "executive agreements" with other nations. These did not need Senate approval, at least not all the time.

And they tried other things, like getting the Senate and the House to approve what they did by passing a resolution which only need a majority vote.

This is how Presidents John Tyler in 1845 and William McKinley in 1898 managed to get Texas and Hawaii annexed when they could not get a two-thirds Senate vote.

Right now there is a move afoot in the form of a resolution in the Senate, where a lot of the members are upset over Johnson's handling of the Vietnamese war, to restrict his powers in foreign affairs.

It's a half-baked move, since a resolution is not legally binding. But it could, if approved by the Senate, damage Johnson by undercutting his prestige and effectiveness with the rest of the world.

A Junior Editors Quiz About NAILS

QUESTION: What is meant by 8-penny or 6-penny nails?

• • •

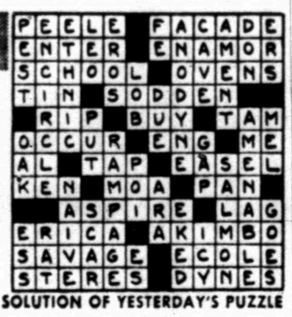

ANSWER: In England, in the 1400's, nails were sold by their weight. The word penny was used to show the size of a nail according to how many pennies you had to spend to buy 100 nails of each size. Then the length of the nail began to be considered too. For two pennies, for example, you could buy 100 nails one inch long, and so a 2-penny nail was the same as a one-inch nail. We still use this system speaking of nail sizes. Our picture shows the penny and length names of some nails larger than the one-inch. As in old English days, we still sell bulk nails by weight. For instance, you may ask for 5 pounds of 3-penny nails, and you'll know these will be 1¼ inches long. While we're talking about nails, learn to drive a nail properly. The main thing is to hit the nail squarely on the head; being sure that the hammer doesn't bounce off and strike your hand. When nailing two planks together, follow this useful rule: the nail should go through the first plank and a little over halfway into the other one.

A Writer Must Keep Eyes Open

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a business writer never would know if he kept his eyes closed:

A small restaurant on Manhattan's Lower East Side does a big business selling "Oriental pizza". A nearby delicatessen offers "kosher Chinese food."

The people of Nantucket Island, the "little gray lady of the sea," do a thriving business making, bottling and selling "Rose Hip Jelly" to off-islanders. The jelly is made from the buds of roses which grow wild on the island.

A tiny New York art shop advertises: "Original oil paintings $3—no forgeries here."

New York, which estimates it removes 4½ pounds of garbage a day for each of its 8 million residents, spends more than $130 million a year on garbage removal. It also estimates it collects enough refuse each year to fill the 102-story Empire State Building 15 times.

And the chairman of one of the nation's large can companies estimates that each year Americans toss out more than 48 billion cans (more than 250 a person), 25 billion bottles and jars (135 a person), and 65 million metal and plastic caps and crowns (338 a person.)

Souvenir spoons commemorating famous world's fairs of the past are sought avidly by some antique collectors. But with demand for the spoons so great, some of the collectors are getting out of spoons and into the less crowded field of souvenir forks.

There are better ways of making a living than bank robbery. The American Bankers Association says at least 53 per cent of the gunmen who held up banks in 1965 and 1966 were captured and drew sentences ranging from eight years to death, with 14 years the average.

Some 35 million copies of comic books are sold in the United States each month, with the bulk being read by those between the ages of 5 and 18. About 90 per cent of the books have 32 pages plus covers, and sell for 12 cents.

Apricots, originating in China, were carried from Asia to Greece by Alexander the Great. The avocado was cultivated by Central American Indians for hundreds of years before it was taken to California by the Spaniards. The artichoke, whose name comes from Italian words meaning "pine cone", was introduced into Louisiana by the French. The pharoahs of Egypt considered mushrooms a great delicacy and in ancient Rome they were regarded as the "food of the gods".

When Christopher Columbus came to America there were no cows, so he brought some on his second voyage in 1493 to the islands of the West Indies. Last year, more than 10 billion pounds of milk was produced in the United States. It takes 21.1 pounds of whole milk to make one pound of butter.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — I just joined a country club and expect to do quite a bit of business entertaining there. Will I be able to deduct my initiation fees and yearly dues as a business expense?

A — If you use the club more than 50 percent of the time for business purposes then you can deduct that portion of your annual dues which is directly related to the active conduct of your business. Membership or initiation fees that are paid once for membership privileges which may extend beyond the year of acquisition are a capital expense and not deductible.

To show that you use the club more than half the time for business purposes keep a record of the days you and your family use the club's facilites. Even if you don't use the club more than 50 percent of the time for business purposes you will still be able to deduct the expense of your business lunches at the club. A business lunch at the club will be treated just as a business lunch in any restaurant would be.

Q — I didn't get a notice that the next installment of my estimated tax was due. Should I still go ahead and pay this installment? And if so, how should I identify the payment to get credit for it?

A — Pay the third installment of your estimated tax when it is due September 15 even though you did not receive the usual notice. To make sure the payment is credited, put your Social Security number on your check or money order as well as the notation that this is an estimated tax payment.

Q — My company wants me to take over for someone who is ill in one of our branch plants. It's too far for me to commute so I will have to rent an apartment temporarily. Are my living expenses while I'm away on this assignment deductible?

A — If you work at this job for a short period then your living expenses while away from home may be deductible. However, if the end of the job can't be fixed within a reasonably short period of time or is for an indefinite period then the job location becomes your home for tax purposes and living expenses will not be deductible.

Details on this provision of the law are explained in IRS publication No. 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses." Send a post card to your district director for a free copy.

Q — The waitresses in my restaurant report their tips on a monthly basis. Can I withhold for this on a weekly basis rather than taking it out of their pay checks just once a month?

A — Yes, you may withhold the tips on the weekly basis as long as the proper amount is withheld each month.

Q — I've cut down on the number of pupils I give voice lessons to since I became 65. On the self-employment tax on that income, can I now earn up to $1,200 before I have to pay it? I know that's the story on my federal income tax.

A — The requirement for self-employment tax applies regardless of age. When net income from self - employment is $400 or more for the year the tax must be paid.

Note that the $400 figure is a net figure. Your gross income from self-employment should be reduced by whatever expenses you had in earning this income. In your case, the cost of sheet music, piano tuning and the like could be deducted from your gross income.

Litterbugs are not a modern phenomenon. Archeologists report that when an ancient ship took shelter in a bay, the crewmen strewed the sea floor with pottery sherds, broken weapons and tools.

SCRAMBLE LOOMS

Surprises Jolt Top 10

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Unexpected developments involving Houston, Michigan State, Alabama and Miami of Florida, among others, resulted in a wholesale shifting of positions from second to 10th in the latest Associated Press college football poll.

There could well be a scramble from top to bottom next week.

That's because the No.1 team, Notre Dame, faces 10th-ranked Purdue on the Boilermakers' field while runner-up Southern California tackles what appears to be an unusually-weak Michigan State team this Saturday.

The Sprtans plummeted from third place all the way out of the Top Ten after being thrashed 37-7 by Houston. The Cougars took over the No.3 spot.

Alabama, tied 37-37 by Florida State, dropped from second to ninth place. Miami, upset by Northwestern 12-7, slipped out of the ratings. The Hurriranes were eighth a week ago.

Notre Dame, the 1966 national titleholder, maintained a solid lead in this week's poll of 41 sports writers and broadcasters on the AP's national panel. The Irish collected 31 votes for first place and 390 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second etc.

Southern California's 17-13 triumph over Texas resulted in the Trojans' advancing from fourth to second and the Longhorns dropping from fifth to eighth.

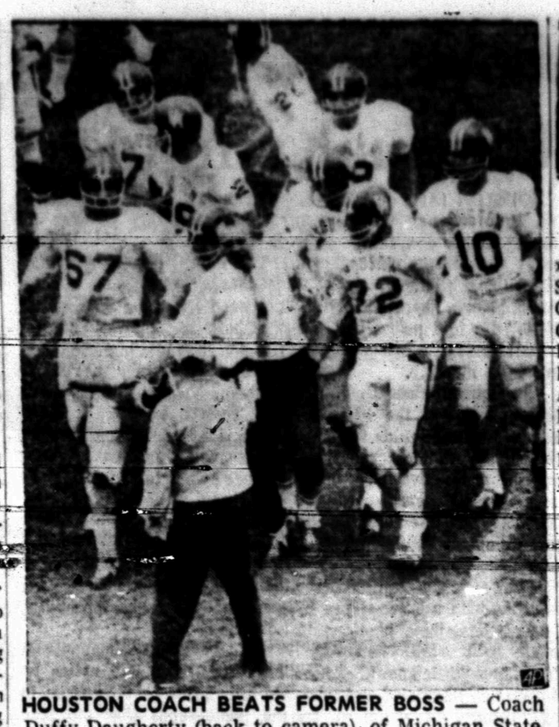

UCLA, a 40-8 winner over Pitt, climbed from sixth to fourth. Georgia advanced from seventh to fifth after trampling Mississippi State 30-0 while Colorado moved up to sixth, a gain of three positions, by whipping Oregon, 17-13.

Nebraska, although idle, zoomed from 10th to seventh. Purdue replaced Miami in the rankings after defeating Texas A&M, 24-20 in its opening game.

In other games involving teams in the first 10 this weekend, Houston faces Wake Forest, UCLA takes on Washington State, Georgia meets Clemson, Nebraska plays Minnesota, Texas faces Texas Tech and Alabama plays Southern Mississippi. Colorado is not scheduled.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-etc basis:

1.	Notre Dame (31)	390
2.	Southern Cal (4)	340
3.	Houston (6)	279
4.	UCLA	275
5.	Georgia	260
6.	Colorado	118
7.	Nebraska	79
8.	Texas	76
9.	Alabama	75
10.	Purdue	70

HOUSTON COACH BEATS FORMER BOSS — Coach Duffy Daugherty (back to camera), of Michigan State, comes off the field to congratulate Houston Coach Bill Yeoman following Houston's 37-7 upset victory. Yeoman served as Daugherty's chief assistant before moving to the Houston job. (AP Wirephoto)

Cougars Suddenly Reach Big Time

By B. F. KELLUM

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Twenty-one years after fielding its first team, the University of Houston has come of age as a football power, earning the No. 3 spot in the Associated Press top 10 ranking—and Coach Bill Yeoman promises glory won't crimp his future performance.

"I'm so happy for these kids and the school," he said.

"These kids have been kicked around. They have lined up against some pretty good people. A lot of people were surprised at how nonchalant they were against Michigan State and the 76,000 persons on hand."

In that game last Saturday, Houston crushed Michigan State 37-7. It was the Spartans' worst in 21 seasons instead of the easy breather everyone thought Coach Duffy Daugherty had scheduled.

The week before Houston stomped Florida State 33-13, and Seminole Coach Bill Peterson said, "You're going to find out Houston has a great team, and we're not that bad."

Last weekend Florida State tied then second-ranked Alabama 37-37 while the Houston Cougars were dealing with Michigan State.

"Rankings don't win football games — winning ball games gives you the rankings," said halfback Warren McVea, who churned out 155 yards, including a 50-yard touchdown against Michiga State. "It's up to us to live up to the rankings."

Ken Hebert, Houston's national scoring leader last season, said, "I just want to keep winning. If we do, it will be just great for the school and the city of Houston.

If the year is Houston's most glorious, however, the team can count on no post-season garlands. It is under three-year probation imposed by the NCAA in 1966 for alleged recruiting violations.

PENNANT PUZZLE

Angels Hold AL Key

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The key to the American League pennant puzzle rests in the hot little halos of California's innocent-looking Angels. And don't they know it.

Bill Rigney's Angels ran right over Minnesota 9-2 Monday, dropping the Twins into a tie with idle Boston. Third-place Chicago, off Monday, is one-half game behind.

The ambitious Angels play the Twins again today and Wednesday and then finish the season with four games against fourth-place Detroit, which ran into Al Downing's four-hit pitching and lost 2-0 at New York. The Tigers are 1½ games behind with five to play.

In the only other American League game played Monday, Baltimore slipped past Washington 3-2. In the National League, San Francisco nipped New York 2-1 in 10 innings. Houston edged Philadelphia 4-3 and Pittsburgh shaded Los Angeles 2-1 in 11 innings.

"I don't care who wins it," smiled Rigney, surveying his club's steady diet of Minnesota and Detroit for the final week. "All I know is we were going to help somebody lose it." Then Rigney told how he prepared for Showdown Week.

"I rested Don Mincher, Jim Fregosi and Bobby Knoop at Kansas City Sunday to get ready for OUR World Series. We can't win the pennant, but we can spoil it for the Tigers and Twins."

Fregosi and Rick Reichardt did most of Monday's spoiling against Minnesota. Each had three hits in the first four innings as the Angels rocked Jim Merritt and Dave Boswell for seven quick runs.

California nicked Merritt for a run in the first on consecutive singles by Fregosi, Richardt and Bubba Morton. Then Fregosi socked a two-run triple as the Angels scored three in the second.

Four straight singles by Fregosi, Richardt, Mincher and Jimmie Hall helped build a three-run fourth as California wrapped it up early.

The Twins chased California starter George Brunet in the fourth, scoring two runs on four straight singles, but Jack Hamilton stopped that rally and got credit for his ninth victory. Curt Simmons finished up.

Downing retired the first 11 Tigers he faced and allowed only one hit over the first six innings.

The Yankee left-hander also started New York's winning rally when he drew a third inning walk against loser Earl Wilson, 22-11.

He moved to second on an infield out and raced home on rookie Jerry Kenney's single. Then Mickey Mantle walked and Joe Pepitone singled Kenney across.

It was Downing's 14th victory, a career high. He struck out six and walked two .Al Kaline had two of Detroit's four singles against him.

Curt Motton's ninth inning single scored Brooks Robinson with Baltimore's winning run against ashington. Robinson was hit by a pitch opening the ninth and raced to third on Curt Blefary's hit.

The pennant race resumes today with California at Minnesota and Cleveland at Boston, and tonight with Chicago at Kansas City and Detroit at New York.

Ennis Succeeds Lions As No. 1

DALLAS (AP) — Ennis joined three old faces as No. 1 teams in the Dallas News weekly Texas high school football poll.

Ennis went to the top after last week's Class AAA leader, Brownwood, was beaten 42-13 Friday night by the No. 1 Class AAAA team, Abilene Cooper. Brownwood dropped to fifth place.

For the second week Abilene Cooper and Jacksboro in Class AA were unanimous first place choices. Seagraves drew nine of a possible 10 first place votes to remain on top in Class A. Spur got the other one.

Ennis was selected for the top spot on six ballots, No. 2 Dumas received first place support on three and Wichita Falls Hirschi, which stayed in third place, got one first.

In each class the lower place teams were juggled. Carrollton Turner, Carthage, Denver City, Keller and Troup all moved into the top 10 while Houston Sam Houston, Silsbee, Bellville, White Deer and White Oak disappeared from the ratings.

Belville was in second place in Class AA a week ago. Daingerfield assumed that spot, having moved up from sixth place. Port Arthur and Spur continued in second in Class AAAA and A. Dumas, fourth last week, was second in Class AAA.

John Buzhardt Moves To Astros

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Buzhardt, a member of the Baltimore Orioles' pitching staff for one month, has moved on to the Houston Astros.

The 31-year-old right-hander was dealt to the National League club Monday for a fugure in excess of the $20,000 waiver price or a player to be named after the 1967 season.

Buzhardt pitched only 11 2-3 innings in seven appearances for Baltimore after being obtained on waivers from the Chicago White Sox on Aug. 21. He lost his only decision and posted a 4.63 earned run average.

His 1967 record is 3-10, and his career mark for four major league clubs since 1958 is 67-92.

Wins Medals In Wheelchair Sports

REEDS FERRY, N.H. (AP) — Mrs. Marlin Woods, 53, of Reeds Ferry, won two medals in international sports competition this year—and she did it in a wheelchair.

Mrs. Woods has been paralyzed below the waist since she was struck by polio when she was nine months old. She competses with other wheelchair athletes from around the world.

"We do it just like the Olympics," she says, "with national tryouts in New York to pick the team for international competition."

In three years, Mrs. Woods has won three medals in table tennis and one in the javelin in games at New York, London and Winnipeg, Canada.

Grand Jury Acquits Negro Detective

NEW YORK (AP) — A Negro police detective, whose fatal shooting of a 14-year-old Negro boy touched off antipolice disorders in a Brooklyn neighborhood for three nights, has been cleared by a grand jury.

The Brooklyn grand jury voted Monday not to indict Detective John Rattley, who said he and other officers saw the boy, Richard Ross, helping other boys to mugg a 73-year-old white man, Samuel S. Samuels, on Sept. 4.

Rattley, the 26th and final witness before the grand jury, said the boy was running away when shot on a street on the fringe of the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section.

No. 2 quarterback Coley O'Brien of Notre Dame tied a school record last season when he completed 21 passes against Southern California. John Huarte completed the same number against Stanford in '64.

Steelers To Depend On Ex-Frog Nix

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers, beset by quarterback problems ever since Bobby Layne called it quits, had more of the same today.

They face the prospect of playing two of their most important games without quarterback Bill Nelsen, and the possibility they may be without him even longer than that.

Nelsen, whose fragile knee gave way last year and kept him out nine games, was hurt in the final five minutes of Sunday's game against the St. Louis Cardinals, the victim of a clean but vicious tackle by Chuck Walker.

So, with games coming up at Philadelphia and at Cleveland, Coach Bill Austin turned to rookie Kent Nix, whose first pass in a professional football game went 72 yards for a touchdown.

Nix came to the Steelers this summer from the Green Bay Packers, where he spent last season on the taxi squad.

The 23-year-old Nix, from Texas Christian, has come on at the end of each of the Steelers' first two games to complete four of seven passes for 55 yards and run twice for 21 yards.

QUARTERBACKERS SLATE WEEKLY SESSION TONIGHT

The Snyder Quarterback Club will hold its regular weekly session this evening in the high school cafeteria, and it wouldn't surprise club officials if enthusiasm shows a sharp upsurge.

Films of the Tiger game with Big Spring last Friday evening — a shocking exhibition which indicated that the locals had suddenly come of age — will be the major attraction on the agenda. Although the Bengals sustained a 7-3 defeat at the hands of an unbeaten, Class 4A power, Tiger fans, coaches and players felt that except for a break or two they could have won a stunning upset.

Tonight's session will get underway around 7:30 p.m. Coaches throughout the system will give eports on their respective teams.

Kathy Whitworth Beaten In Playoff

CINCINNATI (AP) — Kathy Whitworth lost in a playoff with Sandra Haynie Sunday for the Mickey Wright Invitational Tournament title at Bonsall, Calif., but she still increased her lead in official winnings on the 1967 Ladies Professional Golf Association tour.

LPGA headquarters here reported today the $1,365 Miss Whitworth won for her second-place finish at Bonsall boosted her year's total to $25,852.

Miss Haynie's victory was worth $1,725 and she went from third to second in the LPGA standings with $21,193.

Carol Mann, who finished far back at Bonsall, dropped back to third with $20,735.

'NOW, SON, THAT WOULD BE A TICKET' — Hold on now, don't jump to any conclusions. Even though, Nixon-Nugent sounds catchy, it won't do. Nixon, mentioned as a possible Republican candidate in 1968, was luncheon speaker at the 14th annual CBS Radio Station Affiliates Association. Back To Selling Unusual Photos

HOUSTON (AP) — A 20-year-old Houston man was free to return to his downtown office today and resume business with his fictional partner Judy W. — "cute, blonde, liberal-minded, 36-24-36." He told police that customers' curiosity brings him up to $4,000 monthly.

Vice squad officer B. J. Ripley, who raided the 10th floor office Monday, said the man started the mail order business last spring by advertising in national tabloid newspapers that Judy W. was interested in corresponding about "photos of a very unusual nature."

Ripley said the man answered inquiries with a letter signed by "Judy," describing photographs taken with "tall, handsome" Frank in a "little known, exotic" Mexico City night spot and showing "couples in action — the way you like to see them."

Tye letters offered one set of photos for $6.50 or three sets, all different, for $10.

The vice squad officer said Monday's raiding party found a copying machine, a desk, a chair and some filing cabinets, plus the kind of pictures the customers got — snaps of a fully clothed couple dancing decorously in a night club.

"Judy's" letter had warned, "These are not any of those phony nudist photos," but a customer who was not amused mailed the young businessman some genuinely filthy pictures, tipping police and postal inspectors that they would find them in the office.

They did, and the young man was charged before Justice of the Peace Jack Treadway with possession of pornography. He posted $800 bond and walked free.

Ripley said the mail order operator, who is tall and neatly dressed, answered other letters of complaint with an offer of "more interesting pictures for $5."

The detective said this offer got takers, too, although the photos were the same sort as the first batch. Another letter to the Houston man told him, "Suckers are born every minute. I'm one of them. You taught me a lesson. Thanks a lot."

The vice squad officer said the young man "told us his next venture was to advertise he would send pictures taken in the nude."

Ripley continued, "We found a deal where he was going to send them an explanation with the pictures — just like the others, fully clothed."

The detective said the explanation read, "You will notice by the silly grins on the people in the photographs that the photographer was naked."

Telephone Rate Cuts To Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'll soon be able to make a cross-country telephone call for 75 cents—if you don't mind waiting until midnight to dial.

The Federal Communications announced Monday details of $100 million in long-distance rate reductions it has ordered for American Telephone and Telegraph Co. The new rates take effect Nov. 1.

The reductions include inauguration of a 75-cent maximum rate for three-minute long-distance calls placed between midnight and 7 a.m. and dialed by the customer.

The present coast-to-coast maximum is $1 for station-to-station calls placed between 8 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday and all day Sunday. The $1 rate period will be expanded to 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. Monday through Friday plus all day Saturday, Sunday, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Years Day, July 4 and Labor Day, except for calls where the new 75-cent rate applies.

Other changes will reduce charges for most calls beyond 468 miles. But the commission increased by $15 million rates for interstate calls up to 24 miles distant. Costs will increase 5 cents for the first three minutes.

An additional $20 million in rate cuts are to be put into effect next year as part of an FCC probe of AT&T's finances.

Other cuts, all for three-minute coast-to-coast calls:

—Day rate, station-to-station, $2 to $1.75.

—Evening rate, station-to-station, $1.50 to $1.25, with evening rate period beginning at 5 p.m. instead of 6 p.m.

—Day rate, person-to-person, $3.50 to $3.30.

—Night rate, person-to-person, $3 to $2.85.

Finds Haircuts Have Advantage

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Haircuts have their advantages.

Municipal Judge Harry Robins dismissed $85 in fines arising from outstanding traffic citations against Barry S. Hatcher, 18, when he appeared in court with his hair cut.

The judge had ordered Hatcher to get his shoulder-length hair cut or pay the $85 fine.

Amarillo Justice Announces Candidacy

AMARILLO (AP) — Chief Justice James G. Denton of the 7th Court of Civil Appeals said Monday he will be candidate for the Texas Supreme Court in next year's Democratic primary.

Denton, 50, formerly was judge of the 99th District Court at Lubbock. He has been presiding judge of the Amarillo appeals court since 1959.

By WARREN QUINLAN

If you've ever felt at a loss for words with a stranger and couldn't think of anything to say, you know how valuable good conversation habits can be in your association with others.

Poor conversation practices, like forgetfulness and stage fright, usually result from being aware of the wrong facts. General and vague ideas sprinkled with impersonal points of view are conversation-killers. Some persons might not be persuaded easily to accept this point of view because we evaluate our personal experiences as too trivial and restrictive.

A young friend recently retreated from this position when he discovered his personal experiences always kept the undivided attention of his listeners. When you consider he has a heavy accent and is difficult to understand, this fact is even more significant.

Less than four months ago, our friend hesitated to discuss his personal convictions and experiences. His conversation picked up a hollow ring when he talked about something of which he had little or no personal knowledge and to which he had devoted little or no attention. In short, when he talked nobody really listened.

One evening, he was instructed to dig deep into his mind and heart and bring up a firm conviction that life has stored there, from his own mind, and coined in his own thoughts. His search dipped into his memory band and came up with a flesh-and-blood story about his activities as a French underground fighter. He vividly told us about the cruelties he and his family suffered under Nazi rule. Later, he described how he escaped from secret police and crossed the Atlantic to America. He closed by saying, "I am free to come or go, policemen don't stop me and check my identification card and freedom is worth having."

A sure fire formula to improve your conversational batting average is to select a subject which stands out vividly in your memory after many years have gone by. Burn the facts into your mind, arouse your interest, and stir your enthusiasm, and your conversation will be enjoyed to the last syllable of the last word.

Mooncraft Delayed By Plumbing

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A plumbing problem that refuses to go away has erased all hope of a launching this year of the first model of the craft built to carry American astronauts to the moon's surface.

The vehicle, called a lunar module, periodically develops tiny leaks in plumbing connections associated with the craft's two main engines—the descent engine, which is to slow the speed of the craft so it can land astronauts on the moon, and the ascent engine, which will propel astronauts back off the lunar surface.

Portions of the plumbing system have been sent back to the plant of the main contractor, Grummn Aircraft Engineering Corp., at Bethpage, N.Y. Some engineers believe the leaks are so tiny and so infrequent that the lunar module could successfully fly even with their presence.

The space agency, which has been extra cautious since the Apollo 1 fire killed three astronauts last January, is not so sure, however. Efforts to improve the situation are certain to delay the lunar module's first launching until 1968, sources said. Officially, it still is scheduled to blast off this December.

The first test flight involves rocketing the unmanned lunar module into earth orbit aboard a Saturn 1 booster to evaluate the lunar module's propulsion systems.

Meanwhile, NASA announced a one-day postponement in the start of a three-day launch demonstration test for the giant Saturn 5 rocket.

The test, now set to begin tonight, will determine when the maiden test flight of the rocket can be scheduled. The launching of the rocket, the world's most powerful, tentatively is set for late October.

Historic Error Obvious In Portrait Of Roosevelt

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the mantle in President Johnson's office is a historic portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt incorporating a historic error that gets by under the guise of artistic license.

President Roosevelt might be a bit unhappy about the portrayal of himself holding "a rolled copy of the Atlantic Charter" since he went to some pains during his lifetime to set the record straight.

There is no "Atlantic Charter" document as such.

According to FDR and custodians of his Hyde Park, N.Y., presidential library, neither Roosevelt nor Britain's Winston Churchill ever signed any charter.

The nearest thing to a document, says Hyde Park Library Director Elizabeth Drewry, was a press release issued Aug. 14, 1941 to newspapermen aboard the British battleship Prince of Wales where Roosevelt and Churchill conferred in the Atlantic off the coast of Newfoundland during World War II.

She said FDR signed both his name and Churchill's to the typewritten statement which set forth the famous eight-point U.S.-British declaration of idealistic principles as guidelines for the postwar world.

Miss Drewry says the presidential library has that press release as "our original." And she confirms there was no official document.

A controversy over this fact arose during Roosevelt's lifetime. In 1944, he confirmed no charter existed in written form and that there was no formal signed document entered into by him and Churchill.

Despite all this historical background, artist Elizabeth Shoumatoff completed an oil portrait of Roosevelt in 1966 for the White House collection and the White House press release announcing the gift last January said:

"In this portrait, President Roosevelt is pictured in a three-quarter study, seated with the waters of the North Atlantic in the background. Wearing his favorite Navy cape, Roosevelt's powerful hands grasp a rolled copy of the Atlantic Charter, a joint declaration made by the president and Prime Minister Churchill on Aug. 14, 1941."

Hi-way Dept. Celebrates 50th Year

AUSTIN (AP) — The Highway Department and its biggest fans are holding a Texas-size birthday party tonight. There will be 50 candles on the cake, enthusiastic praises and lots of nostalgia.

In a way, it also will be a farewell party for D. C. Greer, who could have retired in July but agreed to stay on as chief highway engineer until the end of the year.

Greer, who has run the department since 1940, will be honored with a $50,000 endowment fund in his name for his alma mater, Texas A&M. The money will provide engineering scholarships.

Gov. John Connally will be there to add his praises to those of the approximately 2,000 persons paying $10 a plate to help celebrate the department's Golden anniversary.

The governor will be speaker at the Municipal Auditorium banquest.

A former governor, Allan Shivers, is chairman of the anniversary celebration, a project of the Texas Good Roads Association, which has been around 14 years longer than the highway department.

Orientals Call For Active Peace Try

SINGAORE (AP) — Prime Ministers Eisaku Sato of Japan and Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore called today for "active efforts by all countries concerned" to work for a "durable" Vietnam peace settlement.

Shortly before the joint communique was released, Sato told a news conference he does not believe there will be further escalation of the war. But he said he does not foresee an early settlement.

The main clause in the communique was almost identical to one in a communique released Sunday after Sato's three-day state visit to adjacent Malaysia.

TEENAGE PROFESSOR — Nineteen-year-old Harvey M. WHAT DO THESE TWO HOMES HAVE IN COMMON?

Outside, these two homes look different, but inside they have a lot in common. Because both are Total Electric homes in which clean, flameless electricity does everything from operating work-saving appliances to lighting, cooling and heating the entire house. The point is that Total Electric living is not limited to any particular size of home or style of architecture. Total Electric homes may be large or small, new or old.

And the extra comfort, convenience and cleanliness they provide is more economical today than ever before on our low rate for Total Electric homes. Before you build, buy or remodel, let us tell you about the many advantages of modern Total Electric living.

Most Valley Crops Are Total Loss

AUSTIN (AP) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture gave its preliminary assessment Monday of Hurricane Beulah's damage to Lower Rio Grande Valley crops.

It characterized damage as "severe," but said livestock losses appear small and the "droughty" southern part of the state received significant improvement in grazing prospects.

"A large portion of the approximately 8,000 acres of fall vegetables in the Lower Valley (including tomatoes, peppers and cucumbers) is expected to be totally abandoned and yields on remaining fields will be low," the report said.

About 10 per cent of the 66,000-acre winter vegetable crop and early spring onions had been planted when the hurricane struck. Most early planting was cabbage, carrots and onions.

"A substantial portion of the early planted acreage was flooded out and although some of this acreage may survive, much will have to be replanted. However, with many fields still under water, it will probably be mid- or late October before land preparations and planting of winter vegetables resumes," the department said.

Vegetable crops also were damaged by winds and heavy rains at Laredo, in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area and in the Coastal Bend.

The department said a quantitative estimate of damage cannot be made yet since many fields remain flooded.

Preliminary estimates are that approximately half the grapefruit crop and a third of the early oranges were destroyed, the report said.

Cotton harvest was slowed by rain over most of the state but is now 27 per cent complete, compared with 21 per cent a year ago. Sorghum combining is about half complete and slightly behind last year's pace. Planting of 1968 wheat advanced rapidly and is about a third complete, compared with 39 per cent a year ago. Some rice was blown down in Jackson and Matagorda counties.

SPEAKS ON CONSTITUTION REVISION — Gov. John Connally speaks to the opening session of the Constitutional Revision Commission in Austin. Connally told the 20 prominent Texans he hopes their 14-month effort to rewrite the state constitution will result in new powers for government and a reduction of much unnecessary language. CHURCH SEEKS WAY OUT

Pike May Yet Face Trial

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — The Episcopal Church today faced once again the prospect of a heresy trial of Bishop James A. Pike after strenuous efforts to avoid it collapsed in confusion.

However, behind-the-scenes huddles were going on to seek a way out of the tangle—termed by some a crisis for the church.

It exploded late Monday after the House of Bishops acted to affirm generally—rather than specifically adopt—a document upholding freedom of doctrinal inquiry and repudiating heresy trials.

It was aimed, in part, at settling the Bishop Pike case.

However, the lack of formal enactment or implementing legislation aroused questions—what Bishop Stuart Wetmore of New York called "considerable confusion"—climaxed when Bishop Pike reinvoked his demand for trial of charges made against him.

He had offered to drop the case if the report's recommendations were formally ratified but said the modified action taken "did nothing to remedy anything."

"Thousands of clergy, inside and outside this church, are waiting to have this Damocles sword taken off the head of theological honesty," he said, adding that he had become a symbol for their interests, and wanted a clear decision. The trouble flared as the 11-day governing convention for 3.5 million Episcopalians neared its close Wednesday.

Bishop Stephen Bayne, one of the church's most influential voices and chairman of the commission that drafted the report, said he was "stunned, disappointed and sorry" that the handling of it had not resolved the problem.

Uncertainty about the matter came to a head when Bishop Wetmore asked if "we are to understand that the action taken erases the impact of the statement" by bishops last fall censuring Bishop Pike's views as offensive and irresponsible. Presiding Bishop Hines replied that the action "does not erase the censure. This could be done only if the House of Bishops chose to do so."

Citing this exchange, Bishop Pike said it "removes all puzzlement," showing that the bishops' action had not cleared him, and therefore he 'had no choice" but to insist that procedures for a trial be started at once.

In their resolution, the bishops said they 'welcome and generally share" the report's conclusions, and expressed hope it will "create a new climate of responsible thought and action within the church."

They also directed that a committee draft 'appropriate canonical amendments" in line with the report for future consideration—but made clear no immediate legislation was contemplated at the current convention.

Bishop Bayne said afterward he felt these steps, in effect, ratified the report. However, Bishop Leland Stark of Newark, N.J., voiced disappointment at the absence of any implementing measures—and indicated he will press for them.

Heresy charges against him were launched last year by a group led by Bishop Henry I. Louttit of South Florida, who had agreed to drop the case after the censure rebuke. But Bishop Pike then demanded a trial so he could offer his defense, his right once the charges had been aired.

However, he had shelved this demand, contingent on approval of the theological freedom report, which—without naming him—repudiates the procedures used against him.

But the outcome has revived his demand.

Bishop Pike originally came under fire for questioning some traditional doctrines, such as the biological virginity of Mary, mother of Jesus, and the Trinity—that God is three persons, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, of one nature.

Hamilton's Rolls Royce Impounded

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP) — A Rolls Royce limousine leased to actor George Hamilton, former beau of Lynda Bird Johnson, has been impounded by Kingman police.

Police Sgt. Darrell Warren found the unlocked car parked behind an all-night restaurant. Its driver, William McMurchey, about 30, had left the restaurant but Warren got in touch with him.

"He told me he was driving to Washington because there were some things in the car that belonged to Miss Johnson," Warren said. The police sergeant denied an earlier report that the car contained four mink coats.

The car had burnt out its brakes. Warren said he reached Hamilton at his Beverly Hills, Calif., home Monday and that the actor confirmed that the car was going to Washington but was quite upset to hear the Rolls was left unlocked by McMurchey, his secretary. Warren took the keys to the car at Hamilton's request. McMurchey, meanwhile, has flown back to Los Angeles.

Hamilton left for the East Coast where he was to rehearse for a series of plays in Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey.

His agent, Bob Colbert, said in Los Angeles that returning belongings to Miss Johnson "was not the purpose of the trip. As far as I knew, this was luggage George would be using out East."

Colbert said that after the brakes are repaired, "maybe George's brother, Bill, will drive the rest of the way."

The car is under lock and key at a private garage in Kingman and will remain there until police hear from Hamilton.

Meanwhile, Lynda Bird, 23, and her 28-year-old fiancee, Marine Capt. Charles Robb were vacationing in Acapulco, Mex.

In their absence in the capital, the White House announced Monday the pair would be married Dec. 9 in the East Room of the Executive Mansion.

Engineers say Winchester Cathedral's 900 year old pillars are rotten to the core.

Critics Launch Fresh Charges

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican critics launched fresh charges today that President Johnson is not telling the American people the truth about the Vietnam war.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said Johnson appeared to be "indulging the proponents of a military solution in Vietnam for political reasons" by ordering air attacks on North Vietnam ports after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said this would not be an effective means of stopping the infiltration of supplies into the South.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said the public isn't being told by the administration of the danger that bombing near Red China will bring that country into the war. He repeated previous charges that the President has been "constantly wrong" about "where we stand, what we can accomplish and what the war will cost."

Case voiced his views in a prepared Senate speech, Percy in an interview.

Case, a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member who has urged that the bombing be limited to vital military targets, said the administration's handling of the war has produced "a crisis of confidence."

"The people's anxiety, and that of Congress too, springs perhaps in greatest part from a growing conviction that the administration is not telling them the truth," he said.

"The administration's continuing assurances of progress in Vietnam simply do not square with the cold fact that toward our basic objective—that of creating an independent self-governing society supported by its citizens—there has been no significant progress at all."

Percy said the reaction to a series of weekend speeches in which he attacked what he called "the great problem of credibility" on the part of the administration convinced him the public is deeply concerned by this issue.

He said he would oppose withdrawal from Vietnam but believes there is unjustified escalation of the war.

Introduces Cotton Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to include cotton yarn under raw cotton import quotas was introduced Monday by Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., of the House Agriculture Committee.

His bill would amend a measure offered by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which proposes negotiations with other nations concerning limitations on foreign textiles brought into this country.

Yarn is a light twist of cotton preliminary to the manufacture of cotton goods.

"The American market is being swamped with textiles from abroad," Poage said in a statement. "This threatens the jobs of many thousands of American workers in the textile and garment manufacturing industires, as well as cotton producers."

Modern Art Puzzles New Yorkers

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's a mousetrap!" "It's a pigeon coop!" "It's a Trojan Horse!" runs the refrain as mystified New Yorkers try to make sense out of a display of modern sculpture that has sprouted in parks and plazas.

The contemporary creations erected lately in City Hall Park, Foley Square and Battery Park, among other locations, have stopped thousands of normally blase strollers in their tracks and led to a lot of head scratching.

City Hall visitors had a particularly trying time Monday trying to identify something in front of the steps that looked a bit like a large white cube in a state of arrested collapse.

Artist Paul Frazier, 45, an assistant professor at Queens College, labeled the work he completed at his Greenwich Village studio "Cuboid Shift No. 2."

Not even that information was available to passersby Monday as the label for the piece has not yet arrived. Most started by asking, "What is it?" and ended by supplying their own answers.

"That's going to be Mayor Lindsay's new platform." "It's a gift box with go-go girls inside." "It's a mousetrap— a better mousetrap," were among the interpretations.

Not all the comments however were in jest. "It's a new concept and just because we don't understand and it doesn't mean we have to criticize it," said Jack Saltz.

The works are all part of New York City's first outdoor sculpture show and will be on display through October.

False Police Report Costly For Youths

CINCINNATI (AP) — Turning in a false police report is costing two Cincinnati youths $47 plus $5 court costs each.

Municipal Judge Robert S. Kraft imposed the joint fine on Edward Brummett, 19, and Bobby Armentrout, 18. The youths were convicted but sentence was delayed while authorities determined the cost of the investigation that involved 32 policemen and 18 cruisers.

The youths said at first that Brummett was shot by a sniper on July 23. Investigation showed he was hit by a bullet from a pistol he threw under a car.

Thieves Just Favor His Transmission

PITTSBURG, Ka. (AP) — There's something about Harry Hinkley's 1964 model sports car sion.

The car has been stolen twice in about two years and was found abandoned with the transmission gone.
