Hungary, Yugoslavia Hit By Earthquake

Fair Skies Follow Blustery Duster

By KATRICIA COCHRAN

Fair skies dawned on tornado-leery Texans Monday in the wake of a harrowing Sunday, when strong gale-force winds blew blinding sand—spiked with dust devils—through the area on speeds up to 68 miles per hour. Temperatures in Wichita Falls plummeted 22 degrees in an hour as the north-northwesterly winds whipped through the city shortly after 4 p.m. The mercury continued falling slowly until settling at 45 degrees in the dawn hours Monday.

WEATHER

WICHITA FALLS VICINITY: Fair through Tuesday, little warmer Tuesday. High Monday in low 70s, low near 40 and high Tuesday in upper 70s.

NORTH CENTRAL AND NORTHEAST TEXAS: Fair today and Tuesday. Cooler today, a little warmer Tuesday. Low tonight 43 to 52. High Tuesday in 70s.

OKLAHOMA: Fair today through Tuesday. Cooler today. Scattered light frost northwest tonight. High today 58-69. Low tonight 33-44.

EXTENDED FORECAST: North Central and Northeast Texas, Central and Eastern Oklahoma—Temperatures will average two to seven degrees below normal. Normal high 68 north to 78 south, normal low 43 northwest to 58 south. Slow warming trend Tuesday and Wednesday, cooler latter half of week. Precipitation will range from .50 to 1.50 in extreme north to .25 to .75 in central and south portions, occurring as scattered thundershowers Thursday and Thursday night.

Widespread Damage And Panic Reported

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia.—An earthquake struck a wide region of northern Yugoslavia and part of southern Hungary today, killing at least one and injuring more than 100 persons. Panic spread in the two neighboring countries and damage appeared widespread.

Downtown buildings swayed and some cracked in downtown Belgrade, where thousands fled into the streets on a warm, sunny morning. Schools and many factories and offices closed. The Budapest radio said the Hungarian capital also was shaken. The first death was reported near the epicenter of the quake about 125 miles west of Belgrade. A 13-year-old girl was killed when a staircase collapsed at a school at Djakovo.

Reports reaching Belgrade said more than 100 persons were injured in the quake area, stretching westward from Belgrade and north to the Hungarian border. Budapest radio reported panic in southern Hungary but made no mention of casualties.

According to reports filtering in from the area, damage was serious in the region close to the center of the quake.

Among the hardest hit were Sakszard, a Hungarian wine and agricultural center 80 miles southwest of Budapest, and Slavonki Brod, a rail and farming center 125 miles west of Belgrade.

Radio Budapest said many buildings were damaged at Sakszard, and Communist party headquarters was severely damaged and its occupants escaped in panic. It made no mention of casualties.

Thirty persons were injured, two seriously, in Slavonki Brod, reports reaching Belgrade said. These accounts did not detail the damage but said destruction was worst in villages north

Texas Righthander Johnson Opens New Baseball Season

WASHINGTON (AP)—Baseball tapped the White House today, calling on a tall Texas righthander named Lyndon B. Johnson to help open the American League season.

Before a battery of photographers and capacity crowd at modernistic D.C. Stadium, Johnson wound up and let fly with the ceremonial first pitch much as every president has done since William Howard Taft in 1910. Only then did the Washington Senators take the field against the Los Angeles Angels.

War or peace, busy schedule or not, every president is expected to perform this task. President Dwight D. Eisenhower once decided to go golfing instead and the sports world was shocked.

The Senators, who used to win pennants when they had a Johnson pitching for them—immortal Walter Johnson—hope this initial opening pitch by Lyndon Johnson will be a good omen.

They haven't finished first since 1933. Last year they trailed the pennant-winning New York Yankees by 4½ games.

Jack Cox To Be Here Tuesday

Jack Cox of Houston brings his campaign for United States Senate nomination in the Republican primary to Wichita Falls Tuesday.

Wichita County gave Cox 6,905 votes in his 1962 race for governor and he is hoping to retain this substantial support in his current race against three opponents, he said Monday in Houston.

Cox will attend a coffee at the Wichita County Republican Headquarters at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

In 1962 Cox received 715,000 votes for governor in the general election, far more votes than any previous Republican gubernatorial candidate received in Texas.

He has pitched his campaign on the theme that "Cox is the only candidate who can beat Ralph Yarborough in November." He has limited his campaign to potshots at the incumbent senator whom he describes as an "extreme left-wing liberal" who is "certain to be the Democratic nominee."

Cox said in Austin last week, that after completing two rounds of visits to every region in the state he is "more confident than ever that Jack Cox will win nomination on May 2 and that Republicans will win a significant victory, over Ralph Yarborough in November."

of the city. Many houses were left uninhabitable in these villages.

Several persons were injured fleeing from buildings in the industrial town of Borovo, near the Danube, about 135 miles northwest of Belgrade. A number of houses were damaged there. Several houses were reported destroyed at Baka Topola, 35 miles north of Belgrade. Several chimneys fell and some old houses were damaged in Sremska Mitrovica, in the Yugoslav north.

New C-C Leader Praises Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce announced today that Walter F. Carey of Birmingham, Mich., is its new president. He promptly voiced some praise for President Johnson and talked of business-government cooperation.

Introduced at a news conference, Carey, 58, indicated he would not follow the highly vocal line of attack on government spending carried on by his predecessor, Delaware banker Edwin P. Neilan.

Neilan charged repeatedly that congressmen, government administrators, and voters who supported certain government works projects, were guilty of immoral conduct.

Carey, head of a trucking business in Michigan, made it clear that he would give strong support to the traditional chamber stand in favor of a balanced budget.

Witness Testifies In Beckwith Trial

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A former cab driver said today Byron De La Beckwith was in Jackson and looking for the home of Medgar Evers four days before the Negro integration leader was killed from ambush.

Lee Swilley was the first witness to testify at the start of the second week of Beckwith's second murder trial. His first trial in February ended with a deadlocked jury.

Swilley said he and Herbert Speight, another taxi driver, were parked outside the Trailway bus station when Beckwith approached them and asked where Evers lived, Swilley said. "And we told him no."

The witness said Beckwith then went in the bus station, looked at the telephone directory and came back and asked them about three addresses.

"We told him they couldn't be one as they were in white neighborhoods," Swilley said.

The witness said he reported the incident to police after he read about Evers being shot last June 12 outside the Evers home. He said he identified Beckwith from a police lineup. Beckwith, 43, is of Greenwood, Miss.

Rail Negotiators Resume Bargaining

WASHINGTON (AP)—Railroad union and management negotiators renewed active collective bargaining today, the White House reported, but declined to say whether they made any progress.

White House press secretary George Reedy said the talks were on an issue by issue basis and would probably continue that way for the rest of the day.

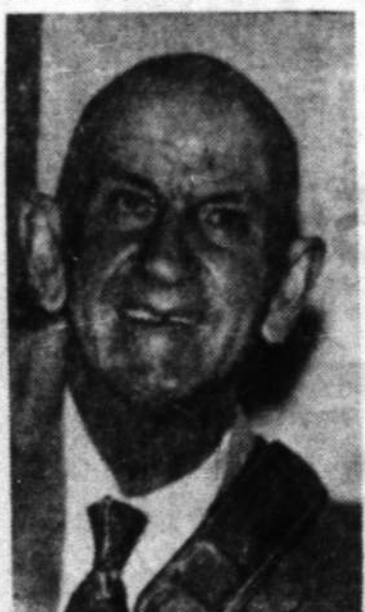

Tuesday Rites Set For Famed 'Newsboy'

Funeral services for Wild Bill Owens, 63, veteran newspaper vendor who died Sunday of cancer in a Wichita Falls hospital, will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church.

Officiating will be Dr. Landrum P. Leavell, pastor, and Rev. E. L. Lane, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Graveside services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Greenwood Cemetery in Fort Worth under direction of Owens-Brumley Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Frank Wood, Rhea Howard, Dick Gose, J. C. (Hap) Clower, W. H. Adamson and A. B. Foreman.

'WILD BILL' OWENS

The body will be in view at the church from 8:30 a.m. Tuesday until time of service.

Born Oct. 16, 1900 in Voco, Tex., Owens came here in 1914.

Despite a crippling handicap, Owens had sold newspapers since he was nine years old. He hawked his papers primarily at Eighth and Scott, braving inclement weather. In 1962, Charles P. McGaha, board chairman of City National Bank, presented Owens with the keys to a newsstand modeled after the bank's drive-in facility.

Owens, who numbered the rich and the poor among his many friends, was honored by the entire city in 1962 when former Mayor Harold Jones proclaimed April 7 as "Bill Owens Day."

Ill for several years, he was hospitalized a number of weeks ago for major surgery. At the time, his friends started a fund to pay his medical bills.

Although the whole city was pulling for him, Owens failed to rally.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. J. W. Owens, 1213 Kenley Lane; three sisters, Mrs. Sam Balsano, Fort Worth; Mrs. D. L. Winsett, Robinson, Ill.; and Mrs. R. L. Holland, 1213 Kenley Lane; four brothers, J. V. Owens, Arlington; Granville Owens, Whitney; Johnny Owens, Dallas; and Virgil Owens, 3137 Manchester; 17 nieces and nephews and 25 great-nieces and nephews.

SAD SMOKE—Flames shot up from the Sunset Terrace area Monday morning, carrying skyward the smoldering remains of what once was houses and furniture and toys. Firemen were burning part of the debris accumulated from the result of the April 3 tornado which leveled or damaged so many homes in the Sunset Terrace development. The burning was being done just west of the housing area, adjacent to the Red River Expressway. The material measured almost half a city block long and 20 to 30 feet high. Not all of the debris has been cleared from the disaster area. Much remains to be done.

County Delays Local Option Vote

Wichita County Commissioners Monday passed a motion to forego any decision on the Pleasant Valley Local Option Election, pending an opinion from the Attorney General's office.

According to the laws of Texas, the county commissioner must rule on the petition for an election at the next regular meeting of that body following a canvass of the petition. The deadline for ruling on the petition to hold such an election was April 13.

However, the attorney general's office must hand down an opinion on the petition prior to the commissioners' decision. Two opposing opinions were handed by the board that threw out both of them. Last Friday, the county attorney contacted the attorney general's office and was told the commissioners would render an opinion before noon Monday, the deadline date. This opinion was not made during the meeting of the commissioners court.

To Await Ruling

Judge Calvin Ashley therefore proposed the commissioners withhold any decision on calling the election until such time the attorney general's office hands down their ruling on the proposed election.

Other business taken up before the court included the passing of a motion to employ an extra deputy for the county clerk's office for a 30 day period to help with the absentee voting.

A listing in the telephone directory for the civil defense phone in the courthouse was authorized by the court as was a request for two new typewriters for the probation department.

New Spreader

On a motion by D. W. (Dod) Wiley, commissioner of Precinct 1, the commissioners approved the purchase of a new rock spreader to be used by all four precincts. Wiley told the court the present spreader was dangerous and that "... it's a wonder someone hasn't been killed or hurt badly already."

Five election judges were appointed and approved by the commissioners during the meeting to fill vacancies. For precinct 10, Miss Marjorie Campbell, presiding judge; precinct 16, Charles A. Lloyd; precinct 42, Mrs. Joe L. Burton; precinct 45, Mrs. O. L. Franks and precinct 56, Mrs. G. Dean Funston. The canvassing of votes in the county school trustees election was accomplished Monday and the monthly reports from the auditor, treasurer and county agent was approved.

Jack Farmer Group To Meet

JACKSBORO, Tex. (Special)—Mexico's screwworm eradication program will be discussed here Monday night during the meeting of the Jack County chapter of the Young Farmers of America.

Featured speaker will be T. J. Richards of Paducah, Tex. Richards has served as a director of the eradication program since its beginning. He will explain how Mexico is planning to carry out an eradication program similar to the operation in the United States of the past two years.

The organization will meet in Jacksboro High School agriculture building Monday at 7:30 p.m. Glynn Boykin and Donald Bennett are advisors for the chapter.

FAIR SKIES—

winds with gusts to 70 m.p.h. blew up hazy red-tinted clouds and lowered visibility to near zero in many sections of Oklahoma.

Pileups of several cars were common in the Panhandle and central Oklahoma sections. A series of accidents involving seven cars and four trucks claimed two lives and critically injured six persons near Guymon, Okla. Another pileup involving 17 vehicles near Minco in central Oklahoma killed two Oklahoma City women and injured about 15 other persons.

Gravel hurled by the gusting winds shattered windshields of about 25 cars parked at the state fairgrounds in Oklahoma City and the rear windows of about 10 to 15 other cars shattered outward at about the same time.

Driving was extremely hazardous in both states as motorists were forced to turn on headlights when the sand blotted out the sun and the winds whipped cars all over the road.

Although the Wichita Falls area was not in a tornado alert, warnings were issued by the weather bureau for the extreme northern section of East Texas. The alert expired with no official reports of twisters.

Wichita Falls was represented by a number of area businessmen and chamber of commerce officials.

Connally Speaks At Business Clinic

PRAIRIE VIEW, Tex. (AP)—Many of Texas' unemployment and low income problems can be solved by education, Gov. John Connally said today.

"Texas is undergoing rapid industrial growth and technological changes which are bringing improved living standards for families of all races," Connally told the Prairie View A&M Business Clinic. "However, we still must face the challenge of educating and training more people to fill the skilled, higher-paying jobs of today's industry."

LECTURER RELATES

Three Witnessed Transfiguration

By PETER HINCHLIFFE

The transfiguration of Jesus Christ, witnessed by the disciples Peter, James and John, was one of the most important incidents in the life of our Lord, Rev. A. P. Tremlett suggested when he delivered the third in this year's series of Perkins Lectures at First Methodist Church Monday morning.

Rev. Tremlett, vicar of St. Stephen with St. John, a church which is only a stone's throw away from the Houses of Parliament in London, England, spoke on the subject "Christ and Three Men." Hundreds of Wichitans gathered in First Methodist to hear the lecture.

"The transfiguration has been much neglected by ordinary Christians," Rev. Tremlett commented. "Christ took Peter, James, and John, and led them up into a high mountain and there He was transfigured before them. He went apart to have that contact with God which only isolation from the world can really give. While He prayed and the disciples watched He was transfigured. His face and clothes took on a radiance and brightness which was unearthly. Moses and Elijah appeared to talk with Him."

High And Mystical
"Year by year, we Christians are moved by the Nativity; by the fact that God the Eternal, the Almighty and the Transcendental humbled Himself to the level of the stable and the manger and the virgin's womb. "Year by year in holy week we try to accompany Him to Calvary and share in His passion. We stand at the foot of the cross not merely as spectators but vitally concerned with what is happening. We know that the precious blood was not only shed by us, but for us."

"Year by year we rejoice in His victory over the grave. But somehow, our Lord's transfiguration is left out. It is too high and mystical for our tastes. "The day of the transfiguration does not rank as one of the great dates in the Christian calendar. However, it was one of the great turning points in the life of our Lord, and it does touch on our needs. The transfiguration comes at the beginning of the last lap of our Lord's life. His ministry was almost at an end. He only had one more road to travel and that was the road to the cross."

Preparation

Rev. Tremlett suggested that the transfiguration was exactly the sort of spiritual experience the apostles needed before the ordeal they were going to have to undergo with the crucifixion.

In his conversation with Moses and Elijah, our Lord had been tempted to refuse the cross and pass back into heavenly glory with the two prophets. "Christ stood before the very gate of heaven," Rev. Tremlett added. "One step and he was in. But had He taken the hand of Moses and Elijah and accepted painless transition into heaven, the world would have been left unredeemed. He turned his back on heaven to go down again to the sin and pain of a fallen world. Our Lord's death was indeed a voluntary death. The transformation marked the greatest renunciation in all history. Christ refused transition to heaven for you and me."

"Working among sick and dying children as I do, it is difficult to hold onto the truth of God's love for us. How can God really love us when he allows innocent children to die in agony? Yet against this we have to balance the fact that Christ would not go home where he longed to be because he wanted to redeem us all. And because the transfiguration was a human experience, we can try to understand its significance."

Prayer

Rev. Tremlett pointed out that the condition of the transfiguration was prayer, and prayer, at all its levels, was open to us.

The Perkins Lectures were established by the late J. J. Perkins and Mrs. Perkins, and during the last 20 years outstanding churchmen have visited Wichita Falls to deliver the lectures. The fund established to support the lectures takes care of all expenses, and no collection is taken.

Rev. Tremlett's subject at Monday night's service, which will commence at 7:30 p.m., will be "David and Goliath."

The public is invited to attend any or all of the lectures, which will be delivered through Wednesday.

A Cappella Choirs Give Top Program

By LAURA T. DOING

A musical experience so rewarding the audience was reluctant to leave was the apt description of the first A Cappella Choir Festival presented by the four high schools of Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon.

Given in the Wichita Falls High School Coyote Fieldhouse, the festival marked the first such teenage musical event in the city in what school officials hope will become an annual affair.

The enthusiastic young musicians from Hirschi, Rider, Washington and Wichita Falls High Schools had only one joint rehearsal before the Sunday afternoon performance — that last Friday afternoon at the close of school.

Such profound silence in an atmosphere of awe greeted the magnificent rendition of "Born to Be Free" by Williams, directed by Mrs. C. E. Jackson from Washington High, one of the choir directors had to quietly dismiss the audience.

Standing Ovation

Each of the high school choirs gave a separate performance before joining in the final three numbers.

And each of the four choir sponsors directed a number for the entire group of eager young vocalists.

A standing ovation, led by students from the other three high schools and joined immediately by the entire audience, followed the Washington High School's rendition of "Ole Man River" by Kean.

Thomas Shaw, director of the WFHS choir, led the audience and all the choirs in singing "Star Spangled Banner" to begin the concert.

This number in itself was a spine tingling presentation of the national anthem and restored a dedicated sense of patriotism to those who heard it.

Four Groups

Thurman D. Davis, director of the Hirschi Choir, led the four musical groups in "Gloria Patri" by Palestrina. In this number, the Hirschi and Wichita Falls High choirs sang the first part of the number with the Rider and Washington Choirs coming in with the echo parts.

Donald Cowan, Rider director, conducted the four-choir presentation of "O God, Our Help" by Christiansen.

Hirschi's choir sang "He Watching Over Israel" by Mendelssohn; "Early One Morning," an old English folk song; "Going Home on a Club" a spiritual; and "Bill Bailey" by Cannon.

Accompanists for this group were Mrs. Karrell Johnson and Michael LeMasters, a student.

Rider's choir sang "They Who Grieving Soweth" by Schein; "Beauty and Humility" by Christiansen; "Early in the Morning," a spiritual; and "A Lot of Living to Do" arranged by Warnick.

Selections

Accompanist for this choir was Cheryl Staats.

Washington's choir sang "Lincoln's Prayer" by Gaul; "I've Been Baked" by Johnson; "I Got Rhythm" by Gershwin and "Ole Man River" by Kean.

Naomi Mitchell was the accompanist for this high school group.

Wichita Falls High's choir sang "He Who God's Suffering In Honor Holds" by Schutz; "All My Heart's Desiring" by Brahms; "Once Upon a Time" arranged by Warnick and "Live-A-Humble" by Harrison.

Jerri Holder was accompanist for the WFHS group, with Tommy Irvin as the organist.

Mrs. Eddie Lake Bunton as supervisor of music for city schools was the coordinator for the program.

Tornadoes Smash Through Eastern Kansas Into Iowa

By RUTHERFORD B. HAYES

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Dazed survivors picked through the rubble of homes and business buildings today in the wake of tornadoes that slashed through eastern Kansas, western Missouri and southwestern Iowa.

Six persons were killed and at least 50 were injured.

Most of the twisters snaked out of thunderstorms that could be seen for miles in the late afternoon — otherwise the toll could have been greater.

Two lines of the storms bracketed Kansas City—one to the northwest, the other southeast—and rolled rapidly to the northeast.

The dead were:

Mrs. Jack L. Wilson, 24, Independence, Kan.; Warren Kenyan Sr., 43, Neosho, Mo., and his wife, Ella, all killed near Garnett, Kan.

Charles Hedger, 13, killed in a barn near Pleasant Grove, Mo.

Victor Kerns, 50, killed near his home northwest of Leeton, Mo.

Flora Eichhorst, 90, killed in her home at Yorktown, Iowa.

Hits Traffic

One twister sucked up a line of traffic on U.S. 59 five miles south of Garnett and hurled a 50,000-pound truck, a pickup truck and six cars in all directions, killing the Kenyans and Mrs. Wilson and injuring eight other persons.

"It felt like the truck was lifted off the highway," said Stephen A. Miller, 29, of St. Joseph, Mo., who was hauling 25,000 pounds of meat to Dallas.

"I could see the trailer sticking straight over my head as I looked out of the cab," Miller said. "But I don't know if it was really up there or whether I was up there and just didn't know where the ground was."

The truck was dropped upside down in a 40-foot ravine about 35 feet from the pavement. Miller suffered only a slight scalp cut.

The pickup truck was flung a quarter-mile. The driver, Christopher Lewis, 54, Parsons, Kan., suffered a knee injury.

Right behind Miller's truck, the Kenyan car was hurled 600 feet to one side. Another landed 600 feet on the other side of the road. The cars were smashed into twisted bits of metal.

Blinding Dust

Blinding dust kicked up by strong winds caused at least 15 cars to ram together in one pileup on the Kansas Turnpike six miles south of the Wellington interchange. Six persons were injured, none seriously.

Honolulu Is Next For Woman Flier

WAKE ISLAND (AP)—Jerrie Mock of Columbus, Ohio, is preparing to fly to Honolulu—the next stop in her bid to become the first woman to fly solo around the world.

She arrived here Sunday after an 11½-hour flight from Guam.

Students at the University of Kansas saw a twister coming directly toward Lawrence, Kan.

"Then it veered to the north," said Robert Jones, a senior. "We saw it hit some houses and there was debris at the base of the funnel."

At least 14 homes were damaged or destroyed by that tornado, and three persons were injured.

A tornado roared over Leavenworth, Kan., not quite touching down, but close enough to damage about 75 homes, smash windows in the business district and uproot many trees. Seven persons were injured there.

Tobacco barns were flattened near Weston, Mo.

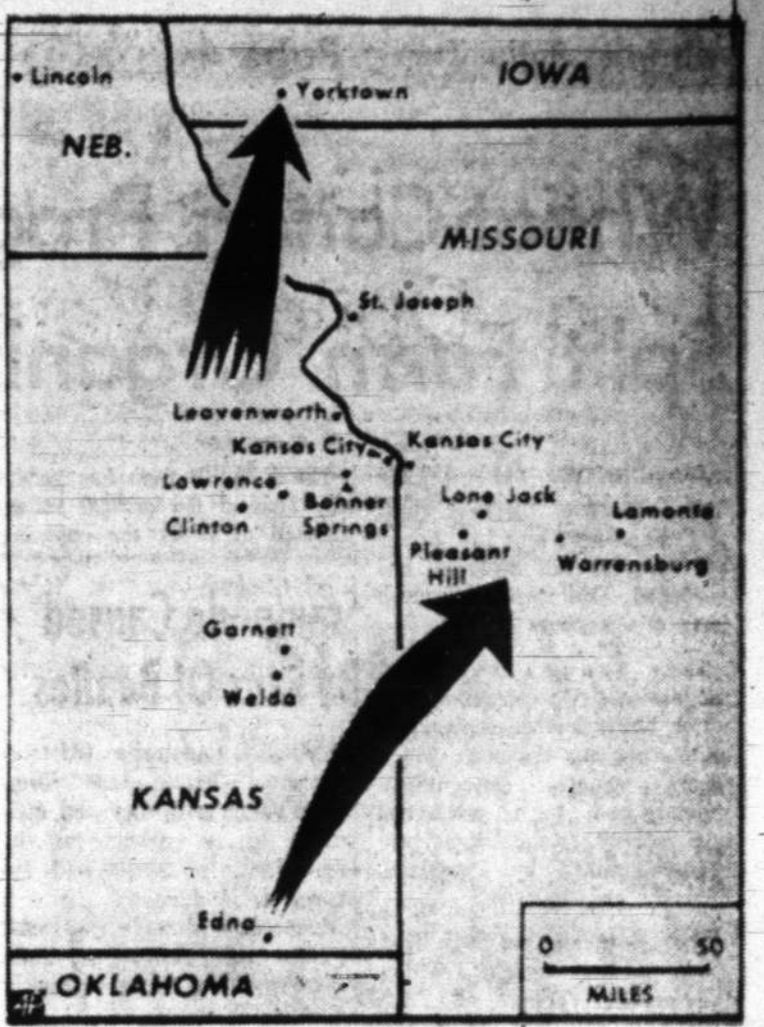

Farther on, at Yorktown, a community of 146 persons in southwest Iowa, a tornado killed Mrs. Eichhorst and injured six others.

Turbulent Weather

The turbulent weather raised clouds of dust over Oklahoma and north Texas and brought thunderstorms in some areas. Wind gusts of up to 70 miles an hour swept across Walnut Ridge in northeast Arkansas.

Showers spread from the Gulf of Mexico to the Great Lakes area.

The West was quite dry, except for some snow flurries occurring in cold air spreading southeast across the Montana and Wyoming Rockies.

WHERE TORNADOES STRUCK—Two storm fronts rolling northeastward out of Kansas Sunday caused at least five deaths and widespread damage in Kansas, Missouri and Iowa. One started in east central Kansas, upper arrow, striking cities from Lawrence, Kan., to Yorktown, Iowa. The other, lower arrow, raged from near the Oklahoma border in southeast Kansas, up through Garnett, Kan., and struck many places in area up to Lamonte, Mo. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Firm Paying Subsidiary's Bankrupt Bills

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the American Express Co. said Sunday company directors have approved a proposal to be made to creditors of its bankrupt subsidiary, American Express Warehousing, Ltd., for payment of up to $45 million.

The subsidiary was among several firms that filed for bankruptcy in last November's $100-million soybean oil scandal involving the operations of Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining Corp. of Bayonne, N. J.

American Express Warehousing acted as a field warehouse for Allied Crude in Bayonne.

Howard L. Clark, American Express president, disclosed details of the proposed settlement to creditors of the warehousing subsidiary.

He said the parent company would pay claims of creditors up to $45 million. Of that total, $35 million would be payable upon the proposal's becoming fully effective and $10 million in three equal annual installments, with interest thereafter.

In addition, Clark said, such creditors would be paid all monies recovered by the subsidiary on the claims against the issuers of its insurance policies and its claims against the commodities in Bayonne and against Allied and other third parties connected with Allied.

American Express will guarantee a minimum recovery from insurance of $10 million, Clark said.

American Express said its directors have determined it is in the company's interest to make a definite proposal to creditors at this time.

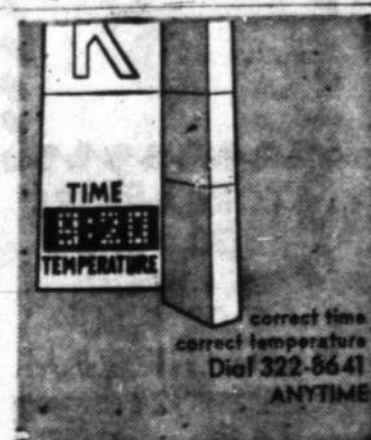

Clark said, however, "The company believes it has no legal liability in connection with the losses sustained as a result of the Allied Crude situation."

Clark added in his statement: "The offer is made now because the activities and services of American Express depend on the confidence and good-will of the international business and financial community and of people all over the world."

Weekend Of Fierce Fighting In Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A weekend of fierce fighting left one American soldier dead and 11 others injured, U.S. military authorities reported today. More than 100 South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

A crew member of a U.S. Army H21 helicopter was killed by Communist groundfire Sunday while it was carrying South Vietnamese troops during a battle in Chuong Thien Province, near the southern tip of Viet Nam, 140 miles from Saigon.

The soldier was the 131st American killed in combat in Viet Nam. Seven other U.S. Army men, including two officers, were wounded in the battle.

Vietnamese forces suffered about 100 killed, wounded and missing in the day-long battle. Thirty Viet Cong bodies were counted, and many more were believed to have been carried off.

American authorities said numerous Viet Cong were killed and 17 government troops were wounded in another fight 60 miles north of Chuong Thien, in Kien Phong Province.

Viet Cong groundfire wounded a U.S. Marine aboard an H34 troop-carrying helicopter in fighting 500 miles north of Saigon, near the north Viet Nam border, on Saturday.

Three U.S. Army enlisted men were injured by a terrorist guerrilla in front of their hotel in Tra Vinh, in the Mekong delta, Saturday. They returned to duty after treatment.

A U.S. Navy officer was injured in an accidental ammunition explosion near the North Viet Nam frontier Sunday.

The Communists flaunted their control of the coastal town of Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon, by holding public soccer matches informed sources said.

New Mrs. American Must Miss Luncheon

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A dimpled, 34-year-old South Carolina housewife won't be able to attend a hometown luncheon in her honor Tuesday because she's the new Mrs. America.

The luncheon by the Junior Woman's Club in Columbia was planned for Desree Jenkins upon her return from the Mrs. America pageant.

"Now I can't even be there because I have so much to do here before going home Wednesday," said Mrs. Jenkins.

Mrs. Jenkins, wife of Joe L. Jenkins, a Columbia realtor, won the Mrs. America title Saturday night in competition with 50 other housewives from throughout the United States.

"I'm really thrilled about going to New York," Mrs. Jenkins said. "You know, I've only been out of South Carolina three times and never out of the South. I'm really looking forward to going to New York and California."

She said she planned to be away from her children, Barry Lee, 12, and Teresa Ann, 11, "only three or four days at a time."

Mrs. Jenkins will receive $500 cash and other prizes, plus fees for personal appearances, a week's vacation trip to Curacao with her husband and a trip to the World's Fair in New York with her family.

Wig-Wagging

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Ed Diddle, one of three college basketball coaches to post more than 700 victories, was widely known for his wig-wagging of a red towel during a game. Diddle is retiring after next season, to be succeeded by a former player, John Oldham. But, not the towel. "I'm going to ask Johnny to keep using the red towel," Diddle said.

Wheat-Cotton Programs Split Farm Organizations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The long battle over the new wheat and cotton programs just passed by Congress has widened and deepened differences among farm organizations.

These groups are divided roughly into two categories—one which wants less government in agriculture and the other which favors stronger government-administered farm production and supply stabilization programs outlined by Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

The ringleader of the first group is the American Farm Bureau Federation, with the largest membership of all.

The other group has the National Farmers Union and the National Grange as its front runners. The latter, in what many observers regard as an attempt to take over the leadership, has recently put on a spurt of activity such as it had not shown for a number of years.

The Farm Bureau has generally ignored the critical sallies directed at it by the opposing

Stampede Caused By Fans Of Beatles

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Screaming Beatle fans stampeded today in Sydney and Melbourne to get tickets for the long-awaited British quartet's appearances in June.

Hundreds of teen-agers, most of them girls, camped all night in front of the ticket office in Sydney.

Nearly 200 in Melbourne lined up at noon Saturday. While they waited they decorated shop windows along a 100-yard stretch with lipstick slogans and drawings of their idols.

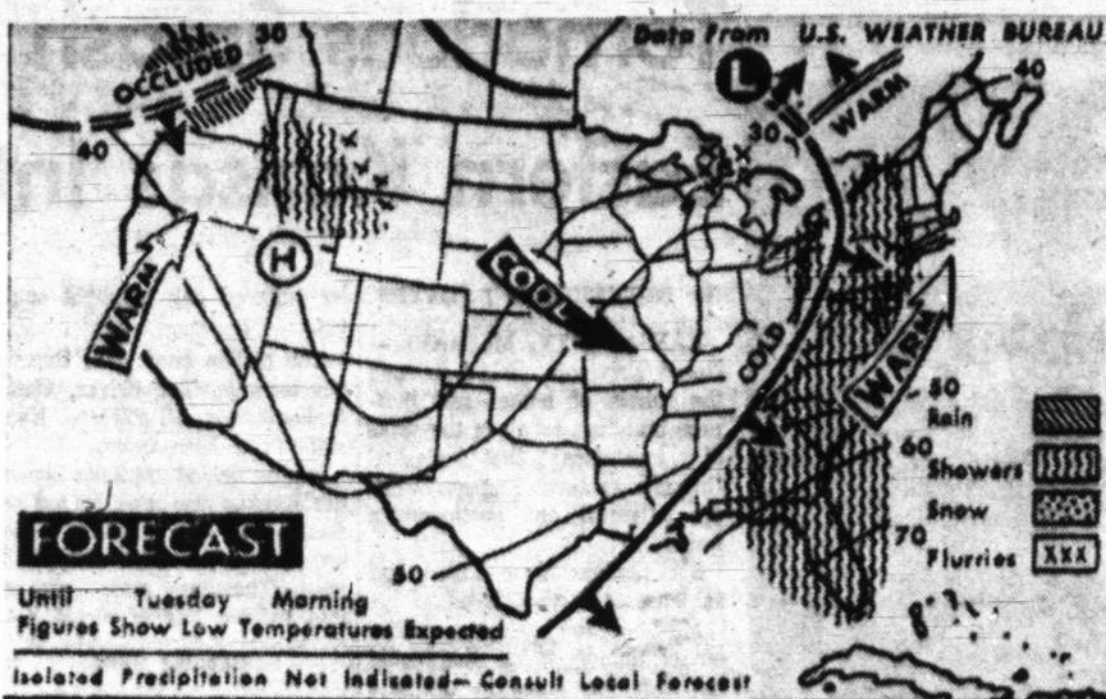

In Melbourne, the long vigil was not necessary. After the initial rush, 4,000 tickets were still left.

farm groups. Its leaders express confidence that the organization has the backing of a majority of farmers.

This organization was leader in a successful campaign a year ago to defeat an administration wheat plan at a referendum. That plan is similar in some respects to the new one Congress has enacted. A major difference is that the new one eliminates marketing quotas which would impose penalties on excess sales.

In the Farm Bureau camp are many livestock organizations.

The war between the two rival groups will continue. The new wheat program covers only the 1964 and 1965 crops. It will come up for extension in Congress next year. Both groups will devote the interim to efforts to build up support among farmers and to help elect congressmen who endorse their respective positions.

Private U.S.-Soviet Talks May Settle Money Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Private talks between the United States and the Soviet Union have raised hopes in some quarters that the two powers may settle a money dispute that could shake the United Nations.

The United States has been insisting that the Soviet Union pay at least part of its share of the U.N. peacekeeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East. Otherwise, says the United States, the Russians should lose their vote in the General Assembly.

The Russians reply that such pressure could result in the "breakup of the United Nations."

Diplomatic sources report that American and Soviet delegates held at least five meetings last month on an American-British compromise plan. It calls for the Russians to pay part of their back assessments. In exchange they would be assured more voice in peacekeeping operations and their financing.

The diplomatic sources said the Russians were considering the plan. There were indications that they were trying to make a package deal involving both U.N. finances and armament. Some U.N. delegates believe

SEATO Council Beginning 10th Anniversary Session

By DON HUTH

MANILA (AP) — The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's 10th anniversary ministerial conference went into secret session today for what was expected to be the most penetrating analysis of the eight-nation pact since it was formed.

Two Asian members, Thailand and the Philippines, indicated at the opening session today that the time has come for some hard talking on the alliance's ability to stem Communist aggression.

France, which recently recognized Communist China and advocates the neutralization of Southeast Asia, also said the time has come "to do away with myths, to eliminate ambiguities and squarely to face realities."

France will face some candid questioning on its neutrality proposal, which has been rejected by the United States, Thailand and the Philippines.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in his opening address, cited such major problems of the area as South Viet Nam's war, the ineffective neutrality in Laos, the Indonesian confrontation of Malaysia and economic problems of the whole region.

From England Tornado Aid Offer Made

An offer of help to victims of the awesome tornado which smashed a path of destruction across the northeastern section of Wichita Falls came from more than 5,000 miles away this week.

Rev. William L. Russell, vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Western Hills, received a letter from a man named S. McQuillan in Durham, England, which read: "I feel I must get in touch with you following the tornado damage suffered in your district. The television news showed the havoc caused to property and some of the distress to the population. If there is anything we of St. Cuthbert's with St. Aidan's Church can do to help, please let me know. Our sympathy is with the unfortunate sufferers."

Rev. Russell was an assistant parish priest with the church in Durham in 1959 and 1960, while he was studying at Durham University. He came to Wichita Falls in 1960.

Durham is a small city in the north of England. It is more than 1,900 years old and boasts one of the finest castles in the country. McQuillan is vicar's warden of St. Cuthbert's with St. Aidan's.

But it was Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman who set the theme for the meeting.

Khoman said: "The 10th anniversary of the Manila Pact seems to be as good an occasion as any to review whether the strong urge which impelled eight nations to set up in this region a system of collective defense has kept its vitality or whether, with the passage of time, it has waned to the vanishing point for the simple reason that some may have lost interest in the original concept or have been reluctant to discharge their responsibility."

Khoman said membership in SEATO "cannot be conceived as a one-way street." If the members are satisfied with the alliance, "it is only natural that they also accept sacrifices."

The Thai diplomat said neutralization for South Viet Nam "would be tantamount to delivering the country, with hands and feet bound, to its northern aggressors."

Philippine Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez said the time has come to explore the present situation in Southeast Asia with candor and realism and to find out in what ways SEATO can continue to counteract or to deter Communist aggression or subversion.

Lopez pointed out that when the SEATO alliance was formed he strongly advocated that it commit itself to automatic collective military action to repel aggression, along the lines of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"It may now be observed, by way of footnote, that while the NATO treaty area has enjoyed relative stability and security from the subversive and expansionist schemes of communism, the same cannot be said of the SEATO treaty area," he said.

Rusk dwelt mainly on the war against the Communist-Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, saying the Red guerrillas are "directed, supported and supplied from Hanoi," capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

"The Communists have increased their attacks but the government and people of South Viet Nam are moving with firm determination to defeat this aggression," Rusk said.

Income Up

LONDON (AP) — White collar pay averages 22 pounds 2 shillings 2 pence ($61.90) a week in Britain, the last survey by the Ministry of Labor shows. The October, 1963, figure was 4.8 per cent higher than the previous year and 22.4 per cent higher than the 1959 average.

GOOD NEWS FOR DANDRUFF VICTIMS

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. — Mrs. A. H. Akridge, 217 Franklin Road, says: "When my husband brought home a bottle of Baker's Hair Tonic that was my lucky day. For years I was plagued with dandruff and itchy scalp. Baker's has done a lot for me, and I want all dandruff victims to know about it." For years Baker's Hair Tonic has been tops for dandruff and itchy scalp. Now, it is better than ever. It has been improved. A new ingredient has been added that makes it even more effective. You will like Baker's, or money back.

MY ANSWER

by Billy Graham

Faith Is Essential To Your Well Being

QUESTION: Could you tell me in simple terms how to get more out of life? I am a young man and I don't want to get off on the wrong track. Would appreciate any advice you can give me.—H.B.

ANSWER: I'll pass on to you the advice that was given to me many years ago. It is from an old Book called the Bible. "Choose life... that thou mayest love the Lord thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice... for he is thy life, and the length of thy days." Deut. 30:19-20.

There is a life-giving force in the world. If you allow habits and attitudes to come into your lives to cut us off from God, the life-force, life goes sour. That is the reason people are bored, filled with anxiety, and miserable. They are not in tune with God.

Even physicians are advising people to go to church; for they are aware that people need more than pills to find this life-giving force. Carl June, the psychiatrist, pioneered in the idea that faith is essential to mental and physical healing.

Choose life. Make up your mind to live for and with God. Christ said: "I am come that ye might have life and that ye might have it more abundantly."

THE DOCTOR SAYS Fluoride Tablets Are Recommended

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Since writing recently about unexplained deaths of babies in their cribs, several readers have berated me. I recommended that, when an allergy to cow's milk is suspected, the baby be fed goat's milk or soybean milk. These readers say I should have recommended breast feeding.

In the past I have strongly urged that mothers nurse their babies. But when for any reason a mother switches to formula feeding, her milk supply dries up. When this happens, she cannot switch back again.

Q—I have three children, ages 18 to 48 months. I give them fluorides with candy coated vitamins on the recommendation of our dentist. Since none of the children have their permanent teeth yet, how will the fluoride help them? Are fluorides still in the experimental stage?

A—Fluorides are definitely not in the experimental stage. In communities where the local water supply contains less than .7 parts per million of fluoride, a supplement should be given to children throughout the period of tooth formation. It is of no benefit to adults or children whose permanent teeth are completely formed. Since your children should get plenty of vitamins in their diet there is no need to give combined tablets.

Plain sodium fluoride tablets are available. These must be stored out of the children's reach.

For children under 2, a single 2.2 milligram tablet should be added to each quart of drinking water and for preparing formulas and other food. For children from 2 to 3, every second day you should add one such tablet to one drink of water or fruit juice. For children over 3, give one tablet every day in water or juice.

Q—What happens to the brain or heart when a child has a convulsion? Can a child have a convulsion when his temperature is normal? Could a child die or have brain damage in a convulsion? What causes them?

A—Convulsions are due to many causes. The commonest of these is epilepsy and high fever at the onset of an infection. With epileptic convulsions there would be no fever. Brain tumor and water on the brain may cause convulsions. But the convulsion itself would not cause brain damage unless the child fell on his head during the seizure and suffered a concussion or skull fracture.

Since some causes of convulsions could be fatal, you should call your doctor if your child has one. Keep the child quiet and apply an ice bag or cold cloth to his forehead while you are waiting for the doctor to arrive.

Crooks Use Unique System To Bilk Banks

By JAMES CARY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Five New York City banks and one on Long Island have been bilked out of $221,000 by a gang of international swindlers operating in Latin America and Europe.

The U.S. Inspection Service, confirming this Sunday, said it has started an investigation because the gang's operations have involved tampering with the mails.

Interpol, the international police organization, also has been alerted and one ringleader of the swindlers has been reported arrested in Davos, Switzerland.

Another woman member, who rifled one New York Bank account of $20,000 is being trailed across Europe, postal informants here said. They declined to identify those arrested or the banks victimized, but did give some other details.

The gang's operations that have been discovered so far cover about a three-week period from late January to the middle of February. They center on the New York bank accounts of a number of wealthy families in Brazil and Argentina.

THE WORRY CLINIC

Religion Best Antidote

By GEORGE W. CRANE, M.D.
CASE S-437: Mike Douglas is the versatile tv artist whose network tv show is zooming.

For an hour and a half, he mixes comedy and music with serious dramatic content.

Thus, Mike offers what might well be called a 7-course mental "menu."

Recently he invited Morey Amsterdam and myself to participate on his rollicking show.

Morey added the music and comedy while my part consisted of a psychological "smorgasbord" on marriage and family problems.

A live audience in the studio also prodded us with questions. "Dr. Crane," one of the ladies began, "what's the best antidote for a marriage that is going on the rocks?"

And my answer was "religion." After counseling millions of marriages, both in person and via the newspapers, I know what religion does to a marriage.

For when husband-and-wife become active together in the same church, there will rarely be a divorce.

Not True Love

In fact, a non-church couple has an estimated 50 times as great a chance of divorce. Why?

Well, religion is extroverted. It teaches us to consider the welfare of others, which means we are tutored in kindness and generosity.

And what better foundation can marriage have than unselfish, considerate attitudes of both husband and wife?

True love differs from sexual infatuation in one main item, namely, the unselfishness of true love.

When teen-agers get involved in a torrid romance and even threaten to elope, it is usually due to selfishness.

They are thinking primarily of SELF: not of what is best for the other party to that romance or even their future unborn children.

A girl of 17 who thus tries to pressure her high school boy friend into eloping, is actually very selfish.

For if she truly loved him, she'd not wish to jeopardize his future business or professional career.

Instead, she'd be willing to deny herself in order that he could go on to college and prepare himself to support a family.

But she is selfishly afraid if he goes away to college, he will then forget her and marry another!

Teen-Agers Take Note!

So her imperious demands for an elopement are usually based on her own greedy wish to get a wedding ring and flaunt her conquest before her high school classmates.

Teen-agers, stop, look and listen, for you are definitely NOT in love if you place your own selfish interests ahead of what is best for both of you, plus your future unborn babies.

Religion widens our horizons by making us aware of the needs of people even on other continents. It is thus a wholesome, extroverted force that helps insure happy marriage.

When husband and wife actively participate in the same church they also develop mutual interests and friends.

Church activities then become both their mutual hobby, as well as their chief recreation!

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Then rate 'em before you date 'em!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his book-lets.)

AN INTERNATIONAL CELEBRITY ARRIVES AT THE FAIR

The occasion is the New York World's Fair... the scene is the spectacular General Motors Futurama—and the car, of course, is Cadillac.

And the Cadillac car is a standout attraction even in this distinguished international company. For there is no automobile anywhere that can match Cadillac's reputation for excellence. Drive any of eleven 1964 models and you'll discover why.

There's Cadillac's magnificent and silent power. A 340-horsepower V-8 engine—most powerful in Cadillac history—generates performance so swiftly that we caution even long-time Cadillac owners to mind their speedometers. There is the smoothness of our transmissions—an improved Hydra-Matic or new Turbo Hydra-Matic—which deliver that power to the rear wheels.

There is the luxury of elegantly appointed interiors, together with the great convenience of power brakes and steering (plus power windows on most models) that have turned the 600-mile day into a restful reality.

And there is also investment. Find a fine car, if you can, that returns more than your Cadillac when you choose to sell or trade it.

Isn't it time to drive Cadillac—the one American fine car that enjoys premier rank whenever the world's great automobiles are considered? Visit your Cadillac dealer soon. His selection of international favorites has never been more tempting.

Cleopatra's Secret

CAR DELIVERS
MESSAGE FIRST

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP)—To demonstrate what's wrong with telecommunications in Yugoslavia a newspaper here organized a race between telephone, telegram, automobile and carrier pigeon. The auto won.

The point was to see which could make the 80 miles between Zagreb and Ljubljana fastest.

At the moment the automobile set out, a long-distance phone call was booked, a telegram was sent and four carrier pigeons took off.

The automobile made it in one hour and 32 minutes. The phone call took two hours and 15 minutes, the telegram two hours and 50 minutes.

Half the pigeons did better than the telegram, flying between two cities in two hours and 49 minutes. The two other birds never arrived.

The outcome of the race, said the paper, Vjesnik u Srijedu, was shocking.

Restoration Planned
For Old Ford Theatre

EDITOR'S NOTE—One of the most famous spots in America doesn't even begin to resemble how it looked when it gained its place in history. If current efforts succeed, however, it may once more look as it did when Abraham Lincoln went there for relaxation — and met his death.

By J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Ninety-nine years ago Tuesday, the curtain went down at Ford's Theatre with an awful finality. That was the night it became the most famous—or most infamous—theater in America.

The curtain stayed down. The building was never again used as a theater. It was stained forever that night with the blood of President Abraham Lincoln, assassinated while he sat in his presidential box and watched its last play.

But now, there is a strong and possibly winning campaign well under way, with considerable support in Congress, to restore the building to what it was the night John Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln.

No Hope
There is no hope that it can be restored by the time of the centennial of the assassination, April 14, 1965. That had been a target date until a few years ago.

But Col. Randle B. Truett, National Park Service historian, a dedicated and enthusiastic supporter of the restoration dream, says "We don't have the money—about $2 million—but we will."

It's worth doing and worth doing right. "We're ready to go, once Congress gives us the money. Plans have been drawn. We now have a most detailed historical report on the theatre."

"The restoration will be to a complete theater, not just the presidential box, but all the seats, in the orchestra, in the dress circles, everything. Even the box office."

Difference
There is some difference of opinion as to whether the building should be turned into an active playhouse, in view of the tragedy it symbolizes.

As Truett put it: "We view it as a national memorial to Lincoln and as such, the use of it would call for a certain restraint."

A fantastically detailed and complete description of the theater has been put together in a book by Dr. George J. Oleszewski, park service historian.

The site was originally occupied by a Baptist church built in 1833. Its physical properties—it could accommodate musical concerts as well as sermons

"More than one million Americans over the age 40 have glaucoma. Yet, only half of them are even aware that they are victims of this sneak-thief disease which takes sight without warning", according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

World's Fair Will Be Billion Dollar Show

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—It's a billion-dollar show.

The 1964-65 New York World's Fair which opens April 22 will be an expensive and lavish spectacle.

Attendance originally was estimated at 70 million admissions for the two seasons of operation. But now, with 28 million tickets already sold, there are predictions that attendance may reach 100 million.

It will be a mile-square panorama of the wonders of yesterday, today and tomorrow, blending together achievements of science, education, religion, art, philosophy, music and culture.

The visitor will travel back through millions of years of the earth's history and peer into the far future. And he will see firsthand the best of what the world has to offer today in exhibits from around the world.

Theme of the giant exposition—four years in the making—is "Peace Through Understanding."

About 60 foreign countries will have pavilions or displays featuring their arts, crafts, cuisine and culture.

From the United States, about half the 50 states are represented, many with extensive displays and shows. The federal government, with one of the largest shows on the grounds, will have a sweeping variety of things to see and do—including a "you are there" journey through the sights and sounds of American history.

Some astonishing spectacles have been created by the giants of American commercial enterprise—General Motors, General Electric, Bell Telephone, Ford, Eastman Kodak, Du Pont.

So extensive are their shows and displays that the visitor can spend the better part of a half day viewing each.

The most spectacular parts are arranged in the form of tours which last 12 to 15 minutes. These may be viewed from moving chairs or vehicles which create a feeling of almost personal and private tours.

Here is a brief description: General Motors—in the "Futurama"—visitors will be seated in a train of contoured chairs, with miniature loudspeakers mounted in the headrests for music and description of the sights.

The visitor will, in effect, be whisked to the moon to see man and machine at work exploring it. There will be scenes depicting how man will conquer the polar areas, jungles, deserts and live, work-and-play underneath the seas. The tour lasts 15 minutes and concludes by taking the citizen of today into the city of tomorrow.

General Electric — A multifaceted exhibition called "Progressland" will feature a demonstration of the power of the atom.

TAKE-HOME PAY BOOSTS NOT REFLECTED IN SALES

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Boosts in take-home pay from the federal income tax cut haven't shown up in retail sales as quickly as expected. Or have they? The official figures say no. But this time the statistics are even more complicated than usual and more subject to tricky interpretations.

Bankers suspect many citizens just added to their savings in March while deciding what to do with the windfall that began showing up in pay checks. Others think the approaching income tax settlement deadline was a deterrent to spending.

Merchants aren't sure. They point out that the official figures of the Department of Commerce showing a drop in retail sales from February had to be adjusted this March to seasonal part of the story.

Comparisons
Others think that comparisons with February spending are further complicated by that month's most unusual shopping-day pattern (five Saturdays) and by a possible psychological quirk of consumers who spent more than usual this February because of the expected take-home pay increases.

The Department of Commerce says that seasonally adjusted March retail store sales were $21.1 billion, down 1 per cent from the February record. This still put March 4 per cent ahead of a year ago, but many had expected greater things of the month this time. Generally, seasonal adjustments can be defined as calculating over a span of several years the average deviation of any month from other months of the year and then excluding that variance from the current report.

Adjustments
But this March the seasonal adjustments also had to take account of the early Easter, March 29, against April 14 last year.

Many merchants would be glad to see calendar changes that would make Easter and other movable holidays come at the same date. Easter now can come any time between March 22 and April 25.

An early Easter may have affected the drop the Commerce Department reports in sales of apparel and department stores. But it may have had less connection with the drop of 4 per cent in the volume of durable goods, with automotive and lumber and building materials dealers accounting for most of this. Larger sales by food stores were the brightest feature of March.

Perhaps some merchants were counting too much on the pay. Bankers note that in the past consumers often have taken a while to change spending habits after any sudden rise in income.

Still taking a "Slow Motion" Laxative?

Many people assume that a laxative must take six to eight hours to bring relief. And it's true that many laxatives—pills, gum, medicated chocolate—often take that long.

But not Sal Hepatica! Sal Hepatica is the fast acting laxative that's made to help you start feeling better right away. It quickly sparkles away gas, pain, heartburn, and sour stomach due to gastric acidity—which most other laxatives ignore. Then it speeds on, as only a fluid can, to relieve constipation and the sluggishness of irregularity—quickly yet gently. Usually in less than two hours!

Next time irregularity puts you in "slow motion," don't settle for one of those "slow motion" laxatives.

Take sparkling Sal Hepatica... and start to feel better right away.

Blindness Accepted By Three-Year-Old

By MARGARET WILSON
BOWLING GREEN, S.C. (AP) — Vicki Wray can ride her rocking horse, strum her toy guitar and sing with the Beatles, but she no longer can see.

The 3-year-old blonde has asked to have the light in the room turned on, but she has yet to ask why it's now dark all the time.

"She accepts it," her mother said. "She's blind and she knows it."

Vicki received nationwide attention last December when it was learned she was probably seeing her last Christmas and might lose her left eye because of cancer. The right eye was removed last July for similar reasons.

Vicki's left eye was removed March 9 and it was left to Doris Wray to break the news. "I didn't think I was going to be able to tell her," Mrs. Wray said. "But I had to."

Mother
The 35-year-old mother of nine paused to change her youngest son's diaper and then added: "I told Vicki she was going to have another operation and she asked me if they were going to fix her eye like the other one. I said yes."

Vicki now romps in the family's small living room just like any pre-schooler. Her four brothers and four sisters are her principal playmates. She loves to talk, asks countless questions and in the past few weeks has memorized a small Mother Goose book.

Vicki "reads" by pointing to a page and saying: "Mama, what's this?"

Her mother will identify the nursery rhyme, such as "the cow jumped over the moon."

and Vicki recites the rhyme, holding the book close to her face.

"We read to her a lot now," Mrs. Wray said. "But she always has liked to read and listen to music."

Phonograph
A used phonograph has a prominent place in the Wray living room along with a stack of 60 popular records donated by a disc jockey.

The Beatles are the little girl's favorite recording stars. She strums her toy guitar while singing with Britain's teen-age idols.

Vicki feeds herself at the family dinner table and somehow knows if someone in her large family is absent.

"She whispered to me, 'Pat's not eating' one night when Pat (a sister) was not at the table," Mrs. Wray said. "I don't know how she knew Pat wasn't there."

The adjustment to Vicki's blindness thus far has been smooth for Vicki and her family.

"The other children don't treat her any different than they did," Mrs. Wray said. "But they watch out for her."

Doctors
The doctors said Vicki didn't have much sight left right before the operation at Duke University in Durham, N.C. Mrs. Wray said. "So I guess she doesn't miss it that much."

This month Vicki will be fitted for her second artificial eye. Cornea transplants, offered by healthy donors, had to be refused in the little girl's case.

"But we had some good news from the doctor," her father said. "He says the cancer may not have spread further than her eyes."

Wray, formerly a $50-a-week textile worker, now is employed as a construction worker.

The Vicki Wray Fund, which reached the $17,000 mark, is used only for the little girl's medical expenses.

Her new friends across the nation still send letters and some gifts.

"People stop by when they're driving through Bowling Green and even call ahead and ask to visit," Mrs. Wray said. "They've been wonderful."

NAACP Plans GM Protest On May 4

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will begin its national protest against General Motors Corp. on May 4 in Detroit, the civil rights organization's labor secretary said Sunday.

Herbert Hill of New York, who has been with the NAACP 17 years, said a demonstration will be organized at the General Motors headquarters building to protest what he termed "discriminatory practices in employment."

Hill also said that while the national protest would be launched May 4, the series of local demonstrations against GM began Saturday night in San Francisco. He said 226 persons were arrested at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler showrooms on the city's automobile row.

Among the sit-in demonstrators arrested were actor Sterling Hayden, who was carried out, and Rev. Robert Cromey, executive assistant to Bishop James Pike of the Episcopal Church of California.

The demonstration was the first of a series planned by the NAACP in 50 cities across the nation. Hill said the association picked GM for the first national demonstration, but other multi-plant concerns were being considered in the drive for greater employment opportunities for Negroes. Hill did not name any auto firms other than General Motors.

In San Francisco, Dr. Thomas Burbridge, president of the city's NAACP chapter, acknowledged that his group's local program has now become part of the national auto company protest though it began coincidentally.

San Francisco demonstrations, however, have been going on since mid-March.

"I called the national office about three or four weeks ago to clear with them our project," said Burbridge. "At that time Mr. Hill said that the Midwestern branches were going to also attack General Motors Corp. generally."

SWEETIE PIE

American To Design Kennedy Library

BOSTON (AP) — The John F. Kennedy Memorial Library is to be designed by an American architect, and it is going to be a lot bigger than President Kennedy thought when he chose the two-acre site near Harvard University.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who met over the weekend with other members of his family, including the president's widow, and an advisory committee of 18 internationally known architects and designers, made those facts known Sunday as the meetings ended.

Kennedy said the six foreign architects were unanimous in recommending that an American be chosen to design the $10-million building.

One of the foreign architects, Sir Basil Spence of London, who designed the new cathedral at Coventry, England, to replace that bombed by the Germans in World War II, said that the American architects on the committee, "said no, no, no, when we told them that, but we insisted."

The attorney general told a new conference the advisory committee also suggested a number of names of Americans as possibilities for the designing job.

"The family and the building committee will meet with each one, go over his work and talk with him," he said. The choice should be made in the next six to eight weeks, he added.

"Our other major conclusion is that the library and the institute will be far more comprehensive than was originally envisioned by President Kennedy," he said.

"The concept of an institute, where students can come and study, makes it far greater than had been contemplated," Kennedy said that is why the advisory group thought the two-acre site on the bank of the Charles River near the Harvard Business School is small for what it thought the memorial should be.

As for getting more land, Kennedy said, "we're going to have to work on that."

Dame Edith Evans Is Oscar Nominee

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — As a nominee for the best supporting actress award, Dame Edith Evans will attend the Academy Awards tonight. But she takes a dim view of the whole affair.

"Why, they didn't even ask me if I wanted to be nominated," she said. "If they had, I would have said no."

Her statement is reminiscent of George C. Scott's last year, when he asked to be removed from the list of supporting actor nominees because the whole thing was "so commercial." It isn't that at all with Dame Edith.

"I simply don't like the idea of competing for something or other," she said. "Acting is not a competition, like a foot race."

Possible

It's possible that she has also soured on acting awards because of past experience. She told of winning a prize in a newspaper contest for the best acting of the year in her first movie, "The Queen of Spades." She was supposed to get a thousand pounds, but the donors reneged, arguing that the government said it would be bad for the balance of payments.

"That didn't make sense, because I would have spent it in England," she said.

She added another incident: "Some stranger came up excitedly in the street and said I had just won an acting award. Not only did I not receive it; it was never given again to anyone."

Dame Edith was named for her role as the peppery aunt in "Tom Jones," along with fellow players Diane Cilento and Joyce Redman.

Great Lady
A vigorous 75, she has long been one of the great ladies of the English theatre and she bears her honors with dignity. She is not the least perturbed that dame has a different connotation in this country.

"When I first assumed the honor, the song 'There is Nothing Like a Dame' was very popular," she said. "That didn't bother me. Although the title has only been used for the past 40 years or so, it has a long history."

She was named dame of the British Empire in 1946 by George VI. That kind of an award was all right, she said.

"Because they asked me first," Dame Edith said. "You get a polite note from the secretary of something or other asking if you would accept. There was nothing like that from the academy."

L.A. SOUTHSIDE GROUPS REBEL AGAINST POLICE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifty officers quelled early Sunday the fourth group assault on uniformed authorities since Friday night.

In Sunday's incident, police said, five East Side residents knocked to the ground, kicked and beat two California highway patrolmen who tried to issue a traffic citation.

The patrolmen said a car went through a red light and they pursued it to a house. There, they said, they were set upon by the car's two occupants, George Medina, 21, and Jimmy Martinez, 20, and two women and a man who came out of the house.

The five were booked on suspicion of felonious assault. Patrolman Don A. Newman was hospitalized with a serious groin injury.

The earlier outbreaks were in an overwhelmingly Negro, South Side area called by integration leaders "the black ghetto."

But a police official said the incidents did not seem to have racial overtones—"It's more a rebellion against authority."

Police said there have been 1,571 arrests for prostitution and narcotics in the South Side sector in the past 12 months.

MRS. JACK CARL MCGHEE

Catholic Ceremony Units Miss Walsh, Jack McGhee

Miss Sylvia Patricia Walsh and Jack Carl McGhee were married Friday at 8 p.m. at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Patrick Scanlan was officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Patrick D. Walsh, 1309 Britain, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl McGhee, 101 Pioneer.

White gladioli and mums were used to decorate the altar. Mrs. Carl Edwards was organist.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white satin. A long-sleeved scalloped white lace jacket was worn over the dress and the train was caught at the waist with a white bow. Her veil was of white illusion attached to a small crown of white pearls and net. She was given in marriage by her father. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white gardenias.

Miss Nancy Gilleland was maid of honor. She wore a street length yellow satin brocade dress made with a bell-shaped skirt and back-buttoned jacket. A small yellow satin crown was the headdress and her flowers were a nosegay of yellow carnations.

Miss Mary Katherine Walsh, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid and Mrs. Tom Smith was bridesmaid. They were dressed identically to Miss Gilleland.

Flasha Morris of Dallas was the flower girl.

Best man was Clark Moore and Tom Smith was usher. Danny Walsh, the bride's brother, was groomsmen.

The bride was graduated from the Academy of Mary Immaculate and is a freshman at Midwestern University. She was awarded an ABWA Scholarship. At the academy she was class favorite, a member of the annual staff and captain of the basketball team.

The bridegroom was a member of the first graduating class at Hirsch High School. He is a freshman at MU and is employed by Villa Pina service. He attended three years of high school in Misawa, Japan.

The bride's family were hosts for the reception in the Parish Hall. The table was covered with white linen and centered

'Townsend Plan' Continues With Wichitan's Guidance

By MARTHA B. STEIMEL

If you remember the depression years at all clearly, you probably remember the Townsend Plan—a system which was designed to put $300 in the hands of every elderly or handicapped person in the United States.

The Townsend Plan is still in existence and the son of the man who conceived the idea is living in Wichita Falls. He is Robert C. Townsend, 2617 Amherst. He is president of Townsend Plan Inc. and oversees the nationwide activities of the organization from his home here.

"It becomes very frustrating. You really have to have the bug to stick with something this long," Townsend says. The plan was first organized in 1934 and Townsend assisted his father as general manager from 1938 to 1944. His father was Dr. Frances E. Townsend of Long Beach, Calif.

The Doctor (everybody involved) in the plan refers to him as "the Doctor" and was a health officer in Long Beach at the beginning of the depression when he conceived his plan, Townsend explained.

What The Plan Is

Concisely, the Townsend Plan asks for a 2 per cent tax on all gross income—salaries, corporate income, business income, etc.—to be distributed equally to all retired persons 60 or over, to totally disabled persons 18 through 59 and to widows with dependent children.

Based on present national gross income, such retirement income would be roughly $224 per month per person.

The Doctor's idea was to boost the national economy by increasing the income at the bottom of the economic scale, his son said.

The original bill stipulated that each check be spent within a limited time. The bill now in the House Ways and Means Committee does not contain that provision.

"We figure that 10 per cent of the population exists on $30 a month, which is about the average Social Security payment," Townsend explained. The job market closes to elderly people and with increasing living costs, Social Security payments are just not enough, Townsend says.

Texas Residence

He was active in Washington at the Townsend Plan national headquarters until three years ago when he bought a ranch in Clay County and moved here. Last December he bought the Pancake House and is involved in both ranching and restaurant business.

He felt that the Plan funds had shrunk so that his salary was not justified, so he now is serving without compensation. A staff of seven which includes a lobbying force and people who edit the monthly newspaper, Townsend Plan National Courier, remain in Washington.

Now there are 600 Townsend Clubs in the United States, concentrated mostly in Colorado, Kansas, Michigan, New England, Florida and the West Coast. The clubs represent 5 per cent of the 12,000 which existed during the plan's strongest years.

"We believe that American's prosperity depends on the purchasing power of all its people," Townsend said. The Townsend Plan was first introduced in 1934, pre-dating Social Security by one year. The present bill, H. R. 3218, is sponsored by Rep. John J. McFall, California Democrat.

Townsend's life has been entwined with the plan for the past 30 years. He has constantly been involved with its active operation since he assumed its general management. He also has a degree in animal husbandry from California Polytechnic, has mined successfully for gold and tungsten (once he had a mine with both minerals in it) and rose from an infantry private to a paratroop major during World War II.

As it stands now, the Townsend Plan would not supplant social security entirely—only parts of it that pertains to old age payments.

Townsend and all the members of the 600 clubs are completely sure that the plan they support would be a terrific and potent weapon in the war on poverty.

Dear Abby

Varied Opinions Given

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: A few weeks ago, the following letter appeared in my column:

"Dear Abby:

"Today, while I was on a school bus, the driver hit a dog. All of us kids told him about it and he just said, 'I am aware of that.' He didn't even stop to see if the dog was dead or not. None of us kids could do a thing."

LOVES DOGS IN KOKOMO, IND.

I replied:

"DEAR LOVES DOGS:

"The bus driver should have stopped and done what he could for the poor animal. Had the driver been alone, the crime would not have been less, but to have set such a poor example for the school children is inexcusable."

Hundreds of letters poured in. Here are a few:

DEAR ABBY: Are you nuts or something? A school bus driver is prohibited by law from stopping his bus and getting off to leave his bus unattended. That bus driver was only doing his job, and I think you owe him an apology.—BUS DRIVER IN MASON CITY, IA.

DEAR ABBY: I love dogs, but if one gets in my way when I am driving, it's his funeral. My brother once put his brakes on suddenly to avoid hitting a dog on a highway, and he banged his mouth on the steering wheel, breaking off four healthy front teeth. He came very close to involving two other cars in what could have been a serious accident.—BURT F. IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR ABBY: That bus driver was smart to go right on instead of stopping to care for the dog he hit in the road. When I was young (and pretty stupid), I struck a dog on the highway. I stopped and tried to get the injured animal into my car so I could take him to the vet's. He was slightly mad and, in his frenzy, bit me badly on the face. I had to have 16 stitches in my cheek. That was 23 years ago, and I still carry a very ugly scar. Smart people don't go near injured animals. They report them to the proper authorities at the first opportune moment.—LEARNED A LESSON IN KENT, O.

DEAR ABBY: If that bus driver in Kokomo had stopped to investigate the injured dog, can you imagine what could have happened if some of the school children followed him out of the bus to investigate also? Perhaps the bus driver would have been responsible for a couple of dead children.—MOTHER OF SIX

DEAR ABBY: Although the bus driver did the right thing in not stopping, I think he could have said more than, "I am aware of that" when the children told him he had hit a dog. Had he explained that he could not stop, but would report the accident as soon as he got the children to their destination, he would have put the children at ease and not have given them the impression that he didn't care whether he had killed a dog or not.—COMPASSIONATE IN OWENSBORO, KY.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Capitol Hill Bean Soup

Dear Folks: So many of you have asked if I could get the original recipe for the famous U.S. Senate Restaurant bean soup, and also the recipe for the soup served in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Well, I went to the Senate and ordered their soup for 25 cents a bowl. It was delicious. I then went to the House and tried their soup. Just as delicious but with a slight difference.

United States Senator Daniel B. Brewster (Md.-D) was good enough to get both recipes for us. Now wasn't that sweet of him?

The story goes that in 1904 Speaker of the House, Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, came into the House restaurant and ordered bean soup.

Bean soup had been omitted from the menu that day, because it was particularly humid and hot in Washington.

"Thunderation, I had my mouth set for Bean Soup," he roared, "and from now on, hot or cold, rain, snow or shine, I want it on the menu every day."

And so it has been—Bean Soup on the menu every day since.

Now, we cannot find these recipes in any cook book, so be sure to clip them out so you will have them handy. We do not keep back copies of columns. Here 'tis:

Famous Senate Restaurant Bean Soup Recipe

Take two pounds of small Navy Pea Beans, wash and run through hot water until Beans are white again. Put on the fire with four quarts of hot water in heavy pot. Then take one and one-half pounds of Smoked Ham Hocks, boil slowly approximately three hours in covered pot. Braise one onion chopped in a little butter, and, when light brown, put in Bean Soup. Season with salt and pepper, then serve. Do not add salt until ready to serve. (Eight persons.)

House of Representatives Restaurant Bean Soup

2 pounds No. 1 white Michigan beans.
Cover with cold water and soak overnight.

Drain and re-cover with water. Add a smoked ham hock and simmer slowly for about 4 hours until beans are cooked tender. Then add salt and pepper to suit taste. Just before serving, bruise beans with large spoon or ladle, enough to cloud. Serves about 6 persons.

And our thanks to Senator Daniel B. Brewster for his kindness in helping us housewives cook Capitol Hill's famous Bean Soup.—Heloise

Dear Heloise: I would like to tell mothers whose children wear sterling silver chains around their necks... when the child is taking a bath, if the mother will drop the sterling chain into a washbowl with a little hot water and some detergent and let it soak until the child gets through with the bath, then just lift out the chain, rinse under the faucet and dry... it will shine like new again.

By using this method you will find no more green or black marks on the children's necks.

Do this once a week.—Grandmother of "Six and One-Half"

Looks like you are going to be a grandmother again, eh? Congratulations!—Heloise

Dear Heloise: I live in a hard water area and the build-up of lime in vessels used for heating water is terrific. Of course, vinegar will take it out but my Scotch soul used to rebel because I had to use it so often...

Then I found that I can save the vinegar and use it over and over again! I don't know how long it will last but I have been using the same pint for three months and it's still going strong.—Georgiana

Dear Heloise: Have you ever tried those plastic bags which come from the cleaners for packing items for mailing? They are the greatest. They weigh so little that your postage does not run up. Try crushing these into boxes to prevent rattling.—K.S.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

USE OF FRUIT, VEGETABLES IS LESSON TOPIC

The Pat Ferguson Flower Arranging Study Group of the Woman's Forum met Friday in the home of Mrs. Orison McDonald, 3509 Juniper, for a lesson on preparing and using fruit and vegetables in arrangements.

Mrs. Lee-Miks discussed the topic, demonstrating ways in which fruit and vegetables could be arranged for the kitchen and dining areas. Each member exhibited an arrangement.

The group signed up for "A Flowering Path," the spring flower show to be held April 25.

TIMELY TIPS

By BETTY BURNS

A new fabric that refuses to let peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, coffee stains or burning cigarettes mar its beauty is now available on a contemporary Scandinavian furniture line. The new addition to the fabric collection is a long staple nylon and wool which the whole family can enjoy. It has a handsome textured appearance and amazing recuperative powers.

After only one commercial cleaning, there was no stain when tested for soiling with mayonnaise, coffee with cream, soups, chocolate, fruit juices, hair oil, perspiration, grease and dirt.

The new fabric resisted virtually every imaginable punishment, from staining to gouging. A letter opener was pierced through the center; a cigarette was held to the fabric; a book of matches was placed on top and then set a-flame. The tests showed resistance to tearing by stretching; in a short time showing almost complete recovery of the stretched area. The fabric did not burst into flame, and left only a slight scorch mark where the burning objects had been placed.

An entirely new concept in bathroom accessories has recently been introduced by one manufacturer. Called Color Duet, it represents an updating of bathroom accessories long neglected to parallel the current high fashion standards in bath decor.

Color Duet, essentially, is a means by which the mundane articles usually accumulating in a bathroom can be made to appear organized and decorative. This is achieved primarily through the use of a contrasting color frame effect that is carried through the entire line. In addition, each item is designed to coordinate with the color lines of today's major bath towel manufacturers.

At the heart of this new concept are the modulars. Like mix-or-match clothing, the modulars are engineered so that they can be structurally interchanged, stacked or coupled together to produce very striking effects.

Spring evenings-lengthen. Lamps are lit later. But a new lamp does something for a home that a new bonnet does for the homemaker. Its decorative contribution is effective all day long.

A survey by the Lamp and Shade Institute of America of the new lamps just introduced by manufacturers across the country shows three major themes for the new season—classic, a compact and accommodating.

There is romantic styling from the past with a contemporary air. There are diminutive lamps of all kinds. And there are chain lamps which are accommodating in their usefulness and decorative in their appearance. The classical inspiration in spring lamp styles comes from the urn, vase and column shapes of early Greek and Roman days. An earlier debt is owed to potters of the ancient Chinese dynasties for the Oriental feeling is strong in both the shape and colors of the new lamps.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠KQ10973 ♥A K74 ♣AJ103

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Four spades. Partner has shown a strong hand by his sequence of calls and thus far you have made only noncommittal bids. It is time for you to show signs of distinct strength and even if partner has no more than one or two spades your hand is playable for game in that suit.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠AJ9 ♥A9873 ♣Q4 ♠A64

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Five spades. Everything seems under control, but allowance must be made for the remote possibility that partner has two diamond losers. Four no trump is not available in this case for you may have a slam the partner is seeking. A singleton diamond in partner's hand will do the trick.

Q. 3—As South, with 60 part score, you hold:

♠QJ942 ♥92 ♠A93 ♣764

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

3 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Four diamonds. This hand, opposite a bona fide two demand bid, offers fine prospects for slam and the ace of diamonds should be shown to a game contract has already been indicated.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠K109 ♠62 ♠A952 ♠Q1086

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ 2 ♠ Double Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Three spades. The partner's hand is not suitable for defense against clubs, it may be strong enough offensively to justify a try for game. A single raise, therefore, is indicated.

Q. 5—As South you hold:

♠Q864 ♥J743 ♠9 ♠AJ53

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♠ 1 ♠

Pass 2 ♠ Double Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Three diamonds. This is a bid which is forcing to game and suggests that partner bid any four-card major he may hold. In view of your previous passes and partner's persistence, you should be confident that the partnership assets equal at least 26 points.

Q. 6—As South you hold:

♠AJ4 ♥8732 ♠K652 ♣74

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass

3 ♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Four hearts. Your hand is worth nine points in support of hearts. After all, you might have had only seven or eight points. Partner's invitation should, therefore, be accepted.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

♠A62 ♥KQ86 ♠3 ♠K9865

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

What action do you take?

A.—Two hearts. You started out with a near minimum, but now that partner has bid hearts your hand has improved but not sufficiently to warrant a jump. It is worth only 15 points in support of hearts.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

♠Q105 ♥4 ♠QJ72 ♠97642

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♥ Double ?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. Nothing is to be gained by bidding in this situation. Action by you can lead only to complications. The fear that the double will be left in for penalties is fanciful. It doesn't happen often enough to worry about.

WE THE WOMEN

'Save On Lights!' Kick Is Man's Idea Of Economy

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I'll just bet that women all over the country reacted with, "If that isn't just like a man!" when they read that President Johnson — in a gesture toward economy—ordered that lights be turned out in the White House wherever they weren't being used.

Here's a country that wastes in millions and gives away in billions and the man who is the head of it decides the way to start economizing is to turn off the lights in the White House.

Of course, this is meant to be symbolic of the government-wide need for economy—but it is typical of any man's reaction to expense.

Any time a man gets on an economy streak, his first grumble seems to be about the electric light bill.

"I wish you'd look at this light bill," he says to his wife. "Nobody in this house ever turns off a light"—and stalks around the house switching off lights.

The one-man war against lights is on—and usually lasts until the economy streak runs its course, or until the man who started it all bumps his shins walking through an unlighted room.

Meantime, there's been no serious talk of economy in big things. The light turner-outer may buy himself a new car or a fancy boat. He may not even turn a hair when his wife comes home with a new fur coat.

He has taken his stand for economy by raising Cain about the lights—and he feels better for it, self-righteously better. Additionally, he has proved to his satisfaction that he is the only member of the family who isn't wasteful. Look at how he has to go around turning out lights!

So don't worry about that darkened White House, Mrs. Johnson. The president is just being a man. In a little while he'll forget about those lights, and you can keep the White House lit up like a Christmas tree.

But if you don't want to wait for this economy fever to run its course, just leave a chair in the middle of the floor in one of those darkened rooms and wait for the anguished yells, and the command—"Let's have a little light around this place."

Tickets On Sale For Youth Concert

Tickets for the Wichita Falls

Symphony Orchestra's final youth concert of the season, at Memorial Auditorium, at 3 p.m. Friday, April 24, are available from senior and junior high school music faculty, through co-ordination of Mrs. Eddie Lake Buntin, Achilles Palabanis and Fred Prentice, respective directors of the public school's choral, orchestra and band departments.

Appearing as soloists with the 60-member resident orchestra, conducted by Walter Charles, will be the winners of the three divisions of the recent fourth annual Concerto Competition, sponsored by the Wichita Falls Music Teachers Association.

All students of S.H. Rider High School, the three winners were chosen on March 7 from a field of 18 contestants from within a 100-mile radius of Wichita Falls.

Opening the concert will be the Bach Violin Concerto in E Major, David Grote, soloist. Following will be the Mozart Flute Concerto No. Two in D Major, Karen Hardee, soloist, and Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. One in C Major, Robert Moss, soloist.

The concluding selection on the program will be the final movement of the Schubert Symphony No. Six.

Though the concert has been designated for public school students of senior and junior high level, elementary students are invited to attend, when accompanied by adult chaperones. Tickets are available through members of the Wichita Falls Music Teachers Association and will also be available at the door.

Your children may soon attend a jet-powered school

(the first is here... from natural gas)

Last Fall, McAllen, Texas, High School opened its doors to the jet age. There are no power lines coming into this school... yet it's completely air conditioned, features eye-saving new lighting in windowless classrooms. Its power plant? A turbo-jet, fueled by natural gas! This turbine generates electricity... produces steam to heat and air-condition the classrooms. Best of all, gas turbines are remarkably economical. Lone Star Gas, a pioneer in gas energy-package development, has already installed gas turbines in two of its company facilities. When schools are jet-powered in this area, count on Lone Star to provide the modern key to progress: natural gas energy.

DEFENSE CONTRACTORS IN COST-REDUCTION WAR

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: COST REDUCTION: More than 1,200 major defense contractors have enlisted so far in the Johnson administration's cost reduction war, it was disclosed today.

There have been that many favorable replies from letters sent to 7,500 big contractors last December by President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Those letters sought industry support for the economy drive which McNamara began during the Kennedy administration.

Johnson and McNamara urged the contractors to buy their materials at the lowest possible price, to operate in the most economical manner—and by so doing to keep down the prices they charge the Defense Department for arms and equipment.

A little-noticed Pentagon progress report circulated recently said:

"Indications are that industry's cost reduction efforts will provide the nation with a multi-million-dollar add-on to the Department of Defense's own $4 billion cost reduction undertaking."

SECURITY: A report that prowlers were in the basement of St. Mark's Episcopal church caused Secret Service agents and Washington police to conduct a thorough search Sunday morning before President Johnson and his family arrived for services.

Police found two 17-year-olds who had wandered away from a service for deaf mutes at St. Barnabas chapel in the church basement.

The President was accompanied to the services by Mrs. Johnson, their daughter Lynda Bird, and Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Robert S. McNamara.

EDUCATION: A panel of experts has proposed two programs to improve education of deprived and segregated youngsters.

One would help the deprived and segregated by using new curricula oriented to their background and understanding levels. The other involves establishment of one or more experimental school systems to try out new ideas.

The suggestions came Saturday from a group known as the Panel on Educational Research and Development, which was created in late 1961 by the President's Science Advisory Committee.

Camera Shows Carnival World

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The wonderful world of the carnival where the life and even the language is strange and foreign, was explored Sunday night by NBC with affection, humor and imaginative camera work.

The armchair visitor to a half dozen of the nation's top carnivals picked up a smattering of a culture and considerable incidental information never encountered on "Continental Classroom."

For instance our guide, veteran carnival performer Sally Rand said that fire eaters always breathe out while doing their act and that they never use grease inside their mouths lest they burn themselves. She said sword swallowing is "really very easy," provided you can make a straight line between mouth and stomach and conquer a tendency to gag.

The amusing hour was a short course on one of the oldest forms of show business still flourishing.

The carny world was not glamorized in the documentary. Miss Rand told feelingly of working all day and traveling all night, of poor food, primitive living conditions and above all, worrying about bad weather. But the show also conveyed the fascination of the carnival and the love the carnies have for it.

CBS' excellent coverage of the final holes of the Masters golf tournament live from Augusta, Ga., showed a lot of wonderful golf, but the big lead that winner Arnold Palmer had built up took away any suspense it might have had. At the end, the big cliff-hanger was whether Palmer would break the course record. He didn't.

It wound up, unfortunately for the CBS staff, with almost a half hour of air time left. They filled it with post-mortem interviews, always anticlimactic.

The most dismissively anticlimactic program of the weekend was ABC's showing of film taken of the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight in February. "Wide World of Sports" dragged the six rounds out to a half hour by first showing still pictures of the fight along with comment, then the fight with pauses to show portions in slow motion. And all with a lot of talk.

Walt Disney's show on NBC had some very exciting color film of jungle animals, particularly a battle between a black jaguar and a crocodile in a Brazilian rain forest. CBS' "My Favorite Martian" had script troubles Sunday night that even Ray Walston's outer space magic could not overcome.

Seven Captured In Narcotics Raid

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Federal police Sunday reported the capture of seven persons and seizure of $2,000 worth of opium after a 20-minute gun battle.

The report said two of the accused were wounded during the battle, in the town of La Magdalena in Jalisco State, in West Mexico.

None of the federal officers was injured.

Police went to the town after receiving word of narcotics operations there.

They said they were continuing a search for two men who were believed planning to buy the opium.

WITH 'TOM JONES'

British Accent Expected At Oscar Show Tonight

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's Oscar night tonight and the brilliant movie "Tom Jones" is expected to average the Boston Tea Party for Great Britain.

It will be very British at near-by Santa Monica Civic Auditorium with or without the bawdy farce which most movie people call the best movie since "Citizen Kane."

"Tom Jones" won 10 Academy Award nominations and is expected to win a goodly share. Most experts call it a cinch for best picture and best director for Tony Richardson.

Also odds-on favorite to win best actor is Albert Finney, who played the title role of the Henry Fielding classic. He will have potent competition from Sidney Poitier, the great Negro actor of "Lilies of the Field."

Others up for best actor are Richard Harris, the brutish football player of "This Sporting Life;" Rex Harrison—the one who acted while Mare (Richard Burton) Antony and Cleopatra (Liz Taylor) wooed—and Paul Newman of "Hud."

Patricia Neal of "Hud" is the favorite among top actresses, but Hollywood likes voting on past performances.

That makes Shirley MacLaine (Irma La Douce) and Natalie Wood (Love With a Proper Stranger) potent contenders. Anyone among the actresses could win without causing an upset. Leslie Caron (The L-Shaped Room) and Rachel Roberts (This Sporting Life) are other nominees.

Miss Roberts is also Mrs. Rex Harrison. A pair of "his and her" Oscars would look nice on any mantle.

One of the most interesting races is for supporting actor. Hugh Griffith gave the greatest performance yet of a drunken country squire in "Tom Jones." But was it all acting? Griffith's love of the grape is legendary on both sides of the Atlantic.

Director John Huston, who also loves a nip, played a sober cardinal in the picture of the same name. His father, the late Walter Huston, couldn't have done it better. Huston is the favorite.

Goldwater Favored In Illinois Primary

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is expected to make a strong showing in Tuesday's Illinois presidential preference primary, with indications that one million Republicans—spurred on by a bitter intra-party fight—will go to the polls.

Goldwater and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine are the only names listed on the primary ballot. No substantial write-in campaigns for other candidates have developed.

Mrs. Smith campaigned in Illinois during the weekend, hoping to stem what she called the "apparent Goldwater monopoly" in the state.

Speaking Sunday at the University of Illinois, Mrs. Smith criticized the Republican presidential hopefuls for not getting their names on the ballot. "I think the people of Illinois want and need a choice," she said, "and I regret that I am the only candidate with the courage to give it to them."

She refused to make any last-minute election predictions. Her backers have indicated they would be pleased with 10 per cent of the Republican vote.

Goldwater, who finished a distant second behind Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam, in last month's New Hampshire primary, made a brief appearance Friday at a Chicago rally sponsored by the Illinois Youth for Goldwater.

The local election spotlight will be on the race for the Republican nomination for governor, which pits State Treasurer William J. Scott, 37, against Charles H. Percy, 44, board chairman of Bell & Howell Co. Both live in Chicago suburbs.

Each candidate has accused the other of using smear tactics. Observers indicate control of the Illinois Republican party is at stake in the election.

The primary race was thrown wide open Jan. 21 when the late Charles F. Carpenter, 67, powerful Republican secretary of state from Moline, withdrew from the race after suffering a heart attack. He died April 3.

No name will appear on the Democratic primary ballot for the presidential nomination. Gov. Otto Kerner is unopposed for renomination.

When it came to our station wagon, we thought we'd be big about it.

No regular station wagon in the world could even fit into this space.

They're so long, they'd hang off the page.

The Volkswagen Station Wagon fits because it doesn't have parts that hang over.

No long nose. No big behind.

But don't let that sweet, innocent-looking little shape fool you.

The VW may be 4 feet shorter, but it holds a lot more than the biggest station wagons around.

(The biggest conventional wagon you can buy holds 90 cubic feet. Big deal. The VW holds 170.)

We knew big things were coming for the VW, so we made it easy to get big things in and out.

Those side doors, as you can see, are double: the opening is 4 feet wide.

And the back door is exactly as wide. (Our back door won't fit in the back door of other wagons.)

There's also a nice big hole in the roof to let fresh air in and tall packages out.

Compared to other station wagons, the Volkswagen Station Wagon costs next to nothing to run.

Beyond Retirement Pay

Examples can be cited by almost every individual of persons he knows who have been retired at age 65 or some other milestone year and have happily adjusted to their situation.

Studies of the elderly at enforced leisure, however, indicate that being active one day and retired the next is a problem growing with the increase in population of those who have turned 65.

Most companies in their retirement plans cover finances, but delve no deeper than money. Few offer to the prospective "retiree" any means of preparing himself for the time when he is severed from his job, and still fewer take the employee's wife or husband into consideration.

Corporations are not the soul-less creations of which they have been accused. The subject of employee preparation for retirement is one that has produced more and more thinking as the over-65 segment of the population has increased to about 10 per cent of the total number of people in the United States.

Guidelines are beginning to emerge which separate retirement into two categories—these phases for which the individual himself can do the best job of preparation, and those for which he needs guidance and direction.

If there has been neglect in the past, the subject is one on which much information is now available to the employee and to the employer on stretching retirement programs beyond financial benefits.

Swift March Into Space

In almost every respect the scene and the events last Wednesday morning at Cape Kennedy were identical to what is being planned for another morning probably early in 1965.

The key difference is that the space capsule poised on the nose of the Titan II ICBM—and 5½ minutes later in perfect orbit around the earth—was unmanned. Later, two men will climb into a more complete capsule atop another Titan and rocket off into a prolonged trip through space.

This must have been paramount in the minds of the 29 astronauts—the six remaining Mercury astronauts and the 23 new ones—who were on hand to see the thrilling inauguration of another phase of the space program.

Another unmanned shot is planned this summer, which probably will confirm the scheduling of the first real Gemini trip, but last week's launch was termed a resounding success.

What has been witnessed in only a few short years is a startlingly swift march of space history. The latest advance from the Mercury program, which closed with Gordon Cooper's "picture flight" and pinpoint landing, will in turn be followed by the Project Apollo trips to the moon later in the decade.

Credit For Jail Time

Attorney General Waggoner Carr has clarified provisions of the law under which convicted persons in certain cases will be released after shorter actual prison time than in the past.

A departmental opinion to Dr. George J. Beto, director of corrections, spelled out alternatives when a person is held in jail a long time before trial, and on appeal.

The trial judge may, and usually does, date back a sentence to the time the accused was put in jail, if he remained in jail. But, when a conviction is appealed, a new procedure ensues; and then the sentence dates from the time the Court of Criminal Appeals issues its mandate. But, the opinion said, the time spent in jail pending outcome of appeal can be credited at once.

Theoretically, a person could become eligible for parole under the Texas rules the first month he entered prison. But, generally, for short-term convictions, the accused is out on bond during appeal.

The ruling will show the accelerated discharge date of those who serve out sentences. It also can benefit others, qualifying for earlier parole, to the extent the Board of Pardons and Paroles has manpower to process the cases rapidly.

New Mid-Year Cars

Just as the start of major league baseball signals the true beginning of the spring and summer season, the introduction of new car models by automobile manufacturers has been a sign of the certain arrival of fall.

The auto makers, however, are showing a tendency to depart from tradition.

Last year, in the middle of the car year, one of the big three manufacturers advertised model changes which offered the auto shopping public a "1963½" car.

Other manufacturers have not been confining their new model introductions to the beginning of the traditional period for bringing out their annual productions.

Each of the big three auto makers has announced new mid-year cars, two of them unveiling a new sports car, and a fourth manufacturer is ready to market another model at the halfway point.

The auto makers haven't said so, but the additions and changes in the middle of the model-year could be a trial balloon that would substitute April and May for September and October as the start of the new car year.

'Can He See Me Now?'

Rights Law Won't Hike Enforcement Personnel

By MARY ANN PARDUE
Times Washington Bureau

Contrary to what many believe, the Justice Department insists it does not anticipate a need for a new horde of law enforcement officers to move in when and if the civil rights bill is enacted.

As a matter of fact, the department foresees a lessening of resistance to racial integration even in the South, once the bill becomes law.

Assuming the civil rights package approved by the House 290 to 130 will pass the Senate in substantially the same form, a spokesman said Justice officials probably would go back to Congress and ask for roughly $15 million, principally for additional personnel for the civil right division.

Slight Decrease

The department's current budget is $365 million, so a $15 million increase would represent a boost of only about 0.04 per cent.

These extra funds, it is contemplated, would be used in the main to pay the salaries of additional U.S. district attorneys, the spokesman stated. There is no immediate plan to increase the number of U.S. judges, he said, since the federal judiciary was enlarged two years ago.

Admittedly, both forced and voluntary compliance is expected to meet with strongest resistance in the South where the heaviest concentration of Negro population exists and where mores and customs through the years have kept the white and Negro races separate.

Lessening Of Tensions

But once the civil rights package is enacted, Justice Department officials apparently feel there will be a lessening of racial tensions south of the Mason-Dixon line. However, this view is not held by many Southerners.

The department sees working in its favor, as far as enforcement is concerned, the climate of respect for law which prevails throughout the country.

As a Justice Department spokesman expressed it: "In some communities, citizens and leaders have questioned some court decisions on civil rights saying 'that's not the law.'"

"But even by their logic, they cannot oppose a law enacted by Congress," he emphasized.

Built-In Features

Also expected to promote compliance with some of the bill's more far-reaching provisions are certain built-in features in the measure itself, the spokesman noted.

For instance, under title IV calling for desegregation of public schools, the U.S. Commissioner of Education is authorized to provide technical assistance in planning such a transition to any school district requesting this kind of aid.

Title X of the bill would create a community relations service within the Commerce Department to arbitrate disputes or difficulties relating to discriminatory practices at the community level or as they affect interstate commerce.

Voluntary Compliance

Even under Title II dealing with public accommodations—decidedly the most controversial section of the bill—it is suggested that the attorney general try to secure voluntary compliance through available federal, state or local agencies before starting legal proceedings against alleged violation of any of its provisions.

In view of these conciliatory efforts to be exercised by justice and other departments of government, and also because of anticipated voluntary compliance, the Justice Department does not presently foresee a need to greatly expand its staff to cope with any legal entanglements that may arise.

Upon what does the Justice Department base its optimistic outlook that once the civil rights bill becomes law there will be widespread voluntary compliance among formerly recalcitrant Southerners?

Meetings Held

Apparently much of it stems from a series of meetings with various groups from Southern and border states, called by the late President Kennedy last May about a month after he submitted his civil rights package to Congress.

Most of the meetings were held at the White House, with then Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson taking an active part in the discussions.

In all, 22 such meetings were held, and groups represented included businessmen, public officials, church leaders, lawyers and women's organizations.

Primary purpose of the meetings was to establish direct contact with a broad segment of Southern leaders in an effort to learn what, if any, voluntary compliance in integration efforts could be expected and what roadblocks might be standing in the way of such voluntary efforts.

What If Chiang Brought War To Mao's Door?

By WALTER TROHAN

WASHINGTON—The widening rift between Red China and Russia, featured by verbal violence, raises interesting speculation on the possibility of a large scale offensive by the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa against the Communist Chinese on the mainland.

For years it had been insisted that any such offensive would spark World War III. Now with Mao Tse-tung blasting Nikita S. Khrushchev as "the greatest capitulationist" in history, it may be wondered if Russia would enter any Chinese quarrel. The Kremlin might be happy to see Mao nursing a crop of war boils.

Troops Ready

On Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek has 600,000 seasoned troops ready and eager to go against the mainland. It is certain that Chiang has backers on the mainland who would help any invasion by sabotage and guerrilla warfare.

While 600,000 men may not seem much against Red China's millions, such a highly organized unit might work miracles. The Red Chinese seized control of millions with an organized hand, and a combination of stupidity, vacillation and wishful thinking in Washington.

The problem of China is not entirely a military one. The Chinese have made amazing progress on Taiwan, a fact which is not lost upon the Chinese in China, because some 4 millions have gone to Formosa from the mainland. Some have made it on a log and many have died in seeking to cover some 300 miles in frail crafts.

In Desperate Straits

It is to be remembered, also, that between 15,000 and 20,000 Chinese troops who fought with the Reds in Korea chose to go to Formosa rather than return home and live under communism. The civilian population on the mainland is in desperate straits. Contagious diseases are raging and starvation is common. Rice rationing has reportedly dropped from 21 to 11 pounds a month in some areas.

On the other side of the picture Formosa is enjoying an amazing burst of prosperity. Perhaps a great deal is due to American funds, but still much must be said for the Nationalist regime. The average wage has increased from $24 to $103 a month. A modern school system has been introduced with a reported 96 per cent of school age youths enrolled. Some 20 universities are operating. Most of them had to flee the mainland.

Chiang is anxious to make the attempt, but is reportedly being held back by Washington, where the State Department prefers not to rock the boat in the Far East, having troubles enough in Laos, Viet Nam, Cambodia and Indonesia.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Gabor Gals Not Talking In Their Feud

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's now a genuine feud raging between Zsa Zsa Gabor and Eva Gabor... the sisters aren't talking to each other, even to trade insults...

It began Sunday when they taped the next Jack Paar tv show. Zsa Zsa told me, "Eva is taling people I up staged her. I did not up stage anybody, dolling. I was just Zsa Zsa..."

Eva retorts: "She can be Zsa Zsa but I prefer to be an actress. Zsa Zsa was so unprofessional at interrupting when I was talking. I could not believe it. She should not do it to another actress let alone to her sister..." Zsa Zsa tossed her head and said, "I was booked back on the show. I vunder if she was?" They had a big battle after the taping — and avoided each other since, sitting at different tables in restaurants...

What does Jolie say? "I asked Eva... 'Ve tried not to let her know.' Eva said. Her husband Dick Brown exploded with laughter: "Then why did you call her 10 minutes afterward to tell her?"

Ton Of Laughs

Beatrice Lillie, playing a brandy-gulping medium, and Tammy Grimes, a lady spook who died seven years ago, furnish a ton of laughs in that swinging new hit, "High Spirits" — but Tammy almost provided an unexpected belly laugh. While she was flying around like Peter Pan, her flimsy, ethereal outfit almost came right off her while she was center stage lying on the backs of some dancers. "The halter came un-snapped and I heard it go k-c-c-c-ck!" Tammy told me at a big celebrating party at Charles. "It would have been disastrous because there was nothing underneath. Ghosts," she explained, "don't wear anything underneath."

Gown Of Diamonds

Carroll Baker's winging back from Kenya with a gown of diamonds which Producer Joe ("Carpetbaggers") Levene bought her, insured for $100,000... Chuck Connors and bride-of-a-year Kamala Devi were pre-celebrating their 1st anniversary at Toots' and 21, very much in love. "She got me as an anniversary present," said Chuck. He's just finished his 30th "Arrest and Trial" tv taping, "and that really finishes it," he said, relievedly... Hypnotized by Pat Collins at Basin St. E., a famous actor (married) gave the name of a girl he's dating. "Oh, she's a nice girl," said Miss Collins. "Oh, no, she isn't!" protested the hypnotized actor... Noel Coward, nominal director of "High Spirits," gave great credit to Gower Champion for stepping in and "doing a lot of wonderful things." Champion doesn't get program credit; just did it as favor... Lee Remick and Harry Guardino assure us they love each other dearly (in "Anybody Can Whistle") and did not expectorate at each other in or out of the love scenes. We believe actors at all times, so it must be expectorated.

Already Booked

George Jessel and his new gal Alice Rand were at Toots Shor's discussing "Hamlet" with Phil Greenwald, entertainment director of the Concord Hotel. "What do you think of Shakespeare?" Jessel asked Greenwald, who answered, "We tried to get him on our athletic staff but he was already booked." Jessel will do a record-breaking speaking date May 8. Completing a tour for the 8th Air Force around the North Pole with a breakfast speech at 8 a.m., he'll then fly to Washington for President Truman's 80th birthday dinner the same night.

The Midnight Earl

Danny Kaye's another candidate for the Peter Sellers role in the unfinished film "Kiss Me, Stupid." (Friends say the stricken Sellers had begun strenuous exercising with bar bells last month)... Barbara Streisand couldn't get a cab in the rain, hitched a ride on a passing mail truck.

Liz Taylor's getting used to being tailed around town by reporters; as she and Richard Burton went into their hotel the other night she told the newsmen cheerily, "Well, see you tomorrow..." Jean Pierre Aumont'll be a grandfather this summer... Hoagy Carmichael and Red Nichols, who were paid a bundle to appear on the Bell Telephone Hour tv'er, entertained between rehearsals — for free — at Eddie-Condon's... Ella Fitzgerald'll vacation this summer at Sophia Loren's home.

Mickey Rooney plans a chain of talent schools... Cary Grant's ex-wife Betsy Drake enrolled as a student at UCLA... Don Rickles dieted off 53 lbs. for "Bikini Beach Party", and got a 5G bogus... Paul Anka, flying back from Europe, didn't watch the movie — he wrote two tunes during the flight... Opera star Rosalind Elias may make a movie in Italy.

Junior Editors Quiz on CIRCUSES

QUESTION: Who began the circus?

ANSWER: Although entertainers such as clowns, acrobats and jugglers have performed for people from the earliest times, it was the Romans who put on large public exhibitions in buildings and tracks called circuses. There is a tradition that Romulus, one of the founders of Rome, produced the first circus. The Latin word "circus" means a race rather than a show, and in these races the contestants were usually mounted on chariots. "Circus" came from "circle" since the riders raced around a circular or oval ring.

After Rome, in the days of feudalism, strolling groups of actors and jugglers traveled between the castles and towns, and there were large fairs where such entertainers would congregate. In 1768 the Englishman, Philip Astley, organized the first modern circus, beginning with trick riding exhibitions. The circus came to America about 1792, and while George Washington was president, he attended a performance of Rickett's Circus. When Phineas T. Barnum brought the great elephant Jumbo he gave the modern circus idea its start, and it developed rapidly into the wonderful entertainment spectacle we have with us today.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color our circus picture. The big elephant should be light gray, but you could put bright orange on the ground and gray colors on the flags and other parts of the picture.

"ASTRO-GUIDE" By Ceean

For Tuesday, April 14

Present—For You and Yours... Make no expansive plans as a negative note creeps into the picture today. Best not to try to get others to come to a decision as people tend to waver in their opinions under present rays. Health is adversely affected in many instances, but the situation is temporary and relaxation will work wonders.

Past... On April 14, 1890, delegates of 18 republics of North, Central, and South America met in Washington and adopted a resolution creating the First International Bureau of American States—later known as the Pan-American Union.

The Day Under Your Sign

ARIES (Born March 21 to April 19) Leave no task unfinished. Attend to responsibilities before pleasure.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Good news about a matter close to your heart seems certain. Prepare for surprise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Spend your energy—you'll earn it in the next few days. Get extra sleep.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) Unsettled emotions are a result of adverse lunars, so don't blame others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't rush headlong into a situation which could prove to be too expensive.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Give in rather than become involved in a petty argument in the neighborhood.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Friend and enemy are rampant. Be careful in trusting other people.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Even though someone deliberately tries to arouse your temper, remain calm.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Trouble seems in the morning, but dissolves again late in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't do anything impulsive. Keep attention focused on occupational pursuits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Gains won at expense of your health are too costly, so slow down a little.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Your creative ability is in the fire. Proceed with interesting project.

"Remember that sales line you taught us, sir? ... The one that went, 'It doesn't hurt anyone to listen to what I have to say' ..."

After-Shock And Floods Hit Quake-Torn Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—

Quake-torn south-central Alaska coastal communities, jolted by another sharp after-shock Sunday, battled floods of sea water from high spring tides today. The sea, pulled into high tides about this time each year by the combined attraction of the moon and sun, has been moving up into areas which sank in the disastrous earthquake of March 27.

The highest for April are expected today and Tuesday, and owners of business buildings in the sunken areas have been trying to protect them by jacking them up or building dikes around them.

Flooding is the big problem now. Sunday's after-shock didn't make much impression on the residents of this shaken state. The ground rocked, and dishes and windows rattled, but no one was reported hurt. The casualty list of the big quake still stands at 114 dead or missing and the damage is estimated at $750 million.

Land in places along the rim of the Gulf of Alaska, on the Kenai Peninsula and on Kodiak Island is believed to have sunk from three to six feet in places. High tides lapping the western tip of the Kenai Peninsula Sunday came within inches of buildings along the waterfront of Seldovia.

The water rose high enough one block inside the waterfront at Kodiak so a large barge, tossed there by the tidal wave which followed the big quake, was almost floated again. Two bulldozers pushed, and a fishing boat pulled to try to get it back to deep water.

The sea flooded an area about two city blocks long and two blocks back from the old shore at Kodiak.

The state civil defense organization in Anchorage said land in Portage and Girdwood, down Turnagain arm from Anchorage dropped as much as six feet. It said 25,000 sacks to build sandbag dikes were trucked to Girdwood.

About 50 persons, almost all who remain in Portage, were congregated at a lodge called Diamond Jim's on a comparatively high spot on the flatland. Even so it had about 20 inches of water in it, a CD official said.

On Homer Spit, a low finger of land extending from Homer, on the Kenai Peninsula, a hotel was jacked up several feet, and the owners hoped it would clear tidal water expected to sweep under it.

be the vanguard of a group of foreign Communist leaders coming for the celebration of Khrushchev's 70th birthday on Friday. But the feeling grew in foreign circles today that no such meeting of visiting Red leaders would take place.

Asked about reports that the Poles might return to Warsaw Thursday, a Soviet diplomat at the airport said: "It is not excluded. They have a very short program."

No other foreign visitors and no public events have been announced for Khrushchev's birthday.

Polish Reds Arrive For Moscow Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Polish Communist leaders arrived in Moscow today for talks to strengthen Soviet Premier Khrushchev in his bitter dispute with the Chinese Communists.

Polish Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka said on his arrival with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz that the Polish and Soviet Communist parties "have the same views of the tasks of the Socialist camp, of the strategy and tactics of the international movement."

Any actions directed against the unity of Communist countries "are harmful and irresponsible," Gomulka said.

Khrushchev in a speech televised on both sides of the Iron Curtain Sunday night appealed for a "resolute rebuff" to Peking.

Hoffa Denounces Opening Of Record

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union has denounced the divulgence of court records regarding an alleged threat to kill Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Records made public over the weekend showed that U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson had ruled that a witness could not be cross-examined about the alleged assassination plot during Hoffa's trial for attempted jury tampering.

Chief prosecutor James Neal, in a secret session of court Feb. 6, said Edward Grady Partin "reported to the FBI a threat by James Hoffa to kill the attorney general."

Partin, a Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters official, was the government's chief witness against Hoffa, who was convicted of trying to fix a federal jury. Hoffa and three men convicted with him are free on bond pending appeal of prison sentences.

Judge Wilson ruled that Partin could not be cross-examined about the alleged threat because it was not relevant to the trial. The transcript of the secret session was sealed, but it became public last week when Judge Wilson filed a memorandum explaining why he had denied a new trial to Hoffa and the others.

In Chicago, where he goes on trial April 27 on a charge of misusing $20 million in union pension funds, Hoffa denied making such a threat against Kennedy.

Hoffa said, "I think the federal government knows full well they have prejudiced the defendants' opportunity of getting a fair trial in Chicago by the publication of this secret hearing."

Newsweek Writer Ordered Released

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno ordered the release of Newsweek correspondent Robert McCabe today after U. S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones protested vigorously to him against McCabe's detention by the Indonesian military police.

McCabe, 34, was picked up at his hotel room before breakfast Sunday. Foreign Minister Subandrio accused him of "false and inflammatory" reporting on Indonesia and said his reporting was subversive.

"This will just be more inflammatory matter, adding more fuel to the fire, by the attorney general and the court releasing this most prejudicial and unfair statement. I can't understand why a court would do such a thing."

Neal is quoted in the court record as saying: "This man (Partin) reported a threat by James Hoffa to kill the attorney general. He took a lie detector test and passed it with flying colors. My own information, your honor, is strictly hearsay. I know nothing about the threats or anything else other than what is in the FBI report." The FBI report has not been made public.

SENATORIAL CANDIDATES TRADE CAMPAIGN LICKS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Incumbent Ralph Yarborough and Gordon McLendon, his opponent for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator, swapped criticism while most other Texas political candidates took the day off Sunday.

Yarborough, in San Antonio to boost the candidacy of Bexar County commissioner Albert Pena Jr. and meet with supporters, accused McLendon of "political immorality" for urging Republicans to vote in the Democratic primary.

The senator said McLendon is recommending the thing "that almost wrecked the party in 1952," the year a number of Democratic leaders supported Republican presidential nominee Dwight Eisenhower.

Yarborough said McLendon would have preferred to run as a Republican, and the GOP "is where his heart is."

McLendon, a radio executive, wasn't present at the meeting, but his campaign manager, Bob Hamilton, was. Hamilton said despite what Yarborough cited as his record of accomplishment, he has managed to pass only eight bills in 79 attempts. Meanwhile, McLendon, in Dallas, charged that Yarborough is carrying out a "continuing attack on Dallas."

McLendon said in a televised speech that the incumbent has described Dallas as "a citadel of reaction," rather than a Democratic city.

"When our senior senator from Texas joins the attack on Dallas as a center of hate, he not only does further deep damage to this city but to the entire state as well," McLendon said. The challenger said Yarborough "sold his birthright when he sold himself to out of state pressure groups."

Robert Morris, seeking the Republican nomination for senator, said in Dallas that the Senate should meet its responsibility and show "by the massive evidence that exists, that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is using 'peaceful coexistence' as a weapon of conquest."

Morris asserted that President Lyndon Johnson has given support of the United States to Khrushchev's program of "peaceful coexistence, disarmament and decolonization," a success for world Communism.

Another GOP Senate candidate, George Bush, campaigned around Dallas. He said he planned to begin a tour of the Texas Panhandle today with stops in Lubbock and Amarillo.

Morris said he would campaign in Houston today, fly to Victoria and Corpus Christi Tuesday, visit the Lower Rio Grande Valley Wednesday, and Thursday begin a tour of West Texas that will take him to Amarillo, Dumas, Lubbock, Borger and El Paso.

McLendon said he would make an appearance at the Fort Worth Press Club today and then go to Houston for another half-hour telecast. He said he would continue TV campaigning with a 29-station state hook-up.

Queen Making Mexican Tour

MERIDA, Mexico (AP)—Impressed by a tour of one of the country's best-preserved ancient cities, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands continues her quest into Mexico's past today.

The Queen, accompanied by Prince Bernhard and Crown Princess Beatrix, flies to Oaxaca, in South Mexico, to see more ancient ruins.

With Juliana on the tour were Beatrix, Mrs. Eva Samano de Lopez Mateos, wife of Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, and their daughter, Aveita.

Prince Bernhard was in Chetumal, capital of the territory of Quintana Roo, where he flew directly from Mexico City.

He was to rejoin the Queen for today's trip to Oaxaca.

President Will Throw 1st Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, an old hand at making a pitch for votes, makes a new kind of pitch today—one opening up the 1964 American League baseball season.

A tall right-hander who describes himself as "an old first baseman," Johnson has predicted he will handle the job creditably.

After the ceremonial toss, Los Angeles and Washington, a pair of tailenders hoping for better things, will play the first game of the season.

A sellout crowd of 45,000 is expected at D.C. Stadium under variably cloudy skies, in mild weather with temperatures reaching up near 70 degrees. There is a chance of occasional showers late in the day.

The presidential pitch is an ancient ritual, dating back more than a half century. Johnson is the 10th president to honor the tradition.

In keeping with the tradition, the opener in Washington is a ton starter in 1963, will be making the sad return trip to the minor leagues. Rudolph was second down to Toronto of the International League Saturday. Also sent to the minors was Tom Brown, young first baseman who also was in the starting line-up last season.

Best known of the new faces in the Senators' line-up today will be Bill Skowron, former New York Yankee first baseman obtained from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Angels also will have a new first baseman, Joe Adcock, who came to Los Angeles along with pitcher Barry Latman in a deal that sent power hitter Leon Wagner to Cleveland.

It will be the first time Los Angeles and Washington, both organized in 1961 when the American League expanded to 10 teams, have played in an opener.

Redlegs, Colts Also To Open

CINCINNATI (AP)—An overflow crowd of 32,000 fans was expected to jam Crosley Field Monday afternoon for the 1964 National League baseball opener between the Cincinnati Reds and Houston Colts.

Game time was 1:30 p.m., CST and the Weather Bureau said the "scattered heavy showers and thundershowers" predicted for Monday would be over by the time the familiar "play ball" is sounded.

Cincinnati traditionally gets to inaugurate each new season because it is the home of the first professional baseball team. The other eight National League teams swing into action Tuesday.

Manager Fred Hutchinson picked Jim Maloney, 23 - game winner last year, to start for Cincinnati. Houston Manager Harry Craft tabbed Ken Johnson, veteran right-hander and knuckleball specialist, as his starter. Johnson, a former Red, was 11-17 in 1963.

Dodgers, Yankees Picked To Outdo All The Others

NEW YORK (AP) — A new baseball season opens today with new hopes, new faces, new managers, a new stadium and a new President throwing out the first ball. But the general forecast is the same—the Los Angeles Dodgers and New York Yankees to meet in the World Series.

The professional odds-makers have installed the Dodgers a 6-5 favorite to win the National League pennant. They have made the Yankees an overwhelming 2-5 choice to walk off with the American League championship.

Leading challengers to the Dodgers are San Francisco, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Milwaukee in that order. Nobody expects any club to seriously challenge the Yankees but those considered to have an outside chance include Minnesota, Chicago, Detroit and Baltimore.

Following is a chart showing the comparative strengths of the contenders in capsule form:

National League

Los Angeles
Pitching — Excellent. Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale form the best pitching pair in baseball. Ron Parranoski rates No. 1 among the relief men.

Hitting — Fair. Team lacks power but makes up for it with short hits and fancy base running. Speed is the biggest factor.

Fielding — Finished sixth last year. Doesn't figure to be better.

San Francisco
Pitching — The staff is aging. Juan Marichal is the only certain big winner. Jack Sanford and Billy O'Dell were only fair last season. Bob Shaw must pick up the slack in the bullpen.

Hitting — Overpowering. Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda the nearest thing to a murderer's row. Rookies Jesus Alou and Jim Hart add speed and line drive hitting.

Fielding — The defense hurt last year. The switch of Jim Davenport to second and the installation of Hart at third may help.

Hitting — Best in the league for average. Short on power. The loss of Stan Musial leaves only Bill White, Tim McCarver and rookie Johnny Lewis to provide left-handed strength.

Fielding — Best infield in league. The only trouble spot is the outfield which is without a strong arm.

Cincinnati
Pitching — Potentially the best but a lot depends upon the condition of Bob Purkey's ailing shoulder. The bullpen could be stronger.

Hitting — The power was muted last year by the slump of Frank Robinson, the club's big gun. The infield's hitting is weak.

Fielding — Below average. The infield is leaky.

Milwaukee
Pitching — Wondrous Warren Spahn is still capable of winning 20 but the rest of the staff is young and inexperienced.

Hitting — Greatly improved. Newcomers Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey will supply additional power. Henry Aaron rates as the league's best.

Yankees
Pitching — Secure. Jim Bouton, Al Downing, Whitey Ford and Ralph Terry give the club a blend of youth and experience. The bullpen is questionable.

Hitting — Solid. There are no weak spots.

Fielding — Rated at the top. All can field, throw and move with the best.

Minnesota
Pitching — Improved. Camilo Pascual potentially the best in the league. Jim Kaat, Gerry Arrigo and Jim Roland have improved. The bullpen is adequate.

674 Series Is Good For Men's Keg Lead

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Gayle Hayes of San Antonio rolled a 238-246-190-674 series to take over the Class A singles lead in the Men's State Bowling Tournament Sunday.

Hayes, 36-year-old veteran who has been bowling more than 40 years, was one of five new leaders emerging during the fourth weekend of competition.

Peter and David Haas of Arlington moved into first place in Class B doubles with a 1,215 while Gus Fishbeck and Ernest Gallat of New Braunfels were taking over the lead in Class C doubles with 1,150.

The other two new leaders were in the Class D division. Ellis Fina of Greenville came up with a 2,619 to take over the team lead and B. E. Wenzel of Corpus Christi rolled a 616 series for first place in singles.

Other changes in Class A saw Conley Jets of Waco ease into third place in the team standings with a 2,847 and Bob Korozee of Bryan take third in all events at 1,833.

Lewis Smith of High Island had a 651 and Lawrence Porter of Pleasanton a 650 to occupy the second and third spot in Class B singles. Charles Luna of Houston, is now third with 1,768.

Tullos Electric of Corsicana had a 2,632 for third place in the Class C team standings while Ward Johnson of Corpus Christi was taking over second in all events with 1,726, and Thoyce Bland of Austin third place with 1,725.

Ed Myers and Tex Isbell of Bryan, with an 1,108, and Bob Harris and Ed Shumilak of Houston, with 1,090, gained the second and third spots in Class D doubles. Curtis E. Waldrop of Beaumont took third in all events at 1,578.

FIRST BALL

Hawks Press Frisco; Final Game Needed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks did everything right and the San Francisco Warriors did everything wrong

Sunday night in the National Basketball Association playoffs and the score showed it: St. Louis 123, San Francisco 95.

Warriors' Coach Alex Hannum summed it up: "There's just isn't much you can do in a game like that."

The outcome sent the clubs back to San Francisco to settle the Western Division best-of-seven final set Thursday. Each team has three victories.

The winner meets Boston, the Eastern Division playoff champion, in another best-of-seven series for the NBA title.

St. Louis, utilizing quick hands that stole the ball repeatedly and led to easy fast break baskets, stormed by the Warriors for a 59-33 halftime bulge. That settled the issue as the Hawks never let up after the intermission.

Wilt Chamberlain, who crushed the Hawks with 50 points in a 121-97 Warriors' victory Friday, left the scoring to his teammates in the first half Sunday. Content to pass off, he took only eight shots and notched only eight points by intermission.

But Hannum refused to find fault with his scoring giant. "He gave up the ball to the open man," Hannum said. "That's the way we've played all year. The others just didn't hit."

San Francisco connected on only 26.5 per cent of its shots from the field and a poor 41.2 per cent from the foul line in the opening half.

The Hawks, on the other hand, bagged half of their field shots.

Conley Out As Sox Starter

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Conley, who has lost his stock-in-trade fastball at least temporarily, has been dropped from the Red Sox starting pitcher rotation. Reliever Jack Lamabe replaces him.

Johnny Pesky, greatly displeased Sox manager, announced the change on the eve of Boston's entry into the American League season.

Conley is the aging, 6-foot-4 right-hander who worked only 42 innings last year because of shoulder, arm and ankle woes. He was scheduled to pitch the second game against the Yankees Thursday but Lamabe now takes over the assignment.

"Conley hasn't shown me his fastball his last three starts," Pesky said. "I've got to do something about our pitching. We are getting so far behind in the early innings that we can't catch up."

Finley Should Have Asked For Guarantee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Owner Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics should have insisted on a money-back guarantee when he purchased his Pennant Porch.

Based on a two-day trial, the porch isn't about to win the Athletics any pennants.

Two more home runs were hit at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium Sunday as the Athletics downed St. Louis 4-2 on the last day of the exhibition grind.

That made eight homers in all, three by the A's and five by the Cardinals, in the two-game series that inaugurated the plywood porch, a green and yellow fence that cuts the length of a home run to right field from 338 feet to 296.

All of the home runs missed the porch, which is Finley's latest move to combat what he believes are the ills and inequities of baseball.

Actually, Finley has more moves than a belly dancer. The latest has helped get the 1964 season off to a bumpy start.

Of the two home runs hit Sunday, George Williams' two-run blow that won the game for the A's went to left-center while Johnny Lewis legged out an inside-the-park homer for St. Louis. Five of the six hit in the Cardinals' 9-7 victory Saturday soared to left field. The sixth went to center.

Jim Gentile, Kansas City's new left-handed hitting first baseman, is supposed to benefit from the porch, but he went hitless in nine times at bat during the weekend.

Rider Coach Eases Task

Some of the assignments a sportswriter draws contain as much work as digging a foot wide ditch around Coyote Stadium with a table spoon.

Sports editors are known for sending writers after left-handed monkey wrenches, type squeezers and always they want to know by the first of April who is going to win the state football championships.

Those pre-season predictions aren't merely a figment of an editor's imagination you know.

They pick the brains of their staff, after the writers have spent days digging into the defensive left - tackle spot of the Richland Rebels, defensive left line - backer for Grand Prairie, etc.

By the way Harlan Hammond, 6-0, 185 pound senior will be Richland's left tackle, and 160 pound senior Stowe Green is slated as Grand Prairie's left line-backer. That information is just to let you know whose brain has been picked.

Information Bundles

Before spring training begins most sports editors have each team classified, cross-filed and indexed. The only thing they don't have is the final score of the games. (One sports editor we know got his IBM machine clogged when Irving beat Wichita Falls Coyotes 6-0 in 1962 and he's never been the same.)

It isn't as bad as it seems and even though a writer can't get an out of town coach by phone or letter he does have one card in the hole.

It's kind of a personal experience and we would like to relate it to you.

The March winds are still whipping around and your Volkswagen slides on the slushy pavement. Of course you grumble as you think of the man who sent you out of a warm office to write about next fall's football.

Shrugging, you grab a stack of paper off the seat and quickly move out of the elements into the door over which is a picture of a masked man on a horse. No, you're not in the Lone Ranger's barn. The rest of the sign tells you it's the home of the Rider Raiders.

Even if you had never been there the smell would tell you this was the Raider dressing room.

You hesitate a moment after the big metal door swings shut. It is almost quiet, but you can remember days gone by when things were even quieter as the Raiders lost their sixth straight game. You shrug that off too, things are better in the Raider camp these days.

Straight down the short hall muffled sounds are heard, and as you stick your head through the door it looks like a GOP convention.

A Coaches Welcome

There's a hearty round of handshakes and slaps on the back from Jack Robertson, Marshall Gearhart, Raymond Lunn and Don Stringer, who you last saw at Rider's final basketball game.

In the center is head coach Joe Bob Tyler and as he pumps your hand you give him the low-down on what you need. You tell him that you need information on Hirschi's opponents. That may seem like an odd request, but Hirschi, a cross-town high school, will be playing the teams Tyler played last year.

The Huskies are moving up to District 4-AAA this season and Joe Bob has saved all his information on the teams he played. Things like returning players, weights and number of starters back can make sports editors swoon with glee.

After 15 minutes of sorting and sifting files, you catch the hint that there's more to this coaching game than just teaching your left guard how to pull out of his hole.

In addition to a stenographer and file clerk, a coach could use an IBM machine of his own.

After getting all the information available on the 4-AAA clubs, there is still time before the 2:20 bell to talk, and as Tyler changes into his practice clothes you listen to what Rider's going to bring into District 4-AAAA this September.

We'll tell you about that next time.

Texas, Baylor Clash For Baseball Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas and Baylor clash in a two-game series Friday and Saturday at Austin with leadership in the Southwest Conference baseball race on the line.

They are tied for the top with 5-1 records. The winner of the series would become the championship favorite. A split, however, would throw the race into a three-way proposition.

Texas A&M, riding just a half-game back of Texas and Baylor, meets Southern Methodist at Dallas Friday and Saturday and by winning both games would push into first place in the event Texas and Baylor split.

Texas A&M won three games last week to move within whispering distance of the lead, beating Southern Methodist 3-2 and Texas Christian 5-1 in both games.

Baylor also won three times, first edging Texas Christian 3-2 then whipping Southern Methodist 15-1 and 7-2.

Texas beat St. Mary's 13-5 in a nonconference game before trimming Rice 4-0 and 8-2.

Baylor has the best season record—12-3. Texas is 11-3 and Texas A&M 11-5.

Four nonconference games are scheduled in the conference before the big series Friday and Saturday.

Tuesday Texas Christian hosts Sam Houston State, Texas A&M plays St. Mary's at San Antonio and Rice meets Texas Lutheran at Houston. Thursday Southern Methodist plays Dallas of the Pacific Coast League.

Emerson Comes To Take Texas

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Australia's Roy Emerson heads for River Oaks in Houston, Tex., today and a try at his seventh tennis victory on this year's Florida-Caribbean tour.

Emerson captured his sixth title in seven times out Sunday in the St. Petersburg Masters.

He easily defeated No. 3 seed Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, with a brilliant display of shots on the clay courts.

Emerson has been defeated only once on the tour and that came at Caracas, Venezuela.

Nancy Richey, of Dallas, Tex., No. 1 seed in the women's division, picked up her third title in three times out this season with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Nancy Alvarez of Tampa, Fla.

Emerson and countryman Ken Fletcher took the men's doubles crown with a 6-2, 8-6 victory over Boro Jovanovic and Nicola Pilic, both of Yugoslavia.

Miss Richey, 21, ranked No. 3 in the United States, and Karen Susman of San Diego, took the women's doubles title by defeating Francoise Durr of France and Miss Alvarez 6-1, 6-2.

HOUSTON (AP) — The first pre-tournament activity of the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic gets under way today when 32 amateurs vie for the four remaining berths.

The pro-am tournament will begin Wednesday with the Classic field to tee off the first round Thursday.

Over the weekend a half dozen pros took some whacks at the Sharpstown Country Club course, a 7,223-yard par 71 layout. The Classic was transferred from the municipal park to the windy Sharpstown course this year.

Among the earlier starters was Doug Sanders. "Long, ain't it?" He said to Sharpstown assistant pro Max Ramsey.

"Yep," said Ramsey.

"Yep," said Ramsey. "On calm days."

Defending champ Bob Charles of New Zealand, the left-hander, will be on the scene, and the sponsoring Houston Golf Association is hoping Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus will compete.

Tony Lama sent word Sunday he will not appear, due to the illness of his wife.

But the balance of the touring pros is expected to join the battle for the $7,500 first prize and some $42,500 in other money.

Betting Scandal Grips English Soccer Leagues

SHEFFIELD, England (AP) — Police investigations start today into a soccer betting scandal that threatens a major disaster for Britain's national sport.

Soccer authorities launched their own investigation alongside the police probe. Football insiders were saying it seemed inevitable that several top players will be barred from the game for life.

The storm erupted with an article in The People, a Sunday newspaper with a circulation of five million, charging that a big money betting ring had corrupted nearly 30 players in its hunt for large profits.

The People named three players: Tony Kay, Everton and former Sheffield Wednesday halfback, a key man in the England international squad.

Peter Swan, Sheffield Wednesday's center half and veteran of 19 international matches.

David Bronco Layne, Wednesday's high scoring center forward.

These three, The People said, backed Sheffield Wednesday to lose against Ipswich in a first division match in December 1962.

Ortiz May Choose Next Foe Quickly

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, fresh off an impressive title defense against Kenny Lane, is expected to choose his next challenger within a month.

Ortiz, scornful of the challenger who was forced upon him by the World Boxing Association, called Lane "overrated."

Bill Daley, manager of the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, said today that Ortiz is considering three possible opponents. He has been offered $100,000 to defend against featherweight champion Sugar Ramos in Los Angeles and $60,000 to fight Willy Quatier in Berlin or Jorjny Bizzarro in Pittsburgh.

Quatier is the German lightweight champion and Bizzarro is the Erie, Pa. boxer who gave Lane a close call in the challenger's last fight before he met Ortiz last Saturday.

Lane, the Muskegon, Mich., left-hander who had campaigned for his shot at the crown while Ortiz met other challengers, left for home Sunday after fumbling his second, and possibly last, title fight.

"I should have jumped him. I waited too long to get going," said Lane. "If I had pressed the fight, he would have run out of gas."

Surtees Wins Racing Tuneup

SIRACUSA, Sicily (AP) — John Surtees of Britain drove a new model eight Ferrari to victory Sunday before 70,000 fans in the Gran Prix of Siracusa, a warm-up for the international racing season.

Lorenzo Bandini of Italy was second in a 1963 six-cylinder Ferrari and Peter Arundell of Britain was third in a Lotus. They were followed in order by Joakim Bonnier of Sweden, Chris Amon of Britain and Masten Gregory of Kansas City.

The Formula 1 race does not count in the competition for the 1964 world drivers' championships begin with the May 10 race at Monaco.

The race had been expected to be a trial between the powerful new eight-cylinder racer that Ferrari is trying out to replace his old six-cylinder Formula 1 car, and the British Lotus.

Nicklaus Has To Settle For Second

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Not so long ago, there was a golf champion everybody liked. He won the big tournaments and did impossible things.

Soon he was rich and famous. Then he didn't win any big tournaments or do any impossible things for a while, and people said he didn't know how to, anymore. They said he was too rich, and besides he couldn't putt like he used to.

Even Arnold Palmer heard the stories.

"The question mark was as big in my mind as in anybody else's when I stepped up to the first tee here," Palmer said, after he won his fourth Masters Golf Tournament over the Augusta National Course Sunday.

"It was like checking out an airplane with new spark plugs. I wasn't sure how they would function."

They worked. Palmer shot rounds of 69, 68, 69 and 70 for 276, and achieved the following results:

He led all the way.

He had the second lowest total in the 31-year history of the Masters.

He had the second largest victory margin, six strokes. Defending champion Jack Nicklaus was second at 282, along with touring pro Dave Marr.

He didn't three putt a green until the 10th hole of the final round, when the issue had already been decided.

He won $20,000 in prize money, and struck what should amount to a million dollar blow for Arnold Palmer Enterprises, which manufacture almost everything but baby food and caskets.

And he struck the biggest blow to cigarette smoking since they locked Sir Walter Raleigh up in the tower of London.

Palmer quit smoking on Jan. 27, and his resultant struggles were almost as public as the courtship of Elizabeth Taylor.

"I had a block about quitting. It seemed to affect my play around the greens. Now I've licked that," Palmer said.

Palmer's next drive will be at the U. S. Open Championship, scheduled for Washington, D.C., in June. He won the Open in 1961.

And if he wins there, he will go on to try for the professional Grand Slam, which includes the British Open and the PGA.

A reporter asked Palmer if he still wants to win the Grand Slam.

"I'm not dead yet," was his answer. He meant he will try for the Grand Slam until he can't walk 72 holes any more.

"I started this year a little unhappy," Palmer said. "I didn't win a major championship last year. I won a lot of money and some tournaments, but no major championships. My ambition this year was to win one of them."

"And if I won one, to win two."

Hard-Luck Bud Werner Loses Desperate Race

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP)—Buddy Werner, the hard-luck American ski star, lost a desperate race with an avalanche Sunday and was killed under tons of snow.

The 28-year-old Olympian was taking part in the filming of a ski fashions movie with other top skiers when the wet spring snow thundered down an Alpine slope at Samedan, a village two miles outside of this winter resort.

The avalanche also killed Barbara (Barbi) Henneberger, 23, one of West Germany's top women skiers. Fifteen others in the group dug themselves out or were freed by rescuers.

"It was a nightmare," said 27-year-old Fritz Wagnerberger, a veteran German racer.

"We left early in the morning and chose what looked like a safe slope. Avalanches are frequent in the spring, but they rarely come down in the morning."

"We were crossing the slope in a file while the crew was filming when all of a sudden the snow gave way under our skis. It was about 10 o'clock in the morning."

"Pandemonium broke out. It was terrible. We were yelling and the screams could be heard over the thunder of the snow."

Buddy Werner raced down in front of me trying to get away. He was a little lower down and probably thought he had a chance to race away from the slide.

"Perhaps he could have done it, who can say? He got to the bottom, but then he slipped, somersaulted and was lying in the snow as the second arm of the slide crashed right on top of him."

"I think the same happened to Barbi."

Wagnerberger said those who dug themselves out rushed to where Werner and Miss Henneberger were buried and dug into the snow with bare hands. Other skiers from a nearby lift came quickly.

"In the end there were hundreds helping us," Wagnerberger said, "but for Bud and Barbi it was too late."

Miss Henneberger's body was found in eight feet of snow three hours after the slide. Werner's body was discovered an hour later in 10 feet. Both had suffocated.

Werner, whose first name was Wallace, made his home in Steamboat Springs, Colo., but in the last decade he spent much of his time competing on the world's ski slopes. Although he never won an Olympic medal, he was the first American male skier to be taken seriously by the Europeans.

In the 1964 Olympics, Werner placed 17th in the men's downhill and eighth in the slalom and was disqualified in the giant slalom.

"It's time for me to start thinking about a profession and making a living," he said.

Werner, a senior at the University of Colorado, was considering offers to direct ski schools or represent sports equipment companies.

He was married to the former Vanda Norgren, daughter of Denver industrialist C.A. Norgren. They had no children.

DIES IN AVALANCHE—Wallace (Bud) Werner, U.S. Olympic veteran from Steamboat Springs, Colo., perished Sunday in one of three avalanches of wet snow that thundered down Alpine slopes at Samedan, Switzerland. Werner is shown here as he clears a gate in the Eastern Slalom Championships at Stowe, Vt., this year. (AP Wirephoto)

Red Wing Coach Pretty Fair Prophet

TORONTO (AP)—Coach Sid Abel of the Detroit Red Wings turned out to be a pretty accurate prophet. As a result, his team is one down in the Stanley Cup finals in the National Hockey League playoffs.

The defending champion Toronto Maple Leafs took the opener of the best-of-seven series 3-2 Saturday night and will try to make it two in a row here Tuesday night.

Abel told newsmen last Friday that he figured Bobby Pulford was the most dangerous man on the Toronto team because "he is a hard-nosed guy who is always in there trying."

It was Pulford who broke loose on a dramatic dash while the Leafs were shorthanded to slam home the winning goal with only two seconds left in the game. Oddly enough, Coach Punch Imlach had his winning Leafs out for a skating session Sunday and planned another for Monday.

Losing Coach Abel gave his team two days off to rest up. "These guys have played 78 games already—70 in the regular-National Hockey League season and eight in the playoffs thus far and if they're not in shape now, they never will be," Abel reasoned.

He planned to take the Wings sightseeing today to try to erase from their minds the memory of Pulford pouncing on the loose puck near the Toronto net and outskating the Wings for his winning score.

The Leafs, seeking their third straight Stanley Cup, beat Detroit four games to one in the 1963 final, and odds on their repeating went up after their victory in the opener.

Rider Juniors Cop Two Wins

LAWTON, Okla.—Rider Junior High carted off two championships here Sunday, but took a third place team finish in the Lawton Tennis Association Invitation Junior High Tennis Tournament.

Another Wichita Falls team, Zundy, took fourth place in the two-day event. Ponca City walked off with the team title. Ada came in second.

Steve Massey and John Burkman combined to give Rider the boys doubles title, beating Ponca City's Riley-Cramer 6-1, 5-1. Earlier they had beaten West-Bowen, Ada, 6-0, 6-1; Boudreau-McCowan Oklahoma City Harding 6-1, 6-0; and Armstrong-Laudauer, Ponca City, 6-1, 6-0.

Gloria Davis swept through the girls singles for Rider, besting Janie Bumpers of Ada in the finals, 6-3, 6-2. En route she measured Ann Thomas, Ponca City, 6-0, 6-2; Becky Pennington, Ada, 6-2, 6-3; and Oklahoma junior high champion Becky Ledford of Lawton, the No. 1 seeded girl, 7-5, 6-2.

Zundy's Allen Brock whipped Rodney Underhill of Lawton Tomlinson, 6-2, 6-3, but bowed to Ponca City's Bill Meek in the quarter-finals 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, in boys singles.

In doubles, Tommy McCullough and Lyndell Haigood were ousted in the quarters by Colby Williams and Bobby Dean of Wichita Falls Junior High, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4. The latter in turn was beaten by Riley and Cramer.

The girls doubles team of Ann Warman and Tina Byrd lost out to Becky McNeese and Pat Mehring of Ponca City in the finals, 6-4, 6-3, after ousting the No. 3 seeded Ponca City team of Nancy Corpron and Jill Lippioit, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4 in the quarter-finals. Warman-Byrd then disposed of Ada's No. 2 seeded Moss-Leighton 11-9, 2-6, 6-4 in semis.

SANDRA HANIE
... title winner

Sandra Hanie Beats Women By 5 Strokes

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Blonde, bespectacled Sandra Haynie is $1,200 richer today after she breezed home a five-stroke winner in the $7,500 Capital City Open.

The petite, sunbanned lass from Phoenix, Ariz., dropped a 28-foot uphill putt on the 18th green Sunday to close out with a final round 73. She had a 211 total for the 34-hole tourney.

It was the fourth LPGA victory for the 20-year-old putting whiz, whose last top finish came in 1963 when she won the Thunderbird tourney in her hometown.

Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M. finished with a two-over-par 74 for a 216 total. Mickey Wright, last year's top money winner, had a 70 for a 218 wind-up.

It was Miss Wright's first competitive golf since she sprained her ankle four months ago. Her foot was in a cast 32 days.

Miss Haynie, a winsome, 5-foot-3, 105-pound swinger, took the lead at the end of the second round when she fired a 68, using only 25 putts. She opened with a 70—one off Miss Whitworth's 69 pace.

Marlene Hagge finished fourth at 219, Sherry Wheeler fifth at 220, and Kathy Cornelius sixth at 221.

The inaugural Capital City tourney was held at the Sherwood Forest Country Club's 6,696-yard par 37-35-72 course. The tour moves to Spartanburg, S.C., this week for the Peach Blossom Open.

Texas Strong Boys Seek Spots

DALLAS (AP)—The weightmen, usually behind the rest of the country in Southwest Conference track, are the outstanding stars of the current season.

The Southwest has at least three capable of bidding for an Olympics berth. The main one is Randy Matson, Texas A&M freshman, who Saturday pitched the 16-pound ball 63 feet 4 1/2 inches in a freshman meet at Abilene.

Matson is considered an outstanding possibility for the Olympics team. He ranks with the top four in the country.

Danny Roberts of Texas A&M finally got past the 60-foot mark Saturday and he was the second varsity performer in the conference to make it. Frank Mazza of Baylor, who did 60 feet 2, was the first.

Roberts threw the shot 60 feet 7 inches Saturday in a quadrangular meet at Waco. He became the national collegiate leader for the season.

Baylor also has a shot putter bordering on 60 feet in Jim Lancaster. He got 59-1 Saturday but has done 58-5 1/2.

Baylor is the only college in the country with two shot putters who can make better than 59 feet.

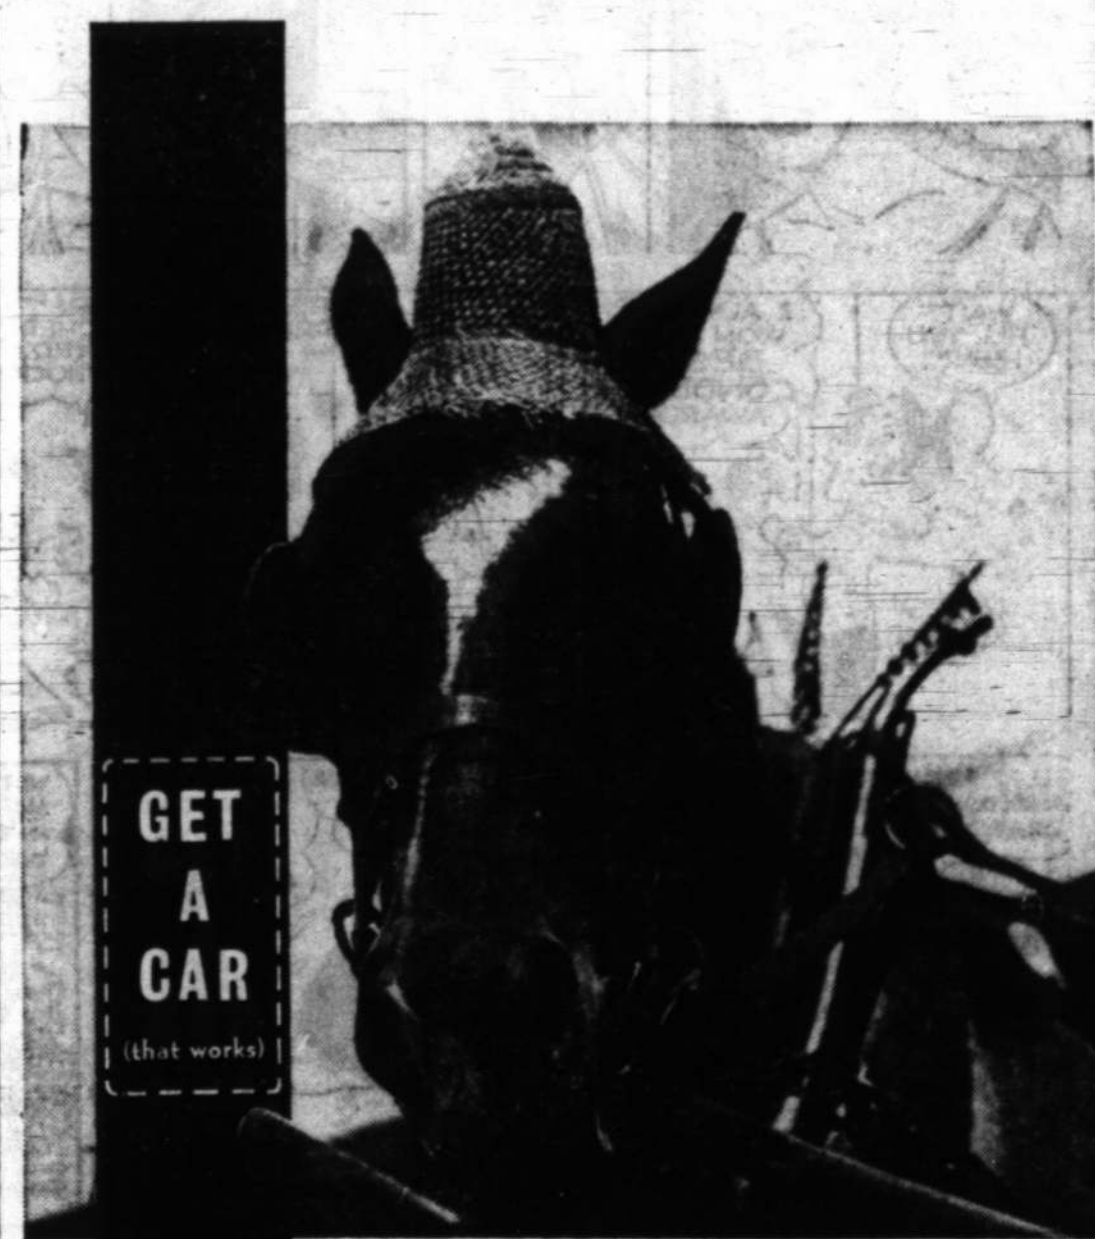

Roberts will be showing his wares at the Kansas Relays Saturday at Lawrence Kan. He also will be after the discus championship. He has done 177 feet 10 inches. However, Lancaster threw the platter 181 feet 1 1/2 inches to beat Roberts Saturday.

Grissom, Young Picked To Make Gemini Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young were selected today as the astronauts who will pilot the nation's first two-man space flight—a three-orbit Gemini mission late this year.

The back-up crew for the first manned flight of Project Gemini will be Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Capt. Thomas P. Stafford.

Gemini is the intermediate phase of the long-range training program that has an objective of placing Project Apollo astronauts on the moon within the decade.

day-at the Manned Spacecraft Center, the training base for astronauts, only Schirra has made an orbital flight.

Grissom made a suborbital flight of 142.1 miles down range from Cape Kennedy Sept. 13, 1961, and Schirra followed with a six-orbit mission Oct. 3, 1962.

Young and Stafford, former test pilots, became astronaut trainees Sept. 17, 1962.

Since the completion of the one-man Mercury flights last year, Grissom has held a primary assignment as coordinator of Gemini affairs with other members of the astronaut team that now totals 29 pilots.

STILL IN TROUBLE OVER EVOLUTION — Memphis, Tenn. — Miss Martha Powell (left) and Dorrie Doss are shown in a biology laboratory at Memphis State University a year ago when they got into trouble for teaching evolution in a high school where they were practice teachers. A year later, Miss Powell has her diploma but no teaching job. She feels the brush with Tennessee's law against teaching evolution in public schools ruined her teaching career but says she would do it again. (AP Wirephoto)

Five Persons Drown On Wind-Swept Lake

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Five persons, one of them a child, drowned Sunday when their boat capsized on wind-swept Lake Tawakoni about 35 miles northeast of here.

Three other children were rescued in the water by Thomas K. Harris, 48, of Dallas.

Nine Injured In Accidents

Nine persons were injured in traffic accidents in Wichita Falls Sunday.

A two-car collision in the 2700 block of Hamilton about 4:55 p.m. Sunday sent seven persons to Wichita General Hospital for treatment.

Injured were Wayne Albert Erickson, 35, his wife, Evelyn, 35, and three children, Christine, 11, Julie, 7, and David, 5, all occupants of a 1959 Chevrolet station wagon ($250 damage). Also injured and occupants of a 1964 Chevrolet ($700 damage) were Rex Knight Winters, 21, of 4102 Seymour Road, and Candy Wilson, 17, of 2515 Martin. Drivers of the vehicles were Erickson and Winters. All the injured were treated and released.

Jerry Don Hennah, 21, of 2002 McGregor, was treated and released at Wichita General Hospital after his 1962 Ford (total loss) went out of control and struck a tree about 5:45 p.m. Sunday in the 2400 block of Hampstead.

A 1963 Chevrolet (total loss) driven by Jay David Dunlap, 18, of Throckmorton, went out of control and overturned in the 5600 block of Lake Road about 8:21 p.m. Sunday. Dunlap was treated for minor injuries and released at Wichita General Hospital.

Five minor traffic accidents with no injuries Sunday were reported by police as follows: Ninth and Broad (9:18 a.m.) — 1961 Chevrolet pickup ($35 damage) driven by Muri H. Sylvester, Meridian, and a 1963 Pontiac ($25 damage) driven by Frank M. Alamo, 1418 Gun-son.

Jacksboro and Hatton Road (11:45 a.m.) — 1964 Tempest ($75 damage) driven by Robert Lee Bullock, 1609 Marshalldale, 1953 Dodge station wagon ($75 damage) driven by J. D. Brown, 1220 North Ninth.

Tenth and Holliday (4:05 p.m.) — 1964 Thunderbird ($100 damage) driven by Wesley D. Lancaster, Dallas, and a 1961 Comet ($50 damage) driven by William G. Smith, Lake Charles, La.

East Scott and Hines (6:32 p.m.) — 1962 Chevrolet ($275 damage) driven by Edna Earle Ware, 1615 Orchard, and a 1959 Cadillac ($100 damage) driven by Nevada Mench Hudson, Grand Prairie, Tex.

In 4400 block of Phillips (6:38 p.m.) — 1960 Valiant station wagon ($10 damage) driven by David Walker Patterson, 4085 Boren, and a 1962 Oldsmobile ($50 damage) driven by Richard Allan Comstock, Dallas.

POLICIES FOR GRADUATE SCHOOLS ARE APPROVED

By ERNEST STROMBERGER
AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Commission on Higher Education approved today far reaching policies for North Texas graduate programs which expand the roles of Arlington State College and North Texas State University.

The North Texas graduate program recommendation came in a report to the 15-member commission by a committee headed by Rex Baker of Houston, former Humble Oil Co. general counsel.

Baker's report is the result of a detailed study of graduate and research programs in universities in Dallas, Fort Worth and Denton. Baker indicated the results could be applied in other areas also.

"The entire approach to the problem was made with the knowledge that decisions made by the commission concerning the Fort Worth-Dallas area would have implications for the entire system of higher education in Texas, in that the steps taken there can serve as guidelines to be followed in developing doctoral programs in other areas of the state," Baker's report said.

The report recommended and the commission agreed that graduate programs now available in the Fort Worth-Dallas area be given adequate and continuing support.

The commission recommended that Arlington State College "offer masters' degrees in the various fields of engineering and related fields of science and mathematics beginning as soon as possible."

Therapists Tell Of Child Care

The lay president of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults (Easter Seals), who was in Wichita Falls Sunday for a speaking engagement, was feted at a luncheon at the North Texas Crippled Children's Center where he consulted with therapists on various aspects of their work.

Dr. Douglas Tyson, director of the speech and hearing clinic at Texas Woman's University, Denton, where he is also associate professor of speech and special education, discussed with the therapists the various problems they encounter with the language troubled youngsters.

Specifically, problems regarding the physical set-up for handling children of this type were considered. He also went into the coordination of the speech, occupational and physical therapy for such boys and girls.

Mrs. Nina Jackson, speech therapist at the center—which is an Easter Seal agency—works with two groups of children with speech problems that can be helped with perceptive training therapy.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday the class consists of very young children with speech problems, some of which have language disorders. On Tuesday and Thursday a class of older children—still under school age—meet. It is advisable to begin therapy with the children before they start school.

Mrs. Lee Elwing, occupational therapist, meets once a week with a group of language troubled youngsters who are school age.

Many of these children have normal intelligence and they do not necessarily have any other physical handicap. They are the boys and girls whose sight, hearing, sense of touch and perceptual problems affect their speech.

Lubbock Chief Visits Storm Area

Lubbock Police Chief J. T. Alley was visiting in Wichita Falls Monday and toured areas of the city struck by the April 3 tornado.

Alley was accompanied on his tour by Wichita Falls Police Chief C. C. (Bud) Daniel who indoctrinated the Lubbock chief on how the city police force was deployed following the twister, and the security ring that was thrown up around the disaster area.

Chief Alley, a long-time friend of Daniel, said he wanted to investigate the procedure employed here by police so he could prepare his own department to act as efficiently as the Wichita Falls police department did, in ever such a disaster should strike his city.

Nehru Doesn't Want Nuclear Ships Near

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru expressed regret today that U.S. warships carrying nuclear weapons "should wander about in the Indian Ocean."

Commenting in Parliament on a report from Washington Friday that a U.S. Navy carrier squadron had entered the Indian Ocean, Nehru noted that U.S. ships en route to waters off the coast of Africa would not come within hundreds of miles of Indian territorial waters.

"But we do not like nuclear weapons to come anywhere near this area," he said.

Soviet Professor Leaves For Russia

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A Soviet professor who was granted asylum in the United States last January after fleeing or jumping from a building at Harvard University has returned to the Soviet Union, the Boston Globe said today.

The newspaper said Yuri Asseyev, 35, former professor at the University of Leningrad, left by plane for his homeland Sunday after reconsidering his plea for asylum.

Asseyev had been studying at Harvard. He was pulled from subway tracks near the university last Feb. 29, apparently after leaping into a subway pit.

President's Consumer Aide Urges Attention On Foods

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's special assistant for consumer affairs, Esther Peterson, urged today that the proposed special commission on the food industry "pay particular attention to the level of prices and to the quality of foods sold."

In testimony prepared for the Senate Commerce Committee,

Mrs. Peterson said that American consumers "need to understand food markets and the nature of competition and costs in these markets better than we now do."

She said "all of us who shop want to get the largest quantity, the most value, the greatest amount of real satisfaction for the dollars we spend."

Mrs. Peterson strongly endorsed Johnson's proposal for a bipartisan commission which she said would "study the changes taking place in the food industry in the United States."

"The commission will perform a needed service if its inquiry results in some simple, intelligible explanation of retail food costs so that ordinary people can understand them," she said.

"The spread between what the farmer receives and what the consumer pays has been widening. During 1963, the spread between the retail cost of food and the farmers' share of the dollar spent by the consumer increased 4 per cent. The farmers' share of the food dollar—37 cents—was the smallest since 1934, when it was 34 cents."

"The consumer should know not only where the other cents have gone, but why the pattern of distribution has changed," she said.

Half Ton Of Game, Fish Being Fixed For Banquet

More than half a ton of game and fish is being prepared for Wednesday's annual Northwest Texas Field & Stream Association's game banquet. Dr. James Brosch, chairman of the organization's food committee, said Monday.

Brosch said the menu would include deer, elk, antelope, pheasant, quail, dove and several types of fish, as well as the "trimmings."

Richard Adams, general chairman of the banquet, said Ruby Bobo, coordinator of the dinner's style show, indicated final touches have been made to the sports wear fashion parade which is an annual attraction of the banquet. This style show is sponsored by Kirkland's.

Featured entertainer for Wednesday's banquet, which begins at 7 p.m. at the M-B Corral on the Sheppard Access Road, will be Wes Harrison, a veteran of nationally rated television variety shows and the originator of most of the sound effects and voices for the Tom & Jerry cartoons.

R. W. (Bud) Seyler, ticket chairman for the dinner, said Monday only a limited number of tickets would be available at the door Wednesday night and urged persons who planned to attend to purchase their tickets at businesses displaying the field and stream placards or from ticket headquarters at the Stringer-Barnard Insurance Co., at 10th and Lamar.

In addition to Adams, Seyler and Brosch, committeemen for Wednesday's annual game banquet include Joe Tom White, master of ceremonies; James Dowell, invitations; Paul Alexander, publicity; and Tate Pittman, decorations.

Cyprus Fighting In Third Day

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots continued today for the third day in Kyrenia Pass. But there still was no sign the Greeks have launched an all-out onslaught against the strategic pass.

Gunfire sounded again about 7 a.m. after an overnight lull. A U.N. spotter plane flying over the craggy ridge, where both sides are well entrenched, reported a "lot of activity."

Firing also was reported near the Turkish Cypriot village of Tembos, at the foot of ancient St. Hilarion Castle, a Turkish stronghold menaced by the Greek advance on Kyrenia Pass.

A U.N. spokesman said the Turks began the Kyrenia battle by firing on villages. The U.N. moved in a platoon of British paratroopers after the Greeks warned they would strike back in force unless the Turks abandoned their stronghold.

An AP correspondent, Hal McClure, climbed part way up the mountain while the bullets still were flying to talk to the Turks.

The Turks refused to allow a 10-man Canadian patrol to the top. "What good will they do?" a lieutenant asked.

U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunch left for Gaza to inspect U.N. troops after telling newsmen his three days on Cyprus gave him a closer look at the "incoherent war."

The fighting began in December over constitutional changes advocated by Greek Cypriots and opposed by Turkish Cypriots. The issues appear to have reverted to the old Greek Cypriot demands for union with Greece and counter demands by the Turkish Cypriot minority for partition of the island.

Head Of Kimbell Products Dead

FORT WORTH (AP) — Kay Kimbell, Fort Worth multi-millionaire whose interests ranged from food products to oil and insurance, died at his home early today.

He apparently suffered a heart attack.

A business associate said Kimbell, 77, had been in poor health but able to work.

Besides the wholesale grocery, flour, feed and oil mills and food manufacturing plants which bear his name, Kimbell was active as a director in a number of corporations.

He was a director of Houston Fire and Casualty Insurance Co., Chickasha Cotton Oil Co. and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad.

His interests also included the Graham Mill and Elevator Co. at Graham, Seguin Milling Co. at Seguin, Durant Milling Co. at Durant, Okla., and Texas Milling Co. at Clifton.

Along with his wife, Kimbell was prominent in art circles here. Their collections of paintings is known throughout the country.

Kimbell, at 13, went to work as an office boy for a grain company in Whitewright, where he was born and where he founded Beatrice Milling Co., which grew into Kimbell Milling Co.

He was in business in Whitewright, Wolfe City and Sherman before coming to Fort Worth in 1924.

Burn Victim Continues Fight

A seven-year-old girl, burned over 80 per cent of her body, continues to fight the numerous crises in her life.

Carla Roy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wain Roy, 3203 Avenue R, has undergone three major operations to graft new skin over the burned areas of her body. Each operation has brought on a new crisis for the young girl, who suffered second and third degree burns three weeks ago.

While playing with her 5-year-old sister, the girls saw a small fire in the alley behind their home. The fire spread into their back yard and the girls tried to fight it. In their attempts to extinguish the blaze, Carla's clothing caught fire.

Still in critical condition, Carla may yet have to face another operation to restore other burned skin.
