COUNTY SCRIPT HONORED—Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, county treasurer, is shown exchanging a check for $1.12 on Scurry County to G. D. Gibson, 310 Twenty-fourth Street, for one-dollar's worth of script issued to Gibson in 1935 for holding an election. At that time the county was so broke it could not honor the script, and Gibson tossed it in a desk drawer, in the cellar, where it was found Friday. The extra 12 cents was for interest at the rate of six per cent per year until the script was called in, in 1937. (Lee Watson photograph)

Lebanese Rebels Launch Savage Drive In Beirut

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A savage day-long battle between government forces and rebels swept Beirut Saturday. It was the biggest outbreak of the month-old rebellion here.

Casualties were reported heavy in the fighting that brought artillery and tanks into action. No figures were available.

The rebels apparently launched the drive in a showdown effort to overthrow the pro-Western government of Premier Camille Chamoun. Attempts to seize the presidential palace and the government house were repelled.

The fighting dwindled into sporadic small arms fire and mortar explosions late Saturday night.

Heavy fighting was also reported in Tripoli, the northern port, where antigovernment forces opened their drive by burning the U.S. Information Agency Library May 10.

The rebels filtered out of their stronghold in the Moslem quarter here early in the day and launched a series of attacks.

The first was an attempt to seize Ramel Prison, in the capital's outskirts. Unconfirmed reports said the rebels captured the prison.

The fighting then developed in three main battles, all swirling through the Zarif district, on the edge of the Moslem quarter.

The worst fighting took place around the Basta a Moslem fortress located in the center of the capital, about 300 yards northeast of the Associated Press office.

The presidential palace is 300 yards west. About 150 feet south a similar battle went on intermittently during the day.

It was not known whether Chamoun was inside the heavily fortified presidential palace.

The insurgents barricaded the Zariff area with piles of huge stone blocks and barbed wife.

They emerged from behind one barricade and slipped through narrow alleys and over garden walls, working their way toward the presidential palace.

The rebel advance in that direction made it appear the rebels had launched a desperate attempt to bring down the government before a U.N. team of observers could establish a strong foothold in the country.

The U.N. Security Council ordered the team here earlier in the week in an effort to prevent arms and men from slipping into Lebanon from outside its borders. Lebanon has charged the United Arab Republic with interference in Lebanese internal affairs.

The rebel move had been expected to follow the U.N. step.

The rebels have used Ex-Premier Seab Salam's home as their headquarters for the last 36 days. Salam is the acknowledged leader of the political opposition to Chamoun. Three opposition political parties were declared outlawed Friday in a government drive to crush its foes.

(In Washington, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles said the Middle East situation "looked a little rocky and disturbed" and in answer to a question said the rocky reference applied to Lebanon. Dulles cut short a class reunion visit to Princeton University to return to Washington to confer on the situation.)

Adams Case Based On Facts, Harris Assures

By JACK BELL
and LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) said Saturday his House investigators did not smear Sherman Adams in linking him with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine's troubles with federal agencies.

"We have the facts," Harris told a news conference. However, he stopped short of saying his House subcommittee will prove that Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 aide, influenced any federal agency decisions affecting the interests of Goldfine.

Harris spoke out after two Republican senators — Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Charles E. Potter of Michigan — said they don't want to have to defend the GOP against unrefuted charges that Adams accepted lavish gifts from Goldfine.

The two senators, both running for re-election, indicated they think Adams will be a party liability unless he clears up reports that Goldfine gave him a $700 vicuna coat and a $2,400 Oriental rug, in addition to paying more than $2,000 worth of hotel bills for him.

The White House, and Adams, maintained tight-lipped silence.

Two days ago, however, Adams branded as "unwarranted and unfair" any insinuations that he sought or obtained preferred treatment for Goldfine from two agencies which he acknowledged contacting in Goldfine's behalf.

Adams did not directly attribute such insinuations to Harris' subcommittee, which first aired publicly records showing Goldfine had paid hotel bills for Adams.

Harris said the commerce subcommittee will reopen hearings Monday. The group was set up to look into the operations of the semi-judicial government regulatory agencies.

Harris indicated Adams will not be asked to testify in view of his position as a presidential adviser.

Adams said two days ago he had accepted hotel hospitality from Goldfine, whom he described as an old friend, and had got in touch with federal agencies with which Goldine was having difficulties. But Adams insisted Goldfine got no special treatment as a result.

Since then Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty has refused repeatedly at three successive news conferences to elaborate on Adams' statements, which were made in a letter to a House investigating subcommittee. Adams himself has declined, through Hagerty, to see newsmen.

Democrats laid plans to throw back at the Republicans their own 1952 allegations that there was a "mess in Washington."

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

We've been informed by the Texas Highway Dept. that an error in transmission via press wire services shaved an even $100,000 from the low bid on a road project here. The press services reported that the bid on improvements to Highway 350 in Snyder was $46,659. Actually it was $146,659. The project involved is the widening of the Big Spring Highway from the Deep Creek bridge in Snyder to the Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

• • •

There was more highway news during the week. Bill Lee, new president of the U. S. Highway 180 Association, received word that Texas is ready to go on a merger of U. S. 180 and U. S. 260, and that progress on the proposal has been made in New Mexico and Arizona. The merger would not entail much work, except for changing highway signs on the U. S. 260 portion, since both roads already exist. It would simplify matters for tourists, because they could travel the same route from Fort Worth into Arizona. The booster associations are particularly interested because it would put the Carlsbad Caverns and Grand Canyon on the same route.

Now that Federal approval has been granted, the city plans to settle once and for all the low rent housing question. A public hearing has been set for Aug. 11. At that time a date will be set for an election to let the voters write the final decision.

Snyder schools are still growing in enrollment as well as plant facilities. Trustees heard reports at a recent meeting which revealed that total enrollment at the end of the 1957-58 term was up 150 from the same time last year. The enrollment on the last day of school this year was 3,821.

Scurry County is due to get an assistant agriculture agent. The commissioners court approved the proposal last week, following a conference with members of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee. At present, Scurry is one of the largest counties in the state, farm-wise and population-wise, without an assistant to the county agent.

Two Priests End 5-Year Prison Terms

HONG KONG (AP)—Two U.S. Roman Catholic priests walked out of prison in Red China Saturday after serving full five-year terms on charges of espionage. They were described as cheerful.

The Rev. Joseph P. McCormack, 65, on the Maryknoll Seminary in Ossining, N.Y., and the Rev. Cyril P. Wagner, 51, of Pittsburgh and Chicago, were the last two U.S. priests imprisoned by the Communists.

A third, Bishop James Edward Walsh of Cumberland, Md., has been held under various forms of arrest in Shanghai but has received an exit visa. He has said, however, he wants to work with the people and will not leave unless forced to do so.

Fathers McCormack and Wagner were met by Bishop Walsh after their release.

Bishop Walsh said by telephone from Shanghai that he understood the two priests would board the British ship Changsha, due in Shanghai Wednesday for a trip to Hong Kong and then to the United States. Bishop Walsh said he did not know when the Changsha would leave Shanghai.

"They seemed cheerful and looked fairly well, but a little oldish," Bishop Walsh said.

Lodge Operator Drowns In Tank

Ned W. Sanders, 41-year-old operator of the Lake Thomas Lodge, drowned at about 7:30 p.m. Friday in a stock tank about one-fourth of a mile south of the lake's south shore.

Sanders, his three-year-old son, Bill; an employe, John Carlile; and Carlile's 11-year-old son, Eddie, were at the stock tank seining minnows at the time the accident occurred.

While Sanders' small son waded in the edge of the water, the other three were farther in the water. After making a drag with a minnow net and finding it full of moss and lily pads, they threw the net out on the bank and were swimming across to another bank.

Carlile swam ahead of his son and Sanders, and when he reached the bank he heard Sanders calling for help. Sanders went under the water, Carlile pulled Sanders out of the water, and for 20 to 30 minutes attempted to revive him by artificial respiration.

Jack Dunn, pumper at the Snyder pump station at the lake, was driving around the south side of the lake and was flagged down by Carlile. While Carlile left to call an ambulance, Dunn continued efforts to revive Sanders.

A Bolger ambulance reached the scene after Dunn had tried artificial respiration about 30 minutes longer and took Sanders to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder. Sanders was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

It was not known what caused Sanders to sink, but it was believed he suffered a heart attack, acute indigestion, or another illness while swimming.

Sanders opened Lake Thomas Lodge in May, 1954. The lodge is near the south end of the dam. For a time, his grocery-sporting goods store and cabins made up the only concession at the lake. He and his family lived at the lodge.

Prior to opening the lake concession, Sanders operated a grocery and produce business in Big Spring for several years.

He was born at Lometo, Sept. 3, 1916, and moved to Big Spring in 1938. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the First Presbyterian Church in Big Spring, with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Cemetery at Big Spring under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Doris Sanders; one son, Bill Sanders; one daughter, Nedra Sanders of Sweetwater; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom D. Sanders of Sweetwater.

Cleanup Campaign Set For July 7-11

Snyder's annual cleanup-paintup-fixup campaign was scheduled for July 7-11 at a meeting held Friday afternoon.

Making plans were the health and sanitation committees of the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Meeting with the group were Roy Dunlap, city manager, and Louie Vaughan, newly-appointed city-county sanitarian. Dr. Carl Dillaha heads the chamber committee, and Ernest Sears is head of the Jaycee committee.

The Jaycees will again manage the cleanup campaign, with the aid of other men's civic clubs here in the drive to pick up trash cleaned up by residents.

The main campaign will be conducted during the first three days of that week, when residents will be urged to clean up their property and prepare the trash, tree limbs, etc. cleaned up for the pickup day, which is scheduled for the fourth day.

The Jaycees will handle all promotion of the campaign and manage the pickup drive, while the chamber committee is to attempt to get all other civic clubs here lined up to aid on the pickup day. Each civic club will be assigned an area of the city and is to furnish manpower and equipment to pick up the trash.

Briefly, the chamber committee discussed other projects for the year, including an attempt to coordinate all health and welfare agencies here so those needing aid can get information at one designated location. Dillaha appointed Dr. Clyde Dawson to begin making contacts with agencies concerning that project.

Senate Rejects Knowland's Amendment To Labor Bill

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Saturday night rejected a proposal to permit 20 per cent of a union's members to force a secret vote on removing their officers or revising a union constitution or by-laws.

Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) was sponsor of this amendment to the pending labor control bill. It was defeated 52-31.

Knowland said his amendment was needed to prevent hoodlums and "unscrupulous union bosses" from remaining in control of unions and their big funds without proper accounting.

But Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), the bill's chief sponsor, and Irving M. Ives (R-NY) joined in fighting the Knowland amendment.

Kennedy said the proposal would be "a great mistake for those who believe in stability in union matters."

Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI) shouted, "Its whole intent is to destroy organized labor."

Forty Democrats and 12 Republicans voted against the Knowland amendment while 25 Republicans and 6 Democrats supported it.

Earlier, the Senate defeated an administration proposal to retain a Taft-Hartley Act penalty against unions failing to file required financial reports.

Its rejection by a 53-30 vote was the third major setback for administration supporters trying to bring the labor control bill more in line with recommendations of President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

However, seven lesser administration amendments were approved by voice vote. Democrats dismissed them as of little importance and their Republican sponsor, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), agreed that some of them weren't of any great consequence.

Apart from this, the Senate—in a third straight day of early-starting sessions — adopted by voice vote an amendment to bar unions from loaning more than $1,500 to any officer or member.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the bill, led the fight against Smith's amendment to strip a union failing to file the required financial reports of its right to be certified as a bargaining agent and to use the services of the National Labor Relations Board.

A similar penalty is provided in the Taft-Hartley Act for unions that fail to file less comprehensive reports that law requires.

The pending bill would repeal this provision and would provide instead criminal penalties for union officers failing to file the reports.

Kennedy said the amendment would force rank-and-file union members to pay for the sins of their officers.

As in 1955, the school will be conducted by Robert Humphreys, GOP national campaign director. It will include sessions on radio-TV, direct mail, design of literature, use of polls, organization methods, and fund-raising.

Man Admits Plot To Kidnap Kathy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A three-time loser admitted Saturday that he and an accomplice planned to kidnap the wife of Bing Crosby.

Wilburn E. Davison, 48, formerly of Oklahoma and more recently of Las Vegas, Nev., told sheriff's officers and newsmen that he and his partner planned to abduct actress Kathy Grant Crosby either here or in Palm Springs and hold her for $100,000 ransom.

Davison, arrested here Memorial Day on a robbery charge, told a reporter he conceived the kidnap plot about three months ago.

"I figured Crosby would pay off and wouldn't even miss the money," Davison said. "I mentioned it to Kling (Gene Thorne Kling, 40), and he agreed to it.

"Then I knew I'd have to have a woman to stay with the gal when she was kidnaped. I begun thinking where I could get a woman to do it. Then I went to my old home at Cromwell (Okla.), where I met my niece, who had grown up in the meantime. She is Nicki Snow. She's 19.

"She said she wanted to go back to Vegas with me and get a job as a cocktail waitress. So I took her back to Vegas with me.

"After we got there I told her about the kidnap plan, but she said 'no dice' and went home. . .

"Actually, this kidnap thing never did get past the beer-talk stage . . . about a month ago I read in a magazine—I think it was a movie fan magazine—about Mrs. Crosby being pregnant.

"Then I said 'no dice.' I didn't want to get mixed up in anything like that.

Mrs. Crosby, in Reno, Nev., to judge a beauty contest, Saturday said she hoped it didn't disturb Bing, who is on a fishing trip in the Canadian northwest.

Sheriff's Sgt. Jack Norris said he asked Davison about the kidnap scheme after the sheriff's office here received a call from Sheriff Bill Nicholson of Seminole County, Okla. Nicholson said a 19-year-old girl, apparently Miss Snow, had told him two men let her in on a plan to abduct the famous singer's wife.

The girl said one of the men had threatened her life. And she told newsmen at Wewoka, Okla.:

"I am deathly afraid."

"After we got the call from the Oklahoma sheriff," Sgt. Norris said, "we brought this guy downstairs and he said yes—he was in on the kidnap plan."

Norris said Davison has previous convictions on grand theft auto, armed robbery and forgery.

Greece Pulls NATO Troops

IZMIR, Turkey (AP) — Greece Saturday night recalled all her North Atlantic Alliance personnel based at NATO Southeastern Europe Command headquarters in Izmir.

NATO authorities were not advised in advance of the Greek move.

The Greek government organized an airlift for the evacuation of all military and civilian personnel and their families.

There was no immediate explanation for the move.

Greece and Turkey, both NATO members, are at bitter odds over the Cyprus dispute. Fighting between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot factions has erupted repeatedly on the island this week.

The Greeks want Cyprus joined in political union with Greece. The Turks want the island partitioned between the two island groups. Britain now controls Cyprus.

Turkey and Greece are also allies in the Balkan Pact with Yugoslavia.

No Injuries In Accident

John William Layne, route 1, was shaken up, but uninjured when his pickup truck overturned a half mile west of the Scurry County Airport about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Layne said the pickup overturned after going first off the pavement on the north side of the road, then crossing over to the south side. It landed with all four wheels in the air, and was resting on the hood and front of the car.

Layne, whose left arm was in a cast from a bone fracture, said that he reached over to get a plum out of a sack, and when he looked back at the road the pickup had gone off the pavement.

"When I pulled it back, it went across the pavement and turned over," he said.

It was believed that the pickup was not heavily damaged.

180 Assn. Board To Meet Monday

The board of directors of the U. S. Highway 180 Association will hold a meeting in Snyder tomorrow.

S. 180 from El Paso to Holbrook, Ariz. Both the U. S. 180 Association and the U. S. 260 Association, an organization of businessmen along the route of the proposed extension, are working on the proposal, contacting their state highway engineers.

Reports will be made on the association's sign program at both ends of the route.

Gray Elder, manager of the Snyder chamber, is to make a report on a committee study toward a new travel folder for the association.

The board is to adopt the association budget and membership goals for the year.

Scott, Snyder; Foch Walton, Gail; Hafry Rohner, Lamesa; Joe Svacek, Seminole; N. L. Ruff, Hobbs; Jack White, White City; and J. K. Vinson, El Paso.

OIL ROUNDUP

Commission To Set Allowable Tuesday

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas oil producers learn Tuesday whether the lowest production allowable in the state's history will continue another month.

Indication was that testimony at a proration hearing at Austin will be sharply divided between maintaining the current eight-day schedule and boosting the allowable.

The Railroad Commission has held the allowable at eight days since April 1.

Most major purchasers last month advocated a boost of at least one day for the June allowable. Other companies are expected to join in the request Tuesday when the commission meets to set the July schedule.

Ernest Thompson, senior member of the commission, said recently major purchasers probably will seek greatly increased allowables. Thompson added, however, that there is no wisdom in plunging the industry into overproduction again just because crude and products inventories have been reduced appreciably.

The high level of inventories has carried a major portion of the blame for the Texas allowable being slashed from the 18-day pattern that was in effect when the Suez Canal was reopened to traffic in late March last year.

Despite improvement, crude inventories still are some 10 million barrels above what the industry considers the most desirable working level. Products inventories still are some 50 million barrels above such a level.

Two major Texas purchasers told the commission last month their crude stocks were approaching the desired working level.

Officials of Humble Oil, the Texas affiliate of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), said an eight-day pattern in June would put them below the working level but that they would cooperate with such a schedule. They said the company in May had been withdrawing from 65,000 to 70,000 barrels a day from storage.

Spokesmen for Gulf Oil said their company had been withdrawing about 25,000 barrels a day from storage and would have its crude stocks at about the proper level by July 1.

Gulf recommended an eight-day schedule for June, but Humble, Atlantic Refining and Cities Service sought nine. Indiana, Shell, Magnolia and Sinclair wanted 10 days. The Texas Co. 11 days. Standard Oil Co. of Texas, an affiliate of Standard of California, suggested a June pattern of 12 or 13 days.

Since the end of the Suez crisis Texas crude production has dropped from a record 3,333,000 barrels a day the week of March 22, 1957, to last week's daily average of 2,268,300.

232 Oil Well Completions Last Week

AUSTIN (AP)— The Railroad Commission reported Saturday 232 oil well completions last week making a total of 6,146 for the year compared to 7,394 in 1957.

There were 63 gas well completions and 132 dry holes.

Wildcats included five oil producers and one gas well, plus 83 dry holes.

The 195 wells plugged included 35 oil wells and eight gas wells.

Total average calendar day allowable today was 2,483,053 compared to 2,471,716 June 7.

Borden Discovery Is Completed

A discovery well in Borden County has been finaled eight miles northeast of Gail.

It is Harper & Huffman of Midland No. 1 Frank Miller, which was completed for a daily flowing potential of 242 barrels of 38 gravity oil, cut 10 per cent basic sediment and water.

Production was through a 12-64-inch choke and from open hole between 8,505-20 feet. Gas-oil ration was 340-1. Tubing pressure was 125 pounds; casing pressure, 390 pounds.

The project is 660 feet from the north and west lines of 1-30-5n-T&P.

Sixth Pennsylvanian producer and location east extension to a recently completed 1¼-mile southeast extension to the U Lazy-S Pennsylvanian and Ellenburger field of Borden County has been indicated with the flowing of oil on a drillstem test at Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Doyce Waddell, in 23-30-6n-T&P eight miles north of Gail.

On the 30-minute drillstem test in the Strawn between 8,307-340 feet, gas surfaced in four minutes, mud in eight minutes and oil in nine minutes. It flowed to pits to clean for one minute, then flowed 28 barrels of 40.2 gravity oil. Reversed out was 26 barrels of oil. Recovery below the circulating sub was 180 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. Flowing pressure was 2,440-3,445 pounds; 30-minute shut-in pressure, 3,573 pounds.

The project, scheduled to 8,500 feet, was drilling below 8,354 feet.

Two Sharon Ridge Projects Staked

French M. Robertson of Abilene staked two projects in the Sharon Ridge Field of southern Scurry County.

No. 2 J. M. Irby will be an 1,800-foot rotary project three and a half miles southeast of Ira, spotting 330 feet from the south and east lines of Section 118, Block 97, H&TC Survey.

No. 2 Sterling will be a 2,500-foot rotary project three miles west of Ira spotting 990 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south lines of Section 130, Block 97, H&TC Survey.

Garza Prospector Is Shutin

Shell Oil Co. No. 1-CD Slaughter, in 43-2-T&NO, assured Ellenburger discovery and indicated ½-mile north extension and second Strawn producer in the Happy (Strawn) field of Garza County, 13 miles south of Post, was shut in for storage after flowing 145 barrels of oil, no water, in three hours from Ellenburger open hole.

Flow was through a choke of unreported size and open hole between 8,259-8,311 feet.

Earlier, it flowed 182 barrels of oil, cut nine-tenths of 1 per cent basic sediment and water, through a 24-64-inch choke from the Ellenburger open hole.

Operator then acidized the open hole with 500 gallons and it flowed 47 barrels of oil, cut 20 per cent basic sediment, in one hour.

The project indicated Strawn production with the flowing of 19.2 barrels of 37.3 gravity oil, cut 2 per cent basic sediment in 70 minutes of a straddle-packer test between 8,033-040 feet.

Practicing architecture in West Texas for a number of years, he has had experience in design of public buildings, schools, churches, commercial buildings, and residences. A high school which he designed is now under construction at O'Brien. The $180,000 building has 10 classrooms, science laboratory, library, cafetorium, and gymnasium.

At Least 18 Congressmen In Texas Assured Reelection

By ROBERT E. FORD
The Associated Press

Texas will return at least 18 of its 22 members of the House of Representatives to Washington, a survey showed Saturday. That many House members have no opposition in the Democratic primaries or the general election.

In addition, Lyndon Johnson's Senate term does not expire until 1961. Sen. Ralph Yarborough is opposed by former Sen. William Blakley for the other Senate post. Roy Whittenburg of Amarillo will be the GOP Senate candidate in the general election.

One of those not returning will be the veteran Martin Dies, who is Texas' congressman-at-large. The Legislature abolished that designation and for the first time Texas will have a 22nd district—at Houston. Dies is not seeking office.

For the new Houston post, four persons jumped into the Democratic primary race. In addition, a Republican will be a candidate in the general election for that district.

Republicans have three congressional candidates. In addition to T. E. Kennerly running in the 22nd District, Joseph Ross of Rusk is a candidate in the 7th District, and Bruce Alger, the only Republican in the Texas congressional delegation, is seeking re-election.

Alger's race in the Dallas district probably will be the most torrid of all the House contests. It already has produced fireworks, with Grover Cantrell, an admitted "Stevenson Republican" and a union leader, successfully filing against Alger. Cantrell's campaign workers say he will stage a vigorous campaign.

One effect of Cantrell's presence in the Republican primary will be to prevent any conservative Republicans crossing over lines to vote for a conservative in the Democratic primary. They will have to remain in the Republican column to prevent Alger, a conservative, from being defeated by Cantrell.

At the same time, liberal Democrats will be unable to cross to the Republican primary and vote for Cantrell. That might cost them control of the precinct coeventions, which in turn may have a bearing on the selection of the Democratic presidential nominee in 1960.

The Democratic primary in Dallas for a candidate to oppose Alger or Cantrell has three candidates. They are State Rep. Joe Pool, State Rep. Barefoot Sanders, and James Shepard, an appliance salesman.

Democrats in the 22nd District primary in Houston are County Judge Bob Casey, City Controller Roy Oakes, Rolland Bradley, and George Eddy.

Houston has another district—the 8th—where Rep. Albert Thomas is unopposed.

The other two opposed incumbents are Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater and John Dowdy of Athens. Wright Patman of Texarkana had an announced candidate, Douglas Horn of Hughes Springs, but Horn did not pay his filing fee.

Beckworth is opposed by Fred Hudson, Panola and Shelby counties' district attorney. Dowdy faces E. A. Stanfield of Lufkin in the Democratic primary, and the winner will face Ross, the Republican candidate in the general election.

Those unopposed and their district number are:

1. Patman, Texarkana; 2. Jack Brooks, Beaumont; 4. Sam Rayburn, Bonham; 6. Olin Teague, College Station; 8. Albert Thomas, Houston; 9. Clark Thompson, Galveston; 10. Homer Thornberry, Austin; 11. W. R. Poage, Waco; 12. Jim Wright, Weatherford; 13. Frank Ikard, Wichita Falls; 14. John Young, Corpus Christi; 15. Joe Kilgore, McAllen; 16. J. T. Rutherford, Odessa; 17. Omar Burleson, Anson; 18. Walter Rogers, Pampa; 19. George Mahon, Lubbock; 20. Paul Kilday, San Antonio; and 21. O. C. Fisher, San Angelo.

Senate Faces Five Big Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas put senators on notice Saturday that five important bills will be called up for action as soon as the pending major labor measure is completed.

The measures:

1. The House-approved bill to grant statehood to Alaska.

2. A House-passed extension of corporate and excise taxes which expire June 30.

3. A Senate bill to create a new civilian space agency, differing widely from administration requests and a House-passed bill.

4. A bill for sharing atomic secrets with other countries, cleared by the Senate - House Atomic Committee.

5. A bill authorizing a long list of waterway projects, replacing one previously vetoed by President Eisenhower.

Why Catholics
Believe As They Do

People on the outside often wonder why Catholics keep "running" to church.

And many of them erroneously conclude that this devotion is prompted by fear rather than faith, and by a sense of obligation rather than a spirit of piety and zeal.

"Catholics," they have heard it said, go to church because they are obliged to do so. The priests keep telling them it is a sin if they don't ... that they risk eternal damnation if they don't obey the Church. Catholicism is a religion of fear."

It may be possible to "fool all of the people some of the time." But is it not unbelievable that literally billions of people could have been deceived over a period of nearly 2,000 years? Could Catholicism have held the loyalty of eminent philosophers, scientists and other intellectuals down through the centuries if all it offered was a doctrine of fear and superstition?

No, your Catholic neighbor does not go to Mass and Confession and participate in other religious devotions merely because of an obligation imposed by the Church. It is, he believes, an obligation imposed upon him by God, and it isn't fear, but the desire to serve God that prompts his religious life.

Religion to a Catholic is not merely a worthy and virtuous activity. It is an absolute duty. It is, we believe, the means provided by God for the fulfillment of the God-given purpose of our lives. It is the channel through which we acknowledge our utter dependence upon God, and by means of which we give expression to our love, faith and gratitude.

Catholics believe further that we must honor God in the way revealed through his true Son, Jesus Christ, Who commanded that we "...hear the Church." We believe that Christ established the Catholic Church and that it bears all the distinguishing marks which Christ said His Church would bear. We accept the teachings of the Catholic Church, therefore, because we believe that it is Christ's Church. It isn't fear or superstition that impels us to do this, but clear historical fact and our own reason and intelligence.

If you would like to know all about the basic Catholic beliefs... and the solid reasons behind them ...write today for our free pamphlet. It will be sent in a plain wrapper and nobody will call on you. Nearly two million people have written in for pamphlets like this ...and found enrichment for their spiritual lives. CRMWD Board's Panels Selected Committee appointments for the board of directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District were announced Friday by Robert T. Piner, Big Spring, president.

Piner made the appointments following his re-election at a board meeting held in Big Spring on Thursday. Other officers elected at that time were Charles Perry, Odessa, first vice president, Lyle Deffebach, Snyder, second vice president; Joe Pickle, Big Spring, secretary-treasurer.

The board discussed at length the problem of when and how to supply additional water to the City of Odessa for peaking purposes. Additional studies of the problem are being made and Piner indicated that a subsequent meeting of the board may be called to consider reports resulting from the studies.

Delivery of approximately 8,000,000 gallons of water a day from Lake J. B. Thomas to Odessa is being accomplished with no more than the ordinary amount of "bugs" connected with the starting of a new operation, E. V. Spence, general manager, told the board. This means that the water is being pumped 750 feet uphill over a distance of 94 miles, he said.

Committee appointments include:

Finance — Charles B. Perry, chairman, Lyle Deffebach, and R. W. Currie, Big Spring.

Land — R. L. Cook, Big Spring, chairman; P. C. Harbour, Odessa, and Lyle Deffebach.

Recreation — R. L. Cook, chairman; Malven K. Stevenson, Snyder, and P. C. Harbour.

Water Rates — J. L. Rhoades, Odessa, chairman; Dr. John Blum, Snyder, and H. W. Wright, Big Spring.

Texas Electric Service Contract Study — Charles Perry, chairman; W. J. Ely, Snyder, and H. W. Wright.

Budget — Charles Perry, chairman; Lyle Deffebach and R. W. Currie.

Retirement Trust — Robert T. Piner, E. V. Spence, W. H. Ross (employe representative) Charles B. Perry (trustee).

Construction (1958 bond issue) — W. E. Bruce, Odessa, chairman; J. L. Rhoades, Dr. John Blum and W. J. Ely. This is a new committee whose purpose it will be to observe construction progress and report to the board.

An Ayrshire cow owned by Frank Lindley of Snow Camp, S. C., has produced 102,403 pounds of milk in ten years, says the National Ayrshire Breeders' Assn. This would supply a family with four quarts of milk per day for 33 years.

Stock Market Ends Week With Spurt

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made a slow start this week but finished with a sprint to new peaks for 1958.

It was the market's fourth straight weekly advance and its best in three weeks.

Trading, while heavy, was a bit below the previous week. A total of 13,205,380 shares changed hands, making a daily average of 2,641,076, well above par for this year.

The advance brought the market through a difficult resistance area, represented by the level of 470 in the Dow, Jones average. By the end of the week this average stood at a new 1958 high of 474.77.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was at a fresh peak for this year of $174.30, having risen $1.20. The AP average was at its highest point since last Sept. 4.

The market was helped along by an assortment of favorable news which affected, in turn, the coppers, rails, oils and tobaccos. Steels and shipbuilding issues had less encouraging news to reckon with and didn't do so well.

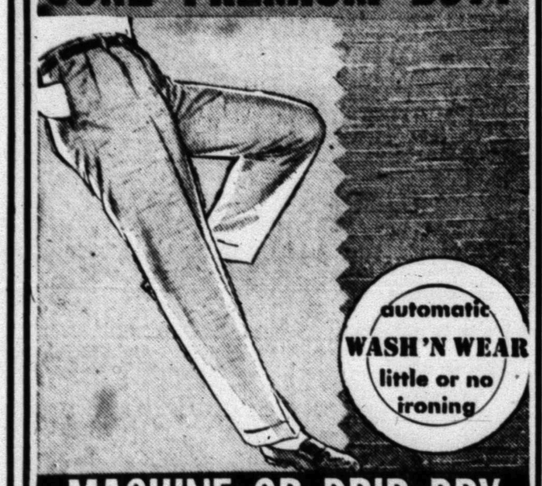

As the trading week ended, the stock market had some fine economic news to look at. The nation's industrial production index had its first upturn since June 1957. Housing starts went past the one million annual rate for the first time since January. Freight carloadings were at their best since early December.

More new freight cars were placed in operation by U.S. railroads in 1957 than in any of the past 30 years with the exception of 1948.

OUR VIEW

Cleaning Hound's Teeth

Harry S. Truman, now vacationing in Europe, probably has plenty of memories to reflect upon as he reads news dispatches from the United States these days.

Some nine years ago, members of his "official family" were under fire for accepting gifts of such items as home freezer units, mink coats, etc., from individuals and firms which were dealing with the federal government.

When the smoke cleared, it was generally assumed, at least by the public, that such practices were in poor taste, at best. Moreover, it was generally assumed by the public that officials in Washington had been taught a lesson—one that would impress their immediate successors and possibly, in the pages of history books, those who would hold similar positions in the distant future.

Now, reporters in Washington are pointing to the Sherman Adams case as a striking parallel to that of Gen. Harry Vaughn in 1949. As the president's chief aide, Mr. Adams is regarded by many as one of the most powerful men in the nation's capital. As Mr. Truman's Army Aide, Gen. Vaughn was a man of no mean influence during his tenure in the official family.

Gen. Vaughn said he accepted a freezer unit because it came from a "dear old personal friend."

Mr. Adams, through the White House press secretary, said the same thing about $2,000 in hotel bills which were paid for him by Bernard Goldfine, an industrialist. Like Gen. Vaughn's "dear old personal friends," Mr. Goldfine had been having truck with the Federal Government.

At this writing, neither Mr. Adams nor Mr. Goldfine has confirmed or denied a report that a $700 coat and $2,400 oriental rug were involved, over and above the hotel fee.

Getting back to Harry S. Truman, there was one action during his administration which probably provides a ray of hope for the public. Mr. Truman himself cannot claim all credit for it, although it had his vigorous support. Anyway, the head of the "official family" cannot remain in office longer than two terms.

That gives us an opportunity to get an executive administration "clean as a hound's tooth," every eight years.

Cliburn Plays For 30 Hours

NEW YORK (AP) — Harvey Levan Cliburn, the tall, lean Texan with 10 talented trigger fingers strode listlessly into the bar and called for a drink.

The cash register in front of the grimy mirror read $1.55. Van, as the blond curly-haired giant is known along the concert trail, did not alter the reading. He politely asked for water and downed a glassful in one long satisfying gulp.

"All right," he drawled, planting a kiss on his mother's forehead, "let's get to it."

"Ho-kay....good luck," answered Kiril P. Kondrashin, his faithful sidekick.

Arm in arm, they marched out to meet an unfamiliar fate.

Despite the barroom trappings and the steadily mounting tension, Van Cliburn, newest idol of the music world, was not making his first Western movie. Instead, he was making the first record album of his career.

But the undercurrent of melodrama was there all the same. It was high noon at the keyboard for the 23-year-old pianist who had taken Moscow by storm and lifted American cultural prestige by winning first place in the international Tchaikovsky piano competition.

After slaving and sweating for 17 years to become an overnight sensation, Van Cliburn had come face to face with his future. The music that he would play this day would live long after the last note had died in the corners of the near empty hall. It might, if all went well, long outlive him and his contemporaries.

To many artists, no matter how gifted or experienced, a first recording can be even more terrifying than a concert debut.

Shedding his coat and tossing it over a chair, Van Cliburn stretched his long legs under the yawning concert grand, rippled off a few warmup scales and then settled back on the bench with his armed folded across his chest awaiting the red light standby signal.

Conductor Kondrashin mounted a wooden platform before the 110-piece Symphony of the Air.

When Kondrashin brought down his baton, Van Cliburn swooped down on the keyboard like a giant condor and out tumbled the opening movement of Tchaikovsky's Concerto No. 1 in B Flat Minor for Piano and Orchestra, one of the selections that earned him the gold medal in Moscow.

The Van Cliburn sessions began on a weekday morning in a combination ballroom and theater on the eighth floor of the Manhattan Center, located on the fringes of the bustling garment district.

The orchestra, seated on camp chairs, was arranged in a semi-circle near the middle of the dance floor. Van Cliburn was separated somewhat from the orchestra by six huge plywood partitions, 15 feet high and spaced to allow a small opening so he could watch the conductor.

The atmosphere of shirt sleeved informality gave the pianist a chance to relax in mid-concerto. During the long orchestral passages of the second and third movement, he slumped forward and with head in hands rested his elbows on the frontpiece of the piano, somewhat like a vaudeville pianist waiting for the comedian to finish his routine.

After playing through the entire score twice, Van Cliburn returned to the adjoining barroom and listened to a playback of his morning's work. The opening passages lit up his face in a smile, but after that came only scowls and grimaces and some heated whispering with Kondrashin, who conducted the prize-winning Moscow concert.

Meg Displays Her Moods At Parties

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret sat down before the keyboard of the highly polished grand piano.

Her fingers found a very adult blue chord.

She rolled her big blue eyes, described in some quarters as the most beautiful in England.

Slowly, she warmed up an ancient spiritual, softly humming the harmony.

The mood changed quickly as she passed into the sad minor notes of a traditional Russian song.

"Ah, moi Magulchnie, moi pulozhnie, moi vasnotchky."

"My god," gasped a debutante, "she even knows Russian."

The princess sounded Russian all right. As Russian as a Kremlin chime. Or a silver tea pot clinking against a samovar.

That was the trick. The music was Russian. And she played it professionally. But the words definitely were not Russian.

It sounded like a melancholy lament from the banks of the turgid Volga.

But it still was not Russian.

The guests at the small (16 people) dinner party filled the candle-lit room with warm applause.

The impersonation was as deft as a pro's. Not overdone. Not underdone. Right on the slick chick's nose.

"Ma'am," said a young exguard's officer, one of her friends. "That was wonderful. Won't you—?" he lifted an eyebrow.

The princess wouldn't, thank you. She'd done her party piece and had done it extremely well. Better than anyone who has never heard her play and sing could imagine.

Among her many accomplishments is a sure sense of timing. She knows when to quit — just when they are begging for more.

"Why not dance?" she suggested.

Hostesses who entertain the Queen of England's 27 - year - old sister—and the list is exclusively small—must follow a rigidly prescribed set of rules.

Before any party, meal or gathering, a list of every other guest must be submitted to Clarence House, the London home the princess shares with the Queen Mother.

And woe to the hostess who tries to run in a late starter.

The hostesses know their other guests will talk to the princess about many subjects, but they will never be personal. They'd better not be.

London still talks of the unfortunate woman who asked Margaret:

"And, how is your sister?"

The princess looked her up and down.

"I presume," she said icily, "you mean Her Majesty the Queen."

When hostesses roll up the carpet for dancing, they know Margaret likes sambas, rumbas and rock 'n' roll. Never waltzes, though.

They are also familiar with her table preferences. She prefers game, fish and poultry to roast beef and mutton. She likes rare steaks and roast duck.

Day Is Seen When Men Are Obsolete

LONDON (AP) — Let's face it, men. Mother Nature may be conspiring to make us obsolete.

The male of the species may be supplanted by what we can only describe as nasty, sneaking, treacherous little parasites.

Women will have children with positively no help from the opposite sex. All children will be girls, who will be able to have additional children—all girls.

The male will become redundant, unnecessary, a drug on the market, and a nuisance around the house. In due course, since all babies will be female, men will no longer exist.

For the first warning of disaster the men—while they last—are indebted to a Dutchman, A. Stolk, of the Histological Laboratory, Free University, Amsterdam.

Stolk sounded the tocsin in an article in the high-domed British science magazine 'Nature.' His article is called "Pathological Parthenogenesis In Viviparous Toothcarps."

Sound innocent. Don't be deceived. This is dynamite.

The viviparous toothcarp, as everyone knows, is a fish that gives birth to living young. Parthenogenesis is the development of young from unfertilized eggs.

Stolk was reporting on the strange behavior of three female toothcarps, two of the species lebistes reticulatus and one of the species xiphophorus Helleri Heckel.

In each case the female was isolated immediately after birth from any contact with male toothcarps. Never ever saw one.

Yet within 18 months the female toothcarps gave birth to 22, 14, and 28 babies respectively—all females.

Stolk concluded that the births resulted from an infection with a fish parasite known as ichthyophonus Hoferi Plehn-Mulsow. The tiny intruder provided the artificial stimulus.

Parthenogenesis is nothing new. But Stolk says we have something different here: birth resulting from a natural ailment on the part of the mother. Describing this as "pathological parthenogenesis," he conclued:

"Pathological parthenogenesis may be regarded as a form of artificial parthenogenesis effected not so much by experimental intervention as by nature itself."

Bolt Shoots 69 And 72 To Take National Open Crown

By WILL GRIMSLEY

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tommy Bolt, a tought ex-army sergeant and man of alternating peace and violent emotions, won the 58th National Open Golf Championship with a remarkable self and shot control Saturday. He shot rounds of 69 and 72 for a 72-hole score of 283.

The jut-jawed Southwesterner, 39, born in Oklahoma and reared in Louisiana, crushed the hopes of South Africa's young Gary Player with a staggering streak of birdies in the morning and then snuffed out the late-coming challenge of Gene Littler.

Player, the 22-year-old precisionist from Johannesburg, finished four strokes back of the new champion with rounds of 73 and 71 for 287.

Player in second place was followed by Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N. C., who had final rounds of 72-71 for 289. Littler took a final 76 for 290 and fourth place. Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Mich., and Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, tied at 291.

The defending champion, Dick Mayer, closed with a 78 and a score of 299 which put him well down the list.

Other bids faded one by one through a day of 100-degree temperatures. But Southern Hills' 6,907-yard, par 70 course played easier than the first two days and there were six scores under par, including a 68 by Don January of Eastland, Tex.

Littler, the comeback kid from El Cajon, Calif., surged out of nowhere with a brilliant three-under-par 67 in the morning to move within three strokes of Bolt, but his bid died in a graveyard of bogeys in the sweltering afternoon sun as Bolt surged home.

Other bids faded one by one through a day when temperatures reached 100 and Southern Hills' 6,907-yard course and 35-35 — 70 par took on a nightmarish hue in the latter stages of the gruelling 36-hole windup.

Ben Hogan, seeking a record fifth Open victory with an aching left wrist, fell out of contention early and was followed by Frank Stranahan, Julius Boros, Charles Coe and Labron Harris, who were in pressing position entering the final day.

Jimmy Demaret, playing in his 15th Open, found conditions so tough he withdrew after shooting an 81 in the morning round.

Bolt led each of the four rounds, becoming the first since Hogan at Oakmont in 1953 to make every pole a winning one.

The man who has been called "the Terrible, Tempered Mister Bolt" and who has accused galleries of being against him, got a tremendous ovation from the wall of people around him when he sank a four-foot putt for his par on the final hole. The crowd was estimated at close to 20,000.

Tommy doffed his brown straw hat and waved gaily to the crowd. He chattered away with newsmen as he strode to the clubhouse where an $8,000 first-prize check awaited him.

Bolt in one breath has said, "I am a man of peace" and in the next has bitterly attacked newsmen. Over a period of years — during which there were failures and frustrations—he has built up a reputation as a club thrower.

But Tommy says recently he acquired an inner peace which has steadied his game and turned him from a great golfer with an inclination toward playoffs into a steady champion.

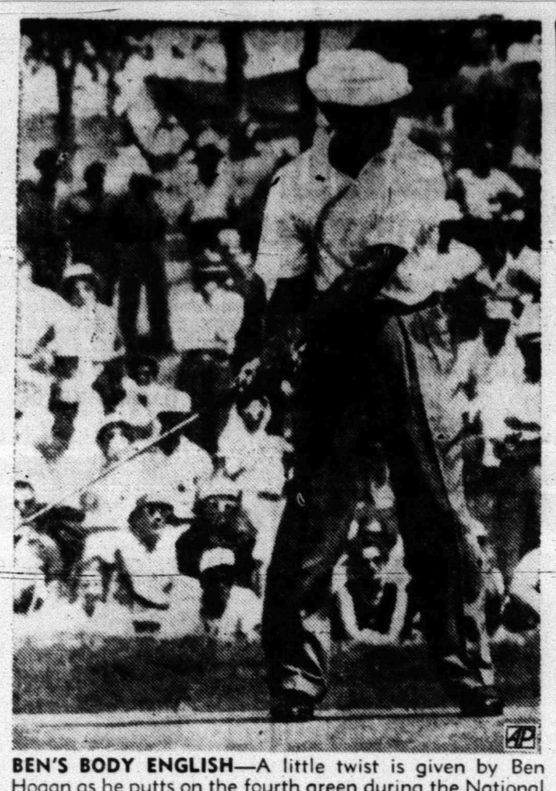

Bolt won the championship with a relentless surge in the morning round which saw him play six of seven holes in a row in 3s, mainly on the strength of some phenomenal putting.

Starting at the ninth, where he sank a 15— foot putt, he went 3-3-3-5-3-3. He sank one from six feet on the tenth, four feet on the 12th and eigt feet on the 14th and 15th.

Littler, 27, national amateur champion in 1953 and runnerup to lame - armed Ed Furgol for the Open crown in 1954, made a powerful move in the morning round, but weariness and pressure finally brought him down.

On his morning round, the best of the tournament, he had only 27 putts—nine under regulation—and sank assignments from 10 to 25 feet. The 25-footer came on the 378-yard 10th hole.

Bolt thus becomes one of the most controversial and colorful of our golf champions, a throwback to the twenties and thirties when the game had less inhibitions. He probably is the most colorful since the flamboyant Walter Hagen.

BEN'S BODY ENGLISH—A little twist is given by Ben Hogan as he putts on the fourth green during the National Open Golf Tournament at Tulsa. Hogan did the natural thing—applying body Engish—as the ball rolled toward the cup. (AP Wirephoto)

Davis Sets 440 Record

By JACK STEVENSON

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Ohio State's versatile speedster Glenn Davis cracked the world record in the 440-yard dash and Irish star Ron Delany of Villanova scored a smashing double in the 880 and mile Saturday at the 37th annual NCAA track and field meet.

Tempe, Arizona State's Alex Henderson from Sydney, Australia, also bettered his own American two-mile record while six of the 14 NCAA meet records fell.

Davis also holds the world record for the 400-meter hurdles, set at 49.5 in Los Angeles, July 29, 1956.

Davis, who won the Olympic 400-meter hurdles, flashed ahead of Eddie Southern of Texas to win the quarter-mile in 45.7 seconds, one - tenth better than the world mark set by Jim Lea of the Air Force in 1956 and tied by Davis in the Big Ten meet this spring.

Ireland's Delany, who won the Olympic 1500-meter gold medal, scored brilliant come-from-behind victories in his two races. In the mile he set a new NCAA record of 4:03.5, bettering the 4:03.7 by Wes Santee of Kansas in 1953.

An hour later he surged from last in a field of nine half-milers to win in 1:48.6.

The crowd of 16,000 at the University of California's Edwards Field saw NCAA standards lowered in the 220-yard dash around a turn, the 220-yard low hurdles around a turn and the javelin throw. Sunny weather with little wind prevailed.

Ed Collymore, Villanova, took the 220 in 20.7, a tenth faster than the NCAA record established Friday by Ohio University's Les Carney, who didn't place Saturday.

Charlie Tidwell of Kansas toured the low hurdles in 22.7, the fastest time ever registered for the race around a curve. It broke the old NCAA record of 23 flat by Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace in 1946.

John Fromm of Pacific Lutheran College at Tacoma, Wash., bettered his javelin record of 248 feet, 1 inch, as he won with 257-1.

Southern California, banned from last year's meet because of illegal aid to athletes penalties, came back to capture its 20th team title.

The Trojans compiled 48 6-7 points to 40¾ for runnerup Kansas and 33¾ for defending champion Villanova. San Jose State had 20 3-7, Winston - Salem Teachers 20, Illinois 17¾ and Ohio State 17.

Davis, Tidwell and Henderson all bettered the American record for their events.

Individual winners included Ellas Gilbert of Winston - Salem, N.C., Teachers, with 13.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles, Ira Murchison of Western Michigan with 9.5 in the 100-yard dash, Dave Davis of Southern Cal with 58 feet, 6 inches in the shot put, Rink Babka of USC and Al Oerter of Kansas, tied in the discus at 186-2, Ernie Shelby of Kansas with 25-3¼ in the broad jump, Don Stewart of Southern Methodist, defending his high jump title with 6-9½ to beat world record holder Charley Dumas.

Four pole vaulters tied for first at 14-4—Jim Johnston of Purdue, Bob Davis of Missouri, Dan Lyons of Ohio tate and Gene Frudenthal of Southern Cal.

Delany gave the big crowd its first thrill as he overtook Jim Grelle of Oregon, Gail Hodgson of Oklahoma and co-favorite Don Bowden of California to win the mile. The others finished in that order with respective times of 4:04.8, 4:04.9 and 4:06.9.

Bowden, only U.S. runner to break four minutes, set the pace for 3½ laps, then faltered.

America's Hold On Wightman Cup Is Ended By Schoolgirl

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Christine Truman, a 17-year-old Amazonian schoolgirl, overpowered tennis queen Althea Gibson in a startling upset Saturday as Britain smashed America's 28-year hold on the Wightman Cup, four matches to three.

The honor of clinching Britain's first cup championship since 1930 went to Ann Haydon, who scored her country's fourth point in the next-to-last match of the seven-match, two-day competition with a 6-3, 5-7, 6-3 singles victory over Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif.

The United States got its last point in a meaningless, concluding doubles match as Miss Gibson and Janet Hopps of Seattle defeated Ann Shilcock and Pat Ward, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

But the six-foot, 170-pound Miss Truman, who swept both her singles assignments and shared in a third point in doubles, triggered the upset.

Following up her brilliant play in Friday's opening program, Miss Truman shrugged off a first set loss and simply overwhelmed Miss Gibson—the defending Wimbledon and U. S. champion—2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Her victory came at the crucial point in the series. Veteran Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N. Y., had moments before squared the competition at 2-2 with a surprise triumph over Shirley Bloomer in the opening singles.

Christine's shocker made it 3-2 for Britain and Miss Haydon, only 19 and better known as a table tennis star, took it from there for the clincher in a raggedly-played match with Miss Arnold.

Even the clinching victory was an anticlimax for the crowd of 5,000, which roared throughout the thrilling Truman-Gibson duel.

Althea, who scored America's only first day point with a 6-3, 6-4 decision over Miss Bloomer, swept through the first set Saturday with hardly any effort. In the second set, Miss Truman abandoned the baseline tactics that worked so well in her singles and doubles matches Friday and began rushing.

She broke Miss Gibson's service in the second game, held her own in the first and third and, leading 3-0, had the tall, gangling ace from New York's Harlem on the devensive.

In the third set, Christine broke Althea's service in the fifth game for a 3-2 lead but lost her serve in the sixth. Tied at 4-4, the powful English girl scored the key break in the ninth game, then beat Miss Gibson with a sizzling passing shot in the tenth after double faulting at her first match point.

Scott Defeated In C-City Tournament

Donald Ray Scott, recent winner of the Snyder Invitational Tournament, was eliminated in the first round of the Colorado City Inivitational Tournament Saturday.

James Pritchett of Midland edged Scott, 1-up, in the first round match play Saturday morning.

Scott was Snyder's lone entry in the Championship Flight.

Six other Snyder golfers, however, were entered in the tournament and only one survived the first two rounds of play Saturday.

C. A. Likes, in the Third Flight, won over G. Furlow of Loraine, 1-up, and Paul Galbreath of Colorado City, 4-3, in his two matches Saturday.

Max Milam and Cecil McClatchey in the First Flight and Hal Battle in the Second Flight won their first round matches Saturday morning but were eliminated in the second round.

Milam beat J. C. Davis of Midland, 1-up, in the first round but lost to Sam Coker of Midland in the second round, 3-2. McClatchey beat Bill Rice of Sweetwater, 4-3, in the first round and then fell by the wayside in the second round to Clyde Southworth of Sweetwater, 3-2.

Battle defeated George Allison of Sweetwater, 3-2, in the first round before losing to James Hall of Colorado City, 2-1.

Two other Snyder golfers were outsted in the first round of the First Flight. R. B. Vandiver bowed to Clyde Southworth of Sweetwater, 6-5, and Perry Cloud lost to Bob Monarch of Houston, 2-1.

Bill Craig of Colorado City will meet Frank Mackey of Midland in one semi-final match of the Championship Flight Sunday morning with Lanier Wilson of Denton meeting Johnny Grubbs of Colorado City in the other match.

Chicago Cubs Turn Back Redlegs, 4-3

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs used two new pitchers, starter Johnny Briggs and Bill Henry, who worked in relief, on Cincinnati Saturday and their combined efforts turned back the Redlegs, 4-3, before a Ladies' Day turnout of 22,552.

Briggs, who exited in the fifth after the Redlegs rose to a 3-3 tie, yielded five hits. The left-handed Henry gave up only two in the final four and two-thirds innings to gain his first National League triumph.

Briggs was recalled from Fort Worth of the Texas League during this week. Henry was purchased from Portland of the Pacific Coast League.

Victim of the Cubs' 10 hit offensive was Bob Purkey, an eight-time winner who suffered his second loss. Purkey also had a five game winning streak snapped.

Indians Rout Sens, 10-2

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herb Score, pitching three blazing innings of relief, made his first appearance in more than six weeks Saturday as the Cleveland Indians exploited feeble Washington hurling for a 10-2 victory.

By annihilating the Senators, the Indians jumped from sixth to fourth place in the American League.

Score, sidelined by a sore arm since April 30, looked as strong as ever as he blanked Washington over the last three innings.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IN MOST SPORTS A SCHOOL that is fortunate enough to win its district title and advance into the post-season playoffs makes money in so doing.

But such isn't the case in baseball.

In fact, the farther you go in the baseball play-offs the more you go in the red."

This situation could be remedied, though, with a better playoff arrangement.

We say do away with the state tournament and let the schools reaching the playoffs go through the same playoff routine as in football maybe with the exception of playing two-out-of-three game series instead of one game.

The state tournament means nothing to Austin fans unless there happens to be an Austin team in the tourney. It isn't often that an Austin team makes it to the state tournament although this year the Austin Maroons did make it and not only that they won the state 4A championship.

There are two reasons why we think the TIL should do away with the state tournament: (1) for financial reasons; (2) one-game "sudden death" playoffs isn't the best method in determining a "true champion.

Taking No. 1, the gate receipts taken in at the state tournament will just about pay off the umpires, gate keepers and other personnel working the games, leaving virtually nothing for the competing teams.

The "take" by the tournament teams this year may be more than usual since Austin made a good showing in the tournament. At this writing Snyder High School had not received any rebate from Austin for the Tigers' appearance in this year's tournament.

As for No. 2, baseball is a sport that requires a series to determine the actual strength of a team. At least a two-out-of three game series should be played at each playoff level right on down the line to the state championship.

More interest, we believe, would be generated from this arrangement, than the state tournament setup. Not only would it come nearer determining the "true" champion, it would give the schools a better chance to make expenses.

Series Determines 'True' Champion

The way it is now, very few fans from the competing schools are able to see their favorite sons play in the state tournament because of the distance they must travel.

A series on a home-and-home basis would give fans of the four competing teams a chance to see their boys play in state semi-finals and in the case of the two winners, the state finals.

There is only one drawback to this arrangement but it probably would be worked out if the TIL saw fit to change the playoff system. (Don't hold your breath, though, until they do it.)

We're speaking of the facilities to take care of big crowds. Many schools, including Snyder, are not fixed to charge for games. Snyder can handle a crowd of 2,000 or more by playing at Towle Park but, as you know, the county has a policy that no one using the park can charge admission.

We're not rapping the county's policy, either.

We sincerely believe that if we had had the right kind of facilities that Syder and South San Antonio would have drawn at least 2500 fans, if not more, for their state semi-finals this year.

And the same probably would have applied when the two met at San Antonio.

The way it is now the schools eliminated in the district round have a better chance of breaking even financially than the district champs.

With this yarn we're checking out for a couple of weeks for a vacation. But stick around, we have lined up some fans here to fill in this space while we're gone and we know you'll enjoy what they have to say.

Paris Man Defeats New Yorker For Title

DEAUVILLE, France (AP) — Henri de Lamaze of Paris defeated Tim Holland of Rockville Centre, N. Y., 4-and-3, Saturday and won his fifth consecutive French amateur golf crown. It is the ninth time the dapper Frenchman has taken this championship.

Holland, a defeated semifinalist in the British amateur a week ago, led after the morning round 1-up. But after lunch he continued spraying his wood shots into the rough while De Lamaze, beset with putting troubles early, steadied and closed out the match on the 33rd.

Holland was short with his approach on the 33rd, leaving himself a 25-foot putt. He missed by eight inches and it was all over.

IN PONY LEAGUE

Red Sox Upset Leading Phillies

The Von Roeder Red Sox rose up to defeat the League leading Lions Phillies in Friday night action in the Pony League, 12-3, at Towle Park.

It was only the second defeat in nine starts for the Phillies while the victory was the second for the Red Sox in nine outings.

In the other half of Friday's doubleheader, the Scurry Butane Dodgers came from behind in the seventh inning to edge past the Court House Tigers, 11-8.

Charles Gladson was the big man in the Red Sox victory over the Phillies. Gladson hurled a two-hitter at the league leaders, struck out nine and walked only three.

Buddy Haigwood with a single and double and Spencer Dyer and Abe Gonzales with two singles apiece led 11-hit Red Sox attack.

The Red Sox scored three runs in the first inning and led all the way. The Phils scored twice in the bottom of the first but the Sox, not to be denied this night, upped their lead to 8-2 after five innings and then coasted in.

Bill Weaver featured a four-run Red Sox rally in the fourth with a booming two-run homer.

Max Shaw struck the biggest blow for the Phils with a two-run single in the first.

The Dodgers scored four duns in the seventh to erase an 8-7 deficit to nip the Tigers in the other Friday game. The Tigers broke a 7-7 tie in the bottom of the sixth on a triple by Bubba Fleming and an error.

The lead was short-lived, however, as the Dodgers came right back for the victory in the seventh. Jimmy Taylor and Malcolm Bolger drew successive walks to open the Dodger seventh and the Dodgers went from there to their winning rally.

Fleming of the Tigers was the game's leading hitter with four-for-four, including two singles and two triples and three runs-batted-in. William Robinson got a single and double in four trips for the Tigers and two RBI's.

John Thompson was the Dodgers' top hitter with two singles in five trips.

Ted Homers As Red Sox Clip A's, 7-1

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams crashed his first homer in nearly three weeks and No. 7 of the season Saturday as the Boston Red Sox belted the Kansas City A's 7-1.

Williams picked on the first delivery of relief hurler Tom Gorman and sent a towering drive some 20 rows into the right field stands scoring two runners ahead of him.

The 39-year-old slugger's blast capped a four-run rally in the second inning which anabled Boston's Frank Sullivan to coast to his fourth victory in five decisions.

Sullivan settled down after a shaky start for a six hitter. He didn't allow a hit after the fourth inning but was given tremendous support in the field.

Texas League Makes All-Star Game Plans

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Texas League team leading the race after games of July 10 will be the host club in the annual all-star game July 18, it has been decided by officials of the Texas League Baseball Writers Assn.

Fort Worth and Austin are battling for the lead, but San Antonio, Houston and Tulsa are within challenging distance.

Under league rules, the leading team will meet an all-star squad of 19 players drawn from the other seven teams. The all-stars are picked by writers covering Texas League baseball.

If there is a tie for the lead after the July 10 games, the first team to assume a clear lead on succeeding days, will be the host team.

Yankees, Giants Wee Loop Victors

The Legion Yankees and Quarterback Club Giants scored surprise victories in Little League play Friday night.

The Yanks opened the night's action with a 3-4 victory over league leading Trinity Methodist White Sox and the Giants pulled into a two-way tie for second in the National League with a 12-7 triumph over the Lions Cubs.

An error with two away in the fifth inning opened the door to a three-run Yankee rally that eventually meant the difference in the Yank win over the White Sox.

The White Sox held a 3-2 lead when, with two away in the fifth, two straight Sox errors let in the tying run and then pitcher Eddie Kirby slammed a homerun to drive in what proved to be the winning runs.

The Sox got their final run in the sixth when Stanley Baize led off with a tremendous homer over the centerfield fence, one of the longest drives seen in the local park this season, to cut the margin to 3-4 and that's the way it ended.

The White Sox outhit the Yankees, 7-5, but the aforementioned errors proved to be the Methodist's downfall.

Jimmy Wilson of the White Sox and the Yankees' Kirby hooked up in a "strikeout duel" with Wilson getting the edge in this department, whiffing 13 to Kirby's nine.

The Giants banged out a dozen hits in turning back the Cubs. The Rinehart brothers, Z. B. and Dock, were the big guns in the Giant attack, each getting three hits.

One of Dock's hits was a two-run homer in the first inning that gave the Giants the lead they never relinquished.

Robert Stipe and Drew Bullard led the Cubs at the plate with two hits apiece.

J. D. Allen went the distance to pick up the win for the Giants. Robert Stipe took the loss.

Also getting two hits were Harley Bynum and Jimmy Feather of the Giants. Both of Bynum's hits were two-basers.

The victory gave the Giants a 4-4 record and tying the Cubs for second place.

Lindsay Wins Trans-Miss.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., won the Trans-Mississippi Women's Golf Tournament Saturday, defeating Andrea Cohn, Waterloo, Iowa, 8-and-6 on the 30th hole of the 36-hole final round.

The Illinois golfer, runner-up in 1949 and champion in 1950, won her second Trans-Miss crown without pressure. She had the Iowa State women's champion 3-down at the end of Saturday's first 18 and with this edge quickly wrapped up the match on the second outing.

Miss Lindsay scored 36 and 39 in the morning rounds for a 3 over-par 75.

In the final 18, the Illinois champion scored 37, or one-over-par on the front nine and was even par when the match ended on the 30th hole.

It was the ninth Trans-Mississippi tournament for Miss Lindsay.

In the consolation championship final match, Judy Bell, Wichita, beat Jackie Dack, Wichita, 5-and-4.

In the finals of the first-flight competition, Judy Eller, Old Hickory, Tenn., downed Vicky Pettit, Wichita, 2-and-1.

Eddie Bockman, former major league infielder with the Yankees, Indians and Pirates, is managing the Amarillo, Tex., Gold Sox this season.

White Sox Spank Loes, Orioles 9-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bad boy Billy Loes suffered his sixth spanking Saturday at the hands of the Chicago White Sox, who beat him and the Baltimore Orioles souncly, 9-1.

A two-run homer by catcher Earl Battey in the fourth inning was the big blow that left Loes without a pitching victory to his name this season. Earl Torgeson also clouted a homer in the ninth with a sox teammate on base.

It was the first appearance of Loes since he threw a tantrum 13 days ago and drew a six-day suspension with a $200 fine.

Battey's drive into the left field stands broke a 1-1 tie and pitcher Early Wynn assured himself of his sixth victory against five defeats by driving in another run in the same inning.

Cats, Yanks Rack Up GPL Victories

The Optimist Cats made it four straight in the Graduate Pony League Friday night with an 8-4 victory over the Rainbow Sackers on the high school field.

In the other half of Friday's doubleheader, the Furr Food Yankees raced to a 15-3 triumph over the Snyder Savings and Loan Braves.

The Cats, in running their record to 4-0, scored all of their runs in the third inning against the Sackers Friday.

Rainbow had taken a 1-0 lead in the second inning on Tommy Minton's towering triple to deep center and Charles Popnoe's sacrifice fly.

The Cats then came right back with their big 8-run uprising and then held off the Sackers the rest of the way.

In the big third, the Cats put together five hits, one walk, two wild pitches and two Sackers errors to take a commanding lead. The biggest blow of the inning was a two-run double by Benny Greenfield.

Larry Smith went the distance for the Cats, giving up five hits, walking four and striking out five. Bill Dubose absorbed the loss.

The Yankees combined eight hits and 12 walks for their one-sided victory over the Braves. The Yank opened up early, scoring 10 runs in the first inning.

Larry Patterson went the route for the Yankees and turned in a three-hitter. Starter Lynn Herndon was the loser. Also seeing mound action for the Braves were Doug Brunson and Keith Moffett.

Mickey Winter and Patterson led the Yankees at the plate, each collecting two hits in four trips.

The league will begin playing one game per night next week with the Cats and Braves ticketed for Monday night's action, starting at 7:30. There will be a meeting of all managers, officers and directors immediately following Monday's game.

Phils Edge Giants, 3-2, In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Philadelphia Phils combined the seven-hit pitching of rookie Roman Semproch and home runs by Stan Lopata and Solly Hemus to clip the San Francisco Giants 3-2 Saturday.

Semproch struck out four and gave up only one walk. Only three men reached first after the third inning.

Hemus, veteran utility infielder, came in as a pinch hitter in the fourth inning with the score tied 2-2. San Francisco Giants' Ramon Monzant hit Hemus on the forearm in that frame. Hemus' 370-foot blast into the right field bleachers in the seventh was his third of the season and gave him a consecutive game hitting streak of 14.

Lopata belted his two-run homer in the fourth into the left field bleachers.

Willie Mays picked up two singles in four attempts to raise his batting qverage to .396. He had been in a prolonged slump.

Tigers Rally To Nip Yankees, 5-4

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Bolling looped a Ryne Duren fast ball into center for a two-run single with two out in the ninth Saturday as Detroit rallied for a 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees.

All the drama of this one was packed into the last two innings as the Yankees first took the lead 4-3 on Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the eighth, then watched Duren—their rookie relief ace—blow one for the first time since the opening week of the season.

Duren took over after Bob Grim walked pinch hitter Bob Hazle, the first batter in the ninth, on four pitches. Duren retired Johnny Groth, and Ossie Virgil on pop-ups but Al Kaline's fourth hit, an infield single, and a walk to Charlie Maxwell on a full count loaded the bases.

The count went to 3-2 on Bolling before he blooped his game-winner to center that fell at the feet of the charging Mickey Mantle, scoring Hazle and Kaline.

Cards Obtain 'The Barber' From Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Sal Maglie, 41-year-old right-hander, Saturday was sold by the New York Yankees to the St. Louis Cardinals. The sale price was not disclosed.

Maglie, purchased by New York from the then Brooklyn Dodgers last Sept. 1 had a 1-1 record this year for seven appearances and a 4.70 earned run average. He had started only three games and worked in relief in four others for a total of 22 1-3 innings.

Last year, the crafty curveballer was 2-0 with New York after posting a 6-6 record with the Dodgers. Because of his late purchase, he was ineligible for the 1957 World Series against Milwaukee.

Maglie, who helped pitch the New York Giants to National League pennants in 1951 and 1954 and was the ace of the Dodgers' pennant-winning staff in 1956, has a lifetime major league record of 117 victories and 56 losses. His career ERA is 3.08.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers announced Saturday the bonus signing of a Fremont, Ohio, youth.

Douglas Gallagher, 18, was signed for a bonus in excess of $25,000, Detroit officials said.

The 6 feet 3 inch hurler had bonus offers from 14 major league teams.

Gallagher will report to the Tigers' Class D team at Erie, Pa.

Cardinal Homers Beat Braves, 2-1

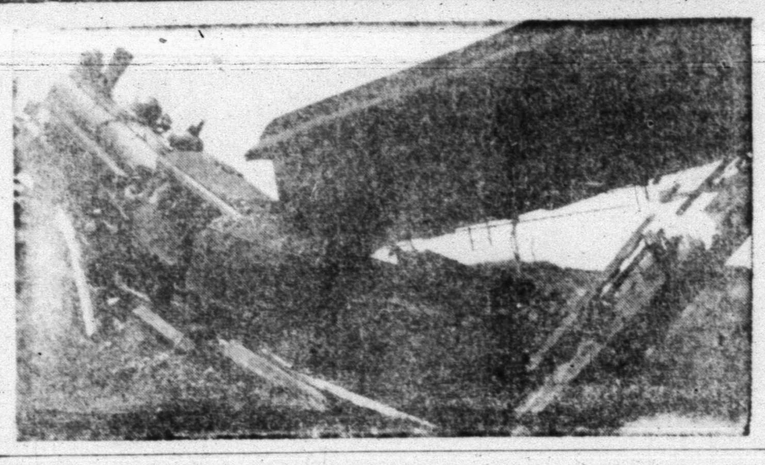

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ken Boyer and Gene Green slammed consecutive fourth-inning home runs off Milwaukee's Warren Spahn Saturday for a 2-1 St. Louis victory over the league leaders in a rain-abbreviated contest.

Larry Jackson, now 5-2, outlasted the veteran Spahn in a pitching duel. Spahn came away with his third loss against eight victories.

Singles by Frank Torre, Johnny Logan, a sacrifice and an intentional pass to Del Crandall soaked the sacks with only one out when the rains came in the seventh inning ending the game.

TRAIN WRECKS on the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway have not been numerous during the railroad's 50-year history. Perhaps one of the most serious in property damage resulted in only slight injury. That was this 1926 derailing five miles southeast of Snyder at Mule Creek. The picture at left shows the RS&P engine and coal car in the creek. At top, a Santa Fe crane is pulling the engine out of the creek.

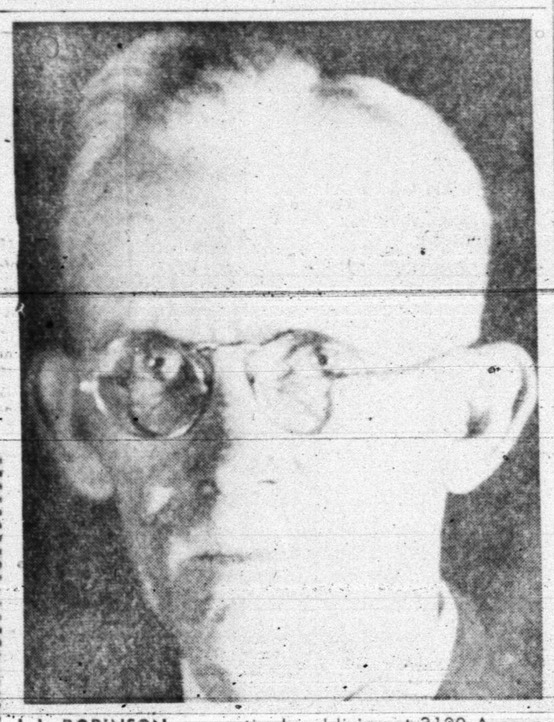

SERVING the longest period of any Snyder agent for the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific was the late A. C. Preuitt, who was agent from 1920 to 1949.

CASHIER for the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway here for many years was W. D. Fish, who still lives in Snyder. He was cashier from 1919 to 1949.

FROM 1951 to 1955, Charlie Land served as agent in Snyder for the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway. He is now employed by B& H Well Servicing here. He is a brother of Stanford Land, present agent.

J. L. ROBINSON, now retired and living at 3100 Avenue U, was Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific agent in Snyder from 1916 to 1918. Also a former Texas & Pacific employe, Robinson last October took a two-day holiday as a guest of that railroad to Baton Rouge, La.

RS&P Put Fluvanna On The Map

One Scurry County town came into being because of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway, according to oldtimers' tales here.

Shortly after the RS&P had begun service between Roscoe and Snyder in 1908, work got underway to extend the line northward.

It was completed in September, 1909, to a point about one mile past the former community of Light to make about 50 miles of track.

Since the RS&P turn-around was a mile past Light, merchants began to set up businesses there. Eventually, Light dimmed and flickered out as a community and Fluvanna grew.

At one time, Fluvanna, which is now a very small town, had four grocery stores, two drug stores, a hardware store, bank, lumber yard, two blacksmith shops a wagon yard, a 30-room hotel, cotton gin, and other businesses.

Stock raised in the Fluvanna area was shipped by RS&P toward market, and the railroad also had cotton shipping business out of the Fluvanna community.

Fluvanna in its early days was on the road westward out of Snyder.

With the building of what is now U. S. Highway 84, which bypassed Fluvanna, the through traffic stopped there. Also the highway partly accounted for loss of RS&P business in the Fluvanna community, since trucks began to haul cotton and stock.

After serving the Fluvanna area more than 30 years, RS&P pulled up its tracks from the Snyder-to-Fluvanna route and left only 31 miles of railroad in 1942.

STANFORD LAND

Land Agent In Snyder For RS&P

Agent in Snyder for the 50-year-old Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway Co. is Stanford Land, 31-year-old Snyder native.

On March 1, Land became the ninth man to serve the railroad as agent here during its 50 years of business.

He succeeded Glen Thompson, oldtime railroader who retired after joining RS&P in 1955.

First RS&P agent in Snyder was George S. Hardin, who served from 1908 to 1916. J. L. Robinson, who still lives in Snyder in retirement, served as agent from 1916 to 1918, followed by J. W. Frazier and R. A. Irving, who served about one year each.

Serving the longest as agent was A. C. Preuitt from 1920 until his death in 1949. G. R. Avary, another longtime RS&P man, succeeded him as agent and served until 1951, when he joined the Texas & Pacific Railway.

C. H. Land, brother of the present agent, was agent from 1951 until 1955. He is now employed by B & H Well Servicing Co. here. He was succeeded by Thompson.

Men still living in Snyder who served as cashier for the railroad includes O. D. McGlaun, who served for several years prior to 1919 and W. D. Fish, who was cashier from 1919 until 1949.

Land who lives at 304 Twenty-third Street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leamon Land, longtime Snyder residents. Born here Oct. 25, 1926, he is a Snyder High School graduate.

After serving in the Navy during World War II, Land was discharged in July, 1946, he returned here and was employed by Rogers Mens Wear one year and Burton Lingo Lumber Co., two years before joining RS&P nine years ago.

Land was married in September 1945, to Juanita Nicks, also a Snyder native, and they have six children, Judy Carol, Patricia, Rocky, Sandy, Vicki and Dusty.

He is a member of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ, the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee.

LAWRENCE H. JONES

ROLAND J. BRUNS

Jones, Bruns Employed In Office Here

Two Snyder employes of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway are Lawrence H. Jones and Roland J. Bruns, both of whom are employed at the RS&P office here.

Jones is among RS&P's longtime employes having worked for the railroad from 1928 to 1949 and from 1952 until the present time. Bruns has been with the railroad about 20 months.

A native of Snyder, Jones was married to the former Clara Whatley of Fluvanna in May, 1925, at Snyder. An Army veteran, he was discharged in late 1944. He is a member of the Church of Christ and the Modern Woodman Lodge.

Bruns, 20-year-old native of Colorado City, is single. A Snyder High School graduate, he is a membe. of the Trinity Methodist Church and is a member of the Snyder National Guard unit.

Daniel Sees Guard Unit

NORTH FT. HOOD (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel reviewed the 36th Divison of the Texas National Guard Saturday in the annual Governor's Day review here of 10,000 Guardsmen.

Daniel presented the nation's highest peacetime award, the Soldier's Medal, to three Guardsmen from Abilene who distinguished themselves by heroism May 11, 1957 during a flood there.

They are Corp. Morris Adams, Specialist Gerald Montgomery and Phillips Rister. The three saved two girls trapped in an automobile which was being swept down Big El Creek.

Maj. Gen. Paul Wakefield (ret.) presented the Texas Distinguished Service Medal to Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, adjutant general of Texas, and to Maj. Gen. Carl Phinny, commander of the 36th Division.

Fingold Is GOP Choice

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Massachusetts Atty. Gen. George Fingold won the Republican state convention endorsement for governor by acclamation today after he ran far ahead before the first balloting was completed.

Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter Jr., moved the endorsement by acclamation after 28 of the 40 senatorial districts had been polled.

At that point, Fingolf had 71 votes, Herter 343, and Charles Gibbons, former House speaker, 42.

There were 1,638 delegates at the convention and 820 votes were needed to win the convention's approval.

Prior to the balloting Gibbons announced he would seek the nomination anyway in the September primary.

Gibbons originally had announced his candidacy for U. S. Senator but he told the convention he had made a "mistake" in running against "the best publicized and best financed senator in the nation." He referred to the incumbent, John F. Kennedy.

Man Breaks Skulls Of 4, Shoots Self

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A businessman broke the skulls of his wife and three daughters with a claw hammer today and then killed himself with a pistol.

The husband and father was John R. Bennett, 41, a used car dealer.

His wife, Penne, is a singer who has appeared with bands and on Rockford radio and televison programs. The daughters are Jill, 13, Jan, 9, and Jinx, 7.

The mother and children are in critical condition in a hospital.

Jinx told police her father had clubbed her mother and the children with a hammer.

But investigators could find no reason for the attack.

William Mc Nier, a milkman making his morning rounds, discovered the tragedy in the Bennett's two-story home in a neighborhood of fairly well-to-do families known as the Rolling Green area.

The milkman, peering into the kitchen, saw Mrs. Bennett leaning against a stove near a telephone. A trail of blood showed she had staggered from the upper floor in an attempt to summon help.

Police found the three girls in the bedroom they shared. Blood stains indicated they had been struck while in bed.

The officers found Bennett's pajama clad body lying face down on the floor of the other bedroom. A .22 caliber pistol was clutched in his right hand.

That was two hours before the milkman arrived at the home.

Investigators said Bennett had beaten his wife and daughters and then slew himself, about 7 a.m.

LeTourneaus' In Reunion

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP—Texas industrialist Robert G. LeTourneau and his seven brothers and sisters were reunited today for the first time in 31 years.

LeTourneau, manufacturer of heavy equipment, including huge earth movers, came from Longview, Tex., for the gathering at the home of his sister, Sarah LeTourneau, in Altadena, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Also present were Edward LeTourneau of New York; Joseph LeTourneau, Indianapolis; Mrs. Mattie Newman, Tournapull, Ga.; Louis LeTourneau, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Marie Olson, Wawona, Calif., and Andrew LeTourneau, Fullerton, Calif.

Miss LeTourneau said the reunion was planned when she learned "R.G." was coming up from Texas.

"He's the busy one," she said, "and hard to get."

The last time the brothers and sisters were all together was in 1927 at the funeral of their father, Caleb LeTourneau, in Upland, Calif., said Miss LeTourneau.

VICE-PRESIDENT of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway is E. G. Stafford, who has held that position since Jan. 1, 1957. Stafford joined RS&P as general freight agent Sept. 1, 1951, became assistant to the vice-president of traffic in August, 1952, and then became vice-president.

Construction Ahead Of '57

AUSTIN, 14 (AP)—Overall construction in Texas this year is greater than for this time in 1957 due to an upsurge in home-building, the Bureau of Business Research said today.

Residential building is up 23 per cent from last year. Nonresidential building construction is off 10 per cent and additions, repairs and alterations have dropped 2 per cent.

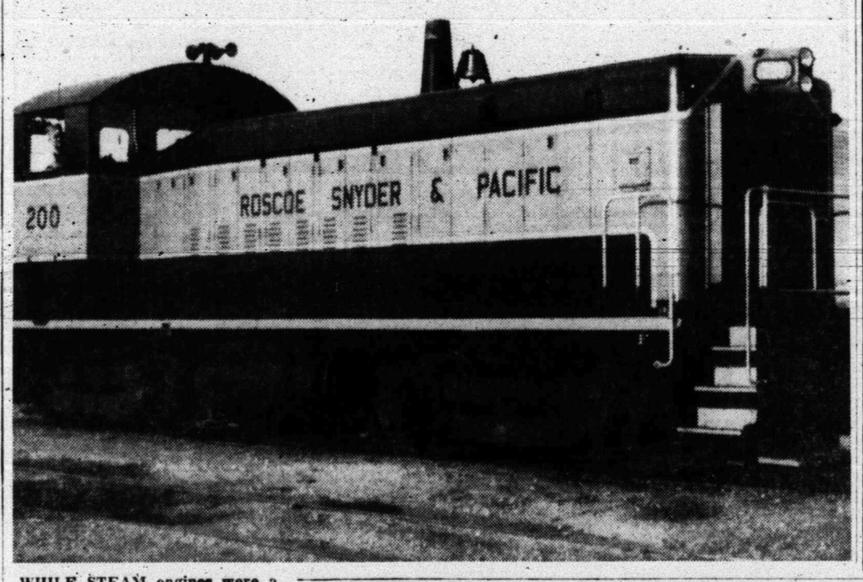

The bureau, part of the University of Texas, said preliminary estimates of urban building construction authorized in May indicate a total value of $105,059,000, the greatest amount ever authorized in May.

Seagoville Man Drowns Saturday

LAKE WHITNEY, Tex. 14 (AP) —Leon Turner, 19, of Seagoville drowned in Lake Whitney today while his wife watched helplessly from a barge.

The Turners and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raz Jr., of Mesquite had gone on a barge to a section of the big lake called Cedar Flats, just above the mouth of Cedar Creek. The men went swimming but the wives stayed aboard the barge which drifted away.

The men signalled they were in trouble and the wives threw out life jackets, but they were too far away. Boats picked up Raz, 32. Turner went down in 30 to 35 feet of water.

WHILE STEAM engines were a familiar sight on the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific line for many years, the railroad several years ago converted to diesel and uses this huge diesel engine to pull freight between Snyder and Roscoe. One of its old steam engines was donated to Scurry County to preserve the memory of the fast-disappearing type of power for railroads, and it is now in Towle Memorial Park. For the latest, generation, the diesel-powered train is about the only kind known.

RS&P Provided First Rail Service To Snyder In 1908

Snyder was for many years a town without a railroad after its founding more than 75 years ago.

During Snyder's early days, it was not much of a trade center, since goods were brought here by wagon.

At about the time Snyder was first becoming a town, Colorado City, then just known as Colorado, was slighly older and was gaining a railroad line, that of the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. And Colorado, being the closest town to Snyder with a railroad, was an area trade center. There were more retail stores, and that was the place for Snyder area residents to go if they were to secure rail transportation anywhere.

At about the turn of the century, there was much railroad talk throughout the area. The Santa Fe Railway Co. had already spent many years in route surveying and exploring possible route paths.

There was talk about many other, and smaller, railroads. At one time Snyder residents thought there would be a railroad through here running east and west, coming into here from Anson. Other possible projects were also in the making, such ideas of railroads from Colorado City to Lubbock, Sweetwater, to New Mexico, and others.

One of those was a possible line from Roscoe, where there would be a connection with the east-west T&P, north to Snyder, and possibly on to New Mexico.

That idea was orginally conceived by Gan. F. W. James of Abilene, who had begun investigating the possibilities in 1905. Since the Santa Fe was also surveying through the same area at the time, it appeared that then would be a bad time for such a small railroad to be organized.

In 1907, however, Santa Fe expansion was stopped for about two years because of a threatened panic and James took advantage of that opening to go ahead with his plans.

James and associates began negotiations with Snyder and Roscoe in 1906, and the way was cleared for the railroad in August of that year. The newly-formed company contracted for delivery of needed steel by the following spring. The company was to be the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific.

By June, 1907, grading was completed on the new line, and the first track was laid on June 6, 1907. During the following six days, a mile of track was laid.

There was probably a new track-laying record for the time on one day, Aug. 26, 1907. A crew of 27 men directed by J. W. Green, construction crew superintendent, laid 2,600 feet of track.

In September of that year, three miles of track had been laid out of Roscoe, and a "passenger train" was run. It was a flatcar, pulled by a team of mules, which carried a crowd out to the end of construction.

The firm had its Engine No. 1 in service on Nov. 7, 1907, used to carry materials up and down the track.

By January, 1908, the line reached Hermleigh, and it was built into Snyder by April.

James was the railroad's first president, while Ed S. Hughes and H. O. Wooten were vice-presidents. James had been founder of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank in Abilene, the first bank there. Hughes became president soon after the road was built.

Services was inaugurated on the 31-mile-long railroad, and soon afterward the railroad had its first wreck when an engine, water car, and three cars derailed near Wastella. The wreck tore out 200 feet of line and sprained the ankle of Fireman Roy Hale when he leaped from the cab.

It wasn't long after regular service was started that the RS&P extended its line on to Fluvanna, with the first train run there on Sept. 16, 1909. The railroad was then 50 miles long.

While James was the founder and first had the idea of building the railroad, H. O. Wooten of Abilene was the one credited with making the road a success.

Wooten, who was already founder and owner of one of the largest wholesale grocery businesses in West Texas. He was then vice-president and traffic manager of the railroad. Wooten and Hughes bought contralling interest of the road shortly after it was completed.

At about the same time, transcontinental shipments began dropping because of completion of the Panama Canal, which allowed shipping to and from California by water.

Wooten was advised to sell the railroad for what he could get, but with $200,000 invested in the business he could not afford to sell at a loss without endangering his grocery business.

He first took his name off the payroll of the grocery company and began working fulltime for the railroad, which he did for seven years.

He made repeated trips to California and met with leaders of the fruit shipping industry, met with heads of the T & P and Santa Fe railroads, and worked with many other businesses which had to do with shipping.

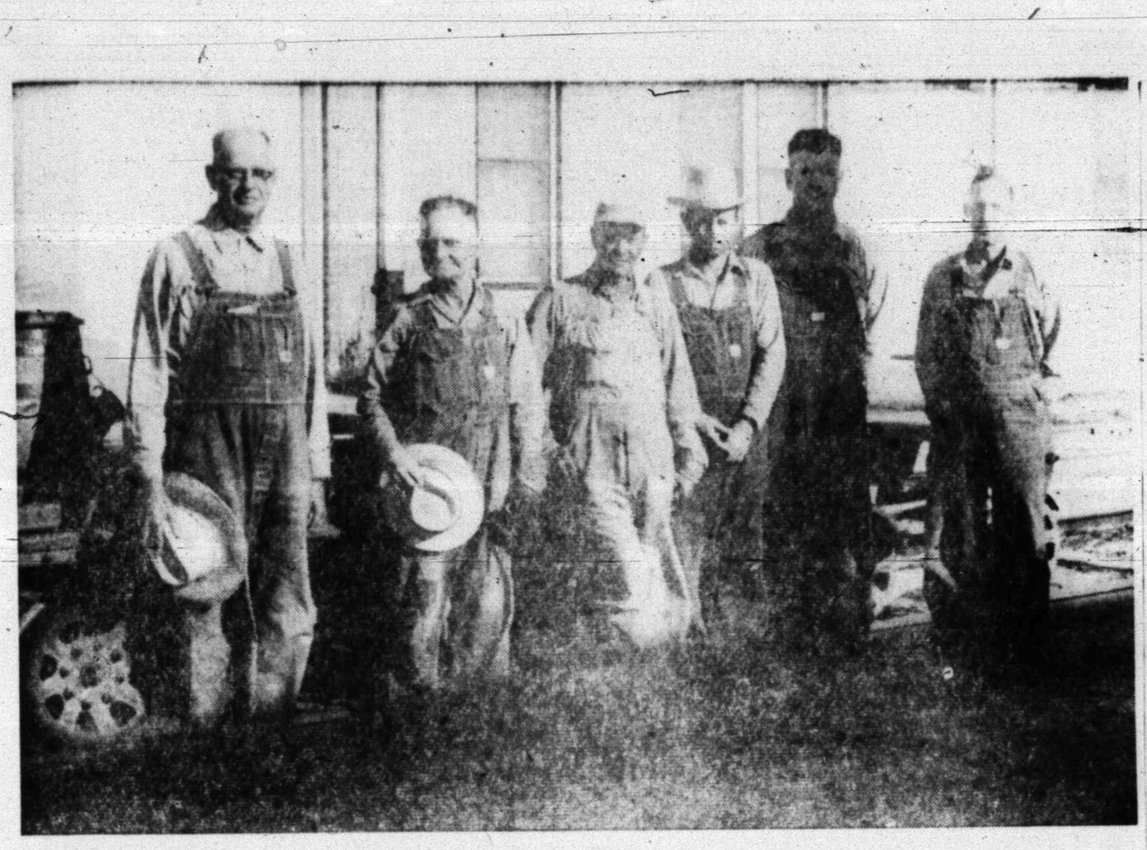

T&P and Santa Fe agreed to allow the RS&P certain divisions of business secured by RS&P and routed over their lines. Shippers began to agree to use the lines.

Santa Fe built through the Snyder area in 1912.

Today, with only 31 miles of track (the extension to Fluvanna was eliminated several years ago) the little railroad is known in railroad circles as the richest little railroad in the country.

RS&P still uses the same principle in securing business as did H. O. Wooten nearly 50 years ago. It has traffic representatives furnishing service to shippers in a dozen major cities in the U. S. securing for RS&P intermediate freight on its way across the country.

Many of those representatives were added in 1949, the year in which Don Wooten of Abilene, grandson of the first Wooten in the business, became president. Then 30, he was probably the youngest railroad president in the country. Wooten is now chairman of the board, and W. L. Bailey, former executive vice-president who joined the road in 1949, is now president. Bailey headed the traffic department at the time the solicitaion section was expanded.

SECTION CREW—C. L. Banks, left, crew chief for the section crew of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway, has been with the company for the past 41 years. Pictured from left are Banks, B. W. Nolan, R. C. Stewart, V. M. Leatherwood, Hubert Starnes and A. D. Reeves. (Lee Watson photograph)

Section Foreman Is RS&P Oldtimer

One of the oldtimers among employes of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway is C. L. Banks, section foreman for the railroad's Snyder section crew.

Banks has been with RS&P 41 years, joining it in 1918 when the railroad company was still young.

A native of Mount Vernon, Banks has spent practically all his adult life with the RS&P. As his wife puts it, "The RS&P has given many a loaf of bread and many a bag of beans."

Mrs. Banks is the former Edna Cockrell, whom Banks married at Mount Vernon in 1913. They have one daughter, Mrs. Laura Lewis of Colorado City.

Banks first became employed by RS&P 41 years ago at Roscoe as a section hand, later becoming a nightwatchman and still later section foreman.

After living at Roscoe two years, the Banks family moved to Hermleigh for two years and then to Snyder, where he has been RS&P section foreman since.

Section crews, when Banks began working for RS&P, used hand cars, but it wasn't long before they converted to motor cars.

Banks has never lost a day on sick leave, even though he and section crews have had several near misses at injury when they had collisions with cars at crossings. It seems that many who will watch for trains at crossings sometimes don't see a motor car moving along the track. None of the collisions, however, have resulted in more than slight injury.

Section foremen preceding Banks were W. B. Bound, J. R. McCarter, J. E. Gordon, J. P. Green, A. Hellington, L. A. Martin, J. Leroy, R. E. Adams, M. L. Hopson, and N. J. Hicks.

DON WOOTEN

Don Wooten Is Chairman Of Board

Chairman of the board of directors for the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway is Don Wooten of Abilene, grandson of H. O. Wooten, early-day president of the railroad who built it into its sound financial status.

Wooten, who held positions in various Wooten enterprises while younger, was probably the youngest railroad president in the U. S. when he took the helm of RS&P Dec. 16, 1948, at the age of 30. He held that position until last Aug. 21, when he was promoted to chairman of the board.

Wooten is also president of H. O. Wooten Grocery Co., executive vice-president of Wooten Properties, secretary-manager of Wooten Investment Co., and vice-president of Red Oil Corp.

Dobbins On Line's Staff Since 1909

Associated with the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway almost since its founding is R. O. Dobbins, auditor and treasurer for the company.

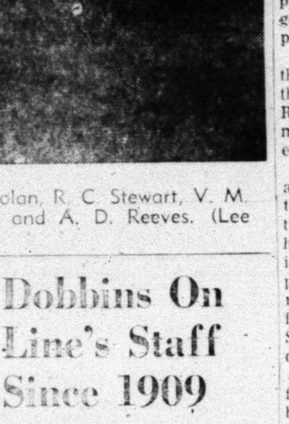

Dobbins is headquartered at the firm's general office at Roscoe. Spending his entire adult life with RS&P he has been for most of that time in the main office.

He was employed by RS&P as a warehouse trucker at Hermleigh Dec. 15, 1909, about one and one-half years after the railroad began operations.

In October, 1910, he went to the general office as clerk. On Nov. 1, 1913, he was appointed auditor.

He was promoted to the position of assistant general manager on Oct. 3, 1918, serving in that capacity until he became vice-president in charge of operations on March 1, 1933.

For health reasons, he relinquised the vice-president position in August, 1950, and accepted his present position as auditor and treasurer.

A. H. HANEY

Haney With Railroad Since 1915

An official who has spent his entire working career with Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway is A. H. Haney.

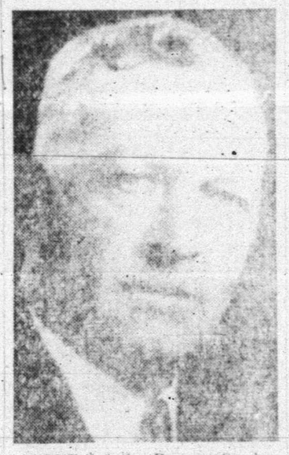

Haney is vice-president in charge of operations, with his office at Roscoe.

The RS&P official first began work with the railroad March 1, 1915, as a clerk in the RS&P general office.

In January, 1921, he was appointed auditor and superintendent.

He became general superintendent in July, 1947.

Since August, 1950, he has been vice-president in charge of operations.

AGENT for the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway for a number of years was George R. Avary. After serving with RS&P for about 27 years, he moved to Bonham and works for Texas & Pacific at Sherman. He was agent at Hermleigh from 1939 to 1949 and at Snyder from 1949 to 1954.

George Montgomery, actor-husband of singer Dinah Shore, is a do-it-yourself enthusiast. He designed and built their home in Beverly Hills, also built most of its furniture.

U. S. Legislators Courteous In Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) complained last fall how Senators together for the core and courtesy they used in debate.

Goldwater said the Aussie House of Representatives recently adopted a new code on debate which will prevent member from calling each other "such names as assassin, cad, blood-drinker, cur, miserable body-snatcher, sewer rat, gas-bag, ignoramus, polecat, Montreal, la dog, or flashy reptile."

Elvis Heads Back To His Army Post

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Elvis Presley, the rock 'n' roller idol, was en route to Ft. Hood, Tex., Saturday to resume duty as a private in the U.S. Army.

Presley, who received his basic training at the Texas military center, ended his first furlough and is due to report back at Ft. Hood tomorrow.

The singer, 23, went to Texas in a flashy fire-engine red convertible he added a few days ago to his stable of swank motor cars.

W. L. BAILEY

W. L. Bailey Is President Of RS&P Line

President of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway is W. L. Bailey, a former insurance executive who entered railroading in late 1948.

Bailey became president of the railroad Aug. 21, 1957, succeeding Don Wooten, who became chairman of the railroad Aug. 21, 1957, succeeding Don Wooten, who became chairman of the board.

He had accepted a position as executive vice-president of RS&P on Dec. 15, 1948. He had been in the insurance business at Corpus Christi prior to that time.

It was under Bailey's leadership that RS&P expanded its group of traffic representatives, stationed in various cities throughout the U. S.

Prior to Bailey's joining RS&P the railroad had several traffic representatives, but today 18 of them are scattered throughout the U.S., calling on shippers and boosting the amount of freight routed over RS&P lines while moving across the country.

OLD NO. 1—This engine, shown with a group of unidentified people, was the first engine purchased by the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway more than 50 years ago. The engine was purchased in 1907 and used by the railroad while it was building track to haul materials to the end of track. It then pulled the first trains for the RS&P. The railroad bought the engine, which had been built in 1881, from the Texas & Pacific Railway. It was used until 1924.

General Agent Travels Far To Boost Business For RS&P

It would probably be difficult for a person who did not know the operation of the little Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway to figure out why it has a Dallas office.

Possibly it would be harder to understand its offices in many major cities.

Actually, RS&P has offices in cities stretching from one coast of the U.S. to the other, and 18 of its employes are used in those offices in the company's solicitation section, a part of the railroad's traffic department.

Not only is there an RS&P soliciation office in Dallas but at San Francisco, Fresno, Los Angles, Houston, Chicago, Washington, Charlotte, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Birmingham, Pittsburgh, and Memphis.

There is also such a representative at Snyder. He is Elroy Milller, general agent, who spends most of his time on the road traveling a territory stretching from Abilene to El Paso, into the South Plains and Panhandle, and all of the states of New Mexico and Colorado.

As general agent, Miller spends his time calling on carload shippers in the area in his territory, influencing traffic to move in connection with RS&P.

RS&P picks up cars off Santa Fe at one end and Texas & Pacific at the other end, routing them across the 31-mile-long RS&P line between Snyder and Roscoe on their way across the country. Two trains daily run on the line.

Miller said increased carload business on RS&P has been seen easilye since RS&P began to use freight solicitors throughout the country.

While H. O. Wooten worked in such a manner himself during the early years of the railroad, the practice of using freight solicitors began about 25 years ago, when Wooten had a special representative, W. A. Hotman, to make calls on assignment throughout the U.S. Hotman was employed in the solicitations section of the railroad until his retirement in January, 1957. He now lives in Fort Worth.

When Don Wooten, now chairman of the board for RS&P, began as president in 1949 and W. L. Bailey, now president, began as executive vice-president the same year, there was considerable expansion of that section. In 1947, there were five men employed as soilicitors. The section has now grown to 18 under Bailey's guidance.

The men are placed in the various agencies to generally cover the U.S. and call on shippers. Each office has a wide territory to cover.

Freight makes up all of the RS&P business, since the railroad has not solicited passenger service for several years and officially stopped passenger service two years ago.

Miller has been a general agent for RS&P 10 years, beginning in Fort Worth, an office which has since combined with the Dallas office, and moving to Snyder in 1950.

A native of Fort Worth, he attended schools there. He served in the Navy three years during World War II and was discharged in 1945 as a storekeeper first class. He is married and has two children, Linda, 15, and Susan, 10.

Golden ANNIVERSARY

Fifty years ago, when everyone had his favorite railroad plan, a group of West Texans had success with their plans and began service on the new Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway. This railroad, beginning service to Snyder in 1908, was Snyder's first rail transportation and was welcomed for both its passenger and freight service, putting residents of the Snyder area in closer touch with the rest of the world.

The RS&P is one of the pioneers of the Snyder area and takes pride in having served the businesses and residents in this area for its 50 years.

Huge Diesel Engines, like the one shown above, have speeded up the transportation facilities of RS&P throughout the area we serve.

Another vanishing American, the steam engine is now a rarity and a historic symbol of the growth and development of our nation.

The Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railway donated the last steam engine to be operated in this area to Scurry County. It is pictured above at Towle Memorial Park, where it will remain preserved for the benefit and viewing of our future generations.

With the growth of West Texas in population, agriculture, and industry, the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway has grown. The growth has not been in miles of track but in service and dependability. The railroad has kept abreast of the times, instituting service of modern equipment from time to time.

Though 31 miles long, RS&P is a railroad of national stature and has traffic representatives in numerous major cities throughout the nation.

RS&P is no longer a passenger service line and devotes all its energies to providing the best in service to freight shippers throughout the country.

VOL. 9, NO. 38 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JUNE 15, 1958 SECTION B

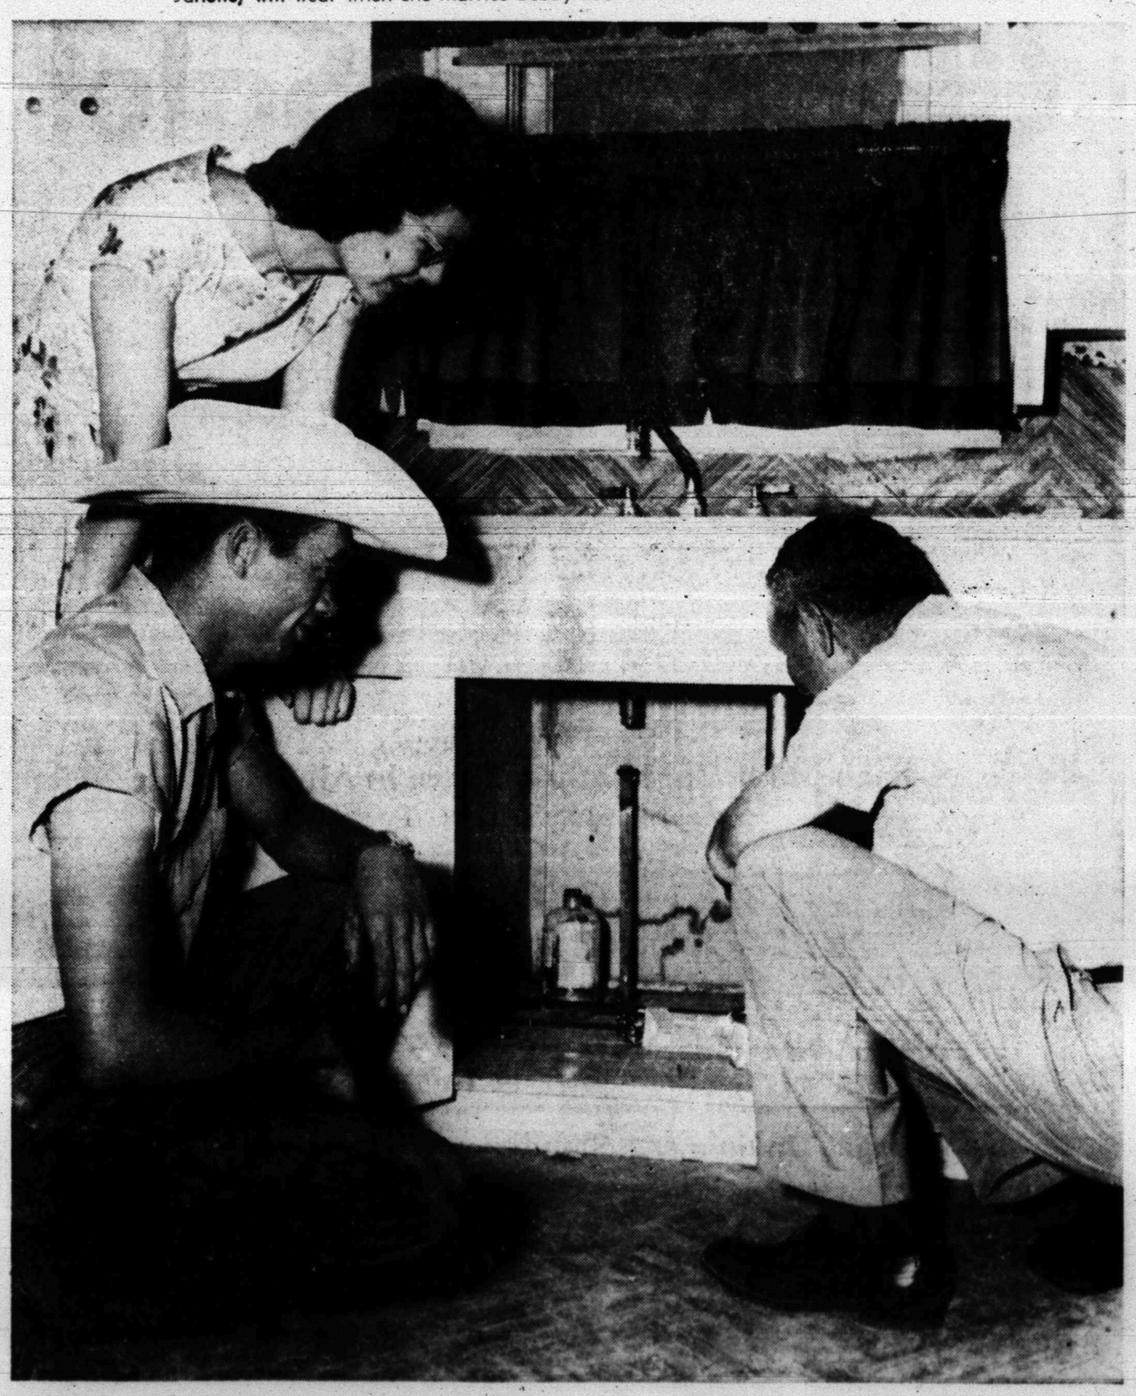

Today is a big day in the life of all fathers, but the several days before the wedding are all big days for fathers of brides-to-be. Dewey Moore, who lives a mile west of Snyder on Thirty-seventh Street, is shown above inspecting the veil his daughter, Janelle, will wear when she marries Bobby Joe Pollard on June 27.

One of the first and biggest jobs of any father-of-the bride-to-be is demonstrated by Dewey Moore and Janelle Moore. He is writing out another of the many checks necessary before the wedding can be held. (Lee Watson photographs)

Big Day In Father's Life

Work is part of the day of every father, especially fathers of prospective brides. Dewey Moore, right, is shown fixing the kitchen plumbing in the house his daughter, Janelle, and her husband-to-be, Bobby Joe Pollard, left, will live in after their wedding June 27.

Showing her father how she will "whip" up delicacies for her husband with one of the many wedding gifts above, Janelle Moore gives her father, Dewey Moore, a demostration of the uses to which she will put her many gifts when she moves into her own home after her wedding to Bob Pollard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Pollard, Dermott. The wedding will be in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. G. M. Cole, officiating.

Miss Dian Parks Marries Gene Pate In Candlelight Ceremony June 6th

Miss Dian Parks became the bride of Gene Pate in a candlelight wedding ceremony at 8 o'clock Friday night June 6th in the Union Baptist Church. The Rev. Roy O. Womble, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. G. W. Parks, Jr., 2100 Avenue M. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pate, Arah route.

Mrs. Jacky James, pianist, presented wedding music, which included "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Walk Hand in Hand," Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, and "Mid-Summmer Night's Dream." Mrs. W. Dee Myers was accompanied by Mrs. James as she sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Wedding Prayer," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Cousins of the bride, Carolyn Hill and Eddie Eicke, lighted candles in the church preceding the ceremony. Flower girls were Denise Perry, cousin of the bride, and Peggy Pate, niece of the bridegroom. They wore street length dresses of white chiffon over white cotton satin, with head clips of white illusion. Their flower baskets, white with an outline of orchid net ruffling, were filled with rose petals. Carolyn Hill's costume was like that of the flower girls, and she wore a wristlet of white carnations.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Margaret Parks. Bridesmaids were Miss Letha Dell Smith, Miss Blenda Stone and Mrs. Tommy Pate, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. They wore identical street-length dresses of orchid chiffon over matching cotton satin. Their fitted bodices featured balloon sleeves and rounded necklines which became square-cut at the back. Wide sashes were tied in butterfly bows, with streamers extending to the hemlines of the bouffant skirts. They wore head clips of shirred orchid illusion, and their jewelry was a single pearl on a gold chain necklace, gifts of the bride. Bouquets for the bridesmaids were of orchid pom mums, while the maid of honor carried a bouquet of fuschia pom mums.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional formal wedding gown of white rose design French lace and tulle over taffeta. The elongated bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline encrusted with pearls, and buttoned down the back with tiny covered buttons. The long fitted sleeves, ending in points over the hands, were also caught with tiny buttons. Her very full skirt, worn over hoops, was accented in front and back by panels of tulle and tulle and lace ruffles. The back panel extended into a court train. The bridal veil, of fingertip length, was tiered and made of imported illusion. It fell from a regal crown of matching lace and pearls.

The bride's bouquet, carried on a white Bible, was an arrangement of feathered white carnations centered with an orchid and showered with lilies of the valley and white satin streamers. For something old, she carried in the Bible a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother. Something new was her pearl necklace and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom, and something borrowed her hoop skirt. For something blue, she wore a blue garter.

Tommy Pate served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Bob Kimmel, Billy Jack Wilson and W. Dee Myers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Parks wore a dress of blue lace with white accessories. Mrs. Pate wore a blue linen dress with white accessories, and both had corsages of feathered white carnations.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over orchid and centered with the flowers of the attendants. The three-tiered wedding cake and punch bowl were placed at opposite ends of the table. Tiers of the cake were supported by white columns, and each tier was decorated with sugar confections. A miniature bridal couple stood on the top tier.

Assisting in serving and registering guests at the reception were Mrs. Bob Kimmel, Miss Janelle Moore and Sherrell Sue Bell. They wore dresses of white chiffon over white cotton satin, like those of the bride's attendants, and their corsages were of orchid pom mums.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip to Fort Worth, the bride wore a full-skirted dress of white cotton, accented by a wide lace trimmed collar. Her accessories were also white, and her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet. The couple will be at home four miles west of Snyder on the Lamesa highway.

Mr. Pate, a graduate of Snyder High School, is employed by Clark Lumber Company and is engaged in farming. Mrs. Pate attended Snyder High School, where she was a member of the Gay 20 Club.

Ray L. Gordon Married In Odessa To Miss Janice Louise Derting

The sanctuary of the Belmont Baptist Church in Odessa was the setting at 7 o'clock Friday night, June 6, for the marriage of Miss Janice Louise Derting of Odessa, and Ray L. Gordon of Snyder.

Dr. J. Conally Evans, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated by candelabra and baskets of gladiolas and pastel asters.

Organist, Mrs. Christie Kennedy, presented prelude music and accompanied Miss Jerry Sizemore, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly," and "Till The End of Time."

During the ceremony "Claire de Lune," played softly. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as a benediction.

Preceeding the ceremony Randall Decker and Dennis Decker, nephews of the bridegroom, lighted candles. Mike Starr, brother of the bride, was bearer of the rings and Christina Derting, a sister from Fort Worth, was flower girl.

When given in marriage by her father, L. C. Derting of Fort Worth she was wearing a full length ivory slipper satin wedding gown designed with long sleeves pointed at the hands, a deep V-neckline which flowed in the princess lines. A long, sweeping carpet train featured the handsome gown. Her finger-tip ivory veil was attached to a crown of sequins and seed pearls. Her strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom, and her formal bouquet was centered with a white orchid, showered with pearls, with satin love-knots and was carried on a white Bible.

Mrs. J. D. Boyd of Canyon served as matron of honor; Miss Gail Bowden of Weatherford, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Betty Hendrix of Rotan, cousin of the bridegroom. Mrs. Boyd wore pale yellow silk organza over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of green carnations. Other attendants of the bride were dressed identically in pastel pink and green and carried nosegays. Each wore an orange blossom, pearl and rhinestone tiara.

Attending the bridegroom were J. D. Boyd of Canyon, best man; Donald Starr, brother of the bride, and Carl Hendrix, of Rotan, cousin of the groom were groomsmen.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. N. O. Starr, wore a pink Chantilly lace dress over mauve taffeta, with matching hat and gloves. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace dress over matching taffeta with harmonizing accessories. Both wore corsages of orchids.

A church reception, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Starr, the Bride family, honored the couple. The table held the nosegays carried by the attendants and a tierred wedding cake, which was served with punch, poured by Mrs. Monte Davis, aunt of the bride. In the houseparty were the attendants of both the bride and groom, the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gordon of Snyder, Mrs. Monte Ray Davis of Forth Worth, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Davis of Weatherford, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bouden of Weatherford; Mrs. John Hall of Mineral Wells; and Mrs. Joe Hendrix of Rotan, aunt of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Derting of Fort Worth, father and stepmother of the bride; Christina, a sister, and Mrs. Sam Derting of Cleburne, an aunt were also present for the wedding and reception.

When the couple left on a honeymoon trip to New Mexico and Colorado, Mrs. Gordon wore a brown linen sheath with a jacket of nylon organza embroderied with clusters of flowers of the same color. She was wearing matching accessories of biege straw.

The couple will be at home at 2319 Second Place, Lubbock, where the bridegroom is a senior student of Texas Technological College. He is majoring in electrical engineering. Mrs. Gordon, also will attend Texas Tech, where she will be a junior student majoring in home economics.

Hatmaking Is Being Studied By HD Members

Hat making is a fascinating hobby and a money saving way to have all the hats you want. Home Demonstration clubwomen here are discovering.

Not only is it possible to have more hats, but you can have a hat of any style you want to match any garment in your wardrobe, Miss Ruby Butts, county home demonstration agent, said.

And Hat making isn't difficult if you start with simple ones and work up to the more difficult types. For example, Doris Rhodes, 11 year old 4-H Club girl came with her mother to a hat making workshop and made a very simple little half-hat of pale pink straw braid. She used a little more than a yard of straw at 25 cents per yard, and three cents worth of wire, including a wire joiner to secure the ends. Doris's hat cost about 30 cents, but a similar hat in a store might easily have cost $2.50 or more.

Several of the hats in the workshop have been made of materials to match a dress, or trimmed in material left from a dress. Old hats have been used as the frame for new ones in some instances and cost of such hats has been almost nothing.

The many tricks of successful hat making used by women in the workshop give the hats a professional appearance which makes them undetedtable from expensive designer's hats.

Superman Role Was Reeve's Swan Song

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It's like Hopalong Cassidy trying to get an acting job in white tie and tails."

This was George Reeves' lament. He's an actor and a good one. He ought to be, after 26 years at it. He has been in the movies 21 years.

So why isn't he working?

He's Superman, that's why.

"The producers wouldn't give me a job," he said. "They'd take one look at me and say it was impossible."

This freeze on his acting career has driven him behind the camera. That may be the best thing that ever happened to him.

"I took over as director on the last 13 Superman segments we made last fall," he remarked. "I did it as sort of a chance, but I was surprised to find out how much I knew. I suppose you ought to absorb some knowledge after being in the business as long as I have.

"Now I'm enthused about doing more. I'm forming a production company and we plan to make a couple of science fiction features back-to-back. The trick stuff should come easy. We've done everything imaginable in the Superman series."

George certainly must have known that Superman would blight his outside acting career. I asked him why he undertook it.

"I was hungry," he explained simply.

It's not quite as simple as that. A reliable performer, George has done well over the years, although not always spectacularly.

But when he returned from the war, he was just another in the small army of actors trying to rebuild their careers. He had a contract at Paramount but got lost there.

He went to New York in the late 40s and prospered in live TV. But when Superman came along eight years ago, he succumbed.

ERNEST BORGNINE, in his Academy Award title winning role performance as Marty, had a bloody butcher's apron, and he recently exchanged his butcher's knife for the animal skins and two-handed sword of Ragnar, warlike king of the Vikings in the Kirk Douglas production, "The Vikings." He is starred with Douglas, Tony Curtis, and Janet Leigh.

Red Dancers Far Ahead In Classics

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Serious dancing in America is sick and can take some lessons from the Russians.

Who says so? Marge and Gower Champion.

Many Americans who have seen the Moiseyev dance company on its current tour have wondered: "Why don't we have something like that?"

The impact of these gifted Soviet dancers can scarcely be measured. Many are predicting that their advent to these shores will have as profound an effect on American dance as the original Ballet Russe. Or more so.

Still stimulated by seeing the Moiseyev troupe, I sounded out Marge and Gower Champion. They, after all, are the foremost exponents of the dance in this country today. Both are schooled in the classics. Gower is a noted choreographer.

"It's a crying shame that we don't have something to match the Russians," said Gower. "After all, Moiseyev has only taken the traditional Russian dances, routined them superbly and trained magnificent dancers to do them.

"There's no reason we couldn't do the same. Our dance heritage is just as rich, if not more so. We have Indian dances, the square dance, the Mexican-style dances of California, the whole New Orleans tradition of jazz."

"And our dancers are as good as theirs," Marge added. "We have hundreds of dancers who are awaiting recognition. We have acrobats and tumblers who can do the same leaps and spins and can be taught enough dancing."

The couple deems Russian dancing notable for its vigor and masculinity. American dancing, they feel, has become feminized and sick.

"There's no reason it should be sick," Gower declared. "We've got enough rugged young men to do the dancing. But the tradition has been toward the classical ballet or limp-wristed kind of dancing, even in the modern dances."

They think the whole trend could be changed by a movement like the Moiseyev in the Soviet Union or the Sadlers Wells in England.

"The same thing could be done here," Marge said. "It would take some driving force to start a small group of dedicated dancers, train them rigorously and develop utter precision."

Governor To View Grasshopper Damage

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel said Saturday he would fly to the Panhandle Monday to inspect the damage caused by hordes of grasshoppers threatening crops.

"I am deeply concerned over reports that at least 26 counties in the northwestern part of the state are heavily infested with migratory grasshoppers," he said.

Daniel said "every possible source of state assistance" would be used. The Department of Agriculture sprayed highway right of ways earlier.

The governor will be accompanied by Lynwood Rhodes of the Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Office. They will fly to Dumas.

The tallest lighthouse in the U.S. rising 208 feet, is on Cape Hatteras, N.C.

ACTOR Jock Mahoney and his wife, Maggie, enjoy the grounds of a hotel at Acapulco, Mexico, after a busy schedule of Hollywood film making. A former leading film stuntman, Mahoney recently completed "Last of the Fast Guns," starrer with Gilbert Roland and Linda Cristal, then went to Germany to co-star with Swiss actress Lile Pulver and John Gavin in "A Time to Love and a Time to Die."

Western Shows Need Humor

NEW YORK (AP) — When I pause to think of the rich vein of humor the Maverick scripters have tapped to make the series a superior TV product, I'm amazed that most Western historians treated the post-Civil War period like a wake.

We'd been led to believe that 1870 frontiersmen generally had an almost fanatical aversion to any type of humor other than a practical joke. Our silent screen Westerns reflected this mistaken premise; so the kids grew up with the idea that Tom Mix, Bill Hart and Hoot Gibson were nurtured on undistilled sour mash.

Our producer, Roy Huggins, a Phi Beta Kappa with enviable writing credits and considerable skill as a researcher, couldn't go along with the theory. Asked at the outset for a terse slogan for the series, he said: "An adult Western—with humor."

With that thought as a starting point, the writing craft was combed for dramatic writers gifted with humor—in distinction to comedy writers noted for building joke routines.

Actors? Well, all I can say is that I'm horribly miscast as Bret and Jack Kelly is a misfit as Bart if they were looking for performers to deliver the melancholy subtleties of psychological drama. We ain't the types.

It would be grossly unfair to any writer for me to take a hunk of his dialogue out of context to illustrate his over-all skill as a humorist, but instances do come sharply to mind to show, generally, the line of thought that bears fruit after Huggins has given a Maverick assignment to a writer.

As I write this, we're putting the finishing touches on a Maverick dubbed "The Day they Hanged Bret Maverick," and I hasten to add that the title doesn't denote the demise of the series. Quite the opposite: It'll probably be the opening show for the new fall series over an expanded ABC-TV network of stations.

I'd be drawn and quartered if I gave away the plot of "Hanged."

Missionaries Trained

TORONTO (AP)—Donald Wade, theology professor at Knox College, says Buddhists in Asia have a school training 2,000 missionaries to introduce reforms among Christians. Wade told a Presbyterian meeting the missionaries are being taught in a five-year program they must save the world from what is termed failures of Christianity.

Dave Rose Addict To Steam Engines

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When you see Dave Rose conducting his smooth music for the Red Skelton TV show, you'd scarcely suspect that he's a steam engine addict.

The suave conductor-composer has it bad. He not only has one of the world's largest collections of miniature steam engines; he even has a steam train that runs around his San Fernando Valley home.

"Every Saturday, I blow the whistle and the kids come from all over the neighborhood," he said.

When Dave clicked as a composer 20 years ago, he began shoving the profit into steam. He collected engines from all over the world and developed his own miniature train, a knee-high affair that will pull 150 people.

"Disneyland started right here," Dave said proudly as he surveyed the track in his back yard. "Years ago, Walt Disney came here to see my train because he was thinking of getting one of his own."

You know it's got to be a mania for Dave because it isn't deductible. Out here, celebrities hardly ever put so much money into something unless it earns a profit or an income tax deduction.

"I sometimes use the train for publicity," he explained, "but otherwise, the expense is pure outgo.

"But I think it's worth it. There's nothing I like better than to get up a head of steam or take an engine apart."

The diversion provides welcome relief from the rigors of Dave's musical life. A perfectionist, he composes and arranges most of his own material. Besides the Skelton show, he does the Shower of Stars and other programs. His record albums are best sellers and he sometimes does a movie score.

Then he keeps up a steady schedule of concerts. This week he was in Portland, Ore., conducting at the Rose Festival. Today he leaves for Europe to scout the possibilities of doing some concerts over there this summer.

London Bus Strike May End Thursday

LONDON (AP)—London's Busmen's Union was reported Saturday ready to end the city's six-week bus strike, probably by Thursday.

Union sources said a meeting of the delegates from the city's bus depots had decided that it would not be in the interest of the 50,000 bus workers if the strike continued.

The delegates now will put their views to the union rank and file for a final vote. There were indications the busmen will accept their leaders recommendations to go back to work Thursday.

Rains Are Still Needed In Many Farm Areas Of Texas

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas crops and ranges need a rain "right now," the Agricultural Extension Service said Saturday.

District agricultural agents report that in many sections top soil has become so dry that every day without rain means a delay in harvest and decrease in yield.

Patsures are feeling the pinch as annual grasses turn brown and perennial grasses made slow growth, but conditions of live stock still are generally good. The demand for stocker animals declined some as grass growth slowed.

Cotton is fruiting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and is "about planted" in the Panhandle. Aphid and thrip insects are doing damage. Grasshoppers took a toll on ranges and crops in the Panhandle and South Plains.

The harvest of one of the best wheat crops in history has begun in the Panhandle, Knox Parr said at Amarillo. Cotton and grain sorghum planting is practically complete, but will need moisture. Vegetable growth is good. Grasshoppers are bad everywhere, especially in northwest counties. More than 750,000 acres of rangeland in Dallam County are being treated. Cattle are in good condition but ranges need rain.

Cotton has been planted in the South Plains with about 95 per cent up to a satisfactory stand except in local hail damaged areas—mainly Lamb, Hale, Lubbock, Lynn and Scurry counties. About 80 per cent or more of the sorghum acreage has been planted. The small grain harvest has begun. Ranges are drying and could use a good slow rain, but still are furnishing good grazing.

Irrigation is being done "all out" in the Valley and the entire area of South Texas needs a good rain, said Joe Rothe at Weslaco. Cotton is making excellent growth, livestock is in excellent condition and harvest of watermelons, tomatoes and cantaloupes is in full swing.

Far West Texas still is in the best condition in years, but needs a good rain to help range grass growth. Small grain is producing good yields and irrigated crops are making good growth, except for some thrip damage to cotton. Range grass growth is slow and the demand for stocker animals has declined. Fat lambs are moving to market.

All crops in deep East Texas are late and taking a further setback due to need of moisture. Pastures still are green and farmers are storing lots of hay. The plum crop is about half normal. The harvest of green-wrap tomatoes has begun in the Normangee area with yields about 50 to 60 per cent normal.

In the Edwards Plateau grass growth is slow and row crops could use a good rain, but the weather has been good for oat and wheat harvest, Roy Huckabee said at San Angelo. Yields are good. Cotton and feed crop growth are good. The fruit harvest in Gillespie County has begun. Peanuts, melons, tomatoes and potatoes in the Mason area are making good growth. Livestock is in good condition.

The northeast Texas blackberry harvest is on at Lindale, but pickers are scarce and the market is weak.

Most Cotton Is Doing Well

Farmers in the Snyder area, who were always hoping for rain during the drought years, are not particularly looking for rain now.

During the past several days they have been enjoying the hot days which helped bring their cotton up and make it grow. Moisture-wise, most of the soil in this area was in fairly good shape.

Some farmers were replanting in the area east of Snyder which was hailed out a week ago, but most of those were expected to finish their replanting jobs by this weekend.

Cotton in the county ranges now from that just planted to some in the six-leaf stage, or eight to 10 inches high, according to Oscar Fowler, county agricultural agent.

Cotton is looking good in most of the area, Fowler said. Most farmers, it appears, are getting good stands of cotton. Many had to plant plenty of seed to make sure of good stands, since seed with a high germination rate was in short supply this year. Some farmers carried over some 1956-57 seed and used it this spring.

The planting season is just about over, and farmers will hope now that nothing else comes along to wipe out the crops. Hail, rain, insects, lack of rain, and other things can threaten cotton crops, but so far this year things are favorable.

Usually, planting is complete by this time of year, and most farmers do not like to plant any later, since that would be crowding the cotton plant to finish making cotton before the first killing frost in the fall. Sometimes cotton planted at this time of year doesn't fare well, as as the case with some cotton in this area last year. There have been cases, though, of cotton being planted here in July and making half a bale to the acre.

Probably the greatest threat to cotton at this time is that of insects, although there is not believed any serious insect infestation here so far.

Fowler said there has been some poisoning for grasshoppers caterpillars, and four o'clock bugs. So far, this year doesn't look much different from any other, and there is no indication so far of heavy insect infestation.

The last year there was a grasshopper plague of large proportions here was either 1948 or 1949, Fowler said, when it was bad enough that mixing stations for poisoned bait were established in this area as a part of a federal aid program. There have been some spotted areas with bad grasshopper infestation since then, but no widespread plague in this area.

Of the 200 species of grasshoppers, six account for about 90 per cent of the crop damage. That doesn't mean the others do not feed on crops, but those six show up in sufficient numbers to do great damage. Usually farmers in this area have been successful at getting sufficient kill of grasshoppers before they can reach the plague stage. Fowler said it is claimed that 50 grasshoppers per yard can eat as much as a cow. In some states grasshopper infestation reaches 400 to 50 per square yard.

Curtworms and wireworms, which are early season pests, have not caused much trouble here. The season for thrip and fleahoppers is here and will last on through the fruiting season, but poisoning for them is expected a little later in this area. Fowler said there are reports that some of the South Plains area is not getting a satisfactory kill on poisoning thrip and fleahoppers. There has been no explanation as to the reason.

While poisoning for thrip and fleahoppers is expected in the near future here, bollworms and leafworms will come later in the season.

Wheat Referendum Is Slated Friday

The annual referendum on wheat quotas has been set for next Friday, according to Henry Burchett, county office manager for the Agriculture Stablization and Conservation committee.

Any person having an interest in a wheat crop for harvest of 15 acres or more is eligible to vote in the election.

The nation-wide referendum will decide whether there will be marketing quotas or penalties for those who exceed their allotments.

There will still be allotments if the referendum does not carry and the price support will drop to 50 per cent of parity for those who comply with the allotment. There would be no penalty for those who did not comply.

If the referendum passes, marketing quotas will be in effect in all 38 "commercial" wheat states. Those who exceed their acreage allotments will be subject to quota penalties on excess wheat. Price support for growers who comply with their allotments would be available at a national average of not less than $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of the estimated parity.

Polling places in Scurry County will be at the gin at Ira, gin at Hermleigh, Beavers Grocery at Camp Springs, and Mercantile Store at Fluvanna. Voting can also be done at the county ASC office.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday.

Suzy May File Suit

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Actress Suzy Parker lay in a hospital today while her New York lawyer studied the scene of an auto-train crash that killed her father.

Paul O'Dwyer declined to say whether a damage suit will be filed.

"At this time I offer no comment because I have not completed my study of the situation," O'Dwyer said after looking over the scene of the crash.

He was accompanied on the visit to the Florida East Coast Railway crossing southwest of here by Pierre de La Salle, Miss Parker's husband.

The 25-year-old former New York model and her father, George Lofton Parker, 63, were returning to their home in Pomona Park last Saturday when the accident occurred.

Blood Used For Refund

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Monroe Kensing received five parking tickets, and she used them to get the police department to pay her back in blood.

On the back of a Red Cross ticker she wrote this message to policeman Billy White when she paid her fines:

"I have received about a dozen parking tickets in the last six weeks while I have been working on 'donor recruitment' for the Red Cross blood program. . . I have earned all of the tickets because this is time consuming work and I can't always get back to my car.

"But I just thought of a way these tickets can help me, we are looking for new donors . . . so, will officer White please fill out the enclosed cards and return it."

White not only responded but brought along three fellow officers. Each donated a pint of blood to the Red Cross.

About 60 species of birds feed on the berries of poison ivy without harm.

Auto Thief Uses Bicycle

HOUSTON (AP)—It took 12 officers to catch one wee car thief who goes a'stealing by bicycle.

A 13-year-old junior high school student was arrested Friday afternoon at a police stake-out.

"I don't have to steal," he said, "but I just can't resist cars."

He confessed to being unable to resist 20 like the one owned by his father—just in the last two weeks.

Lt. W. W. Brown, head of the auto theft division, said he had assigned his entire crew of a dozen men at various times to catch the boy. The boy was arrested within a few yards of his "getaway" vehicle—his bicycle.

"I always rode my bike to the spot where I intended to drop the stolen car," he said. "Then I rode home on it. Sometimes I would take as many as three cars in an afternoon and just go joyriding."

Juvenile authorities are trying to uncover the cause of the boy's joyriding itch. They say his family provides him with "more than the essentials."

MRS. W. W. HESTER is shown above modeling a white straw cloth sailor hat with polka dot band she made in the Home Demonstration Club hat workshop.

MRS. L. A. VAUGHN is shown above doing one step in the simple process of making a complicated, expensive looking hat. She made a white popcorn stitch straw braid hat with roll brim.

RUBY BUTTS, county home demonstration agent here, instructed in the hat workshop held Friday in the Tri-Community Home Demonstration Club building. She is shown making a hat form above.

MRS. W. R. DUNLAP is shown wearing a toast colored straw cloth hat with a white moonstone pin, and is holding a pale blue straw braid half-hat, both of which she made in the Home Demonstration hat workshop. (Lee Watson photograph)

BRENDA MADDOX, a 4-H Club girl is shown wearing a white half-hat she made in the workshop. It fits snugly across the crown of the head, and costs about 30 cents to make—or several dollars to buy.

Women Voters Invite Court To Tues. Meet

Beginning a survey of county government with a study of the Scurry County commissioners court, the Snyder League of Women Voters has invited members of the court to meet with the League as guest panelists at its regular general membership meeting Tuesday noon at the Village restaurant.

Upon completion of the survey a pamphlet, "Know Your County," similar to the "Know Your Town" booklet recently issued by the League will be compiled.

Commissioners presently serving are T. B. Knight, Pat Moore, Doyle Parmer and Cullen Toombs. Edgar Taylor, county judge, is presiding officer of the court.

Mrs. C. E. Knight will introduce the panel in the absence of Mrs. H. C. Lowry, League president. There will be no business session.

The meeting will begin at 11:45. Members wishing to attend should notify Mrs. Archie Logan, membership chairman, at 3-3488 by noon Monday.

MRS. CECIL ERWIN—models a white straw cloth bonnet-type hat above which she made in the Home Demonstration hat workshop.

MAKING HATS in the hat workshop of the Home Demonstration clubs last week were Doris Rhodes, left, daughter of Mrs. H. L. Rhodes, center, and Mrs. Wayland Mathis. Doris is an 11-year-old 4-H Club girl. She completed a half-hat in one day in the workshop.
