Texas Today Observes Centennial Of San Jacinto Battle

Thousands Of Persons Are To Attend Celebrations In Many Cities; Ralls Plans Big Day

Campfires Burn Brightly Monday Night On Historic Site Of Battle And Houston Is Jammed; All-Crosby County Event Scheduled And Greatest Crowd In History Is Expected

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 20. — Campfires burned brightly tonight on historic San Jacinto battleground, and Houston was jammed with thousands of visitors who will trek there tomorrow for a great Centennial observance of the decisive battle of Texas' war of independence from Mexico.

Officers and men of the 69th coast artillery regiment, equipped with the latest implements of warfare such as plane finders and anti-aircraft guns, came up from Galveston and pitched their tents among the spreading live oaks where Sam Houston's ragged young recruits rested on the eve of battle one hundred years ago.

Combat Fought Over

Their machine guns furnished the din of battle as 700 Boy Scouts "re-fought" the combat at San Jacinto. Some of the uniformed boys represented Houston's furious attackers and the others Santa Anna's proud army which was put to rout in 18 minutes.

The crowning event of tomorrow's day-long ceremonies will be military mass which has attracted Catholic leaders from all parts of the nation. The prelates will wear vestments embroidered with bluebonnets, the flower of the Lone Star state.

Four archbishops, 25 bishops and hundreds of priests and monsignori were expected to participate. Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans will celebrate the mass and Bishop John J. Cantwell of Los Angeles will deliver the sermon.

Other Dignitaries

Other dignitaries expected include Archbishop A. J. Drossaerts of San Antonio, who will preside, Archbishop John E. Mitty of San Fran-

State Is Asked By Governor To Observe Holiday

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—Governor Allred today asked all state departments to observe April 21, anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, by declaring a holiday.

"It is fitting that this day sacred in the annals of Texas history be observed in proper manner by the state," he said.

"I further suggest that the Texas flag be flown for all civic affairs, at homes, business houses and in general throughout the state so that we may in a small way pay tribute to those sacred heroes of 1836 who, by their bravery on the battleground, won Texas its independence."

Rain? Just A Tiny Bit But Hope Revived

Light Showers Over Most Of South Plains Section Late Monday And Only .18 Of An Inch In Lubbock

Smell of rain translated itself into moisture Monday afternoon and night in several South Plains sectors, including Lubbock, where .18 inch was gauged before dark.

The showers punctuated a several-months period scarcely broken by more than a heavy snow Jan. 29 that measured .68 inch moisture and a subsequent rain of .59 inch.

WINDS REPORTED

NEW ORLEANS, April 20. (AP)—The following bulletin was issued by the New Orleans weather bureau tonight: Small craft warnings indicated for Texas coast daybreak Tuesday fresh to strong southerly winds."

Most Areas Dry

While most of the South Plains reported scarcely any moisture, other sections said the dust had been "laid" and that clouds hinted at precipitation during the night.

Composite reports from railroad dispatchers, bus station, and telephone companies gave the following reports on rainfall:

Childress and Shamrock, 1 inch; Idalou one-quarter; Floydada (9 miles northeast of the city), one-third; Plainview, Slaton, Ralls, Post, Lamesa, Tahoka, Brownfield, Levelland and Littlefield, showers ranging from light to medium.

Showers To South

Union Bus terminal said showers fell a short distance this direction from Sweetwater, good rains for "quite a distance" out of Wichita Falls. None was reported on the Odessa route, save for an occasional light shower.

Continued cloudiness was reported at Ralls, Floydada, Lamesa, Tahoka, and Littlefield. Skies were clearing at Post and thunder and lightning had ceased at Levelland. Sand storms added to the elemental

Entire World Is Warned By Great Britain

Eden Says That Unless Powers Are Prepared To Take Combined Action They Must Not Expect English Aid

Leaders In Clash

Foundations Of Collective Security Shaken; Italy Makes It Plain She Demands Virtually All Of Ethiopia

BY WADE WERNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

GENEVA, April 20.—The League of Nations admittedly was in peril tonight because of its failure to settle the Italo-Ethiopian war.

Anthony Eden, foreign secretary of Great Britain, issued two warnings as a result. The first was that unless nations are prepared to take combined action against an aggressor now they must not expect help from Britain if they get themselves into difficulties later. By aggressor Eden meant Italy.

May Abandon League

His second warning was that unless nations fulfull their duty of collective security Britain may lose her faith in the value of the league and turn to other methods of safeguarding her interests. This was a hint that Britain may one day abandon the league.

A spirited clash between Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Great Britain and Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy over Italy's alleged use of poison gas against Ethiopia marked today's session of the League of Nations council, at which spokesmen admitted the foundations of collective security were shaken.

Pessimism Expressed

Conceding failure in an effort to end the Italo-Ethiopian war, league members expressed deep pessimism in reviewing the situation. Italy made plain that she demands virtually all of Ethiopia.

The council at a public session tonight adopted a resolution expressing regret that league peace efforts had failed and appealing again for a "prompt cessation of hostilities and re-establishment of peace." Italy voted against the resolution and Ecuador made a reservation concerning a part that dealt with sanctions.

The Ethiopian delegate, Walde Mariam, in an impassioned speech asked if the council would be satis-

Federal Arms Control Plan Gets Support

Recommendation Draws Fire Of Some Members, Who Suggest Political Pressure Would Increase Armaments

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Terming it the best method of eliminating undesirable activities on the part of munitions makers, a majority of the senate munitions committee proposed today that the government manufacture its own battleships, armor plate, explosives, guns and bullets.

Its recommendation — concurred in by Chairman Nye (R-ND) and Senators Clark (D-Mo), Pope (D-Ida) and Boone (D-Wash) — was given little chance for consideration at this session, however, because of the drive for the earliest possible congressional adjournment date.

Political Pressure Cited

Against the four committee members, Senators George (D-Ga), Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Barbour (R-NJ) dissented. They asserted that local political pressure exerted to keep plants running full time would result in more armaments, not less.

Unanimously, however, the committee reported that the activities of the agents of private arms manufacturers had involved bribery, the discouragement of disarmament efforts, and attempts to stir up trouble between the nations and plunge them into arms building races.

"The committee majority," said

Desperate Fight Being Staged To Save Two Lives

MOOSE RIVER, N. S., April 20.—Minutes slipped into hours as rescuers fought through a solid wall of rock to deliver the relief they had promised tonight to Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding, imprisoned for eight days in the Moose River gold mine.

"We'll reach you in a few minutes," a confident voice told the cold, hungry, sickened men crouching above a rising level of water 141 feet below the surface shortly before 9 p. m.

Out By Morning

One hour later the mine manager, F. D. Henderson, said he could not estimate the time needed to penetrate the remaining feet of rock, believed to be few.

"It might be a matter of minutes, then again it might be hours," Henderson told the crowd of anxious watchers and the weary crew of miners, working desperately in short shifts in a narrow shaft. "But we'll have them out by morning."

One after another hardy Nova Scotian miners dropped into the tunnel with life-lines around their waists, clasped with bare hands at the crumbled rock and dirt for 15 minutes, passing it back to other men, then were replaced by others.

Quick Action Is Called For On Tax Plans

Drive For Adjournment Being Launched By Democrats And Revenue Bill Is Believed To Be The Key

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—As part of a drive for adjournment, Democratic managers of the administration's new tax bill tonight called for simultaneous work upon it in both the house and senate beginning next Thursday.

In both branches, however, the action promised to be stormy. In one of a number of developments touching upon the new revenue measure, Republican members of the house ways and means committee dropped word tonight their minority report upon it would contend that no new revenue program would be needed if governmental expenditures were reduced.

Collections Good

At the same time the treasury disclosed that although internal revenue collections were running ahead of estimates, the total for the fiscal year ending next June 30 might be $300,000,000 less than forecast by the president. The answer, officials said, was the Supreme court's invalidation of AAA which outlawed processing taxes.

The house agreed today to start consideration of the tax bill Thursday with a 16-hour limitation on debate, equally divided between proponents and opponents. The ways and means committee was

Chief Of 'G-Men' Draws A Bitter Tongue-Lashing

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20. — In an angrily-worded floor speech, which included an assertion that the chief of the federal bureau of investigation "may know the answer to the Hauptmann murder," Representative Zioncheck (D-Wash) today denounced J. Edgar Hoover as a "dictator" and "master of fiction."

His accusations came near the close of a busy afternoon which saw the house vote 272 to 0 to expunge from the congressional record a page and a half of remarks Zioncheck inserted last Friday about Representative Blanton (D-Tex). Blanton, with whom Zioncheck has clashed before, demanded the expunging point of personal privilege.

Gaining the floor during consideration of routine legislation today, Zioncheck referred to Hoover, then said:

From The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Avalanche-Journal Woman's Editor

WE'D like to see you at the cooking school this afternoon. Not since we've been going to lectures on the culinary arts have we met a woman we liked better at first sight than Mrs. Martha McDonald, with whom we chatted soon after her arrival Monday.

She's not too young and not too old and she has a winning personality, appearing to be "just one of the folks," if you see what we mean. She believes that a demonstration kitchen is no place for temperament. She also believes that women like to learn new ways of preparing popular meats and vegetables, and not a lot of fancy dishes that their families won't touch.

In thirty minutes we had touched on diets, oil wells, smoking, income taxes, sensible shoes, the Texas Centennial, friends we found we had in common and finally the cooking school. And already we do not hesitate to recommend Mrs. McDonald to you as a woman who thinks a cooking school is a place where cooking is explained and demonstrated. And we believe you'll like the young daughter, Mary Elizabeth, who will assist her mother on the stage.

A HISTORY LESSON

THE story of the battle of San Jacinto and its effect on history is especially interesting today, Texas day, the centenary of the declaration of independence by Texas. You remember from your study of history that Santa Anna, dictator of Mexico, had taken the Alamo by killing all of the Texas soldiers who had defended it and had taken Goliad in the same ruthless manner. The president of Mexico led his troops victoriously toward southeast Texas, and evidently was preparing to embark at Anahauc, then a flourishing area. In fact, the Mexican forces had actually reached Galveston Bay when they learned of Houston's approach.

Sam Houston marched toward Santa Anna by crossing the present Houston ship channel, near what is now called Manchester. In those early days the stream was known as Buffalo River and later called Buffalo Bayou. After crossing to the south bank, Houston and his men marched down stream to meet Santa Anna. The Texans wanted to fight, although they were vastly outnumbered by the enemy. In his official report, Houston mentions that there were 783 Texas soldiers pitted against about 1,500 Mexicans, the latter's army having been increased 400 by the arrival of General Cos.

DIE IS CAST

AT 3:30 p. m., one hundred years ago this morning, Sam Houston ordered destruction of the bridge crossing Vinces Bayou "... thus cutting off all possibility of escape," to quote from his report, although it is doubtful as to whether he referred to Santa Anna's escape with his army or the escape of the Texas forces should the tide of battle go against them. Soon afterward, the Texas troops marched towards the Mexicans, who were taken by surprise.

Some historians say that the Mexicans were engaged in customary siestas, while Mexican authorities indicate that the troops were watering their horses and resting because of exhaustion. In any event, in a short period of 18 minutes the Texans were in possession of the camp, the Mexicans were completely routed and until twilight were pursued, hounded by such cries as "Remember the Alamo, remember Goliad." They were completely defeated and in their despair they answered to the battle

Ninth Annual Four-Day Cooking School To Be Opened This Afternoon

Southern Culinary Expert To Offer Demonstrations And Lectures Free This Week To Women Of Area

The ninth annual Avalanche-Journal-Norge cooking school will open Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Auditorium, 801 Texas Avenue, for a four-day session.

Mrs. Martha McDonald, southern culinary expert, assisted by her daughter, Mary Elizabeth McDonald, will give lectures and demonstrations daily. The couple, whose home is in Dallas, spent the week-end with relatives near Gorman after having closed a successful school at Amarillo last week.

Before going to Amarillo, Mrs. McDonald conducted a school in Indiana and, prior to that time, had been on a tour of cities in the southern states.

Has Full Program

That Mrs. McDonald doesn't waste time in her schools is evidenced by the fact that her schedule for today is heavy and she intends to cover it thoroughly. It includes cooking pork chops, tuna fish casserole, braised beef, lamb roast, zwieback pudding, date spice cake, orange short cake and dream pie.

Those attending the school, which is free, will have the opportunity of leaving questions in a box at the front of the Auditorium. These will be answered daily at the close of the lecture.

Every effort is being made to arrange interesting as well as educational programs for the four days. Attendance awards are to be presented and there will be free booklets and recipes.

cry of the Texans, "Me no Alamo, me no Goliad."

THE BATTLE ENDS

IN the battle of San Jacinto the Texans had two killed and 23 wounded, six of them fatally. Of the Mexicans 630 were killed, ". . . very few having escaped," according to Houston's report. He mentions that his troops had no bayonets, but Santa Anna contradicts the statement. It seems that many of the Texans broke their guns on the heads of the Mexicans. Among the captured was Santa Anna, who had gone unrecognized in the garb of a private soldier until some of his own captured troops saw him and hailed him as their leader. With him as a prisoner, the campaign of the Mexican forces was at an end. Texas' independence was assured and the Republic of Texas was established.

TODAY'S CELEBRATION

AND now, my friends, it's one hundred years later and people down state are preparing for a celebration out at those historic battle fields. In this connection we read two interesting items. The man who has the food concession on the grounds has ordered 40,000 buns, 1,800 pounds of "weenies," and 500 pounds of hamburger meat for the crowds expected. And so at a place called San Jacinto, meaning water hyacinths because they grew in such confusion, there will be wafted the odor of cooking hamburgers and hot dogs. Because we Americans must eat, no matter what the occasion.

The other is that Mexican consuls in Texas are said to have been ordered by the foreign office in Mexico City not to partake in Centennial celebrations in the state.

Bilious Spells

In bilious spells, one of the first things to do is to take a dose of Black-Draught to relieve the attending constipation. You can rely on Black-Draught whenever a laxative is needed.

Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C., tells of having used Black-Draught for a long time. "There is a box full on my mantel, now," he writes. "I take it for biliousness. If I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. It is the quickest medicine to relieve me."

Black-Draught is purely vegetable. It is one of the most economical laxatives. Sold in 25-cent packages containing 25 doses.

No Objection For Pictures

Mrs. Roosevelt Tells Circumstances Under Which Photo Of Herself And Two Negroes Was Snapped

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today of the photograph of herself and two negroes which was brought up before the Black lobby committee last week:

"I had no objection to its being taken and I have no objection to it now."

In response to press conference questions, she declared the circumstances under which it was taken:

She went to make a speech at Howard university, negro college here supported by the federal government.

Officers Were Sent

The group she was addressing sent "two officers from the colored CCC camp" to meet her at the place where the car was parked and escort her up the steps to the meeting hall.

"They treated me with the utmost respect, and walked out with me," she said. "The photo was taken as it would have been taken in any other place where I was making a speech."

She said another of the photos—which were circulated in the south—was taken at the opening of a slum clearance project in Detroit when "a small colored girl was lifted up and presented me with a flower—and I had no objection to that either."

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Minton and daughter, Beverly Jean, and J. T. Stevens, of Wichita Falls, spent the week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Miller, 2616 Twenty-second street.

Fair Trial Is Being Sought

More Veniremen To Be Called When Trial Of Woman Opens Thursday; Wide Publicity In Case Cited

GREENVILLE, April 20. (AP) — Mrs. Velma Patterson's attorney made sure today that plenty of veniremen would be on hand to obtain a fair jury when she goes to trial Thursday for the alleged poison deaths of her two little daughters.

Judge Charles Berry granted in part the motion of the attorney, G. C. Harris, asking that more veniremen be summoned. Harris asked for 150 and the judge agreed to 50 additional veniremen.

In his motion, Harris set out that there had been widespread publicity on the case and he contended "much of it was prejudicial against the woman."

Headline Is Shown

Harris attached to the motion the streamer of a sensational newspaper story, he claimed papers bearing the headline were circulated in Greenville when Mrs. Patterson's trial was called here last week. The trial was postponed at that time.

Mrs. Patterson has been charged with murder for the deaths of her two daughters, Billie Fae McCasland, 11, and Dorothy McCasland, 12. They were her daughters by a former marriage. The case in which she is accused of poisoning Billie Fae will come to trial first.

Gly-Cas Regulates His Entire System

Mr. Peterson Relieved Of Years' Suffering; Nerves Quieted; Appetite Restored; Dizzy Spells Ended; "Gly-Cas Action Wonderful"

"Gly-Cas gives results—even when all else fails," said Mr. J. Peterson, 1113 South Main St., Temple, Texas. "For years I had been habitually constipated and was compelled to use the strongest of laxatives or had no elimination, and then they would soon lose their effect. Dizzy spells would come on me until I would nearly fall. My appetite failed me, forced every bite I ate, was terribly nervous and to get a good night's sleep was impossible in my condition. Of course I tried many medicines but it seemed I was just doomed to finish life in suffering as everything failed—until I began Gly-Cas—it went right to the source of my health troubles."

"From the first few doses Gly-Cas showed me great improvement," he continued, "It is remarkable what this single medicine can do. For the first time in years I now have a proper action of my bowels, eat regular, dizzy spells eliminated, relish my foods with no ill effects afterwards. I now sleep good, nerves are quieted and it is wonderful to be so well again. I now understand why so many are praising Gly-Cas—it seems to begin to give results where the others leave off."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Freddie Is Host To Grandparents Over Week-End But Mother Missing

LOS ANGELES, April 20 (AP)—Freddie Bartholomew, $1,000-a-week prize of a custody battle, played host to his grandparents over the week-end while his mother ate alone in her hotel.

At the home of his aunt and guardian, Miss Mylicent Bartholomew, the dark-haired, 12-year-old movie actor entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Robert Bartholomew.

The elderly couple came from Warminster, England, to see the little grandson who had lived with them several years.

Mrs. Lillian Bartholomew, who preceded her husband's parents here and Saturday filed a petition to set aside the guardianship awarded her sister-in-law, has not yet seen her son, Miss Bartholomew's attorney said.

The hearing on Mrs. Bartholomew's petition will open tomorrow in superior court, where, despite the written protests of his parents, Freddie was given into the legal charge of his aunt and dramatics coach six months ago.

Three Children Expelled As Result Of Failure To Salute

BELCHERTOWN, Mass., April 20. (AP)—Three children, barred from school for failure to salute the American flag on religious grounds, studied their lessons at home today.

The three children of Ignace Opielouski—Anna, 10, Sophie, 12, and Dominick, 15—were sentenced in juvenile court last week; to the training school at Feeding Hills on delinquency charges.

Their father was fined $20 on each of two counts of failing to send his children to school. The cases were appealed and the father was held in $800 bail for the June setting of the superior court.

According to Superintendent of Schools Herman E. Knight, the children were expelled from school because they refused to salute the flag on instructions from their father, who said his religious scruples forbade such observance.

Stadium Plan Being Revised

Estimated Cost Of Project Is Reduced To $75,000; Knapp Says Officials Hopeful Of Obtaining Approval

Plans have been revised for a stadium at Texas Technological college and estimated cost reduced to $75,000 by President Bradford Knapp and other officials, at the request of the federal Public Works administration.

The plans have been sent to Wyatt Hedrick, Fort Worth architect. They were drawn up at the college Saturday.

Plans in a former application called for a $150,000 stadium. Officials once rejected the application, then reconsidered.

"We are a little bit hopeful that this may put us in a position to get the stadium", Dr. Knapp said.

You need good digestion to face the nervous strain of modern living!

"I HAVE TO EAT in 30 minutes," says Harry Fisher, steel worker. "Smoking Camels helps my digestion, gives me a swell 'lift.' And they've got real flavor!"

Smoking Camels Assists Digestion and Promotes Well-Being

When people are tired, worried, or nervous, the flow of digestive fluids slows up.

Science now recognizes that smoking Camels has a favorable influence in increasing the flow of these digestive fluids. Thus, there are sound, definite reasons why Camels add to the enjoyment of your meals.

Camels are supremely mild—never get on the nerves or tire your taste. Enjoy Camels as much as you like... for their good cheer and "lift"... for their rare flavor! Camels set you right!

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Stocks ran for cover in today's market, leaving casualties of fractions to 3 points, generally, and 8 or so in scattered instances.

The break was the most severe in about six weeks. It came in the face of another upturn in steel mill operations to the highest level since 1930. Other good industrial news was also ignored.

Brokers attributed the relapse partly to a renewal of European war tension.

Motors, steels and a number of specialties were behind modest plus signs until the late reaction when they, too, joined the retreat. The rails turned notably heavy when the last-hour selling wave hit the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 1.4 points, the most sizeable day's drop for this index since March 13. The industrial composite lost 1.9 points, that for the rails yielded 1.2 and the utilities gave up .8 of a point. Transfers totaled 1,771,140 shares.

He asserted that "Dillinger didn't know 17 boys with shaking hands had guns trained on him," and said "if you, Mr. Speaker, had happened to come out of that show at the same time you would have been killed."

Some innocent bystanders were hit, he said, "but—o, well, you know—."

"That's law and order," Zioncheck shouted. "The dictator—Edgar Hoover. It has been rumored, Mr. Speaker, that he may know the answer to the Hauptmann murder. It is rumored that the great 'G-men' —'G' not standing for God—might know under whose direction the ladder was built by which Hauptmann was convicted and why Hauptmann didn't talk—because he did not know anything."

Keynote Speaker Likely To Be Chosen At GOP Meeting

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Republican chieftains headed for Cleveland tonight to pick the man to sound the party's keynote at their national convention in June.

Although there was some sentiment among leaders to delay action until the trend of the nomination race became more apparent, national committee headquarters said the selection of a keynoter was definitely on the arrangement committee's agenda for its Cleveland meeting tomorrow.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 20 (AP)—A bearish weather forecast, increased hedge selling and the critical situation in Europe combined to force cotton prices lower today and the market ended with options off from 3 to 8 points.

Loan cotton began to move today and in some sources this was attributed as the reason for the increase in hedge selling. October bore the brunt of this type of offering and lost 7 points on the day to 10.36. May closed 3 points lower at 11.36, July was off 6 points at 11.01 while Dec. finished 8 points lower at 10.37.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Cotton was irregular but generally lower today under hedging and scattered selling. Prospects for showers in some parts of the southwest and relatively easy Liverpool cables prompted offerings.

July contracts, after selling off to 11.10, rallied to 11.15 and closed at 11.12, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 2 to 9 points.

According to Washington advices the mills of the world are now consuming cotton at the greatest rate ever known but it is admitted that American cotton is having the strongest kind of competition from Indian cotton so that there is no prospect that the season will end with a record breaking consumption of American cotton for the season. The bureau of agricultural economics is authority for the claim that if consumption is continued at the current rate it will make a new high but it refrains from making any estimate of how large consumption of American cotton will be. The bureau says that the high level of world consumption is attributed to the high level of general industrial production relatively low cotton prices the production of larger crops of better cotton by foreign countries and the great expansion of textile manufacturing in the Orient.

Did Aged Man Kill Emperor?

Only Living Member Of Squad Which Fired Into Ambitious Brother Of Napoleon Wonders If His Shells Loaded

BROWNSVILLE, April 20. — The only living member of the Mexican firing squad which executed Emperor Maximilian at Queretaro in 1867 recalls that the proud Austrian died "like a brave soldier, with a smile on his lips."

Grizzled Antonio Guerrero, 110-year-old veteran of the Franco-Mexican war, lives quietly these days in his Brownsville home, musing over the part he played in ending forever France's imperialistic venture in Mexico.

"Aim at my body and leave my beard and features unmarred," Guerrero quoted the defeated emperor as saying when, with his back against a brick wall, he faced the firing squad.

His armies vanquished by Mexican forces under Benito Juarez and other patriots, Maximilian had surrendered at the battle of Queretaro. But he was thrown in prison at Teresitas convent and later taken to Capuchinas convent.

President Jaurez, again the head of Mexico after French rule ceased, ordered Maximilian and Generals Miramon and Mejia, also captured, court martialled. They were sentenced to death.

Five days later, on June 19, 1867, Guerrero says, he and other members of the firing squad fired a volley into the bodies of the emperor and his two generals. Some of their rifles, by custom, contained blanks.

"I may have fired the shot which killed an emperor," Guerrero says, his tone denoting wonderment over the tragic event to which he, a humble soldier, had been designated to participate.

The aged soldier, wrinkled and shrunken, remembers that Maximilian gave each member of the firing squad a silver peso before he died.

Youth Dominates American Walker Cup Golf Lineup

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The United States will defend the Walker cup, prized team trophy of amateur golf, against Great Britain's challenge cup this summer with one of the youngest squads in the history of cup competition.

The personnel, announced today by the U. S. Golf association, includes six shotmakers who never previously have been selected for cup play. Five others, with at least one international trophy competition behind them, were named to the squad which will oppose the British at Pine Valley in Clementon, N. J., Sept. 2-3.

Ouimet Is Captain

Uncle Sam's side again will be captained by Francis Ouimet of Boston, veteran of the first eight matches of the series started in 1922. Ouimet serves in a like capacity two years ago at St. Andrews. Whether Ouimet will play is up to himself, U. S. G. A. officials said.

The other members of the team are George Dunlap, jr., and George Voigt of New York; Albert (Scotty) Campbell and Harry Givan of Seattle; Reynolds Smith of Dallas, Tex.; Ed White of Bonham, Tex.; Johnny Goodman of Omaha; Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, Walter Emery of Oklahoma City, and Charley Yates of Atlanta.

Besides Ouimet, Dunlap, Voight, Goodman and Fischer have been members of past teams. Voight played in 1930-32; Dunlap, 1932-34, and Goodman, the 1933 National amateur champion, and Fischer in 1934.

Entire World Gets Warning

Eden Says That Unless Powers Are Prepared To Take Combined Action They Must Not Expect English Aid

fied "with addressing a platonic appeal to Italy."

Bow To Powerful Nation

"Is that the assistance which nations of the world promised to give the victim of aggression when they signed the covenant?" he asked.

"Will the League of Nations bow to an accomplished fact because it comes from a powerful state and because the victim of aggression is all alone?"

The council then adjourned its special session until the next regular session, scheduled May 11.

Admitting that the league structure is shaken, Stanley M. Bruce of Australia said: "It is not enough to deplore failure and it is not sufficient to express regret—we must decide what we are going to do next."

Eden Shows Strain

Eden, nervous and showing the strain of critical days, likewise warned: "It is no use to ignore facts which now confront us. The seriousness of consequences before the league of events of the last seven months can scarcely be exaggerated."

There was a hint of a possible radical change in Great Britain's policy toward the league in Eden's statement that if the final outcome of the Italo-Ethiopian war shakes belief in the future utility of the league, "we should each of us have to consider the policy which in that situation it would be our duty to pursue."

Eden sharply attacked Italy's alleged use of poison gas, declaring it "cannot be passed over in silence."

Right Of Reprisals

He spoke after Aloisi had asserted the anti-gas treaty adopted here in 1925 "does not abolish the right of reprisals against atrocities such as our troops have suffered."

When Eden had concluded Aloisi rose again and said: "I would remind the representative of Great Britain that the Italians who have been victims of atrocities also have mothers and children."

Aloisi made a vehement attack upon the Ethiopian delegation to the league, asserting its members had decided before reaching Geneva not to negotiate for peace.

Warning Again Is Shouted On Anniversary Of Battle

BOSTON, April 20. (AP)—Two red-coated national guard cavalrymen impersonating Paul Revere and William Dawes of colonial fame galloped today over roads from which autos long since have driven horses, and shouted over the countryside their warning: "The British are coming!"

The occasion was the 161st anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord, where, some say, was fired "the shot heard 'round the world."

Agriculture Commissioner Is Fined $18 For Fight Staged At Seguin; Declares Other Man Was Insulting

SEGUIN, April 20. (AP) — A fist fight at the Seguin race track cost Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald $18.

After he and his opponent, William McKnight, had exchanged several blows behind the grandstand, officers separated them and took them to the courthouse, where each was fined $18.

Asked About Job

Officers said McKnight, a former deputy sheriff from San Antonio, accosted McDonald between races and asked why the commissioner, who also is a member of the state racing commission, had not given him a job.

A heated argument resulted and the men moved to the edge of the crowd, then started swinging.

"McKnight was talking for the benefit of the crowd," McDonald was quoted by friends as saying afterward.

"He became insulting and I did what any other man would have done under the circumstances — I knocked him down. I did my best to quiet him but it wasn't any use."

No Marks Shown

Neither man showed any marks after the brief affray, which occurred Saturday at the closing races of the Seguin track.

Justice of the Peace George R. Dix imposed the fines on charges of fighting.

McDonald, back to his office today, declined to comment on the fight.

Scout Jamboree Boy's Inspiration For Peace Essay

PORTLAND, Ore., April 20 (AP)—A World Scout Jamboree in Hungary furnished the inspiration for the peace essay that won Eddie Cantor's $5,000 scholarship for Owen W. Matthews, jr.

"I just wrote what I knew," said the 19-year-old Portland High school graduate.

At the Jamboree three years ago in Godollo, Hungary, were boys of his own age from all countries.

"Even though we couldn't talk each other's languages, we made ourselves understood," he said. "We knew that, no matter what the diplomats of our respective countries might say to each other, we boys had no reason for fighting each other.

"That was the basis of my essay. I suggested that the governments of all countries could well afford to sponsor such international youth conferences, instead of leaving them to a private agency like the Boy Scouts.

"I believe, and I suggested, that such meetings of your people would do more for world peace than any meeting of diplomats."

Long Terms Are Given To Youths

CHICAGO, April 20. (AP)—Durland Nash and Robert Goethe, both 19, who pleaded guilty to the murder of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, child specialist who was lured to his death by a spurious sick call January 2, were sentenced today to 199 years in prison each by Criminal Court Judge Joseph Burke.

The two also were given sentences of one year to life on charges of robbery.

Two other youths, alleged members of a robber band, previously pleaded innocent to the murder charge after repudiating confessions which they signed in the presence of a committee of ten well known citizens.

They were Emil Reck, 19, and Michael Livingston, 17.

BODY RECOVERED

SAN ANGELO, April 20 (AP)—S. Jester Roach, drowned last Wednesday night in Lake Nasworthy, will be buried at Rising Star this afternoon. The body was recovered at 12:45 o'clock this morning when it came to the surface. Searchers dragging the lake late Sunday overturned a sunken tree and it was believed that this dislodged the body. It was found about 50 feet from the spot where the body of L. B. Hanson was recovered last Thursday.

Road Work In State Studied

Completion Of Several Projects Promised Delegations From Counties By Commission On Monday

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—The highway commission today told a delegation from Red river and Lamar counties that completion of highway 49 into Bogata would be included in the next federal aid program and instructed its engineers to make slight alteration in the plans. The road will be constructed, with the exception of minor changes, along plans originally approved by the commission.

The next federal aid program will be available in July.

Bids Are Ordered

In Franklin county the commission ordered bids on 4.1 miles of grading and drainage structures from Mount Vernon to White Oak creek on highway 37.

Estimates were ordered on the cost of a light gravel and oil surface on 15 miles of highway 8 in Panola county.

The commission indicated it would approve a plan to oil surface the detour on highway 60 in Matagorda county but deferred action on construction of highway 111 from Edna to Blessing.

Commissioners said they favored construction of a road from Valley Mills to Belton and would seek to include two additional farm-to-market projects in the next program. A large delegation from Bosque, McLennan and Bell counties pressed for immediate action. The proposed road would shorten the distance between Valley Mills and Belton by 25 miles.

Favor Construction

The commission promised a Liberty county delegation to include construction of highway 61 in the next federal aid program and said it would favor construction of highway 146 when state funds were available.

Investigation was ordered of the state's liability for improvement of old highway 6 from Bryan to near the Navasota river. The commission also ordered an investigation into the state's responsibility in installation of drainage culverts on highways 3, 87 and 62 in Orange county.

A four-mile gap in highway 27 east of Kerrville was placed on the federal aid program and the commission voted to take over highway 39 from Ingram to Camp Mystic for maintenance.

First Shot Fired In Oklahoma War

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20. (AP)—The first shot in Governor E. W. Marland's "oil war" whizzed over his "army" camp before dawn today, bringing the sergeant of the guard out on the run.

The guard on duty assured Sergeant Fred Brooks the shot was real. He said he heard it whine as it passed over the tent of the national guard, encamped near the statehouse.

Lieut. Ross Routh, commanding the squad of 15 guardsmen which Governor Marland has out patrolling an area where five state wells are being drilled in defiance of Oklahoma City zoning laws, attached no significance to the incident.

"Of course we had no opportunity of investigating," Routh said, "because the shot apparently was fired from a passing motor car, but we believe it was fired by a drunk."

Dutchy Smith's Hair Is Not Growing Fast But His Brow Is Unwrinkled As Classy Gang Of Linemen Hit The Dirt

They Go On Parade Friday Night In Regular Game

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

That slightly baldish, sprightly moving light heavyweight out there? The chap taking off his old baseball cap and wiping sweat from a smooth brow? Trying not to grin and turn handsprings?

That is Russell T. Smith. He is line coach at Texas Technological college, and that gang of dreadnoughts is his front line football squad, trying like the dickens to obey all his suggestions and "make" the Matador ball club.

Nice looking crowd, eh? Yeah, and Dutchy thinks so, too, even if he does yell out every now and then, casting aspersions on the mentality of a lumbering tackle or an overweight guard who isn't "pulling out" fast enough.

It's A Good Sign

But Dutchy isn't saying much about his line candidates this spring, just as Head Coach Pete Cawthon isn't going around weeping about the backfield aces he doesn't have. And when the Tech coaches won't talk much, it's a pretty good sign their digestion is good and their hopes high.

Continuing from page 7 of Sunday's Avalanche-Journal, we shall endeavor to set forth results of our observations during spring football training at Tech. Backfield candidates have been reviewed, and hereinafter are individual sketches of forward wall candidates, who will go under fire Friday night, along with the backs, in a public demonstration of what appears to be a first rate set-up of bone and brawn, spirit and spizzerinctum, ambition and ability.

Lest you forget, the Matadors are playing their annual spring game, as part of a large Fiesta program, Friday night, starting at 8 o'clock, against the Sul Ross Loboes.

So here goes with Dutchy Smith's best looking linemen, mentioned in the order of their importance and rating, more or less, to date:

LEFT ENDS

Hershel "Red" Ramsey .... 185 pounds plus, "little All-American" from Chillicothe . . . but only a junior . . . Running the inside track now, needing little introduction . . . but getting plenty of hot competition for the post from George Philbrick, 175-pound all-stater from Dallas, a sophomore . . . Put him down as a "shock trooper" now but warn Mr. Ramsey that it'll take some fast stepping.

Jack "Skillet Head" Jones, sophomore from Newcastle, 190 pounds . . . likely looking prospect . . . for the future, as is Weymond Newton, flash from Lubbock High who is catching on fast . . . Newton is light, but plenty tough . . . He'll play some football before he's through . . . if he stays with it.

RIGHT ENDS

J. W. West, 185 pounds . . . regular last year and a whiz . . . will be a junior . . . and a tough baby . . . Looks like West and Ramsey for the wings . . . but Smith likes . . .

Babe Curfman, another junior, 172 pounds . . . and Smith has good reason to like him . . . The Babe looks and acts more like Matt Hitchcock every day . . . and there was an end, no foolin' . . . Curfman and Philbrick will be prominent in next fall's lineups, and you can lay to that . . . .

Willis "Loudy" Burney, sophomore from Santa Anna, is Curfman's understudy right now . . . Won't play all the games this year, but he'll be coming up . . . weighs 171 now, and still growing, fast . . . can catch passes, block well . . .

LEFT TACKLES

Many fans thought the tackle positions, although filled by beefy men, were weakest spots in the 1935 lineup . . . but not any more. The same boys, most of 'em, are back, but they're smarter now, faster and all-round improved.

Bill "Sugar Bill" Holcomb . . . 224-pound senior, regular last year and still a regular . . . Has all the physical requirements . . . and is nobody's fool . . . He'll do . . . And so will

Les "Broadway" Browning, dressed down to a mere 205, and a senior . . . Pride of Pluvanna . . . as big as he looks . . . Is giving Sugar Bill plenty of trouble . . . And look who's back! None other than Alvin "Bull" Katrola, the old South Texas freight train wrecker . . . Out of the game last season, but welcomed back, and how! He can go . . . with the extra advantage of a face that only a coach could love . . . a face that scares the opposing end half to death before the whistle blows . . . and a 210-pound frame of solid bone to back it up. Look out, Holcomb . . . your headaches haven't started.

G. B. Wimberley, ex-Lubbock High star lineman, qualifying in football as a sophomore, according to Coach Smith . . . 207 pounds now, with no fat on his frame . . .

RIGHT TACKLES

No seniors on this side, and but two juniors, one of which is Jesse Browning, brother of big Broadway and due to play a lot of "brother act" in the line this year . . . 205 pounds, a smasher . . . Reminds you a little of Bennie McWilliams . . . quiet and unassuming . . . but mean in scrimmage.

The other junior is "Mississippi" Wilson, a 207-pounder who is capable of giving somebody plenty of trouble . . . in time . . . Just now he's down the list a few yards, behind a couple of sophomore terrors—

A. B. "Red" Murphy, flame-haired 205-pounder from Beaumont . . . and look out for this lad . . . he's going to give Dutchy plenty of trouble . . . if he tries to keep him on the bench . . . which he can't . . . at least, not all of the time . . . He's No. 2 on the right side now . . . likely to say there . . .

Lloyd Taliafero (pronounced like Tolliver) . . . a 195-pound six-foot-plus sophomore from Plainview, a reformed end, and a promising tackle . . . although lightest man on the list of candidates . . . Bill Woolard and Bob Simms, transfers, are next in line of right tackles . . . weighing 415 pounds between them . . . .

Now, gentle readers, hold the phone until tomorrow, at which time the third of this series, naming the guards and centers, will be attempted. In the meantime, prepare for a first hand observation of your own when the Matador candidates of 1936 clash Friday night with a tough band from Alpine.

Bill Pierce Resigns As Head Coach At Austin College After Good Year

SHERMAN, April 20. (AP) — Bill Pierce, head football coach of Austin college, today mailed his resignation to Dr. E. B. Tucker, president of the institution, after making a verbal resignation earlier.

The Kangaroos won their first Texas conference championship under Pierce last fall. He gave no reason for resigning and did not announce his future plans.

Pierce earned three varsity letters at Notre Dame and won a letter at a guard post in his sophomore year under Knute Rockne. In 1933 he served as assistant coach at St. Edward's at Austin under Jack Chevigny, became line coach here in 1934 and head coach in 1935.

Westerners Beat Slaton Fighters

SLATON, April 20. (Special) — Winning many events by default, the Lubbock High school ring team defeated Slaton High in interscholastic matches here tonight, 9 to 3. One match ended in a draw.

Primo McCurry, middleweight ace of Lubbock, served up the only knockout, punching Kilpatrick of Slaton to sleep in the second round. McCurry lost to Gentry at wrestling, however, in 8 minutes. Gentry won with a body pin. A technical knockout was awarded Henry of Slaton over Jeton Meador of Lubbock in the third round of their match.

White Sox Send Salveston In Trade To Coast Angels

CHICAGO, April 20. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox sent Jack Salveston, righthanded pitcher, to Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league today as part of the deal in which the American League club obtained Third Baseman Steve Mesner for 1937 delivery.

Although part of the deal for Mesner, announced Saturday, Salveston may be recalled by the Sox, having been sent away on option. Salveston was obtained from Pittsburgh early last season in exchange for Outfielder Bud Hafey.

La Didrikson Serves Notice To Men Golfers; She's Ready

LOS ANGELES, April 20. (AP)—Mildred "Babe" Didrikson of Olympic games fame has served notice she is ready to compete with men golfers and no quarter asked.

The Texas girl, who turned professional athlete after her triumphs in the 1932 games here, toured the 71-par Rio Rondo county club course yesterday in 72 strokes. She took only 26 putts for the 18 holes.

CARDS SHIP TWO

ST. LOUIS, April 20. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced today Lyle Judy, infielder, and Sam Narron, infielder and catcher, have been sent to the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast league on option. Sacramento is a farm of the major leaguers.

A. A. Baroni, owner of Top Row, missed most of the Tanforan meeting owing to automobile accident injuries.

Maybe It's His Way Of Getting That Extra "Ooomph" Into Swing; Mel Ott Bats Left Handed—And Right Footed

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 20.—Down the sports trail:

MINUTE INTERVIEW

Mel Ott, youngest 10-year man in all major league baseball history, can't explain why he lifts his right leg skyward as he belts the horsehide over fences. His Giant mates rib him about it and even try to do as well by imitating him . . . with no results.

"I started playing baseball when I was four and about the size of a finger mitt," reflected Mel, "but that right foot began its stretching exercises the first time I went up to bat. I tried to hold it on the ground once and looked like a hitch hiker gazing at a car as it sped past. Whenever I get into a batting slump, I have a simple, never failing remedy. I just pick that right up about a foot higher and boom! I start hitting again."

Right Handed Golfer

Mel bats left handed. He plays golf right handed, but he still lifts that right foot every time he smacks the white pellet. And he shoots in the low eighties despite one of golf's strictest rules—keep your feet firmly on the ground.

Who'll win the National League pennant?

"The Giants," predicts Mel. "We've folded up in the stretch twice in a row, but watch us this year. We're stronger all around."

Ott, only 27 but playing his 12th season with the Giants, is married and the father of two girls, Lyn, 3 1-2 years, and Barbara Ann, 6 1-2 months.

HOLDOUT MUSIC

Except for the Dean brothers, who made the loudest noise, most of the 1936 spring baseball holdouts are off to a "I told you so" start. Leading the National League holdout clan is Ernie Lombardi of Cincinnati with a .435 average through Sunday. Heading the American League holdout society is big Hank Greenberg of Detroit, who is hitting .357. Wait till next spring!

HUNCH TIP

If you're a hunch horse player, don't overlook Grand Slam in the Kentucky Derby. The big bay colt is owned by Bohn and Markey (the Bomar stable) of Detroit. And Detroit is home of champions this year with a sport king on almost every corner. Grand Slam ran third in the Chesapeake Saturday, but don't count that one too much. He can run all day on any kind of track. Another thing: Did you ever notice how money goes to money? The Bomar stable owners have plenty.

NOMINATIONS

Outstanding hero of the week: Robert Moses Grove, grand old Lefty of the Boston Red Sox, who held the slugging Yankees to two hits, one of them a scratch blow, and blanked them, 8 to 0, on a bitter cold day. The man who wouldn't say die: Caifson Johnson, 158-pounder on the University of Minnesota wrestling team, who refused to let a bad shoulder stop him from trying for the American Olympic wrestling team. Caifson was advised not to compete but he hitch hiked and rode cattle cars to Bethlehem, Pa., and was defeated on points only by Frank Lewis of Oklahoma, the ultimate winner.

Aggies, Bears In Diamond Deadlock

COLLEGE STATION, April 20 (AP)—The Texas A. and M. Aggies and the Baylor university Bears battled to an 11-all deadlock in a 12 inning Southwest conference baseball game here today. The contest was called on account of darkness.

Under conference rules, each team was credited with half a game won and half a game lost.

The Aggies rallied in the late innings after a series of costly errors and Mike Langley's home run knotted the count in the ninth.

John Edmisson, Mary Lois Thompson Win Mixed Joust

In a mixed foursome tournament at the Lubbock Country Club Sunday, John Edmisson and Miss Mary Lois Thompson emerged winners with a gross of 174 and a net score of 162.

Second place went to Mrs. W. F. Helwig and F. L. McRee with scores of 190 and 163 and Mrs. McRee and J. O. Smith were third with 194 gross and 164 net.

Other scores in order were: Mrs. Cliff Dean and W. F. Helwig, 185 and 167; Mrs. Guy McAfee and F. C. Benham, 212 and 178; Mrs. M. M. Brown and C. J. Quinlan, 199 and 178; Mrs. E. A. Henry and Guy McAfee, 224 and 182; Mrs. Benham and Cliff Dean, 224 and 182. Mrs. Olan Key and Waldo Trotter only played the first nine holes.

Amherst Opens Season With 7-0 Victory Over Anton "9"

AMHERST, April 20. (Special) — The Amherst baseball club opened its 1936 season in its new ball park here Sunday by taking a 7 to 0 victory from the newly organized Anton team.

Several hundred fans watched the game, which was closer and "bloodier" than the score indicates. Simpson and Lumpkin took turns on the Amherst mound and shut the visitors out with 6 scattered hits. Amherst collected about a dozen from Blackeye Hoyle and Bud Arnold of Anton. Errors afield proved costly to the Anton team.

Schmeling And Louis To Meet In Yank Field

Mike Jacobs Announces Date As June 18 And Place, New York, Refusing Bids From Other City Officials

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Max Schmeling, the man who was, and Joe Louis, the negro who would be heavyweight champion of the world, will battle 15 rounds in the Yankee stadium, Thursday night, June 18.

After days of apparent indecision, Promoter Mike Jacobs announced definitely today that he was calling off all negotiations aimed at transferring the match to some other city, Philadelphia, San Diego, Calif., and Cleveland, among others.

Expect $1,500,000

Jacobs predicted the bout would gross $1,500,000 and draw aggregate attendance of better than 90,000.

Construction of additional seating facilities designed to provide accommodations for a crowd up to 100,000 is under way at the stadium. Jacobs said, however, that a bowl would be erected within the stadium so that except for the press ringside section all seats would be elevated.

Jacobs timed his announcement to coincide with the arrival of Schmeling from Germany on the Bremen tomorrow. Louis will arrive from the midwest Wednesday.

Selection No Surprise

Selection of New York for the first of Jacobs' summer extravaganzas surprised no one in spite of fanciful bids from other centers.

Jacobs sat around most of the afternoon waiting for San Diego interests to put $1,000,000 on the line. The California city had entered the bidding last week with Mike Marco, theatrical man representing the San Diego exposition, acting as spokesman.

Sailor Watkins Returns To Lubbock Mat Wednesday Night In Special Go Against Dick Trout Of West Coast

Wrestling fans from Post no doubt will organize their own rooting section, or anvil chorus, as the case may be, when the gong rings for tomorrow night's ear-twisting show at Sled Allen's Auditorium.

Post fans generally turn out in goodly numbers, but they fairly fill the ringside chairs when their erstwhile fellow citizen is on the card.

It's old Sailor Tex Watkins coming back, after a lengthy tour of the southern and eastern circuits. Little more needs to be said.

Post fans would not have you get them wrong. They do not buy tickets with the unanimous hope of seeing their home town pride and joy go to town. They come to jeer as well as to cheer him, because they like to see him get it.

The rougher the opposition and the louder the left-handed cheering, the bigger show Sailor Watkins stages.

Californian Coming

They're pitting the returning prodigal against a newcomer for his first match of the year here. The stranger's name is Dick Trout, and he is not so much a stranger at that to followers of mat warfare. He's a ranking middleweight from San Pedro, Calif., and quite a lad. He's another ex-sailor, if that means anything.

Watkins will be home for the first time since mid-December, 1935.

The main event tomorrow night brings together, by popular request, Dale Haddock and Hy Sharman, bitter enemies in and out of the ring. They haven't been known to get along with each other since they met. Each has developed quite a hatred for the other as results of squabbles while one was wrestling and the other refereeing. They have refereed "against" each other more than once.

Starting the show at 8:30 o'clock, Ray Meyers of Louisville meets Pat Garrison of Amarillo. Meyers and Haddock practically stole the show last week in one of the fastest preliminaries on record here.

Finis Apparently Written To Murder Investigation Here; Hat Of Death Victim Also Found In Water

A second discovery in the shallow water of a Yellowhouse canyon pool Sunday apparently marked finis to a murder investigation into the death of W. O. Pinson.

"I have no one to notify and no one that is able to bury me. So let the county bury me," read a note believed to have been written by Pinson, whose body was found April 4 in the same pool.

Hat Recovered

From the water, too, was recovered Pinson's hat, bought from a Hillsboro store.

Both articles were discovered by Don Reeder, assistant police chief, and Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer.

The note, written in pencil on the reverse side of an order blank from an Abilene beauty and barber shop supply company, was found floating at the edge of the water about 30 feet south of the spot from which Pinson's body was taken. The hat was on the bottom of the pool, a few feet from where the body lay.

Writing Compared

After a comparison of the writing, Fort said that Pinson wrote the note.

The evidence found Sunday, said Chief of Police H. L. Johnston, has convinced his department that the Dallas man met death by his own hand. An investigation, based on a theory that Pinson had been slain and his body dumped into the water, had been conducted by police.

Sheriff Tom Abel and Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg April 6 announced they had concluded Pinson had committed suicide. Justice of the Peace Trigg returned an inquest verdict that Pinson had killed himself.

The note the officers found Sunday was presented to a 99th district court grand jury Monday. The grand jury had been investigating the case, too.

Reeder and Fort said a deep layer of loose mud in the pool hampered their investigation. Fort suffered a severely lacerated foot when he stepped on a jagged piece of glass. He was under a doctor's care today.

Abel Had Solution But Held File For Probers

With probe of the Pinson case relegated apparently to the "solved" category, Sheriff Tom Abel Monday night said:

"While the death of Pinson had been marked 'suicide' almost from the first by the sheriff's department, no vigilance was relaxed in following up what meagre clues we received from the public. A man was arrested and held 10 days, being released only after it definitely was determined he had nothing to do with Pinson's death. I showed a reporter a copy of a letter that established the case, two weeks ago, but asked him to say nothing of it until investigations were completed. My complete file was investigated by the grand jury. I wanted to make no public announcement before that body was afforded a chance to study that file, believing an announcement might hurt possible future probe of the case."

Roosevelts Are To Attend Funeral Services For Howe

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—President and Mrs. Roosevelt will journey from the White House tomorrow night to attend the burial of Louis McHenry Howe, friend and secretary, at his former home, Fall River, Mass., on Wednesday morning.

Funeral services for Howe, who died in his sleep Saturday night at the Naval hospital here, will be held in the East room of the White House tomorrow afternoon.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt will accompany Mrs. Howe and her family to Fall River.

From Fall River, the president will go to his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., to remain until Saturday when he will motor to New York to keep an engagement to speak that night before the National Democratic clubs. He then will return to Washington.

Stomach Sufferers

If you are suffering from indigestion, atonic dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas pains, "raw stomach," inflammation of the intestines (enteritis), gastric acidity and sick headaches, due to excessive acidity, you can't afford to ignore these warning signs. You should try at once the Doctor's Prescription, known as Gasa Tablets. If you allow these conditions to become worse, the acids may eat into the delicate mucous membrane of your stomach and intestine and possibly cause dangerous ulcers. Gasa Tablets soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach" and help convert starchy foods into dextrose, which is so essential to energy of the body, and preservation of health. Take just one or two Gasa Tablets and see how they help your stomach to "tackle a hearty meal." The first bottle must produce results or money back. On sale at John Halsey Drug Store. Adv.

Bennett Well Is Shut Down To Await Storage Facilities

SEAGRAVES, April 20. (Special) — With a three-hour test run through the two-inch tubing Sunday afternoon, indicating 20 barrels an hour, the No. 1 Bennett of the Honolulu-Cascade in Yoakum county is now shut down awaiting more storage.

The six tanks of 500-barrel capacity each, including two that were installed last week, are full, it was said. For that reason there is no indication as to when another run will be made.

A three-quarter inch choke was used. The well flowed for three hours.

Five or six truck loads of machinery for the Stogner-Roosevelt on section 215, went through here late today. The water well is being dug and the cellar and slush pit finished. C. J. (Red) Davidson is the driller.

Test Run Of Crude Oil From Bennett Well Is To Be Made

A test run of 250 barrels of crude, from the Honolulu-Cascade No. 1 Bennett, in Yoakum county, is to be made probably next week, by the Lubbock Oil and Refining Co., E. A. Patterson said last night. The oil is to be brought here the latter part of the week.

Laboratory tests show the Baume gravity is 30.6 per cent. The crude has a gasoline content of approximately 25 per cent.

C. J. (Red) Davidson, driller and head of the Cascade Petroleum Corp., Inc., arranged with Mr. Patterson for a test. Whether the well will furnish a supply of oil for the local refinery, will not be determined until after the test run is finished.

Ambition Of Mayor Edwards To Read Ceremony Realized

Ambition of Mayor Ross Edwards to "perform a marriage ceremony" was fulfilled Sunday night.

Called out of bed about 11 o'clock, the mayor donned clothes and said matrimonial rites for Lloyd Pollard, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pollard of 1928-A Avenue N, and Miss Maudie Stewart, of Lubbock.

The ceremony was performed in the living room of his residence, 1219 Fourteenth street, before a small gathering of friends of the young couple. They will make their home in Lubbock.

Revocation Of License Seen

Bond Of $1,500 Is Posted By M. C. Williams On Charge Of Driving When Intoxicated; License Is Kept

Revocation, in effect, of the driving license of M. C. Williams, 28, of Lubbock resulted Monday when Williams was arraigned in the court of J. T. Trigg, justice of the peace, on a charge of driving when intoxicated.

Bond of $1,500 was posted by the defendant.

Action Is Awaited

The justice of the peace said he would keep the license pending action of a 99th district court grand jury in the case. Until his license is returned to him, Williams legally cannot drive an automobile.

Police Sunday arrested six persons for drunkenness and one for disturbance. Three men were fined $10, for drunkenness, two fined $15, and one fined $25. The disturbance charge resulted in assessment of a $15 fine.

Negro Is Fined

J. B. Blackman, negro, was fined $10 and costs upon a plea of guilty of simple assault several weeks ago upon another negro. It was alleged he struck and cut Joe Ross with a knife. Found after a several-weeks search, the negro was not confronted by testimony of the complaining witness, who left Lubbock, Blackman remained in custody in lieu of satisfying judgment.

A Weatherford man, charged in Trigg's court with swindling by worthless check of more than $200, had not been arrested. The complaint was set to a 99th district court grand jury for investigation.

Bond of $100 and trial date of Thursday were set by Trigg for a man charged with highway law violation.

Aggravated assault complaint Monday was filed in county court against a man who had not been arrested. Complainant, Jess Koger, jr., alleged he had been struck, cut and bruised with a pistol. County Attorney Jess C. Levens filed the charge, allegedly resulting from a disturbance Saturday night at a club outside Lubbock City limits.

Here's Real News In Animal World: Bear Has Triplets

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Zoo officials today hailed the birth of triplet bears as phenomenal in the animal world as the Dionne quintuplets were among human beings.

"It's quite an accomplishment," said Dr. William M. Mann "for bears to have three cubs in one litter, but the astounding thing is that they were born to breeds at the very opposite ends of the bruin family tree."

The mother is Ramona, a Kadiak. The father is Snowy, a Polar.

"For a Kadiak to even associate with a Polar," the zoo director explained, "is something of an event. But when they fall in love and have young ones—well, that's real animal news."

Liquidation Of Credits In Italy Is Talked By Leaders

ROME, April 20 (AP)—Ambassador Breckinridge Long of the United States discussed the liquidation of about $8,000,000 worth of frozen American credits in Italy with Premier Mussolini today.

It was understood the credits will be liquidated gradually through the new tourist on registered lire recently instituted by the Italian government.

Long's visit was also one of farewell since he leaves tomorrow for the United States, sailing aboard the S. S. Washington from Le Havre Thursday.

TURKEY DENIES REPORT

Mr. Roosevelt's Big Loss

THEY'RE going to say farewell to Louis McHenry Howe up in Washington today.

The small, quiet man who has been at Franklin Roosevelt's elbow during the President's climb to fame is gone and to say he will be missed is putting it mildly.

Few people know just how important Colonel Howe's service has been to President Roosevelt.

Probably the President himself doesn't realize the extent of that service, for over the years the men have become so close as to make it difficult to realize where one began thinking and the other took up the task.

Nearly every great leader in the world's history has had a quiet but able advisor in the background—one seldom seen and little heard, but there just the same.

That has been "Louie" Howe's position in connection with Franklin Roosevelt and in the days, weeks and months that are to come the President will see many times when he feels the need of the colonel's counsel, the touch of his hand and the kindliness of his wan smile.

Men can't and don't live as closely as have the President and Colonel Howe without becoming almost a part of each other. Loss of the splendid little secretary is doubtless a blow to Mr. Roosevelt in this re-election year—a blow which will not be easily overcome.

The President has lost, in reality, a member of his family and we join with millions in expressing sorrow at his loss.

CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY

Sometimes we wonder what publicity men think of editors and, at the same time, why more editors don't commit suicide.

We had those thoughts again yesterday upon receipt of this little gem, from the campaign headquarters in Tyler of one F. W. Fischer, who for reasons best known to himself is running for governor.

We quote:

"Evidence that the fame of F. W. Fischer, Tyler candidate for governor, is rapidly spreading was seen this morning when a letter addressed to 'Candidate for Governor, The Man Who Is Running Against Governor Allred And Paying His Own Expenses, Tyler, Texas,' was promptly delivered at Judge Fischer's headquarters. The letter came from McAllen, Texas.

The Editor of The Morning Avalanche has seen some pretty punk publicity blurbs in his time but that is almost in a class by itself.

In fact, the only comparable one we can think of bobbed up two years ago from Governor Allred's publicity man. It was based on the "prediction" by a fortune teller that the then attorney-general would be the next governor of Texas!

We sincerely hope the governor is re-elected and that his publicity corps won't embarrass us by trying to go Judge Fischer's lads one better!

EXPLANATION OF LAST SATURDAY'S CARTOON

THE FATHER OF BOXING

San Bernardino (1380-1444), the jovial and charitable Franciscan monk of Siena, Italy, is responsible for the modern revival of boxing. Europe was then torn between the two factions of the Guelphs and the Ghibellines, and blood was being shed in constant battles. Traveling from place to place, the saintly monk acted by great eloquence to calm the sanguine strife. He assembled around him a great many youths, who were fascinated by his word. He taught and prevailed upon them to substitute the fists for swords, and his virtuous and cheerful example brought about the revival of pugilism.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

TOBY RYAN, 19, is a photographic model, posing for photographs to be used in advertisements. Unknown at first, she is soon in high demand in the studios, particularly after she is chosen as "The Hillyer Soap Girl."

Toby shares an apartment with HARRIET HOLM, another model, engaged to marry CLYDE SABIN, whom Toby distrusts.

Wealthy TIM JAMIESON showers Toby with attentions for a time, and then seems to forget her. Toby's oldest friend is BILL BRANDT, who works in an advertising agency. She is fond of Bill, but has never thought of him romantically.

After weeks of silence, Tim telephones, but Toby makes an excuse for not seeing him.

Toby goes to the studio of DURYEA, the photographer. She puts on the blue dress she is to be photographed in and goes to show it to Duryea.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVII

Duryea turned. "Mr. Hillyer!" he said. "How are you? Come on in—!"

He hurried to the doorway where Jay Hillyer stood, his eyes on the girl in blue. Toby had swung around, the color in her cheeks deepening. She had not seen Hillyer and she thought that her posing and pirouetting to display the new dress must have looked very silly.

Hillyer said: "I happened to be passing by the building and remembered I'd been meaning to stop in." He spoke to Duryea, but he was still looking at Toby, as though seeing her for the first time.

"You've met Miss Ryan, haven't you?" Duryea asked. "At least, I know you've seen her photoghaps. She's the Hillyer Soap Girl. Miss Ryan—?"

"Oh. Miss Ryan—" Hillyer said. "Yes, of course we've met." He went on, as Toby came forward. "How are you? I didn't recognize you at first."

"I'm very well, thank you," Toby said. "I was just trying on this dress that was sent over to be used in a picture."

"From Cecile," Duryea explained. "How do you like it?"

Hillyer did not answer for a moment. Then he said, "The dress is very pretty. If you can photograph Miss Ryan in it and make her look just as she does now you'll have a wonderful picture, Duryea."

"I can do better than that. Wait, I'll show you—"

The setting for the picure had been arranged. On a platform before the camera was a scene like a bit of summer landscape—green grass, a tree with flowering branches and a background like the palest of blue skies.

Duryea led Toby to the platform. She mounted it, and stood beside the flowering tree. From a box came the hat designed to go with the blue dress—a huge straw with a blue ribbon tied in a bow. Toby took the hat and dropped it carelessly at her feet. She reached for a branch of pink blossoms.

Without turning, she said to Duryea, "Is this right?"

"A little more to the side," the photographer directed. "Raise your head—no, that's too much. Lower it again. Yes, that's better—"

He tilted a spotlight so that the yellow gleam shone directly on Toby's hair. An electric fan blew the folds of the organdie dress gently, as though stirred by a summer breeze.

"Chin up," Duryea said. "Now then, let's have a smile. A big smile—a real one. That's it!"

He turned to Hillyer. "There's your picture," he said quietly. "What do you think of it?"

"If you can catch that pose and that expression in a photograph you'll have a sensation."

"It will be better than that by the time we're through with it."

"I doubt it," Hillyer said. "I doubt if even you can do better than that."

They were not ready to make the photograph yet and Toby stepped down from the platform. It appeared that Hillyer had come to see Duryea about something not concerned with the series of pictures she was posing for. The two men went on talking and Toby drifted away, waiting for them to finish.

Presently Duryea's secretary appeared, spoke to him and the photographer excused himself. Hillyer crossed to where Toby was standing.

"Miss Ryan," he said, "you're doing a fine piece of work for us. I'm very much pleased."

"I'm glad," Toby said. "I've enjoyed making these pictures. Mr. Duryea is so nice to work with. And he's a wonderful photographer—"

Hillyer smiled. "And he has an excellent model," he said. "Which I'm sure has been a great help. Miss Ryan, I've a favor to ask of you."

Toby looked up, questioningly. Hillyer continued. "It's a pleasure," he said, "for anyone as old as I am to catch a glimpse of youth like yours. It—well, in a sense, it turns back the years. I was wondering if you'd allow me to call for you later and take you to dinner."

"Why—!" Toby had never been more surprised. Of course Hillyer had driven her home from his office the day she had gone there, but that had been because they were going the same direction. He had been pleasant during that drive, but impersonal. Now she sensed something else in his manner. She felt he really wanted her to say she'd have dinner with him. That he wanted it very much.

Why should anyone as rich and important as Jay Hillyer want to spend an evening with her? Toby didn't know. But she knew that she liked this man whom she had seen only once before. She liked him very much.

So she said, after a moment's hesitation, "Yes, Mr. Hillyer, I'll be glad to go to dinner with you."

"What time shall I call?"

She knew Duryea would work for two or three hours, at least, so she told him to be there at 7.

She was glad afterward that she had made it that late, because it gave her time to freshen up a bit. She hadn't, of course, dressed with the idea of keeping a dinner engagement. She was wearing the blue suit in which Duryea had first photographed her, and the black straw hat with the red roses. She put on fresh makeup, fluffed her hair and drew the hat on, smartly tilted.

Hillyer seemed to think she looked very nice. He was there, not with the big town car, but with a cab, and they drove to a restaurant near Washington Square. The rooms were high-ceilinged and the furnishings oldfashioned, but there was an air of dignity and elegance about the place quite unlike the restaurants to which Tim Jamieson had taken her. The deference shown to Hillyer was unlike the way head waiters had greeted Tim, too.

"I think," Hillyer said, "that you'll find the food very good. This is one of the few places where they really know how to prepare bouillebaisse. Would you like to try it?"

Toby said she would, and the richly flavored soup porved to be delicious. So were the fillets of chicken and the salad and the dessert that came afterwards.

Hillyer talked easily and Toby forgot that he was the president of a great company, a man who must be enormously wealthy. He seemed interested in her work and asked questions about it. He seemed interested, too, in what she told him about herself. She told him more than she realized—about the days before she had become a model, about Harriet and the apartment they shared together, about the studios, the people she met in them, the time she had gone out "on location" and nearly frozen and met Margaret Gregg.

Hillyer nodded at the mention of that name. Evidently he remembered Margaret Gregg as a Broadway celebrity. He said little about himself. In fact he talked little, but it was evident that he was enjoying himself. They sat at their table after most of the other diners had gone.

In the cab, driving to Toby's apartment, Hillyer said, "I expect it's been a dull evening for you."

"But it hasn't," Toby assured him. "I had a grand time."

"Well, you've given me a very pleasant evening. Very pleasant indeed. Perhaps—if you're sure you won't be bored—you'll let me take you to dinner again. And to see 'Here Comes the Queen' some night next week?"

"Here Comes the Queen" was the newest musical play, with a cast that included several stars. It had been acclaimed unanimously by the critics, and tickets were sold for weeks in advance.

"I'd love to!" Toby said.

"Then I'd like very much to take you. How would Tuesday night suit you?"

She said that so far as she knew she could go Tuesday. There was always the possibility of an emergency assignment that could not be avoided, or of re-takes.

It was agreed that, unless something unforeseen prevented, they would go to see "Here Comes the Queen" Tuesday night. Hillyer said he would telephone Tuesday morning.

A few moments later they reached her door and Toby said good night. She hurried up the stairs, hoping that Harriet was home. She wanted

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ALTHOUGH Supreme court members lower all legal curtains after they hear argument sideline observers pass out word that they have not yet started to draft the overdue opinion on the Guffey Coal act. It was the most indigestible dish on the judicial menu at Saturday's executive session.

This inside evidence of painful and prolonged controversy puzzles those volunteer advisers who predicted long ago that the law would be promptly dumped on the NRA-AAA rubbish heap. Most lawyers still look for an adverse ruling, but the sign of cleavage in the court has revived a rereading of the act. Cummingsers will cheer if a 6-3 vote furnishes color of constitutionality to this regulatory cure-all.

Constitutional experts supply a plausible explanation for the delay. The Guffey act, unlike the two outlawed members of the Rooseveltian triplets, marks a novel attempt to justify social and economic control under the "general welfare clause." Seven states pleaded inability to regulate the coal industry because of its interstate ramifications. Finally, an upset will close all visible gateways to federal supervision in new fields without a constitutional amendment. The outcome may determine FDR's next move in attacking unemployment.

MANTLE: SEC Chairman Landis will stay on to boss the bulls and bears of Wall Street if President Roosevelt requests it. But the young lawyer's next step-up may be such a feather in both their caps that the White House will offer no objection.

Washington hears that this extremely important member of the administration's "brain trust" has been offered the prize post of dean of the Harvard Law School—second only to a Supreme court appointment in the minds of the legal fraternity. The deal is still in the conversational stage, but it is understood that Mr. Landis was recommended by the retiring Dean Roscoe Pound, who once dubbed Landis his "most brilliant graduate."

Mr. Roosevelt would never miss this chance to have the laugh on his critics. For fair but conservative Harvard to honor so illustriously the author of reviled regulatory legislation would be to knight the New Deal with respectability. It might conceivably reconcile some holders-out to political professors and their legislative handiwork. Most important, it would enable the liberal Landis to exercise a great influence on young men leaving law school for business and politics—the same influence, not to rub it in, while Felix Frankfurter exercised on him.

OVERSIGHT: House members are staging an undercover mutiny against the do-nothing tactics of the committee assigned to investigate the Townsend movement. Speaker Byrns has been bombarded with pitiful pleas that he name some two-fisted, fighting men to the committee.

The sleuths staged a few hearings and headlined evidence of large profits for Doctor Townsend and Second Lieutenant Clements. Then the investigators left Washington to pursue their inquiries afield. Meanwhile, Doctor Townsend reorganized his outfit and sliced his share of the cut from dues and magazine advertising. Congressional mailbags reveal that the old folks are sorer at congress than they are at their volunteer benefactors. It will require bigger and better sensations to disillusion the $200-a-monthers.

While the committee loafs, primaries are being held in many states. In almost 300 districts the Townsendites have entered their own candidates against sitting members, and the latter may lose out unless the movement is "debunked" in a hurry. It won't help them a bit if the pension drive is deflated by November election time, for they won't be on the ticket. That's an item which boys forgot when they wasted weeks in debating whether it would be a smart or dumb move to authorize the investigation.

COOPERATION: House tax-bill framers are arranging with senatorial colleagues for a sly surprise for Messrs. Roosevelt and Morgenthau.

It's an old game but it usually works. House Democrats don't dare to cross the president openly on his demand for a levy on undistributed surpluses. They may need a kindly glance or word from him next November. But they have no stomach for an experiment in taxation which frightens business and industry as its implications unfold. What they crave is to kill it but not to leave any fingerprints.

So they're supplying senate financial experts with anti-tax ammunition they stored up during ways and means committee hearings. They have thought up a lot of tricky questions to be asked of treasury witnesses and have discovered vulnerable spots in the proposal. Now they're giving the senate finance committee the benefit of their experience. If the scheme succeeds, the house will gladly enact the president's program and then acquiesce sadly in senate changes making it more palatable, politically.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

GOVERNOR LANDON is leaving no stone unturned to clinch his nomination. New York insiders learn that his agents have been dickering with G. O. P. leaders in Southern states. Their proposition is that Landon will agree to leave TVA alone if elected in return for Southern support at the convention.

The point is not only that TVA is popular in the South but that it offers prospects of patronage gravy to hunry Southern Republican politicos in the event of victory this fall. This is alluring bait, as they never have any hope of worthwhile pickings out of state and local elections. Dixie Republicans win no electoral votes—but their backing at conventions is an asset well worth corralling.

If Mr. Lanon should be elected and should wish to abandon TVA he could kiss it gently to death without violating his implied agreement. All he would have to do would be to omit appropriations for its work—or make them too small for anything but skeleton maintenance.

FUTILE: The best evidence of financial New York's conviction that Mr. Roosevelt is sure of reelection is the cessation of private conferences among banking and business leaders to discuss ways and means of stopping him.

Two months ago hardly a day passed but what groups of big timers got together for this purpose. Many were the feverish exhortations that now was the time for all good men to come to the aid of the (Republican or conservative Democratic) party. And many were the plans concocted to confound the New Dealers and rout them at the polls.

But this stage is all over now. No longer do New York lunch clubs resound to the earnest pounding of tables by embattled industrialists. Leaders who were in the thick of the daily strategic brainwaves frankly say they would consider it the height of futility to waste more time and thought in trying to achieve the impossible.

IMPRESSED: New York is still keeping a close eye on Senator Vandenberg despite the vigorous claims of Landonites that the battle is over and won.

Mr. Vandenberg is reliably reported to have received more than 10,000 letters from all over the country in the past few weeks commending him for carrying the anti-New Deal flag in the Senate. New York political observers are impressed.

Sources who make it their business to keep a sensitive finger on the party pulse call it better than an even money bet—unless Landon is nominated on the first or second ballot—that the Michigan Senator will be the candidate when the shooting is over.

BROADEN: G. O. P. insiders confide that the new Republican brain trusters will have other work to do besides picking holes in the New Deal. Word is that they will also be called upon to make first drafts of platform planks on such touchy subjects as relief, farm policy and monetary policy.

Their assignment to this task emphasizes that party strategists intend to avoid the appearance of ultra-conservatism and to broaden their appeal to middle-of-the-road voters.

to tell Harriet about the evening and about Hillyer.

But Harriet was not at home. She came in later, when Toby was asleep. It was not until next morning, over their coffee and orange juice, that the two girls discussed Toby's adventure.

"What do you think?" Toby asked. "Do you think it's all right for me to go with him?"

"Why not?"

"Well, he's so rich and, of course, he's lots older. It seems sort of queer—"

"What's he like? Did he make any passes at you?"

"Heavens, no! He's just as nice as he can be. And I do like him."

"Then, I don't see why you shouldn't let him spend some of his money on you. He's got plenty of it."

Harriet was pleased. Toby had been staying at home too much lately, mooning over Tim Jamieson who had obviously forgotten her. What Toby needed was to get out and go places. Hillyer seemed an ideal escort. He might even be seriously interested in Toby. Other girls — not nearly so pretty — had married millionaires.

Harriet raised her cup of coffee, sipping it reflectively. "I don't see," she repeated, "why you shouldn't go out with him. I don't see any reason at all—"

THE TARZAN TWINS, No. 20

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan made hurried inquiries of trainmen and passengers; but their information was confused and contradictory, for the security of civilization has robbed men of the powers of keen observation which are so vital to those who dwell in the primitive wilderness.

Two trainmen reported mistakenly that they had seen Dick and Doc long after the jungle derailment. Several passengers said they had seen them alight at various way stations. To Tarzan only one thing was certain. The boys were lost somewhere in the hazardous jungle!

But how could he hope to cover that great expanse in time to save the boys from the stealthy perils which engulfed them? They might survive a day, two days, or even three—but no longer! Now, as he considered plans of action, his faithful Waziri warriors arrived.

Grimly Tarzan issued swift commands for a desperate search. The worshipful Waziri beheld the sadness of their master and they vowed they would not rest until they had discovered the two young bwanas but not one of them expected to find the boys alive!

Rail Changes Will Be Made

Reduced Running Time On All California Trains Planned When Time Card Changes Go Into Effect

A time card change for Santa Fe trains which will become effective May 10 will result in reduced running time for California trains, both east and west, said T. B. Gallaher, Amarillo, general passenger agent.

More than four hours will be saved between the Gulf coast and California.

Main changes will affect the California-Gulf trains. Air-conditioned equipment on all through trains will add to the convenience of the traveling public, Mr. Gallaher added.

Arrives 35 Minutes Earlier

No. 92, from Galveston and Houston to the coast, will arrive at 1:55 p. m., instead of 2:30 p. m. as at present, departing at 2:15 for Clovis, N. M., arriving there at 5:20 p. m. and connecting with No. 9, from Chicago which leaves Clovis at 5:10 p. m. mountain time (6:10 C. S. T.); arriving in Los Angeles at 9:20 p. m. the next day and San Francisco at 7:50 a. m. the second morning. This train will connect at Clovis also with No. 25, for Roswell and Carlsbad. It will leave at 5:15 p. m. M. S. T. arriving at Roswell at 7:45 and Carlsbad, 9:45 p. m.

No. 91, the companion train, will arrive at 4:30 p. m. instead of noon as at present and will leave at 4:40, arriving at Sweetwater at 7:35 and Brownwood 10:30 p. m., reaching Houston, 7:20 a. m. next day. This train will connect with No. 45 at Sweetwater for San Angelo, leaving the Nolan capital at 8:35 and arriving in San Angelo at 10:55 p. m.

Both trains will carry a dining car, serving all meals, between Belen, N. M., near Albuquerque, N. M., and Brownwood.

A slight change in the arrival of No. 93 from Amarillo, is made. It will arrive here at 11:30 a. m., nine minutes earlier and will remain here until 2:05 p. m. when it returns north as No. 96, arriving in Amarillo at 5 p. m.

Connections will be made at Amarillo with No. 10, replacing No. 22, at 5:10 p. m., arriving Wichita, Kansas, at 2:10 a. m. and Kansas City, 8 a. m. next morning. Chicago is reached at 8:45 p. m., four hours and 40 minutes faster than present schedule to Kansas City and four hours and 10 minutes faster to Chicago.

No change is made in schedules of Nos. 94 and 95, Amarillo to Sweetwater, connecting for Dallas and Fort Worth. No. 94 arrives here at 8:30 a. m. and No. 95 at 10:10 p. m.

Three Weary Students Oversleep At USC But They Have Very Good Excuse

LOS ANGELES, April 20. (AP) — Three weary students overslept today while class bells rang at the University of Southern California. They had a perfect excuse.

From 5:30 p. m. Friday until 12:01 a. m. today—54 1-2 hours by the clock—the trio stayed awake, and like human guinea pigs, underwent an almost endless series of tests devised by Dr. Brant Clark and Dr. Neil Warren, U. S. Co. psychologists.

It was an experiment in sleeplessness.

Four Started Out

Four students started out, but one was sent home when his eyes kept closing. Even for a college boy, 54 1-3 hours without 40 winks may be too much.

The complete finding won't be arrived at for several weeks, but Dr. Clark said this much was evident:

"The faculty which suffers most from the lack of sleep is vision. The boys just couldn't see clearly, their notions of perspective were bad their eye movements slow and their judgment of color erratic."

The students, Frank Friedel, Fred Thompson and Lebaron Stockford, retired with the brief announcement, "sometimes we thought we couldn't possibly last another ten minutes."

Enforcement Of Tech Campus Parking Rules Being Opened

Enforcement of rules against parking in driveways in front of buildings at Texas Technological college was begun Monday when three students who had been assigned to the work began reminding drivers of the rules.

Parking rules on the campus, which is not in the city limits, are not enforced by Lubbock police.

J. T. Henry, agricultural student, William Arnold, engineering student, and Nat Hynds, arts and sciences student, were assigned to the work. They are student NYA employes. They have been instructed to ask persons who fail to cooperate to report to the president's office.

Letters have been sent to faculty members, asking their cooperation. Parking places, not on driveways, are located on the campus.

RESIDENCE DESTROYED

CARROLLTON, April 20. (AP) — Fire destroyed the $3,500 two-story residence of T. K. Wallace, a mile south of here today. The house was unoccupied at the time.

CREDENTIALS

ONLY the rashest of mortals will risk the unknown. A tumble over Niagara in a barrel, for instance, or a stratosphere flight. Few of us are willing to rush in where angels fear to tread. We seek precedent for our every move—in the food we eat, in the clothes we wear, in the places we go.

The advertisements in this paper are the signed credentials of firms which seek your business. They are not only letters of introduction, but pledges of faith. You may accept them because they mean that a lot of people have bought before you—and have been satisfied.

Before you run downtown, run down the list of things offered every day in the advertisements. See what interests you . . . what meets your needs without burdening your budget. Check and choose before you get out the car or signal a bus.

Combing the advertising pages in advance is a labor-saving, leather-saving device. In short, the people who regularly read the advertisements are getting the most for their money. And that's good business, any way you look at it.

Bouquet Lenthéric
(Perfumed Eau de Cologne)
The Daytime Fragrance

You will feel all a-glow and a-tingle if you apply Bouquet Lenthéric generously all over the body, especially after a tub or shower. After this pervading sensation of cool freshness you will then experience the delicate, lasting fragrance that Bouquet Lenthéric bestows.

Perfume is at its most charming when it becomes a part of you—a breath of fragrance tantalizingly aloof, yet ever-present. Bouquet Lenthéric achieves this effect most successfully, and that is why it is presented in the same exquisite essences as the celebrated Lenthéric perfumes . . . Asphodèle, Miracle, Lotus d'Or, Au Fil de L'Eau, Forêt Vierge, Le Pirate, Tweed, and Le Numéro Douze.
