

Reese's Military Ball Steps Up Pace

Turn Clock Back Sunday Morning

Personnel at Reese are reminded to turn their clocks back one hour Sunday, at which time daylight saving time will end across the nation.

Those who do remember to turn their clocks back one hour will be find themselves coming to work before daylight, but having an extra hour of daylight when they get off of work.

The official hour of change is 2 a.m., giving workers that hour of sleep they lost last spring when the clocks were turned ahead.

Frenship Class Schedules Car Wash Saturday

Members of the sophomore class at Frenship High School will hold a car wash tomorrow between 1 and 4 p.m. at the auto hobby shop. Price of the car wash is $1, with proceeds going toward school projects.

The car wash will have a double meaning for the sophomore class. It will be competing with other classes at the school in raising money. The class which raises the most money will have its choice of Halloween Carnival Queen, and the sophomore class has nominated Teresa Leewright, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Joe G. Leewright of 109 Andrews Dr., Reese AFB, as its choice for the singular honor.

Those desiring to have their cars washed at bargain prices, and contribute to the efforts of the sophomore class, are urged to bring their cars by the auto hobby shop tomorrow afternoon.

'Breathalyzers' Appear Today

The Texas State Department of Public Safety will swing a new weapon out today in its fight against drivers who drink and drive.

Several of 62 "Breathalyzers" to be used across the state will be stationed in Region 5, which includes Lubbock, Plainview, Haskell, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Brownfield and Bowie. One will be at Lubbock.

The Breathalyzers will be used in the highway patrol's driving while intoxicated enforcement program. Those suspects who consent to the test will accompany the highway patrolman to an office where an instrument is located. There, the suspect will blow into a tube attached to the Breathalyzer and the percentage of alcohol in his blood will register on an indicator.

heads the list as he will sew on his chief master sergeant stripes. One NCO will be promoted to senior master sergeant rank while the monthly list calls for four new master sergeants. Eight will don tech sergeant stripes while two others add the rocker of a staff sergeant. The sergeant category is abbreviated in comparison to 34 October E-4 promotions. Six airmen will become new Air Force NCOs.

Promotees include:

Wing To Name Airman Of '69

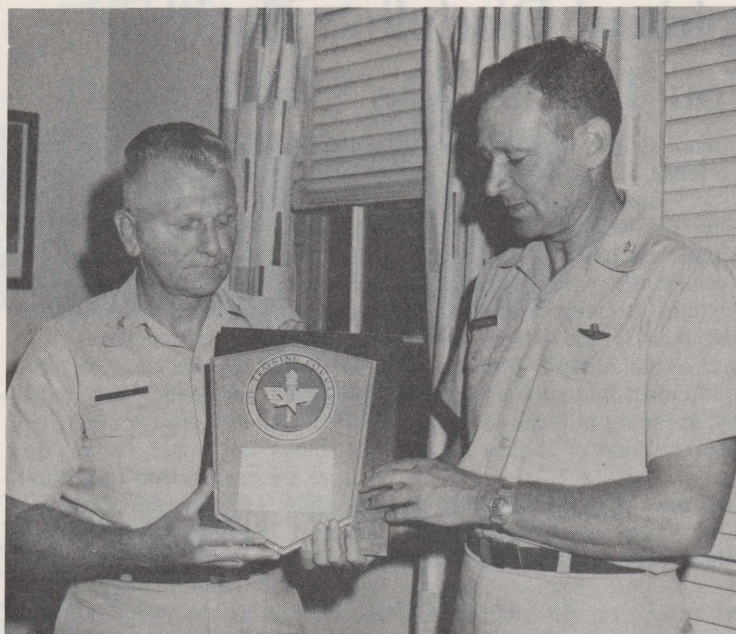

Unit commanders at Reese AFB will soon begin looking over personnel of their units with an eye toward submitting an entry in the base's "Outstanding Airman of 1969."

The winning entry at the base will be submitted to Air Training Command for further competition toward selection as ATC's Airman of the Year, an honor which bears with it — among many other things — a trip to the national convention of the Air Force Association as that organization's guest early next year. If married, the airman's wife will attend also. This year the AFA's annual convention will be held March 18-21 in Houston.

Details of the 1969 program are next expected at the base until next month but unit commanders should make preliminary screening of obvious appointees, and other preliminary work connected with the competition.

Airmen will be selected on the basis of accomplishment, significant self-improvement, participation in military and civilian activities, job performance and any other accomplishment within the preceding 12 months that reflect on the nominee.

COST REDUCTION—Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander (right), hands the Air Training Command first-place plaque for achievement in the field of cost reduction to Col. William W. Hosler Jr., deputy commander for Materiel, at the wing staff meeting of Oct. 8. AFA To Name Top Non-Com During Dinner

Reese AFB's annual formal military ball continues to grow, and promises to be the social event of the year at the NCO Open Mess.

An announcement this week by Tom Ireland, president of the Lubbock Chapter of the Air Force Association, has added new prestige to the already prestigious event. Mr. Ireland said that the chapter would name Reese AFB's first annual NCO of the Year during the dinner portion of the ball.

Mr. Ireland said the purpose of the AFA-sponsored event would be to acknowledge the base's outstanding NCO, giving him the tribute he deserves. He said that a plaque would accompany the honor. Mr. Ireland also said he hoped the presentation would become an annual affair.

At the same time, Mr. Ireland called on all unit commanders at Reese to submit the names of NCOs they consider the outstanding NCO in their respective organizations. A panel of judges drawn from AFA members has been named. The names are to be in to Mr. Ireland, at civilian personnel section by Wednesday. The NCO's name selected by the AFA panel will be kept secret until the night of the ball, Nov. 8.

Mr. Ireland also said that he expected about 30 members of the AFA to attend the ball, headed by Harlan A. Hodges, Col., USAF Retired, the regional director, Northwest Texas, AFA, (See BALL, Page 8)

Civilian Personnel Seeks Applicants

Civilian Personnel has issued a call for help in filling five civilian vacancies open at Reese AFB.

Needed is a mechanical engineer (utilities) in the grade of GS-11 ($11,563 annually), an industrial engineer technician in the grade of GS-7 ($6,981 annually), recreation specialist (social activities) in the grade of GS-7 ($6,981 annually), a reporting stenographer in the grade of GS-5 ($5,732 annually), and an offset pressman in the grade of W-07 ($2.66 per hour.)

Anyone interested in any of these positions are requested to contact civilian personnel section at the base.

United Fund Box Score

Donations and pledges to the Lubbock United Fund Campaign at Reese AFB now total $5,076.31, or about one-third of the goal.

The campaign will run through Oct. 31, with one more payday remaining.

Sandhill Crane Hunt Scheduled

The Sandhill Crane, that old enemy of pilots everywhere, will be the target of shooters at Muleshoe, Tex., next month.

The Muleshoe Jaycees have scheduled their sixth annual Sandhill Crane hunt between Nov. 2 and Nov. 10 with Reesites invited to attend. The Jaycees have arranged for hunting leases adjacent to the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge, the oldest in the State of Texas. As many as 100,000 of the cranes winter away from their arctic breeding grounds.

Costs for the hunt are $3 per day, $5 on weekends, $10 a week or $15 for the entire nine days (Nov. 2 through Nov. 10).

For more information contact Derrell Oliver, manager, Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, Box 525, Muleshoe, Tex., 79347. Phone area code 806, 272-4248.

FOR THE COMMANDER

Show Pride, Respect Training Command

Col. Clyde J. Morganti
Wing Commander

LT. COL. HOWARD J. PIERSON
Commander, 3501st Student Squadron

For years there has been a misconception as to what the Training Command provides for the "real Air Force." There are those who think it is a second rate command whose only purpose is nit-picking harassments and Mickey Mouse projects. Nothing could be further from the truth. There is not a chock pulled from a plane, a nut tightened by a specialist nor a bomb on the target that the individuals responsible have not gone through some portion of U.S. Air Force Training Command.

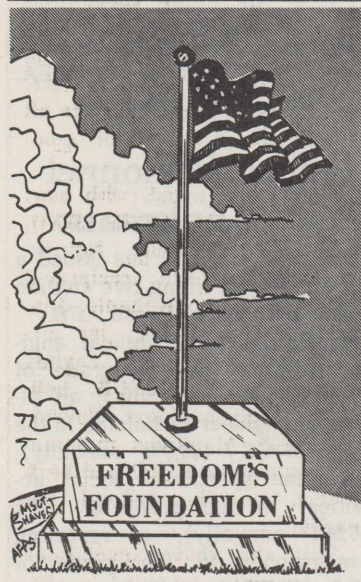

Col. Pierson The importance of it is often overshadowed by what appears to be a boring or repetitious daily performance. Naturally, if one wants precision and professionalism in his tasks he can become discouraged, but in the Air Force any complacency can result in catastrophe.

Our people, from the lowest ranking airman to the wing commander, must be conscious of their own role in performing the Air Force mission. Each airman and officer along the echelon of command must apply a diligent attention to detail and an overall mission awareness so that we produce the quality personnel who will be able to hack that mission.

It could be summed up in the proverbial question—which came first, the chicken or the egg. Rickenbacker did not just become an ace; Sergeant Airey did not see a vision and luck into Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force; astronauts on the way to the moon will not feel they just got the "breaks" to be in that position. They were all trained, whether it was called the Training Command or not.

The instructors, supervisors and commanders are the ones who prepared them with the knowledge and determination to carry the Air Force banner. I charge each of you to have the complete respectfulness to the challenge of being in the Training Command, and I invite your pride in the achievement of any Air Force accomplishment, knowing that someone in Training Command made that possible.

Hallmark Of Freedom

(An AFPS Editorial)

American military personnel are the best informed fighting forces in history.

Every day, every week, every month throughout the year thousands of daily, weekly and monthly newspapers and other publications are made available to our forces all over the world.

Every hour of the day and night in the year Armed Forces Radio and Television Service-Washington transmits radio news reports to our forces around the globe. There are 303 radio and 65 television stations around the world.

Every week 2,500 copies of Armed Forces Press file are sent to all military newspapers east and west, north and south, for their use in publication for their readers.

Every week AFPS sends out 106,000 Commanders Digests to newspapers, radio stations, all generals and admirals and other commanding personnel around the world for dissemination to troops. This gives policy and concept from the seat of government — that the military may know.

Personnel who put out military news publications sometimes do it under trying conditions in the field—but they get the news to the troops. Both the European and Pacific editions of Stars and Stripes have tremendous circulation problems, but they get the job done.

In recognition of the splendid work the various news media staffs do in the field, the Thomas

Sudden Descent May Be To Your Detriment

(An ATCPS Editorial)

Make your home safe from hazards associated with falling, tripping and stumbling accidents by observing the following safety hints.

1. Keep all floors and steps in good condition. Eliminate slippery surfaces caused by using high gloss floor wax or floor enamels. Use only non-skid substitutes. Wipe up liquid spills immediately and make provisions for adequate drainage of areas which may be subject to frequent liquid spills.

2. Remove low furniture, footstools, electric lamp cords and toys from hallways, passageways, steps and other cleared spaces to eliminate tripping and stumbling hazards.

3. Insure that the edges or rugs are not curled up. If small throw rugs are used on bare wood surfaces, be sure the undersides of the rugs have non-skid surfacing to prevent them from sliding underfoot. Breaks or cracks in tile flooring should be repaired immediately.

4. Do not use chairs, footstools, benches or other low-type furniture as substitutes for a good stepladder.

5. Provide sufficient lighting at night, especially at telephone stands and bathroom facilities or areas which may be used for emergency exits.

Remember, when you eliminate falling, tripping and stumbling hazards from the home, you are removing about 50 per cent of all hazards which cause injuries.

Reflective Trim Insures Safety Of Small Fry

(Safety Message from the Lubbock Citizen's Traffic Commission)

The darkness which lends an eerie excitement to Halloween night may also contribute to tragedy — and too often does. Many little ghosts and goblins wear dark costumes, making themselves invisible to motorists.

Trick or treaters can make their rounds in greater safety if their costumes are brightened with reflective tape or paint, which shows up vividly in car headlights. Existing costumes can be decorated with these materials, or new and original costumes can be easily made with them.

Reflective trim and liquid produce a ghostly glow in soft light — an effect that delights small fry. Invisible in complete darkness, these materials shine brightly in light beams because they send reflected light back to its source in a concentrated cone.

Insurance

Coverage Is Must Item!

(An AFNS Feature)

Several items emphasize the importance of automobile insurance to the serviceman.

Financial responsibility and related laws in all the states protect the innocent victims of automobile accidents by requiring drivers to maintain an ability to furnish proof of financial responsibility. Inability to do so usually leads to a suspension or revocation of driving and registration privileges.

The most practical way to meet the requirements is to have automobile liability insurance in at least the required limits. Some states require liability insurance for an automobile as a prerequisite to registration.

The owner of a car is not permitted to operate a vehicle on most military posts or bases without a specified minimum of liability insurance.

Automobile owners may have their cars and other property attached in payment of damages, unless insurance is available to satisfy a judgment against them.

Jefferson Awards will be made for work done this year. Next May the awards will be made to deserving personnel in ceremonies at Williamsburg, Va.

These components of information form a keystone block in Freedoms Foundation for Americans.

Until fairly recently in our history information for fighting men was in the category of "take that hill" or "blockade that ship." And that was all.

Today those fighting men not only know what hill to take or what ship to cut off—they know why!

That's freedom — freedom to know what's going on, through the efforts of American military news media.

Spiritual Discipline Enables You To Play On God's Team

By Chaplain (Lieutenant Colonel) Isaac M. Copeland Jr.
Base Chaplain

Why do we fear and dread spiritual discipline? We admire the person who practices physical discipline. Probably the most admired man in the United States today is the athlete. Millions of people crowd into stadiums every week, spending millions of dollars to see one kind of contest or another.

This time of the year, when we read and hear so much about the recently completed World Series and the Post Season Football Bowl prospects, we realize that the team which hopes to win must be disciplined. The player who breaks training rules is punished — and there is a difference between punishment and discipline. Any player who really wants to be on the team must accept self-discipline as well as discipline from the coach, the manager and the captain.

Then why should we reject spiritual discipline? Those who expect to "play on God's team" must also expect to be team members and accept the requirements involved in membership.

Of course we don't actually enjoy God's discipline any more than the athlete enjoys giving up the things he would rather do. It is as we realize God's spiritual discipline is for our good that we accept it. We do not accept it just to be a better team member or to help win a championship or to be selected as the most valuable player, but that we may, through discipline, reap the peaceful harvest of an honest life.

Our goal must "not be for a lighter burden but for a stronger back." This goal may be accomplished only through discipline.

Reese Scouts Can Participate In National Scout Jamboree

Boy Scouts and Explorers of National Boy Scout Jamboree at Farragut State Park in Idaho next summer. Clyde Prestwood, chairman of the South Plains Council jamboree committee, reports that applications for participation will be accepted until Nov. 15.

Three Foreign Students Given Council Honors

Three foreign students in training at Reese AFB were presented with honorary citizenship certificates during an Oct. 10 meeting of the Lubbock City Council.

The three were Maj. Abolghasem Sadighi, Iran, and two Norwegian students, Second Lieutenants Svien Mikkelsen and Knut Reitan. All were scheduled to leave Reese AFB this month to return to their native lands.

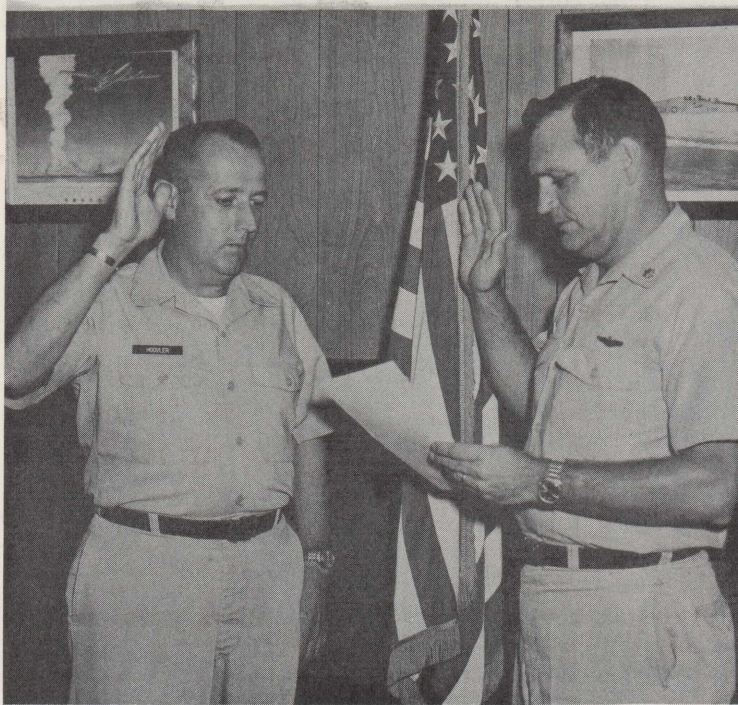

The three appeared before the City Council at 10 a.m. and were presented the certificates by W. D. Rogers Jr., mayor of the City of Lubbock. Mayor Rogers said he hoped the three would return to their native lands as citizens of Lubbock with fond remembrances of their temporary home on the plains of West Texas.

The South Plains Council will be permitted to send two troops totalling 74 boys and six adult leaders. Following the Nov. 15 application deadline, the committee will interview all applicants to determine which scouts will represent the local council.

The jamboree trip for local scouts will be from July 11 to July 27, 1969. Participating scouts must have reached their 12th birthday by Sept. 1, 1968 and must not be 18 years old by July 1, 1969.

Scouts will travel to Idaho by chartered bus. Plans call for visits to the Air Force Academy, Yellowstone Park and the Grand Teton enroute. The trip home will include visits to Salt Lake City and the Grand Canyon.

Scouts interested in making application can obtain forms from their scoutmasters or from the Boy Scout office, Box 3055, Lubbock, Tex.

Base Theater Schedule Has Enlarged Look

Reesites are reminded that tonight the base theater adopts a new weekend schedule. "It's a Bikini World" will be shown at 6 p.m. and approximately 8 p.m. The romantic comedy for family patronage stars Deborah Walley, Tommy Kirk and the "Animals."

Tomorrow night the double performance (also at 6 p.m. and approximately 8 p.m.) features "Spinout," a musical comedy with Elvis Presley. The film for family audience also stars Shelley Fabares and Deborah Walley.

Sunday night Shirley MacLaine, Richard Attenborough and James Booth head the cast of "The Bliss of Mrs. Blossom," a mature musical comedy.

Tuesday night's fare is "Guns for San Sebastian," a return engagement of a mature-young people's film.

Doris Day and Brian Keith head the cast of "With Six You Get Eggroll," Wednesday and Thursday's fare. The family film is billed as a movie that features the "return of a happy ending."

The double performance Friday and Saturday nights is on a 30-day trial basis, contingent on patron interest. The Sunday matinee has been discontinued effective Sunday.

Officers Sought For OTS Duty

Officers are needed for instructor duty in the Officer Training School, Lackland AFB, Tex., reports 1st Lt. James J. Cozine Jr., career control section chief, Consolidated Base Personnel Office (CBPO).

Volunteers are preferred; however, levies are expected if sufficient volunteers are not received. Reporting dates will begin in February 1969.

Applicants must possess the grade of lieutenant with a minimum of 18 months active commissioned services as of June 1969 and be in the regular Air Force or in the career reserve status.

Other requirements are that the volunteer must possess a college degree, have or have the potential for instructor experience, possess high standard of duty performance, be of male sex, have exemplary personal appearance and demeanor and must not be pending reassignment nor have dislocation allowance (DLA) restriction for permanent change of station moves during Fiscal Year 1969.

Officers possessing rated, chaplain, legal or medical specialties or performing duty in 19XX, 2825, 2845, 673X, 8045 or 8054 are ineligible.

Officers having the 17XX specialty may apply if they are ineligible for a Southeast Asia remote tour. Officers in 182X duty may apply, but will be assigned only upon completion of three years of duty.

For further information contact TSgt. A. D. Laney at extension 216 or 739 in the assignment section of CBPO. Volunteers must be passed on to Air Training Command no later than Wednesday.

Five Specialties Tapped For 2nd SEA Duty Tours

Five Air Force specialties have been levied for involuntary second Southeast Asia duty tours by Headquarters, Air Force in an message to all continental U.S. major commands.

Specialties listed with port months include: AFSCs 431XO, helicopter mechanic, November, 1968; 431X1A, reciprocal engine aircraft mechanic, January, 1969; 431X1C, jet aircraft mechanic—1/2 engine, January, 1969; 435XCB, helicopter flight engineer, November, 1968. Munitions maintenance specialty 461XO had been placed on the critical list earlier.

Only the above specialties are currently involved in second involuntary SEA tours. Airmen having further questions in this area may contact TSgt. A. D. Laney, CBPO, assignments section, ext. 216 or 739.

A large portion of Air Force women in blue serving with the Biomedical Sciences Corps have master's degrees in their professional fields.

Harbison, McKee In Masters Win

The Reese AFB Duplicate Bridge Club played its long-awaited Master Point Tournament Oct. 15 with the team of Mrs. Fern Harbison and Mrs. H. B. McBee taking top honors.

Second place went to the team of Tommy Burke and Janet McCoy, third place went to Marie Nelson and Fredna Roberts. A tie was recorded for fourth place between the teams of Sylvia Mariner and Mary Giles nad Marshall Williams and Jan Maxtel.

The club now has all new tables, and is serving coffee to its members and guests during the meetings, each Tuesday evening.

Dallas Police To Visit Base

The Dallas Police Department is seeking the services of qualified military men to join the force as patrolmen after retirement or separation from the armed forces.

Representatives of the Dallas Police Personnel Division will visit Reese AFB Nov. 7 to answer questions about the Dallas Police Department and explain what it has to offer. The briefing is scheduled to follow a Veterans Administration orientation at 10:30 a.m. in the base theater. Thus the Dallas Police briefing should commence at about 11 a.m.

In addition to the Reese visit the police representatives will be at the Villa Inn Motel in Lubbock from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Nov. 6 and 7.

Interested personnel having less than 180 days of active duty left are eligible to apply. The same is true for ex-servicemen and the retired.

Starting salary in the Dallas Police Department is $6,504. Other benefits include a 40 hour work week with time and a half for overtime, and the furnishing of all uniforms and equipment.

Age limitation policy has been recently changed. "In the past," said H. C. Kockos, Director of Police Personnel, "we've missed many good military men because the age limit for joining our department was set at 35. In the new program, the maximum age for application is 38." He added that the department in no way intends to compete with the Air Force for personnel, but rather supplement the opportunities of men who are retiring or separating from the service.

Michelangelo, Picasso Proteges Asked To Exhibit Their Works Of Art Nov. 17

Do you have a fair hand with the artist's brush and pallet? If so, and if you are an Air Force member on active duty within Air Training Command, you are eligible to enter the 1968 Base Art Contest sponsored by the Mathis Service Club.

Judging for the contest is scheduled for 7 p.m. Nov. 17 in the service club.

All entries must be the original work of the entrant. Competition will be divided into Category I—painting, contemporary and traditional; and Category II—sculpture, contemporary and traditional.

Any of a variety of media may be entered in the paint category. Sculpture media may be wood, stone, ceramics, metal, etc. "Paint by the number kits," commercial molds and other commercially prepared aids are strictly forbidden. Paintings forwarded to ATC competition are to be framed.

Plaques will be awarded at base level and U.S. Savings Bonds will be awarded at ATC level. Entries will be judged on ingenuity, originality, composition and design, execution and technical ability.

Youth Gridsters Earn Honors

A pair of youthful dependents—sons of Reese AFB personnel—have accumulated a long list of trophies and awards while participating in Reese youth sporting activities.

They are Newby Burns, son of SSgt. Anthony F. Burns, radio maintenance technician with the 2053 Communications Squadron, and Keith Freeman, son of TSgt. Billy W. Freeman, chief, air traffic controller, 2053rd Communication Squadron.

Young Burns received the Wing commander's "Atta Boy" award for football. He was also selected as an all star to the Reese Little League baseball team.

Young Freeman received his "Atta Boy" award for his performance on the youth basketball team, and like Newby, was a member of the Little League all star team. Both are currently on the Reese AFB Youth Football League team. Young Burns is the team quarterback and young Freeman a halfback.

ATC Shooters In World Win

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — Air Training Command marksmen from the Department of Security Police Training, Lackland AFB, Tex., recently captured first place in the 1968 USAF Worldwide Security Police Matches held at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

The Air Training Command team, firing both the .38 calibre pistol and M-16 rifle, emerged victorious with an aggregate score of 5,427, five points ahead of Aerospace Defense Command.

The ATC team was led by TSgt. Joseph J. Kirk, who won the meet's individual trophy with a score of 1,396 and by firing 1,368 in the team competition. His teammates, TSgt. Mecil A. Mott, MSgt. Gene McEathron and MSgt. James F. Mahler, fired 1,365, 1,363 and 1,331 respectively, in capturing the team championship.

Gym To Operate With New Hours

Hours of operation for the base gym have been extended on an experimental basis to provide better service for Reese personnel.

The gym will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on weekdays, noon to 8 p.m. on Saturdays and from 1 to 6 p.m. on Sundays and holidays.

The hours will be in force for a 30-day trial period, and the use of the gym facilities during that trial period will determine whether or not they will be permanent.

By JIM COMEAUX

Eleven Reese golfers learned last weekend the value of "knowledge of local conditions" in a challenge match against a similar number of golfers from Webb AFB at the Webb course. A return match at Reese is being arranged.

A paradox developed when the closest match developed between the two wing commanders, Col. Clyde J. Morganti of Reese and Col. William C. McGlothlin Jr. of Webb. Colonel "Mac," as he was affectionately known while serving at Reese as DCO, finally won out on the final hole, nipping Colonel Morganti at the wire.

Local Conditions

It should be remembered that the match took place at Webb, where the Webbits had the advantage of knowledge of local conditions, and this served them well. Putting, of course, made the big difference. Reesites are used to the slow greens, cut at 3/8th of an inch and usually soaked with far too much water. The greens at Webb were cut to the standard quarter of an inch, and were much firmer. John Elliff, a Reesite, said he once ended up further past the hole than when he started.

One thing that impressed most of the Reese golfers was the shape of the Webb course. "Great" was the word most often used, and most agreed that it was well worth the trip to Webb just to play the course.

One thing worrying a few Reesites is if this will be the reaction of Webbits when they visit Reese for the return match.

Top Tournament

Reesites will be afforded the opportunity to compete in a top tournament next month in Chandler, Ariz., at the beautiful San Marcus Resort and Country Club. It is a 54-hole Five-Star Military Golf Classic sponsored by U-Haul Trailers and the Arizona Sports Reporter.

The tournament is open to all active and retired military or civilians working on the base, but restricted to those having handicaps of 20 strokes or under. Only golfers from military establishments in Arizona, California, Nevada, New Mexico and Texas may enter with the first 300 entries being accepted.

The tournament will be played Nov. 20, 21 and 22 and a total of $5,000 in merchandise prizes plus a 1969 Chevrolet and television sets will be up for grabs. Not only may players enter as individuals, but as a two-man best-ball team as well.

Championship flight will be for those with handicaps between 0-6 strokes, first flight 7-11, second flight 12-15 and third flight 16-20. Seniors (over 45 years of age) will have a separate flight. Electric carts will be available for seniors only. Entry fee will be $17 and includes a banquet Nov. 22.

Reservations Available

Reservations may be made at the San Marcus Country Club, or in Phoenix, Chandler and other nearby spots ranging in price from $8 to $12 single or $10 to $16 double per day. Transportation will be furnished from Phoenix to the golf course.

Air Base Group Takes Flag Title

Air Base Group, combining a strong defense with a tricky offense, nailed down the Reese AFB Flag Football Championship Monday with a 12-0 win over Supply, climaxing a week-long double elimination tournament.

It was a bitter defeat for Supply, which had led the regular season play with a 7-0 record and a favorite in the tournament.

Both Supply and ABG won opening night games on Oct. 14, then on Oct. 17 had their first confrontation following Students win over OMS, 20-7.

In that confrontation, regular play ended with the score deadlocked at 6-all. In overtime, the ABG defense rose to the occasion, holding Supply to a net seven yards, while the offense piled up 23 yards to win on penetrations.

Friday, Supply fought its way to another shot at ABG with a 13-7 win over Students, eliminating them from the tournament.

Monday's championship outing began at 5:15 p.m. with Supply faced with the monumental task of handing the strong ABG two losses to win the title.

Following a scoreless first quarter, Wayne Benesch, ABG's quarterback, lofted a 15-yard pass to center Ron Chesshir for a touchdown, then iced the game in the final period on a seven-yard aerial from Frank Karlin to Ken Hyde.

Other members of the ABG ofensive unit are backs Earl McFarland, Steven Howard and Bob Dewitt. The defensive unit was composed of Howard, Hyde, Dewitt, Karlin, Bill Stevens, Frank Brown and Phil Wertheimer. This defensive unit held their opponents to only four first downs throughout the entire tournament.

Turkey Tournament Set Nov. 11

Reese AFB golf pro Ken McGuire has announced a golf tournament at the base course on Veterans Day, Monday, Nov. 11. The tournament will combine the holiday golfing with the anticipated Thanksgiving holiday by offering turkeys as top prizes in the one-day tournament.

Entry fee will be $1 and handicaps will be used to determine low net winning scores. Those desiring to enter the tournament are requested to sign up at the golf shop.

ATC Shortage Of Instructors Brings Appeal

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — A critical need for military and technical training instructors exists throughout Air Training Command, according to ATC Personnel officials.

Choice assignments are available, with volunteers authorized to pick more than one base of choice should a need for their specialty exist at more than one location.

In the past, assignment choice was limited because of the type of instructors needed. Recently, however, a new listing of instructor Air Force Specialty Codes (AFSCs) revealed vacancies existing at each of the command's military training and technical training centers; at Fairchild AFB, Wash., home of the USAF Survival School; and also at ATC's undergraduate pilot training and navigator training bases.

Personnel in grades E-4 through E-6 may volunteer for Military Training Instructor (MTI) duties. The most critical need is at the Lackland Military Training Center, Lackland AFB, Tex. Other MTI vacancies exist at Chanute AFB, Ill.; Keesler AFB, Miss.; Lowry AFB, Colo. and Sheppard AFB, Tex.

In the technical training area, vacancies exist for instructors in 168 AFSCs covering all areas of Air Force instruction. Duty stations are the same as listed for military training instructors with a limited number of "special assignment" areas. These areas include Ft. Belvoir and Ft. Lee, Va.; Indian Head, Md., and the Port Hueneme Naval Installation, Calif.

Personnel selected for instructor duties will be placed on three-year stabilized tours of duty with extension options.

who will make the "Outstanding NCO" award.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Dr. James Granberry, Lubbock City Councilman, Place 1, and a former State Junior Chamber of Commerce Young Man of the Year.

The ball will begin at 7 p.m. with a cocktail hour at which cocktails will be served at a reduced price of 20 cents each. Dinner will be at 8 p.m. with dress formal. Military will wear blue uniforms with white shirts and black ties, with civilians in suits. Ladies will wear formals.

The menu will include an entree of prime rib and the meal will be complete with wine. Charge for the dinner is $2.50 each.

Promotion Quotas Announced

Air Force has released promotion quota figures for grades E-5 through E-7 for the next cycle (December through May). A

Assignments Sought For Civil Air Patrol

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — The Civil Air Patrol (CAP), the Air Force official auxiliary, is seeking airmen and officers to fill vacancies in a number of specialties according to a recent announcement from CAP headquarters, Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Selected individuals will be placed on four-year stabilized tours of duty, the announcement said. Interested personnel should contact their local base Personnel office for further details.

Adults, Kids Prepare To Launch Halloween

The "spooks and goblins" will make an early appearance at Reese AFB tomorrow as Halloween is observed by the adults in advance of the youngsters.

Both the Officers and NCO Open Messes will stage Halloween costume parties beginning at 8 p.m.

At the Officers Open Mess, the music of The Storme will feature the Halloween costume dance with a number of surprises in store.

TOP AIRMAN—Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander, presents the airman of the month certificate to A1C Robert F. Concannon, Supply Squadron, during the wing staff meeting of Oct. 15. Airman Concannon was honored at the Lubbock City Council meeting yesterday by being named honorary citizen and received several more tangible benefits through the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Christmas Packages Overseas Must Meet Postal Regulations

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—Christmas gifts for armed forces personnel overseas should be mailed between now and Nov. 9, if regular postage rates are used, and not later than Dec. 11 if sent as airmail, to insure timely delivery.

Space available mail (SAM) should be sent between now and Nov. 23. This mail, carried at surface postage rates, can be letters, voice recordings, post cards, greeting cards and some parcels. The mail travels by surface to East and West Coast aerial ports for dispatch overseas by air on a space-available basis.

Parcels must be addressed to members of the armed forces overseas and weigh not more than five pounds and measure not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined.

Also available this year for the first time is parcel airlift (PAL) service, created for parcels mailed at or addressed to any armed forces post office. Parcels may not weigh in excess of 30 pounds and measure not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth.

Chairman Named For Poppy Sale

LaVada Petty, a civilian employee at Reese AFB, has been named Poppy Chairman for Reese, and will hold the annual sale of poppies Nov. 1 on the base.

Proceeds from the sale, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, go toward rehabilitating wounded veterans and has always met good response at Reese. The poppies, made of green and red tissue paper by wounded veterans themselves, are usually worn on Veterans' Day, Nov. 11. The sale of the poppies at Reese Nov. 1 will allow them to be purchased in time for such display.

Chapel Services Changes Listed

Beginning Sunday, the Protestant Youth of the Chapel Fellowship will meet at 5:30 p.m. with the Protestant Youth of the Chapel meeting at 6 p.m.
