Talco OES Chapter Meets Tuesday

Talco Eastern Star members literally had the red carpet put out for them Tuesday evening. Upon entering the stairway to the Masonic Hall for their meeting they were delighted to see that new red carpeting had been laid on the stairs and the walls had been paneled. As if this luxury were not enough upon entering the kitchen they found the lodge had installed a new air conditioner and also another one in the Chapter room.

Mrs. Frank Sloan and Sidney Frugia presided for the meeting with three visitors from Bogata Chapter attending. The beautiful book marker for the Bible in memory of deceased member, W. S. Richardson, was presented in a short ceremony under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Cogburn.

During the business meeting the Chapter voted to send 10 cents per member to Grand Chapter for the Founders Day fund. Invitation was read by secretary, Mrs. L. W. Cunningham to the Founders Day celebrations in Dallas and Arlington on the 6th and 7th of August. After Chapter closed coffee, cookies and cold drinks were served in the dining room by Mrs. Sloan, Mrs. Via and Mrs. Cogburn.

Methodist Youth Give WSCS Program

Some of the thoughts, hopes and frustrations of youth in today's culture were experienced by the Women's Society of Christian Service last Monday at 7 p. m. at the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. E. W. Burks was leader for the program which was presented by a youth panel composed of Johnny Gable, George Thompson, Gary Gable, John Blair, Charles Thompson. This panel provided the atmosphere for a lively, informative and interesting discussion which involved both the youth and the adults — no communication gap here. Mrs. A. E. Foster read the scripture. Others present included Mmes. Alex Waddell, W. S. Richardson, Frank Sloan, A. F. Bowman, Rev. and Mrs. George A. Thompson.

The group adjourned to the parsonage where Miss Stella Thompson was honored with a surprise birthday party on her ninth birthday, by the WSCS. Miss Anna Blair, Paul Blair, John Thompson and Joel Blair were present. Cake and punch were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Burks and Mrs. Thompson. A brief business session preceded during refreshments.

INTEREST RATES HEAD-ING UP AGAIN? The trend towards lower interest rates is slowing, and there were indications last week that the Federal Reserve is planning to push up short-term rates once again. The rate on short-term borrowings by the Treasury Department rose above 4.1%. These rates had been hovering around 3½% for a number of weeks and the increase to 4.1% represents a sharp rise in cost to the American taxpayer. If this does forecast an upward trend, we may see all interest rates pushed higher than ever, further worsening the already serious economic problems of the nation. (When you reach a small clearing, you are not necessarily out of the woods.)

THEY DESERVE RECOGNITION. Many industries and organizations are working hard to protect our environment and it is only fair to provide some recognition for their efforts, privately financed, to control pollution. I have co-sponsored a bill authorizing the Environmental Protection Agency to give national awards for outstanding conservation achievements. This would be similar to the "E for Excellence" program which recognized special contributions to the war effort during WW II. It offers new incentives for greater conservation efforts by private organizations, firms and individuals.

VETERANS who are in school under the GI Bill are entitled to an increase in their benefits when they get married or have children. For example, a full-time student would get an increase from $175 a month to $205 when he marries, and to $230 if he and his wife have a child. A marriage certificate or birth certificate should be submitted to the VA Regional Office so that the increase can be put into effect.

A "BILL OF RIGHTS" FOR POLICE OFFICERS. When we consider the vicious physical and verbal abuse they too frequently are called upon to endure, the fact that they are not among the best paid of our public employees, and the essential and dangerous work they perform as a daily routine, it is deplorable that police officers are in many instances treated as second-class citizens. I have, therefore, co-sponsored a bill, H. R. 7332, the Law Enforcement Officers' Bill of Rights, which would assure law officers the same rights enjoyed by the rest of us. Among other things, the bill would protect the rights of police officers under investigation, provide for police representation on complaint review boards, and permit police officers to bring civil suit for damages or abridgement of their rights. Passage of this bill, together with approval of the Police Protection Act which I have also co-sponsored (discussed in my 1794th newsletter) would give important new protection to peace officers who hazard their lives to protect us.

GUNS DO NOT BREED CRIME. On the contrary, it is the menace of criminal attack that forces homeowners to purchase weapons in defense of the family. Too many well-meaning people put the cart before the horse in the belief that the confiscation of guns should be a major tactic in the war against crime. I still think that each of the states can best evaluate whether further gun legislation is needed for its own residents, and I believe firmly that the U. S. Constitution means what it says: "... the right of the people to keep and bear Arms shall not be infringed."

TRAVEL TEXAS FIRST. Our own East Texas offers some of the world's finest opportunities for camping, picnicking, hiking, pleasure driving, boating, hunting and fishing, and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, in its outstanding magazine, has outlined an 803-mile scenic tour of East Texas. This route, much of which traverses our 1st District, connects 7 State Parks and 4 National Forests.

ECOLOGY NOTE. Mankind might have vanished with the sabre-toothed tiger if spiders had not kept the insect population in check. An acre of rough meadow land may contain the almost unbelievable total of over 2 million spiders. Figuring that each spider consumes an average of 100 insects per year, it is easy to see that spiders have saved us from more bites than lily have inflicted.

"REPORT OF JOHN EDGAR HOOVER." The Director of the Austin. — Steadily-rising welfare costs will "bankrupt" state government unless prompt braking is applied, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes has warned.

Barnes — acknowledging that a tax bill which may climb to nearly a billion dollars is necessary to balance the Senate's $8.99 billion version of the biennial state budget — named a special committee to recommend how to effect welfare economies.

Senate, meanwhile, approved the record budget while a subcommittee drafted a tax bill. The house is expected to move out this week with its appropriations bill.

Only one year of welfare financing is included in the Senate bill. With a half-way welfare budget, about 668 million in new taxes will be needed this year. Appropriating for welfare in a later special session will require nearly $300 million more, unless the federal government steps in with additional aid.

Barnes' staff calculates Aid to Families with Dependent Children rolls are increasing by 3.10 per cent per month. Where 288,828 AFDC beneficiaries are anticipated by September 1 this year, 906,236 are seen by August 31, 1973. The latter figure would bring the AFDC to $76 million a year — $16 million above the proposed new $55 million annual ceiling to be voted on May 18.

The Lieutenant Governor also noted that Medicaid costs have increased from $22 million in 1968 to an estimated $144 million for next year. He said state medical services to the needy — financed through Blue Cross family insurance policies which will cost nearly $72 per family next year — are better than those received by all but the very wealthy.

"I am convinced we are going to have to reduce the cost, or the state is going bankrupt," said Barnes.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT—May oil production allowable will be cut to a maximum daily flow of 184,076 barrels.

Railroad Commission cited reasons for the cut as substantial stocks of crude oil on hand, overall reduction in demand, and rising imports.

Commission's decision trimmed the allowable from 82.1 per cent in April to 77.2 per cent for next month.

May allowable, lowest in eight months, permits a maximum daily production of 3,637,654 barrels. Actual production is expected to be about 3,562,000 barrels daily, approximately what major buyers asked for.

Crude oil stocks on April 9 came to 108.3 million barrels, a million more than the week before and 2.4 million more than the year before. Ten of 14 big crude oil purchasers asked for the same allowable next month as in April. Three asked less, and one requested more.

INSURANCE CHANGES VOTED — The Legislature had some good news for insurance purchasers last week.

A bill to create a special pool to guarantee coverage to property owners in "catastrophe areas" (subject to hurricanes, tornadoes and other disasters) won final passage. The pool will be effective May 14. A pool arrangement may be ordered later for fire and explosion insurance if that is found difficult to obtain in some areas.

Another major bill passed by the Senate would create a state-wide guaranty fund to assure payment of claims against insurance companies which go broke.

Hospital — medical insurance policyholders, under a House-passed bill, could be reimbursed for treatment by any licensed, qualified practitioner of the healing arts — physicians, osteopaths, dentists, chiropractors, optometrists and doctors of podiatry.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court on May 12 will review the case in which an oilman sued the petroleum corporation which fired him after 13 months on the job because he did not find new supplies of oil to buy.

High Court also will hear on May 12 Abilene's appeal from a lower court decision that it must pay $88,000 to an oil producer who claimed his oil recovery operations were interrupted by its airport extension.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the stiff prison sentences given two black militants for destroying merchandise in a Dallas supermarket.

Court of Criminal Appeals also upheld the life sentence conviction of a man charged with leaving another to die in a North Dallas field after stripping and tying him.

DROUGHT AID SOUGHT — As drought-stricken areas awaited major federal assistance, the Legislature called on Governor Smith to declare the drought a "grave public calamity" and to set up a joint committee on a relief plan.

Lieutenant Governor Barnes and House Speaker Gus Mutscher named seven senators and seven representatives to a panel to work on the state program for purchasing and distributing hay and to serve as liaison with state and federal agencies.

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville and Rep. Oscar Carrillo Sr. of Benavides head the Senate and House committee members. Governor, said the legislative resolution, can order a relief program administered by the Agriculture Commission.

Smith, meanwhile, said he expects to request emergency federal disaster relief benefits for 87 additional drought-hit counties, bringing the total number to 147.

SHORT SNOTS — All Texas school children (with religious and health exceptions) will have to have shots for six diseases under a new law.

Legislators are aiming for local option liquor-by-the-drink votes in all wet areas on May 18, date of the constitutional amendment election.

Senate approved the four-year terms amendment for all statewide elective officials.

Fraud is no widespread problem in the Texas welfare program, according to Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney.

Cigarette taxes increased from $13.2 million in February to $15.6 million in March.
