Bulganin Expresses Interest In Ike's Idea On Conference

Thick smoke fanned by cold north winds billows from the B&B Parkway Grocery Store at Avenue F and East Highway while Snyder firemen battle a $45,000 blaze. The fire, which started in a room housing electric motors for cooling units, caused an estimated $5,000 damage to the building and ruined $40,000 worth of merchandise. (Lee Watson Photograph)

$45,000 Fire Roars Through Snyder Store

Fire of undertermined origin destroyed the stock and heavily damaged the building of the B&B Parkway Grocery No. 22 at Avenue F and the East Highway here early Saturday afternoon.

The fire started in a room near the front and on the east side of the building. The room was used to house electric cooling equipment for fresh vegetables, produce, and frozen foods, and was also used as an office for the store.

Members of the staff of the grocery store on duty when the fire was discovered said that one of the men on duty smelled smoke and went to the room to investigate. He was met by blazes leaping from the room when he opened the door.

Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal who investigated the fire, said that it was impossible to determine exact cause of the fire.

Gatlin said that all merchandise in the store was practically a total loss. He estimated the merchandise to be valued at $40,000.

Heat, smoke, and water caused the major damage to the merchandise.

Damage to the building was less severe, with the actual fire area being confined to the northeast corner of the building. All plate glass windows in the building were broken by the heat, however, and the entire building was covered with smoke and soot.

Gatlin estimated damage to the building at from $4,000 to $5,000.

The store is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Brown of Abilene. Virgil Gayle is the local manager.

Gayle and clerks in the store said they suspected the origin of the fire to be the electric motors on cooling apparatus in the room. They said that some of the motors had been giving trouble and had been worked on recently.

Jack Contella, who operates Contella Cafe across the street from the burned grocery store, said that he had been smelling an odor for some time which he thought to be a short circuited electric motor in his building, but could locate no such trouble in his cafe building.

The store is one of two B&B Parkway groceries in Snyder. The other store is located at Twelfth Street and the Lubbock Highway.

Gatlin said that the building and contents were insured by one local firm, but that it was not known yesterday afternoon if the building and contents were fully covered by insurance.

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

The subject of Deep Creek keeps popping up, and we hope it continues until some action is taken.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District has taken a preliminary step that is important to Scurry County, and now local interests plan to make some studies. The CRMWD action in making a "presentation" to the state water board is particularly important because, for all practical purposes, it ties Deep Creek water to this area until a course of action can be charted.

Col. E. V. Spence, manager of the water district, presented some details of general plans at a service club luncheon here recently. Deep Creek water is potable (suitable for general domestic use) until it flows into the Colorado River.

The CRMWD wants first claim on the runoff before it reaches the river, because it could prove to be an important source of supply in the future.

• • •

Scurry County has a vital interest in Deep Creek waters from the standpoint of conservation and flood control, in addition the domestic supply angle. Therefore, it appears highly important that a good representation be on hand Thursday afternoon at the meeting called by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

• • •

Newspapers, civic groups and others have urged citizens to turn out at the polls so many times in the past that mere mention of "get out the vote" may sound trite. Yet, voting is a responsibility that is met with considerable apathy even today in a supposedly enlightened civilization.

So, if it sounds trite, let be so, but if you are qualified to cast a ballot in a school or city election during the next 10 days, don't pass up the opportunity.

There is a big "field" to choose from in the Snyder Independent School District election next Saturday.

Vehicle Tag Sales Soar

The rate at which motorists are registering their vehicles for 1955 took a considerable rise Friday and Saturday with the announcement that the county tax office would remain open all day yesterday. Courthouse offices usually close at noon on Saturdays.

The office issued license plates for 644 vehicles yesterday and Friday, bringing the total number of vehicles registered with new plates to 6,163 since the new tags became available Feb. 1.

The office still will issue plates for about 2,000 more vehicles in the next four days if the number issued by the deadline of March 31 equals that of a year earlier. If this is true, approximately one-fourth of the county's vehicle owners will have waited until the last four days of the two-month registration period to obtain their plates.

The tax office on the main floor of the courthouse will also remain open during the noon hour this week as a further convenience to registrants, Jim Ikard, assessor-collector, announced.

Four Persons Killed In Airliner Crash

SEATTLE, March 26 (AP)—Four persons were killed and one was critically injured today when a Honolulu - bound Pan - American World Airways plane was forced down in the Pacific 35 miles off the southern Oregon coast.

Pan-American said the accident was the first for the line in the Pacific since 1938. The plane was to have gone on to Sydney, Australia, from Hawaii.

The Coast Guard said all 23 persons aboard the ditched plane had been accounted for. Survivors were taken aboard a Navy troopship, the USS Bayfield, and the tanker Idaho Falls. The Hawaiian Educator, a freighter, was also at the scene to assist in the rescue.

The names of the dead and injured were not learned immediately by the Coast Guard, nor were the extent of the injuries.

Physicians at North Bend and Florence, Ore., were asked to stand by, indicating the survivors were being taken to the harbor at Coos Bay, Ore.

With one engine crippled, the big Stratocruiser was forced down at approximately 11:04 a.m. Within two hours the Hawaiian Educator radioed that a rescue was under way.

First planes over the scene had reported three life rafts were in the choppy waters near the stricken air liner.

The big luxury craft, bound for Honolulu, left Seattle at 8:15 a.m. and later landed at Portland to pick up passengers. It was in the air less than an hour on the Honolulu flight when the pilot, Capt. Herman Joslyn, radioed that the No. 3 engine was "lost" and he was making an emergency descent.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG MAN

The award of outstanding young man of 1954 in Snyder was presented Friday night to Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, right, by Malven K. Stevenson, former winner of the award, who made the presentation for the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The award highlighted the officers installation banquet held by the Jaycees at the East Elementary School cafeteria. (See story and another picture on Page 7, Sec. B) (Lee Watson photograph)

Vicious Cold Expected To Miss Valley

Snyder's share of the biting norther took temperatures down to a low of 20 degrees Saturday morning, and the thermometer did not rise much during the day.

David Strayhorn, weather observer, said the highest recorded yesterday was 38. High Friday was 50.

By The Associated Press

A vicious Spring norther which wiped out much of Texas crops Friday and Saturday may spare the rich lower Rio Grande Valley.

As the dry norther sped downward through the state Saturday night a plant-protecting cloud cover built up in the cotton, vegetaable and citrus areas of the Winter Garden.

At 9:30 p.m. the Brownsville Weather Bureau said prospects of a severe freeze had diminished and that a frost seemed very unlikely.

Thunderstorms rattled at Brownsville and Harlingen as the fortunate overcast laid a protective, heat-holding blanket over the valley. Winds diminished.

But the winds were expected to stay strong enough during the night, the Brownsville Weather Bureau said, to prevent the deadly frost which could kill tender cotton plants covering 700,000 to 800,000 valley acres.

There remained a possibility, with temperatures expected to fall to near 30 along the northern rim of the Winter Garden, that crops would suffer. But the bureau said no severe freeze was in prospect.

Elsewhere in Texas the toll was heavy. Record low temperatures were a commonplace.

An Associated Press survey showed virtually all peach and plum blossoms were killed over the state as far south as Lufkin, Austin and Kerrville.

East Texas' big tomato crop was killed. Cherokee County canners offered free seed to farmers in hopes of bailing them out.

Brazoria County Agent W. Scott Millington said the freeze had even killed pasture clover. Cotton, okra, squash, cucumbers, potatoes and tomatoes in Brazoria County were killed or badly damaged.

Slightly warmer weather was predicted for all of Texas Sunday except the south, where the cold was expected to hold on until Monday.

French Senate Okays Treaty

PARIS, Sunday, March 27 (AP)—The French Senate early today ratified the Western European Union agreement, the key treaty providing for German rearmament. The decision had been stalled by France for four years.

The official vote was 184-110.

The treaty was one of four Paris agreements up for ratification. All have already been approved by the French National Assembly.

The pact makes West Germany and Italy members of a seven-nation Western European Union. Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are the other members of the alliance. The Senate began voting on the treaties themselves after beating down by large margins a series of modifying and delaying amendments. In the preliminary stages it approved admission of West Germany and Italy to WEU by a show of hands, and then proceeded to a formal vote on the pact itself.

The Senate ratified the treaty returning sovereignty to West Germany and ending the Allied occupation by an official tally of 234-75.

The admission of West Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was ratified 200-114.

Irving Ousts School Board

IRVING, Tex., March 26 —Irving citizens today backed up ousted Supt. John L. Beard by voting to abolish the school district he served.

By an unofficial count of 1,962 to 1,646 they in effect voted to oust the school board which ousted Beard and set off a month - long strike of about 215 teachers and other school employes.

Despite record cold and under the watchful eyes of police and sheriff's deputies, about 3,860 citizens cast their ballots in a big, unheated gymnasium.

This was about 85 per cent of the estimated eligible voters. But not all votes were counted. Election officials blamed improper use of voting machines for uncounted ballots.

Backers of Beard had forced the election with the understanding there will now be new elections to set up a new district and a new board.

With temperatures dropping to 23, a record for the date, a Dallas concern set up coffee-vending stands around the gymnasium and in the hall and did a good business.

HERE YESTERDAY, GONE TODAY

Spring has been playing hide-and-seek with West Texas, and Toni Best, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Best, 3742 Sunset, took advantage of a brief appearance of the new season to check the blossoms on a pear tree following a recent freeze. Within a few hours, a new norther roared in, destroying any fruit prospects left in its path. (Lee Watson Photograph)

Ballots Are Set For Local School And City Elections

Ballots are prepared and ready for use in two elections which will concern the majority of Scurry County residents six and nine days from now.

Interest appeared light in the filing of candidacies for the city council election slated for Tuesday, April 5, only one person entering each race. But in the school board race set for April 2, next Saturday, interest is heavier with eight candidates seeking two places.

The period for absentee voting is open in both elections, but no one had voted by absentee ballot in either election by late yesterday afternoon. Deadline for absentee voting in the city election is midnight next Friday. Deadline in the school board election is midnight Tuesday. Offices of the city hall and the school board secretary close at 5 o'clock each afternoon, however.

In the city election, candidacies are for certain places on the council. Hollis Fields seeks place 1, being vacated by Eugene Harper who is not a candidate. G. W. Parks seeks place 3, held now by C. N. von Roeder, who is not a candidate. Place 5 is held by Walter Hales who is unopposed for re-election. There is no contest in either race. Terms of councilmen in other places do not expire this year.

EIGHT CANDIDATES

Names of the eight candidates for the school board of trustees will appear on the ballots in the order in which they were petitioned. Candidacies are not for particular places, but each merely seeks a place on the board, and the two receiving the highest numbers of votes will be elected. Places being vacated are held by Lee T. Stinson and L. M. Ford, neither being a candidate for re-election. Both indicated they did not wish to be petitioned for re-election.

Candidacies may be announced in school board elections only by petitions of five qualified electors for each candidate.

ORDER ON BALLOT

The order of names on the ballot will be Max West, Bill Grimmett, Weldon Johnson, Jim Mixon, Frances Brooks, W. F. McMennamy, Buster Lowery, and Frank Strom.

West is secretary-manager and a director of the Snyder National Farm Loan Association, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and has also worked as a director of the Scurry County Junior Livestock Association. He has served the community as an agricultural and civic leader. He is a Methodist.

Grimmett, 43, is a partner in Grimmett Bros. Sand & Gravel Co., which he and his brother, Raymond L. Grimmett, have operated since the end of the World War II. Prior to the war, Grimmett was employed by the Texas Highway Department here. He is married and has six children, Mrs. Howard Gray, Jackie, Norman, Rita Ann, Ray, and Frankie Dan, all of Snyder. He is a member of the North Side Baptist Church and is a Mason. He is a native of Jack County. He attended schools near Muleshoe.

Johnson, a rancher and farmer, resides about 15 miles northeast of here. He has been active in community affairs. He has served as president of the Scurry County Rodeo Association and is a former president of the board of directors of the Scurry County Junior Livestock Association. He has also served as a director of the West Texas State Bank.

Mixon resides at 3102 Avenue U. He owns and operates Mixon Tire & Supply Co. here and was manager of Snyder's J. C. Penney Co. store for several years before purchasing the tire store about 13 months ago. He served on the commission which designed the present city charter in late 1951 and early 1952. He has been a director of the Chamber of Commerce and is now a director of the Scurry County United Fund.

Mrs. Brooks is the wife of E. A. Brooks, owner of Brooks Oil Well Servicing Co. They reside southeast of Snyder near the city limits and south of Thirty-seventh Street. She is 33 and has lived in this county since she was 12. She is a native of New Mexico. She graduated from Fluvanna High School and later received BA and BS degrees from Texas State College for Women and did graduate work at George Washington University in Washington, D. C. She taught in a junior high school in Arlington, Va., and in the elementary school at Fluvanna.

She is a charter member of the Snyder chapter of the American Association of University Women

Bank Robber Gets $2,000

JUSTIN, Tex., March 26 (AP)—A youthful, tight-lipped gunman held up the Justin State Bank today and escaped with about $2,000.

Road blocks were thrown up in North Texas after the robber sped south from this Denton County town of 500 toward Fort Worth.

There were only three persons in the bank—the president, cashier, and assistant cashier—when the unmasked bandit entered at 10:50 a.m.

Bank President Newton Knox said the robber approached him.

"He threw a white bag at me and said, "Fill it up," Knox related. "Then I saw his gun."

While the robber held the gun on him, Knox scooped up bills and coins from the counter and put them in the bag.

Standing near Knox were Miss Alta Williams, cashier, and Mrs. Frances Jones, assistant cashier.

The gunman ordered all three to lie on the floor while he made his escape.

Texas Employment Is Highest In History

AUSTIN, March 26 (AP)—Not even "normal seasonal declines" disturb the fact that more Texans were working in early 1955 than ever before in the state's history at this time of year.

The Texas Employment Commission reported today that 2,600,000 Texans were working in non-farm jobs in February—a decline in jobs of only 500 as compared to the "normal seasonal decline" of about 6,000.

The total of Texans employed in non-farm jobs in February was, 71,900 higher than for the same month of 1954, TEC said.

A mid-April employment total of more than 2,700,000 was forecast by the state agency.

Says Soviet Proposal For Parley First

MOSCOW, March 26 (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin said today the Soviet government takes a "positive attitude" toward President Eisenhower's views on arranging big power conferences.

In a special interview granted to a Tass correspondent, Bulganin said the Soviet Union approved Eisenhower's idea "if there is in view a conference which would contribute to the lessening of tension in international relations."

"In this connection," he said, "it must be pointed out that the Soviet government has already proposed to hold a great power conference in the near future at which the question of an Austrian peace (independence) treaty could be settled."

At his news conference Wednesday, Eisenhower commented on the changes in the Kremlin in the last two years and added: "You have at least the element of, let us say, faint hope that new individuals may be different from the old ones."

SOVIETS CHALLENGED

He said that once action on the Paris agreements to rearm Germany had demonstrated Western unity and provided a basis of "moral and spiritual strength," it will be "time to begin the kind of exploratory talks that might lead to something constructive."

He challenged the Soviets, in these talks or otherwise, to demonstrate "deeds that would show the good faith of Russia" toward negotiations to ease world tensions.

"There is no place on this earth to which I would not travel, there is no chore I would not undertake if I had any faintest hope that, by so doing, I would promote the general cause of world peace," Eisenhower said.

RECALLS IKE'S TALK

The interview began with the correspondent recalling to Bulganin:

"President Eisenhower at his news conference March 23 said, concerning a conference of the heads of governments of the great powers, that it could be preceded by a conference of foreign ministers.

"As to the conference of the heads of government of the great powers, the United States President said we should not abandon hope that at some new conference some constructive step could be made.

"In his opinion (Eisenhower's) a conference of the heads of governments of the great powers could be convened without an agenda and all questions discussed.

"What is the attitude of the Soviet government toward the statement by the President of the U.S.A.?"

POSITIVE ATTITUDE

Reply by Bulganin:

"The soviet government, as before, takes a positive attitude to the idea of a great power conference as expressed by the President of the United States if there is in view a conference which would contribute to the lessening of tension in international relations.

"In this connection it must be pointed out that the Soviet government has already proposed to hold a great power conference in the near future at which the question of an Austrian peace (independence) treaty could be settled."

WHAT IS A PRESBYTERIAN?

Divorce Granted On Scriptural Grounds

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another of a series of informative articles on present-day religions, written for the Daily News by leading authorities of the various faiths and denominations. Other articles describe other faiths.

By Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell
Minister of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City

What is the Presbyterian attitude to divorce?

Divorce is permitted to the innocent party on Scriptural grounds (adultery) and the innocent party may remarry. The earliest Presbyterian regulations are explicit on this point. No Presbyterian minister may remarry persons who have been divorced less than 12 months.

Presbyterian churches are seeking to curb the widespread evil of divorce by a more careful examining of persons presenting themselves for marriage and by organizing groups of young people in "Preparation for Marriage" classes.

Does the Presbyterian Church forbid birth control?

The Presbyterian Church does not legislate for its people on personal moral issues. Nothing in the Church's teaching, however, can be construed as forbiding an intelligent, conservative and unselfish employment of birth control.

The commandment of God to our first parents, "Be fruitful and multiply," was given at a time when the world was underpopulated. Presbyterians do not believe this precept is relevant today when overpopulation in many areas produces hunger and famine.

Do Presbyterians employ the confessional?

Not in the same sense as Roman Catholics or High Church Episcopalians. Believing in "the priesthood of all believers," Presbyterians make their confession directly to God — without a human intermediary.

The great increase of spiritual counseling has taught Presbyterians that confession is sometimes more searching and thorough-going when it is made to God in the presence of a pastor. Such confession is voluntary, never compulsory. And the confession is made to God, not the pastor.

What do Presbyterians believe about salvation?

They believe that salvation is not earned by good works but is the gift of God. Good works are the fruits of salvation, evidence that we are growing in grace and in the knowledge of Christ.

Presbyterians believe that salvation is found only through a complete commitment and surrender to God as He is revealed in Christ. God pardons our sins and accepts us not for any merit of our own, but because of our faith in the perfect obedience of Christ and His sacrificial death.

Forgiveness, grace and salvation are obtained, through a direct personal relationship to God — without the mediation of ministers or priests. Presbyterians accept the New Testament witness: "For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus."

CHURCH

Do Presbyterians believe in predestination?

Presbyterians believe that God alone determines man's salvation Salvation is not a human achievement. The wording of the Westminster Confession leads some to believe that predestination deprived man of all freedom of choice—that his fate was "sealed" at birth.

But the Declaratory Statement, adopted by the Presbyterian Church in the United States in 1903, states: "Men are fully responsible for their treatment of God's gracious offer (of salvation) and . . . no man is hindred from accepting it and . . no man is condemned except on the ground of his sin."

Do Presbyterians believe in the Resurrection?

With a few exceptions, Presbyterians do not interpret the phrase in the Apostles' Creed, "The resurrection of the body," as meaning the physical body.

St. Paul writes: "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption." They understand "the resurrection of the body" as a reference to the spiritual body, which is a medium of growth and self-expression appropriate to a spiritual world.

Who was the founder of Presbyterianism?

John Calvin, who broke with the Church of Rome at the age of 24, did more than any man to set forth the principles upon which modern Presbyterianism is built. But it is questionable whether the term "Founder" is appropriate.

Calvin summoned Christians to return to a form of government which was prevalent in the first century A.D. John Knox, during his exile from Britain, lived in Geneva, where he studied Calvin's teaching. Knox was the most powerful single force in establishing Presbyterianism in Scotland, where it is the dominant creed.

How is the Presbyterian Church governed?

The Presbyterian system of church government is itself a representative democracy. The people govern the Church through elected representatives. The layman has a prominent role in the Presbyterian Church. All property is vested in laymen — not in ministers or bishops. In the larger courts of the Church, the vote of every minister is balanced by the vote of a layman. Laymen are eligible for the highest office (moderator) in each court.

What role did Presbyterians play in the establishment of American democracy?

So great was the participation of Presbyterians in the Revolutionary War that it was described in the British House of Commons as this "Presbyterian rebellion." A historian writing in the Encyclopedia Britannica says: "The Presbyterians exerted a great influence in the construction of the Constitution of the United States, and the government of the Church was assimilated in no slight degree to the civil government of the country"

Presbyterians are proud of the fact that the Rev. John Witherspoon was the only clergyman who signed the Declaration of Independence. At least 13 other signers of this historic document can be identified as Presbyterians.

Having suffered greatly from persecution in the Old World, Presbyterians had an immense fear of political and religious oppression in the New. The words of John Knox to Mary, Queen of Scots, the Roman Catholic sovereign of Scotland, were frequently quoted during the war in America: "If princes exceed their bounds, Madam, they may be resisted and even deposed."

RESERVOIR WORK UNDERWAY

The picture above shows machines working on a circular embankment being constructed by the Colorado River Municipal Water District four miles southwest of Snyder to provide a 15,000,000-gallon water reservoir as part of the CRMWD's three-city water system. The reservoir will be lined with sealant to prevent seepage when it is completed. Construction workers on the project say that the embankments will be raised about 18 feet more before the project is complete. (Lee Watson photograph)

NBC Gets TV Rights For College Games

NEW YORK March 26 (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. has been awarded the television rights to the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s 1955 football program, E.L. (Dick) Romney, commissioner of the Mountain States Conference and chairman of the NCAA TV Committee, said today.

The series includes seven Saturdays and Thanksgiving Day on a nationwide scale. Five additional Saturdays of regional telecasts still are to be selected. The TV rights to these district programs were not included in today's award to NBC.

NBC showed the NCAA football programs during the 1952 and 1953 seasons but last season handled Canadian football while the college series appeared on ABC.

Title to a billion acres of U. S. land was originally acquired by private citizens or agencies from the U.S. government.

Gene Richardson, manager of Furr's Super Market here, is to be one of four Furr's retail store managers from the Southwest to attend the two-day convention of the National Retail Grocers Association in Hudson, Kan., tomorrow and Tuesday. He is to fly from Lubbock to Hudson today with Furr's managers from Midland, Albuquerque, and El Paso, and will return Wednesday afternoon.

Snyder Contractor Is Awarded Damages By Court In San Angelo

T. L. King, Snyder roofing contractor, was awarded $6,774.90 Friday as damages for injuries he suffred when he fell from a carport here last June.

A jury in 119th District Court at San Angelo found against the defendant, Thomas P. Hardy of San Angelo, in the case, ruling that Hardy was negligent in failure to provide adequate supports for the roof on which King was working.

King asked $37,000 damages in his petition, contending that hot tar he used in his work spilled on him when he fell. Hardy was building a house in Snyder for W. H. Mason at the time of the fall, and King had been employed as roofing sub-contractor.

Perry Barber of Colorado City and Joe Foy of San Angelo were representing King, while Hardy's attorney was Lloyd Kerr of San Angelo.

Ike Proclaims April Cancer Control Month

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower today proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month.

He urged the medical profession, the press, radio, television, and motion picture industries, and all interested agencies and individuals to unite during the month in presenting programs for control of the disease.

time to time, The Daily News, as usual doesn't intend to try to tell anyone how to vote, or even make a recommendation, in a local election. The newspaper is not "for" or "against" anyone. And if it has any recommendation to make at all, other than urging people to vote, it is this: try to pick yourself a slate of candidates to vote "for." The "aginners" never seem to be able to accomplish much.

What might be described as a "freak" mishap occured at Winston Field the other day when a small private plane taxied along the runawy. A sudden whirlwind flipped the plane upside down in the twinkling of an eye.

Although this happened while the plane was on the ground, it points up the fact that small planes can have difficulties getting in and out of the local airport if the wind isn't exactly right. And, the strength of West Texas winds being considered, even the airliners can have their troubles caused by cross winds. An east-west runway could be put to valuable use, despite the fact that prevailing winds here usually come from the south.

Here's a suggestion: Next time we get Delbert Downing, the Midland Chamber of Commerce manager, over here to make one of those "warm weather" speeches, let's do it in July or August. In his speech at the Snyder Classrooms Teachers banquet last Monday night, Downing pointed out that scientists say the annual weather pattern has been getting progressively warmer in recent years. If you were around here during the past week you know what happened to the thermometer in the five days immediately following Downing's speech.

Filibuster May Be Forerunner Of Heated Finish To Session

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN, March 26 (AP)—That record-breaking filibuster by Sen. Jimmy Phillips on Thursday-Friday may have been the forerunner of one of the most bitter wind-ups in Texas legislative history.

Tempers already were beginning to flare on other hot issues this week before Phillips called for an "insurrection" against what he called false economy.

Phillips' filibuster also was considered a significant indication of his personal political ambitions.

Coupled with his work in the veterans land scandal investigation, the headline publicity from his filibuster has made Phillips' name familiar to many Texas voters who will be going to the polls next summer.

The senator from Angleton, leg and arm weary from his 23-hour, 35-minute oratorical effort, laughingly countered questions today on his political future.

However, he has privately conceded he might enjoy living in Washington as a senator from Texas or in the mansion in Austin as the state's chief executive.

Which office he might shoot for would probably depend on which appears most open. There has been talk Sen. Price Daniel might resign his Washington post to try for the governorship if Gov. Shivers steps down.

Asked whether he would resign to run for either of the two offices, Phillips would answer only indirectly.

"My term runs three more years unless I change office," he said.

His voice was still hoarse from the strain of his talkathon. He said he lost seven pounds during his long stand—the rules requiring him to be on his feet at all times during the filibuster.

Phillips was aroused because the Senate refused, by 14-11 vote, to support his call for an extra million dollars a year for a state charity hospital at Galveston.

He said he still hopes the Legislature will see that it is "foolish economy" not to provide funds for "proper operation of the hospital to its fullest capacity."

His statement could presage another floor fight on the 1½-billion-dollar two-year general appropriation bill if the House-Senate conference committee fails to make some increase in working out a compromise between the two houses.

The big money bill which Phillips sought to amend has been passed by both, but differences between their spending recommendations must be resolved.

Word battles also flared this week on:

1. Where to levy new or higher taxes to raise an estimated 25 to 30 million dollars a year.

2. Whether to enact a bill which some favor as preventing "economic waste" of natural gas but which others oppose as price-fixing legislation.

Shivers called a press conference last Monday and flung a charge of "sabotage" at opponents of his proposal for a two-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline sales tax. He said the opposition either wants some other type of tax for highways or is trying to sabotage the road improvement program.

The governor indicated disbelief in Rep. Jerry Sadler's claim that a majority of the House has lined up with Sadler against increasing the gasoline tax.

Sadler made no answer on that score but became embroiled in a scrap at mid-week on the natural gas "economic waste," "price-fixing" bill. After the House oil, gas and mining committee deadlocked 10-10 on whether to recommend passage, the committee reported to the House it couldn't agree.

Borden Cubs, Scouts Form First Units

The Borden County Independent School District is sponsor of the first Boy Scout troop and Cub Scout pack the county has ever had, according to Dan Warren, organization and extension chairman for the Lone Buffalo Scout District.

S. P. Stewart, superintendent of the school system, will be institutional representative of both units.

C. L. Harrison of Gail is cubmaster of the pack, while Barton C. O'Neal is scoutmaster of the troop, with C. C. Nunnally as assistant.

These units are the first of a series being organized in this district under direction of Warren's committee and Nolan von Roeder, chairman of a drive for organization of new units.

Members of the club pack committee are Bob Beal, chairman, C. L. Cokerham, and Borden Gray. Top committeemen are G. I. Steadman, chairman, John Stephens, and Bert Dennis.

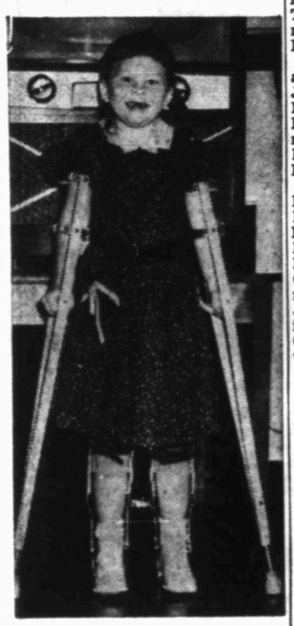
Boy scouts are Steve Dennis, Larry Doyle, Terry Miller, Loyd Ramsey, Leon Sharp, Jerry Staggs, Harold Steadman, Steve Stevens, Phillip Stewart, Raymond Walton, Ralph Williams, Wilson Walker, J. O. Creighton, Ronald Martin, Carroll Ramsey, and Borden Gray, Jr. Three explorer scouts included in the troop are Bobby Joe Stewart, Charles Dodson, and Eddie Leavell.



Five - year - old Glenda Fae Langley, above, has returned home after being a patient at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for several weeks. She was stricken with polio on June 29, 1954, and was first admitted to the hospital about three months later. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lloyd Langley.

Editors In Russia Are Hand-Picked

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 26 — They say in the Soviet Union you can tell how well off a man is by the kind of glasses he wears.

So-called Russian "college editors" wear the horn-rimmed variety. They're in a privileged class.

The 11 Russian editors who have obtained permission to spend 30 days in the United States, starting next month, will come as "college editors." They range in age from 24 to 39. Their undergraduate counterparts in this country are much younger, about 21.

The similarity between a Russian and American college editor ends with the name. The Russian editor is a hand-picked faithful of the Communist party or the Young Communist League. If he weren't, he wouldn't be trusted in the communications field, which the Soviets have always regarded as sensitive.

This reporter went to the Soviet Union as an American college editor in September 1953. Three of us had permission to visit Russia for two weeks, and one of our purposes was to meet and study the Soviet college press. That study was discouraged after one meeting with their "college editors,"who we discovered bore not the faintest resemblance to ours.

The Soviet definition of a college editor appears to be so meaningless it is not surprising to learn that two of the 11 editors who will tour this country are editors of the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda, a highly professional organ of the Young Communist League, which prints 1,200,000 copies a day, 300 days a year.

The top editor is Dmitri Goryunov, 39. His staff consists of about 100 departmental editors, writers and foreign correspondents.

The Russian editor who comes will be quiet and serious, intelligent, loyal, well fed and, for the most part, sincere. He will see many things an American does not see himself.

He will be unimpressed by a good deal of what is called to his attention and secretly awed by the personal possessions of his guides and acquaintances.

He will watch and listen for America's squeakless shoes and be pleased by this country's well-dressed women. If he has not been totally mummified by party dogma he may even note that everything in America is not as the party says it is.

He will return to the Soviet Union and buttress his loyalty by reporting what the Soviets want him to report, and, in all probability, the seed of doubt he may have momentarily nourished inside him will wilt and die.

He will return to his country and the face of the United States and the Soviet Union probably will not be changed. But one seed in a thousand might not fall on barren ground.

India May Change Its Money System

NEW DELHI, India, March 26 (AP)—The government is thinking of revising India's currency next year to put it on a decimal basis. The plan calls for dividing the Indian rupee, which is worth 21 U.S. cents, into 10 annas and each anna into 10 pies. At present it takes 16 annas to make a rupee and each anna has 12 pies.

Fracture Treatment Is Boon To Drilling

TULSA March 26 (AP)—"It is worthy of special mention that 104 wells have been completed on this exceptional property without a single dry hole."

That from Skelly Oil Co.'s annual report this month referred to the company's 5,760-acre block in Stonewall County of West Texas, once condemned by a well abandoned as a "duster."

The report was hardly in print before the property's 105th well was brought in.

Drillers find oil about once in every nine wildcat wells, or tests outside proven areas. The industry's history shows that in established oil fields, about one in three wells will be non-productive.

Weighed against those averages, Skelly's achievement in what it has named the flowers pool is a record not likely to be surpassed.

It was made possible largely by the process of hydraulic fracturing of hard and tight oil bearing formations, a method invented and developed by Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. engineers and announced in 1948.

In October the previous year, Skelly leased the Stonewall County block after company officials studied a log of a test drilled on the property in 1939 and abandoned as dry. Taken to a depth of 5,070 feet the well had encountered 100 feet of cement-like Upper Canyon (Pennsylvanian) sand, which has as records showed had yielded no oil but had not been fully tested.

Following extensive exploration work, including surface mapping, core drilling and seismic work, the company drilled half a mile away from the 1939 abandonment. After fracture treatment the 1 William Flowers came in with 933 barrels of oil daily from the Upper Canyon sand between 4,150 and total depth of 5,200 feet.

The fracture treatment involves a mixture of oil and sand forced into a reluctant formation under high pressure. The pressure fractures the formation, permitting the mixture to reach some distance from the well hole. The oil is then dissolved, but the sand grains remain, holding the formation open for oil and gas to flow to the hole. Some 24 of the property's wells were completed last year, the 100th producer Oct. 29.

"Development there is continuing," said Skelly. "And it is believed that 20 or more additional locations will be productive."

Since the discovery well was completed Jan. 8, 1951, the block has yielded more than 2,100,000 barrels. A number of its wells have produced between 1,200 and 1,400 barrels a day.

New Locations Are Spotted

Two new locations and a completion have been reported in the North Coleman Ranch of Scurry and Mitchell Counties.

Chemical Research Corp. of Midland will drill both the new wells in the Mitchell County portion of the field. The No. 1 Hardee will be 330 feet from north and west lines of the lease in 85-97-H&TC, four miles south of Ira and on a 180-acre lease. Contract depth is 3,300 feet.

The No. 2 Smallwood-McCarty is 880 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of the 100-acre lease in 96-97-H&TC, also about four miles south of Ira. Contract depth here is also 3,300 feet.

J. K. Wadley completed the No. 3 Smallwood-McCarty for 56.67 barrels of 25.1-gravity oil with no water. Pay was topped at 3,035 feet, with five and a half-inch casing cemented at 3,026 feet. Total depth is 3,196 feet. The pay was acidized with 5,000 gallons.

The new producer is 990 feet from south and 1,214 feet from east lines of 96-97-H&TC.

Justiceburg Field Has New Producer

Humble Oil & Refining Co. has completed a new producer in the Justiceburg field of southeast Garza County at the No. 4 Humble.

The well pumped 24 hours to make 115.5 barrels of 37.1-gravity oil plus 25 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 600-1. Production is through perforations at 2,570-590 feet. There was no report of acid or fracture treatment on the pay zone.

Location is 330 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of 116-5-H&GN.

Offset To Discovery Is Staked In Nolan

Sun Oil Co. has spotted location for a south offset to C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., of Dallas No. 1 Lance Sears, recent lower Strawn reef lime discovery in southwest Nolan County five miles west of Maryneal.

It is No. 1 Virginia Baker, 660 feet from north and east lines of 134-1A-H&TC. Contract depth is 7,200 feet.

Wildcat Failure Is Reported In Stonewall

Rowan & Hope and Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. have reported a wildcat failure at the No. 1 Dan Hill in north Stonewall County.

The well was quit on plugged-back total depth of 6,300 feet. It was drilled 14 miles north of Aspermont and a mile north of the Berta-Bend Conglomerate area in 181-D-H&TC.

Flowing Cisco Stepout Finals

Approximately two miles south of the Group 4000-Cisco field of southeast Nolan County, Roark & Hooker and Allison & Prestridge completed their No. 1 G. W. Cochran as a flowing Cisco producer.

The well was finaled for a 24-hour flow of 70 barrels of 39-gravity oil through a one-quarter-inch choke and perforations from 4,093-099 feet. Pay was acidized with 250 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 10,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was 450-1, and tubing pressure was 75 pounds.

Operator has asked that the wildcat be placed in the Group 4000-Cisco field.

Location is 18 miles south of Sweetwater, 660 feet from north and east lines of 73-1A-H&TC.

New Well Completed In Sharon Ridge Field

C. T. McLaughlin No. 14 Wellborn, Sharon Ridge 1700 field well, has been completed for 82 barrels of 26.2-gravity oil plus 46 per cent water.

The potential test covered a 24-hour period with the well on the pump. Production is through perforations at 1,737-772 feet, where 5,000 gallons of acid had been used.

The well is 120 feet from south and 778 feet from east lines of the northeast quarter of 102-97-H&TC.

Gas Stored In Big Quantities Underground

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON (AP)—Natural gas is being put in underground storage near consuming centers in increasing quantities.

The Federal Power Commission reports an upsurge in demand for underground storage the last three years—a period of marked increase in gas consumption and expansion of distribution systems.

The commission has authority over gas storage projects where interstate companies are involved. Other companies not under its jurisdiction have underground storage projects or are considering them.

Underground gas storage was being used some more than 20 years ago. But in the last few years it has come into use more and more, with gas demand increasing and discovery of more suitable underground structures for storage.

The big advantage is that gas can be moved from wells to storage in summer when the pipeline traffic is lighter and then is readily available to meet the peak demand in the winter heating season.

Gas people say such a method decreases the over-all cost of gas distribution and thus benefits consumers.

There are many underground storage fields in midwestern, northern and eastern areas of heavy population.

Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, has reported to members he feels oil imports "can be restricted by law during this session of Congress."

Brown and other IPAA officials appeared before the Senate Finance Committee in support of a proposed amendment to the reciprocal trade extension bill to limit oil imports to 10 per cent of U.S. demand.

Completion Rate Goes Far Ahead Of 1954

AUSTIN, March 26 (AP)—Texas oil well drilling led to 230 completions this week, lifting the year's total to 3,369 compared to 2,772 a year ago.

The Railroad Commission weekly recap showed 22 new gas wells. The year's total of 249 lags behind last year's 249 to 332.

Operators plugged 134 dry holes. Of the 230 new oil wells, 13 were wildcat, as were 5 of the gas wells and 78 of the dry holes.

The average calendar day crude allowable rose 13,726 barrels during the week, reaching 3,357,952 barrels daily as of today.

Plymouth Breaks Its Record For Drilling

PITTSBURGH, March 27 (AP) — Plymouth Oil Co. told shareholders today the firm drilled 102 oil wells in 1954, a record in company history. Seventy-four of the wells are producing.

Walter Hallanan, president, said consolidated crude oil production for 1954 was off about 7½ per cent from 1953. He said net earnings for 1954 were $6,759,061, or $2.78 a share, compared to 1953 net earnings of $8,059,078 or $3.32 a share.

Semi-Wildcat Is Set In Southeast Howard

A semi-wildcat will be drilled in the southeast portion of Howard County by Adolph Woolner of Midland as the No. 1 M. M. Edwards.

Drillsite has been set 330 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of 42-30-tls-T&P, nine miles south-southeast of Coahoma. Projected depth is 2,750 feet, with drilling to begin at once.

Nation's Business Holds Fast Pace

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP) — Business held to a fast pace this week, despite uncertainties over taxes and credit.

The outlook for tax relief for business was clouded by the action of the House, which knocked out two provisions of the 1954 income tax law. They had given very generous "breaks" to corporations.

The government's policy of guaranteeing easy-term mortgages came in for renewed attention. A top federal home loan official said mortgage interest rates are tightening up.

The stock market bounded ahead as the Fulbright Committee rang down the curtain on the first—and possibly final—act of its "friendly study" of stock prices.

Record production of automobiles set the tone for a high level of business activity all along the line.

U.S. Factories poured out 177,843 cars, for the latest in a recent string of new production peaks.

Steel operations—scheduled at 92.8 per cent of capacity—were close to the highest level in two years.

Crude oil output set an all-time record; check clearings in major cities and business loans by leading New York banks moved higher.

Heavy construction contract awards were the highest for any week in 15 months, with total volume for 1955 to date a whopping 63 per cent above a year ago.

Latest available figures showed department store sales outstripping the like 1954 week by 14 per cent.

The Department of Agriculture reported a 15 per cent rise in exports of U.S. farm products for the eight months ended Feb. 28.

Of interest to stockholders was a commerce department report showing an upward trend in corporate dividend payments. Publicly reporting corporations shelled out 261 million dollars in dividends last month, an increase of 17 million over February 1954. There was a particularly sharp rise in dividends paid by utility and finance companies.

What are the main props of the spring business upturn? The Commerce Department listed several in its latest business survey: "Expanding" consumer demand for services and goods, booming construction, the rebuilding of business inventories.

Retailers mentioned still another prop: Credit.

T. V. Houser, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co., said American consumers have reversed their habits of a year ago when much of their buying was done for cash. Today, he said, they're buying on-the-cuff. This swing toward credit purchases, Houser said, is chiefly responsible for the big increase in business the company has had this year. First-half sales are expected to stop year-ago volume by 12 per cent, he added.

Merchants Of Texas Happy Over Sales

By ROBERT E. Ford
The Associated Press

Texas merchants were happy today as they surveyed sales that indicate a record for pre-Easter business.

A check of several cities showed sales up as much as 15-20 per cent over last year.

Credit for the good business could go to the government and the weather.

Not only are the missus and the children hunting and buying Easter finery. The old man is getting ready for a little gayer season.

And in other lines, auto sales are expected to be ahead of last year. Food merchants are expecting considerably better Easter business.

The effect of the weather was shown this week, when sometimes bitter temperatures caused dips in sales in some cities.

One businessman remarked: "Texas women like to shop in warm weather."

Before the norther struck, sales had been booming, and they are expected to mount again if the weather holds clear and warm.

Some merchants attributed increased sales to the new income tax law. In past years, Easter has fallen shortly after the income tax deadline of March 15 and the head of the household often found himself low on funds. This year the deadline is April 15—five days past Easter, and father still has some money.

Some stores have employed more people.

At Fort Worth, merchants noted that new styles in men's clothes are putting men's stores especially ahead of last year. A Dallas retailer said you can expect to see men more colorfully dressed in the Easter parades—pastel shirts are gaining ground, and although pink still is ahead, other pastels are increasing in favor.

Corpus Christi found that children's clothing sales were especially outstanding.

Houston businessmen expect a 15 per cent increase in Easter business, with general employment up and the trend of business increasing for the first two months this year.

One Houston retailer said his firm had put in the greatest variety and the greatest selection of soft goods in the history of his local group of stores.

Arrests of people under 18 years old in the United States have increased 430 per cent since 1950.

Space and size of the map prohibited the showing of all the small branches running into the creek. Several interested organizations and individuals will discuss various problems in the Deep Creek watershed at a meeting to be held here Thursday.

The Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a meeting for Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the district courtroom here, inviting representatives of all political subdivisions and other interested parties.

At this meeting, the group will discuss various problems concerning the Deep Creek watershed. Herman Doak will preside at the meeting.

Political subdivisions here include the county, city, Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District, Snyder Independent School District, and the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Object of the meeting is to ascertain problems which might arise or have arisen within the watershed. The group will hear plans previously made by some of the subdivisions in their attempt to solve some of the problems.

The Deep Creek watershed includes about 146,325 acres of land in Scurry County, or about one-fourth of the entire county. Of this 60,565 acres of the watershed drains through Snyder and 95,760 drains into the creek south of Snyder.

Study and consideration has been given to conservation, flood control, and other problems in the Deep Creek watershed for a number of years. It was included in problems studied last year by the chamber's agriculture committee. The CRMWD has been conducting a study during the past two years on the watershed, and the soil conservation district has studied the creek and its watershed area for several years.

Main interest of soil conservationists in the watershed is in crop washouts, soil erosion, and water conservation, while the water district is interested in impounding water for use. The schools have an interest in bus routes on roads in the watershed, while the county's main interest would be in roads and bridges.

The city is interested primarily in flood control. That may be one of the main points discussed at the Thursday meeting, since the creek has gone over its banks several times and in 1939 caused much damage in a flood, which also caused one death.

The 1939 flood caused about half a million dollars damage in the city. Crop damage was estimated at $250,000 to $275,000. Part of that, however, was from hail and wind. At that time, the county commissioners court reported 20 bridges in the county damaged from the flood, more than a dozen of them washed out. About 40,000 acres of crops were washed out.

The flood came when Snyder had only 5.05 inches of rainfall. Other communities reporting rainfall measured 4.25 inches at Fluvanna, in the area at the head of the Deep Creek watershed, and heavier rain several miles east of Snyder and southwest of Snyder, both areas outside the Deep Creek watershed.

Blue Panic Grass Gaining Popularity

Farmers and ranchers are becoming sold here, one by one, on the benefit of planting blue panic grass.

The selling job is being done by those who have tried the grass. Those who have tried it seem to never stop praising the perennial growth.

Jack Martin, who lives west of Dermott, has 17 acres of the grass which had a growth of six inches this spring before the frost came last week. Martin had already turned his beef cattle onto the grass for a few days before the cold weather hit last week, and he said cows and calves had all benefited from the grazing.

Martin is now getting ready to plant an additional 50 acres of blue panic. He has been adapting a Planet Junior seeding attachment to his regular planting equipment.

Sudan grass is seldom planted in this area until after April 15, and the most commonly-used planting date is after May 1. But not blue panic. The panic is planted in rows and cultivated about twice a year by running a plow through the middles. It can continue to grow for an indefinite period without being replanted and is capable of carrying one head per acre for several months a year during a period from late March until the first frost.

Martin's blue panic is showing other cultivated grasses up, since it has set a grazing record on his place, furnishing grazing from late June last year until frost, in addition to producing 600 pounds of seed from the 17 acres. Since it got six inches before last week's frost, it is apparently going to continue to do well this year after warm weather comes to stay.

Martin's grass was ready to furnish grazing when the spring rains came. Last fall, shortly after the first killing frost, he had taken his cattle off the grass, leaving an old stubble of about 15 inches. He recently started to use a chisel plow to cultivate between the rows, but he changed his mind when he discovered that the grass had live roots all through the middles and soil condition was much better than he had expected. A residue of leaves and stems now covers a large portion of the soil surface and will help in keeping down evaporation, soil temperature, and runoff, as well as furnishing organic matter for a better biological setup.

Jack Martin, right, who has 17 acres of blue panic grass which has already furnished some grazing this spring, and Guy Moore, member of the Soil Conservation Service staff here, examine the blue panic after last week's frost. Martin's grass already had six inches of growth this year. Note the 15-inch stubble Martin left on the grass last fall. (Lee Watson photograph)

Ruether Sees Wage Victory

By NORMAN WALKER

CLEVELAND, March 26 (AP)—Walter Reuther, head of the CIO and its big auto workers union, said today he sees a good chance of winning the guaranteed annual wage from the auto industry this year without a strike.

But he pledged that his union, which Reuther said is the nation's largest labor organization, with a claimed 1½ million members, will win the year-around pay plan one way or another, with or without a strike.

"I guess I'm a born optimist," Reuther told reporters. "I think our case is so good we'll be able to convince them at the bargaining table. But make no mistake about it, our members will walk out if the auto companies won't guarantee us 52 weeks pay a year."

Reuther's news conference came on the eve of the United Auto Worker's biennial convention. Delegates arrived in a snowstorm for Sunday's opening session.

New contract negotiations with General Motors and Ford, the auto industry giants, start in early April a few days after the convention closes. The guaranteed wage plan, or guaranteed employment plan as Reuther prefers to call it, is the main issue. The showdown is expected in June when existing contracts expire.

FARM AND RANCH

Experiments conducted for several years by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur to determine effects of various types of organic materials on runoff, water infiltration, and crop yields when used as mulches have shown that runoff can be reduced through use of litter materials as surface mulches.

Thirty-four per cent of the rain causing runoff was lost during 1953 and 1954 from Abilene clay loam soil of two per cent slope where no litter had been applied. On similar adjacent plots, the runoff losses amounted to 14 per cent where two tons per acre of gin trash was plowed under and to seven per cent where two tons per acre of the trash was left on the surface.

Depth of moisture penetration was measured in August, 1953, on mulch plots following a rain of 2.8 inches. An average moisture penetration of 15 inches was found on plots where no litter had been applied, compared to an average penetration of 23, 24, and 30 inches on plots which had applications of four, eight, and 16 tons of litter per acre.

Various materials have been used for mulching purposes since 1948, including manure, sorghum residue, and cotton gin trash. Little difference has been noted in effect of these materials on water conservation or crop yields when similar quantities were used. An average yield increase in cotton production of 60 per cent was realized from addition of mulching materials. The increases are attributed to reduction in runoff and attendant deeper moisture penetration, rather than fertilizer benefits, since applications of fertilizer during the same years have not increased yields.

Quantity of materials necessary to accomplish the water conservation job has not been definitely established, but it is felt that four tons per acre of a bulk material is adequate.

Max D. Carriker of Roby, chairman of the steering committee appointed several weeks ago in a cotton disaster area movement, reports that he has had letters from U.S. Sentator Lyndon Johnson and from representatives Mahon, Burleson, Ikard, and Fisher and that all express support of the proposal that disaster counties be given additional cotton allotments. They say the proposal should be considered as a separate piece of legislation to become a permanent part of the law and not tacked onto some other piece of farm legislation which might have a more temporary nature, Carriker said.

An eventual visitation to Washington of a delegation from this area is a necessity, say some of the congressmen. The group would be armed with all information on local conditions. Carriker said he believed a formal hearing might be held in Washington within the next month.

Many civic and farm organizations and individuals have already written congressmen to express their support of the proposal, Carriker said. He urges others to do so.

E. C. Browning, owner of a farm south of Fluvanna which has some of the most level land in the county, is watching the benefit of contour rows for almost level land.

Browning had Soil Conservation Service technicians to run contour lines, and he then listed his land on the contour.

"The next day after the good rain, the contour furrows were full of water from end to end, Browning said later, "While my other land had no water standing on it at all. I want to get more contour listing done soon."

The soil on Browning's place is deep, tight land which is capable of storing about two inches of rain in each foot of soil, so practices such as terracing, contour row farming, and crop residue management will help to catch and store more moisture.

Wheat Farmers To Cast Vital Ballots

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—Farmers will vote this spring in a wheat crop control referendum that could rock the nation's farm commodity markets and shake federal farm programs to their foundations.

It also could have strong political effects on next year's presidential and congressional elections. And it might force the Eisenhower administration to change some of its thinking on farm programs.

There is much grumbling about the government's wheat program and uncertainty as to how growers will vote.

Growers will decide whether they want rigid federal marketing quotas on the 1956 wheat crop. If approved, this would be the third consecutive year of such controls. Approval of two thirds of those voting is necessary.

Farm law requires the referendum because of a big surplus in wheat. The government does not want it to become any larger—at least not as long as Uncle Sam is obligated to take over the surplus. The control program limits amounts growers may sell.

Rejection of quotas would require the Agriculture Department, under provisions of farm law, to reduce federal price supports for wheat from the present average of $2.06 a bushel to about $1.19.

The law directs that supports range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity next year if controls are in effect, but only 50 per cent if they are rejected. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

A drop in support prices could be expected to cause an immediate sharp drop in wheat prices in the markets. This decline would spread to corn, oats, rye, barley, grain sorghums and other livestock feeds, because wheat, at 50 per cent of parity or thereabouts, would undersell the other grains.

Lower feed grain prices could be very upsetting to efforts of the government and of producers to stabilize production and prices of many other farm products—especially hogs, cattle, milk, poultry and eggs. Cheap feed prices usually encourage a new wave of expansion in livestock products.

It may appear unrealistic to suggest that wheat growers might turn down controls. Why, it may be asked, would a farmer vote against quotas when he knows the result would be a sharp slash in his prices?

Reports from various wheat-producing areas indicate there is much greater dissatisfaction with the present federal wheat program than ever before. Wheat farmers are worried that they are getting nowhere toward the solution of their problem of surplus supplies and excessive production capacity. They have been cut to a total of 55 million acres, compared with a postwar peak of 80 million acres.

Current surpluses are so large that, Secretary of Agriculture Benson says, it may take 10 more years of rigid controls to get supplies back down to normal. Ten years is a long time to operate at a low productive speed.

Course Scheduled For Agricultural Pilots

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today the nation's first college course for agricultural pilots will be offered next fall.

Texas A&M at College Station, it said, will offer special instruction to pilots for dusting and spraying crops.

The CAA said the course grew out of a suggestion by Gale Hanson, CAA agricultural specialist, at a recent conference of the Texas Aerial Applicators Assn. Several private companies offered to provide the planes.

Hanson, who will serve as an adviser, said he hopes similar courses could be offered at other land grant colleges "to fill a real need for this kind of pilots who are both skilled and safe."

Human life expectancy at birth in many Asian countries is around 30 years, less than half that of the most advanced Western countries.

TCU Board Opposed To Gas Control

FORT WORTH, March 26 (AP)—Texas Christian University trustees recorded today strong opposition to federal control of production and gathering of natural gas.

Their concern was over possible decrease of income from endowment investments and curtailment of gifts to those funds.

In a formal resolution, the board voted to petition officials to enact laws which "will make it clear that production and gathering of natural gas and its sale by the producer is not within the jurisdiction of the Natural Gas Act."

The board approved a 1955-56 budget of almost three million dollars, elected three new board members and re-elected eight, granted three honorary degrees, approved several advancements in faculty rank and announced some faculty retirements.

New board members are Lorin Boswell and Glen Woodson, Fort Worth businessmen, and Hans Schneider, industrialist and church leader of Hammond, La.

Those voted honorary doctor of divinity degrees include the Rev. Nimmo Goldston, San Angelo.

The retirement of Dr. L. C. (Pete) Wright, 72, as business manager and treasurer was announced. However, he will continue to serve as an adviser. He once was athletic director.

Leonard Cecil White, 34, assistant business manager since 1934, was named Wright's successor.

The resolution on natural gas said a significant portion of the university's endowment was obtained through philanthropy of oil and gas operators and royalty owners.

"Future yields of these endowments," the resolution continued, "are seriously jeopardized by federal jurisdiction over the production and gathering of natural gas such as is now being established as a result of the Supreme Court decision in the Phillips case in interpretation of the Natural Gas Act."

This interpretation, the resolution said, "constitutes an immediate danger to our nation's system of competitive enterprise which this school's administration defends and seeks to perpetuate as a practical system for support of its broader aims of Christian education.

Vehicle Tax Is Proposed

HOUSTON, March 26 (AP)—A special vehicle tax to provide funds for expressway right of way has been endorsed by Houston's City Planning Commission.

The commission has recommended that Houston and Harris County officials, in cooperation with the Houston Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee, seek quick approval of such a tax by the Legislature.

James J. Braniff, a commission member, said bottlenecks in vital freeway construction have resulted from inability of some cities to buy right of way. The proposed special tax of from $5 to $10 per vehicle, he said, would eliminate the problem.

The tax would be collected at the same time annual license plate fees are paid. The commission estimates Harris County would receive three million dollars a year from the special tax, an amount considered sufficient to retire a 30-million-dollar bond issue.

Harris County now retains a maximum of $175,000 collected annually in automobile license fees.

Big Leagues Inventory Strength, Weaknesses

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26 (AP) — This is inventory time, when the managers take stock of their personnel, weighing credits against debits, as the spring training season swings into the final two weeks prior to the start of the regular campaign.

Here is a rundown of the 16 major league clubs showing their strengths as compared with their weaknesses:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York

STRENGTH — Confidence of a champion; Johnny Antonelli's promise of greatness; Alvin Dark's leadership; Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom, brilliant relief pair; Dusty Rhodes and Bobby Hofman, outstanding reserves.

Milwaukee

STRENGTH — Best pitching in league with Warren Spahn, Gene Conley, Lew Burdette, and flock of good-looking youngsters; Bobby Thomson's clean bill of health following ankle fracture; best infield in league; steady improvement of Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock, Eddie Mathews and Del Crandall.

WEAKNESS — No catcher to replace an injured Crandall; doubt over ability of pitchers Chet Nichols and Bob Buhl to win.

Brooklyn

STRENGTH — Apparent soundness of Roy Campanella's hand; bright future promised by southpaw Karl Spooner; fine showing of young infielders Don Zimmer and Chico Fernandez; power hitting of Gil Hodges, Duke Snider, Jackie Robinson and Campanella.

WEAKNESS — Uncertainty of pitching comeback by Don Newcombe; advanced age of team's big guns; lack of standout pitchers; Robinson's susceptibility to injury; can Sandy Amoros hit left-handed pitching?

St. Louis

STRENGTH — Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst; improved defense with addition of third baseman Ken Boyer and outfielder Bill Virdon; improvement of second-year men Alex Grammas, Wally Moon and Bill Sarni; addition of relief pitcher Frank Smith.

WEAKNESS — Pitching problem made more acute by loss of Vic Raschi for indefinite period; big question mark at first base; over-concentration of left-handed hitters.

Cincinnati

STRENGTH — Most powerful attack in league headed by Ted Kluszewski; Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple, best double play combination in league.

WEAKNESS—No standout pitcher, no Redleg pitcher won more than 12 games in last two campaigns; mediocre bench.

Philadelphia

STRENGTH — Continued brilliance of Robin Roberts; new spirit of cooperation; return of Granny Hamner to shortstop; all-around ability of Richie Ashburn; fine spring showing of rookie pitchers Jim Owens, Lynn Lovenguth and Jack Meyer.

WEAKNESS — Need of more power and tighter defense; question marks at second base and right field; Curt Simmons' sore arm cause for alarm; second base combo was last in double plays last year.

Chicago

STRENGTH — Splendid infield headed by shortstop Ernie Banks and second baseman Gene Baker; promise of righthander Sam Jones and other young pitchers.

WEAKNESS — Weak outfield with only Hank Sauer sure of position; catching old and slow except for inexperienced Harry Chiti; mediocre pitching.

Pittsburgh

STRENGTH — Return of shortstop Dick Groat; promise shown by a handful of young hopefuls led by Gene Freese, Roger Bowman and Bob Clemente.

WEAKNESS — Veterans nearly over the hill and youngsters at least a year away; lack of extra-base power; question marks at first, second, third and right field.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland

STRENGTH—Superlative pitching made even more potent by addition of Herb Score; potential murderer's row of Larry Doby, Al Rosen, Vic Wertz and Ralph Kiner; brilliant hit-and-run pair of Al Smith and Bobby Avila.

WEAKNESS — Psychological effect of four straight World Series losses to Giants; Rosen still being bothered by right index finger broken last May; Kiner's fielding in right field and Wertz' defensive work at first base.

New York

STRENGTH—Yogi Berra; spectacular spring hitting of rookie Elston Howard and Bill Skowron; steadiness of Hank Bauer, Gil McDougald and Andy Carey; brilliant promise of Mickey Mantle.

WEAKNESS — Need of regular fourth starter to go with Whitey Ford, Bob Grim and Bob Turley; Don Larsen's sore arm; shortstop problem with aging Phil Rizzuto and weak hitting Billy Hunter and Jerry Coleman; lack of outfield depth.

Chicago

STRENGTH — Well provided in pitching; good speed, defense, hustle and fight; all-around ability of Minnie Minoso; fine double play combination in Nellie Fox and Chico Carrasquel; General Manager Frank Lane's trading ability.

WEAKNESS — George Kell's trick knee; need of another power hitter; doubt over Walt Dropo's ability to assume role of big RBI man; no outstanding rookie prospects.

Detroit

STRENGTH — Fine freshman array led by outfielders J. W. Porter and Bubba Phillips and pitcher Frank Lary; progress of youth movement as evidenced by rise of Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline, Bill Tuttle and Frank House.

WEAKNESS—Concern over first baseman Ferris Fain's still troublesome knee; pitching shortage; need for more power and stouter bench.

Boston

STRENGTH—Good young pitching helped by return to form of veteran Mel Parnell; good defensive outfield; lots of young talent; showing of rookie Pete Daley strengthens already good catching.

WEAKNESS — Mediocre infield weakened further by inability to make double play and Milt Bolling's injury; uncertainty of Ted Williams, who may be hampered by lack of training even if he decides to play.

Washington

WEAKNESS — Lack of long-ball hitter, preferably an outfielder to flank Busby; inadequate catching; questionable double play combination.

Baltimore

STRENGTH — New blood, new manager, new spirit, new incentive; Gene Woodling, a solid outfielder and batter; Hal Smith, an outstanding rookie catcher.

WEAKNESS—Too many players that are either too young to too old; absence of power hitter to drive in runs; club hit 51 homers last year, only two more than Kluszewski hit by himself; already inadequate pitching staff hurt by sore arms of Duane Pillette and Ray Moore.

Kansas City

STRENGTH—Potential of third baseman Bob Finigan and pitcher Arnie Portocarrero; promise of several youngsters, particularly Hector Lopez, Art Ceccarelli and Hal Bevan; stimulus provided by switch from Philadelphia to Kansas City.

WEAKNESS — Bobby Shantz' sore arm; failure to complete a single trade; practically same team lost 103 games last year, finished last in batting, fielding and standings. 'Nuff said.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

Assistant coaches at Monterey of Lubbock, one of the new schools in District 3A-1, are Dudley Parker, Don Gray, and Ted Simon.

Parker goes to Lubbock from Corpus Christi. He is the one who made that 80-yard scoring play for Baylor against Southern Methodist in 1950. That was in the first scrimmage play of the game. Gray went to Monterey from Lubbock High, where he was B team coach last year, and Simon coached in elementary grades at Lubbock. Dave Cook is basketball coach. Head coach, of course, is Bill DuBose, while athletic director is Eck Curtis.

Wichita Falls baseballers took their fifth straight practice win last week, shutting out Duncan, Okla., 10-0 as Floyd Stone pitched a no-hitter.

Snyder and San Angelo baseball teams had to call off their doubleheader, which was scheduled for yesterday. It was just too cold.

Next game on the card for the Tigers is Odessa away from home at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. On Thursday, they will go to Midland, and on Saturday they are scheduled to host San Angelo in a doubleheader.

New head coach at Coahoma for next year is Dub Behrens, who has been coach at Santa Anna for the last three years. He is an ACC graduate.

About the only comment we can hear around here about Texas A&M's appointing Ken Loeffler of LaSalle as head basketball coach is that the cage team can go no way but up.

The Aggies won only one conference game this year and only four during the entire season. LaSalle had a 26-5 record. Loeffler's record in six years at LaSalle was 144-28.

After talking to Paul Bryant, athletic director at A&M, Loeffler said, "It looks like Bryant wants to develop basketball and I just couldn't turn down the challenge."

It's quite a challenge, all right.

Stengel Faces Court Charges

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26 (AP)—Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, was arrested today and posted bond of $50 each on two charges of having kicked a press photographer and of abusing the newsman vocally.

The 63-year old baseball leader must appear before Magistrate Edward P. Silk on Wednesday.

The warrants of arrest were issued by Silk on evidence based in an affidavit by Brannan I. Sanders, a photographer for the St. Petersburg Independent, Deputy Sheriff L. M. Kersey said.

The veteran photographer also said that Stengel kicked him and cursed at him.

Stengel said in a statement "that the whole thing is being blown up out of proportion. All I told the fellow was that he was to get out of the way, that he was in the line of vision. I never touched the fellow.

"Sure, I yelled at him and told him to get out when he came into the dugout because he didn't belong there. He said he had to make a living and I told him we did too."

George Weiss, general manager of the Yankees, said the club felt that "Casey Stengel's record of 45 years in baseball with a close and friendly association with the press and photographers speaks for itself. We find it difficult to believe that anything happened yesterday to warrant this action."

Saxton Will Defend Title

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON, March 26 (AP)—Welterweight champion Johnny Saxton of New York makes his first title defense Friday against Tony DeMarco, the local slugger who was an unknown preliminary fighter 22 months ago.

The 15-round championship fight is scheduled at Boston Garden before an estimated 13,000 at 10 p.m. (EST). There will be no telecast or broadcast.

DeMarco, unbeaten in his last 16 bouts, had fought no more than eight-rounders prior to June, 1953. Since then he's been forced to go 10 rounds on six times—scoring 10 knockouts while gaining 5 decisions and a draw.

Lightweight king Jimmy Carter battled Tony to 10 in his last appearance—a non-title affair—and DeMarco looked very tired at the finish.

But Saxton, at 24, a year older than DeMarco, has fought more than 10 rounds just once—in winning the welter crown from Kid Gavilan in Philadelphia last October on a 15-round decision.

El Paso Entrant Wins England Meet

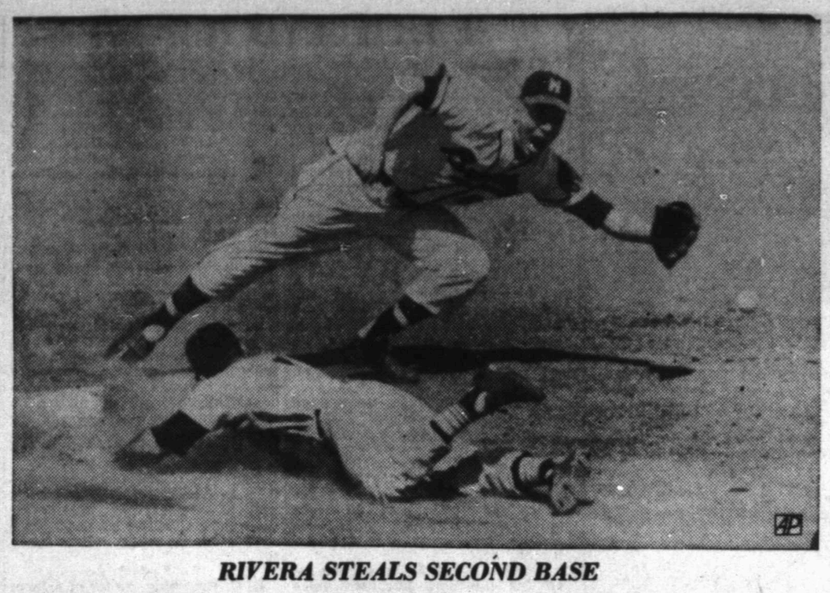
LONDON, March 26 (AP) — Margaret Varner of El Paso, Tex., used a strong defense to win the All-England Women's Badminton Championship today with an upset 9-12, 11-5, 11-1 victory over Judy Devlin of Baltimore.

Miss Devlin is the current American champion.

She and her sister Susan also lost their doubles title, bowing to Joan White and Iris Cooley 18-15, 10-15, 15-9.

Wong Peng Soon of Malaya won the men's singles title by upsetting his countryman, E. B. Choong, 15-7, 14-17, 15-10.

Pete Suder is the oldest player on the Philadelphia Athletics roster. He will be 39 on April 16.



RIVERA STEALS SECOND BASE

Chicago White Sox's Jim Rivera is diving for second base as Milwaukee Braves' second baseman John Dittmer makes this mouth-opening lunge for catcher Del Crandall's wide throw in the second inning of their exhibition game in Bradenton, Florida. Rivera went on to third base on the wide throw.

Hunting, Fishing Gain Many New Fans During Past Year

By DION HENDERSON
The Associated Press

Maybe military life converted millions of Americans to hunting in their civilian life. But what's the new fisherman's excuse?

Between them, the two sports have one out of every four U. S. residents spending serious money for outdoor fun.

However many have an active but economical interest in the outdoors — hikers, bird watchers and the folks who stand by with knive, fork and frying pan awaiting the return of the hunter or fisherman.

More than 32,000,000 such cash customers bought hunting or fishing licenses last year. Millions enjoyed the hunting and fishing without licenses—kids too young to need them, veterans old enough to get them free. Altogether, they made their sport a nine billion dollar industry in 1954, according to a National Wildlife Federation estimate. That's three times the 1945 estimate.

And something over the national budget figure for a pre-world war II year. And, as harried conservation officials well know, it's getting bigger all the time.

For instance, the 18½ million Americans who bought fishing licenses last year paid more than three times as much for them as any year in history before 1946.

And the combined totals were more than twice the 1944 figures.

What's responsible for the increase, which has been adding about a million persons a year to the paid outdoor roll?

Well, American and Canadian officials at the recent North American Wildlife Conference at Montreal hazarded that wars probably have made outdoors men out of many a city-bred boy.

There was a "tremendous stimulus" right after World War II and another lift right after the Korean conflict, they noted. And the official interest is a burning one, since the conservation administrators are the fellows responsible for supplying more and more hunters and fishermen with fish and game while they have less and less wildlife "factory" area to provide it.

The soldier, of course, is a likely prospect for the hunting Army. If city-bred, he became better acquainted with life in the outdoors than he probably ever intended to. He learned expert handling of firearms, which any firearms expert will aver is a pleasure in itself, but is more so if you have something to shoot at.

Back in 1946, a national shooters organization made a survey of 5,000 combat Marines and learned that over 4,000 of them intended to do some shooting in civilian life. About 65 per cent specifically wanted to go hunting.

The fishing increase doesn't have such a ready explanation. More humans go fishing than take part in any other sport. And they always have. Few fishermen will provide a civil, believable answer to any inquiry as to why they go fishing. To catch fish is an obvious but probably unsound answer, as any fisherman's wife can testify.

Campers also are moved by obscure impulses, emulating at great hardship and considerable expense the man-against-nature struggle their tribal ancestors worked so hard to leave behind. How many millions have taken up camping, up to and including family vacation projects, is impossible to tell.

And why? The only answer that fits all the phases of the outdoors boom seems weak to the statisticians.

It's fun, the folk say.

San Antonio To Get Lawn Tennis Meet

SAN ANTONIO, March 26 (AP)—The Texas sectional tournament of the Texas Lawn Tennis Assn. has been awarded San Antonio for June 6-12.

The tournament will be at Sevenoaks Country Club.

More than 200 Texans and outstanding players from surrounding states are expected.

Last year's men's singles champion, Tut Bartzen, San Angelo, will defend his title. In the women's division, Ethel Norton, San Antonio's only nationally ranked player, leads a strong field.

Little League Plans Drills

Boys who participate in Little League activities this year must present birth certificates before they try out for the league, league officials reminded boys and parents this week.

The Little League organizations here urged those parents whose sons want to participate in the programs to get birth certificates for them now if they do not already have them. They must present them when they report for workouts.

Dates for workouts have not yet been set, but they will be held sometime in April. The two Little Leagues here are to make plans within the next few days for those workouts and for league schedules.

Boys who are 12 years old or younger participate in the Little League program.

This year Snyder has two Little Leagues, American and National. The American League covers the eastern half of the Snyder school district, while the National League territory covers the western half. The dividing line between the two areas is Avenue S in Snyder, the Clairemont Road north of Snyder, and the Roundtop road south of Snyder. Each league has four teams.

Kansas Team Seeks Texas Relay Title

By DICK WILLIAMS

AUSTIN, March 26 (AP)—Kansas, lacking the services of miler Wes Santee, returns to the Texas Relays here April 1-2 with hopes of dominating the field events as well as the longer relay races.

The Jayhawks snapped the world sprint medley record last year, but Santee's graduation has robbed them of their relay strength. The outspoken Kansan will compete only in the Jerry Thompson Mile, a race open to all entries.

Added strength in the field events, however, promises to make up for the loss of points on the cinder path.

Kansas poses a definite threat to break Texas A&M's four-year domination of the shot put with Bill Nieder, holder of the Big Seven indoor record and one of the nation's leading collegiate shot putters.

Nieder tossed the shot 53 feet 10¾ inches in winning the Big Seven title.

The Aggies, trying for their fifth straight shot put victory, will compete without Bobby Gross, defending champ whose knee injury sidelined him for the rest of the season.

Other top performers in the shot put are sophomore Herman Johnson and Tom Bonorden of Texas A&M.

Kansas has another leading weight man in Dick Knowles, who hits around 50 feet in the shot put and betters 145 feet with the discus.

Oklahoma's Robert Van Dee stopped A&M's discus supremacy last year for the first time in six years and will return for another crack at his title.

Kansas also presents imposing strength in the other field events with Don Sneegas, defending champion in the javelin throw; broad jumper Bob Smith, high jumper Leon Wells; shot putter Gene Blasi; and javelin throwers Les Bitner and Don Bracelin.

Lopata's New Stance Raises Batting Mark

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26 (AP)—If baseball presented "Oscars," the award for "Most Improved Batter" should go to Stan Lopata, the Phillies' man mountain catcher with the peculiar stance.

Dizzy Dean once said Lopata's strange appearance at the plate reminded him of "a man about to sit down in a chair." The big fellow (6-2 and 210 pounds) hunches down in a semi-squat to make pitchers bring their curve ball low. It works, too.

When Lopata walks to the plate and assumes his stance, the ball parks buzz with comment. For the first time in his career, Stan is besieged by autograph seekers when he leaves the park.

After adopting his "new look" half way through last season, Lopata finished with 14 homers and a .290 average, 32 points above his lifetime mark.

The New York Yankees hope they have found another pitching "sleeper" in Johnny Kucks, a 6-3 righthander just back from military service. Last spring they came up with Bob Grim (20-6).

In his first two outings, Kucks allowed six hits and two earned runs in eight innings. At the same stage last year, Grim had allowed seven hits and two earned runs in 10 innings.

The ex-GI crop is thin this year with not too many big leaguers returning from the National Defense Service list. Dick Groat, Pittsburgh shortstop, and J. W. Porter, Detroit left fielder, look like the best of the lot.

The Boston Red Sox count on Dick Brodowski, who did his pitching for Fort Dix last year, and have been playing Faye Throneberry, another returning serviceman, in Ted Williams' spot in left field.

Ronnie Kline is due to be a starting pitcher for Pittsburgh after a stretch of military duty and catcher Harry Chiti figures in the Chicago Cubs' plans.

Others of the ex-GI crop are outfielder Bubba Phillips and pitcher Bud Black of Detroit, and pitchers Jim Russell and Kucks of the Yankees. Pittsburgh expects the O'Brien boys to come back in midsummer but Billy Martin probably won't be available to the Yanks this year.

Bonus babies will be heading toward the minors this summer as their mandatory two-year stay in the majors ends. Only Detroit's Al Kaline and Bob Miller appear certain to stay. Boston Infielder Billy Consolo, no longer a "bonus player" must fight for a job on his merits. St. Louis can send shortstop Dick Schofield to the farm for needed seasoning by June.

Milwaukee's pitcher Joey Jay and infielder Mel Roach can go out in mid-season as can catcher Nick Koback of Pittsburgh and pitcher Tom Qualters of Philadelphia.

The Yankees, of course, must carry two "bonus players" all season—first baseman Frank Leja and shortstop Tom Carroll.

Virgil Trucks had a radio show in Tampa during the winter. The Chicago White Sox pitching ace would like to try the radio-TV field, a la Dizzy Trout and Dizzy Dean, after he hangs up. . . . Mel Ott is back in action, working with the broadcast crew that is doing the "Game of the Day" in the training camps. He looks trim enough to take over his old right field job with the New York Giants. . . . Eddie Robinson, one of the "Army" of New York Yankee first basemen, has bought a restaurant in Baltimore. He hopes to pick up some of the baseball business during the summer.

When Herm Wehmeier was traded to Philadelphia by Cincinnati last season he lost one advantage—now he had to pitch to Ted Kluszewski. "Big Kloo hit two homers off me last season," said Wehmeier. "I've got to try to find some different way of pitching to him. But those Phillies use to wear me out, too, especially Richie Ashburn. He drove me half crazy. Now I don't have to worry about him."

Watch for Ashburn to do more drag bunting this year. He has been working under the wing of Coach Wally Moses, bunting pitches thrown by a pitching machine.

Cage Records Set By Small Colleges

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—The 1954-55 basketball season produced the highest-scoring team and the highest-scoring individual in all basketball history, the last round-up of small college statistics by the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed today.

West Virginia Tech became the first team to score better than 100 points a game for the full season and Bob Hopkins of Grambling (La.) surpassed all previous career scoring records when he brought his three-season point total to 2,894. Hopkins, who scored 1,036 points in 32 games during the past season, has one more year of eligibility.

West Virginia Tech averaged 107.5 points a game for 20 games, a total of 2,150. Baltimore just missed the 100-point average with 99.8 for 19 games. Arkansas Tech piled up 3,074 points, but played 35 games.

SPLIT HONORS

Hopkins, Bill Warden of North Central (Ill.) and George Swyers split the individual scoring honors. Warden, whose four years of eligibility ended at mid-season, averaged 34.7 points a game for the 13 he played. Swyers hit 676 points for a full season and a second-place average of 33.8. Hopkins averaged 32.4.

Hopkins is the first college player to score more than 1,000 points in each of two seasons — 1,002 last year. Warden is the first to average over 30 points for each of three campaigns —32.8, 30, and 34.7. Swyers was third in free throw percentages with 84.6, behind the 87.9 for Pete Kovacs of Monmouth (Ill.) and 85.3 for Jake Handzelek of Juniata (Pa.).

Three players hit more than 60 per cent of their field goal attempts—Jim O'Hara, Santa Barbara, 65.4; Clarence Burks, St. Augustine's, 64.1, and Don Morris, Millikin, 63.8. Burks hit the one-game high mark of 69 points against St.Paul's Poly and Hopkins scored 62 against Texas College.

RECORD AVERAGE

O'Hara's 65.4 average is a record, eclipsing the 62.9 by Paul Lauritzen of Augustana (Ill.) in 1954. Tom Hart of Middlebury raised the rebound record to an average of 29.5 recoveries a game. The old mark was 27.1 by R. C. Owens of College of Idaho in 1954.

Team records were set in field goal accuracy at 48.6 by Santa Barbara and free throw accuracy at 76.3 by Mississippi College. Amherst won the team defense title, limiting 22 opponents to an average of 56.0 points a game.

For the second year in a row, Rochester committed the fewest personal fouls per game 13.4) and La Crosse (Wis.) State the most (26.3).

Next Pan-Am Meet Slated In Cleveland

By TED SMITS

MEXICO CITY, March 26 (AP)—The second Pan-American Games came to a close today with the United States the clear-cut winner.

The youth of the nations and territories of North and South America were called on to assemble four years hence in Cleveland to renew their compeitition.

The classic Prix de Nations, or equestrian obstacle race, was the final event before the flags of the 22 teams were grouped in a semi-circle before the tribune of honor in the vast University City Stadium.

Highlight of the track and field competition was the breaking of two world records. Adhemar Ferreira da Silva of Brazil set a new mark of 16.56 meters (54 feet, 44 inches) in the hop, step, and jump, and Lou Jones of the United States won his first major race of the year, and a world record to boot, in the 400 meters in :45.4.

The United States dominated men's and women's track and field, won the men and women's basketball championships, raced away in swimming, topped weight lifting, and took gymnastics, swimming, shooting and volleyball.

Argentina, winner of the first games, took boxing, cycling, soccer, rowing, and water polo. The U. S. and Argentina divided in wrestling. The Dominican Republic won the baseball championship, and Mexico captured honors in the modern pentathlon and tennis.

In the unofficial point score it was the United States first, Argentina second, and Mexico third.

Two thousand athletes competed in the games, which were marked by a minimum of disputes. Usually the crowds gave generous applause to U.S. winners, but the American baseball players reported they were the targets for missiles, and stones were thrown at their bus windows without, however, any injuries.

Ken Loeffler, basketball coach at LaSalle College, above, has announced that he has resigned to accept a similiar position at Texas A&M College. He made the announcement in New York where he was coaching the East team for Saturday night's East-West game.

Cold Cancels Sports Events For Saturday

By The Associated Press

Texas' biting norther was too much for most of the state's spring sports program Saturday.

Only two major outdoor collegiate events were run off as scheduled. The remainder were cancelled or postponed.

The West Texas Relays, with a sparkling field of high school, college and university track and field stars, went on as planned at Odessa. Temperatures there were chilly but did not drop as low as in North and Central Texas.

Texas Christian and Texas staged their baseball game at Fort Worth although temperatures hovered at record lows for the season.

Two other Saturday Southwest Conference baseball games were postponed. Friday's SMU-Baylor game at Dallas was postponed to make a doubleheader today, and this was postponed until April 26 in Dallas. A Rice-Texas A&M game Saturday was re-set for May 10 at College Station. A&M won Friday at Houston, 7-5.

The East Texas Relays at Commerce, scheduled for Saturday, postponed until April 9 after 48 of the 65 teams entered withdrew because of the cold.

A dual track meet between freshmen and varsity squads of Rice Institute and Texas A&M, planned for Houston, was cancelled. It may be held April 7.

Texas-Texas A&M tennis matches at Austin, scheduled Saturday, were frozen out.

The Blinn relays at Brenham also succumbed to the bad weather.

Preliminaries in the world championship outboard motor closed course racing at Corpus Christi were postponed because of high winds.

The preliminaries will be held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sunday after which the finals will be held. Speed trials will be held Monday as scheduled.

Before he decided to become a professional baseball player, Leo Cristante of the Tigers wanted to be a tool and die worker.

Quare Times Is Victory In Steeplechase

By STERLING SLAPPEY

AINTREE, England, March 26 (AP)—Sure-footed Quare Times from the land of the shamrock won a muddy and dangerous Grand National today to give Irish trainer Vincent O'Brien an unprecedented third straight victory in the world's premier steeplechase.

The 9-year-old bay gelding jumped slowly but safely over the waterlogged course and splashed home in the gloom and mist 12 astonishing lengths ahead of Tudor Line, the top English threat.

With a wildly cheering crowd, including Queen Elizabeth and other members of the Royal family watching, jockey Pat Taaffe made it another big Irish show as he piloted his mount around the treacherous course. Carey's Cottage, another Irish entry, finished third, four lengths behind Tudor Line.

Tudor Line, who needs some of the luck of the Irish, was second a year ago, and that was where he finished again in this 109th Grand National which has made British blood pressures surge since they held the first one way back in 1839. Last year Royal Tan beat Tudor Line by a neck to win for Ireland and O'Brien, while in 1953 Early Mist swelled the pride of the Emerald Isle.

No other trainer in history can match O'Brien's mighty feat.

The going was ankle deep in mud today, and rain fell constantly. Shortly after the arrival of the Queen, who was wrapped in a big rain coat, officials decided to eliminate the water jump which is directly in front of the grandstand. They figured it would be too great a threat to lives of animals and their riders under the slippery conditions. That cut the number of jumps to 29.

It was at the water jump that Coneyburrow, one of last year's favorites, fell and was so badly injured that he was later destroyed.

Thirty horses started the 4-mile, 856-yard classic, and only 13 finished, but this was far more than the usual average. Only 9 of 29 starters got home a year ago, and the race cost the lives of 4 horses. No deaths were reported this time. In 1953 only 5 horses in the field of 31 finished, and 2 died.

Cougar Links Team Winner

ODESSA, Tex., March 26 (AP)—The University of Houston and Amarillo High School took top honors today in the golf tournament of the West Texas Relays.

Both yesterday and today golfers bucked strong, cold winds over the 36-hole, par-72 course. The best round of the tournament was an even par turned in today by Wally Bradley of Houston.

Rex Baxter of Houston took medalist honors with 73-77—150 in the university division. He was followed by Tommy Hale of Hardin-Simmons, who had 75-76—151.

The Houston team had a total of 621 points. Texas was second with 631, Southern Methodist 639, Texas Tech 641, Hardin-Simmons 644 and Texas Western 700.

Amarillo had a high school team total of 652. Abilene was second with 660, Odessa 663, and Pampa 671.

Henry Whitley of Amarillo was the medalist with 80-73—153. Two Abilene golfers tied for second—Stanley Binion with 77-79—156, and Ronnie McGraw 81-75—156.

Four of the last five amateur golf champions are now professionals. They are Sam Urzetta, Billy Maxwell, Gene Litterl and Arnold Palmer.

Monti Takes Lead At Miami Beach

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 26 (AP)—Setting a hot pace in the third round, Eric Monti, the veteran Los Angeles pro, jumped from eighth place into the lead today in the $12,500 Miami Beach Open golf tournament.

The 36-year-old Californian shot the day's finest round as he knocked seven strokes off par for the Bayshore Municipal Course with a 33-32—65 to snatch first place from Shelley Mayfield of Westbury, N.Y., with a 54-hole total of 202.

Hitting his shots long and accurately, Monti sank only two difficult putts in posting his seven birdies. He ran down a 25-footer at the 10th and a 15-footer at the 13th. Otherwise, his true iron blasts left him so close to the pins the birdies were easy.

He birdied the 18th in spite of a tee shot that curved his ball behind a tree. A good recovery, a pitch and a putt produced the 4 that boosted him a stroke in front of Mayfield.

Mayfield, who broke the competive record for the 6,577-yard Bayshore course yesterday with a 64, blew a four-stroke lead on today's back nine.

After going out in 32, 4 under par, Mayfield had a margin of 4 strokes over his nearest competitor, Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, as the leading pro turned into the backstretch.

He started to cave in at the 10th when he missed a two-foot putt and carded a bogey 4. He got another bogey at the 14th when he knocked his tee shot into the trees. At the 17, he couldn't get a 3-foot putt down and he finished the round with a 71 for 203.

That dumped Mayfield into a second-place tie with Rosburg, who posted a 69. They were two strokes ahead of Bob Inman of Tulsa, Okla., and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.

Several other pros were in position to strike for the $2,200 first prize tomorrow. In a six-place tie, only three strokes off the pace with 205s were Gene Litter of Palm Springs, Calif., one of the hottest players on the winter tour, and Peter Thomson, British Open champ from Australia.

One stroke behind this twosome and still definitely in the running for top money were the U.S. Open champ, Ed Furgol of St. Louis, and Slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

Texas, Abilene, NTS Win Titles

No Snyder track and field teamsters qualified in any events of the West Texas Relays in Odessa this weekend.

Preliminaries in the meet were held Friday. Some Snyder cindermen came close to qualifying but were no match for the speedy track performers and practiced field men in the meet.

One Snyder record, which was set last year, was borken in the preliminaries. It was the 3:38.3 mark in the spring medley relay. Abilene's team of Jimmy Millerman, Ronnie Mulhern, John Barfoot, and Bobby Messhart ran the event in 3:33.0 in the qualifying rounds of the meet.

In the Odessa High School invitation tennis meet, which was being held at the same time, Snyder netters were also beat out Friday.

Ronnie Smith, top-ranked Snyder tennis team member, lost in the second round to Bobby Gardner of Eunice, N.M., 7-2, 6-0. In doubles, the Wichita Falls team of Regg Brashear and Roger Swanner downed Snyder's Randal DeShan and Jerry Hale 6-0, 6-1. The Wichita Falls tennis team had already won Midland and Wichita Falls meets this season. In the B division, Ronnie Pitner lost in singles to Bob Hallway of San Angelo 6-1, 6-2.

The Snyder golf team, which was scheduled to enter the Odessa golf meet, did not participate.

ODESSA, Tex., March 26 (AP)—The University of Texas, North Texas State and Abilene High School won division championships today in the cold, windswept annual West Texas Relays.

Texas scored 25½ points to beat off the challenge of second place Houston which finished with 18½. Southern Methodist was third with 15, Texas Tech fourth with 13 and Baylor last in the 5-team field with 11.

North Texas won the college division with ease, scoring 44 points to 11 for Howard Payne. McMurry was next with 10, Texas Western 9, Hardin Simmons 7, Corpus Christi 6 and Sul Ross 1.

Abilene's Eagles, paced by Don Burks and two record breaking relay teams, won the high school division with 38 points. Amarillo was second with 20 points, Lubbock 12, Midland 10, Pampa 8, Sundown and Fort Stockton 7 each. Only 20 of the 43 teams managed to score.

SMU's sprint medley relay team of Don Morton, Rex Dunlap, Horace Goode and David Weaver set a new record of 3:27.1, breaking Texas' 1950 record of 3:29.2.

The only other record performance in the university division was by Houston's 440-yard relay team which equalled Texas' 1954 time of 41.2. The Houston quartet was Larry McBride, Ronnie Pruitt, Charles Petkovsek and Wilton Clement.

Bobby Whilden of Texas was the individual high in the university division with 6½ points.

Kenneth Kelley of North Texas was the star of the college field with 14 points. He tied the 120-yard high hurdles time of :14.7, held jointly by Sparks of Howard Payne and Cook of East Texas, and he broke the broad jump record with a leap of 22 feet, 9½ inches. The old mark was 22 feet, 7 inches by Morgan of Abilene Christian College.

The only other college record broken was in the 440-yard relay where North Texas' foursome of Mike Hagler, Boyd Dollan, Dean Renfro and Paul Patterson was timed in :42.2. The old record was 42.5 by Howard Payne in 1952.

Abilene's Burks was the high point man in the high school division, winning both the high and low hurdles and running a leg of the mile relay for a total of 11¼ points.

The Eagles set new standards in the sprint medley relay and mile relay. The sprint medley foursome of Jimmy Millerman, Ronnie Mulhern, John Barfoot and Bob Mosshart set a new record of 3:33.0 in Friday's preliminaries. They won the finals in 3:36.0.

The mile relay team of Burks, Mosshart, Bob Gay and Millerman raced to a new record time of 3:25.0. They were timed the same in the preliminaries and finals.

One other record was established. David Sager of Amherst won the mile run in 4:3.1.

Weber Named Pro At Columbian Club

DALLAS, March 26 (AP)—Bill Weber, former Dallas golf professional, was appointed today as head pro at the Columbian Club of Dallas.

Weber has been head pro at the Cedarbrook Country Club of Philadelphia for four years and had served as chief assistant to Lew Worsham at Oakmont Country Club in Oakmont, Pa., in 1950-51.

Weber, born and educated in Galveston, was an assistant pro at two other clubs here before going to Oakmont.

No player on the New York Giants roster was born in New York City. Only one, Hank Thompson, now makes his home there.

A NEW KIND OF AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE AT SURPRISINGLY LOW COST . . .

MOTORIST'S Personal PROTECTION PLAN

APPLIES IN ANY AUTO ACCIDENT IN THE U.S. OR CANADA NO MATTER WHO IS AT FAULT OR WHETHER THE OTHER DRIVER IS INSURED!

The Travelers, the first company to write Automobile Liability insurance, is proud to offer this new protection as an addition to its Automobile Liability policy.

There are two important features in The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan:

Total Disability coverage

Death Indemnity coverage

Here's why the Plan is needed:

1. Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is the only way the insured can protect himself when no one else is at fault.

Every year thousands of people are killed and injured in automobile accidents in which the car runs off the roadway, overturns, collides with a fixed object or is in some other accident not involving collision with another car. In almost all such accidents, the driver is the only one at fault.

2. Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is also a means by which the insured can protect himself when someone else is at fault and the other person is not adequately insured or is uninsured.

Details of benefits and exceptions and information on how you may qualify for the Plan are contained in our pamphlet, "The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan." Ask us for a copy.

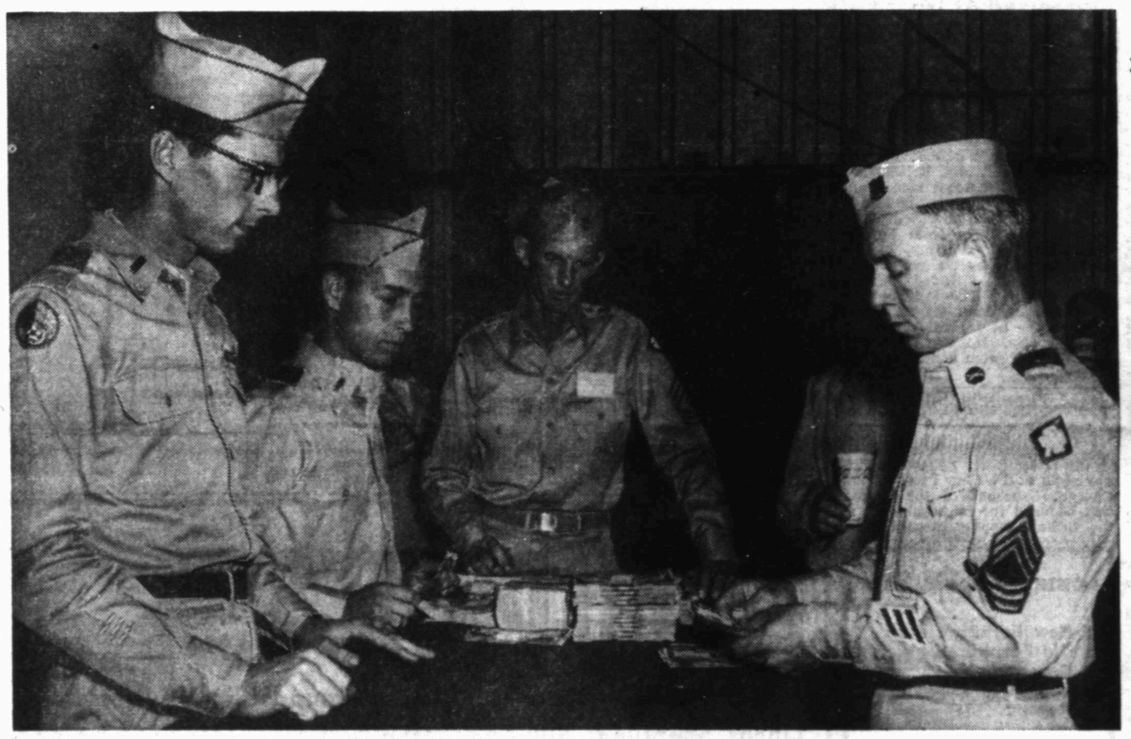
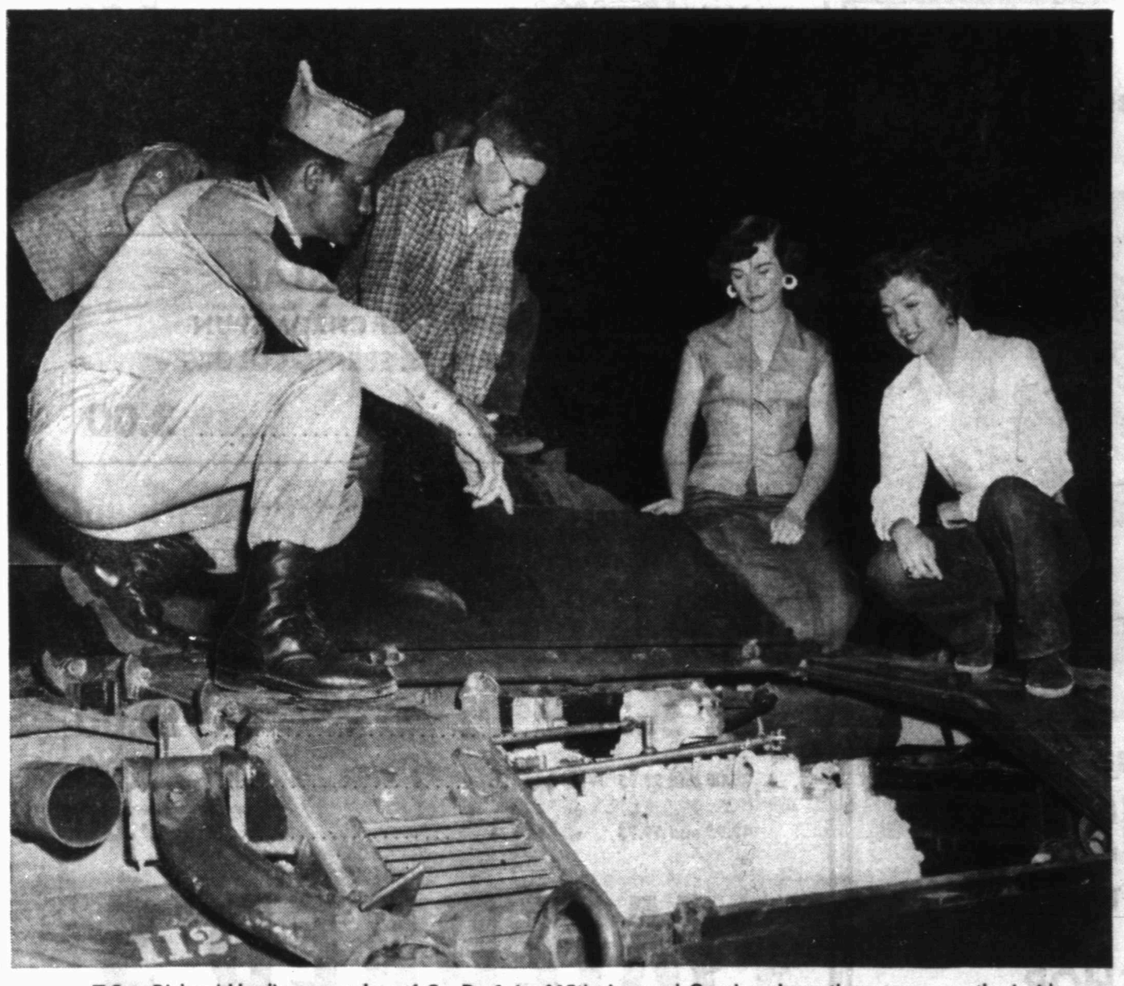
National Guard Holds Open House



Pay call was one of the big events of Thursday night's National Guard open house sponsored by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. The unusual sight of $2 bills in plentiful numbers around Snyder for the next few weeks will be one result of the $6,000 payroll, made in $2 bills. M-Sgt. Bishop P. Moffett, right, first man through the pay line, is shown counting his pay as pay officer's watch. They are from left: 1st. Lt. John Lynch, 2nd. Lt. Ernest Rayburn, and 1st. Sgt. Chess Horsley.

Members of Snyder's first National Guard unit which was organized in 1924 and saw action in Italy, France and central Europe during World War II, are shown above as they were presented at the National Guard open house here Thursday night. Several members of the original unit were killed in action during the war. Some of the men are members of the present guard unit.



T-Sgt. Richard Hardin, a member of Co. D of the 112th Armored Cavalry, shows three teenagers the inside of the engine compartment of the unit's heavy tank. With Hardin on top of the tank are Howard Burns, Barbara Parks, and Dixie Brown, right. The tank is part of the unit's half-million dollars worth of equipment.

american designer pattern

Mollie Parnis has captured the look of Spring in a dress with plenty of fresh airs. Its elongated bodice is molded into the waist, then widens at the hip to release a swirling skirt just made for stiffened petticoats. A shaped bosom band that is slip-stitched on and left open at the buttoning camouflages the fact that this is a step-in model. Make it in checked wool or taffeta, alpaca, worsted flannel, faille or citified cottons. Size 12 requires five and three-eighth yards of 36-inch material for the dress and seven-eighths of a yard of 35-inch material for interfacing. To order the pattern, No. 1190, send $1 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P.O. Box 535, Dept. S-13, New York 1, N.Y. Add four cents for handling on check or money order. State your bust, waist and hip measurements to be sure of receiving the proper pattern size.

Two Spouses Legal For Jeff Donnell

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jeff Donnell is a lucky girl. She has two delightful husbands—and it's legal.

Husband No. 1 is Aldo Ray, the big fellow with a voice like a foghorn on the San Francisco Bay. He is her real-life hubby.

Husband No. 2 is George Gobel, the sharp comic who was voted the most outstanding new personality on TV by the Television Academy. Jeff plays his wife Alice on the Saturday night show.

"Sure I'm lucky," said Jeff, a bright, fresh-faced girl with a lot of enthusiasm. "I can't think of any job I'd like more than playing Alice."

The alliance with George began two years ago when he and Jeff were appearing on NBC's Saturday Night Revue. They never appeared together on the big show, but Jeff became a Gobel fan. The closest they came to meeting was in a studio corridor.

They were walking toward each other. Jeff said: "I think you're wonderful." He said: "Thank you." Both kept on walking.

Two years later, Gobel was being prepped for a show of his own. Various actresses were proposed to play his wife, and Gobel selected Jeff from a list. But she was getting married to Aldo that week and couldn't make it. Other actresses did the role in the first shows, and the idea was to have a different one each week.

But when Jeff finally played the part, all hands decided she should be the regular Alice. When she first reported to work, George told a bystander: "Two years ago I came to work greatly depressed; I thought things were going badly on the Saturday Night Revue. Then I looked over at rehearsal and saw this girl grinning at me. She thought I was funny even when I was contemplating suicide."

She still thinks George is the funniest man alive. The only way she can keep from bursting out laughing in their domestic skits is to lose herself in the role of Alice.

What about "the real Alice," as George calls her?

"We get along wonderfully," Jeff said. "We're both the same age and have the same interests. We live close to each other and get together for dinner often.

"George and Aldo hit it off real well too. In fact, the other night they were up talking until 3:30 in the morning. And Aldo had to get up at 5:30 to catch a plane for Japan, where he is making a picture."

Our Banks Are Modern

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Woman's Editor

Maybe women actually will enjoy going to the bank someday.

A recent column on the subject of why most banks frighten women has brought some enlightening letters, both from women who still prefer the old sugar bowl and from bankers who have been taking steps to make their institutions as homey as the supermarket.

From Lubbock, Tex., comes a letter from Ruth E. Ford, vice president in charge of women's affairs of the Lubbock National Bank, who writes:

"Out here in the Southwest we have a forward - looking group which is not overlooking milady and her banking problems for one minute. You suggest to 'our frustrated bankers who are trying to cozy up to the feminine population' that the supercilious attitude of some bank tellers should be corrected. Such an approach would never be tolerated in our bank. . . even in the caretaker. We have attractive women tellers who are trained in public relations and in meeting the customer with a smile and courteous treatment.

"Our bank does not have a cathedral atmosphere which makes the small depositer feel like an interloper . . . for the depositer who does not care to come into the bank we have provided an auto - bank and auto-teller windows."

Now that is what I call progress. When Mom can drive up to the bank in her housedress and get curb service, it's a step in the right direction.

Apparently, however, the Lubbock banking system is not yet in wide use throughout the country, and there are still many women who keep the family bankroll tucked under the mattress rather than face the frightening prospect of entering a bank.

Small fry like this dish. Cook chopped beef lightly in a skillet and mix with cream sauce. If lean beef is used, add a little fat to the skillet when you are cooking it, but not too much!

Mr. And Mrs. Moring Are At Home Here After Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Orbin D. (Jim) Moring are at home at 2810 Avenue W following their marriage on March 18 in Sweetwater.

The bride, nee Dorothy Ruth Ulrich, is the daughter of Mrs. Paul Ulrich of Hutchinson, Minn., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Moring of Stephenville, Tex.

The ceremony was performed in the Calvary Lutheran Church with the Rev. Jack Slaughter officiating at the double-ring rites. Burning white tapers provided illumination for the church. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Marshall Lancaster.

For her marriage, the bride wore a two-piece bridal blue suit of gaberdine with a fitted jacket. Her hat was of navy straw, studded with pearls. She wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and her corsage was a single white orchid.

Mrs. Brasell McClure attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a dress of petal pink nylon with white flocking and a white satin hat. Her corsage was of blue carnations. Mr. McClure acted as best man.

Guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Paul Ulrich, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hale of Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Randolph, Jr., were hosts for a reception in their home at 1611 Twenty-seventh Street following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a star-flecked white satin cover of floor length with an overlay skirt of gathered pink net. The centerpiece was a large basket of blue daisies and carnations, the handle making an arch entwined with bridal wreath and holding miniature wedding bells. The tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom was served by Ernestine Partain and Janelle Randolph. Mary Belle Carroll registered the guests.

The bride is a graduate of Hutchinson High School and Eitel Hospital and Northwest Institute of Medical Technology in Minneapolis. Mr. Moring was graduated from Stephenvile High School and attended Tarleton State College. He is employed by Pan American Pipeline Co. here.

The couple's wedding trip was spent in Louisiana and east Texas.

Pioneer Is Still Rebel

CLARKSVILLE, Tex., March 26 (AP) — Mrs. U. M. Parks, believed to be the last surviving child of a signer of the Texas Declaration of Idependence, says, "I'm a rebel still. Never been reconstructed.

"Come here fighting. Still fighting. Lived through four wars. Ready to drop the bomb in the next one.

"Tried to think for a time it was the survival of the fittest. Now it's the survival of the toughest."

As she observed her 94th anniversary this week, she said she has one regret, She never could muster the rebel yell beloved of the Confederates.

A far-away look sets on her face as she recalls:

"Why, it would freeze the very marrow of your bones."

Her father, the delegate from Clarksville to the meeting at Washington-on-the-Brazos in 1836, left a career distinguished by political independence.

"He declared against secession," (in the Civil War), his daughter says, and twice escaped lynching mobs in his home town of Clarksville.

Mrs. Parks was a teacher before her marriage. She lives with her only daughter, Mrs. Mary O'Neill. Her husband, a merchant and rancher, died in 1939.

She has been confined to bed since September.

York-Tubb Marriage Is Announced Here

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Lynn York, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. York, 1511 Avenue T, and F. W. Tubb, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Tubb of Odessa.

The couple was married in Sweetwater on December 27. Mr. Tubb is employed by Kerr-McGee Drilling Co. here.

Don Ameche Back Again

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—Don Ameche, Broadway's new musical comedy sensation, is the comeback man of the year.

As the romantic leading man of Cole Porter's "Silk Stockings," Ameche has, to put it briefly, wowed the ladies.

"To think I had to reach this age," says 46-year-old Don, "to become a matinee idol! But it's just great. I'm having a helluva time."

Until the triumphant arrival of "Silk Stockings" at the Imperial, though, the Ameche career had been in eclipse for several years.

He made his last film seven or eight years ago, and had been doing some television work until Cy Feuer and Ernie Martin, the fabulously successful show producers, asked him to take on a role in a musical for them.

That was in November 1953, and for the next 14 months Ameche worked at getting ready. He took singing lessons from Herb Greene, now the conductor of "Silk Stockings."

Roaming the Rialto: David Brooks is culling the writings of Noel Coward for an informal revue next season; Carol Channing is set to star in the long-awaited "Delilah"; National Theatre Arts Council is plugging hard for subscription television as a life-giving injection for the drama.

Trouble In Swapping Lions For Chimps

VIENNA, Austria, March 26 (AP)—There's a slight delay in plans to swap a pair of Polish lions for Belgian chimpanzees at the Brussels zoo. Polish newspapers say the lions went on a tantrum that bent their cages when they were headed to Brussels by plane and forced the crew to return to Warsaw. So the big cats are to make the trip by rail.

PIANO TRIO TO PLAY HERE

A unique blending of the skills of three piano artists will be heard here on Thursday night when the American Piano Trio is presented by the Snyder Civic Music Association. Shown above at the left is Stephen Kovacs, founder of the trio and arranger for the group. In the center is Esther Fernandez, a native of Oregon who made her debut at the age of 14 in San Francisco, Calif., and has won an impressive number of awards since. At the right is George Fiore, who made his New York debut in 1950 and followed it with a year of extensive tours in the United States and Canada. The Trio presents a varied program, including a number of original works by such masters as Mozart and Bach which are seldom heard because of the rarity of three-piano groups.

Durante Sets A Fast Pace At Age 62

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How does the Schnoz do it?

Jimmy Durante turned 62 last month, yet he has lost none of his vitality. He continues working at a furious pace. He is doing 20 TV shows this season, all but two of them on a live basis. He'll do 30 shows next season. When he draws a couple of weeks away from TV, he often spends them playing his explosive act in Miami, New York, Reno or Las Vegas night clubs.

This is his off-week on his regular TV show and he's filling the time by appearing on NBC's spectacular to open its 3½-million-dollar color studio in Burbank tomorrow.

I tried to learn Jimmy's magic formula for energy over lunch at a Sunset Strip eatery. Lunch for Jimmy was some hot tea and toast. He explained that he had just gotten up and had already eaten a bowl of hot cereal.

"Me, I never feel hungry," he explained. "Eatin' don't mean nuttin' to me. I'll have maybe some cereal and toast for breakfast, and no lunch. For dinner I might have a lamb chop. Or if I don't feel hungry, it might be a bowl of corn flakes or somethin' like that."

Because of his night club upbringing, Jimmy is a night owl. He prowls around his house until 1 or 2 in the morning, reading letters and studying music. He gets up around 11 or noon.

Exercise? He gets most of his while performing; that's enough activity for any human. He takes a daily dip in his pool—"just enough to kick my feet; in and out."

Perhaps the most important element in Jimmy's well-being is his avoidance of the usual strains of show business life.

"Enemies?" he reflected. "I can't think of any."

It works in reverse too. Durante is the only star of whom I have never heard an ill word said.

TEEN TALK

By MARGIE SMITH

Spanish Fiesta Queen of 1955 is Dottie Dugas, who was crowned Friday night at the fiesta by the former queen, Juanez Teaff. Dottie is a cute brown-haired, blue-eyed freshman and is five feet, two inches tall. She is one of the most popular and well-known freshman girls which was proven by her election as secretary-treasurer for her class and runner-up for freshman favorite earlier in the year. Among her many interests is tennis, which she plans to play quite a bit this summer. Dottie was escorted in the conoration by Tommy McClatchy and was elected queen by the members of the various Spanish classes from a group of six candidates. Also in the coronation were Jane Joyce, who is the princess from Snyder in the Lubbock fiesta and the other candidates for Spanish queen.

WINS NURSING AWARD

A $25 savings bond was presented Friday afternoon to Beverly Hodge, high school vocational industrial training student who is doing training work at Cogdell Memorial Hospital, by the Central Permian Basin Hospital Area Council. D. S. Riley, center, administrator of Malone-Hogan Hospital in Big Spring, made the presentation while R. B. Fulcher, left, administrator of Cogdell Memorial Hospital, watched. Miss Hodge won the award on a theme written on "Why I Chose Nursing" which competed with 12 other themes from the 11 counties in the hospital area. It will be submitted for competition in a statewide contest composed of wining themes from the 17 districts in Texas. Winner of the state award will receive a $100 bond and an expense paid two-day stay in the Shamrock Hotel, Houston, to receive the award. (Lee Watson photograph)

State Government Costs Are Soaring

CHICAGO, March 26 (AP)—Costs of state government are going up again.

As a result, most states expect to take a larger bite from the taxpayer's pocketbook.

Of 41 state legislatures surveyed by The Associated Press, 37, either have approved larger budgets for the approaching biennium or are expected to do so.

Only Arkansas has programed reduced spending, and that was not entirely by design of the 1955 lawmakers. The state's fiscal code ties its spending to its income, in which a decline of four million dollars is anticipated for each of the next two fiscal years.

Oklahoma appropriations are expected to be about the same for the next biennium.

Mississippi's Legislature, in special session, is not considering appropriations.

All other assemblies checked have upped or are due to boost cash outlays. Most of these have approved or have tax - raising measures.

This follows a trend of recent years. The Census Bureau reported this week that state spending for the nation as a whole was about 19 billion dollars greater in 1954 than in 1953.

The New York Legislature has passed a record budget of $1,328,392,990 for the fiscal year starting April 1. This is 90 million more than the amount voted by the 1954 Legislature but nearly 17 millions less than Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman requested.

The largest increase dollarwise is anticipated in Pennsylvania, with the budget jumping 250 million dollars to about 1½ billion for the biennium starting June 1.

California's proposed budget for 1955-56 is about 1½ billions, an increase of nearly 98 million.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio is asking his Republican - controlled Legislature to hike the two-year budget to a record high.

Texas lawmakers have been asked to raise the biennial spending about 115 million dollars to 1½ billion, including federal aid.

Less astronomical increases are in store elsewhere. Idaho's general fund budget of 49½ million for the next two years; not including highway expenditures, is only $65,000 higher than that for the biennium drawing to a close. Kansas' proposed budget for next fiscal year is slightly above 237 millions, a boost of about $200,000.

Deficit spending will not be uncommon unless more tax money is found. In Michigan, for instance, the governor proposes an annual budget of more than 292 millions, which exceeds anticipated revenue by about 46 million.

Several bond issues, if approved, will raise outlays still more. A 75-million-dollar bond proposal to repair and replace state institution buildings is pending in Missouri. Connecticut has proposed bond issues for a 40½-million-dollar institutional building program and a 20-million-dollar bonus for Korean War veterans.

West Texas Chamber To Open Convention

LUBBOCK, March 26 (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce tomorrow opens its 37th annual convention with a forum among six Texas members of Congress one of the scheduled features.

The congressmen will hold a panel discussion Monday. Participating will be George Mahon, O. C. Fisher, W. R. Poage, Omar Burleson, Frank Ikard and Jim Wright.

Dr. John Christianson, dean of the School of Agriculture at Minnesota, will deliver the principal speech at the annual dinner Wednesday.

Italians To Build Heavy Water Plant

ROME, March 26 (AP)—Italy's National Committee for Nuclear Research reports construction is to start soon on a plant for the production of heavy water. It is to utilize hot vapors that emerge from the ground in the Larderello Valley near Pisa.

Inspection Of Vehicles Lags

With less than three weeks remaining before the deadline, over half of the motor vehicles in Scurry County still are without new motor vehicle inspection stickers.

John A. Marion, district inspector for the Department of Public Safety, said that only 48.08 per cent of Scurry County's cars and trucks had been inspected through Friday. This points to long waiting lines at inspection stations during the last days of the inspection period, Marion warned.

Vehicle registrations in Scurry County total 10,906, while only 5,329 inspection stickers had been issued by local inspection stations through Friday.

Ten inspection stations are available to vehicle owners in Scurry County. Marion said it usually requires about 15 minutes to inspect a vehicle that doesn't need any repairs to pass inspection. Previously the maximum number of cars handled for any particular day has been about 20. The speed with which inspections can be handled, however, depends upon number of mechanics available.

"Most of the time, mechanics at the inspection stations have other work to do, and there are few occasions when any of the 10 business firms can assign all of their mechanics to inspection work," Marion reminded.

This further emphasizes the importance of getting vehicles inspected early, he said.

Specialist Nominated

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the files of THE SCURRY COUNTY TIMES for March 27, 1930.)

With the city election just around the corner, there is but one contest for office thus far announced. The city marshal's office has two candidates in Walter Camp, the first to announce for the office, and J. A. Woodfin, present incumbent. Mayor H. G. Towle and City Secretary A. C. Pruitt have no opposition; neither have Alderman Ralph Hicks, Lee T. Stinson and J. S. Bradbury.

The car of Hershey planting seed arrived Thursday, but too late to give notice of it in last week's issue of the Scurry County Times, but notwithstanding this fact people in all parts of Scurry County soon learned of the arrival of the car. Notices were mailed to those living in other counties who had booked their orders and the seed is being rapidly distributed to the farmers of West Texas.

Fluvanna was the high point school in Class B division in the county Interscholastic League meet with a total of 302½ points. Dunn was second with 260, Hermleigh third with 237 points. Competition was strong between these three schools and until the points were counted up it was difficult to tell just who was in the lead. Fluvanna had an entry in every event listed in the interscholastic bulletin and according to director general E. H. McCarter many of the schools had many entries but no other had as many as Fluvanna at the meet.

Rabbit drives are becoming popular in Scurry County. Citizens of the Gannaway community, east of Hermleigh, started in at Ed Joyce's place yesterday morning and went through to J. A. Hood's ranch. Nearly a hundred were said to have been in the drive with plenty of food ready for the helpers. Other drives have been held, with prospects of many more soon.

The newest oil news of general interest this week is the reopening of drilling operations at the Byrd-Harmon No. 1 Murphy on the "Cub" Murphy farm near Ira. Walter Lechner who sold his interest in the well to his former two partners in the enterprise.

Drilling operations were stopped at 1,732 feet four months ago, and the drill again hit the dirt Monday morning. The well is 300 feet from the north line and 300 feet from the east line in N.E. quarter of section 114.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED
As Candidate For SCHOOL BOARD TRUSTEE

(MRS. E. A. (Frances) BROOKS
Dear Mr., Mrs., or Miss Voter:
We believe that a woman will be a definite asset on the board of trustees of the Snyder Independent School system.
Believing that many other Snyder citizens—men and women—share this opinion, we approached Mrs. E. A. Brooks more than a month ago asking permission to petition her for candidacy of one of the two vacant places on the school board.
Her exact words, we quote. "I definitely agree that any well-rounded school board should include one, or even more than one woman. A woman could be of use in many ways to the board. Only one of numerous examples would be that patrons who are women could more easily pass on criticisms, ideas, and constructive opinions to a woman trustee. Women patrons, after all, are by nature closer and more intimate with school problems of their children because they have more leisure to observe them. But you must look around more and be sure you have the strongest candidate for the job."
We went out and polled 125 voters (old, young, newcomers, natives, whoever) and Mrs. Brooks still, unquestionably, is the key woman whose name was mentioned time and time again as the woman most able to meet the situation.
HERE'S WHY:
A.—IS SHE "EDUCATION-MINDED?"
1. Graduate of Texas State College for Women, Denton, Texas. Post graduate work at George Washington University, Washington, D. C.
2. Active officer in the American Association of University Women, whose purpose is to better EDUCATION and raise cultural level of the community.
3. TEACHER in a large city school system and also in small rural school.
4. Extremely well informed and widely read, according to any and all acquaintances.
B.—HAS SHE ANY EXPERIENCE IN COMMUNITY WORK?
1. She was one of the hardest workers for a public LIBRARY here in two recent drives.
2. She was elected a DIRECTOR of the Scurry County United Fund and served this year, its first and very successful year.
3. She worked hard on the rodeo queen's race in 1954, proceeds of which went to a FEDERATED WOMEN'S CLUB-HOUSE.
4. She teaches a large, adult SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS at the First Methodist Church.
5. She is a polished public speaker, in demand as an able radio speaker on most any civic occasion.
C. IS SHE SINCERELY INTERESTED IN OUR SCHOOL PROBLEMS?
1. She has four children, three boys and one girl, who will go through high school here, two of them already in elementary school.
2. She was reared in Fluvanna on a FARM, seems to speak the language of the people here.
3. As her husband's business is in the oil fields (Brooks Well Service) she knows, loves and is closely associated with the people in the oil industry, people whose children have been transferred here, whose problems are often special.
4. She delights us because she has escaped being "in a rut" or provincial—she has traveled widely, resided in the East eight years, and has a broad view which we really need in our growing school system.
We hope that you will vote for your choice of an able and progressive man among the candidates to fill one vacancy, and that you will cast your other vote for Mrs Brooks.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR INTEREST

Awards Presented At Jaycee Banquet

Introduction of Dr. Robert H. Hargrove as Snyder's "Outstanding Young Man" of 1954 highlighted the annual banquet of the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce in the East Elementary School cafeteria Friday night.

The annual award was presented by Malven K. Stevenson, mayor of Snyder, a previous winner of the award.

In making the presentation Stevenson said that Dr. Hargrove was the unanimous choice of the selection committee, rating high in all categories considered in the deliberations.

He cited Dr. Hargrove's service on the city council, various chamber of commerce committees, and his church work, which included a leading role in organization of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church last August. Dr. Hargrove also is a past president of the Snyder Jaycees.

A native of Rotan he is a graduate of Texas Tech and Baylor Dental School. He has been a practicing dentist in Snyder since 1950.

Dr. Hargrove is married, and he and Mrs. Hargrove have three children, Dianne, 6, Kent, 3, and Mark, 3 months old. They live at 3718 Avondale Ave.

New officers and directors were installed by Goodwin Simpson of Colorado City, vice president-elect of Region 5 of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Steve Birdwell was installed as new president of the Snyder organization, succeding Eddie Miller.

Other new officers are Zane Gilbert, first vice president; Charles Blakey, secretary, and Joe Farrar, treasurer.

In addition to Miller, retiring officers are Johnny Greenfield, second vice president; Bill Ballard, secretary, and Bob Wilson, treasurer. Birdwell served as first vice president on the outgoing slate of officers.

New directors installed Friday night were Bob Dawson, Ralph Hughes and Gene Thompson.

Miller presented awards to four committee chairman for work their respective committes preformed during the past year. These went to Ernest Sears, chairman of the cleanup committee; James McClure, chairman of the Jaycee committee to "Keep Chirst In Christmas;" Fred Auforth, who headed the Jaycee commitee which conducted a special polio fund drive here last summer; and Dan Warren, chairman of the membership committee.

Warren served as master of ceremonies.

Guest speaker for the event was A. C. Akins of Odessa.

New Bandage Used Easily

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J., March 26 (AP)—You can even bandage a slippery rubber balloon with a revolutionary new gauze bandage.

This gauze clings to itself, won't slip or slide, even when a novice uses it, and fits any contour. Once in place, it's flexible—expanding and contracting as a swollen ankle, for example, swells or subsides. It lets you move a bandaged knee, and is never too tight, but still gives some support.

And if you clumsily drop the roll of gauze, it won't go skittering across the room unwinding itself.

This bandage is ordinary gauze treated with caustic soda to make it shrink and become kinky with little twisted fibers that grab and hold each other as the gauze is wrapped around an injury.

And you hold the patent on this bandage, for it was developed by Charles F. Goldthwait and Dr. C. H Fisher of the Southern Regional Research Laboratory, U. S. Department of Agriculture, New Orleans. The patent was assigned to The People of the United States.

The difficult task of perfecting a mass production method for making the bandage was solved by Johnson & Johnson, suppliers for surgical dressings at government request.

Dr. William H. Lycan, vice-president and research director, predicts the bandage will replace roll gauze in all its applications, and some uses of rubberized bandages.

The bandage should be available to the general public sometime this summer. It saw some service in Korea, as a nonsterile outer dressing on burns. It's now being produced in sterlile form.

Baylor Memorial To Honor Mishap Victim

WACO, March 26 (AP)—A reading room in memory of William Winchester, one of Baylor's "Immortal Ten" who were killed in a bus accident, is being established in the Baylor library.

The 10 were members of the basketball team. The accident occurred in 1927 in a bus-train collision at Round Rock.

Dr. W. R. White, Baylor president, said funds for equipping a newspaper reading room in the library have been contributed by Winchester's mother, Mrs. R. S. Winchester, and his twin brother, Robert Glenn Winchester, both of Yoakum.

Some Foods Are Higher Than Before

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP) — The House Agriculture Committee said today that housewives paid the highest prices on record for some foods in 1954 despite sharply lower returns to farmers.

The committee said that in 1954 prices on the farm were 7 per cent lower than in the 1947-49 period while grocery store prices were 13 per cent higher. A big factor in retail prices are the costs of fancier packaging and processing, it asserted.

The figures were presented in a study of food market prices and costs. It is a continuation of a study started by the committee last year.

The committee's chairman, Rep. Cooley (D-NC), is the author of a bill to abandon the administration's variable price support program and restore rigid high supports on basic farm commodities.

The committee report said the farm price of food grains went down 9 per cent in the five-year period although, it added, cereals and bakery products rose 22 per cent, for the highest levels on record.

It added that the price received by farmers for dairy products declined 8 per cent, while retail prices were 6 per cent higher.

Fruit and vegetable producers received 4 per cent less while consumers paid 12 per cent more for their crops.

Cooley said the study supported contentions of House farm leaders that the administration's flexible farm price support program, "while reducing the farmers' income, will have no important effects on the retail price of food at the grocery counters."

"Lower price supports will hurt the farmers and will not help the consumer," he declared.

In breaking down the consumer's food dollar, the report says:

"Out of each dollar spent by the American housewife for domestically produced food, 57 cents now goes for processing, marketing, and transportation charges. The farmer receives 43 cents. Of this 43 cents, approximately 30 cents goes to purchase tractors, trucks, plows, gasoline, fertilizer and other supplies required by modern farming.

"Thus, the farmer and his family have about 13 cents out of each consumer dollar spent for domestically produced food for their work and their investment."

The report said that data on profits by food processing firms for 1954 was not yet available, but that six-months figures indicated "somewhat larger profits than in the same period a year earlier."

Strong Rise In Stock Market

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—The stock market pushed its recovery drive ahead strongly this week to within the shadow of a record high.

The rise was the strongest weekly advance of the year.

Much less notice was paid the recovery than to the severe decline that preceded it. Just three weeks ago the market touched a peak, then tumbled in a severe reaction.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week went up $4.10. It closed at $160.20. At that level the average had retraced 78 per cent of the previous heavy losses. It now stands only $2.40 away from the record peak hit March 4.

Brokers recalled the market broke wide open when the Senate Banking Committee in Washington started its friendly study of market movements. They also pointed out the market was going up strongly when the study ran through its three-week agenda of witnesses and closed down.

But these brokers also noted other factors might have caused stocks to suffer the shakeout if there had been no market study at all. Principally, they said, the market was ready for a reaction and took the first excuse it could to tumble.

The five most active issues on the New York Stock Exchange were General Dynamics up 9¾ at Lima-Hamilton up 2 at 17¼, Chrysler up 4⅞ at 72⅛, Anaconda Copper up 4⅜ at 58 and American Bosch up 1⅛ at 19¼.

The United States has about 750,000 people in mental hospitals.
