Bean-Picking Supervisor

Jim Bob Phillips, 10-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Phillips, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Choate, seems to be supervisor of the "bean picking" party at his grandpop's house last night. The 150 pounds of beans, which surround young Jim Bob, will be an item on Friday's barbecue dinner at the Old Timers Picnic at City Park. (Photo by Keith McMillin.)

House Members Get 'Going Home' Fever

Hopes Rise For Passage Of Tax Bill

AUSTIN (AP)— "Going home" fever spread in the House today as members weighed the possibility of approving Senate changes to an 185 million dollar general tax bill.

A decision on the key issue that has drawn out the 56th Legislature for 194 days may come today.

The Senate approved the bill 29-2 Wednesday night. The House can accept Senate changes or ask for a compromise committee.

"This bill comes close to what I would vote for," said Rep. Roger Daily, Houston. "I understand the speaker wants to take it."

"I've talked to half a dozen members and it looks like they might accept it," said Rep. Joe Burkett, Kerrville, generally acknowledged leader of conservatives in the House.

Several other members predicted the House would agree with Senate amendments but not until Friday or Monday when they have had a chance to study the changes closer.

Actually the Senate-passed bill closely resembled the measure approved 102-38 by the House last week. The Senate added about 17 million dollars and made several technical changes. Attempts to change the bill radically were soundly defeated.

Most distinctive feature of the measure returned to the House today is a 1½ per cent tax on the first purchaser of natural gas—a severance beneficiary or pipeline tax.

It is the first time the Senate has approved the severance beneficiary tax theory. Previously senators favored increases in the present 7 per cent production tax. House members put a severance beneficiary tax in two unsuccessful tax bills but turned it down two other times.

Senators took particular care to specify the new natural gas would not fall back on producers if it should be declared unconstitutional.

In the midst of Wednesday's debate it was announced Senators were debating only a 180 million dollar tax bill instead of the 187 million dollar vehicle approved by a committee. The crisis — caused by a simple mistake in addition—was met partially by adding a 3 per cent tax on all jewelry and furs retailing at more than $25. The new tax was approved by the House but ignored by the Senate committee.

Other major Senate-House bill differences:

The Senate jumped the cigarette tax three cents a pack, compared to the two cents approved by the House.

The Senate added a 3 per cent tax on motel and hotel rooms that the House had voted down.

Dallas Schools To Obey Court On Integration

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Edwin L. Rippy, president of the Dallas school board, testified in federal court here today that the board plans to follow all proper court directives in integrating Dallas schools.

He said that the board finds itself bound by both federal and state laws. But he pointed out several conflicts in complying with the laws. He said the board has been seeking some legal remedy for these conflicts for a year and a half.

The bandbox sized court room was packed with about 100 spectators. Several hundred others stood in the hallway outside the courtroom.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson before getting the case under way discussed with attorneys and spectators for several minutes his Southern background.

He said his ancestors were Confederate soldiers and that he was reared in the tradition of the Old South, but he declared he possesses no prejudices on either side.

"My first nourishment came from the breast of a Negro woman—a wet nurse," he said.

He added, "there is no animosity, no hatred of any kind in my heart."

READING OF MINUTES

The first part of the hearing, requested by attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, was taken up by the reading of details of school board minutes in which the school board ordered continued segregation while it continued its study of the problem.

Dallas school leaders have gone to court 10 times previously on the issue.

On the eve of the hearing, the NAACP said the school board has delayed long enough.

And Clarence Laws, association field representative, declared the board should integrate without seeking to untangle the legal cases.

The board pointed earlier to a 1957 state anti-integration law as one reason it cannot desegregate now.

The law withdraws all state aid from districts which integrate without a favorable vote of citizens.

Should Dallas integrate without such a ballot, it would lose $2,500,000 a year in state aid.

Balloting can be held only if 20 per cent of voters petition for an election. Obtaining the necessary petition signatures in a city of about 650,000 persons obviously would be difficult.

DANGER OF VIOLENCE

In a brief answering the NAACP plea, the school board also said delay will lessen the danger of violence, such as that occurring at Little Rock.

"The general tensions of the citizens on both sides of the segregation problem have been and are lessening and mellowing, and the likelihood of strife is becoming less by the day," the brief declared.

The board has sought court advice on whether to follow federal rulings to integrate with all deliberate speed or to follow the state law and avoid the severe penalty of loss of stat eaid.

Both federal and state courts have disclaimed jurisdiction. The question is on appeal to a state appellate court, which will hear the case Sept. 30.

The board's brief also pleaded that the school system is unable physically to integrate this fall and that the board needs more time to study integration plans of other school systems.

The Dallas School District contains more than 100,000 students, of whom about one-fifth are Negro.

Many Texas schools already are integrated, but few have desegregated since the 1957 state law imposing penalties for those which integrate without a ballot.

Thurgood Marshall, general counsel for the NAACP, who arrived by plane from New York Wednesday, said "There's no reason why Dallas can't peacefully solve the problem of school desegregation."

Marshall, who will take part in today's hearing, said "I can't talk on the pending law suit here. But generally, I believe I can say the school desegregation picture is improving.

"I think it is unquestionably getting better each year. We are moving progressively forward.

"The point is not whether integration is moving fast or slow, but that at each point there is progress."

COLORFUL CAREER

Pioneer Ranchman, A. L. Wasson, Dead

Arthur Lee Wasson, whose life story was like a chapter out of the wild west and whose philanthrophies approached two million dollars, died here early today.

Mr. Wasson, who ranched in numerous states and once held a spread in Mexico, died at 7:40 a.m. in a hospital. A week ago he had suffered a heart attack during the night and early the next morning drove himself to the hospital.

This was typical of the rugged character Mr. Wasson displayed in a career that included fights with Indians, outlaws, droughts, crooks, and financial disaster. He believed that nobody could profit unless he took a chance—and he was never afraid to take a chance. Frequently he made great sums, and sometimes he saw these fortunes melt away into debt.

The city of Lamesa owes its name to a suggestion made by Mr. Wasson.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church where he had held continuous membership since 1911. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. His pastor, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, will officiate at the rites.

Surviving Mr. Wasson are his wife, Mrs. Mattie Wasson, a former sister-in-law to whom he was married Sept. 2 ,1951, a year after the death of his first wife, Mrs. Mattie Pallmeyer Wasson, the mother of his surviving children, Cecil L. Wasson, Big Spring, and Mrs. Albert (Velma) S. Barnett, Dallas. He also leaves two grandchildren, Bob Wasson, Shady Point, Okla., and Mrs. Elizabeth Olufsen, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; and six great-grandchildren. He has a brother, Ira E. Wasson, Big Spring.

Pallbearers were to be Lee Hanson, Charles Creighton, Marvin Sewell, Cecil Leatherwood, Thurman Gentry, Rupert Ricker, Rube Martin of Big Spring, and Ray Jackson, Fort Stockton.

BORN IN BRAZIL

Arthur Lee Wasson was born in a settlement on the Iguape River in Brazil on Oct. 21, 1869, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Lee Wasson, and the grandson of Wylie B. Wasson, who settled in Grimes County in 1937 under the Republic of Texas. His father had joined the Dyer McCullen colony in settling in Brazil after the Civil War. His father and mother were married in Brazil. In 1870, about three years after the settlement was started, they returned to the United States and to Hill County, Texas.

When only 9 years of age, A. L. Wasson rode up from Bosque County, where he had been working on a ranch, to make a hand for his father, who had established the Circle Diamond ranch on the Clear Fork of the Brazos in Stephens County. The drought of 1885 led his father to move the cattle to Arizona, and the 800 head herd which started its journey at Toyah were the first cattle ever to go westward out of Texas by rail.

ARTHUR LEE WASSON

The experience in Arizona was rugged, for Apaches were still giving trouble. So were rustlers. Even an earthquake added to the problems. When his father returned to Texas, A. L. Wasson, then only 17, was left in charge of the ranch. Later he sold out the ranch according to his father's instructions, and after a short time with the Ciricahua Cattle Co., he returned to Texas.

His father had been a school teacher and convinced Arthur of the value of education, so this already seasoned young rancher entered Baylor University at Waco in 1889.

MADE THE GRADE

"I was like a giraffe in a sheep herd," he said of his experiences with much younger students. However, he had understanding instructors who encouraged and promoted him as rapidly as he progressed. Although he only stayed in school about a year, he had an average of 94, pulled down by a slightly lower grade in Latin.

But the open range had been inculcated in his fibre. This was not before an experience which changed his life, for he was converted in a student prayer meeting and became a staunch Baptist. Later this was to blossom into extensive philanthropies for Baptist causes and into the publishing of more than three million tracts on regeneration written by his pastor, Dr. P. D. O'Brien.

He was married to Mattie Pallmeyer on Feb. 1, 1891 and together they shared numerous successes and failures, always coming back. She died on Aug. 27, 1950. Her daughter, the former Velma Wasson, has memorialized her in gifts to the First Baptist Church.

For a time Mr. and Mrs. Wasson farmed in Hill County, but they were not cut out to be farmers. On their way to get a ranch in Arizona, they stopped to visit his parents in Borden County. A. L. Wasson lost his purse containing all his money plus a $500 note owed him. He went on to Arizona alone and got a job, working later for several major spreads. Ultimately, out of money which Mrs. Wasson saved from his salary for catching, breaking and selling wild horses, he gained a small stake to start in ranching on his own. It was during this period that an Indian knocked their son, Cecil, leaving him unconscious and assumed dead. Mrs. Wasson was tied up by the savage and beaten.

NAMED LAMESA

They moved back to Texas in 1899, stopping in Borden County. In 1902 they built the first of several homes they were to construct developed a ranch 10 miles northwest of Lamesa. It was Mr. Was-

35TH ANNUAL PARTY

Old-Timers Plan Annual Barbecue

Old timers from Glasscock and Howard Counties and former residents of these counties who have moved elsewhere will convene by the hundreds in City Park Friday.

The occasion is the 35th annual reunion of the Howard-Glasscock County Old Timers Assn. A mammoth barbecue dinner with all the trimmings is the big feature — the meal to be served at noon.

All persons in the two counties who have lived in the area for 20 years or longer are expected to be on hand to join in the festivities, Harold Choate, president of the association, said.

PUBLIC GENEROUS

He stated contributions to the fund for the party this year have been exceedingly generous. "I think we had the best response we have ever had," he said. He added that the association is grateful to all who had a part in helping the big party to be a success.

He and members of the committee assigned to preparing the food sliced up 2,300 pounds of choice beef and goat Wednesday preparatory to cooking it tonight. Fires under the barbecue pits will be lighted this afternoon and the meat will be placed on the grills at 11 p.m. An all-night vigil to supervise the proper cooking will follow. "The meat is the best we have ever had," said Choate.

The 150 pounds of beans, the traditional dish of the old chuckwagon days) will also be bubbling away throughout the night. A group of volunteers met last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Choate and "picked" the beans.

Pickles, potato chips, onions, ice tea and coffee will make up the remainder of the noonday menu.

Dinner will be at noon sharp, Choate said. The older folk will be seated under the pavilion, he explained, and will be served their dinner: others will get their food by going through the line cafeteria style.

STARTS AT 9 A.M.

Registration starts at 9 a.m. Friday. Mrs. Morgan Martin is in charge. She will be assisted by Troy Marchbanks, Joyce Phillips, Dorothy Petty, Gladys Choate and others. All persons who attend the picnic are required to register. The picnic, it is stressed, is intended for all persons who have been residents of either of the two counties for 20 years or longer.

Old timers generally arrive early and spend the hours before lunch — and after lunch, for that matter — visiting with friends.

The Mead Bakeries will supply a sound truck for the party and Dub Bryant will be the master of ceremonies.

Feature of the afternoon will be the annual old fiddlers contest. Bill Thomas is arranging this event. Prizes of $25, $20 and $15 will go to the three top fiddlers. No information on the number of competitors is available.

The closing event of the celebration will be a big dance — open to the general public — at the Stampede dance hall on the Snyder highway. Hoyle Nix and his band will furnish the music.

The dance starts at 9 p.m.

Contributors from Glasscock County and Coahoma have not been announced. Here in Big Spring, Choate said, generous gifts have been received. "We do not know how much we have been given," he said, "until all reports are in. Nor will we know how well we have come out on the expenses until all the bills have been received. I know one thing — this year the party is going to cost more than it did last year. Prices on what we had to buy are higher

New Sanitarian

William F. Jackson is the new junior sanitarian at the City-County Health Unit, replacing Tom Hardie who has taken a sanitarian's post at Kountze, Texas. Lige Fox, senior sanitarian here, is showing the newcomer the ropes. Jackson is a native of Pennsylvania and came to Texas as a member of the Armed Forces. He married the former Jo Neil Young of Sulphur Springs and they have a 10-months-old son. He is a graduate of East Texas State College where he majored in Social Science. He began work Monday.

REPORTERS GET SCOOP

Legislators Boiling Over Publication Of Figures

By JON FORD

AUSTIN (AP) — High-placed state lawmakers are boiling over Associated Press dispatches this week disclosing in vast detail a House-Senate conference committee's carefully guarded $2.4 billion budget figures.

The Associated Press stories, apparently regarded by editors outside Austin as "dull reading," were of tremendous interest to legislators, most of whom were in the dark themselves as to how their 10 conferees proposed to divide up state money.

Irate conferees, determined to find how their top-secret document fell into Associated Press hands, went so far as to call in Department of Public Safety sleuths. DPS men, according to House Appropriations Committee Chairman Bill Heatly, found the door to the room where the budget bills were stacked had been jimmied. A louvered panel appeared to have been removed and replaced after other attempts to enter the room via transom and lock-sliding failed. One conferee estimated a total of seven budget bills out of 250 stored in the room for nearly 10 days were missing.

The Associated Press, emphasizes Capitol Bureau Chief Dave Cheavens, obtained its copy of the bill legally.

Many legislators and newsmen, who do not share the conferees' dedication to guarding plans for spending the taxpayers' money as though they were blueprints for nuclear attack, found the figure publication highly amusing as well as informative. Few of course, endorsed the jimmying of doors.

To understand the full significance of the incident requires an understanding of the strange folkways and stratagems of legislative conference committees—particularly those working on the state budget.

Such committees are named to resolve differences between House and Senate appropriations bills. In fact, they write the bills from the ground up in nearly all controversial areas. They do so behind closed doors, generally are sworn to tell news reporters nothing, and of late often will not even discuss their conclusions with fellow legislators who are not privileged to serve on the committee.

This year, the budgetmakers' job—never easy—was unusually tough. They had only the vaguest of notions what kind of a tax bill was going to be passed. There was a difference of nearly $30 million in the House (the higher) and Senate bills. No matter what they agreed on, the final bill could not be finally cleared by the state comptroller until balancing revenue was provided.

They didn't even get started to work in the regular session, brought in no report in the first called parley when the tax bill bogged down again. As the second called session neared a windup a couple of weeks ago, they came to tentative terms, drew up the bill and stored it in House Committee Room 7, awaiting final action on the tax bill. If the bill came out higher than expected, they would re-draft some pages hastily and insert them.

At any rate, they obviously planned to keep members guessing until the last minute of the session, then spring the bill and push hard for its adoption virtually sight unseen "to avoid another session." This time-tested device keeps lawmakers disgruntled over reductions in pet projects and services from organizing opposition in advance. Sometimes, prehaps, it is the only way to pass an appropriations bill.

Conferees had to be renamed after the present called session began July 17, but most of their work in special session No. 2 is expected to stand unless the tax bill is ballooned ahead of all estimates.

Twenty-seven-year-old Associated Press Reporter Frank N. Manitzas blew up the conferees' best-laid strategy schemes with his stories of the budget calculations (the accuracy of which went unchallenged).

He declines to say where he got his information. Concerning the reports of a jimmied door to the bill storage room, he says:

"I don't know what they're talking about."

Adds Manitzas:

"That report (of the conference committee) should be public knowledge. People have a right to know how legislators are going to spend their money, and finding out is my job. That's what prompted me to keep asking people if they knew anything about the report. We first printed total figures (on the conferees agreement) 11 days ago. They came to the attention of some people who gave me another boost."

The detailed rundown on the bill most likely came from "some people" who are members of the House of Representatives, and who have publicly expressed great indignation at not being kept in the know by the conferees. The mystery of the jimmied door and what to do about it remains for the investigators to solve.

What to do about the high-handed attitude of conference committees of the Texas Legislature is something else again. Perhaps it is that extreme positions provoke and deserve extreme protests.

For All The World To Hear

Here's a birdseye view of that celebrated Moscow television session as Vice President Nixon and Russia's Nikita Khrushchev traded gestures and repartee. Newsmen literally hung on the backs of interpreters to record the extraordinary verbal exchange. Identifiable with the principals, all visible in picture at lower right, were, from left, Soviet Kliment Voroshilov, in light suit with hat.

Court Ruling May Force U.S. Reds To Register As 'Agents'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals, in a 2-1 opinion, today upheld a finding by the Subversive Activities Control Board that the U.S. Communist party is dominated by Moscow.

This means that the party, unless today's ruling is reversed, must register with the attorney general as an agency of a foreign power and must file reports of its finances and the names of its members.

The court decision marks another step in a nine-year battle by the government to require the Communist party to register under the 1950 Internal Security Act.

Two previous rulings by the board calling for party registration were returned by the courts for further proceedings.

Today's opinion was written by Chief Judge E. Barrett Prettyman. Judge John A. Danaher concurred. Judge David L. Bazelon would have remanded the case to the SACB for further proceedings.

In his opinion, Judge Prettyman said in part that "the facts beyond dispute are that there is a Communist party in Europe, based upon Marxism-Leninism, and in power in Soviet Russia; that our present petitioner (Communist party, U.S.A.) was for years a member of the Communist International, and its separation from that organization was not accompanied by a repudiation, either of objectives or of methods....and that, save for that period of waywardness, it has never differed from the program and policy of the Communist party abroad and has always adhered to that program and policy even in sharp chances..."

Steel Talks Continue

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediators continued efforts today to break the steel strike deadlock. They also kept an eye on the aluminum industry where scattered strike threats remain.

Contract extensions have been agreed upon in the bulk of the aluminum industry, but contracts expire Friday midnight in some segments where no extension has been made.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, flew from New York to Washington Wednesday to confere with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. The secretary is serving as President Eisenhower's fact-finder in the 16-day-old strike which has shut down almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production.

Federal mediators met with leaders of the United Steelworkers of America Wednesday and scheduled a session with industry leaders today.

Neither side gave any evidence of making a concession.

The industry continued its resistance to any labor cost increase, on the ground that it would spur inflation.

Rocket Defense Against Strafing

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP) — A rocket designed to give a foot soldier some defense against a strafing plane is being developed, according to the Army's weapons research staff.

Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau told about the rocket at a news conference at the Army Proving Ground Wednesday.

The "Red Eye" uses the same principle as the "Sidewinder," an air-to-air missile which is attracted to the heat of an engine.

The ground-to-air weapon is fired by hand from a bazooka-like launcher and is effective up to one mile, Gen. Trudeau said.

Freighters Scrape

NEW YORK (AP) — Two inbound freighters, forced to halt outside the harbor when it was shut down because of the Queen Elizabeth-American Hunter crash Wednesday, scraped sides in fog near the scene of the luxury liner-freighter collision.

Tech Grads To Hear Matthews

LUBBOCK—Dr. J. C. Matthews, president of North Texas State College and the Texas Council of College Presidents, will deliver the main address at Texas Tech's summer commencement Aug. 22.

Approximately 400 students are expected to receive degrees at the 7:15 p.m. ceremonies.

The commencement, climaxing Tech's 34th summer session, will be the last official function for Dr. E. N. Jones, who has resigned as the institution's president, effective Aug. 31, for reasons of health. Dr. Matthews also is president of the Assn. of Texas Colleges, an organization for all such institutions, and is one of nine regents for Texas Education's Hall of Remembrance.

2 Youths Cleared

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Houston youths were cleared Wednesday by a Harris County grand jury in the death June 10 of Donald Ray Presley, 9.

The two were Roy Alfred Robinson and David Jolivet Jr., both 18.

Presley died five days after being involved in a fight with five teen-age Negroes on a baseball field.

Russians Mostly Like Touring Nixon

By FRANCES LEWINE

SVERDLOVSK, Soviet Union (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been exchanging "mir drujbas" with Soviet citizens for eight days now, and Americans and Russians have learned new things about each other.

"Mir drujba" means "peace and friendship." It is one of the few Russian phrases Nixon learned before he left and uses whenever he talks here. It seems to delight the Soviets.

Everyone with the Nixon party, including the large corps of American newspaper representatives, considers himself a goodwill ambassador or at least bound to answer questions.

Lack of time and interpreters often makes it hard to chat with men, women and children who come up in the crowds. But it is getting done.

"Why don't more Americans come here? Send more American workers. We'll put them up," said a smiling worker in overalls at a hydroelectric plant in Novosibirsk, in the heart of Siberia.

But Novosibirsk is a city closed to foreigners most of the time.

The Russians who come to see Nixon are quick to respond to humorous situations.

At Sverdlovsk airport the vice president chatted with people standing near the fence. Learning that one pretty 16-year-old dark haired girl could speak English, he suggested with a smile that she "practice on me." The girl blushed shyly.

"I don't know Russian, but I say it," Nixon coaxed, trying out a Russian phrase. People around were smiling as a translator filled them in.

Nixon saw the girl was getting very embarrassed, and he moved off with a good-by and a wave. As he turned his back, the girl called "good-by" in perfect English. Russians and Americans around burst into laughter.

Sherman Man Is Top Pharmacist

FORT WORTH (AP)—Howard Anthony Hestand, 56, of Sherman, who recalls leaving the farm to enjoy electric fans and ice water in town, is Texas Pharmacist of the Year.

The Texas Pharmaceutical Assn. conferred the honor on Hestand Wednesday night.

The association elected Floyd Brooks of Denton president. Named to serve with him were R. L. Brusenham of San Antonio, first vice president, and Jesse M. West of Plainview, second vice president.

Padre Island Site Under U.S. Eyes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 60,000-acre site on Padre Island, off the Texas coast, is one of the 10 ocean and lakeside areas Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont) proposed Wednesday for acquisition by the federal government.

The bill, in which Murray said 16 other senators are joining as co-sponsors, would authorize appropriation of 50 million dollars toward purchase of the beach areas.

Name To Be Chosen

Cantaloupes, Anyone?

Motorists and others passing by a wreck on one of Lubbock's main thoroughfares had themselves a field day when a truck involved in the crash overturned, spilling 14,500 pounds of cantaloupes. The crash and resulting "salvage" operation by passers-by tied traffic in knot for more than an hour.

When Congress Will Quit Is Topic For Talk In Capital

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON—A popular subject for idle chatter on Capitol Hill these days is speculation as to when Congress will adjourn.

No one knows. Uncertainty stems largely from the fact there is no limitation on debate in the Senate. But in the House—with 436 members—restrictions prevail. If there weren't the House would likely get nothing done.

A number of adjournment time pools timed down to the minute, are in operation on the Hill. Dates range from late August to mid-September, with many picking the first weekend in September, just before Labor Day.

Virtually all congressional offices remain open the year 'round, but many of the hired help, like their bosses, return to the various districts and have practical problems posed by the uncertainty of adjournment. The question whether to register children in school here or back home is one.

Senate and House page boys have their problems too. The Capitol Page school, a fully accredited high school maintained in the Congressional Library, starts in early September. It's all right for the boys who live here with parents, but fully half are from throughout the country and many of them haven't been home since Easter or Christmas.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, commenting on the situation, said:

"Everyone seems to be making a guess about adjournment. I feel that much would have been accomplished had we adjourned by July 15. This was not possible because of the controversy surrounding the 'labor reform bill.' . . . Added to this is the time that will be required if a civil rights bill is debated. This could hold the Congress in session until Sept. 15."

Rep. Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls:

"It is hoped that adjournment will come not later than Aug. 15; however, it is entirely possible that Congress might be held over until Labor Day."

Around the Capital:

Six Central Texas high school students are finishing an educational sojourn here in Washington.

Arriving early in June on an expense paid study project, they have spent the summer working part time for Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Reps. Homer Thornberry of Austin and Jack Brooks of Beaumont, and the rest of the time on conducted tours of principal federal departments and agencies.

Chaperoned by Mrs. C. H. Wallace of Gatesville, they have resided at the Carol Arms Hotel just across the street from the two Senate office buildings. Rural Electric cooperatives sponsored contests which the youngsters won to make the trip.

The six, and the co-ops which sponsored them: Linda Sue Sanders of Luling and Donnie Chesser of Lockhart—Lower Colorado Rural Electric Co-op; Jane Morton, Austin, and Jimmy Furber, Johnson City—Pedernales Electric Co-op; Edith Duff, Livingston, and Richard D. McClain, Cleveland—Sam Houston Electric Co-op.

Athens' police chief Frank Baker, with his wife and son and a neighbor lad, have been here viewing the sights. They were shown around the Capitol by Bill Yelvington, aide to Rep. John Dowdy (D-Tex). The chief's wife is the former Charlsie Quinn. The son is Carlos, and the lucky neighbor boy with the Bakers is Raymond Hable.

CLOSING EVENT

4th Annual 'Olympic' For Y Summer Program

The fourth annual Olympic Night will close out the summer recreational program Friday evening.

Scores of youngsters from the various fun clubs (for elementary age children) will take part in a series of contests under the lights at the old football stadium, 10th and State.

Time of the event is 8 p.m.

There will be first, second and third place ribbons in each event, as well as to the entire club with the most points. In addition, there will be recognition for the boy or girl chosen as the outstanding fun clubber.

Events to be run include boys and girls 50-yard dash, boys and girls 75-yard dash, boys and girls piggy back race, boys and girls three-legged race, boys and girls back to back race, boys and girls tow sack race; girls volleyball serve, girls baseball throw; boys and girls archery, boys horseshoe (singles and doubles matches), boys washers (singles and doubles).

There are 12 different fun clubs operating at six locations in the city for boys and girls 6 to 13 years of age. This year the clubs have been well attended. In addition, supervisors have sought to evaluate the child's progress as an aid to parents.

The fun clubs are part of the joint program provided through Fund, the Big Spring schools, the City of Big Spring and the YMCA.

Texas Skies Mostly Clear

By The Associated Press

Skies were mostly clear over Texas Thursday but the Weather Bureau said scattered showers could be expected to dot the state later in the day.

There was some cloudiness in the Austin, San Antonio and Dallas areas and the Weather Bureau said there would be increasing low cloudiness along the Gulf.

Tyler received .46 inch of rain Wednesday night, the largest amount reported in the state during the day. Earlier showers brought lighter amounts at Beaumont, Lufkin, Houston, Alpine and other points.

Maximum temperatures Wednesday afternoon ranged from 102 degrees at Presidio to 87 at Houston and Galveston.

Thunder roared and lightning flashed in the distance in West Texas early Thursday as New Mexico caught thundershowers.

Temperatures at dawn Thursday ranged from 63 at Guadalupe Pass to 79 at Galveston and the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

Amarillo and Lubbock had 69, Wichita Falls 76, Dallas 78, Fort Worth 78, Tyler 76, Texarkana 77, Waco 75, Abilene 72, Midland 71, El Paso 76, Laredo 77, Brownsville 75, Corpus Christi 76, Houston 78, Beaumont 76, Lufkin 75, College Station 74, Austin 73, San Antonio 73 and San Angelo 74.

Storm Damage

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Debra insured damages in Texas will amount to approximately 4 million dollars, the National Board of Fire Underwriters said Wednesday.

The board said there are approximately 18,000 property insurance losses in the Freeport, Galveston and Houston areas, which bore the brunt of the hurricane when it hit the Texas coast last weekend.

Terrorist, After 4 Years, Finds Hiding Housewife

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Four years ago a man slipped into a pretty housewife's kitchen and grabbed her as she stood ironing.

Patricia Faye Smith smashed her iron against his face. The man fled, screaming, his face branded.

Two weeks later she received a crudely written note. "I'll get you," it said. For Mrs. Smith it was the beginning of four years of torment.

Once the man appeared again at her home and tried to rape her — but fled when her children came home. Countless times her phone has rung. A man's voice would say: "I'll get you."

Three times the Smiths moved — from one Los Angeles suburb to another. They were beginning to feel secure in their home in Canoga Park.

Then, Wednesday the man returned. Mrs. Smith, 30, recognized him. A long, livid scar stretches from his left eye to his mouth, she said.

She said he forced her into the bathroom of the home, ripped off her blouse, and pulled a penknife. She said he told her: "Now you are going to know what it feels like to be ugly."

She said he slashed her on the ankle twice, then slashed at her shoulders, arms and thighs.

Her oldest son heard her screams and pounded on the locked door. Mrs. Smith said the man smashed her face with his clinched fist and warned: "I'll be back to finish the job."

Police put out an all-points bulletin for the scarred man, whose identity isn't known.

Police reports verified Mrs. Smith's story of years of torment. Officers have been seeking her assailant since the first attack.

Loan Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1,677,000 loan to the Tyler Electric Cooperative at Merkel Tex., was approved Wednesday by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Weather Has A Sticky Grip

By The Associated Press

A midsummer spell of muggy weather kept a sticky grip on most areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast today.

No immediate general relief from the hot and humid weather appeared.

Some relief in the form of thunderstorms came to sections from eastern Colorado into the northern Midwest.

The day's forecast for most areas in the swelter belt indicated a repeat performance of Wednesday's oppressive heat and humidity with temperatures in the 80s and 90s. The Weather Bureau's comfort index classified the weather as "acutely miserable."

The warm, moist air from the Gulf covering nearly all sections east of the Rockies during the night made for restless sleep. Lows in the mid-70s were reported as far north as the upper Great Lakes region and southern New England.

Train Crewman Dies In Collision

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — One freight train crewman was killed and another crewman injured Wednesday night when a Chicago and North Western Railway passenger train struck the rear of a freight train north of Waukegan. No passengers were injured.

The body of one man was removed early today from the wreckage of the freight train's caboose. He was identified as Donold Ehrlich, 28, a brakeman, of Lombard, Ill.

Another North Western employe, Ervin Pehlke, 45, Elmhurst, Ill., was hospitalized suffering a head injury and a possible arm injury.

Driver Ed Class Lectures Offered

Pre - school lectures in Driver Education will again be offered to eligible Junior High School students, Floyd Parsons, school superintendent has announced. These classes will begin Aug. 10 and continued through Aug. 28 for a total of 32 class hours.

Classes will meet at Goliad Junior High School. C. W. Tanner will be the instructor in charge. Classes will meet from 3 to 5 p.m. each day. If enrollment demands require it, another class will be scheduled from 5 to 7 p.m. Registrations will be on the first day of classes, Aug. 10, from 3 to 5 p.m. at Goliad Junior High School.

These courses are offered to meet the increasing demands by students for Driver Education. By completion of the required lecture courses prior to the beginning of the regular session, these students will be able to begin actual behind the wheel driving practice immediately upon the opening of the regular session, thereby getting full utilization of the Driver Education automobile.

There will be no charge for the lecture.

Clamp-Down On Juvenile Drinking Gets Results

A new campaign to crack down on drinking among minors is reaping results.

About a month ago, the Liquor Control Board, along with other law enforcement officers, decided to launch a drive to stop the sale of beer and liquors to minors.

This campaign was also to encompass the minors making the purchases.

In the past month, the Liquor Control Board has gotton 15 convictions in corporation and justice courts here against minors consuming beer. The fines for these persons ranged from $20 to $100.

During the same time, three businesses lost their beer licenses as a result of the sales, the Liquor Control Board announced.

The arrests were made by police officers, sheriff's deputies, in addition to the LCB officials, but the cases were filed by the state board.

Kernes Managing Foremost Dairy Operation Here

Floyd Kernes has been promoted to manager of the Foremost Dairies operations in Big Spring, according to an announcement by Lindsley Waters Jr., manager of Foremost's Southwest Division.

Kernes has been with Foremost since 1952 and has worked in the Dallas, Shreveport, Santa Fe, New Mexico and Abilene operations before his recent promotion. He is a native of Texas, and received his degree from Texas A&M College in 1951.

Kernes states that Foremost is looking forward to increasing its activities in Big Spring and in keeping pace with the growth of this area.

County Budget Being Prepared

Preliminary work has been made on the new county budget, and it is now ready to be reviewed by the county commissioners.

Lee Porter, the county auditor, worked up the first draft and he said that it must be viewed by the commissioners court before anything else can be done. The commissioners planned to take it up over a week ago, but other business prevented it.

The fiscal matters should be one of the items of business on Monday's agenda.

Film Available On Tax System

The Internal Revenue Service's documentary film, "Since the Beginning of Time," covering our Federal tax system has been made available for local organizations' use.

This is a 27-minute 16 mm. film. It is one of the few documentary films from the United States selected for showing before the International Film Festival in Edinburgh, Scotland next month. It has also been selected by TV stations as one of the 50 outstanding 1959 documentary productions. The film can be reserved by writing Jim Hodges, chief, administration division, Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

Master Planners Seeking More Water For New Area

The Big Spring master plan firm, Forest and Cotton, was asked Monday to investigate the possibility of more water for the area along the Old San Angelo highway. A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, asked the firm to indicate the role of water in this area in an early report for the guidance of the City Commission in approving new housing development.

Steinheimer said the area has already expanded to the point where there is no more water available. About 1½ million more gallons are needed per day, he said. The firm will probably provide preliminary recommendations for providing water in this area.

Bruce Dunn, Director of Public Works, and L. J. Thompson, who is working on the city street paving program, accompanied Steinheimer to Dallas Monday for the meeting with the master plan firm.

First National To Proceed With Design Of New Home

Deed was filed today marking formal transfer of the Hurt property at 4th and Main to the First National Bank, and completion of this deal now gives the bank title to the half-block on Main extending from 4th to 5th.

J. R. Hensley, First National president, said that with closing of the property transfer means that planning will proceed on a new banking home. He plans to complete architectural arrangements next week, and said it is contemplated that design work will be completed by the first of the year.

The bank acquired the quarter-block from the Lillie M. Hurt Estate. Previously, the south quarter had been purchased from the Biles interests. Residences on that tract are being moved.

First National will build a modern banking facility with drive-in facilites and commodous parking arrangements, Hensley said.

Last Rebel Hears 'Johnny Reb'

Gen. Walter Williams, 116-year-old sole survivor of the Civil War, was serenaded at Houston, by folk singer Johnny Horton. A song, "Johnny Reb," written especially for the Confederate veteran by Merle Kilgore, star of the Louisiana Hayride, was sung to the vet by Horton. Williams' daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, listens.

Former Resident Killed In Wreck

Funeral rites for Jack Oliver, 38, former Big Spring resident, will be at 10 a.m. Friday in Nalley-Pickle Funeral home chapel. Burial will be in City Cemetery.

Mr. Oliver, who was a retired air force officer, died Tuesday night when his car left the road, crashed into a row of guard posts approaching a bridge and landed upside down in a creek-bed. The accident occurred on Farm Road 87, near DeLeon. He was alone in the car.

He was en route to his home in Laguna Beach, after a visit here with his aunt Mrs. W. V. Boyles. He had left Big Spring at 6 p.m. Tuesday and the accident apparently occurred about three hours later. His body was not discovered until Wednesday morning.

It was returned to Big Spring last night.

Oliver's death is another in a series of tragedies which have befallen his near kin in the past 24 months.

On Dec. 3, 1957, his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Oliver, Knott school teachers, were asphyxiated in their home here. His grandfather, Sid Oliver, died on May 20, 1956 and his grandmother, Mrs. Lena Oliver on May 14, this year.

Mr. Oliver was born in Winters on Nov. 16, 1920. He served 18 years in the U. S. Air Force.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Jack Oliver, Laguna Beach, two sons, John Oliver Jr., U. S. N., San Diego, Calif., Robert Bradley Oliver, Laguna Beach; one daughter, Mary Francis Oliver, Laguna Beach; an aunt, Mrs. Boyles, Big Spring, two uncles, Buck Oliver, Big Spring and Rupert Oliver, Lubbock and one brother, Rupert Brooks Oliver, Houston.

New Coating For 3rd Street

The State Highway Department is putting a new riding surface on 3rd St. from Birdwell Lane, on the east side of the city, to the intersection of 3rd and 4th, on the west side.

Work was started Wednesday on the maintenance work and was finished to Gregg St. It was to be continued today to finish the current program.

The seal coat is a maintenance measure that fills holes and cracks in the street and provides a new riding surface for the street. This maintenance is provided by the State Highway Department.

Sudden Illness Fatal To Child

COLORADO CITY — Grace Aquillar, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tomas Acquillar, Colorado City, died enroute to Johnson Hospital in Lorraine at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday of an acute gastric disturbance.

Graveside rites for the child were held at 11 a.m. today in the Mitchell County Cemetery with the Rev. T. D. Sullivan, Baptist District Missionary, officiating. Tiker & Son Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Survivors in addition to the parents include two brothers, two sisters and two step brothers. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ales Rocha, Colorado City.

Burglary Attempt At Rainbow Inn

An attempted burglary of the Rainbow Inn, 900 E. 3rd, was reported to police Wednesday. The unsuccessful attempt was made by breaking a window and tearing off a screen. Apparently no entry was made.

U-Turn Banned On Main Street

Caution lights with a No U Turn sign have been installed at the Main and 1st street intersection and police report that traffic in the area improved on the first day of installation.

Sgt. Stanley Bogard said his traffic division would be patrolling the area for the first few weeks in an effort to enforce the new traffic regulation. The Big Spring City Commission voted several weeks ago to install the new signs, thus ending the old custom of dragging Main by making a U turn at this intersection.

Bogard pointed out that a sign has been placed on the south end of the west viaduct preventing left turns on to 1st St. He urged residents to heed the sign in order to eliminate this serious traffic hazard.

Burial Rites For Lamesa Man

LAMESA—Funeral services for Louis K. Groves, 72, retired construction worker, will be at 3 p.m. Thursday in the chapel of Higginbotham Funeral Home. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park. The Rev. Otis Baker, Odessa, and W. T. Hamilton, minister of the Lamesa Church of Christ of the Latter Day Saints.

He died in the Medical Arts Hospital here last night after a two weeks illness.

He was born in Winthrop, Ark., on Aug. 27, 1886, and came to Dawson County in 1920.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eula Groves, Lamesa.

Water Demand Is Showing Increase

Big Spring water consumption continued on the increase Wednesday with 8,343,000 gallons used during the 24 hour period. A year ago, on the same date, the city used 6,789,000 gallons.

Graveside Rites For Soto Infant

Graveside rites for Maximino Soto Jr., still-born son of Mr. and Mrs. Maximino Soto Sr., will be at 3 p.m. Friday at City Cemetery. Father Adolph Metzger will officiate and Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements. The child was born early today.

Stanotex No. 1 Richards, C NE NE, 35-35-5n, T&P Survey, drilled at 8,380 feet in lime and shale.

WASSON

son who suggested the names La Mesa—the table (land)—for the struggling village which was soon to successfully contest Chicago, Texas, for the county seat of Dawson County.

It was also in 1902 that he ranched west of the Pecos across from where the Yates oil field is now located. He also lived briefly in Colorado City. They moved back to Big Spring in 1910 and that has been the family home since.

Following the severe 1908-09 drought, he and at least one of his brothers ranched in Montana and there were once ambushed by a rival ranch group. Miraculously they were unscathed.

Later he ranched again in Arizona, acquired holdings in Mexico and still later in Oklahoma. Typical of his acumen as a trader, he bought up cattle ranchers who were begging to sell in the 1912-13 drought, in Sterling and Glasscock counties, with nothing more than a deed of trust on 150 sections on which he held an option in Yoakum County. He subsequently had ranches in Reeves, Irion, Reagan, Sterling, Bailey, Borden, Howard and Dawson counties, as well as in Gaines. The latter was a 12-section ranch destined to figure prominently in his fortunes. When he bought it in 1927, the wife of the man who had been staying on the ranch told him it would make him a fortune.

He had given away most of his estate, and the 1950-57 drought cost him heavily, but he was active in trading and ranching until he was finally stricken. Although he had made fortunes and lost them several times, his worst financial disaster came in 1926 when a company which held mortgages on his stock drove him to the wall. He lost $150,000, most of his land and was 318,000 in debt. With some cattle, Mrs. Wasson and he got started again. Ten years later he had the satisfaction of paying off the last note to the company—then broke—which had closed him out. Friends said that had he lived to be 100 and his health had held, he would have been the same fiery, rugged character which had been forged out of the frontier. He would still have been a rancher.

"How do you know?" Mr. Wasson asked.

DREAM CAME TRUE

"Because," she said, "I had a dream and saw oil derricks all over it." This dream was later repeated in his own family, but it was not until 1937, after he had lost everything but his ranch, that the Carter No. 1 Wasson came in for 333 barrels. He had sold half the royalty under half the ranch, which subsequently was developed for production on all but three-fourths of a section.

Mr. Wasson and the late Webb Christian had once made a trade to buy 5,000 head of cattle from henchmen of Pancho Villa. But Mr. Wasson balked at the terms of $45,000 cash at the border, and a trip to the border—without the money — revealed a plot to rob them. There were, it turned out, no cattle. During his career he also had brushes or was in the vicinity of forays by such outlaws as Sam Bass, Black Jack Ketchum, Three Finger Jack and Arizona's infamous Apache Kid.

Mr. Wasson bought and sold several ranches in and around Big Spring and acquired the home place southwest of Big Spring in 1917. After discovery of oil on his Gaines County Ranch, he backed the BRS Oil Co. and later the Wasson Oil Co.

He gave the Baptist Foundation royalty under 100 1-3 acres in Gaines County, a gift valued at $500,000 at the time and one which ultimately may prove much more valuable. He also gave 13,244 acres in Bailey County, much of which is subject to irrigation, and also acreage in Mitchell and Scurry counties. His last major gift was in July, 1949, when he gave his interest in 56,202 acres in New Mexico, which also was valued at half a million at the time. He set up most of his trusts so that institutions would share in them immediately.

MANY BENEFICIARIES

Among those aided were Buckners Orphans' Home, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Baylor University, Hardin-Simmons University, Howard Payne College, Wayland Baptist College and Golden Gate Seminary at Berkeley, Calif. Only recently he gave $14,000 to Grand Canyon College in Arizona. He also included the Southern Baptist Convention, Home Mission Board, the Annuity Board and other Baptist causes in his philanthropies. Mr. Wasson also was a generous supporter of the First Baptist Church, an institution which he indicated was closest to him.

There will be no speaking at the afternoon session. Other than for the announcements and special introductions, the afternoon portion of the event will be devoted to the old-fiddlers contest and to the visiting activities of the pioneers.

Victory Dinner For Y Campaign Set For Tonight

The YMCA's leadership enlistment drive will be climaxed at 7 p.m. today at the First Presbyterian Church with a Victory Dinner.

The final report meeting at 6:30 p.m. will precede the dinner at which leaders enlisted during the "Fishers of Men" project will be inducted. Captains of the teams inviting adults to become volunteer leaders in the Y are Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., George Oldham, Mrs. J. D. Cauble, Mrs. James Duncan, Ell McComb and Wade Choate. General chairman is Joe Pickle.

Through noon Thursday the campaign was around 60 per cent toward its goal, but several workers who had gained commitments from leaders had not reported.

Grandson Born

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gross, 805 Gregg, have been notified of the birth of a grandson to their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Bobbie Jack Gross, Fort Worth. The son was born at 5:22 a.m. Thursday in Fort Worth and weighed 6½ pounds. He has been named Bryan James. It is the first child for Dr. and Mrs. Gross.

30 YEARS MINIMUM STAY

Andres Marquez On Way To Huntsville State Penitentiary

Another chapter in the infamous career of Andres Marquez was unfolded today. The 17-year-old gunman received official sentencing this morning and left for Huntsville and a long prison term.

Marquez was officially sentenced to 99 years on each of two counts, robbery with firearms in the Jan. 3 shooting of Donald Bippus at the Chevron Service Station at 4th and Birdwell, and for the murder and robbery of Gerald D. Liner at the McClure Service Station at 4th and Douglass on Jan. 7.

He could have waited until Friday to be sentenced in the latter case, but he waived the one day reprieve. Only about an hour after the sentencing, Marquez, along with several others, left for the state prison.

Marquez was found guilty in the shooting of Bippus on July 6. Two weeks later, July 20, a jury found him guilty of the slaying of Liner. Both juries recommended 99-year sentences—the maximum under Texas laws where the crime is committed by a person under 17.

Marquez became 17 four months after the crimes were committed.

District Judge Charlie Sullivan told the youth that his terms will be cumulative; one must be completed before he can start on the other. He will be eligible for parole under one at 15 years, thus he will have to serve at least 30 years before he can be released on parole.

Two more indictments hang over him, however, one for assault with intent to rob and one for burglary.

Marquez stood without any appearance of concern as the judge pronounced sentence. Actually a slight grin broke over his face as the sentence was being read.

Andres left for Huntsville with sheriff's deputies, along with Joe Florez and four juveniles. The four juveniles — three sentenced here and one brought back from California for Fort Worth authorities—are being taken to Gatesville.

Florez is being returned to the state prison after his parole was revoked. He was serving a term for felony theft in Glasscock County when paroled.

THE THRIFTIEST WAY TO BUY GASOLINE EVER INVENTED...
PRECISION-BLENDING COMES TO BIG SPRING

NOW, FOR THE FIRST TIME... GASOLINE BLENDED TO FIT YOUR CAR EXACTLY!

Automotive surveys estimate that 6 out of every 10 motorists have been buying the wrong gasoline—either wasting money on high-octane fuels their cars don't need, or "starving" their cars with low-octane gasolines that cause "ping" and "knock". Now El Paso-Dixie stations offer you a revolutionary new, thriftier way to buy exactly the gasoline your car needs!

GREAT NEW GASOLINES

NEW MIRACLE PUMP El Paso-Dixie's unique new Precision-Blending pump draws fuels from two underground tanks, accurately blends them to any of six predetermined premium blends of gradually increasing octane. The blends are identified by numbers—higher numbers mean higher octane, lower numbers mean lower prices.

HOW IT WORKS The Precision-Blending pump draws quality fuels from two tanks—one containing El Paso Red Flame Super Premium, a gasoline of ultra-high octane quality, and the other containing El Paso 400, a premium quality fuel. A blend selector sets the pump for the blend that's just right for your car—and the pump automatically delivers that blend. Accuracy has been approved by numerous state weights and measures departments.

DIXIE 390 A separate pump dispenses DIXIE 390, the popular gasoline recommended for most cars not requiring premium-grade fuel. Dixie 390 offers effortless, smooth performance for most older-model cars.

SEE FOR YOURSELF Drive in at your nearest El Paso-Dixie service station, and try the blend recommended for your car by the Blend Selector Chart. Prove to yourself that Precision-Blending can mean top performance for your car, with important savings for you!

Higher Income Part Answer To Boom Fuel

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — What's fueling the business boom?

The Federal Reserve Board today supplied one answer.

Consumers entered 1959 better heeled financially — both in their holdings of liquid assets and in current income—than ever before in history.

The board issued its annual survey of consumer finances, based on sampling interviews across the country made by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan.

It showed that in spite of the recession, total personal income last year rose by eight billion dollars, or 2 per cent. Prices rose 3 per cent, so there was a slight loss in real income.

But Americans as a group reduced their load of auto installment debt in 1958, increased their savings and bank deposits by the biggest amount of any year since World War II, and enjoyed a sharp rise in the value of their stocks and bonds.

The emphasis on saving, said the board, "brought liquid assets of consumers to a new peak in early 1959 despite the decline in their holdings of U.S. savings bonds."

About three-fourths of all families held some liquid assets —meaning checking and savings accounts in banks, shares in savings and loan associations or credit unions, and savings bonds —when the survey was made early this year.

About 40 per cent of all families had liquid assets of $500 or more.

About 40 per cent of all families reported an increase in income from 1957 to 1958, while 22 per cent reported a decline. More than half of the farmers—54 per cent—had income increases, and 44 per cent of self-employed businessmen reported increases.

Consumer spending on automobiles dropped sharply last year, but expenditures for home appliances and other durable goods increased somewhat.

By early 1959 slightly over 70 per cent of families reported automobile ownership, and 12 per cent of all families owned two or more cars compared with 10 per cent in early 1958.

Consumers favored lower-priced cars last year. As a result, there was a drop in sales of eight-cylinder domestic models and a doubling of sales of foreign makes.

There was a sharp decline in the total amount of auto installment credit extended, and the amount of auto installment debt outstanding declined over the year. This was more than offset by increases in other types of credit.

The board said that the recession caused more than 7½ million families to lose the income of their breadwinners for at least part of the year.

No One Minds This Politico Making Dough

BAYTOWN (AP)—City Councilman Al Clayton makes a lot of dough on the side. His constituents gladly help him dispose of it.

Every Sunday morning, breezes carry the aroma of fresh baking dough from the Clayton home.

Neighbors raise their noses in approval. Soon they start dropping in for shares of the Sunday special, said Chester Rogers, writing for the Houston Chronicle.

"I just plain like to fix homemade bread," Clayton said. "It's nearly becoming a lost art."

The tall refinery labor foreman doesn't use a recipe.

"Don't ask me for particulars," he said. "I don't have one. I just throw it together. Don't ask me how or how much."

But Clayton says there's no secret about either the bread or his friends who eat it—"they go together."

There is, he says, one secret for the successful handling of yeast.

"You must remember that it is a growing, live thing which must not be chilled or heated with either cold or hot water. It must be nurtured in warm or tepid water."

Clayton usually starts making bread about 5:30 a.m. and serves about three hours later to his wife and daughter, Dianne, 14. Before the next batch of loaves or rolls is out, the kitchen may be filled with hungry neighbors.

Trimmings on the Clayton breakfast table may include bacon or sausage, lots of butter — and brown, boiled beans.

"It's been an old family custom," he says. "Just sticks with you all through the day."

Compensation Is Asked In Petition

F. W. Brothers has filed a suit for compensation in 118th District Court against United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co., for payment for injuries and loss of work in an accident this spring.

Brothers alleges he injured his thumb while working derricks, attempting to latch onto a stand and pipe. His thumb was caught between an elevator and deadline.

He was, at the time, employed with Marcum Drilling Co., with whom the defendant carries a Workman's Compensation policy. Brothers seeks $35 per week for 401 weeks.

Quinn's Win Helped Stem The Demo Tide

HONOLULU (AP) — Republican William F. Quinn, Hawaii's newly elected governor announced his candidacy even before Congress voted statehood for the islands.

The 40-year-old attorney's victory over John A. Burns, generally unexpected, helped stem a Democratic tide that had been running in the islands since 1954.

Quinn, territorial governor for the past two years, announced his candidacy for the state office last February, several months before Burns declared.

Quinn said statehood to him means "equality with Fellow Americans and an opportunity to share fully in the national political life."

"Particularly significant," he said, "is the added prestige for Hawaii in carrying out our mission as the hub of the Pacific in promotion of greater East-West understanding."

He envisions the islands as a bridge between the United States and Asia.

Quinn's victory carried with it unprecedented Hawaii patronage powers. He will appoint some 460 officials, including judges, department heads and members of commissions and boards.

He campaigned largely on an appeal that voters allow him to finish many projects initiated during his administration, particularly in land reform and economic development.

He relied heavily on television appearances and door-to-door canvassing. He always was ready to entertain with his better-than-average Irish tenor singing voice.

A native of Rochester N.Y., Quinn settled in the islands in 1947. His widowed mother lives in St. Louis, Mo. He was graduated from St. Louis University with highest honors and took his law degree at Harvard. He served in the Navy during World War II, entering as an ensign and leaving as a lieutenant commander.

An affable 6-foot, Quinn was married in St. Louis to the former Nancy Witbeck in 1942. They have four sons and two daughters and are expecting a seventh child about the first of the year.

Steel-Allied Layoffs Up, More Coming

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The number of workers laid off in allied industries because of the 16-day-old steel strike has risen to about 85,000 with hundreds more slated for furloughs before the week ends.

The Pennsylvania Labor & Industry Dept. reported Wednesday that 9,840 names have been added to its list of workers laid off in businesses that depend on an active steel industry.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad said it would furlough 1,200 more employes by the end of the week because of the steel strike and plant shutdowns for vacations. The Illinois Central Railroad said it would lay off 1,100 workers Friday.

Railroaders have been hardest hit by the strike with an estimated 50,000 idle.

Steelworkers employed by three small steel firms in the Philadelphia area face possible idleness after tomorrow when labor contracts with the United Steelworkers expire Friday.

Two of the firms — Alan Wood Steel Co. at Conshohocken, Pa., and Lukens Steel Co. at Coatesville, Pa.—asked the union to extend their contracts, but no agreement was reached immediately.

The third company is the Phoenix Iron & Steel Co. at Phoenixville, Pa.

Alan Wood began banking its furnaces. The other two firms said they had no banking plans.

In Pittsburgh the A. M. Byers Co., world's largest wrought iron producer, arranged a 30-day extension of its contract with the United Steelworkers. The old pact expires Friday midnight.

In Buffalo, N.Y., the Erie County Welfare Department made plans to hire 20 more case workers to help process an expected deluge of welfare applications from striking steelworkers.

Suspects Fail In Hostage Try

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A pair of suspect bank robbers held an Oklahoma farm boy hostage at pistol point in an auto Wednesday, then surrendered meekly after a nervous three-hour seige.

No bullets were fired. It was a battle of words. Bob Pitcock, 20, the hostage, was released unharmed.

Tulsa County Sheriff Dave Faulkner identified the suspects as Sylvester Hutchinson, 21, and Thomas J. Starr, 25, both of Tulsa, and both Negroes.

The climax came after loudspeaker pleas by several relatives and friends of the suspects.

Pursuit of the two men began early Wednesday after the robbery of a bank at Coweta, Okla.

Pitcock said he was seized with his automobile at his farm home near Broken Arrow, Okla., several hours later.

The car was halted at the east edge of this city by a roadblock.

Experts Now Urge Longer Oil Usage

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—You can get a lot of expert advice on how often to change the oil in your car.

In fact, the more experts you talk to, the more advice you'll get. And it probably will add up to this: Within reason, use your own judgment.

There is the school that says flatly the oil in the engine of an automobile should be changed every 1,000 miles. The owner's handbook for most 1959 model Chrysler Corp. cars says every 5,000 miles, or three months under normal conditions.

Most service stations stick with the 1,000 - mile recommendation unless they sell one of the brands of oil that specifically claims 2,000 miles.

The argument is almost as old as the auto industry. One reason the disagreement is heard more frequently now is that the carmakers gradually are lengthening their recommended period between changes. This has hurt the sale of motor oil.

The trade paper Automotive News, in a full-scale survey of the situation, found that service departments of new car dealers usually urged an oil change every 2,000 or 2,500 miles despite factory recommendations.

The oil you use rarely wears out regardless of the mileage. But this isn't true with the things put in it—the additives—to reduce wear and acidity, prevent corrosion, oxidation or sludge.

Almost every motor oil on the market has from four to eight of these additives and they break down with use.

The way a car is used has much to do with how long the oil lasts. Cold weather, dusty roads, start and stop driving all shorten the life of the oil, because it is under these conditions that the oil becomes contaminated with water, dirt and various oxides that harm an engine.

There was a time when a driver could look at the dipstick which shows his oil level and tell whether his oil looked clean. Today he can get fooled because some of the additives in good oil cause it to look gray. When these desirable additives quit working, the oil clears up.

Both the auto industry and the oil industry are tending to accept the use of time, rather than miles, in suggesting oil changes.

The American Petroleum Institute wants to make it 30 days in winter, 60 days in summer but in no case more than 2,000 miles. Auto manufacturers still favor longer periods.

Prisoners Help Bothered Sheriff

BEULAH, Mich. (AP)—Benzie County Sheriff Jerry Pelton faced a problem when one of his prisoners had to go to a hospital for an appendectomy.

Jail regulations require a 24-hour guard on all prisoners and Pelton was strapped for help.

So he made trusties of two other prisoners with good behavior records and assigned each to a 12-hour daily watch on the ailing prisoner.

After three days and two nights, all three resumed their regular cell occupancy.

Hoffa Supporters Seize Headquarters

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A dozen members of a pro-Hoffa faction of a strife-torn Teamsters Union Local 100 were arrested here early today after they had seized control of the union headquarters after a brawling fist fight.

All 12 were arrested on warrants obtained by officers of the local charging trespassing and disorderly conduct.

The officers were elected last winter on a platform in opposition to Teamsters International President James R. Hoffa.

The rival "rank and file" group has been seeking to form a new local.

The fight started Wednesday night when the officers of the local tried to postpone a hearing on charges against one of the rebels. The 16-man executive committee finally left the building after being told by the rebels to resign or get out.

Police, called to the scene, made the arrests only after the officers of the local had obtained the warrants.

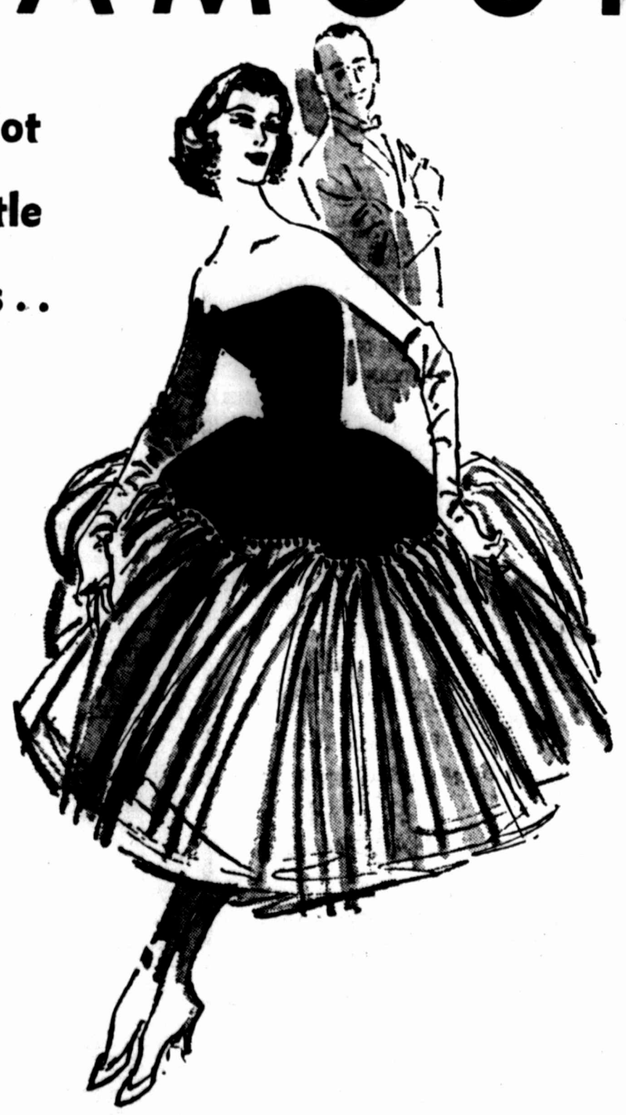

The 12 arrested were released on bond pending police court action this morning.

Robert Morris, cochairman of the "rank and file" committee, told newsmen he had notified Hoffa's secretary by telephone that: "We are in the hall. We have thrown out our corrupt officers. We are begging for help from the International or from the monitors."

Otto Frobe, secretary-treasurer of the local; Marshall Tucker, business agent; and John Curtsinger, trustee, suffered cuts and bruises in the fight.

Ocean Liner Has Collision With Freighter

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queen Elizabeth, world's largest luxury liner, was set to sail today as repairs were rushed on her hull following a collision with a freighter during patchy fog in New York harbor.

There were no injuries to passengers or crew aboard the outboard 83,000-ton Queen and the inbound 10,460-ton American Hunter. The ships came together about 3:30 p.m. Wednesday near the entrance to Ambrose Channel about 1½ miles off Coney Island. Both vessels were damaged above the water line. At the helm of each were trained harbor pilots.

The mishap in the freakish fog — no visibility in some areas and good visibility in others—led to the harbor being shut down for 2½ hours.

Repair crews went to work on the three-foot hole in the starboard bow of the liner immediately after dusk, when tugs brought her back to Pier 90 where she had lifted anchor just six hours earlier.

The impact was felt only as a dull thud aboard the Elizabeth. Few of the ship's 1,959 passengers knew what had happened.

The American Hunter, just arrived from the Elizabeth's home port of Southampton, carried a crew of 50 plus 6 passengers. The freighter suffered a two-foot crack in her bow. The Hunter is owned by the United States Lines.

E. Seymour Bell, general manager of the Cunard Line, told newsmen that a fog curtain suddenly closed in before the crash.

He said both of the Queen's radars were functioning and showed no other ships closer than 1.6 miles.

The Queen was sounding her fog horn steadily, Bell said, when "the other ship suddenly appeared out of the fog on the starboard bow."

He said the Queen's engines, thrown full speed astern, brought her to a dead stop before the collision.

"The American Hunter was at right angles to the Queen Elizabeth at the time, and was not going very fast," Bell said.

Lewis Funke, New York Times drama editor aboard the Elizabeth, wrote in a dispatch from the vessel that the blow "caused this mammoth vessel to quiver, but not a glass stirred on the dining salon tables."

When the Elizabeth returned to her North River berth, a crowd of about 2,000 were at the pier.

All passengers elected to remain aboard the Elizabeth except two. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Anderson left the ship around midnight saying that the collision had ruined their schedule and they would seek other means of transportation to Europe.

The Elizabeth's passenger list included Floyd Odlum, financier; Gen. James A. Van Fleet (retired) former commander of the 8th Army in Korea; Jacob Grumet, head of the New York State Investigation Commission; and Harold W. Comfort, president of the Borden Co.

The freighter, with Capt. George Walker in command, anchored in the upper bay overnight.

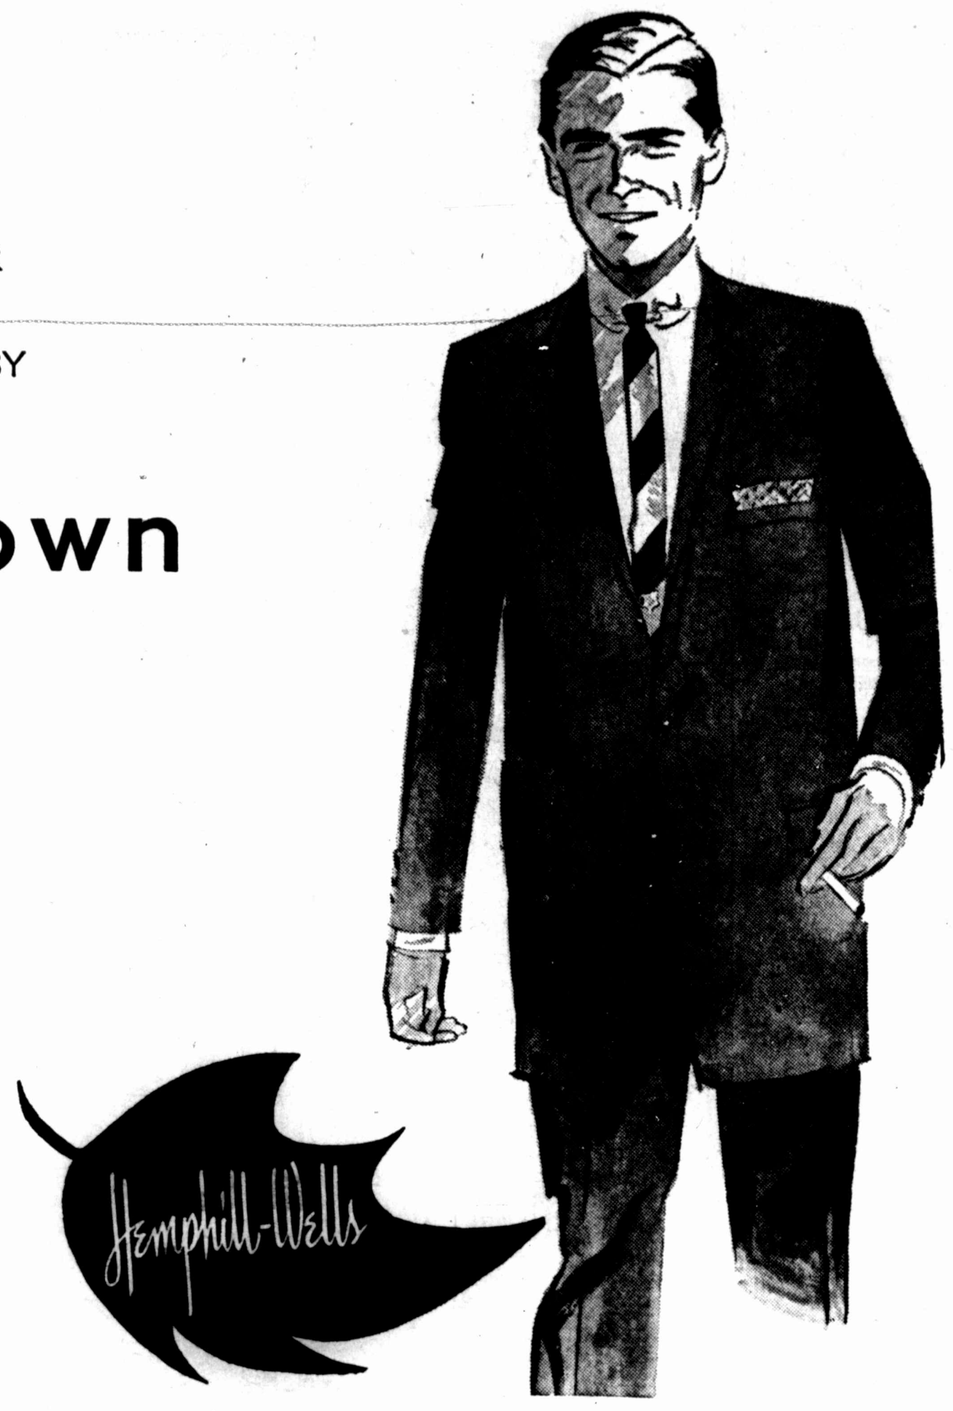

Capt. H. G. Morris, commodore of the Cunard Line, is skipper of the Elizabeth, which carries a crew of 1,290.

$10,000 Sought In Civil Suit

E. H. Heffington has filed a suit for damages against Roy G. Peeples in 118th District Court.

Slugging Fine

HOUSTON (AP)—V. D. Packer, 41, drew a $25 fine Wednesday for slugging John Moses, 39, principal of Spring Branch High School. Packer pleaded no contest to an assault charge, filed after an incident on the school grounds June 18.

Republicans Hail Hawaiian Victories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unexpected victories in Hawaii's voting bouyed Republican hopes today that their party may be on the comback trail.

Although Democrats disputed the interpretation, the GOP national chairman, Sen. Thruston B. Norton of Kentucky, said the results point to Republican victories elsewhere in 1960. His party elected a governor, lieutenant governor, a United States senator and a majority of state senators.

Morton said the results in Hawaii demonstrated that hard work, significant support from labor and the voters' response to "good government" will put the Republicans back in business in next year's presidential and congressional elections.

However, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas emphasized that Democrats had taken two of the three seats at stake in Congress. These included one senator and the lone House member. Democrats also held on to control of the state House of Representatives.

Johnson said it was not surprising that the Republican appointive—governor, William F. Quinn, had defeated Democrat John A. Burns, who has been Hawaii's nonvoting delegate in Congress.

Johnson said Quinn "had plenty of time to build up his position" and should have won "in an area which, until recent years, has been overwhelmingly Republican anyway."

He promised a rousing welcome in Congress for Democrats Oren E. Long, elected to the Senate, and Daniel K. Inouye, who won the House seat.

Hiram L. Fong was the Republican elected to the senate. He and Long will determine by drawings later the length of the terms they will serve.

Pointing out that Democrats have won every territorial election since 1954, Republicans said the balloting demonstrated a reversal in the trend that may mark the beginning of a GOP revival in state and congressional elections.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois called the election a party outcome for his party.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant GOP leader said the results show "that the people of our newest state have faith in the determination of the Republican party to serve and promote the interests of all of our people, not just segments or factions."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) said the returns show the Republican back trail."

Although the GOP lost the House seat, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa), chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, said the election "shows a powerful resurgence of political sentiment for the Republican party—a trend which could well hit floodtide by the time the 1960 election rolls around."

Storm-Grounded Freighter Freed

HOUSTON (AP)—A Venezuelan freighter which was slapped aground by Hurricane Debra just after it got out of dry dock was freed Wednesday near Port Bolivar.

The 6,500-ton Guarico then went back to dry dock for repairs.

A spokesman said the hurricane pushed the ship out of the channel onto the undredged Bolivar side of the roads. It was returned to the Todd Shipyards at Galveston for inspection.

Chemical Blast Lights Up Sky

PORTLAND, Conn. (AP) — Exploding chemicals shook two communities early today and lit up the predawn sky as flames destroyed a chemical distributing depot. No deaths or injuries were reported.

Thirteen tanks of industrial chemicals exploded in the blaze, which a fire official said apparently had started accidentally.

The biggest blast, which knocked sleepers from their beds here and in Middletown across the Connecticut river, came when a 13,000-gallon tank of alcohol went off.

The flames at times burst like rocket blasts 500 feet high. Flaming debris was scattered over a wide area.

C. Albert Mugford, manager of the company, Phillips Bros. Chemical Co. Inc., estimated the loss at approximately half a million dollars.

The firm, which employs 14 persons, is in effect a warehouse. It receives chemicals, recuts them and reships them. The depot housed about 1,000 drums of industrial chemicals.

The fire was discovered by a passing truckdriver.

Portland is about 17 miles south of Hartford, the state capital.

DEAR ABBY

TALL TALKER

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A relative, acquired through marriage, visits me regularly and for several hours at a time. She talks continuously. She says she has no one to talk to at home so when she goes visiting she has a lot to say. The funny part of it is, she can't stand being around anyone who talks too much. She complains that no one comes to visit her. Can you blame them? She keeps visiting others until she wears out her welcome. She isn't stupid either. She is well - informed and up on all the news. I wish I could put her wise to the fact that she would be so much more acceptable if only she wouldn't talk so much. Can it be done? Y.

DEAR Y.: You could tell her—but I doubt if it would help. A closed mind usually goes with an open mouth. She wants an audience not tips on how to win friends and influence people.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I knew a sweet little auburn-haired girl fifty-three years ago, but she married someelse and so did I I lost my wife six years ago. I read in the obituaries recently that this woman had lost her husband. I wrote her a letter and asked if she would like to see me again. We met. She gave me three beautiful kisses and said she thought I could replace her husband.

Now for my problem. I saw a doctor eight years ago because I lost all desire for romance. I was only 64 then. The doctor said he was only 62 and he'd lost his, too, and nothing could be done about it. Would it be fair to marry this lady without telling her about it? She is young yet. Only 64.

PONDERING

DEAR PONDERING: May I borrow a phrase from a very good Book? "Do unto others" . . .

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I know you are going to think I am terrible but I need help so I will have to tell you the truth. I am a 16-year-old girl who is considered very popular. I have gone steady several times but not for very long because I lose interest in the boy as soon as I know I've got him.

I get to know boys very fast. I mean on the first I make out like mad with them. I don't let them go too far, Abby. I give you my word. My girlfriends have told me that my reputation is getting very bad. My own brother told me this, also.

How can I refuse to make out with boys that I have already made out with? I don't want to lost my popularity. Please don't throw this letter away thinking it is too silly to answer.

MUST KNOW

DEAR MUST: It is always the girl who sets the pace on a date. It's up to you to make it clear that you have "reformed." When a boy makes advances, restate the fact. And keep restating it. If you lose your popularity because you refuse to make out—you are popular with the wrong boys.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our mother is 72 and has been a widow for 8 years. Every year we have the same trouble with her. She likes to have a big party to celebrate her wedding anniversary. How can we tell her that after a husband passes away, his widow should not celebrate her wedding anniversary? Or are we wrong in trying to discourage such an event? She expects gifts, too.

THE CHILDREN

DEAR CHILDREN: You are not wrong. Perhaps she wants a "celebration" to ward off the "blues" on this particular date. Compromise by having a "family dinner." But tell her that anniversary gifts are discontinued after one of the parties is deceased.

* * *

What's your problem? For a personal replay, write to ABBY in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Board Adopts School Rules

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock School Board Wednesday night adopted rules and regulations for assigning pupils to public schools under the Arkansas pupil placement laws.

The board plans to open the four public high schools Sept. 8 on a basis of limited segregation. The placement laws will be used to minimize desegregation.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed the high schools last year to block integration.

Criteria for assignment of a pupil include such things as psychological effect of a particular student being assigned to a particular school, psychological effect on other students, moral standards, and the possibility of a breach of the peace if a student is assigned to a certain school.

The availability of transportation and distance the student would have to travel also will be considered, the board said.

Fifty-five Negroes have enrolled at Little Rock's three previously all-white high schools.

YOUNG ENGINEERS

Austrian Students Enjoy Petroleum Study In Texas

Two exchange students, who want someday to get into the oil business on their own, told the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday about their native Austria.

Horst L. Strobach and Gottfried Plachetsky, both 20-year-old advanced engineering students in Austria, are working at Cosden this summer. Their experience is made possible by Cosden under the IAESTE (International Association for the Exchange of Students for Technical Experience).

Strobach told the club that he and Plachetsky were fortunate that Cosden had chosen them because he never dreamed they would be able to study the petroleum industry from production through processing to marketing. Moreover, he is getting a look also at Cosden's petochemical enterprises.

"Someday we want to get into the oil business," he said.

He gave a brief summary of the Austrian school plan which includes four years of lower elementary study beginning at age six. At age 10 the student may continue for four more years of second step elementary training, or he may undertake a sort of high school experience. The counterpart of our higher education requires eight years and virtually all subjects are required. These include 4 years of English (added to four in the lower grades), 6 years of Latin, German, possibly Greek and French, physics chemistry, history, geography, mathematics, etc. Only eight per cent of students tackle an university experience.

Universities are made up of separate faculties, and with the exception of engineering, all work leads to a doctor's degree. Even engineers are encouraged to qualify for the doctorate.

Austria, about one-eighth the size of Texas, is the third largest oil producer in Europe, ranking behind Romania and West Germany. It produces some 50,000,000 barrels per annum from a field some 20x30 miles. The yield is from sandstone formations and is about 30 gravity. Some gas is produced and recently the nation's first gas pipeline was installed. The refining capacity is around 10,000 barrels per day and some petrochemical and plastic manufacture is done.

From 1945-55 when the Russians occupied the area, the fields were produced to maximum and left in bad state. Austria since has become a free nation and has restored its fields.

Although Plachetsky ventured that Austria would always feel and think as a western nation, he pointed but that the feeling toward Americans and other allies, especially among the older people, was sometimes less than cordial. After all, it was the Americans who caused the defeat of Austria, he said.

However, the friendliness of the American soldier and the helpfulness of the American government have produced a great reservoir of goodwill among the younger people. In fact, it was this mode of contact which led them to want to study in the United States.

Austria's policy of neutrality was sorely tested during the Hungarian revolution, but held firm, said Plachetsky. During that time some 120,000 Hungarian revolution refugees escaped into Austria and were given haven.

Cosden is one of three petroleum companies in the United States taking part in the exchange which is designed to promote international understanding as well as technical training. Twenty-four countries have 7,000 students in the program on the basis of reciprocity.

Strobach and Plachetsky have been impressed by this country and particularly West Texas. The thing that has impressed them most is that "you are the friendliest people. We shall do our best to tell our people how wonderful your country is and to give the right impression of it — and especially the State of Texas."

Hospital Job At Snyder Is Awarded Kasch

A Big Spring construction firm, A. P. Kasch and Sons Contractors, has been awarded the contract for a two-story addition to the Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder.

Kasch submitted a bid of $451,000 for complete construction of the addition, which was lowest of six companies' offers. Also in the bidding were other firms from Big Spring, Odessa, Houston and San Angelo.

Fred Kasch said he expected to receive a work order in 20 to 30 days.

J. D. Jones Construction of Big Spring submitted second lowest bid for general building of the addition.

Defunct Insurance Refunds Foreseen

AUSTIN (AP) — Some 4,500 claims against Highway Insurance Underwriters of Austin may receive a 40 per cent dividend before the end of the year, State Receiver-Liquidator C. H. Langdeau says.

About $300,000 in cash has been recovered in liquidation proceedings, he said. The dividend may total $472,000.

Highway Insurance went into permanent receivership May 21, 1958. Claims totaling $1,800,000 are pending.

NEW PARTNERSHIP

Two Food Stores Change Ownership

Purchase of two food stores and the formation of a partnership has been announced by Joe Hull, Big Spring, and T. A. Smith, Midland.

Acquired by Hull and Smith are the former Alexander's Grocery on N. Gregg Street and Jack's No. 3 on U. S. 80 Highway west.

Open house will be observed all day Saturday at the Jack's location, and coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Special bargain offers are being listed in both stores to commemorate the event.

Hull is well known in the Big Spring area, having been reared in Howard County. His association with the grocery trade goes back approximately 25 years. He is a member of the Downtown Lions Club and of the IOOF Lodge. He and Mrs. Hull are moving into their home at the corner of Harding and Maple.

Smith came here from Midland and has been in the building business for several years. He is a Lion and a Mason, and he will move his family here from Midland as soon as feasible. Both men will be actively engaged in the business.

AF In Florida Carries A-Bombs

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — Atomic bombs are stored at Homestead Air Force Base and jet bombers carry them over south Florida on practice missions, the Air Force has disclosed.

"We're not just sitting here," said Maj. Carl Harris, Homestead disaster control officer. "We have a job to do, and our aircraft are flying around with them (atomic bombs)."

He made the statement Wednesday during a meeting of Air Force and Dade County (Miami) police and fire officials called to set up plans in case of emergency.

The possibility of dropping a bomb accidentally on south Florida is remote, Harris said. If it did happen, there would be no nuclear explosion.

"When we fly with them, the bombs are not in 'strike configuration,' or ready to use as nuclear weapons," Harris said.

Jet Service

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Commercial jet service over the Pacific was inaugurated Wednesday, a Qantas Airways Boeing 707 brought 84 passengers from Sydney, Australia to San Francisco—7,650 miles in 14 hours, 44 minutes. That halved the usual time.

Sisters Make Good Baking Team

"Two hands are better than one", goes the old saying. But four hands are even better than two. Barbara Clark is getting an assist here from her sister Jacie in removing a pan of cookies from the oven. These dainty wafers, called Snickerdoodles, are favorites of the girls who enjoy baking and storehousing goodies in the freezer.

Cooking Is A Pleasant Task For These Ingenious Teen-Agers

Once in a while, especially on a rainy day, there is a feverish whirl of prolonged activity in the kitchen at 2103 Morrison Dr. It's baking day, and two dynamos in apron are Jacie and Barbara, teen-aged daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Clark

When this mood is upon them, the deep freeze gets packed with all sorts of luscious goodies. Cookies like Snickerdoodles and Almond Crescents neighbor with cakes like the pound and buttermilk varieties. And that means that desserts are pretty well taken care of for a few more weeks. Right now they are filling up the freezer in anticipation of school days, when there won't be so much time for kitchen exploits.

Baking is the culinary choice of Jacie, while Barbara is adept with preparing whole meals and, especially, experimenting with ground beef—the one meat the whole family agrees upon regularly. In achieving variety, she relies upon such well-seasoned favorites as Hungarian goulash or meatballs with mushroom gravy.

The girls picked up cooking from watching their mother, as little tykes. Mrs. Clark schooled them in the fundamentals, and such a good job did she that today the girls prepare dinner daily for their parents, both of whom are Herald employes. A little collaborating over the phone each afternoon, while the two are on summer vacation, is all that is necessary to insure a choice evening meal. Barbara undertakes the main dishes, while Jacie exercises her skill with the salads. Right now, claims their mother, the whole family is on a "gelatin kick."

Jacie, 16, will be a junior this fall. She has had two years of homemaking but, like her 14-year-old sister Barbara who will begin homemaking study as a freshman, prefers to experiment and cook with "a pinch of this and a handful of that." Both girls enjoy horseback riding, reading and romping with their two Dachshunds. Barbara completed driver education study Wednesday.

The ingenious little blondes pass along these recipes:

MEATBALLS WITH MUSHROOM GRAVY

Mix together:
1 lb. hamburger
1 tsp. savor salt
½ tsp. garlic salt
½ cup bread crumbs per lb. meat

Make into small balls and brown. When meat is brown add:
1 can mushroom soup
½ can water

Let simmer for about 30 minutes.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH

Brown 2 lbs. hamburger meat in small amount of fat. Add chopped onions in last few minutes of browning.

Make sauce of following:
1 can tomato sauce
1½ cans water
Dash Worcestershire sauce
Dash of garlic powder
1 can tomatoes, if desired.

Pour into browned meat; cover and let simmer 2 to 4 hours. During last 30 minutes of cooking, add parsley. Serve over hot buttered noodles.

Note: 1½ cups tomato juice may be substituted for the tomato sauce and tomatoes.

SNICKERDOODLES

Mix together:
1 cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs

Stir in:
2¾ cup flour
2 tsp. cream of tartar
1 tsp. soda
½ tsp. salt

Chill dough. Roll into balls, size of small walnuts. Roll in mixture of 2 tsp. cinnamon and 2 tbsp. sugar.

Place about 2" apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake until brown, but soft, in 400 degree oven; 8 to 10 minutes. Yield: five dozen 2" cookies (they flatten out while baking).

ALMOND CRESCENTS

Mix together thoroughly:
1 cup soft shortening
1-3 cup sugar
2-3 cup ground blanched almonds

Sift together and work in:
1 2-3 cups sifted flour
¼ tsp. salt.

Chill dough. Place cookies on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 325 degrees until cookies are set, not brown. Cool on pan.

While slightly warm, dip cookies in mixture of 1 cup powdered sugar and 1 tsp. cinnamon. May use more cinnamon if desired.

POUND CAKE

3 sticks oleo
1 box powdered sugar, creamed
6 eggs
Powdered sugar box filled lightly with cake flour
1 tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. lemon extract.

Add eggs to creamed oleo and sugar, and beat all together with flour. Bake one hour 15 minutes at 325 degrees. Let cool in tube pan.

While cake is hot, pour over it ¾ cup sugar and ½ cup orange juice which has been cooked over low heat.

BUTTERMILK CAKE

1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
4 eggs, beaten in one at a time
1 cup buttermilk with ½ tsp. soda added.
3 cups flour, sifted with ½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. lemon and orange, or vanilla extract.

Mix together ingredients in usual order. Bake in two loaf pans or in tube pan in 275 degrees oven about one hour. While the cake's hot, pour over it sauce made by cooking together ¾ cup sugar and ½ cup orange juice.

Squash Are Nutritious

You can't escape squash when you're shopping. Like Christmas ornaments, their bright colors, their unusual shapes, and their peculiar rind textures make them eye-catchers.

But squash are more than mere symbols or ornaments. They're mighty good eating for summer meals — tasty, easy to prepare, nutritious and relatively inexpensive.

Jade green zucchini, white scalloped pattypan, yellow crookneck, yellow straightneck, acorn, hubbard; any squash you can name is rich in vitamin A, so important for good vision and healthy skin.

A serving of one-half cup of squash will supply the body with its daily requirement of this necessary vitamin. Squash also contains some of the B vitamins, vitamin C and several minerals.

Summer squash is easy to prepare on those hot summer days when you don't feel like puttering around the kitchen. Just cut into pieces and pop into a pot of salted boiling water for about 15 minutes or until tender. Then season with plenty of butter or bacon drippings and serve hot. For accent you might prefer lemon juice, added during or after cooking.

Summer squash can also be fried quickly. Use thin slices rolled in corn meal or a batter. Drop into sizzling fat. They'll turn golden brown almost instantly.

Ice Cream Builds Quite A Following

Who doesn't like ice cream?

Apparently most of us do, for we're eating more every year. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says that, on the average, each of us will probably eat more than 18 pounds of this dairy product this year.

Can you name any other dessert that draws more acclaim from the whole family than ice cream? Or one that takes so little kitchen preparation?

With the summer heat here, you'll find many occasions for ice cream's cooling goodness to give you a lift on a hot afternoon.

To glamorize your favorite dessert, try topping ice cream dishes with toasted coconut. Or try chocolate chips, slivers of bitter or semi-sweet chocolate, or crushed hard candy, especially peppermint.

Nuts also make a pleasing topping—chopped pecans, walnuts, almonds, or if you want an extra special nut topping try combining any or all three. For that special occasion, try your hand at parfaits, sundaes, or banana splits.

Families' Eating Habits Are Surveyed By USDA

Did you know that your income, the size of your family and where you live make a difference in what you eat?

These factors also have some effect on how much you eat. This was found out in a recent national survey by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

As you might expect, most people eat more when they have a little extra cash than when on a tight budget. And obviously, big families eat more than small ones. However, each member of a big family uses less food than each member of a small family.

The main reason may be that mothers of large families know how to spread food around better, so they get the most use out of it; more than the homemaker does in a family of two or three.

Upper - income families eat more of many foods than poorer families, and there's a big difference in the quality of food. But the more income, the smaller proportion spent on food.

USDA found out that the bigger the salary, the more steak on the dinner table and the less hamburger; and the more rib roast and less chuck roast; and the more cream, ice cream and cheese.

On the other hand, no matter what the income, it doesn't have much effect on how much milk families use—the number of children in the home decides that.

On the whole, if you live on a farm you'll eat better than if you live in the city, at every income level. But there's a big difference in the amounts and kinds of foods eaten. Farm families eat more per person than city families of milk and milk products, fats and oils, flour, sugar and sweets. But farmers eat less canned and frozen fruits and vegetables. City homemakers buy more meat, poultry and fish than farm homemakers.

Milk Sauces Are Useful To Gourmet

Every ingenious cook knows how to use milk sauces, for with the proper sauce, she can turn an ordinary dish into a gourmet's delight. Also, milk sauces open another channel for getting more milk into the diet.

For sauces combined with mild flavored foods, use butter or margarine for added flavor. With highly flavored foods or seasonings, use a bland fat or oil.

A thin sauce for cream soup, gravy, creamed and scalloped vegetables, eggs, fish or meat, requires 1 cup of milk, 1 tablespoon flour and 1 tablespoon fat.

For medium thickness, use 2 tablespoons flour and either 1 or 2 tablespoons fat with the 1 cup of milk.

A thick sauce needed as a binder for croquettes or souffles requires 3 to 4 tablespoons flour with each cup of milk. Standard fat measurement is 3 tablespoons, but if you want a low-fat sauce, 1½ to 2 tablespoons are sufficient.

To prepare, melt fat and blend in the flour to make a smooth mixture. Add salt—about one-fourth teaspoon for each cup of milk used. Add milk slowly, and cook over low heat. Stir constantly until thickened. It's that simple.

To make a sauce without fat, use 1 to 4 tablespoons of flour for each cup of milk. Add flour to milk in a jar or can. Cover tightly and shake until well blended and smooth. Pour mixture into a saucepan; heat slowly; stir constantly.

Curry 'Company'

What accompaniments for chicken, lamb or shrimp curry? We suggest finely - ground peaunts, French - fried onions, chopped plumped raisins, sliced banana, minced green pepper and freshly-grated coconut for an elegant offering.

Minced Clams

Ever add drained minced canned clams to cooked potatoes you are browning for a fine hash?

Breakfast Appetites Perk Up With Peaches

"Eat fruit for breakfast" has been the maxim of many a man—from poet to physician, gourmet to gastronome. Often their interest centers on one fruit in particular, the sun-blushed peach.

At no other time of the year is there such an abundance of peaches and other colorful fruits to add zest to an ordinary breakfast, and to give vitamins A and C to a growing family.

The popular peach with its succulent texture, refreshing fragrance and tree-ripe flavor is just the fruit to perk up any backward breakfaster. Especially in hot weather, light, colorful peaches are a "natural" to tempt the most heat-weary appetites.

Peaches are more abundant than last year as a better than average crop moves to market. Latest estimate from the Agricultural Marketing Service places the total crop at 75.8 million bushels. Nine southern states are producing nearly 14.5 million bushels, which will be marketed mostly as fresh fruit within the next 60 days.

Signs of maturity and best flavor in peaches are white or yellow background color and a fairly firm flesh. Peaches that look too green often will not ripen, lack flavor, and may even shrivel.

TO RIPEN PEACHES

A few clues to remember in home ripening are: Ripen at room temperature; peaches won't soften in the refrigerator. Once peaches become "tender to the touch," keep cool until ready to serve. Setting peaches in the sun may lead to shrivelling and possibly decay.

Don't peel peaches until ready for use to avoid darkening. Sprinkle lemon or other citrus juice over peeled fruit to keep its color.

Multitudes of breakfast dishes are inspired by peaches. These rosy-cheeked gems are at their best in such simple dishes as these:

Breakfast fruit cup: a colorful fresh eye-opener on a summer morning. Combine peach slices with raspberries, blackberries or strawberries. For added appeal, sift a sprinkling of confectioner's sugar over the fruits.

Broiled peaches: yummy with breakfast sausage, dressing up the platter and adding a flavor and color all their own. Any meat that is good for breakfast is even better with broiled peaches.

TO BAKE FRUIT

Baked peaches: favored in the Midwest when teamed with overlapping ham slices and buttered corn muffins. To prepare, bake whole, pared peaches in a sugar syrup until tender. Dot with butter and turn occasionally while baking.

Peach preserves: a favorite spread for biscuits. Preserves, jam, jelly and marmalade make a juicy, "peachy" addition to light, tender breads, toasts and muffins. Who could feel "too hot to be hungry" when these taste-tempters are on the table?

Cereal toppers: welcomed more during warm summer days when you use more crisp, ready-to-eat cereals. What could be a more perfect combination than crunchy bits of corn, wheat, or rice plus sweetened peach slices and cream.

Peaches in combination: add zest to waffles, cobblers, fritters, muffins, tarts and turnovers. To give a special caramelly fruit flavor to coffeecake, use peach slices, flour, brown sugar and dots of butter to create a delicious crumb topping.

Salad Dressing Lends Itself To Variations

Do you want to be creative with your cookery?

Begin with your salad dressing because it takes less time and less money than most creative cooking. But what an important role a salad dressing, made in your own kitchen, plays in a good meal!

All of the basic ingredients for salad dressings, especially vegetable oils, are in good supply throughout the country this season.

For the basic French dressing, combine 1½ cups salad oil, with ½ cup of vinegar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika and ½ teaspoon dry mustard.

Shake vigorously in a covered container or beat with an electric mixer. Lemon juice may be substituted for all or part of the vinegar if dressing is being created for fruit salads.

A few suggestions for varying the basic French dressing:

Onion French dressing: Add 2 tablespoons chopped onion and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce to 1 cup basic recipe.

Garlic French dressing: Add 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 whole garlic clove to ½ cup basic recipe. If a definite garlic flavor is desired, crush garlic into dressing, otherwise remove before serving.

Celery seed French dressing: Add ½ teaspoon celery seed, 2 teaspoons catsup, ¼ cup sugar and 1 garlic clove (remove before serving) to 1 cup of basic recipe.

Chive French dressing: Add 2 tablespoons finely chopped green chives to ½ cup basic recipe.

Blue cheese French dressing: Add ¼ cup crumbled blue cheese to 1 cup basic recipe.

Fancy Appetizer

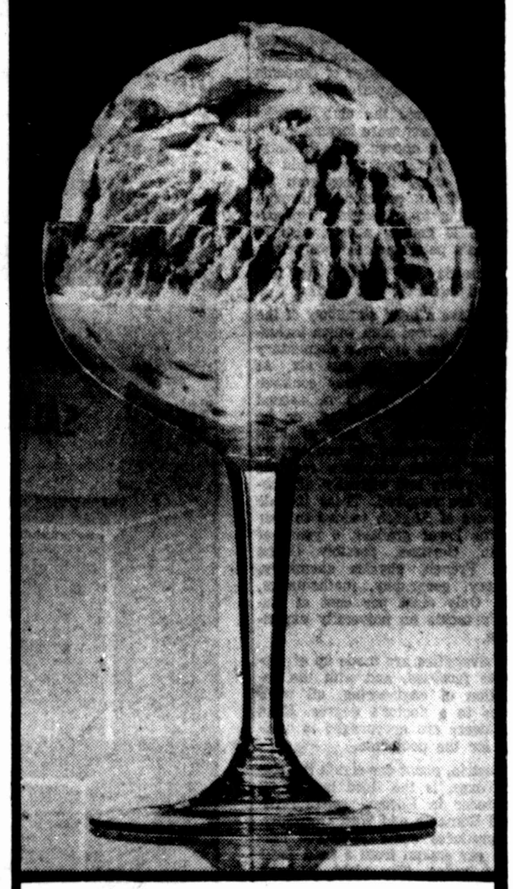

Cook extra asparagus stalks; marinate in olive oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper in the refrigerator. Serve with romain and hard-cooked egg (sliced) for a delicious appetizer.

Defeated Hyper-Tension

Phyllis Kirk enjoys doing a TV series, but tells in today's Hollywood Beauty how she won a battle with hyper-tension when she first began it. She is starred in "The Thin Man," an MGM creation.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

'Trim Figure' Style Welcomed By Phyllis

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Phyllis Kirk is one star who enjoys being in a TV series. "The Thin Man," in which she co-stars with Peter Lawford, is produced by MGM and given major studio production. All of Miss Kirk's clothes are designed by Academy Award winner Helen Ross.

"It pleases me that Helen is not the least concerned that I'm an 'A' cup girl," Phyllis revealed. "And she has never suggested that I use padding.

"What a welcome relief, having the fashion spotlight shift from bosoms to legs," she exclaimed. "A lovely well-shaped bustline is definitely an asset, but the emphasis on busts went too far. As one writer said, 'Malformation was being mistaken for sex!'

"With the fashion trends featuring the gamine type, no teenager needs to be self-conscious about not filling out her sweater.

"Lots of my mail is from teenagers — both boys and girls. I've had many compliments on my 'trim' and 'athletic' figure and my understated clothes."

Phyllis is from New York, where, before she became an actress, she was a fashion model.

"It was wonderful training," she exclaimed, "the best in the world! And all through the cleavage-trend I chose a covered-up look. You have to have courage to stay with a style you know does the most for you, even if you're all alone.

"I'm all for being an individual. I feel the greatest danger facing teen-agers today is their compulsion to conform. I feel extremely fortunate in having been encouraged by my parents to do my own thinking."

Phyllis and I were chatting in her living room, and I remarked that she seemed so relaxed. When she first came to Hollywood she was very high-strung.

"I'm the proof that relaxation can be acquired," she declared. "It takes discipline, patience and training. I have a tendency to worry, and when I started on live TV the demands were staggering. I came home from rehearsals so wound up I couldn't let down. I was too tired to eat and too exhausted to sleep.

"Listening to music had always been a relaxing pleasure, but when I was too jittery for that I realized suddenly that something had to be done. I decided to work out a relaxing program.

"I left a call to be awakened two hours before I was to be at the studio. Before getting out of bed I visualized a day without rushing. I saw myself doing everything in a leisurely tempo.

"After taking a warm bath, I lingered over my breakfast. During the day I searched for moments to relax. When I could I stretched out on the couch in my dressing room with my feet higher than my head. If I didn't have time to lie down, I tried to relax in other ways. I would stop for a minute, drop my head and rotate it — first in one direction and then the other.

"I had a bar put in my dressing room doorway, so I could hang on it. This is a wonderful release for tenseness around my neck and in my shoulder muscles. I tried breathing deeply and dropping my jaw limply until I began to yawn. There was not much time for any of these routines, but they all add up. I was still tired when I got home, but I wasn't so keyed-up that I couldn't let down. After a tepid bath I could eat my dinner and go to sleep without a pill."

RELAXATION

There is no place where the axiom "a stitch in time saves nine" applies more than in the release of tension. An ability to "let go" is a valuable safeguard against nervous exhaustion and the accompanying illnesses. Leaflet M-4, "How to Relax," is a fresh approach to the subject. With it you'll find yourself able to "command" your body to release tension. And it will! For your copy of this vital leaflet send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Another couple, home from three weeks of travel, was ready to fall to the ground and kiss good old Texas soil when they finally made the state line Monday. They are MR. AND MRS. CLEO RICHARDSON who have been in St. Paul, Minn., for the national railroad convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Ladies Society. Mrs. Richardson was the local delegate and attended meetings for two weeks.

During the meeting lulls, the couple enjoyed swimming and fishing in Forrest Lake along with the three other couples with whom they made most of the trip. The Richardsons also visited friends in Mt. Vernon, Mo.; Kansas City, Kans.; Medford and Chickasha, Okla., as well as sightseeing in Illinois, Wisconsin and Nebraska. They spent some time with his father in Dubuque, Iowa. Coming back to Texas the Oklahoma way, the two visited relatives in Vernon before returning here Tuesday.

• • •

MRS. BOONE HORNE furnished some of the most beautiful dahlias for a party recently. The bouquet in the receiving room was an eye catching arrangement of a deep cream colored variety and another was of fuschia combined with matching gladioli.

• • •

MRS. WAYNE MEDLIN and her little daughter, BECKY, are here for a visit with her parents, MR. AND MRS. KELLY BURNS and Sue. Sue has been visiting her sister at her home in Eagle Pass for the past two weeks and returned here with her. Mrs. Burns plans to accompany her daughter back home when she leaves Sunday morning.

Mrs. Medlin will attend the wedding of Sue White and Lloyd Robinson whose marriage will take place Saturday evening in the garden of the A. L. Cooper home where the Medlins were married several years ago.

• • •

ROBERT SMITH of Norman, Okla., is here for a visit with his father, Tracy Smith. Mrs. Smith plans to join them here Sunday.

• • •

MR. AND MRS. NOEL D. MARSALIS and CAROLYN have returned from a vacation trip to Mexico City.

• • •

MR. AND MRS. BUEL FOX and MR. AND MRS. G. L. WILEY and their daughter, Pat, will leave Saturday morning for their favorite vacation spot Pagosa Springs, Colo. They plan to be away for ten days.

• • •

MR. AND MRS. B. W. CUNNINGHAM and son, DANNY and daughter, BRENDA, of 703 E. 14th, are among the recent visitors to the Carlsbad Caverns National Park.

Buffet Is Courtesy For Engaged Pair

An informal dinner in the Tom Guin home Wednesday evening was a courtesy to a betrothed couple, Helen (Punky) Boyd and Gary Tidwell, who will be married on Aug. 7.

Parents of the pair are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Boyd, 1303 Runnels, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tidwell, 1510 Main.

Mr. and Mrs. Guin were joined by their son and daughter, Tom Henry and Jane, as hosts for the affair, at which a gift was presented to the honored couple.

Dinner was served from a buffet table, laid in white linen and bearing a Japanese arrangement of caladium leaves and dahlias. Copper and brass accessories added a bright note to the table setting.

Fourteen were guests for the party.

First Baptist GA Has Bible Study

Beliefs and symbolism of the Bible were explained for the Janet May Intermediate Girls Auxiliary of First Baptist Church Wednesday morning.

The group met in the home of Mrs. J. C. Pickle, where they heard the discussion of the subject by the Rev. Frank Pollard, assistant pastor of the church.

Plans for a slumber party were discussed and will be completed at the next meeting, set for Wednesday. Nine members were served refreshments.

Miss Majors Is Feted

A recent bridal shower in the home of Mrs. R. L. Hughey was an in-honor affair for Shirley Majors who will exchange wedding vows Sunday with Tommy McNallen in St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Parents of the betrothed pair are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Majors, 1216 Mulberry, and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McNallen, 1700 Purdue.

Mrs. J. M. Griffith, Mrs. E. M. Wright and Connie Fair shared hostess duties with Mrs. Hughey.

Dogwood blossoms combined with silver wedding bells for the centerpiece, against white lace. Milkglass appointments were used in serving the 40 guests.

Lana Lewis Joins Swimmers, Chorus

Lana Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Lewis, Marcy Drive, has been selected for membership in the Aquadux Club at Camp Arrowhead near Hunt. The club is a group of synchronized swimmers.

Miss Lewis has also been named a member of the Kickapoo Karolers, a singing group.

Mrs. Beck Is WMS Program Leader

Mrs. Haskell Beck led the Settles Baptist WMS in a Royal Service program on the French in Louisiana, Tuesday evening at Settles Baptist Mission. She read Acts 1:8 as the devotion.

The session opened with prayer by Mrs. W. C. Turner and a hymn. Introduced as new members were Mrs. L. M. Schafer and Mrs. Bill Thomas.

Henceforth, the women will have a business meeting on the second Tuesday of each month, reserving the fourth Tuesday for a social gathering.

The nine were dismissed after a season of prayer.

Arizonians Visit

Mrs. Bruce Robertson and daughters, Robbie and Karol of Phoenix, Ariz., are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Robbins. Mrs. Robertson is the former Shirley June Robbins.

Salad Supper Is Gesture Of Thanks

Choir members of the Baptist Temple staged a salad supper Tuesday evening at the recreation hall to express appreciation to their director, Joe Dunn, and the church organist, Mrs. H. M. Jarratt.

About 60 were seated at tables decorated with colored music notes and staffs. Games furnished diversion, and gifts were presented to the honorees.

Here We Go Again With A Whack At The Sack

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Yves Saint-Laurent, for Dior, cut the highest hemlines of the season today, some of them showing the kneecap in front, and even resurrected sacks.

He calls it all the "New Woman of 1960" look.

According to the 22-year-old heir to the late Christian Dior's fashion crown, this collection is deliberately aimed to be spectacular. But his show just doesn't go that far.

None of the new skirts is literally above the knee, and all curve down in the back.

Only a few of his boldest skirts show the kneecap in front, while a great many are at the top of the calf, and the big majority cover the knees completely.

In many evening models, Saint-Laurent brought back the sack.

Most new Dior creations are so flat-chested they look steamrollered, but some have the deep-down decolletage known as "cleavage."

Waists range from small and belted to undefined to simon-pure sack. The dress and suit silhouette is generally trimly streamlined, but full ⅞-length coats look like capes in black view.

Mannequins wore chokers of beads from chin to collarbone for what was a sort of giraffe-necked effect. Saucer-sized round earrings went with them. Shoes had peculiar bent-under needle heels and needle points.

Black is the top color, with reds and blues to cheer up the many browns, beiges and grays.

In the cocktail and evening clothes, many have long trains behind but are looped up the knee in front. The kneecaps play peek-aboo under draped and ruched strapless sheaths that fit like the skin to the hipline. One shock number was slit and draped up the right side so one whole kneecap showed when the wearer walked.

There were some elbow-length cape collars, and full cape coats with arm slits. Loose ⅞-length kimono sleeved coats were worn over matching dresses that imitated suits.

Pre-Nuptial Party Is Given Donna Greer

Pre-nuptial festivities for Donna Greer, bride-elect of James Clifton Raley, were launched Tuesday evening with a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Earnest Stewart.

Mrs. H. J. Rogers, Mrs. A. J. Allen, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Elgin Jones and Mrs. Louis Helms joined with members of the Faithful Workers Class of East Fourth Baptist Church in extending the hospitality.

Miss Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Greer of Eunice, N. M., will repeat nuptial vows with Raley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Raley, 809 East 15th, on Saturday.

About 30 guests registered in the bride's book which had been handpainted by Mrs. Raley. Presiding there were Carolyn Sewell and Sheila DeVoy.

Orchid underlaid white net on the refreshment table, where orchid petals led up to a bridal pair standing under an arch. Orchid roses bedecked the white cake, and punch was served from a crystal bowl.

Other members of the houseparty included Mrs. A. D. Alexander and June McElreath. The honoree's sister, Mrs. Roy Baker, stood with her and Mrs. Raley in the receiving line.

A novelty corsage featuring a tea strainer and a dish rag tied with pink ribbon was pinned to Miss Greer's frock of mauve lace.

Local DOES Assist In Pecos Ceremony

Several Big Springers were in Pecos Wednesday evening to assist in installation ceremonies for the new BPO Does drove.

From the local unit, Mrs. Bill Ragsdale served as deputy supreme conductress, while Mrs. Bill Gray stood in for the president. Mrs. Glen Gale was color bearer, and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins was attendant. Mrs. Bobby Plunket of the Amarillo drove, Texas West president, was installing president.

After the ceremony, the group was served a buffet supper.

Ragsdale accompanied the localites on the trip.

Penners In Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Penner, who returned home recently from an extended vacation trip to Washington, D. C., are both ill and hospitalized at Medical Arts. They are able, however, to have visitors. Here with them are his mother, Mrs. L. A. Penner of San Angelo, and her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Robinson and children of Wichita Falls.

Miscellaneous Gifts Are Presented At Bridal Tea

Mrs. Jerry Foresyth was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Earl Wilson when a group of hostesses joined in a compliment for her.

Mrs. Foresyth is the former Jan Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Webb, 701 Tulane; Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Foresyth, 1104 Nolan, are parents of the bridegroom.

Carnation corsages were presented to the honoree, to Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Foresyth, who formed a receiving line, headed by Mrs. Wilson.

Alternating in registering, serving and displaying gifts were the hostesses, Mrs. T. G. McAdams, Mrs. Luther Coleman, Mrs. Ray Eckler, Mrs. S. R. Nobies, Mrs. R. V. Crocker, Mrs. J. D. Hancock, Mrs. R. F. Bluhm, Mrs. Howard Lester, Mrs. O. T. Arnold.

Also, Mrs. Paul Bradley, Mrs. Hubert Johnson, Mrs. A. F. Gilliland, Mrs. A. D. Meador, Mrs. M. O. Hamby, Mrs. C. M. Weaver, Mrs. Mayor Shields, Mrs. D. P. Day, Mrs. R. J. Shields, Mrs. Douglas Boyd, Mrs. T. H. Amerson, Mrs. C. L. Roden, Mrs. C. R. Dunagan and Mrs. W. M. Gage.

A yellow and white theme was featured in the serving appointments and in the yellow cloth and arrangement of mums which was flanked by yellow tapers in silver holders. Napkins were inscribed with the names, Jan and Jerry.

For the tea, which included 175 guests, the bride chose a yellow chiffon frock.

This new sponge cake from London calls for cornstarch, and boasts an airy texture. With its low calorie count per portion, it is a boon to weight-watchers.

English Sponge Cake Piques Taste Buds

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This very very English cake should be a terrific American success.

To our knowledge, this is the first time a recipe quite like this one has ever been published in this country. So if you enjoy piquing taste buds, and are interested in cake-making development, here is your chance to be one of the first cooks in the United States to offer the London Sponge.

What's so different about the cake? It has the flavor and airy texture of good sponge cake, but it calls for no flour. Its secret ingredient is corn starch — the product the English name corn flour. Because corn flour is a little more refined than corn starch, it took a great deal of test-kitchen experimentation to work out this rule, so use the ingredients and proportions specified.

And weight-watchers take note. Cut the London Sponge and a standard chiffon cake (both unfrosted) each into 10 pieces; a portion of the sponge will have 122 calories, the chiffon 170. Enjoy the sponge and you will be 48 calories ahead.

In England, two-layer cakes such as this London Sponge are called "sandwiches" because usually they are filled with jam, sprinkled with castor (very fine granulated) sugar and served at teatime. If you want to turn the "sandwich" into a "gateau" as the British sometimes do, fill and top it with peaches and whipped cream.

LONDON SPONGE

Ingredients:

1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
2-3 cup sifted corn starch
3 eggs (separated)
⅛ tsp. cream of tartar
2 tbsps. water
½ tsp. vanilla

Method:

Sift together 3 times ½ cup sugar and the corn starch. Beat whites, cream of tartar and water in a large bowl with a rotary beater until peaks that bend over slightly form. Beat in remaining ½ cup sugar a little at a time; continue beating until stiff peaks form. Add egg yolks and vanilla; beat in just until blended. Fold in sugar-cornstarch a little at a time, making sure it is all blended.

Bake in two ungreased unlined round layer-cake pans (each 8 by 1¼ inches deep) in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until top springs back when touched lightly. Place pans on wire racks to cool. Cut cake edges away from sides of pans and ease out.

Stretch That Dollar With Fish And Eggs

Taking note of the oncoming rush of fresh fish and shellfish on the market and the heavy supply of eggs, particularly in the medium and large sizes, home economists have developed recipes combining the two. Hence, the housewife can not only have pleasant menu suggestions throughout the summer, but can stretch her budget dollar.

Try these recipes:

BAKED FILLETS, PUFFY CHEESE SAUCE

2 lbs. fillets, fresh or frozen
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 tbsp. chopped sweet pickle or pickle relish
¼ cup grated cheese
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 egg whites, beaten

Thaw frozen fillets. Cut into serving-size portions. Place in a single layer in a well - greased baking pan, 13x8x2 inches.

Combine mayonnaise, sweet pickle, cheese, and egg yolk. Fold in egg white. Cover fish with the sauce. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 30 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, and the sauce is brown. Serves six.

TUNA SOUFFLE

1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) tuna
¼ cup butter or other fat
¼ cup flour
½ tsp. salt
Dash pepper
1 cup milk
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ cup grated cheese
6 egg yolks, beaten
6 egg whites, beaten

Drain tuna. Flake. Melt butter; blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Add Worcestershire sauce, cheese, and tuna; continue heating until cheese melts.

Stir a little of the hot sauce into egg yolk; add to remaining sauce, stirring constantly. Fold into egg white. Pour into a well-greased, 2-quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 45 minutes or until souffle is firm in the center. Serves six.

Make Peach Jam All Year-Round

This quick peach jam is made from frozen peaches—either commercially packaged or sweetened home-processed fruit. So it is truly a jam that has no season—one that may be made at your leisure. And it's quick—no peeling or slicing of the fruit; and by using fruit pectin to jell the jam, you eliminate the long cooking time required for some jams.

This recipe—calls for peaches but you may use frozen red raspberries or sliced strawberries. However, if you substitute one of the berries, do not add the lemon juice the recipe calls for.

As you know, when fruit is frozen some sugar is added for its preservative as well as sweetening qualities. So it is important that the recommended proportions of all the ingredients in the recipe are followed accurately.

QUICK PEACH JAM

Defrost and measure into large saucepan:

2 2-3 cups peaches and juice (2 packages of the 10-oz. size will yield almost exactly the right amount; 2 packages of the 12-oz. size will yield less, add water to make 2 2-3 cups.)

Crush peaches partially, add:

2 tsps. lemon juice.

Measure and stir:

4 tbsp. powdered fruit pectin.

Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil.

At once stir in:

2½ cups beet sugar.

Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Ladle into sterilized glasses or jars. Seal.

Makes about five six-ounce glasses.

Garlic Bread

When you don't want to take the time to prepare regular gashed garlic bread, just rub a clove of crushed garlic over the crust before heating in the oven.

For Baked Fillets

Add minced chives and parsley to butter and use for fish fillets you are skillet cooking or baking.

Economy Beef

If you use a meat-tenderizer, you can pan-fry beef chuck.

Poach Apricots

When fresh apricots are in the market, poach them in a sugar syrup. They're delightful served with soft custard.

Lovers Are Accused In Wife's Slaying

WEST COVINA, Calif. (AP) — Carole Tregoff, snarled in what officials call a web of conflicting statements, is accused with her lover of murdering his socialite wife.

Police say the shapely ex-model incriminated herself by trying to shield her paramour.

Miss Tregoff, 22, and her lover, Dr. Bernard Finch, are charged with murder in the July 18 shooting of the wealthy surgeon's 33-year-old wife, Barbara.

Miss Tregoff was arrested in court Wednesday shortly after she sobbingly admitted at Dr. Finch's preliminary hearing that she loved him and had sexual relations with the 41-year-old surgeon.

The hearing continues today.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whichello said Miss Tregoff "tripped herself up" when she testified Tuesday about a leather case found near the Finch home after the shooting. Investigators described the case as a "do-it-yourself murder kit." It contained a hypodermic needle, sedatives, bullets, a knife and rope.

Miss Tregoff surprised authorities by testifying she took the case from her car at the Finch home when Dr. Finch asked her to get a flashlight. She identified some of the contents as household goods the doctor bought for her and said Finch carried weapons whenever he had narcotics in his car.

"She read in the newspapers about the murder kit and decided she had to account for it," Whichello said. "In the previous questioning, the bag never was mentioned.

"It is quite apparent now, when you take the entire picture of evidence and the relationship between the pair, that her testimony shows an active participation and aiding and abetting in this murder.

"These changes (in testimony), in themselves, show a concert of action between Miss Tregoff and Dr. Finch. I am satisfied they conspired together, and that she aided him in committing the crime.

"I believe their plan was to tie Mrs. Finch with rope, give her an injection of sedative, put her in her car and push the car off the cliff (in front of the Finch house)."

He said he believes the plan went awry when the Finches' maid appeared in response to Mrs. Finch's screams for help. Mrs. Finch was found, shot in the back, on the slope of a cliff near the Finches' $65,000 home.

Police said they asked Miss Tregoff why she changed her account and quoted her as replying: "I had my reasons."

When newsmen tried to interview Miss Tregoff in the West Covina police station, she hid her face under a mop of bright red hair and sobbed.

Her arrest climaxed a stormy session on the witness stand as the prosecutor probed her relationship with Finch.

Senate Version Of Tax Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate version of the general tax bill approved 22-9 Wednesday night, and sent back to the House:

Motor vehicle sales tax — increased from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent, $15,500,000; cigarettes—increased from 5 to 8 cents a pack, $64,458,000; tobacco products—snuff exempt, $14,500,000; special fuels—better enforcement, $300,000; utilities gross receipts—increased 20 per cent, telephone and telegraph omitted, $3,100,000;

Corporation franchise tax — 75 cents increase for one year, 50 cents for second year, present formula, $32,500,000; boats and motors — 1.5 per cent retail sales, $2,800,000; air conditioners — 3 per cent retail on cooling units only, $7,525,000; radios, TV, phonographs and components — 3 per cent retail, $8,200,000;

Jewelry and furs — 3 per cent on items over $25, $5,000,000; hotel rooms — 3 per cent on occupancy, $6,600,000; liquor tax — increased from $1.408 to $1.68 and wine increased 20 per cent a gallon, $6,334,000.

The bill decreases present revenue by $90,000 for 1960-61 by reducing theater admission rates and $604,000 by revision and repealing a number of minor occupation taxes.

Money Losing Out To Credit Cards

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Plain old money is losing out to the credit card on local buses.

The Lehigh Valley Transit Co. announced Wednesday a "charge-a-fare" plan for bus rides in this northeastern Pennsylvania area.

Passengers may use any one of three types of cards, depending on the service they want. Company president A. M. Williams says the credit plan will create bookkeeping problems, but also boost business.

A Devotional For Today

Now to him who is able to keep you from falling and to present you without blemish before the presence of his glory and rejoicing, . . . be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority, before all time and now and for ever. Amen. (Jule 24, 25. RSV.)

PRAYER: Our loving Father, we thank Thee that Thou are love. We thank Thee that with Thee is help when we stumble. Forgive us for falling so often. Steady our steps. In the name of Thy Son. Amen.

Squawking That Gets Results

"The wheel that does the squeaking gets the grease" is an old saying.

When Vice President Nixon and Adm. Hyman Rickover went aboard the Soviet icebreaker Lenin at Leningrad Monday to look over the Soviet's first known atom-powered craft they were rushed along by local authorities, refused any close approach to the vessel's nuclear-powered engines.

Adm. Rickover, whose boiling point is low on all occasions, exploded. He protested that when Soviet First Deputy Premier Kozlov visited the U. S. recently he was shown everything about one of our atom-powered ships, and given a close-up inspection of the nuclear reactor at Shippingport, Pa.

He demanded the same privilege for himself, and Nixon backed him up.

There was some delay, but after Leningrad had checked with Moscow the admiral got his wish fulfilled—he was allowed to walk right up to the nuclear engines of the icebreaker.

He said the plant looked first class, adequate for the job it's supposed to do. But "it does not represent an advance in the reactor art."

Maybe Ike should send the doughty admiral to the next Geneva conference. He knows how to get along with the Russians: be as tough and irascible as they are.

He Can't Live On Promises

To no one's surprise Fidel Castro accepted the "mandate" of the Cuban masses and returned to the premiership of that strife-torn country last weekend.

His manipulation of the deal was along familiar lines, and the purpose was clear: to create by theatrical means a great clamor from the people that he save them from oppression and hunger.

There was oppression in Cuba at the hands of Fulgencio Batista, only one of several dictator-type strongmen of Cuba. If the Cuban people had not been oppressed and robbed there would have been no occasion for a Castro revolution.

An estimated million Cubans from the depressed rural areas poured into Havana in response to Castro's plea for support. This demonstration of "solidarity" was essential to Castro's continuance, for his revolution had gone partly in reverse even among some of his devoted followers, and Cuba's economic and financial situation was worsening by the day.

He needed a fresh "mandate," and he got it by spectacular methods. He took up the reins of power once more—he had never really laid them down—and he repeated the unkept and impossible promises he had made before. As is the way of deluded followers, the fresh promises were swallowed whole.

But of course Castro cannot deliver. Cuba's main crops are sugar and tourists. The price of sugar is 2.55, the lowest in 18 years. Castro's confiscatory land program has brought chaos to the countryside. That and other wild-eyed schemes have scared foreign investors away. The unsettled state of the country has all but dried up the tourist crop.

Castro's high-handed booting out of the president will scare off other responsible and able Cubans who might help him straighten things out if given a chance; there are many such, but few of them would accept posts of responsibility under Castro.

Castro can't live indefinitely on promises made to the Cuban masses. He can't surround himself with responsible and respected men, for he has shown himself to be irresponsible and capricious and few would care to trust thim.

Fidel Castro's days as a power in Cuba are numbered—numbered by his own folly and excesses.

Our Concern For Oppressed Peoples

WASHINGTON—Maybe there ought to be a "Captive Nations Year" instead of a "Captive Nations Week." Then the protest will be continuous instead of once a year.

Evidently those fainthearted in our midst who think it was a bad idea for the Congress of the United States to proclaim American ideals to the peoples of the world and utter words of sympathy to the oppressed don't know that similar protests have been perennial in American history. Or else they are so afraid of offending Khrushchev that they are willing to appease him still more by criticizing what Congress did.

A glance at the record will show that the Democratic and Republican parties have for more than 70 years inserted from time to time planks in their national platforms expressing the sympathy of the American people for oppressed peoples abroad. It has become so natural for this to be done by both parties that the Congress earlier this month spent only a few minutes debating the joint resolution which subsequently aroused the ire of the Communist imperialists in Moscow.

In 1892, both the Republican and Democratic party platforms condemned the Russian government for the mistreatment of its people. The Democratic platform plank, entitled "sympathy for the oppressed," read as follows:

"This country has always been the refuge of the oppressed from every land—exiles for conscience's sake—and, in the spirit of the founders of our government, we condemn the oppression practiced by the Russian government upon its Lutheran and Jewish subjects, and we call upon our national government, in the interest of justice and humanity, by all just and proper means, to use its prompt and best efforts to bring about a cessation of these cruel persecutions in the dominions of the czar, and to secure to the oppressed equal rights.

"We tender our profound and earnest sympathy to those lovers of freedom who are struggling for home rule and the great cause of local self-government in Ireland."

The Republican national platform in the same year, under the title "championing the oppressed," had this plank:

"The Republican party has always been the champion of the oppressed, and recognizes the dignity of manhood, irrespective of faith, color or nationality. It sympathizes with the cause of home rule in Ireland, and protests against the persecution of the Jews in Russia."

In 1896, the Republican platform had a plank saying: "The Armenian massacres (by the Turks) have aroused the deep sympathy and just indignation of the American people, and we believe that the United States should exercise all the influence it can properly exert to bring these atrocities to an end."

Then, in 1900, the Democratic platform had a plank expressing sympathy with the efforts of the Boers of South Africa to gain "liberty and independence" from British rule.

In 1920, the Democratic national platform contained a plank "expressing its active sympathy with the people of China, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Yugoslavia, Poland, Persia, and others who have recently established representative government." Another plank expressed sympathy with the efforts of the Irish people to get their freedom, and still another plank called on the American government to "render every possible and proper aid to the unfortunate people of Armenia."

The year 1944 saw the first plank from the Republicans calling for a "free and democratic commonwealth" in Palestine. Then, in 1948, the Democrats had a plank, too, "looking forward to the admission of the state of Israel to the United Nations." The Republicans in their platform that year also had a plank proclaiming friendship with the people of Palestine.

The 1956 Republican platform said:

"We shall continue to seek the reunification of Germany in freedom, and the liberation of the satellite states—Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia and other, once-free countries now behind the Iron Curtain. The Republican Party stands firmly with the peoples of these countries in their just quest for freedom. We are confident that our peaceful policies, resolutely pursued, will finally restore freedom and national independence to oppressed peoples and nations."

The 1956 Democratic plank said in part: "We declare our deepest concern for the plight of the freedom-loving peoples of Central and Eastern Europe and of Asia, now under the yoke of Soviet dictatorship. The United States, under democratic leaders, has never recognized the forcible annexation of Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, or condoned the extension of the Kremlin's tyranny over Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Albania and other countries. We look forward to the day when the liberties of all captive nations will be restored to them and they can again take their rightful place in the community of free nations."

It's an old story with America, but somehow Nikita Khrushchev hasn't heard of it.

Pint-Size Rocket

DENVILLE, N. J. (AP)—A tiny rocket that can punch a hole in a brick wall from 100 yards away has been developed.

Dynamic Devices Inc. claims the 11-inch 6-pound rocket and two slightly larger rockets it has developed could be used in anything ranging from police work to drilling for oil.

The rocket, when mass produced, will cost about $75 and may be retrieved after firing and used over and over, the company says.

U.S.-Russ Visits Should Have Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — A look-see is a good eye-opener.

The exchange visits of Americans and Soviets—particularly officials—may have no immediate, visible results. Long - range, the thinking of both governments should be clarified and affected.

The Soviet Union's two deputy premiers, Frol R. Kozlov and Anastas I. Mikoyan, came this year to the United States where there is no broad discontent except perhaps on the racial issue. They looked around, and found a degree of prosperity the Soviets can only dream of.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon has visited the U.S.S.R. and—so far as American news reports from there indicate—found hordes of cheerful, hardworking Soviet citizens who showed no broad discontent with their government or their way of life.

Most Soviet citizens now alive never knew any other government or way of life, and life is getting better for them in material things.

In both cases what the officials saw should affect the thinking of their governments, particularly wishful thinking. And what the officials found can be multiplied many times by what the non-official visitors see in both countries.

The late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who shaped American foreign policy, seemed taken with the idea a number of times that if this country could keep up its "containment" policy long enough the Soviet edifice might topple.

He even went so far one time as to tell a congressional committee the Soviet system was on the point of collapsing. President Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty later had to explain Dulles didn't really mean collapsing.

Yet this attitude of Dulles, who never got a look around the Soviet Union raises a question: What would his thinking, and perhaps even some aspects of his foreign policy, have been if he had gotten an inside look?

Dulles, like Soviet leaders who are convinced capitalistic societies will eventually collapse, was a victim of his own wishful thinking. He and they wanted to believe that they were seeing what they wanted to see.

President Eisenhower is known to feel there are considerable pressures within the Soviet Union which might persuade the Kremlin to accept a tension - easing agreement.

That makes sense and is a long way from envisioning a Soviet collapse.

It is reasonable to believe that the more the Soviets learn about the material advantages of the people in the non-communist countries, the more they will want the same, and the more the pressure on their masters to meet their desires.

It's also reasonable to believe that as more Soviet citizens are educated they will feel an increased right to assert themselves in the conduct of a government which affects them. Travel is a part of their education.

The exchange visits which bring more and more Soviet citizens to this country — where they get a close-up view of what personal freedom means—should be a force shaping attitudes when they return home.

But again it would be wishful thinking to believe that Soviet citizens would want or would accept everything they see in American life.

For instance, they might feel repelled by a system which, unlike theirs, does not provide security from the cradle to the grave.

In short, there may be some things, but not all, which visiting Soviets might consider an improvement on their own system. By the same token, Americans visiting the U.S.S.R. may feel the same about what they see there.

In a long history of men, minds and governments there is a steady evolution, even though it may look painfully slow. No people or government can escape it.

So while this country may feel that letting Soviet citizens come here may be an effective way of bringing about changes in the Soviet Union, American visits to the U.S.S.R. may affect American thinking, too.

To think otherwise would be to assume there is nothing good in the Soviet Union and that everything is perfect here.

Security In Pets

NEW YORK (AP)—Looking for a sense of security? Bandleader Ted Steele gives a tip.

"Get interested in something besides your job," he advises. "Develop a hobby — and make it pay.

"This outside security even helps you in your career by giving you more peace of mind. It has worked for me. I have been 25 years in show business, and I have never been out of a job."

Steele, once a $65-a-month NBC page boy, now is in the six-figure income bracket. An all-around performer, he has written some 30 songs, made more than 100 recordings.

A vocalist, pianist and organist as well as a bandleader, he also doubles as an emcee and newscaster. Ted currently carries one of the heaviest schedules in the radio-TV field. He is on the air 25 hours a week.

But he has always believed in having "something outside" working for him. For years he ran a 300-acre dairy farm in Bucks County, Pa. He sold it when hired hands became too hard to find.

Now he operates two pet shops on the East Side here.

Between entertainment chores Steele likes to visit his shops, which stock everything from 5-cent guppies to $500 white poodles.

He finds it relaxing — and profitable — to spend an hour or so each day in this small world of singing mules — canaries cross-bred with wild goldfinches; kissing gouramis — fish from Honolulu, and black Japanese waltzing mice.

"The pet shops give me an added feeling of security, too," he says. "I know that, if I had to, I could make a living from them."

Ted numbers among his clients doctors, dentists, many society notables, and such entertainment figures as Anna Magnani, June Valli, Carol Haney and Lloyd Nolan.

Pets with wealthy owners today live in a special world of privilege. Some dogs arrive in chauffeur-driven cars for a beauty treatment that can cost up to $25.

White poodles who like to wear toenail polish now have a choice of more than a dozen colors. The canine set also can put on the dog with its own txuedo collars, top hats, ankle bracelets, necklaces and cashmere sweaters.

"Many of the dogs have better wardrobes than their mistresses," said Steele.

Steele says his accountant is still grumbling over his decision to go into the pet business.

"He thought if I needed an outside interest I should get interested in telephone stocks.

"But telephone stock can't lick you in the face when you're feeling low."

Around The Rim

How's Your Spelling Ability, Pal?

Recommend — is it two Cs and one M or vice versa? It is judgment or judgement? If you don't know, usually you will have trouble finding out.

It's all part of the big game of spelling of which many of us are the losers. And the number of poor or not-so-good spellers is large. A recent survey was taken by a youth research firm concerning spelling, and of 627 youngsters polled, only 53 per cent of them considered themselves good spellers.

Another 30 per cent said they were fair while 17 per cent said their spelling was pretty hopeless. Out of the same 627 however, 90 per cent placed a high value on spelling.

The teen-agers were unanimous in thinking that spelling is one of the principal ways of judging a person. One of the boys said that misspelling is as bad as being illiterate.

Watch your correspondence and notice how many words are misspelled. Of course on occasions these errors can be blamed on typing, but not always. Many people of public life are not good spellers and produce glaring errors.

Blame has been placed on schools, teachers and word irregularities, but probably the central reason is the lack of interest shown in spelling while attending school.

Today speed is emphasized constantly in work, play, school; and spelling is a subject which cannot be hurried. If a person can get by with shorter words, such as thru, when rushing through a report or typing a letter, what difference will it make? The ones who will read it will know what is meant.

In addition, the apparent lack of time prevents students — as well as adults — from looking up words which are incorrctly spelled. Why worry, someone else will catch it if it is wrong.

Industry's use of incorrect spelling as trade names naturally has its influence on younger spellers. Use of creme, reddy for ready, blu for blue, heet for heat, etc., have come to be generally accepted, and youngsters reach the place where they consider these spellings correct.

The group of youngsters polled by the Gilbert Youth Research Co. came up with one thing which can correct irregularities in spelling — concentration. One of the better spellers said there was no trouble if a person would think about what he was doing.

Maybe more things besides spelling could be solved by thinking.

A Brave Man Tells Off The Gals

My nomination for Man of the Year, although 1959 is scarcely half over, is herewith firmly recorded. No man, in the remaining months of the year, can possibly top Colonel Charles Johnstone, 43, for first place.

Colonel Johnstone is the public hero who recently told the wives, mothers, sisters, cousins and the aunts of U. S. Air Force men stationed in Tokyo to appear decently clad in public on the base, or else.

This paragon among officers has stationed a sergeant at the commissary door to refuse admission to American female dependents, young, old, or middlin', who show up half to two-thirds naked in brief bathing suits or skimpy halters and skimpier shorts.

Pedal pushers, skin-tight blue jeans and sloppy slacks come under the same ukase. The colonel, commanding officer of the 6,000th Support Wing, has given the women fair warning that if they defy his instructions and enter any public building on the base in the above undress, their respective identity cards will be checked for appropriate follow-up action.

Hurrah for the intrepid colonel! All he is asking of the women, young and old, is that they look like ladies in public, a campaign I would like to see extended to service and civilian females in the continental U. S. A., too.

If American women at home and abroad are so lacking in the fundamentals of good taste, so bereft of good breeding, that they appear in public like the finale of a burlesque strip-tease, then we can use more Colonel Johnstones both here and overseas.

Granted, there is nothing like a dame. But there can be too much of a good thing when it swarms over the top and under the bottom of a tight halter and dangerously bulges the seams of levis and slacks fighting to hold their own.

We have swung from Whistler's Mother to Auntie Mame on the half shell. Yet aesthetic reasons alone should compel 999 women out of a thousand to conceal rather than reveal nature's injustices. It is difficult to understand why middle-aged women, spreading in all directions, can't get it through their pincurls that clothes are a blessing in disguise, invented by a great humanitarian.

Churches are beginning to fight bathing beauty contests, with their stress on undress (and never mind all the attendant hokum about "talent" qualifications, too. Is there a Miss America at the Met? Or one crowding Helen Hayes?)

Perhaps, in time, the light will be seen even by those who wring their hands over juvenile delinquency while beating their hands into blisters when drum majorettes appear in public in less than Gunga Din. To me, nudism is a lot preferable to the public demi-dress tease.

Few things are more irritating than half-clad women in street or store who have the cheek to complain of unwelcomed attentions from the opposite sex. What are men supposed to think, except that the gals are as light as their clothing?

Five years ago, Colonel John R. Dillev, then detachment commander of U. S. Forces in Frankfurt, Germany, anticipated Colonel Johnstone by barring all U. S. female dependents from public buildings on the post unless the women wore at least enough to flag a train in an emergency.

Both colonels were intensely concerned with the American image which feminine undress imprints on the foreign mind. It ain't good; the image, that is. And I hope both colonels, in turn, grow up to be chief of staff.

Steel Strike In Waiting Period

WASHINGTON — Although the realists are aware that the political consequences may be deadly, the Eisenhower Administration is prepared to wait out the steel strike. At the end on four or five weeks the government may intervene by invoking the Taft-Hartley 80-day cooling-off period, but this is by no means certain.

Reports of record profits of the steel companies in the second quarter of this year provide a backdrop for the resentment of the steel workers. They throw into sharp relief President Eisenhower's challenge to industry and labor to use self-restraint in checking inflation.

Whatever he may feel privately about the way in which the situation has been handled, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell is maintaining the judicious calm that is his hallmark. He points out that a great many of the steel workers have been, in the first two weeks of the strike, on paid vacations which they earned under the union-industry contract now expired.

With inventories as large as they are, steel users will not begin to feel the pinch for at least a month. This being the case, as Mitchell argues it, there will be time enough to consider using the Taft-Hartley weapon when the economic pinch begins to be felt.

To support his case, Mitchell cites the steel strike of 1952. President Truman came down hard on the side of the steel workers, invoking the 80-day cooling-off clause to keep the mills going. Yet that strike lasted for 54 days in the middle of the Korean War, when the demand for steel was at least as great as it is today.

In calling for the 80-day cooling-off period, the government must establish that a national emergency requires it. This, in Mitchell's view, could not be done today. Moreover, it can be used only once. If nothing is changed at the end of the 80 days, then the strike is resumed. That was what happened in 1952.

Whatever trouble David J. McDonald may have had inside his United Steelworkers Union with the prospect of a long and unpopular strike has been largely resolved by the attitude of the companies. This again is the view of the realists, who see which way the political winds are about to blow.The company demand for uniform labor conditions in all plants has caused deep resentment.

The fact-finding operation Mitchell is directing looks like a device to fill in the time until the government feels justified in intervening directly. With the resources for accumulating information on a day-to-day basis to be found not only in the Labor Department but in a half dozen other government agencies, there would seem to be little new that could be added. In any event, the fact-finding results carefuly presented in statistical tables will not mean much to the average citizen.

Steel is a set piece in President Eisenhower's campaign against inflation. But with the cost of living index holding stationary, except for fractional seasonal changes on food, the campaign must seem to the ordinary householder a pretty academic business. The grocery bill is just about the same as it was six months or a year ago, and that is the test.

By his insistent cry of inflation, when it could not be detected by the householder, the President has raised doubt and uncertainty. The danger is real enough in terms of rising interest rates and the determined struggle of another Cabinet member, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, to set the government's fiscal house in order. But the householder will not discover what it means until a few months from now when he buys a house or a car.

Steel's big profits have given McDonald a wonderful talking point and he has not been slow to take advantage of it. With steelworkers walking the picket line as steel profits make the headlines, this, in the elementary vocabulary of the politician, is a gut issue.

The explanations and qualifications — comparing boom-time quarter profits with a recession-time quarter, the need to accumulate capital for further expansion, etc, etc.—will have little effect. Profits and expansion are linked with another gut issue — automation and the capacity of a greatly reduced work force to turn out more steel.

These are the things that hit home. Short of a major disaster in foreign policy — war or a crushing diplomatic setback — they are the things which will determine the outcome of next year's election.

Preaches, But No Practice

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP)—George Zuckerman steadfastly refuses to practice what he preaches.

For the past 27 years he has been the press agent trumpeting the praises of this famous beach resort.

Yet he has never gone swimming here.

"I'm too busy on the job," he says. "The only time I can go swimming is when I'm vacationing down in Miami."

Unwelcome Passenger

EAST ALTON, Ill. (AP)—During a recent flight, pilot Leo Seren peered into the instrument panel. A snake peered back.

Seren flicked on the automatic pilot and leaped to rear seat of his four-seater plane.

Just before the plane reached East Alton, the reptile slithered back into the dark confines of the panel. Seren lost no time landing.

Airport mechanics — wearing gloves—dismantled the panel and gingerly lifted out an 18-inch snake, later identified as an Anaconda.

Seren figures it crawled aboard when the plane was in Mexico.

TOP PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED IN TOURNEY

Probably the finest group of prizes ever to be awarded in a local meet will go up for grabs in the annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament, which will be staged here Sept. 4-5-6-7.

The tournament committee headed by Gil Jones, in session Wednesday at the Cosden Country Club, voted to award a set of irons to the winner of each flight, a set of woods to the runnerup of each flight and a golf bag to the consolation winner in each flight.

In addition, the winner of each flight will earn a suitable trophy while the medalist will gets a $50 gift certificate, which can be redeemed at the pro shop.

Entry fee for the meet has been boosted to $15 from $12.50. A ticket, of course, will permit the player to attend the barbecue, cocktail party and dance held in conjunction with the meet. Jones said most of the other area tournaments are now charging $15 as the admission fee and he felt like the local meet was as good as the best.

Putting and driving tournaments will be held in conjunction with the meet. The Ladies Golf Assn. will be asked to conduct the putting tournament on the Saturday during the tournament, after match play has been completed for the day.

Entry fee for the putting and driving contests will be $1 each. Prizes will be a dozen, half dozen and three golf balls to the winners in each meet.

In the driving tournament, also planned for Saturday, the participant will hit three balls and only those which remain in the fairway will count. The winner will be determined by the longest ball hit.

A special effort will be made to lure contestants here from all over the state. Jones said he hoped that this would be the biggest tournament ever staged by the club, since it will be the last one planned for the present site. The club is moving to a new location before next spring.

The championship flight will again consist of 32 players and the winner will be determined on a match play basis, rather than by medal play.

Other flights will be designated by name rather than number, it was decided.

Present plans call for the first five flights to be played in their entirety at the Country Club. First two rounds of the other flights will be unreeled at the Muny course, in order to ease the congestion at the Country Club. Last year, the Webb AFB course was used by the lower flights but it is now undergoing repairs.

It was also planned to conduct a senior flight, for players 50 years of age and older, if even interest is generated in such a division. The winner of that division would be determined in 54 holes of medal play and competition will end by Sunday, Sept. 6.

The older players, of course, will decide for themselves whether they want in the special flight after they post their qualifying scores.

The Senior Flight players will play all rounds at the Country Club, according to present plans.

Directors of the club are planning to provide temporary housing of some sort at the club. A fire gutted the club house, ball room and locker rooms several weeks ago.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Auburn was adjudged the finest football team in the land two seasons ago. LSU earned a similar distinction last autumn and Ole Miss is being regarded as No. 1 among all the grid powers this year but it strikes me that no team in Dixie will earn the mythical crown in 1959, or for several years to come.

For one thing, the balance of voting strength is not in the Southland but in the Midwest. For another, voters everywhere believe in passing the laurel around. And, for another, LSU got the brickbats rather than the bouquets in its Sugar Bowl struggle with Clemson last Jan. 1—and sports writers have elephantine memories.

The squawks that the Baton Rouge Bengals were a highly overrated group echoed and re-echoed around the country following the luckless afternoon it experienced Jan. 1 in New Orleans. Even their most rabid boosters conceded that Paul Dietzel's boys were lucky to get by Clemson, 7-0.

It was generally conceded, at least by Midwestern writers, that the Iowa team which pummelled California in Pasadena's Rose Bowl game could have run LSU off the field, had they met on common soil.

Big Ten writers fussed and fumed about the manner in which the vote for the nation's top teams went but, by that time, it was too late.

I figure they'll try to right a so-called wrong this year.

The Nabors Paint Store softball team of Big Spring won the District 6 ASA softball crown in Sterling City last week but received no hint of financial help that would enable them to compete in the State meet at Brownwood.

Usually, the tournament committee helps defray expenses for the title team to the State meet, using funds taken in at the gate in their tournament for such a purpose.

Officials of the Nabors' team estimate it will require about $200 to get the team to Brownwood. Right now, the money isn't in sight.

"We simply don't have the time to give them a thorough tryout. Somebody would suffer from a lack of attention."

Gridders Will Play On Lush Gridiron

By BOBBY HORTON

Big Spring high school and junior high gridders will take their practice knocks on a plush, dense turf this season, thanks to recent rains and summer care by school maintenance men.

"The field is in the finest shape, probably, than I have ever seen it," said head football coach Al Milch. "I thought it was in excellent shape last year, but it's even better now."

One practice field, immediately north of the high school campus is, in fact, in such good shape that Mitch is figuring on using it for daily workouts. That's provided the new fieldhouse is completed on schedule as is expected, and provided the machinery being used doesn't pack or rip up the sod.

Junior high teams then could use the old stadium field perhaps. Because much time was taken in sodding the Goliad Junior High campus, that football field will probably have to wait another season for turf.

Game scrimmages will be held on the old stadium grass, however, added Milch.

The first day of workout is Aug. 28 Triple A schools didn't have spring training and get the jump on Aug. 16. Milch expects to hold a scrimmage midway of the first Steer workout week with Monahans.

The fields will be in shape long before. Two tons of fertilizer were applied to the practice, old stadium and Memorial fields this week.

The same application will be repeated again about a week before the first game.

The key to the excellence of the grasses, however, has been the rain. Not only has it released workers from shifting sprinklers so they might now, cut, level and clean — but the cost has been cut tremendously.

"Just offhand I'd say we've saved about $600 over the past two months on the water bill," said maintenance supervisor Bill Gray. "In fact, we only began watering again Tuesday."

The fields will be irrigated alternately since sprinklers have to be shifted. The Runnels-Goliad turf and baseball area north of the old stadium field take from two to three days watering.

The Rain-Mobile setup on the Memorial Stadium field does a quicker job. The rig is a cable wench which moves the sprinklers downfield as water turns a gear. This not only provides the grass with sufficient moisture but also dampens the college track, which must be kept wet the year-round.

On all the fields, an aerofier which punches holes in the sod every few inches prevents runoff and allows the ground to take a maximum of water.

Other tasks have been fulfilled by the maintenance crews this summer, among them the widening of the goal posts from 18 feet, 6 inches to 26 feet, 4 inches.

The new regulation passed last season is hoped will induce more field goal attempts among high school teams.

During school a six-man team will have charge of the fields. They will line the fields at 10-yard intervals, and add hash marks and extra-point attempt lines. First kerosene is sprayed along the lines to help kill the grass. Then a line cutter will dig the inches-wide strips which will be painted with lime to provide fans with an attractive and readily visible picture.

Probably the biggest problems maintenance crews had to tackle, says Gray, were keeping many practice golfers and local baseballers from tramping the grass and keeping the turf level and mowed.

Haney Not Happy With All-Stars

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney is satisfied but not completely happy about the makeup of his National League squad for the season's second All-Star game with the American League next Monday in Los Angeles.

The little skipper who has piloted the Milwaukee Braves to two straight pennants figures a misunderstanding has cost his talent-packed squad a couple of deserving players.

LEAGUE ALL-STARS

Sanderson Solid Choice For Team

Red Sanderson, stellar pitcher for Foremost, was the only unanimous choice for this year's YMCA Industrial Softball League all - star team as released today.

Three of his teammates made the grade for the first nine: Pete Sanderson, first base, Johnny King, second base, and Freddy Blalack, third base.

First choice for the sportsmanship award was Tarbox-Gossett's James Tudor.

Cortez And Davis Pace Fem Scorers

The T-33's bombed the Goofers, 4-0, in weekly bowling action of the Tuesday Tumblers league. The Shoudda Beens beaned the Matronettes, 4-0, and the Merry Mixers stayed abreast of the pack with a 3-1 victory at the expense of the Kool Kats.

Nadene Cortez had a 199 high game for the Mixers, and Melba Davis had high series of 486 including a 175 game. Virginia Pickett's 476 series was good for second.

The Merry Mixers compiled a 639 high team game, and the T-33's were a few pins back with 593.

Splits were converted by Clifford Price, Mixers, 6-10-7; Virginia Pickett, Mixers, 3-10; Nadene Cortez, Mixers, 3-10; Woodie Winn, Mixers, 2-7; Betty Smith, T-33's, 5-7; Marie Raughley, Goofers, 3-12; and Pat Drake, Shoulda Beens, 5-7.

Standings:

Team	W	L
Mixers	20	8
T-33's	17	11
Shoudda Beens	15	13
Matronettes	13	15
Kool Kats	11	17
Goofers	8	20

Ringey Seeks Fire Lighter

SAN FRAICISCO (AP) — "It just takes one guy to light a fire. It might be anybody. If we could just get one guy hitting, just one guy to get two or three hits then everybody would come around."

Manager Bill Rigney bemoaned the lack of hitting on his San Francisco Giants, a club that came home last week 3½ games ahead of the National League and then went into a tailspin with nobody hitting. Five times in eight games they have gone down to defeat.

Wednesday the last place Phillies knocked them out of first place with a 3-1 victory coupled with Los Angeles 2-0 night triumph over Pittsburgh. The Dodgers thus vaulted into the lead.

Willie Mays, usually the biggest Giant of them all with the bat, slumps along at a .294 average. Wednesday Willie came to bat in the eighth with Jimmy Davenport on first and two out. Young Don Cardwell struck him out with a sidearm delivery low but in the strike zone.

Orlando Cepeda, the only San Francisco batter over .300, collected solo homers the past two days but they weren't enough. The last place Phils won the opener 3-2 and Wednesday made it two in a row.

"We don't need good luck charms the way our pitchers are pitching," declared Rigney. "They're pitching like hell. We just need a couple of doubles back to back."

Practice Is Key To Air Success

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Practice — that's the key to passing, says Buddy Humphrey of Baylor who is demonstrating his throwing skill in the College All Star football camp.

Buddy estimates that he threw 10,000 passes in keeping his arm limber last summer as he warmed up for the 1958 season. The long sessions paid off. He led the nation in passing with 112 completious out of 195 attempts and surpassed Southwest Conference marks set by Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien.

Five Quarterbacks Bidding For Regular Jobs With NY

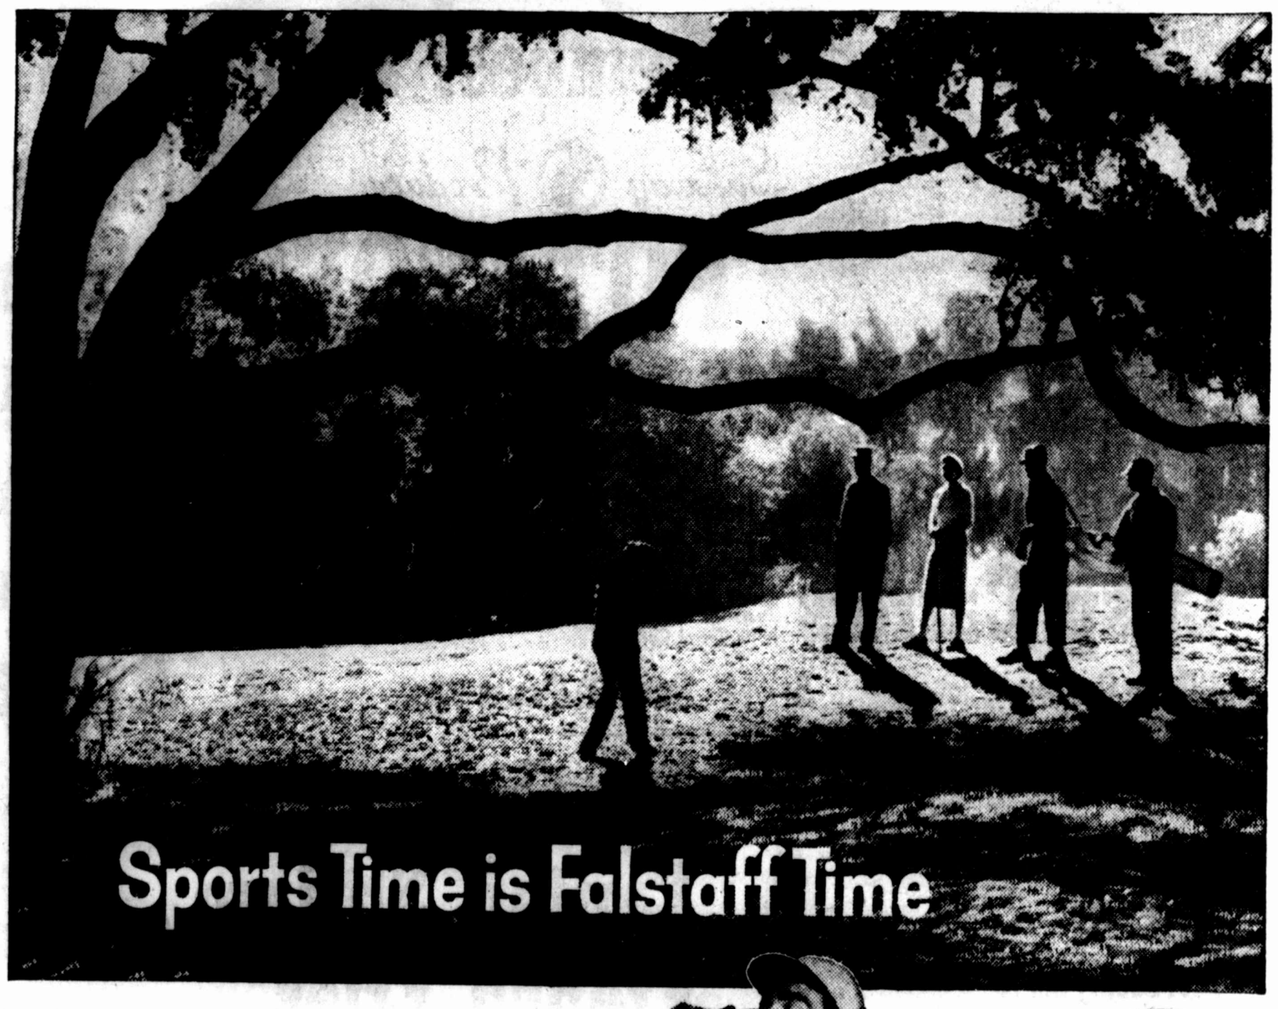

WINOOSKI, Vt. (AP)—The New York Giants of the National Football League today found themselves with five quarterbacks, including newly acquired George Shaw, and Coach Jim Lee Howell was confronted with a big question.

The question Howell has to answer is whether to abandon the experiment to make a quarterback out of all-league halfback Frank Gifford. Right now Howell intends to go ahead with his original plans. What takes place in the future is up to Shaw and Gifford.

Shaw was obtained from the champion Baltimore Colts Wednesday night in exchange for the Giants No. 1 draft choice in 1960 and another high draft pick later this year.

The former Oregon passing ace, who lost his first string job with the Colts to Johnny Unitas when he suffered an injury midway of the 1956 season, wanted to be traded. The Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Cardinals reportedly also were after him.

With Shaw reporting at the Giants training camp here today, Howell can look over the practice field and see, in addition to the ex-colt, veteran signal caller Charlie Conerly, who at 38 is nearing the end of the trail; Don Heinrich, capable as a team general but not in Conerly's class as a passer, and Gifford. With the College All-Stars and due to report after the Aug. 14 game in Chicago is another quarterback hopeful, rookie Lee Grosscup of Utah.

WALL SEEKS BIGGEST LINKS PRIZE IN PGA

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Slim and silent Art Wall Jr., a man with bitter memories of his struggling past, strives for the summit of his golfing career in the national PGA championship opening today.

The 35-year-old Pennsylvanian wasn't the favorite. No player could carry that designation in a bulging field of 174 that included more stars than ever assembled in 41 years of Professional Golfers Assn. competition.

But tournament pros invariably tossed Wall's name among the four or five most logical choices. And if Wall wins the 72-hole run at Minneapolis Golf Course, he virtually elects himself golfer of the year.

In seven months he has carted away some $50,000 in prize money, won four tournaments including the Masters and pulled into the lead in the Ryder Cup standings and the Vardon Trophy race based on average scoring.

He hasn't always ridden the high road. Six years ago in the St. Paul Open, a few miles from the Minneapolis course, Wall was the image of despair, playing badly, ignored by the galleries.

"Yes, I remember those days," he said. "They were pretty trying."

"I think I enjoy playing before large galleries," he said. "I can't say that I actually feel any pressure from them. But I'm certainly not immune to tournament pressure. I churn up inside like the rest of them."

At the 6,850-yard par 35-35—70 Minneapolis course his big bugbear may be the thinness of the fairways. Wall's baseball grip has made him a novelty, and also a big money winner, but it leads him to occasional spasms of wildness.

Also well liked in the pre-tournament guessing here was Mike Souchak, the amiable muscleman who is still looking for his first major tournament victory.

Two weeks ago Souchak won the Western Open. He is playing the best golf of his career. "I'm ready," Souchak said, "I just hope my game is."

Don Finsterwald, winner of the PGA's first medal tournament last year, has not been at his best this year. But he has to rank among the strongest contenders. So do Gene Littler, Sam Snead, Doug Ford, Cary Middlecoff and Tommy Bolt.

Giants Yield Lead In Nat'l

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was Los Angeles and Milwaukee who were hit hard by injury, but it's the San Francisco Giants who are hurtin', blowing a 2½-game lead and giving up the National League lead to the Dodgers.

Los Angeles, winning four of six with slugger Gil Hodges sidelined, hit the top for the first time since May 12 Wednesday night, beating Pittsburgh 2-0 as Roger Craig's six-hitter tumbled the Pirates to their ninth straight loss.

That left the Giants, losing four in a row for the first time this season in a 3-1 defeat by last place Philadelphia, a half-game behind the Dodgers and only a half-game ahead of Milwaukee. The third place Braves, who had been without homer-hammering Eddie Mathews for seven games, closed in with an 8-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 9-2 in the other NL game.

With Hodges, their home run leader, out with a bum ankle, the Dodgers clipped the Bues and Vern Law (11-7) in the eighth inning on a two-out single by .230-hitter Joe Pignatano and a double by .169-hitter Don Zimmer. The Dodgers had been blanked on four hits by Law until Duke Snider's single and a walk opened the eighth.

Craig, the right-hander, who helped boost the Dodgers to their only world championship as a mid-season rookie in 1955, now has a 6-2 record since being reclaimed from the minors last month.

The Braves, regaining Mathews for the first time since he injured his hip a week ago, beat the Cubs in a home run duel between Hank Aaron and Ernie Banks. Both hammered a pair. Aaron drove in the Braves' first three runs against loser Dave Hillman (5-8) with his 25th and 26th. Banks, tying Mathews for the NL lead with 29, drove in the Cubs' first four runs against Lew Burdette (14-10), who needed Don McMahon's hitless, three-inning mop-up after Sammy Taylor's solo homer in the seventh.

The pesky Phillies managed just three hits off southpaw Johnny Antonelli, but two were homers by Ed Bouchee and Gene Freese. Don Cardwell (5-6) went all the way and allowed the Giants just six hits, one Orlando Cepeda's 21st home run.

Antonelli (14-6) had won eight in a row from the Phils since 1957. He now has lost two in a row and is winless in his last three starts.

The Reds moved within a game of the sixth-place Cardinals by breaking a 2-2 tie in the third against loser Larry Jackson (8-9) on Frank Robinson's double and Ed Bailey's single. They made it a rout with six runs in the eighth while lefty Joe Nuxhall (4-8), who had lost six straight, blanked St. Louis on four hits over the last eight frames.

Torrid Kansas City Is Still Streaking

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

How hot is hot? Well, the two pennant races are hot, what with rain and a rookie giving Chicago's White Sox a one-game edge in the American League and Los Angeles taking a half-game lead in the National.

But the Kansas City A's? Man, they're blazin', rolling up 10 straight for a winning streak that hasn't been topped in the AL since mid-1956. It's jumped them from last to within a half-game of third.

They did it with a 5-4 victory over Washington Wednesday night that plunked the Senators into the cellar with 11 straight losses, tops among the worst in the majors this season.

No team has had a better winning string than the A's in the AL since the New York Yankees won 11 straight in '56.

The White Sox padded their 'im edge when rain and the Yankees held them to a 4-4, six-inning tie after rookie Al Schroll had pitched Boston out of the cellar with a six-hitter for a 4-1 victory over second-place Cleveland. It was Schroll's first complete game in the majors and ended Cal McLish's winning streak at eight.

Third-place Baltimore beat Detroit 5-1 in the only day game.

The A's, still 8½ games short of first place after picking up 3½ games since their blast off two weeks ago, decked the Nats in the first three innings. Dick Williams, who drove in three runs, hit a two - run homer off loser Bill Fischer (8-6) in the first. He singled home another in a three-run third.

The White Sox broke a 2-2 tie with two runs in the fifth on Luis Aparicio's triple and an infield out, then needed a leaping stab by left fielder Al Smith on Hector Lopez' shot to the wall to escape defeat in the sixth after Yogi Berra's two-run, two-out homer had tied it again.

Schroll, a right - hander who gained his first major league victory in the National League with Philadelphia last April, evened his AL record at 1-1 while walking none and striking out five. The Red Sox, who had lost six straight to McLish (13-4) since last season, won it on Sammy White's two-out, two-run single in the fourth.

Baltimore beat Paul Foytack (9-9) with three unearned runs in the first two innings while youngsters Jerry Walker (8-5) and Milt Pappas combined for a six-hitter against the Tigers.

Seattle Lad Wins Pentathlon Title

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Robert Miller, a junior high school teacher from Seattle, won the National Pentathlon Championship Wednesday.

Miller piled up a total of 4,865 points in running, swimming, shooting, fencing and equestrian events.

George Lambert, a student at Waseda University in Tokyo, took second with 4,589 points.

Future Hawk

Ronald Weaks (above) of Stamford, a star cager in high school, will cast his lot with the HCJC Jayhawks next season, Coach Buddy Travis has announced.

Hunt Holds Key To Grid Hopes

DALLAS (AP)—All eyes turned today to Lamar Hunt, a reserve end in his college days, who reportedly has the key to Dallas' position in the proposed new professional football league.

Hunt, 32-year-old son of multi-millionaire Dallas oilman H. L. Hunt, was named by both Dallas newspapers as the chief engineer of the project to form the new league.

Film Industry Must Think Twice On Double Feature

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The time has come for the movie industry to do some thinking about the double feature.

Does the public still want it? Can the film business still afford it?

The twin bill has been with us since the Depression days, when theaters tried to cure lagging business by giving the public double its money's worth.

Double features have long been attacked by producers, especially Samuel Goldwyn, but they continued to be the mode of film presentation. Why? Because theater men thought movie-goers liked it that way.

But times have changed. As a straw in the wind, Variety tells of two single - feature houses on Long Island, N. Y., that generally outdraw the double-feature theaters in the area.

It makes sense. If you, the movie goer, can be convinced that the double feature is no bargain, the theater men will come around. For they are faced with three conditions that make the single bill more urgent.

1. Movies are longer than ever. The 80-minute feature is almost obsolete. A two-hour minimum is standard for an important film these days. Three-hour epics are not uncommon.

There's nothing wrong with long pictures. But two longies in a row are hard to take for even the most rabid of fans.

2. Movies are fewer than ever. Hollywood is making less than half the number of features that it used to.

3. Movies are costlier than ever.

Posting The Four Poster

Mrs. Lou Welch, owner of Lou's Antique Shop was a big help to the Civic Theatre in its current production of "The Four Poster." Out of her stocks, she furnished a 500-pound four-poster bed for the three-act play which centers about the huge sleeping device. Also a big help was Byron's moving firm, whose employes discovered the big bed could be dissembled for moving and reassembled onstage. Attending the loading in this picture are J.J. Willingham, Danny Anderson, Hack Robertson, all employes of Byron's; Mrs. R. W. Blassingame, sister of Mrs. Welch; and Dewey Magee, co-producers of "The Four Poster."

Civic Theatre Closes Season Tonight With 'Four Poster'

The Civic Theatre closes out its summer season this weekend with the three-act comedy-drama, "The Four Poster."

The play will be presented at 8:29 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in HCJC Auditorium. Previous plays in the summer season were "The Seven-Year Itch" and "Night of January 16th."

"The Four Poster tells the story of a married couple from the time of their marriage to their eventual grandparenthood. In its plot involutions and character situations, the play is amazingly life-like, catching all the nuances, both good and bad, of wedded bliss.

There are only two actors in the whole play, an unusual twist for a stage production. The script, however, is written so as to help these two actors keep the audience interested. Evidence of the play's popular appeal, despite the two-actor departure from the norm, may be had in its long and successful Broadway run, followed by an equally successful revival.

The two roles are taken by Dr. Bill Sandefur and his wife, Jean, of 90-A Ent Street. Capt. Sandefur is a medical officer at Webb.

"The Four Poster" is a difficult play for the actors, in that they must carry the whole load alone onstage. But it is equally onerous to the production staff.

The time element in the play requires that a major overhaul of the set be made between each scene. Props and set crews must take the scene through a logical-looking change of 35 years, while the makeup crew must "age" the two actors properly. And scene and makeup changes, difficult at best, must be made in the few minutes that an audience will not become restless.

"The Four Poster" is directed by John Austin.

Dewey Magee and Roy Rosene are co-producers.

On lights are Howard Brown, Gerald McMillan and Jim Williams.

Members of the set crew are Mary and Dewey Magee, Roy and Sydney Rosene, Marge and Howard Brown, Dick Bailey, Dalton and Martha Conway, Gordon Wheeler and Chuck Worley.

On costumes are Marge Havins, Gennie Austin, Shirley Bailey, and Lida Fiveash.

Gordon and Jewel Wheeler take care of hair styles.

On makeup are Doyle Phillips, Beverly Franklin, Frankie Bledsoe and Jan Cobb.

John Findlater is responsible for program cover and set design.

JoAnne Forrest and Gordon Wheeler handled publicity and advertising.

Furnishings and interior decorations are by Caribel Laughlin.

Shirley Bailey and Rita Gale are the props crew.

Hugh McCauley is business manager.

Pupils Defend Sex Survey

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some of the students in Cecil Cook's high school physiology class came to the defense of his controversial sex survey Wednesday.

Said Bill Kerr, 17: "If people were telling the truth (in answers to Cook's questionnaire) then our moral standards must be getting lower."

The survey contained nine questions on kissing, petting and more advanced sexual experience.

Cook, 37, father of three, is accused of unprofessional conduct and moral turpitude. He could lose his credentials if convicted at a hearing, which was in recess today.

Pretty brunette Judy Kessler told the hearing officer she found Cook's course "very interesting" and in accord with the class textbook.

"There was never any feeling of vulgarity or dirtiness, and in my opinion it (the class' conduct) was above question."

Smog Inflation

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Everything's going up these days—including smog and smaze.

The tiny dust and dirt particles have reached two miles high in the Colorado Rockies in sufficient numbers to pollute the mountain air for research.

A University of Colorado spokesman said pollution is interfering with work at the university's high altitude observatory near Climax, Colo.

Blaze Delivered To Fire Station

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — A fire was delivered to a fire house in this Denver suburb.

When Harvey Davis, a commercial trash hauler, noticed a blaze had broken out in the back of his truck he hustled to the nearest fire station where firemen turned a hose on the truck.
