EXPANSION PROGRAM

Sun Oil Co. Completes Plant Modernization

Recently completed was a modernization program for increased recovery at Sun Oil Company's Jameson Natural Gasoline Plant south of Colorado City and County. This liquids recovery plant has been in operation since 1949. Expansion investment costs were cut considerably by close attention to engineering details, by the use of considerable existing equipment and by following a concept use mostly for non-attended plants. Thus an increase in production of 60 per cent was obtained with only 10 per cent additional fuel and no increase in labor.

A major change included the converting of a straight refrigeration recovery unit to refrigerated adsorption for increased recovery. In addition, the plant's heating system was converted from steam to hot oil and a fuel gas expansion power system was added to handle additional power requirements. Also installed was a 1,100 hp gas turbine that exhausts into the process heater, driving a centrifugal compressor to provide the additional refrigeration for the absorption oil process.

In the process, glycol injection is used to inhibit hydrate formation. The refrigeration level is 20 degrees Fahrenheit with one stage propane refrigeration. Rich gas flows through a gas-gas exchanger, chiller and glycol separator and enters the absorber where it is contacted with 65 gallons per minute of 140 molecular weight lean oil. From the absorber the rich oil flows through a hydraulic turbine, flash tank, deethanizer feed tank, and is flow controlled to the deethanizer. The deethanizer overhead is refrigerated. All liquid is pumped back as reflux and the net overhead is used for fuel.

The deethanized rich oil flows from the deethanizer through a fractionation section consisting of a depropanizer, debutanizer and gasoline fractionator. The lean oil flows from the bottom of the gasoline fractionator through a rich oil-lean oil cooler and then to the lean oil pump.

Control instruments for the new facilities are locally mounted. Sufficient alarm indicator points are located in the central control room to make it possible to monitor

Bids for the contract of painting Junior High School building were considered. Low bid of $2964 was submitted by Earl E. Harris and S. C. Shannon who were awarded the contract.

Progress report of summer maintenance projects was made by Wilson. New stage auditorium were recently purchased from Texas Scenic Co. of Texarkana through Hammond Carpet Co. Total cost was $874.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Civic House Board Eyes Rules, Rates

Civic House advisory board, discussed possible changes in policy and toured the building Thursday evening to determine ways for better use of all facilities.

Advisory board is made up of members from several organizations and civic clubs appointed to assist Junior Chamber of Commerce, owners of Civic House, with its operation.

Jaycees bought the building in 1954 from city-county officials. Jaycee property includes all the building except the armory which was re-sold. Civic House building contains office space and conference room for the Chamber of Commerce; the Mitchell County Federation library; and the Texas State Welfare local offices.

Civic House proper is equipped with facilities for cooking and serving a maximum of 350 diners. Chamber banquet hall, 200 Tumbleweed Dig-nitary, luncheons are annually served by Civic House staff headed by Mrs. Dee Bynum.

Civic House has become favorite town meeting hall during the past 10 years.

Jaycees maintain Civic House as a non-profit project for the benefit of all approved organizations and as a centrally located meeting place for citizens of Colorado City and surrounding communities.

"Our objective," said Bob Ratliff, is not to make money but to serve the town. We just try to break even and Civic House pays its way." Ratliff is immediate past Jaycee treasurer of the Civic House.

Loans Club, Kiwanis Club, Jaycees and Business & Professional Women's Club are the luncheon and dinner clubs which use Civic House meeting hall regularly. Brush & Palette (art) club usually stage art exhibits there. Garden Club members annually have their flower shows in Civic House. Until Mitchell County completed the new Agricultural building, west Highway 80, part of the annual Mitchell County Fair was housed in Civic House.

Civic House has become recognized as a town asset since its ownership and operation was assumed by local Jaycees. It is, out-of-town guests frequently point out, the top banquet hall in this area. District meetings of Delta Kappa Gamma and a district meeting of Home Demonstrations have held sessions there.

Garcia Gets Six Months $200 Fine

Andrew Garcia was fined $200 plus court costs and sentenced to six months in jail after a trial by jury in Mitchell County Court here Wednesday.

Garcia plead not guilty to a charge of sale of alcoholic beverage (to wit, beer) in a dry area. Don Butler, attorney for the defense, said Friday that he will file a plea for appeal of the verdict.

Frank Ginzel, county attorney, represented the State. County Judge Elmer Martin presided.

In county court Thursday, Charles Taplan entered a plea of guilty to a charge of sale of alcohol in dry territory. Judge Martin assessed Taplan a $225 fine plus court costs to bring the total to $252.52.

The property and the dining facilities have won praise both locally and from numerous visitors.

Joe Wallis, recently named to a two-year term as Jaycee treasurer for Civic House, said Saturday that certain restrictions in rules governing the use of the building will be studied and perhaps relaxed or changed.

"Object of any possible changes," Wallis said, "would be to make fullest possible use of Civic House. A change in rental rate is also to be taken under consideration he said."

Representatives of organizations were instructed at the Tuesday night meeting to ask their separate organizations for constructive suggestions on changes of policy and rates.

Those suggestions will be presented to the board of directors of Jaycees August 20.

Attending the Civic House advisory board discussion Thursday were the Rev. Alan Conley, Arvie Clark and Wal-lis from the Junior Chamber.

COUNTY LEADERS SIGN

Text Of Resolution Urges Original Plan

In spite of last minute whirlwind activities by leaders of Mitchell County and County, CRMWD said Friday that the Colorado River lake will be impounded in Coke County, not in Mitchell as originally planned.

Second resolution signed by Mitchell Countians follows: TO: THE DIRECTORS AND MANAGEMENT OF THE COLORADO RIVER MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT Gentlemen:

The citizens of Mitchell County have supported CRMWD since its organization with the hope of ultimate ly having a dam built on the Colorado River in Mitchell County.

The first lake on the river was built to the North of us because of various stated reasons. Even though the lake was moved up the river to an other county, we supported the application for a permit to build said lake. (Lake J. B. Thomas)

We are now advised that the CRMWD contemplates the building of another lake to the South of Mitchell County. We are fully aware that if the lake is built outside Mitchell County, it will, in all probability, preclude a lake being built in our county on the river. The major portion of the water that would be impounded by a lake built in Southern Mitchell County or in Coke County would originate in the Mitchell County watershed. It seems to us that to lose all of our water to another location would not be to our best interest.

Therefore, after careful and full consideration, we have reluctantly determined that we will not support the application for a permit to build the lake outside of Mitchell County. Respectfully submitted, Commissioner's Court of Mitchell County, Elmer Martin, County Judge; City of Colorado City, Martin Weaver, Mayor; Pre-Tem; Clarence C. Burt, Councilman; City of Lorraine, Dr. Bruce H. Johnson, Mayor; City of Westbrook, D. A. Oglesby, Mayor, Mrs. George Sweatt, City Secretary; Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

Mitchell County May Protest New Desision

BY Ruth Coffey
Record News Editor

Giant project plans for impounding a new lake on the Colorado River was moved from Mitchell County to Coke County and to a new site near Robert Lee, Friday, by directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Board of the CRMWD announced after a meeting in Big Spring the switch of sites and the filing of an amended application to cover change from the original proposed location in Mitchell County.

Original application for a mammoth lake in this county was filed August 4, 1959. The State Water Board granted that permit in June, 1960, with the provision that the CRMWD could and would take measures to control salt water pollution.

Five years later, after much research, intensive engineering studies and reports made by Freese-Nichols Engineering firm, and after expenditure of several million dollars in salt water pollution control, Mitchell County civic leaders were informed that CRMWD was about to decide to build the dam in Coke County. New site, announced by CRMWD Friday, is west of Robert Lee.

Colorado City officials of town government were joined by town officials of Lorraine and Westbrook, by Mitchell County Commissioners Court, by Lorraine Lions Club, by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and by the Colorado City Industrial Foundation in two recent resolutions.

Those resolutions strongly urged CRMWD to build the lake dam at the original Mitchell County site. Second resolution, which reached the CRMWD board Friday ended by saying "Therefore after careful and full consideration, we have reluctantly determined that we will not support the application for a permit to build the lake outside of Mitchell County."

Mitchell County leaders will again, said Charles C. Thompson, chairman of the Industrial Foundation and of the Chamber's Water Development Committee, to decide their next step.

"We will meet and decide Monday whether or not we shall file a formal and strong protest to the Texas Water Commission," Thompson said Saturday morning.

Co-signers of the resolution to CRMWD with Thompson were Elmer Martin, county judge; Martin Weaver, mayor-protem of Colorado City; Clarence C. Burt, city councilman; Dr. Bruce Johnson, mayor of Lorraine; D. A. Oglesby, mayor, and Mrs. George Sweatt, city secretary of Westbrook; Gus D. Chesney, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Bob Reilly, Chamber director; J. Ralph Lee, of the Industrial Foundation Team here; and R. B. Bruce, president of Lorraine Lions.

Mitchell County is not by itself in the mood for possible protest. G. C. Allen, chairman of the Upper Colorado River Authority, said in Robert Lee Friday night "It was no surprise... The UCRA is going to protect the rights of users in our area and if can be arranged for us to get our share of water by negotiations, they have our blessings."

"Otherwise we will contest it," Baker, a Robert Lee banker, said.

Actually, talk of a big dam and a big lake on the Colorado River has been going on for at least a decade. CRMWD plans now, as announced Friday, specify the Coke County site for the new dam to impound a

Annual 4-H Dress Review for Mitchell County girls was held Friday afternoon in Medallion Room of Lone Wolf Electric Coop building with honors for the senior division ending in a first-place tie between Jean Compton and Sharon Byrne.

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Compton. She modeled a two piece suit of overblouse and skirt of moss green linencrash. The overblouse was fashioned with elbow-length sleeves and slash neckline. The slim skirt was lined. Jean completed her ensemble with a gold leaf pin short white gloves and black accessories. She is sixteen years old and this is her seventh year as a 4-H member.

Sharon is the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Byrne. Her ensemble

The long-sleeved blouse featured a soft bow at the neckline. Sharon wore a pillbox hat of gold fabric with beige shorty gloves and other accessories of brown-leather.

The tie will be broken by the judges on August 4 with the view deciding who will represent Mitchell County in the district show on August 7.

Winner in the junior division was Christy Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Stubblefield, who is 13 years old and will be a sophomore in Colorado High School this fall. She modeled an A-line

Also entered in the senior division were Karen Marric and Leslie Smith. Karen is the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marric and is a four-year 4-H member. She constructed a white pique shift with three-quarter length sleeves and a sailor type collar. A red and white polka-dot tie and black accessories completed her ensemble. Leslie, 15 and a first-year 4-Her, modeled an aqua cotton shift with bateau neckline as her project. She complimented her dress with a white clutch bag and flats.

Other entrants in the junior division and garments constructed were: Stella Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Grant, first year, melon A-line shift with lowered waistline; Connie Carter, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carter, first year, floral patterned shift; Cindy Childs, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Childs, first year, green print shift; Rhonda Dockrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dockrey, first year, yellow cotton shift; Melanie Erwin, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Erwin, first year, dark print shift; Elaine Winn, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Winn, first year, red and white print shift.

The youthful models paraded on a T-shaped stage decorated in a nautical sea shore theme. The back of the stage was draped with a large fish, some scattered with straw doll beach hats, bags and sea creatures. Three large inflated swimming rings in bright colors were fastened to the net bordered with bright red wooden floats. An aluminum-handled dip net stood on the left side of the stage, with a pair of bright yellow water skis adorning the right side.

Along the front edge of the stage were plastic swimming rings flanked by inflated water toys: a red plane, a blue left and a green dinosaur wearing straw beach hat and life vest on the right. Pieces of coral and driftwood complimented the decorations.

Base of the T was covered in green matting and featured a multicolored beach ball at the end. On the left was a blue plastic sand box, complete with sand, pails and a small umbrella. The right side was centered with a small red wading pool containing a boat and small beach ball. Two large multi-colored beach balls were suspended above the stage.

An assortment of beach paraphernalia was placed in the niches made by glass panels along each of the side walls. Items included colorful beach towels, swimming flippers, face masks, snorkels and a small life jacket. Arrangement for the piano top included various sea shells and mermaid figurines before an oriental fan. A small ceramic jewel box overflowing with strands of pearls accented the arrangement.

All garments modeled in the dress review were constructed during the recent 4-H Clothing Workshop in Colorado Junior High home-making department.

Leaders for the clothing workshop and construction judges for the dress review were Mrs. Charles Holman, Mrs. W. E. Harris, and Mrs. Sidney Compton. Judging for appearance and fit on the model were these four women from Robert Lee, Miss Ida Lee Parker, senior 4-H member; Miss Gladys Waldrop, Mrs. E. E. Ellred, and Mrs. W. E. Smith, all adult 4-H leaders.

Letters To The Editor

GENTLEMEN: We are having a McCreless family reunion in Colorado City at the R. E. A. building (Medallion Room) Sunday July 19. We first planned for the family of E. M. McCreless with the only survivor being my mother Mrs. J. W. Turner of Sweetwater. She is 87 years of age.

Since we are related to the Dorns there, we are including them. We are expecting it to be very colorful as we feel we still belong in Colorado City and love it as a town. I still have my duplex there on Locust and was Mrs. Kathryn Lee when I lived there seven years ago. My grandfather, E. M. McCreless, used to write a regular column for the Colorado City paper many years ago. My grandparents lived in the Dorn community and are both buried in the Dorn cemetery. Before by parents marriage my mother taught school for many years in that area.

Mrs. Rube Hart there can give you a lot of history and Gus Chesney could be of some help. At any rate we are all looking forward to meeting in such a fine city for our reunion.

Your very truly
Mrs. Morris Richards

ELEVEN TO ATTEND

Final Camp Session Draws Local Girls

The final session of Girl Scout established camping began today at Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater with check-in at 2 o'clock this afternoon for some eighty girls, eleven of whom are from Colorado City.

Local scouts attending Session V at Camp Boothe Oaks will be Connie Carter, Deborah Clark, Mary Lou Cooley, Cathy Curlee, Susan Jackson, Deborah Kelley, Melinda McClintock, Jerri Rhodes, Carol Russell, Elaine Winn and Nancy Wood. Susan Terry will attend from Sterling City.

Session V is scheduled to end at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The 1964 season at Boothe Oaks marks the twelfth summer of the camp's operation. Boothe Oaks is the established campsite of the West Texas Girl Scout Council, which has its headquarters in Abilene. The camp is operated in accordance with the standards of Girl Scouts U. S. A. and the standards of the American Camping Association, of which the camp is a member. Miss Faye Downs, District Adviser in the West Texas Council, is Camp Director.

During the first four sessions in 1964, there were 332 campers at Boothe Oaks. There has been an average of 80 established campers per session, plus the advanced or Pioneer Unit which was held for experienced campers from June 9-20.

Another group of 80 campers is expected for Session V, so the total attendance during the 1964 season will be approximately 412 Girl Scouts.

The 1964 sessions at Boothe Oaks have given Girl Scout campers an opportunity to enjoy the usual camp activities such as swimming, camp craft, cooking and sleeping in the out-of-doors, archery, hiking, care and use of tools and pursuit of individual interests through work in proficiency badges.

Special events that have been planned by the campers themselves this summer have thus far included all-camp swim meets and special all-camp parties which have included a Hawaiian Luau, a Mexican Fiesta, and costume parties. The campers, who were at Boothe Oaks on the Fourth of July enjoyed a full day of patriotic observances, picnics, games and relays, a parade by the campers, a watermelon party, and finally, a nighttime fireworks display. Another special treat for the campers was a visit by the NASA Spacemobile to Boothe Oaks on July 3.

Girls at Boothe Oaks participate in an outdoor program that is based on the lasting values of the Girl Scout movement and local Girl Scouts will tell you that adventure and fun await girls who attend a session at an established camp.

'65 Wool Incentive Prices Announced

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound and a mohair support price of 72 cents per pound were announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for the 1965 marketing year. The 1965 calendar year begins September 1.

Incentive price for shorn wool continues the level in effect since the beginning of the program in 1955. The mohair support price is 72 cents, the same as for the 1964 marketing year. Wool support after 1965 will be contingent upon additional legislation.

The National Wool Act provides "the support price for shorn wool shall be at such incentive level as the Secretary, after consultation with producer representatives, and after taking into consideration prices paid and other cost conditions affecting sheep production, determines to be necessary to encourage an annual production of approximately 300 million pounds of shorn wool."

Support of mohair within range of 15% of the comparable percentage of parity at which wool is supported is required by the Wool Act. Since the start of the program in 1955, the mohair support price has been at or near the legal minimum level.

Most of the producers' representatives recommended continuation of the 62-cent level for wool in 1965.

Payments to producers for the 1965 marketing year will follow the same methods employed for the current 1964 marketing year, and will be made beginning in April 1965.

CONVERSATION CORNER

WHAT EVER happened to the old-fashioned picnic with a feast of fried chicken, potato salad, devilled eggs, lemonade, layer cake and homemade ice cream?

For that matter, what ever happened to homemade, hand-turned icecream itself? It used to be such fun, as a family project.

Man of the house went for the ice while mother of the brood cooked up custard or mixed cold milk and whipped cream in the newer icecream powder product.

In season, girls peeled and mashed lush ripe peaches while the little brother helped to chisel and crush the ice.

Once the mixture was ready and in the metal freezer the big wooden part which circled the can was ready for filling. A layer of ice, a layer of rock salt up to the top of the can.

Then everybody took turns cranking. Children too small to take turns turning delighted in sitting on the "toe-sack" which covered the freezer to keep the cold in.

TOP DELIGHT of the whole production, though, was taking out the dasher before the icecream was either eaten or packed for the picnic.

Makes you feel pretty sad to know sweet little children who have never one single time got to lick the dasher.

Bought icecream and icecream cones are fine. But they are not in the class with a dasher on a platter in the sink.

NOW as a career-type grandmother, in a modest way, we're all for progress.

Have no slightest desire to pick chickens and boil potatoes and eggs all day before a picnic.

A cookout with canned beans, onions, bacon, fresh tomatoes, lettuce, potato chips, instant tea, fruit and cookies grabbed at last minute is about the right speed.

ONLY . . . only sometimes . . . get a little nostalgic for yesterday's summer. Homesick "for that which was and is no more."

Ever look back and wonder what happened to wild mustang grapes growing sweet on the vine . . . the wild plum thickets . . . wild dewberries along the fences?

WHAT ever happened to wilted lettuce from the garden for supper . . . fresh strawberries picked with the dew still kissing them?

Where did fresh buttermilk from the neighbor's cold churn go? And what ever happened to the hand-cranked icecream freezer?

No need to answer, no use to say.
They're gone along with yesterday.
No use to tell it. Already known.
But how far away can a yesterday go?

BACK HOME since Tuesday are Raymond and Virginia Fuller who flew to Houston for the weekend.

In Houston they were guests at the wedding of Betty Gross Fuller. Betty is remembered with affection here as the tall attractive blond wife of the late Carlton Fuller who died in 1959 following brain surgery.

Carlton was younger son of Mrs. Mae Fuller and brother of Raymond. He was co-owner of the Carlton House — ultra-elegant gift shop — in the River Oaks section of Houston.

EXPECTED here Sunday (today) as evangelist for the Plainview Baptist Church revival is Dr. P. D. (Dick) O'Brien. "Brother Dick" is a former pastor both in C-City and in Big Spring. He is now retired as pastor, devoting his time to evangelism, and lives in Houston.

Revival dates at the Plainview Church, that picturesque little red brick structure on the Lake Colorado City highway, are July 19-26. Caddo Matthews is pastor at Plainview.

While in C-City this week Rev. O'Brien and his wife will be at the Villa Inn, room 26. His old friends, who are legion, are invited to hear him preach at 10 a.m. each morning, 8 p.m. each evening. There will be chairs outside in the cool of the evening to take care of expected overflow crowds.

HEAR TELL that our Maurine Carver and her tall husband Bob were to leave Sunday for a two-day visit in Dallas where they'll attend fall market Monday and Tuesday.

Hear tell, too, that our Joan Warner's husband has been promoted! He is now CAPTAIN Robert A. Haley.

Captain Haley is on duty on the island of Crete where he has been assigned until Jan. 1965. His wife Joan, and their little daughter Becky, who is 4, are with him in Crete. Captain Haley finished O.C.S. at Lackland AFB in 1959. He was stationed at Goodfellow when he met and married Joan who was in nurses' training at Shannon Memorial and at San Angelo College.

SEEN LATELYS were Montie Hardegree . . . Shug Bynum (Mrs. Howard) and Gwen Graves Brown, another "frosted lovely."

Routine visit at the courthouse brought greetings from our nice Sheriff Lewis Claxton, two of our deputies, Roy Richards and Bob McGuire . . . Plus Highway Patrolman Gerald Baker and Buddy Hertenberger.

Familiar faces, other places, have been those of beautiful Margaret Sparks (Mrs. Ben) . . . Katherine Buchanan in the cool of the morning . . . Lou Landeros (Mrs. Joe) in a stunning blue shift . . . Jess Craddock and his son Jay.

LESLIE HAMILTONS, who live at 1406 Elm St., celebrated the first eleven days of July by having a house full of their grown-up children.

Here from Pasadena (Texas) were their daughter Doris, her husband Wendell Eddings and their three daughters. From Roswell, N.M., came the Hamilton daughter Margie, who is Mrs. Charles Hicks, her son and two daughters and Margie's grandchild Terri Lynn. Lubbock guests were Mrs. Glyn Hamilton (nee Martha Blessingame) her three sons and daughter.

And from New York City to attend the family house-party, came Edna Mae (Emmy) and her husband James Gagnon.

The Hamilton son Glyn didn't get to the party. Water well trouble of some acreage of his in New Mexico.

SAW J. H. Heath and his wife Eula (McClure) lunching out with two of his daughters — Hady Heath Blackburn (Mrs. Louis) of Houston and Sallie Heath McEntire of the Sterling City McEntires.

Saw Mary Henderson (Mrs. Truman) of the long-time-see department, too. And Fred Marberry with his stunning looking wife.

FOLLOWING ILLINOIS VOWS

Mr. And Mrs. Dan Barber On Colorado Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Barber are honeymooning in Mancos, Colorado, following their marriage June 20 in Plainfield, Illinois.

Mrs. Barber is the former Miss Regina George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence H. George, Route two, Plainfield. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Dell Barber, route one.

Double ring vows were read by the Rev. Herbert Null in First Methodist Church of Plainfield. The altar decorations included wedding tapers flanked by vases of white mums, gladioli and carnations tied with satin bows. A program of organ selections by Marcella Brownson preceded the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white sheath gown of ribonnet lace. The empire bodice was fashioned with a scalloped scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves. A detachable Camelot train of white chiffon flowed from the back neckline. The bridal veil of hand-rolled silk illusion was caught to a handmade chiffon rose applied in lace motif. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Pamela Sandvall. Bridesmaid was Miss Eileen Brockway. They wore floor-length princess-style dresses of pale blue dacton sheer over taffeta. A-line skirts were topped by fitted bodices featuring black neckline bows with streamers reaching to the hem. Headpieces were self-fabric bows with circular veils. They carried nosegays of white roses tied with blue ribbons.

Pat Barber attended his brother's wedding. Groomsman was Tommy Barber, another brother of the groom. Ushers were Roger Dewar and Charles Schrader.

Wedding reception was held in the parlor of the church. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. George chose a silk sheath of blue with white accessories.

The bride wore a pink two-piece dress with white accessories as the couple left for a wedding trip to the Barber family ranch near Mancos, Colorado. They will make their home in Waco with the beginning of the fall college semester. Both are students at Baylor University. Mrs. Barber is majoring in English while her husband is a pre-law student.

Relatives Visit In Simpson Home

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Simpson for ten days has been her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Tillson of Missen, his niece, Mrs. Lillie Burklee, and nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Sims, all of Los Angeles, California.

Methodist Youth To Attend Camp

The Methodist Junior High Camp for the Big Spring District being held at Camp Enman this week will be attended by several junior-high-aged youth from First Methodist Church.
