UAW, Chrysler Deadline Looming

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators made a last-ditch attempt today to reach agreement on a new labor contract between Chrysler and the United Auto Workers Union, with a strike deadline only hours away.

As the clock ticked off the final 24 hours toward the 10 a.m. Wednesday deadline, bargaining teams were expected to meet in round-the-clock sessions.

Chrysler was selected as the UAW's No. 1 strike target this year over General Motors or Ford, the other members of the auto industry's Big Three.

Wary but hopeful, the negotiators decided to break off talks Sunday night and begin the marathon discussions this morning.

LONG HAUL

"We wanted to have a fresh outlook on this last day because there may be a long haul ahead," commented one of the Chrysler bargainers.

UAW President Walter Reuther observed: "I leave here tired but more hopeful than when I came in. We agreed that we could do more productive work with a fresh start tomorrow."

Three years ago, when GM was the strike target, announcement of an agreement came at 4 a.m., just six hours before the deadline.

Earlier, Reuther said at a Labor Day rally in Detroit's Cadillac Square, that "a mile separates where we are and where management is."

AROUND CLOCK

He told an estimated 100,000 persons that when he left the rally he would be ready "to bargain around the clock for two days" if necessary to reach an agreement.

Reuther preceded President Johnson at the speakers platform and then rode out to the airport with him.

The UAW chieftain said he told Johnson that the two sides in negotiations are "quite a way apart and have real problems."

TIME SHORT FOR FUND

Three days remain in which the Herald will daily acknowledge contributions to the high school Bible fund.

Though time is almost out, the fund is over $1,100 shy of its goal from voluntary contributions. If 100 high school students are to have this instruction for a full year, individuals and groups will have to rally quickly and generously.

It's as simple as that, so if you plan to have a part, send or bring your gift at once to the Herald where it will be gratefully received.

Today's donors added $75 to the fund. They include:

Alpha Class, Berea Baptist	10.00
Captain Class, First Methodist	25.00
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kosh (memorial to A. P. Kosh)	25.00
Friendship Class, First Methodist	5.00
Mrs. Martha Class, Wesley Methodist (memorial father and brother Mrs. Gladys Armstrong)	10.00
Previously acknowledged	2,212.13
TOTAL	$2,387.13

UAW last month, including higher pay, increased holiday and vacation pay and improved retirement pension benefits for workers now on the job.

The proposals, described by industry spokesmen as generous, were branded inadequate by the union.

Saigon Trying New Council

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh has agreed to set up machinery for creating a new government for South Viet Nam, but Premier Nguyen Khanh retains chief power as premier.

Minh will draft plans for selection of the provisional council which will create the new government. His plans must be approved by Khanh and Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Kiem, who with Minh serve as a steering committee for South Viet Nam.

Khanh announced Saturday that the triumvirate would appoint a national convention to draft a new constitution and set up the election of a general assembly.

The Government Information Ministry also announced that Minh has been named chairman of the "provisional steering committee of the national armed forces."

This title, which presumably would make him chief of state, appeared to be a concession to the Buddhists who favored Minh over Khanh.

The border feud between South Viet Nam and Cambodia flared again as Vietnamese army officers charged that Cambodian planes, patrol boats and artillery are supporting the Communist Viet Cong along the frontier.

and nation, as well as to her church. Her aim should be to bring the teachings of Christ into the community for better things for all," she said.

Her experience began as a teacher in the elementary and high schools (Catholic), in San Antonio. She went to the Rio Grande Valley in 1963 to work in the interest of Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. This year her work began at Our Lady of The Lake Convent.

The speaker at tonight's banquet will be Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roy Rihn of San Antonio's Pope Pius X. The banquet will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The program for the two days will include several workshops in both Spanish and English. Today's workshops dealt with Personal Apostolate, World Apostolate, Family Apostolate, and Community Apostolate. All were held in rooms adjoining the mezzanine floor.

During the business session Mrs. Thomas Egan, Diocesan president from Banger, presided. Mrs. Harold Talbot sang "God Bless America." Mayor George Zachariah, Big Spring, welcomed the visitors and Mrs. Jack Prichard, Midland Diocesan president, gave the response.

The keynote speaker was introduced by Mrs. Wayne Basden.

Bishop Thomas J. Drury, D. D., of San Angelo, held mass at 4:45 p.m.

A social hour was scheduled after the banquet and included a film, "Our Lady's Shrine," bridge and sing-song with George Laubmeier as organist.

Wednesday's meeting will open with mass at 7:30 a.m.; a coffee at 8:15 a.m. with St. Elizabeth's Altar Society, Snyder, in charge.

Workshops will begin at 9:15 a.m. and close at noon Wednesday. A luncheon and style show will be held from 12 to 2 p.m. in charge of Immaculate Heart of Mary Mother's Club, Big Spring, and with Jo Ann Forrest as narrator.

The final business session will begin at 2:15 p.m., with Mrs. Egan presiding. The session will include the deanery president's report; credential committee report; election of officers; invitation to the Fourth Annual Convention; installation of officers, and the summary and blessing.

Greeks Eye Soviet Terms In Aid Offer

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Makarios will send a delegation to Moscow this week to seek concrete terms for the Soviet offer of aid to the Greek Cypriot government.

The Greek Cypriot president called for Soviet military aid last month after Turkish war planes attacked Greek Cypriot positions. He has also asked the United Arab Republic for help.

The Soviet Union is reported to have offered Makarios $30 million in economic credits and to have left the way open for discussion of Soviet military aid.

CONDITIONAL
An authoritative source here said the Soviet offer was conditional on Makarios continuing to insist on self-determination for the island republic rather than an agreement to unite it with Greece, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Makarios has been under pressure from Greece to refuse Soviet help and he had seemed to be weakening in his decision to open formal negotiations with the Kremlin.

The Greek Cypriot delegation will include Andreas Araouzos, minister of commerce and industry; Costas Ashiotis, director of the foreign ministry, and Lefcos Georgiades, Cypriot ambassador to Moscow. The announcement said Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou also may go to Moscow after attending the U.N. Security Council debate on Cyprus expected to open next week.

BLOCKADE
The United Nations reported that the Greek Cypriots have tightened their economic blockade of the Turkish Cypriot community despite warnings from the U.N. peace force.

The United Nations said roadblocks have restricted food shipments into the Turkish quarters of Famagusta and Larnaca. Makarios blockaded three other Turkish areas last month, including the quarter in Nicosia where more than 30,000 Turkish Cypriots live.

Deaths on the nation's highways and streets over the long Labor Day weekend rose past the 500 mark today, but the National Safety Council said the number of fatalities would not approach record figures.

At the latest count, traffic fatalities across the United States numbered 523. Eighteen persons were killed in boating accidents and 57 others drowned.

Howard Pyle, president of the safety council, credited cautious driving on the part of homebound motorists with keeping the death toll behind last year's record of 557 lives. Throughout most of the 78-hour weekend, the number of deaths had kept pace with the record setting 1963 figures.

FEARED RECORD
Early Sunday evening the number of deaths reached 450, and safety council spokesmen expressed fear that a new record would be set as motorists clogged highways on the way home.

The safety council estimated that the holiday began that 490 to 550 persons would be killed during the weekend. An Associated Press survey, made for comparative purposes over a 78-hour nonholiday weekend from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 21, to midnight Monday, Aug. 24, showed 456 persons dead in traffic accidents, 24 in boating accidents and 54 by drowning.

The safety council's Labor Day weekend traffic count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday (local times).

Texas recorded a grim toll of 39 deaths in traffic during the extended Labor Day weekend.

In addition there were five drownings and one boating fatality during this last holiday of the summer season.

The deaths occurred between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

Before the sunny weekend drew motorists to highways and byways in large numbers, the Department of Public Safety had predicted traffic accidents would take 36 lives during the holiday period.

Among the latest victims were:

Hillary Staton, 35, a Cisco salesman, was killed Monday night when his flatbed truck hit a divider and flipped over at an intersection 9 miles west of Burnet in Central Texas.

HIT BRIDGE
E. S. Weldon, 63, of Thackerville, Okla., died Monday night when his car hit a bridge abutment on U.S. 82 west of Gainesville.

Jerry Boaz, 24, of Marshall was killed and five other persons injured in a two-car collision Monday about 21 miles west of Texarkana. The accident occurred near Queen City on the old Honey Grove road.

Enrique Duran, 19, of Harlingen drowned Monday in the surf off South Padre Island as two sisters watched helplessly. Witnesses said Duran swam too far out and couldn't make it to shore.

Calm Returns To Little City Torn By Riot

HAMPTON BEACH, N.H. (AP) — This seashore resort town was peaceful today after a Labor Day eve riot in which some 10,000 teenagers battled state troopers, local police and National Guardsmen for hours.

Authorities finally ran the young persons out of town Sunday night by forming human wedges and walking from the beach area in the center of town to either end.

Some 200 persons were arrested. Twenty were injured.

Police couldn't explain the reasons for the rioting, but Robert W. Rhodes, commissioner of public safety in New Hampshire, blamed the youths' parents for a lack of discipline in the home.

STEPPED ASIDE

"The parents have stepped aside and have left their children to the teachers and to the police," Rhodes said.

There were some reports of police brutality in the wake of a score of injured — one seriously. But Gov. John W. King said flatly:

"You can't blame police for lack of parental discipline. The police leaned over backward not to use brutality."

One boy, Peter Zaniboni, 16, of Everett, Mass., was hit in the face with a load of birdshot from a police shotgun and doctors said he probably would lose the sight of his right eye.

Damage was counted in the thousands of dollars as merchants began cleaning up from the four-hour rioting. The revelers, having a final fling before school opens this week, threw rocks, garbage, beer bottles and cans filled with sand and set fire to some buildings while smashing windows along the beachfront.

WELL PLANNED

"It was too well planned and organized to have been a spontaneous affair stimulated by beer and drinking," said Rhodes.

He and other police officials said youths had passed out leaflets and notes inviting other young persons "for the big rumble."

The governor said the riot was a "symptom of a moral sickness in American youth which is potentially explosive."

King said he hoped the courts would not "mollycoddle" the 200 persons arrested during the rioting.

It took a force of 250 heavily armed police and militiamen with fixed bayonets to restore order.

TO COURT

Police began today to take to court the 200 who were arrested on charges of inciting a riot, rioting, disorderly conduct and drunkenness. Many of those arrested were released on bail for court appearances in the next couple of weeks.

King had ordered out the National Guard, and deputized reinforcements of Massachusetts and Maine state troopers to help quell the riot.

Police reported receiving dozens of calls Monday from parents of youngsters of 15 or 16, asking if they were among those hurt or arrested.

"Some of them didn't even know where their children were," said Rhodes.

U. S. Bolsters Beef Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government purchases of beef to bolster cattle prices and to provide meat for needy persons and the school lunch program now total 203 million pounds. The cost: $115 million.

The purchase program was started in March when cattle prices were at a low level. Although prices have advanced some since that time, the Agriculture Department is continuing in the market. Purchases last week totaled 13.8 million pounds.

The agency also has bought 22.7 million pounds of fresh frozen turkeys for the school lunch program at a cost of $7.27 million.

Still Favors China Attack

DALLAS (AP) — Retired Gen. Emmett (Rosy) O'Donnell, who commanded the Air Force in the Pacific, said again Monday he thinks this country should have bombed Manchuria during the Korean War.

"I said so at the time," he told a reporter, referring to remarks made 14 years ago, "and I still do. I think it was wrong to back off."

"I think it would have been vastly different today if the United States had bombed the enemy at Manchuria in 1950," he added in an interview that he also still believes Russia would not have retaliated and thus started World War III. O'Donnell, 58, retired last year. At the time he headed the Far East Bomber Command in Japan.

He came here to speak today at a kickoff rally for the Dallas County United Fund campaign. O'Donnell now is national USO president.

Encephalitis Deaths Seen

HOUSTON (AP) — Although Houston's encephalitis epidemic is believed diminishing, the city health officer expected about 10 more delayed reports of suspected deaths from the disease today.

This would bring the toll to 31, counting 19 previously announced and the death in an Acapulco, Mexico, hospital of a Houston woman, Mrs. Harry Wakefield, 63.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, the city health officer, said Monday: "I estimate about 10 or less deaths of individuals on a list which we have been studying. These deaths occurred between July 16 and Aug. 30."

Mrs. Wakefield became ill on a vacation flight to Mexico, and died Sunday, leading to belief she contracted the disease in Houston.

Dr. Pigford said after the epidemic is ended, he believes Houston will have counted 300 proved cases of encephalitis.

While 15 suspected cases brought the total to 613 Monday, 11 were delayed reports.

Quiet Expected As Integration Spreads To Ex-Trouble Spots

By The Associated Press
More public schools begin integrated classes today, including former trouble spots such as Prince Edward County, Va., Albany, Ga., and Gadsden, Ala. Fourteen Negroes and 59 white pupils were enrolled at Tuskegee (Ala.) High School Monday. There was no trouble like that which forced the school to close seven months ago.

Prince Edward County bows to federal court orders and opens the doors to public schools for the first time since 1958-59. But only seven white pupils are expected to attend the public schools with 1,600 Negroes. The other white pupils will continue to attend private schools set up when the county closed the schools to escape court-ordered desegregation.

The faculty in Prince Edward County also will be integrated, with 9 white teachers and 59 Negro teachers. School authorities at Albany, Ga., planned to desegregate the 1st, 2nd and 12th grades under federal court orders.

Hundreds of demonstrators have been arrested in racial clashes in Albany during the past two years, but school officials expect no trouble.

Negroes also will attend white schools at Gadsden, Ala., for the first time. Although 38 Negro pupils applied for transfer to the white schools, it was not known immediately how many would be accepted.

Gadsden, a northeast Alabama city of more than 58,000, has been the scene of racial tension in the past. However, no difficulties have arisen recently.

Segregation barriers also will fail at Montgomery, Ala., as eight Negro pupils enter previously white schools in the first capital of the Confederacy. Six will go to high schools and two to Harrison Elementary School where an effort was first made 10 years ago to allow Negroes to enter. This year, the integration is under federal court order.

Schools also are being integrated at Mount Sterling, Ky., where 227 pupils, displaced by the burning of a Negro school, enter classes.

Besides the 227 Negro pupils entering city schools at Mount Sterling, 111 other Negro pupils enter county schools.

Federals Take Trio Acquitted Of Slaying

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Two white men freed of state murder charges in the slaying of a Washington, D. C., Negro educator, have been transferred to federal custody.

Joseph Sims, 41, and Cecil Myers, 25, are among four men being held in the July 11 pre-dawn shotgun slaying of Lemuel Penn on a North Georgia Highway.

Sims and Myers, acquitted of the state charge Friday night, still face federal conspiracy charges under the new civil rights law. They were transferred to the Clarke County jail at Athens.

A federal grand jury is expected to take up the conspiracy charges next February.

The state is holding James Lackey, 28, who has not yet been tried.

A fourth man, Herbert Guest, 37, faces a federal charge of conspiracy.

Houstonian Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — Mrs. Carol Meyer, 23, member of a prominent Houston family, died in a car-truck crash about 3 miles south of here today.

She was the wife of George Meyer II, president of the Meyer Investment Corp.

Officers said Mrs. Meyer's car and a truck driven by J. D. Renfro, 49, also of Houston, collided. Renfro was unhurt.

Jets Collide, Four Killed In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Two U.S. jet fighter planes crashed southwest of Tokyo today, killing one pilot and three Japanese factory workers.

An F8 Navy Crusader piloted by Lt. R. C. Schoeder, Rochester, Minn., crashed while taking off from Atsugi Naval Station about 40 miles southwest of Tokyo. It plowed into a small factory, killing three workers and injuring four other Japanese.

Schoeder bailed out. He said in a statement he had aimed his plane at an open area surrounded by trees and did not realize there was a factory beyond.

U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer called on Vice Foreign Minister Takio Oda to extend condolences.

About an hour earlier an Air Force F105 crashed on the banks of the Sagami River near the Atsugi station. The body of the pilot, whose name was withheld, was found in the wreckage.

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union, in its biggest purchase to date in Britain, has signed a contract for a synthetic fiber factory valued at $84 million.

To finance the deal, Britain's Midland Bank and the Insurance Export Finance Co. will supply $87 million on a 15-year loan guaranteed by the British government. The United States is opposed to loans of more than five years to Communist bloc nations.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno said Monday night that Indonesian "leftists" are the pillars of the Indonesian revolution.

Addressing the annual conference of the Communist peasant organization, Sukarno said Indonesia cannot ignore the numerous followers of the Communists in the country.

Sukarno heaped praise on the Reds and said Indonesia will continue to insist that Communist China be admitted to the United Nations.

Burglar Needs Doctor's Care

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Police advise whoever burglarized a wholesale grocery firm to see a doctor at once.

The prowler, or prowlers, took $35 from a refreshment fund collected by employees of the Kimball-Austin Co.

Before locking up for the weekend workers protected by gas masks sprayed the floor with a commercial pesticide containing cyanide.

A company spokesman told police Monday night that a person exposed to the gas might die without medical attention.

Visitors Pour Across Border

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — An unprecedented number of holiday visitors from the United States were reported here during the long Labor Day weekend.

Officials said more than 100,000 cars and an estimated one million people crossed the border, spreading down the coast as far as Ensenada.

A Devotional For The Day

They brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them. (Acts 5:15.)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, may our influence lead sick souls to the source of life, our Lord Jesus Christ. Help us that our influence may not mar the lives of those with whom we come in contact. In Christ's name. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

Out Of Your Pocket

In round figures, Big Spring had an insured fire loss of $25,000 in August, boosting to about $70,000 the losses for this year.

Too bad, you say, but fortunately it is covered by insurance and the companies have paid off or will mail loss checks.

Don't kid yourself, that $70,000 is coming out of your pocket, and at least a part of it in increased insurance rates. Even under the best of circumstances part of your premium goes to pay off losses which may occur in the city. In addition to this, part of the charge goes to underwriter overhead and a reasonable profit.

When losses grow past a certain percentage of the total premium (over a certain period of time), then this cuts into profit and may actually mean a loss (even though perhaps temporary) for the underwriter. So the State Fire Insurance pays rates to restore the proper balance.

By the same token, if losses are kept low, the commission rewards us with credits—up to 25 per cent of the total.

Our losses, however, have about wiped out the credits, and now we are pointing toward a penalty. Isn't it about time we tried to do something about reducing our losses.

Sensible Approach

This weekend the new diagnostic center of the Texas Department of Corrections will be dedicated at Huntsville.

Under ordinary circumstances, the building would have cost between four and five million dollars, but by using as much inmate labor as possible and utilizing brick produced as part of the prison operations, the cost was held to about two million.

This, however, is probably the least important thing about the center, which has 500 individual cells for newly-arrived inmates. It has space also for 130 assigned inmates for essential services. The 16 divisions of the new unit permit the separation of the young from the old; the first offender from the recidivist; the strong from the weak; the situational offender from the professional criminal, according to Dr. George J. Beto, director of the Texas Department of Corrections.

New inmates will remain in the diagnostic unit approximately four weeks undergoing various tests, physical examinations, interviews with sociologists and other workers. On the basis of these studies, the inmate then will be assigned to one of the 12 units of the department.

This promises to be a major step forward in the handling of inmates and particularly in the rehabilitation of the many who are there through some slip or chain of unusual circumstances. This is a sensible approach and should repay the state great dividends.

Experiment In Harlem

NEW YORK—The fierce political conflict now beginning between a liberal Republican, Sen. Kenneth Keating, and the former Attorney General, Robert F. Kennedy, could just possibly confront what is the greatest single domestic issue that the nation faces. That is Harlem and the other black ghettos across the land and the threat that they will explode in further and more terrible violence than the summer has already seen.

HERE IS Sen. Barry Goldwater's charge of lawlessness in the streets and the so-called white backlash that is aroused when bricks and bottles fly through shop windows and whole streets are looted by raging mobs. Like King Canute, Goldwater seems to be saying the tides of change would cease if only the President would order them to halt.

But even a brief look at central Harlem, the most densely populated area in the country and perhaps in the world, is to see that the forces pent up in this Negro ghetto cannot be confined by political edict.

IN HARLEM an experiment is going forward that has a seed of hope for that ghetto and perhaps for other Harlems in every large city. Harlem Youth Opportunities Unlimited, together with Associated Community Teams (HARYOU-ACT), is working to capture the interest and imagination of the 71,000 youths of central Harlem, the core of the ghetto with its densely packed 300,000 souls.

HARYOU-ACT is one of the experiments fostered by the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime. With $4,000,000 from the city and the Federal government a start has been made.

IN THIS first stage Harlem youths are being taught a wide variety of skills from remedial reading to dress designing. They will in turn teach others and their newly acquired skills will enable them to find jobs outside the ghetto. In a small way this has already begun to happen.

There is an infectious excitement about the experiment. Take the rally at Colonial Park at 147th Street and Bradhurst, on the edge of central Harlem. The HARYOU jazz band, made up of young people who have been playing together for the summer weeks, beats out a hot rhythm. Eight women dancers gave their own interpretation of the music with movements of the hands and feet owing something to African and Asian dances. The crowd of 2,000 or more gathered before the band shell roars its approval.

BETWEEN THE jazz numbers young HARYOU leaders deliver serious appeals for support and participation in the project. They have written the scripts themselves and they deliver them with an amateurishness that is yielding to practice and training.

THE HARYOU coffee shop at the corner of 133rd and 8th Avenue is packed on the weekend with young people everywhere. This was considered one of the most crime-breeding corners in Harlem and the new center has begun to make a difference.

FOR ALL ITS beginning vigor the HARYOU experiment has a long way to go to solid and established grounds. How much meaning does the experiment have in relation to the vast need within the black ghetto? Can anything be really effective, short of a massive attack to change the environment of ancient rat-infested slums and human beings living six and seven to a room? These questions could be part of the political dialogue between Keating and Kennedy if the campaign gets down to the deep-seated rot of this great city.

Billy Graham

My husband is selfish with his possessions and his income and very thoughtless of his family. Yet he claims to be a Christian and is active in church work.

E. C. Of course no Christian should be thoughtless of his family, or selfish with his possessions. The Bible says, "He that provideth not for his family is worse than an infidel." But, not having heard his side of the story, may I ask you if you are jealous of the time he spends in church work, and envious of the money he gives to the Lord's work? Remember, there was a man by the name of Judas who objected to Mary anointing the Master's feet with costly perfume. It was no coincidence that Judas was the treasurer of Jesus' band of disciples, and it was also no coincidence that in the end his greed caused him to betray his Lord for thirty pieces of silver.

If your husband is thoughtless and selfish, even though he professes to be a Christian, that is wrong. But if you are magnifying these things in your mind, and would rather he would spend the time and money that belongs to the church on you, then you are the one in the wrong. Only you are in a position to judge.

Skydiver At 64

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — "Anything you can do, I can do better." 64-year-old schoolmaster Freddie van Zyl told his son. Now Freddie has made his first parachute jump to prove it.

His son, Dr. Pierre van Zyl, is a member of the Pretoria Skydiving Club.

Said van Zyl afterwards: "I wanted to prove that anything my son can do, I can do—perhaps even better. It's been a great challenge to me."

Friends and relatives gathered at the airport to watch his first skydiving attempt. He baled out at 2,500 feet. There was a loud cheer as his parachute billowed and mushroomed above him.

Nobody was more relieved than his wife when he made a perfect touchdown. She had not been happy about his making the jump. "After all," she said, "I've got only one husband."

Campaign Begins In State Of Dizziness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential campaign is on its way—but you'll need a scorecard to keep up with the two candidates: President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Before a Labor Day rally in Detroit Monday Johnson called for unity, which is what the Democratic platform called for two weeks ago. But Johnson made headlines with a not-near attack on Goldwater.

He shouted "no president of the United States can give up responsibility for deciding when or if to use nuclear weapons." The Democratic platform already had said the President alone must control the use of nuclear weapons.

LAST AUG. 25 in Cleveland,

Goldwater made a suggestion to the Veterans of Foreign Wars which wasn't new with him, either, that the NATO allies should be given their own stock of "small, tactical, nuclear weapons, what truly may be called conventional weapons" and the NATO command should have more control over them." Goldwater had said that before.

But Johnson answered Monday to an estimated 100,000 people in Cadillac Square: "Make no mistake, there is no such thing as a conventional nuclear weapon." His administration had answered Goldwater on that before.

Following the two sides on the subject of the draft is dizzy business.

WHEN ADLAI E. Stevenson was the Democratic presidential candidate in 1956 he suggested the draft "be ended at the earliest possible moment."

President Dwight D. Eisenhower fired back: "I see no chance of ending the draft and carrying out the responsibilities for the security of this country that must be carried out."

In 1956 Goldwater challenged Stevenson to be specific on how he planned to cut taxes, reduce the national debt, and end the draft. He said Stevenson had called for an adequate defense but would end the draft.

But as early as last February Goldwater said he thought the draft could be ended. And in a speech opening his campaign Sept. 3 the senator—who wants to cut taxes, balance the budget, reduce spending and have adequate defense—promised if elected to end the draft "as soon as possible."

THE JOHNSON administration got busy on the draft problem a couple of months after Goldwater first suggested earlier this year it could be ended. Johnson ordered a study of the draft system and said the study would consider the possibility of ending selective service within 10 years.

Last month Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said he foresees the time when reliance on the draft can be reduced but declined to predict it could be abolished entirely.

On Saturday Goldwater said that if elected he would ask Congress to put through a program of yearly income tax cuts. In the past he had been calling for an end to the graduated income tax although not to the income tax itself.

THE DEMOCRATIC platform in August promised to seek "further reductions" in taxes. The Republican platform in July promised "further reduction in individual and corporate tax rates as fiscal discipline is restored."

Earlier this year Goldwater—on the grounds that he feared it would be inflationary—voted against the Johnson administration's $11.5-billion tax cut for individuals and corporations. Congress passed it, the biggest cut in history.

Plodding Back From Holiday

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is returning to the job after a three-day holiday weekend.

Some, of course, can't stand to be away from the usual routine of office or plant life. They return to it with glad sighs, as an old horse to its stall.

Others of us, on the other hand, need a little indoctrination upon having to come back to the chafing of the daily rut. Freedom has made us a bit wild and coltish.

WE NEED again to be reconciled to the thought that, while variety may be the spice of life, it is also good for our immortal souls to be back once more plodding through the old salt mine.

In that helpful spirit we have assembled some remarks by the sages of the ages on why work is good for what ails us:

"Where our work is, there let our joy be." — Tertullian.

"As a cure for worrying, work is better than whisky." — Thomas A. Edison.

"Let us work without protest; it is the only way to make life endurable." — Voltaire.

"WORK KEEPS at bay three great evils: boredom, vice, and need." — Voltaire.

"Work! God wills it. That, it seems to me, is clear." — Gustave Flaubert.

"I don't pity any man who does hard work worth doing. I admire him. I pity the creature who doesn't work, at whichever end of the social scale he may regard himself as being." — Theodore Roosevelt.

Well, there's the case for the joys of good old work. But how about those stubborn rebels who have to be dragged kicking and screaming back to the job?

Here is some consolation for them:

"Never work when hungry." — Hippocrates.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." — James Howell, 1659.

"ONLY HORSES work, and they turn their backs on it." — U.S. hobo proverb.

"I like work; it fascinates me. I can sit and look at it for hours. I love to keep it by me; the idea of getting rid of it nearly breaks my heart." — Jerome K. Jerome.

"Work only tires a woman, but it ruins a man." — African proverb.

"Work is for the birds!" — Hal Boyle.

To Your Good Health

Some Nasal Surgery Avoided During Allergy Season

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: For several years I have had trouble breathing through my nose. I was found to be allergic to dust and trees. Shots do not seem to help.

A specialist says I have a "deviated septum with overactive turbinates," and that the septum should be straightened but the turbinates should not be touched.

He won't perform the surgery until after the first frost. Why can't this be corrected now during the allergy season when I have the most trouble?—A. E. P.

During the allergy season, the membranes of the nose will be boggy and swollen. This condition makes healing more difficult and congestion worse for the time being, so you would not have anything to gain, and perhaps something to lose, by hurrying the procedure.

Some doctors also avoid nose and throat surgery during the "polio season," which could be another reason for waiting until fall or winter.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a friend who was in the hospital for eight weeks with gall bladder trouble and complications. They took 35 or 40 X-rays while she was in there. If one did not show clearly, they would take it again.

My husband says they took too many and it can cause cancer of the blood. How can you be safe and not have X-rays when doctors advise them? How do you feel about it?—MRS. E. O.

How do I feel? Never take an X-ray that isn't needed, but never hesitate when one IS needed. The 35 or 40 may sound like a lot, but at 1-10th of a second exposure for each, that's only four seconds altogether. X-ray treatment (instead of just pictures) is in terms of minutes, but I don't know of anyone who got "cancer of blood" from it.

Dear Dr. Molner: You have always referred to enlarged prostate as an older man's ailment. I am only 30 but have been getting treatments twice a week for an infected prostate. Is this unusual? Is prostate massage the only treatment or are antibiotics available to relieve it?—D. K.

I've mentioned a number of times that prostate trouble, while primarily occurring among older men, can occur in young ones, too. Enlarged prostate is an older man's ailment. Infection of the gland, prostatitis, is more often seen in younger men.

Massage is a standard treatment; use of antibiotics would depend on whether infection is the basic trouble, and if so, whether the germs are of a type that can be controlled or subdued by those drugs.

Around The Rim

The Unreformable

Once upon a time there was an old man who lived in a tar-paper and scrap lumber shanty near the city dump. His small shack was submerged in rubbish and filth, and the old man himself was about as unwashed a specimen as you could find anywhere. He ate sparingly for the good reason that there was little available for him to eat. He shivered in the winter because the chill winds found easy entrance into his hovel; he sweated in the summer for the lack of any air conditioning. He squinted by light of a kerosene lamp and hovered over a stove made of an old oil barrel.

He wore rags, and altogether offered a piteous spectacle.

"POOR OLD man," said the kindly folk of the community. "We must do something for him."

So they got together, raised the necessary funds, and built a comfortable little cottage on a suitable lot a long, long way from the colorful but somewhat odiferous city dump. It had electricity and gas and was air-conditioned.

THE GOOD PEOPLE peeled off the old man's rags and dunked him in a series of baths until he was white as the drifted snow. They garbed him in sensible and comfortable clothing. They stocked his kitchen with food. All in all, they put him in good shape. Then they congratulated one another on their good deed and went their way feeling all warm and choked up inside.

Time passed. The electric company wanted to be paid for the current to the cottage. So did the gas company. The supply of food ran out.

The old man apparently did not like the sample he had of bathing.

His clothing became dirty and ragged. The little cottage began to fall apart.

THE OLD man saw what was happening. He packed up what meager possessions he had and left. He went back to his shack on the dump. It had stood the passage of time well—it was in such poor shape that any additional wear did not register.

The people in the town, having become engrossed on other enterprises, had forgotten about their good deed. They had assumed that the old man, all shook up and proud with his new possessions and environment, would adopt the standard they had set for him.

One day one of the citizens passed the little cottage and saw how decrepit it was and how devoid of occupancy.

HE REPORTED to his fellows. What, they asked, had become of the poor old man?

Finally someone discovered him. He was sitting out in front of his shack on the city dump sunning himself. He was ragged, dirty, underfed and pitiful just as he had been when they first spotted him.

He saw the committee coming toward his shanty.

He rose to his feet and peered with his weak old eyes at the approaching group.

WHEN HE RECOGNIZED them, he ran as fast as his old legs would carry him over the city dump and away from the committee.

And the committee never did understand that the poor old man was just where he wanted to be and would never change.

Voter Realignment

WASHINGTON — Clifton White, the lean, debonair, bow-tied, Goldwater-builder, earned his Distinguished Flying Cross in World War II by shooting down German fighter planes, but he doesn't make much of it.

"I was lucky to get over there early," he says, "when there were so many of them."

HIS JOB NOW, as chairman of Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, is to shoot down misapprehensions concerning the hopelessness of the GOP ticket.

Cliff White left the Air Force to become a professor of political economy, and his book learning still serves as a balance for the intense experience as a practical political manager since 1960. He agrees with President Johnson that there's a frontlash as well as a backlash in the present campaign, but he gives the phenomenon a more academic term. He calls it realignment.

"REPUBLICANS are going to vote Democratic, and Democrats are going to vote Republican," says White. "It's the first time in history when this sort of thing has happened in an era of relative calm. In Jackson's day, the West was in economic revolt, in the 1860s we had the Civil War, and in the 1930s we had a world depression. But today—and I don't believe that racism in the front-and-back lash is the whole story—people demand a change for reasons they find hard to articulate."

IF EVERY Republican in the country voted for Goldwater, he could still be clobbered in November. Only about 27 per cent of the voting population strongly "identifies" itself as Republican.

In his position as Citizens' chairman, White is looking for "people," regardless of political identity. He's convinced that inarticulate Americans who hunger for a change away from federal omnipresence in their lives, are more numerous than those swarms of Messerschmitts he used to see in the skies of Festung Europa.

HE'LL SOON be finding ways to reach, to organize, to mobilize the multitude of malcontents.

Inevitably, the Goldwater campaign is showing the influence of Richard Nixon's defeat in 1960, when a winning chance was botched. Dick Nixon knew that he was leading a minority party, so he "never" mentioned being a Republican. Goldwater and Burch are reacting to this mistake by rebuilding the National Committee into a real Republican dreadnought. Nixon got himself into an ungainly straddle of me-tooism by trying to please the liberals who'd gone along with General Eisenhower. White is reacting to this mistake—and also to his own convictions—by trying to attract every breed of conservative into the House of Goldwater.

"Every breed except the extremists," he adds very quickly.

Anti-Digit Dialers Lose Again

WASHINGTON — You don't hear much about the anti-digit dialing rebels any more; poor devils are mostly gone now, hiding in the swamps, dead, or communicating with each other by rapping on the pipes in their cells.

It's too bad, in a way, because the anti-digit boys were a pretty gun-ho bunch, at least they were until they crossed A.T. and T. or 28 and 8 as I prefer to call it. They were real stand-up guys, the anti-digit chaps, and I'll never forget the lump I felt in my throat the day they all scrambled down the cargo nets and into the landing craft.

ANYWAY, I couldn't hit the beach with the chaps, due to a last-minute recurrence of my old back trouble, but I was with them in spirit. They were idealists; when they wanted to get Elizabeth Taylor at Butterfield-5 they weren't going to settle for her on any other terms. There is just a peck of difference between a number with character, say, Tsarina 8-7600, and a meaningless mishmash of digits, like 876-7600.

Numbers just don't have the cozy potential that letters have. Remember "Hello, Central, give me heaven?" Just trying singing it "Hello, Central, give me 432836."

WELL, IDEALISM butters no parsnips, as Gen. Sherman said, and all of us knew the poor chaps who sailed against that genial old corporate octopus, 28 and 8, were going into history the hard way.

It's too late, of course, but I just ran across a thing that would please that brave handful who fought the good fight against digit dialing. I guess the few who're left alive don't have any real privileges, but if you ever have occasion to visit one, you could lift his morale by whispering the following story through the wire mesh to him:

I WAS BROWSING through a portentous magazine that claims to know everything the other day, when I reached a full-page advertisement of the Western Electric Company, which as every student of the Robinson-Patman Act knows, manufactures equipment for the Bell Telephone System, which, in turn, is the principal tentacle of old 28 and 8.

The ad contained a photograph of a number of black telephones, one white telephone and the caption: "In case you ever dial 280-5171." Underneath was a rather wordy text block which explained that equipment had to be on standby at all times to connect you with any of old 28 and 8's 70 million phones.

WELL, I DID WHAT any red-blooded underground anti-digit dialer would have done. I dialed 280-5171, just to see if friendly, old-shoe Western Electric really had all that equipment sitting there patiently waiting for me.

It didn't. What I got was a blood-curdling squeal, much like a adenoidal boy soprano imitating a Paris fire engine. I tried 280-5171 again, on the off-chance I'd made a mistake, with the same result. Then I called the operator and said I was having trouble reaching the number and could she help. She couldn't. She said there was no such exchange in the area.

OF COURSE, there wasn't. If they'd written something sensible, like Aorta 0-5171, in their ad I'd have been put through straight away.

Shastry Humor

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastry is a somewhat shy unassuming man but he has a strong sense of humor.

Not long ago, when Shastry was a cabinet minister, the doorman rang at his home. Shastry opened the door.

"Tell the minister the stenographers he ordered have come," a visitor said somewhat curly.

"Wait a moment, please," said Shastry and he disappeared into the house without revealing his identity.

Chuckling at his practical joke, he then slipped behind his desk while a servant ushered in the visitors.

Paris Fashions Ready To Be Copied

From left, model steps out in long slim pants with crease stitched in, sleeveless top, boots and baby bonnet, all by the most publicized designer of the season, Andre Courreges; lace smock and spangled black lace pants by Jacques Heim; another Courreges model wears white boots and bowler with two-piece checked wool suit; at right, model poses in beige tweed and velvet wrap-around coat trimmed and lined with Kamchatka fox fur, and red fox toque, from Marc Bohan's Russian flavored collection for the house of Christian Dior.

It's Your Turn To Judge New Fashions From Paris

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Now it's your turn to speak up. You've been word-fed buyers and fashion writers' versions about what went on in those plush Parisian salons for more than a month.

You've heard the verdict, no doubt, that Andre Courreges is the rising new star in the style constellation; that last year's genius, Yves St. Laurent, is a falling star; and that Coco Chanel is pasted permanently up here.

But whatever judgments the fashion trade and publications have made, the creators and their works are on trial all over again—with you sitting in the jury box.

By now, figure the experts, it is safe to release photographs of all that went on.

A picture is worth more than $10,000 to style plagiarists who might try to beat them in getting own designs on the market, figure couture member of the Chambre de Syndicale.

Hence they've delayed until now in asking your judgment until their paying overseas customers could receive their purchases and themselves tear them apart for line-for-lines, adaptations, and French inspired ready to wear garments to sell to you. That time is now.

So what is your attitude, for example, towards wearing long pants for day and night, work and play? You'll be seeing them—slim, space-age, wide-legged, pleated, unpleated, tight, bell-bottomed, with and without short skirts and coats over them.

Is this the year you'll go Muscovite? Marc Bohan at the house of Christian Dior is hoping so. He has created some bulky tweeds to wrap around you, with huge mink collars to nuzzle your nose in, (and which few Russians have the rubles to buy.) Naughty lace dresses, bat wing sleeves on many garments, and flat shovel berets are other Bohan offerings.

Perhaps you'll be inclined to wear tiny white boots with everything, as Andre Courreges hopes you will. Or maybe, if you're thin and youthful, your ballot will be cast for Jules Crahay of Lanvin for his rakish skinny suits muffled around the throat with tweedy scarves or furs.

Chances are you are already a Coco Chanel fan, (what woman isn't?) and will therefore adore her dresses tiered, ruffled, or wrap around, as you have worshiped her suits, handbags, and even her hairbows.

Could be that you feel as Yves St. Laurent has concluded—it's time women gave up all this mannish foolishness and took to looking like refined ladies again.

No matter how the buyers have believed, you may decide that this young disciple of Dior, now on his own, is right in practicing an elongated silhouette, transparent hems, a floating, languid look for evening.

You're the judge. You cast a more powerful ballot than word. You vote with fashion dollars.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Out on our hill we spent a quiet Labor Day... that is, no speeches, no parades, we just labored as usual. But in the evening The Herald had its end of summer barbecue which is about the only time some of us see the other members of the newspaper workers families.

Last night we all bade the KEITH McMILLIN family adieu after spending 12 happy years with them here. Keith is to work for the Columbia, Mo., Tribune... the RAY McMAHENS planned to leave this morning on a long delayed vacation which is to be spent just going from one place to another as they decide. One stop will be in Paris, Texas where friends met during various pressmen conventions. Also, they plan to go to Wichita Falls for a visit with the CHUCK TIBBELS who lived here and worked for our paper for a number of years.

MRS. GRANVILLE GLENN related that her daughter's family, MR. and MRS. DEWIE STEVENSON and the little girls, are situated in their new home in St. Paul, Minn.

The Glens are happy for Dewie's new opportunity but just a little sad at the separation... maybe they can run over to Minneapolis and see the BOBO HARDYS... it would be a happy time for both Texas families.

The MARTIN LANDERS took advantage of the holiday to go to Corpus Christi where they visited the son and his wife and did some near-the-shore fishing.

Back Sunday from a weekend trip were MR. and MRS. A. W. MOODY and MRS. C. W. DEATS, who visited in Amarillo, and MRS. ARTHUR PICKLE who went as far as Lubbock and visited the H. R. PICKLES while the others were in Amarillo.

Recent tourists who took the guided tour through the Carlsbad Caverns National Park were MR. and MRS. J. E. PEUGH of Stanton, and their guests, MR. and MRS. DAVID McREYNOLDS of New Orleans.

In Section B, Mrs. D. A. Brazel and Mrs. Ray McMahan tied with Mrs. William M. Kerr, Midland, and Mrs. Don Stewart for fourth and fifth places. Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Slaughter, McCamey, placed sixth.

First place trophy for the Open Pairs was two large brass gallery trays and for second place was a triangular pedestal brass compote.

Hostesses for the refreshment hour were Mrs. R. H. Weaver, Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. Don Newsom. Refreshments were served from a circular table covered with a floor-length red cloth. Silver appointments were used, and to one side was a scene made by Mrs. A. Swartz, showing two tables of miniature bridge players complete with tiny duplicate boards.

Members of the Big Spring Garden Club will meet at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday for a luncheon at the Big Spring Country Club. The regular meeting time is 9:30 a.m., but the group will meet during the noon hour for their initial fall meeting and social session.

Homework is hard work for young eyes. Plenty of good light is needed for reading small type, seeing details in maps and charts and performing other close visual tasks. For easier seeing at the study table, a good table lamp with at least a 150 watt bulb or equivalent is recommended. The lamp should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work surface and properly shaded to conceal the light source from the eyes. A diffusing bowl (or a bulb with its own built-in diffuser) is recommended to soften the light and prevent glare. Check your children's study light now. Make sure they have proper light for easy seeing when they do their homework.

Redistricting Cloture Move Starts In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seventeen senators joined today in filing a petition to shut off debate in the Senate battle over the Supreme Court's legislative reapportionment decision.

The fight over this issue is the chief stumbling block to adjournment of Congress.

The petition to invoke the anti-filibuster rule was submitted by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois shortly after the Senate convened at the end of a Labor day recess.

Under the rules, the petition will come to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on Thursday.

The move, requiring a two-thirds majority of senators voting, is designed to limit further debate by a group of liberal Democrats against a legislative reapportionment rider to the pending $3.3-billion foreign aid bill.

Dirksen is chief sponsor of the rider, aimed at delaying for a year or more Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of seats in both houses of state legislatures on a population basis.

He wants to gain time to seek adoption of a constitutional amendment that would permit states to apportion seats in one branch of their legislatures on a basis other than population.

Joining him in filing the cloture petition were two Democratic senators and 14 Republican senators. The total of 17 was one more than is required by the rules.

One of the democratic signers was Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi, who long has battled against use of the filibuster against civil rights measures.

The other Democratic signer was A.S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma.

Senate Democratic Leader

Mike Mansfield of Montana said it appeared "very doubtful" that the cloture rule would be invoked, limiting each senator's speaking time to one hour.

If the cloture move fails, a group of liberal Democrats who have been carrying on what Dirksen calls a filibuster against his proposal will be free to keep on talking indefinitely.

Dirksen's proposal, offered as a rider to the $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization bill, could be tabled and thus killed if opponents could line up a majority against it. So far they have been unable to do so.

With the stalemate standing in the way of congressional adjournment, there were reports that Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., President Johnson's vice presidential running mate, now is ready to throw his weight publicly behind the anti-Dirksen forces.

Johnson so far has kept silent on the reapportionment issue. The platform adopted by the Democrats at their national convention in Atlantic City avoided the subject altogether, in contrast with the GOP platform pledge to support action to overturn the Supreme Court's ruling.

The dispute is more an urban-rural clash than a party-line fight. Big-city and suburban spokesmen protest that state legislative districts are heavily weighted in favor of rural areas and argue that federal court orders offer the only hope of reapportionment.

Burglars Fail To Force Safe

An attempt to force open a safe sometime Monday night failed, police learned today, after a burglary was reported at the office of Attorney George Thomas at 501 S. Gregg.

Mrs. Cleo Thomas reported to police she went to the office about 12:15 a.m. today and found attempts had been made to force open the safe. She reported nothing was missing from the office in the attempted break-in, although a cabinet adjacent to the safe was damaged.

Mrs. C. P. Carrillo, 200 NE 3rd, told police a wallet containing about $95 and a pair of women's shoes, valued at $12, were taken from her husband's car while it was parked at Birdwell Park. She said her husband was in the park with his two children and found the wallet and shoes missing after returning to the car. The theft occurred about 8:40 p.m. Sunday.

Lopez Not Discouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — "It hurt, but we still have 20 games to play. This didn't win or lose anything."

Manager Al Lopez was trying to look on the bright side after his Chicago White Sox lost a doubleheader Monday to Washington, 3-0 and 6-2, and skidded out of first place in the American League.

The White Sox are entangled in a hot three-team pennant contest with Baltimore and New York.

"Sure it's a tough race," Lopez said. "I've been saying that right along. You can't tell when somebody's going to get hot."

East German Trade Wood

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP) — Western traders — especially the British — are courting Communist East Germany's business. They say West Germany is trying to block them.

The traders are here in large numbers for the autumn Leipzig Trade Fair, largest in the Communist world. One of the most vocal complaints about West German opposition came from Brunary Drayson, Conservative member of the British Parliament from a Yorkshire agricultural area.

In an interview, Drayson said the West Germans are trying by political and other means to keep Western countries from trading with East Germany. He said British businessmen were insisting on a fair share of the market.

West Germany is the biggest Western trader with East Germany. Total trade both ways ran to about $437 million last year. West German officials, although insisting on official nonrecognition of the Communist regime, contend trade is a domestic matter and may help achieve German reunification.

The British buy most of East German potash exports, about 6 million tons a year. Drayson said the East Germans are prepared to shave the price a few shillings per ton below what suppliers from other countries are asking.

Military Rites For C. A. Ryerson

He was an Air Force veteran of World War II.

Rebels Proclaim Republic In Congo's Stanleyville

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Rebels in the northern Congo have proclaimed a "People's Republic" in Stanleyville and are pushing toward Coquilhatville. They may try to link up with insurgent forces in Kwilu Province.

The rebel radio in Stanleyville said Christophe Gbenye, a former vice premier of the Congo, has been named president of the People's Republic. As defense minister it named Gaston Soumialot, main rebel leader in the east who has been in close contact with Red Chinese diplomats in neighboring Burundi.

The broadcast said the next rebel target was Coquilhatville, capital of Cuvette Centrale Province on the Congo's north-west border. Its capture would put the rebels in control of most of the northern Congo between Burundi in the east and the Congo (Brazzaville) Republic 800 miles to the west.

A linkup with the Kwilu rebels led by Pierre Mulele, Peking-trained former minister of education, would cut off Leopoldville, which is less than 300 miles west of Kwilu.

Rebel forces were reported storming the jungle town of Boende about 200 miles from Coquilhatville. If Boende falls, the last barrier to the provincial capital is a garrison of 200

City Commission Meets For Big Agenda Tonight

Improvements in the downtown parking situation, a new city paving program, and appointments to several city boards are among major items awaiting action by the city commission in its regular session at 7 p.m. today in city hall.

The suggested parking improvements have been in preparation for some time and are to be presented by a group of downtown property owners, including participation by both downtown businessmen and the city in the proposals.

The paving program, which was being put into final form today for presentation to the commission, is to include upwards of 50 blocks of city streets, with the actual work to be done next spring and summer. The project is the fifth and last phase of the Master Plan paving program.

Petitions have been received from property owners concerning the paving and preliminary engineering estimates have been completed for the work.

The appointments to city boards include two for the park and recreation board, and one for the city planning and zoning board. Another board, the zoning board of appeals, includes two for the park and recreation board, and one for the city planning and zoning board. Another board, the zoning board of appeals, includes five members whose terms expire Sept. 30, but for whom the length of service has not yet been determined.

Also to go before the commission is a planned sewer lift station north of the city, near the IS 20 bypass.

Public Works Director Erill station than was previously consideration of a larger size nest Lillard has recommended studied, suggesting that the increased size would enable service of a larger area than otherwise. Use of the larger station, with a capacity of 250 gallons per minute rather than 30 gallons per minute, would prevent additional sewage from going to lines in the Banks Addition which are already overloaded, according to Lillard.

Commissioners will also hear a request for annexation of 12.3 acres of property adjacent to Mur Heights, owned by A. C. Klyven.

A public hearing for off-premises consumption of alcoholic beverages is included on the commission agenda, for property at the corner of Marcy Drive and Birdwell Lane, owned by Elmer C. Dyer. A liquor store is planned at the corner.

Two recommendations from the planning and zoning commission will go before the commissioners for action, including a change from one family to neighborhood service zone for four lots at Gollad Street and FM 700, owned by L. L. Robertson, who had told the planning board he planned to lease the property for a service station. The other request is a routine change from IF-1 to IF-2, both one family zones, to bring the zoning requirements for lot sizes into conformance with the existing zones in Highland South additions three and four.

A request will be presented concerning a "no parking zone" for the east side of Main Street in front of the new Malone and Hogan Clinic. The clinic has provided 54 off-street ground level parking spaces, and 50 second floor level spaces adjacent to the clinic building.

A representative of an encyclopedia sales company, Gordon Shutt, is to request a change in the fee structure of the peddlers permit of the city.

Numerous second and third readings of ordinances are also included on the commission agenda.

DEAR ABBY

Forget It, It's Over

DEAR ABBY: Fifteen years ago, when I was 20, I was very fond of a 24-year-old man-about-town who gave me a big rush. Then I discovered that he was telling outrageous lies about me in order to build his reputation as a lady-killer. I dropped him immediately, and have had no contact with him since. I am now happily married and have a lovely home and family. My mother wrote that this old boy friend had visited my home town, and he'd telephoned her asking for my address. He said he travels a lot and wanted to see me again to talk over old times. My mother innocently gave it to him. How should I handle him if he calls me? Should I discuss it with my husband in case he should call? I definitely want no more to do with this man.

UPSET
DEAR ABBY: Don't discuss it with your husband. He might wonder why you are so upset over a lot of 15-year-old lies. If Mr. Lady-killer calls, tell him you are happily married and would rather not see him, so please not to call again.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who needs a straight answer. Exactly, what is wrong with falling asleep with a boy if you have all your clothes on? Please don't say it's just not "right" as that is no answer. Thank you. WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR ABBY: There's a time for entertaining a boy and a time for sleeping. When it's time to sleep, it's time to bid the boy farewell. That way you won't have to wonder if something was said or done—or if you only dreamed it.

DEAR ABBY: I am involved with a married man in his 40s. We love each other, Abby. I know our relationship is wrong, but I am discreet and manage to see him without disrupting his family life. Lately he has been talking about divorcing his wife and marrying me. Nothing would make me happier than to be his wife, but the last thing I want to do is break up his home. He has a compatible relationship with his wife, but he doesn't love her. He is just staying with her because of the children. He is well able to support two families. How can I convince him that divorce would be unfair to his family? He is 20 years older than I, but sometimes I feel like his mother. He's the only man I've ever loved and I don't want to lose him. WILLING TO WAIT

DEAR ABBY: To wait for what? Until his children are grown and gone, and his wife is 55? Will divorce then be any easier on his wife? Face it. The "only man you've ever loved" belongs to somebody else. And did when you met him. Match your discretion with decency, and get out of his life.

CONFIDENTIAL TO B.W. AT WAVE IN DAYTON: A little birdie (all right, Reed Sherman) reported that you are now the original THIN MAN! Congratulations, Handsome. How did you do it?

Bomb Sniffer Being Made

CHICAGO (AP)—An electronic nose more sensitive than a bloodhound's is being developed to sniff out bombs planted aboard airliners.

The project conducted by the Illinois Institute of Technology Research Institute was made possible by a $39,000 grant from the Federal Aviation Agency.

The FAA has wrestled with the problem of aerial sabotage since Nov. 1, 1965, when a time bomb destroyed an airliner in flight near Longmont, Colo., killing 44 persons. In all, the FAA estimates 191 persons have been killed by criminally placed bombs.

The feasibility of building an electronic bomb detecting device "looks good," research director Dr. Andrew Dravnieks, 52, said in an interview Monday, "but we are trying to make it practical."

"We are not yet at the stage where we can visualize a complete piece of equipment," Dravnieks said. "That is about 5 or 10 years away."

Dravnieks said he would report his findings to the FAA in December. The electronic nose would operate on much the same principle as a human nose. A complex field of electrical detectors acutely sensitive to tiny amounts of vapor emitted by explosives would serve as olfactory nerves. An alarm, a bell or light, would act as a brain.

When molecules of an explosive material such as dynamite are detected, the disturbance will trigger the alarm.

Defense Department Says More Bases To Be Closed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indirectly answering criticism by Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, the Defense Department says it expects to close more military installations "as it is found they are no longer necessary for our security."

Goldwater said Sunday that in four years the Democrats had closed more bases than the Eisenhower administration did in eight years.

The Defense Department is said in part:

"We do not believe that the American people want the Department of Defense to continue to operate installations which have become obsolete or unnecessary."

"We believe that the American people do not intend their Department of Defense to be operated as a WPA, but rather to provide all the military strength necessary for security in the most economical manner."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says it obtained a record 1,559 tax case convictions in the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

In a statement issued Monday, it said those convicted were given prison sentences totaling 354 years and fined more than $3 million. The previous fiscal year there were 1,298 convictions.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sci-

tific information has been received from 14 of the 20 experiments carried by the new orbiting U.S. space observatory called OGO.

The data, received at mid-afternoon Monday shortly after OGO passed its low orbital point of 176 miles, is being analyzed by National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists.

OGO was launched last Friday night from Cape Kennedy, Fla. One of its main aims is to try to learn how the sun affects the earth and the atmosphere.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynex)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Coy Nalley and J. C. Stop Carriers Of Sleeping Sickness

Mosquitoes, suspected of carrying the dreaded encephalitis scourge which recently hit some areas of Texas, can be stopped from entering your house. You can do this by applying brush-on No-Roach in the form of an "X" across each screen. Brush the "X" in strips about three inches wide. Then all mosquitoes and flies that buzz around the screens seeking entry will die after touching the colorless coating.

The invisible coating stays effective for months to protect your house from mosquitoes.

You can get the invisible No-Roach at Hull & Phillips, Newcom's, Safeway, Piggly Wiggly, Furr's, and all grocery stores, where it is distributed by Strip-lings.

Bobby Wright Wins 33rd Annual Meet

By TOMMY HART

Bobby Wright, a home town product, joined the list of multiple winners in the 33rd annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament here Monday when he beat Post's Charley Hopkins in the 18-hole final, 2-1, at the Country Club.

Ten years elapsed between Wright's successes in the tournament.

Hopkins, a school teacher who has been playing golf eight years, had his troubles on the front nine and was never able to repair the damage.

Wright fashioned a one-under par 34 on the first nine to make the turn three up. Hopkins nibbled at Wright's lead by winning the 11th with a par four but that was as close as he ever got.

The veteran Wright, who had missed medalist's honors by a stroke last Friday, had all the shots when he needed them, Hopkins consistently was longer than Bobby off the tee but from there on in Bobby was the master.

Hopkins experienced his worst trouble on the 400-yard eighth hole when his tee shot found a tree and he eventually had to concede the hole to Wright.

Hopkins held his only advantage of the day on the second hole when he received for a birdie but Bobby pulled even with a par on the short fourth hole. Wright then moved ahead to stay by winning three straight holes, following the fourth with a par and a birdie. Hopkins rallied to win the seventh with a par but Wright came right back at him by grabbing the eighth and ninth.

On the back nine, after Hopkins had captured the 11th, Wright found his par three on No. 12 good enough to win. Hopkins enjoyed a bird on the 13th stroke last Friday, had all the shots when he needed them, Hopkins consistently was long-

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
RED GRANGE, former football great:
"I admire the American Football League teams, which can challenge the calibre of the National Football League. It is only a matter of time until there is a World Series of pro football. How do you become an All-American? All you need are ten real good blockers and a real good publicity man."

DAMON RUNYAN, late sports writer:
"The race is not always to the swift nor the battle to the strong—but that's the way to bet."

HANK IBA, U.S. Olympic basketball coach:
"Our main job is organization. Foreign countries are progressing in this game. We've sent them our best coaches and players, and we've done our job well—so well that now, with the Olympics ahead, we must beat them not alone with manpower but with superior organization."

JOE DAVIS, Rice University coaching aide:
"I respect Texas the most in the conference race. They lost four good football players in Carlisle, Ford and the two tackles, Appleton and Faulkner. But actually, I'd say their biggest replacing job is the two tackles, and they've got a lot of athletes over there to do that job. Right behind Texas, I'd rate Arkansas and SMU, the Mustangs for speed and the fact that they admit they've had their two best recruiting years recently. Then A&M, don't undersell them. The Aggies are going to beat a lot of folks."

DICK YOUNG, New York scribe:
"The strangest sit-in in this troubled land is occurring on the San Francisco Giants. Willie Mays sits down for a day or two, Willie McCovey says he cannot play because his foot hurt, and Juan Marichal pitches shutouts only when he's well enough to pitch. The boys are putting the shaft to Alvin Dark pretty good in his last days as manager. They know he's out. But that's not quite good enough for them; they want to see him squirm. They are showing him they are mentally sharp enough to contrive this form of cranial torture for the Giants' manager, who must be lying in bed nights to anticipate which of his players will report sick or tired the next day."

NAAMAN NICKELL, Odessa scribe:
"It wouldn't be surprising if the District 2-AAAA championship were to be decided Nov. 20 at W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa when Odessa and Permian meet with the Panthers as the home team—for what that's worth. The schedule actually favors these two teams slightly—primarily in that they play San Angelo in Odessa. They both also play Midland High here."

An official of the San Francisco Giants:
"The fans are the ones to blame for our slump. They're like animals—they're hurting us. Don't they understand that when you have to exchange a sick Juan Marichal for a well John Freganzer, the team is in trouble?"

TORIN ROTTE, veteran quarterback of the San Diego Chargers, when asked if he thought the AFL was catching up with the older National League:

"Catching up the devil? We've already caught the NFL and passed it, at least on offense. I am not kidding you the least bit. You are looking at the best offensive backfield in professional football and you're looking at the fastest and best offensive line when you watch the Chargers. This team, and several other AFL clubs, are better than NFL teams and that's all there is to it. And if you think about it, the explanation is very simple. Their teams have age on them, they're old men in comparison to AFL clubs. Old men don't have speed."

BOB RULE, Houston writer:
"Joe Don Looney, the former Oklahoma back, just didn't fit in with the New York Giants. Don Smith, the club's public relations man, noticed that Looney was very uncooperative with newspaper people, and spoke to him about it. 'I don't talk to newspapermen,' Looney growled, 'and don't you bother me either.' Shortly thereafter, Looney was traded to the Baltimore Colts."

RICE, GRAY SET RECORD

Bill Rice Sr., Sweetwater, and D. O. Gray, Kermitt, shattered a Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament record Sunday for number of extra holes played in a semifinal match of third flight consolation.

The two toiled through the 28th hole before Rice won.

The previous record was set in 1961, when Champ Rainwater, Big Spring, went eight extra holes before toppling Dr. Henson, Stanton.

The momentum Rice gained with the victory over Gray enabled him to turn back Cotton Fanning, Colorado City, in the finals, 3-2.

Ducats Will Go On Sale

Persons planning to attend Friday night's Big Spring-Lamesa football game in Lamesa, should buy their tickets at the school business administration office as early as possible, according to assistant business manager Don Crockett. He is predicting that the limited number of ducats will go quickly.

Lamesa has sent Crockett only 700 tickets, which will go on sale Wednesday between 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. for old ticket holders and then be released to the general public beginning Thursday and continuing through 2 p.m. Friday. After that time all the $1.50 ducats will have to be bought at the gate.

The 50 cent student tickets will be on sale in the high school and at Crockett's office. Thus far, 765 of the five-game booklets have been sold by Crockett, almost a 100 less than a year ago, but this number is expected to exceed last year's record breaking total by the date of the first home game.

Maxwell Slapped With Suspension

DALLAS (AP)—Strong language during the Dallas Open has led to a one-month suspension from tournament competition for golfer Billy Maxwell.

The incident occurred Monday at the scoring table after Maxwell, defending champion of the Open, finished with 282, a tie for 28th and winnings of only $227.47.

Tournament supervisor Joe Black, who announced the penalty, said Maxwell's conduct was "unbecoming for a player."

Maxwell, a Texan, plays out of Indianapolis.

Players Waived

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys placed Jimmy Evans, offensive end from Texas Western, and Jake Jacobs, rookie quarterback from Arizona State, on the waiver list Wednesday night.

Cards Closing In On Loop Leaders

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way the St. Louis Cardinals are rolling Bill Devine could become Major League Executive of the Year for the second successive season.

Now if he could only get a job...

Currently the hottest club in the National League, the Cardinals swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati Monday by identical 3-2 scores with similar ninth-inning rallies and climbed into the second-place tie with the Reds—the first time since April 19 to within 6½ games of the top they've been as high as the runner-up spot.

Devine, named the majors' top executive last year for building the Cardinals into a pennant contender, resigned Aug. 17 in a hassle with the St. Louis front office. The Cardinals went into a slight skid, but pulled out of it a week later and now have won 12 of their last 15 games.

The streak, coupled with Philadelphia's 8-7 record over the same period has pulled the Cardinals from 11 games back to within 6½ games of the top with some two dozen games still remaining.

The Phillies split their Labor Day doubleheader with the Dodgers, winning 5-1 behind Dennis Bennett's first victory in more than two months before losing the nightcap 3-1.

The San Francisco Giants remained in fourth place—one percentage point back of the Cardinals and Reds—but also climbed to within 6½ games of the Phillies by riding Willie Mays' 40th and 41st homers to 6-4 and 9-6 victories over Pittsburgh.

Milwaukee took two from the Chicago Cubs 10-9 and 8-7 with the second game called after eight innings because of darkness at Wrigley Field. The New York Mets swept a doubleheader from Houston 7-5 and 6-4.

Ken Boyer pulled the Cardinals into a 2-2 tie in the opener with his 20th homer, then scored the winning run in the ninth. He walked moved around to third on two passed balls by Don Pavletich and came home on a pinch-hit single by Tim McCarver.

McCarver played Boyer's role in the nightcap, tying it in the seventh with a homer, then starting the winning rally with a ninth-inning single. Julian Javier then forced McCarver, but promptly stole second and rode home on Curt Flood's single.

Locked in a 1-1 tie, the Phillies broke the first game open in the eighth with a four-run rally keyed by Frank Thomas' tie-breaking two-run double. Bennett brought his record to 10-12 with a five-hitter, breaking a seven-game losing streak that had kept him winless since July 5.

The Dodgers put the nightcap away in the first inning, jumping on 18-year-old Rick Wise for three runs. Walks to Maury Wills and Jim Gilliam followed by singles by Willie Davis and Derrell Griffith brought in two runs. John Roseboro's squeeze bunt got the other run across.

Mays got the Giants rolling in the opener with a homer in the first inning. Jim Hart then walked, Orlando Cepeda followed with a homer and the Pirates never were able to overcome the quick start.

Mays came up as a pinch hitter in the fourth inning of the nightcap with two on and the Giants trailing 4-2. He slammed one over the Forbes Field scoreboard, putting San Francisco ahead to stay.

Denny Menke and Joe Torre shared hitting honors for the Braves. Menke slammed two homers and a double, scored four runs and drove in three in the opener against the Cubs while Torre took over in the nightcap, slamming a homer and two singles and driving in four runs.

George Altman was the key man for the Mets, collecting four hits in the doubleheader, driving in three runs and scoring three.

In each game, however, the Mets had to put down eighth-inning rallies by the Colts, using seven pitchers in the inning. Larry Bearnarth cut off Houston in the opener and Dennis Ribant did it in the nightcap.

HERALD HONORS FOUR

Davis, McHugh Win Awards

A halfback who had one of West Texas' finest grid nights as he scored three touchdowns—and a quarterback who led his team to its first victory on the gridiron—since 1962. These are two of the four players honored in the first week of the Daily Herald's Player of the Week Pick. Here are the choices:

Line—Bill Davis, a senior left tackle who tips the scales at 265 pounds, had what head coach Bill Milam called "the best game I've seen him play since I've been here." Davis went both ways in Stanton's 12-8 victory over Roscoe, both offensively and defensively, and his blocking and tackling were something that would have made any coach happy.

Back—Buddy Shanks, playing his first varsity game of his grid career, had a good deal to do with the Buffaloes victory over the Ploowboys. The 170-pound sophomore, who was out all last season with an injury, was more responsible for what later proved to be the turning play of the game as he conpleted a 40-yard pass late in the contest that set up the winning TD. Shanks called what Milam labeled later "a smart game" and for his efforts was a big choice for the weekly honor from the Herald.

COAHOMA

Line—Bobby Perigo, a junior end for head coach Spike Dykes' Bulldogs, had a banner night as he seemed to be everywhere at once, at least when someone was needed. In making five unassisted and 13 assisted tackles, he made a high grade on a special Coahoma grading system. He also added to the offense with one pass interception that set up a drive and also two key blocks that sprung loose Coahoma backs for touchdowns.

Back—Eddie McHugh, a senior halfback who goes at 174 pounds, would have been almost anyone's choice for the back of the week honors. The little speedster gained 194 yards a carry over the Rankin tilt as he was responsible for three TD's on runs of 59, 51, and 41 yards. In addition, he also did a good job of blocking on offensive plays when he did not have the ball, an unglorious but essential task. McHugh looked even better than he did a year ago.

Puckett Injures Thumb, May Be Moved By Jay

LAMESA (SC)—Lamesa High's football fortunes suffered another setback late last week when John Puckett, 185-pound senior tackle, who was moved to center to fill in for the ailing Steve Hines, received a fractured right finger during workouts.

The Tornado coaching staff had put their hopes on Puckett as a replacement for Hines, who sustained an ankle injury earlier in the week. Hines, a two-year letterman senior center, will be out from three to six weeks, according to head coach Donald Jay.

Puckett will probably not miss any games but he will not be able to hold down the center position with the injured finger. "He can go at tackle," Jay said, "but we'll have to find someone else to fill the gap at center."

Lamesa scrimmaged Lubbock Monterey Sept. 5. Prior to the session Jay said he was pleased with the progress of the squad, noting that the defense seemed to have the edge over the offense. One of the main drawbacks is the lack of depth and the temporary loss of Hines.

Team spirit is one of the strong points. "They have good determination," the coach said.

Texans Compete In World Tourney

BROWNWOOD (AP)—Austin's Stripling-Blake Lumber Co. is in the world tournament of the American Softball Association at last.

Austin qualified for the big tournament at Sunnyvale, Calif. Sept. 18 by beating defending champion Rose Trunkers of Houston 10-9 in the finals of the Texas regional tournament Monday night.

Weber Wins Bowling Title

DALLAS (AP)—The professional bowling tour moved on to Tucson today with Dick Weber of St. Louis back in winning stride.

Weber took the $21,000 Dallas Open Monday night when he piled up 9,550 pins for the 40 games, including 650 bonus pins for winning 13 of 16 games in the finals.

It was his first tournament victory of the year although he has taken 13 tournaments in his career.

Weber had a 174-pin margin over second place Johnny Meyer of St. Louis, who had 9,376. Weber got $3,000 and Meyer $1,500. Bill Tucker of Hollywood, Calif., won 9,316 pins, was third and won $1,200.

In Title Flight

First round opponents in the 33rd annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament, which closed Monday, included George Powell (left, above) of Elkins, N.M., and George Adams. Adams defeated Powell, 4 and 3, but later yielded to the ultimate champion, Bobby Wright, by a 2 and 1 margin.

Oklahoma Filly Winner In $302,060 Classic

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (AP)—A little Oklahoma filly, Decketta, broke on top and grabbed half of the richest purse offered in North America racing this year by winning the $302,060 All-American Quarter Horse Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

The 2-year-old filly dashed a sloppy 400 yards Monday in a good 20.3 seconds to capture the sixth running of the event, which was worth $134,030 to owner W. W. Wilson of Blanchard, Okla.

The filly continued the All-American streak of a non-favorite winning as she returned $31.40, $9.20 and $6.40.

The victory was her fifth straight and boosted her earnings to $138,063—the highest ever in a season for a quarter horse.

Steam To Go, winner of four of her last five starts returned $5.20 and $4.00 for second while bringing in $58,973.20 to owner Grace M. Vessels, who also owns the Los Alamitos race course in California.

Merry Go, the fastest qualifier in last week's trials, was third and picked up $48,250.80 for owner Helen Mathelson of Las Vegas, N.M., and returned $3.60 to pari-mutuel backers.

The fourth horse, Tonto Parr, the leading 2-year-old quarter horse money winner going into this race, received a purse of $26,866, boosting his earnings to $84,801.

The victory was Decketta's fifth straight and was the filly's second in a row after being brought here from Middleburg Hunt Club, Va.

QB Club Will Have Meeting

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria and hear head football coach Don Robbins give a scouting report on the Lamesa Tornados, the Steers' first season opponent in a game slated for Friday night.

There will also be a film, narrated by Robbins, of the highlights of the 1963 season in which the Bovines compiled an 8-2 season.

All members are urged to attend. Prizes will be awarded to a man and a woman attending the convocation. A drawing will be held sometime during the meeting.

Texans Hear Politicians Swap Labor Day Punches

By The Associated Press
Texans heard Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and other Democrats level sharp attacks Monday at Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, his running mate and their party in general.

In turn the GOP candidate for U. S. senator from Texas, George Bush, loosed some pointed thrusts at Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and the Democrat's platform.

It amounted to a booming kickoff for the state's general election campaign. Labor Day rallies in Austin and San Antonio provided the backdrop as Udall also extolled Democratic leadership and accomplishments, appealing for rival party factions in Texas to shelve past differences and join behind the ticket.

The presence of Udall, from Arizona like Goldwater, and Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S. C., underscored the importance attached by Demo leaders to a November ballot victory for President Lyndon B. Johnson in his home state.

WITCH'S BREW
Johnston described the Goldwater program as "a witch's brew" in addressing the Dallas convention of the American Federation of Government Employees (AFL-CIO).

"Certainly there is no love in Sen. Barry Goldwater's heart for organized labor and for the many gains achieved by organized labor under Democratic administrations," said the South Carolina senator.

Udall, departing from his prepared remarks, drew cheers at meetings arranged by the State AFL-CIO as he laced into the top men on the GOP ticket.

"Goldwater took pride in advocating the extremist approach to politics," Udall said after mentioning the Republican candidate's acceptance speech at the Republican national convention.

He called Rep. William Miller "a second rate Congressman" and asserted the New York Republican was nominated for vice president because "in Goldwater's own words, 'he drives Lyndon Johnson nuts.'"

Udall said Sen. Hubert Humphrey was the President's choice for a running mate because of "his leadership abilities, his presidential qualifications and because he is the best the party had to offer."

'FEARMONGERS'
Yarborough appeared with Udall at the two rallies and both were on today's program at the federal employees' convention in Dallas. The senator urged listeners "to cast a resounding vote of 'no' to the fearmongers of extremism."

"We must elect a Democratic ticket from precinct to precinct," Yarborough said.

Bush, the Houston oil man seeking to unseat Yarborough, called for "protection of the rights of the individual laborer through the state rather than the federal government" in addressing a Quannah audience.

Remarks of the Republican senatorial candidate were made at a bipartisan political rally in which the rival speakers were Wayne Preston of Quannah, a county Democratic executive committeeman, and Lewin Plunkett of Houston, executive secretary of the Young Republican Clubs of Texas.

"The individual laboring man is being forgotten by the Walter Reuther and Ralph Yarboroughs," Bush declared, "and it is up to the business community to protect our country's valuable labor resources from exploitation by the left wing labor leaders."

UNION FUNDS
Bush said financial reports

filed with the Labor Department by the United Auto Workers, headed by Reuther, show this union "guided and influenced the civil rights crusade by providing organizers and funds." He added:

"Texans, be they union members or not, do not need a senator who is supported by the likes of Walter Reuther, and Ralph Yarborough is just that."

At another point Bush said a section of the Democratic party platform calls for repeal of a section of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits state "right-to-work" laws.

"This platform plank, if adopted, will seriously affect Texas' ability to attract industry," Bush said, "and, like the civil rights law, will take away another right now held by the laboring man. I favor a man joining a union if he wants to, but he should not be forced to join a union in order to work for a living."

In another Labor Day speech, Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., said "the goal for which all governments strive — prosperity without inflation — has been gained by the administration."

Profits after taxes are 18 per cent greater than a year ago and tax cuts have effected a gain of 12 per cent in capital investments in a year, the Fort Worth congressman told the Dallas Allied Printing Trades Council.

"We are in the 41st month of sustained economic growth," Wright said. "This is the longest period of continuous economic expansion in the nation's peacetime history."

more information, South made a cue bid of three spades—East's original suit.

West was in position to raise his partner's club bid in order to lay the groundwork for a potential sacrifice; however, he was not certain that East actually had clubs inasmuch as the opposition had bid the suit originally. West accordingly declined to act.

When North revealed his heart support after South's cue bid, the latter decided to dally no further and he proceeded directly to six hearts. This decision was passed around to East who doubled. If his partner led a diamond, he could ruff with his small trump, and the ace of hearts would then take the setting trick.

The double of a slam bid is conventionally employed to secure an unusual lead. Inasmuch as East had bid both spades and clubs, he was hoping to tout his partner off of the normal lead of one of his suits. By a process of elimination, West might therefore be induced to make the desired diamond opening.

North chose to open the bidding with one club and East overcalled with one spade. South contented himself with a simple forcing response of two hearts, and North refrained from offering an immediate raise with his minimum opener for fear that it might unduly excite his partner. LA PIEDRA, Mexico (AP)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos has started a four-day tour of work through Central Mexico, one of his last such visits before he steps down from office December 1.

Some 70,000 people are estimated to have welcomed the chief executive yesterday at the main square of this important cattle and agricultural center, where he dedicated several public works, including school buildings, highways and 3 reservoir dams.

He was to visit Guadalajara, capital of the neighboring state of Jalisco, today.
