President Goes Back To Work

PLEBE HONORED—Cadet Louis S. Csoka, 20, of Lewisburg, Pa., who is polishing his parade hat in preparation for inspection at any time by upperclassmen, has won the highest honor ever accorded a plebe (freshman) at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. The cadet, who with his family fled from Hungary in 1945, has been named cadet commander for the Christmas holidays. With the temporary rank of first captain and brigade commander, he heads the almost 800 plebes remaining at the academy during the Christmas vacation. (AP Wirephoto)

Congolese To Serve In U. N. Army

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Ninety Congolese soldiers will put on the blue berets of the United Nations Wednesday to join the U.N. army at Kamina base, the United Nations announced today. They are to have the same status as any other national contingent in the U.N. Congo force.

They will be the first of more than 900 Congolese soldiers scheduled to serve eventually under the U.N. flag.

Their duties at Kamina, U.N. officials said, will be to guard the important U.N. base in Katanga Province and perform rdutine reconnaissance work alongside Indian, Swedish, Norwegian and Canadian troops based there.

U.N. headquarters made clear the Congolese are not to be used in any offensive actions against Katanga President Moise Tshombe's secessionist government. But their presence is likely to increase Tshombe's fear the United Nations may assist the central Congolese army to reoccupy Katanga by force.

The political crisis between the central government and Katanga settled into a nervous period of apprehension while officials waited to see if Tshombe would stick to the agreement he signed last week with Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government.

The first test of the Tshombe declaration, in which he promised in effect to end Katanga's secession, will come Wednesday when the Katanga members of Parliament are supposed to arrrive to take up their places in the national legislature.

U.N. sources indicated that arrangements are being made to fly in 43 Katanga legislators to Leopoldville in a U.N. plane and house them here in accommodations guarded by the United Nations.

SATURDAY NIGHT MISHAP—Ernest Rancones, 17, and Carlos Rancones, 14, suffered minor injuries about 7:15 Saturday night 6 miles south of Snyder on the Round Top Road when their auto went out of control and turned over one or more times. The accident was investigated by the Highway Patrol and Sheriff's office. The youths are the sons of Frank Rancones, Gen. Del., Snyder.

Checkup On Back Is Due

By KARL R. BAUMAN

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy goes back to work on the nation's business today while keeping a careful watch on the condition of his seriously ill father.

The President himself is getting a physical examination.

Dr. Preston Wade, New York specialist, is due here during the day for a yearend checkup of the President's back.

In announcing that Wade would examine the President with the regular White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell, press secretary Pierre Salinger emphasized that Kennedy has experienced no recent trouble with his back.

The President's brother, Edward M. Kennedy, visited their father, Joseph P. Kennedy, at St. Mary's Hospital this morning. He told newsmen his father appeared to be "about the same."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger added to this report later by saying there was no change in Joseph Kennedy's condition. Fever, caused by the mild case of pneumonia, has virtually subsided, and the elder Kennedy's temperature is now "very near normal," Salinger said.

Dr. Wade plans to see the President at about 1:30 p.m.

Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton gave the President his daily intelligence briefing.

Due from Washington are three presidential advisers to work with Kennedy on the forthcoming State of the Union message.

Kennedy is getting ready for what Salinger called "a last look at the budget" for the 1963 fiscal year, which starts July 1.

Despite their anxiety over the condition of Joseph P. Kennedy, President and Mrs. Kennedy made Christmas as merry as possible for their two children.

All were up early in the ocean-front mansion of Col. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul, where they are spending the holidays, to watch Caroline, 4, open her presents beneath a tall Christmas tree. John Jr., 1, watched his delighted sister.

After Caroline finished, Salinger reported, the living room "looked like anybody's living room on Christmas morning."

The President and First Lady then drove to the small white chapel at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach to attend 10 o'clock Mass.

They spent 50 minutes with the President's father, who is battling against pneumonia as well as the after-effects of a stroke he suffered a week ago today.

They returned for another 35-minute visit Monday night.

The President and First Lady seemed to be much more relaxed than on other recent visits to the hospital.

"Thank you," the President smilingly replied when a photographer wished him a merry Christmas.

They smiled and nodded to waiting newsmen as they left the hospital.

Just before the President and his wife arrived, his mother, Rose Kennedy, accompanied by her youngest son, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, left the hospital by a side entrance.

Dr. Walter Newbern, vascular surgeon who operated on the elder Kennedy Sunday to relieve congestion on the chest and throat, reported the former ambassador to Britain was better Monday.

Salinger said the elder Kennedy's condition remains serious, but that he recognized members of his family who visited him during the morning and seemed to respond well to their visit.

The fever from the pneumonia was reported to have gone down. This is regarded as a favorable sign by doctors.

Storm Hits Large Area

By The Associated Press

The storm front that brought a white Christmas to a large area of the nation has spread numbing cold throughout the South, dropping temperatures below freezing as far south as Florida.

Farmers fired smudge pots Monday night in an attempt to ward off killing frost in agricultural sections of Florida, which had its coldest Christmas Day on record.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said the icy Canadian cold front that caused blizzards in the north over the weekend had pushed through Florida and into the Caribbean Christmas Day. Low readings Monday included 42 at Miami, a record for Dec. 25.

Readings skidded into the 20s in much of northern Florida today. It was 27 at Jacksonville, 24 at Tallahassee, 36 in Tampa and 43 in Miami. Birmingham, Ala., reported 28 degrees.

In the Midwest, the area hardest hit by the snow storm, digging out still was going on. Rescue workers reached 12 persons Monday at a pumping station near Maryville, Mo., where they had been marooned several days by six-foot drifts.

Light show was reported today from the western central Plains to the northeastern upper Great Lakes. Showers dampened the Pacific northwest, changing to snow in the mountains.

Skies were mostly cloudy across the northern part of the country, where temperatures were seasonably cold. Readings were mostly in the 20s but ranged as low as 4 degrees at Farmington, N.M., 5 at Glasgow, Mont., and 6 at Minot, N.D.

Temperatures were in the 50s in the desert regions of the Southwest and in extreme Southern California. Fog again blanketed most of the southern Pacific coast as well as the interior valleys of central and northern California.

Except for readings in the 50s and 60s in southern Texas, most of the rest of the nation had temperatures in the chilly 30s and 40s. Brownsville, Tex., had 63 degrees during the night, Corpus Christi reported 60.

Cooler Air Moving Down

By The Associated Press

Increasing cloudiness and slightly warmer weather was in store for Texas Tuesday as a new mass of cooler air edged toward the state.

The cooler air mass was due to roll into the northwest section of the state Wednesday.

Skies were clear over Texas early Tuesday except for clouds along the upper coast and inland for about 100 miles.

The lowest overnight temperature was 25 degrees at Amarillo. Corpus Christi reported 59 for the high. Temperatures generally were in the 40s.

Wink had 31 degrees, Marfa 38, Lubbock 39, Childress 40, Texarkana and Lufkin 41, Beaumont 42, Dallas and Longview 44, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, Waco and Tyler 45, Abilene, Junction and Wichita Falls 46, Austin 48, El Paso and Cotulla 49, College Station 50, Houston and Alice 51, Laredo 53, San Antonio 54, McAllen 56, Palacios 58 and Corpus Christi 59.

Maximum readings Christmas Day ranged from 58 at Beaumont to 69 at Laredo.

No rainfall was reported and none was predicted.

Adams Rites Set Today In Hermleigh

Funeral services were to have been conducted this afternoon at 2 p.m. for Joe Adams, 84, a pioneer resident of Scurry County.

Mr. Adams died Sunday in a Sweetwater hospital after a short illness. He had been a resident of the Pyron community since 1900, and was postmaster there for over 30 years. He retired from that position in 1945.

Funeral services were scheduled in the Hermleigh Church of Christ with the minister, Ralph Aycock officiating. Burial was to be in the Pyron Cemetery under the direction of Wells Funeral Home of Roscoe. Mr. Adams was a member of the Baptist Church.

Mr. Adams is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Gilmore of Hermleigh; two sons, Schley Adams of Hermleigh and Guy Adams of Arlington.

Pallbearers were to be W. H. Jean, D. F. Ammons, Jim Gilmore, Bernard Simmons, J. M. Glass and Dan Dodson.

Fog Still Plagues Los Angeles Area

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Patchy fog plagued some air and auto travel today for the sixth day since Dec. 20.

Lockheed Air Terminal in suburban Burbank was closed. Plane passengers were taken to Los Angeles International Airport, where operations continued — a switch in the two airports' recent roles.

Downtown Los Angeles was only hazy.

The morning sun melted the fog away.

The forecast is for more morning fog and afternoon sun Wednesday.

Vice President's Sister Is Dead

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. James Moss, youngest sister of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, died Monday after Christmas festivities at Johnson's ranch.

Mrs. Moss, 49, died of a cerebral hemorrhage shortly after she returned to Fredericksburg from the LBJ ranch.

Christmas Trees Are Fire Hazard

G. L. Autry, Jr., Assistant Fire Chief, issued a warning this morning to those who have yet to take down their Christmas trees.

Autry stated that as every day goes by the trees become dryer and more subject to fire.

"People take more chances with every day that goes by," he said. "The sooner the trees are taken out of the house and discarded, the safer" he added.

Road Deaths Top Estimate

By The Associated Press

Traffic	521
Fires	83
Miscellaneous	85
Total	689

Christmas holiday traffic deaths soared past the 500 estimate of the National Safety Council to a six-year record Monday night.

The latest count of the three-day Yuletide period from 6 p.m. local time, Friday to midnight Monday was 521. Fires took 83 other lives and 85 persons died in miscellaneous mishaps. The overall total of violent deaths was 689.

The council increased its estimate to 550 or more midway through the holiday period.

This is the first year since 1955 that more than 500 persons have died in traffic accidents during a three-day Christmas holiday. The 609 traffic deaths in 1955 is the record for a 78-hour yuletide period.

Last year 488 persons died in highway accidents during the Christmas weekend, the lowest figure for that period in 10 years.

The council said weather played a major part in traffic accidents during the 78 hours. Many parts of the country were sheeted with ice and packed snow, making the crowded highways even more hazardous.

The toll ran considerably higher than did the results of a 78-hour, non-holiday weekend survey conducted by The Associated Press. In the period from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8, to midnight, Dec. 11, 347 persons were killed in traffic accidents, 42 died in fires and 57 were killed in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 446.

Among the worst highway accidents was a two-car collision near Hearne, Tex., in which five persons were killed and two others injured.

Two couples were killed and five girls, aged 3 to 15, were orphaned when a station wagon and an automobile collided near Warren, Pa.

In Marietta, Ohio, a car carrying a group of young carolers and a truck collided, killing two boys and the father of one of the youths. The mother, following in another car, watched the tragedy.

Fires added to the grim holiday toll. In Groton, N.Y., three of a widow's five children and a farm laborer perished in a fire which destroyed a two-story frame building. A father and his twin 5-year-old stepdaughters died in flames which swept their home in Nankin Township near Detroit.

Winter Grips Europe Today

LONDON (AP)—Winter held an icy grip on most of Europe today.

The cold extended from Scandinavia to North Italy. Temperatures dropped below freezing in many places.

Some countries enjoyed a warming sun on their snow. In others the Christmas cold wave persisted with shivering discomfort and dangerously icy roads.

It was a few degrees below freezing in London and even colder in northern Britain where difficult. Horse racing, rugby football and other sports events were called off.

Ice-bound roads and French highways already hazardous because of ice. Skies around Paris were cloudy with some possibility of snow. Temperatures were at freezing level.

It was cloudy in central Germany also and temperatures were well below freezing. The North Sea coast was cloudy and frigid.

In Berlin, shivering in its coldest Christmas season in years, the mercury dropped to a 4 below zero.

Freezing weather also prevailed in Italy. Austria reported cold and light snow.

AFTER THE STORM—Dozens of automobiles were stalled along Keosuque Way, one of the main arteries leading traffic into and out of downtown Des Moines, Ia., after a heavy snowstorm. The storm dropped 11 inches of snow, to top 6 inches left by previous storms, and makes this metropolitan area of about a quarter of a million people about as snowbound as it has been in many years. Goodfellows Wrap Up Activities

"Droves of helpers — boosted along primarily by members of the Scurry County Sheriff's Posse — converged on the National Distributing Co. building Christmas Eve afternoon, at which time the all - important culmination of Goodfellows activities — delivery of the goods — took place.

Some 325 deserving Scurry County families received aid that afternoon in the forms of food, toys, clothing, and merchandise gift certificates redeemable at local establishments.

An editorial round of applause is extended to all those persons and businesses which made the drive a success. Without their help in the form of money and goods, the movement could never have reached its full proportion.

The only unreported money donation — $10 as received from Lyle Deffebach — brought the grand total of seasonal Goodfellows receipts to $2921.36, which was used in securing food, gift certificates, and in paying various incidental expenses.

To all the people who had a hand in the proceedings — thanks! And as Tiny Tim so aptly put it — "God bless you every one!"

Western Leaders Appeal For Peace, Unity On Christmas

By The Associated Press

Leaders of the Western world appealed for peace and unity in Christmas messages Monday, while expressing grave concern over differences dividing major powers and flareups troubling lesser ones.

President Kennedy assured West Berliners in a taped television broadcast that the beacon of free Berlin "will continue to shine brightly for many years to come."

"We are at your side — as before," Kennedy declared. "We shall stay. Until truly there is good will among men, not walls to divide them, our pursuit of peace shall continue."

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt cabled Kennedy his appreciation, asserting that "Berliners will take upon themselves new burdens rather than to forsake convictions and principles which free men all over the world are willing to defend."

Churches were filled to capacity in both East and West Berlin. The grim concrete and barbed wire that the Communists threw up to divide the city was softened a bit by the first Christmas snow in five years. Some 300 lighted Christmas trees twinkled along the Western side of the wall to remind the East Berliners they were not forgotten.

Queen Elizabeth II said in a broadcast to the nations of the British Commonwealth: "We can only dispel the clouds of anxiety by the patient and determined efforts of us all. It cannot be done by condemning the past or by contracting out of the present. Angry words and accusations certainly don't do any good, however justified they may be."

Pope John XXIII, in a papal bull convoking a worldwide conference of the Roman Catholic Church next year for the first time since 1869, warned that "while humanity is on the verge of a new era, the church faces tasks of immense gravity and breadth as in the most tragic epochs of her history."

Palestinian pilgrims and tourists packed the Christian churches at Jerusalem and about 10,000 visitors journeyed across the Judean hills to services at Bethlehem, bathed in a brilliant winter sun.

Amid the prayers and the feasting, violence erupted as usual.

A terrorist bombing killed at least 30 persons among 500 worshippers at Christmas Eve services at an army barracks at Bujia, Colombia. More than 110 were reported injured in the blast, which came as a procession was about to place a figure of the Christ Child in a manger.

In Algeria, the underground Secret Army Organization of anti-De Gaulle Europeans proclaimed a Christmas truce. But elsewhere in the North African territory terrorism from both sides of the French-Algerian conflict resulted in the deaths of 17 Algerians and 14 Europeans, and the wounding of 33 Algerians and 24 Europeans.

Messages from Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and President Sukarno of Indonesia to their peoples reflected the rising tension between the two nations over Dutch-held West New Guinea.

Roman Catholic priests in Goa, biggest of the three enclaves which India captured last week, prayed for the prosperity of India at special services. The bishop of Pangim — the Goan capital — charged that the Portuguese had deprived Goans of full freedom and called Indian Prime Minister Nehru the world's No. 1 man of peace.

The Chinese Communists broke a record 104-day lull in the Formosa strait and fired 53 shells at the Quemoy Islands, the Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry announced in Taipei.

It was a white Christmas and a bitterly cold one for much of the northern part of the United States and Europe. Snow blanketed most of Scandinavia, parts of Germany and from the Rockies east in the United States. Even Florida was hit by a cold wave. Traffic deaths mounted on the icy roads, but the National Safety Council doubted the toll would exceed 1961's record of 600 highway dead.

Line Put Aboard Helpless Dredge

BOSTON (AP) — The Coast Guard said today the cutter Acushnet, out of Portland, Maine, has put a line aboard the dredge Cartagena which had been drifting helplessly in heavy seas about 250 miles east of Nantucket.

The cutter said Cartagena, with a crew of 10 aboard, rode well during the night and that seas had moderated a little.

The dredge was en route from Quebec to Baltimore in tow of a Canadian tug when a hawser parted Monday.

Seas were still too high to attempt to remove the crewmen from the dredge.

The Coast Guard cancelled a plan to send out planes to drop life saving equipment after Acushnet radioed she could float such gear to the dredge if necessary.

Apprehension mounted when Cartagena's crew reported the 80-ton "ladder," a ponderous assembly used in dredging operations, was shifting under the pounding by the seas. They said they feared if it carried away it would demolish the stern of the dredge and flood the engine room immediately.

The Acushnet shot a light line over the dredge Monday night as a messenger to haul a new towing hawser aboard, but the crew reported weather conditions too severe to go on deck and handle it.

A 40-knot, snow-laden north northwest gale had built up seas 20 to 30 feet between trough and crest.

The dredge is on the second leg of a trip from Detroit.

Noted Hotel Is Destroyed By Blaze

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The 102-year-old Maxwell House, once one of the South's most splendid hotels, was destroyed by fire Christmas night, sending its occupants fleeing into 30-degree weather.

Between 60 and 70 persons, some in night clothes and carrying pets or Christmas gifts, were evacuated safely.

One elderly guest remained unaccounted for.

The blaze was first spotted on the fourth floor of the five-story hotel, which occupied one-fourth of a square block in downtown Nasvhille.

The origin of the fire, the third in four years at the hotel had not been determined.

Mexico City Has A Quiet Christmas

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico City had a quiet Christmas.

Because Christmas here is largely family celebrations, night clubs were almost deserted and there was little traffic on the streets and few traffic accidents.

Seven persons died in accidents. Police also reported that five cars were stolen, two homes burglarized, and several private parties ended in fights but with no serious injuries.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

City Firemen In Busy Day

The Snyder fire department had a busy Christmas Day. Six calls were made between 9:30 a.m. and 8:15 p.m.

The 9:30 fire was at the Co-op Gin where a fire was reported in the press.

At 1:30 p.m., the department was called to a grass fire in the area north of town at the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line camp. No damage was reported in that fire.

At 1:50 a truck was reported on fire at the city dump ground. The 2-ton 1953 International was reported owned by Sterling Williams and driven by Bill Scheibel. The truck was destroyed.

Another fire in the gin was reported at 2:40, and at 5:10 p.m. a trailer loaded with household goods was reported on fire three miles east of Snyder. The rented trailer was being pulled by Samuel Fletcher who was moving to Littlefield. Heavy damage was suffered by the trailer and its contents.

At 5:40 p.m. another grass fire was reported; this one at 1104 Twenty-fifth. There was no damage. And to finish off a busy Christmas day the firemen were called out at 8:15 to extinguish another grass fire in the 1900 block of Avenue J.

Blind Court Reporter Perishes In Blaze

AUSTIN (AP)—Services will be held Wednesday for a man who said he was the only blind court reporter in the United States.

N. B. Sikes died in a Christmas morning fire in his home.

Sikes, 49, and his wife, Louise, 42, were found dead by firemen who arrived to quench the predawn blaze. The blind man was found not far from the body of his seeing-eye dog. Another dog lay near his wife's body.

A familiar figure in Austin court rooms, Sikes took down every word at trials and hearings by means of Braille shorthand. He owned a service which supplies transcripts of courtroom action.

"A TOUGH YEAR AHEAD"—We're lucky if we can just hang on"! This kitten's imaginary soliloquy, an amusing reflection on world conditions, is illustrated photographically by Ezio Quiresi of Italy. It appears in the portfolio of outstanding pictures from around the world in "U.S. Camera '62," the photo annual.

If you take shower instead of tub baths, your feet require extra attention since they don't get the benefits of soaking in warm soapsuds. To make up for this lack, give yourself a special weekly foot bath—both for cleanliness and to help soften calluses and "pump bumps." Then use a well-soaped pumice stone, brush, or loofah scrubber to give every inch of your feet a good going-over. This treatment not only makes your feet more comfortable, but makes you feel better all over!

Serve a restaurant-style relish tray when you are having lunch or supper guests. If you have a dish with small compartments, fill them with creamy cottage cheese, spiced fruit, marinated vegetables, green and ripe olives and salted nuts.

Holiday Weekend Violence Claims 92 Victims In State

By The Associated Press

The Christmas weekend violent death toll in Texas soared to an appalling 92 persons this year with 50 of the victims killed in traffic accidents.

The Associated Press tabulation covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

Earlier the Department of Public Safety had predicted that 88 persons would die in traffic crashes during a 10-day period covering Christmas and New Year's weekends but the pace of death on the highway was pointing to much higher toll.

In addition to 50 persons who lost their lives in traffic accidents, 11 died in fires and miscellaneous causes snuffed out the lives of 31 others.

Five persons were killed and two others were injured in a head-on collision of two cars on U.S. Highway 79 near Hearne Monday night. The victims were Mike Cazey, 18; Ray Cazey, about 22; Billy Tyler, 23; and Douglas Ainsworth, 25, all of New Baden; and Verge Jeffery, 45, of San Antonio. Injured were Mrs. Rosa Jeffery, wife of one of the dead, and Larry Ainsworth, 19, of New Baden.

Investigating officers could give no reason for the five-death crash which occurred on a curve in the highway.

Other late deaths to be reported included:

William Dewey Kempe Jr., 7, was killed when he was struck by an automobile in the northwest part of Fort Worth Monday night.

Remigio Holguin, 58, of Ysleta, Tex., was killed Monday night when he was struck by an auto as he attempted to cross U.S. Highway 80 east of El Paso.

Elroy Haywood, 24-year-old San Antonio Negro, was shot to death after a tavern argument in San Antonio. Police arrested another Negro, 56, in the shooting, but no formal charges were filed immediately.

Mrs. Helen Flowers, 45, was discovered dead in her automobile by her son Monday in Brownsville. A justice of the peace ruled death by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Calvin Coldiron, 27, fell from his horse while taking a Christmas afternoon ride, fell in a small stream and drowned. The accident occurred on the farm of Coldiron's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coldiron, about a mile southeast of Buffalo.

Mary Alice Jackson, 1, a Houston child, burned to death Monday night in a fire that gutted the Jackson home. Dorothy Mouton, 14, a baby-sitter, managed to save 5 other children in the house.

Lopoldo Lopez, 41, of Donna was killed and Porfirio Cano Curz of Weslaco injured when their car overturned about four miles northwest of Weslaco Monday.

T. A. Allen Shahan, 58, was found shot to death in Childress Monday in the driveway of the West Texas Utilities Co. repair shop. Sheriff's officers said he apparently was shot while taking a rifle from the rear seat of his automobile. Shahan was district manager for the utility company.

Ramon R. Rodriquez, 61, was killed Sunday night. His body was found in a ditch about 7 miles east of Big Spring on U.S. 80. Police said he apparently was struck by an automobile.

T. G. Guerro, of Corpus Christi was dead on arrival Sunday at Corpus Christi hospital after suffering gunshot wounds.

George Walker Jr., 39, Port Arthur refinery worker, was dead on arrival at a hospital Sunday. He suffered gunshout wounds and a verdict of suicide was returned.

Julio Limon, 16, was blasted to death with a shotgun while visiting the home of relatives in Austin and police are questioning a 15-year-old youth who had complained Limon was making too much noise.

Antonio Luna, 15, was shot fatally, Houston police said, during an attempted burglary of a Houston laundry.

Florida Has Coldest Yule On Record

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida faces another day of numbing cold in the wake of the coldest Christmas on record.

A high pressure ridge drove icy blasts down the peninsula to Key West and brought Miami a Christmas morning low of 42 degrees—the city's lowest Dec. 25 temperature.

Key West, at the end of the Florida Keys, had a low of 57 and a high of only 63 degrees. Other low readings included 40 at Tampa and West Palm Beach, 39 at Fort Myers, 36 at Tallahassee, 34 at Apalachicola, 31 at Jacksonville and 29 at Pensacola.

Residents and winter visitors to Florida's usually subtropical southeast coast pulled on sweaters and other warm clothing instead of shorts and swim suits. Spectators at the Christmas night North-South College All-Star football game in the Orange Bowl bundled up against the chilling temperatures.

Many homes in Florida have inadequate heating facilities. Families gathered around small electric heaters and oil stoves to open their Christmas packages.

Temperatures Monday night generally were from 2 to 5 degrees lower than for the same time Sunday, with frost expected in most farming areas.

Farmers fired up smudge pots in an attempt to ward off the killing cold. Dry, icy winds withered winter vegetables.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said the icy Canadian cold front which caused blizzards in northern states had pushed through Florida and crossed Cuba Christmas Day.

"It is a little unusual to have a cold front moving right into the Caribbean, but that's what happened," Sugg said.

2 Wounded In Gun Fight

CORSICANA (AP)—A former mental patient and a city policeman were wounded here Monday night during a gun fight involving several other officers.

Archie Packett, 3, barricaded himself in a small house near downtown Corsicana and held officers at bay for more than an hour with a single barrel shotgun. Efforts by his parents to persuade him to surrender failed and he finally was routed by tear gas.

Outside, he exchanged shots with officers and was struck by shotgun pellets in the abdomen and left leg. Policeman Fred Gray was struck in the right leg and foot with pellets. Neither was listed in critical condition today.

Officers said the incident started when Packett had a quarrel with some relatives who lived nearby. They said he shot into their house with a shotgun blast. The relatives called police.

Worshippers Are Killed In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—At least 50 worshippers were killed in a Christmas Eve outbreak of Colombia's persistent banditry and terrorism when a bomb exploded in the midst of a religious procession. Eighty persons were reported under arrest in the hunt for the terrorists.

The explosion occurred in the square of an artillery battalion barracks in the west Colombian city of Buga, 300 miles southwest of Bogota.

A communique placed the death toll at 50. Reports from the scene said 51 were killed and more than 116 injured.

The bomb went off as a procession of worshippers bearing a figure of the Christ child passed through the square to place the figure in a manger. A woman said she saw a man carrying a bundle through the crowd and he was one of the victims.

A flying piece of debris killed one man in a car. One report said the victims were injured by nails and other metal fragments.

The infirmary, the officer's club and other installations were badly damaged.

Gen. Alberto Ruiz Novoa, Colombian armed forces commander, said terrorists planned the bombing to gain entry to the barracks. It was believed they planned to steal arms and ammunition.

The national government in Bogota ordered the Red Cross to mobilize a disaster force for Buga. A private relief fund was started for the victims. The injured were taken to neighboring towns and urgent appeals were issued for blood donors.

Holiday Marred By Spectacular Fires

By The Associated Press

Spectacular fires marred both the coming and going of Christmas Day.

Baltimore, Md., firemen fought into the early morning hours today before gaining control of a multiple alarm fire in a six-story building housing a wholesale produce firm just south of the downtown business district.

At least eight firemen were overcome as heavy smoke poured from the structure. Several were sent to hospitals.

In Nashville, Tenn., fire gutted the century-old Maxwell House Hotel Monday night, sending its guests fleeing into 30-degree weather. Firemen vainly fought the blaze for two hours. All the hotel's occupants were believed safe, although one elderly man was unaccounted for in the confusion.

At Groton, N.Y., a mother and her two remaining sons spent their Christmas Day in mourning for the other members of their family and a friend.

Irene L. Thayer's husband died Nov. 3 after undergoing surgery. Three of her five children and a hired hand died late Saturday night in a fire that destroyed the two-story frame farmhouse she rented.

The hired hand, Robert Brown, 26, was found cradling the body of May Thayer, 5, for whom he re-entered a burning bedroom in a vain rescue attempt.

The smallest piece of territory under the U. S. flag is Kingman Reef, about 1,000 miles south of Hawaii. It is 150 feet long and 120 feet wide at high tide.

Czech Family Makes Escape Over Border

PASSAU, Germany (AP)— A six-member Czechoslovak family braved deep snow, freezing temperatures and land mines to make a Christmas day escape across the Iron Curtain frontier near this border town, police reported today.

The father, mother, and four children were the first in several months to flee Communist Czechoslovakia in this area. The children were 3 to 11 years old.

The six apparently counted on the cold, 5 degrees below zero, and holiday laxness of Czech border guards to escape, police said.

Plane Leaves After Rumors Of Bomb

BALTIMORE (AP)—An Eastern Air Lines passenger plane left Friendship International Airport early today after a search discounted rumors of a bomb aboard the aircraft.

The 66 passengers disembarked as airport police searched the plane, which was grounded here for about two hours.

Chief agent J. E. Baker said the tip was received from the airline's Washington office. He said the plane was bound from Syracuse, N.Y. to Nashville, Tenn.

Carbon dioxide, warmth and moisture are prime mosquito lures.

Tardy Chi Levied Fine

By The Associated Press

Late by an hour, tired by a wearying day of travel, and fined a bundle of cash, the Chicago Packers posted one of their infrequent victories in the National Basketball Association Monday night.

For arriving late in New York for their opening game at the Madison Square Garden doubleheader, the league's newest entry got socked a $2,500 fine by NBA President Maurice Podoloff. The Packers then took the floor and whipped the Detroit Pistons 118-97.

In the second game, the New York Knickerbockers squeezed by the Philadelphia Warriors! 136-135 in double overtime. The Boston Celtics tripped the Syracuse Nats 127-122 and the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Cincinnati Royals 141-127 in other NBA action Christmas night.

One flight cancellation and two other delays in Chicago caused the Packers' travel troubles. Podoloff decreed the team had failed to take sufficient precaution to arrive in time, and levied the stiff penalty.

Aussies Stalk Another Cup In Melbourne

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Mighty Australia, with Roy Emerson and Rod Laver playing brilliantly despite stamina-sapping 90 degree temperatures, moved to within one victory of its 10th Davis Cup Tennis Championship in 12 years today against Italy.

Emerson, the U.S. champion who usually concentrates on doubles, defeated Italian ace Nicola Pietrangeli 8-6, 6-4, 6-0 and Laver, the top-ranked Aussie and 1961 Wimbledon titlist, routed Orlando Sirola 6-1, 6-4, 6-3 in opening singles matches of the challenge round at Kooyong Stadium.

A doubles triumph Wednesday would close out the championship for Capt. Harry Hopman's Aussies, who faced up to an "Italian draw" with the sure formula of success—unbeatable tennis.

The luck of the draw, pitting Pietrangeli against Emerson, was expected to help the underdog Italians. They counted on temperamental Nicola beating Emerson in the opening match and perhaps keying the 6-7 Sirola to a top performance against Laver.

Miners Get Nod In Sun Bowl Tourney

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Texas Western's Miners rate the favorite's role solely on the basis of records for the inaugural Sun Bowl basketball tournament.

The Miners (5-3) open against Baylor's Bears (3-5) in the second game of Thursday night's opening round. New Mexico State (2-5) takes on the New Mexico Lobos (2-6) in the tourney opener.

The first night winners meet Friday night for the championship with the opening night losers playing for third place.

New Mexico State's 6-foot-7 George Knighton will be the man to watch. He's the leading scorer among the four teams with a better than 22-points a game average.

All four teams play control basketball with sticky man-to-man defense.

The tournament will be played in Texas Western's new 4,200-seat fieldhouse.

Tigers Draw Monterey In Caprock Meet

Snyder's Tigers will see their first action of the Caprock Tournament tomorrow night in Lubbock when they take on the strong Monterey (Lubbock) Plainsmen of District 3-AAAA.

The game will be played in Lubbock's spacious Coliseum located on the Texas Tech campus, and will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Following their most recent outing—a 61-52 Friday downing of Midland Lee—the Tigers are now 6-6 for the year.

Cage Spotlight On Tournaments

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three major tournaments, featuring some of the nation's top teams, head the college basketball schedule today, while three other important tournaments kick off Wednesday.

Starting today are the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York's Madison Square Garden, the inaugural Quaker City tourney at the Palestra in Philadelphia and one of the nation's oldest holiday tournaments, the 26th annual All-College at Oklahoma City.

Starting Wednesday are the Los Angeles Classic, featuring four of the country's top 10 teams, the Big Eight tourney at Kansas City and the Far West at Portland, Ore.

Those six tournaments and their progress—finals in all but the All-College affair will be Saturday night—should be the focal point of the week.

The list of the major unbeatens, already trimmed to 10, will be reduced one more tonight when New York University and Dayton, each 6-0, clash in the Holiday Festival at New York.

Neither, however, holds the favorite role, with such powers as Cincinnati, defending NCAA champion and ranked second in the nation, and third-ranked Providence in the field.

Defending champion Wichita and tough Utah State, each 8-1, head the field in the All-College, while Duquesne and Villanova, two more unbeatens and surprise teams in the East, share the limelight in the Quaker City affair.

Here are the first round pairings:

ECAC Holiday Festival at New York: Dartmouth (2-1) vs. LaSalle (3-1) and Cincinnati (6-1) vs. Dayton (6-0) and Providence (5-2) vs. Wisconsin (4-2) tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

Quaker City tourney at Philadelphia: Duquesne (6-0) vs. Wyoming (4-3) and Penn State (5-1) vs. Iowa (4-2) this afternoon and Villanova (8-0) vs. Niagara (4-1) and Penn (4-1) vs. Holy Cross (3-1) tonight. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Saturday.

All-College at Oklahoma City: Texas Christian (1-5) vs. Houston (7-2) and Oklahoma City (4-3) vs. Utah State (8-1) tonight and Seattle (5-0) vs. Bowling Green (5-1) and Wichita (8-1) vs. Texas A & M (4-2) Wednesday night. Semifinals are Thursday, finals Friday.

Cincinnati's talented Bearcats rate as the team to beat in the Holiday Festival. But it's been done only once—a 52-51 upset by Wichita—in the last 30 games.

Providence, NIT champion last season and featuring one of the tallest front lines in the country, seek to rebound from a pair of road losses last week, while Dayton and NYU each hope to retain their unblemished records.

Villanova, under its new coach, Jack Kraft, has come up with a surprisingly tough crew, who have built their unbeaten record on hustle and aggressiveness. Should they survive Niagara, and Duquesne lives up to its favorite role against Wyoming, the two unbeatens will meet in a semifinal.

Duquesne, already owner of one tourney title—Pittsburgh's Steel Bowl—has knocked off such powers as St. Bonaventure, Duke and Pitt. Penn State, tall, deep but lacking speed, and Holy Cross, featuring Jack Foley appear to have the strength in the other bracket.

Wichita and Utah State, a couple of quiet giants overlooked by the pollsters thus far, head the field in Oklahoma City.

Wichita has lost only to mighty Ohio State, the nation's top team, and owns victories over such highly ranked outfits as Cincinnati and Purdue. Their only loss was a two-pointer to potent Southern California.

Seattle, idle for more than a week, owns the best record, however, at 5-0, is tied for 10th in the national ratings and could go all the way.

Heading the entrants for the Los Angeles Classic Wednesday is of course, powerful, talented Ohio State. Other ranked teams entered are West Virginia (No. 5), Southern California (No. 6) and Purdue (No. 8).

Spahn Up For Honor

HOUSTON (AP)—Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves is to get the Dickie Kerr Award at Houston's baseball banquet Jan. 9.

The award, named for the former Chicago White Sox pitcher who now lives in Houston, goes to an outstanding pitcher each year.

Warren Giles, president of the National League, is to be a speaker.

Houston starts playing in the National League next April.

Woman Without Diamonds Has It Rough This Season

BY INEZ ROBB

Well, I didn't get it.

I turned my stocking inside out. I hunted through every box; I carefully explored every piece of crumpled tissue paper.

And then I hunted all over again.

But it wasn't there.

And it isn't as if I hadn't been a good girl. At my age, what else?

Now I realize that Santa and my husband are hard men, and neither one of them has enough pride to see that I have a basic diamond necklace without which—in these affluent times—a woman should drop dead or hie herself to a convent. Anyway, she should keep out of the public gaze.

So I shall simply have to go on, bravely suffering social humiliation, in a year in which a diamond necklace is as basic as that good little black dress of international repute.

Black tie, white tie, rope tie or no tie, we haven't been to a social event this season at which the other members of my sex have been unadorned by diamond necklaces. Any event after 5 p.m. brings out the diamonds.

In the giddy weeks before Christmas I would be the lone woman in any gathering who had nothing on which to fall back but her pearls. My only solution for this demeaning situation was to pretend that I had laryngitis and only venture out after dark as thoroughly swathed in chiffon veils as Salome before she took up the twist.

I can see now that mine is going to be the longest laryngitis run in history. Even without a crystal ball I see before me a long future, swathed in chiffon scarves from chin to chest. Sally Rand without her fan couldn't be more conspicuous than today's diamondless doll.

The next step is to develop a hollow cough. It's got to be a convincing act. For a while I toyed with the idea of spreading the word that I am alergic to diamonds. This seemed an easy and logical out until I called an asked my doctor about it. But he put the lid on that one.

"Women are allergic to everything in the world but diamonds," he said flatly. "I don't think in all the recorded annals of medicine there has ever been reported a case of female diamond-allergy. Better begin practicing that hollow cough."

And don't think that an invitation to an "informal" dinner is going to make my laryngitis any better or my chiffon scarves less necessary. An informal dinner in New York this season means that the men don't do aught but change their respective shirts. As far as my sex is concerned, "informal" signifies that we dress as another generation gussied itself up for the opening of the opera.

My pride is so thoroughly in the dust that I must confess that at an informal dinner just a few nights before Christmas, I—who thought at last I would be "secure" in my pearls—was again the only woman minus a diamond or a ruby or an emerald necklace. They were real, too. It's easy to tell this season. The "size test" does it every time. The fake stuff doesn't come in such big hunks as the real. Today diamonds are slipcovered in diamonds.

Chinchilla and sable coats are also for informal wear, as are sequins, beads and glittering metallic brocades. Any social gathering this season makes a volunteer firemen's picnic out of England's Henry VIII and France's Francis I trying to upstage each other at The Field of the Cloth of Gold.

Well, them as has 'em, wears 'em. Them as haven't, cough.

I am coughing more convincingly all the time. There is no other out for a woman whose husband asks bluntly:

"You want to eat or wear diamonds? Dealer's choice."

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Hard Cash Backs Views Of Prosperity

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business is starting to put up hard cash to back its bet that more prosperous days are ahead.

Corporation directors are ordering more money be spent on new plants and especially on new equipment. Executives of leading companies are announcing plans to raise outlays for expansion in 1962, some to new annual highs.

Machine tool makers say a pickup in orders foreshadows a resumption of the upward trend in capital spending that was sidetracked when the recession led many companies to retrench. The construction industry says contracts, awarded or up for bidding, are taking the same trend.

Such a pickup in business spending will give the economy a good boost. It will add materially to the new strength furnished by the spurt in consumer spending in the final weeks of 1961.

Despite the increase in hard orders for capital outlays, the total for 1962 can only be estimated as yet. Many businessmen are still waiting to be sure that the upturn in the economy is a sure thing. And others say they may raise their present plans considerably if Congress passes the proposed tax incentives in the form of more liberal depreciation allowances.

The Department of Commerce is taking an optimistic if cautious view. It says plant and equipment spending in the first three months of 1962 should be at an annual rate of $36.5 billion, compared with a preliminary guess of $34.5 billion for 1961.

Some industrial economists are more optimistic. They think that confidence is building up so that business will spend at, or perhaps even better than, the record rate of $37 billion set in 1957.

Confidence is a fragile thing. But it also can feed on itself. And that's what the optimists expect.

Spokesmen for a number of individual industries have been predicting that companies in their fields will raise the ante next year. A much smaller number have said they will retrench further, having all the capacity they need to meet anticipated demand.

The steel industry, for example, still has plenty of capacity. Yet this year it has spent around $1 billion for new equipment and for construction. The American Iron and Steel Institute says this brings total postward capital outlay to about $15 billion.

But in spite of over-all abundant capacity, several steel companies plan new expenditures, mainly to update obsolete equipment, produce new products, or effect production economies.

The metalworking industry as a whole will spend more in the early months of 1962 than a year ago. The Iron Age magazine reports. In the third quarter of this year these companies set aside $787 million for new plants and equipment—most of it to be spent next year. This is 16 per cent higher than was appropriated 12 months earlier.

The National Machine Tool Builders Association says its members should have $610 million in new orders next year, compared with $550 million in 1961.

The gas industry expects to spend $2 billion next year, some $200 million more than this. The privately owned electric utilities expect to spend at least $3 billion, the same as this year.

Some leading companies — American Telephone & Telegraph, General Electric, Jersey Standard Oil, to name only a few—have announced sizable spending plans. Jersey, for example, plans $1.2 billion in capital outlays that would top the record $1.1 billion in 1957. Other big spenders are in the food, electronic and space age industries.

Agent Who Helped Slay Dillinger Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — John Vincent Murphy, one of the FBI agents who shot and killed desperado John Dillinger, is dead.

He died in a Houston rest home Saturday at the age of 66.

Murphy was waiting outside the Biograph Theater in Chicago with seven other FBI agents in July 1934 when Dillinger left the movie. As the agents moved in, Dillinger pulled his gun and died in a hail of bullets.

Murphy retired last year after 36 years with the FBI.

Durante Is Back With Pachyderms

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twenty-five years ago, James Durante uttered the classic remark: "An elephant never forgets, but what's he got to remember?"

That was in a stage extravaganza called "Jumbo," which Billy Rose produced at New York's old Hippodrome.

Proving the agelessness of the great Schnozola, Jimmy is once again playing with the pachyderms in a film version of "Jumbo." It begins shooting shortly with Doris Day, Stephen Boyd and Martha Raye lending support to the long-nosed actors.

It is perhaps stretching the truth to say that Durante will be playing with the pachyderms. His contact with the elephants will be limited in the MGM film, and thereby hangs a tale.

"I loved dat elephant," Jimmy reminisced about the original Jumbo. "He was like a brudder to me.

"You know what I did? I let him put his foot up and step right over me while I was lyin' on the ground. Step right over me, he did. Den he rolled on his side and laid down right next to me. I'm tellin' ya, it brought down the house.

"Like a ballet dancer he was, pickin' his foot up and steppin' right over me, slow and easy.

"Well, I was doin' this for several weeks in the show when one night Frank Buck—the 'bring 'em back alive' Frank Buck—comes to my dressin' room.

"'You're outa your mind, doin' that stunt,' he tells me. 'Why, I'd never trust an elephant any further'n I could trow him.'

"This scared the pants offa me. Next day I call a meetin'. Dere was Billy Rose and Hecht and MacArthur and Rodgers and Hart and I tell 'em, 'Boys, we gotta get a new act. Dat elephant is liftin' his foot over me for the last time.'

"'We can't do that, Jimmy,' they tell me. 'Dat's the hit of the show!' So they talked me inta it.

"So every night I let dat elephant lift his foot over me, and I was sweatin' every time. He always did it dainty, but one day he put his foot down on a block of cement and cracked it to pieces.

"Jumbo and me parted company when the show closed after eight months. Believe me, I was not sorry.

"So here I am back with de elephant. I tell you one ting—this one ain't goin' to step over me. I got it written in my contract."

Distinctive Drama Given A Good Try

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — What happens when mom dominates a lad's career is given a fresh dramatic inspection in "First Love."

The results at the Morosco Theater, where the production arrived Monday night to start a busy week of Broadway premieres, are both imaginative and disappointing.

Hugh O'Brian, of TV's "Wyatt Earp" fame, portrays the youth whose almost total recall provides the flashback substance of Sameul Taylor's three acts. The play is based on "Promise at Dawn," a bestselling memoir from France by Romain Gary.

Co-starring with O'Brian, who displays virile skill, is Lili Darvas. The veteran actress took over the role of over-possessive motherhood on short notice when illness caused Elizabeth Bergner to step out during tryout tour. More time might have bettered the portrayal.

Alfred Lunt is the director of the lead pair and the large cast who handle 30 roles during the procession of events through Poland, the Riviera and airfields of World War II.

A nagging inertness persists through much of the evening despite all the taste and imagination evidently lavished on the affair.

Partly this seems to be because Claude Gersene and Rex Thompson limn moments of childhood and adolescence evoked by O'Brian, and sometimes all three appear together. The result is simply awkward.

Another cavil concerns the ardent matriarch. The causes of her strange fixation on becoming French (she and the lad hail from Russia) and of her overweening drive are never revealed.

Much of the material is subtly introspective, better on page than on stage. Occasional scenes of sincerity and insight leave the spectator just wanting more.

A good try at distinctive drama, "First Love." But that's all.

Junior Editors Quiz on TIME

QUESTION: Why doesn't a sundial keep the same time as a clock?

ANSWER: Clocks are built to record exactly 24 hours in every day, but the sun isn't that regular. Not every rotation of the earth takes exactly 24 hours because the earth moves at different speeds at different times of the year. The difference is slight—only about 16 minutes at most for a few days in November—and on four days each year the sun makes its rotation in exactly 24 hours: April 15, June 15, Sept. 1 and Dec. 24. The variation for each of the other days of the year is known. It is called the "equation of time" and many sundials have it tabulated right on the dial face so you can calculate the adjustment easily.

But the difference you have experienced between your sundial and your clock undoubtedly is greater than just a few minutes. This is because you probably don't live in the exact center of your time zone. For convenience, the United States is divided into four time zones—Eastern, Central, Mountain, and Pacific. When the sun is directly over the exact center of each time zone (which generally follow the 75th, 90th, 105th and 120th meridians, which you can see on a globe or map) it is considered to be noon in the entire time zone, though actually it is somewhat before noon on the western edge of the zone and somewhat after noon on the eastern edge. That's why your sundial appears to be either ahead or behind your clock.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Make a sundial; it's easy. The face must be perfectly level and the style, which casts the shadow, must be on a slant equal to the number of degrees of latitude of the city where you live. You can find this on a globe or a good map in an atlas. When the shadow is directly under the style it is noon. Use your clock to find where to put the other hour marks; at the point of the shadow every hour before and after noon.

Chimney Sweeps Find Treasure

CHOLET, France (AP)—Mme. Berthonneau called in two chimney sweeps Sunday "so things will be nice and clean when Father Christmas comes."

"What's this?" asked one of the sweeps as he brushed soot off a metal box.

Inside were treasury bonds worth 50,000 francs—$10,000.

Mme. Berthonneau recalled that a Jewish horse dealer, Felix Levy, had hidden out in the house during World War II. He and his family were discovered and taken off to a Nazi concentration camp in 1942.

The securities were turned over to authorities, who will attempt to find Levy's relatives.

Santa Claus Gets Help

One patrolman found a family of mother, father and 15 children where Santa had made no visit at all and there was no food in the house.

The officer told his fellow workers. A radio station broadcast the story. Before the day was over Sedalians opened their pocketbooks, their refrigerators and their hearts. Not only the family of 17, but 7 more, and 70 children in all had a happier, warmer Christmas day.

The only hungry people left in the town, said radio station KDRO were their own staff who got home late—but much happier—for Christmas dinner.

Kennedy's First Year A Busy One

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is coming to the end of his first year in office. How well did he do at home and abroad?

At home, with Congress, he has been competent but not brilliant. He has had some conspicuous failures.

In foreign affairs 1961 has been a matter of beginnings—of foundation-laying for the next three years—rather than of successes.

He will be a forceful president if he follows through on some of them.

His most consistent, obvious quality has been a sense of action, which he promised in the 1960 campaign. He's been busy, busy, busy.

That, more than anything else perhaps, is why the people give him unusually high grades in the public opinion polls.

Kennedy, a middle-roader, got that kind of program through Congress. He apparently was willing to settle for a half-loaf.

His philosophy seems to be: Avoid all-out fights on any one issue because it may antagonize enough people in Congress to block other issues.

So, instead of public appeals for pressure on Congress, a method which could be inflammatory? he worked through aides behind the scenes. The predictable result was no fractured skulls and only a moderate program. On three major issues he backed away from tough opposition: Civil rights, medical care for the aged, federal aid to education. All three were left hanging.

His appearance of eagerness was boosted by trips to Europe and Latin America for talks with Premier Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and the presidents of Colombia and Venezuela.

The trips showed no tangible good results. But no one could suggest they did any damage, either.

He dominated American foreign policy completely. But he goofed early and badly in backing a half-baked Cuban rebel invasion against Fidel Castro.

Whether or not that shook his self-confidence, he's been cautious in all directions since. But most of the year he encountered problems which would have tested the patience and judgment of any president.

Khrushchev hit him with a number of problems, two in particular: His demands on Berlin intended to weaken the Allies' grip on the city and, if possible, shake their unity; and the tricky way he suddenly resumed nuclear testing.

Through it all Kennedy kept his head, showing some toughness himself, until Khrushchev delayed a showdown. But Kennedy has to deal with him in 1962.

If Kennedy has a solution on Berlin, he hasn't revealed it. But he could hardly be expected to, yet. And he says he still hasn't made up his mind whether this country should resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere to keep up with the Russians.

At times his allies were almost as difficult as Khrushchev. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, always worrying he might get sold down the river, was on Kennedy's back steadily, seeking reassurance. He got it.

De Gaulle was a prime pain in the neck to Kennedy who, with Adenauer and Macmillan was willing to discuss Berlin with the Russians. Not the lofty De Gaulle. He didn't help solve allied problems. He contributed to them.

Then Kennedy ran into opposition from both De Gaulle and Macmillan in backing the United Nations action in the Congo. That's quieted down, but like so much else, is still unsettled.

Meanwhile, Kennedy laid the foundation for new relationships in four important directions:

1. In demanding that countries that want American help to stand off Communism put in badly needed social and economic reforms. Viet Nam, for instance, and Latin America. Whether he'll ever be tough enough to put it on a do-it-or-else basis remains to be seen.

2. In setting up a new economic aid program for Latin America plus a new understanding.

3. In adopting—at least in the case of the Dominican Republic—President Theodore Roosevelt's speak softly but carry a big stick policy, which could mean American intervention where and when Kennedy thinks necessary. How far he'll carry this is also one of the unknowns of 1961.

4. In trying to establish a new era of commerce with the allies. He has started a campaign, which must be fought out with Congress next year, to lower tariffs for the sake of better trade.

What Kennedy's first year in the presidency amounts to is a beginning, and hardly more than that. He still has the years to make good on it.

Injured Girl Shows Some Improvement

STATE CENTER, Iowa (AP) — Ann Hilleman moved her hand a few inches, fondled a stuffed toy, and smiled.

The smile, the excitement in her eyes and that tipy movement with her hand were the 17-year-old girl's only acknowledgements of Christmas at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hilleman.

She lay in bed, a few feet from the gaily decorated Christmas tree, while her parents, three sisters and a brother muted their celebration so the commotion wouldn't tax Ann's strength.

Her weak attempts to join the fun renewed the Hilleman's faith that Ann would yet recover from injuries suffered in a tragic crash last May after a high school prom.

"We were sort of hoping Ann would be able to talk by Christmas," said her father. "Maybe by Easter—"

Although able to take but a few slight movements with her hands to signal "yes" and "no," Ann's improvement is considered an answer to their prayers by the Hillemans.

She had lain unconscious more than four months after the crash, in which a school chum was killed.

She didn't move her eyes until late in September—an exciting day Mrs. Hilleman recalled—and didn't move her hands until early November.

"That's the way it's been," Hilleman said. "About the time you get discouraged she does something new."

Shortly before Christmas Eve she laughed aloud, boosting her parents' hopes she will regain her speech.

Doctors say they won't know for at least a year whether damage to Ann's brain is permanent. She suffered brain injuries, a broken jaw and a fractured cheekbone in the crash.

Her parents are counting on their prayers and Ann's drive to complete her recovery.

"It takes determination," her father said. "Ann's got plenty of that."

13 Drown When Launch Sinks

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine constabulary reported today that 13 persons drowned in the sinking of the motor launch baby Anita off Mindanao Saturday. Sixty-three were rescued. Five are still missing.

The constabulary said the vessel was overloaded when swamped by waves in Pangull Bay.

Seminole Theater Destroyed By Fire

SEAGRAVES, Tex. (AP)—Fire, believed to have been caused by faulty wiring, destroyed the Pix theater here Monday.

Theater manager E. W. Turnbow estimated the damage at $40,000.

Sammie Webb, a member of the Seminole Fire Department, which helped fight the blaze was slightly injured.

A DAILY VIEW
By Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"But Mary kept all these things, pondering them in her heart." Luke 2:19 (read verses 1-20)

This Day-after-Christmas, is sometimes called National Exchange Day. What a pity that the tinsel and glitter of yesterday is tarnished, forgotten, and forlorn today.

If Christmas really means anything, though, the message of yesterday is just as fresh and vital, and glad today as it will be tomorrow and tomorrow. All the things told Mary by the passing and adoring crowd were held in her heart. She pondered their deeper meaning. She did not forget their eternal and living message.

As so it is with Christmas—and the day-after Christmas, and the day after that—God is here; in our midst; loving us; showering His daily blessing upon us. And Him we must not forget.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

SHOWN IN ONE OF THE NEWLY DECORATED DINING ROOMS of the Little Mexico Cafe are the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mijares. The Little Mexico has recently moved to the East Highway across from the Starlite Theatre in the old B'& B Steakhouse location.

FINISHING TOUCHES are added to Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe by sign painter Bill Wright as Carlos watches. The Little Mexico is closed today and tomorrow for the holidays but will re-open Thursday.

Carlos' Little Mexico Now Operating In New Location

Not new to Snyder, but in a new location, is Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe. The Little Mexico re-opened in its new location on the East Highway next door to Wilson-Motors on Dec. 8, and has enjoyed an excellent reception there.

The location is the old B & B Steakhouse which has undergone a complete re-modeling inside and out. The Mexican motif has been used in decorating throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mijares own and operate the cafe. They have had Mexican restaurants in Sweetwater and Post, but have sold those and are now devoting their entire time to the Little Mexico in Snyder.

In the new location seating capacity now exceeds 100. Also available now at Little Mexico are two banquet rooms which may be reserved for parties or meetings.

The menu selections at Little Mexico are even more varied and complete than before. In addition to the wide choice of Mexican dishes and steaks, fried chicken and shrimp are being featured. A wide variety of children's plates are offered, and "take-out" orders may be had by phoning HI 3-9169.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mijares have lived in Snyder for six years, having moved here from San Angelo here Carlos attended San Angelo Business College prior to several years experience with leading Mexican foods restaurants in San Angelo. Mrs. Mijares is a native of San Angelo, where she was graduated from San Angelo High School and San Angelo Junior College.

Carlos is a native of the Hobbs Community 15 miles east of Snyder and attended Hobbs High School. The couple and their four children reside at 3204 Avenue B.

In addition to being one of Snyder's leading business men, Carlos is also one of its most popular. He is a member of several civic organizations and has always been quite active in civic work.

The Little Mexico was open Christmas Day, but is closed today and tomorrow so that the employes may take a well-deserved rest. Carlos invites his many friends, old and new, to come by the new Little Mexico when they re-open for business on Thursday.

West Slated To Open Up In Shrine

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — You can expect more of a wide-open game from the West squad than from the East Saturday in the 37th Shrine East-West football game.

Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame, coach of the East team, said his 24-man aggregation already has assimilated what he calls his "post-season offense."

It boils down, basically, to his quarterbacks calling the numbers of his power runners and telling them what direction they're to take.

The power runners are Bob Ferguson of Ohio State and Ernie Davis of Syracuse and the passing quarterbacks, Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Ron Miller of Wisconsin.

For the West offense, Washington Coach Jim Owens is preparing a variety of combinations. John Hadl of Kansas and Mel Mallin of Washington State both are getting plenty of work at quarterback.

The West figures to come up with a wide open aerial game, utilizing Mack Burton and Oscar Donahue of San Jose State, two speedy, sure-handed receivers.

Fairbanks To UH

HOUSTON (AP) — Chuck Fairbanks of Arizona State will join the University of Houston as a backfield coach, Houston's athletic director said today.

Harry Fouke said Fairbanks, 28, will join Coach Bill Yeoman's staff immediately. He has been an assistant at Arizona State since early 1958.

Fairbanks played college football at Michigan State, where Yeoman spent eight years as an assistant.

Lemm Elated Over Showing Of Oiler 'II'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — "It's like taking over the New York Yankees in midseason," happy Wally Lemm said after his Houston Oilers won their second American Football League championship.

"I was real lucky to step in here with all this material."

The Oilers beat San Diego, 10-3, Sunday to complete the AFL's rags-to-riches story for this year.

Lemm took over as Houston's coach in mid-October when Houston was in the Eastern Division cellar with a 1-3-1 record. Under Lemm, Houston won 10 straight.

The Oilers already are looking to next year.

"Let's make it three straight now," quarterback George Blanda said shortly after he signed a 1962 contract. "Only let's don't play them again next week."

Fullback Charlie Tolar, tired and bruised, agreed.

"We'll have to play them again until next year," he said.

"This will prove to those people that we play defense in this league," Blanda said. "Where do you find a better game than that?"

Six Houston players left the game because of injuries. Two—Bill Groman and Fred Glick—did not return.

"What got those people so mad at us?" asked tackle George Shirkey, who lost two teeth.

Christmas Is Observed At Lonely Viet Nam Outpost

EDITORS NOTE—Malcolm W. Browne, Associated Press correspondent for South Viet Nam, spent Christmas at an advanced training base north of Saigon, where 15 U.S. Army instructors and their Vietnamese trainees observed the holiday under the eyes of Viet Cong snipers.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

TRUNG LAP, South Viet Nam (AP)—Despite the constant threat of Viet Cong snipers and guerrillas, 15 U.S. Army men and their Vietnamese trainees stationed at this lonely ranger base in the jungle observed Christmas with a midnight Mass, a Christmas tree and a turkey dinner.

The Mass was said in Vietnamese by a South Vietnamese army chaplain. The Christmas tree was small and mounted on cases of mortar shells. And the turkey dinner had been carried 30 miles north from Saigon over bumpy, dangerous roads. But Trung Lap camp spent a peaceful holiday.

With the Americans were about 500 Vietnamese ranger trainees and their officers, some 70 of them Christians. Next week the rangers will begin field training problems conducted on the "learn while you fight" principle. The maneuvers will be conducted against the Viet Cong rebels themselves.

During the past week, the Viet Cong had tried to burn down two bridges on a rutted, dusty road connecting the camp with the outside world. Communist sniper fire had been taking its toll of casualties among the Vietnamese rangers.

As the sun set on Christmas Eve, sounds of rooster calls and tom-toms told the camp that the Viet Cong outposts were watching and signalling from the surrounding rice fields and underbrush.

The new diesel generator was started, and lights came on in the new mess hall. A string of lights on the Christmas tree was plugged in, and Capt. Linton C. Beasley of Lynchburg, Va., senior U.S. adviser at the camp, produced a tape recorder with some Christmas carol tapes. When the generator failed, the men lighted candles and sang.

During the day, the Rev. Dinh Tuan Ngan had arrived at the camp under heavy escort in his pink chaplain's jeep. Father Ngan could speak no English but communicated with the Americans in enthusiastic, broken French, and prepared a makeshift altar and confessional in a training hut. During the past year, the Viet Cong has made priests special targets. A French priest was murdered while visiting his parishioners two weeks ago.

After dinner Monday, the Americans played cards, swapped stories, read or wrote letters. Most were lonely. For all this was the first Christmas in Viet Nam, and for some of the younger officers it was the first Christmas away from home. Most are married and have children back at home.

Shortly before midnight, the massive barbed wire gate to the fort was opened. Vietnamese rangers carrying tommy guns escorted about 20 women and their children from the nearby village inside. All the villagers were dressed in their best clothes and had come for Mass. The children were given candy and taken to see the Christmas tree, but the generator had failed and the tree lights were out. In the darkness, the children inspected the tinsel by flashlight illumination.

The villagers were joined at the Mass by the Christian rangers and most of the Americans. Firecrackers were exploded to scare off mosquitoes, and the priest solemnly intoned the Roman Catholic rites.

As the villagers walked away from the improvised chapel, an American mortarman fired five illuminating flares into the warm northern sky, casting a bright glare over the rice fields. The shells exploded in the sky, forming the rough pattern of a star. Lookout posts checked the field, but no Viet Cong were in sight.

On Christmas Day, the Americans moved out of camp in combat formation for an inspection of the bridges and the nearby village. Children flocked around and candy was distributed.

During the day an army plane flew low over the camp, dropping a box of mail. The mail plane has not tried to land at the camp since breaking its landing gear there several months ago.

Just before sunset, Americans and Vietnamese set up a volleyball net and played until dinner.

The prized turkey and fixings were prepared with a flourish by Sgt. Al Combs, 34, of Brooklyn, N.Y., whose wife and four children stayed in Okinawa when he was sent to Viet Nam.

Along with all the other U.S. troops at Trung Lap, Combs can cook, fire mortars, train Vietnamese rangers, perform minor surgery, fix communications equipment, demolish enemy emplacements, fight in any kind of terrain, make combat parachute jumps or hack paths through the jungle. But on Christmas his principal problem was preparation of cranberry sauce.

The men went to bed early. There had been an intelligence report that a Viet Cong platoon with at least one automatic weapon had moved into the area, and the war would continue tomorrow.

Giant Holiday Not Without Homework

NEW YORK (AP) — It almost looked like a classroom in P.S. 85 today when the New York Giants handed in their homework to Coach Allie Sherman.

But instead of "pass" or flunk," each Giant may be graded in terms of $$$—5,000 of them to be exact, if he has learned his lessons well and the team beats the Green Bay Packers in Green Bay this Sunday for the National Football League's championship.

Sherman gave his squad a four-day Christmas holiday but had the players take home their play books, containing the basic plays and formations to be used in the Packers' game.

"If they don't have these basics down pat, then we're in trouble," Sherman said today.

He sent them onto snow-fringed Yankee Stadium to begin intensive outdoor work to put their book knowledge into operation. He planned to supplement the outdoor drills with skull sessions.

"We won't be putting in very much that's new these last few days," he said, "and neither will the Packers. We'll go at each other with our strength, and prepare for the strength of the other."

Sherman admitted that while the Giants have great respect for Green Bay's passing, it is the Packers' tremendous running, led by Jim Taylor, that poses the biggest threat.

"We feel we can stop this, or at least slow it down, by repositioning our defensive men," he pointed out. "We've got to make it a lot tougher for their blockers to get the angles and knock out men down, as they did in the game in Milwaukee."

The Packers won the regular season game 20-17 earlier this month, as Taylor bashed the Giants line for 186 yards.

Sherman also admitted that his offensive unit must crank up its running game if the passing of quarterback Y. A. Tittle is to be effective.

"We'll be putting the polish to our ground attack these next few days, you can bet on that," he added.

However, Sherman still held his breath a bit on cripples Joe Walton, an end; tackle Rosey Brown; and fullback Alex Webster.

Penn State Bound For Gator Bowl

PHILIPSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Penn State's Nittany Lions, fresh from a two-day Christmas layoff, head South again today for their final tune-up before taking on tough Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Saturday.

Head Coach Rip Engle said Monday night he hopes "to get in at least four good workouts at the St. Augustine High School field before game-time."

The Lions, who spent all of last week drilling under the warm skies of Fort Eustis, Va., will be gunning for their third straight bowl victory since 1959.

They beat Alabama 7-0 and Oregon 41-12 in the 1959 and 1960 Liberty Bowls.
