Roosevelt And Happy Warrior Appear At Giant Rally Held At Brooklyn; Academy Filled To Overflowing

Libel Is Charged

Says Visit To 37 States Has Given Him Knowledge That Nation In Every Part Now Stirred By Crisis

(By The Associated Press)

ACADEMY OF MUSIC, BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Franklin D. Roosevelt tonight told a crowd that filled every towering seat of the upper galleries of the Academy of Music he considered that "to take advantage of the deprivation" of the people, "to spread among them the gospel of fear is about the most reprehensible act of a campaign that has yielded many examples of unscrupulous appeal for votes."

In a speech made while Alfred E. Smith sat on a stage awaiting the time when he should start an appeal to the people of Brooklyn for support of the Democratic national and state tickets, the presidential candidate said the business men "in battling to maintain their financial solvency and integrity were told in blunt language at Des Moines, Iowa, how close an escape the country had some months ago from going off the gold standard."

Libel On Credit

"This, as has been clearly shown since, was a libel on the credit of the United States," he said.

"No adequate answer has been made to the magnificent philippics of Senator Glass the other night in which he showed how unsound was this assertion.

"And I might add, Senator Glass made a devastating challenge that no responsible government would have sold to the country securities payable in gold if it knew that promise—yes, the covenant — embodied in these securities was as dubious as the president of the United States claims it was. Of course the assertion was unsound.

Words Are Added

"In the reiterated apologies for it that have come from the administration many words have been added like leeches to suck from the original statement its deadly meaning. But this administration is not content with adding words to make a bad case look good—it also knows

Contenders In Texas Engaged In Last Duels

Ferguson Warns Bullington Is No Hope For Independents; Republican Nominee Prepares For Final Dash

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 4.—James E. Ferguson declared here tonight there could be no hope for the independent oil men of Texas if Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, Republican candidate for governor, were elected.

Ferguson and his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, were in Dallas for a big Democratic rally, with Mrs. Ferguson making her final platform appearance before the general election next Tuesday.

Replies To Charges

Ferguson's statement was in reply to charges of Bullington, voiced during the latter's tour of the East Texas oil field, that Mrs. Ferguson's election would be a blow to the independent oil industry.

"It is ridiculous for Bullington to talk about the independent oil man when all the oppression and favoritism that now prevails in the East Texas field and all the troubles of the independent oil man have been inflicted upon them under the reign of his good man Friday, Ross Sterling," Ferguson said.

Keep Gang In Office

"Bullington says he will keep all of Sterling's gang in office if he is elected. Therefore there could be no hope for the independent oil men if Bullington is elected. It is ridiculous for him to talk about it."

Ferguson also asserted that Franklin D. Roosevelt would be elected president and that there were 25,000 federal jobs in Texas, now held by Republicans, that sooner or later would be held by

Missing Father Of Death Victim Is Sought Here

DALLAS, Nov. 4 (AP)—Somewhere in West Texas, a Dallas husband and father is working for a family he believes well and happy, but since Tuesday, one of his children has been dead, victim of a traffic accident here.

The father is James A. Rodgers. Mrs. Rodgers told friends today he was in Lubbock the last time she heard from him. Lucille, 7, his daughter, was fatally injured Tuesday when run over by a truck. His wife said funeral services for the girl would be postponed while attempts are made to reach him.

Oil Hearings Start Friday In Legislature

Bill Which Leaders Of Industry Hope Will Cure Defects In Oil Proration Up Before Solons Of Texas

Senate Wrangles

Woodul Declares That Nothing Else Will Be Considered By Members; If Bills Are Passed, Veto Promised

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 4.—Hearings on a bill which leaders of the oil industry hoped would cure defects, pointed out by a three-judge federal court, in existing oil proration and conservation statutes were started today before the Texas legislature, meeting in extraordinary session to broaden the powers of the state railroad commission in oil regulation matters.

The house plunged into an open hearing on the bill, but the senate spent considerable time wrangling about how it should proceed.

To Sit As Committee

The senate finally voted that its public hearing on the bill should be concluded on or before next Wednesday at noon. The senate decided to consider the bill sitting as committee of the whole.

A resolution by Senator George Purl of Dallas empowering a majority of the senators to summon any one desired to be interrogated was passed over opposition of Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler and Walter Woodul of Houston. Pollard and Woodul wanted to confine testimony to the railroad commissioners and any other non-members of the senate who wanted to be heard.

After wrangling four hours over method of procedure the senate decided to begin its hearing tonight.

No Other Subjects

During progress of debate over procedure, Senator Woodul, regarded as Governor R. S. Sterling's floor leader, stated that he "knew there would be no other subjects, save the conservation statute corrections, submitted to the special session and that if any others are passed the governor will veto them."

Similar bills had been introduced in both houses, purportedly with the approval of Governor Sterling. Under the proposed statute, the railroad commission would have power to consider market demand and economic waste as factors in promulgating its conservation orders. The existing statute limits the com-

Democrats To Gather Today

"Vote 'Er Straight" Meeting To Urge Support Of Ticket Tuesday; Local And Nearby Plains Citizens To Talk

With J. A. Humphries, Ferguson 'war horse', as presiding officer, "vote 'er straight" Democrats will sponsor a South Plains-wide Roosevelt, Garner, Ferguson rally here this afternoon and will urge local and neighboring citizens to "stay with the party from president to constable".

The meeting will be held in the district courtroom, on the top floor of the courthouse, and will begin at 2:30 o'clock. Those in charge particularly urged women voters to attend and said the session would not last longer than an hour and a half.

Speeches Are Planned

Speeches will be made by R. A. Baldwin, Slaton attorney and former legislator; Dr. J. D. Moorhead, Meadow; George Neill, Brownfield, and W. W. Campbell, Roscoe Wilson and Judge H. L. Pharr, all of Lubbock.

At the conclusion of the program straw votes will be collected from those present who have not previously voted in the Avalanche-Journal poll.

Sea Scout Unit Proposed In City; Meeting To Be Sunday

All Boy Scouts or former members of 15 years or older who have attained a first class ranking are asked by Scout Executive D. T. Jennings to meet at the young peoples' room at the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a sea scouting unit here.

H. H. Jons, a former sailor, will direct the sea scout program here, Mr. Jennings said.

Jim Ferguson Branded Chief Bolter Of All

Wilbur C. Hawk And Porter R. Underwood Of Amarillo Are Principal Speakers At Rally For Bullington Here

Branding Jim Ferguson as "the chief bolter of them all" and making an emphatic appeal for disregard of the party pledge in voting for governor next Tuesday, Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Porter R. Underwood, attorney, both of Amarillo were chief speakers in a rally for the cause of Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for governor of Texas, in the 99th district courtroom Friday night. More than 150 persons attended the rally, a number of whom were members of the Republican party. Both speakers expressed confidence in Bullington's victory.

"I feel that I was duty-bound as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to come and speak to you in this cause," Mr. Hawk said in opening his remarks. "For the past two years our organization has been conducting a campaign for reduction of governmental expenses, we've appointed local tax and budget committees to study the problems of the various counties of West Texas. We've been striving to cut our taxes and budget committees have announced that twenty-five million dollars have been cut from the expenditures of counties of this great section through that work.

Honesty Is Needed

"Now is the time when we need honest government and we're going to need economic and orderly government," he continued, "that's what the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been striving for. I am a Republican and have lived in your state only six years but I feel that I can speak to you as one Texan to another, as one West Texan to another.

"There are thousands and thousands of Democrats in Texas who can't stand the Fergusons any longer. They want good government and purity in office. And now a man is offered them, a man whose sole aim is to give Texas, his state good and honest government.

Vote For Principle

"I want you to remember that when you vote Tuesday, you're not voting for the party, you're voting for a man and a principle."

Referring to the proposed amendments, Mr. Hawk made a plea for defeat of the centennial amendment, declaring that "we're opposed to any legislature appropriating from five to ten million dollars for a bunch of politicians to spend on a celebration." He also asked for

STRAW VOTE TABULATION AT 6 P. M. ON FRIDAY

Governor: Bullington, (R.)—508; Ferguson, (D.)—167; Edwards, (Soc.)—3; Not voting for governor—15. Total tabulation—693.

President: Roosevelt, (D.)—502; Hoover, (R.)—151; Thomas, (Soc.)—10; Upshaw, (Pro).—5. Not voting for president—25. Total tabulation—693.

Fired by promises of Ferguson supporters that their rally here this afternoon would end in an avalanche of ballots and victory for the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, supporters of Republican Orville Bullington took to the streets yesterday afternoon and wagged in a sizeable pile of votes.

Bullington stalwarts, led by H H. Halsell, canvassed offices and stores in a drive which augmented the total of the Wichita Falls man until it gave him the lead over the entire ticket and put him ahead of Democracy's pride and joy, Presidential Nominee Franklin Roosevelt.

Hoover Turns Sharp Attack On Democrats

First Direct Bid For Votes In Missouri Is Made Friday Night; Falsehood Is Charged To Demo Leaders

Charges Denied

Falsity Of Foundation Of The Demo Campaign Is Described In President's Own Outline Of Opposing Policies

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS COLISEUM, Nov. 4.—President Hoover asserted tonight, in his first direct bid for Missouri votes, that his Democratic opponents were conducting "a campaign of avoidances," based on "false premises," and employing "deliberate misrepresentation and colossal falsehood."

Climaxing the first full day of his fifth swing into the midwest during which Republican leaders estimated he appeared before more than 200,000 people, the chief executive characterized the Democratic campaign as based upon the premise "that the Republican party brought on the depression."

Homage Is Paid

Earlier, as he travelled swiftly across Indiana and Illinois, bound for the west coast, Mr. Hoover paid homage at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln and told a Springfield, Ill., audience that "the same alternatives are before the country today" as in the civil war re-election campaign of the emancipator.

In a continued attack tonight upon what he outlined as the beliefs of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the president declared the Democratic candidate had "held up the horrors of the Hawley-Smoot tariff act and of the stock market boom as being the sole cause of this world catastrophe."

Speaks Of Crash

If the Democratic leader would make his "contradictory statements on the tariff consistent," he said, it would be necessary to delete "over 10,000 eloquent words from what he has said on this subject."

Speaking of the stock market crash, Mr. Hoover said that Roosevelt "conveys the impression that as president I should have stopped the boom.

"If the president should have attempted to stop the boom," he added, "one of the persons he would have needed to warn is the present Democratic candidate."

The president said the Democrat-

Bandits Drop Robbery Loot

Two Thugs Rob Sacul Bank Of $2,500 But Drop $2,000 In Flight From Posse; Flee On Foot Into Swamps

(By The Associated Press)

SACUL, Tex., Nov. 4 — Entering while the cashier was alone, two roughly dressed bandits today robbed the state bank of Sacul of approximately $2,500 only to lose the greater part of their loot when fired upon by a member of a citizen posse.

In describing the robbery, the cashier, Booker Campbell, said the men entered the bank about noon.

Life Is Threatened

"They told me it was a hold up," he said. "I gave them the money, but they threatened to kill me anyhow. I begged off, and they ran out the door with the money."

Campbell said the men fled on foot toward a nearby swamp where M. L. Booker sighted the pair and fired four times with a shot gun. The cashier said he did not know whether any of the shots took effect, but that the robbers dropped $2,000 of the stolen money as they continued to flee.

Samuel Insull Arrested And Held In Jail

Former Chicago Magnate Taken Into Custody Friday; Held Pending Extradition To The United States

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 4—Samuel Insull, under indictment in Chicago on charges which grew out of the collapse of the Middle West Utilities company, was arrested today pending extradition.

They took him to police headquarters and kept him there for the night, despite his attorney's plea that Mr. Insull, now 73 years old, is suffering from heart trouble and ought to be in a hospital.

Physicians Appointed

The public attorney appointed two physicians to examine him and report tomorrow. He will decide then where Mr. Insull will have to stay during his period of detention.

When it was announced yesterday that the Greco-American extradition treaty had finally been made effective by the formal exchange of instruments of ratification, it was certain that Mr. Insull's visit to Greece would be interrupted.

Was Not Molested

He came here several weeks ago from Paris by way of Italy, leaving each of those countries just ahead of a request for his arrest. While the American treaty with Greece remained incomplete he was not seriously molested here.

Just after noon the police commissioner called at the hotel where Mr. Insull was a guest. He went upstairs and served his warrant. The prisoner was given time to dress and have luncheon then the commissioner left by the front door.

Taken Out Back Way

Mr. Insull was taken out the back way with a police guard.

He looked like an old man then, bundled up in a heavy overcoat, his face pale and his shoulders sagging, his voice trembled as he asked the newspapermen not to bother him.

"There is police surveillance," he said, "and there is such a thing as newspaper surveillance. From that there is no escape."

Five States Voted Relief Fund Of $6,557,000 By RFC

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Reconstruction Corporation today authorized relief loans totaling $6,557,000 to Pennsylvania, Indiana, Virginia, Washington and New Hampshire.

In so doing, however, the directors informed Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania that his state itself must do more to relieve suffering than it has if he expects the corporation freely to vote further federal assistance. Pennsylvania was granted $5,462,265 for use in 63 counties during November. It previously had received $5,842,183 for October.

Outlines Plan To Aid Return Of Prosperity

Liberalization Of Volstead Law To Permit Manufacture And Sale Of Wines And Beer Is Proposed

Says Election Won

States There Is An Unlimited Field For Prosperity But That It Lies In Opposite Direction From Hoover

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. — John J. Raskob, in a Democratic campaign address tonight said he considered the election already won by the Roosevelt-Garner ticket, and then outlined a five-point program "that can be quickly accomplished and will greatly facilitate a quick return of prosperity and morality in our country."

His program, as outlined in an advance copy of his radio talk given out at Democratic national headquarters, is:

Program Outlined

"1.—Pending repeal of the 18th amendment, liberalize the Volstead law to permit the manufacture, transportation and sale of light wines and beer.

"2.—Levy an excise tax on beer and designed to prpduce a federal revenue of $1,000,000,000 annually, instead of having the public pay twice this amount to bootleggers for poor products illicitly made.

Radical Reductions

"3.—Make radical reductions in the high sur-taxes on incomes, and impose a general sales tax of 1 1-2 per cent, if this is necessary temporarily to balance the budget.

"4.—Drastically reduce all federal expenditures, by forcing the government to economize in all directions, exactly as every individual citizen has had to do, and in this way.

"5.—Balance the budget."

Gospel Of Hate

Of the presidential campaign, the former Democratic national chairman and manager of the Smith-Robinson campaign said:

"In 1928 we witnessed the sorry spectacle of our Republican opponents under the leadership of Herbert Hoover preaching a 'gospel of hate'.

"Today, four years later, that same Republican party is preaching a 'gospel of fear' to a prostrated people just as they are beginning to see a ray of light at the end of the tunnel, after three years of dread, darkness and uncertainty—all under Republican rule.

"It was many months after the

Hilton Residence Burns At Woodrow On Friday Morning

A Lubbock county landmark since the night of May 30 when Frank V. (Leather Hat) Brown was shot to death there, the T. B. Hilton residence at Woodrow was burned to the ground at about 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Fire, believed to have originated at an oil stove, soon spread throughout the frame building. Mrs. Hilton, who was attending a filling station north of the house, did not discover the flames until they were out of control. Mr. Hilton was in a field.

Only two quilts and one pillow were saved from the building, it was said last night. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton were state witnesses in the trials of three men who were convicted of Brown's murder.

Most Wonderful Spectacle Offered By Heavens, Leonid Meteors, Scheduled Between Nov. 12 And 17; Only Seen By Public Three Times In Century; Last Visit A Flop

(By The Associated Press)

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 4. — The question in the minds of most astronomers and students of the skies is whether the big show will go on between November 12 and 17. The big show is thrice a century appearance of the Leonid meteors.

It is recorded in history as the greatest spectacle offered to the general public by the heavens.

Much ado was made in advance of the show programmed 33 years ago, and it flopped, so astronomers are not so anxious to urge every one to get up at 3 o'clock in the morning next week for this Leonid visit.

One explanation of the show's failure in 1899 is that the planet Jupiter barged into the celestial course of the Leonid swarm, and most of the meteors were switched beyond the earth's atmosphere.

But history reveals that many grand displays have been put on and astronomers expect many more.

Joshua, in the Bible, tells how the great stones from Heaven fell upon the enemies of the Children of Israel and killed them. Mount Wilson observatory library here reveals many other reports.

For instance, in 1799, Nov. 12, a man traveling from Philadelphia to New Orleans witnessed the show from at sea.

"The phenomenon was grand and awful," he wrote. "The whole heavens appeared as if illuminated by sky rockets,

Negro Duel Is Staged Friday

Shotgun-Pistol Affray Here Results In Damage To Two Houses; Participants Flee After Firing Shots

Two negroes engaged in a bloodless shotgun-pistol duel in the 1700-block of Thirteenth street late Friday, and then took to their heels. Slugs from the guns took effect in two residences, frightening the occupants, but injuring no one.

A 33-year-old man, held last night in Lubbock city jail, was arrested on Broadway shortly after the barrage, but the other man accused of participating in the duel was a fugitive last night. The man held said he thought some of the slugs from his sawed-off -16-gauge shotgun struck the other. Officers doubted the man sought had been hurt. The gun was found in trees in the alley in the 1800-block, south of Thirteenth street.

The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Acting Woman's Editor

FIRST assigned to a pastorate in the Northwest Texas Methodist conference upon entering the ministry, President Tom W. Brabham of Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth, has offered to the heads of Texas schools and colleges an example worthy of serious study.

This man in his late thirties accepted a position as head of an institution that appeared to be designed for dissolution under a load of debt. In the face of this obstacle and facing a depression that has quoted as being unparaleled, President Brabham set to work and in 1931 cut the school deficit $6,000.

During this school year, President Brabham expects to institute a campaign to raise a $100,000 endowment fund for the school and to clear it of debt. Once freed from debt he plans to re-write the charter and fix it so the college will run on a cash basis in the future.

MY DRIVING COMPLEXES

I S ONE whose driving experience has been gained mainly from sitting complacently at the right hand of the one behind the wheel, I have a few observations to make. Never a back seat driver in any sense of the word, I have without complaining been in wrecks while on vacations the last two summers. It seems to me that if I had been driving neither smash-up would have been improved upon and I was glad to be discovered alive in both instances.

What I am unable to understand about drivers and why I would not particularly care to join them is that I have no ambition to be a barbarian (a word coined by an American who read of the ancient barbarians who thundered down roads taking what they cared for and smashing things right and left). My friend, who has perfect manners while we approach his automobile, becomes a changed person once he is seated behind the wheel.

"All right mister," is directed to a man whom it seems to be has not as much right to be passing us or vice versa. This is generally followed with "Hey, watch where you're going!" "Say, get that tin can out of the way before you get it run over," or similiar phraseology.

I have become inured through the years but there is one statement which always arouses my ire and that is the familiar word, "I bet you that's a woman driving," followed with "I told you it was a woman" as we skim past her barely missing the front fender and crowding the driver to the curbing.

THEY ARE NOT TO BLAME

POSSIBLY there is no more pitiable victim of the economic disorder than the college student who was graduated last June or the one who is looking forward toward graduation next spring: the one who is waiting to begin the job of living on his own responsibility.

Marking time while the world tries to get itself straightened out is no easy matter. The young person desiring assistance in most cases wants material aid and not sermonizing.

It is tragic not to be able to find work, whether a boy or girl, because on having work depends every thing they have looked forward to. They are told to wait until times get better. Statistics showing the number of men unemployed in their chosen profession are pointed out to them. It is small wonder that they become confused in trying to rationalize a scheme of living in a generation of which, economically speaking, they have the bad luck to be a member.

The modern credo, "Who will care, one or the other, a hundred years from now," offers small consolation to the earnest college graduate.

Former Lubbock Woman Dies At Staunton, Va., Friday

Mrs. Reeves Catt, about 75, mother of Mrs. John C. Granbery, formerly of Lubbock, died at Staunton, Va., Friday afternoon, Dr. W. B. Gates was informed by telegram. Doctor Granbery until last summer was a member of Texas Technological college faculty.

Mrs. Catt, who had made her home in Lubbock with the Granberys until recently, had been in ill health for several months. Doctor Granbery, after his tenure at Texas Tech had ended, went to Brazil for a year there with a sister, and Mrs. Granbery and Mrs. Catt went to Staunton, where Mrs. Catt was reared. Mrs. Granbery was Mrs. Catt's only child.

Burial will be in Staunton, Doctor Gates said. Mr. Catt has been dead a number of years.

Tech Girls To Be At Parties

Local AAUW Unit Is To Meet With Miss Jonnie McCrery; Sans Souci Club Is To Be Hostess To Group

Club affairs have predominated in social affairs during the weekend. These are continuing today with a meeting of the American Association of University Women announced for this afternoon and parties for Las Chaparritas club, the Sans Souci club and Faculty club scheduled.

The second regular meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women will be held at the F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Miss Jonnie McCrery, president, as hostess.

At this time a full report of the recent state convention of the A. A. U. W. at Corpus Christi will be given by Mrs. William Dingus and by Miss McCrery.

Faculty women at Texas Technological college are to attend a tea at Seaman hall this afternoon at 3 o'clock and at this same hour members of the Sans Souci club and their guests will be entertained with bridge at the Country club.

Plan Leap Year Dance

Las Chaparritas club members are to attend a Leap Year dance at the Country club this evening and on Sunday afternoon will be guests at a fire-side tea in the Friend residence.

Thirteen members of the Sans Souci Alumnae club met Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the home of Mrs. W. H. Evans, 2218 16th street, for a general club re-organization.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. J. H. Stiles, president; Mrs. Evans, vice president, and Alma Spikes, secretary-treasurer. Miss Ann Snyder is the retiring president.

The organization was changed from a bridge club to a general social group. The meeting date, which used to be semi-monthly, was set for once each month. The club has 22 active members.

Honor Mrs. McElroy

As a courtesy to Mrs. Lena McElroy, who is moving to Mineral Wells to live, members of the Business and Professional Women's club entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Abernathy near Lubbock.

Games of bridge and forty-two were played and the honoree was presented with a surprise handkerchief shower.

Those attending were Mesdames Frank Dysart, J. R. McNeil, C. E. Moreman, J. W. Baze, S. D. Buchanan, Clara Abney, J. J. Smelser, H. A. Welmaker, Lela Frazier, Viola Long, the honoree and Misses Charlie Jackson, Irma Claye, Mattie Randolph, Josephine Welmaker, Jewel Paschall, Fay Stinnett, Virginia Williams, Elsie Link, Bessie Harris, Isla Mae Chitwood, Pauline Parker, Margaret Mallard, Ruby Marie Douthit and Blanche E. Bean.

Mrs. W. J. Spain Entertains Honoring Mrs. Waller Diggs

Mrs. W. J. Spain entertained at the home of Mrs. L. H. Plain, 1302 Avenue Q, Thursday afternoon as a courtesy to her sister, Mrs. Waller Diggs.

Texas Tech Matadors Are Heroes To Many School Children In Big Party

Texas Tech's Matadors who smothered Trinity university Tigers in defeat here last night were heroes to about 1,750 Lubbock public school children who were guests of Texas Technological college athletic department and of The Plainsman, Lubbock Evening Journal columnist, at the game. In addition to the youngsters, school teachers of Lubbock and other South Plains counties were guests at the big football party.

The east side bleachers, occupied by the students, were half filled at 7:30 o'clock. Dozens of kids who had been playing on Matador field scrambled for the stands when the drums of the band sounded west of the grandstand. Except for restless children at the edges, the movement in the bleachers stopped as the band played the customary "Long Live the Matadors."

Shrill cheers greeted the Matadors as they trotted on the gridiron. The college cheer leaders led the youngsters in a pep rally during the game.

The teachers mingled with the crowd in the west grandstand and a check on their total attendance could not be made last night. At least 200, or more, teachers, their wives and husbands and children were in the crowd. Soon after the game began, the audience turned up collars, wrapped in gaily colored blankets, and leaned to the chilly north wind blowing down the field.

School teachers of Lynn, Terry, Dawson, Gaines, Borden, Yoakum, Garza, Hockley, Hale, Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, Lamb, and Bailey were eligible to attend the party, in addition to those of this county. Students received tickets from their instructors; the teachers obtained theirs at the box office on payment of a 10- cent federal tax.

how to take words away to make a bad case look better."

Governor Roosevelt reiterated the various policies he has outlined in the past for dealing with tariff, monetary and federal fiscal problems.

He said that his visit to the thirty-seven states of the union had given him a first-hand knowledge "that the nation in every part is stirred by a great human crisis."

Has Been Careful

"Because of what I have seen," he said, "I have been scrupulously careful to make no idle promises, to raise no false hopes, and at the same time to engage in no personalities, no unfair inuendoes, no baseless charges against the president of the United States.

"In simple terms I have attempted to say to the people of this country that the way out of disaster and depression is a battle to be fought by the people; that the task of rebuilding must come from the resolute action of millions of men and women who belong to all parties; but at the same time that leadership is essential to provide for them plans of action and to keep vividly before them the definite objectives."

Sharp Attack

ic nominee "should not continue to ignore" that the "United States became the last fortress of world economic stability, and at one moment we held that even by the narrowest of margins."

"And he should cease to ignore the fact," he continued, "that we were faced with a crisis of such dimensions that unless strong action had been taken in the passage of a bill for which Democratic members of congress voted, with the full knowledge of the facts, we could not have held the gold standard."

The Democratic leaders, he asserted, also have failed to "admit" that the measures instituted "have begun to bring about stability," of which, he added, "there is one great word of proof."

"That is," he added, "that since the adjournment of the Democratic house of representatives last July down to the present moment, over 1,000,000 men have gone back to their normal jobs. They are going back at the rate of 500,000 a month unless they are intercepted by a change in policies."

The president asserted his outline of the "campaign policy" of the Democratic party was important in the following respects:

"First, because it proves the falsity of the foundation of their campaign;

Confusion of Mind

"Second, because it shows their utter confusion of mind, and either their insincerity or their utter lack of grasp of the forces loose in the world, and consequently the danger of placing men who have such a lack of penetration into the control of the government of 120,000,000 American people;

"Third, because the continuous broadcasting of misinformation, although it is daily of conflicting character as to where this calamity came from, indicates an irresponsibility which does not promise well for the government of these same 120,000,000 people;

"Fourth, because they should as a responsible political party cease to appeal to unthinking people for votes based upon their suffering by misleading them as to its causes."

NEWS BRIEFS

Last rites for Jack Wayne Denham, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Denham, were conducted by the Rev. R. C. Campbell, First Baptist church pastor, at Sanders funeral home at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Denham, died of diphtheria late Thursday night at 1314 Avenue F. The parents, one sister, Maxine, and a brother, Elson Lee, are survivors.

A sleight of hand performance was given by Mohammed Kahn at the American Business club Friday noon at Hotel Hilton. President James Kennedy announced an initial meeting of all new officers of the club at Hotel Hilton at 7:30 o'clock Monday night.

Bond of $750 was fixed Friday by Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell in the case of Mrs. C. L. Emerson charged with swindling by worthless check. The complaint, filed by Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, stated Mrs. Emerson gave a worthless check of $77.54 on a Sudan bank to a department store here for merchandise. Mrs. Emerson was arrested here last Saturday afternoon.

Now Pedro and Alena, young Mexicans, can see each other without going to city jail. Police arrested Pedro last Sunday night for drunkenness. Tuesday afternoon Alena came to see her friend. Because she wobbled a bit, police placed her in the city jail, a cell block from Pedro. The man paid a part of his $15 fine and was released, and Friday morning was at the city hall with sandwiches, coffee and candy for Alena and other Mexicans. Yesterday afternoon the woman was released on bond to attempt to pay her fine.

J. R. Morris, 19, of Tenth street and Avenue L, pleaded not guilty of theft in county court Friday and Judge E. L. Price set his bond at $300. The complaint was filed against Morris after Mrs. John R. Moore, 2004 Main street, identified Morris as one of two youths who were in her home recently when theft occurred there.

An appropriation for the annual Fat Calf-Pig-Cured Meat show here next spring was voted Friday morning by the board of directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce after a conference with Sterling Evans, district agent, of the A. and M. college extension service.

Lubbock residents late Friday had subscribed $1,612 to the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, Scout Executive D. T. Jennings reported. More than one-half of that amount was in cash.

No teams had completed their reports, and several groups had made no returns. The goal set is $3,000.

A conveyor belt at the S. E. Cone elevator was burned in two in a small fire about 1:45 o'clock Friday afternoon, the fire department said. Only damage was to the belt.

Terms, or sea swallows, are said to have a greater developed "homing sense" than pigeons.

WHEN YOU TASTE HILLS BROS COFFEE,
YOU'RE TASTING A FLAVOR NO OTHER COFFEE HAS

No other coffee is roasted the same way... Controlled Roasting is Hills Bros' patented process

Full savory goodness of the coffee-berries developed by roasting "a little at a time," instead of in bulk

GROUND RIGHT TO TASTE RIGHT
Hills Bros. Coffee is correctly ground for best results by drip process or any other method.

The instant Hills Bros. Coffee touches your lips, you know why it is such a tremendous favorite. For you're tasting the flavor of flavors! No other coffee has such satisfying goodness . . . such delicious, mellow smoothness.

That's because Hills Bros. is roasted a little at a time . . . evenly, continuously, by the patented Controlled Roasting process. Other coffees are roasted in bulk.

Controlled Roasting is the perfect way to roast! For it offers positive protection against under-roasting and over-roasting. But ordinary, bulk methods don't. Every berry in Hills Bros.' blend is done to the exact degree necessary to develop the finest flavor!

Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed, and can't go stale. The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness — the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can — it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

Drink some Hills Bros. Coffee. By the time you've finished the cup, you'll know a contentment and satisfaction that no other can give! Order some today by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

New Wrinkles Cloud Political Brows In Southwest As Balloting Is Near

Hectic Campaign Is Ending; Hoover Is In St. Louis

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—President Hoover's scheduled major campaign address in St. Louis tonight and turbulent gubernatorial campaigns in Missouri, Kansas and Texas put new wrinkles on the brows of political prophets in the Southwest this week.

Before the president announced his St. Louis visit, even Republican leaders had conceded that normally Republican section to be doubtful. The outright repeal plank in the Democratic platform was blamed. St. Louis is considered strongly anti-Prohibition.

Campaigns Hectic

To uncertainty over the effect of the Hoover speech upon St. Louis and the farm belt was added confusion born of the hectic gubernatorial campaigns which threatened to erase lines and cut down the number of straight ballots voted, not only in Missouri, but in Kansas and Texas also.

In Missiouri the state campaign was being waged on an issue of "bossism." Leutenant-Governor E. H. Winter, Republican nominee, was openly seeking the support of disgrunted Democrats with the assertion that his opponent, Judge Guy B. Park of Platte City, was handpicked by Thomas J. Pendergast, Democratic leader of Kansas City. Park had been selected by the state central committee after the mid-campaign death of Francis M. Wilson, the original Democratic nominee.

Winter Is Charged

Democrats countered with assertions that Winter is himself bossed by Arthur M. Hyde, Missourian and secretary of agriculture.

In Kansas party lines were obliterated by John R. Brinkley, independent candidate for governor. Supporters of this former gland specialist and radio station operator, who has ascribed to political machinations the loss of his right to practice medicine in Kansas and to operate his radio station as he pleased, said he would draw heavily from both major parties and defeat Governor Harry H. Woodring, Democrat, and Alfred M. Landon, Republican. Jonathan M. Davis, former Democratic governor has announced his support of Brinkley.

Brinkley Is Strong

As a write-in candidate two years ago, Brinkley received a vote which threatened both Republican and Democratic nominees. This time, with his name on the ballot, Brinkley has been waging an elaborate campaign using a special campaign office on wheels and loud speaker equipment and making continual use of radio stations.

In Texas the issue had become, not party, but Fergusonism. Governor R. S. Sterling, a Democrat, was stumping against Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, former governor, and her husband, James E. Ferguson, impeached and removed from the governorship back in 1917. Sterling was declaring he had in his possession an "overwhelming mass of documentary evidence" to prove he was the rightful Democratic nominee.

Victory Contested

The primary victory Mrs. Ferguson nosed out over Sterling was contested in the courts by the governor who alleged thousands of illegal votes were cast in her favor. The supreme court ordered the suit dismissed. It pointed out that the case could not be tried and decided before election.

As a result of the anti-Fergusonism bolt of many Democrats, backers of Orville Bullington, Republican gubernatorial nominee, were claiming a 50-50 chance of election for their candidate in a state where Democratic nomination is usually considered tantamount to election. But they were not so positive about the Hoover vote and Democratic leaders said Texas would choose Democratic presidential electors by "the usual Democratic majority."

Oklahoma had no gubernatorial squabble but there was something akin to the anti-Fergusonism movement in Texas in the way of J. C. Walton, recalled governor, attempting a political comeback in a race with J. H. Johnston, Republican for the job of state corporation commissioner. It invited a split of Democratic tickets by former opponents of Walton.

Governor W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray was on the stump in Oklahoma, proposing to campaign to the end of the straight party ticket and for his income tax initiative measure which proposes a one to ten per cent levy with "big business" paying heavily and the "little fellows" lightly. The citizens league, backed by many newspapers, was opposing the Murray tax plan, asserting it would run big business out of the state "as in Wisconsin."

Case Of Convicts Will Be Studied

WELDON, Tex., Nov. 4 (AP)—The case of two Eastham state farm convicts accused of the fatal beating of Guard J. R. Henson probably will be taken direct to the Houston county grand jury, it was said today at the office of the justice of peace here.

Warden W. W. Waid of the penitentiary at Huntsville previously had announced murder charges probably would be filed, but the justice said the grand jury would meet in about two weeks and likely would take the matter up at that time.

Henson was beaten with a pitch fork handle by three convicts who attempted to escape the farm three weeks ago. He died yesterday. One of the convicts, Charley Wilson, was shot to death. The others were captured later by a posse.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: THE CHRISTIAN AND WORLD PEACE
Scripture Lesson: Ps. 72:9-17
Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 6, 1932

9. They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall render tribute; the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

11. Yea, all kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall serve him.

12. For he will deliver the needy when he crieth, and the poor, that hath no helper.

13. He will have pity on the poor and needy, and the souls of the needy he will save.

14. He will redeem their soul from oppression and violence; and precious will their blood be in his sight:

15. And they shall live; and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba: and man shall pray for him continually; they shall bless him all the day long.

16 There shall be abundance of grain in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon: and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17. His name shall endure for ever: his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him; all nations shall call him happy.

Golden Text: Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.—Matt. 5:9.

Introduction

"To the peacemaker Jesus promises the happiness of being recognized as a child of God,—"Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God."—Matt. 5:9. Naturally so: for the work of promoting peace and love among men is the very work of God himself. The work of the peacemaker is a clear road to happiness." — Henry Churchill King.

"By becoming a neighbor to remote people he (the missionary) broadens their conception of humanity and his own, and then can be an interpreter of his new friends to his old friends. The interest in foreign missions has, in fact been a prime educational force, carrying a world-wide consciousness of solidarity into thousands of plain minds and homes that would otherwise have been provincial in their horizon."—Walter Rauschenbusch.

"To be at peace with man we must be at peace with ourselves. To be at peace with ourselves we must be at peace with God."—J. S. B. Monsell.

Mankind has no conception, as yet, of the overflowing joy which would come upon the earth with the assurance of a permanent peace, such as could only be made certain by the permanent rule of God in the hearts of men. What a satisfaction when the nations are unified in one worship, one hope, and one glad certainty. War has always been the curse of the world. It has wrecked the happiness of more homes than any other agency. It has done most to postpone the triumph of the church, to retard human progress. Another war like the World war ,with the deadly instrumentalities since discovered, would, it is generally admitted, blot out civilization and compel mankind to start all over again. And by as much as war has been the world's curse, universal and assured peace would be the world's blessing.

A Messianic Psalm, Ps. 72: 9-17

This is a Messianic psalm. It presents a picture of the kingdom of God upon earth in its ideal character of perfection and universality. It is thus in its nature not only a prayer and a hope but a prophecy. As each successive king of David's line failed to realize the ideal, it became clearer and clearer that its words pointed forward to the One who was to come, to the true 'Prince of Peace!'—Prof. A. F. Kirkpatrick. The opening verses of the psalm anticipate this world-wide peace. "The mountains shall bring peace to the people," sings the poet; and he goes on to paint the days when the righteous shall flourish, "and abundance of peace, till the moon be no more." This peace shall flow from the universal dominion of the King.

Peace And Prosperity

The Psalmist saw peace as the friend of man, especially the friend of the poor. With its coming, the establishment of the Kingdom of Peace, there is to be abundance for humanity. The world even yet is paying a fearful toll for war. There are those who believe that war brings prosperity, because while it is on a nation spends lavishly and recklessly, and for a time during and after war there are high prices and money is in abundance. But real prosperity cannot come of the waste of material resources, to say nothing of the waste of life. By far the larger part of our national expenditures today, fourteen years after the ending of the World war, is for the cost of that conflict and of other wars, and for preparation for wars that may come. The United States government in times of peace spends more annually on its war and navy departments than all of the churches of the United States—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—contribute for all purposes.

National Jealousies Cause War

At the close of the Great war many people felt that the world was done with war. The horrors of it were fresh upon us. The councils of the nations seemed to promise peace as they formulated their agreements and set up the machinery of peace. Today, fourteen years later, we find ourselves in a world more divided than before, a world of revolution, of international fear, jealousies, and wars that again ignore solemn agreements. And the machinery of peace is crippled and uncertain in its movements.

What Can The Christian Do For Peace?

(1) He can preach the gospel of the cross and individual redemption. (2) He can preach against the causes of war. (3) He can stop glorifying war. (4) He can preach peace in times of peace. (5) He can preach the gospel of righteousness and justice between man and man and nation and nation. (6) He can cooperate with all agencies and organizations whose objects are to banish war and usher in world peace. (7) He can preach the gospel of love and brotherhood, and thus create an atmosphere in which war cannot live.

Christ The Hope Of The World

"The announcement from heaven of the birth of the Babe of Bethlehem carried the glorious promise, "Peace on earth." This has not had its realization, but the world is moving, slowly though it be, toward that goal. In the day when Jesus lived and taught, and for many centuries after, kings could carry their countries into war and sacrifice the lives of their people without giving excuse or reason. Human life has come to something of its real value, and the world is weary of war. All these outward signs of changed conditions are evidences of the working of the "leaven" of the gospel. The will of Jesus Christ is a will to peace, and "he shall have his day." Relief must come to a suffering world, and it must come soon, or the very foundation of safety, prosperity and human character will be unsettled.

Special Lessons

1. "National selfishness does not serve even the selfish nation, as honest internationalism does. But cooperative dealing must bring gains, and sooner or later the nations must find that out or perish."—Harry P. Gibson.

2. "Let each church which feels responsibility for Christianizing America's international relations and wishes to share in its realization establish a Peace Committee. Where the peace interest of the church makes it desirable it might well organize a regular Church Peace Society, having its officers and an executive committee."—Rev. Sidney L. Gulick, D. D.

3. "Disarmament must be preceded by reduction of armaments. Reduction of armaments must be preceded by limitation of armaments."—Lucia Ames Mead. The world is making rapid progress along these lines.

4. "The whole movement of civilization has been from strife toward order."—President David Starr Jordan.

5. "Kill the thought of hate by thinking peace."—Rev. Abe Cary, D. D.

Market Is To Open In City

Thanksgiving Turkey Market Will Formally Open Today; Growers Are To Gather To Discuss Pool

The 1932 Thanksgiving market for turkeys will formally open probably today, with prices not announced by one produce house and a price of eight cents to farmers for another. No price announcement was made by the third produce house.

Press dispatches Thursday indicated a price of 12 cents at Fort Worth for the opening. Most of the dealers there, it was reported were paying 12 cents for No. 1 birds, nine cents for old toms and eight cents for No. 2 birds.

Offerings were not heavy, it was said. Denton was reported paying 12 cents also.

There have been few turkeys offered here so far this fall, producers state. The crop is said to be larger than last year and with plenty of grain, the birds should be large and heavy, with plenty of fat.

Lubbock county turkey growers are to meet this afternoon at the courthouse to discuss a pool of a car or two of turkeys for the Thanksgiving market. It is probable that, if the price is satisfactory more than that number will be sold.

Yesterday afternoon at Plainview the disposal of birds by the Staked Plains Turkey association was to be discussed. No announcement was made of what the pool had decided.

Hockley county farmers are talking a pool also. There s said to be a good crop of birds there.

Mike Layden, a member of the freshman football squad at Notre Dame, is a brother of the famous Elmer, fullback of a few years ago.

Tech Defeats Trinity; Westerners Smother Bulldogs

Matadors Tame Trinity Tigers By 79-0 Count

Tech Gridders Score Heavily All The Way As Mighty Line Makes Holes For Fleet Backfield Aces Who Use 'Em

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Tiger from Trinity was thoroughly domesticated last night by the Matador from Texas Tech, who pulled the bengal's fangs and rode him in a touchdown parade up and down Matador Field until even the spectators cried for mercy. Through it all, the Texas Tech ring masters played a sparkling game of football, and when it was all over the score was 79 to 0 against the charges of Coach Leland Wilkins.

The victory was Tech's eighth of the season, against one defeat, and the total score mounted to 317 points against 14 for nine opponents, only two of which have been able to register.

A Losing Game

The Tigers, coming from Waxahachie branded as a more or less serious opponent, undefeated in the Lone Star conference, fought hard against overwhelming odds. But the fight went for naught. It was a losing battle, even when the Tech squad was limited to 25 uniformed players according to terms of the contract under which the game was played.

Coach Cawthon alternated two complete lineups; the shock troops went in to feel out the opposition and score a couple of counters; the regulars went in to play the second and third quarters and do the heavy scoring, and the second stringers took the field in the last quarter. Johnny Walker and Lee Gaylor went in at the halfback positions in the last quarter as the third set of backs, and they gave good accounts of themselves.

Making first downs on nearly every offensive thrust, the Matadors scored almost at will. Several new plays, some of them working off a spinner, were tried out and effectively executed for the edification of about 4,000 whooping fans. Straight football, however, minus a lot of the fancy stuff usually seen, was good enough last night. Power and still more power backed up nearly every play tried by the local collegians.

Tech Line Is Steady

On ground plays, the Tigers were worse than helpless. An aerial attack, featuring the passing combination of Shick to Miller and to Whipple, Tiger ends, constituted the means whereby four first downs were registered by the enemy.

Shick's quick punts when the Matadors were expecting something else was the only factor which kept Trinity from being defeated by a big score.

Shicks end runs rolled up a few yards, but not many. Shick's thrusts at the line rolled up not any of consequence.

Maybe He's A Star

It is gathered that Shick was the Tiger star. Offensively, he was. Quarterback Fowler and Fullback Hussey tried hard but failed to go. Defensively, Shick was also the backfield star, although there was little gaining around the end guarded by Galloway, said to be one of the best wingmen in the Lone Star conference. Galloway broke through for several neat stops.

For Tech it was the usual thing. No one man was allowed to outshine his mates, and to name the stars would be to repeat the lineup and list of substitutions found elsewhere on this page.

In the first quarter it was Demp Cannon, the former Slaton High school ace, who did most of the ball carrying and gaining. Tech started its drive from its own 32-yard line, and with Cannon carrying the ball six times, and Butts once, the Matadors scored a touchdown. Cannon went over for the counter. He was given good interference by Curfman, Butts and Beauchamp, and the line made great holes through which he traveled almost unmolested for gaines of from 5 to 20 yards. His touchdown run was for 21 yards.

Curfman Scores Counter

Cannon raced 15 yards to place the ball on the 7-yard line and picked up two or three more before big "Double-Ugg" Curfman plunged over for the second counter.

Lefty Sollis, jackrabbit of the outfit, probably was the main offensive threat in the second and third quarters. Behind the staunch forward wall and because of good blocking on the part of Crites, Moffett and McElroy, Sollis brought the house down several times with his twisting wrigling shape. Crites and McElroy, the sophomore from Dallas, looked good, which was nothing unusual. Crites made three of the five touchdowns in the second quarter, Sollis made one and McElroy made one. McElroy's 29-yard run for a touchdown shortly after his 25-yard run from his own territory was the longest dash in that period. Lefty Sollis intercepted a pass later on and raced from his 40 to the Tiger 5 before he stepped out of bounds. Just why he did it was not clear, as he had a clean field ahead of him at the time. Crites went over for the counter on the next play.

Moffett Shows Heels

Moffett intercepted a pass late in the quarter to race 45 yards to the 6-yard line where Kennedy brought him down, and Crites made another touchdown.

A pass, Moffett to Crites, put the ball in scoring position early in the third period, and McElroy went over from the 1-yard line. A few minutes after the Tech line, featured by the play of Captain Ayers, Toby Greer, Lester Tribble and Matt Hitchcock, opened a gaping hole in the opposition and McElroy was off down the field on a 39-yard jaunt. He was over for a counter in two short plays. Moffett registered another counter from the 10-yard line after Crites and Sollis had made long runs from the Tech 20-yard line.

Walker and Gaylor did things in a scoring way in the last quarter, although Curfman went over for one of the counters. Walker slipped through the line and was gone for 17 yards for one touchdown and Curfman made the other from the 8-yard line.

Thoroughbreds To Race Today

Third Running Of The Texas Breeder's Futurity Slated At Arlington Downs; Forty Horses Are Entered

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4—Thoroughbred horses will be kings tomorrow at least with the third running of the Texas Breeders' Futurity at Arlington Downs. The $2,000 event for Texas bred, foaled and owned two-year olds is one of seven races and two exhibitions featuring the cream of W. T. Waggoner's stock programmed for Saturday afternoon. Forty horses are entered in the seven races.

Waggoner's Three D stables will make a determined bid to win the rich juveniles, a prize which has gone to visiting horses since its inaugural with three of the four nominees. The fourth entry is Sycee, a black filly out of Bonnie Jane by Swope owned by Gus F. Schreiner of Kerrville.

Stride Away, colt, and That's Mine and Good Scout, fillies, will carry the hopes of the Three D. stables. Stride Away, a potential candidate for the 1933 Kentucky Derby, is the chief hope of the red, white and blue silks.

Lady Dever, filly owned by Dr. J. A. Blackwell of Cooper, Tex., was the winner of the Texas Breeders' Futurity last year, beating out the Waggoner entry in the stretch.

Vernon Favorite In District Five

VERNON, Nov. 4. (Special) — Since the Vernon High Lions defeated the Wichita Falls High Coyotes in the annual tilt here on Oct. 29, Vernon is considered a favorite to win the district five championship this season.

Quanah and Electra are yet to be disposed of by the Lions, and especially the Quanah eleven will be a formidable foe, this clash being set for Nov. 11 at Quanah. Electra has been beaten by Quanah and Wichita Falls. Vernon defeated Childress early in the season.

The Quanah Indians defeated the Vernon team last year in the final game, winning the district title.

Seventeen sports, including horseshoe pitching, are on the intramural program at the University of Florida.

Davidson Runs Kick-Off Back For Touchdown

Westerners Show Improvement In Licking Bulldogs, 48-0, For Second Straight Conference Victory This Season

With Bill Davidson's 96-yard return of a kick-off for a touchdown featuring a fine running offense, the Lubbock High school Westerners won their second straight conference game and retained a perfect average in the District 1 Interscholastic football race by turning back the plugging but outclassed Plainview High school Bulldogs here yesterday afternoon.

The final score was: Plainview 0; Lubbock 48.

In scoring seven touchdowns and converting six extra points, five of the latter coming off the trusty toe of Halfback Davidson, the Westerners rendered further proof to the 2,000 fans that they still were improving. With the exception of one or two instances, the plays clicked well and gained ground consistently.

Bulldogs Scrap Gamely

The Bulldogs put up a game battle, fighting all the way and threatening to get away with a sweet passing attack until the last whistle. With Quarterback Madison on the throwing end and Vance and Harmon, ends, as receivers, the overhead attack won most of the first downs for the visitors. They were practically helpless on direct line plays, both Lubbock lines holding with surprising ability.

Byars, halfback, was another thorn in the side of the Westerners yesterday. His sweeping end runs and punt returns again and again threatened to develop into scores. He was a Bulldog on defense, too, sharing honors in this regard with Wimbley, who broke through with neat ability to stop Westerner backs in their tracks at frequent intervals.

Plainview Linesmen Look Well

In the Plainview line, O'Dell, left tackle, and Farmer, center, probably were outstanding, with Thatcher, right tackle, and Matzler getting in some commendable work. Thatcher did most of the punting for the visitors. The Plainview club showed the results of good coaching and good training, but little experience. The team is made up largely of boys who until this season have played little or no football.

With a strong north wind behind them, the Westerners drove for a touchdown after receiving the opening kick-off. Davidson, Toi Terrell and Truman Hutson doing Quarterback Rufus Ryan's bidding to tote the apple. Terrill's first run of 21 yards and his second attempt for 10 yards featured the drive, which was sustained from the Plainview 38-yard line.

Short Punt Hurts

Lubbock kicked off and the ball went over the end zone. Plainview was unable to gain and Thatcher's punt hit an air-pocket and bounced back and out of bounds for 3 yards. Big Hutson, who played a whale of a ball game after apparently resuming the starting fullback position by outshining Joe Nelson, hit the line for 17 yards and again for a touchdown. Davidson's kick was good.

Byars' 5-yard gain around end was all the visitors could do in scrimmage in the first quarter. The Westerners started another drive from mid-field which wound up with a touchdown early in the second quarter, Hutson again going over the line for the counter.

Passing Attack Dangerous

The win was in Plainview's favor now, and the Bulldogs fought hard to score. They opened a lateral passing attack which netted four straight first downs. Byars was usually on the receiving end of the passes, skirting the ends for the gains. The visitors, now playing against Lubbock's second team, advanced to the Lubbock 6-yard line and were in a fair way to score when Byars fumbled at that point. Howard Bain recovered, and on a delayed play, Joe Nelson rammed the line, made a hasty exit and was gone for a 24-yard sprint. Nelson picked up seven as the half ended.

Lubbock scored twice in the third period, the first counter resulting in a 20-yard pass over the goal line, Billings to Blackwell. A few minutes before, Lubbock had driven from its 30-yard line to Plainview's 3-yard line, but the Bulldogs tightened and the Westerners failed to score.

Another Long Drive

The fifth touchdown came fast and furious. Taking the ball on their 25-yard line where Nelson intercepted a pass after a Plainview drive, the Westerners, composed now of the regular team, advanced to the Plainview 40-yard line on running plays, Hutson's 24-yard sprint featuring. A pass, Davidson to Godeke, netted 32 yards, and Davidson went the rest of the distance for a counter.

Lubbock scored early in the fourth period, a short punt against the wind giving the Westerners possession on the Bulldog 33-yard line. Rufus Ryan was away for 22 yards and Davidson jammed the line for the balance.

Davidson Gets Gain

Then came the big play, the first of its kind witnessed here this season. Thatcher kicked off for Plainview. The ball appeared to be headed for the end zone and Davidson hesitated until it stopped on the 4-yard line. From that point he rambled criss-cross and down the sideline, stiff-arming pursuers and fairly outrunning the surprised Bulldogs until he had crossed the goal line. He stepped back and kicked a perfect field goal, his fifth and last of the day. It was the final touchdown.

On the next kick-off, Davidson handed the ball to Ryan, who returned to the Lubbock 32-yard line. Then Davidson twisted through the line and romped 46 yards down the middle of the field. Hutson picked up 10 and Terrell was on his way to a touchdown when he lost possession of the ball on the 1-yard line. It was ruled a fumble, although recovered beyond the goal stripe, and Plainview's ball on the 20. The game ended with the ball near midfield.

Slaton Loses To Brownfield

Cubs Score In First Period And Keep Tigers Back In Remainder Of Game; Neal Makes Counter

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 4 (Special) The Brownfield High School Cubs loomed as district two Class B champions after handing a 6 to 0 defeat to the Slaton Tigers here this afternoon. A crowd of nearly 2,000 fans saw the game.

Coach Marlin Hayhurst's scrapping bunch of youngsters took advantage of a wind favoring them in the first quarter and only carried the ball three times in the period to bring their counter. Brownfield kept punting deep into Slaton territory, gained possession of the ball past midfield, completed an 18-yard pass and then sent Neal, Cub star, through the line for twelve yards and the touchdown. Try for point failed.

Slaton Tries In Vain

Slaton tried in vain to even the count but lacked the scoring punch. Brownfield penetrated the Tiger 20-yard zone later in the game but could make no further progress.

Slaton registered ten first downs to Brownfield's four but Neal's punts averaged 45 yards to Johnson's 34.

Huckaby was another outstanding Cub backfield performer while Moore and Smith shone in the line. Roscoe Mercer, half, and Johnson, quarter, and Anderson and Coleman, linemen, starred for the visitors.

Auburn defeated Georgia 10 to 0, in its first intercollegiate football game, February 22, 1892.

Texas Favored To Take Bears At Waco Today

Mustangs Will Tangle With Aggies At Dallas As Rice Goes To Arkansas To Meet Razorbacks; Expect Crowds

(By The Associated Press)

Capacity crowds are expected to witness the three games today in the Southwest conference football race. Because of their recent impressive victories over the Missouri Tigers, Oklahoma Sooners and the Southern Methodist Mustangs, the University of Texas Longhorns are expected to fill the seats at Carroll field at Waco today in their game against the Baylor Bears. The Longhorns, at the peak of condition for a try at their third conference victory, are overwhelming favorites.

Dallas Expects Crowd

Because it will be home-coming day for Southern Methodist, a huge crowd is expected at Dallas, where the Mustangs will entertain the Texas A. & M. Aggies. Not only will it be homecoming for Southern Methodist, but this game marks the annual Texas A. & M. corps trip. At least two thousand cadets will trail the fighting Aggies into Ownby stadium.

Playing their first big present season conference game at home, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks are sure to play before a packed stadium against the invading Rice Institute Owls. There will be a battle for second place in the conference race, giving the game a touch of championship atmosphere it would not otherwise have.

All the teams, except Texas A. & M. are in excellent condition for their conference combats. The Southern Methodist and Texas A. & M. game is ranked as a toss-up. The Rice Owls are slight favorites over the Razorbacks.

Ernest Koy May Not Start Against Bruins

AUSTIN, Nov. 4. (AP)—Coach Clyde Littlefield and 32 members of the University of Texas football squad left this afternoon for Waco, where they meet the Baylor Bears tomorrow in a Southwest conference game.

Ernest Koy, fullback, who suffered a back injury in the Texas-Rice game two weeks ago, aggravated that injury Thursday in a scrimmage session and it is doubtful whether he will start against the Bruins. Ronald Fagan, reserve quarterback, Herschel Moody, regular tackle, and "Oochie" Earle, end, were bothered with slight injuries, but all are expected to start. In the event Koy is unable to start, Osborne Hodges probably will replace him at fullback.

Aggie Football Team Leaves For Pony Tilt

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 4. (AP) —Thirty-one Aggie players left here today for Dallas, where tomorrow they meet the Southern Methodist University Mustangs in their annual grid battle.

The Aggie probable starting lineup: ends, Murray and Wright; tackles, Jordan and Cummings; guards, Woodland and Maxwell; center, Nolan; quarterback, Williams; fullback, Gregory; halfbacks, Dominique and Barfield.

S. M. U. Celebrates Homecoming Today

DALLAS, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Southern Methodist University Mustangs, hoping for a chance to climb out of the Southwest conference football cellar by scoring their first victory in three games with conference opponents, will celebrate homecoming day tomorrow with their annual battle with Texas Agricultural & Mechanical college.

It will be the fifteenth meeting of the Ponies and Cadets and up to the present time, each team has won six games from the other and they have played two ties.

Roy Horstman, Purdue fullback, had the better of all-Conference Jack Manders in the Purdue-Minnesota game, Horstman gaining 84 yards in 14 tries while Manders made but 32.

Dozen Leading Football Contenders Face First November Hurdles Today

Nation's Gridirons Will Share Honors With Politics

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The nation's gridirons will be scanned as closely as the political landscapes tomorrow when a dozen of the major contenders for championship honors take the first of the big November barriers in the great college football handicap.

Of the principal pace-setters so far, only Colgate's "Red Raiders" in the northeastern sector, Michigan's juggernaut in the "Big Ten", Nebraska in the Big Six, Texas Christian in the Southwest, Tennessee and Auburn in the Southern conference seem reasonably certain to keep their front-line places. This is mainly for the reason most of these teams play non-title or intersectional contests while their rivals take on heavier assignments.

Stranger Things Have Happened

Indiana hardly seems equipped to stop the march of Michigan toward the Western conference championship but stranger things, of course, have happened so far this season. Only the hardiest of experts now go out on the well known limb without tying a rope around their waist.

Nevertheless Wisconsin figures to over-power Illinois, Purdue is genuinely "feared" by Amos Alonzo Stagg's Chicago Maroons and Ohio State looks to have a good chance to turn the tables on Northwestern in other Big Ten features.

Big Crowds Expected

The eastern battlefront will echo to some of the heaviest football firing as a quartet of undefeated arrays, Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania, Brown and Holy Cross, provide the headline scrimmaging. More than 50,000 spectators probably will see the conquerors of Notre Dame invade Franklin Field the favorites to hand Pennsylvania its first setback. Brown has a slight edge on Holy Cross.

International warfare in this area will be concentrated in the big metropolitan ball parks. Slip Madigan's St. Mary's Gaels gallop into the Polo grounds with good prospects of knocking over Fordham, while Georgia's battling Bulldogs hope to trample the fading Violets of New York university. Upwards of 40,000 may see each of these colorful affairs.

Notre Dame expects to regain a winning stride against the University of Kansas at Lawrence and probably will. Nevertheless, the Ramblers have generally had a tough time in the corn belt, notably against Nebraska, and a prospective record of 36,000 will be out to see what the Jayhawkers can do to make it tougher.

Oklahoma meanwhile is expected to take Missouri into camp and keep pace with Nebraska for the Big Six leadership. Iowa State, cellar occupant, will battle Kansas State at present tied for third place in the loop.

Expect 75,000

California has a good chance to upset Southern California's all-winning record but the Trojans, on home grounds, look like favorites in a game that should draw close to 75,000 to the huge Olympic stadium.

The chief prospect of a break in the Southern conference leadership rests in whether Alabama's battered Tide can upset Virginia Poly's fast-stepping array. Without Fullback "Hurry" Cain, Alabama will be handicapped in this assignment.

Tigers Have Tough Go

Captain "Biff" Jones and his Louisiana State Tigers also face a tough hurdle in South Carolina but Tennessee and Auburn do not face serious opposition.

Southwest dopesters expect Texas to "take" Baylor and remain deadlocked with Texas Christian, which met a non-conference opponent, Simmons. Rice and Arkansas tussle for contending positions in this race.

Utah's drive for a fifth consecutive Rocky Mountain conference championship depends on the Indians' ability to scalp the university of Colorado forces at Boulder. Although not having much luck outside their conference, the Utes still appear to have the "sign" on those within the fold.

Lamesa Wins Over Tahoka Bulldogs

(Special to The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Nov. 4—The Tahoka High school Bulldogs proved no match for the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes in a football contest here this afternoon and the locals won with ease, 54 to 0.

Second and third string players went into the game for Lamesa in the third and fourth quarters. The Golden Tornadoes' next conference opponent will be Slaton here November 11.

West Texas Prosperity

THE San Angelo Morning Times prints a sermon to farmers, business and professional men of West Texas which cannot well be overlooked any time—and particularly cannot be denied in an era such as the one we find ourselves passing through.

Under the caption "What Would You Give For Prosperity?", The Times pertinently points out a few things we all may do to hasten the economic recovery. We quote:

"There is scarcely a person in West Texas who would not be willing to give a sizeable sum for a prosperous West Texas. No one knowingly is so foolish as not to want good business in the area that we know as West Texas.

"Yet every day, in a hundred different ways, we carelessly throw that prosperity which is ours to the far winds and let the certain chance of good times slip through our fingers.

"There is enough business in West Texas to make every one in West Texas prosperous—if this business stayed in West Texas, if it was given to West Texas business houses, professional men and other West Texas institutions.

"Perhaps the farmer and the rancher think it is nothing to them if West Texas merchants are not prosperous, but we believe that if they will consider how vital this is to them and in how many ways the prosperous merchant helps them—they will turn every dollar of their business into West Texas channels.

"Consider just one item—credit. A prosperous business and professional unit of society provides increased bank accounts in West Texas banks. Increased bank accounts mean that individual merchants require less borrowed money to operate on and thereby places additional capital at the disposal of our banks for the carrying on of other business in the community.

"How many farmers and ranchers would like to borrow money from their regular, natural banking connections in their various communities? How many of them would like to get some money to buy a few cheap ewes or cows at the present prices? How many would like to know their bank had idle capital which would be available to them if they had the proper collateral to offer?

"Many—would appreciate such a situation.

"It is said that as little as 10 per cent increase in business would spell prosperity in many a mercantile establishment in West Texas. We believe that there is as much as 15 per cent of the total business of this part of West Texas, needlessly and unthinkingly going out of West Texas.

We believe that the resident of West Texas that does not give his business 100 per cent to the business institutions of his section of the state is directly hampering his business and the value of his property. The wage earner who does not give it to this section is limiting his opportunity of employment by every dollar he spends in some other part of the state or nation.

"West Texans can be the first to recover from business stagnation if we will quit waiting for good times to return and begin now to help ourselves, by helping each other.

"If this depression has taught anything—it has taught us that one group or line of business cannot succeed and all others fail. We of West Texas, will in a large measure—go forward or backward together. You can't keep your cake and eat it too.

"To thine own self be true and it follows as the night the day—thou can'st not be false to any man.'"

IS MUSSOLINI SLIPPING?

For a man who is not running for re-election, Il Duce, sometimes known as Benito Mussolini, covered a lot of ground in his speech at Turin. He talked about Germany; Germany, he said, was entitled to armament equality, but was not entitled to increase her armaments. He talked about France, without naming the lady. Rurin, he declared, is not afraid—and he looked west.

He talked about the war debts, and the advisability of wiping them off the slate, which is all very well, since Uncle Sam would have to do the wiping. He spoke of the League of Nations, declaring it ineffective; nevertheless Italy would remain true to it. He talked about a four-power conference to settle the problems of Europe—but no nation should assert leadership.

The people of Turin cheered these utterances wildly—as who could not? What is wrong with Il Duce, anyway? Is he losing his punch, that he does not wave his fist at anyone in particular, or the world in general? If we are to judge him by this speech, he is getting as conservative as Bernard Shaw.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor vision, in the grave, whither thou goest.—Ecclesiastes 9:10.

Wm. S. VARE

To begin with Maryland, squinted at from Baltimore—

There is no doubt about the "Free State" this year.

Maryland, while unreliable, is basically Democratic anyway. At present the only betting is on the size of its Democratic majority in November.

Such soreness as there was (and there was some) among 'Free State' voters, at Gov. Albert C. Ritchie's failure to capture first prize at the Jeffersonians' Chicago convention has been wiped out by the governor's own admirable sportsmanship.

He would not have been a good candidate, at that. There are states of which he might have been surer than is Governor Roosevelt, but his average of favorable prospects would not have been as high. The west would have fought him bitterly, as a Bourbon. His wetness also has been of a sort that drys probably would have found it harder to forget than they find it to swallow Governor Roosevelt's, and the Democratic platform's; he never even admitted that the prohibition experiment was noble.

Senator Millard E. Tydings' re-election is a foregone conclusion; doubtless, likewise, a Jeffersonian clean sweep of all congressional seats. Senator Phillips Lee Goldsborough, a G. O. P. survival from 1928, luckily for himself, holds over.

It is not Maryland's year to choose a governor.

NEXT, DELAWARE—glanced at through the car window during the train's stop at Wilmington.

The G. O. P. claims Delaware. Democrats dispute it with no confidence.

Delaware is conservative and then some. It still boasts the whipping post. Its capital is a favorite place for trusts to file their incorporation papers. Its laws are largely those of an era when property rights were deemed paramount and human rights of small consequence, thus lending themselves to the purposes of organizers of holding companies, for example.

Considerable long-forgotten but unrepealed pre-revolutionary legislation also remains on Delaware's statute books, ready to be dug up in emergency by erudite counsel for concerns with money enough to pay for such learning, and fitted tellingly into situations where it will do the most good for their clients.

Obviously, then, Delaware is not a state to applaud a presidential candidate whose adverse critics describe him as radical, as some of them have described Governor Roosevelt.

From its geographical situation, Delaware should be very wet, but generally it has sent dryish statesmen to Washington, notwithstanding the extreme wetness and great influence of the du Pont family, its leading citizens, in point of wealth at least—and, by the way, supporters of President Hoover.

Still, Delaware Republicanism is not having quite plain sailing. The state's prohibitionists are astonishingly turbulent and have in the field a congressional candidate of their own—the Rev. F. B. Short, who is campaigning furiously for Presidential Candidate William D. Upshaw as well as himself. To suggest that this may affect either major ticket will perhaps sound ridiculous—yet the possibility worries Republicans somewhat, for whatever votes Upshaw gets are likely to come out of their total, and signs are that it will be a close election.

NOW WE arrive at Philadelphia.

The importance of the Keystone State metropolis, in the scheme of things political, it scarcely needs to be said, can hardly be exaggerated.

As Philadelphia and Pittsburgh go in November, so goes the entire commonwealth, according to the calculations of virtually all Pennsylvania forecasters—and 36 electoral votes go with it.

The frame of mind of rural Pennsylvania (not so very "rural", but so-called to distinguish it from the two big cities) may be judged from the fact that Congressman Louis T. McFadden was renominated by a record Republican vote after declaring in the open house of representatives that President Hoover had "sold us out" in connection with our European financial relationships.

Estimates by competent authorities place Pittsburgh's G. O. P. majority very low, owing to the utter collapse of the Mellon machine.

This places a tremendous responsibility upon William S. Vare's Philadelphia organization. But how is Vare, in his heart of hearts, dispose toward the White House occupant? It is no secret that he thinks his support was the most potent single factor in securing the Californian's nomination at Kansas City; following which the administration failed to exercise the necessary influence to seat him in the senate. Vare lieutenants quote "Bill" as pledging a 200,000-vote balance in the G. O. P.'s favor in his bailiwick—but were Vare's fingers crossed, by any chance, when he pledged it? November will answer that question.

Some folk likewise are querying, "Can 'Bill', even if he wishes, 'deliver the goods' this year, as 'per usual'?"

Vare's machine is not crippled as is the Mellons', but many good judges doubt that it will prove to be hitting on all cylinders on election day. Philadelphians regard their home town as economically the worst afflicted industrial center in the country. Even at a casual look, conditions there are pitiable. Vacant stores in the business district, shut-down factories in the outskirts are noticeable everywhere. Completely encircling the city in a broad belt are the thickly-clustering camps of the obviously utterly destitute, in thousands upon thousands.

Can the word of a boss "swing" so vast and fluid a multitude?

It's a problem.

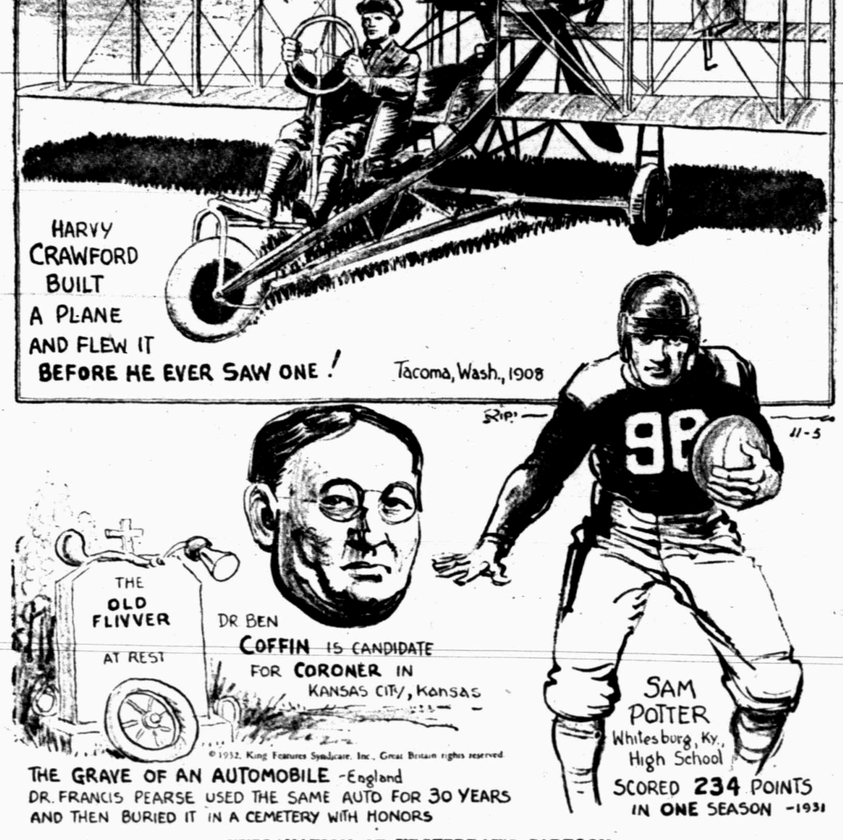

Bar Association's "Notice To Criminals"

A notice to criminals, submitted as a motion by Judge Clark M. Mullican, seconded by former Judge George R. Bean, and passed by the Lubbock County Bar association Monday, Oct. 17, 1932:

"No member of this bar will for a period of one year from date represent any person charged with the commission of theft, burglary, robbery, or murder committed in the execution of any of these crimes, unless appointed to do so by the court, and in the event of appointment he will assist the court in seeing that the constitutional rights of the defendant are protected."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE MOST FAMOUS NOSE IN HISTORY:

Salvinien Cyrano de Bergerac, French swordsman, writer and philosopher, lived to the age of 36. In his lifetime he fought more than a thousand duels. It has been historically ascertained that he killed 10 men for looking askance at his nose. This famous nose, which a contemporary writer likened to a large, yellow cucumber picturesquely curved, made its owner particularly sensitive in matters of his appearance. In view of Cyrano's skill with the sword, it was said that it was "death to look at his nose".

Reader Scores Last Democratic Rally; Explains Why He Is Supporting Bullington

Editor, The Avalanche: Last Sunday Morning Avalanche-Journal's report of the so-called Democratic meeting of last Saturday afternoon was so accurate and fair as to be above criticism. But there was some inside characteristics of the meeting, that would not be expected in a general news report, on which the writer of this letter wishes to make a few observations.

The call of the meeting was authorized by the County Democratic chairman. It was called as a Democratic meeting, and was presided over by the County Democratic chairman. But it was not a general Democratic meeting in any sense of the word. It was limited to, and was a typical Ferguson rally. The object of the meeting, it was stated in the public announcement, was to "keep Democrats in line." It was suggested by the Chairman that we make the meeting a good old Methodist love feast! The speakers were hand picked, and only Ferguson supporters were called on to speak. After the several speakers were through enjoying themselves, in laying on the bull-whip of intimidation on the "cross-breeds", as one of the speakers called all who refuse to vote the ticket straight, the Chairman addressed the rally and asked if any one had any thing further to say. It was then that the writer addressed the chairman, and asked for the privilege of discussing the other side of the question. That, my friends, broke up the meeting! Some of my Ferguson friends have been kind enough to express regret that the thing happened, and to tell me that they would have been glad to have heard me speak. But this is Fergusonism in Texas.

We are for Orville Bullington for governor, not because he is a Republican, but because he is clean, honorable, intelligent, constructive, and capable of making Texas a good governor. And we are for him because our first duty, as good Democrats, is to the state of Texas, and not to Fergusonism.

E. B. Speck,
Lubbock.

ANSWERS HUMPHRIES

Editor, The Avalanche: I see Mr. Humphries is depending on God and Right in this election. He must not forget God often lets His people have their way to teach them, as He did Israel, when they cried for a King against God's will. God told Samuel to grant them one but be sure and tell them beforehand what all this King would do to them. He did—1 Samuel 10:25. When they got less as God intended they cried, as we are doing today over our own 1928 act and will do for the next two years if we go again under Fergusonism.

No, Mr. Humphries, it is not because God is God and Right is Right. We have the same God Adam had, the children of Israel had, and we had in 1928, and the same one in 1920. Jim said the Democratic party was dead and ought to die. That 'it stands for nothing and is nothing.'

Now Mr. Humphries tells us the Democratic party is of God and is right. Let us do as Samuel told the people—lay up the record 'before the Lord.' It is all a matter of God's way of teaching us. 'As we sow so shall we reap.'

We had four years of Hoover harvest, now two of Fergusonism, then we need no one to tell us how to vote. I'd like every reader of The Avalanche to have this great Democrat leader's record as a straightliner. Some deny he ever said such things.

A Reader,
Lubbock.

Two Electrocuted Following Murder

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4 (AP)—William and Fred Hulsey, father and son, were electrocuted at the state prison farm at Milledgeville today despite an attempt of Fred to save himself from the chair by suicide and stop the execution of his father by confessing sole responsibility for the murder of Clifford Jones.

Jones and two other men were killed in a poker game with the Hulseys on their farm near Rockmart and their bodies were found later in an abandoned well nearby.

Only a short while before the hour set for the execution, Fred slashed his neck and wrist with a safety razor blade.

As guards administered first aid, he shouted his confession.

He went to the chair with his neck and wrists swatched in bandages.

11,000 PLANES IN U. S.

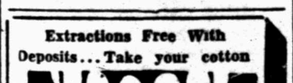

WASHINGTON. — As compared with more than 20,000,000 motor vehicles in the United States, there are only 10,745 registered aircraft on the records of the U. S. Department of Commerce. The majority of these planes, however, were built in the past three and one-half years.

DISTRESS AFTER MEALS
Relieved By Black-Draught

"I had sour stomach and gas," writes Mr. Jess Higgins, of Dawsonville, Ga., "and often I would have bilious spells. I read about Thedford's Black-Draught and began to take it. It relieved me of this trouble. I keep it all the time now. I consider it a fine medicine. I take a pinch of Black-Draught after meals when I need it. It helps to prevent sick headache and to keep the system in good order."

Three Men Spend Night Of Terror In Cold Water After Cutter Goes Down

LAKE CHARLES, La., Nov. 4 (AP)—Three coast guardsmen who battled heavy seas in life-belts for nearly six hours following the breaking up of their cutter off the Louisiana coast last night, reached shore in a state of exhaustion early today.

The cutter, the CG-2330 ran into jetties off the coast of Cameron parish in a blinding fog attending a squall and sank near the Cameron bar, forcing the crew of three to don life belts and strike out for their lives, in a desperate attempt to reach the coast.

Surfman Huffstettler was the first to reach the shore near Cameron this morning after more than five hours of swimming in rough water. He was followed within an hour by William B. Neil, first class boatswain mate, commanding the cutter, and Leslie Schultz, second class motor machinist.

All were suffering from cold and exhaustion.

First word of the sinking of the cutter near the jetties was given to Sheriff John Miller and Deputy Duck Miller of Cameron parish when Huffstettler reached shore half frozen and on the point of collapse.

After being revived with hot coffee and food, Huffstettler called his coast guard base at Sabine, Texas, reporting the accident and listing Neil and Schultz as missing. The latter two, however, struggled ashore at 5 a. m. Before their arrival, Bryan Spencer, chief boatswain's mate, in charge of the Sabine station, and Burger Benson, assistant superintendent of the eighth U. S. coast guard district at Galveston, had left in cutters for Cameron to join in the search for the two.

Tampa is the home town of seven members of Florida's varsity football squad.

Cotton Cotton Is More Active Friday Livestock Beef Trading Is More Depressed Grain Wheat Is Lifted 2 Cents Bushel

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4. (AP)—Cotton was decidedly more active today, developing an upswing that pushed prices at one time more than 91 a bale above yesterday's close as shorts, attempting to cover, found contracts scarce. The close showed net gains of 15 to 18 points, equivalent to 75 to 90 cents a bale.

Another private agency today estimated the crop at 11,175,000 bales. The average guess of New York exchange members is 11,410,000 bales.

The market opened steady with Liverpool cables coming in about 2 penny points better than due. Private cables said there was scattered local buying and trade calling absorbing light hedge sales. Manchester cabled the cloth demand was being maintained both from the home trade and from India. First trades here showed gains of 2 to 3 points and prices continued to gain after the start, December advancing to 6.02 and March to 6.16 or 3 to 5 points above the previous close.

As the stock market showed activity and good gains and as wheat made a sharp upturn, shorts started to cover freely and found contracts scarce. There was also buying on the gain in wheat and stocks. In the early afternoon, prices made highs for the day at 6.19 for December and 6.32 for March or 19 to 32 points above the previous close. Prices later reacted about 5 points from the top, but the close was steady with December at 6.14 up 17 points net, and March at 6.32 or 16 points net up.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 5 penny points up.

Port receipts 94,540, for week 415,412, for season 3,332,801, last season 3,717,220. Exports 65,032, for week 332,039, for season 3,254,180 last season 1,881,386. Port stock 4,386,321, last year 4,964,065. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 179,871, last year 169,849. Spot sales at southern markets 63,850, last year 65,082.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Cotton was higher today on a more active trade demand which was later supplemented by commission house buying on the better tone of the stock market and talk of a firmer technical position. December contracts sold up to 6.21 but met rather freer offerings at this figure and closed at 6.14 with the general market closing steady at net advances of 13 to 17 points.

The opening was 5 to 6 points higher in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and trade buying. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the early buyers and some demand was also reported for far eastern account.

Active months worked 20 to 23 points above yesterday's closing quotations with March selling up to 6.26 but a little more cotton was then encountered with some increase in offerings from the south. Closing quotations showed reactions of 5 to 8 points from the best.

A private crop report placed the indicated yield at 11,175,000 bales and estimated ginnings prior to Nov. 1, at 6,700,000.

A canvass of New York cotton exchange members indicated that local traders are expecting very little change in the government report. Anticipating a crop of about 11,410,000 bales on the average.

Liverpool cables said that scattered buying and trade calling had absorbed light hedging in that market and reported a maintained demand for cotton cloth from the home trade and India.

Barbecue Planned For Tech Players

Coaches and members of the Texas Tech varsity football squad will be entertained this evening at an outdoor barbecue at the home of Dr. W. A. (Bill) Jackson.

Acting hosts, who are members of the Texas Tech faculty and perhaps better known as the ring leaders of the Grandstand Coaches Association, are H. C. Pender, Ben F. Condray, Dick Smith, W. L. (Runt) Stangel, Alex McDonald and the official host, Dr. Jackson.

All members of the varsity football squad and all Tech coaches are invited.

Canzoneri Wins Over Petrolle

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, brilliant lightweight champion, hammered out an easy fifteen-round decision over the veteran Billy Petrolle in defense of his title tonight before a capacity crowd of 20,000. There were no knockdowns, but Petrolle was severely punished.

Spur Team Drubs Ralls Gridsters

(Special To The Avalanche)

SPUR, Nov. 4—A fighting band of Spur High school gridsters drubbed the Ralls Jackrabbits, 37 to 0, here this afternoon.

Spur made ten first downs to three for the visitors. Rosamond, Patterson and Foreman were the outstanding stars for the winners, while Bradford and Ben Arthur played stellar football for Ralls.

Amateur-Pro Sweepstakes To Be Played At Waco This Week

DALLAS, Nov. 4. (AP) — George Aulback, chairman of the tournament committee, today announced that next week's amateur-pro sweepstakes of the Texas Professional Golfers association will be Monday at Waco. The event will be staged over the Waco municipal course. This week's event was held here where Ray Hill and Hugh Carpenter, local amateur and professional, won with a best ball of 68.

Negro Duel

window, the pistol bullet purportedly fired by the man sought crossed the living room, a bedroom, splintered through the breakfast room door, and spent itself then in the Mrs. Hattie O'Hair residence at 1713 Thirteenth street. Mrs. O'Hair and her mother, Mrs. Jas. R. Robinson, were in the kitchen adjoining the room in which the bullet was found.

An east window in the Dr. R. P. Reeds residence at 1718 Thirteenth street, on the north side of the street, was smashed out by the shotgun slugs, and some of the pellets lodged in a closet door across the bedroom. Miss Alta Seward and Buddy, the 14-month-old son of the Reeds were in the building.

The negro in jail intimated the duel was precipitated by a dice game. He gave his address as being at the rear of a residence in the 1200-block of Avenue W. The other man is said to live in a servants house in the rear of the 1800-block of Thirteenth street.

Stocks Influenced By Coverings On Friday And Market Gains Back Loss

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Stocks were readily influenced by moderate short covering today and the market got back a liberal percentage of the ground lost earlier this week.

Wheat was firmer, too, while cotton and many bonds helped make the day's financial improvement rather general. Some brokers associated the share market's recovery with the fact that selling pressure had evaporated when the averages failed to violate their October lows, a display of resistance which probably caused a number of shorts to withdraw.

Stock prices closed somewhat under their highs of the day, the range of net advances being roughly 1 to 5 points against a slightly larger maximum. Issues speculatively identified with a possible change in the prohibition laws were prominent throughout the session. Owens Illinois Glass expanded 5, National Distillers and I. S. Industrial alcohol more than 2, and Crown Cork about 1 1-2.

Scarcity of floating supplies favored the advance, especially in shares which had obviously been subject to considerable selling for the short account. American Telephone climbed well over par with a 4-point rise; equal strength was shown by Allied Chemical, while American Can, Consolidated Oil, Case, American Tobacco "B," Westinghouse, Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, New York Central, Northern Pacific, International Harvester, National Biscuit and Du Pont gained 2 to 3 net. Union Pacific's 6-point excursion was cut to 4 1-4. Gold mining issues, so lustruous yesterday, were dull. Sales aggregated 969,185 shares.

which disappeared only at daybreak."

In 1833, the return of the Leonids was with such a brilliant display that public interest in meteors never died down. Dr. Denison Olmsted of Yale college described it:

"It was a constant succession of fire balls, resembling rockets, radiating in all directions from a point in the heavens. They were of various sizes and splendors, one nearly as large as the moon. Flashes were so bright as to awaken persons in bed."

The big show is due some time between November 12 and 17, and may last a week. Astronomers hope it will be a real centennial for the 1833 display. It will be moonlight and that is one drawback.

If this show flops rain checks will be issued for 1955.

Local Rally

passage of the amendment calling for consolidation of the tax collector and tax assessor offices.

"Now I've heard that you Lubbock people are being coerced into voting for the Fergusons by threats of elimination of appropriations for your Tech," Mr. Hawk said in closing his remarks. "Don't let anyone tell you that. You can be assured that as long as there is an organization like the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, that your school and any others in West Texas and other sections of the state will receive their just moneys. They've had this sort of whispering campaign going on in all cities where there is a state institution."

Introduced By McCarty

Mr. Hawk was introduced by Rev C. J. McCarty, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church. W. D. Girand, sr., local Republican leader, opened the meeting.

"The greatest blight that Texas has ever had has been Fergusonism," Rev. McCarty said in making a short attack on the Democratic nominee.

Mr. Underwood spent most of his time citing the past record of Jim Ferguson, declaring "to all intents and purposes, it's Jim, the wolf in sheep's clothing."

Cites Announcement

He cited the announcement of Mrs. Ferguson in 1924 when she said she only wanted to be governor for one term "to vindicate the family name."

"For the first time since the carpet bag days," Mr. Underwood said, "the Republicans have a real contender for the office of governor."

Mr. Underwood cited the goodwill edition of "The Ferguson Forum" published a few days prior to Mrs Ferguson's inauguration in 1925, as an example of Jim Ferguson's efforts to use the office for his own profit.

Opposed Campaigns

"The first time we heard of Jim was way back in the days of the local option campaigns of Bell and Bosque counties," Mr. Underwood said. "He was opposing the campaign on the grounds that abolishing of the saloons hurt business."

He told of Jim's various maneuvers of state funds and how he had placed $354,000 of the state's money made seven talks in various towns State bank of which he was one-fourth stockholder. He mentioned the misuse of the Canyon Normal funds in 1916.

Citing Jim's efforts to suppress submission of the prohibition amendment in 1916, Mr. Underwood declared Ferguson was "the chief bolter of them all." He said Ferguson started bolting the party pledge then, having been the standard bearer in the previous election on the prohibition amendment platform and then working for its defeat.

Bolted Again In 1917

He said Jim bolted the party again in 1917 when he advocated the election of Judge Boynton as senator and again in 1920 when he formed his American party and ran for president. His next bolting came in 1922 when he ran for the United States senate and then threw his support to Geo. E. B. Peddy and received $9,042 in advertising for his action.

"And can you imagine, Jim, hating Dan Moody as he did, going into the voting booth in 1926 and 1928 and voting for Dan?" Mr. Underwood asked. "And I can't conceive of him voting for the party's nominee in 1930. But now he asks you to 'vote the ticket straight and stay with the party'."

Mr. Underwood attacked Mrs. Ferguson's pardon record and read from the records the number of pardons granted during her administration, pointing out the number of liquor law violaters, murderers, rapists and other criminals freed under her regime.

War Record Cited

He also cited Jim's "war record," telling of how Ferguson deposited $25,000 in an Austin bank two days after he had made a speech in Dallas opposing the selective draft law.

"Jim has never been a Democrat," he said in closing. "He is a demagogue brought up on a demijohn."

Mr. Hawk and Mr. Underwood made seven talks n various towns over the South Plains Friday. They will leave early today for Amarillo where a gigantic Bullington rally will be held this afternoon.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)— Liberal receipts at eastern dressed beef markets all week depressed that trade materially with prices reduced and demand characterized as slow to poor. Dressed lambs were slightly improved during the week's trading, but pork loins dropped to new low levels, Chicago reporting pork prices the lowest since February. Receipts of cattle at live weight centers Monday and Tuesday showed increases of about 11,000 over the same days last week but at midweek and thereafter arrivals were smaller which placed the week's total some 15,000 under a week ago. Heavy receipts at live weight centers early in the week produced materially lower prices from which only a partial recovery was made on late sessions. Fed steers and yearlings are closing the period weak to 50 lower than a week ago. Chicago scored up to 9.10 on an outstanding load of weighty steers on Monday, but on succeeding days very few passed 7.50 at various points. Majority of steers and yearlings had to sell at 6.00@7.00. Stockers and feeders met a rather slow outlet with values steady to 25 lower. Most replacement steers sell at 3.25@5.50 with choice yearling stockers around 5.75@6.00 and comparable grade stock steer calves mostly 6.00@6.50.

Hog trade today was active at mostly strong to 10 higher rates with spots as much as 20 up. Chicago listed a top of 3.45.

Better grade fat lambs cleared chiefly in a range of 5.00@5.75 with a few closely sorted natives up to 5.90 and were considered generally steady.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4. (AP) — Hogs 600, including 124 directs and 60 through; truck hogs steady; one load rail hogs to packers strong to higher; top 3.50 paid by packers and small killers; load good to choice medium weight rail butchers 3.50; better grades 180-250 lb. truck hogs 3.40@3.50; packing sows 2.50@2.75 or steady.

Cattle 500; calves 600; quality very plain, trade poorly tested; no good steers or yearlings offered; lower grades steers, yearlings and she stock steady; common slaughter steers 2.00@3.00; odd lots medium grade fat yearlings 3.75@4.10; fat cows 2.25@2.50; low cutters, cutters and butcher cows 1.00@2.00; stockers steady, load stocker steers 3.40; other stocker steers down to 2.00; load stocker calves 2.75; slaughter calves fully steady; 3 loads Brahma calves 3.10; odd lots heavy fat calves 3.30@3.50.

Sheep 1,500; all classes steady; medium grade fat lambs 3.75 down; fat yearlings 2.75@3.25; latter price paid for 4 decks; 4 decks good fresh shorn aged fat wethers 1.85.

mission to consideration of physical waste and the federal court held the regulatory body's orders in the East Texas field invalid on the ground factors other than physical waste were considered.

Opposition Develops

Considerable opposition developed at the house hearing to the proposal to insert the market demand and economic waste provisions in the conservation statutes.

Some members asked point blank if market demand and economic waste would not, in reality, be price fixing.

Representative T. H. McGregor of Austin asked C. V. Terrell if any machinery was set up in the bill to determine what the market demand was, and if market demand was defined. Terrell replied that market demand was not defined and that he believed the bill contemplated it would be determined by the commission on hearing. McGregor then asked if it would not "take away the monopolistic features," if the commission was given authority to fix the price of refined petroleum products.

Terrell stated that market demand would not be the controlling factor in determining the allowable. Numerous questions were directed at Terrell as to how the commission would determine what the allowable should be.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4. (AP)—Demand was fair for the very light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market.

Quotations ranged as follows, cash cars loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 31 3-4@54 1-4. Barley, No. 2 nominally 32@33; No. 2 nominal 31@32. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 64@66; No. 2 kaffir 52@54.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 36 1-2@37 1-2; No. 2 white 41 1-2@42 1-2; No. 2 yellow 37 1-2@38 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 22 1-2@23 1-2; No. 3 red 21 1-2@22 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Brisk right-about-face action lifted wheat more than 2 cents a bushel today from the commodity's record low point, 41 7-8 cents.

Plain signs that for at least the time being the wheat market was in a decidedly oversold condition led to more general buying today than has been witnessed since the last extraordinary down-swings of grain values began a week ago. Helping to hoist wheat prices were upturns in securities and cotton, together with indications that Canadian government-sponsored support of the Winnipeg market had been renewed, and that overseas purchases of Canadian wheat were on a gigantic scale, 3,000,000 bushels and 2,000,000 as heretofore announced.

Although reacting somewhat from top levels and showing late symptoms of fresh unsettlement, wheat closed relatively firm at substantial net gains, 1 1-4 to 1 1-2 higher than yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 up, oats 1-4 to 5-8 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of ten cents.

Raskob Speaks

1928 campaign before the people generally learned that the gospel of hate was sponsored by the Republican party and preached through camouflaged agencies.

"But this year the Republican party, brazenly and openly, under the leadership of the president of these great United States, preaches the gospel of fear.

"Cowards threaten because they are weak and afraid. Brave men fight for principles they think are right."

Raskob said he thought "there is an unlimited field for American prosperity," but added he was convinced "it lies in a diametrically opposite direction" from that taken by Mr. Hoover.

"My idea is that careful, business-like administration of our own domestic markets will uncover new strata of business prosperity," he continued.

Senator Johnson Speaks In Chicago To Boost Democrats

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—Senator Hiram Johnson (R. Calif.), in an address prepared for delivery here tonight, asserted that the Hoover administration had conducted "our affairs as if there were a divine right of a big business to exploit all the rest of us."

The California Republican, supporter of President Hoover in the 1928 campaign, spoke in behalf of the Democratic candidacy of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Toynbee Hall, in England, was the first settlement of Socialists in the world, founded in 1884, by Canon Samuel A. Barnett.

Fineless Week At Library Gets Book 38 Years Overdue

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 4 (AP)—Fineless week at the Cambridge public library today resulted in the return by John Mackintosh of a book, "The Story of Scotland," 38 years overdue.

Fines on the book, which originally cost the library 65 cents in 1890, would have amounted to $290—the sum the borrower escaped paying by virtue of the cancellation offer. The book was returned by mail by an "old gentleman in Wilmington." Records showed it in 1894.

Texas Nominees

Democrats, just as soon as "we turn the rascals out and put the people in."

"But Mr. Roosevelt is a strict party man," Ferguson said. "He comes from a state where voting the ticket is a cardinal virtue and prerequisite to official appointment. Therefore if any of our friends have hope of serving the federal government or the state government they had better take my advice and vote the ticket straight."

Bullington Winds Up Eastern Texas Swing

TERRELL, Nov. 4. (AP)—Winding up a wide swing through East Texas, Orville Bullington late today asked voters of Kaufman county to support him as Republican candidate for governor in the general election Tuesday because of the principles for which he stood.

He said that national issues this year were not important in the Texas gubernatorial race and that the voters of the state should decide on more important matters: whether the principles for which they and their ancestors had stood were to be continued or whether the "international row that has been evident in Texas politics for the last 25 years" should be continued.

In Ferguson Country

The Republican nominee spoke in a community which gave Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, his Democratic opponent, a slight margin over Governor R. S. Sterling in the August run-off primary.

Bullington made his fourth and concluding speech of the day here after a swing which took him almost to the Louisiana state line. He started at Henderson in the morning, visited Marshall and Longview and stopped for a brief address on a street corner at Grand Saline.

The candidate planned a jump of many miles across the state tonight, for an appearance at Dalhart tomorrow morning, in his last full day of campaigning before the polls open Tuesday. His schedule called for an address in Weatherford, a community where he was well known, tonight, but the schedule was so arduous today that he decided to cancel that engagement.

Golf Association Formation Is Planned In Coleman Area

COLEMAN, Nov. 4. (AP)—Plans are making for the formation of a golf association that will probably embrace Brownwood, Rising Star, Santa Anna, Brady and other towns in this immediate section, according to R. I. Bowen, local golf enthusiast.

A meeting will be held soon in one of the towns, to be attended by at least one delegate from entering towns, for the purpose of drifting rules.

When the association is perfected a game will probably be played at least once a week, perhaps on Sunday. The association will be composed of some of the best players in the affiliated towns.

Folks At Seabrook Raise Funds For Needy But They Never Did Show Up

HOUSTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—The folks at Seabrook, a town of 800 on the Harris county bayshore, didn't want to see anybody go hungry, so they held mass meetings, solicited funds and collected food and clothing for disbursement to the needy.

But the needy didn't come.

"We waited for calls, but you might say they didn't come," said A. L. Ballentine, a pioneer resident.

"I think the finance committee still has most of the money (raised last year) and the canned foods and clothes were scarcely touched."

"I still don't understand it, but everybody seems to have gone right on living despite the depression and didn't have to ask anybody for anything."

Straw Ballot

than usual late Friday. His score was also helped by mail delivery of 17 ballots in one envelope, together with signatures of the voters, who characterized themselves in the descriptive phrase used by stand-pat Democrats—"miscreants, mugwumps and pussy-footing scalawags."

Notes Sent In

Judging from numerous notations on ballots as well as from messages enclosed in envelopes bringing votes from various South Plains communities, the straw vote's interest has reached a white heat. Some communications and ballots were signed "a loyal Democrat," "a 'Ma' supporter in spite of lies," "a Democrat who is fool enough to put principle above party" and, in one case, "to h—l with Jim Ferguson." Largest vote of any day during the poll is expected today.

Voting will close promptly at 6 o'clock this evening and not a single vote will be received after that time. Interested persons are urged to get their ballots in before the deadline to secure their being counted.

Final results will be announced tomorrow morning in The Sunday Avalanche-Journal.

The Cost of the Doctor's Black Bag vs.
Your Health

—is not usually a doubtful question. One doesn't usually count the cost of a doctor in an emergency. Life is to precious.

But often under our very feet is the thing that is apt to make a doctor necessary.

Have you ever thought of the filth that is brought into your home every day on the feet of your family and which lurks in disease-provoking dust and germs? The cost of having your rug cleaned vs. what it might cost you in health is mighty small.

Mexico Honors American Beauty

The elite of Mexico's society paid homage to Miss Eleanor Wallace, beautiful American girl, when she was crowned princess of Mexico City's American colony in the Mexican capital recently. The coronation took place at the American club.

THE ADMIRAL SEES—

WASHINGTON.—Development of flying boats capable of 3,500-mile non-stop flights, and of dirigibles of 9,000,000-foot gas capacity for trans-oceanic passenger service. All this is foreseen by Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, who also says that the Navy is developing a high-speed engine, suitable for aircraft, of about 1,000 horsepower.

RECORD ASCENT

STUTTGART, Germany.— What is thought to be a record altitude flight for an unmanned balloon was established here recently. The balloon was sent aloft by Prof. Erich Regener, of the Stuttgart Institute of Technology. It carried instruments for scientific calculations, and reached an altitutde of 17 and one-half miles.

How to Relieve Headaches In Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B. C." a reliable, pleasant-to-take remedy. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

If Rudy Vallee Wants That Medal He Had Better Hurry; Texan Seeking It

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 4 (AP)—If Rudy Vallee wants that medal President Hoover promised him for a song that would help chase away the depression, he had better hurry, Fire Marshal Carl Wilson, has his bid in for the honor.

Wilson has composed a fox trot "I've Got My Old Job Back Again," and has been granted a copyright on it. A New York City music house has notified Wilson it will present the song to the president in an effort to get his signature on the title page.

Wilson has written a waltz, also, which he says is to be featured on a record by Ted Weems dance orchestra.

The fire marshal began picking out tunes by ear in a Y. M. C. A. when he was in the army during the World war. He does not read music, and after he designs the words and music for a song, it is necessary to have someone to set down the notes for him.

Former Insurance Officer Faces Charges Of Forgery

HOUSTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—J. M. Parsons, former president of the National Mutual Life Insurance company, was held today facing 14 indictments charging him with 14 cases of note forgeries involving $1,346.

Judge Whit Boyd, to whom the indictments were returned, set bond at $300 on each indictment, a total of $4,200.

Parsons was arrested at Humble, Texas, after a minor automobile accident.

Beverly Ann Driscoll of Ashland, Wis., high school has been neither absent nor tardy in 11 1-2 years of school attendance.

Attorney Terms Charges Insult

PALESTINE, Nov. 4 (AP)—District Attorney Ben Greenwood said here today that unless Governor Ross Sterling retracts charges of wholesale illegal voting in Anderson county in the second primary, the governor would be subpoenaed to appear before the Anderson county grand jury in December to explain the charges.

Greenwood said he had aided in making a complete check of illegal vote charges in the county and had found only one illegal vote. He said the governor had charged Anderson county through the newspapers with polling 1029 votes. As a bad example in this county, Greenwood said, the governor had referred to the Elkhart voting box as polling 232 illegal ballots. He said this box had been particularly checked and found no illegal votes were cast.

"The charges seem to be totally unfounded," Greenwood said. He termed the purported charges from the governor as a "supreme insult."

Melody Has Changed But The Words Are Still The Same And So "Thar's Gold In Them Thar Hills" Even Yet

DENVER, Nov. 4. (AP)—The melody has changed but the words are the same and the refrain still proclaims, "thar's gold in them thar hills."

Thomas A. Weaver, typical veteran prospector, white-headed and with a shaggy grey beard, who has been humming the tune for well night 50 years now, has a chorus of determined youngsters who have caught his enthusiasm. They came back after months in the wilds to tell him of their experiences.

Becomes Teacher

Acting upon the suggestion of Governor William H. Adams and the state bureau of metal mines, Weaver last August temporarily deserted his work somewhere in the mountains west of Denver and traded a prospector's life for that of a school teacher. The state senate chamber was his classroom. His subject was prospecting and gold mining and his students were several hundred persons, including 35 women, who were without work and held to the adage that in the final analysis all wealth comes from the soil.

Modern mining machinery is complicated but, more important to the unemployed, it is also expensive. To Weaver this was no obstacle. The tools he prescribed outside of regular miners' pick and sledge was an old frying pan and a hammer with which to dent the pan. Add an ordinary common garden variety of potato and you're ready to go, provided, of course, you have found gold-bearing dirt.

Explains Mining

Wagging his grey beard and talking in a booming voice and with an enthusiasm undiminished by reverses in the mining game, Weaver explained it something like this:

"Take the old frying pan and hit it with a hammer to put a dent in it. The crushed ore or pay dirt should be washed with sal soda, salt petre or nitrate of soda. Then add mercury to amalgamate. Dry the quicksilver from the water. Take a large potato, cut off the end and hollow it out. Set the mercury in the potato over the dent in the frying pan. Cook the potato. The fumes from the quicksilver will be caught and held by the potato and the gold will drop in the dent in the frying pan."

Reports Made

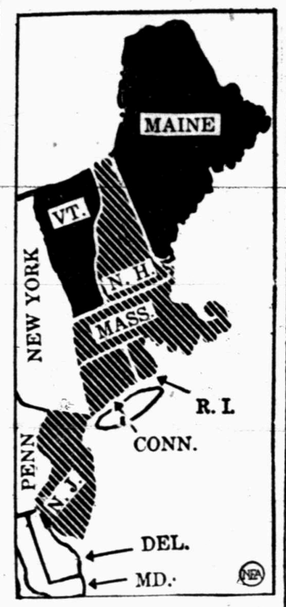

Today Weaver was again in the senate chamber receiving students and their reports. They went into the goldfields and spread into five states in the west. Blackhawk, Central City, Idaho Springs, Floyd Hill, Jenny Lind Gulch, Blasted Hopes Gulch, Gold Bug and countless other gold camps saw the activities of Weaver's pupils. One of them worked Virgin grounds on one of the streets of Idaho Springs, Colorado, overlooked in the old days when gold was plentiful and easy to recover.

The pupils reported almost without exception they had fared well during the months in the mountains. None of them got rich. Some got nothing. The majority, however, managed to make a living.

Weaver is proud of his pupils. He has infinite faith in a mining revival. He looks for the day when the crossed miner's pick and sledge on the great seal of the state of Colorado will again assume significance. He favors bimetallism, as all miners do, and by tomorrow he probably will be on his way back to one of his many claims.

No fewer than 100,000 people in London live in underground rooms.

Hoover Stronger In Eastern Area

According to the nation-wide presidential poll conducted by the Literary Digest, in which Franklin D. Roosevelt received 1,715,789 straw votes against 1,150,398 for Herbert Hoover, the election on November 8 will be closest in the area shown on the accompanying map. The Literary Digest poll returned a Roosevelt majority in all states except Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey. But the magazine lists the latter five states (shown in shaded lines on this map) as "doubtful," because it says there is evidence of greater Democratic strength than was indicated by the straw vote.

Attack On The Reputation Of Man Is Made In Court

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 4 (AP)—An attack on the reputation of H. C. (Pat) Patterson, on trial in District Judge McCrory's court on a charge of murdering Fred Valdez last March 28, featured rebuttal testimony by the state today when a procession of witnesses, most of them officers, was paraded before the jury.

Chief of Police Kilday, city detectives and patrolmen took the stand to testify that they knew Patterson; that his reputation was bad and that they would not believe him under oath. All witnesses testified over defense objections. The state closed its case after the officers had testified and arguments began.

Joe Worley testified that he was at an eating establishment on January 17, several months before the killing, and saw Patterson chase Valdez with a rifle. Detective Hartman later testified that he arrested Patterson on that date and that the rifle was unloaded.

Deputy Sheriff Griffith testified that Patterson went to the county jail and surrendered on the night of the killing, exhibiting a wounded right hand and saying his gun had been shot out of the hand.

Tom Show Is Held In Hale

About 100 Persons Attend As Experts Explain Problems Facing Growers; Demonstrations Are Held

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 4.—About 100 persons, including a large number of farmers and some turkey buyers attended a turkey grading school and "tom show" at the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show barns here today. Threatening weather in the early morning cut down the expected attendance and also the number of birds on display.

There were 18 turkeys shown and five of these were killed by Paul Cunyus, extension service specialist, to show latest methods of killing and dressing. The demonstration was held during the morning and was followed by brief talks on the industry.

Talks Are Heard

W. W. Evans, county agent, talked on the industry in the county and Mrs. Julia Kelley, home demonstration agent, on the work of the women in the growing of turkeys.

Mr. Cunyus then followed with a talk on the preparation of birds for the market.

At noon the visitors attended the Kiwanis club luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Program Is Given

In the afternoon a grading school and program was given. Mrs. Kelley introduced Mrs. J. D. Christian of Floydada, one of the well known breeders of bronze turkeys in the state and the southwest, who gave a short, interesting talk on problems of growers.

Levi T. Churchill, Muleshoe, a grower who formerly lived in Wyoming, also talked on problems of growers. Mayor R. P. Smythe welcomed the visitors to Plainview.

Mr. Cunyus, assisted by R. N. McClain, assistant county agent at Lubbock and Fred S. Reynolds, Muleshoe, former county agent of Bailey county, scored one bird from three standard breeds. He took considerable time in explaining the characteristics of each breed.

Problems Explained

Numerous questions were asked by growers and breeders of Mr. Cunyus during the demonstration. He also asked questions of the other speakers to bring out more clearly problems of Plains growers.

Among the out-of-town people attending the program were: J. M. Hill, Frank A. Cunyus a brother of Paul Cunyus and Miss Isla Mae Chitwood of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Magee and son and Miss Nannie Lee Hill of Levelland and J. D. Tinsley, Amarillo, agricultural agent of the Santa Fe, besides those assisting in the program.

Roy B. Davis, manager of the Plains Cooperative, Inc., and Grady Shipp, chamber of commerce secretary, assisted in the program.

Coach Bob Neyland of the University of Tennessee once pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Navy and taught Tom Bridges, Detroit pitcher, a great deal of what he knows.

Feeder Loans Going Slowly

Officials Of Reconstruction Finance Corporation State That Applications Are Not Being Received

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Officials of the Reconstruction Finance corporation said today that the demand for loans from livestock feeders "is not as large as we would like to see it."

Both Gardner Cowles, Sr., a director, and Ford Hovey, chief of the agricultural section of the corporation, so expressed themselves.

"There is a very large corn crop," Hovey said, "with both cattle and sheep selling cheaply.

"Corn is probably the cheapest it ever has been, selling in some instances for as low as 8 or 9 cents a bushel.

"The Reconstruction Finance corporation has money to finance sound feeder loans on cattle and sheep. x x x We are really disappointed at not getting more applications."

Feeder loans, Cowles said, are regarded by the board as one of the best and quickest ways of giving relief.

The corporation is considering seed loans. With one of the largest corn crops in history, the question has been raised whether they would be advisable in view of the prospect of creating larger surpluses.

The corporation also has invited the American Municipal association and cities and towns on local self-liquidating projects.

The corporation feels, Harvey C. Couch, a director, said today that with the aid of the municipal league it will be possible to stimulate eligible applications for self-liquidating loans.

Couch said the state municipal leagues could act as clearing houses for information since many of the applications were for projects on which loans could not be made. He added that the corporation had received reports that others which might be eligible had not applied because their sponsors felt they were too small or too much data would be required.

Prisoners Rise In Mutiny And Set Fire To Building

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, Quebec, Nov. 4 (AP)—Prisoners in the penitentiary on the island of Jesus rose in mutiny today and set fire to the tailor shop.

A detachment of royal mounted police galloped out from Montreal, nine miles away, and the Montreal fire department hurried to the assistance of the penitentiary force.

The fire was under control an hour later, but order had not been restored.

Since January 1, Virginia athletic teams have won 71 victories against 36 defeats in football, baseball, basketball and other sports.

Robert Holmes, triple threat star of the 1932 Haskell Indian football team, weighs but 135 pounds.

might explain it this way...

"Let's say you're painting clouds. You've got your primary colors here on the palette. But you haven't the clouds until you blend certain colors into the special tone you want.

"This is very much what happens in making a good cigarette. And I gather that what Chesterfield means by Cross-Blending is what an artist does with colors. Their Domestic and Turkish tobaccos—many varieties of each—are the primary colors. They blend and cross-blend these tobaccos until they get the special tone they want—in other words, the Chesterfield flavor.

"And just as each color you use acts on the others to change and enrich them, so each Chesterfield tobacco partakes of the fine qualities of every other.

"You 'weld' different kinds to get a better kind. That's Cross-Blending!"
