'Eradication' Of Norris Is Issue

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND REPUBLICAN PARTY'S COMMITTEE CHALLENGED TO ACT; ROBERT H. LUCAS IS LEADING OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—President Hoover and the Republican national committee had squarely before them today a challenge to "eradicate" Senator Norris of Nebraska from the party.

Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the national committee, brought forth the issue in a statement issued yesterday in defending his acknowledged financing of a campaign against Senator Norris last election in favor of the democratic candidate.

Followers of Senator Norris among independents in the senate republican fold have called upon the republican national committee to oust Lucas. They are preparing to trace further the republican opposition to Norris in the last campaign.

Battle Looming
The issue is drawn for one of the most involved republican battles since the split of the party in 1912. Chairman Fess of the National committee has declared a hands off policy on the row but Senator Howell of Nebraska has called for rejection of Lucas.

Here is the Lucas stand: "To accept office at the hands of this party and then viciously oppose its policies, principles and leadership brings an intolerable situation and one which must be eradicated if the party is to live."

"Such conduct by Senator Norris has been revolting and the leaders of the republican party no only fail to support but give their active opposition to men like Senator Norris, they are not doing their full duty to the party which has come down to us from Lincoln."

This boldy worded declaration stands today under the official heading of "Republican national committee." Lucas assumed full responsibility for the statement issued on the national committee's title.

Norris won renomination as a Republican in the Nebraska primary (Turn to Page 9, Column 8, Please)

TWO MEN USE CLEVER RUSE TO FORCE WOOLWORTH MANAGER TO OPEN UP SAFE SUNDAY

GEORGE MEISER IS TIED UP BY PAIR AFTER PRETENDED SEARCH FOR LOST KEYS; TWO MEN BEING HELD AT BIG SPRING

Officers throughout West Texas today were on the lookout for two men who boldly staged a daylight robbery of the F. W. Woolworth company store, 1013 Broadway, in this city Sunday afternoon and escaped with cash estimated at $1,600.

The two men made their escape leisurely through the rear door of the store after they had securely trussed George Meiser, manager of the store, and left him in the basement. An alarm was not sounded until almost an hour later when Mr. Meiser managed, after laboring under trying circumstances, to inch his way up the long flight of steps from the basement and reach the office telephone. His hands and feet tied together, he secured a heavy piece of paper between his teeth and knocked the receiver from the telephone sending out an alarm to police headquarters.

Officers arrived at the scene a few minutes later and released the discomfited store manager. Warnings were immediately broadcast to surrounding cities.

One man was arrested by local police here last night and was being held today for investigation. Reports received here today stated that two men are being held in Big Spring and Mr. Meiser left this morning for that city to identify them.

UNION LEADER SAYS LEGGE RULES MART

REGULATION OF WHEAT PRICES SAID TO BE MADE BY BOARD

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 22.—Charges that the present low prices of cotton and wheat "are being deliberately maintained" by the Federal Farm board and that the board "is using its ability to lend money to farm organizations and voluntary cooperatives to force support for itself" were made by John Simpson, national president of the Farmers Union, in a telegram to Senator Walsh of Montana. Simpson wired Walsh urging passage of the senator's resolution asking an investigation of the marketing activities of the farm board.

Charges Legge Statement
 In his wire to Walsh, Simpson declared Chairman Legge of the farm board admitted before a recent closed session of the senate agricultural committee that the Farmers National Grain corporation, wheat marketing division of the board, could raise or lower prices of wheat at will.

Simpson declared Legge testified the farm board was holding wheat prices at their present level despite claimed ability to raise them. Legge also admitted, Simpson added, that the price of cotton could be raised if the farm board so desired. Failure to raise cotton prices were benefitting textile manufacturers at the expense of the cotton farmers, Simpson insisted. Failure to raise wheat prices benefited only millers, bakers and grain traders, the farm union head charged.

Purpose To Keep It Low
 In a statement issued at the same time he made his wire to Walsh public, Simpson declared that as recently as November 22, the farm board had sold wheat in the Chicago pit to prevent a rise in prices. Simpson declared it was the purpose of the farm board to keep wheat prices "so low as to make it economically possible to be fed to hogs in place of corn."

The farmers union president explained his information as to the present "low price" policies of the farm board was obtained through Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. When the senate committee on agriculture and the farm board held a conference lasting several days in November, Simpson was unable to attend as head of the farmers' union. Later, Senator Thomas reported by letter to Simpson on what occurred during the conference.

The Farmers Union president charged further that farm board subsidiaries used government money which it had to lend as a club with which to force support for itself. He charged that the Illinois division of the farmers union was unable to borrow $5,000 from the Farmers National Grain corporation until it had adopted a resolution pledging its support of the corporation and farm board.

The farm board is attempting, Simpson charged "through use of government money, to control all farm organizations in order to force support for itself and its policies."

THOMAS JEFFERSON'S ORIGINAL OF UNIVERSITY BOARD MEETING ACCOUNT IS FOUND; IS OVER 100 YEARS OLD

(Special To The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 22.—Thomas Jefferson's original written account of a meeting of the board of directors of the literary fund of the University of Virginia in 1824 came to light here today.

The account was inscribed in Jefferson's own fine script, made famous in the Declaration of Independence and signed by himself as "rector." It is contained in an age yellowed book belonging to John F. Burdine, Atlanta business man.

Read of Letter
 Mr. Burdine the other day read an Associated Press story from Philadelphia of the purchase there by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, of a Jefferson letter.

He remembered that in 1895 he had purchased at a small book shop here a volume containing considerable Jeffersonian writings. He carried it to the Atlanta Journal, which printed a story of the find in its Sunday editions yesterday.

The book contains, in addition to the University of Virginia board report, a day by day account of an early meeting of congress, and a cypher letter apparently about General Washington, in 1782. The congressional account and the code letter apparently are in a different hand writing than Jefferson's.

The volume also contains letters, unsigned, but written similar to that of Jefferson, to Edmund Randolph, commenting on national matters.

Now Badly Defaced
 Once a fine volume, the book now is badly defaced. Some former owner used it for a scrap book and pasted poems and pictures over the fine script. A number of pages have been clipped out, and the book had gone through a fire at some time. There are many perfect pages, however, and Mr. Burdine thinks it possible others may be restored by removal of the matter pasted on them.

The account of the University of Virginia board meeting is in a perfect state of preservation as any of the signed matter.

That section told of some of the financial difficulties encountered by the institution, and the inability of the directors to establish at once all the departments contemplated by the legislature in an act of 1819 establishing the school.

ROVING THE SPORTS WORLD

WITH COLLIER PARRIS
JOURNAL SPORTS EDITOR

The Dixie Classic of 1931 is due to be one of the most interesting grid features of its kind. Played at Owenby Stadium on New Year's Day between the stars of the Southwest Conference and the Midwest colleges, the game is due to draw perhaps the greatest crowd to witness a college football game this season.

Plans to make it a gala day are coming along nicely, according to reports from headquarters. Joe Day, popular official and friend of the Southwest Conference, is president of the organization which sponsors the classic, and he has been successful in getting things his way to make for a greater entertainment than ever. He pulled nothing less than a coup d'etat when he prevailed upon the fathers of the conference to waive the senior rule for one year.

The rule has it that any player who participates in a post-season game such as the Dixie Classic or the East-West game becomes automatically ineligible for competition in any other sports during the remainder of their scholastic existence. It was thought and hoped by Day that the conference would relax the ruling and void it at the recent meeting of coaches and officials in Dallas, but he succeeded only in gaining a suspension. The powers declared that after this year the rule will continue as before.

The appeal to play in big post-season games of this kind is so great that few athletes pass the opportunity up, but since it will not effect their athletic standing with the conference this year, it is thought that a greater number of stars will be on hand. Jake Wilson and Botchey Koch, Baylor stars, will play in the East-West game at San Francisco on Christmas Day and return by plane to take part in the Dixie Classic.

Morley Jennings, coach of the Baylor Bears, will coach the Southwest team in preparation for the Dixie Classic, and the well-known Bob Zupke of Illinois will drill the midwestern team. Both coaches have made calls for material and have their rosters practically complete.

The Matador cagers of Texas Tech will open their playing season on New Year's Eve when they play the first of a two-game series with the State Teachers college quintet of Ada, Oklahoma. The second game will be played on the evening of January 1, provided there is no conflict with the Lubbock High school program. The Ada Teachers are well known in Oklahoma and at various points in Texas and their prowess on the maple court. Last year they made up one of the strongest clubs in Oklahoma, and it is thought that their strength has not diminished this season.

Coach Goughly, coach of basketball at Tech, asks this department to make a big play for support and see what we can do to bring out a large crowd to see the first games. "Come on," he says, "and you'll come again, for we'll have a team out there that will be well worth watching". We are glad to do what we can for the Tech mentor, and hope that a snooty crowd will be there. The Matadors need all the support that they can get, and nobody will suffer who goes out to see the games.

The gymnasium at Tech is comfortable and well fortified against the elements. The seating arrangement makes it possible for a large crowd to see everything that is going on on the floor, and the gym is well lighted and heated. Once an interest in basketball is gained, it

WALTER HAGEN AND H. SMITH AND OTHERS LOSE ON PUTTING

BY PAUL ZIMMERMAN
By Associated Press
PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 22.—The $4,000 Pasadena open golf tournament, won by New York's slender professional, Tony Manero, today was written into the annals of the ancient and royal game as the battle of the three putts.

Meanwhile, the golfing trail led toward Agua Caliente, Mexico, where the biggest winter event on the coast, the Agua Caliente $25,000 open, gets under way tomorrow. Blame "Balloon" Ball
Some of those who failed to collect in the 72-hole event ending yesterday blamed the "balloon" ball, new to tournament play. Most of those receiving the larger cuts at the playoff declared it was only a mental complex. All agreed that the three-day contest was lost on the putting greens.

Walter Hagen, Detroit, admitted he frittered away comeback chances with frequent three-putting. Horton Smith of New York who won the 1929 tourney over the same course, said the new lighter but larger ball consistently refused to go down. He was a dozen strokes higher than last year and the with Hagen for fifth place, five behind Manero.

Three Over Par
Naturally Tony was the leading exponent of the new ball. He had cards of 73-71-74-69 for a 287 total, but finished three points over par. Mortie Dixon, the south-western champion from Long Beach, Calif., three-putted the final green and finished with 289. Herman Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., and Al Espinosa, Chicago, were tied with 290 each.

New ball regardless, the treachery of the creeping bent greens had something to do with the excess putting. Charles Lacey, former British professional but now of New York, said he found difficulty in mastering western greens. "I took at least 30 excess putts," he complained. He finished with 306.

Manero's par-plundering finish of 69 was duplicated by Frank Welsh of Chicago and Olin Dutra of Santa Monica, Calif. Only one other player broke perfect figure. He was W. Cox of Brooklyn.

COLUMBIA PRESIDENT PROPOSES U. S. "ACADEMIC LEAGUE OF NATIONS" TO REGULATE INTERCOLLEGIATE SPORTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Endowment of college athletics by alumni in order to end the influence of gate receipts is suggested by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, in his annual report, published today. He also proposes an "academic league of nations" with jurisdiction over college sport.

"The abuses of the intercollegiate athletics are many and various," said the report, "and it is exceedingly difficult to bring about their remedy."
"The enormous cost of these intercollegiate football contests and the still more enormous revenues which are produced by them, if a team or a particular institution gains a reputation for success, are a constant and justifiable source of academic as well as public criticism."
"Those institutions whose administrators and their authorities stand up straight and even lean over backward, in the matter of conditions of admission and standards of scholarship in colleges are punished on the playing field when those who represent them come in contact with athletic teams constituted of very different material from theirs."

Temperance Pledge To Be Used In Work Of Pro Enforcement

Leagues and similar organizations would be enlisted. He said an appeal would be addressed to the 125,000 Texas members of the B. Y. P. U. Each member will be asked to sign the following pledge: "I declare my purpose to abstain from the use of all alcoholic liquors as a beverage to support and defend the Eighteenth Amendment and thus to contribute in every way possible to the success of the prohibition movement."

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 22 (AP)—Because her husband insisted on sampling a batch of homebrew they made for the Christmas holidays, Mrs. Anna Mars, 34, broke the bottles over the furniture in their home last night. The husband, John, a painter, died. Returning an hour later, Mars found his wife dead on the glass-paned floor, her face and the upper part of her body cut in several places. She had bled to death.
