City Lions Celebrate 40th Anniversary Thursday

Aftermath Of Tragedy

The twisted wreckage above is what remains of the bicycles of two Colorado City youths. Robert S. Free, age 12, and Kelley Jones, 12, were riding the bikes Tuesday evening when they were struck by a car. Free was killed. Jones escaped serious injury. A Sweetwater man has been charged with the death. (See story, this page.)

'NO WATER SHORTAGE'—KEATON

Enough Water Here, Despite Torrid Heat

The average maximum temperature in Colorado City for the first 10 days in August was 102 degrees.

The searing heat reached 108 degrees Friday, August 10.

In July, the maximum temperature averaged 101 plus degrees. For 51 of the last 60 days, the temperature maximums were 100 degrees or over.

Maximum temperatures for August, by day, look this way:

August 1—101
August 2—88
August 3—95
August 4—104
August 5—105
August 6—107
August 7—105
August 8—103
August 9—104
August 10—108

The two "cold" days, which spoiled a perfect record, were caused by rain.

But though its been hot—miserably so—Colorado City has more than enough of the one best thing that "beats" the heat—water.

"Colorado City has found itself to be in an excellent position this year during the searing heat wave we have withstood the past few months," City Manager Earl Keaton said Friday.

"I feel that the citizens should be informed that we have no water shortage, and do not anticipate one, this year, the next, or the next," he added.

"I also feel," the city manager added, "that the citizens of this community owe a great debt to the members of the city council, who were far-sighted enough to press forward the recent bond election, and subsequent installation of the new water mains.

"These councilmen also revitalized our water treatment program, the water treatment plants, and the supply lines that are now installed."

"I would ask the citizens of this town to compare the situation here with that of other cities in Texas that are presently curtailing water usage, "Keaton said, "While we encourage the use of water."

"This city, along with its abundant water supply," Keaton added "has the lowest water rates in the entire area."

Local Guard Unit To Be Recognized

The Colorado City chapter of Lions Clubs International will have their 40th anniversary meeting Thursday, according to Jeff Taylor, publicity chairman.

The meeting will be in Civic House, beginning at 8 p. m.

Featured speaker for the event will be David A. Evans, newly elected director of Texas Lions International. Evans, a building contractor from Texas City, has held virtually every office offered by the Texas City chapter, according to Eldon Mahon, who will be master of ceremonies at the banquet.

Evans was Governor of District 2-S-1 in 1959-60, and has received the Master Key Award and International President's award, two of the top awards given Lions.

One of the evening's highlights will be special recognition of the members of the Colorado City National Guard unit, which returned from 10 months active duty in Louisiana recently. The Colorado City unit is one of several hundred National Guard units from Texas cities which make up the 49th Armored Division — the division called to duty during the Berlin crisis last winter.

Part of the 40th anniversary program will be to honor past presidents of the local organization who have died. Jerold Riordan, Dick Gray, John Watson, Dr. Harry Logsdon, Thomas R. Smith, and C. M. Davis are among these.

When the local Lions charter was signed, in 1922, there were only 15 members, some of whom will be at the meeting. One original member will come from Arkansas. Stewart Cooper. Other charter members are Louis Elliott, W. W. Whipkey, Jimmy Green, of Big Spring, Charles Farris, of Sweetwater, and Tom Stoneroad, of Lubbock.

Taylor said there will be a number of Lions dignitaries at the banquet. The Lions District 2-A-1 Governor, David Ellis, of Midland will attend. District 2-A-1 includes Mitchell County.

The presidents of Lions Clubs in Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Sweetwater, and other area cities are scheduled to attend, Taylor said.

From the small original Lions Club here, founded just 5 years after the Lions International was founded, in June, 1917 in Chicago, the local club has grown until its membership and patriotism, civic in businessmen.

Lions International Clubs are now in over 100 countries from Mexico to Germany—and have well over 600,000 members. Lions is the oldest of the "service clubs."

The purpose of Lions International, Taylor said, is multifold.

"It is an association of business and professional men who seek to recognize and meet the needs of communities," Taylor said.

The clubs generally have activities in 10 areas: boys' and girls' activities, citizenship and patritism, civic improvement, community betterment, education, health and welfare, safety, sight conservation and aid to the blind (Terrville school for blind), agricultural needs, and the United Nations and international affairs, Taylor added.

The first International meeting was in Dallas, in 1917.

ARRIVED HERE WEDNESDAY FROM KARACHI, PAKISTAN

Second Foreign Student Suraiya Akhtar, Arrives

BY PEGGY BELVIN
Record Staff Writer

Suraiya Akhtar, Colorado City's second foreign exchange student, arrived here August 9 with her sponsoring family, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Rhode and Ann.

Suraiya left her native town of Karachi, Pakistan, on July 26. She flew by chartered plane with 26 other Pakistani students to London, where she arrived July 29. Enroute to London, she visited airports in Tehran, Iran, Beirut, Lebanon, Geneva, Switzerland and Frankfurt, Germany.

The Pakistani students stayed in London for 2 days at a student hostel. Student hostels are located in all major cities throughout Europe to provide low-cost lodging for students enroute for foreign study. The students visited Buckingham Palace, Trafalger Square and Hyde Park while in London.

A chartered train carried the students from London to South Hampton. The students shared traveling accommodations with other students from Scotland, Ireland and England, who were also enroute to study abroad.

The students boarded a ship in South Hampton and joined 800 other students sponsored by the American Field Service, who were on their way to America for a year's study. Suraiya met students from

No Injuries In Two-Car Accident

A 1960 model Volkswagen and a 1955 Chevrolet were in collision Thursday afternoon at 1:30 according to local police.

The accident happened at the intersection of US 80 and State Road 208 (to Snyder.) Police said both cars were traveling east.

Indications were, according to police, that the accident happened when the cars attempted to stop for a red traffic light.

The Volkswagen was driven by Robert H. Parker, of Midland, the Chevrolet by Melvin M. Smith, Norman, Okla.

No one was injured in the accident.

Police estimated damage to the Volkswagen at $200, while damages to the Chevrolet were estimated at $3.00.

TO BE AT CIVIC HOUSE

Gun and Coin Show Set For September

Gun and coin collectors, traders, and "addicts" will have an opportunity to look, swap, buy and sell guns and coins here September 8 and 9.

The occasion will be Colorado City's first annual "Antique Gun and Coin Show," sponsored by the Colorado City Historical Museum.

R. H. (Harry) Ratliff, president of the museum organization, said Friday that the show will be in Civic House.

Hours will be from 8 a. m. "till everybody leaves," Saturday, September 8, Ratliff said. Sunday, the show will be from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Handbills are being sent to over 300 individuals and gun club presidents over a wide area, Ratliff said.

Over 60 tables will be available for gun and coin collections and traders, at a fee. The general public will be charged a slight admission fee.

Ratliff said "no children under 16 years of age will be admitted unless they are accompanied by their parents," for safety.

There will be 24-hour police protection at the show, Ratliff indicated. A nightwatchman will be at the building when the show is closed for the night.

Collectors, traders, "gun nuts" and coin collectors from Odessa, Wichita Falls, Abilene, and other Texas cities will be invited, as well as out-of-state groups, Ratliff said.

Reservations for tables can be made by contacting James (Buster) Dunn, or Gerald R. Brasuel, both in Colorado City.

Registration For Schools Wednesday

Final preregistration for Colorado City schools will begin Wednesday August 15, school superintendant Frank Wilson said Friday.

High school junior and senior students as well as 8th and 9th graders will have final check on registration August 15, 16 and 17.

Seniors and freshmen will register on the 15th, juniors and 8th grade on 16th, and sophomores and 9th grade on the 17th.

All registration will be in respective buildings, between 8:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. on come and go basis, which means no school those days.

Each individual student will check his schedule with the principal.

Schedules will not be mailed out this year. Those who cannot come on their assigned dates should contact the principal to set a later date, Wilson said.

FAIR DATES SET

Space, Booths Available For Mitchell County Fair

Commercial booths for the Mitchell County Fair are now on sale.

Bob Reily, general chairman of the fair, said Friday that wood bolt-type frameworks for booths may be rented. Anyone wishing to rent a booth, or booths, should contact the Chamber of Commerce office, he said.

The frameworks are being rented for the first time this year.

"Last year, the booth space sold out early," Reily said, "and I advise prospective entrants to get their booths early this year, especially since the new frameworks have been made available," the chairman continued.

Both the booth space and the frameworks will be available for rent as a unit.

Reily said the chairmen of each division of the fair met Friday morning.

They set the hours for the fair, and determined the location of booths.

The fair will be from 5 to 10 p. m. Thursday, September 20, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Friday, and from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday. The fair will close early Friday so that those wishing to may attend a local ball game that night.

The locations of booths will be the same as in 1961, Reily said. Agricultural entries will be in the Armory, while Horticulture, Arts and Crafts, and Women's and Youth's division will be in Civic House.

Judging will be from 2 p. m. Thursday, (September 20) until the fair opens at 5 o'clock that afternoon.

Entries will be accepted from 8 o'clock Thursday morning until 1 p. m. that afternoon, Reily said.

The division chairmen will meet again Wednesday at 1:30 in the chamber office. The chairmen are presently working on selecting committees, judges, and determining rules and regulations.

Besides Reily, chairmen present Friday were Mrs. Curtis Erwin, Sr., Women's and Youth's division, Miss Ruth Airhart, Horticulture, Mrs. Eldon Mahon, Arts and Crafts, and J. D. Hill, Jr., Agriculture.

Physical Arrangements chairman Porter Richardson was not able to attend the meeting.

Drew Givens Dies at 66 In Loraine

Drew Givens, 66, died at 6:15 p. m. Friday in the Johnson Hospital, in Loraine.

He had suffered a stroke early Friday at his home, and was hospitalized that morning.

He was a World War I veteran, and a member of the Baptist Church.

SEVERAL OTHERS INDICTED

Grand Jury Indicts Man In Free Death

Kenneth X. Carson, of Sweetwater, was indicted Friday by the Mitchell County Grand Jury for "failure to stop and render aid" at the scene of an accident, and "while intoxicated, through mistake and accident" killing Robert S. Free by striking him with an automobile.

Free, 12, was killed Tuesday night when the bicycle he was riding was hit by an automobile near the Hi-Vu Dinateria on east Highway 80 here. Free was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Fee.

A companion bicyclist, Kelly Jones, also 12, was struck by the same automobile, but escaped serious injury.

Carson and a companion, also of Sweetwater, were stopped by police in their unlighted car shortly after the accident at the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative building near the "Y" of highway 80 and State road 208 (to Robert Lee.)

The grand jury returned several other indictments.

Jasper White, Colorado City, was indicted for breaking and entering the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall here in June, and taking property of C. R. Turner.

Two Colorado City youths admitted to taking part in the burglary in juvenile court last month. White was over the juvenile age limit, and was held over for the grand jury. The property allegedly taken from the VFW hall consisted of several cases of beer, some cigarettes and money.

Virgil Lee, of Colorado City, was indicted for theft by bailee. He is charged with "by virtue of his contract (with Dewitt Bender) of borrowing a 1958 Chevrolet, fraudulently committing the vehicle to his own use."

Lee was also indicted on a second count, "driving a 1958 Chevrolet (belonging to Dewitt Bender) on the roads of Mitchell County . . . without the . . . consent of the owner."

County Well Reports Flow At 7,240 Ft.

The wildcat is 5 miles north east of Colorado City. The strike was in the Strawn sand formation of the Pennsylvanian, at 7,240-46 feet.

Flow was reported as about 38 gallons of oil estimated 300 to 1 gas-oil ratio.

The wildcat began flowing about July 15, according to company officials, but an official report was not completed until this month.

BUT CONTRIBUTIONS ARE SLOW

Residents Still Helping Injured Midland Woman

Local residents are continuing their aid to a seriously injured Midland woman, Mrs. Rosa Nadine Wofford, who has been in Root Memorial Hospital for several weeks.

Rev. Darris Egger, pastor of First Methodist Church here, who is one of a committee raising funds to help pay Mrs. Wofford's hospital bills, said Saturday that the committee has received $120 during the one-week period the program has been in progress.

Mrs. Wofford, a divorcee, has no insurance, and no funds. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones, of Tyler, have been with Mrs. Wofford since her hospitalization.

Mr. Jones told the Record last week that he has been attempting to pay some of the hospital bills, but that he had been out of work for over a year. He received a job with the Root Valley Fair nursing home project for three days, to help defray some expenses, and has since been employed in Big Spring.

However, it is not enough. Mrs. Wofford has a broken neck, and various other multiple injuries, and is in traction at all times. She remains in serious condition.

Special nurses are required, and heavy medication has been administered.

The hospital bills are consequently high.

Rev. Egger said Saturday that, although many persons have helped the Joneses, through gifts of food, and clothing for Mrs. Wofford's small son, Dennis, and the use of a cabin on Lake Colorado City, the hospital bills have not been lessened.

The bill for special nurses — one less than formerly required for Mrs. Wofford — for one week is $152, Rev. Egger said. Hospital bills are much higher, and Mr. and Mrs. Jones cannot pay them.

Mrs. Wofford's hospital bills, so far, reach nearly $2,000, and will continue to build.

The contributions committee — Egger, Wayne Shawn, and Ray Noble — said Saturday that the Joneses expressed "deep gratitude and appreciation for the unselfishness of the people of this town, and for their extreme kindness" toward Mrs. Wofford and

Registration

World Champion Cowgirl

A source of pride for the whole of Colorado City is 14 year-old Maxine Rogers, winner of countless trophies, buckles, belts and ribbons in cowgirl rodeo events. She won the sub-teen World Championship in 1958, at the age of 10 years. She will be entered this year in the barrel race, flag race, pole bending and ribbon roping events at the junior rodeo. She is shown atop her horse, Smoky. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corley Rogers.

Westbrook Resident Gets Degree

Mrs. Jerry Cunningham will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in summer commencement exercises to be conducted on the campus of Hardin-Simmons University, Friday, August 17, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Cunningham's major is in the field of elementary education and she has a minor in physical education.

The former Lela Karen Parrish, Mrs. Cunningham is a graduate of Winters High School. She and her husband live in Westbrook.

Commencement speaker will be Merle H. Tucker of Gallup, N. M., president of Kiwanis Clubs International.

Oak Street Revival Is Scheduled

August 15 is the date scheduled for the Revival of the Oak St. Baptist Church, announced E. V. Brooks, pastor.

Services will be conducted at 8 p. m. each evening and beginning August 20, services will also be conducted at 10 a. m.

Rev. Brooks will be speaker Wednesday evening and Kenneth Andress will preach Thursday evening.

Rev. H. M. Farrington will be the speaker for Friday evening and Rev. Clyde Jackson is to be guest speaker Saturday evening.

Bernie Finch is to be the Evangelist for the following week. Vance Zinn will direct music.

The public has a cordial invitation to attend, announced Rev. Brooks.

TERMITES, TOO? Don't blame Mr. Moth for all insect damage to your fabrics. Technicians at the American Institute of Laundering labs were asked to examine 16-sheets that had been stacked in a closet. They showed a series of holes all the way through the folds. Examination revealed that termites were the culprits. To guard against this damage, store sheets spotlessly clean, equalize usage by taking from bottom of the pile, and spray closet occasionally with a good insect repellent.

TIPS AND TRICKS—For a delightful hint of fragrance in your washable robes, add a dash of your favorite bath salts to the final rinse . . . When drying hose outdoors on a windy day, hang lengthwise with clothespins at the tops and toes . . . You can prevent mildew on cloth shower curtains by soaking them in a strong salt solution before hanging to dry.

Come unto Me

The open door of this church is a fitting symbol for the heart of God, for His heart is open always to all men. The Bible records these words, "Behold, I have set before you an open door which no one is able to shut." Yes, literally no one can put any kind of block between God and us. His love surmounts every obstacle. That door is open for you today and every day.

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.

Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

A Tribute To Our Merchants

Storekeepers, we think, are entirely too modest. They serve you and your family faithfully every day. Yet how often do you remember their importance in your life? The merchant is a businessman. He must carry a heavy investment. He must own his building or pay rent for it. There are clerks and salespeople to pay. And a constantly-changing display of food or merchandise of some kind. The merchant must always make you think that "the customer is always right". Which isn't always true. So remember the trials and tribulations of your grocer, cleaner, department-store merchant, etcetera. And give them the fairness they deserve!

HOME TOWN

Talk

By PEGGY BELVIN

RECEIVED A POSTCARD the other day from little HELEN MAY, who is attending summer twirling instruction school in Dallas this week. Reports that she and other CCHS twirlers are having a fun-filled and exhausting week.

Brings back memories of another year . . . in the cheerleading division of that same summer school. Three of my classmates and I left with the good wishes of the townspeople, our families and the football team of good old Loraine High to travel to Dallas to learn some new cheerleading techniques.

For four girls who have loafed all summer, such streneous exercise as tumbling classes, marching classes and classes in which you must throw your feet over your head, emit a blood-curdling yell, and land in one peice, on your feet . . . can be just a bit too much.

We registered at the solemn administration building with hundreds of other aspiring cheerleaders like ourselves and promptly spent all our lunch money on Mustang sweaters, silver megaphones and the like . . . If not for relatives in town who so good-heartedly brought us box lunches, we might have starved . . .

Too excited to sleep, we spent our first night in a college dorm sprawled across one twin bed and looking out our 4th floor window at the sights of Big D at night . . .

* * *

ANOTHER OF MY CLASSMATES and I had enviously watched a busy watermelon stand just across the street on forbidden property for almost a week, and finally, one night our passion for watermelon got the best of us.

We rushed down the stairs and across the street and sat placidly munching watermelon while our less brave classmates drooled at the windows of the dormitory across the street.

A quick glance at our watches told us it was almost time for lights out and the nightly round of the dorm mother to make sure that all her charges were safely in bed. So . . . with a final mouthful of the icy melon, we hurried across the street and to the back door . . . and found, to our woe, it was already locked. To frantic cries upstairs of "THE DORM MOTHER'S COMING," we slowly panicked as we stood on the lawn below the windows with the watermelon we had so bravely confiscated beginning to turn to poison in our stomachs.

We four LHS students slept in two separate rooms, with a bathroom between. The quick thinking of our roommates saved the day. They lay in their own beds, and when the dorm mother stuck her head into the door to inquire if they were all tucked in, they answered demurely "Yes, Ma'am" in unison. As soon as she closed the door, they ran through the bathroom and into our beds and repeated the same procedure. With their bed covers pulled tight under their chins and a disguising squeak in their voices, they convinced the dorm mother . . . and we were safe, but still stranded 4 floors beneath the dormitory windows. As the campus lights winked out one by one, we bravely tried to summon courage to climb the walls to our 4th floor rooms.

It was at this point that one of us remembered the kindly old custodian. After several long moments of pounding on the basement door, we heard his key turn in the lock, and with just a few stern words and orders to get ourselves right upstairs and into bed, he opened the door.

So . . . with more secrecy than Mati Hari portrayed, the kind-hearted man scouted ahead to watch for the dorm mother while we scampered up four flights of stairs and fell, exhausted, into bed.

After the hectic week of dormitory life, we returned to our school to begin our envious chores as cheerleaders.

At the first game, in our starched black uniforms with gold satin linings, the gold megaphones bearing our names blazing across the black darkness of our sweaters, no one was able to tell that our backs were stiff, our joints were sore and it was pure misery to jump around continuously and throw sore muscles out of whack . . .

But in the pure excitement of a football game . . . or running onto the field at the start of the game, pom-poms waving and leading a thundering herd of high school footballers . . . who would notice a few sore muscles? . . .

After all, high school proms, football games, school bells, math instructors, biology tests, megaphones and sore muscles are what memories are made of . . .

REGISTRATION 23RD

Loraine Schools Open August 27

Loraine school will open for classes August 27, according to J. B. Cushing, superintendant.

Elementary students will be enrolled and a full day of classes will be held for all students. Buses will run and lunch will be served.

High school juniors and seniors will register on August 23. Freshmen will register August 24. Students will register between 8:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

Cushing announced the hiring of two teachers.

Jimmy Strickland was elected to teach English in high school. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University. He taught English in Wilson High School for one year, subsequently serving two years in military service.

Mrs. Dura Reynolds, of Sweetwater, will teach in elementary school, replacing Mrs. Delores Ward, who resigned.

Mrs. Reynolds holds a bachelor's degree from Abilene Christian College, in Abilene, and a master's degree in education from McMurry College. She has taught for four years in the Roscoe schools.

Lightning Hits TV

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Richey and their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Horton of Odessa had a narow escape last Thursday evening during an electrical storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Richey and their guests were in the yard at their home watching a cloud late in the afternoon when lightning struck the television antenna near them, burning the outside wires and blacking the window facing. No other damage was done.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Fishermen are a peculiar lot!

They are individualists, to say the least. Get a half-dozen of them together and they will give you six different views on the same subject — if it's fishing.

The following ideas, opinions, habits, procedures, rules — whatever you want to call them, came from a tape recording of a discussion between three of Central Texas' top-notch, black bass fishermen.

Jim Roddie, former head of the TIPS Fishing Club (better known as the Texas Inveterate Piscatorial Sportsmen), has one very definite belief. He feels that hooks play a far more important part than most fishermen realize. Especially when it comes to landing big, lunker-size bass.

Jim is a sticker for French Crown or Eagle Claw hooks. He maintains that they are the sharpest, by far. Because of their brown or bluish color they are not as visible to the fish as are the silvery hooks. Jim keeps dozens of these hooks on hand and even substitutes them for the treble hooks on brand new baits. Always he adds larger hooks. He likes 'em big!

As for lures . . . if Jim had to use but one lure, day in and day out, year in and year out, his choice would be the quarter-ounce Pico-type Jig, which he makes himself. It has a BIG hook, at least 4/0 and no weed guard. Color: black.

Attached to it he'll add a pork rine or a 5-inch eel. Sometimes a 3-inch . . . or a 9-inch eel cut in half. Prefers to use the tail section. Again, black is his choice of color.

A plain black jig alone is real good, says Jim. "But the addition of an eel or a pork rind gives it more lifelike action, and I believe attracts the larger fish."

Two points to bear in mind, according to this Austin angler, are to:

(1) Keep the jig on the bottom, where the lunkers lie, and

(2) Remember that the bass hit the tail of the jig.

So—jig off the bottom and give him time to run with it. Then when the big black stops to roll the bait over in his mouth, preparatory to swallowing it head first . . . SET THE HOOK, and set it HARD.

As for top-water lures, Jim says they more often than not, catch the smaller fish. He repeats: "Nine times out of ten, you'll find the big ones down deep."

Kinda hard to argue the point with a guy who lands them in the four to eight-pound class rather consistently.

But there are chuggar-poppers who will challenge him. One such is Roddie's own fishing buddy, Clyde Graham, present head of TIPS.

Early in the morning, however, Clyde will try the black baits, first. Then he'll switch to his transparent Spook, which, incidentally, looks more like an unfinished bait.

If no luck, then Graham's next choice is the same kind of clear plastic lure to which he has added some touches of green paint. Sometimes he paints the head of the green bait red.

All this doesn't mean that Clyde Graham doesn't use the jig and eel. Far from it. In fact, he makes his own weedless jigs as well as the bottom-bouncing, spinner-type. Clyde will tell you frankly that he prefers the top-water lure mainly because he likes to see the fish rise out of the water to take the bait.

But let Jim Roddie latch onto a four or five pounder and watch how quick Clyde Graham switches to a black jig and eel!

Meanwhile, Gordon Wallace, another TIPSter, will have been fishing the jig and eel all along.

He prefers the pork rind to the artificial worm. That's why you'll always find an ice pick in Gordon's tackle box . . . to punch the hole in the fat side of a 'splittailed pork rind.

Another Wallace favorite is the black Spring Lizard. This he casts on top of the moss, without any weight added. If he uses a weight, it will be nothing heavier than a very small split shot.

Gordon likes to fish with the outboard motor running in re-verse. Backing up slow-the speed of the boat and makes it possible to fish the area more thoroughly. He prefers to fish ahead of the boat, in water not yet disturbed by the prop of the motor.

In Gordon's opinion far more fish are caught on jig and eel than most fishermen realize. Lots of fisherman just don't have the "feel" — therefore, the fish gets off the hook before he has had a strike.

Most fishermen seem to think it best to fish facing the sun, so your shadow will not be cast on the water where you are working the bait.

But Gordon Wallace prefers to fish with his back to the sun. His reasoning is that the sun then is shining in the fish's eyes . . . not his own. Too, the fish can see the shadow of the bait on the water. Furthermore, the fisherman doesn't get chapped lips.

So there you have arguments both ways.

All three of these top-notch anglers agree that fish have the ability to smell. Body odors do make a difference! So tie on your lures with clean hands, they admonish. Keep oil off the lures, too, for the same reason.

Roddie, the most cautious of the trio, takes along two rods. And to be sure there is no fish smell on the lures, he baits them up the night before.

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

WHAT TIME they aren't eating, little boys are asking questions. Grandson Jim, who is eight-and-a-half, is no exception.

We were getting ready, a recent day, to go to Galveston to sit on the beach, swim in the surf, and sample sea food. While the big people prepared to pack the car with bathing suits and such, the little people were watching TV. It was one of those old happy-ever-after re-runs of "The Millionaire" being shown for maybe the millionth time.

* * *

"WHAT WOULD you do if Michael Anthony came ringing our bell?" asked Jim suddenly. "What would you do with a million tax-free dollars, GrandDad?"

"I'd travel," said the man. "I'd join the rich and see the world. What would you do?"

* * *

"I'D BUY me a jet plane, "Jim said. "I'd make myself the pilot and take you to see the world. What would you do, Mother?"

His mother (Doris Ann) was busy assembling beach towels and sandals and inner tubes. So she said, "I think I'd do nothing just absolutely nothing for a year. Or maybe two."

* * *

"ASK ME!" demanded Betsy Ruth, who is just six. "Ask me, next!"

"Well, what would you do?" she was asked.

"I'd buy me a horse!" Betsy beamed.

* * *

"WHAT WOULD you buy, GrandMunny?" both the children said then, at once.

"Oh, me? I'd buy a helicopter," the children's grandmother said grandly. Then I'd commute to Houston one day, Dallas, the next, Michigan every-other week-end. And I'd just helicopter home every night and all day Sunday, because I'd rather live in Colorado City."

* * *

"YOU CALLED it Colo-rah-do City!" Jim accused quickly. "I thought it was Colo-ray-do City. Isn't it?"

It is. It is, indeed. But long, long ago we fell into the habit of giving our town's middle syllable the old "rah" sound whenever we're big-towning. It's simpler that way in the long run than explaining to startled "furriners" how we here in Colo-ray-do City use the long "a." Never have known why. Does anybody?

* * *

EVEN IF you fancy our hometown's name up to make it sound like Colo-rah-do City, though, some puzzled purist is sure to come up with this one: "What city in Colo-rad-o?" putting the accent on the twangy, very short "a" sound, pronounced like the "a" in radish.

It can be frustratin!

* * *

ANYBODY still vacillating, procrastinating, and cogitating the where-to-go of this tag-end of vacation time, can get fine help from the local Chamber of Commerce office.

In response to letters sent to all 50 states, the local office received beautiful brochures, pamphlets, and information from all over. Matter of fact the state of Washington, bless 'em, sent by motor freight a huge box of pictured propaganda. Cost of freight was $7.35! The pamphlets are free to you for the asking, though. (Note: cost of freight was paid by the state of Washington, friends. It cost our Chamber a four-cent stamp for the request letter.)

* * *

FORTY-SEVEN of our 50 states responded quickly to the letters asking for travel and tourist-vacation information.

Alaska and Hawaii have yet to be heard from. So, the mother of a fine upstanding Michigander blushes to state, has the state of Michigan. Maybe Dick Kendall should write Mr. Romney?

* * *

ASKED trim little Chamber of Commerce office secretary Freddie (Watson) Guitar (Mrs. Don) about her little sister Martha Jane whose married and Midland name is, you'll all remember, Mrs. Duff Chesney. Duff's a Shell Pipeline employee. Martha Jane and Duff are mama and papa to two sons, John Duff and Joe, and a daughter Suzanne.

John Duff, is an athlete and member of the football team at Robert E. Lee High in Midland where he'll graduate next year. That's the fabulous several-million-dollar modern "dream building", all air-conditioned and the talk of West Texas.

Right now, John Duff is in Colorado with a wheat harvesting crew. He's keeping fit by making money and has already helped harvest crops in Nebraska and Kansas.

* * *

HERE winding up their two weeks vacation are the Ed Bodines of Midland, both Mitchell County natives and CCHS grads. Ed, son of the L. L. Bodines of Buford, holds his degree from TCU and is now an oil scout for Williams-Lee in Midland where the family moved four years ago.

His wife Jeanine is the daughter of the D. C. Stubblefields of Payne community. Jeanine finished CCHS in '46, attended Texas Tech. She and Ed are bringing up three little Bodines Randle, 12, Gary, 11, and Jena, the daughter, seven summers old.

The family spent the first part of their vacation at Red River, Colorado stopped by Raton, N. M. to visit Ed's sister Aline, who is Mrs. John Monroe; and after visiting their parents will spend a few days at Lake Colorado City; then home again to Midland.

* * *

LOCAL SEEN LATELYS include Miss Margaret Powell of Westbrook, and the long-time-no-see department, getting beautiful for some special occasion. With her was Mrs. McIlhatten, another Westbrook pioneer.

* * *

TEXAS CHARTERED bus riders, coming home from that convention, stopped here for a coffee break, by the way. Hosting the mid morning brunch were Farris and Oren Lipps, brothers of Lona and her twin Lena Porter (Mrs. Bryan B.) plus Travis Pritchett, Lona's ever-lovin. The Sabbath morn party was staged at Lena Porter's house on Walnut St.

* * *

THE HOUSE on Chestnut St. will be minus this party of the second part, now for a few days. Going to Big D to see Mother and Mary . . . See "Gypsy," summer musical . . . See if Princess Martin is back from Acapulco . . . And, what's more to the point, to see about shopping for shoes again . . . And maybe again and again. Back next issue. Helicopter or no helicopter.

ON 1963 CARS, TRUCKS

Chrysler Announces 5-Year Warranty

Chrysler Corporation has announced a 5-year, or 50,000 mile, warranty on the "Power train" components of all 1963 Chrysler vehicles cars and trucks, including

The "power train" components generally covered by the Chrysler warranty for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, are engine, transmission, propellor drive shaft and universal joint, and the rear axle.

The new warranty will apply to all 1963 Chrysler Corporation cars and trucks sold in the United States and Canada.

According to Frank Deregibus, local Chrysler dealer, the original, and subsequent, owners of 1963 Chrysler Corporation cars or trucks, can be protected under the warranty.

Deregibus said the special warranty will be a "bonus" warranty which will also include the warranty of 1 year or 12,000 miles on the vehicle presently common in the industry.

Detailed provisions of the new warranty will be available at Chrysler Corporation dealerships with the introduction of 1963 models.

"We have been working toward this performance goal for a long time, and are now able to make this (warranty) because of engineering tests, customer service records, and quality of manufacturing show that the components (covered by the warrant) will live up to the warranty if properly used and maintained," Dere-

Chrysler President L. A. Townsend recently said he believed the company's manufacturing quality makes the warranty possible.

A "Certified Car Care" plan outlines the vehicle maintenance practices necessary for the owner to keep the new warranty in effect. Periodic checkups at Chrysler dealers each 4,000 miles or two months during the life of the warranty are required.

Chrysler made the warranty announcement just prior to the first showing of the 1963 models (August 14) in New York City.

Corbell Visits Quebec City On 'Intrepid'

Gale M. Corbell, boilerman second class in the U. S. Navy, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Intrepid, which visited Quebec City, Canada, July 20.

Corbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Corbell, of Colorado City.

The visit was made for recreational purposes, according to a Navy news release. It came in the middle of anti-submarine warfare training exercises.

With other units of Task Group Alfa, the anti-submarine warefare support ship is involved in the training of Midshipmen from the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., and various Naval Reserve Officer's Training Corps (NROTC) units throughout the country.

The task group units will return to their home ports in August. Intrepid's home port is Norfolk, Va.

Cadet Faulks At Summer Army Camp

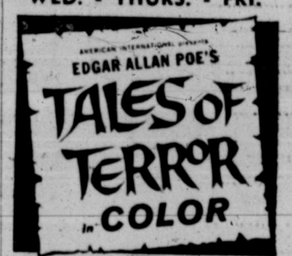

Cadet Jimmy D. Faulks completed six weeks of training at the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) summer camp at Fort Lewis, Wash., Aug. 3.

ated from St. Joseph's High School in 1960, at 14. She was in class XII, the final class for the certificate of education and school-leaving examination held by the University of Cambridge (England.)

In Suraiya's graduating class, 3100 students took the exam. Of this number of students, 21 passed with high honors. Suraiva was among those 21 students.

Suraiya is to be a guest in the Rhode home until the end of June. She is to be treated just as a member of the family, with individual chores as any other member of the family. She is compelled to study English and American History, but her other subjects have not been determined.

At the end of the school year, Suraiva will join other foreign students for a bus trip, on which she will be able to see much of our country. "This trip offers the students a chance to view parts of the country that they have not visited before.

Suraiya will correspond regularly with the American Field Service. She will report on her foster family, her foster home-town, her school grades and will make suggestions for improving the foreign student program.

At the Rhode home, 713 E. 10th St., Suraiya shares a bedroom with the Rhode daughter. The room offers privacy, spaciousness and convenience. The twin beds are separated by a large table, and a desk stands in one corner of the room. The walls are pale blue, underset with a white carpet and darker blue accessories.

The bedroom, just off the downstairs den, offers a private bath and private telephone.

WOMEN'S HANDICAP BOWLING

The Colorado City club has had only one president who has held office more than once—C. M. Adams, who was the first president, and who served from 1922-3, and 1923-4. All others have served single terms.

Wives and special women guests—members of the National Guard families — will attend the Thursday evening banquet, Taylor said.

Special dinner music will be provided by the Dwight Tomb trio piano, base, and drums. The Tomb group is led by the director of the Colorado City Wolf band.

Students Return From Band Camp

Several local Colorado City High School students have just returned from a 2-week stay at the West Texas State College Music Camp. The students stayed on campus during the camp.

Students who attended the school were Dois Pace, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Pace; Debbie Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hunter; Gene Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Bates and Theresa Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lee, Jr.

CROWN BOWL TIPS

By Lonnie Bounds

Poor Timing

You would be surprised to learn the number of bowlers who drop their ball on the approach behind the foul line. Yet, many of them would say they do no such thing.

Dropping the ball most often stems from either one or two factors: 1—Poorly fitted ball. 2—Incorrect timing.

Incorrect timing means, generally, that the upper half of the body is ready to deliver the ball before the lower half of the body. This is usually caused by forcing the ball into the backswing at too fast a pace.

Many persons force a ball in an effort to obtain greater speed, believing that great speed is the answer for high scores.

Avocado-Salmon Mousse's Smooth Eating

Salmon Mousse

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

AVOCADO-SALMON MOUSSE
(Makes 8 to 10 servings)

2 avocados
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated onion
2 teaspoons Worcestershire
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 envelope plain gelatin
½ cup water
2 vegetable bouillon cubes
½ cup boiling water
1 can (1-pound) salmon
½ cup whipping cream
½ cup mayonnaise
Avocado for garnish

Cut avocados lengthwise into halves; remove seeds and skin. Save a few thin slices for garnish. Sieve the rest of the avocado or "whiz" in an electric blender. Blend in salt, onion, Worcestershire and lemon juice. Soften gelatin in water; dissolve bouillon cubes and gelatin in boiling water. Cool until mixture mounds on a spoon.

Drain salmon; remove bones and skin; flake. Whip cream. Fold gelatin mixture into avocado mixture with mayonnaise, salmon and whipped cream. Turn into a 1¼-quart mold. Chill in refrigerator about 4 hours, or until firm. Unmold on serving plate and garnish with avocado.
