AUSTRALIAN NET STAR BEATS ALLISON

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7. (AP)—The American tennis forces met an unexpected setback this afternoon when Wilmer Allison, Davis cup star from Texas and third "seeded" American, was trounced in three straight sets by Adrian Quist, 20-year-old Australian. Quist completely dominated the match by scores of 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 as he led the advance to the quarter-finals of the national men's singles championship.

9-Year-Old Girl Fights For Life

SHOT BY PLAYMATE, LAVERNE BABER IS NEAR DEATH TODAY

Unconscious much of the time and her left side paralyzed, nine-year-old Laverne Baber, sufering of a bullet wound in her head, was near death this afternoon in Lubbock sanitarium.

A bullet from a .22 caliber target rifle in the hands of a playmate struck the child above and behind the left ear about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Baber, living two and a half miles south of Lubbock.

Slight Hopes Held

Resting "fairly well" and occasionally crying out, the child had only "an infinitely small chance to recover," a physician said. Grieved relatives and friends hovered nearby to give what aid they could.

Tom, jr., 11-year-old brother of the girl, this morning told of the accident. Tom, Laverne, and Mary Jo, 8, their sister, and Jack Swain, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Swain who live a half mile west of the Babers, were playing. Tom and Jack had the former's rifle.

"We saw a bird we wanted to shoot, and I told my sisters to stay at the house," Tom said.

Aimed At Playhouse

The bird flew, and the boys sought other targets. Unseen by the lads, Laverne had gone to a playhouse in an outbuilding. Mary Jo was playing in view of the boys, and Tom said they thought Laverne was at the house. The gun, in Jack's hands, was aimed at the playhouse.

"He wanted to see how far the bullet would go into the wood," Tom said. "We were along ways from it."

The boys did not know their sister was hurt until they saw Mary Jo bending over her, Tom said. The bullet had pierced the wood and its unspent force carried it almost through the child's head.

Tom was sent to call his father, operating a plow about a half mile away. "I ran 'most all the way," the boy said.

Why Not Pick A Donkey, Junior?

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7. (AP)—James A. Farley, jr., six-year-old son of the postmaster general, is already causing his father some concern as to his fidelity to the Democratic party.

Mayor Harry Bacharach had obtained three dolls for the three Farley children on visit here with their parents, thinking all of them to be girls.

Young James, of course, would not have a doll, so he was permitted to choose something else from a toy shop. He selected an elephant.

"You're a fine Democrat!" his father chided him.

"I am glad to see at least one Farley pick the right party," said Mayor Bacharach, who is a Republican.

PLUNGE TAKES TWO LIVES

WITH BABY DAUGHTER IN HER ARMS, WOMAN JUMPS 7 STORIES

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Sept. 7.—With her infant daughter clasped tightly in her arms, Mrs. J. H. Logan, 23, plunged to death early today from a seventh-story window in Cliff Towers, the apartment where she lived.

Crashing to a concrete pavement below, the two-year-old daughter, Elaine, was killed outright and her mother died shortly afterward.

Investigators learned that Mrs. Logan's husband, a traveling salesman, was in the hurricane-devastated section of the lower Rio Grande valley when the tragedy occurred. Efforts were being made to locate him.

Torn fragments of what appeared to have been a note were found in Mrs. Logan's room but efforts of police to piece them together were unavailing.

Grand Jury Probe Of Wreck Is Seen

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—A grand jury inquiry to place possible criminal responsibility for a train wreck that took 14 lives and injured scores was announced today after District Attorney Frank Wooster clashed with counsel for the Erie railroad.

Wooster, who announced the inquiry, intimated he was not satisfied with a statement by an Erie official holding Engineer M. H. King of Elmira solely responsible for the wreck.

King was accused of running past signals. He was at the throttle of a milk train which rammed the rear of the Atlantic flier, Chicago-New York express, Tuesday night.

West Will Ask Aid For Citrus Growers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Advised that 90 per cent of the citrus fruit crop of the lower Rio Grande valley had been swept from the trees by the hurricane of Monday and Tuesday, Representative Milton West of Brownsville prepared today to seek governmental aid for packers and canners.

West said he hoped a plan could be worked out whereby loans could be extended packers and canners to permit them to buy vast quantities of unripe oranges and grapefruit left on the ground. Such fruit, West said, while having no value for shipping purposes, could be made into marketable juice.

Embargo On Pigs To Be Lifted Tonight

FORT WORTH, Sept. 7 (AP)—Embargo on pigs for government account, in force on the Fort Worth livestock market since last week, will be lifted at midnight tonight and packing houses here will again buy pigs under certain very strict restrictions.

Under the order lifting the embargo which was received by commission firms on this market Thursday only 100 to 125 pigs will be purchased for government account through each firm in a single day. When pigs are received by rail, only one double deck car containing 400 to 450 pigs will be purchased on any single day from any commission firm and this purchase will constitute that firm's quota of pigs sales to the government for a 4-day period.

WAR OR INTERVENTION SEEN IN CUBA

REVOLT RANKS ARE STIRRED BY DISCORD

U. S. ACTION IS HELD INEVITABLE BY MORE CONSERVATIVE UNITS

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, Sept. 7. (AP) Turbulent Cuba stood at the cross-roads today, with some political factions convinced that civil war would be necessary to solve her governmental problem, while others looked for intervention by the United States.

The radical administration which has seized power continued on the surface to be optimistic that Tuesday's coup d'etat would be successful.

Situation Tense

Members of th provisional government declared that order would be maintained and that there would be no intervention by America. But all sections of the more conservative political groups considered intervention inevitable unless there was an abrupt change in the tense situation.

Among there latter factions were members of the A. B. C. secret society, the followers of former President Mario G. Menocal, and a considerable part of another important revolutionary body, the O C R R, among whom fears of a counter-revolution were expressed.

In the face of this acute crisis the administration—a five man junta set up after soldiers, sailors, and national police ousted commissioned officers and obtained the resignation of President de Cespedes' month-old provisional government—courageously tackled head-on its most dangerous problems.

To Disarm Civilians

It secretly resolved to disarm all civilians and began to try to restore to their former positions officers ousted Monday night and Tuesday morning.

Impartial observers believed that neither effort would be crowned with success.

Unnumbered thousands of students, A B C members, O C R R men and others have pistols and rifles and machine guns, for which GIDDINGS, Sept. 7 (AP)—Theodore Mitchell, cafe operator, was dead today of gunshot wounds suffered after a heated argument with H. H. Jones, telegrapher and special deputy sheriff. Jones was charged with murder and held under $500 bond.

Officers were told that Mitchell and Jones argued and then engaged in a fist fight late yesterday in Mitchell's cafe. Jones left the cafe and when Mitchell came out to the street the shooting occurred, two bullets tearing through the cafe operator's body.

THREE ISSUES ARE OFFERED FOR ACTION

LEGISLATURE MAY BE ASKED TO CONSIDER OTHER SUBJECTS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today called the Texas legislature to convene in extraordinary session on next Thursday, September 14, at noon.

Three subjects for legislation were presented for consideration, but the way was left open for the governor to submit "other subjects and questions" from time to time.

Bond Laws Up

The governor called for the passage of laws as may be necessary to issue $20,000,000 of bonds, proceeds of which would be used in augmenting federal funds to relieve persons suffering on account of unemployment.

She also asked the legislature "to consider and pass such legislation as may be deemed necessary to amend, change or repeal existing laws affecting and controlling trusts, conspiracies against trade, and monopolies.

The third item presented was "to make needed appropriations for refrigeration at the governor's mansion and needed work on the grounds of the governor's mansion."

COUNTY DADS FOR PLAYGROUND PLAN

Cooperation of county commissioners court in securing a loan for large lake and recreational ground here was voted in a called meeting yesterday afternoon.

Two sites, one on Yellowhouse canyon above the city and the other on the canyon below the city, have been proposed. The court order in part read:

"It appearing to this court that such a project would be of untold value to Lubbock county as a playground and resort for recreation, it was unanimously ordered that this court cooperate in every possible way in procuring a loan for construction of said dam, lake, and playground at the best suitable site x x x; provided that such a site may be selected by disinterested experts skilled in such work." The court's action "will in no way obligate the tax payers and citizens" of the county.

Three Are Released From Texas Prison

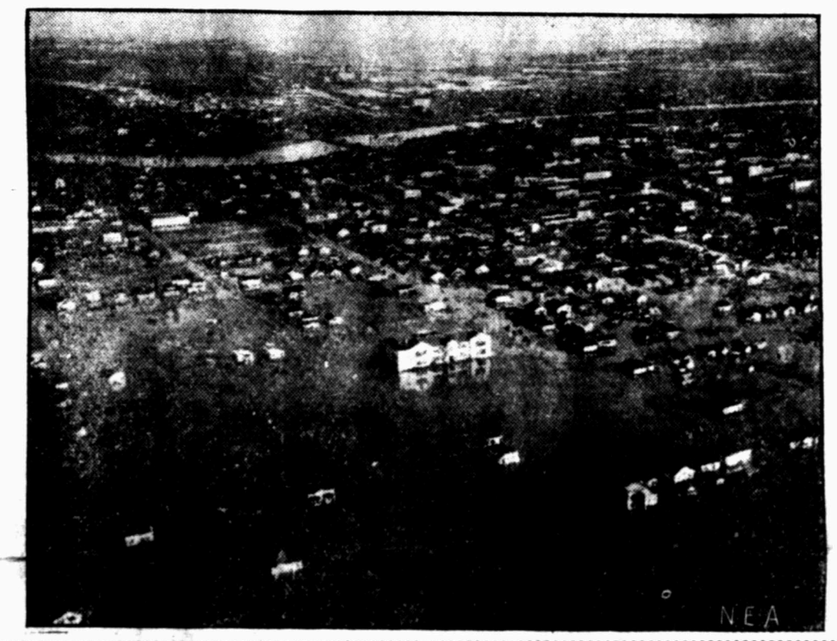

AUSTIN, Sept. 7 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today issued a full pardon to Earnest Berry, convicted in Burnet county for receiving and concealing stolen property. The proclamation did not note the length of his sentence. He was convicted in June 1925.

A general parole given O. O. Brady, convicted in Harris county, for theft and sentenced to three years was revoked.

A furlough of four months was issued to W. H. Pierce, serving two years from McLennan county for forgery.

COAL CODE TO BE ADOPTED

AGREEMENT EXPECTED TO BE COMPLETED IN NEAR FUTURE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — Soft coal seems as good as in the NRA fold after months of tedious bickering.

Last hour negotiations only apparently remained today after President Roosevelt's personal participation in a White House conference between operators and mine workers resulted in Hugh S. Johnson's announcement that he expects to put a master code on the president's desk Saturday.

Results Claimed

"We really got somewhere tonight", Johnson said near midnight after the two-hour White House discussion. "I think it will be settled by tomorrow noon."

Johnson immediately began polishing up the code for presentation to the operators who will have until tomorrow evening to file objections. Bituminous coal was the last of the basic industries Johnson sought particularly for blue eagle membership.

After Appalachian operators and spokesmen for the United Mine Workers of America had quit the White House, Johnson and the president briefly reviewed the case of Henry Ford.

No Action Demanded

Afterward, the recovery administrator said the president agreed that the Detroit manufacturer's failure so far to sign the automobile code demanded no sudden action. Rather, the administration inclined to watchful waiting—especially for the public's reaction to Ford's position.

During July, Johnson disclosed, he had talked to Ford and received the impression "he was going along."

Higher Prices For Livestock Sought

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—A group of western cattle and livestock men today conferred with Secretary Wallace on steps which might be taken under the farm adjustment act to raise the price of their products.

The meeting followed a recent conference in Denver, since which the producers have formulated plans for a marketing agreement.

PUBLIC WORKS BODY MEETS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 7 (AP)—With applicants from various sections of the state here to confer with them regarding public works requests, members of the Texas public works advisory committee today went into its first official session.

SHERIFF SEEKS TO CLOSE UP NUDIST COLONY

ALLEGAN, Mich., Sept. 7. (AP) Nearly a score of warrants charging indecent exposure were out today, and two arrests made, as Sheriff Fred W. Miller waged a campaign to close a nudist colony in Valley township, ten miles west of here.

The warrants were the outgrowth of a raid on the Sunshine Sports league, led by Sheriff Miller who said he and his men found the colonists playing handball or swimming in Swan creek, all nude.

Warrants were served yesterday on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ring, Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor and Chicago. All apparently are well educated, he said, and most of them were married couples. Two daughters of the Rings, 7 and 17 years of age, were at the camp, with several other children.

Sheriff Miller said the colonists lived in small cabins, roofed but having only screen walls. He saw pajamas and nightgowns hanging on clotheslines, he said.

BYRD TO GO TO SOUTH POLE

ANOTHER EXPEDITION TO UNEXPLORED AREA BEGINS SEPT. 25

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, USN, retired, announced today at the White House that he would sail from Boston on September 25, for another expedition to the south pole.

Byrd, who spent the night at the White House talking over his plans with President Roosevelt, departed this morning for New York to hasten the preparations for his exploration, which he expects to take two years.

Big Area Unexplored

Asked why he was returning to the dreary Antarctic regions, he replied that there was an area there still unexplored as big as the United States and Mexico combined.

The youthful looking explorer will use the old coast guard cutter, Bear, which has been the property of Oakland, Calif., since it was decommissioned, after years in the Arctic.

He will have with him about 70 men and probably several airplanes. His old base at Little America will be used again. It was from there in 1929 that Byrd and his companions flew over the south pole.

June To Be Pilot

Harold June, who was with him on that flight, will be the chief pilot with Byrd as navigator and assistant pilot.

Byrd will sail with 35 men each on the Pacific Fir and the Bear, the latter to be used to crush its way to the edge of the ice at Little America, and the former to serve as a base ship north of the ice pack.

GREATER TOLL EXPECTED TO BE FOUND

INJURED REFUGEES OF HURRICANE HUNTED IN REMOTE AREAS

(By The Associated Press)

HARLINGEN, Sept. 7.—Army ambulance detachments today began a systematic search through hitherto inaccessible sections of the hurricane - devastated lower Rio Grande valley for injured refugees who might be suffering for want of medical care and the necessities of life.

It was considered likely that additional fatalities would be discovered in remote communities which, because of muddy, debris strewn roads and shattered communictions have not been heard from since the distastrous storm abated.

24 Known Dead

A preliminary survey by the Red Cross, mainly covering that part of the stricken area linked by paved highways, accounted for 25 deaths and hundreds of persons injured. There were found to be 3,750 families destitute, 4,000 homes destroyed and 8,000 damaged.

Four persons lost their lives at Harlingen, two at San Benito, seven at Rio Hondo, one at Port Isabel, two in rural communities and eight at Matamoroc, the Mexican resort city across the Rio Grande from Brownsville. The mayor of Matamoros said last night that the search for victims was "just beginning."

Clearing weather yesterday allowed telephone and telegraph company repair crews to restore communication lines put out of commission by the destructive winds which ripped and tore at the rich agricultural section from Monday night until past noon Tuesday. Highways were being opened to traffic again

FORD OFFICIALS SILENT ON NRA

DETROIT, Sept. 7 (AP)—The utter absence of any outward indications of concern among Ford Motor company executives over the NRA controversy is adding strength to a growing belief that some kind of an agreement is expected to bring Henry Ford under the blue eagle's banner.

There was, however, no hint of a formal announcement of policy, and no certainty that one would be forthcoming when Ford returns, probably the last of the week, from his Huron mountain camp where he has remained secluded for three weeks.

LUBBOCK IS RESPONDING TO CALLS FOR AID TO STORM-STRICKEN AREA

Lubbock was responding today to the Red Cross appeal for relief funds to the storm-stricken Rio Grande valley area and collections on the quota had totaled $61 at noon today, Geo. P. Kuykendall, county chairman of disaster relief work, reported.

Urgent appeals for funds have been received in two telegrams by local Red Cross officials, citing the need for food and medical and relief supplies. Funds are needed at once. Mr. Kuykendall said today he planned to send funds as fast as they were contributed and hoped to have the quota for Lubbock raised before Saturday.

"When we've been receiving more than five times as much relief in this area from the Red Cross as we have been contributing in funds, it seems such a pity not to come to the aid of sufferers like the valley people at a time when they need it so badly," Mr. Kuykendall said.

Contributions to date are: school children, $5; K. N. Clapp, $5; Avalanche-Journal, $15; Kuykendall Chevrolet company, $15; Bledsoe, Grenshaw and Dupree, $15; Joe Telford, $1 and Durwood Bradley, $5.

Contributions may be made either to Mr. Kuykendall or to the Red Cross relief fund in care of the Avalanche-Journal.

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 7 (AP)—When the legislature is convened in special session, one of the first things that will come to the attention of the senate will be a list of appointees designated to positions by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson since the senate adjourned on last June 1.

Heading the number will be John Wood of Timpson, named chairman of the Texas highway commission. The senate refused on two occasions to approve the appointment of F. L. Denison of Temple, its declination of him being the cause of a breach between the upper legislative branch and the executive office.

Little Objection Seen

It seems to be taken as a matter of course that the senate will not find any objections to Wood. Of course there are some senators who would not vote to confirm anyone appointed to an office by the gubernatorial incumbent.

Other appointments that must be approved by the senate include those of A. M. Vance of Beaumont, to be state reclamation engineer; C. G. Krueger of Belleville, to be a member of the commission of appeals of the court of criminal appeals; E. C. Brand of Sweetwater, to be state commissioner of banking, and T. C. Andrews of McKinney to be a member of the board of pardons and paroles; George B. Simpson of Corpus Christi to be state auditor and Henry C. Meyer of Rockdale, to the place on the board of control relinquished by Adrian Pool.

BRAZIL SUBSIDIZES SILK

RIO DE JANEIRO. (AP)—The Brazilian government has appropriated $150,000 to aid the country's growing silk industry. Most of the silk factories, operated by Italians, are in Sao Paulo state.

CHURCH MEET IS PLANNED

METHODISTS TO HOLD VICTORY MEETING; MAY BE HERE

Rev. C. A. Bickley, presiding elder of the Lubbock Methodist Episcopal district, said yesterday a "victory" meeting will be held for churches in the district late next month or early in November. The meeting probably will be in Lubbock.

There has been "a great change" in agricultural conditions over the district since the first of July and church leaders and pastors are more optimistic over financial prospects, Reverend Bickley said. "Our people are feeling better and it now looks like we will close out the conference year in good financial shape," he added. "Rains have helped the crops wonderfully and with the cotton checks coming in, it appears we may have a chance to do much better than it had been expected."

Reverend Bickley said at a meeting of pastors and laymen Tuesday at Tahoka a strong optimistic tone was current. The crop outlook is much better and sale of cotton to the government is expected to add materially to the income of the churches.

The Lubbock district has 27 pastoral charges with about 80 churches, some of the pastors having as many as four and five and in one instance, six preaching points.

JACK MCGURN CONVICTED

TRIGGER MAN OF OLD CAPONE GANG GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—It took a jury in Judge Thomas A. Green's court less than 30 minutes last night to convict "Machine Gun" Jack McGurn, reputed trigger man of the old Capone gang, under the state's new vagrancy law.

The conviction carries a sentence of six months in jail and came after the jurors heard testimony from Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlain, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, that McGurn had the reputation of being "an habitual violator of all the laws of the state of Illinois and of the United States."

McGurn, otherwise known as Vincent Gebardi, produced witnesses who testified that he was a legitimate business man who owned part of a restaurant.

Captive Deer Is Safe Once Again

WATKINS GLEN, N. Y., Sept. 7. (AP)—Watkins Glen state park today was one of America's natural wonders and nothing more, for its famous captive deer, marooned for eleven days on a rocky ledge on a cliff wall, left almost as suddenly as it came.

Under the cautious persuasion of two park workmen, the seven point buck hesitatingly made its way down the precipitous bank, picked its way daintily through the torrent at its bottom and jumped to a ledge that led to the top of the bank.

The buck and its mate were chased by dogs a week ago Saturday to the ledge, from which the doe fell and was killed.

GIRL STILL HELD IN SLAYING PROBE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Ruth Terry, companion of James Glenn Justice, jr., 23-year-old insurance man, shot to death on a country road Tuesday night, remained in jail today pending developments in the case.

She told how two men accosted them as they sat near Justice's car and fired when Justice resisted them. She said she was wounded when she attempted to aid him.

Justice's bride, for whom he had established a home only last Saturday cried bitterly that his slayers "ought" to go to "the electric chair."

Justice was secretly married five weeks ago to Emma Jean Young, 21, of Britton.

The University of Oxford is said to have been founded by King Alfred in 872.

Cousin Of Garner Claimed By Death

LAKEPORT, Calif., Sept. 7. (AP)—John R. Garner, 86, pioneer Californian and cousin of Vice-President John Nance Garner, died at his home near here yesterday after a brief illness.

Garner was born in Marshfield, Mo., in 1838, and came to California in 1857 with his sister, Nance Garner. He settled first in Napa county but in 1883 he moved to Lake county where he has resided since.

A daughter and seven sons survive.

Sapiro Extradition Granted By Lehman

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 7. (AP)—Gov. Herbert Lehman last night granted the application of the state of Illinois for the extradition of Aaron Sapiro, indicted with Al Capone and others for conspiracy to commit malicious mischief in connection with the investigation into a laundry racket in Chicago.

Sapiro, nationally known as an organizer of farm cooperatives, was indicted in consequence of his work as counsel for an organization of laundry owners in Chicago.

The report stated that effective July 1, last, and subject to certain conditions, the rate of interest or discounts or their renewal was reduced by one-half of one per cent.

The RFC said it had agreed to grant to railroads which pay all their indebtedness to it within three years an adjustment or rebate of interest at the time final payment of the loans is made of one-half of one per cent, explaining this would have the effect of making a rate of interest of 4 1-2 per cent per annum from the date the loans were authorized.

Dixie's Watermelon Queen

The universe takes in a lot of territory, but most of its inhabitants won't be disposed to quarrel with the farmers of Yalobusha county, Miss., who named Miss Mary Eleanor Harris, above, 16, of Water City, as "watermelon queen of the universe" to reign at their annual festival. Luscious watermelons, we gather, aren't the only attractions in Yalobusha county.

WINANS PRAISED FOR RELIEF WORK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—To Major General Edwin B. Winans at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, the army's chief of staff today dispatched a message of congratulation on his prompt relief efforts in connection with the storm which struck the southwest.

"Your action outlined in radiogram fully approved," messaged Major General Douglas MacArthur. "You have acted with your usual energy and splendid efficiency."

General Winans had reported he was attempting to have an air survey of the damage made, was responding to the governor's request for medical aid, and would if necessary send troops and supplies to prevent suffering and starvation.

He reported too that almost every building of Fort Brown, at Brownsville, had been badly damaged. General Winans, who commands the eighth corps area, added that food supplies at Fort Brown had been destroyed and that emergency rations were being sent from Fort Sam Houston.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, foul breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, etc, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. NEW AGENT TO SERVE HERE

MISS HAZEL BRATLEY WILL REPLACE MISS ISLA MAE CHITWOOD

Commissioners court in a special meeting Wednesday accepted resignation of Miss Isla Mae Chitwood as home demonstration agent and appointed Miss Hazel Bratley of Louisiana to succeed Miss Chitwood, who has been here 20 months.

Miss Chitwood's resignation was unexpected. It was accepted by the court with extreme regret, members said following the meeting. Miss Myrtle Murray, district agent leader, was here from College Station and appeared before the court.

Native Of Kansas

The new agent was reared on a wheat farm in Western Kansas and received her preliminary education there. She attended the State College of Florida, where she received her B. S. degree.

Going into teaching work, Miss Bratley was home economics teacher in the Palm Beach high school for four years. She went into the work just before the Florida boom of nearly a decade ago.

In 1929 Miss Bratley became nutrition specialist for the Louisiana extension service. Miss Murray met her there recently while attending the Louisiana short course and found she was to be available in September for extension service. The new agent holds a M. A. degree from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Loss Is Regretted

"We regret very much to lose Miss Chitwood from the extension service," Miss Murray said yesterday in announcing the change. "She nas done a splendid work and Lubbock is a pivotal point in extension serice. We feel happy, however, in being able to secure the services of a woman like Miss Bratley to come here and take her place."

The new agent is to arrive Saturday and will spend next week with Miss Chitwood going over the county and getting acquainted with the work. Miss Chitwood's resignation is effective on September 15 and Miss Bratley takes charge September 16. Miss Chitwood, graduate of North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, came here in January, 1932. She had had teaching experience prior to her entering demonstration work.

FIRST COTTON IS SOLD AT SLATON

SLATON, Sept. 7.—(Special)—Slaton's first bale of the new crop of cotton was sold for 11 cents a pound at an auction here yesterday afternoon. It was believed to be the first bale of 1933 cotton in the county.

The cotton was grown by Julian Nesbitt on his farm three miles north of Slaton. The lint weighed 330 pounds and was said to have been of a "high grade." H. H. Edmondson, a local merchant, was purchaser. The price was about three cents above the day's market.

Cotton men said they did not anticipate movement of the new crop to get underway until about October 1. The crop is late due to lack of rains last spring and to late summer rains.

STAIR SCORES COUGHLIN

CHARGES BRANDED AS "A PACK OF LIES" BY PUBLISHER

DETROIT, Sept. 7. (AP)—Describing as "a pack of lies" recent charges of banking misconduct made by the Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin against him, E. D. Stair, publisher of the Detroit Free Press, told the one-man grand jury investigating bank closings here that he did not want to "bandy words with a man so devoid of truth and honor as Father Coughlin."

Stair's testimony came as the grand jury, which for three months has been investigating the closing of the First National Bank-Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, reopened sessions after a three-day holiday.

The militant priest, long a severe critic of Detroit banking methods, had selected Stair for his most bitter criticism in his testimony. He charged the publisher, who also was president of the Detroit Bankers Co., with signing reports which he knew were false, and declared he had published in his newspaper faked records purporting to show Father Coughlin engaged in stock market transactions. He had declared that Stair was "one of three men doubtful of escaping federal indictment" for their part in banking activities previous to the state bank holiday Feb. 14.

Notre Dame Has Good Prospects

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

A football team, no matter how big and tough, is nothing if not smart.

• • •

That's not a new proverb by any means. Neither is Weldon Chapman a new coach. Look back through the records of Chapman-coached teams and you won't find much criticism aimed at dumbness or bone-headedness. (Watch Prexy Anderson rush for the files). Up on his home work and wise to the tricks of his brethren, Chapman doesn't intend to be caught napping this fall, no matter if he does have a light and inexperienced ball club. He's teaching his lads brainwork as well as cross-body blocking.

• • •

The Westerners will have to depend on speed and brains this fall, because that's just about all to which their coaches may look forward. Lessons in those arts are taking up their share of the daily practice sessions at Fair Park this week.

• • •

For their first game the Westerners meet a team coached by a gent who delights in pulling tricks, or who takes great pleasure in seeing his gridsters execute stunts calculated to baffle the opposition. That's Obie Bristow, the Big Spring mentor. The Steers come to Lubbock to open the season two weeks from tomorrow night. That's how close the season is. And Obie is sure to try some tricks in the opening game. He is reported to have quite a bunch of veterans back this fall who already know the stunts.

• • •

One of Obie's pet tricks is the eight-man defensive line. He pulled that on Amarillo one time and the game was half over before the Sandies happened to remember that forward passes are not illegal, and that they might work a few such against an 8-man forward wall. They did, completed three or four and beat Big Spring before the Steers knew what had happened.

• • •

Bristow has another favorite play he pulls occasionally, much to the chagrin of officials and the opposing team. It's an offensive play featured by the center carrying the ball. The teams line up, signals are called, a fake movement made and the next thing you know, the ball-toter is well on his way right down the middle. And you don't remember having seen the center pass the ball back to a backfield man. As a matter of fact, he doesn't. But try and prove it. It works like this:

• • •

The team comes out of a whirling huddle close to the line of defense and quickly takes it place according to position. But the regular center stays in the backfield. The quarterback crouches over the ball. Signals are called in rapid-fire order and the team starts. When everybody wakes up, the quarterback, in possession of the pigskin, either is across the goal line thumbing his nose at the opposing team, or somewhere between the scene of the play and the pay-off stripe. The baffled officials scratch their heads. They never saw the center pass the ball back. Yet the quarterback has the spheroid. And quarterbacks still are eligible to carry the mail. The center, who is not eligible to carry the ball, certainly doesn't have it so what's a poor official to do? There are numerous other tricks in Bristow's books, and you may see some of 'em pulled at the Texas Tech field on the night of the 22nd.

• • •

Before it gets too old, we'll reveal a bit of scandal which entangles one of Lubbock's and Texas Tech's most revered individuals. Recently, Weldon Chapman, Pinkey Lowery, Mule Davis, John O'Dell Morgan, their wives and Pinkey's and Mule's little boys returned from a vacation trip to the wilds of New Mexico. Fishing was one of the chief means of diversion and recreation. With them came stories of fine fishing, great trout-shagging, and bag limits. Everybody had a great time and caught all the fish allowed by the law, if not more. But now comes the sad part, passed on to us by —well, maybe it was old Gus Axcelwush who happened to be browsing around up in that neck of the woods. Anyway, our informer tells the following story:

• • •

The fishing was great, and everybody caught all they wanted. That is, all but John O'Dell Morgan. He was having a hard time, Lack of patience, or something. Maybe it was the bait. But at the end of the day, John O'Dell always came into camp with a string of fish as long as your two arms. He received the congratulations of the crowd and was accepted into polite fisherman society. But our informer, who must have been peering around a big tree, solved the mystery, and everybody knows it now. One day, after tough luck, Morgan was seen coming from the nearest trading post with a sack full of all-day suckers. It was estimated that there $1.50 worth. When the others had gone to their favorite fishing spots next day, and every day thereafter, Morgan would call the 6-year-old kiddies of Mule Davis and Pinkey Lowery to him, wave a couple of red suckers before them, and say: "Now, you kids, for every fish you catch and bring to me, you get a sucker." That was enough. Morgan ran out of suckers and "caught" more fish than anybody. We leave it to you.

ANDERSON HAS A GRIN ON HIS FACE AND HOPE IN HEART

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 7 (AP)—Coach Heartley Anderson is still chasing the Rockne football rainbow at Notre Dame with a broad grin on his face and flickering hope in his heart.

Since he picked up the heavy load dropped in tragedy by his former master two years ago, "Hunk" has seen Notre Dame's football teams rise almost to the Rockne crest and then fall. He's heard the "anvil chorus" sing for a new coach and he knows his team of 1933 is up against it. But he still grins and hopes.

No Blues Singer

"Hunk" started out as an optimist. Defeat can't change him into a blues singing coach.

"Oh, we'll be okay again this year," he replied as the inevitable question on prospects was asked. "We've got a good team all the way through and may go to town in a big way this fall. Why should I sing the blues? I've got almost the same team as a year ago except that I'm in the market for a couple good guards and a quarterback who can think fast. The result of the season here depends almost entirely on the improvement of the teams we face. If they haven't improved, we should beat 'em; if they have, well it's going to be a tough battle."

The grin widened on "Hunk's" face.

Tough Schedule Faced

"I'll tell you one thing that's going to make us tougher this year than last," he chuckled. "And that is that our players have learned to do some fearing. We haven't got a soft spot on our schedule of nine games, starting with Kansas and ending up with the Army. Last year we started out too fast and some of the players got to thinking they were too good. Well, this year they won't get that chance. The teams they fear most are Pittsburgh, Purdue, Southern California and the Army. They are all tough. A team that hustles all the time with a healthy respect for its opponent is hard to beat."

"Hunk" will be surrounded by almost the same freshmen coaching staff as a year ago when 10 full teams answer his call for practice. Tommy Yarr is gone but in his place will be Tom Conley, 1930 captain, Marchy Schwartz and Frank "Nordy" Hoffman, stars of the 1931 team and Ike Voedisch, '27, also will assist the head coach.

The Notre Dame schedule:

Oct. 1—Kansas at South Bend.
Oct. 14—Indiana at Indiana.
Oct. 21—Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.
Oct. 28—Pittsburgh at South Bend.
Nov. 4—Navy at Baltimore.
Nov. 11—Purdue at South Bend.
Nov. 18—Northwestern at Evanston.
Nov. 25—Southern California at South Bend.
Dec. 2—Army at New York.

TWO HUNDRED IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 7, (AP)—The Glens Falls open championship brought 200 amateur and professional golfers from the United States and Canada together today for the opening round.

It was a record field for the $3,500 prize event which in five years has become one of the east's outstanding golf battles.

The three former winners of the event were here, one—Billy Burke of Greenwich, Conn.—seeking permanent possession of the E. W. West trophy. Burke, former national open titleholder, won in 1929 and 1931.

Denny Shute, 1933 British open king, and Tony Manero of Elmsford won the major slice of the prize money in 1932 and 1930, respectively.

Others who have their war clubs polished for the three day grind include Ralph Guldahl, St. Louis; Gene Sarazen, and Johnny Farrell.

GIANTS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL WITH BUCS

NEW YORK REVEALS IT HAS THE ABILITY TO STAGE COMEBACK

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There still was plenty of trouble in sight for the New York Giants today but behind them was convincing proof that they have the ability to come back when they have to.

The Giant's lead, which dwindled at an alarming rate in the first two games of their important series at Pittsburgh, remained at 6 1-2 games as they rallied brilliantly to win the second game of yesterday's doubleheader and the third of the series, 9 to 1, after the embattled Buccaneers had pulled out a 6 to 5 ten-inning decision in the opener.

Tough Row Faced

The triumph, while it ruined Pittsburgh's hopes of sweeping the series and cutting the Giant margin to a mere 2 1-2 games, left the league leaders with two more games against their nearest rivals today and tomorrow, and a pair of tough customers, Chicago and St. Louis, still to be met after a breathing spell at Cincinnati against the last place Reds.

The Pirates did some comeback work of their own in the first clash, rallying to drive Freddy Fitzsimmons to cover in the late innings after an exciting four-run rally in the sixth had given New York the lead. Steve Swetonic, who started for the Bucs, was relieved by Leon Chagnon in this frame and when he was banged for three more in two Bill Swift went to the box and it was his single in the tenth that spelled victory.

Ralph Birkofer, the young southpaw who trimmed the Giants in New York recently, failed to get through an inning of the second game and Chagnon was not much more effective. The former gave up two runs and left the bases loaded and the inning wound up with a 5-0 count. The Giants kept right on clouting and Hal Schumacher came close to a shutout on the hill, giving only seven hits.

Cubs Beat Braves

While the big twin bill was going on, the third place Chicago Cubs crept half a game closer by knocking off the Boston Braves 4 to 3 behind young Bud Tinning, who pitched a three-hit shutout up to the final inning. The St. Louis Cardinals did even better, beating the Phillies twice, 3-1, and 8-7. After taking the opener on Bill Hallahan's three-hit fling, the Cards had to stage a seven-run spurt in the last two innings of the nightcap.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati divided a meaningless doubleheader, the Dodgers taking the first, 7-3, and the Reds pounding out 21 hits to reach their high scoring mark of the season with an 18 to 8 victory in the second.

Sens Hold Lead

The American league situation remained unchanged with Washington 9 1-2 games ahead of the New York Yankees. Alec McColl, 37-year-old Senator rookie, pitched four-hit ball in his first major league start and batted in two runs in a 3-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Lou Gehrig did all the Yankee scoring in the Yanks' 3-2 triumph over the St. Louis Browns, hitting his 24th homer among other blows.

Jimmie Foxx came through with his 41st homer and Lefty Grove hurled effectively in the clinches for his 20th victory of the season as the Philadelphia Athletics downed Cleveland 5 to 4. The Detroit Tigers combined 14 hits with a flock of walks off Boston pitchers and beat the Red Sox 11 to 5.

SOFTBALL SEASON ENDS NEXT WEEK

Two American league tilts and one National league game are scheduled in the Lubbock Softball association today, the regular season for which ends next week.

Lubbock Printers meet Federal Employees at the Ave. R field and Huie-Ribble tangles with Mitchell's Cafe at Ave. K in the American loop encounter. Kuykendall Chevrolet and Avalanche-Journal teams meet at Fair Park in the National league contest.

Two extremes in baseball were witnessed yesterday when City Hall and Peoples Ice company won regularly scheduled contests.

In one game, heavy hitting and much running featured as the Icemen piled up 26 runs to overwhelm Hotel Hilton, 26 to 4. The Icemen made all the runs in four innings, being held scoreless in three.

In the National league, J. & J. Sporting Goods company, undefeated champions of the first half, dropped a closely played 2 to 1 game to City Hall when Lee Jones and Godeke tangled in a mound duel.

The City Hall team registered in the first inning, an error contributing to the score. The count was tied in the fifth when a walk and a hit registered for J. & J. In the seventh, a couple of hits brought in the winning run for City Hall.

AUSTRALIAN'S FAMOUS BACKHAND STROKE IS SENSATION

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7. (AP)—Vivian McGrath, the smiling young man from Australia, and his double-barrelled backhand are playing to standing room in the national men's tennis championships.

Billed strictly as a novelty, the only living player who hits a tennis ball from the port side with both hands grasping the racquet, the lad from 'down under' has proved far more than that. He is an exceptionally fine tennis player, and that two-fisted shot of his now has the experts doing mental and literary cartwheels.

Has "Greatest Backhand"

"There's the most important thing tennis has seen in many a day," declared Mercer Beasley, the old tennis maestro, as he hunched over and watched. "The greatest backhand in the world today, and the lad has it all to himself."

Beasley and his star pupil, Frankie Parker, who was defeated by Keith Gledhill yesterday, have been experimenting with the stroke and it would not be surprising to see Parker using it next summer.

Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, was scheduled to play the sensational young Australian today, and the consensus was curtains for McGrath.

"Big Four" Victorious

The "big four" of the tournament —Ellsworth Vines, jr., and Frank Shields of this country, Fred Perry of England and Jack Crawford of Australia—all had come through rather easily up to this point, but each was promised pretty stiff opposition today.

Vines, the defending champ, faced Bryan Grant, of Atlanta. Shields met Ryosuke Nunoi of Japan, who yesterday upset George Lott, veteran U. S. Davis cup star, in a five-set match.

Crawford encountered Sidney Wood, jr. Perry appeared to have his hands full against Keith Gledhill, former intercollegiate champion, who yesterday took a four-set fall out of Frankie Parker.

QUEEN HELEN IS ORDERED TO REST FOR SIX MONTHS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Helen Wills Moody, seven times American tennis champion, may have played her last set in the major competition when she defaulted to Helen Jacobs in the recent national finals.

This possibility gained credence in local court circles today following a statement issued by her father, Dr. C. A. Wills, Berkeley physician. Dr. Wells declared his daughter could not touch a racket for six months or more. His X-ray examinations disclosed a displaced vertebra, affecting the sciatic nerve.

Considered most significant was Dr. Wills' observation "this injury is prone to recur under the strain of competition." Dr. Wills said he hoped his daughter would recover in time to compete in the nationals next year but added, "only time will tell."

Mrs. Moody is in Stanford, hospital here. Only members of the family have been permitted to visit her.

PRIZES TO GO TO WINNERS

VALUABLE AWARDS TO BE GIVEN IN GOLF TOURNAMENT HERE

An imposing array of prizes await winners of the Lubbock Country club championship golf tournament, which is now under way. Club and tournament officials say that the awards offered this year are much more beautiful and valuable than are awarded in tournaments of larger dimensions.

As many flights as the entry list justifies will be formed, and at least three prizes will be offered in each flight. Runners-up will be rewarded along with flight winners, the champion and consolation champions.

Financial success of the tournament practically is assured, it was said yesterday. A balance remains following the recent City Open tournament, which "went over big" financially, and a part of this will apply on prizes.

Entry fee of one dollar is charged each entrant. In addition, the tournament committee expects to raise a larger amount through subscriptions at a meeting Friday night following the close of the qualifying play. Players, club members and fans are invited to the meeting.

Qualifying round of 18 holes may be played today or tomorrow. Several members already have qualified. Match play of 18 holes begins anytime Saturday and continues with 2 rounds of 18 holes each Sunday. Finals will be played Monday.

Bucs Win First Play-Off Clash

DOWN STEERS, 2 TO 1, WHILE OTHER GAME IS RAINED OUT

DALLAS, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Galveston Buccaneers had scored first blood today in the Shaughnessy plan play-offs for the Texas league pennant, by walloping the Dallas Steers, 2 to 0.

The other two teams in the running, Houston and San Antonio, had their initial contest last night postponed because of rainy weather.

7,000 See Game

Some 7,000 fans watched the Steers and Buccaneers fight for an edge last night. The Buccaneers got away in the eighth inning by bunching four hits, including Fuzzy Huffit's home run, to bring in their two runs.

The game was a pitching struggle between Orville Jorgens, young Galveston right-hander, and Fred Stiely, crafty Dallas southpaw. Jorgens held the Steers to three hits, while Stiely was pounded for seven. The Buccaneers got but two hits in the first seven innings.

Jorgens had no trouble handling the situation after the first inning, when Koster doubled with one out and advanced to third on an infield out.

Houston plays San Antonio tonight and tomorrow night at Houston, while Galveston continues its series at Dallas. Winners of these five-game series will fight it out for the championship and the right to compete in the Dixie series against the Southern association champions.

PAYNE CHOSEN TO OPPOSE MISSIONS

HOUSTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Smart 37-year-old George Payne, veteran master of control, will see what he can do about beating the San Antonio Missions tonight.

Youthful Fabian Kowalik, ace right-hander with an assortment of stuff that netted him 21 victories this season, will oppose Payne.

These two stars are due to steal the headline tonight when Houston and San Antonio meet in the first of five game series in the round-robin Shaughnessy pennant plan playoff. A heavy rain storm forced a postponement of last night's game. As a result, games will be played here tonight and tomorrow night. The scene will shift to San Antonio Saturday and Sunday. If a fifth game is necessary, the site will be determined by the toss of a coin. The winner of this series battles the winner in the Galveston and Dallas series for the championship and the right to represent the Texas league in the annual Dixie series against the Southern association champions.

MERCEDES, Sept. 7. (AP)—William Y. Buck of Mercedes shipped five boxes of grapefruit Wednesday.

"There goes the valley output for 1933," said a bystander who knew of the destruction wrought to the valley's $6,000,000 citrus crop by the Monday and Tuesday hurricane.

Streams in Montana were unusually high this summer as the result of heavy winter snow in the mountains.

"—my skin became clear...

—and you don't know what a happy day that was in my life." Then why not pause a moment and reason in a common-sense way the cause of many skin troubles. Such common ailments often result because of a lowered resistance below the skin surface—frequently due to lowered blood vitality.

Increase the red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content and more of the life giving oxygen is carried to every part of the body—even to the skin. "Step up" the ability of the resisting cells to devour infectious pimple germs. Then you will have laid the foundation for a sounder physical condition.

S.S.S., in addition to being a valuable general tonic, has the special property of increasing the red-cells and restoring the hemoglobin content of the blood, when deficient. It is time-tested... tens of thousands of unsolicited letters of gratitude over several generations evidence its merit. Don't let anyone "switch" you in your determination to restore your red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content. Thought For Today

Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me: for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings I will make my refuge.—Psalms, 57:1.

Sweet mercy is nobility's true badge.—Shakespeare.

Change In Thought

Back of all the concrete developments of the new program at Washington there exists a profound change in the outlook of the American people—a change which, in the long run, may well prove the most important single development of the whole "new deal."

This changed outlook finds its reflection in the various legislative and administrative acts by which the administration is seeking to implement recovery. But it is a deeper thing than mere change in the machinery of government or political theory; it is not born of any party and it does not owe its existence to the presence or absence of any particular group on Capitol Hill.

Briefly, this change can be described by saying that we have at last got entirely away from the psychology and the odd kind of idealism that characterized us during nearly all of the '20s.

We have outgrown, that is to say, a stage in our history during which we were perhaps the most purely materialistic people on earth. In that stage we worshiped material success in a way that was almost devout. With a very few exceptions, our heroes were the men who knew how to make money fast—and we weren't very particular about how they made it. The go-getter and the high-pressure lad were in the limelight, and most of us envied them and tried to copy them.

That this was an extremely unhealthy period is, by this time, pretty clear. The machine age was beginning to dump its greatest problems in our laps, and we blithely ignored them because the machine age was making some people very rich. The seeds of all our present misfortunes took root in those days and we were too self-satisfied to try to dig them out.

We are wiser, now; and in our attainment of wisdom we have had something very like a spiritual rebirth.

For in giving up our slavish admiration of money and the moneymakers, we have made possible a return to the traditional American idealism. We have stopped defining progress as a steady increase in the number of millionaires, and because of that fact we have opened the way for progress of the only kind that is worth making—the progress that represents a fuller and wider life for the ordinary man.

Flapper Fanny

The more dashing a man is, the harder he is to hold.

That Girl on Broadway says since we've grown so accustomed to referring to our gangsters as "musclin' in" can we be blamed for pronouncing it "Musclini-ini"?

* * *

Did Heaven ever make a woman who didn't get the bathroom mixed up with the laundry?

* * *

WELL, The Plainsman just as well 'fess up. He acted like a heel. He is at least as half as sorry as he should be.

The whole trouble is that puzzle that appeared in yesterday's column. Just wasn't as it should have been—or, at least, hardly.

The proposition was, if you remember, this:

Select from the following figures six, which when added together, equal 21.

1 3 5 7 9
1 3 5 7 9
1 3 5 7 9

Did you try it?

Well, here's the way you work it.

Pick a 1 (one) and a 3 (three) making a 13 (thirteen) and then add two 1's and two 3's.

Don't that make a total of twenty-one (21)?

We're tellin' you!

* * *

LITTLE Benny, the dumbfounded young fellow who occupies the bottom position on The Journal's comics page, is with us to stay awhile, whether you like it or not.

For Benny—he of the simple look—won a poll offered by The Plainsman the other day and will stay with us until he loses one by a large majority.

* * *

In answer to The Plainsman's question: "What's the matter with Benny?", there were 19 written statements and three over the telephone.

And, although wonders never cease, 13 of them were for Benny in a big way; eight of them were "agin" him and the other one read like this:

"I'm not interested in Benny. I'm not interested in Wash Tubbs; I'm not interested in sports or markets. What I want most is international news. Please let us have more of it!"

* * *

T. C. LAMB, who is against Benny, wrote as follows: "We no like Benny. He is too pitiful to be out in public. Let's get something else. I read him every day but not because I like to, for it's for fear something has happened to him. I keep him on my mind constantly. Seems to be a burden to me. Please let's change. Thanks kindly."

But, on the other hand, an unsigned Amherst reader says:

"I am a reader of The Journal and must say that I think Benny is the best part of your comics page. I wish him continued. I always read Benny first."

* * *

So you see, acting on the theory that those who like Benny and those who don't like Benny, both read him religiously, there is nothing for The Plainsman to do but keep him on the job.

After all, we want you first to read The Journal—not to agree with it, until you read it!

That Man on Avenue Q says you can't always fully abide by the law. Our legal statutes provide that every accused must be "tried by a jury of his peers", but what about insanity cases.

* * *

The Honorable Huey P. Long thinks President Roosevelt and the New Deal are moving too slowly.

If the Senate investigation of Huey's activities in Louisiana is a part of the New Deal there are many who will agree with him.

* * *

WHILE Congress admittedly has many more serious problems with which to contend when it reconvenes in Washington, what will the senate do about the charges offered against the crude and swashbuckling senator from Lousiana, Huey P. Long?

Good citizens from the senator's home state are ready to testify concerning fraudulent elections, misapplication of funds and numerous other activities in which they claim the loud-mouthed gentleman has engaged.

Will the senate look into the charges—or will politics continue to dictate in the matter by holding the investigation over Huey's head, like an axe, to keep him 'in line'?

* * *

Maybe Long is innocent of any wrong-doing aside from being a bully, a braggart and an overbearing lord of the ballot, but at any rate there are many who say not.

And the public will do well to remember that the senate got on its hind legs in double-quick time when the then Sergeant-at-Arms Barry, in a magazine article, insinuated that all the solons might not be 100 per cent honest.

Barry was ousted, toot sweet, as they say in la belle Frawnce.

Your kids aren't going to get as good schooling this year as they got—or would have gotten—three years ago . . . There will be more youngsters to the teacher, which means a more weary instructor, and one not quite so happy in view of drastic wage cuts . . . Among The Newly-Created Positions

Politics Invades Public Works Administration; Nobody Fooled By Ickes' Explanation Of How Hurja Got His Job

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Nobody was fooled by Secretary Ickes' elaborate explanation of how Emil Hurja came to be administrative assistant in the Public Works Administration.

Butcher

Politics walked into PWA along with the tall, dark, mysterious Mr. Hurja.

Preliminary confusion as to his function was soon straightened out. Ickes and the PWA people will decide whether they want a man who applies for a job. Hurja will then decide whether there are political objections.

Ickes, who insists he will be his own personnel officer, says he took Huria on without any suggestion from anyone, having been convinced from observation that "he can be a very useful man in administrative work." Hurja, a lieutenant of Patronage Boss Jim Farley, sometimes called the "axman," had been doing personnel work with the R. F. C.

Hurja meanwhile is looking over the Interior Department, where PWA is located, for holdover Republicans. The outstanding one is Ebert K. Burlow, administrative assistant to Ickes who handles important budgetary and personnel matters. Ickes himself is an independent Republican. But Hurja probably will overlook the fact.

Good Old Days Are Back

The good old days when presidents posed in cowboy hats and Indian headgear are back again. Cal Coolidge used to love it, even if he did look funny. No one ever dared ask Hoover to try it.

But Roosevelt has broken the ice again, donning an Indian headdress prepared by Boy Scouts and letting the cameras do their worst.

More Bank Credit

The worries here are concentrating more and more on the banks. If the NRA is to succeed, bank credits must be loosened. Industries need credit to carry them through the initial period of higher labor costs. General Johnson has announced that special efforts will be made to get the banks in on the play. But bank credits are showing no increase.

Banks are still cautious in making loans, but another important factor involving uncertainty has appeared. For two or three years many of them have been carrying part of their assets, especially securities and "slow" loans, at fictitious values. Examiners have okayed this. If these assets had to be written down now the banks holding them would appear in an impaired position.

To enter the new Depositors' Insurance Corporation, banks not members of the Federal Reserve must be certified for solvency by the first of the year. Federal Reserve and national banks enter automatically, but must be certified for solvency by July.

So there's tremendous interest in the official requirements for solvency.

Christmas Is Coming

Christmas is coming! The preserved foliage and wreath industry, filing a code, asks a normal 40-hour week with a 48-hour week and maximum nine-hour day for the peak period from Sept. 1 to Dec. 20.

Also, it seems appropriate that little red-headed Rose Schneiderman, only woman member of the Labor Advisory Board, should be named L. A. B. adviser on the codes for both the artificial flowers and feathers industry and the women's belt industry.

Loss Set at Millions

An appalling economic loss was istered as the storm denuded cit-s groves of their ripening crop, ated at around $6,000,000, and alled cotton all over the fertile ley. The damage to property certain to run into the millions. Heavy rains on the watershed of e Rio Grande, especially on the exican side in the vicinity of Mon-rrey, caused speculation as to how gh the border river would rise, residents of the valley had no r of a flood. A vast system of rkes and drainage channels has en erected to protect the "winter rden" and it is believed adequate withstand any rise that may oc-r.

A regiment of the United States my under command of Col. L. echemin, jr., took over emergency spitals that had been established doctors and nurses rushed in om Houston, San Antonio and rpus Christi and other points. The edical unit, Col. Brechemin said, me prepared for any contingency.

Water Causes Concern

The principal concern was about e water supply of various towns d rural communities. Col. Brech-nin was advising city and county thorities on sanitation and warn-gs were issued against drinking y water that was not known to absolutely pure. The medical it brought with it typhoid serum d inoculations were begun on a rge scale to forestall any possible idemic.

Citrus Growers Meet

An ironic touch to the situation me in connection with a meeting the nation's citrus growers set r today in Washington. The pur-se of this meeting was to stabilize e industry through control of dis-bution, but Texas, which up to e time of the hurricane ranked as e of the most prolific sections, is rtually wiped out as a citrus area r the time being."

C. C. Miles of Texas, representing e Rio Grande valley citrus ex-ange and the citrus division of e South Texas Shippers' associa-n, said 93 per cent of the Texas owers and shippers affected had reed to the Texas plan in all its sential phases.

He said the storm damage would ve no material effect on the sta-lization plan, although it might ake the proration feature unnec-sary in Texas.

The extent of the disaster on the exican side of the Rio Grande, cept for Matamoros and Monter-y, remained undetermined. Few orts had been received from the ntless isolated villages in the a through which the hurricane ipped after passing through the er valley.

Heavy Damage Feared

In the Mexican bank of the river located numerous farming com-nities, some of them populous. sence of communications has de it impossible to determine how y fared, but it was believed that truction of property and life ght be heavy there.

Dispatches from Monterrey re-ported one person drowned and extensive damage caused by overflowing of the Santa Catarine and other rivers in that vicinity. Houses in Monterrey were partially inundated and gas and electric service disrupted for several hours.

Direct railway traffic between Monterrey and the border at Nuevo Laredo was halted because of landslides. Violent rain storms lashed that region as the storm passed inland. All trafic over the international highway from Monterrey to Laredo and south to Cuidad Victoria was interrupted.

Reports from towns in the northeastern parts of Nuevo Leon said that region had been hit severely by the hurricane, many houses being destroyed and crops ruined. No loss of life was reported there.

A number of large rivers drain from the Monterrey area into the Rio Grande and in the past have contributed to dangerous rises of the border stream.

Safe From Floods

Residents of the lower valley said that the flood control system on the American bank made it virtually impossible for high water to invade the section. The levees start above Mission and are designed to handle floods of enormous proportions. Although the river was above normal at Rio Grande City and elsewhere, none was alarmed.

Residents of the valley were concentrating their efforts on restoration of homes, business establishments, citrus groves and fields and other property—the Rio Grande was purely a secondary consideration.

With the wreckage of homes scattered over the valley, refugees took what shelter they could. Many families moved into empty box cars along the railroad lines. Others salvaged their sodden belongings from roofless houses and camped in tents or buildings that had withstood the terrific storm.

Warned In Time

Brownsville, with a population of around 30,000, Harlingen, and San Benito were hit hardest. By some miraculous break, Brownsville, although practically every building in it was damaged, had no fatalities. The people, warned of the impending disaster in ample time to seek shelter, crowded into the sturdiest buildings until it spent its fury.

A report from Port Isabel, a town on the Gulf of Mexico 20 miles northeast of Brownsville, revealed that one man was killed there and every building in town wrecked. Boats were cast up on shore, some of them being hurled as far inland as the railroad tracks. Fifteen were injured at Port Isabel, none seriously.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady. Unchanged to 2 lower with steadier Liverpool cables offset by southern selling. Oct. 9.15; Dec. 9.35; Jan. 9.43; Mch. 9.59; May 9.78; July 9.93.

Business was quiet. December eased to 9.33 under initial selling, or about 2 points net lower, but the market steadied on a renewal of yesterday's late demand for May which local traders again attributed to operations in seed loan or cotton option contracts. This demand was soon supplied, however, and after selling up from 9.77 to 8.82, May worked off to 9.79. Active months generally ruled within a point or two either way of yesterday's close at the end of the first half hour.

Trading became a little more active later in the morning with prices steady on pre-bureau covering and buying attributed partly to local operators. December sold up to 9.42 and May to 9.84 with the maket ruling about 4 to 7 points net higher at midday. Another private crop report was issued placing condition at 66.7 and indicated yield at 11,826,000. According to a canvass made this morning, New York cotton exchange members on the average are expecting a crop estimate tomorrow of 12,352,000 bales.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7. (AP)—The cotton market opened steady but quiet with first trades three points down although Liverpool was a shade better than due. Prices rallied slightly after the start on rumors that there were again government buying orders in the market and on reports that the recent heavy rains resulting from the gulf storms have done considerable damage. October traded at 9.11 and December at 9.33, or 2 to 4 points up from the opening and one point down to one up compared with yesterday's close.

Later in the first hour the market was steady and held around the highs. Traders seemed disposed to hold off until after the government crop report due tomorrow.

The market ruled quiet all morning with traders disposed to await the government crop report. In the second hour prices improved slightly in sympathy with firmer stocks and owing to the detailed weather map which showed continued heavy rains in the eastern belt. October advanced to 9.16 and December to 9.38, or 7 to 9 points above the early lows and 4 to 6 points up from yesterday's close.

Later in the morning, the market eased on lack of support and some pre-bureau liquidation, October dropping back to 9.09 and December to 9.29 or 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close.

The average guess of tomorrow's crop estimate by 92 members of the New York cotton exchange was 12,352,000 bales.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Forthcoming official crop reports from Washington threw their shadow over the grain markets today, and led to material setbacks in prices.

Almost from the outset, wheat trading was principally in small lots, with quotations tending downward and the day's lowest level reached in the last half hour. Winnipeg reported that hedging sales from rural sources totaled larger than export buying.

Wheat closed weak, 1 5-8 to 1 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1 1-8 to 1 3-8 down, oats 1-1 1-8 off, and provisions varying from 5 cents setback to an equal advance.

CUBAN CRISIS

ammunition was issued in large quatities from the barracks Monday and Tuesday.

During the present crisis, it is generally believed, these men will not give up their weapons unless forced to do so.

Opinions Differ

The army problem was even more difficult. It was learned last night that a considerable difference of opinion obtains in the rank and file of the army regarding the wisdom of their coup, and a disposition of several detachments to back track, to recall deposed officers, and to ask the restoration of the de Cespedes government was expressed.

Military units at Camp Columbia, origin of the movement for a "purely revolutionary government," at San Ambrosio barracks, and at Camaguey were reported divided on the course of events.

It was considered significant that Sergeant Fulgencio Batista, a leader in the anti-Cespedes revolt, and others of the executive commission now in power refused to give out the total number of officers subject to re-instatement nor any of their names.

U. S. RELUCTANT TO INTERVENE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Toward Cuba, with its rumbling volcano of discontented forces, President Roosevelt's secretary of the navy sped today while the administration's decision on assuming the heavy responsibility of armed intervention hung on the fateful events of the next few hours.

Already Cuban waters bristled with American warships. Marines were concentrated and equipped as an expeditionary force at Quantico, Va. Secretary Swanson hurried toward the Cuban capital aboard the swift new cruiser Indianapolis. But thus far the feared eruption which might bring bloodshed, disorder and anarchy and demand American intervention had not come.

Diplomats Called

Hoping against hope that such a momentous step would not be necessary, President Roosevelt in an unprecedented move called diplomats of leading Latin-American nations to his desk yesterday to tell them of his fears and hopes, his extreme reluctance to intervene.

He indicated that if a government capable of ruling Cuba can be constituted quickly before some nervous trigger finger sets loose a conflagration, the vexing question of interevention will vanish of itself.

The gist of the president's views, expressed in calm and quiet converse with the envoys of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Mexico, was later laid before the representatives of the rest of Latin-America through Secretary Hull in line with the administration's policy of frank cooperation.

Welles Works Hard

For more information in the threatening conditions in Cuba, the president looked to Havana where Ambassador Sumner Welles worked day and night and where, Secretary Swanson will arrive on Friday.

Roosevelt is keeping his finger to the Cuban pulse. Should the pulse beat at too hot heat, should Welles signal that foreign life and property are threatened, then would have to come that decision fraught with so much significance.

There was no saying for certain that intervention would be resorted to, even then. Present chances appear to favor any middle course that would save the situation so far as the over 250,000 foreigners were concerned, leaving Cuban affairs strictly to their own people.

But the administration frankly feared for the safety of the thousands of United States citizens in the island as well as the billion dollars of American capital invested there.

Far-reaching responsibilities were involved in intervention, a right conferred on the United States by the treaty which granted Cuba its independence after the Spanish-American war. It was exercised only once, under the Theodore Roosevelt administration in 1906 to 1909.

Marines or troops, once landed, might have to stay for months or even years, as that experience showed. Almost inevitably, intervention would mean the loss of some American lives.

In money, too, the cost would be considerable.

DEATH CLAIMS STATESMAN

VISCOUNT GREY DIES AT BRITISH HOME AT AGE OF 71

By OSCAR LEIDING

CHRISTON BANK, England, Sept. 7. (AP)—Viscount Grey of Fallodon who, as Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, gave Germany the ultimatum plunging Great Britian into the World war, died today at the age of 71.

He virtually retired from public life in 1916 because of failing eyesight and had been seriously ill for more than a week.

Death came to him at 6:05 a. m. at Fallodon, his beautiful home on the Northumbrian Coast.

Played Leading Role

As foreign secretary for the eleven years from 1905 to 1916, Viscount Grey was fated to play a leading role in the destinies of Europe. He never wavered in his stand on behalf of Belgium after exhausting every effort to avert the war.

The United States became acquainted with him during a five month period in 1919-1920 when he was the temporary British ambassador to Washington, but President Wilson's battle with the senate and his own poor health conspired to place him in the background.

The room in the mellow red-brick mansion where the viscount spent his last days looked out on a bird sanctuary he had set up on the grounds of Fallodon, and throughout the long days of his illness he lay with the windows open whenever possible so the sounds of his well-loved birds could reach him.

Unconscious 70 Hours

He had been unconscious for nearly 70 hours. He could take no food.

The exact nature of his illness was not announced, but is believed to have resulted from high blood pressure.

A little less remarkable than his fame as a statesman was his prominence as a friend of birds and animals. It was said he won the trust of the most timid creatures.

VICTORY SEEN IN OIL CODE

REDUCTION BY TEXAS OF OUTPUT TERMED "GRATIFYING"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—A reduction by Texas of one-fourth of its oil output and abandonment there of efforts to delay federal control was hailed in administration sources today as an initial victory for governmental moves to hold petroleums' flow to market in line with demand.

Word from Austin that the Texas railroad commission had issued a temporary order setting the state's production at 975,200 barrels daily, the share allowed it under the national allocation of 2,409,700, was greeted by officials as "gratifying."

The commission had appealed to Secretary Ickes, oil administrator, to delay the 7 a. m. Friday effectiveness of the national allocation as applied to Texas, but Ickes in denying the appeal, sent back a suggestion that a temporary order be issued.

The commission's action cut by 25 per cent the present permissible production in Texas, which is 1,200,000 barrels daily, and the state regulatory agency will hold a hearing on September 16 to discuss field allowables.

Under the NRA trade code through which the government is supervising the petroleum industry, the federal administrative agency headed by Ickes was empowered to fix the national production and divide it among the states, and to prevent shipment out of a state of more than its share.

After sending to Austin his denial of Texas' plea for a delay, Ickes sent J. Howard Marshall, special assistant to the attorney general, to the Texas capital to talk conditions over with state officials and seek their cooperation.

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—Luther Hatton today filed an appeal from the court of criminal appeals from a verdict by a Marion county jury sentencing him to 25 years' imprisonment in connection with the slaying of Dan Carter on July 2, 1932.

SUSPECT HELD IN KANSAS

TWO WOMEN OVERCOME WOULD-BE THUG WITH CROQUET MALLETS

MEADE, Kas., Sept. 7 (AP)—A desperate robber, subdued by two small women wielding croquet mallets as they resisted his attempt to steal a motor car, was held in jail here today while officers attempted to learn whether he was one of those responsible for the bloody southwestern crime wave.

Besides marks indicating he had been wounded previously in gun play, the captive wore an imprint believed to have been inflicted by the irate women who brushed aside his pistol and set upon him with wooden mallets.

Refuses To Talk

The man said he was D. E. Potter of Cincinnati, then became sullen and refused to answer questions.

Officers expressed doubt as to his identity and said they did not know what crimes he may have committed.

He was captured Monday night as his three companions, two men and a woman, escaped.

The four arrived in Meade, holding captive A. E. Trummell, Wilmore, Kas., rancher, who they forced to accompany them when they stole his car.

Potter approached Mrs. Anson Horning and Mrs. T. E. Prather who were playing croquet with their husbands, both school teachers.

Potter pointed a pistol at Mrs. Horning and demanded the car. She lashed out at him with her croquet mallet. Mrs. Prather helped and together they beat Potter into a stunned condition, enabling the men to hold him until officers arrived. His companions fled.

BRITISH LAUD NRA PROGRAM

TRADE CONGRESS ASKS ENGLAND TO ADOPT SIMILIAR PLAN

BRIGHTON, England, Sept. 7 (AP)—Emphatic approval of President Roosevelt's recovery plan was expressed by several speakers at a session of the Trade Union congress and in the body of a resolution adopted calling upon the British government to adopt similar measures.

The delegates also listened eagerly to a report of T. L. Burke, of the American Federation of Labor, on the progress of the American program.

The secretary of the congress, William Citrine, moving the resolution calling upon the British government, said the expansionist policy being pursued in the United States has been advocated by the Trade Union congress. He added that it was receiving greater support than at any other period in history.
