Collier named interim police chief

City names fund recipients

By LUIS RIOS

The Colorado City Council board members appointed CCPD Sgt. Steve Collier to serve as interim Police Chief and also dispersed motel-hotel occupancy receipts after listening to spokesmen from nine different organizations during a called meeting Tuesday night.

The Council upon a recommendation from interim City Manager Gary Smith and a special committee voted to appoint Collier as Police Chief until a full-time Chief can be named.

However, most of the council members' time was taken up by listening to requests from various civic organizations for funds from the motel-hotel occupancy receipts.

The Council voted to approve a resolution to award the Volunteer Fire Department $1,000; the Mitchell County United Girls' Softball Association $1,500; the Teenage Baseball League $450; the City Parks Board $6,000; the Chamber of Commerce $500; the Dell Barber Kiwanis Park $200; the Colorado City Bass Club $500; the Railhead Arts and Crafts Roundup $850 and the Colorado City Playhouse $1,000.

The Council is expecting to collect $12,000 from motel-hotel occupancy receipts under the new proposed budget. The total amount of funds dispersed totalled exactly $12,000.

The awarding of the money came after different spokesmen from the organizations mentioned asked for requests from the council.

The Council also accepted two bids for the complete renovation and painting of the city hall and city buildings. The renovation bid went to Boyd Construction for $8,900.

The painting bid went to Billy Ray Williamson for $2,200 and also for two lawn mower tractors belonging to the city.

The firetruck note at a local bank was extended for an additional two months or 60 days after gaining approval from the councilmembers.

City Manager Smith was also authorized to

Carson & Barnes to exhibit zoo

A traveling zoo valued in excess of $1,000,000 will be exhibited without additional charge to all patrons of the Carson & Barnes 5-Ring Circus, which comes to Colorado City at E. 10th St. & Hwy. 208 for one day only, shows at 4:30 and 8 p.m. on Thursday, March 29 sponsored by Wolf Band Boosters.

More than 200 wild, exotic and domestic animals, including some 27 species, are included in the menagerie and horse fair. Pride of the management are recently-acquired baby giraffes.

Features of the Carson & Barnes zoo are the elephants--more than 25 in all, both African and Asian. They also take part in the show, as do many of the almost 100 prize horses and ponies which are exhibited in the attached horse fair.

A White rhinoceros is the largest ever displayed by an American circus and the public is afforded an excellent view of this rare specimen by the spacious, raised enclosure in which it is exhibited.

Among other species on exhibition are a hippopotamus, Bactrian camel, Arabian dromedaries, lions, ostrich, Pygmy goats, Bengal tigers, three breeds of zebra, llamas, Sicilian donkeys, guanacos, dwarf steer, zebo and emu, as well as Arabian, Belgian, quarter, Morgan, Appaloosa, and Percheron horses

Fire destroys barn

By LUIS RIOS

Colorado City fire fighters battled a blaze at the Pete Barkley residence nine miles northeast of town Thursday from 2 p.m. until after 8 p.m., said Volunteer fire department spokesperson Billy Ray Williamson.

The barn fire totalled approximately 10 to 15 thousand dollars in damage, Williamson said. Lost in the blaze were approximately 15 tons of seed, 100 bales of hay, a 1974 ¾ ton Ford truck some saddles and other farm equipment, he added.

The 50-60 mph winds that shook Colorado City Thursday added more to the fire, Williamson said. Eleven fire fight-

Management contracts approved by board

By LUIS RIOS

The Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees approved the contracts of all the CISD supervisors, directors and superintendents for an additional school year during a called meeting Monday night.

The main topic of discussion during the meeting was the salary schedule for the upcoming year, said CISD superintendent Charlie Uselton

The upgraded salary scheduled will increase the hourly pay of cafeteria personnel, custodians, and other hourly personnel. The increase will be 20 cents more an hour, Uselton said.

The board also had a long discussion concerning teachers' salaries, he added. The board voted to up grade the teacher pay up to $1,500 above the state scale for teachers with a Bachelor's degree and $1,800 above the state scale for teachers with a Masters degree.

The CISD was currently paying $1,250 above the state scale for

Police arrest six

In Saturday shooting incident

By LUIS RIOS

The Colorado City Police Department arrested six individuals in connection with a shooting incident that occurred at an arcade located at 947 Front St., said Police Chief Ed Wheat.

Four C-City police officers were called to investigate a shooting on Front Street from 8:23 p.m. until 9:15 p.m. Saturday, Wheat said.

Two persons were injured during the shooting, Wheat said. The two were transported to Root Memorial Hospital. They were treated and released.

The incident involved seven individuals, however, only six persons were arrested during the initial investigation. Two firearms were confiscated from the scene, Wheat said.

The incident resulted from a dispute over a $2 debt, the C-City Chief said.

McKinney vying for C.A.

Pete McKinney

Pete McKinney, 33-year-old Colorado City attorney, has announced his intention to run for the County Attorney's office as a write-in candidate.

McKinney, active in the practice of law in Colorado City, said that he had considered the race for some time, but that his firm decision came within the past two weeks.

He is a member of the Lion's Club, a past member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Loraine Church of Christ.

He has lived in Colorado City since 1976 and is a member of the firm of Thompson, Rees and McKinney. He is married and has one child.

He is a graduate of Big Lake High School and received a Doctor of Jurisprudence from Texas Tech in 1976 and has attended the advanced criminal law clinics of-

Auditions set for playhouse production

The Colorado City Playhouse is announcing auditions for its next production, "Tribute" by Bernard Slade. Auditions will be at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Opera House.

Director Marsha Moore encourages all interested persons to attend.

"Tribute" is an update story of a happy-go-lucky fellow in his fifties who suddenly discovers that he is dying of cancer. He has never established a meaningful relationship with his son. He decides that now is the time, but this soon proves that relationships are strained when rushed.

The movie version of "Tribute" was released in 1982 and the original play was first presented on Broadway in 1981. Jack Lemon starred in both of these productions.

The characters require parts for two men in their late forties or early fifties and one young man in his early twenties. The female roles require one woman in her fifties, one in her forties, one in her thirties and one in her early twenties.

Directing the production for the Playhouse will be Marsha Moore who has directed "Godspell," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Harvey" and "Wait Until Dark," on the Playhouse stage.

Performance dates are tentatively set for late May or early June.

The play consists of seven characters:

Lou Daniels--a man in his early fifties who looks older than his years.

Dr. Gladys Petrelli--in her fifties.

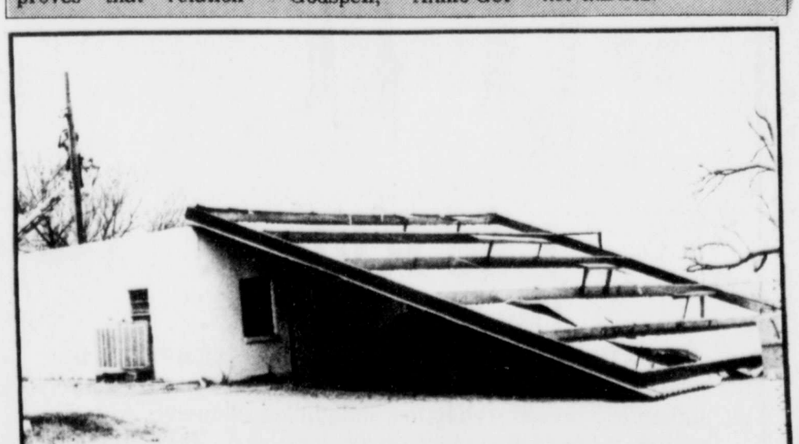

Scottie Templeton--fifty-one but looks ten years younger.

Sally Haines--a girl in her early twenties.

Maggie Stratton--in her mid-forties.

Jud Templeton--Scottie's twenty-year-old son.

Hillary--a woman in her thirties.

FIFTY TO 60-mile-per hour winds, which ripped through Colorado City Thursday, knocked a roof off this house east of the Colorado City Auction Barn.

Recognition awards highlight band banquet

By MELINDA SELVERA

"Set specific goals and achieve them" was the topic of an enlightening evening as guest speaker Mr. Dan Gibbs, former band director of Monahans High, spoke at the band banquet March 24.

Hawaiian leis, pineapples, and brightly colored flowers highlighted the evening and added a sparkling touch to the theme of the banquet, "Aloha."

The night began with a welcome given by band president Kerry Wright, and an invocation led by vice president John Mayo.

Special awards of recognition were given to officers Kerry Wright, John Mayo and Becky Albin. Also a special award was presented to drum major Dianne Jones for outstanding work and dedication.

Chosen for the 1984 band beau and sweetheart were seniors Dennis Rivera and Becky Albin. Earning the award of Mr. and Miss Enthusiasm, Spirit and Pride were seniors John Mayo and Becky Albin.

A new award was presented to the Most Improved Individual or Section with the winner being the coronet section. Sharing the award for Outstanding Section during Marching Season were the French horn and tuba sections.

Receiving the award for Most Outstanding Freshman Band Student of the Year were Raye Leigh Marion and Daphne Fowler. Lisa Garner and Rhonda Barber shared the award for Most Outstanding Sophomore Band Students of the Year. Melinda Selvera, Barbara Heredia, Steve Rosas and Kristie McMillan received the Most Outstanding Junior Band Members of the Year award. This year's recipient of the John Phillip Sousa Award was Senior Kerry Wright.

Special awards were also given to those making the All-District band, All-Region band, All-Region Orchestra and State Solo and Ensemble Contest winners.

The evening was wrapped up with the reading of senior wills and prophesies and traditional "Fish Clean-up." Steele Dorr Music deejayed the very successful dance.

Baird man found dead at rest area

A 67-year-old Baird man was found dead by Mitchell County Sheriff's department Sunday morning at the westbound rest area just east of the Loraine city limits, said Sheriff Wendell Bryant.

Guillermo Ramirez was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Joan Merket at 11:05 a.m. Sunday. The JP also ordered an autopsy at Malone-Hogan Hospital in Big Spring.

Results of the autopsy were not available Tuesday. However, Sheriff Bryant said he believed the man probably died of natural causes.

Bryant said there was no sign of foul play at the scene.

Ramirez was in a late-model Ford pickup when he was found by the MC Sheriff's Department.

ers fought the blaze at one time, he added.

The CCVFD had only two units at the blaze. However, Sparks Construction Company helped by bringing a load of water to the scene.

The fire was probably the cause of the high winds whipping the electrical wire leading to the barn, Williamson said. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

In his race for the county office, he will face incumbent County Attorney Pat Barber, whose term has been complicated by charges and counter charges which received much publicity.

McKinney's statement is given below:

"I am entering the race for Mitchell County Attorney as a write-in candidate and I sincerely hope the people of this county will help me with their votes and support.

"I had thought about entering this race earlier but made the decision to run in the past two weeks. Many people asked me to run, but the decision had to be a personal one.

"If I am elected, I think I can provide a change in the County Attorney's office.

"I intend to run a positive campaign. I'm not a candidate of any particular group but intend to represent EVERY group in Mitchell County."

tice of the Peace Charles Ray Watlington were Charlene Mayes, Janet Miles, Amanda Miles, JoNell Mayes Pierce and Beverly Mayes. Also arraigned was Charles Edward Green.

The persons were arraigned on charges for aggravated assault and the bond was set at $2,500 for each individual. Only Green was unable to post bond and he is still in custody in the Mitchell County jail, Watlington said.

Kenny Ray Green was also arraigned before JP Watlington for burglary of a habitation to commit bodily harm. Bond was set at $5,000 and he was released March 26.

Daniel Rivera was also arraigned for making alcohol available to a minor. He posted bond at $500 and was released March 24.

teachers with a Bachelors degree and $1,500 above the state scale for teachers with a Masters degree.

The board also accepted to increase coaches, administrators and directors salaries a small percentage, Uselton said. The raises will range from $50 to $300.

The raises for the teachers is not final, Uselton said. The teacher raises will be re-evaluated after the state decides what kind of raise they will be providing, if any.

The board also heard a request from Manuel Molina for the use of the teenage baseball field by the athletic field house. Molina said the use of the field will be for a semi-pro baseball team. The board approved the measure only if the semi-pro baseball schedule would not interfere with the C-City Pony League schedule.

The CISD board also had some very good re-evaluations on the teachers, Uselton said. The teacher contracts will be up for renewal in the April meeting.

Driver cooperation leads to less traffic deaths

Statistics compiled by the Department of Public Safety show 448 fewer persons lost their lives in Texas traffic accidents last year compared to 1982. The 10.5 percent decline in 1983 follows a reduction of 430 fatalities in 1982.

"This is the first time in 25 years that Texas has experienced a reduction in fatalities for two years in a row," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "This represents a saving of 878 lives over the past two years and would not have been possible without the cooperation of many Texas drivers and increased law enforcement activities."

A total of 3,823 persons died as a result of motor vehicle crashes in Texas last year compared to 4,271 in 1982 and 4,701 in 1981.

The mileage death rate for 1983, three deaths per hundred million miles traveled, was the lowest in Texas history. The 1982 mileage death rate was 3.4.

The DPS director said public sentiment has continued to build against drunk and unsafe drivers.

"I'm hopeful that this concern will lead to a long term change in attitudes which will encourage safe driving habits by motorists," Adams said. "Since law enforcement resources are limited, we must continue to seek voluntary compliance with the traffic laws."

Adams noted that at least 26 percent (1,006) of the 1983 fatalities involved DWI.

"Since state law did not require blood alcohol measurements from drivers involved in fatal accidents last year, we believe this statistic substantially understates the drunk driver's role in fatal accidents," Adams said.

Statewide DWI arrests in 1983 totaled 149,621, an increase of 33 percent compared to the 1982 figure.

Motorcycle operator and passenger deaths totaled 349 last year, a decline of 13.4 percent compared to the previous year. About three out of four motorcyclists killed were not wearing helmets when the accidents occurred.

Almost 98 percent of the persons killed in passenger vehicles were not wearing seat belts.

The number of persons injured in 1983 traffic accidents increased by 1.7 percent.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation estimated that motorists traveled 129.309 billion miles in 1983, an increase of 3.5 percent above 1982.

and several breeds of ponies.

Each morning, when the huge wagons transporting the show arrive on the lot, the many animals are unloaded, fed and watered. This is a free show which may be seen by everyone coming to the circusgrounds. This year, several teams of draft horses will be working, along with elephants.

While Carson & Barnes has gained an international reputation for its fine collection of animals, the management also has spared no expense to bring the finest human performers under its big top. The 5-ring performance features premier talent from Latin and Central America, Spain, Europe, Mexico, Asia and of course, the United States.

Tickets purchased before show day from the local sponsor provide a $1 saving from prices at the gate. They may be purchased at: the Chamber of Commerce, Judy's Beauty Shop and from any Band Booster member.

Club discusses electronic marvels

The Self Culture Club was hosted by Mrs. Earl Brown with co-hostess Mrs. Wilford Oyler on March 16.

Prayer, Pledge of allegiance to the U.S. Flag was said by Dona Reed.

Cards and napkins were sold for a money making project.

Della Fox spoke on advancement in electronic marvels. "What has God Wrought" were the historic words tapped out by Samuel Morse on a telegraph in 1844. How would this pioneer in communications react to the technical explosion now on the horizon? The limit won't be technology but on man's imagination, says a physicist who is developing a talking computer.

In the future nearly everything from chores to entertainment will be influenced by computer-run appliances. Now, a silicon chip holds 500,000 electrical impulses, by the turn of the century computer science will have advanced to two billion bits to a thumbnail-size chip.

Entertainment, news, public service and educational programs from all over the world, reception will permit translations of foreign broadcasts. Videodiscs will make today's videotape recorders obsolete.

The medium for transmitting information will be light in many cases. These advances will transform the lives of Americans. A farmer, given a few hours notice before a severe storm, will assemble work crews through an electronic job bank, use his computer to figure out the most valuable acres to be saved.

A working parent won't have to wonder about whether a child got home safely from schools. Sensors at the front door will register the child's thumbprint, triggering an electronic phone system linked to the parent's office. Such development will place a premium on people with the creativity and knowledge to make the most of all these advances.

Those present were: Linnie Williams, Elizabeth Elliott, Fannie Beeman, Jewell Tiller, Dona Reed, Ida Keith, Eddie Barclay, Della Fox, Pearl Watson and the hostess Lil Brown.

Weather boosts Wolves to outstanding performances

By TONY FRANCO

Even Mother Nature cooperated in making last Saturday's Lone Wolf Relays a successful event.

On a day that started chilly, warmed up and then got downright hot, four Relay records fell, the Colorado City girls varsity captured a title and the Wolf boys barely missed out on keeping their own meet trophy.

Pacing all competitors was the Wolves' sophomore sensation Sandra Williams.

Williams led her team to its first title in anyone's recent memory, winning the long jump (16'10"), triple jump (34'7"), 100 meter dash (12.6), 200 meter (27.08) and anchored Colorado City's winning 400 meter relay (51.5).

Her victory in 100 meters led a 1-2 Colorado City finish as senior Linda Scott ran a second place 13.26.

Also on the winning 400 meter relay were Scott, Staci Free and Sherry Fite.

Fite, a sophomore, provided the Wolves other first place finishes by high jumping 4'8" and running a 61.46 400 meter dash in leading a Wolf 1-2 sweep in the event. The second place finisher was Janie DeLoera, also a sophomore, who covered the lap in 67.08.

Also in the girls division, Loraine's Leslie Rose accounted for one of the new records.

The area leader in the event and holder of one of the top ten throws in the state, Rose heaved the shotput a record 37'5" while teammate Janie Barrera had a second place 30'9¾".

Rose, a senior at LHS, added another first for the Bulldogs by throwing the discus 97'7½".

The other record to fall in the girls division was in the 1600 meter relay, where Post set the record with a 4:19.34.

Colorado City girls coach George Martin was especially pleased with his troops second place finish in the event. The relay team of Yvette Camp, Jody Huff, Fite and Dora Andrews ran a 4:22.43 for their best time of the year.

In the boys division, Colorado City and Slaton battled for the team trophy throughout the day.

Prior to the 100 meter dash, the Wolves led the Tigers 81-79 before Slaton won five of the last six events to pull away.

Heading Colorado City's efforts by capturing first places were Jay Claxton, Don Randle and Joey Ritchey.

In winning the 3200 meter run, Claxton lowered his area leading time down to a 10:14.23.

Randle high jumped 6'1" for his first place while Ritchey easily outdistanced the field by winning the 200 meter dash with a 23.16 clocking.

Colorado City added second place finishes in the shot put, where Fred Dakan uncorked a 48'10" throw, the 400 meter relay, 100 meter dash (Ritchey), 300 meter intermediate hurdles (Dennis Rivera) and 1600 meter relay.

The top performer in the boys varsity division was Slaton's David Henzler.

Henzler won the 110 meter high hurdles in a record 14.25, won the 300 meter intermediate hurdles in 39.46 and anchored Slaton's winning 1600 meter relay, that clinched the team trophy.

The other record to fall was in the 1600 meter run, where Slaton's Jimenez posted a 4:39.91 clocking.

Perhaps the biggest story of all was in the boys junior varsity division where the Colorado City tracksters won every event.

That's right, they won every event to accumulate an astonishing 294 total points.

JUNIOR CORONADO, anchor for the junior varsity 1600 meter relay, shows the thrill of victory upon his teams easy victory in the event. Coronado and his teammates complete dominance of the junior varsity division is most clearly illustrated by the absence of the second place runner, yet to round the final turn.

SOPHOMORE SHERRY FITE closes in on the finish line during her victory in the 400 meter dash last Saturday. In addition, Fite won the high jump to help the Lady Wolves capture the team trophy of the Lone Wolf Relays.

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Manager-Community Relations

This month I'd like to break from our usual format to introduce the new president of the company's Texas Division, James R. Adams (pictured below).

Mr. Adams (he prefers to be called Jim) was born and raised in San Antonio. He started with Southwestern Bell in San Antonio in 1965. Jim was named to the top post in Texas in January. This was at the same time Southwestern Bell became an independent company following the divestiture of the Bell System.

Jim will be travelling throughout the state and meeting as many of you as possible this year. Since he can't possibly visit with everyone, I'd like to turn over the rest of this column to Jim to share some of his thoughts with you.

A new company strategy

As a native Texan recently returned to this state from New Jersey, I'm excited to be back among the vigor and vitality of the Lone Star State.

You know, a lot of people have been asking me: "What is this new, independent Southwestern Bell Telephone?" Well, to begin with, it's still a company that's very much committed to quality service. But it's also a company with employees who have the courage and conviction to make Southwestern Bell Telephone succeed. And it's more, too.

Since I arrived in Texas, I've set a new direction for Southwestern Bell Telephone. My plan identifies a four-point approach to priorities that will help us serve you better.

You come first

First, as a company, we're going to remember that our reason for existence is satisfying you — our customers. That means giving you what you want, not what we assume you need.

Our internal measurements of service indicate we're providing good service. But our surveys with customers indicate that, in many cases, you don't always agree that your needs are being met. We must overcome this gap.

In short, only if you are satisfied will we be satisfied.

Our financial health

My second objective for Southwestern Bell Telephone is financial health — and that's more than financial viability. A tremendous tie exists between companies that are financially healthy and those that satisfy their customers.

In our business, financial health has two very important parts. The first is adequate revenues. Southwestern Bell Telephone generates additional revenues by selling new services.

When we get additional revenues by raising telephone rates, it is because that is our last resort, if we are to provide first-class service to you.

The second part of our financial health situation is efficient management. We have a reputation for being a very efficiently managed corporation. The only way for us to continue to assure financial health is to look even more aggressively at expenses, and control those expenses.

Another priority is for all our company to continue to work as a team. All our employees in Texas are members of the same team. We all have the common objective of providing customer satisfaction. We have so many competitors outside our business, it's imperative that within our business, we all work together. And we will.

You are our stakeholders

Still another priority is understanding our various "stakeholders." Our customer body, which includes all of you, is made up of numerous publics — residence customers, small businesses, large businesses, consumer groups, senior citizen organizations, legislative advocacy groups, and so forth.

We can't expect to achieve our goals unless we fully recognize the stakeholders with whom we deal. While all are our customers, each one has particular needs, each his or her own special interests.

Without question, I believe Southwestern Bell Telephone and its employees have the spirit and commitment to be successful. We will if we fulfill our four priorities — satisfying customers, remaining financially healthy, working as a team and really understanding you, our stakeholders.

You know, when I look back on Southwestern Bell's proud history of service in Texas, I'm amazed at how far we've come. But with our new spirit, I'm even more excited about how far we still can go.

* * * *

If any of you have questions or comments for Mr. Adams or for me, just let me know.

Computer workshop set in Brownwood

Computers can help farmers, ranchers and homemakers in their decision-making by providing them with an instantaneous barrage of management information. All of this will be put into perspective at a computer workshop at the Texas 4-H Center at Lake Brownwood April 3-4.

The workshop will provide basic information on computer terminology and selection and the role of the computer in the farm, ranch, agribusiness and home. In addition, operating systems and basic programming procedures will be discussed for those with some prior computer experience, points out Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, which is sponsoring the event.

Registration will be from 12 noon to 1 p.m. the first day, and opening discussions will focus on computer applications to family resource management and farm and ranch management.

Discussions on computer hardware (the computer itself) and software (the computer program) and tips on selecting a computer also will be featured.

Computer software and hardware vendors will provide a number of exhibits for workshop participants, adds Lovell.

Workshop participants will have an opportunity to get some "hands on" experience with computers during a series of concurrent sessions dealing with the following: preparing for computerized accounting systems, selecting a farm or ranch accounting system, crop decision aids, electronic spreadsheets, marketing decision aids, data base management system, livestock decision aids, and dairy decision aids.

The sessions will be repeated the second day, says Lovell, and the workshop will conclude at noon.

Anyone interested in attending the workshop should contact his local county Extension agent as soon as possible to pre-register.

"Blow season" could lead to more erosion problems

Wind erosion has damaged more than a million acres of Texas cropland and rangeland the past few months, and it is still early in the "blow season." Conditions undoubtedly will become worse this spring.

"Current cropping systems in many areas just do not provide the needed protection to prevent soil erosion by wind," says Dr. B. L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Wind erosion is a problem primarily in western, central and southwestern sections of Texas and does its worst damage to croplands, Harris says.

"The most serious lasting damage from erosion is the separation and removal of silt, clay and organic matter from the surface, leaving only infertile and blowing sand," Harris explains. "The blowing sand piles up in dunes, causing loss of productive land, covering fences, equipment and buildings, and damaging crops."

To control wind erosion, a combination of practices is most effective, with conservation tillage systems offering good potential for many erosion-prone soils, says the specialist.

A rough surface–the ridges and depressions formed by tillage–goes a long way in battling wind erosion, notes Harris. Roughness, at an optimum height of two to five inches, reduces wind surface velocity and traps sand particles.

"Cloddiness," the relative abundance of firm and stable aggregates of soil material resistant to erosion, also serves as a barrier to wind erosion. More than half the soil surface should be protected by large clods.

"Both cloddiness and surface roughness can be affected by the type of tillage equipment used," Harris says. "Equipment which inverts the soil covers surface residue. Disk-type plows cover more residue and destroy soil clods more than sweep-type plows. Disks also create greater compaction pans than sweep plows.

"Vegetative cover is the best and most effective technique to control wind erosion," contends Harris. "The protection afforded by cover, either living or dead, depends on the size and quantity of residue. For example, wheat stubble is more effective than sorghum or corn stubble."

Erosion increases as field length increases, so the length should be reduced along the prevailing wind direction with barriers or windbreaks, or by planting perpendicular to the prevailing wind. A windbreak will protect an area equal to 10 times the height of the barrier, the specialist points out.

Research is being conducted on the use of terbars to reduce wind erosion. Terbars are small terrace barriers planted with a perennial plant–such as lovegrass, kleingras and Alamo switchgrass–on the top ridge. This technique has proven to be very effective in reducing erosion and maintaining yields, and its use is expected to expand.

"Other factors affecting erosion include wind speed and soil moisture," Harris says. "Erosion increases rapidly as winds exceed 20 mph, and erosion decreases as soil moisture increases. Therefore, irrigation practices and benching or leveling land on slopes can provide effective temporary controls of wind erosion."

Information is available from several agencies to assist farmers and ranchers in dealing with wind erosion problems. Among those agencies are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Soil and Water Conservation Board and Districts, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and Agricultural Research Service. SCS is the agency with primary responsibility for providing information and technical assistance for erosion control.

Burning recommended to regulate undesired brush

Controlled burning on rangelands is one of the most economical methods used today to control several of the undesirable brush species associated with rangelands. Besides the cost, it has proven to be very effective in most cases. Generally, if the pre-requisites of a prescribed burn are met, one can expect overall good results. In Mitchell County, some area ranchers are using fire to help make their tabosagrass ranges more palatable to their livestock says SCS range conservationist, Mike Squires. At the same time, the fire helps to control mesquite, pricklypear, tasajillo, catclaw and other unwanted species.

A rancher must follow three basic steps for conducting a successful burning program: (1) thorough planning, (2) proper application of the fire to the intended area, and (3) sound range, livestock and wildlife management prior to, during and following the burn.

Burning when the brush regrowth is young and when fuel loads are near maximum can maintain high production ranges more effectively. Rangelands with heavy brush infestations will require two to three burns before most rancher objectives are realized. Therefore, emphasis should be placed on burning the better range sites that have good grass fuels with an open stand of brush regrowth.

Proper deferrment is a major factor in preparing pastures to be burned. In order for a fire to carry uniformly across an acre there must be continuity of fuel. With adequate deferrment enough fuel can be accumulated to feed the fire.

Under a mixed grass prairie situation, including mixed brush, fire can be used to (1) remove excess litter, (2) increase yields of grasses, (3) increase accessibility and palatability of grasses, (4) reduce brush canopy, (5) burn down dead mesquite stems, (6) control 40 to 80 percent of most cactus species and (7) kill undesirable cool-season annual weeds.

It is important to obtain a weather forecast prior to burning and plan accordingly. With the approach of a front winds can shift and be the cause of a fire getting out of its intended boundaries. Fire is an effective tool used in the field of range management and should be considered only as one step in an overall sound range management plan.

Prescribed burning, when applied correctly and at the correct time of the year can be a relatively inexpensive way of helping to improve the condition of rangelands. For additional information or assistance about prescribed burning, contact the Soil Conservation Service personnel in the G-Kell building.

THIS PHOTO shows an area after a prescribed burn had been conducted. With enough fuel available, mesquite such as this can be effectively controlled.

Air Force re-enlistment bonus available to some

Former Air Force members who return to the Air Force before September 30, 1984, may be eligible to receive a broken service selective re-enlistment bonus, according to Staff Sgt. Stevens, Air Force recruiter located in Abilene.

The bonuses are available in nearly 20 specialities.

The amount of the bonuses depends on how long the individual has been separated, and the multiple-level and zone of the bonus. Contact Sgt. Stevens at (915) 672-8949 for further information.

BURNING can help to control species such as this pricklypear. Fire damage can directly kill the cactus or make it susceptible to insects which can aid in the control.

Farmer aid program started

Governor Mark White has joined Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower in launching a state program to help farmers get the financing they need to buy land and enter the business of agriculture.

"The Governor and I know that these are exceptionally hard times for agriculture, so we are ready to announce implementation of the Texas Family Farm & Ranch Security Act," Hightower said. "These family operators certainly deserve a pat on the back, but Texas agriculture also needs a helping hand, and this state program will give some farmers a boost that will pay off for all Texans in the long run.

The average age of Texas farmers and ranchers today is 52 years and rising, because the number of young Texans entering our most basic industry has slowed to a trickle. There are plenty of qualified, capable individuals out there who want to farm or ranch, but the combination of depressed commodity prices and skyrocketing production costs has just slammed the door on them.

Under the Act, the Commissioner of Agriculture may guarantee a lender or seller up to 90 percent of the amount due on family farm and ranch security loans; or if the borrower makes a down payment of 10 percent or more, the full amount of the land can be guaranteed. Applicants, together with spouse and dependents, must have a net worth of less than $100,000, excluding residential homestead, and must use the farm or ranchland as his-her primary occupation.

"We're now open for business," Hightower said, "and we welcome applicants."

Gonzales named award winner

Julia Gonzalez

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Julia Gonzales, has been named a 1984 United States National Award winner in Business Education. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Miss Gonzales, who attends Westbrook High School, was nominated for this National Award by Mrs. Hontas Hines, a Business Education teacher at the school. She will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gonzales. The grandparents are Isidro Gonzales of Colorado City.

Walior wins design contest

Chris Walior, son of Mrs. Don Powell of Colorado City, has won first prize in the National Recreational Sports Week Design contest. His design for posters and buttons for Sports Week 1984, will be used in the national promotion.

The contest was on the national level, with art majors and advertising artists from all over the United States submitting entries. Chris received a cash award as well as the honor of having his design chosen for this year's posters.

Chris is a junior at North Texas State University in Denton, majoring in Advertising Art, and minoring in advertising journalism. He attended Western Texas College in Snyder for two years on an art scholarships.

He is married to the former Rebecca Pierce of Snyder. They have one son, Bryan.

Butler is selected to head Prospect Discovery

Bro. Glen Butler, pastor of Plainview Baptist Church, has been selected as the chairman of the church's Scripture Distribution - Prospect Discovery project to be conducted beginning April 8 through 25.

The Scripture Distribution-Prospect Discovery is an effort of Plainview Baptist Church to distribute New Testaments and to locate people in the community who are not members of a local congregation.

Other Southern Baptist churches throughout the state also will be distributing New Testaments and conducting surveys in their communities in April.

The Scripture Distribution-Prospect Discovery is part of an overall effort of the Evangelism and Sunday School Divisions of the Baptist General Convention of Texas to increase baptisms and Sunday School enrollment throughout Texas.

Also working with Scripture Distribution-Prospect Discovery committees from Plainview Baptist Church are chairpersons, Bo Kelley, Blanche Butler, Modell Shurtleff and Lillian Vest.

Belvin receives honorable mention

Former Colorado City RECORD sports editor Steven Belvin received an honorable mention rating in sports column for the Big Spring Herald by the Texas Associated Press Managing editors last weekend.

Belvin's column was about the New Orleans Saints missing out on the NFL playoffs because of a defensive oversight.

The 25-year-old Colorado City native has been employed by the Herald as a sports writer for four-and-one half months.

The AP award was one of five won by the Herald. Belvin is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico State University. He received a B.A. degree in journalism in 1982.

George Davenport

To The Citizens Of Mitchell County

On the 5th of May 1984, you, the residents of Mitchell County will have the choice of voting for a Candidate for Sheriff of Mitchell County.

As a Candidate for the Sheriff of Mitchell County, I would like to take this opportunity to ask for your vote and assistance. Serving the residents of Mitchell County as Sheriff is my desire and goal.

I believe that the position of Sheriff is one of the greatest responsibilities entrusted to an individual. As your Sheriff we will work together establishing goals and policies for better Law Enforcement, for Residential Deputies in the Cities of Westbrook and Loraine, for a combined working relationship of City, State and County Police Agencies, for a 24 hour open door Sheriff's Department and for a 24 hour patrol of the County. To assist with my goals and policies will be an experienced, mature, working staff.

All of my goals and policies can and will be set within the alloted budget of the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department.

I would consider it a great honor to be elected as Sheriff of Mitchell County. I will strive to do a most effective job utilizing my experience and knowledge to build a civic and moral minded Department. Again I say, your vote would greatly be appreciated.

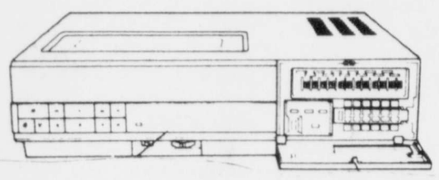

Thank You
George Davenport
Candidate for Sheriff of Mitchell County

Baptist women discuss prayer

Women of the First Baptist Church of Loraine met in the home of Mrs. Frances Porter at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday for their Current Mission program and Bible study.

Mrs. Clara Butler gave the prayer calendar and prayer for Missionaries whose birthday was on this day was said by Mrs. Porter.

Mrs. Porter gave the introduction to the program entitled "Breaking Down Barriers Through Prayer." Others discussing this topic were Mmes. Bernice Hallmark, Ida Baird, Charlie Harris and Lynn Compton. This topic brought out the certainty that every situation in life had some barriers and the mission field is no exception. Many instances were told of how prayer through individuals and churches broke down these barriers and churches were started and God directed in doing a great work among those who knew not Christ.

Our country has many opportunities in these times to witness to those from other countries who are coming to our door, bringing cultures and lifestyles from their countries, yet there are barriers of languages, cultural differences, misunderstandings to face. Leadership for these people and finances to promote work among them are barriers that must be settled.

Workers must trust God to break down the barriers, and after earnest prayer and full commitment to the work results are seen.

Lynn Compton led in the Bible lession taken from Acts with all taking part in the discussion.

Drinking water is program topic

Mrs. T. L. Holman was hostess for the North Loraine TEHA Club Wednesday March 21, at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Lola Faye Bennett led the group in the Club Creed for the opening. Mrs. Holman conducted a humorous quiz game.

The roll call was answered with some cultural practice that is observed in other parts of our country, but not locally.

Some discussion was conducted regarding the District meeting in Ballinger April 12, and the up-coming State meeting in San Angelo.

Following the business, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler brought a program entitled "Drink and Be Wary." The topic relates to the dangers being discovered in the drinking water in rural areas of America.

A research team from Cornell University stated that 63 percent of all rural Americans are drinking water that is, by EPA standards, excessively contaminated. This research team's work is being sponsored by EPA, under a five million dollar U.S. grant for a five-year period.

These are some of the statistics that research has discovered. Twenty-nine percent of households surveyed had high bacterial count above EPA approval. Twenty-nine percent of water analyzed showed excessive mercury levels. Seventeen percent showed too much lead and 17 percent had excessive calcium etc.

The team stated that there were some findings, but they did not turn up any widespread medical problems. The long term excessive, however, might prove otherwise. Never the less, many farm families have good reason to wonder.

The arsenic problems that developed in the water supplies in North Dakota last spring have caused great concern, and remedial answers are under study. Many animals have died in that area. Bottled drinking water is bought for the people's use.

Use of nitrates, and various herbicides have contributed to problems in some areas, especially in irrigated areas.

It was suggested that tural dwellers should have their water checked annually for coliform bacteria, pesticides, nitrates and other contaminants.

Safety precautions regarding water supply was also given.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Holman to Mmes. Roy Wells, Rosie Hamrick, Lola Fay Bennett, J. E. Price, Jack Linam, Raymond Wheeler and two visitors, Mrs. Arthur Marth and Ruby Lee Small.

Baumann Club meets

The Baumann TEHA Club members met in the home of Pauline Griffin Tuesday, March 20 with 10 members present.

Minutes were read by Lynn Compton and Pauline Griffin gave the treasurer's report, and also gave the Council report.

Members were urged to send their expense money in if they plan to go to Ballinger April 12 to attend the District meeting.

Arrangements were made for workers for the J. C. Auction sale to be held in Colorado City and a get well card was signed by each, to send to Pauline Smiley, a member who is in the Lubbock hospital.

Stella Harris brought the program on "Conserve Water Now." Her talk included the importance and necessity of water in life. We use it for drinking, preparing food, baths, washing clothing, watering lawns and gardens, etc. Life itself depends upon water.

She said there is no national water shortage, but at times many sections may have to ration supplies. Water is previous, but water costs, therefore we should learn how to conserve water in our homes in giving some of the ways one could conserve water in their homes are to watch for leaky faucets, install a water-saving shower head, be sure your dishwasher is fully loaded, as well as having a full load in your washer. Repair all leaks as quickly as possible, turn off faucets when shaving, brushing teeth, washing vegetables, etc. It is surprising how much water is wasted in this way. There are many other ways to conserve on your water consumption she said and lower your cost.

Present were one guest, Sharon Hammond and members, Mmes. Gertrude Simms, Vada Preston, Era Mae Cornutt, Bernice Hallmark, Inez Webb, Lynn Compton, Gladys Payne, Clara Butler, Stella Harris and the hostess.

LHS band selling candy for funds

At the present time, the Loraine high school band is participating in a fund raising project. The band members are selling chocolate candy bars to raise money for the band.

On April 9, at 7:30 p.m., the band plans to perform their annual Spring concert. This concert is to prepare the band for the UIL Concert Band Contest, and everyone is invited to attend. On March 26th the band had a night rehearsal at the LHS auditorium. Present at the rehearsal was a clinician from the Chicago area, Mr. Shotlif. He was very helpful and gave the band some helpful advice and suggestions.

For the UIL Concert Band contest on April 11, the band will travel to Abilene. Everyone wishes the best of luck to the LHS band in their upcoming activities.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Pratt of Loraine announce the birth of their great-grandson, Jared Ross in Farmington, N.M. on Friday, March 23.

Jared weighed 6 lbs. and 12½ ozs. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Pratt of Farmington, N.M. and his paternal grandfather is Willard Pratt of Fort Worth.

Relatives visit Stanleys

Rev. and Mrs. William Stanley of Loraine had as their guests last Friday until Monday her two sisters, Mr. and Mrs. John Lighthall from Bloomington, Ill. and Carlene Hagenback from Mount Pulaski, Ill., and also a sister-in-law, Joan Lingenfelter from Pana, Illinois.

While here the Stanley's entertained with a barbeque. Others present were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Guzman from Snyder.

Janet Stanley and Albert Guzman were married on January 30, 1984. She was honored at a post-nuptial gift tea at the home of Barbara Chaney in Colorado City on Saturday night. Mrs. Stanley and her guests attended.

The Guzman's will make their home in Snyder.

Band entertains sr. citizens

The "Porky Proctor Western Band" entertained the Loraine Senior Citizens when they met at the Center for the regular monthly dinner and program Tuesday night, March 20.

Reta Richards, vice president, welcomed the members and guests and gave the Invocation before the put luck meal was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Claxton and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lankford had planned the program for the evening and Mr. Claxton introduced the musical group after the meal.

Members of this string band are Porky Proctor, Dual Blair, Charles Dunn, Curt Shaw, Curtis Shaw, Everett Haggerton and Billy Joe Epperson.

Epperson was soloist with Dual joining in some of the numbers. Dual and wife, Opal Jo sang "Life's Railway to Heaven," a request from the audience.

A large crowd was present for this enjoyable evening.

Richardson almost surprised by birthday

Mrs. Moody Richardson was expecting her son, Lowell and wife, Dorothy from Lubbock last Wednesday because it was her birthday, but she "caught on" that she might be having other visitors also when her sister-in-law, Mrs. Melvin Blair of Colorado City called and said she and Melvin were coming over for a visit and bringing some dishes for their noon meal.

Others began to arrive and she soon saw that all of her family were there. Her two brothers and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Blair and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Blair, her two sisters and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glass of Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilmon of Monahans, also a sister-in-law, Ruth Blair and niece, Fields Blair of Loraine.

As she cut her birthday cake, brought by her daughter-in-law Dorothy, the group sang the "Happy Birthday" song and she declared it was a wonderful "almost" surprise party.

Loraine Personals

by Ida Baird

Mrs. Cecil Robinson of Aspermont was here Saturday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells. The Well's had as their guests Monday friends, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron DuBois from Canton, Texas.

xxx

Rita Richards made a business trip to Levelland Monday, and while there spent the night with a granddaughter, Diane Buzbee. She visited a granddaughter, Kelly Beasley in Slaton and with her sons, Lee and Wayne in Lubbock.

Mrs. Cecil Martin accompanied her and visited in the Don Opheim and Stanley Martin homes in Lubbock.

Loraine School News

By SHELLY MARTIN

Last week the One Act Play of Loraine presented "Quiet Please" for district competition. Although we did not place, we received some honors.

Darl Petty and Shelly Martin received All Star Cast honorable mention and Tommy Munoz and John McAdams received All Star cast.

The girls tennis team participated in the district. Mitzie Hallmark and Julie Wells won their first sets, but lost the next. The boys will participate next week.

Good luck boys!

News from
Root Valley Fair Lodge

By PAM JARNAGIN

Thomas Wolfe said, "You can't go home again."

We mean no disrespect to Mr. Wolfe but there are times when some of us can be home again by simply closing our eyes and remembering our homes and events in vivid detail.

Room by room, Mama quilting with flour sack material by a coal oil lamp, or coming from the kitchen with a mixture of sulpher and molasses when spring began, to purify our blood.

The residents at Root Lodge cannot only go home again but can take you with them if you have the time to listen.

Mrs. Isabel Ratliff can take you with her on the incredible romance of she and her late husband, Mr. Harry Ratliff.

Mrs. Mattie Hines can take you to the one room school houses and the children in it.

Mrs. Angelina Hammock can take you to an Indian trading post.

Mrs. Vera Carroll can take you to a clear cool spring, for a drink of the purest water that ever touched your lips.

Each and every resident can take you with them to a time when your word was your bond and your conscience was your guide.

It's hard to imagine we might have a story to tell of "the good old days," and take someone home with us in memory, but as you know, the bell, tolls for all of us.

Pageant requests being accepted

Requests are now being accepted for the 1984 North Texas National Little Miss Pageant which will be held Saturday, July 14, 1984 at the Holiday Inn Civic Center in Lubbock, Texas. This is the official regional preliminary to the State Pageant which will be held August 1984.

Contestants must be between the ages of four and seven and will be judged on poise, personality and appearance.

Trophies will be awarded in the following categories: Miss Photogenic, Best Personality, Most Poised, Best Casual Outfit and Best Party Dress. All contestants will be escorted on stage in their party dresses.

All contestants will have a full day of pageant events and mothers and guardians will be invited to spend the entire day with their daughters. Each contestant will partake in a judges interview and in two production numbers.

The winner will receive a cash award, an official portrait, National Little Miss Accessories, official banner, trophy and tiara and her sponsorship paid to the state pageant in August.

Interested young girls should write: Texas National Little Miss, Dept. PR, 2505 East 2nd Street, Lehigh Acres, Florida 33936 for further information.

Haynes to present rock music seminar

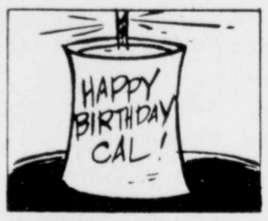

Michael K. Haynes will present a seminar on The God of Rock at First Baptist Church, Sweetwater, Texas on Monday night, April 9 at 7 p.m.

Haynes gives an analysis of this multi-billion dollar industry. You will briefly study numerous groups..their lyrics, their philosophy, their beginning, their basic message and much more.

There will be a detailed look at five major themes of rock music--sex, drugs, rebellion, false religions and satanism.

Teenagers and parents of teenagers are cordially invited to attend.

The Seminari is free to the public. A love offering will be taken to support this ministry.

The first American president to be born on Independence Day was Calvin Coolidge. His birthday was July 4, 1872.

Baptist women

The Baptist Women's night group met in the fellowship hall Thursday evening for their monthly meeting.

Louise Taylor presented the program on "New Visions, New Frontiers." Emphasis was placed on mission work within the community and projects were discussed for future mission work.

After the prayer calendar was presented, the meeting closed with prayer.

Present were Mmes. Taylor, Debbie Finley, Linda Grissom and Pat McNary.

Cain injured

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Hair received word Friday that Mrs. Clarence Cain of Loraine and her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Woodard of Atlanta, Ga., had been seriously injured in a car wreck last Wednesday and were in an Atlanta hospital. Mr. Woodard, also in the wreck, received only bruises and minor injuries.

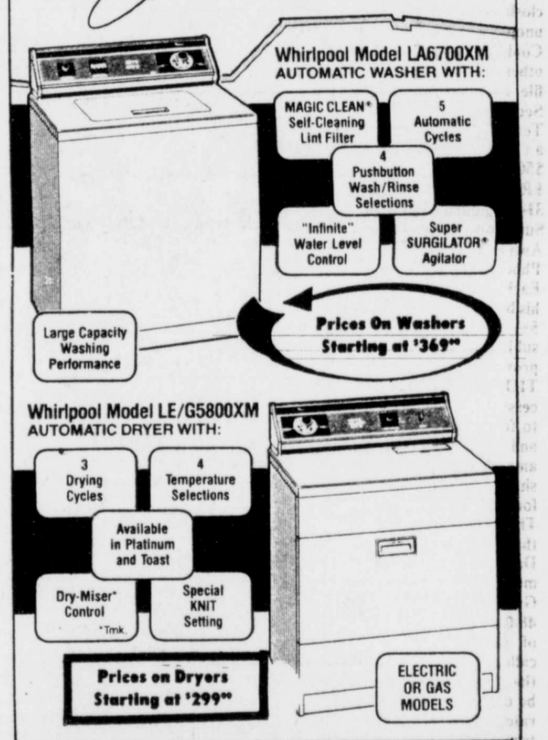

Mrs. Cain was spending the winter with the Woodards in Atlanta who live at 3586 Clairmont Rd., in that city.

Smiley recovering

Mrs. Pauline Smiley of Loraine underwent surgery at St. Mary's of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock last Tuesday. Doctors performed three by-passes.

She was reported to be doing well and was out of ICU on Monday. Her daughter, Mrs. Tharon Henderson was with her last week and came home Sunday. Her sister, Mrs. Wright Hock of Colorado City is with her this week.
