Huey Long Rule Made Uncertain

"KINGFISH" MAY BACK INDEPENDENT TICKET IN CITY ELECTION

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 22. (AP)—Darts cut through the air today in Louisiana's war-torn arena of Huey P. Long and anti-Long politics with the five-year-old powerhouse of the "Kingfish" hanging in the scales.

Denied a voice in the make-up of the old regular Democratic ticket for the January 23 city election, Senator Long wavered between his announced intention to place no separate ticket in the field and a later assertion that he "might help elect an independent ticket."

Rumors Are Heard

The resignation yesterday of John Klorer, chief engineer of the Long-controlled Orleans levee board, started reports that Klorer would become Long's canddate for mayor against Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, incumbent, and Francis Williams, anti-Long candidate already actively campaigning.

Klorer's resignation also started rumors that he had broken with Long over his refusal to head a Long ticket, but there was no confirmation to either rumor.

Long broke with Walmsley and the mayor's old regulars over control of the old regular ticket at a time when at least half of the state's congressional districts were whipping up mass meetings in protest against the way Mrs. Bolivar E. Kemp was selected as representative from the sixth district without a primary.

"Dictatorship Opposed"

Today citizens mass meetings in the sixth, fourth, fifth, and second districts were mobilized by mass meetings in a declared war against the "dictatorship" of Long and a movement seeking to wrest the state from "political domination" and "return it to rule by the people."

District wide mass meetings at Shreveport, Monroe, and New Orleans, in the fourth, fifth, and second congressional districts, respectively, adopted resolutions which amounted to declarations of war in politics and demanded the resignations of the two United States senators, the governor, lieutenant governor and other state officials on charges of corruption.

Walmsley doesn't even speak to Long any more, bringing about a revival of their bitter relations of three years ago before the two political giants formed a friendly alliance.

Long Workers Arrested

The mayor had police arrest 22 Long workers engaged in distributing propaganda circulars and Long came back with a threat to the mayor through James O'Connor, assistant attorney general, that "proper legal steps" would be taken if the police were not called off from these "illegal political arrests."

Walmsley laughed and replied that the city police would continue to "enforce the ordinances as written for the city."

AMERICANS TO DENY GUILT

FRENCH POLICE WILL QUESTION PAIR IN ESPIONAGE PROBE

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Dec. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Switz of East Orange, N. J., held in two separate prison cells, prepared today to face a French judge with the plea that they had been enmeshed innocently in a French police net cast to trap a mysterious band of dealers in international military secrets.

The defense of innocence was outlined at a night conference between the American couple and Charles Payne, their lawyer, while French investigators dug into an immense accumulation of documents.

Clues Are Sought

The investigators, operatives of the Surete Centrale, sought a clue to the invisible powers behind an organization they claim to be directed against the military power of France.

The secret service fears that the trails to the hidden sources of the alleged espionage have been cut by over-zealous police in a premature arrest of the mere tools of master minds. These trails, they said they believed, led to Finland and the frontier of Germany.

Secret service operatives said they thought it would require additional months of searching before they could reach the bottom of what appeared to be two distinct plots.

Police Puzzled

The suspicion that the band might have been a commercially organized espionage corporation buying secrets wherever obtainable and peddling them to the highest bidders, further confused the efforts made by the police to put their big puzzle together.

CWA TRUCK IN ACCIDENT AT AMARILLO

ONE VICTIM MAY DIE OF INJURIES; CAR IS DEMOLISHED

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Dec. 22.—Eighteen men were injured, one of them probably fatally, early today when a truck taking CWA highway workers to their jobs collided with a car at a road intersection near the city limits.

E. A. Hare, of Amarillo, one of the dozen CWA workers injured, sustained a crushed shoulder and neck and was in a critical condition. Steve Hidalgo, another worker, was injured internally. Others suffered broken limbs, bruises and lacerations.

Truck Overturned

The truck overturned as the light touring car rammed it just back of the cab. The driver, and a worker riding in the cab with him, escaped injury.

The driver of the car, who gave the name of "Bull" Hughes, Mineral Wells, Texas, and his two companions, were injured slightly. Their car was demolished.

Among those more seriously injured, all from Amarillo, were H. H. Miller, injured back; M. E. Campbell, injured back; James Padgett, broken arm; T. A. Belcher, injuries to head and face; P. E. Bull, shoulder and leg injuries.

Others Cut, Bruised

Listed by hospital attendants as bruised or cut were J. D. Donley, C. M. Landers, Louis Tupin, G. F. Robertson, F. O. Blair, Horace Castleberry, George W. Myers and W. H. Savage, all CWA workers from Amarillo.

Roy Gholston, of Mineral Wells, and Ernest Mason, of Amarillo, who were riding with Hughes in the car, were cut and bruised. The three in the car were CCC workers stationed at Mineral Wells and were en route to Amarillo to spend the Christmas holidays.

F. L. Blair, driver of the truck, said he was blinded by the sun and did not see the car in time to avoid the crash.

COMMITTEE VOTES FOR LIQUOR TAX

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The house ways and means committee today approved tentatively a liquor tax bill estimated to bring in $470,000,000 including revenue from beer.

By a vote of 13 ayes to 9 Republicans voting present, the committee adopted a levy of $2 a gallon on distilled spirits, estimated to bring $300,000,000 in revenue on an estimated consumption of 150,000,000 gallons during the first full post repeal year.

The committee rejected the administration's proposal for allocation of a portion of the liquor revenue to the states because of many difficulties, Chairman Doughton announced.

Pu Yi Denies That He Is An Emperor

TOKYO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Despite persistent reports that he has been made the crowned head of an empire, the chief executive of Manchukuo still remained today plain "Mr. Pu Yi," as he always has preferred to be called.

The rumors, current largely in China, have been denied by Japanese, but it is generally known here that a high Manchukuoan official has been in Tokyo for nearly a year drafting a new constitution for the Japanese-advised state, and the job is nearly complete.

Burns Suffered In Blast Cause Death

STAMFORD, Dec. 22 (AP)—Lonnie Tucker, 19, died at a sanitarium early today from burns suffered when a can of coal oil exploded when he prepared to light a fire at the home of his father, L. C. Tucker, four miles south of Anson. The family had been called together yesterday because of the elder Tucker's serious illness.

SANTA WILL USE MONEY FROM GUN USED IN SLAYING

FORT WORTH, Dec. 22. (AP)—Toys and candy in the Christmas stockings of Rev. C. C. Reneau's children this year will be bought with $4 received for the gun their father used "to protect his home."

Rev. Mr. Reneau was no-billed by the Tarrant country grand jury for the killing December 10 of W. N. Shaw. The minister testified that he shot the man in whose home he and his family were living because Shaw became attentive to Mrs. Reneau.

Mr. Reneau appeared in the office of District Attorney Martin today and asked for the gun with which he shot Shaw.

"I can get $4 for it," the minister said, "and I want to use it to play Santa Claus to the kids."

The gun was returned to him.

XMAS TRAFFIC IS CRIPPLED

TRANSPORTATION AND DELIVERY MEN CALL GENERAL STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—A general strike of delivery and transportation workers gripped Philadelphia today, seriously threatening to cripple Christmas deliveries in many lines of business.

Leaders of nine allied unions who called the strike last night, said the order took 27,000 men from work immediately.

Unions participating in the strike vote were those of bakery drivers, piano movers, milk drivers, cleaners and dyers, railway express drivers, brotherhood of transportation workers, teamsters and taxi drivers.

Immediately after the call was issued, men began picketing car barns in efforts to influence trolley men to join the strike.

Outgrowth of a dispute between the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, operator of the city's two largest taxicab companies, and its drivers, the strike was called in the face of a strong plea from Dr. William M. Leiserson, executive secretary of the national labor board, who asked the men not to "ruin" their cause by such drastic action. The general strike was called in sympathy with the taxicab drivers cause.

Recently the national labor board ruled that the month-old taxi strike be called off and the taxi drivers agreed, contingent upon acceptance of the proposal by the company. After a delay, the company said it would take back strikers "as fast as circumstances will permit," drew the line at those who "have had part in violence" and refused to release new men to make places for the strikers.

Dr. Leiserson, commenting on the company's stand, said the P. R. T. "has obeyed no part of the board's rulings."

INTERVENTION OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Indication was given today in authoritative quarters that should Spain make a formal request that the United States intervene in Cuba, President Roosevelt would refuse.

FEDERAL HELP ENDED UNTIL TEXAS ACTS

SHEPPARD HOPEFUL OF SALE WHEN BONDS READVERTISED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 22. — George H. Sheppard, state comptroller and member of the Texas bond commission charged with the duty of selling state relief bonds, said today he was hopeful that the full amount of the authorized $2,750,000 issue would be sold on readvertisement.

The commission yesterday received bids totalling only $1,017,500. Additional offers were coming in today in the mail and Sheppard said he expected the total of he bids would reach $1,250,000.

Issuance Authorized

The state legislature authorized the issuance of $5,500,000 in state bonds and the commission offered half that amount to bidders yesterday. The amount remaining from yesterday's bidding and the second block will be readvertised immediately.

Sheppard expressed belief that yesterday's sale would be an incentive to purchase additional bonds on readvertisement. He pointed out that most of the bids were for small amounts and said he believed larger buyers would come in on the next issue offered.

Sheppard said he believed the bonds could have been sold without difficulty at private sale. The purpose of the public sale was to obtain the best bids. All of the offers to buy tendered par and accrued interest, specifically demanded by the statute. He said that since there apparently was no competition in the bidding the commission would accept offers received after the specified time.

Explains Indifference

Failure to attract out of state buyers was attributed by Sheppard to the lack of differentation on the part of bond purchasers between the state bonds and of minor Texas political subdivisions which, in some instances, have fallen into disrepute.

The Texas state bonds were approved by New York bond attorneys,

Actress Divorced By Lord Inverclyde

EDINBURG, Scotland, Dec. 22 (AP)—The court of session today granted Lord Inverclyde, British shipping magnate, a divorce from Lady Inverclyde—the actress, June Tripp.

Their wedding in 1929 was one of the outstanding social events of the season, but the marriage was dissolved at Reno, Nev., in 1931, when Lady Inverclyde was awarded a decree by default.

At that time, she expressed the hope Lord Inverclyde would "play the gentleman and divorce me in England, so that I can not be prosecuted for bigamy in my native land should I remarry and return there."

Reno decrees are not recognized in Great Britain.

Girl Follows Dictates Of Her Mother's Ouija Board--Shoots Father

WOMAN DENIES SEANCE AS DAUGHTER PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGES OF MURDER ATTEMPT

(By The Associated Press)

ST. JOHNS, Ariz., Dec. 22.—Punishment for a 15-year-old girl who admitted shooting her father at the instigation of her mother's ouija board was considered by authorities here today.

After the girl, Mattie Turley, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted murder, County Attorney J. Smith Gibbons recommended that she be sent to the state industrial school for six years. The mother, Mrs. Dorothea Irene Turley, held as an accomplice, denied the ouija board seance in which the shooting was allegedly ordered so that she would be free to marry "a young cowboy." Her petition for freedom on a writ of habeas corpus was set for hearing Tuesday.

The victim of the shooting, E. J. Turley, chief gunner's mate of the naval reserve, was in the navy hospital at San Diego, Calif., to which he was taken by airplane. Physicians said the wound in his hip still was under examination.

Miss Turley testified at her mother's hearing in justice court that she followed her father to the corral of their ranch home and took careful aim at his back with a shotgun. She said she lost her nerve but, after thinking "how much it meant" to her mother, raised the gun again and fired.

"Mother told me that ouija board could not be denied," she testified, "and that I would not even be arrested for doing it."

Prehistoric cliff writings and a story of buried treasure also figured in Miss Turley's account.

The girl said her mother, who claims to have been "Venus of America" in a newspaper beauty contest 15 years ago, noticed the

BONUSES MAKE A COME-BACK

WALL STREET TO LET REST OF COUNTRY SET GIFT PACE

(By The Associated Press)

Wall Street, once a lavish Santa Claus, is letting the rest of the country set the pace in Christmas bonuses this year.

Slim profits in the brokerage and banking business are cited as the reason "the Street" is unable to revive its gayer days when the payment of bonuses was a year-end custom.

Gives 20 Per Cent

The largest Christmas bonus so far announced for this year in Wall Street is that of Redmond and company, a stock exchange firm which will give employes bonuses equivalent to twenty per cent of each employe's yearly wage.

Some houses of Wall Street indicated that the question of bonuses to clerical workers would be decided tomorrow. A few firms already have announced that bonuses of one or two weeks' pay will be tucked into the stockings of their workers.

Without exception, so far as a canvass showed, the major Wall Street banks will refrain from giving extra compensation to their employes this year. At one time the "Street" understood that J. P. Morgan and company paid bonuses equal to the annual salaries of the employes.

Depression Rule Followed

Firms in other parts of the United States are generally following the rule of depression years during which the yuletime payment of extra compensation has, for the most part been abandoned. There are, however, some significant exceptions.

One Atlanta, Ga., investment firm, Brooke, Tindall and company, has announced it will give employes bonuses equivalent to twelve and one half per cent of the employe's annual salary. The firm was organized in the summer of 1932.

In Chicago the Tribune resumed its "regular" bonus rate after having omitted bonus payments in 1931-32.

The Homestake Mining company with headquarters at Lead, S. D., is giving bonus checks of $50 to each of its 2,200 employes. The Okla-

Washington Flood Threat Increased

SEATTLE, Dec. 22. (AP)—A chinook promised an end today to the series of winter storms which have swept western Washington, claiming eight lives this week.

But the warm wind threatened to melt mountain snows and add to swelling rivers whose flood waters have driven hundreds of families from their homes, partially inundated a score of cities and towns, turned farmlands into swamps and caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damage.

CUBA WARS ON TERRORISM

RELENTLESS DRIVE ON BOMBERS LAUNCHED IN HAVANA TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, Dec. 22.—A relentless drive on bombers was launched in Havana today.

Soldiers and sailors scoured the streets in a search for terrorists. Every automobile regarded as "suspicious" in any way was halted and searched. Even pedestrians were called upon to submit to examination.

Answer To Violence

It was the government's answer to long-continued violence emphasized by incendiarism early in the week and followed during the night by four sharp explosions.

Last night's bombings occurred in Havana's busiest downtown section. No casualties were reported, but windows were shattered and other damage done by blasts in front of the American club and another near the Spanish casino.

Two Others Resign

The official family of President Ramon Grau San Martin appeared to be drifting apart. Two more resignations were placed on his desk beside that of the city's mayor, Alejandro Vergara.

The palace was silent regarding action on resignations tendered by Grau's secretary, Ramiro Capablanca, and Secretary of Public Works Gustavo Moreno. The president said he would not accept the mayor's.

Salvation Army's Head Makes Appeal

An urgent appeal for funds with which to fill Christmas baskets for needy of Lubbock was made today by Captain W. T. Wilson, local commandant of the Salvation army, who said the response so far to appeals through the Army's Christmas kettles was not as large as expected.

More than 50 needy families are on the Army's list, Captain Wilson said. Last minute needs may swell the total to the 1932 list, which contained 103 names, he said.

"We still need groceries and meats and any kind of feed," he added. "If a farmer has some meat or canned goods or anything else he wants to give, we will be glad to receive it."

Trio Electrocuted For Murders Today

CHESTER, Ill., Dec. 22 (AP)—Three murderers—Harry Shelby, 46, his nephew, John Allen, 26, and Martin Gray, 25, a negro—were electrocuted in the Southern Illinois penitentiary here shortly after midnight today.

Shelby and Allen, both of Danville, were executed for the slaying of Mrs. Mary Schrader, 82-year-old Jasper county farm woman, in an attempted robbery last August while Gray died for the slaying of Susie Gregory, Centralia negress.

STOCK PRICES ADVANCE TO NEW HIGHS

METALS JUMP FROM $1 TO $10 A SHARE AND COTTON IS UP $1

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Speculative markets soared today in response to President Roosevelt's silver program.

Stocks, led by the metals, jumped $1 to $10 a share. Silver futures in excited trading climbed 2 to 3 cents an ounce, the latter figure being the limit of gain allowed for a trading day. Cotton jumped $1 a bale.

The stock market, shaking off its recent sluggish decline as the president's ratification of the London silver agreement caught traders by surprise, boiled vigorously. Many of the opening blocks embraced 1,000 to 12,000 shares as floor traders lumped the buying orders which had poured into the exchange before the opening gong rang.

The largest transaction was 12,000 shares of American Smelting & Refining Co. which sold at $45 a share, up $5.12.

WHEAT PRICES ARE UP FOUR CENTS

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Wheat shot up four cents a bushel at the opening on the board of trade today.

A flood of orders poured in as buyers sought to take advantage of price swells expected to follow announcement of the remonetization of silver. Trade was at a much larger volume than at any time recently.

MINTS OPENED TO NEW SILVER

POOR CHILDREN TO BE PARTY GUESTS

Underprivileged children of Lubbock will frolic at the Lindsey theater Saturday morning, beginning at 9:30 o'clock, enjoying a comical screen program and later the toys, fruits, candies, and nuts given to them there.

The Lions club, Lindsey Theaters, Inc., the Boy Scouts, the fire department and local merchants join annually in preparing for the party for children who otherwise would find little cheer at Christmastime.

Six New NRA Codes Are Signed By FDR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt has approved the code of fair competition for the rubber tire industry.

NRA announced the chief executive signed this important pact together with five others, bringing the list of approved codes to 174.

The others codes approved covered the rayon and silk dyeing industry; savings building and loan associations; grinding wheel industry; rolling steel door manufacturers, and the smelting and refining of brass and bronze alloy ingots.

Record Christmas Trade Is Indicated

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Dun & Bradstreet says in its weekly trade review that business in all divisions appears to be reacting favorably to the stimulus of the National Recovery program and that a Christmas trade of nearly record proportions is indicated.

The review says unfavorable signs have all but disappeared under the "convincing attestation of recovery" found on every side including "an imposing array of dividend resumptions and increases and signs of revival in the capital goods industries."

PROMINENT AMERICAN CITIZENS WILL OBSERVE CHRISTMAS IN VARIED WAYS

(By The Associated Press)

How will they celebrate Christmas?

President Roosevelt, in a holiday-festooned White House, will be the center of a four-generation celebration.

In New York, the president's erstwhile "happy warrior," Alfred E. Smith, will be Santa Claus to three generations.

Clarence Darrow will spend the day reading a book. Governor Johnson of Colorado is going to hang up a sock in the legislature, hopeful of getting "successful relief legislation for Colorado."

Some of the country's prominent citizens will observe Christmas in the following manner:

President Roosevelt: At the White House, with four generations of the Roosevelt family. In the family group will be the president's mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, his wife, their daughter, Mrs. Anna Dall, the grandchildren, "Sistie" and "Buzzie" Dall, and the president's sons. The president will read Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol", an annual Roosevelt custom.

Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York: Quietly at his lower Fifth avenue, New York, home with his wife, his five children and eight grandchildren, after attending Christmas services up the avenue at St. Patrick's cathedral. He will be the family Santa, distribu-

YOU WILL NEED A PIANO WITH 325 KEYS TO PLAY THIS NEW 37-TONE MUSIC SYSTEM, INVENTED BY YOUNG CALIFORNIAN

BY JOHN SELBY

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—New York shortly is to hear demonstrations of the newest of musical theories — a scale in which the traditional octave, normally made up of the tones represented by 12 consecutive black and white keys of the piano, is divided into 37 tones.

The system, which has been devised by a young Californian, Harry Partch, actually contains two more auxiliary tones to the octave, or 39 in all.

Instead of the usual 88 keys, Partch's piano, therefore, would have approximately 325. The keyboard he has devised looks like the keyboard of half a dozen typewriters set side by side in an arc. The keys are in five or six colors.

Puts Piano In Tune

The apparently complicated system has been derived, its inventor explains, from existing systems which run back through history to Pythagoras and farther.

It is designed to eliminate for one thing the disadvantage that under present conditions no piano is precisely in tune, the 12-tone scale being merely a compromise adopted so that instruments can be made and tuned together.

The difficulty of hearing such small differences is much less, a demonstration indicates, than the difficulty of producing them.

Long-Necked Viola

So far the only instrument actually built to care for the new system is a viola with a neck like those of the savages whose heads are removed forcibly as far as possible from the torso.

Mr. Partch's viola has a 20-inch string length, and the fingerboard, instead of being smooth ebony, is marked with numerous brass dots to aid the player.

The inventor of the system wishes, he says, to unite words and music on "a more rational basis."

"Therefore spoken inflections are duplicated as nearly as possible on the adapted viola and the results notated," he explains. Afterward harmonies are added.

The usual stave has too few lines to care for all the intervals, so a complicated-appearing system of numbers is used to indicate on the music sheet the pitch of the tone.

Can Sing 37 Intervals

"The idea is not only practical for myself, but has been mastered by singers who have not made an exhaustive study of the scientific basis of music," says Mr. Partch. "Rudolphine Radil of Oakland, Cal., and Calista Rogers of Pasadena, both have learned to intone the songs, singing 37 intervals to the octave."

He says his experiments indicate that the average ear distinguishes readily the tones of his new scale, although the "distance" between them is less than third the usual interval.

The keyboard of the piano needed to play music written according to Harry Partch's system would look like the one shown here. It would have about 325 keys to take care of a scale in which the octave is divided into 37 tones instead of 12. Partch is shown with the long-necked viola he devised to test his ideas. Music for it is written as illustrated.

Souvenir Seekers Destroy Old Fort

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Dec. 22. (AP)—Old Fort Crawford, military outpost and the site of Dr. William Beamont's famous experiments on Martin St. Alexis, the "man with a window in his stomach," gradually is disappearing.

Tourists and souvenir hunters gradually are carrying away all that remains of the historic fort—the stone walls of a corner of the hospital building.

Residents interested in preserving the site estimate that the walls will not last longer than a decade at the present rate; they are taking steps to preserve them.

Martin St. Alexis was treated by Dr. Beaumont for a gunshot wound in the abdomen. An opening was left into his stomach, through which the physician watched the result of extensive experiments concerning the action of gastric juices.

Kentucky game laws limit hunters to 12 quail a day or 75 for the season.

Port Arthur To Face Greenville

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Coach Henry Frnka and his staunch little band of midget footballers of Greenville High school will need all the breaks the black land of Hunt county and the football rules book can provide, plus all the strategy and ability at their command, to overpower the strong Port Arthur Yellow Jackets this afternoon.

Greenville and Port Arthur meet, as you may be awage, in one of the semi-final games of the Texas schoolboy football tournament. Port Arthur's team, because of its greater weight, if for no other reason, is a favorite. Greenville, because of its coach and its fighting football heart, is the team most people would like to see win.

If San Angelo's Bobcats play like they did against Pampa's Harvesters, West Texas may yet send a representative to the championship tilt. Popular sentiment rests with the Bobcats tomorrow against the Dallas Tech Wolves. It's a game band of fighters who have brought glory to the Concho this year, and if ever a team did deserve to win, the charges of Harry Taylor and "Ox" Keyes certainly do warrant the acclaim that goes with victory.

GEOGRAPHY JIG-SAW

To keep the records straight and possibly to save mental prostrations by our more nervous readers, let us indulge for the moment in geographical and nom de plume calculations.

The announcement has been carried in these publications to the effect that the Southwestern Oklahoma State Teachers college Bulldogs of Weatherford, Okla., would be here to open the Matador cage season next week. On the same page carrying this announcement was an A. P. story from Nacogdoches, Texas, saying that the Southwestern Oklahoma State Teachers of Durant, Okla., had won a victory over the Lumberjacks of S. F. A. S. T. C. Now there are quite a number of state teachers colleges in Oklahoma. They are scattered all over the Sooner state, and it takes one with a quick wit and ready memory, founded upon personal research, to keep up with the various colleges. So the A. P. first and this editor next beg your pardon if we have confused you.

The Southwestern Oklahoma State Teachers college really is located at Weatherford. The team is known as the Bulldogs. Southeastern Oklahoma State Teachers college is located at Durant. There is not so much difference in the front names, but a heckuvalot in the geography. It was the Southeastern team which played, and won, at Nacogdoches night before last. It is about 500 miles from one to the other, or vice versa.

To delve further into this maze of teachers colleges, let us explain that the Southwestern boys are known as the Bulldogs, the Southeastern athletes as the Savages. Let us go on now and give you the other teachers colleges. They are the East Central Oklahoma Teachers Tigers at Ada, the Central Oklahoma State Teachers college Bronchos at Edmond, the Northeastern Oklahoma State Teachers college Redmen at Tahlequah, and the Northwestern Oklahoma State Teachers college Rangers at Alva. Now, is that straight?

BIG SECRET?

Judging from their opening encounter with the Floydada Whirlwinds, the Lubbock Westerner basketball of the current and ensuing season won't be anybody's world beaters. And judging from the manner in which Coach Swede McMurry kept the facts to himself, before and after the game, the Westerner coach feels the same way. Else he would have let the fans in on the news that his team would open the season last Wednesday night by playing Floydada High school.

Floydada won the game, we learn in a round-about way, by six or seven points, and the Whirlwinds went on their way rejoicing with a victory over Lubbock High. It was one of those "first nights" to which even the press was, figuratively, barred. Coach McMurry was kind enough yesterday, however, to announce that his boys would play the Athens High school Hornets here early next year. We are very grateful to him for the announcement. The same reporter who visited him yesterday and wheedled the announcement, also visited him or called nearly every day for a week preceding the Floydada game.

WINNER WILL GO INTO FINALS OF STATE SCHOOLBOY RACE

GREENVILLE, Dec. 22. (AP)—Two defensively powerful schoolboy teams—the Port Arthur Yellowjackets and the Greenville Lions—clash here this afternoon in a game that will send one of them into the finals of the Texas Interscholastic league chase.

The largest crowd in Greenville's grid history is expected for the semi-final battle between the two clubs, both masters of the defense. The Yellowjackets, carrying a weight advantage and boasting four pile-driving backs, took the role of slight favorites before game time. However, Greenville's light club, using strategy and almost forgotten trick plays, had knocked down stern opposition all season.

The winner of this game will meet the victor in the Dallas Tech-San Angelo tilt, scheduled for San Angelo Saturday afternoon, for the Texas schoolboy championship.

Probable starting lineups:

Greenville	Post.	Port Arthur
Scott	LE	Bodonaro (C)
Jim Rogers	LT	Reed
Sikes	LG	Die
Echols	C	D. J. Smith
Hussey	RG	Landry
Hemsell	RT	Blanton
Burnett	RE	Blanchard
Marshall	QB	Corley
Williams (C)	LH	Collida
Perry	RH	Hilton
Luckett	FB	Williams

Officials: Meyer (T. C. U.), referee; Alderson (Texas), umpire; Frazier (Baylor), head linesman; Moon (Nebraska), field judge.

Oklahoma Teachers Down East Texans

COMMERCE, Dec. 22 (AP) — The Southeastern Teachers college basketball team from Durant, Okla. won its second game form the East Texas Teachers last night, 38 to 21, by staging a big rally in the second half.

The East Texas Teachers had been leading, 12 to 9, at half time. Stevenson, guard on the Southeastern Teachers college team, scored 19 points, 17 of them in the second half.

Captain Milbur Smith was high scorer for the East Texas Teachers with 8 points.

Longhorn Quintet Beats Mill Cagers

MONROE, La., Dec. 22. (AP)—Protecting an early lead throughout the entire game, the Texas University Longhorns defeated the Brown Paper Mill quintet here last night, 53 to 48, in the first of a two-game series. It was the Brown's first defeat in two years of competition with Southwest conference teams.

Frances, elongated Texas center, looped them in from all angles of the court to lead the Longhorn's offense. Frances dropped in 11 field goals, several of them from mid-court and added a free throw for 23 points. Jack Gray, the Southwest's leading scorer last season, made six field goals and played an important part in the Longhorn's smooth working machine. The score at the half was 29 to 20 for Texas.

The two teams meet here again tonight and then the Texans go to Tullos for a game with the Hunt Oilers Saturday night.

Erwin Rudolph Is Billiards Winner

CHICAGO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland, who gave up the study of the violin to concentrate on billiards, today was back as ruler of pocket billiard players for the fourth time.

The Clevelander, who decided between music and billiards at the age of 15, last night regained the title he last won in 1931, by downing Andrew Ponzi of Philadelphia, 125 to 113 in 18 innings. With the title went $1,600 in prize money, a diamond studded medal and a share of the receipts. Rudolph also won the 1927 and 1930 tournaments.

Ponzi slipped to a tie with the two other Philadelphia entrants, Willie Mosconi and George Kelly, and James Caras of Wilmington, Del., making necessary a play-off for the position and its $1,100 in prize money. Caras and Mosconi were opposed in the first match, with Kelly and Ponzi tangling in the second this afternoon.

JUDGMENT RETURNED

OLTON, Dec. 22. (Special)—Gaston Patterson, former tax collector of Lamb county, and the American Surety company of New York must assume satisfaction of judgments aggregating $7,500 against them, a 64th district court verdict here Thrusday said.

The county and state filed suit to recover tax money allegedly due from Patterson. He resigned as tax collector in November last year and subsequently was acquitted on a charge of misappropriating funds.

Ten players who have been more or less regularly used in Notre Dame's first string eleven will be graduated this year, including Backs Lukats, Brancheau and Banas and Linemen Roach, Krause, Wunsch, Pivarnik, Gorman, Leonard and Devore.

BRIEF HOLIDAY FOR CAGERS

BASKETBALLERS WILL REPORT TO COACHES EARLY NEXT WEEK

Dismissed now for a brief Christmas holiday, Lubbock's basketball forces will report to coaches early next week to concentrate on season openers against a couple of prominent ball clubs.

The Lubbock Westerners hold their home premiere on January 3, taking on the Athens Hornets, who won the state championship last year, and so frequently in past years that they have ceased to brag about it.

Texas Tech's Matadors, after a couple of after-Christmas workouts with the Southwest Oklahoma Teachers under the kibitzing eyes of Coaches Dell Morgan of Tech and Rankin Williams of Teachers, will get down to the real business, a couple of public scraps on the nights of December 29 and 30 with the Sooner Bulldogs. These two games inaugurate the basketball season in Lubbock.

Lost To Hornets

Last year the local high school team lost a close 30 to 22 decision to an elongated quintet from Athens that later swept all opposition before it and won the state title. Commenting after the game, Hornet Coach Bobo Nelson said that Lubbock had the best floor team that his outfit had encountered in a long time.

Going into his second year at Athens, Nelson has another long, lanky and brilliant squad. The Westerners, on the other hand, shape at this writing as a hustling bunch of lads with little or no experience.

"My team's greatest handicap will be lack of height," said Basketball Coach Swede McMurry yesterday. Right now the starting team averages about five feet seven. There's one six footer and the rest are small boys. Warren Kerr, former letterman, will considerably hoist the average when he becomes eligible next semester, standing six feet six in his sneakers.

Until Kerr becomes eligible, James will see most service at the pivot position. Booker and McWhorter look like the best bets at the guards, while Loftiss and Patterson have been getting the nod for the forwards.

Wednesday night the Westerners held a practice contest with the Floydada Whirlwind and failed to get organized, losing to the Floydada team by seven points. The game was not previously announced.

Bridge Kings

For the first time in years, the middle west won highest honors at the annual national championship tournament held by the American Bridge League in Cincinnati. These two players, Charles A. Hall, top, and R. M. Wildberg, below, both of Cincinnati, won the national open contract pair title.

LIONS TO GET SCRIMMAGE

COLUMBIA TEAM WILL WORK OUT AGAINST EL PASO SQUAD

EL PASO, Dec. 22. (AP)—Columbia university's football team, en route to Pasadena to meet Stanford in the Rose bowl New Year's day, will scrimmage against an El Paso football team today on Kidd field at the College of Mines.

Several days ago, Coach Lou Little supplied Coach Mack Saxon of the Muckers, with several Stanford formations and plays. Saxon, with his assistant, Harry Phillips, several performers from this year's Mucker squad and several former Mines stars, has been working on these formations during the past week.

With spectators barred, the Lions will try out their defense against some of the plays the powerful Cardinal eleven used in defeating Southern California and in gaining a tie in the Pacific coast conference at first place.

Little, in his communication to Saxon, inferred he would like to scrimmage but gave the El Paso team an out by indicating dummy scrimmage would be sufficient. Saxon said, however, that his eleven is ready to go to work, hammer and torgs, and really scrimmage the New Yorkers if Coach Little desires that kind of action.

PONY CAGERS WIN

STILLWATER, Okla., Dec. 22 (AP)—Southern Methodist university's basketball team concluded its Oklahoma invasion last night with a 49 to 35 victory over the Oklahoma Aggies after dropping two games in a row to the University of Oklahoma Sooners at Norman.

Population Surplus Seen By Professor

WINFIELD, Kas., Dec. 22. (AP)—A surplus of population rather than one of foodstuffs will rise to worry this country by 1960, Dr. C. E. Burt of the department of biology of Southwestern college believes.

Dr. Burt estimates the population of the United States will total 166,000,000 by that time. He advocates regulation so that the "fit" classes would increase, while the increase of the "unfit" would be retarded.

BABE RUTH IS NOT WORRIED ABOUT PAY

BAMBINO DECLINES TO GO TO MINORS TO MANAGE CLUB

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—The days when Babe Ruth fought long and loud for his living wage while stirring statements rang out from all sides, a baseball era all in themselves, appear to have departed forever.

There could be no greater evidence of that than the new calm and philosophy of the great man himself.

Not Thinking Of It

"I'm not thinking of next year's contract with the Yankees until they send it to me with the figures on it," he said as he puffed his pipe in utter relaxation, coatless, vestless, his blue shirt open at the neck and collarless—resting during his latest commercial venture, recording his experiences on wax records.

"I don't know what I'm going to be worth as a ball player next season. If I didn't feel I could play in 100 games, I wouldn't sign any contract. That will all straighten itself out."

While Ruth won't say so, and the Yankees will not speak officially, there seems little question that Ruth's future as far as New York is concerned has been definitely settled. Under present plans the Babe probably will be the next manager of the club, succeeding Joe McCarthy when the latter's contract expires in two years.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Yankee owner, has supreme confidence in the Babe's prospects as a manager. Everyone in the Yankee official family, including the Bam himself, was astonished when the Yanks' efforts to give Ruth his managerial chance next season failed to strike a receptive note anywhere in the American league where a manager was wanted.

"Couldn't See It"

"The Colonel wanted me to go to Newark," said the Babe, "but I couldn't see it. He said it would be good experience for me, but I told him, hell, I've been in the major leagues getting experience for 20 years and this is a fine time to go back to the minors to get more. It's like learning all over again. They play an entirely different game in the minors."

The mellowing of baseball's great hero, partly due to the accumulation of years and a more temperate attitude toward all men and things, also is accounted for largely by his sound financial situation. The Babe no longer needs to fight hard for that extra $10,000 or $15,000 a year. He has a well-buttressed fortune, and his commercial ventures probably far outvalue his baseball salary today.

Says Red Sox Strong

He things the Red Sox will cause all sorts of trouble next season in the American league, but knowing baseball's finances as only an athlete can who fought and overthrew all previous concepts, he's chuckling over the prices Connie Mack was supposed to have received for his players when he busted the Athletics for the second time at the winter meetings in Chicago.

"Why, the day after Detroit was supposed to have paid $100,000 for Mickey Cochrane, the Red Sox made Connie a bona fide offer of $75,000 for Jimmie Foxx," he laughed. "Does that sound like any kind of a balance to you?"

"Well, that's the tipoff, kid; baseball isn't what it was and probably never will be. I guess old Papa Ruth jacked the prices up for the boys all along the line in his day. Say, when I finally get out of there, they'll probably start paying ball players twelve bucks a week."

Grid Attendance Is Much Better

RAPID GROWTH OF PRO SPORTS REPORTED IN PAST YEAR

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—The rapid growth of professional sports, especially tennis and football, together with a striking trend toward a policy of "liberalization" in all athletics, were no less significant to the country's observers this year than the rise of gridiron attendance, hailed as a "knockout blow for old man depression."

Sports editors and writers, in their response to the Associated Press inquiry on the outstanding trends or developments of 1933, appeared much impressed by the return of what to many must seem like the "good old days."

Reform Wave Ends

This was manifest, they pointed out, not alone by the repeal of Pennsylvania's old blue laws against Sunday sport, the rapid spread of legalized horse-racing with wagering systems and the renewed popularity of many professional sports, but also by the end of the so-called "reform wave" in college sports.

"The resumption of proselyting among major college football and a complete indifference to it, despite general knowledge, is a startling situation when you consider the trembling and indignation that followed the famous bulletin 23 of the Carnegie foundation," says a close observer. "The reasons probably are (1) the common bond of economic necessity among most schools and (2) the unpopularity of reformers as a whole, as best exemplified by the swift elimination of prohibition this year."

Pro Football Gains

Bearing on this situation, in the opinion of an eastern expert, is "the gradual dawning of the fact that college football soon will find itself in the sad position of college baseball if it fails to get down to business and meet the challenge of professional football which, to my mind, seems destined for bigger and better things."

Such re-action as this may cause some college leaders and educators to begin "viewing with alarm" again but to the sports-writing craft it all points toward what one of their number describes as a "saner, healthier" attitude, "frank commercialization," one writer says, "has been substituted for hypocritical purity."

"The advance of pro football, as well as pro tennis, is all the more striking because these two sports have hitherto been considered amateur, so far as supremacy has gone," notes another observer. "Today the pros are leading performers in both."

Wrestling Popular

Whatever the competitive merits may be, wrestling is contrasted with boxing from the viewpoints of professional enterprise. The continued popularity of the grappling business during 1933 is noted, whereas the fight game's decline has continued. The answer, in the opinion of sports writers, is poor match-making and a lack of real ring champions.

The keen competition for athletic business has been felt all along the line, many observers note, as a result of the discriminating attitude of the cash customers, who are less responsive than ever before to the old ballyhoo.

"There is always an abundance of customers for an outstanding performance in sports," writes a southwestern observer, "no matter what kind, but the palookas, the ham and eggers, the burlesque boys, view with alarm the rust on the turnstiles."

Despite one of their poorest seasons, particularly in the matter of scoring points, Northwestern's Wildcats played to 240,000 attendance this fall, 15,000 more than saw them perform last year.

Plans Ether Hop

Plans for a solo ascent of more than 12 miles into the stratosphere in an open balloon are being completed in Madrid by Lieutenant Colonel Emilio Herrera (above), Spanish balloonist. By using an open balloon Herrera expects he will not be handicapped in his investigations to the same extent as he might be in a sealed metal sphere.

SMITH BLASTS PAR TO LEAD

VETERAN SCOT HANGS UP BRILLIANT 67 IN FIRST ROUND

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 22 (AP)—If there was any doubt about subpar golf being needed to win the Pasadent open championship the brilliant veteran, MacDonald Smith, has dispelled it.

Smith hewed to a straight line from tee to pin yesterday in bringing in a sparkling 67, the best score of the first day's qualifying round. Only half the top-heavy field of 200 played but the Carnoustie Scot's performance set up a mental hazard for the other half today.

Runyan Is Second

Two strokes behind Smith and two strokes under par was Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., who found necessary two fine recoveries to get up near the crest. Even at the eighteenth hole, with a two-foot putt for a 68, Runyan skipped over the cup.

Craig Wood, defending champion, who established the tournament record of 278 for 72 holes last year, found the lightning fast municipal course not exactly to his liking. He was one over par in 72, just one stroke behind Oliver Sleepy of Long Beach and Pete Lamb of San Bernardino, who tied for third place.

VARIED ISSUES ON PROGRAM

HARMONIOUS SESSION OF CONGRESS SEEN BY DEMO LEADERS

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Many issues of historic importance will be considered by the seventy-third congress after it convenes January 3, but senate and house Democratic leaders now see more hope for a harmonious session that will expedite action on President Roosevelt's legislative program.

A few months ago, these same Democratic chiefs anticipated much trouble in the only regular session of this congress. Now they claim that improved conditions will greatly minimize criticism of the administration's policies.

To Follow President

Some conservative Democrats, who have not been friendly to all phases of the administration's programs, assert, however, that with the primary and general congressional elections coming in 1934, many have found it prudent to follow the president despite their personal convictions.

Republicans have passed the word along to their colleagues to avoid committing the party against broad proposals and policies of the administration pending developments. A number of the Republicans will, however, continue to sharp-shoot at specific features of the administration's recovery program.

May Avert Conflict

Gradually the president has taken steps which his leaders say may avert open conflict with this congress, overwhelmingly Democratic in both houses. To meet demands of inflationists, Mr. Roosevelt not only started the gold purchasing plan but yesterday proclaimed the London silver agreement in effect.

Meanwhile, he has pressed the recovery program from different angles.

The situation is such that Representatives Byrnes of Tennessee, the Democratic house floor leader, said he did not expect it would be necessary to invoke drastic gag rules to pass administration proposals. Many such rules were necessary in special session last spring.

"We will have more time to enact legislation this session," said Byrnes. "It probably will not be necessary to pass legislation with the emergency speed necessary at the last session. Indications are that the Democratic majority as a whole will support every White House proposal."

Demos Have Majorities

If house Democrats do as Byrnes says he expects, there will be no particular trouble there for the party division on opening day will be: Democrats 312, Republicans 114, Farm Laborites 5, vacancies 4. In the senate there will be 60 Democrats, 35 Republicans and 1 Farm-Labor member.

Topping the legislative calendar is the projected liquor tax measure to be submitted in the form of a resolution and bearing a levy of $2 a gallon on spirits. Is is to be followed by a general revenue bill designed to raise $270,000,000 by plugging leaks in the income tax law and nine regular appropriation bills for the maintenance of the government in the coming fiscal year.

In this connection, the administration plans to press for a balancing of the budget on ordinary expenditures of the government, estimated at $2,600,000,000 by Budget Director Lewis W. Douglas. In addition, however, the administration has indicated it will ask for funds that will swell the outlay to nearly $6,000,000,000 through extraordinary expenditures for public works and employment, relief, capital for the reconstruction corporation and various other recovery stimulating enterprises.

Amendments will be proposed to virtually all of the recovery legislation enacted at the special session. This includes particularly the Agricultural Adjustment act, the Glass-Steagall bill with its provisions for insurance of bank deposits, the securities law and the economy act as it effects veterans gratuities. Something may be done about the NIRA.

Two Changes Made In Woman Agents

Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent, has announced two immediate changes in county woman agents in this area.

Miss El Fleda Harrison, for three years agent at Tahoka, Lynn county, was promoted to be agent of Shackleford county at Albany. She succeeds Miss Millie Halsey, former Lubbock county agent, who is resigning.

The new agent at Tahoka will be Miss Sylvia Robb, a graduate of the state teachers college at Commerce, who has had four years of successful teaching work. She comes highly recommended, Miss Murray said in making the announcement.

Miss Halsey is to be married in January to Mr. E. I. Hill, editor of the Lynn county News, at Tahoka. Mr. Hill is well known over West Texas and prior to moving to Tahoka a number of years ago, where he purchased the newspaper, he was district attorney for the Snyder-Sweetwater district.

Young People Will Cheer Unfortunates

As "daddy don't have a job," they hadn't anticipated any cheer at Christmas, but three Lubbock children will have it, now that the public has learned of the dismal holiday the youngsters faced.

A representative of the young people's department at Asbury Methodist Episcopal church procured letters which the two girls and their brother had written to Santa Claus, in care of the Avalanche-Journal.

The young man said that the department would prepare Christmas gifts to cheer the youngsters, who are 11, 9, and 7 years old.

Old Dogma Passes

It is interesting to notice that the old legal technicality by which a wife was not allowed to testify in defense of her husband in a criminal case at last has been swept aside by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The decision came on the appeal of a North Carolinian who had been convicted of conspiracy to violate the dry laws. At his trial his wife was not allowed to testify for him.

This ruling was in accord with the ancient common law provision that a wife, in such case, would be an interested witness and hence not deserving of credence.

Very properly the Supreme Court sweeps this aside. The test of cross-examination of witnesses, the increased intelligence of jurors, and other considerations, says the court, have changed things.

Hereafter a man accused of crime may call his wife as a witness—and an archaic and illogical quirk of criminal law has been abolished.

Distillers Disconcerted By Close Inspection Made By Government; Want To Be Treated As Other Industries

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—When you expect to return as a popular hero, it's disconcerting to be treated as an ex-convict.

Distillers are disconcerted. The administration has turned a cold, fishy eye upon them, refusing to treat them as an ordinary industry.

Butcher

They grumble and gripe, but dare not protest seriously. They know it will be just too bad if they don't behave properly.

The code imposes federal supervision over prices, production, and distribution. Government has virtual "life and death" power.

Distilling is the one industry thus far subject to quality and labeling standards federally imposed. It probably will have to admit on the bottle how much raw alcohol and water it uses in its blends.

Finally the liquor business becomes the one industry to be laid open officially to foreign competition. Enthusiastic pushers of foreign trade will swap exports of pork and other farm products for Scotch or Irish whisky and other foreign alcoholics.

We can't seel abroad if we don't buy. That's officially admitted now. Trouble has been to find types of imports which wouldn't raise a terrible howl from domestic industries.

Well, the "best minds" finally found one. They think the distillers can consider themselves lucky, whatever happens.

Goes Over Strong

The best way for an industry to make a hit here is to bring free samples.

The cheese industry knew that and just showered cheese around, obtaining enormously valuable free publicity for "National Cheese Week." Mrs. Roosevelt, finding herself with a pile of cheese, announced that cheese would be served at the White House all week.

Even the supreme court, invited for dinner, would be eating it. And a group of senators was delighted to be photographed with a huge slab of free camembert.

Keep Our Yankee Ways

"We're still Yankee traders," grinned President Roosevelt when asked if we would "extort" foreign markets for farm products in return for promises to let in foreign liquor quotas.

Fear Monkey Wrenches

Whispered charges of sabotage against Russian-American relations are going the rounds. Some officials who lived through 15 years of non-recognition, absorbing and nourishing the anti-Soviet attitude, aren't reconciled.

You can get bets in the State Department that there'll be a nasty Russian-American "situation" within six months and that relations will be broken off by 1935.

Ambassador Bullitt has been warned not to overload the foreign service in Russia with "Riga-trained" consuls and diplomats. For years the department has rotated young men through Riga, taught them the Russian language and schooled them on Russian affairs in preparation for possible recognition.

Friends of Russia here regard most of them as "poisoned."

The Show Goes On

Warren Delano Robbins, handsome minister to Canada and second cousin of the president, was making a speech at Queen's University—which gave him a degree—when a messenger told him his garage and automobile were burning.

"The bonfire probably is in celebration of the ceremony here," he said—and continued.

He got a big hand on that.

Visitors Laud City For Its Hospitality

San Angelo and Pampa representatives have sent to the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce letters expressing appreciation of the hospitality Lubbock demonstrated when the Bobcat and Harvester football teams played here last Saturday.

The letters came from Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the Pampa Board of City Development; from W. J. Jarratt, secretary of the San Angelo Kiwanis club, and C. H. Kenley, principal of San Angelo High school.

Under Texas' Massive
Capitol Dome
With R. W. Barry
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 22. (AP)—The capitol newspaper correspondents were guests on a recent Sunday of Bill Von Roeder, rancher near Yorktown. During their activities with gubernatorial campaigners over the years, some of the veteran reporters have become well acquainted in that progressive German colony in Dewitt county.

Every so often in an off campaign season, the boys at Yorktown telephone up to the capitol press room and ask the correspondents down for some special occasion and they usually accept 100 per cent. Except for a "dog watch" they must leave behind to safeguard a big story breaking there is "no one home" the day of the march on Yorktown.

Quail Hunt Arranged

Von Roeder had arranged a quail hunt for this occasion. Among the additional guests he had such "Civilians" from Austin as Fred Connerly, veteran clerk of the supreme court; Dr. A. F. Beverly, James H. Nash and Oscar Eckhart. Incidentally, Connerly, Eckhart, Von Roeder and some of the ranch hands killed the quail.

W. M. (Tudey) Thornton, for three or four decades a representative of the Dallas Morning News at the capitol, himself a crack shot with any kind of gun, pleaded he was "too tired" after a hunt in the granite hills near Llano the week before where he downed a big buck. By-the-way, he went on that hunt solo, spent the night in the hills by himself, ate breakfast alone and "stalked" the deer unaided.

Well, the whole story is that one of the correspondents, who in his teens rode horses on a ranch in southwest Texas, forgot that now he is a tenderfoot. He did ride a sweet pony through the ranch most of the day, but when he loped into camp bragging about his horsemanship Von Roeder challenged him to a bareback ride. Unwisely he accepted.

Von Roeder mounted the bare back of that "sweet" pony and commanded the tenderfoot to get up behind him. The T. F. did. Von Roeder "flanked" that sweet pony and out through the brush he went. They had to pick up the T. F. later, the doctor who strapped him with adhesive tape commented: "Well, when I get through you'll be like a country girl with a new corset."

There is no reason why a North American cannot live in Central America without suffering from disease, if he leads an active, healthy life, and keeps indoors after nightfall.
—Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, zoologist.

Woman's superlative world is to build a better race.
—Albert Edward Wiggam, author.

APPROVAL FOR CODE LOOMS

ACCEPTANCE IS SEEN FOR DRY CLEANERS' NEW SCHEDULES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Broad acceptance of the lower prices set for dry cleaning was reported by recovery administration officials today and they pressed forward with an effort to clear away other codification problems before the year-end.

The new prices were set to wind up a tumultous inquiry into widespread violations of the first prices set for dry cleaning.

Other Codes Pushed

Meanwhile, Hugh S. Johnson was subdividing his own administrative responsibilities among his principal assistants and putting speed behind the final steps for approval of codes to cover the printing and publishing and construction industries, two of the larger groupings still uncoded. He planned to finish both by the end of the year.

A public hearing went forward on 40 separate codes for machinery producing industries of various types. Because 40 associations of manufacturers of products ranging from hair clippers to locomotives belonged to the machinery and allied products institute and were asking uniform provisions in all codes, the administration took them up in a lump.

Other developments included:

Eagles Removed

Removal of six more blue eagles from establishments which the administration said were violating the newly extended reemployment agreement.

Declination by Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard of a post as presidential member of the motion picture code authority because he would have no direct say in industrial policies.

NRA efforts to stop government departments, including the forest service, from telling bidders on government materials contracts to disregard code terms.

The formula found by NRA for protecting the higher prices of the better dry cleaning establishments while reducing the minimums to levels that would give the cut-rate cleaners a basis for survival, placed a premium on quality and was the first such action taken under codes.

Compliance Pledged

The chief leader of the opposition to the first price schedule, reduced by a round 20 per cent, Isidore Paul of New York, pledged himself and his followers to compliance but still contended the minimums were too high.

Paul will have to charge 55 cents. He claimed he would do the work for 40 cents at a profit. He was faced with prosecution on several points and admitted the violations. Paul, however, filed an action in New York to restrain the government from interfering with his business on the ground that it was strictly intra-state. He was trying to work out a trade by which he would withdraw his action and comply if the federal action against him were called off. Otherwise, he planned to keep one store violating so as to keep his own action alive.

OUIJA BOARD

cliff writings and consulted the ouija board which told her about the buried treasure.

Both Miss Turley and her 14-year-old brother David asserted that while their father blasted away rock in search of the treasure at Mrs. Turley's insistence, their mother was much in the company of "the young cowboy."

It was after this, Miss Turley said, that the ouija board was consulted again "and it wrote out I was to kill my father."

FOREIGN STARS IN MOVIE COLONY TO OBSERVE XMAS WITH NATIVE CUSTOMS

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 22.—Far from native firesides, foreign stars in the movie colony are letting thoughts wander back to homeland customs and embodying some of them in their own observances of Christmas.

Marlene Dietrich is following the German custom of having the tree on Christmas Eve and the tree that will make her body-guarded daughter, little Maria Seiber, dance with glee will be decorated with marzipan —those German delicacies made from chopped almond paste and covered with coatings of chocolate or other candy made into shapes of fruits and toys.

Plans Sleigh Ride

Kathryn Sergava, from Russia, is determined to have a sleigh ride and a snow Santa Claus, and not finding them here, she plans to go to Lake Arrowhead for her first "white Christmas" in several years. Dorothea Wieck, from Germany, has been ill but hopes to be at Arrowhead also—since "it really isn't Christmas without snow."

Just one old Danish custom is retained by the Jean Hersholts. They celebrate on Christmas Eve with a big dinner, after which all the family joins hands and dances around the tree. Then gifts are exchanged.

Johnny Weissmuller is going to be introduced to the old Mexican observance called the "pinata," which is what his wife Lupe Velez, arranges for Christmas Eve. The pinata demands that all remain quiet and solemn Christmas Eve until midnight, when one of those present is blindfolded and given a club. A small earthen receptacle previously has been packed with small presents, and when the blind-folded club-bearing member of the family finally strikes out and breaks the jar, there is a scramble for the presents.

Ramon Novarro's house observes the same little ceremony.

Ireland will be represented in the Hollywood observance by George Brent. George and Ruth Chatterton will keep a peet fire burning from Christmas Eve through midnight of Christmas day.

The English colony — or a large part of it—will gather at Heather Angel's home for a Christmas dinner. It's to be American style—except there'll be plum pudding.

Just as Garbo will celebrate with a little bit of Sweden, having had her Christmas tree shipped from the old country to Hollywood, so Mariam Jordan will open a little bit of England. It's to be a plum pudding, made by her mother, and sent to her here.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 22 (AP) — Cotton had an active opening today with Liverpool better than due, sterling firmer and January notices light, only 7,450 bales here and 20,000 in New York. Shorts covered freely in response to the government's announced silver-purchase policy.

First trades were 15 to 17 points net higher with March at 10.14 and May at 10.29. January opened only 6 points up at 9.85, but as notices were promptly stopped, that month soon rallied to 9.93, up 14 points net.

At the end of the first half hour the market reacted 3 points, but recovered in sympathy with strength in stocks.

The market continued to show fair trading most of the morning, prices again moved upward in the second hour on higher stocks and the silver news. March advanced to 10.15, the general market showing net gains of 16 to 17 points.

Later in the morning, prices eased on some reaction in stocks and on pre-holiday liquidation, losing ten points from the highs with March dropping to 10.05 and May to 10.19, still 6 to 7 points above the previous close.

Near noon prices rallied 5 points on covering, making the noon level 11 to 12 points net higher.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Cotton opened firm, 15 to 19 points higher on active buying owing to the government's decision to purchase silver and on higher cables. January 10.02; March 10.18; May 10.33; July 10.45; October 10.64; December 10.77.

Trading was quite active at the opening with buying more or less general through trade and commission houses and brokers with foreign connections. There was further January liquidation prompted by the circulation of delivery notices which were estimated early at about 20,000 bales. The near month offerings, however, were readily absorbed by the trade and, while prices reacted a few points right after the call under realizing, the market held steady at the end of the first half hour.

The early advance seemed to bring in a little further southern selling as well as realizing and pre-holiday liquidation and prices eased off partially later in the morning. March contracts which had sold up to 10.20 on the opening demand worked off to 10.08 with the market quiet at net advances of about 8 to 10 points at midday. Reactions in the wheat and stock market were contributing factors on the setback.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—Wall Street's clouds had a distinctive silver lining today but the trading weather generally was a little uncertain.

Led by the metal group, stocks jumped 1 to 10 points shortly after the opening, apparently on the overnight news that the president had promoted silver to a more solid monetary base with a value for newly mined metal of 64 1-2 cents an ounce. Trading was fast for awhile, but later quieted down under profit-taking. Grains, cotton and other commodities leaped forward behind a sharp advance in silver futures. Foreign exchanges rallied substantially, although the gold price remained static. Speculative bonds firm, but U. S. government issues eased.

The so-called silver shares, including U. S. Smelting, American Smelting, Howe Sound, Cerro De Pasco and Colorado & Southern, were up around 5 to 10 points at their best, but most of them later reacted from their peaks. At the same time, the tobacco section had its worst break in some months, Liggett & Myers B losing about 6, American Tobacco B 3 and Reynolds B nearly 2. American Telephone also dropped 3 and Consolidated Gas, National Distillers, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Atlas Tack and some others were off 1 to around 2. U. S. Steel, Case, Eastman Kodak, Sears Roebuck, Kennecott, N. Y. Central, Johns-Manville and Allied Chemical were up fractionally to about 2 points. Union Pacific and Santa Fe were a bit lower.

The prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock; Grain—S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company, following prices being bid by Lubbock grain dealers; Cotton—Bleeker Cotton company. All prices subject to change during day.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Wheat scored an extreme jump of five cents a bushel today the moment trading began. This was the limit allowed for any single day. The upturn accompanied an outburst of active buying based mainly on remonetization of silver.

Opening all the way from 3 1-8 to 5 cents up, wheat later reacted somewhat. Corn started at 1 5-8 to 2 3-8 advance, and subsequently held near the initial limits.

SPY PROBE

Stahl, one of the police prisoners, was called a super-spy by the men who captured her.

They said she seemed to have had access to French military secrets through an infatuation by Louis Martin, 43, a translator in the ministry of marine.

Unlike-motion-picture characterizations of female spies, Mme. Stahl is 48 years old and with none of the characteristics of the traditional screen type. Nevertheless the police indicated that because of her, Martin found his monotonous middle-class of a professor of langauges was invaded by adventure.

The police gave out the impression that the cases of Mme. Stahl and Mr. and Mrs. Switz were separate.

Military Officers At Tech Appointed

Appointments of cadet captains and their assignments as battery commanders for the rest of the academic year have been announced by Col. Charles A. Davis of the Texas Technological college department of military science and tactics.

They are:

Frank Cole, battery A; Jim Vowell, batery B; Lowell Dalton, battery C; Clifton Crawford, battery D; and Frank McPherson, battery C.

Appointments and assignments of other cadet and non-commisioned officers will be announced after the holidays, Colonel Davis said.

The complaint alleged the man had used $70 collected for Dr. V. A. Hartman of Post, on whose farm the man was living. County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson, who filed the complaint, said the money was received for part of a crop, was deposited in a bank, a check drawn on it for the full amount, and the money withdrawn before the check was passed upon at the bank. RELIEF BONDS a factor which should make them acceptable in the world's bond markets, Sheppard said.

First Sale Also Failed

Banks, insurance companies and individuals offered to purchase the bonds, after a prior advertised sale failed to bring in a single offer. Offers were made to buy blocks of bonds varying from $1,000 to $250,000.

After the bonds had failed to attract any takers a month ago, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson undertook to interest bankers and others in them.

The federal government notified the governor that it would not advance the state any more funds. The government had advanced $3,000,000 for relief in the state since October with an agreement that as soon as proceeds of the bond issue were available Texas would spend a similar amount. The government had promised to match each relief dollar expended by Texas.

No More Available

Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas Relief commission, which administers relief money, wired administrators that no further direct federal relief would be available when present funds and supplies have been exhausted. He estimated all funds and supplies would be dissipated within three or four days.

SILVER PROGRAM

a program estimated to push the metal's price from around 43 to 64 1-2 cents an ounce, add millions to the nation's mining wealth and spur exports to silver-using countries.

Half To Be Kept

Silver produced domestically from today until Dec. 31, 1937, will be accepted by the mints. Half will be coined and returned in dollars to the producer, half surrendered to the government and held in reserve.

Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation formally ratified the London silver agreement by which it was understood the United States would absorb annually at least 24,421,410 ounces of its silver production, approximately the 1932 output.

Simultaneously with promulgation of silver coinage, the administration evidenced anew its intention to continue gold buying. The RFC increased funds set aside for such purchases from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 and disclosed that 507,485 ounces had been acquired domestically for $16,976,000. Thus the weight of both gold and silver will go on the Roosevelt level under commodity prices.

Other Moves Hinted

A hint of other moves to come in the government's march toward a commodity dollar was contained in this paragraph of the presidential proclamation:

"The present ratio in weight and fineness of the silver dollar to the gold dollar shall, for the purpose of this proclamation, be maintained until changed by further order or proclamation."

The president's order, intended to boost silver's market worth to half the legal value of $1.29 an ounce, was issued by authority of the inflationary powers congress voted him in the agricultural readjustment act. It immediately was hailed by Senator Pittman (D. Nev.), author of the silver agreement written at the London economic conference.

CONSTANT DOLLAR SEEN UNDER PLAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Addition of silver to the money base, a primary result of the president's project to buy the nation's silver production, is seen by experts who have advised on the current gold policy, as a means of attaining the dollar of constant purchasing power advocated by the president.

The more immeidate and obvious effects of silver purchases will be to add some $15,000,000 in silver to the $29,000,000 now in circulation, and, many economists agree, to stimulate temporarily, at least, commodity and security prices.

Experts In Conflict

Beyond these two consequences, experts find themselves in conflict on almost every point.

The argument ranges from absolute denial that silver remonetization will affect prices for more than a few days to the statements of men such as Prof. G. F. Warren, one of the major influences back of present money policies, that by altering silver along with gold prices any desired commodity price level may be attained.

POLICE INSTALL OAK STAND HERE

An oak stand, which will virtually enclose the sergeant on duty and lessen delay caused by interference, is being installed in the police station in City hall today.

The stand, which will be stained to blend with other furnishings, also will make additional file drawers available.

With sustained operation soon of the municipal short-wave radio station, KQZW, anticipated, installation of the "L" counter also will expedite trapsmission of radio calls. The transmitter, through which the sergeant will call cars, will be within the enclosure.

Randolph Rampy and M. N. Davidson, day and night sergeant, respectively, are to be the announcers.

Three City employes passed examinations in Dallas, Tuesday, qualifying for radio-telephone third class operators' licenses. They are Clarence Rollo and Ralph Portwood of the electric department, and Glen Smith of the fire department. Only one operator will be needed on duty, it was said officially.

The license granted the Lubbock men is for operation of a radio-telephone station using 50 watts or less power.

SISTER OF LOCAL PERSONS IS DEAD

Mrs. H. L. Graves, 51, of Dallas, a sister of two Lubbock men and a Lubbock woman, died at 4 o'clock this morning in a Dallas hospital after an illness of several weeks. She was a native Texan.

S. J. McFarland and J. R. McFarland of Lubbock were brothers and Mrs. Walter P. Jennings, wife of the pastor of the First Christian church here, was a sister of Mrs. Graves.

Mrs. Graves was active in the East Dallas Christian church and, for the last seven years, had been the church visitor.

Two other brothers, Dr. Gordon McFarland of Dallas, and J. A. McFarland of Ladonia, Tex., and two other sisters, Mrs. Joe Hill of Dallas, and Mrs. W. M. Williams of Ladonia, also survived.

Mrs. Graves' brothers and sister of Lubbock were at her bedside before death came.

Rev. Mr. Jennings and daughters, Misses Louise and Jean Shelley Jennings of Lubbock and Mrs. John Gammon of Laxbuddy, and Mrs. J. R. McFarland and daughter, Nance, left this morning for Dallas after receiving word of the death of Mrs. Graves.

Funeral services for Mrs. Graves, are to be conducted Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at East Dallas Christian church and burial will be in the Ladonia cemetery.

D. D. Peden, president of the Peden company, a Houston, Tex., hardware concern, announced that net profits this year permitted resumption of the practice of paying bonuses—a practice interrupted by the market crash of 1929? The amount paid was not made public. The Duncan Coffee company, another Houston firm, also announced bonuses would be paid.

On the west coast the Christmas spirit of employers is taking various forms. One San Francisco bank is giving its employees one million pounds of turkey.

Warning Issued On Use Of Sheetrock

D. A. Forbess, city building inspector and fire marshal, has issued a warning that "sheetrock can not be used on partitions or ceilings in the fire zone, as it does not have a fire rating as required by the Lubbock building code or the state fire insurance commission.

"Nothing but metal lath and plaster, or equally non-combustible material, can be used in fire zones," Mr. Forbess said, asking carpenters and builders to comply with the regulations.

The building inspector also reminded that a building permit must be obtained before work is begun on a project that will cost more than $50.

Journalism Confab Is Scheduled Here

April 20 and 21 are the selected days for an eighth annual Southwestern Journalism congress to be conducted here, Cecil Horne, director of publicity at Texas Technological college and a member of the executive board of the congress, has announced.

Meeting at Baylor college in Belton in the spring of 1932, the congress chose Lubbock as its next meeting place. Mr. Horne this week announced representatives of members of the congress had agreed upon dates of the meeting here.

Parker Taulman, associate editor of The Toreador, weekly student newspaper at Technological college, was elected at Belton as president of the Southwestern Students Press club, a sponsor of the journalism congress.

Public Schools And Tech Begin Holidays

With Christmas nearly here, public school and college classes were dismissed here Thursday afternoon.

Supt. M. H. Duncan said that city schools released students at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. An hour later last classes were conducted at Texas Technological college. School children will resume classes at 9 o'clock Jan. 1, New Year's day.

Code For Santa

ST. LOUIS—Even Santa Claus it developed today, knows about the NRA.

A grocery store's Santa Claus telephoned Miss Katherine Meyer, secretary to T. L. Gaukel, district compliance director, to ask about the minimum wage under the code for grocery employes.

"I think," Miss Meyer quoted Santa Claus as saying, "that Santa Claus should receive at least the minimum."

Santa Claus didn't say whether he had heard about the NRA at the north pole or after he came south.

Feast For Dogs

OAKLAND, Calif.,—Because life is not as lonely as it was for Manuel Silva of Martinez, the dogs at the Oakland pound will have roast duck for Christmas dinner.

Silva came to the pound from Martinez a few days ago and obtained a fox terrier that no one else wanted. In a message, accompanying the ducks, he explained both he and the terrier were happy in their new companionship. He requested the ducks should be roasted for the dogs remaining at the pound.

Quick Sale

OKLAHOMA CITY—Two calls over the police radio indicate the kind of service that can be had by those who go about it in the right way. The calls were:

"Car 5, go to the Ozark Drug store. Man wants to buy tickets to the policeman's ball."

And three minutes later:

"Car 5 back in service."

Fire Water

EAST VIEW, N. Y.—Arthur W. Trevit, head keeper at East View penitentiary, smelled liquor somewhere in the place but was unable to trace it until yesterday. Then he found that a fire extinguisher hanging in the main hall was full of home brew, just about ripe for Christmas consumption.

"It was fire water all right," said Trevit. He questioned the prisoners but admitted his chances of finding the brewers were slim.

Just Too Much

GREENSBURG, Pa.—Joseph College (honest) didn't rebel when three holdup men stopped his truck. He didn't get mad when they told him to "stick 'em up" and hand over his money. (He had only $1.53). But when one of the hold-up men knocked Joe's pipe from his mouth, that was too much.

One punch put one of the trio on the ground. Another haymaker grounded a second, and the third fled. Joe, in addition to being an ardent pipe smoker, is something of an amateur wrestler and he weighs 225 pounds. The hold-up men didn't know that.

Crete, Neb., boasts a lawn that resembles a zoo. V. J. Prucha of that town spends his spare time training red cedars to assume statuary forms in growth; his trees resemble dogs, peacocks, camels, elephants, eagles, horses, and rabbits.

Luncheon Club At Lamesa Names Head

LAMESA, Dec. 22. (Special)—Cecil Speck was elected president of the Lamesa Luncheon club at a semi-annual election this week. Other officers chosen were: Dr. F. Z. Frazier, vice president, and Owen Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

Retiring officers are W. D. Arnett, president; Dr. J. D. Burleson, vice president; and Cecil Speck, secretary-treasurer. The club is laying plans for an enthusiastic and constructive program during the first six months of 1934, according to Speck. This club boasts of a record, it is believed, unmatched in the country. It has been organized 7 years; has missed only 3 meetings; is unaffiliated outside the City of Lamesa; and is well attended each meeting.

CHINESE WILL MAKE ATTACK

CONCERTED DRIVE IS LAUNCHED AGAINST SECESSIONISTS

SHANGHAI, Dec. 22 (AP)—An officially inspired report that the nationalist government was launching a combined land and sea thrust against the rebel government which has established itself in Fukien province was given wide play today in the local Chinese newspapers.

The reports stated that the nationalist government's armies along the western and northern borders of Fukien were poised for a drive on Foochow, heavily-fortified capital of the province and seat of the revolutionary government.

The nationalist government's fleet, consisting of a group of gunboats, was ordered to steam to north Fukien, land troops there and attack the rebels from the rear.

The reports said Chiang Kai-Shek had abandoned for the time being his intensive campaign against the reds in Kiangsi province and had arrived by airplane at the Fukien border to lead his land forces in person.

These reports and many others were considered a part of a Nanking propaganda campaign, while it was believed that in reality hostilities were as far away as ever and political bickering continued between the Nanking regime and the secessionists.

Little Miss Breedlove made a hit with her number and was presented with a bouquet of roses.

Sue Gunn and Lucille Walker were featured in songs and dances opening the show.

Other youngsters taking part in the show besides those above were:

Pauline Barrier, Virginia Nislar, Betty Charles McBride, Bernetta Morris, Joan Nislar, Betty Lou Hendricks, Joyce Darden, Warner Peticolas, Keith Bleecker, Hubert Stanton, Mary Jo Turner.

Special lighting and stage effects made the revue the most entertaining affair of its kind of the current amusement season.
