Answerline

Q. If President Clinton left office before his term was up, who would become vice president?

A. Vice President Al Gore would become president, and until the 2000 election could be held, there would be no vice president. The next in line to become president would be the speaker of the House.

Kids, animals ready for show

4-H CLUB MEMBER Mark Sheets was washing his black Angus steer indoors Monday to keep him out of the cold weather. Mark is one of more than 100 Mitchell County youngsters who will show steers, swine, sheep and goats in a weekend junior livestock show.

There is a lot to see at the 62nd Annual Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the county ag barn southwest of Colorado City off West Hwy. 80.

You'll see eager young people, some very polished at what they're doing, exemplary specimens of steers, hogs, sheep and goats, proud parents and prosperous buyers.

But there is still more to it than meets the eye -- the underlying purpose of promoting agriculture and helping to secure the future economic well-being of the county.

"The value of the show is for those members to exhibit their feeding and breeding projects, carried out under supervisors who are their ag teachers and county agents," said show vice president Bryan Limmer.

"We hope that experience will continue to develop and promote the livestock industry and the total agricultural program in Mitchell County."

Last year's 333 animals will increase to 350 this year.

Stock weigh-ins begin at 5 p.m. Thursday at the ag barn, and the first event is the steer show at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Only five steers were shown last year, but there will be 10 this time.

The second Friday night exhibition will in many ways be the most impressive of the weekend because the county's well-developed swine industry will send 200 hogs to the 7 p.m. show -- an increase over the 178 that were shown last year.

Lamb County Agent Dirk Aaron of Littlefield will judge both shows, and the swine show is expected to last over three hours.

Admission to all the events is free, and the Business & Professional Women of Colorado City will operate a concession stand.

The goat show will kick off at 8 a.m. Saturday and the lamb show at 10 a.m.

The popular "Pee Wee" show is at noon Saturday, when 30 to 40 4- and 5-year-old children are given goats to dis-

Chamber groups decide citizen, family honors; banquet speaker named

One of the interesting things about the annual Chamber of Commerce "Citizen of the Year" and "Farm and Ranch Family of the Year" awards is that they are based on entirely different criteria and decided by two different groups.

The Citizen of the Year is chosen for his or her work in behalf of the community or other people, separate from their employment.

Farm and Ranch Family of the Year honorees are selected for their ability to manage and enhance their land, although community service may also be considered.

The winners will be announced at the highpoint of the 91st Annual Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce Banquet at 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6, at the Civic Center at 157 W. Second St.

Tickets are $13 and are already on sale at the chamber office and through members of the board of directors.

It will be the 36th year that the top citizen and farm and ranch family have been recognized with the presentation of plaques.

Chamber Director Windi Fuller and her assistant, Penny Wheeler, had only received three nominations for Citizen of the Year and none for the farm and ranch family early last week.

But the Wednesday deadline was extended and the nominations closed with seven for Citizen of the Year and six for Farm and Ranch Family of the Year.

The winners will be chosen next week by two different methods in two separate meetings at the chamber.

Last year's leading citizen, Christmas in April leader Bertie Kidd, will meet with Mayors Jim Baum of Colorado City, Bill Rees of Westbrook and Catarino Martinez of Loraine, along with County Commissioners Ed Roach, Carl Guelker, Wendy Inman and Bill Preston, to pick the honoree.

Members of the last three Farm and Ranch Families of the Year and officials of the county Farm Service Agency will then make the other selection.

"It's based on their ability to manage farm and ranch land and to enhance their property continually by following proper farming and ranching techniques," said Ms. Fuller, reading from the contest's formally stated criteria.

"That's where the Farm Service Agency comes in, to keep us aware of farmers and ranchers who are doing innovative things with water conservation or working with cattle."

THE FIRST BABY born in Mitchell County in 1999 is Alexis Lea Lara, daughter of Moses Lara and Mary DeLeon. Alexis was born at 11:57 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 3, at Mitchell County Hospital. She weighed seven pounds, 13 ounces, and was 20 inches long.

Drug case goes federal

Two men who were arrested for hauling drugs in an 18-wheeler truck were taken into custody by officers of the United States Customs Service here Monday.

Three Customs Service officers from San Angelo took the men to Lubbock to appear before a federal magistrate, where they will be tried in federal court.

Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs said federal officers in San Angelo are investigating seizing the 1994 Peterbilt truck and refrigerated trailer and the county will get a share of the proceeds if it is sold under federal drug forfeiture laws.

"Once it's filed federally, they've got to go to court in three months," the sheriff said.

Defendants are the truck-driver, Timothy Wayne Jenkins, 36, of Sugar Land, near Houston, and his passenger, Clayton Fidel Manning, 21, of Yorktown, Va., a native of Jamaica.

Jenkins' 33-year-old wife Barbara Jean was also arrested after the truck was stopped at 11:15 a.m. Friday, Dec. 25. See DRUGS, page 5

Rehab support a lifetime thing

By Bob Campbell

The late West Texas Rehabilitation Center founder Shelley Smith had a philosophy for staging benefits back when I was working with him as a part-time public relations man.

"Just having a good cause isn't enough," he would say. "You still have to give people a good show."

They adhere to that principle today for the 29th Annual Rehab Telethon, which will be broadcast Saturday night from the Abilene Civic Center.

Nashville country singer Collin Raye will headline, joined by The Lynns, Peter Marshall, Bill and Susan Hayes, Anacani, Arthur Duncan, Ana Alicia Garza and Brad Maule.

They'll put on a great show, and some time during the 7 to 10 p.m. broadcast they will mention Shelley and show his picture.

The Business & Professional Women of Colorado City will be taking pledges in the City National Bank lobby at 228 Elm St., and they invite everyone to come by and have coffee or soft drinks.

Give them a call at 728-5221.

An afghan donated by the Ladies Auxiliary of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 9178 is among more than 175 items to be auctioned during the annual telethon.

I had seen Shelley at Rehab Center board meetings I covered for the Abilene Reporter-News before I went to work for him on the side in early 1976.

We did a quarterly newsletter and promoted all the Abilene events that were giving us a percentage of the gate -- concerts, tennis and golf tournaments, circuses and so forth.

We dreamed up the Buffalo Gap Bicentennial Weekend in

'76 and promoted the '77 Telethon with Rex Allen Sr. and Jr., singer Sammi Smith, ventriloquist-comedienne Shari Lewis and other entertainers.

Shelley was a physical therapist who was working with a few kids in an unused classroom at an Abilene school when he started the Rehab Center from scratch.

One of his first big moves was to attend a rodeo in San See REHAB, page 5

Holiday fire hampers Hobbs school program

HOBBS -- Heavy fire and smoke damages will not keep Hobbs Alternative School from educating its students this spring, officials say.

Colorado City Supt. Russell Merket, whose school district is one of 12 sending secondary students here, said classes resumed on a "short day" Monday and enough of the building was undamaged that its program can be continued.

The blaze was reported at 6 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 29, and firemen from Roby, Rotan and Snyder battled it for two hours and then started the clean-up operation that will go on for months.

Contradicting initial speculation, a state fire marshal said on New Year's Eve that it did not appear to be arson.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Don Turk said he suspected a malfunction in an electrical appliance in the southwestern corner of the building, where the fire started.

Marshal Turk said trained dogs were unable to find any indication that gasoline or other accelerants were used.

Supt. Merket inspected the building, southwest of Rotan, last Thursday morning, and he said Monday that none of the school's 16 regular classrooms were still usable.

Six were heavily damaged by the fire, and toxic fumes from smoke damages had rendered the others uninhabitable for the spring semester, he said.

However, school officials were planning to use the cafeteria, auditorium and a nearby mobile home that was once used as a day care center, Merket said.

The school is also bringing in three portable classrooms that will be divided into six rooms, he said.

Eighty-seven students are currently assigned there.

The most damage was in three southwestern classrooms, a counselor's office and the library, although a school spokesman said most of the library books only had some smoke damage.

He said the industrial shop also might be used for classrooms.

All the other classrooms had smoke and water damages, and the school's administrative offices and auditorium escaped with smoke exposure only.

Merket said Colorado City currently has eight students at the school.

"We send kids for quite a few reasons, some for discipline," he said. "Basically, what we've always used it for was for kids to try to catch up and graduate on time.

"Or sometimes they come back after they've dropped out. It's a self-paced program and a different setting.

"They have small classes."

Merket said the school graduated 47 students last spring, all of whom had passed their TAAS Tests.

Others are given diplomas when they finish their curricula and pass their tests at various points in the school year.

Called the Hobbs Alternative Education Cooperative, it is for ninth through 12th grade students from 14 to 21 years old.

Most C-City students are assigned there for a full calendar year.

Each student costs the district $6,000 a year.

Sweetwater Independent School District is the "physical agent" for the school, Merket said, handling the money, hiring the teachers and administering contracts.

It is operated by a board of superintendents from the districts that support it -- in addition to C-City and Sweetwater, Anson, Blackwell, Hemphill, Ira, Loraine, Roby, Roscoe, Rotan, Snyder and Trent.

Eleven miles southwest of Rotan in Fisher County, Hobbs School was opened in 1925, remodeled in 1957 and converted into an alternative school in 1990.

Merket said 100 percent of the damages were insured.

THIS 18-WHEELER TRUCK knocked a guardrail into the westbound lanes of Interstate 20 east of Colorado City Tuesday morning, causing a Loraine woman to hit the guardrail and overturn her car. The woman and her two little boys sustained minor injuries.

Woman, two children hurt in Tuesday truck mishap

A 61-year-old Baltimore, Md., trucker ran over a guardrail at 7:10 a.m. Tuesday east of Colorado City on Interstate 20, which then led a Loraine woman to hit the guardrail and turn her car over in the median.

Department of Public Safety Trooper Shane Johnson said Levia Harper was eastbound in his 1998 Kenworth truck when he went to sleep, hit the guardrail and knocked it into a westbound I-20 traffic lane.

The truck rode the top of the guardrail, went through the eastbound lanes and came to rest on the highway shoulder.

A westbound 1998 Honda Accord driven by Pamela Cornutt of Loraine collided with the guardrail and rolled once in the center median, Trooper Johnson said.

Mrs. Cornutt and her children, 6-year-old Mitch and 4-year-old Sam, were all wearing seatbelts and were treated and released at Mitchell County Hospital after being taken there by ambulance.

Assisted by Colorado City police and a West Texas Interlocal Crime Task Force agent, Johnson closed the right-hand lane on the south side of the interstate so that the disabled truck could be removed.

Two Big Spring wrecker companies, Mitchem's and M&M Wrecker, were summoned, completing the task at noon Tuesday.

The truck was hauling seat cushions.

Nominations for either award must be accompanied by written descriptions of why the person or family should be recognized.

The three previous Farm and Ranch Families of the Year were Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Munoz of Loraine and Robert and Mary Margaret Cox and Nubbin and Mauréen Morris of Colorado City.

"People always come up with some really good nominations for Citizen of the Year," Ms. Fuller said.

"It can't be related to your job. You can't be employed to do the work you're nominated for.

"You have to be taking time out of your own personal life in order to promote or do things for the community."

Mayor Rees of Westbrook, Wallace and Ware Units Warden Rodney Cooper and Christmas in April leader Jan Lemons were the three previous honorees.

The featured banquet speaker this year will be motivational speaker Thomas Scott of Colorado City, who was once part of "Super Salesman" Zig Ziglar's organization and now travels Texas and the Southwest as an independent speaker.

Scott has been so busy lately that he has been unavailable to provide a biography, Ms. Wheeler said.

Two hundred people attended last year's banquet.

Outgoing board members are President Judy Stewart of Loraine and Sue Lowrance and Richy Womack, both of C-City.

Holdover directors are incoming President Dan Morgan, Paul Johnson, Bob Reily, Helen Edwards, Donna Laurens and Janet McCright.

New directors who will be installed at the banquet are Sharon Gilbreath, Mike Jordan and Dell Toelkes.

FRED CRAWFORD DAY JANUARY 13, 1999

As a tribute to the memory of Country and Western great Fred Crawford, January 13, 1999 will be "Fred Crawford Day" from 7-9 a.m. on KVMC-KAUM Radio. We will remember the music of the late Fred Crawford.

Fred Crawford started playing guitar and singing at school functions at the age of 8 years old. In 1939, at age 11, Fred won a talent contest at KWKH Radio in Shreveport, La. He sang "You Are My Sunshine".

Fred Crawford started his recording career in 1953 at age 25. He and George Jones recorded in Houston, Texas at Quinn's Studio. Fred's first bestseller was entitled "Never Gonna Get Married Again". He made personal appearances at events like the Louisiana Hayride and The Barnyard Frolics in Little Rock, Ark. and he had personal appearances elsewhere.

Fred started his radio career at KLFY Radio and TV in Lafayette, La. Fred was at KERB Radio for many years with his "Cornfed Fred Crawford Show" which aired from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. While working at KERB Radio in Kermit, Texas he became well known for playing the records of the Country and Western Artists. A few spent the night with us when booked for personal appearances in the surrounding areas. George Jones has been known to eat homemade chili beans with us. Fred has known and appeared with others such as Ray Price, Elvis Presley, Bill Mack, Red Sovine, Jimmy Newman, Slim Willett and others.

In 1976 Fred Crawford began his "Cornfed Fred Crawford Show" at KVMC, Colorado City, Texas. During his years at KVMC, KVMC Radio became KVMC-KAUM. Fred continued his "Cornfed Fred Crawford Show" until his retirement from radio, and he and his wife, Eloise, continued to live in Colorado City, Texas.

The family of Fred Crawford will have some of Fred's memorabilia on display January 12 through January 16. This will be on display at the Heart of West Texas Museum in Colorado City, Texas.

Fred Benjamin Crawford will be remembered and loved by many. The family of Fred Crawford will remember and hold him dear to their hearts.

Winter is frigid, thanks to La Nina

Weather created by La Nina, El Nino's feminine counterpart, is the opposite of what her famous brother produced last year.

Along with unseasonably cold weather even for wintertime, La Nina has spawned wetter than normal conditions in the Pacific Northwest and warmer, drier than usual weather across the Southwest and

South. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) in Washington, D. C., reported on New Year's Eve that "the cold episode -- La Nina -- will likely continue through the 1998-99 winter."

"From the powerful El Nino, tornadoes over Florida and the Southeast and searing heat in Texas, followed by floods, to the might of Hurricanes George and Mitch, 1998 will go down in weather history as one of the most dramatic weather years in recent times," an NOAA spokesman said.

"Depending on temperatures during December, 1998 could end up being the warmest year on record."

"Heat was persistent and widespread as the country observed its second warmest winter on record, 28th warmest spring, ninth warmest summer and second warmest autumn."

The spokesman said three hurricanes and four tropical storms hit land -- the most since 1985 -- and left $6.5 billion in damages.

But they also helped to relieve the drought.

The weather caused a 28-percent decline in the national cotton crop from 1997 and a near-total burn-out of Mitchell County dryland cotton.

In Texas, the severe drought cost agriculture more than $2 billion and wildfires fomented by it charred 143,000 acres of land in May and June.

"Wildfires across the southern U. S. burned 1.3 million acres, four times the acreage burned in 1997," said a spokesman for the National Weather Service, which is a division of the NOAA.

"April and June was the driest such period in 104 years in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana and Florida. May and June was the warmest such period on record in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Florida."

"The total drought and heat costs exceeded $6 billion and caused at least 200 deaths."

Tropical Storms Charley and Frances and other wet weather systems brought heavy rains to South and Southeast Texas from August to November.

They effectively ended the drought in those areas, but 42 deaths were attributed to flooding.

Charley hit Del Rio and Ciudad Acuna on the Texas-Mexico border on Aug. 25, destroyed heavily populated colonias along the Rio Grande, killed a conservatively estimated number of 11 people and dropped a record 17.3 inches of rain in that one day.

Del Rio had only had 2.89 inches of rain in 1998 before the storm landed.

Charley prompted Mitchell County residents to contribute more than 10,000 pounds of food, clothing and other items that were trucked to Ciudad Acuna in late November by members of the Noon Lions Club.

The drive began in early October and was the biggest in memory here.

Twenty-nine people died, most of them motorists caught on flooded roads, when a violent weather system slammed into Southeast Texas on Oct. 17-18.

San Antonio had 11.26 inches of rain in those two days.

The National Weather Service is modernizing its entire system with 152 Advanced Weather Interactive Processing Systems that will be installed by the end of this year.

Since leasing a "Super-computer" last year, it has also launched a "Dial-a-Buoy" service to give mariners coastal and off-shore weather information by telephone and has installed 26 new transmitters in its NOAA Weather Radio Network.

The network is being expanded this year to 481 stations in all 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and American Pacific territories.

"The weather radio broadcasts up to the minute NWS forecasts and warnings 24 hours a day," a spokesman said. "The newest models can be set to activate when severe weather strikes -- even when you are asleep!"

"The NWS team's goal is to provide the American public with a 'no surprise' National Weather Service. The nearly completed $4.5-billion modernization continues to help us meet that goal."

He said its tornado warning accuracy improved from 43 to 67 percent from 1993 to 1998 and its lead time for tornado warnings lengthened from six to 11 minutes.

Flash flood warning accuracy went from 71 to 83 percent and flash flood lead times from 22 minutes six years ago to 52 minutes last year.

Merket touts boards

January is School Board Recognition Month, with the goal of building awareness of the vital role an elected board of education plays in our society.

The Colorado ISD is joining other districts throughout the state to recognize the important contributions trustees make to their communities. "Texans benefit every day from the dedicated energies and countless hours devoted by a group of more than 7,000 men and women across the state. These public servants are elected to serve by local citizens and receive no compensation for their tireless efforts. These men and women are the local school board members of Texas," said Russell Merket, superintendent of Colorado ISD.

"These people unselfishly contribute their time and talents toward the advancement of public education," Merket said. "They represent a continuing commitment to local citizen control and decision making in education."

"Even though we are making a special effort during January to show appreciation to our school board members, we recognize their contributions reflect a year-round commitment on their part," Merket said.

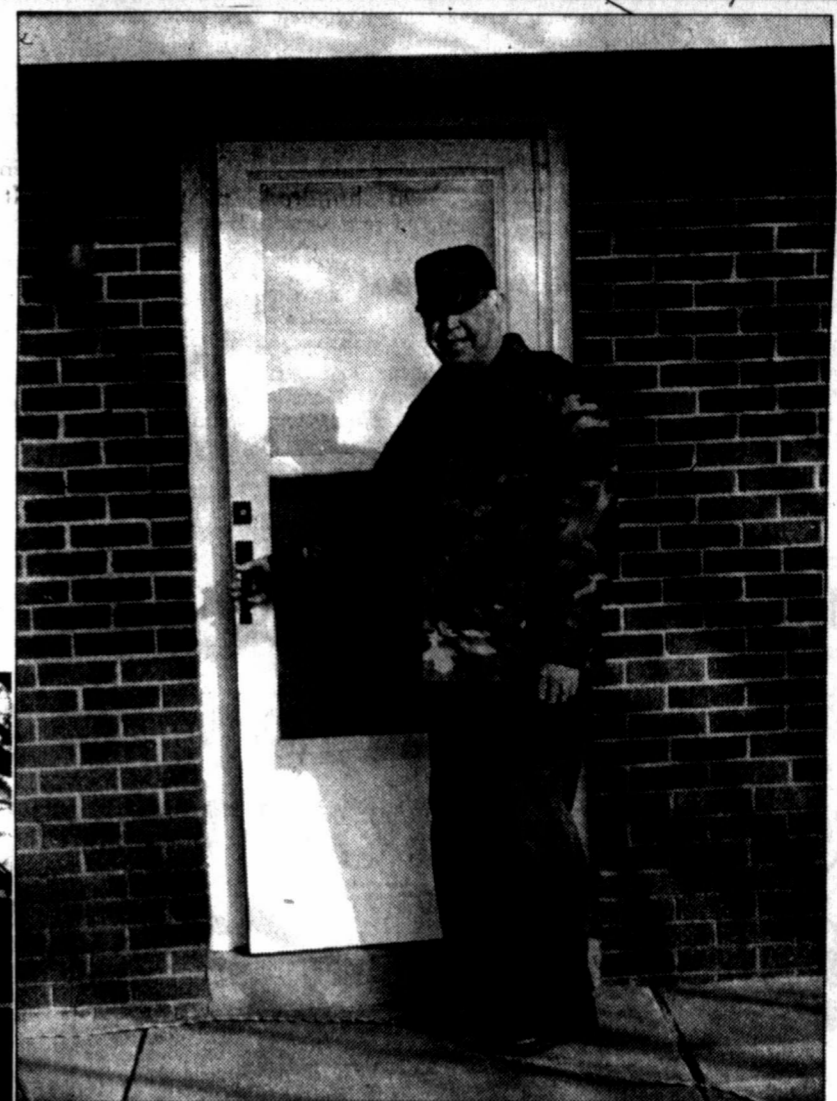

PUBLIC NOTICE

On December 30, 1998, Texas Utilities Electric Company ("TU Electric"), in accordance with Substantive Rule 23.23(b) of the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission"), filed a Petition with the Commission seeking final reconciliation of all eligible fuel and purchased power expenses incurred during the reconciliation period of July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1998. TU Electric is also seeking an accounting order from the Commission that will allow certain costs incurred to facilitate the use of coal as a supplemental fuel at its Monticello lignite-fueled generating plant and costs relating to the internal rail transportation systems at its Monticello and Martin Lake lignite-fueled generating plants to be treated as eligible fuel costs and billed pursuant to TU Electric's Rider FC - Fuel Cost Factor. All of TU Electric's customers and classes of customers and all territories served by TU Electric are affected by the Petition. Persons who wish to intervene in the proceeding or comment upon the action sought should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326, or call the Commission's Office of Consumer Affairs at (512) 936-7120. Hearing- and speech-impaired individuals with text telephones (TTY) may contact the Commission at (512) 936-7136.

OBITUARIES

Roy V. Fox 1918-1998

Roy V. Fox, age 80, a four year resident of Georgetown, Texas, and former resident of Colorado City, died Friday, Jan. 1. Services were Thursday at 2 p.m. at The Gabriels Funeral Chapel in Georgetown.

Fox was born in Davis, Oklahoma to Cora and John Fox July 28, 1918. In college, Fox worked in many departments of various newspapers. During World War II, he served in the Army Air Corps eventually achieving the rank of captain.

Following active military service, Fox was owner, editor and publisher of the San Saba News. At that time he was appointed general manager of Southwestern Dailies, Inc. publishers of daily newspapers in Brownwood, Del Rio, Lamesa, Waxahachie and Miami, OK. In 1952, he and a partner purchased the Colorado City (Texas) Record which he owned for eight years.

Later, Fox established and directed the publishing and printing department of Franklin Resources. In 1985, he retired from that post and continued as a director of Franklin's AGE High Income Fund. In 1998, Fox retired from the board and was elected Director Emeritus of Franklin-Templeton Mutual Funds.

During his lifetime, Fox also served as president of the West Texas Press Association and member of the board of directors of the Texas Press Association for 12 years. He was a member of Mitchell (County) Masonic Lodge until his death. He was a member of the First Christian Church of Colorado City and chairman for a term of the Colorado City Parks Recreation Department.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 50 years, Edna Louise McMaster. He is survived by his daughter, Anita Fox of Georgetown; two grandsons, Chip Lewis of Atlanta, Georgia and Sam Fox Lewis of Georgetown; two nieces and two nephews.

Memorials may be made to the Shriner's Children's Hospital in Galveston or any Native American charity.

Gwyn Mitchell 1927-1998

Gwyn Mitchell, age 71, of Abilene died Saturday, Jan. 2. Graveside services were held Monday at 2 p.m. with Rev. Mike Shirley officiating. Interment followed in Rose Hill Cemetery in Merkel. Arrangements made by Starbuck Funeral Home in Merkel.

Ms. Mitchell was born September 21, 1927 in Merkel to D.H. and Martha Watkins Vaughn. She married James Price Mitchell in Sweetwater on November 8, 1950, who preceded her in death.

Ms. Mitchell graduated from Merkel High School. She was a resident of Abilene most of her life where she worked as a receptionist at Frances' Beauty Salon for 18 years. She was a Methodist and an active resident at the Grand Courts in Abilene.

She is survived by one daughter, Debbie Wheeler of Lovington, NM; two sons, Jim Mitchell of Oklahoma City, OK and Tim Mitchell of Colorado City; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Merkel Cemetery Association.

Gwyn and her husband, Clay Feagan owned and operated the Colorado City Country Club here from the mid 1980s to the mid 90s.

Dora Craighead Ivey 1913-1998

Mrs. Dora Craighead Ivey, age 85, died Friday at her residence in Irving. Services were at 1 p.m. Monday in the Donnelly's Colonial Funeral Home in Irving with Rev. James R. Miller and Chaplain William Blain officiating. Interment followed at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the Lone Wolf Cemetery under the direction of Donnelly's Colonial Funeral Home.

Mrs. Ivey was born December 10, 1913 in Gorman, TX. She was the widow of Cyrus Craighead. They had been farmers in the Mitchell County area for many years.

Survivors include two sons, Wesley Craighead of Grand Lake, CO and Bob Craighead of Clear Lake, CA; two daughters, Vivian Wooddell of Dallas and Shirley Green of Odessa; two sisters, Jimmie Salmon of Pantego, TX and Corene Keller of Bartlesville, OK; one brother, Bill Loughry of Fort Worth; eight grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Muriel Sweatt 1911-1998

Muriel Sweatt, age 87 of Colorado City, died Saturday, December 26, 1998. Memorial services were held Tuesday, Dec. 29 at the First Christian Church in Colorado City with Kevin Anderson officiating. Burial followed in New Mexico.

She is survived by one sister, Manita Admire; one daughter, Sharon Burnae; three grandchildren, Michelle Parsons, Glen Bernard, Shannon Sonnenberg; two great-grandchildren, Kolton and Kord Sonnenberg.

The family requests that memorials be made to First Christian Church.

Ollie Lee Brown Deese 1930-1998

Ms. Ollie Lee Brown Deese, age 68, a lifelong resident of Colorado City, died Thursday in a local hospital. Services were at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Kiker-Seale Chapel with Rev. Howard Jerigan officiating. Burial followed in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Ms. Deese was born February 4, 1930 in Colorado City. She married Stanley Gilbert Brown in 1950 in Colorado City. He preceded her in death in 1978. She was a retired restaurant cook and a Baptist.

She is survived by three daughters, Sue Craighead Perez, Reta Isbell and Mary Sally Brown, all of Colorado City; two sons, Stanley G. "Shorty" Brown and Donnie Brown, both of Pahrump, NV; one sister, Katherine Reed of Sidney, TX; one brother, William Virgil Ward of Buena Vista, CA; 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Jonell Posey Richardson 1925-1998

Mrs. Jonell Posey Richardson, age 73, of Wichita Falls, and formerly of Colorado City, died Saturday at her residence in Wichita Falls. Services were at 10 a.m. Monday at the Lunn's Colonial Chapel in Wichita Falls with Rev. Larry Brownfield officiating. Interment followed at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Lunn's Colonial Funeral Home.

Mrs. Richardson was born November 3, 1925 in Colorado City. She married Sam Richardson on August 25, 1941 in Big Spring. He preceded her in death on December 30, 1996. She worked as a deputy clerk in the Tax Collector's Office from 1953-1961 and as a bookkeeper and office manager for car dealerships in Midland, Wichita Falls, Dallas and Fort Worth. She was a member of the Faith Baptist Church.

She is survived by one daughter, Sammie Jo Waldrip of Wichita Falls; two sons, Terry Lee Richardson of Nacogdoches and Tommy Ray Richardson of Fort Worth; one sister, Jerry Strain of Colorado City; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Memorials may be made to the Faith Baptist Church in Wichita Falls or Hospice of Wichita Falls.

Billie Louise Wood 1930-1998

Mrs. Billie Louise Wood, age 68, of Big Spring and formerly Colorado City, died Wednesday in a Big Spring nursing home. Graveside services were at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Dorn Cemetery with Pastor Roger Huff officiating. Arrangements were by Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wood was born May 16, 1930 in Westbrook and had lived in Big Spring for the past 12 years. She married Eugene Wood on July 17, 1948 in Big Spring. She was a homemaker and a member of the First Church of Nazarene in Big Spring.

She is survived by her husband, Eugene Wood of Big Spring; her mother, Erelene Dorn of Levelland; three daughters, Neta Lelek, Connie Lesser and Tina Sundy, all of Big Spring; three sons, Fred Wood of Fort Worth, Robert Wood of Washington and William Wood of Nevada; four sisters, Wanda Hill of Odessa, Katherine Leach of Lubbock, Vesta Shaw of Colorado City and Sug Hodge of Levelland; one brother, Johnny Dorn of Stephenville; 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

John Harrison Chinn, Jr. 1924-1998

John Harrison Chinn, Jr., M.D., 74, of China Spring, a resident of Colorado City in the 1950's, '60's and '70's, died Monday at a Waco hospital. Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Cognally-Compton Funeral Directors Chapel in Waco with Monsignor Mark Deering officiating. Interment will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at Uvalde Cemetery at Uvalde in South Texas.

Dr. Chinn was born Aug. 13, 1924, in Uvalde to Bertie and John H. Chinn. He was an Army Air Corps veteran of World War II, during which he received a Purple Heart for combat. He mustered out of the military service in 1946 and returned to the University of Texas in Austin, which he had attended for about a year prior to the war.

Dr. Chinn graduated from the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston, served his internship in Oklahoma City and moved to Colorado City in 1956.

In addition to pursuing his medical practice for 19 years here, he served as a Colorado City city councilman and mayor.

Five of his six children graduated from Colorado High School. John in 1968, Kathleen in '71, David in '72, Rosemary in '73 and Patricia in '76. His daughter Michelle graduated from China Spring High School, northwest of Waco, after Dr. Chinn and his wife, the former Patricia McElroy, moved there in 1981.

He left Colorado City upon accepting a 1975 appointment as a professor of medicine at the Texas Tech University Medical School in Lubbock and Amarillo. After moving to the Waco area, he served as an emergency room physician at Providence Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital there.

Dr. Chinn had been in poor health with a heart condition and had undergone heart surgery.

Survivors include his wife of 49 years, Patricia; his six children, John of Lubbock, Kathleen of Las Cruces, N.M., David and Michelle of China Spring and Patricia Chinn and Rosemary Owens of Irving; a niece and a nephew; and four grandchildren.

David Chinn provided much of the preceding information, along with Dr. Chinn's longtime friend, Bob Ratliff of Colorado City.

The family asks that memorials be in the form of donations to the American Heart Association or the Alzheimer's Association.

County agent sets Jan. 12 beef meeting

Beef quality, animal health concerns and marketing alternatives will be discussed in a Mitchell County beef improvement meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 12, at Garcia's Restaurant.

County Agent Vance Christie said continuing education credits will be given during the meeting at the 2199 S. Hwy. 208 restaurant.

"The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss the best management practices concerning all aspects of beef production," Christie said.

"Specifically, they are health management, factors affecting beef quality and marketing alternatives for cow-calf and stocker cattle operations." He said video auctions are one alternative in modern day cattle marketing.

Animal health-related topics will include value-added calf vaccination programs and the control of internal and external parasites.

The meeting will be sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Superior Livestock Auction of Fort Worth, represented by Stefan Jameson of Colorado City, and Ft. Dodge Animal Health of San Angelo.

Christie asked that reservations be made by calling his office at 728-3111 by 5 p.m. Monday.

east of Colorado City on Interstate 20.

Mrs. Jenkins was released on $50,000 in bonds on Dec. 26.

The trio was taken into custody by Sheriff Toombs, Deputy Mike Redwine and Texas Department of Public Safety License and Weight Officer Donnie Gilbreath.

The officers discovered 164 pounds of marijuana in two boxes, among the truck's load of lemons and oranges and also found small amounts of cocaine in plastic bags in the truck cab.

Sheriff Toombs said he had been in communication with the Customs Service about the arrests and the federal officers then decided the case should be tried in federal court.

Deputy Redwine stopped the truck for speeding and called for assistance when the log-book was found to be out of date.

Jenkins gave permission for the truck to be searched.

The couple said Manning had begun traveling with them in California, where the load of fruit was picked up, and that they were en route to Philadelphia, Pa.

The federal officers commented to Colorado City Record photographer John Martinez that the county officers did an "outstanding" job in the investigation.

Photos were not taken of the men because they are undercover narcotics officers.

Drugs found in van

A 46-year-old Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, man was arrested on a second-degree felony possession of marijuana charge after state narcotics officers found 57 pounds of the drug in his van here Tuesday afternoon.

Agent Marc Fletcher of the West Texas Interlocal Crime Task Force interviewed Gerardo Hernandez Avila about 1 p.m. Tuesday at the roadside park just east of Loraine on the south side of Interstate 20.

Agent Ronnie Stiltner of the Abilene-based agency joined Agent Fletcher at the scene, and the officers obtained Avila's permission to search the 1986 Dodge van.

They took it to PJ's Wrecker Service on East Hwy. 80 and found two large packages of the drug in the fender wells, Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs said.

REHAB

Antonio to see Rex Allen Sr. and ask him to headline an annual show for the center.

Rex was a big-time western movie star, singer and rodeo entertainer who had a special empathy for handicapped children, having been born cross-eyed.

His twin brother had died on the family's Arizona ranch after being bitten by a rattlesnake because they were too far from a doctor.

Then Rex had had to go to Chicago to get his eyes fixed.

So he agreed to help, and today we have the huge operation in Abilene, San Angelo and Ozona.

I had never spent much time around the center before starting to work there, usually in the late afternoons.

It's an impressive place.

They rehabilitate stroke and accident victims, making the lame walk, the dumb speak and the deaf hear.

Physical therapy is often a very painful process, I saw.

They do great work with children, but they also help people of all ages.

The original practice of only asking people to pay what they can afford and basing services on what needs to be done, not who can best pay for it, remains in effect.

I like that. It's non-governmental, person to person -- characteristically West Texan.

Half a century ago, the type of people that the Rehab Center helps were often just stuck with their conditions for life.

There weren't many places that could help them, and they couldn't afford the places that could.

A total of 123 people from Colorado City and Mitchell County needed the Rehab Center last year, and that's exactly how many it came through for.

So if you're watching, Shelley, I'm still working for you.

The eastbound van had State of Chihuahua, Mexico, license plates, Sheriff Toombs said.

He said Avila's wife accompanied him, but the defendant supported her claim that she did not know drugs were in the van.

She was released after the couple was taken to Mitchell County Jail.

Sheriff Toombs said Avila would go before a justice of the peace Wednesday to be arraigned and have his bond set.

The CCR Column

Colorado Rockies remembered

By Bob Campbell

The main thing you collect in the newspaper business is the same thing you deal with every day -- stories.

There have been a lot over the years, and I was thinking the other day that I have never repeated most of them in print since the times I wrote them.

The top story I covered in Amarillo, aside from a couple of out-of-town murder trials, was the great blizzard of 1971, when the snow and wind were so bad that 15,000 cattle died on the High Plains.

The snow came in horizontally on a 50-mph wind, and the whole town was still for days afterward except for some four-wheel-drive vehicles.

I couldn't get to work until the third day, and one guy who was a member of the Sierra Club came in on snowshoes and slept in a sleeping bag on the newsroom floor.

Then I spent a day in a National Guard helicopter while they rescued people, including a ranchwoman who had driven into a ravine near Pampa.

Army Chinook helicopters dropped hay to the livestock.

I went to Glenwood Springs in the Colorado Rockies in the spring of '71, working for the Grand Junction Daily Sentinel, and was inside the Eisenhower Tunnel under Loveland Pass when they connected the two ends of the tunnel.

It's the longest tunnel in the world at that elevation, about 10,000 feet, at eight-tenths of a mile.

A photographer from Junction and I rode a little miner's train into the middle of the mountain and then had to stick to the dirt walls to dodge big earthmovers.

The dynamite sounded more like a "snap," and when the dust settled you could see through to the other end.

Then after we moved to Junction in late '72, I was at a school board meeting one night when I was called to the phone and told the newspaper was on fire!

A tall wooden mill across the street had been hit by lightning, and there was a terrific north wind that blew brands all over the area. The air conditioner over the press room pulled one in and caught the press room on fire.

We were in the middle of an industrial area and there were fires everywhere, threatening to blow up gas lines and oil tanks.

The fire burned up the press room and our new $1-million Harris offset press, but the firemen stopped it at the fire-wall between the press room and the rest of the building, which is in an upside down "U" shape.

I went in through a broken plate glass window near the firewall about 10 p.m. to check on the newsroom and files and got a mild case of smoke inhalation.

It burned all night, and every time one of the 40-gallon ink drums went up, it made a big "ka-boom" and a colorful mushroom-shaped explosion went up through the main body of the flames.

Individual firemen alternated going up three and four stories in a snorkel truck with a fire shield in front of the box to shoot water right into the teeth of the mill fire.

When the sun finally came up, they lay scattered all over the place like war casualties, exhausted.

(Next week: stories from Abilene, Lubbock, Snyder and Lamesa.)

play and many receive their first showmanship experience.

Ninety goats and 50 lambs are expected for judge Jeff Ripley of San Angelo, the Tom Green County Extension Service agent.

Five hundred buyers and other supporters usually attend the 6 p.m. Saturday premium sale, when the youngsters are paid bonuses for high placings but are allowed to keep their animals for subsequent shows.

There were 106 exhibitors two years ago and 122 last year, and 115 are expected this year from Colorado City, Westbrook and Loraine.

Buyers come here from Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Midland, Robert Lee, San Angelo and other places to support the show.

The sale produced a record $40,000 in premiums last year, a figure that Limmer does not anticipate reaching this time.

"Because of the way the agricultural economy and the oil market have been, it is not expected to be that high," he said.

"It may be $30,000. Since the premium sale started five years ago, it has averaged about $35,000."

Refreshments will be offered during a 5 p.m. social hour before the sale.

The top steers bring a pretty penny, and that's partly because bringing a brilliant specimen to the county show takes a full year of work.

"The steer contest is virtually a year-round project," said Limmer, a vice president at City National Bank and a former Mitchell County agent.

"The kids bought their animals when they are weaning last spring, so they will be 18 months old at the show.

"Lamb and goats were bought over the summer, and the swine exhibitors bought theirs in October and November."

Asked if the hog show will run over three hours, he said, "Yes, but you don't want to rush a judge. He can take as much time as he wants."

Other show officers are president Damon Shipp, secretary-treasurer Dwayne Smith and finance officer Kirk Morris.

County Agent Vance Christie of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is heavily involved, primarily through his sponsorship of the 4-H Club.

Community representatives to the show are Stan McMullen of Loraine, Tommy Whitesides of Westbrook and Jerry Boyd of C-City.

Show superintendents will be McMullen for the steers, Whitesides for the swine, Limmer for the sheep and Tommy Morris for the goats.

The premium sale director is Gary Matlock and the auctioneer Dale Sheets.

School vocational agriculture teachers also play an important role. They are J. W. Schlee of Westbrook, Ray Ellis of Colorado City and Scott Brewer of Loraine.

Belt buckles will be given for the showmanship awards in each of the four divisions, including the Casey Market Memorial Award for steer showmanship, donated by George Walker of Lone Wolf Autoplex.

The Robert Cooper Memorial Buckle will be presented by the Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Association to the "Outstanding Showman" who exhibits animals in two or more divisions.

An exhibitor "who lends an extra helping hand and displays a sportsman-like attitude" will be rewarded with the Tommy Stevens Memorial Buckle for Sportsmanship.

Cap Rock Electric Co-Op will give its Top Hand Award Jacket to the youngster who, in the judgment of the show committee, is the "Top Hand" and contributes most to the success of the show.

Cap Rock will also give a $500 college scholarship to a high school senior who shows an animal in the livestock division.

The Texas Van Gogh

By Tumbleweed Smith

A building in Van Horn has a wall that looks like a Van Gogh painting. The building is the residence and gallery of Ran Horn, an artist and handy man. When he's not doing yard work, he is painting pictures.

Some of his paintings are copies of works by Van Gogh. Others are done in the Van Gogh Style. Ran will sell you what looks like a Van Gogh painting for $159. The price includes framing and shipping.

Four years ago he sold all his paintings with a guarantee. He told buyers he would buy the paintings back at double what they paid for them if they weren't satisfied.

Only one person took him up on his offer. That was a commission piece he did for a young person. It was a painting of a toy.

With the Van Gogh exhibit touring the country, Ran's business has increased. He has received much media exposure. He is running an ad in the New Yorker magazine.

He hopes to see the Van Gogh exhibit when it gets to Los Angeles in January.

Ran Horn would like to paint about twenty murals of Van-Gogh's work on buildings in Van Horn, like the one on his gallery.

He is an ex-missionary who took up art about four years ago when he was in an art store that sold copies of famous paintings. "They have a process where their paintings give you the feel of the old masters," says Ran. "They're exact reproductions. I thought I'd like to do that, but do it in oil, on real canvas, really doing it stroke by stroke."

He began considering the great artists, trying to pick one that he would like to emulate. "I chose Vincent," says Ran. "When you mention artists, it's very likely people are going to think Van Gogh."

Vincent Van Gogh is probably the most famous artist in history. Recently one of his paintings sold for 65 million dollars.

Ran, who was born in Odessa, paints topics of his choice: old men, Dallas Cowboys, street scenes; whatever he feels like painting. But all his works look like they were done by Van Gogh.

He has about 120 paintings in his gallery. "My mama has ten, I've probably sold about fifty and given away about twenty-five, so I've painted around two hundred paintings so far. Vincent cranked out about a thousand. I would like to do at least that."

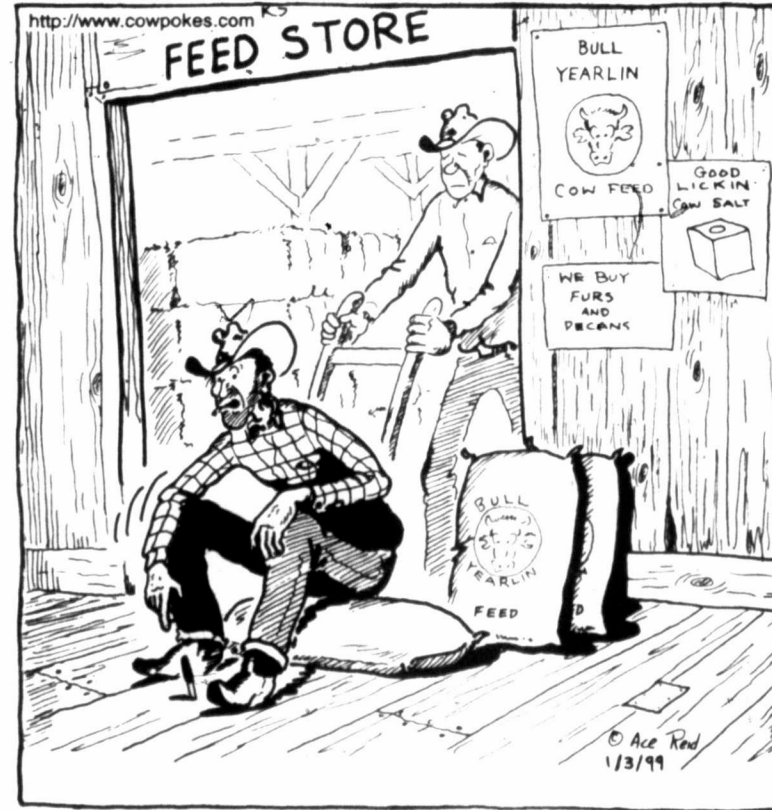

Vincent Van Gogh sold only one painting while he was alive. He painted just ten years and died at the age of 37. Ran is 45 years old. His paintings are not quite in the Van Gogh price range. "I can do a painting at 30 cents a square inch."

Ran has had his gallery in Van Horn just over a year.

COOK'S CORNER

By Sheila Plagens

On major holidays, we expect to eat certain foods. While Super Bowl Sunday may not be deemed a major holiday (yet), for football fans across America, it's certainly a day worth celebrating. And for many, chili is the food of choice for this celebration.

There must be hundreds of recipes for chili -- some with beans, some without, some spicy-hot, and some "not-so-hot." However you like your chili, these recipes are sure to score a touchdown at your table.

MEXICAN MEATBALL AND SALSA CHILI

- 1 1/2 lb. lean ground beef
- 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 lg., onion, chopped
- 2 tsp. vegetable oil
- 2 1/2 cup water (divided)
- 2 cans diced tomatoes with green chilis
- 1 jar (16 oz.) mild, medium or hot salsa
- 2 tsp. ground cumin
- 1 tsp. chili powder
- 1 tsp. finely chopped jalapeno pepper (optional)

1 pkg. Pioneer brown gravy mix

In large bowl, stir together ground beef, bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Shape into 1 inch balls. Place on baking sheet, bake at 400° for 15 minutes or until no longer pink. Meanwhile, in 4-quart saucepan or Dutch oven, cook and stir onion in oil until tender. Add 2 cups water, tomatoes, salsa, cumin, chili powder and jalapeno pepper; bring to a boil. Dissolve gravy mix in 1/2 cup cool water, stir into boiling mixture. Add meatballs, reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes to combine flavors. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

TOP OF TEXAS CHILI

- 6 lbs. lean coarse-ground chuck
- 2 lg. onions, chopped
- 6 green chile pepper, diced - or 2 large bell peppers, diced
- 5 dashes Tabasco sauce
- 10 dashes liquid garlic
- 2 tsp. oregano
- 2 tsp. black pepper
- 2 tsp. cumin
- 12 oz. chili powder
- 6 tsp. salt
- 12 tsp. Kitchen Bouquet
- 4-16 oz. cans tomato sauce
- 4-16 oz. can stewed tomatoes

1 5-oz. can diced hot chilies
1 to 3 tsp. flour for thickening water for thinning
Brown ground chuck in oil over high heat. Add onions and chile peppers and saute with meat. Add Tabasco sauce, liquid garlic, oregano, black pepper, cumin, chili powder, salt, Kitchen Bouquet, tomato sauce, stewed tomatoes, and hot chilies and simmer for at least 2 hours. Taste to correct seasonings and add flour (to thicken) and water (to thin) if necessary. Simmer for approximately 1 more hour.

For those who want a good dish - but don't want to spend a lot of time in the kitchen, we have included the following stew recipe.

WOLF-AT-THE-DOOR STEW

- 1 lb. lean ground beef
 - 1 onion, chopped
 - 1 can tomatoes, chopped
 - 1 can green chilies, chopped
 - 2 cans pinto beans
- Brown the beef and add onion, tomatoes and green chilies. Cook for 30 minutes. Add pinto beans and heat. Serve with warm flour or corn tortillas.

Windbreak trees available through Mitchell SWCD

Windbreak Trees are available through the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District located at the G-kell Building on North Hwy. 208.

Windbreak Trees available are young seedling trees with hardwoods sold at .80¢ each and Evergreens at $1.75 each.

The hardwood trees available are Catalpa, Desert Willow, Green Ash, Walnut, Red Oak, Russian Olive and Sandcherry.

The Evergreens available are Afghanistan Pines (also known as Mondells), Austrian Pine, and Redcedars.

Also available are Wildlife Packets which were developed to provide food and cover for specific wildlife species. Wildlife Packets consist of four different trees and or shrub species (100 total in each packet) which promote wildlife habitat for such species as quail, turkey, deer and squirrel. Packets can be utilized to enhance Wildlife Habitat on CRP. Packets are sold at $55 each.

Assistance is available from the Natural Resources Conservation Service on Windbreak Tree varieties and planting methods.

Drip irrigation supplies are also available from the Mitchell SWCD to insure survival of your tree plantings.

Go by the NRCS Office, (G-Kell Building) to obtain a tree order form. Orders must be in by February 4, 1999.

Morris wins junior championship

ODESSA -- Robin Morris of Colorado City won the junior all around championship in the two-day Quarter Horse Show at the Sandhills Stock Show and Rodeo.

Miss Morris, an eighth-grader at Colorado Middle School, and her horse Bullet placed in several classes in the New Year's weekend show Saturday and Sunday.

C-City's Mark Sheets took second place in the meat goat show with his heavyweight animal, and he won a $100 gift certificate from HEB Food Stores for placing fifth in the calf scramble.

Miss Morris took fourth place in Class Three and seventh place in Class One in the market lamb show. Her sister Kelly had the 24th place market lamb in Class One.

Also representing Mitchell County in the highly competitive exhibition were 4-H Club members Nathan and Sara Smith, Ashley and Brittany Hill and Ashley and Megan Tolle.

Nathan and Sara showed market lambs while Ashley and Brittany Hill and Ashley and Megan Tolle exhibited meat goats.

"All members did an excellent job of preparing and exhibiting their projects," said County Agent Vance Christie, who sponsors the 4-H Club.

"Congratulations to all these competitors, and good luck this weekend at the Mitchell County Stock Show."

"All county residents are invited to visit the ag barns and show your support for all the outstanding Mitchell County 4-H and FFA members Friday and Saturday," Christie said.

"Remember, the sale starts at 6 p.m. Saturday, and the public is encouraged to attend and participate."

Ira, Loraige, Roby, Roscoe, Rotan, Snyder and Trent.

Eleven miles southwest of Rotan in Fisher County, Hobbs School was opened in 1925, remodeled in 1957 and converted into an alternative school in 1990.

Merket said 100 percent of the damages were insured.

Notes from the Colorado Independent School District

By Kitten Arthur, Kelley Elementary Principal

Happy New Year! It's report card time in the CISD, and in addition to students' report cards this week, parents will also be receiving the State Report Card for each of the campuses. The Texas Education Agency mandates the state School Report Card in order to let parents and community members know the status of their district schools in relation to the rest of the state.

Each campus will be sending out its own version of the School Report Card (SRC), so if you have children at various schools in the CISD, each one will be a bit different. The SRC discusses 5 areas: TAAS, Attendance, Participation in TAAS, Average Cost per School and Number of Students per Teacher.

The TAAS results for Kelley are the same as Hutchinson, because we are "paired" with them as their feeder campus. On the chart for TAAS, the first column addresses the state average for all 3rd, 4th, and 5th graders in the areas of reading, writing, and math, followed by the district average, school group average and school average. Scores are given for last year's TAAS as well.

The School Group Average (column 3) is the average score from 40 other schools with similar percentages of ethnic groups and about the same number of students on free or reduced lunch. By comparing our School (4th column) with the School Group, you can see that our scores are comparable. The state goal is that 90% of our students will pass the TAAS by the year 2000, and the scores for Kelley/Hutchinson are steadily progressing toward that goal.

The Attendance Rate for Kelley (96%) is above the state average, but a bit lower than the School Group average (96.3).

TAAS Participation charts how many students took the TAAS test. Some students are exempted from the TAAS because of special needs or language barriers.

The average cost per school shows that the CISD spends about $600 per child above the state average for Kelley Elementary students. This budget includes the salaries for all staff, school instructional supplies, student and teacher travel, and facility repairs. The renovation of Kelley over the past several years is reflected in this budget area.

The last section of the School Report Card shows that the average number of students per teacher in the state is 15. At Kelley the average number of students per teacher is 12. This number reflects all of our special program area teachers as well as our homeroom staff. In actuality, our homerooms average about 16 to 17 students per teacher.

The School Report Card provides a valuable, concise look at each of our campuses. As always, if you have any questions or comments, please feel free to contact your child's teacher or the office.

Bitner completes assignment

Navy Airman William D. Bitner, son of Debra L. Crawford of Colorado City, recently completed a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea and Arabian Gulf with Helicopter Anti-Submarine Squadron 15, embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Dwight D. Eisenhower.

While deployed, Bitner's command participated in Operation Deliberate Forge in the Adriatic Sea, supporting NATO's air presence over Kosovo, and Operation Southern Watch, supporting the enforcement of the no-fly zone over southern Iraq.

In addition, Bitner and squadron members had the opportunity to visit France, Greece, Italy, Spain and Turkey where squadron members participated in community relations projects in the host countries.

Bitner, a 1997 graduate of Colorado High School, joined the Navy in June 1997.

Lady Wolves start district play Friday

The Colorado City Lady Wolves begin district play this Friday night at the Pit.

The ladies' record stands at 11-5 after last week's victories over Roscoe and Big Spring.

"We have tried to play as tough a schedule as possible, (to prepare for district)," related coach Darrin Leverton.

"Our five pre-district losses have been to ranked teams, except the two losses to Midland High, and they are a 5A team," added Leverton.

Having compiled a 29-1 district mark the last three years, coach Leverton and his girls face a much bigger challenge in their newly aligned district for 1999.

"Tough... everybody's gonna be tough. Seminole looks good and Slaton is ranked fifth in the state," said coach Leverton of the upcoming district schedule.

The days of kickin' Kermit, roundin' up Reagan County and cradlin' Crane are over.

The fact is that C-City is now the small school of the district, and not one of the larger.

The Wolves football team introduced us to our new 3-3A opponents for the next two years and proved that, with a lot of hard work and a little luck, David can overthrow Goliath.

The Lady Wolves will cast the first stone in their attempt to keep the district crown at CHS, as Seminole comes to town Friday night at 7:30.

"This game will probably go to the buzzer. The Maidens beat Snyder recently and Snyder has a pretty good team, so we need to play our best game," said Leverton.

Seminole's Maidens were ranked tenth in the state in pre-season polls, but dropped out of the top ten midway through pre-district.

The Maidens held a 15-3 record as of Monday, and will bring a very good team to the Pit. Identical twins Michelle and Amanda Wickson provide a potent one-two punch for Seminole.

The girls are 5-6 juniors. Michelle plays at forward and Amanda plays point guard (and holds the school high-jump record).

Another Seminole weapon is 5-11 senior post Kelee Hall, who is one of a cast of Maidens that won the Crane tourney for the third year in a row, and also just won their own fourney by beating a strong Dimmitt team 66-63.

The starting five for the Lady Wolves are Kendra Anderson, Jaime Mason, Randi

Redwine, Margaret Ann Jameson and Blaine Conner.

Anderson, a 5-10 senior center, is shooting 65 percent from the line and 48 percent from the floor as she leads the team in rebounds, 78 on defense and 48 on the offensive end.

Anderson has 19 assists and 50 steals in the first 16 games.

Jamie Mason, a 5-4 senior guard, is shooting 38 percent from the freethrow line and 43 percent from the floor.

Mason has pounded the boards for 38 defensive rebounds and 11 on offense.

Mason has 30 assists and 40 steals in pre-district play.

Redwine stands at 5-8 and shoots 37 percent from the floor.

Redwine has 26 offensive and 21 defensive rebounds so far, to go with six assists and 21 steals.

Margaret Ann Jameson, a 5-3 junior guard, has 30 steals and 14 assists.

Jameson has 24 defensive rebounds and shoots 30 percent from the line, while shooting 29 percent from the floor.

Blaine Conner, a 5-9 junior forward, shoots 31 percent from the floor and 25 percent from the line.

Conner has 20 offensive and

L. Wolves lose big to Big Spring

The Colorado City freshmen Lady Wolves traveled to Big Spring last Saturday and lost to the Lady Steers 43-17.

Crystal Martinez led C-City scoring with 10 points, eight of those in the second half of play.

Rebecca Ornelas scored four for the Lady Wolves, as Rita Garcia put two in for the team.

Kandon McGuffin was one for two at the line for the young ladies.

The difference between a 3A and 4A school is apparent by the number of kids on the roster as CHS had seven and Big Spring suited up 14 players for the game.

However, C-City is gaining invaluable experience by 'playing up', which will be a great benefit in the long-run.

The Lady Wolves travel to Brownfield Thursday, January 7 for a 6:30 contest with the Lady Cubs to begin district play.

Powerlifting season starts January 16th

If you see the building behind CHS moving, don't worry, it's just the Powerlifters.

Yes, it's Powerlifting season again and coach Larry Hartwick expects a good turnout for the popular sport.

"We'll probably get about 30 boys and five to fifteen girls to participate in the meets," said Hartwick, who brought powerlifting to CHS as a sport seven years ago.

Coach Hartwick is a big fellow who speaks softly and has the exciting kids at CHS working out at 6 am, three days a week.

"Sometimes, we have thirty or forty kids there before six, and they do it because they want to," said Hartwick.

"You hear so much about 'bad' kids that I want you to know, these are some great, hard-working kids," added Hartwick.

"Some kids that are not involved in athletics participate because it is a great individual sport, with great individual rewards."

Colorado City competes in Division II, which includes all 3A schools or smaller.

C-City is in Region I, the largest of all the state's six regions.

Hartwick is the Regional Director for Region I for the second year in a row, which means he must keep tabs on meet results from about 100 schools in the region.

"This is my second and last year to hold that position (regional director)," remarked Hartwick, with the conviction of a man who will probably do it again because he loves it.

Colorado City's first meet is January 16 in Grandfalls, for both the boys and girls.

The last-qualifying date for Region I is February 27 in Floydada.

The regional and state meets will be held throughout March.

The lifters must be in the top ten in one of the three lifting categories (squat, bench or dead-lift), by the last qualifying date in February to make Regionals.

At Regional, the top two in each weight division will continue on to the state meet in Killeen March 26-27.

27 defensive boards, has 30 steals and 22 assists in 16 games.

The Lady Wolves carry a strong bench including Staci Turnbow, Edwina Ceballos, Liz Rivera, Sharie Ritchey and Ann Marie Scott.

So far, the 'Fab five' have produced big numbers for the team in relief.

Bench play has provided 44 offensive rebounds and 56 defensive rebounds while contributing 19 assists and 28 steals.

The Lady Wolves battle the Seminole Maidens Friday, January 8 in the Pit at 7:30, then travel to Slaton next Tuesday, January 12 for a 7:30 game with the Tigerettes.

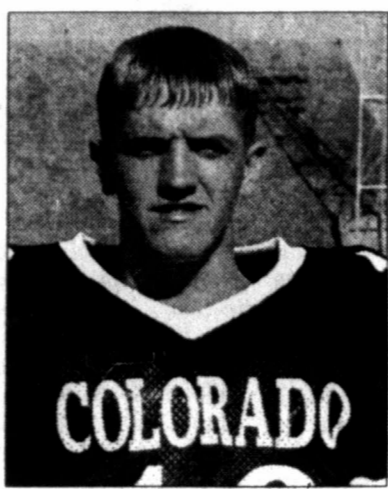

quarterback for the team after a stellar season in which he passed for 2089 yards and 16 touchdowns.

Hill's honors this season also include the A-J All South Plains Player of the Year, Co-MVP of district 3-3A and made City National's Player of the Week several times during the season while leading the pack to its first Regional contest in 14 years.

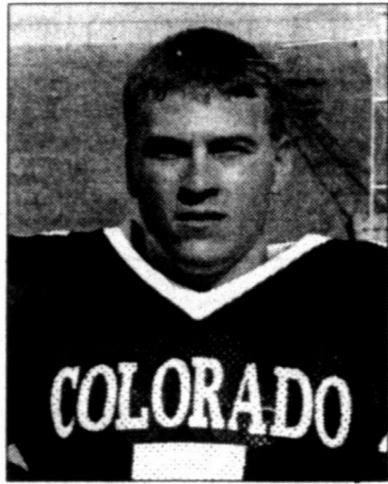

Byington joins Hill on the All-Big Country team as a wide receiver.

The 6-2, 180 pound senior amassed 612 yards receiving, averaging over 18 yards per catch, while scoring five touchdowns for the Wolves.

Among Byington's 1998 accomplishments are election to the second team All-State squad as a punter, honorable mention as a place-kicker and, wide receiver, A-J All South Plains receiver and kicker, the Abilene Reporter News Super Team as well as making Player of the Week several times.

W'cat Classic begins Thursday

The Westbrook Lady Cats and Wildcats basketball teams are hosting the 1999 Wildcat Classic this Thursday through Saturday, January 7-9.

The round robin tournament features four teams including the Blackwell Hornets, Hermleigh Cardinals, Highland Hornets and Westbrook Wildcats.

Boys and girls teams from each school will be represented in the twelve-game format.

The Lady Cats enter their tourney with a record of six wins and five losses.

The Wildcats come in with a 5-6 record so far.

"We have played these teams before and this will be a good warm-up for district," said coach Jim Hill.

Other Loraine youngsters who took part in the show were Jeannie Moore, Robert Sanchez, Joseph Cardenas and Jenny McDaniel.

Wolves take third in tourney

The Colorado City Wolves took home the third place hardware from the Hawley Holiday Hoops tourney December 30.

The boys opened the tourney with a 60-59 overtime win over a solid Anson Tiger squad, before losing a heartbreaker to Merkel.

The Merkel loss put C-City in the third place game last Wednesday against the Coleman Bluecats.

The Wolves were up 16-8 after the first period and never gave up the lead on their way to a 50-40 victory.

Brett Hoyle led the Pack attack with a 17 point performance, shooting five of eight from the stripe.

Justin Hill had 11 points, seven of those scored in the first period.

Hill went to the line nine times in the fourth and made four.

Justin Matthews scored 10 points, eight coming in the second half stretch.

Ian Bassham scored six points on a pair of three-pointers as Will Bassham put four in for the Pack.

Chase Phariss went two for four at the line, all in the final period.

The Wednesday win evened Colorado City's record at 5-5, going into Saturday's game in Sweetwater.

Wolves lose to S'water

The Colorado City Wolves traveled to Sweetwater last Saturday and lost a tough game to the class 4A Mustangs, 51-39.

Justin Hill led C-City scoring with 17 points, nine of those in the final period.

Hill scored two three-pointers and was five for six from the freethrow line.

Brett Hoyle scored 11 points, including a three-point shot and two for two freethrow shooting.

Justin Matthews scored five points in the fourth period as the Wolves fought to win the game against their Nolan county opponents.

Chase Phariss had four points and Ty Wood scored two in the loss.

Outscored 30-14 in the first half, the Wolves won the second half 25-21, but it wasn't enough, as the Pack's record dropped to 5-6 on the year.

Lorraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Happy New Year! Can you believe there are only three more weeks left in January? Dog days will be here before we can say "Supercalifragelisticexpouladosis".

I wish we did have a dog day every now and then this winter - Yes, I know the bugs need to be killed! If they aren't dead yet, they are mighty puny.

A New Year's eve party was held last Friday evening at the Fellowship Hall at First Baptist Church.

A meal was served which included cornbread and beans. The evening's events included fun, fellowship and prayer before dismissal.

Teresa Shelby and daughter of Abilene were guests in the home of Irene Kidd last Saturday.

Larry and Karen Holder of Monte Vista, Colorado are now in Lorraine and taking care of Karen's mother, Darlene Givens.

Darlene had triple by-pass surgery recently.

Before and during the holidays, her daughter from Donaldson, La., Kay Dugas was here. Also present were Mike and Donna Givens of Lubbock.

We send a speedy recovery wish to Darlene.

We have concerns for Dorothy Johnson, Leona Linam, Ralph Hinds and Laura Stewart. Our prayers go with you.

We still miss seeing the smiling faces of Agnes Haney, Dorothy - Haltom, Chrystene Hall and Annie Belle Jones. Our prayers and well wishes go out to you.

Holiday guests in the home of Irene Kidd were Bill and Barbara Long of Savannah, Ga.; Clovis and Jean Hale, Lubbock; M.L. Chandler and family, Joe Bill and Janette Hale with their children, Cody, Dane and Hattie of Austin; Dusty Hale and friends, and Shari and Justin of Dripping Springs.

Bill and Barbara Long also visited with Annie Belle Jones.

Lisa Mitchell told me she and her husband Henry enjoyed Christmas holidays with her parents, Danny and Priscilla Thompson of Champion Community and also with the Grady Mitchells.

Our condolences go out to family and friends of Gladys Hart and also to the family and friends of James Martin Soliz of Rotan. He was killed in an automobile accident recently.

Mr. Soliz was Donna Givens' brother.

Coming home for the holidays to be with mother and grandmom Charlene Walker were Ricky, Donna, Brett and Ashley Walker; Jim Kristi and Lindsey Krier, C.J. and Jeri Hunter, Rachel and Katherine Krier.

Dawn and Paul Kropp took Juaneice Butler to Willis, Tex. where they met Kenzie Sue Irwin who then took her mother on to Houston where she stayed over Christmas holidays.

Dawn and Paul Kropp brought their grandmother back to Lorraine when her visit was over.

Ham and Blondie Hamilton spent a week in Anna, Tex. with Danny, Charla and Charity Cain.

Coral, Matthew and Brian Clark had a dinner for the Cains, Cara Lane, Bobby and Tessa Seals and boys the Sunday before Christmas.

The day after Christmas, the Hamiltons, Cains, Tessa Seals and sons left for Creede, Co where they skied, rode snow mobiles and played in the snow.

On the Hamiltons way back to Lorraine, they visited with Creede, Co. neighbors, Dave and Sam Huffman in Wichita Falls. They met Modene Porter when she lived in Wichita Falls.

Shirley Mendenhall visited her mother Eva Wells during the Christmas holidays, also her other daughter and husband, Katrina and Cecil Robinson of Abilene.

"Senior Center"

Last Wednesday at the Center was birthday party day. We enjoyed the music of Vida Mae McDaniel, Charles Dunn and Gus Armstrong.

The trio played appropriate music that led into a style show based on the old and new years.

Old year 1998 played by Bessie Ann, new year baby by Doris Henderson, and February theme noted by Charlene Walker.

Earlene Dunn depicted March; Joan Long, April; Maudie Terrett, May; Millie Rose, June Bride; Maxine Pierson, July; Doris Henderson, August; J.A. Sadler, September Labor Day model; Nell Doyle, October; Wanza Graham, November; and Allie Ruth Wiggins, December. Billie Schroeder was emcee.

Visitors coming to the Center last Wednesday were Bill and Barbara Long, Jimmy and Barbara Hall, Jack Compton, Beverly Nichols of Kansas, Don and Francis Richburg of Roscoe. We were happy to meet Charles Dunn's mother, Louise Dunn of Colorado City.

"Lorraine Manor"

Minnie Briseno, Social Director at Lorraine Manor reports that residents and staff had a great New Year's eve party.

Those having birthdays this month are Wanda Martin, Agnes Hogue, Linda Derrik, Dominga Gomez and David Arnold.

On Mondays, basketball and other forms of exercise take place.

Tuesdays and Wednesdays are Bible Study days.

Thursday is Beauty Shop all day with manicures and hair do's.

Friday, we have movies and popcorn.

Leonard Reed is back from the hospital and Dorothy Foust is a new resident. She comes to us from Roscoe.

Come to see us!

"Church Bulletin Boo-Boos" St. Francis Episcopal, Aledo, Tex. - WOTC will meet in the home of Mary Bealmear with emphasis on the "Ten Commandments".

Let us make our visitors welcome. Please turn around and shake your neighbor's head. - First Baptist Church, Tyler, Tex.

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pain

OCALA, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorse's legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips-Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain.

ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446 • 1997 PSC
