Five Local Women Are Selected For 'Outstanding Young Women' Honors

Five local women have been selected to appear in "Outstanding Young Women of America," an annual biographical compilation of 6,000 outstanding young women between the ages of 21 and 35. These young women have distinguished themselves in civic and professional activities.

Those selected from Burkburnett are: Miss Albert Dillard, 713 Sunset Drive; Mrs. Patricia Ann McCabe McClure, 522 West Third; Mrs. H. C. Preston, Jr.; Mrs. Jack Sherrod Smith 607 Oak St. and Mrs. Jo Ann Crowley Thomas, 510 Hilltop Circle.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who serves as honorary chairman of the Board of Advisory Editors for the publication, has said the book is especially meaningful to her because the achievements and abilities of women is a subject close to her heart.

Selections for "Outstanding

Young Women of America" are made by the Board of Advisory Editors. Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is chairman.

United States Senator Margaret Chase Smith, in her introductory message for the 1965 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America," said, "This book calls attention to the great capabilities of our young women and their ability to get things done."

Miss Eva Adams, Director of the United States Mint, says the women included in the 1966 edition are marked for recognition because they shun mediocrity.

The publication was conceived by the leaders of the nation's women's clubs. They felt that young women who give their time for community projects should be recognized. The recognition of these outstanding women can serve to inspire others to give their time to additional civic responsibilities.

Local women's clubs throughout the country submit nominations for the book each year. A different group of outstanding young women is included each year.

Guide lines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement, and civic and professional recognition.

Foreign Students From Sheppard Guests In Dallas

Sheppard AFB — A contingent of Sheppard's foreign students traveled to Dallas recently as guests of the Dallas Council on World Affairs.

The group, accompanied by 1st Lt. Andrew T. Greely, assistant information officer, Office of Information, and Wayne S. Tarkington, administrative supervisor, Base Foreign Training Office, attended a luncheon and reception at the Dallas Statler Hotel.

Featured guest of the night was Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director, Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston.

The doctor summarized the various missions of the United States Space Program in relation to both past accomplishments and future plans. The highlight of the evening was the showing of slides taken by our astronauts while in space.

Foreign students attending the reception were Col. Kenon Azcelik, Turkey; Capt. Edgar Gauda Valer, Venezuela; Maj. Yuan-Ching Lu and Capt. Wen Cheng Wang, both from the Republic of China and Capt. Guenter A. Reichel, military training and administrative officer for German Student Squadron here.

Area Community Representatives Take Tour Of Sheppard Air Base

Sheppard AFB — Representatives from 16 communities visited Sheppard Air Force Base, December 14, to climax a day-long tour of the Wichita Falls area.

The Area Relations Action Group of the Chamber of Commerce invited 60 members of these communities to view the main services and facilities of the Wichita Falls area.

Following a bus tour of the city, the visitors visited Sheppard for a program.

Brief stops were made at two training areas so that the guests might get a better idea of the mission of the Base and Air Training Command (ATC).

The fighter aircraft branch of the Department of Aircraft Maintenance Training was host for the tour of hangar 1010. Instructors pointed out the importance of qualified maintenance personnel in keeping today's complex aircraft at peak operational level.

The community leaders were then given a close-up view of the training aircraft of the 3637th Flying Training Squadron (Helicopter). The helicopter pilot training program was explained as the guests inspected the H-19, CH-3C and H-43B.

After departing hangar 1090, the drive-through tour continued past bldg. 1900 as the missions of the Medical Service School and Titan II training were explained.

The busses then proceeded up Missile Road, through the center of the Base to Center Headquarters.

The guests showed a definite interest in the operation and mission of Sheppard by asking many questions throughout the tour. Many of the visitors had never seen a modern military installation and they were very impressed with the complexity of Sheppard.

Fourth Grade Presents Xmas Musical Dec. 20

The fourth grade students of Mrs. Irene Dunn, Mrs. Viola Reynolds, Mrs. Glenda Bagley, Mrs. Herbertine Olson, Mrs. Ida Kerr and Mrs. Patterson presented a Christmas musical program, "Donald Learns To Sing," for the Hardin P.T.A. Tuesday night, Dec. 20, at Hardin Auditorium. An estimated crowd of 500 attended.

The program was directed by Mrs. Glenda Bagley with Mrs. Patterson playing the piano. The 180 well-disciplined students sang several Christmas carols including "The First Noel," "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear," "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing," "We Three Kings of Orient Are," and "Silent Night."

The P.T.A. thanks all fourth grade teachers and parents who helped present this Christmas program. A special thanks to Mrs. Glenda Bagley, director, and Mrs. Ramon Scruggs, costume director.

The Flag Ceremony was presented by Girl Scout Troop 48. Don Stockhoff, president, announced the P.T.A. would start its annual school health program in January. Because of the Christmas program, no business meeting was conducted.

The room count awards were won by Mrs. Hooker (19) and Mrs. Kerr (31). The special education teachers, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Travis, had a tie of 3 parents each.

Burk Community 4-H Club Met December 13th

By Judy Klinkerman
Reporter

The Burkburnett Community 4-H Club met Dec. 13 for the annual Christmas Party.

Miss Marian Bentley opened the meeting and welcomed all visitors. She announced that the new officers take office the first meeting in January.

Debbie Cummings, Gary Mullins, Griff Klinkerman, James and John Bentley provided the group with entertainment.

The members each brought food for a needy family.

The group all exchanged gifts and wished everyone a Merry Christmas.

There will be a Community Project Show held in Burkburnett Saturday, Jan. 21, 1967. All 4-H members in 1966 contact your adult leaders for information. Mrs. J. H. Bentley and Mrs. Elmer Klinkerman will be glad to assist you, so contact them at once.

Delicious refreshments were served and we wish everyone a Merry Christmas and good health.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarence Tipton, 108 Smith, announce the birth of a baby girl, last week. They have chosen the name Juanita Marie.

WATCH FOR BABSON'S BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL FORECAST FOR 1967 IN OUR ISSUE OF DECEMBER 29

Background Of Roger W. Babson

American business has no more inspiring personality than Roger W. Babson, internationally-known business commentator and investment adviser. An outstanding feature of his philosophy has been his life-long insistence on the importance of both religion and advertising in business.

Born and reared in an old-fashioned atmosphere of hard work and hustle on a farm in Gloucester, Mr. Babson went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Upon graduating, he turned instinctively to financial and business activities in which his father was engaged.

His exertions, however, undermined his health; he contracted tuberculosis and he was sent West "as good as dead." It was while he was convalescing from this dread malady that he worked out some of the possibilities and problems of business forecasting. His weekly releases are used by over 400 newspapers and his financial reports by 20,000 corporations and estates. His research work is carried on by a large staff of experts.

Mr. Babson founded Babson Institute for Men; and, in cooperation with the late Mrs. Babson, developed Webber College for Women—both national, well-known educational institutions. Here young men and women may concentrate on the fundamentals of honest and efficient business administration. Later, he founded a Midwest Institute of Business Administration, located in Eureka, Kansas, the center of the United States. He has been active also in the establishment of other mediums of service to the public, such as the Gravity Research Foundation, located at New Boston, New Hampshire.

Mr. Babson has probably done more than any other man to create among his millions of newspaper readers an interest in simple business problems, and to instill a broader vision in businessmen, enabling them to meet the ups-and-downs of the business cycle.

Spreading Impoverishment

It is a good bet that before very long the nation will be told that taxes must go up to meet the cost of the war in Viet Nam. However, when tax increase time comes, Viet Nam will not be entirely to blame. Far from it. A large part of the blame can be laid directly at the door of the expanding cost of a welfare state.

In a penetrating article in The Readers Digest on federal spending, Henry Hazlitt, the well-known economist and columnist, reports that, "In the cash budget for the fiscal year 1967, total national defense expenditures are estimated at $61.4 billion. Nondefense spending comes to $83.6 billion . . . defense costs in this 11-year period prior to 1967, have risen only $20.5 billion while non-defense spending has increased by $52 billion." For 1967, nondefense spending is $12 billion more than in 1965, $23 billion more than in 1963, and $32 billion more than in 1961. As Mr. Hazlitt concludes, " . . . don't let anyone tell you that we need to levy $5 billion or so of increased taxes to 'prevent inflation' or to pay for the Viet Nam war.
The money is 'needed' only to pay for the extravagant Great Society programs of the last few years."

This may seem like a harsh indictment of humanitarian goals allegedly inspiring much of the current social legislation — until it is realized that the spending policies of the federal government are slowly, but steadily, spreading impoverishment, rather than curing it.

Begin Teaching United Stateism

The greatest beneficiaries of the United States free enterprise, free market economy are the young people, who have to get started in life. They do not realize that without private enterprise and property ownership there would be no real freedom of choice for the individual —
he would depend on the state for employment.

Strange as it may seem, in a nation that takes pride
in boasting of its academic freedom, little of the bread and butter principles of economics that spell freedom of opportunity, and the right to profit by ones own efforts, are taught in our schools and colleges.

How many high school and college students, for example, realize that representative government cannot continue to exist in this country unless the individual retains the privilege of making his living without regard to political considerations?

How many can see that government ownership and domination of industry must be continuously resisted, not because industry is sacred, it can be controlled, but because the freedom of the individual is inseparable from the future of private enterprise?

How many realize that so long as representative government is the system desired by U.S. citizens, it is imperative that the people be constantly informed of the part private enterprise and private employment play in maintaining that system?

If the basic principles of economics on which our nation was founded were stressed more in our schools, young people would gain greater respect for, and appreciation of, the privileges and opportunities they enjoy under our representative form of government. They would acquire love for a country that gives them freedom.

Of the billions of dollars in federal taxfunds that are being given our schools and colleges some should be earmarked to teach the principles of economics, which have assured unmatched personal liberty, religious freedom and material prosperity to United States citizens.

According to Walter Rogers, U. S. Representative from Texas: "One of the important reasons the federal government needs to adopt a greater sense of fiscal responsibility — in curbing excessive spending and holding down the burden of taxation — is that state and local governments also must look to the same citizens for support of their operations. When a clear delineation is lost as to the proper role of federal, state, and local governments . . . a clear delineation is also lost as to sources of revenue each level should rely upon."

The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission suggests that next time you start on a trip make these last minute safety checks inside the car before pulling out of the driveway. Are all the doors locked? How about seat belts? It reported that 80 per cent of all accidents happen within 25 miles of home. So, the Commission urged
" . . . before you drive anywhere . . . lock up and buckle up."

Representative Melvin Laird (R-Wisc.) states that federal spending has nearly doubled in the last six years.
He reports that from 1960 to 1966, federal appropriations increased from $83.8 billion, and observes: "Those who are looking for the real cause of inflation need go no further than these startling figures."

WINTER DRIVING

Are you up on your winter
driving tips?

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, offers some pointers that may save you considerable trouble and possibly help prevent a serious accident when snow and ice and freezing rain
make driving extra hazardous.

Good defrosters are essential.
If yours aren't in top shape, get them fixed. Get a scraper with a blade on one end and a snow
brush on the other, and keep it ready under the front seat.
And keep several large rags
handy for wiping windows, headlights and taillights.

Do your tires have good treads? Better still, use snow tires. Keep tires at full, recommended air pressure. Tire chains are useful for severe conditions. Keep a set in the trunk of your car for emergencies. Have your brakes equalized;
a little difference can twist
you into a skid on ice. Have muffler and tail pipes checked
for leaks that might be deadly.
Equip your car with a small shovel, box of sand, traction
mats and two rope for emergencies.

In a snow drift or on ice, start in second gear and power up just enough to avoid spinning the wheels. If you hit an unexpected ice patch, don't try to brake, accelerate or steer.
Maintain speed and let your car "roll" through the slippery area. Steer in the direction of the skid. That is, if your car's rear end skids right, steer right.
Attempts to jerk the wheel back straight will only make the skid worse.

Winter calls for plenty of stopping room. Keep a king-size interval behind the car ahead of you. Have control of your car as you approach intersections and side streets. The other driver might skid through a stop sign or red light. Pump your brakes, rather than holding them down tight.

And, no matter what the weather, buckle your seat belt tight. It might save your life.

You can egg fish on by collecting egg shells for several weeks before you go fishing. As you fish, sprinkle a handful of shells in water from time to time. Tiny flashes attract fish.
Works especially on bluegills
and crappies.

What is the world's most valuable stamp?

Collectors agree on the British Guiana 1-cent issue of 1856. Printed in black on deep red paper, it is known as the "one-penny magenta" because of its color.

Only one is known to be in existence, and is reportedly valued in excess of $100,000, says Ervin J. Felix, stamp editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis.

The stamp is octagonal in shape, with the initials
"E.D.W." written on the face.
It is somewhat smudged, and the year — 1856 — isn't distinct enough to read.

It was originally discovered in 1873 by L. Vernon Vaughn of British Guiana. As a teen-ager, he found some old family letters bearing British Guiana stamps, including the one-penny magenta.

He sold the magenta to a local collector for the equivalent of less than $1 in American money. Recalling the event years later, he wrote " . . . On looking through my album, I picked on the one-cent magenta
because I did not think it a very good specimen, and also I was quite certain that it could easily be replaced by a better specimen when next I took the trouble to search through the old family letters."

No other specimen was ever found, continues Felix, whose firm manufactures a new line of stamp albums and other philatelic supplies.

The magenta changed hands
several times over the years.
In 1922, it was purchased by the late Arthur Hind of Utica, N.Y., for $32,500. Following Hind's death, his widow sold
the famed stamp for around $50,000 in 1940. The name of the collector who purchased it has never been disclosed.

"The average collector will never own a great rarity," concludes Felix, "but it's fun to think about the possibilities of finding one."

Autumn's Apple

by Betty Crocker

This year, "B" is for apples — big, beautiful and bountiful. As "C" for their quality, crisp and crunchy. The big ones are for the fruit bowl, of course; the green ones for cooking and baking.
And here's a little apple arithmetic for supermarket days. Figure 3 medium apples for a pound or 3 cups, sliced. And remember that 2 to 2½ pounds equal the all-American apple pie. The think half an apple per person for salads or garnishes with meat. And the day you want to rediscover old-fashioned App Crisp, toss four more apples into the shopping cart. Here's quick and easy recipe for that lovely dessert.

APPLE CRISP

4 cups sliced pared apples
2 tablespoons water
¼ to ½ cup sugar
¼ cups Bisquick
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg
¼ cup shortening, melted

Heat oven to 400°. Grease a square pan, 8x8x2". Place apple slices in pan; sprinkle with water and ¼ cup sugar. Mix Bisquick, ¼ cup sugar and the cinnamon. Beat egg well;
pour slowly over Bisquick
mixture, stirring constantly
with fork until crumbly.
Sprinkle mixture over fruit.
Pour shortening over all. Bake about 25 minutes. Serve hot or cold with milk or cream.
6 to 8 servings.

Some interesting flavor mates
for side dish salad plates:
Sliced apple, avocado, oranges and maraschino cherries. Or chopped apple, shredded carots and celery. Or choppe apple, marshmallow bit

raisins, figs or dates. "Dress
with zesty French.

Apple garnishes? Great for ading contrast in shape, color crispness and flavor. For the pork platter, try this.

Red Cinnamon Apple Rings

Cut cored, pared apples in ½ inch rings or slices. Cook in til tender in syrup of 2 cup sugar, 1 cup water, ½ cup re-cinnamon candies and a fe drops of red food coloring.

Very sophisticated but simple apples with Cheddar cheese
for dessert. Serve both sliced on a platter . . . or spe-
whole apples with cheddar kabobs (chunks of Cheddar wooden picks). Bring along the tiny knives and desseplates. And what do you know you're going gourmet. Wh apples yet.

'Friends' Of Burkburnett Library Report Donations Reach $7,350

A total of $7,350 has been donated to the book fund of the Friends of the Burkburnett Library, according to the report by Mrs. Jack Smith, finance chairman.

The recent book fund campaign conducted by the Friends reached over 800 families in Burkburnett who contributed $1,891 in cash and numerous books.

An additional $5,000 was received from business institutions in Burkburnett and Wichita County, Mrs. Smith said.

Mrs. Smith emphasized that the book fund has not been closed but will be a continuous project of the Friends. It will be open for memorials and other donations.

The receipt of an autographed copy of the "White House Guide Book" from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson was also reported by Mrs. Smith. The book was accompanied by a letter of congratulations on the Burkburnett Library project from Bess Abell, social secretary to Mrs. Johnson.

Among hundreds of other books received during the campaign were several volumes from the personal library of the late Gov. James V. Allred, the gift of his son, Dave Allred, State Representative-elect.

The Burkburnett Library is expected to open in January with more than 3,000 volumes on the shelves, each book the gift of the individuals and organizations of the community. The library has an ultimate goal of 20,000 volumes.

When 800 families are interviewed in the interest of anything as far-reaching as a library, some small incidents outshine the large ones.

Children on Vaughn street made up original skits and gave a performance for their parents, donating their entire proceeds of $1.25 to the book fund.

A woman started saving her dimes for the fund, but when the interviewer came by, she had to borrow a dime from her neighbor to get her bank to open.

One of the Girl Scout troops gave $5 from their treasury to buy, "The Life of Juliette Lowe," so that other girls could read about their leader.

A DOG'S LIFE Man's Best Friend Can Make Enemies

A dog's bark can be worse than his bite. No dog owner outside of the comic strips allows his pet to fray the mailman's trousers—but your neighbor's nerves can be torn to shreds by constant howling, yapping, whining or moaning for long hours when you are away. Even the best of dogs, the most loyal as well as the most lovable, can breed ill will between his owner and others if the dog is not trained to avoid this bad dog-habit.

Curing a dog of howling and disturbing the peace, suggests the Purina Pet Care Center, is simple. But it does take a little patience. After taking your dog for its morning exercise, lead him into a room and shut the door. Leave him alone. If he begins to bark, enter immediately and make him stop immediately. Your presence usually will be enough to silence the dog. After all, he is making noise because he wants to remain at your side. If you must enter the room more than once, however, it may be necessary to assert your mastery. A few little slaps under the chin will suffice. Remember, your purpose is not to punish your pet but to train him.

When your dog has remained alone and quiet for about an hour, open the door and let him come to you. Praise him. Play with him for a few minutes. Re-assure him of your love—and then put him back in the room.

When he's come through another session of good behavior, let him join you again for a while. Repeat this procedure throughout the day. By evening, your dog will have learned that to be a member of your family, he must be quiet when he is left alone. He'll love you as much as ever. And so will your neighbors.

Burkburnett, Texas 76354

Dear Sir:

At the risk of incurring the displeasure of Rev. Champ and the participating members of the First Baptist Church, who would doubtless prefer in this instance to keep their light under a bushel, may I use this means to publicly acknowledge and commend their Christian spirit in remembering forgotten elderly prisoners at Christmas time.

Working through the good offices of the Supervising Chaplain at Huntsville, Rev. Clyde Johnston, the First Baptist provided the means whereby some of the lonely and forgotten men will receive a large print New Testament, candy and fruit. For many of these elderly prisoners, this will be the first Christmas gift they have ever received.

Also, I felt that a public acknowledgement was in order due to a rather harsh opinion expressed by a certain Christian layman, who denounced this endeavor as "bleeding hearts . . . pampering criminals who are getting what they deserve" etc. Personally, I fail to see how anyone could misinterpret as "pampering" a Christian desire to furnish Bibles and small gifts of candy and fruit to those in need, whether in prison or not. "There, but for the grace of God . . ."

Thank you, First Baptist, for this example of the Spirit of Christ living in the hearts of His people. "Inasmuch as Ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Sincerely,
MRS. M. T. HARRELSON

Pack 151 News

Cub Scout Pack 151 met at St. John's Church on Monday, Dec. 19 to hold their regular monthly meeting.

Games were played from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m., under the supervision of Mrs. Allen's Den No. 4.

Opening the program for the evening was the flag ceremony given by Mrs. Miller's Den 3.

A skit was presented by Mrs. Pendl's Den 2, which told how Christmas is celebrated in other lands. It began with boys singing, "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer." Then each boy appeared one by one, attired in the costume of the country he represented and told how each country had different customs for Christmas. The Cub Scouts in this skit were: Ray Crow, Mario Guzman, Kevin Warren, Dale Tisdale, Lee Sanders, and Victor Powers. Introductions were made by the Den Chief, Richard Mallory. The costumes were made by the mothers and at the close of the skit, all the mothers stood behind their sons and sang, "We wish you a Merry Christmas."

Next on the program was the presentation of awards given by the Assistant Cubmaster, William Warren. The awards presented were: Asst. Denner Bars to — Jeffrey Gatten, Kevin Warren, Dutch Esaw, Randy Allen, and Jerry Beckett. Denner Bars to Ray Crow, Bobcat Pins to Junior Boswell, Jerry Burkett, and Bryan Blankenship. Wold Badges to Kevin Warren and Bryan Blankenship. Bear Badge to Michael Martel (who is a recent transfer to this pack). Awards were also presented to the Den Chiefs, Richard Mallory, Brad Billicio and Allen Billicio.

The attendance award was won by Mrs. Satour's Den 5. A total of 39 parents and friends attended the meeting.

A beautiful display of Christmas wreaths and ornaments was held by the members of Den 3, which they had made in their den meetings.

After the meeting, refreshments were enjoyed by all, thanks to Mrs. Gatten, Den 1.

See you all at the next pack meeting in January. This time, let's all attend it. Until then, Seasons Greetings to all in Burkburnett, from pack 151.

DEN 6, PACK 155 NEWS

December 17, Den 6 had a called meeting, due to the fact we hadn't finished our gifts to the mothers and dads. Our meeting was opened with Danny Roe leading the flag ceremony.

We made belt hangers from coathangers, plywood and cup nooks for the dads and throw-away party aprons that were four aprons in one. Made from white napkins, which each boy decorated and Christmas ribbon. When one napkin gets soiled you just pull it off and there is a clean one under it and that makes another clean apron. Then the presents were wrapped for the pack meeting, December 19. Each boy brought his money to buy his pine wood derby car, which we will make for the January pack meeting.

A relay game was led by Den Chief Darrel Rivard.

Refreshments of Cherry Merry Punch with 7-Up ice cubes and Christmas Tree cookies were served to Wade Harris, Morris Jacobsen, Kermit Olson, Wade Meadows, Donny Roe, Billy Savage, Joe Scruggs and Mike McKinley.

Mrs. Scruggs, the Den Mother gave each boy a small gift.

We want to thank the Postmaster W. T. Zimmerman for giving each Cub a copy of the Constitution of the United States of America and a book on our Capital.

F.H.A. Holds Annual Christmas Party

On Monday night, December 12, the Future Homemakers held their annual Christmas Party. The girls enjoyed playing a variety of Christmas games as well as listening to Donna Greer read a short Christmas story.

After the games, refreshments were served by the girls. The girls presented both Mrs. Faulk and Mrs. Hutchinson, the F.H.A. sponsors, a five dollar gift certificate.

The Anglo-Saxons called January "Wolfmonth," according to World Book Encyclopedia, because during that month wolves came into the villages in search of food.

Mary Cecil Hosts Rebekah Lodge Christmas Party

Mrs. Mary Cecil entertained members of the Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening with a Christmas party in her home.

For the program, Mrs. F. F. Turner read the Christmas story. The members then joined in singing familiar carols with Mrs. R. L. Gragg at the piano.

The refreshment table was decorated in a Christmas motif with Mrs. Mary Cecil serving punch from a crystal punch bowl.

Mrs. George Bellamy acted as Santa Claus and distributed gifts from a gaily decorated tree.

Those attending were Mrs. Cordie Lawrence, R. L. Gragg, W. J. Bingham, Walter Stubblefield, Jim Lawley, Bertie Smith, George Bellamy, F. F. Turner and Mary Cecil.

Alice is also a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary scholastic society.

NOT ALWAYS FIRST

January was not always the first month. Researchers for World Book Encyclopedia say that according to legend, Numa Pompilius added January and February to the end of the 10-month Roman calendar about 700 B.C. Julius Caesar rearranged the calendar in 46 B.C., making January the first month.

All About King Cotton

If you depend on king cotton for your livelihood, you're not alone; for according to government statistics, nearly 11-million American workers and their families also rely on this 3,000-year-old "wonder" fabric to make ends meet. And "wonder" fabric is exactly what it is. The fiber, for example, can be woven into cloth one-fourth inch thick or so sheer and delicate as to have been referred to as "webs of woven wind."

A pound of cotton can be spun so coarse that it would extend not more than a few hundred yards, or so fine that it would reach from Washington to New York. Cotton cloth can be woven so tightly as to be waterproof. Chemical processes can make it resistant to flame, oil, rot, mildew, heat and scorch. Modern cotton fabrics can be truly wash and wear. With all of these attributes, the demand for cotton goods is greater than Farmers — particularly in the Southern Plains and Mississippi Delta regions — are meeting this demand by growing 2, 3, 4 and even 5 bales of cotton per acre — and, thanks to good management and improved fertilizers, are using less labor in doing it.

Studies at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, Tex., revealed recently that yield differences between fertilized and unfertilized continuous cotton increased each season. What's more, after two years of applying high analysis nitrogen and phosphorus fertilizers, the number of pounds of lint cotton per acre soared close to 900 as compared to 385 pounds per acre without help from fertilizer treatment.

Many farmers have found it most profitable to spread on high analysis plant foods — like Ammo-Phos fertilizers made by Olin — during the first couple of weeks in January or as soon as weather permits. These farmers have found Ammo-Phos fertilizers to be pelletized, ammonium phosphate fertilizers that are highly water soluble and convenient to use. In fact, according to leading agronomists at the Olin Mathieson laboratories, Ammo-Phos fertilizers revolutionized the fertilizer industry.

Fellowship To Be Held At Calvary Baptist Friday

The annual fellowship meeting at Calvary Baptist Church, usually held on New Year's Eve, will be held this year on Friday night, Dec. 30th. The services will begin at 7 o'clock and continue until about 9:30 p.m.

At the close of the services, refreshments will be served by the ladies of the church.

Many out-of-town guests plan to be present, and visiting preachers and singers will contribute to the program. A feature of the program will be special singing by a choir made up of singers from several area churches. The choir leader will be Terry Don Cooper, a young Baptist preacher from Electra, who is a student at Midwestern University.

A warm welcome is extended all to come and enjoy these services. Calvary Baptist Church is located on College and Ave B.

Ray C. Morrow, pastor.

SINGING MEET PLANNED FOR NEW YEAR'S EVE

The star-spangled street where you live

You can't always see the stars and stripes on the homes and apartments in your neighborhood, but they're there just the same.

A big percentage of American families own U.S. Savings Bonds. Many of these star-spangled families have been buying Bonds since they were first issued 25 years ago.

Altogether, Uncle Sam has sold $150 billion in E and H Bonds. About $100 billion of these have been cashed in for college, retirement, new furniture, emergencies, and down payments for those homes.

Americans still own a nest egg of nearly $50 billion in Bonds for tomorrow's needs. And as the nest egg grows, Uncle Sam uses the dollars to help support our fighting men in Vietnam — and help keep our economy strong.

You can help make Uncle Sam's future, and your own, more secure by joining this star-spangled savings plan. Why not start now? Sign up for Payroll Savings where you work, or buy Bonds regularly at your bank.

Peachy Prune Torte...It's Elegant!

Our favorite dessert recipe, passed from mother to daughter for several generations, is this delicious Peachy Prune Torte. This torte is one that will take some time to prepare, but it's worth every minute. There are twelve — count 'em — layers of crispy rich, cookie-like rounds, filled with a blend of finely-chopped canned pie filling and cooked prunes, folded into sherry-flavored whipped topping. The final frosting that crowns the torte is zesty with lemon; layer by layer, just as elegant-tasting as it sounds.

Peachy Prune Torte

Layers:
1 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1/4 cup water
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
5 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Layers: Cream butter and sugar; beat in eggs, one at a time. Add milk and vanilla. Sift dry ingredients together; add gradually to butter mixture, blending well after each addition. Refrigerate dough until well-chilled. Cut 12 9-inch circles from heavy aluminum foil. Divide dough into 12 small balls; keep in refrigerator until ready to roll. Place each ball in center of foil circle roll to cover foil circle, trimming edges if necessary. Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake at 375 degrees for 5 to 7 minutes. Cool; peel foil from cookies.

Filling:
2 cups California prunes, cooked and pitted
1 No. 2 can (2 cups) peach pie filling
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 4-oz. package dessert topping, whipped

Filling: Reserve 2 or 3 prunes and a few slices of peaches from pie filling for garnish. Put remainder in blender (or finely chop) with sherry and nutmeg. Blend until fruit is pureed. Fold pureed fruit into whipped cream; chill. Place 1 cookie on cake plate; spread with 1/2 cup filling. Repeat with remaining cookies and filling, leaving the top cookie plain. Refrigerate.

Frosting: Spread top cookie with lemon-flavored confectioners' sugar frosting. Garnish with peach slices, prunes and grated lemon peel. Refrigerate 'til serving time. Serves 12.

The refrigerator is a good art gallery. Not long ago famous Continental artists began decorating it with colorful paintings done directly on the enamel. The result was an unusual traveling art exhibit.

Soon afterward manufacturers followed suit by giving it soft color, subtle design, and removable panels. But many homes, ahead of their time, have always used the refrigerator door for "pop art." The children's drawings, popular in their own crowd, are taped to its broad white door. Crayon and watercolor sketches help brighten the room and are at just the right eye-level for young artists.

"No bulletin board is low enough for a child to see without craning his neck," agrees June Behling, art director of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin, leading producers of juvenile art supplies. "Eye-level art is satisfying to children — it's in scale with their own world."

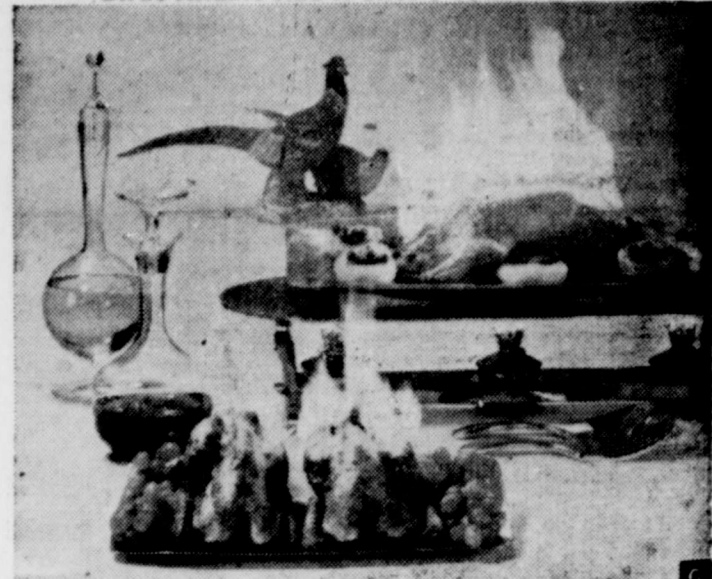

Another good way to display art, she points out, is to put a cork board on a bedroom door at a level a child can reach. Or a low rimmed shelf might be put across a playroom wall.

An empty bookcase shelf can be reserved for special projects — paper sculpture, clay work and dimensional objects — that a child does at school or home.

Today variety stores carry a wealth of low-cost art needs — instruction books, tempera paint, brushes, crayons, colored chalk, sketch pads — and children's art is freer and brighter than ever. Schools hang it in their halls, and some museums give it annual display space.

The trend to "icebox art" can be a start for a creative child.

Birds Aflame Add A Chef's Touch At Home

You can dramatize a pair of birds for an elegant dinner with the flavor and flame of an accent of liquor which lends distinction to ducks, game hens — or just plain chicken.

For Flaming Duck, clean and wash the duck, then roast in your favorite way. Meanwhile, cook neck and gizzard with celery tops, onion, salt and pepper, in water to cover. Remove duck from oven after 1 hr.; pour off drippings from roasting pan into bowl or jar. Refrigerate. Return duck to oven, baste with 1 jigger of Gin and 1 cup duck broth; roast 1/4 hour longer, or until you can move leg easily. When done, remove trussing, place duck on a platter, heat 1 jigger of Gin gently in a small pan, set match to it, and pour flaming, over duck. Use 1/4 cup Gin for 2 ducks.

For Tipsey Orange Birds, here's a sauce that may be used with duck, pheasant, 2 rock cornish game hens — or to transform an ordinary chicken into a new delight. Clean bird, season, place onion, celery and carrot in cavity, truss and rub with oil or fat. Roast at 325° F until tender.

Pour off all except 2 tablespoons of fat floating on top of the pan gravy. Reserve this, skim off remaining fat, and pour 1 cup of the gravy itself into a small saucepan (add bouillon, if necessary, to extend drippings). Work 1 tablespoon of flour into a smooth paste with the reserve hot fat and stir well into gravy. Season with salt and cayenne. Grate the yellow part of the peel of an orange, and add 1/4 cup orange juice. Add this to gravy, then add 1 tablespoon orange Brandy and stir in 1 tablespoon bitter orange marmalade. Heat until blended, and pour over birds. Heat 1/4 cup Scotch Brandy or other liquor separately in small pan or ladle, set a match to this, and pour, flaming, over the birds.

STOP PLAYING SAFE — WORK AT IT!

"STOP PLAYING SAFE—WORK AT IT" is sound advice, and it is destined to be a familiar sight on the bumpers of tens of thousands of the nation's cars and trucks over the next few months.

The safety slogan, imprinted on stickers, was created by Republic Steel Corporation as part of a campaign designed to encourage and emphasize the importance of good driving habits. Through a series of advertisements appearing in general and business magazines the company is offering what it calls a "Driver's Reminder Pack" free to all, and in whatever quantities desired. The "pack" consists of two stickers: one bumper sticker 18 inches long and two inches high, to catch the eye of tail-gaters and lane-hoppers; and a 2 x 2-inch square for dashboard use to remind the driver, that he, too, has a responsibility—to the "other fellow."

Requests for the stickers have come from a wide variety of groups. For example, the Detroit Air National Guard; the Scranton, Pennsylvania, Army Ammunition Plant; the Passaic, New Jersey, Jaycee's; the Lehigh Portland Cement Company; Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania; and the Railway Express Agency in Kansas City.

While great numbers of the packs have been requested by companies for distribution to their employees or for use on company motor vehicles, many individuals have requested material. One of the largest requests from an individual came from a Vermilion, Ohio, judge. He wanted 1,000 packs so that he could give one out to every traffic violator who came before him!

Driver's Reminder Packs can be obtained by writing Republic Steel Corporation, 1441 Republic Building, Cleveland, Ohio, 44101, before December 15, 1966, when the steel company's offer expires.

METRONOME... Pulsebeat for Music.*CHURCH... Pulsebeat for your New Year's Resolutions.

Beginners in music study have to have help in timing their practice.

The Metronome is a reminder to stay on the right beat.

The Church is the means through which God pronounces his word. God's word sets up the highest ideals for man to live by. Therefore there is no better ground to base your New Year Resolutions on, than those set up by our Lord.

"Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

News From The County Agent

December is a good month for collecting and submitting samples for testing, reminds County Agent B. T. Haws. At present time, samples are pressed as they arrive at the laboratory and test reports are issued within ten days. This schedule should benefit you if the prompt service is an important requirement for an effective soil testing service, says Haws.

Sampling well in advance of the growing season offers the advantage of allowing time to obtain the fertilizers needed. In many instances, wet soil may be encountered during the winter because of a delay in sampling, therefore, sampling now is advisable.

Shipping weights can be reduced by allowing the sample to dry a day or two at air temperature. Samples should not be dried since high temperatures cause potassium to be fixed in a way that it cannot be removed by chemical procedures, Haws advises.

Reliable information is to be obtained from a soil test, it is necessary for the sample to be as nearly representative of the field on which information is desired as possible. To obtain a representative sample, a composite is made by obtaining a slice of soil from 10-15 inches in fields from 20-40 acres.

Plant boxes, mailing cartons, copy sheets and instructions are available from your county agent's office. Instructions for sampling should be studied and followed as closely as possible.

Copies of the 1967 Farmers Guide are now available in the offices of the county agents or the Internal Revenue Service. These guides contain the latest information farmers need in filing their income returns.

Common sense precautions are a necessary part of a safe hunting season. How well these cautions are observed by hunters will determine whether the present season will be remembered for its tragedy or its safety record.

Here are suggestions which will help keep hunting accidents at a minimum. Always handle guns with care and be sure of your target before pulling the trigger.

It is always wise to unload a gun you are carrying before climbing over or through a fence or climbing a tree or into a stand. Double check to be sure it is empty before placing it in your car or boat.

Keep the safety "on" until you are ready to shoot. Never mix gunpowder with alcohol. A mixture can mean trouble for yourself and others.

Guns should be kept unloaded at home and in the hunting camp. It is often the unloaded gun that causes fatalities.

And, concludes the county agent, it's a good idea to store guns and ammunition in separate places, always away from and out of reach of children.

Notice

On December 19, 1966, Steve Gose Enterprises, Inc. tendered for filing with the Federal Communications Commission an application for a construction permit for a new standard AM radio station for Burkburnett, Texas, frequency 850, Class II station, power of 1000 watts using a directional antenna system, daytime only, antenna height of 286 feet above ground level, with studio and transmitter site located 2.45 miles South on F.M. 369 from Highway 240, Burkburnett, Texas.

The officers and directors of Steve Gose Enterprises, Inc. are Steve Gose, Bill Thacker, Jerry Wilder and Harry V. Allison; and the owners of 10 percent (10%) or more of capital stock are Steve Gose, Bill Thacker and Jerry Wilder.

The application is on file for public inspection at the Chamber of Commerce, 412 Avenue C, Burkburnett, Texas, Dec. 27, 1966, Jan. 3, 10, 1967.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

An investigation of the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity is advocated by 82 per cent of the nation's independent proprietors, according to a recent National Federation of Independent Business survey. The Federation has urged Sen. Everett Dirksen, Ill., to hasten action on his Senate Resolution No. 78 to probe the OEO and prevent waste of Federal funds, such as a recent questionable allocation of $219,304, to train 40 Zuni Indians to manufacture the type of jewelry they have been making for generations. This could perhaps lead to a hypothetical situation such as No Running Water's...

No Running Water lived in a teepee on the side of a mountain in the Southwest. His trade was jewelry making, and he was respected locally for his craft. In fact, he became so skillful that word spread afar to the ears of national buyers.

One day a buyer from Tiffany's the famous New York jewelry firm came to the area, and was taken by a guide to No Running Water's teepee. The representative was very impressed with the Indian's talents and made him an on-the-spot offer to sell his gems in the exclusive 5th Avenue store.

No Running Water really branched out now, building additional teepees for use as an office and warehouses. Then one day, another visitor appeared on the mountain side. He introduced himself as a representative of the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

"I am here to inform you about a new Government course being offered by the OEO in jewelry making," announced the somber stranger. The Government has allocated $219,304 to train 40 members of your tribe in the manufacture of jewelry."

"No needum school," responded No Running Water. "Make jewelry all life. Father make jewelry all his life. Grandfather make jewelry all his..."

"But," interrupted the official, "We want to instruct you in the most modern methods."

"Soundem loco. Besides, too busy with business to go to school."

"I'm sorry, but we must insist. It is a Government regulation that no one can make jewelry unless he has taken the prescribed course, 1001A2. Never fear, you will be adequately compensated; almost 5 1/2 thousand dollars, to be exact."

"Just for going to jewel school?"

"Merely for attending classes," was the official reply.

So No Running Water enrolled in school, dropped his traditional tribal attire and donned the stylish Mod dress. He was last seen dancing the twist and monkey with the local coeds.

Every little girl wants a very special dress to wear on an important Holiday occasion. And one that just fills the bill is shown here in a frothy white checked smock dress woven of 100% Durene cotton yarn. Fit for a princess, this delicious

puff of a dress, with its calculated innocence, is sure to charm the legendary frog into a prince at first sight. The dress was designed by Ellie Fishman
for Sheperdness, and is frosted with rhinestones and iridescent paillettes for a sparkling, gala look.

The glittery party season is made more so with fashions
made of Durene cotton yarn.
Because of a mercerization process, Durene is beautifully lustrous, and enhances the finished fashion product with a silky look and hand. Mercerization also makes the yarn
more durable and comfortable than ordinary cotton. And the lustre of Durene cotton fashions does not diminish with wearings—these clothes go on looking bright forever.

MECHANIZED

During recent years, the Southern Pine lumber industry has mechanized extensively. As a result, there are fewer but larger mills with automated facilities for close quality control and thrifty utilization of the forest harvest. Total production ranges between 6 and 7 billion board feet each year.

Who Must File A Federal Income Tax Return?

Dallas—Everyone under 65 years old, whether single or married, who is a citizen or resident of the United States and had a gross income of $600 or more during the year must file a return, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of the Internal Revenue Service for northern Texas advised taxpayers today.

If you are 65 or older on the last day of your tax year, no return is required unless gross income was $1,200 or more. If your income is under the above figures, you should file a return to obtain any refund due you of income tax withheld from salaries or wages.

Businessmen, farmers, and other self-employed persons must file a return if net earnings from self-employment were $400 or more.

Document No. 5107, which furnishes more detailed information on this subject, may be obtained by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson Street, Dallas, Texas 75201.
