SENATOR HIGHTOWER—State Senator Jack Hightower addressed about 40 college students and 30 Rotarians at the College Day program here Tuesday. The Senator's address was optimistic about the future while he encouraged the collegians to examine carefully the old principles and values which have made our nation what it is today, and not discard them for something new, just because it is something new.

Light Snowfall Wed. Halts Harvest Of '67 Cotton Crop At 43,327 Bales

Hall County farmers had opportunity to harvest a few bales and get them to the ginning points before light snow fell Wednesday to halt the harvesting of the 1967 cotton crop.

The season ginning total climbed to 43,327 bales with ginners reporting a few hundred bales still remain to be gathered.

K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the Memphis U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing office, reported the cotton in this section of the Panhandle continued to be of a very good quality.

Total samples classed here, as of Thursday morning, were 130,000 which meant the office had processed 4,000 during the past week. This does not include 1,700 samples classed at Altus, Okla., before the local office opened. At this time last year, 113,000 samples had been classed. There were 6,400 samples from this area classed in Altus in 1966 before the local facility was opened and after it closed

Two classing tables are in operation, Voelkel said. Reciepts vary from 400 to 750 samples per day. Gins located at points south of Memphis expect to process several hundred bales each from the 1967 crop, according to reports.

A week ago, the Memphis Cotton Classing Office received the first samples of the season from a gin located at Spearman, the northernmost gin in Texas.

Voelkel pointed out that Spearman is 75 miles south of Liberal, Kans., and the same distance southwest of Slapout, Okla.

Personnel will not work Saturday, Sunday or Monday. The of-

Increased Rates On Mail Starts On January 7th

Increased rates for all classes of mail except parcel post and international mail will go into effect Jan. 7, Postmaster Gene Lindsey reminded postal customers this week.

"Even with the new rates of six cents for first-class mail and 10 cents for air mail, postal service is still a real bargain," Postmaster Lindsey declared. "For six cents you can send a letter to any of the 50 States, to any United States territory or possession, to Canada or Mexico, or to an American serviceman stationed anywhere in the world."

He pointed out that the new rate for post cards will be five cents and for air mail post cards eight cents.

He said the added cent in the letter rate is a 20 percent in-

Memphis Cager Teams To Go To Olton Tues.

The Memphis High School cager teams played hosts to the two teams from Dimmitt last Thursday night and the visitors took home two District 3-AA victories.

In the girls game, the Dimmitt girls won a 69 to 34 contest. Memphis Coach Denzil Lacy said the Dimmitt girls have one of the finest teams the local girls have played against this year. "They were as tall as our boys team," he said.

Scoring for Memphis was Cynthia Evans with 19 points, Janie Watson with seven and Sue Melton with 8 points. Dimmitt's Debra Summers had 29 points.

In the boys game, the Memphis lads got off to a good first quarter and led 18 to 11 during that period. But Dimmitt's superior shooting talents took over in the second quarter and the visitors led at the halftime 37 to 33.

The Bobcats went on to win the contest 80 to 60 in a high scoring affair.

Doug Hayes had 21 points to lead the visitors while Memphis' Judge Smith scored 30 points Otis Cooper 10 points and Gary Rea 10 points.

The Memphis teams return to district play Tuesday, Jan. 2 when they travel to Olton, the schedule shows.

Boone Resigns, Coleman Named Justice Of Peace

The Hall County Commissioners Court is session at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, accepted the resignation of Jack B. Boone as Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 1 effective Dec. 31, 1967.

County Judge E. (Gip) McMurry read a letter of resignation form Attorney Boone requesting the court accept his resignation and list as the reason for his resignation his intentions of entering the District Attorney's race.

The court appointed Roy L. Coleman of Memphis, former owner and operator of Coleman's Super Market here, as Justice of the Peace, effective Jan. 1, 1968.

County Judge McMurry will swear Coleman into office the later part of this week, it was announced.

County Teams Play Games Next Tuesday

Six of Hall County's eight basketball teams will play games next Tuesday night.

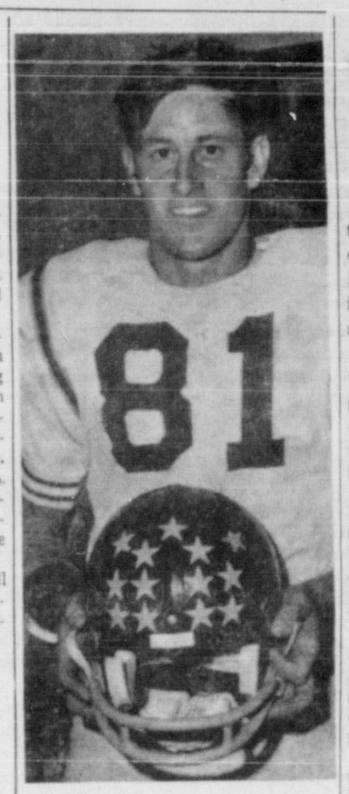

The Cyclone and Cyclonettes will travel to Olton for Dist. 3-AA encounters.

The Turkey Turks and Turkettes will play at home against the two teams from Clarendon.

The Lakeview Eagles and Eaglettes will travel to Hedley for return games with the Owls and Owlettes.

The two Estelline teams will be open.

SUPER TEAM—The Amarillo Daily News named Roy Long, Cyclone End, to the Panhandle Area Super team in an article released Monday, Dec. 25. Turkey's David Majors was named as second team defensive halfback. Long is shown above with his helmet which has 13 stars for key defensive plays during the season. Memphis gridmen are also eligible for positions on the South Plains Super team which hasn't been announced as yet, Coach Bert Glascock said. "We are all real proud of Roy," he said.

Turkettes Win Opening Game With Paducah

The Turkey Turkettes defeated the Paducah Dragonettes in the opening round of the Memphis Basketball Tournament this morning, 44 to 27 to advance to the semi-finals tomorrow night.

The Turkey girls will play the winners of the Lakeview-Quail girls game, a game scheduled for 4 p. m. this afternoon, in a contest set for 7 p. m. Friday night in Cyclone gym.

General admission for the tournament games are 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Tournament tickets are on sale at $2 each from either T. O. Pounds or Hubert Dennis, or at the gate.

The Memphis "M" Club has charge of the concession stand, and tables and chairs have been arranged in the hall way for those desiring a seat outside the gymnasium.

In the opening game of the three-day tournament, Turkey's Kathy Wedge scored 18 points to lead her team to victory. The Turkettes held a three-point margin at the end of the first quarter and a 14-point edge at halftime.

Girls teams entered into the tournament include: Paducah, Estelline, Turkey, Lakeview, Quail, Silverton, Lockett and Memphis. Boys teams competing are: Paducah, Turkey, Electra, Quail, Silverton, Estelline, Lockett and Memphis.

Games begin Friday at 10 a. m. and go through the final game at 8:30 p. m. Saturday's games begin at 1 p. m. The finals in the boys and girls brackets will be held Saturday night.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second, third and consolation winners and to All-Tournament boys and girls after the final game Saturday night.

Babson's Forecast Lists Varied, Recurring Crises For 1968

e coming year threatens to se of varied and recurring s. Virtually no area of hu- activity will be spared ... l, economic, political, or in- ational. After years of pro- and prosperity, the Ameri- people will be faced in 1968 many decisions that will difficult to make and even er to carry out.

n't expect the final solution 968's many problems to be ed out during the year ahead. he manner in which our na- tackles its predicament will mine whether the U. S. will le to strengthen its position rld leader . . . or be toppled g succeeding years and re- to an inferior standing.

be without hope is to sin. we do have hope that our s and their government will to defeat the many antagon- — inflation, social corrup- greed, crime, fear, and des- — that are pressing upon the new year begins. It is that the Oriental concept of is opportunity. In that sense, predict without reservation 968 will hold opportunities ited for our country.

ow that the pound has been ed, perhaps our greatest op- nity for the year ahead is to e a strong defense for the e. We forecast that after early fumbling both the Con- and the Federal Reserve will with determination to pro- ur dollar.

he effects of the battle to the dollar promise to be un- nt. After an early-year to new highs for dollar val- d production, business will the going rougher as the unfold. Scarcer and more costly money will take its toll of growth.

3. Major stimulation to the economy in the early part of 1968 will come from a scramble by auto and allied lines to make up for production lost in 1967, combined with a stockpiling of steel and aluminum in anticipation of strikes later next year in these activities.

4. Some additional escalation of the Viet war will occur next year. But we have already experienced the major impact on business of the massive buildup in arms outlays; whatever procurement comes will not be a determining factor on the caurse of 1968's business.

5. President Johnson is torn between a desire to "pour it on" in Vietnam and bring home victory before voting time next autumn and his sincere wish to go down in history as a peacemaker. If recent and prospective tightening of the military vise on North Vietnam fails to bring results by late spring . look for spectacular moves toward negotiations. Under these circumstances we feel the chances are 60-40 that 1968 will mark the phase-out of our military operations in Vietnam.

6. But the most decisive conflict next year will not be fought on the battlefields or Souheast Asia It will be here at home against the one enemy that has the power to destroy the U. S. . . . INFLATION.

7. Contrary to the old adage that Congressmen won't commit political suicide by voting a tax hike in an election year, we do expect a revenue act in 1968. It may include excise imposts as well as income levies.

8. The Administration will be forced to reduce total expenditures for the coming year by $6- to-$10 billion. While the war continues, most of this will have to be lopped off non-defense areas.

9. Congress will remove the 25 percent gold backing for Federal Reserve notes early in the year.

10. The amount of goods tourists will be permitted to bring into the country duty-free will be reduced to zero in 1968.

11. Further restrictions will be put on foreign investments by U. S. corporations in the coming year; our government will encourage American companies to increase dividend payments by foreign subsidiaries.

12. Rationing of credit by the Administration and the Federal Reserve is a distinct possibility in the months ahead.

13. U. S. outlays for foreign aid will be slashed in 1968.

14. Our money managers slow down the current high rate of money-supply increase as soon as Congress takes action to curb inflation.

15. But the tremendous outpouring of money during the whole of 1967 will continue, for some months, to exert upward pressures on interest rates and the general price level. It will also have an energizing effect on business. Hence, as money flow is cut back next year, there will be a delayed depressing effect on interest rates, prices, and business . . . probably after midyear.

16. There will be repeated raids on the dollar; but it will not be devalued in 1968.

17. There will, however, be many discussions between financial experts here and abroad to develop a long-range plan for revaluing in terms of gold — on a more realistic basis — the currencies of all of the Free World.

18. The early-1968 uptilt in business volume will give a lift to corporate profits; the fanning out of wage boosts, however, along with rising costs and taxes will later have a squeezing effect on profits.

19. Short-time interest rates will rise faster than long-term in the months ahead.

20. This will have a restrictive impact on the availability and cost of mortgage funds.

21. In turn, the recovery now under way in home building will be restrained and perhaps reversed as 1968 moves along . . . but apartment construction should remain in an uptrend.

22. Inventories will rise — perhaps sharply — in the first half of 1968 . . . taper off later.

23. Business capital expenditures should start the year on a strong note: but as the year advances, prospects for further gains will become dimmer.

24. With wage guidelines now definitely junked, there will be a stampede by labor generally to bring contract gains in line with the huge advances made by the United Auto Workers; the annual salary concept for production workers will gain further acceptance in 1968 by a number of American industries.

25. A labor feature for the coming year will be widespread stoppages by state, city, and local public employees; the battle on his front will surely be long and bitter.

26. With elections coming in the autumn, Congress will not vote any restrictive labor legislation in 1968. Although we anticipate that credit controls may possibly be invoked in the Administratin's struggle with inflation, there is no chance that any serious attempts will be made to impose wage controls.

27. Upward pressures on the cost of living will be intensified during the first half of the new year, with advances tapering as autumn approaches. Over-all, we look for another increase in living expenses of over 3 percent . . and it would not surprise us if the toll should rise to the 4 percent level. The "bad boys" will continue to be soaring service costs — especially medical — and upspirals in transportation and finished-goods tags. Food may inch up a little more as processing costs mount further; but prospective plentiful supplies will act as a cantrolling factor.

28. Total cash receipts from farm marketings should advance moderately over figures for 1967 however, the relentless up-push of costs will take its toll, and farmers' net income will do well to improve even slightly . . . notwithstanding some relief from higher government payouts. Large marketings promise to restrain cattle quotas and hold this source of farm income in its recent low profitability groove. Meat prices, however, propped by bulging expenses, will be well maintained to firmer for the year. The consumer with storage facilities may benefit from time to time by watching carefully for sales and taking advantage of any buying opportunities provided by occasional runs of cattle fed to extra-heavy weight. Apparent determination by growers to cut back on poultry output threatens to deprive the housewife of one of her most prolific sources of reasonably priced meat.

29. Real estate will be a many-sided market in 1968. Prices for single family homes will continue to advance as construction fails to satisfy rising demands and as all building costs move higher . . . particularly during the first half. Demand for rentals in the middle and lower brackets gain steadily; however, ability to satisfy these needs will be severely hamstrung by even more costly and scarcer mortgage money. Speculative purchases and the saleability of vacant property — especially that in less desirable areas — will suffer from the drying-up of funds to carry such parcels. Broadly, the betterment that set in during the final six months of 1967 will probably not be maintained long in 1968.

30. Higher pay scales, the effect of recent increases in total money supplies, bigger social security outlays, and further advances in disposable income promise to give very strong support to retail trade during the early months of 1968 and for some time beyond. Only minor shadow is the evident reluctance of consumers to go as heavily into debt as in recent years. The purchasing power will be there, and only an optimistic shift in consumer attitudes will be necessary to ring up record gains — maybe 8 percent to 10 percent — at least during the first half-year. Later, efforts of the Administration and of the money managers to cool the inflation through taxes and cutbacks in government spending may slow the rate of retail upturn.

31. The trend in recent years has been toward a dwindling margin of U. S. exports over imports This has come at a bad time for our chronic condition of imbalance in our international payments position. Devaluation of the pound and other currencies has hurt our ability to expand exports at a crucial moment for our balance of payments. Greatest hope for us in 1968 is that European nations that have been in a business slump will enjoy recovery . . . making a better market for our products there. We forecast that our government will discuss, and perhaps implement, export subsidies during the year ahead.

32. Current talk of the possibility of an even "hotter" summer ahead in our racially imbalanced big cities should be discounted. Preparations already made and in the making should reduce the danger of the firestorms suffered in 1967. We feel that real advances have been made through the ballot box in major mayoralty elections. Another hopeful sign is the rising trend toward responsibility for bettering conditions on the part of businessmen and the private sector. We are willing to stick our necks out and predict that the summer of 1968 will not be as "hot" as was 1967's.

33. However, we are not optimistic on the course crime is pursuing. Recent reports indicate that Americans will be in even greater danger of being murdered, maimed, or robbed in 1968 than in 1967 (a frightening one out of 44).

34. Money pressures — from lessened availability and higher cost — point to lowered liquidity next year — with an attendant increase in bankruptcies, more difficult collections, and rising foreclosures.

35. We anticipate a year of rapidly shifting attitudes toward the

In Retrospect, 1967 Is Progressive Year!

The Year 1967 will go down into the history books as a year of continued prosperity in Hall County and a year during which certain projects were completed and certain other projects were begun. An examination of over 50 past issues of The Democrat points to the milestones as well as the cornerstones of progress, and since this is the last issue of 1967, it is fitting that we reflect on the past year.

The year started with a population estimate of 3,800 residing in Memphis and 7,744 persons residing in Hall County, a slight increase over the 1960 census figure. Also, the County's bank assets soared to a new record high at the close of 1966 to give a firm financial base under which progressive steps could be taken.

On Feb. 2, 1967, the Memphis school board accepted the keys to the newly constructed Memphis High School building and the move into the new structure began that afternoon. The effect of this progressive step by school officials is still being felt, 11 months later.

The Chamber of Commerce continued its long range programs of advancing tourism in this area, and also examining prospects for industrial development. One of the promising projects is the mining of volcanic ash deposits east of Memphis which is under lease to Grady Worthington.

After many years, the Memphis banks jointly announced they would be closed on Saturdays.

Last spring was one of the most successful seasons as far as Interscholastic League competition was concerned. The Cyclone Band won Sweepstakes, the MHS Track team won a District Championship, and Estelline and Turkey netter squads brought home three Class B State tennis titles.

On May 9, 1967, the First National Bank of Memphis opened the doors in its modern new banking home and a formal opening was conducted on May 21. Also in May, heavy rains over most of the county broke the drouth during the spring and brightened cotton harvest prospects.

Churches played an important role during 1967 as the Lakeview Methodist Church had a dedication service on March 19. Then on June 18, the First Christian Church celebrated its 75th Anniversary in Memphis.

The year was not without its losses, however, and the first of several was the moving to Ennis of Mayor H. J. Howell. He became a vice president in the Citizens National Bank of Ennis. Howell was replaced in office by Kenneth Dale after an August election won for him the office over Homer Tucker.

Bank deposits continued their upward spiral during the year 1967 and a new record high is possible for Dec. 31, 1967, the date of the end of year financial report.

Road paving projects also figured into 1967. A four-lane 16th Street connecting U. S. Hwy. 287 to State 256 was approved by City and County officials and is presently on the drafting boards of state highway engineers.

Also, last week, the Texas Highway Department approved the construction of another bridge across Prairie Dog Fork of Red River, north of Estelline and the construction of four-lane approaches. The cost is to be over $1 million.

During the Anniversary Celebration of Hall County, a Heritage Hall was set up in the old First National Bank building and crowds flocked to see the dispays, in what has to be a most successful display of interest in historical artifacts. From this has grown the project of trying to establish a permanent museum at this location. Over 100 citizens have signed pledge slips and an escrow account has been opened at the FNB as "evidence of faith" in the project.

The grain sorghum crop and the cotton crop were successfully harvested and prices paid were better than in recent years.

In Oct. 1967, Memphis leaders honored Postex Hall Plant for their ever-expanding operation in Memphis during an Industrial Appreciation Day which pointed out the increasing interest in industrial development in this area.

This fall, the announcement came of the future plans of General Telephone Co. of the Southwest. These plans call for the leaving of several families from the Memphis area. The Memphis exchange remained as a Division Office in the company, however, which points up the interest of this company in the Memphis area.

As a fitting cimax to the year, the First Baptist Church of Memphis held ground breaking ceremonies on Dec. 20 and construction has begun on this progressive development. The final result will be either new or completely remodeled facilities for the First Baptist Church.

We, at The Democrat, feel that 1967 was another progressive year for our citizens and for our area. We look forward to even greater things to come in 1968. The year 1967 also had its heart breaks, as does every year, and these were, and are being shared jointly by our citizens.

Food For Thought

The famine finally forced India's leaders to recognize the need for boosting fertilizer production, and grudgingly they let American know-how have a go at it — but only with the Indian government holding controlling interest. This failed to stimulate output sufficiently, for many American investors held back.

But now, for the first time, India's government wisely has stayed on the sidelines. The profit incentive has brought a privately owned Indian firm into partnership with two U. S. companies, Chevron Chemical Co. and International Minerals and Chemical Corp.

There are other benefits, too. The plant made jobs for more than 700 Indians. And by producing fertilizer in India, the government will save $33 million a year in foreign exchange it has been pouring out to buy fertilizer abroad.

This is a fine beginning. It needs to be repeated again and again, until India can feed itself.

A factory that will turn out 260,000 tons of fertilizer a year has opened in India and the event is one of major significance.

The $80 million complex of Coromandel Fertilizers Ltd. will help provide food for 10 million persons, in a land plagued by drouth that heavily reduced the grain crop two years in a row, leaving millions of persons literally starving.

But the really good news about this plant is that it was built and is owned entirely by private enterprise. This is a radical departure for socialist India, where government ownership is almost as sacred as the cows.

India has several socialist, government-owned fertilizer plants. Their inefficiency is appalling. Farmers clamor for more fertilizer, so they can grow more food, but India's socialist economic planning hangs so many marketing and financing restrictions around their necks the farmers are forced to fall back on the ancient practices that have kept India too long underdeveloped.

Sniff That Air

Did you take a good whiff of fresh air when you stepped outside this morning?

If you did, you ought to be counting your blessings, because not every place has good, clean, sweet smelling fresh air like we do.

Of course, we will admit that sometimes our fresh air has a hint of dust in it, and sometimes when the south and southwest wind is moist, we can smell the Celanese plant at Pampa and the oil refineries at Borger on our fresh air.

But most of the time it is pure and fresh and good because the wind blows away the impurities that plague other areas, mainly the big cities.

Air pollution is a real problem in lots of places. Along the industrial Gulf Coast, there is lots of places. Along the industrial Gulf Coast, there is a real smog problem, although nothing like that of famous Los Angeles.

The air pollution has become so acute that Congress has approved a grant of $428 million for a three year program to study what to do about air pollution.

The initiative is left up to the states in a national air control program, but the federal government is prepared to step in where needed. Under the air pollution laws, the secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare has emergency powers to shut down pollution at the source, meaning the secretary can shut down factories, stop auto traffic or anything else when he determines that a substantial health hazard exists.

There will be a national study to determine federal standards on all air pollution sources. The time has come to clean up the air. Meanwhile, step outside once more and take a sniff of ours. Isn't it wonderful!

Director Gives Farmer Filing Requirements

Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their 1967 gross income from farming should file their declaration of estimated Federal income tax (including self-employment) for 1967 on or before Monday, January 15, 1968. Form 1040-ES should be used for this purpose.

However, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas said that farmers need not file an estimate if they file their 1967 Federal income tax return, Form 1040, and pay in full any tax due by February 15, 1968.

Babson Report—

k market and toward groups stocks and individual issues. ly-year upsweep in business selectively higher profits — bined with a liberal supply of ey following the Fed's huge pouring in 1967 — should pave way for further progress by popular stock averages. Lat- as the battle against infla- intensifies, the stock market become subject to a pain- reassessment.

A year ago we predicted in 1967 the "old aristocracy the blue chips based on past formance" would "be replaced a new aristocracy of super- management based upon hop- good future performances." it looks as if the issue re- enting concerns with super- forward-looking management just plain become overval- in the marget place. We be- it will be unwise in 1968 to after such.

As a consequence of the de- ping money squeeze, high- ity (only) bonds of long ma- ity — both taxable and non- able — should provide excel- long-range investment oppor- ties for those seeking incom ing the first half-year.

If we are correct in the assumption . . . we cannot be far wrong in predicting that the better electric-utility common stocks may also prove to be outstanding purchases for long-term growth.

39. Among the "old aristocracy of the blue chips" there are a number of industrial areas that have been pounded down in price to a point where real solid substance is clearly visible. One such group is the chemicals. The old-line major companies here — ones that enjoyed a great bull market in the 1950's — may be in a buying range during 1968.

40. Still not among today's much-sought-after "performance" stocks . . . the big multiple-risk insurance concerns represent another type of equity investment that could well afford high opportunity over an extended period of time to those who have the courage and foresight to pick them up when they have few friends. And they may have more "glamour" that many think . . . as they are showing a developing trend toward "conglomerating."

41. Another group that could reach long-term buying level next year is banks. Although their profits are up now, they have not been popular. The reason: Every period of money squeeze raises doubts as to the degree of "wringing out" that bond portfolios and loans will have to take when money passes its crisis. That time may come during 1968.

42. High money rates have raised havoc with the prices of many of the large finance company stocks listed on the N. Y. Stock Exchange. Some of these have broad holdings in other lines; yet they are selling close to their "cellar" lows. When money rates froth up and crest over next year — as we predict — a good investment opportunity will be presented in this group.

43. It seems almost a foregone certainty that auto production will soar . . . when the strike-struck plants finally get back to work. For a while then there might develop a speculative wave in these issues. But we predict it would be unwise to chase after auto stocks on any great early-year strength. They are cyclical in nature, and may experience some rough going during the upcoming battle against inflation. We think there are better opportunities in strongly situated aggressive merchandising outlets.

44. Despite pressures to cut back on spending next year, there will be a renewed flare-up of the anti-ballistic-missile scare. Look for additional appropriations to build a thicker shield than the thin one proposed by Mr. McNamara. This flap will be accompanied by a renewed buying wave in stocks associated with the program.

45. When discussions of inflation get into high gear in 1968, attention will again be focused on ways to "protect" against it. You will be told to buy stocks as a hedge. But remember then that stocks go up because their earnings climb, not because they are a "hedge against inflation." We predict that many will find to their sorrow that stocks hastily bought as inflation "protection" had no such mystical value.

46. There will also be a great buzzing in the coming months about gold stocks as a way to make money out of a dollar jump in the price of the precious metal. The devaluation of the pound caused a big rush into gold stocks. Since the dollar will not be devalued in 1968, we warn recent purchasers of such issues that they may have losses for a long time; although they may be right on some distant day, not next year.

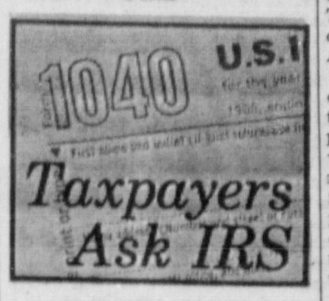

47. We predict that a number of huge international concerns with shares traded in the U. S. and not subject to the interest-equalization tax — particularly those that do a big business with the "hard money" nations of the European Common Market — may do a better than gold stocks during the year now opening.

48. War issues — so-called defense stocks — may not do so well in 1968 as equities of those concerns that will benefit from an end of the war buildup. Do not get "locked into" war stocks . . . simply because they boast high current profits and order backlogs.

49. Building issues are excellent examples of peace stocks. They look a little high now following 1967's recovery in home building; however, we predict that when the money pressure gets intolerable sometimes next year, there may develop another opportunity to get into building equities with an eye to future substantial gain after the Viet phase-out.

50. In conclusion, under the stimulus of the Fed's 1967 "money bath" — and spurred by heavy strike-catchup output and strong activity to hedge against coming labor stoppages — business could soar during some of the early months next year. Gross National Products and the Fed Index of Production will both advance smartly. Sooner or later, however, the government will have to beat back the onrushing inflation. We do not believe that the American people will stand by and see their great country scuttled. And when the money manages sterm the money flood — and the Administration and Congress shrink the budget deficit — the upthrust of business and profits will be curbed. This may not be so pleasant for a while. It could be downrignt unpleasant. But it will surely hold far greater promise for a longer and sunnier tomorrow.

FINE'

Q. When will the 1967 tax forms be ready?

A. The tax forms will be available at local IRS offices as well as many post offices and banks soon after the first of the year. Most taxpayers will receive copies of the forms and instructions in the mail.

Q. My company is planning to give me a cash bonus this Christmas. Will I have to report what I get for tax purposes?

A. Yes, this will be taxable income for you and your employer will withhold taxes on it.

Q. I've just turned 65. Will this make any difference as far as taxes go?

A. Yes, there are various benefits the law provides for taxpayers 65 years of age and over. These are explained in our publication, "Tax Benefits For Older Americans," Document No. 5569.

For one thing, taxpayers 65 and over are allowed an extra exemption because of age. If you are presently employed and have taxes withheld from your wages, you may want to file a new withholding statement, Form W-4, with your employer to claim the extra exemption for age. Doing so will reduce the amount your employer withholds.

Your employer should be able to provide you with a copy of the Form W-4.

Q. I've been spending some time working on a fund drive for charity. Can I take any deduction for the time I spent on this?

A. No, the value of your time or services is not deductible. However, you may deduct your out-of-pocket expenses as a result of the charitable work.

Drivers License Applicant Needs Birth Certificate

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, recently reminded Texans that any person, regardless of age, must have a birth certificate or other legal document showing birthdate in possession at the time they first make application for a drivers license.

"Apparently many applicants are unfamiliar with this new requirement in the law," Garrison advised, "and large numbers of prospective drivers are being turned away until they return home and get such a document. This part of the law applies only to those drivers who make application for their first Texas drivers license, and not to those wishing to renew a license."

Garrison outlined the procedure to be followed to obtain a license in order to clear up any misconceptions brought about by changes in the drivers license law.

First, the applicant must be the proper age. A person 16 years old may obtain a license provided he has completed an approved course of driver education or has a certificate showing that such a course is not taught at the school regularly attended by the applicant. Persons 18 years of age or older may qualify for an Operator's License without taking driver education. Persons 15 years of age or older may be licensed to operate a 5-brake horsepower motor scooter.

The applicant, with the necessary certificate, goes to any examining office, of the DPS. If he wishes to take the driving portion of the examination, he must provide a vehicle in which to be tested. After January 1, 1968, applicants for the motorcycle license must provide, in addition to the motorcycle, a car and a licensed driver to convey the License Examiner during the road test.

Upon arriving at the Examining Office, the applicant will fill in the necessary forms and be given a vision test and a written test. If he completes both of these satisfactorily, he will be given the road test. If he completes all phases of the examination satisfactorily, he will be issued a temporary permit which will enable him to drive until receiving his license from DPS headquarters in Austin. If the person has not had sufficient experience in operating a vehicle, he may pass the written and vision portions of the examination and be given a temporary learner's permit which will enable him to drive as long as a licensed operator over the age of 21 is in the front seat of the vehicle at the same tiime.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"What I'd like to see, is the dog who buried it."

Pvt. Bednarski Home On Leave From Marines

Marine Private Richard L. Bednarski recently graduated from eight-weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, and then completed two to four weeks of individual combat training.

Pvt. Bednarski was here during the Christmas holidays along with his wife, the former Miss Connie Faircloth of Dallas, to visit with his mother, Mrs. Frances Bednarski and grandmother, Mrs. Violette Gillenwater. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Bednarski to Memphis on Friday of last week was Mrs. W. A. Faircloth and daughter Sue of Dallas.

At the conclusion of his leave, Pvt. Bednarski will report to his first Marine Corps Assignment.

The intensified Marine training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Next time the wife uses our razor for sharpening a pencil we're goingto remember that powder puffs make fine shoe shiners.

Mrs. Godfrey, Jr. Turns Tin Cans Into Unique Hobby

Mrs. E. W. Godfrey, Jr., of Houston, former Memphis resident, has recently received recognition through the Houston Cronicle as well as appeared on TV to show her latest hobby — that of making doll furniture from tin cans of various assortments.

Mrs. Godfrey said all you need to make the furniture is plenty of cans, good pruning shears to cut the tin, tiny needle-nose pliers, spray paint and some imagination.

To date she has made furniture for a complete living room setting and bedroom. The living room is modern wih a free standing fireplace (hair spray can) leopard covered chairs (Vienna sausage cans), a low slung blue couch (lighter fluid can) with tiny cushions, and a useful modern desk(spam can).

The coffee table was the top of the Spam can with gravel embossed top, all on a circular base (more hair spray). Flanking the sofa were two unusual lamps made from the neck bones of turkeys, painted gold.

The fireplace is filled with logs, glowing with red glitter.

The bedroom is delicate — furniture gold and white, velvet upholstery pink and blue. Louis XV would have been amazed to see that his royal furniture could be reproduced from tin cans with pliers.

Mrs. Godfrey, Known to her friends in Memphis as "Pinky" is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Godfrey, Sr. of Memphis.

Since she has been living in Houston, Mrs. Godfrey has been instrumental in organizing an annual Hall County picnic in that city. Last summer approximately 200 former Hall Countians attended the annual summer reunion.

More Than Half Traffic Victims Were Passengers

Ladies that "back-seat" drive evidently have good cause, the Texas Safety Association said recently if nothing that more than one-half of the female traffic victims in Texas last year were passengers.

Of the 998 females killed on the state's streets and highways in 1966, 572 were simply along for the ride. Only 283 of the total 1,714 Texas drivers killed were women. There were 136 females killed in pedestrian accidents and seven females killed in bicycle and other types of accidents. Females killed represented only slightly over 29 percent of the state's 3,406 traffic fatalities.

A look at the ticklish question of a lady's age shows that fatal accidents happen most often to young women between ages 16 and 25, with the highest number of fatalities occurring at age 19.

The Safety Association suggests that women "nag" their husbands or escorts to drive safely. They also advise women to cut down on romancing the driver in traffic. He needs his hands and mind on the wheel at all times. Ladies should also "buckle up" to avoid becoming a real "femme fatale."

Veterans Administration Pays Out $256,409,000 To 247,300 Texans

The Veterans Administration paid out in 1967 an estimated $256,409,000 in compensation and pension benefits to 247,300 Texas veterans or their survivors, Jack Coker, Manager of the Waco VA Regional Office, announced today.

Included in this estimate are increased pension and Vietnam era wartime disability compensation payments provided by the Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act signed by the President last August, Coker said.

Of the estimated $7 billion of all VA expenditures nationally in 1967, approximately $406,300,000 was expended in Texas, Coker said.

Compensation and pension benefits for approximately 4.5 million American veterans or survivors account for nearly $4.4 billion of the $7 billion total of VA expenditures this past year.

The next highest VA expenditure in 1967 was for hospital and medical services. To care for ill and disabled veterans in its 166 hospitals and 202 outpatient clinics in 1967, VA spent more than $1.3 billion.

VA payments for insurance and indemnities in 1967 totaled nearly $890 million.

Education and training expenditures were the next highest item in the VA's budget this past year. Under this program, which cost approximately $320 million, about 468,000 veterans went to high school, college or post-graduate school, or received on-the-job, farm, apprenticeship or flight training in 1967. Additionally, some 37,000 children of veterans who died from a service-connected disability or who are permanently and totally disabled as a result of military service received about $33 million in educational assistance this past year.

The GI loans programs, boosted by the participation of Post-Korean and Vietnam era veterans who accounted for more than four-fifths of the loans, were strong in 1967. VA guaranteed approximately 200,000 loans with a face value of nearly $3.4 billion in 1967. This past year VA also made slightly more than 12,000 direct loans at nearly $150 million.

Every year you see some hunter who shoots at high-flying geese — far out of range. Or a person who misses a big deer because he undershot or overshot. Or a gunner whe wastes ammunition at doves that are beyond the range of his shotgun.

Ability to judge distances properly can make a vast difference in your skill as a hunter. If you can size up a situation closely and know when to shoot or hold your fire, you'll be spared much of the disappointments of shooting at out-of-range targets which you have no chance of hitting.

More important, particularly when hunting with a shotgun, you'll cut down the chance of crippling game.

In places where long-distance shots are common, such as the Trans-Pecos region of Texas or maybe the mountains of Colorado, it is amazing how far off some people's estimates of range can be.

When actually paced off, many a 300-yard rifle shot turns out to have been closer to half that distance, or perhaps much farther away.

Put your estimates of various distances to actual tests under conditions where they can be checked and you might be surprised how wrong you are. Pick out lamp post, street corners, window ledges, trees or other objects. Estimate the distance to them, then step it off. See how near you come to being correct.

Practice in estimating distance, before you hunt, will be a big help to you in the field.

For the shotgun enthusiast, skeet shooting or practice with a hand trap can be an invaluable aid. Distances are known in skeet but they vary from station to station as do the leads required. In time, you'll soon become proficient at judging both.

With the hand trap, place stakes at varying distances — say 20, 25, 30 and 40 yards. Watch the targets carefully as they sail over them.

A quail is about the same size as a clay target. A pheasant or duck is quite a bit larger.

In rifle hunting, proper range estimate is vital to the correct sight picture. For a rifle sighted in at 100 yards, the points at which you should hold on an animal, whether you're using a scope or open sights, can easily be determined if you know how far away he is.

With a shotgun, the lead situation changes radically as range increases. If your estimates are way off, you're doomed to failure before you start.

The rifle shooter must know where his rifle is shooting at various distances. For instance, if it is sighted in at 200 yards, shoot at 100 yards and also at 300 to determine where the bullet is hitting. Then you'll know exactly where to hold on animals at these ranges. Leave as little to chance as possible and you'll see your percentage of hits in relation to misses improve.

Type of terrain has a lot to do with judging range. In the high mountains of Colorado, distant objects appear much closer than they really are.

If you plan on hunting in Colorado or some other western mountainous state, try to arrange your schedule so you'll be in hunting country a day or two before the season opens. This will give you an opportunity to becomes accustomed to the new surroundings. Then you'll stand a much better chance of bagging a deer when you sight one.

Mrs. Malcolm Martin and children left Wednesday for their home in Chattanooga, Tenn., after spending the Christmas holidays here with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Martin. Also visiting in the home of her parents this week are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sexton of Ft. Worth.

Medicare Pays Out $130,000,000 During Past Year

During its first year the new Federal medicare program paid out more than $130,300,000 for the care of people age 65 and over in Texas according to Way, regional assistant commissioner in Dallas. About $100,000,000 of this was paid to the 548 hospitals which participate and the remainder was mostly for doctors' services.

Register said that there are 895,500 people over 65 in the state who are eligible for the Hospital Insurance and this group produced 300,000 hospital admissions. While there was an increase in hospital use by older people Register emphasized that the increase has been within "reasonable limits."

"Overall, the program has increased total hospital occupancy rates by no more than five per cent," he said.

Register explained that it is hard to measure the great improvement in the quality of life for the older person who has had a cataract removed, hernia repaired, or other surgery or therapy; but it is substantial.

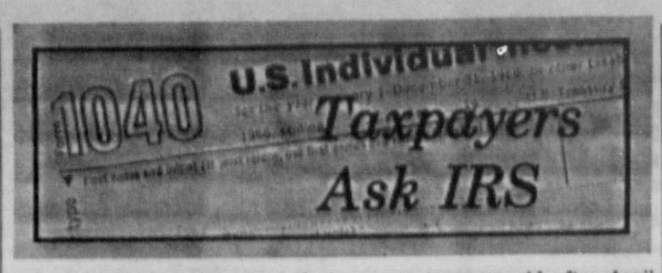

"And just as important," he emphasized, "many more elderly Americans have been able to get medical care with the dignity that goes with the ability to pay."

Q. Business has been good the past few months and my income should be considerably above what I declared on my estimate. Should I make a change on my next quarterly payment?

A. Yes, you can file an amended estimated tax return when the next quarterly payment is due January 15, 1968. Make the change right on the notice you receive.

As an alternative, you do not have to pay the fourth installment if you file your 1967 tax return by January 31,1968, and pay the balance due at that time.

Q. Our boy worked during his summer vacation from college and has just taken a part-time job for the holidays. Is there any chance that the money he earns will cost us our deduction for him?

A. As long as your child is under 19 or a full-time student and you provide more than half his support, his earnings will not cause you to lose the exemption you claim for him.

Your son must file a return if he has gross income of $600 or more. He should also file a return if his income was less than that but taxes were withheld from his wages. He cannot obtain a refund of these taxes unless he files a return.

Q. I'm leaving the country in January. What should I do about my 1967 tax return?

A. For taxpayers who are living abroad on April 15 there is an automatic filing extension until June 15. Interest at the rate of 6 percent a year is charged, however, on taxes unpaid after April 15.

12 Per Cent Of County Citizens In Govt. Employ

(Special to the Democrat)

NEW YORK — The number of Hall County residents on government payrolls is relatively small.

Compared with other communities across the country, the proportion of local people in government jobs — Federal, state and local — is below average.

This is seen in revised figures, up-dated on the basis of new, national data compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Tax Foundation and others.

In the local areas, it appears, about one out of every 8 employed persons works for some branch of the government.

Taken into consideration are all those employed in a civilian capacity by the Federal government, by the state and by counties, municipalities and other units of government. Those in the armed forces are not included.

The surveys show that, in almost every part of the country, there has been a sharp increase in recent years in the number of people in public jobs.

Since 1960, their total has grown from 8.3 million to over 11.5 million, a rise of 38 percent. During the same period, the national population rose only 10 percent.

In Hall County, the number of people who are holding down government jobs at this time is estimated at 280.

Back in 1960, by way of comparison, there were 237 on government payrolls, according to the Census Bureau.

What it amounts to, in terms of the total working population, is that approximately 12.0 percent are publicly employed.

Elsewhere in the United States, an average of 15.7 percent are so employed and, in the State of Texas, 15.4 percent.

The Labor Department notes that, contrary to general belief the great increase in the number of government workers in recent years has been chiefly in state and local jobs, which have multiplied at five times the rate of Federal jobs.

Much of the increase is attributed to the growing number of young people and the resultant expansion of school systems to provide for them.

Payrolls for teachers and other school employees have become the major personnel item in most local budgets.

According to the U.S.D.A. Consumer and Marketing Service report, released by Voelkel as of Dec. 21, samples showed 19 per cent of cotton in the white grades, 63 percent Light Spotted, 16 percent Spotter, and 2 percent Tinged and Yellow Stained. Fifty-two per cent classed Middling Light Spotted.

With most of the harvesting currently originating in the better staple areas, the staple length 15/16 and 31/32 decreased and the 1 inch increased percentagewise. The predominant length continued to be 31/32 inch, with 43 percent. Other lengths were: 15/16 inch-16 percent; 1 inch-35 percent; 1-1/32 inches-4 per cent; and, 1-1/16 inches 2 per cent.

The micronaire readings (fineness and maturity) continued to reflect a very high percentage in the premium range of 3.5-4.9 with 64 percent, and only one (1) per cent read 5.0-5.2. The groupings under 3.5 were: 2.6 and below 3 per cent; 2.7-2.9-6 per cent; 3.0-3.2-16 per cent; 3.3-3.4-10 per cent.

The fiber strength of Eastern Panhandle cotton continued to test strong. This factor together with the large percentage of premium mike readings perhaps were reasons for the excellent demand for this 12-county area's production. The seasonal Pressley strength test average was 79,000 pounds per square inch.

Cotton continued to sell freely with none having been placed in the government loan. Average prices paid for cotton with mike readings 3.5-4.9 were: Middling 15-16, 20.25; Middling 31-32, 23.85; Middling, 1 inch, 26.65; Middling Light Spotted, 15-16, 20.05; Middling Light Spotted, 31-32, 22.30; Middling Light Spotted, 1 inch, 24.95; Middling Spotted 15-16, 17.80; Middling Spotted 31-32, 18.75; and Middling Spotted, 1inch, 19.80.

Cottonseed at most gin points brought the farmers $60.00 per ton.

crease compared to a 24 percent boost in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines and a 34 percent hike for advertising circulars, "occupant" mail, and other material in the third-class category.

The new rate of six cents per ounce for first-class mail applies up to 13 ounces and the new rate of 10 cents per ounce for air mail applies up to 7 ounces. Under the new rate structure all first-class mail over 13 ounces and all air mail over 7 ounces will be merged into a single category.

These heavier pieces of first-class and air mail subject to the single rate schedule will be delivered by the fastest available means of transportation.

A flat rate of 80 cents will be charged for all mail in this category up to one pound. For all mail weighing more than one pound, the present air parcel post rates will continue to apply, except that the postage on matter weighing between one and five pounds will change at half-pound intervals rather than one pound intervals.

Postmaster Lindsey said that the new rate structure will mean a reduction of postage on some parcels.

Another rate change that will affect the general public is the increase from four to six cents for the first two ounces of individual pieces of third-class mail. Unsealed greeting cards may be sent at this rate, he said.

There will be no changes in the charges for special delivery, special handling, registered mail, certified mail, cash on delivery or insurance, Lindsey said.

"We have an ample supply of one-cent stamps on hand," Postmaster Lindsey said, "for those people who have five-cent stamps and need one-cent stamps to make up the postage required under the new rates."

Higher rates also will go into effect Jan. 7 for all categories of second-class, bulk-rate third-class mail, controlled circulation mail, and the educational materials category of fourth-class mail. Mailers using these classes who need information on the new rates should contact the local Post Office.
