ERNEST TAYLOR

Ernest Taylor Dies; Rites Set Monday

Longtime Snyder insurance man Ernest Taylor died Saturday morning at one o'clock in a Dallas hospital where he had been under treatment for over a month. He was 68.

One of the oldest active agents for United Fidelity of Dallas, Mr. Taylor was one of the top salesmen in the company, being headman in the company's million-dollar roundtable for those who have written one million dollars in insurance. He wrote his first million in 1951.

For 19 years Taylor conducted his business from his car which he parked in the same place each day so he could be located. In 1957, J. Elmo Crowder and Ray Hout were added to the firm then located at 1906 Twenty-sixth Street.

Born October 4, 1891, in Denton County, Mr. Taylor came to Snyder at the age of eight and graduated from Snyder High School in 1910. He served in World War I and was a charter member of the American Legion Post which was organized here in 1919.

He married Miss Louise Smith at Rogersville, Tenn., in 1918 and they moved to Snyder, where Mr. Taylor started in the real estate business, later adding the insurance line. He was an elder in the First Presbyterian Church.

A former city councilman, he is survived by his wife, two sons, Ernest Taylor, Jr. of Dallas and Robert George Taylor of Snyder; one daughter, Mary Louise Taylor of Snyder; one niece, Mrs. A. E. James of Lubbock, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be conducted in the First Baptist Church at four o'clock Monday afternoon, under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

UF Panel Sets Session

The Scurry County United Fund budget and admissions committee has scheduled a meeting for 3:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, who served as general campaign chairman last year, heads the committee.

Agencies which desire to participate in the United Fund this year have been asked to present applications and proposed budgets for survey by the committee.

The budget and admissions committee will determine which agencies shall participate and the amount of the United Fund budget for the coming year.

Zone Changes Due Action

zoning changes for areas annexed recently will be considered by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night in the city hall.

The session is set for 7:30 p.m. The zoning changes have been proposed for a 10-acre annexed area. Upon annexation all areas come into the city as R-1 or one-family residence zones until such time that rezoning petitions can be prepared by the planning and zoning commission.

Dag Finds Resistance To U. N. Congo Plan

By LYNN HEIZERLING, LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld was reported Saturday to be meeting resistance from some of the Congo's leaders in his plan to move cautiously in settling the disordered affairs of this young nation.

Several ministers are insisting that U. N. forces move immediately into Katanga Province, which has declared its independence, to expel Belgian forces maintaining order there.

The U. N. view is that such precipitate action could only damage the country's future. Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga has told U. N. forces to stay out of the rich province.

The secretary general held two sessions with a restricted group of leaders in an effort to work out some agreement on the way to save the month-old republic. Both U. N. and government officials were close-mouthed about the progress being made. But it was generally believed that the veteran U. N. diplomat had pulled no punches in telling the Cabinet how the massive U. N. effort here should be conducted.

The formation of a restricted commission of six Congolese members to deal with the problem announced in a communique was believed to be one result of his firm stand.

A U. N. spokesman said the commission will decide with Hammarskjöld and Ralph J. Bunche, U. N. undersecretary, what type of organization is required for the U. N. operation. Premier Patrice Lumumba, who is on a mission seeking U. S. and Canadian aid, is a commission member.

The military and technical assistance phases of the U. N. program designed to stop lawlessness and keep the nation's administration and public services from falling apart were undertaken on an emergency basis.

Hammarskjöld is now trying to set up a permanent organization to work with the Congolese for perhaps five years or more.

Helicopter Helps Plan New Lake

When a helicopter hovers along the Colorado River in Mitchell and Coke Counties, residents needn't get the idea that prospectors have taken to the air.

This happens to be a modern way of conducting a geological investigation. The Colorado River Municipal Water District has been actually engaged in developing additional water supply to meet the demands of the area, and it holds a permit to impound a new lake on the Colorado River. However, there is a problem of local mineralization, and studies of the river channel and watershed are needed to lead to a solution.

The Texas Electric Service Company, which has pioneered in studies of West Texas water problems, is cooperating with the Colorado River Municipal Water District in these studies.

Much of the area to be investigated is not readily accessible by normal means. Due to this difficulty, a helicopter will be utilized to carry personnel and equipment to and from the study area.

Officials hope that the investigation will help to solve some of the problems connected with the projected development. The use of the helicopter this week is a part of the efforts to provide an adequate supply of good quality water for this area.

Nixon Due In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—San Antonio will be the first on the list of Texas cities Vice-Pres. Richard Nixon will visit during his presidential campaign.

That was the assurance Saturday from Joe Sheldon, Republican state committee chairman, as he stepped from the train bringing San Antonio delegates to the National Republican Convention back home.

Sheldon said Nixon's speaking schedule has not yet been arranged but said the vice-president recalled his San Antonio welcome in 1956, and would start his Texas tour in the Alamogordo city.

Bexar County Republican leaders, and the rank and file, gathered 150 strong to commandeer the Missouri-Pacific station for a gala welcome-home party for the party stalwart.

Nixon for President placards, banners, and a 3-piece combo added lustre to the 30-minute demonstration.

Mishap Kills Naval Trio

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The commanding officer of Heavy Photographic Squadron 82 and two other members of the Jacksonville Naval Air Station unit were killed last night in a training accident aboard the carrier Saratoga.

The Navy said the dead were Cmdr. Charles T. Froine Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Froine of Brooklyn, N. Y., Lt. 1st Lt. Roger B. Paganetti, Jacksonville, and Chief Photographer's Mate Raymond V. Schomer, son of Mr. Alvin C. Schomer, Houston, Texas.

Froine was piloting an AD-1 Skywarrior and had nearly completed an aerial refueling on the carrier off Mayport, Fla., when the accident occurred.

NEW LOOK AT THE WORLD—Gordon Dickerson, 14, smiles from his hospital bed in Tecumseh, Ontario, after he had been removed from his home where he had been confined with two sisters for 11 years. The plight of the children was discovered when Gordon wandered from the house and talked with neighbors. Police said the boy was only 47 inches tall and that all the children were suffering from malnutrition. Police also found 15 cats in the house. Nurse with Gordon is Frances Newman. (AP Wirephoto)

Another Polaris Fired From Sub

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy Saturday successfully fired another Polaris from a submerged submarine in its continuing drive to send the missile to sea as a powerful war deterrent by the end of the year.

Shortly after the launch, it was announced the missile achieved all test objectives in striking a pre-selected target area 1,100 miles down the Atlantic near the rocket covered the distance in 14 minutes.

The aquat missile was launched from the USS George Washington, the big atomic submarine glided beneath the Gulf Stream about 30 miles off Cape Canaveral. This is the same area from which the submarine successfully unleashed two Polaris in historic first launchings 10 days ago.

Compressed air ejected the 28-foot rocket from one of 16 vertical tubes, burrowed in the broad deck of the George Washington. The missile drilled through more than 50 feet of water and popped to the surface a split second after launch. The first-stage engine ignited several feet in the air and the Polaris streaked toward a target area northeast of Puerto Rico.

Following the successful double underwater launching last week, Rear Adm. William F. Raborn Jr., director of the Polaris program, declared: "There is no question that we will meet our operational date this fall." But he emphasized that several more successful launchings must be made before the missile can be considered combat-ready.

The George Washington and a sister submarine, the Patrick Henry, are slated to go on patrol, each carrying 16 nuclear-tipped missiles, by the end of the year. They are the vanguard of a fleet of 48 Polaris submarines the Navy hopes to have roaming the oceans of the world within five years.

The initial operational range will be 1,380 miles. Testing has started on advanced techniques designed to increase this eventually to 2,875 miles.

Father, Son Found Slain In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—A father and son were found shot to death Saturday in their apartment.

They were Jim Deane, 55, a retired used car dealer, and his son, Jimmy, 15.

A C. Martindale, county medical investigator, said the body of the boy was found on a bed. The body of the father was on a bathroom floor. Martindale said a revolver and a .38-caliber pistol were found on the floor of a hall between the two rooms.

Indemnity Payments Needed To Aid Farmers, Says Nixon

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN, CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon urged Saturday a target date of three to four years to bring the nation's vast farm surpluses under control. He said a massive long-range program, including indemnity payments to farmers, is needed to turn the trick.

The Republican presidential nominee said past efforts to deal with surpluses have been unproductive. And he added that to attack the problem with the same tools used in the past would only make the situation worse. He urged the administration and the Congress to take action.

He said the government got him to produce more during the war and now must face up the responsibility of getting him out of that situation. The vice president held a news conference after conferring for nearly two hours with senators, representatives and other political leaders.

Tears Into Ike Regime

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic nominee for vice president, Saturday tore into what he called "the young men with old fears in the Republican party."

He charged they are too afraid to face up to the nation's needs at home or abroad. He named no names in a campaign speech for a Young Democrats rally.

Johnson pledged himself to a hard-hitting campaign, but he said he would use neither his Southern origin, his Protestant religion, nor any racial prejudice as arguments for losing votes.

"Wherever I may go, I will never speak as a Southerner to Southerners or as a Protestant to Protestants or as a white to whites," the nominee said.

Johnson's speech kicked off a Democratic drive to recapture Tennessee and other Southern states the party lost in 1956.

Virginia, Florida and Kentucky, along with Tennessee went Republican in 1956.

Johnson accused the Eisenhower administration of failing to meet its responsibilities and said the Republican standard-bearers in the election campaign would do no better. His text did not once mention Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP nominees for president and vice president, by name. However, he likened the Republican party to a withering tree.

"America has not been served abroad by the party which Americans themselves have chosen to represent them at home," Johnson said.

Nor, he charged, has the GOP done its job on the home front. "We are paying a price for this—a price freedom can not afford," he continued. "We are paying it in the erosion of America's effective leadership in the world abroad."

Johnson said former President Herbert Hoover had promised "a chicken in every pot" in an election campaign.

"But the young men with old fears in the Republican party today are afraid to promise the chicken and scared that American families ought not to buy the pot," he said.

"Before a world of farmers scratching the soil for a bare living for their families this administration has shown hostility to the family farm."

"Before a world of hungry men and hungry children, this present administration has manifested an inability to distribute the abundance of America's agriculture."

"Before a world of men wracked by illness, this administration has placed a brake on programs to assure better health for its own people."

"Before a world of men crying for enlightenment, this administration has held back on a commitment to education for this age."

"Before leaders of young nations, this administration has pleaded that the American system—and the American economy—can itself no longer afford the very works which these nations must undertake."

Thus, he said, Republican leadership has failed on both domestic and foreign fronts to face up to its promises.

East Coast Buffeted By Brenda

NEW YORK (AP)—Tropical storm Brenda dished and buffeted its way up the East Coast Saturday carrying heavy rains, lashing winds and some thunder and lightning.

The storm swept the Middle Atlantic states, pushed across New York, and plunged deep into New England, moving at a steady 30 miles per hour. Little damage was reported.

Brenda's chief effect was rain, massive doses of it. But high tides and heavy seas forced sale warnings to be hoisted from Hatteras, N. C., to Eastport, Maine. Three ships were in dangerous situations during the stormy Friday night. Dozens of yachts were threatened at their moorings.

At least one traffic death was blamed on the storm. As Brenda thumped the Atlantic coast, a small line with heavy rains and winds up to 100 m.p.h. rolled across a Midwest area from Michigan to Oklahoma.

Brenda forced President Eisenhower, en route to Denver, to postpone departure for his New York City. A callon retreat for 24 hours. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower had planned to leave by jet Saturday morning.

Widespread rain, 6 to 12 inches, hit up to 60 m.p.h. gusts in New York City. One to six inches of rainfall flooded many coastal sections. At Tampa, Fla., 13.92 inches of rain was reported.

The Weather Bureau expected an increase of showers and thunderstorms during the late afternoon and night, mainly in West and South Texas. The cooler weather was expected to spread during the night and bring relief to the South Sunday.

Cooler Air Enters Area

Cooler air which moved into the northern parts of Texas Saturday brought relief from a tenacious mid-summer heat wave in the Snyder area.

The welcome respite came following a sizzling 105 degrees here Friday. That was the maximum on the official gauge, but some unofficial readings in area hot spots ranged up to 110 degrees.

South Texas areas were not expected to benefit from cooler weather before Saturday night. Even before noon, temperatures soared above 100 in wide areas of South Texas. With the sun still short of its zenith, the mercury shot up to 104 degrees at Laredo and Comal, 103 at Alice and 101 at Beeville.

By contrast Amarillo at the time had 96, Wichita Falls and Longview 90 and Dallas and Fort Worth 91.

Showers fell in far West Texas around Marfa, Wink and the Big Bend country, and in Southeast Texas. A thunderstorm cooled Beaumont just before noon. Elsewhere skies were clear to partly cloudy.

The Weather Bureau expected an increase of showers and thunderstorms during the late afternoon and night, mainly in West and South Texas. The cooler weather was expected to spread during the night and bring relief to the South Sunday.

MUSICAL CHAIRS—The bare walls of the Lamar Junior High bandhall resounded to the sound of clanging chairs as Dwain Butler and Bobby Easterwood helped director Tim Dennis set up the chairs and fittings in preparation for the band school which begins Wednesday.

Junior High Band Classes To Start

students to be sure and go to the south end of the front of the new building for entrance so they will not disturb workmen. That is the only door that will be open to them.

Eighth and ninth grade members will have classes on Monday and Thursday with seventh graders meeting on Tuesday and Thursday. Classes will include woodwinds from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. and percussion from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

A class for beginners in Lamar band will be held each day from one to two o'clock each of the four days. This class is for all desiring to be in the band in the sixth grade.

There will be no formal registration for the Lamar class.

Wall Street Gets A Welcome Boost

By ED MORSE
NEW YORK, AP—Glad news came to Wall Street this week and the market responded with a rally which gave the list its first net gain in three weeks.
The Federal Reserve Board lowered margin requirements to 70 per cent from 90 per cent, easing credit by permitting the "down payment" on stock purchases to be reduced to that extent.
Brokers have been praying for such action for several weeks but they had hoped for a bigger cut. The announcement came after the market closed Wednesday. The expected rally resulted Thursday but was considerably stronger than anticipated. Historically, margin cuts have brought only a temporary advance and have been followed by a resumption of the declining trend for weeks and sometimes months afterwards.
This week, things worked out differently. After some faltering Friday morning, the market moved forward once again with considerable strength. The Friday advance matched the biggest rally of 1960, which occurred Jan. 5.
The result was an advance in The Associated Press average of 2.10 to 216.10 on the week.
The Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.86 to 616.73. This indicator had fallen to 601.66 Monday, its 11th straight daily decline. This figure was dangerously close to the "support level" of about 590, where previous declines were halted March 8 and May 2. A technical rally Tuesday saved the market from breaking through this "double bottom" and signaling a further sharp decline. But Tuesday's advance was wiped out by another slow, gloomy retreat Wednesday.
The news of the cut in margin, coming as it did Wednesday afternoon, brought a ray of sunshine to a gloomy market when Wall Street's mood was extremely murky. Most analysts predicted the market would sink below the previous 1960 support. So the Thursday rally came in the nick of time, from the technician's viewpoint. The real surprise came Friday when the list continued to advance, more strongly than on the previous day.
The most active issue this week on the New York Stock Exchange was American Motors, up $\frac{1}{2}$ at 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ on 241,800 shares. Most active on the American Stock Exchange was New Haven Clock, off $\frac{1}{4}$ at 14 on 115,700 shares.
U.S. government bond prices went to 1960 highs again this week. Corporates took a smaller step forward, their third in four weeks.
Volume inched to \$22,772,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from \$22,490,000 a week ago, the lowest in almost 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ years. A year ago volume was \$28,587,000.

Boy Found Living Under Highway

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—A 15-year-old boy stayed in the Passaic County juvenile shelter today after he was found living in a concrete culvert under a four-lane highway bridge.
Andrew Wilkie told police he had been living in the 4-foot-wide, 60-foot-long enclosure for 8 days. Youthful friends brought him food. He had a toothbrush, clothes and a makeshift mattress. Police said his aunt and guardian, Mrs. Rose Wilkie, was away on vacation and could not be located.
"I ran away because I'm too much a burden on my Aunt Rose," the boy said.

The oldest standing building in England is the 2,000 year old Pharos, or Roman lighthouse on the grounds of Canterbury. Istanbul, Turkey, formerly was known as Byzantium and Constantinople. It has a population of 1,205,000. Toulouse, Bordeaux, Nice, Nantes and Strasbourg in France are cities about the size of Richmond, Va., Akron, Ohio, or Omaha, Neb.

Handbooks In Big Demand

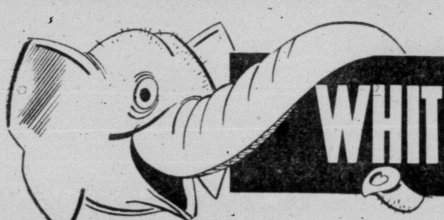

By STEVE LOWELL
Back in 1950, Chester Lytle, an electronics company began doing research engineering and development in the nuclear weapons field. He found out that many of the items needed accompanying technical handbooks. So the company began producing those, too, and the result is a flourishing space-age industry.
Its job is explaining ideas and gadgets so clearly that the people who work with these gimmicks of the future can do quick, sure jobs.
The work amounts to putting an idea into plain English. It takes a lot of doing, says Lytle, to transmit information from people who generate complex ideas for the fabulous things of these fantastic times to the people whose job is making those ideas work.
His principal customers are the Defense Department and defense contractors, and much of his business is related to nuclear weapons. On his full time professional staff are more than 500 engineers, engineering writers, illustrators, photographers, graphic artists and draftsmen.
They produce things like handbooks which tell how to fire missiles, movies to show workmen how to put a new gadget together and displays to show how scientific instruments operate. Because of the nature of their work, 90 per cent of the firm's employees have security clearance.
As an example of the need for such work, Lytle says, "a significant number of U.S. missile failures have been traced to faulty procedural data, as opposed to hardware malfunctions."
If the men who handle the shipment of a Titan II ICBM to Cape Canaveral and those who handle it when it gets there don't know correct procedures, it's hardly worth setting one of the multi-million dollar missiles on a firing pad.

109 Counties Show Gains

WASHINGTON, AP—The Census Bureau said Saturday that 109 Texas counties gained population in the last 10 years. The other 45 lost.

Nationwide, more than half of all U.S. counties lost population from 1950 to 1960. Twelve Oklahoma counties gained; 65 lost population. In New Mexico 16 gained and 16 lost. Louisiana has 45 gainers and 19 losers and Arkansas 7 counties that gained and 68 that lost population.

Although the census showed an overall population growth of 28 million in the United States, 1,580 of the 3,072 counties lost inhabitants and only 1,492 grew in population. Just about the same trend was shown in the 1950 Census. Of the then 3,070 counties, 1,516 had lost population in the previous decade and in spite of a national population increase of more than 19 million.

America Sends Billions In Food To Its Foreign Allies

WASHINGTON, AP—The United States during the past 45 years has poured out millions of tons of farm produce to help foreign nations, including friends and former enemies, in various types of food-for-peace programs.

There's no hard figure on the overall cost of this but, including both governmental and private aid, it's in the scores of billions. The Agriculture Department, in explaining America's role during these years, said this sharing was done not only in times when the United States had great surpluses, but also in war times when it required some belt-tightening in this land.

For many years, in the minds of Americans, the department said, food has been linked inseparably with peace. In the World War II period, American food again played a key role in supporting an Allied victory and hastening reconstruction.

The current food-for-peace program, based largely on the 1954 Public Law 480—permitting sales of surplus farm goods abroad for foreign currencies, donations and charter-carries on this tradition.

The first major food relief effort of the United States got underway in 1914 after the German invasion of Belgium and northern France.

This area, dependent on shipped food, was cut off from usual sources of supply. Millions of lives were saved when American food was sent in through the Commission for Relief in Belgium, directed by Hoover.

After the United States entered the war in 1917, the food program was expanded to include the United Kingdom and Italy.

At the end of the war, some 200 million people in the liberated nations and former enemy countries were hard pressed for food. More American food was poured in to help. The good 1919 harvest in Europe eased the situation. But famine struck in Russia in 1921 and, from then into 1923 large amounts of food and medical supplies were sent there.

The department said that during the World War I food relief program, 1917-1923, about 44 million tons of U.S. food and other relief supplies costing more than five billion dollars were delivered to 23 countries through organizations headed by Hoover. In addition, hundreds of millions of dollars of private relief dollars were spent.

In March 1941, following passage of the lend-lease law, the United States began to procure large quantities of farm goods for the British government.

After the United States entered the war in December 1941, food procurement was greatly expanded to meet needs of U.S. armed forces and help fill requirement of wartime allies, including the Soviet Union. World War II and postwar food programs fell into four categories:

1. Purchasing food for U.S. allies. Much of this was under lend-lease.
2. U.S. administered foreign relief programs. These include the Marshall Plan, Greek-Turkish aid, Chinese aid, and Korean aid.
3. Programs where food was turned over to international agencies such as UNRRA.
4. Overseas distribution of U.S. surplus foods through program conducted by 26 U.S. volunteer agencies, primarily church groups such as Lutheran World Relief and private organizations such as CARE.

Advantages Of Trench Silos Cited For Farmers In Area

Area Farm Home Administration supervisors met in Snyder Friday morning to discuss the advantages of silage to the "family type" farmer with a crop, a few head of cattle and the ever-present threat of drought. They showed a group of farmers a practical trench silo of family size on the Kenneth Rinehart farm six miles north of Snyder in the afternoon.

"Better than money in the bank" was the description given a trench full of silage saved in time of plenty until the time of drought. Farmers agreed that money in the bank did not help as much in a dry time as did stored feed because of inflated prices.

Farmers were told that a properly packed silo would last for 20 years with the feed cut in finer shreds lasting the best and being more palatable to cattle.

Also mentioned was the proper angle of a silo which should be slanted for drainage with the location in a favorable position in regard to other buildings on the farm.

P. T. Marion, superintendent of the Spur Experiment Station, urged farmers to take advantage of the good years to raise their own silage, most common of which is the redtop cane in this area, and be way ahead when their stock needed feed. Silage, he told them, would be the difference between keeping their cattle in an extended dry season and selling them at considerable loss.

Marion cited the farmers in the Spur area who sell their silage crop as an extra crop at the time they need money for cotton-pickers and have no need to borrow from the bank to meet heavy fall expenses. Late crops in the area were damaged frequently by hail while the early silage crop brought in much needed cash.

The station has found grain sorghums planted by many farmers runs second in money-making to the silage crop. With proper watering and fertilizing a silage crop in that area could produce 20 tons per acre as compared to the 15 tons on irrigated land that was watered once and cultivated twice.

Integration of farmers and ranchers was urged by Marion to the advantage of both, the rancher with feed for his cattle and the farmer with an outlet for his over-crop.

Scurry County is in the FHA Area 15 containing 14 counties. The FHA makes loans to farmers and does all in its power to help them improve their land and make it pay. The purpose of Friday's meeting here was to show farmers and ranchers the extreme advantages of saving while there is plenty by putting their excess feed in silos and particularly of using silage crops where their pasture is limited.

Joe Box, supervisor for Scurry and Kent Counties, was host for the affair, supplying the water and watermelons that made the discussion in the boiling sun at the Rinehart farm more pleasant. Area supervisor Milton A. Stinson from Colorado City was in charge of the meeting.

Other supervisors in the area include John Russell from Mitchell County, Paul Shillingberg from Nolan and Coke Counties, E. A. Miller from Lamson, Lee R. Tunnell from Howard and Glasscock Counties, George Costlow from Midland, Ector, Martin, and Andrews, and Bob Land from Fisher County.

Farmers leaving the discussion were mostly convinced that the silo would greatly benefit them in their various methods of cattle raising, whether their likes ran to the cow and calf method or the raising of steers. All were very impressed by the fact that a silage-fed calf weighed more in a shorter length of time and were determined to look further into the raising and use of a silage crop.

Fuels Policy Battle Looms

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican platforms agree on one plank that would be a bitter pill to the oil industry. Both platforms endorse a national fuels policy.

Oil and coal spokesmen have exchanged bitter words over such a proposal the past year. The national coal policy conference is planning for a congressional resolution that would set up a special committee to make a national fuels policy study. The resolution currently is deadlocked in the House Rules Committee.

Last month the coal conference ran page ads in New York and Washington newspapers saying the United States, "unlike most other great nations, does not have a planned national fuels policy."

Oil spokesmen replied by repeating earlier charges the coal industry is advocating end-use controls that would prevent consumers from selecting the type of fuel they desire to purchase. Oil leaders contend coal is not seeking an impartial study but establishment of an agency that would limit coal's competition from oil and gas.

The platform actions on the proposal were somewhat surprising in that most oilmen had concentrated pre-convention speculation on planks pertaining to depletion allowances and imports.

Democrats set the trend July 12 by adopting a plank that said: "We support the establishment of a national fuels policy... We pledge immediate efforts toward the establishment of a realistic long range minerals policy... long-range planning of the nation's resource development is essential. We favor creation of a council of advisors on resources and conservation, which will evaluate and report annually upon our resource needs and progress."

Republicans replied with this language: "Minerals, metals, fuels also call for carefully considered actions in view of repeated failure of Democratic-controlled congresses to enact any long-range minerals legislation. Republicans, therefore, pledge: Long range minerals and fuels planning and programming, including increased coal research..."

"As expected, the two platforms disagree sharply on the maximum 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance held by the oil and gas industry."

Republicans pledged continued support of incentives to encourage "exploration for domestic sources of minerals and metals, with reasonable depletion allowances."

The Democrats had earmarked inequitable depletion allowances as among the more conspicuous loopholes under which "certain privileged groups legally escape their fair share of taxation."

Both platforms made reference to oil imports in indirect and general terms. Both said just about the same thing.

The Democrats said: "We shall support practical measures to ease the necessary adjustments of industries and communities which may be unavoidably hurt by increases in imports."

The Republicans replied: "We advocate effective administration of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement's act's escape clause and port of origin provisions to safeguard American jobs and domestic industries against serious injury."

Republican platform drafters argued 45 minutes while defeating three amendments favoring greater protection against imports.

Oil and gas operators had hoped the 1960 GOP drafters would pick up a 1956 plank that gave indirect endorsement of a controversial proposal to let gas producers be freed from federal utility-type controls.

After endorsing reasonable depletion allowances, the 1956 platform had said "We favor freedom of mineral producers from an

WANTED BY THE FBI

ON FBI LIST — Smith Gerald Hudson is one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives, being sought for his Aug. 2, 1957, escape from the Pennsylvania State Penitentiary where he was serving a 10 to 20 year term for the brutal 1951 shotgun-slaying of a Pennsylvania man. Born March 1, 1928, he is about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs about 185 pounds, has brown hair, blue eyes, medium complexion and a medium-stocky build. He has worked as a coal miner, a farmhand, laborer and truck driver and likes most sports. Anyone knowing his whereabouts should notify the nearest FBI office.

Funeral Set For Victims

ODESSA (AP) — Funeral services will be held Sunday for a mother and six children killed in a car-truck crash Thursday.

Services for Mrs. Boss Letterman, 30, and the children, ranging in age from 16 months to 10 years, are set for 3 p.m. at an Odessa funeral chapel.

The accident wiped out the entire Letterman family except for the husband, a welder, who was working at the time of the crash.

Services were still pending for two other victims, Mrs. Peggy Roberts, 34, and her daughter, Carol, Marilyn, 6.

The only survivor of the car carrying the two families, 18-month-old Connie Roberts, was reported in good condition in an Odessa hospital.

Mrs. Roberts' husband, a foreman for a plastic company, also was at work when the car, driven by Mrs. Roberts, was struck at an intersection by a 30-ton truck.

Youth Admits He Transported Bombs

BELLEVILLE, N.J. (AP) — A 19-year-old youth charged with bombing a home has admitted carrying three eight-inch bombs with him on a transcontinental air flight, police said.

They said that Reggie W. Yates had told them he bought the bombs in San Francisco's Chinatown and brought them in his luggage to New York on an airliner last March. He did not name the airline.

Yates and two other youths, all Negroes, were charged Thursday with tossing a bomb against the home of 19-year-old John Swin, for reasons undetermined by police. No one was injured.

Wool Clip May Be Biggest In Decade

AUSTIN (AP) — The state's 1960 wool clip is estimated at 50 million pounds, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said Saturday. This is the largest since 1950.

The record wool year in the state was 1943 when Texas produced 80,700,000 pounds. Last year's production was 46,700,000 pounds.

Some 6,000,000 head will be shorn by Jan. 1, 11 per cent more than in 1959, the USDA said.

Wool, per fleece, is expected to average nearly eight pounds.

Tommy Minton Grabs League Batting Title

The bigger they come, the harder they hit. At least such is the case in Snyder's Continental League.

Following completion of play this past Thursday, the Daily News compilation of the season's stats reveals that three performers unloaded on opposing pitchers often enough to crawl over the magic 400 mark. All three—to the man—are "full-back proportions."

Leading the parade was the Yankees' big backstop, Tommy Minton, with a .455 average in 33 at bats. Second to him was the Phillies' towering chunker, Freddy Miller, who helped to refute the theory that "pitchers aren't supposed to hit." He pounded the apple at a .444 clip over the season in 27 appearances.

Burly Bob Pena rounded out the triumvirate with a .412 mean, although he had only 17 official at bats.

Stanley Kruse, a teammate of his, followed with .365, the Yankees' Eddie Pfy was next with .361, and Mike Moffett rounded out the list of those topping .350 by leading his team with a .367 mean.

Extra base hits were surprisingly few in the league. Ronnie Jones of the Phils connected for the sole home run of the year as landed. In the way of triples, just eight were hit, no one individual managing to garner more than one. The three-bagger class included Weldon Ware, Roger McMennamy, and Jerry Walker of the champion Phillies; Benie Greenfield and Minton of the Yankees; Kruse and Bobby Brown of the Tigers; and "Charlie Brown" Gladson of the Red Sox.

Jerry Fleming of the Sox paced the league in number of doubles hit, pounding out a total of four. Brown, Ware, and the Tigers' Abe Gonzales followed him in that department with three each.

The Phillies, who are sponsored by the ABC Club here, clinched the loop title Thursday by edging out the Red Sox, 11-10. By virtue of the championship, they will advance into the area playoff beginning here in Snyder tomorrow.

Their first round opponent will be Pecos, whom they will tackle at 8:30 Monday night. Prior to that game, at 6:30, Double Mountain (Sweetwater) and San Angelo will clash in another first-round. The winners of the two games will lock horns for the title the following day in an 8 p.m. contest, the champ of which will earn the right to grace the state tournament at Waco August 11-13.

Managing the Phils is Bobby Roemach, and he is assisted by Dusty Moore.

League proxy W. F. McMennamy is especially desirous of a good turnout of fans for both the Monday and Tuesday games.

Artificial Tooth Is Only Casualty

ADENAU, Germany (AP) — Lady luck was riding with Masten Gregory Saturday when he escaped with just the loss of an artificial tooth in a crackup of his speeding racing car.

Gregory's red Cooper Maserati spun off the Nuerburg track, rolled over twice, and then crashed among the trees.

They will be reeled off in the Teenage League Park, and there will be no admission charge. The "hat" will be passed, however, and the generosity of the spectators is urged so that expenses for the meet and also the sending of the champion to Waco may be defrayed.

McAlister, McFaul Spotlighted Again

In a carbon copy performance reminiscent of last week's keeling of the May's Summer League at Snyder, the night belonged to McAlister on a team basis, but to Lawson's Mairi McFaul individually.

McAlister added still another verse to an old familiar song by copying both the high series of the night—a 263—and the top game of 924. Lawson was second in series with 267 and second place in the American Founders Life Insurance third with a 248 aggregate.

Lawson rolled its way to the second two high games of the night with its 920-888.

McFaul showed himself to be a terror on the hardwoods by blasting his way to the top two lines of 228 and 234 and the high series of 627.

McAlister's Jimmy Guy rolled a 221 game for third place in individual lines, and also a 612 series to be second in that category.

Jim Tatum (City of Snyder) took third high series honors with a 583 total.

Splits picked up were few and far between. A pair of VFW col-
lers—C. L. Robinson and Cliff Col-

HOUSEWIFE LEAGUE

And the duel continues. The principals' King's Row and Squabblers of the Housewife League, as they are at present, waiting a hot war for the top spot in the league standings following keeling of the past Wednesday at Snyder Lanes.

It was left up to Woodchoppers to corner the market in team play, however, as their 464-1196 was high in both game and series.

King's Row and Squabblers followed behind them in that order in series competition with 1179-1154, while Alleycats (421) and Ninety-niners (411) fell in line behind them game-wise.

Pin Dusters' Dayne Swinney rolled her way to the high individual series of 418. Hot on her heels, though, were Faye Eubanks (Wood Choppers) with 414 and Margaret King (King's Row), who turned in a 413.

High game went to Faye Eubanks (153), followed by Margaret King (150) and Jackie Baldwin of Ninety-niners (153).

Several splits were racked up over the course of the afternoon and included the following: Drag Ins—Barbara Lueddecke 3-10, Wood Choppers—Doris Bunch 3-10, Al and Janice Valentine 5-9-10, Pin Dusters—Dayne Swinney 7-9, Ice Ambrose 4-5, Squabblers—Doris Minton 3-8.

VFW JUNIOR LEAGUE

Jimmy Don Robinson and Phyllis Sealy, two of the more familiar names among the VFW Junior Bowlers, topped yesterday's action at Snyder Lanes, as each rolled personal season high series of 503 and 373, respectively.

Robinson's previous high in league play had been 502.

Stuart Long placed second in series among the boys with 474 and Jerry Beard third with 398. Behind Miss Sealy in girls series were Linda King (288) and Lynda Ivson (272).

Robinson was forced to yield to Long in quest of high game honors as Long's 187 effort was the top. Robinson posted games of 172 171 for "place" and "show" laurels, however.

For 2nd girls, Sealy had the two high, 241-230, and 132, followed by Lynda Ivson and her 110.

On a team basis, Team 3, was high in series with 1402, while Teams 10 and 4 trailed behind them with 1444 and 1397. High game was turned in by Team 10—a 511, and Team 3 racked up the second and third high lines of 509-499.

Other series tabulations went as follows: Bobby Pope 141, Jimmy Wilson 331, Helen Ivson 274, Jerry Anderson 260, Paul Brown 286, and Ricky Bruyere 371.

Teams 1 and 3 are currently tied in the league lead, having each won 38 per cent of the points to date. Following them in the lineup are Teams 8, 10, 4, 6, 7, 9, 2, and 8.

Cats' Kirby Chief Clouter In Texas Teenage League

The Texas League Dodgers picked the big plum of the season recently by clinching the loop title. But a Cat, a Sport, and a pair of Braves managed to grab off a certain amount of consolation by nabbing the individual batting honors for the year.

Eddie Kirby of the Cats, although appearing at the plate only 21 times, compiled the highest average among his contemporaries by collecting an even dozen bases—hits for an awesome .571 mean. Included in those base knocks were two doubles and three triples, also, those three triples being bettered by only Kirby's Wellborn of the Dodgers, 'who led the league with 4.

Wellborn also led in number of doubles landed with a total of five. There were no league home runs hit in yawning Teenage Park over the course of the season.

Two other performers other than Kirby bettered 400 in the batting department. The Braves' William Robinson was second in line with 432, while Keith Moreland of the Sports was third with his 432. Brave Jimmy Wilson followed with 382 and Wellborn was fifth from the top with 373. The champion Dodgers next came action this, Thursday, when they travel to San Angelo for the district tournament. They will be competing against San Angelo, Big Lake, Brownwood, and Big Spring for the right to advance to the state tournament at Victoria August 11-13.

Appreciation is expressed to Glendon Rynhim, who compiled and submitted the below averages for publication.

Cub Hurler New Father

HOUSTON (AP) — New head football coaches have been named for two Houston high schools.

Alan Neveux, formerly of the University of Houston, is the new head coach at Reagan High, succeeding Joe Tusa who is the assistant principal at the new Waltrip High.

Succeeding Neveux as head coach at Sam Houston High is Arnold Dyson, an assistant there for five years.

Also receiving appointments were Gordon LeBouef, former Texas A&M star, Joe Villareal, a track star at the University of Texas, and George Mahaffey, a basketball player at Texas A&M.

LeBouef will be an assistant to Neveux. Villareal will be track coach at Reagan after coaching the past year in Mexico City. Mahaffey will be head basketball coach at San Jacinto High, succeeding Jesse Martin, who has moved to Waltrip.

Giants Edge Reds In 10th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jim Davenport's two-out 10th inning single after a throwing error by Roy McMillan, scored Andre Rodgers with the winning run Saturday in a 2-1 San Francisco victory over Cincinnati.

Jim Brosnan relieved in the seventh after the Giants misplayed only one hit in six innings off Cal McLish. Brosnan walked Rodgers. Two outs later, Don Blasingame beat out a grounder that McLish at second threw into the stands.

The runners advanced to second and third. Davenport's single brought the Giants their fourth straight victory.

The lone hit off McLish was Orlando Cepeda's double leading off the fifth. Cepeda moved to third on a groundout and scored on Bob Semmel's sacrifice fly.

The Reds tied the game in the seventh when pinch hitter Willie Jones scored pinch runner Billy Martin with a sacrifice fly.

Busby Blow Sinks Tribe

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jim Busby's two-out single in the last of the ninth inning scored Billy Klaus from third base and gave the Baltimore Orioles a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians Saturday.

Busby rapped the game-winning blow off right-hander Bobby Locke, who came in for Cleveland after Johnny Klippstein had walked Klaus.

Winner Chuck Estrada gave up 11 hits but pitched tightly in the clutch.

A two-run homer by Cleveland's Marty Kneibler tied the score in the eighth inning.

FIRST RUN—This is a scene from "Ice Palace," a first run booked for Aug. 7 at the Canyon Drive-In Theater here. It stars Richard Burton, Carolyn Jones and Martha Hyer, and is based on Edna Ferber's novel.

Trouble? Look To Soap Operas

By BERNARD GAVIER
NEW YORK (AP) — You think you've got troubles?

Well, take a look at the Malones. They've got troubles.

Young Dr. David Malone is in love with a pretty girl from the wrong side of the tracks. His parents, Dr. Jerry Malone and Tracey Malone, are trying to make him see she would be impossible as a doctor's wife.

But the senior Malones have been preoccupied with other matters. Tracey's father, for instance, He's Emory Bannister, the millionaire. His second wife, Clare, accused him of trying to murder her but actually her scheme to kill him backfired. He's suing for divorce because he found out she married him for his money and is really in love with Lionel Steele, Emory's business associate, with whom she's had an affair.

It would seem the trials and tribulations of the Malones would melt the stoniest heart, that all the villagers would come offering sympathy and warm apple pies. But the Malones are inhabitants of Sudsville, U. S. A., where trouble comes by the ton and happiness is a thing called delirium.

Sudsville came into existence about the time crystal sets gave way to vacuum tubes. Millions of housewives eavesdropped five days a week on the "true to life dramas" which were unfolded with prolonged and amazing detail between messages from soap

Repentant Thief Returns His Loot

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Five days after discovering about $100 missing from his safe, Buford Witt got a package in the mail with $99.65 enclosed.

A note included with the money said: "Sorry. My conscience won't let me keep this." There was no signature. The package bore 54 cents worth of stamps.

"I'm glad his conscience is clear," said Witt Thursday. "He's done real good to redeem himself."

A most unusual thief, said police Capt. E. C. Wilson. "I'd like to tip my hat to him."

Carol Lawrence Won't Play Safe

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Safety first is fine—except when a girl burns to be a headline star. Like Carol Lawrence.

Spills and tumbles come often when Carol has had plenty. Once she knocked herself out at a rehearsal. Another time, the director shuddered as she tried—successfully—an impromptu acrobatic bit.

Want to do what hasn't been done before—audiences love that, is Carol's explanation of the demure ferocity that lurks behind a fragile, dainty acting style.

Singing and dancing, Miss Lawrence is leading lady of Broadway's musical hit "West Side Story." During the past year she has also become a frequent visitor on television spectacles.

"I've noticed audience response is different recently," she reports of such TV exposure. "I seem to have become kind of family to them."

Miss Lawrence is keenly alert to such manifestations of recognition. She has been industriously applying herself to study of family and performing since entering a Chicago dancing school at age 7 just 20 years ago.

"That's one of my problems—I can't do anything half way," she says. "Right now I have to devote more time than I might like to establishing myself as a personality in the entertainment world—a personality who can be trusted."

"Then you become a valuable property. And a valuable property can take time off for other things. But that is what I want to become—if it takes 50 years."

Barry Rides Again: "I need this job like a hole in the head, but I have to do something about the image," is Gene Barry's comment on his sudden foray into stage work.

Brawny Gene, who portrays Bat Masterson in one of television's Wild West sagas, recently came back to town to warm up for an eight-week stint in "Rides Again" in Las Vegas.

"I'm just a nutty, clean-cut New York boy who is a cowboy by accident," he says. "I've got to do things like this to keep the Gene Barry image alive, because I hope I'll still be around for a long time after Bat Masterson."

Having rolled up an impressive string of credits in stage shows, night clubs and films before Bat came his way, Barry regards destiny as a good way of reminding fans and producers he can sing as well as mosey.

In the interests of further diversification, he recently set up a film producing company and is currently hunting for scripts.

Shirley Jones Has Another Casting Fight

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Shirley Jones, who fought for years to shed a sweet heroine label, now has another fight.

"Ever since I played a prostitute in 'Elmer Gantry,'" she says, "I get nothing but bad girl scripts. At the moment, I've been offered roles as a prostitute, nymphomaniac and an alcoholic."

"Producers, I guess, can only see you in your last role," she says. Shirley started as the heroine of "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." Both were blockbuster pictures and Shirley, onetime choir singer from Smithton, Pa., was perfect casting.

Then followed a succession of good girl roles. Shirley, knowing that in this day of movie realism the good girl label meant career suicide, turned to television and night clubs.

On a Playhouse 90, she played an alcoholic. She and husband Jack Cassidy came up with a sophisticated night club act that stressed Shirley's sex appeal.

But Lancaster saw her as the alcoholic on television and put the performance in the back of his head. When he cast "Elmer Gantry," he called Shirley. "I've been playing the daughter of a theologian's son, seduced by Elmer Gantry the student."

Later as the savdiest revivalist smashing houses of ill repute, he finds Shirley as an inmate. It was a good role, and Shirley scored with it.

She's also co-starred with Cantinflas in "Pepe" and does a modern ballet that burns up the screen.

On a Playhouse 90, she played an alcoholic. She and husband Jack Cassidy came up with a sophisticated night club act that stressed Shirley's sex appeal.

Plaster Mold Contest Set At Boys' Club

August 1 is the inaugural date of a new crafts contest which is to be conducted at the Seary County Boys' Club.

Plaster molding is what it consists of, and the molds will cost from five to fifteen cents. All other supplies needed will be furnished.

Boys participating in the contest will be divided into four age groups—midgets (10 and under); juniors (12 and under); intermediates (14 and under); and seniors (15 and up).

Molds will be judged according to neatness, color scheme, originality, detail, etc. Boys may work on their molds on each Tuesday and Thursday morning from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

All entries must be left at the Boys' Club until September 1, as they will be judged on that date. Any boy wishing to enter the contest must be a current member of the Club.

The pentstemon is a North American plant with purple, blue, rose, white and scarlet flowers.

Lucy Paves Way For Big Crowds On Set

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Desilu, Inc., recently had a stockholders meeting and Lucille Ball, in a gesture of good will, invited all the stockholders to watch her and Bob Hope film the movie "Facts of Life."

"There were only about 100 stockholders at the meeting," says Director Norman Panama. "But we have had thousands of set visitors. Evidently the word got around town and now the tourists come up to the gate and say: 'Desilu stockholder.' Nothing we can do but let them in."

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

SECTION B

SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 31, 1960

VOL. 11, NO. 79

The Ladies Auxiliary of Cogdell Memorial Hospital is composed of women of the Scurry County community who put in many hours of volunteer services that the patients of the hospital may have more conveniences and make their confinements a little more pleasant. They not only assist the staff at the hospital in many duties, but few people realize the great work they are doing in buying the latest in equipment for the hospital that our hospital may be ready to render any services needed. All monies from dues, television rentals, pictures and such are used to buy this equipment. Few of us appreciate the hours put in by these women and the many duties performed, such as the information desk, distribution of reading materials, rental of televisions and general assistance to families as well as the regular nursing staff of the hospital. Now the auxiliary, along with their regular hours at the hospital is planning more services to be carried on. With the addition of the new wing the membership must increase along with the size of the hospital. More women are needed. If any person is interested in just volunteering her services a few hours a week it will be greatly appreciated. The fee for an associate membership is only $1 per year and the knowing that your services are needed will return a hundred fold.

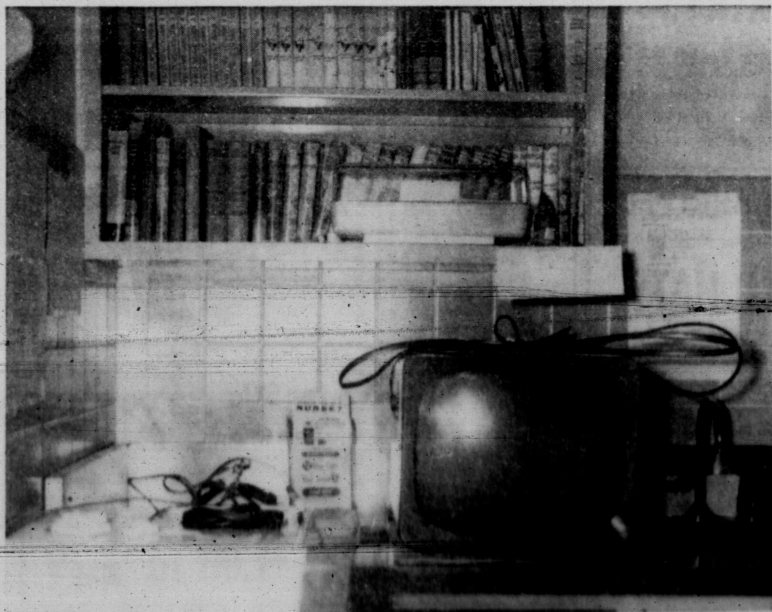

Top left—Mrs. Bill Butler looks over the new room which will house the new snack bar at the hospital under the auxiliary supervision. This has long been a dream of the women so they are anxiously awaiting its completion.

Top right—Inez Brown is pictured performing one of the many duties of the auxiliary. In the central supply room she is wrapping sterilized hypodermic needles, sterilizing rubber gloves and the other many duties, giving the regular nursing staff more time for their professional duties.

Left—Mrs. W. R. Everett, president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Bill Butler, Mrs. Wilton Jones, Mrs. Skipper Joyce and Mrs. V. T. Tracy take off for Hobbs, N. M. to inspect their snack bar facilities, so they may be sure of giving the people of Snyder the latest up-to-date equipment and conveniences. This is the first of several tours for ideas the group will make.

Bottom left—With hardly room to turn around in this storage space, the auxiliary is looking forward to the spacious room that will be available on completion of the new wing and alterations. Books for entertaining the young patients, televisions and such are now in these cramped quarters. The rentals on the TV's are only $1 per day.

Bottom right—The nursery of the hospital will be at least double the size of the present when the work in process is completed. Mrs. Edith Jones is pictured as she takes a photo of a new baby. The auxiliary takes pictures of the new arrivals, the charge is $1 for the first picture and 50 cents for each additional picture.

Bride-Elect Honored With Gift Tea

Miss Pat Dunn, bride-elect of Frank Hardy was honored with a gift tea Thursday evening at the Vincent Baptist educational building.

The honoree's chosen colors of pink and silver were carried out in the decorations. The refreshment table was laid with a silver lace cloth over pink. Focal point of interest was a large silver bowl of pink roses over which an umbrella made of pink satin with an overlay of silver net encircled with pink rosebuds and lined with net from which raindrops were falling. Crystal and silver were used for serving pink punch and cake squares, decorated with pink and silver rosebuds. Pink rosebuds were used in a frozen heart and was floated in the punch bowl.

Misses Judy Harding and Nancy Hodnett presided at the table. Plate favors were miniature marriage licenses. They were made of pink paper, printed in silver, decorated with silver wedding bells and a star in the left-hand corner with an overlay of pink net, tied with silver ribbon.

A corsage of shaded pink carnations tied with silver ribbon was presented. Miss Dunn, who was attended in a pale pink cotton dress, frock with full skirt and tucked bodice.

Miss Billie Harding registered 45 guests. Hostesses were Mrs. R. O. Brown, Mrs. Pat Harding, Mrs. Terrell Shafer, Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Mrs. J. C. Shepherd, Mrs. Loyd Hodnett, Mrs. Tolle Kennemer, and Mrs. Henry Ernst.

The couple will exchange vows on Aug. 9 in the Vincent Baptist Church at 8 p.m.

Miss Dunn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Dunn, Route 1, Colorado City. She is a 1960 graduate of Snyder High School. Mr. Hardy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hardy of Snyder. He is an A-1 stationed at Shaw Air Force Base in South Carolina and graduated from Snyder High School in 1958.

MRS. HUBERT GRAY

Miss Savage Hubert Gray Wed In Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Savage of Route 1, Roanoke, announce the marriage of their daughter, Sandra Kaye, to Mr. Hubert Gray of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gray of Roanoke.

The couple exchanged vows in Hugo, Okla. on July 18. The Rev. Kimmer officiated.

The bride wore a white brocade street-length dress with red accessories.

Mr. Gray is employed by the Jan-Kay Construction Co. in Roanoke where they will make their home.

The couple attended Northwest High School where the groom was a member of FFA and a star football player. The bride also attended Odessa Permian High School and Snyder High School. She was active in FHA serving on a number of committees.

Valencia Salad

Combine sliced oranges and thin slices of onion for a refreshing salad. Marinate these two in a mixture of two parts Spanish olive oil to one part vinegar, with salt, pepper, and a dash of paprika; then combine with crisp head lettuce when ready to serve. Excellent with chicken.

Grading Vigils Urged To Help Home Site Trees

For your landscape's sake, it pays to be a sidewalk superintendent—even before your sidewalks are laid—when you are building your new home.

The beautiful trees so much an asset to your property have a better chance to make the grade, if you help safeguard their vital root systems during and after grading.

This means policing the grounds. All plaster chunks, roofing paper and other debris should be removed. Covered over, these items disintegrate and contaminate the soil, forming toxins deadly to trees. The soil should then be cultivated lightly to aid moisture penetration. Generally, soils are apt to become compacted from two to three months tramping by construction crews.

Fills of several inches may be placed over tree roots—an area usually extending just beyond the branch spread. Only loamy or sandy topsoil fill material should be used, however. Heavy tractors and grading machinery can make even this ideal fill a dangerous blanket if used to pack the material into place.

Changing the grades means a change of moisture levels. Even shallow fills often reduce moisture which can reach the roots. Best protection for the woody parts is to feed them with a good tree food high in nitrogen content and to make sure they get frequent deep watering. Feeding not only invigorates trees, but reduces their water requirements.

Barbecued Lamb

Spit-roasting is one of the most pleasant of all outdoor barbecue methods. Pleasant for the cook who can relax in the shade only watching the spit, and for everyone who smells the heavenly fragrance. Try this basting sauce for a leg of lamb on a spit: combine 3 tablespoons Spanish Olive oil, 1 tablespoon wine vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon crushed cumin (sometimes called cumino), 1/4 teaspoon crushed rosemary and 1 teaspoon salt. Brush lamb frequently as it turns on spit.

214 Persons Attend Woolever Reunion Held At Towle Park

Annual Woolever Reunion was held at Towle Park Sunday, July 31. The late Mrs. Christa Ann Woolver recently.

Barbecued goat and beef, and fried chicken were the main dishes on the menu. The traditional steak and gravy was served for breakfast.

Volleyball and swimming were the highlights of entertainment. An auction sale was held for the family with the proceeds going for the expense of the reunion.

Mrs. Rhoades To Attend Delta Kappa Gamma Meet In Florida

Over 2,000 educators are expected to meet in Bal Harbour, Florida, August 10-13 at the Americana Hotel for the International Convention of Delta Kappa Gamma, international honor society for women teachers. Mrs. Travis Rhoades, past president of Beta Epsilon Chapter will attend the convention.

The highlight of the convention will be the awarding of 56 scholarships for advanced study valued at $2,500 each. Dr. Carolyn Guss of Indiana University, chairman of the Special Scholarship Committee will make the presentation at the Birthday Luncheon on Thursday, Aug. 11. Contributions from the nearly 70,000 members in the Society have made this possible. One scholarship will be awarded in each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and the five Canadian provinces in which the project was organized when the project was undertaken in 1958.

This is the second large scholarship project of the Society, which annually awards three scholarships of $2,500 each. In 1954 awards of $1,300 each were presented to 52 members in 46 states, territories, and provinces that were then organized. Many states and chapters actively award scholarships for advanced study and grants in aid for future teachers. A number of scholarships given by various states and by the international society have brought women educators from other countries to the United States to study and send members overseas for similar experiences.

Summer Wardrobes Susceptible To Acid Damage

Modern women are the most enlightened shoppers in our history, but even they have an occasional blind spot.

One of these blind spots is the buying of deodorants, says American Institute of Laundering, national research and education center for the professional laundry industry. The wrong deodorant, say technicians, could ruin an entire wardrobe.

In bygone days, people assured their daintiness by applying aluminum chloride, an astringent, often harmful to fabrics. Now deodorants can be subjected to a rigid testing program carried on by the textile maintenance laboratories.

Anti-perspirants close the pores and prevent perspiration; deodorants eliminate perspiration odors. Institute experts say that in some deodorants the active ingredient, or acid salt has been modified so as to have no ill effect on fabrics. Some deodorants are so acid in nature that they disintegrate the underarm area of a garment.

No one has aluminum chloride these days to stop perspiration, because deodorants are so much less harmful to fabrics. Deodorants proved harmless to fabrics in the Institute's laboratories are awarded the A. I. L. Certified Washable Seal. To insure the durability of wardrobes, wise shoppers will look for the A. I. L. Seal when purchasing deodorants.

Either lemon or lime suds may be served with a seafood cocktail, tomato or tomato-vegetable juice.

MRS. D. P. AMMONS, JR.

Ann Reasonover Becomes Bride Of D. P. Ammons, Jr. In Tahoka Church Services

In a candlelight ceremony at the First Methodist Church in Tahoka Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Ann Reasonover and D. P. Ammons Jr. of Abilene exchanged wedding vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr.

and Mrs. Johnny Reasonover of Tahoka, and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Ammons, Sr. of Hermleigh.

The double ring rites were performed by the Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of peau de soie satin fashioned on princess lines with a widely paneled skirt which fell to a short chapel train. The bodice, overlaid with delicate chintilly lace, had short sleeves and a scalloped bateau neckline. She wore a ballerina length veil of silk illusion attached to a queen's crown of imported seed pearls. She carried a white orchid with feathered mums on a white ribbon belonging to her sorority, Delta Beta Epsilon.

Mrs. John Harris of Abilene was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Judy Reynolds of Brownfield, Miss Vala Dawn Taylor of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. George Bridges of Sweetwater.

Junior bridesmaids included Marilyn and Sheila Ammons of Abilene. Candelights were Miss Becky Simmons of Rochester, and Miss Pat Hickerson of Floydada. The attendants wore yellow dresses of crystalene over taffeta, styled with short sleeves and a bateau neckline. The full bouffant skirts were complimented with yellow taffeta sashes. Their head-dresses were yellow circular illusion veils topped with bows trimmed with tiny leaves. Each attendant carried a single yellow long-stemmed rose. The junior bridesmaids' attire was fashioned the same only in a lighter tone of yellow.

Mr. Bobby Etheridge of Lubbock was best man. Groomsmen included John Harris of Abilene, Walter Ammons of Abilene, brother of the groom, and Don Ramsey, also of Abilene.

Mrs. E. W. Patterson was soloist, accompanied by Miss Jan Collier, organist.

A reception followed in Fellowship Hall. The houseparty included Miss Linda Jones, Miss Jan Collier of Tahoka; Mrs. T. S. Cranford, Sr., Mrs. Ray Reasonover of Lubbock; Mrs. Calvin Bryan of Seagraves; Mrs. Walter Ammons of Abilene; and Miss Mattie Mae Ammons of Hermleigh, sister of the groom.

For traveling the bride chose a dark cotton suit. The short jacket was styled with three-quarter length sleeves and a big collar. The skirt was pleated. She wore black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple will make their home at 310 Peach Street, Abilene.

The bride graduated from McMurry College in May, receiving a Bachelor of Science Degree in Elementary Education. She will be teaching in the Abilene Public School beginning this fall.

The groom is employed with the First State Bank of Abilene and also attended McMurry College, majoring in music.

Illa Eaves, James R. Fitzgerald Wed In Bethel Baptist Church Ceremonies

Brother W. L. Cass read the double ring vows July 16, at 8 p.m., uniting Illa Eaves and James R. Fitzgerald in marriage.

White lilies and branched candelabra graced the Bethel Baptist Church where the services were held.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Eaves, 37-

34 Dalton Drive are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Fitzgerald are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a streetlength dress of white nylon lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, capped sleeves, scooped scalloped neckline and a bouffant skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a half-crown.

She carried a white orchid surrounded by white rose buds, and showers of satin streamers atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Fern Stark of Odessa attended her sister as matron of honor. Nadine Fitzgerald, sister of the groom was maid of honor.

Ronnie Fitzgerald, brother of the groom and Barbara Caldwell lighted candles. Lenora Fitzgerald was flower girl and Jerry Mathews was ring bearer.

The attendants were attired in pastel colors and carried fan-shaped bouquets of white roses and carnations.

Claude Word of Andrews attended his nephew as best man. Gerald Reeves was groomsmen. Charlene Johnston served as organist and accompanied Julia Boyd, soloist, who sang "O Promise Me."

The fellowship hall was the setting for the reception. The attendants flowers graced the lace cover table. Meta Ann Bowen presided at the tiered wedding cake and Charlene Johnston registered guests.

For her trip to points in New Mexico the bride chose a pink sheath of cotton satin embroidery and white accessories.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Snyder High School and has been employed at McDonalds Dept. Store as bookkeeper. She is a past worthy advisor of Rainbow Girls. The groom is a 1960 graduate of Snyder High School and is employed with Phillips 66 at Andrews where they will make their home.

Rogues Gallery of Garden Insects

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Let's turn our attention today to the insect kingdom. While we're making you acquainted with some of the beasts (as though you didn't know most of them already through bitter experience), we'll tell you about some of their weaknesses.

APHIDS — These are soft-bodied insects about one-eighth of an inch long. They range from green, pink, red or brown in color and generally are found at tips of young shoots in clusters. They sap the plant vigor, curl or distort leaves and buds, cause malformations of flowers by sucking plant juices. Give them a dose of nicotine sulphate or Lindane.

RED SPIDERMITES — Generally these tiny insects are found on the underside of leaves. When they attack, foliage pales or turns brown. Red spots first appear on the upper sides of infested leaves, then the entire leaf reddens, curls and drops. Spray with 50 per cent Malathion and wash often with a strong stream of water.

ROSE LEAFHOPPERS — Slender and soft and about the size of aphids, these bugs are yellowish white. They cause leaves to whiten and curl. They kill tender plant tips by draining plant juices. Spray regularly with nicotine sulphate or Lindane, dousing both sides of the leaf.

ROSE CHAFER — These hard-shelled beetles have long legs and are grayish-brown. They are one-quarter to one-half inch long and feed in clusters. Their favorite menu is flowers, especially peonies and irises. Rose leaf fly dust or DDT is the prescribed treatment.

THRIPS — Slender, hairy, yellowish to brownish pests that flick, discolor and deform flowers. For control, spray weekly with nicotine sulphate or DDT.

Dispose of blooms that have reached their prime.

JAPANESE BEETLES — Oval-shaped, with metallic green, shining bodies, they are about one-quarter inch wide and twice as long. Adults feed on foliage, and the larvae on roots. DDT will knock out the old folks and Chlor-dane the babies.

CATERPILLARS (fall webworm is one) — They feed heavily on foliage and wrap it in web-tents. They are hairy, grayish-brown with orange and black spots. Spray or dust with 50 per cent DDT wettable powder or Lindane.

LACEBUG — Flat, oval body with lace-like wings. They discolor foliage by sucking plant juices from the underside of foliage. Spray weekly with nicotine sulphate.

MEALYBUGS — Tiny, with a white, waxy covering, and generally congregating on the underside and along veins of leaves, and in the crevices and at the base of leaf stems. They stunt and distort leaves. Nicotine sulphate mixed with white oil will best them.

GYPSY MOTH — The male is brown with black markings and the females are nearly white with black wing markings. They defoliate plants. Spray with an oil solution of DDT.

Some unpopular vegetable garden invaders include:

STRIPED CUCUMBER BEETLE — Yellow beetles with three black stripes over the wings. They are about one-fifth of an inch long and feed on stems, leaves and fruit. Dust them with one per cent Rhotone powder.

ONION THRIPS — Yellow or brown, these tiny, fringed-wing insects suck plant juices. Malathion or nicotine sulphate is recommended.

Baked Tomatoes

Stuffed tomatoes baked with Spanish olive oil make their own delectable sauce. Fill hollowed fresh tomatoes with a mixture of soft bread crumbs, sautéed chopped onion and garlic, some thyme or marjoram, minced parsley and salt. (Be sure to sauté the onions in olive oil.) Pour 2 tablespoons olive oil in shallow baking pan, arrange stuffed tomatoes in the pan and brush some of the oil over the top. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes to 1 hour.

Heat cooked carrots with butter and a little mint jelly; serve with lamb.

Cherylle Anne Porterfield, John David McFadden Exchange Vows Monday Night

The East Side Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding of Cherylle Anne Porterfield and John David McFadden of Big Lake on July 29th, at 8 p.m.

Rev. C. Dale Brooks, minister of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ read the double ring ceremony before an archway fashioned of candelabras, baskets of white mums and daisies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Porterfield, Route 2, Snyder. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McFadden, Big Lake.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered pure silk organza over peau de soie, fashioned with scoop neckline and long sleeves. She wore pearls detailed the embroidery design on the bodice and sleeves. The fluffy skirt ended with a chapel train. Her waist-length veil fell from a crown of cultured pearls. Her jewelry was a gold-pearl pendant, a gift of the groom, showered over a white-bride's Bible.

Mrs. Dale Lollar of Lubbock registered guests at the church. A choral group sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "I Pledge My Love", with Miss Nan Hill as soloist. Karen Porterfield was her sister's only attendant. She was attired in a dress of pink organza over taffeta, fashioned with scoop-neck, puff sleeves and bouffant skirt, with matching large picture hat. She carried a semi-colonial bouquet of white daisies. James A. Maxwell, brother-in-law of the groom was best man. Ushers were Jerry Anstead of Snyder and Dale Lollar of Lubbock. Mothers of the couple wore blue costumes with pink rose bud corsages. Mrs. McFadden chose white accessories and Mrs. Porterfield had accessories matching her costume.

A reception was held in the

Broiling Change

It is no longer regarded as necessary to sear meat before cooking to retain juices. Most of the new ranges feature temperature controls on broilers that allow the cook to broil at a variety of temperatures depending on the food to be cooked. Look for the ranges that bear the Gold Star Award symbol for the most versatile and efficient broilers.

Pork sausage has always been a breakfast favorite. It is equally delicious for other meals, too. Margaret Spader, home service consultant, suggests sausage patties with rice for a quick luncheon or supper dish. Toss pineapple chunks and some curry powder into the rice and serve a sausage patty on each mound. Cooked noodles seasoned with garlic salt and Romano cheese makes an interesting accompaniment for sausage. Pork sausages should be cooked slowly. Start the patties in a cold skillet over a medium flame. Fry 15 to 20 minutes, draining off the fat occasionally.

Save the liquid from sweet mixed pickles and use in slaw.

MRS. GARLAND D. BURNETT

Leslie Jan Carey Becomes Bride Of Garland Dwain Burnett Saturday Night

Leslie Jan Carey became the bride of Garland Dwain Burnett of Abilene, in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday in East-side Church of Christ, Richard M. Williams, minister, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Carey, 119 Browning are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. N. D. Bonner, and the late Martin Burnett, Sweetwater.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a white, long-sleeved, high-collared, long-train gown. Fashioned on princess lines with semi-train that fell into soft pleats. The empire bodice had wrist-length sleeves coming to points over the hands. The rounded neckline accented the "something old," a tiny heart-shaped gold necklace set with a seed pearl which belonged to her mother.

Her finger - tip veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara set with rhinestones. The beautiful ensemble was made by her mother, carrying out the traditional something new, something borrowed was a lucky penny and she wore a blue garter.

She carried a bridal bouquet of cascaded stephanotis and English ivy showering from atop a white ribbon, centered by a detachable corsage of gardenias with flowing satin streamers ending in love knots.

Mary Frances Stephen was maid of honor and Doris Baker of Sweetwater, sister of the groom was bridesmaid. They wore beige cotton dresses designed with hood neck in front and V in back, short sleeves and full skirts. They carried a single long stem Talisman rose with matching showers of satin ribbons.

Candlelighters were Jo Bonner, step - sister of the groom from Sweetwater, and Judy Morris, cousin of the groom, also of Sweetwater. Their dresses were fashioned, some as the other attendants in aqua. They wore wristlets of white feathered carnations.

Roger Gee, soloist sang "Because," backed by an ensemble who also rendered "Wither Thou Goest," "Processional," and "Recessional." The ensemble was composed of Nan Hill, Clovis Ann Terry, Marjorie Nicks, Judie Rogers, Ginger Austin, Margaret Miller, Tommy Minton, Jimmy Don Robinson, and Bryon Boss.

The church setting was adorned with branched candelabras holding white bridal tapers, flanked by baskets of orange gladioli.

Bill Morris of Sweetwater was best man. Scott Carey, brother of the bride was groomsmen, and Darnell Boyd, Snyder, and Rance Baker of Sweetwater were ushers.

The reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams, 3615 Avenue B. The refreshment table was beautifully laid in white and centered with an arrangement of orange gladioli.

Mrs. J. O. Brinkley, aunt of the groom served the three - tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Bill Morris, cousin of the groom ladeled punch, and Meta Ann Bowen registered guests.

For a short wedding trip Mrs. Burnett chose a blue cotton sheath with large collar, and white accessories.

The bride, a 1960 graduate of Snyder High School was in Distributive Education Club two years. The bridegroom is a 1959 graduate of Snyder High School, attended National Electronics Institute in Denver, Colo. and is employed by the National Cash Register Co. in Abilene. They will make their home at 1457 Hope, Abilene.

Way To Cook Fish

One of the easiest and most delightful ways to cook fish is to sauté the fillets or steaks in Spanish olive oil. No brooding or crumbing is needed - simply sprinkle salt over the fish, place it in a pan in which the olive oil has already been heated, and cook over moderate flame until the fish is delicately browned on each side. This does wonderful things for fish flavor.

Young Rebels Aren't What They Used To Be

By LYDIA RICKFORD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

IS TODAY'S YOUTH more concerned with a soft job in an air-conditioned office — and a beautiful pension plan — than it is in current causes?

Jessica Mifflord, peer's daughter and British rebel of the 20s, thinks not. "Today young people feel a simkay need to rebel. It may be that they will be Gandhian in belief. But even if they are pacifists, they will be violently so."

Jessica at 18 ran away to the Spanish Civil War, following the pattern of violent opinionism characteristic of her other two sisters.

Well Timed Sprays

That Weaken Trees

Certain insects follow a disciplined diet. Lots of greens in the Summer and a heavier diet in the Fall. The worst and hungriest of these tree invaders are the unarmored scale insects of the Lecanium type — and they're not what the tree doctor ordered.

Now in the crawler stage, some of them are feeding on the underside of leaves. When Summer wanes, they'll move over to branches and trunks and dine on wood.

H. A. Toney warns it's best to apply malathion sprays while they're young and soft and vulnerable. While they tote no armor at any time, their bodies become thicker and harder with maturity. It's generally a good idea to repeat the spraying in two or three weeks for complete control.

Prime offenders against the landscaping are the European fruit lecanium, the terrapin scale, European elm scale and the cottony maple scale. They're on the rampage this Summer particularly because unfavorable early Spring weather curbed applications of dormant oil sprays in many areas.

Heavy infestations of the pests will kill entire branches of trees and shrubs. There are many instances where the soaring scale populations sound the death knell of woody pests.

Week-end gardeners should remember best time for control measures is when the insects are young and tender and most susceptible to contact sprays. It will pay to declare war on them at once.

Whipped Cream

Chilled cantaloupe or honeydew melon makes a light and delicious summer dessert. Topped with a flourish of Honey Whipped Cream, either is the other honey delight. The melon may be cut into wedges and served with a spoonful of the honey cream or sliced and may be arranged around a bowl of Honey Whipped Cream. To prepare, whip 1 cup heavy cream until stiff. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons honey and blend.

Honey Whipped Cream is appealing to the taste and the eye on pies, custards, and puddings as well.

PINCE NEZ SUNGLASSES—They are on black cords, frame and spring are of nylon, black and white.

Troubled By Sun Specs?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Beauty Editor

Sunglasses have become an essential part of the summer wardrobe.

Many career girls and vacationers have a wardrobe of sunglasses to match summer clothes. These are not bought in one fell swoop but accumulate from year to year.

One persistent problem is how to tan the face evenly when wearing sunglasses. The telltale white circles and line across the temples can be pretty annoying when we remove our glasses at the end of the day. This is a particular nuisance to models who must look all one hue before the camera.

Then, too, they often are posing for ads that will not appear until next fall or winter.

A trick they employ when wearing sunglasses is to rest the eyes at intervals in the sun, removing the glasses during those periods. If the eyes are kept closed for 5 or 10 minutes at the right time in the sun, they will take on a gradual tan around the eye area. After that they often put small cotton pads dipped in ice water or witch hazel over the eye area for a brief period before again donning the sunglasses.

Newer sunglasses include the pince nez style. These petite sunglasses are likely to give eye protection without leaving white marks as they do not have temple pieces.

On the fashion scene, too, this year are glasses with simulated gold frames that resemble the popular gold framed eyeglasses. These go along with a fad that has caught on in the best swim circles, much to the consternation of fashion wootsayers. This is the trend to gold on the beach—gold beach shoes and golden makeup.

More sunglasses are available for children this year. Parents are beginning to think that children need them as well as adults.

Demo Victory Would Create Interesting Texas Situation

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Should Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson win election as vice president, Texas would be faced with an interesting political situation. The choosing of his Senate successor.

Johnson, although he is the running mate of Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, also will stand for reelection to the Senate.

Thus, should he also emerge as the next vice president, Johnson would necessarily resign from the Senate. Who would be his successor in that post?

A study dating back to the last century shows that many Texas senators—as well as those from other states—first served in the House. Johnson was one of these.

He represented the Austin district from 1937 to 1940 then succeeded W. Lee O'Daniel in the Senate.

A governorship is the most traveled route to the Senate: O'Daniel went that course. So did one other Texas, Charles A. Culberson, who was governor from 1894 through 1896 and then served in the Senate from 1899 to 1923.

Texas Gov. Price Daniel is one of the few who has taken the reverse route along his political career. He left the Senate before the end of his six-year term in order to take over as governor.

With the exception of Culberson, all of those who have attained lengthy records of service in the Senate from Texas first served in the House. These, in addition to Johnson now in his 12th Senate year, were:

Morris Sheppard, 1913 to 1941; Tom Connally, 1928 to 1953 and Joseph Weldon Bailey Sr., 1901 to 1913.

Daniel had about two years to go on his Senate term when he was succeeded by William Blakley of Dallas. Blakley received an interim appointment from Gov. Allen Shivers shortly before Shivers turned over the governor's office to Daniel. Ralph Yarborough then won the special election in 1957 to fill out Daniel's unexpired term, and was reelected in 1958 for a regular six-year term.

Andrew Jackson Houston, son of Sam Houston, served a few weeks in 1941 when appointed by the then Gov. O'Daniel to fill a vacancy created by the death that spring of Sheppard. Houston died in office at 87, before the special election called by O'Daniel could be held. O'Daniel won the special election, and was reelected for the 1942-48 term.

Earle B. Mayfield, a member of the Texas Railroad Commission from 1912 to 1922, served 21 years in the Senate. The one remaining individual who has served from Texas in the past 60 years was Horace Chilton, who had practiced law in Tyler and who was first appointed to the Senate to fill a vacancy. He then was elected to and served the six-year term between 1895 and 1901.

Among the incumbent House Texans, Jim Wright of Fort Worth is often mentioned when speculation turns to likely candidates for Johnson's Senate seat if it becomes vacant.

The 37-year old Wright a World War II combat pilot and one-time president of the League of Texas Municipalities while mayor of Weatherford, doesn't deny his interest in the Senate post.

For many months he has followed a pattern set by Johnson in building up a state wide following in anticipation of the time when a vacancy might occur.

An eloquent speaker, Wright gave the keynote address at the last Texas State Democratic convention in Austin.

Also mentioned as a political candidate if the vacancy occurs is Rep. Joe Kilgore, McAllen. Still another Texan regularly urged to seek the senatorship anytime a vacancy occurs but who could be expected to decline in the future as he has in the past. Is Rep. Bob Poague of Waco. He always has the strong backing of state farm organizations.

Others mentioned include State Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, Abilene Attorney Jack Cox and Shivers. If a Senate vacancy occurs, Daniel would call a special election to be held within 60 to 90 days to fill out Johnson's term.

In the interim, he could appoint anyone of his choice as to serve until the special election.

Under the new Texas election statutes, the winner of the special election must obtain a clear majority or face a run-off. This would tend to eliminate the chances of a Republican winning with less than a majority—as happened in the Panhandle district a few years ago when Ben Gust of Pampa was elected to the House and served a few months.

Finally, in considering all the angles, Daniel could return to the Senate if he should choose to follow the course of many governors—step down and let the lieutenant governor, as the new incoming chief State executive, name him to the seat under the interim appointment.

Convention 'New Look' May Spread

(AN EDITORIAL)

It should be crystal clear now that American voters are going to choose their next president and vice president on the basis of personalities. There's not enough difference between the platforms of the two big political parties to tabulate, if you read all of the lines and everything between them.

If any real issues are involved they probably will be raised along in October. If there is substantial change, in either direction, in our foreign relations or in our economy, it could be a last-minute factor in the election's outcome.

As of today, it is merely a matter of which fair-haired pair can best lead the nation down one prescribed path.

Personalities are an integral part of politics, regardless of any disclaimer advanced by participants. And the gradual fade-out of two of the past—masters at the big convention's may well indicate that American politics is ending an era. Two veteran congressmen, long at the forefront in the affairs of their respective parties, had mere token roles in the 1960 conventions.

We refer to Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas and Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts. Although "Mr. Sam" still draws tons of water in Democratic Party circles, his absence on the podium as presiding officer at Los Angeles made the proceedings appear more artificial than they really were. Few can doubt that Rep. Rayburn has presided over his last Democratic convention, although he stepped aside on his own initiative this year to work on the floor for the nomination of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

We suspect that few Americans who have kept up with such things over a period of years could fight off an attack of nostalgia when Rep. Martin presented the silver gavel at Chicago last Tuesday evening. Previously, Joe Martin had presided at the Republican convention six times in a row, all the while serving his party as its leader in the House. He lost his job in the latter capacity two years ago, and at 75, Joe Martin cannot be expected to rise to such heights again.

The transition which has eased these two stalwarts from the limelight may be a symptom of things to come. One of these days, we are going to select presidential candidates in bona fide primary elections. National conventions, if held at all, will merely work on platforms and chart strategy for the campaigns.

Small Dog Takes A $7,500 Bite

DETROIT (AP)—It was a dirty dog indeed that took a big bite—$7,500 worth—from its owner's pocketbook because it tracked across a white rug with muddy paws.

Mrs. Nora Rogers suffered a broken hip when the frisky miniature French poodle knocked her down as its owner, Mrs. Ruth Healy, tried to chase it off the rug.

Mrs. Rogers, who was visiting Mrs. Healy, received a $7,500 settlement in a $25,000 damage suit against the owner, charging the injury kept her from working as a beauty operator.

Moisture Conditions Ideal In Most Regions Of State

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Moisture conditions this late in the summer are the best in many years and crops and pastures are responding. Director John Hutchinson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says.

Dry spots were reported by only two district agents. Rain has held up harvests in south central, Coastal Bend and upper coastal counties, especially grain sorghums, and also stopped or slowed field work.

The favorable moisture situation has improved the outlook for late hay crops. Grazing prospects for late summer are the best in years.

Counties in the north part of the far South Texas district were still drying out and land preparation and planting of fall vegetables in the Winter Garden area had been delayed. Pastures materially benefited. The cotton harvest is approaching its peak in the Lower Valley and Coastal Bend.

Rains held up the sorghum harvest in the south central district. Peanuts, livestock and ranges were doing good.

Sorghums mostly are ready for harvest but this and other field work was slowed by showers during the week along the coast. Cotton is fruiting well, corn is in the hard dough stage, early rice is heading and blooming and most crops look good. Pastures are green but some are weedy. The condition of cattle is improving.

Supplies Of Cotton Dip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cotton stocks are declining and indications are that there will be no buildup in reserve supplies during the next year.

The Agriculture Department said carryover of cotton Aug. 1 is expected to be about 7,600,000 bales. This is 1,300,000 bales below a year ago, the smallest since 1953.

The department said exports and domestic use of cotton during the 1960-61 marketing year which ends Sunday probably will total about 14½ million bales, about 1½ million bales under 1959-60. Both domestic use and exports are expected to show decline.

The first official estimate of cotton production in 1960 will be released by the department Aug. 8. However, the department said the yield per acre has been increasing and, on this basis, production in 1960 would be about 14,700,000 bales.

Thus, the likely use of cotton and the cotton crop will just about match, resulting in little or no buildup in reserve stocks a year from now.

Moisture is good in most East Texas areas. Cotton and peanut farmers welcomed the dry weather. A second cutting of grass hay is being baled. Livestock and pastures are in good condition.

In northeast Texas, moisture was short in some areas and adequate in others. Late corn and cotton need moisture. Cotton is fruiting well. Rain was needed to push the late hay crop along.

All crops, pastures and ranges are responding to excellent North Texas rains. Everything is green and growing and livestock are in good condition. Cotton is setting a heavy crop but insect control will determine profit or loss.

Scattered showers and cloudy weather improved the moisture situation in Central Texas but spots are still dry. Cotton is making progress but insects are insects are increasing. Peanuts improved. Late hay crops and livestock looked good.

Rains ranging from 1 to 10 inches greatly improved the moisture situation in Central West Texas. Ranges, rice and hay crops all got a boost. Some stock tanks are still low. Livestock are in good condition but the market is weak.

Light to heavy rains in far West Texas caused ranges to green-up fast. Livestock are in good condition and a few lambs are moving out of the area. Cotton was making good growth.

Rain to over two inches kept the situation favorable in the Rolling Plains (Vernon). Livestock and ranges were good; cotton and sorghums were making good growth but boll worms and weeds were reported. Farmers were cultivating, chopping and poisoning cotton.

Cotton is two weeks late in the South Plains (Lubbock) but is growing and fruiting and some is blooming with very little insect damage. Rains of the past two weeks have been just right; sorghums were in the foot or bloom stage, and onions and potatoes were being harvested.

Moisture is generally adequate over the Panhandle and range and livestock conditions are good. Grain sorghums were making good progress and the potato harvest was on.

Livestock Market Moves Out To Reach Nation's Producers

CHICAGO (AP) — The meat packing industry, once concentrated on rail heads in a half dozen major cities, now lies within an overnight truck run for almost any livestock shipper in the nation.

Indeed, for many livestock producers the market may be no farther away than the pasture or feed lot gate or an auction pen in the nearby town.

No longer must a steer, hog or lamb be shipped hundreds of miles to get their T-bones or chops on sale to housewives a few blocks down the street from the railroad station.

No longer do purchasing agents for a few major packers dominate buying of livestock for slaughter. For example, in Chicago which still is the largest U.S. cattle market, there are more than 225 livestock buyers for about 400 packing companies in 38 states.

More than 2,200,000 head of cattle cleared through Chicago last year, but the volume was a small per cent of the total marketings for the nation. Millions of other animals were sold through hundreds of auction pens throughout the country, or sold directly to buyers in feed lots or pastures.

This change in the packing industry and the marketing of livestock has taken place mostly since the end of World War II. It is ascribed mainly to population growth which created expanded and more widespread metropolitan centers for meat distribution and to improvement in highways.

Meat consumption in the United States 30 years ago was about 50 pounds a year for each person. This year for a much larger population it is estimated at about 80 pounds.

Consumption of pork and lamb has increased at about the same rate.

The nation's meat supply was processed 30 years ago by about 700 packers. Now there are about 2,400. Such names as Swift, Armour and Wilson still are top ranking among companies in the industry maintaining more plants than ever in their history. But in the decentralization of operations, to move into developing new markets they finally abandoned entirely their slaughtering operations in Chicago.

In closing down the Chicago plants, all three companies said the facilities had become obsolete and could not be restored profitably to modern processing requirements. The outmoded facilities were more than 50 years old.

There still are 20 smaller packing companies in Chicago. The three major concerns still supply their meat trade here from other modern installations in the Midwest. They had gradually taken over smaller areas of a broad distribution formerly handled from the single Chicago plant.

The 20 smaller companies here buy about 25 per cent of all cattle and sheep and about 30 per cent of all sheep shipped into Chicago for sale.
