2000 Barrel Gusher Brought in at Electra Today

ANOTHER FLOWING WELL BROUGHT IN AT ELECTRA

WOOD-RUFF-PUTNAM NO. 3 CAME IN WITH STRONG FLOW AT 11 A. M. TUESDAY.

REPORTED THE BEST

Strike Proves Third Sand On This
Lease at Depth of Two Thousand Feet.

BULLETIN—Electra.—Within less than one hour oil flowing from the new gushers filled a 100 barrel tank and it is now estimated the flow is at the rate of 2000 barrels a day. The slush pit and the 100 barrel storage tank were quickly overflowed and the oil flooded out into the cotton rows about the well. A score of men are busy with spades and shovels, creating a dam to hold in the oil and others are busy building sypress tanks and laying pipe line to the loading rack. People here this afternoon are just beginning to realize their great good fortune and the rejoicing cannot be described.

Vice President James K. Sherman who is expected to be drawn into the Dr. Wiley controversy.

Special to The Times.
Electra, Texas, July 25.—What is believed to be by far the strongest well in the Electra field was brought in shortly after eleven o'clock Tuesday morning on the Wood-Ruff-Putnam lease. The well was brought in with a strong gas flow but the strike had been anticipated and the flow cut off and run through gate valves into a tank. While no estimate of the production of the well it is believed to be by far the best producer in the field.

It was brought in a depth of 2,000 feet and develops a third sand flowing oil on this one lease. It is the third flowing well in this single lease. The first gusher was brought in at a depth of 1600 feet, and the second at 1,000 feet. These three wells are located almost in a direct line north and south of a distance of about one hundred yards apart. All three are owned by the Corsicana Petroleum Company. The well brought in today was drilled by Joe Howell.

Drillers are expected to bring in Springer, No. 2 within a few days. Today's strike will mean increased activity in this field where many rigs are already at work.

WOULD-BE BRIDE TOO YOUNG, LICENSE REFUSED

Because the girl did not look the eighteen years she claimed, Deputy County Clerk Carl Yeager this morning refused to issue a marriage license to a Waurika, Okla. couple.

The girl did not look to be more than sixteen years. She said she was eighteen but could not tell in what year she was born. Both she and the young man she wished to marry wanted to swear to her age, but Mr. Yeager would not accept their affidavits.

The couple were last seen waiting for a Northwestern train and will probably attempt to secure a license at Frederick, Okla.

The Lorimer Inquiry.
By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., July 25.—James K. Leeley of the Chicago Tribune today told the Lorimer committee that George Glavis' recent arrest in Chicago for embezzlement was at Keeley's request after Glavis had been authorized to buy lobbyists' books, which Glavis claimed would show that the lobbyists paid Lorimer twenty-five per cent of a fund of two thousand dollars in the fight made by the "freepress" magazine.

Pontius Met With a Slight Accident at Oklahoma City

Doc Harris, manager for the Pan-American Aero Company, received a telephone message from Oklahoma City late last night that J. J. Pontius "The Flying Dutchman" had a slight accident at the close of a three days engagement at Belle Island, Ark.

In some where about to alight, a gust of wind depressed the tail of the "big bird" snapping it off at its junction with the main planes. The "Dutchman" was a little bit shaken up by the sudden contact with terra firma, but was not otherwise injured. New outriggers and a new tail will be put on the machine when set up at Lake Wichita Wednesday afternoon.

The Corsicana Petroleum Company has leased several thousand acres of land in the Friberg community and will sink a number of wells for oil within the next six months.

The following oil and gas leases were filed for record with the county clerk today:

William and Minnie Fehler to Corsicana Petroleum Co., 404 acres.
G. E. Friberg to Corsicana Petroleum Co., 700 acres.
Gust Byman to Corsicana Petroleum Co., 40 acres.
W. E. Parker and wife to Corsicana Petroleum Co., 944 acres.

Problem of Rural Churches.
Columbus, O., July 25.—To discuss the problem of county churches and to find a remedy for the deserted pulpits which are said to be rapidly increasing in rural communities throughout the country is the object of a four day conference which was begun today at the Ohio College of Agriculture. Plans to arouse the farmers and their families to a more active interest in church work will be considered.

An Old Well Story.
Lost and won, a romance of the California oil fields, is one of the most vivid pictures ever put on here, and one of the most interesting and lovable. It is a story of love and duty, and illustrates a beautiful moral. It is one of the features of the program at the Gen today.

DEFINITE OFFER FOR GLASS FACTORY

CHANUTE, KANSAS. PLANT WILL BE BROUGHT HERE IF IT
MEASURES UP TO REP.
PRESENTATION.

WOULD EMPLOY 175 MEN

Free Site, Three Cent Gas, $10,000 Bonus and Loan of $30,000 Required to Land Industry.

If the credit of the Chantute-Window-Glass Company is such that it will bear a loan of $30,000 and the plant is found to be as represented it will probably be brought to Wichita Falls.

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning Mr. Kell, who is to go to Chantute in a few days was authorized to offer the company a free factory site, a bonus of $10,000 and three cent gas if after inspecting the plant he thinks it worth these considerations.

Mr. Kell himself has agreed to find a loan of $30,000 for the company if their credit warrants such a loan.

He also believes he can arrange for gas at 4 1/2 cents per thousand cubic feet. The Chamber of Commerce agrees to make good the difference between that and three cents which it is estimated will amount to about $4,000 per year.

The company will employ about 175 men nine months in the year with a weekly pay roll of from $2,500 to $3,000.

The committee appointed to investigate a proposition for the removal of a glove and garment factory from Gainesville, reported adversely.

The aviation meet committee reported arrangements completed and the meet thoroughly advertised for a radius of nearly 4 hundred miles.

DR. ALEXANDER'S TRIAL IN PROGRESS AT ANSON

By Associated Press.
Anson, Texas, July 25.—The first witness in the trial of Dr. Alexander for the murder of R. L. O'Neal, was Pink Busby, the clerk at the Stamford Inn, where the shooting occurred. He said that after O'Neal and Alexander were in the wash room he heard muffled pistol reports and exclamation "Dam you take that, may be it will teach you something." Most of the first session today was taken up with unimportant testimony.

IMMIGRATION COMMISSIONERS.

Will Form National Organization and Issue Hand Book.
Chicago, July 25.—Immigration commissioners from nineteen states are here for the purpose of forming a national organization, propose to publish a "hand-book for the guidance of land-seekers." The plan will be adopted at a conference today. The proposition is to print a book of exact information concerning all farm and mineral lands in the various states so that the unwary investor will not be easy prey for the land shark. The book will be distributed free.

URGES A TRIAL OF RECIPROCITY

By Associated Press.
Ottawa, Ont., July 25.—Finance Minister Fielding urges a trial of reciprocity in a long statement published here today in which he declares that if the agreement proves unprofitable to Canada it may be suspended at any time. "There is nothing permanently binding about it," he urged, "as either country can withdraw at any time. I challenge the opposition to let it pass now. Then we will have an election in a year. If, as the opposition says, reciprocity will prove a bad thing for Canada, the people will have had a years' experience and test of it and will return the conservatives to power to form a new government and cancel the reciprocity agreement." But reciprocity will prove a good thing for the whole country. It is a good thing for the Canadian manufacturer that we have achieved reciprocity without important concessions in manufactured articles.

SIGNATURES TO PEACE PACT DESIRED

President Taft and Secretary Knox Want Universal Peace and Disarmament.
By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., July 25.—Signatures of all the parties to the negotiations for general arbitration treaties appended to one document, would, it is said, greatly please President Taft and Secretary Knox. But it is realized that the time is not yet ripe for such a great stride towards a pact that would make for universal peace and disarmament. Were America, Great Britain, France, Germany, Sweden and the Netherlands to sign one convention such as was agreed upon at The Hague, the effect would be to prevent them from going to war with one another over any such issue as spheres of influence in Morocco or varying boundary lines in equatorial Africa. Apparently they are not ready to go that far but they are willing to accept of special and separate treaties of arbitration with America and it is the hope of the administration that in the end the beneficial workings of these special treaties will incline all of the great powers to enter into like relations with one another either through the medium of separate treaties or through the general signature of one common treaty.

Newport, R. I., July 25.—A naval tug and two fast torpedo boat destroyers were searching through the fog this morning for a three masted schooner which was sighted from the Point Judith Lighthouse last night flying her flag union down and with her crew panicking in panic about her decks. The schooner apparently came from the eastward and was of about 1,000 tons burden. The night was thick and up to sun rise no word had been received from the naval vessels.

This Bank and Your Business

There are many banks in the country larger than The Wichita State Bank. They may have more capital and perhaps do a greater volume of business. But for the smaller business man, farmer or manufacturer, had it occurred to you that the small bank is the best place for the beginner to go?

The big bank is often cold-blooded and independent. Your business in the big bank is but an incidental detail, and your interests are scarcely noticed.

The small bank, however, can give your business more time and attention, for it is interested in your success.

This bank, while small in comparison to some of the large banks, has ample means and facilities to properly care for your business. Its officers have time to consider your interest and welfare. Your business will be welcome and will receive their best attention.

OCEAN TO OCEAN RATES AFFECTED

IMPORTANT DECISIONS ANNOUNCED BY THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

LOWER WEST BOUND RATE

In All Trans Continental Traffic Will Be In Effect—Long and Short Haul Defined.

Associated Press. Washington, D. C., July 25.—Decisions of far reaching importance were announced late yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission. They affect directly all freight rates between the Atlantic Ocean and the Pacific Coast. Particularly, they affect the rates in the territory lying between Denver and Pacific Coast points.

The rates to this "inter-mountain" territory heretofore have been made without any definite relation to the water competitive rates to the Pacific coast, the extent of the discrimination being entirely optional with the carriers. By the opinions handed down today the Commission has attempted to arrive at a definite relation of the rates to the non-competitive points as compared with those to the coast, and has laid down the extent to which the rates to interior points may exceed the coast rates.

In all the cases decided the carriers are given until October 15 to the tariffs with the Commission constructed in accordance with the views set forth in the opinions. The net result of the decisions will be to give lower rates on all westbound transcontinental traffic to cities in the inter-Rocky mountain territory. To all intents and purposes the back haul rates from Pacific Coast terminals to cities in the Rocky mountain territory are wiped out and the service rendered by the carriers will be paid by shippers substantially on a strict interpretation of the long and short haul provision of the existing law.

The Commission holds in the so-called Reno case that traffic originating at Chicago and in Chicago territory moving under commodity rates may have a rate 7 per cent higher to intermediate points than that imposed on freight originating in Chicago and Chicago territory destined to the Pacific Coast terminals. From Buffalo-Pittsburg territory the rates may rise above those demanded from the same points to Pacific Coast terminals to the extent of 15 per cent, while from New York and Trunk Line territory the rates charged shall not exceed 23 per cent over Pacific Coast terminal rates.

These are the first decisions announced by the Commission in which a definite principle in respect of the long and short haul provision is laid down. While the opinions fully recognize the influence of water competition, to a marked extent they draw a line upon indiscriminate "market" competition.

The effect of the decisions will be to notify the carriers that they will be allowed to meet water competition to a reasonable extent, but that the location of markets hereafter will be left more to the play of commercial causes than to the will of the traffic managers of railroads.

The cases involved are those of the city of Spokane against the Northern Pacific Railway Company, known popularly as the "Spokane Rate Case." The Commercial Club of Salt Lake City, against the Atchafalaya and Santa Fe Railway Company and others; the Railroad Commission of Nevada against the Southern Pacific Company and others; and the Maricopa County Commercial Club against the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix Railway Company and other carriers.

Inasmuch as the cases generally dove-tail into one another the Commission announces its decisions in two opinions. In brief the Commission takes the view which it took in its opinions of the same cases announced a year ago last June. At that time the Commission said it would make no order respecting the rates which it suggested might be put into effect until it had had opportunity to determine from reports made to it by the carriers of the probable effect of the suggested rates. Meantime, the carriers have submitted to the Commission their earnings under the old rates and what would have been their earnings under the rates proposed by the Commission. These tabulated statements have convinced the Commission that the rates determined upon by the Commission in its decisions of June 7, 1910, generally fair and reasonable. The Commission says that there is no reason why these rates should not now be established.

"Since the promulgation of that opinion," the Commission says, "the fourth section of the long and short haul provision has been amended. In as much as the gravamen of the complaint of the city of Spokane and to some extent of Salt Lake City was directed against the violation of the fourth section, it is necessary again to inquire whether, under the amended fourth section, the relief to which these communities are entitled can now be granted.

"The complainants contend that the provision in the amended section permitting the Commission to authorize in particular instances the charging of a higher rate at the intermediate rate point, is void as a delegation of legislative authority; that it should be rejected and the section applied by the Commission as though it were an absolute long and short haul prohibition. This contention is not sustained.

"The defendants contend that the only effect of the amendment is to cast upon the carriers the burden of assuming the initiative in justifying the higher rate at the intermediate point. If upon investigation it is found that competition exists at the more distant point and not at the intermediate point then the Commission must, without further inquiry, grant the relief asked for; if no such competition exists it must deny the application. This contention is not sustained.

"In amending the fourth section by striking out the words 'similar circumstances and conditions' Congress intended to invest the Commission with authority not only to determine whether a wrong results from the disregard for the long and short haul provision, but also to correct that wrong if it was founded to exist.

"In determining whether the carriers shall be permitted to make the higher intermediate charge the Commission cannot act arbitrarily, but must apply the principles which control it in the administration of other portions of the act. It must inquire whether the maintenance of the higher intermediate rate will result in unreasonable charges of unjust discriminations. If so the permission must be refused; otherwise it must be granted.

"The Commission may prescribe in any way that is definite and certain the extent to which the intermediate rate may exceed the long distance rate in cases where this is necessary to prevent unreasonable rates and unjust discriminations."

The opinions in the Spokane Rate Case and in the Salt Lake Case were prepared by Commissioner Prouty. They affect all applications by the carriers for relief under the long and short haul provision. For the sake of convenience the country between the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans is divided into five freight zones. These zones are defined with reasonable definiteness by the decision. From zone number one, which includes approximately all territory west of a mid-continent north and south line it is prescribed that rates must not be higher on westbound traffic to any intermediate point than to a more distant point. Moving eastward, from zone number two the rates to intermediate points may exceed those to more distant points by not over seven per cent; from zone number three by not over 15 per cent; and from zone number four by not over 25 per cent. No opinion is expressed as to the rates from zone number five, which is farthest east, because the rates from that territory are not particularly involved in these decisions, inasmuch as they generally are controlled by ocean transportation to the Pacific Coast.

In concluding the discussion of the Spokane case, the Commission's report says:

"It may be asked why the schedule of rates suggested by the Commission as reasonable should not be ordered. In the answer is that carriers should be permitted in so far as possible to adjust their own tariffs and that it seems probable that in compliance with this order carriers must establish rates in substantial accord with those suggested by us. It should be ever borne in mind that the acute complaint in this case is the discrimination and not the unreasonable rate. Objection to this order will doubtless result in some rates from the east which are higher and in others which are lower than those suggested by the Commission since we did not then feel at liberty as the complainants requested, to make the Spokane rate depend upon the coast rate. But it is likely that the resulting schedule will be more satisfactory to the complainants and no more burdensome upon the defendants. If the carriers establish under this disposition of the case rates to Spokane which are excessive, a further order can be made in this proceeding reducing them to a proper basis."

In an elaborate discussion of the long and short haul provision in the so-called Reno case and the Phoenix Arizona case, Commissioner Lane, who prepared the opinions in these cases for the Commission asserts that "it must be affirmatively shown by the carriers seeking exceptions to the long and short haul provisions that an injustice will not be done to intermediate points by allowing lower rates to the more distant points."

The transcontinental carriers, therefore, are ordered to readjust their present rates October 15, next, from eastern territories to intermediate points as compared with the rates from Nevada to the Pacific Coast. This will make a reduction of rates to Reno and Nevada common points from the east of approximately 33 1/3 per cent.

rates to the more distant points.

"The intentment of the amended law," says Commissioner Lane, "is to make its prohibition of the higher rate for the shorter haul a rule of well nigh universal application from which this Commission may deviate only in special cases and then to meet transportation circumstances which are beyond the carriers' control."

It is held that "in the light of history it is not to be gained that the transcontinental lines must give consideration to a competition." It was held, also, however, that "the carriers herein involved have not shown that undue discrimination was not affected by their rate adjustments between points in Nevada and points in California; nor have they established that the rates to the coast cities, if extended by them from eastern points outside the zone of water influence are not fully compensatory."

The transcontinental carriers, therefore, are ordered to readjust their present rates October 15, next, from eastern territories to intermediate points as compared with the rates from Nevada to the Pacific Coast. This will make a reduction of rates to Reno and Nevada common points from the east of approximately 33 1/3 per cent.

In the course of the opinion, Commissioner Lane says: "We desire to be extremely conservative."

CONVENTIONS IN NEBRASKA TODAY

ALL PARTIES IN THAT STATE ARE NAMING CANDIDATES AND MAKING PLATFORMS.

MAY NOT ENDORSE TAFT

La Follette emissaries have been busy for some time—Democrats appear harmonious.

Lincoln, Neb., July 25.—In accordance with the State primary law which requires that all of the political parties shall hold their conventions on the same day, the Republicans assembled in State convention here today while the Democrats and the Populists met at Fremont. All candidates are selected in primaries, so that all that is left for the conventions to do is to build platforms and select the State campaign officers.

The conventions, nevertheless, are attracting the attention of politicians the country over. They are the first State conventions of the year to be held anywhere in the North or West. Furthermore, they are held in a State which has furnished some of the most conspicuous leaders of the "insurgent" movement in the Republican party and at the same time still interests the Democrats as the home State of William J. Bryan.

Unless all signs go astray the Republican convention in this city will furnish more interesting developments than the gathering at Fremont. The Republicans are badly split. The regulars and insurgents fought, and the Nebraska Progressive Republican League was the outgrowth. Then the latter party split and the Reformed Nebraska Progressive Republican League resulted, the latter being those insurgents who have returned to the support of President Taft, while the "Mid-Road Progressives" are still fighting the Administration.

La Follette emissaries have been busy at work in Nebraska for some time and they have succeeded in working up considerable sentiment favoring the Wisconsin senator for the presidential nomination. If the La Follette supporters succeed in preventing the convention from endorsing President Taft they will be satisfied. If the President is endorsed they probably will lose little time in organizing a La Follette league and beginning the fight in earnest.

Victor Rosewater, the Omaha editor, is leading the fight for Taft, while Governor Aldrich is an avowed supporter of La Follette. A successor to United States Senator Norris Brown is to be chosen before long and this tends to still further complicate the situation in the Republican party. Congressman Norris, one of the foremost insurgent leaders in Congress, is an aspirant for the senatorship and his friends will not stand for any action on the part of the convention that might militate against his interests.

As Governor Aldrich has been approached by Victor Rosewater with a view to bringing out the governor as a candidate for senator, the Aldrich and Rosewater interests are to some extent in sympathy. At the same time, however, Rosewater, is an ardent supporter of Taft, while Aldrich leans toward La Follette. Senator Brown no longer beloved of Rosewater, is supporting Taft, thus opposing Aldrich, whose support he would like in the senatorial fight.

While the Republicans are thus badly mixed up the Democrats, on the other hand, appear to be working in

Pro Chairman's Message To the People

Wichita Falls, July 25.

Dear Sir:—The election is over and it seems from returns the ants have won by a very small majority. I am disappointed, but am not disgruntled. I think we have made a great fight in Texas against the saloon. In 1887 the anti majority was 91,000; now it is about 5,000. In the beginning of the campaign very few people really believed it possible to win. We have made the campaign with very little money. In this county we have expended the sum of $123.90.

Our work has been a labor of love. We believed we were working for sobriety, virtue, decency and all that goes to make a prosperous and contented people; refined and happy homes. I desire to thank my pro friends all over the county for their cordial and hearty support given. I ask my pro friends to kindly remember the Wichita Daily Times for its fearless stand on our side.

The clergy have made themselves very dear to the heart of every pro and have, I am sure, won the esteem of all good citizens for the moderation and courage they have displayed in this campaign.

Mr. Editor, I could not and will never forget the great assistance rendered by the good women and innocent children and I assure them their disappointment is felt keenly by me. I know they were asking that the tempomore perfect harmony than for a number of years past. For the first time in more than a decade they are approaching a campaign with a thorough organization behind them. Mr. Bryan seems to have been eliminated, or to have eliminated himself, from Nebraska politics. He has refrained from making any comment or expressing any views on the local situation. Whether or not he will support the candidates selected by the party is a question, but it is certain that he has not endeavored in any way to influence the choice of candidates or the construction of the platform.

active in this first application of the new law, and to require an adjustment of rates that will be safely within the zone of our discretion. For this reason we have decided that the transcontinental carriers serving Reno and other points upon the main line of the Central Pacific shall make no higher charges upon any article carrying a commodity rate than is contemporaneously in effect from Missouri River points, such as Omaha and Kansas City, to coast terminal points. This principle we shall also expect to be applied on commodity rates to all main line intermediate points in Nevada and California.

Some of the petitions under the fourth section are made by carriers reaching California terminals through southern Nevada and Arizona. These applications for relief are denied in so far as they involve the imposition of higher rates upon intermediate points than are applied on commodities from the Missouri River to Los Angeles, San Francisco and other Pacific Coast terminals.

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 25th, 1911.

Another gushing oil well was brought in this morning at Electra, which is the biggest flowing well in this field.Good roads enhance property values.
Don't forget that the people of Wichita county will be given an opportunity to vote $200,000 worth of bonds for road improvements on August 15th. The proposition has the unqualified endorsement of the Farmers' Union of Wichita county.The Frederick Lander and the Frederick Enterprises have announced the suspension of their daily editions. Only last week the Altus Times suspended its daily edition. Perhaps Frederick might have supported one daily paper, but two were burdensome upon the merchants and the division of patronage did not allow enough to support either paper.Gov. Colquitt has expressed disapsatisfaction at the smallness of the majority against statewide prohibition, but it is a great deal smaller than the majority will be against him the next time he offers for office, and it won't make much difference who his opponent will be. His only salvation is to scheme around and get out two or more candidates to contest with for the nomination.

The Paris Advocate is a strong advocate of prohibition as a statewide proposition, and in commenting on the result says: "This result, however, settles one thing—that the people of this state, reluctant to go the extreme of statewide prohibition, are nevertheless determined that the saloon in territory must be regulated, and regulated by regulation that regulates in fact as well as theory. It shows that the people at large, if willing under the doctrine of home rule and local self-government, to permit the traffic at the option of the localities, it must be conducted in strict conformity with law, and violations punished in such manner that will compel obedience to law. For one the Advocate believes as from the first it has believed that it devolves upon the anti-statewide to see to it that the local option laws are so strengthened and penalized as to compel this obedience, and all penalties for violations punished with the rigor of a fate."

Judge M. M. Brooks of Dallas, when asked for his opinion on the result of the election gave to the Dallas News the following:

"I understand that a lot of illegal votes were cast in the prohibition election. This much is indicated by the press reports. These reports indicated that this occurred in South Texas and another points. It is my opinion that there should be a rigid investigation of such charges, and if it is found that any person cast a vote who did not have the right to do so, such person should be put in the penitentiary. This should not be confined to the Caucasian race, but should apply to every class of people. I might also justly add that the man who procured the illegal vote should also be sent along to prison with the man who cast the vote.

"As I understand the law, a man whose poll tax is paid by other than himself is not entitled to vote and ought to be excluded from voting. The man who paid the poll tax for some one else ought to be prosecuted."

"Furthermore, I understand that many counties cast more votes than three poll taxes. This is a shameful position of the right to vote."

"I confidently believe when all of the illegal votes are eliminated that the pros will have at least a majority of 20,000."

THE ELECTION: ITS TEMPTA-TIONS AND PROMISES.

Under the above caption appears an editorial in today's Dallas News that correctly points out the situation in Texas today. During the campaign the burden of the anti speakers song was "We must keep separate the church and state," and that "Texas is Threatened With a Religious Terrorism." The News editorial means, if it means anything at all, that Texas must divorce herself from the dominating influence of the saloon and whiskey traffic, else the people of Texas will destroy the saloon. It is one of the ablest editorials on that subject that has ever appeared in the Dallas News, (itself an anti paper) and one that every right thinking citizen of Texas can well afford to take the time to read and digest:

"Although at the time of this writing the count has not been completed, even by the newspapers, there seems no reason to doubt that, on the face of the returns, the anti-prohibitionists have received a majority. It is apparently a meager majority, almost infinitesimal, one might say, considering the magnitude of the vote. That is an unfortunate circumstance. Even in a people who have so pre-eminently asserted the principle of self-government there lurks a reluctance in the defeated to accept gracefully the decision of the majority, and this reluctance is increased as the margin of the majority is narrowed. The contest we have just had in Texas is peculiar of a kind to incite this latent propensity to political suicide and unhandly there were some disclosures, during the last days of the campaign, which must tend to provoke the defeated into the adoption of a course into which passion and disappointment tempt them."

"Whether there will be an appeal to the courts to determine the validity of the verdict which the ballot boxes report, we do not know; nor is it to be inferred from our consideration of that as a possibility that we are sensible of any reason why there should be an appeal. In considering it as a possibility, we are merely taking cognizance of a common rumor, and of the plain intimation twice given in statements issued by Col. Ball, the chairman of the prohibition committee. Manifestly it is a contingency which at least he allows himself to contemplate."

"We should be presumptuous to counsel Col. Ball and his associates as to whether they ought or ought not to appeal to the courts; but certainly we may be permitted to say that a course fraught with consequences so grave must have something more substantial than mere suspicion to justify it. It would not only prolong the excitement and animosities which the campaign has engendered, but it would be causative of influences which would fatally every relation of life political, industrial and even social and which would not be put down at the bidding of any man or set of men.
However, much he and those who were associated with him in conducting the campaign may be incited to the adoption of this course by the incendiary spells who make a part of every faltering, we are quite confident that nothing less than a profound conviction that the ballot boxes have made a false report of the majority's will will move them to set out on this path of perils."

"But if these gentlemen have indubitable evidence that fraud was the determining factor in this election, then let them proceed. The turmoil, excitement and bitterness make a less evil than a false return of the popular will. The principle which in a republic binds the minority to abide the decision of the majority, even though it be the majority of but a single vote, equally obligates the apparent majority to reject the advantage of a victory unfairly won. The spirit of readiness on the part of the minority to acquiesce in the will of the majority is the nerve center of the ballot itself, and the minority which rebels today only robs itself of a victory which it may win tomorrow."

"If there are some circumstances that must provoke the prohibitionists either into appealing to the courts or into an early renewal of the political battle, also there are some circumstances which must persuade them to accept what appears to have been the result of the recent election. They have made a demonstration of political power that must dismay such of their adversaries as have been arrogant and defiant. The anti-prohibitionists themselves can not be blind to the significance of their shrinking majorities in the cities. Fatuous as have so often shown themselves, they must perceive that even the cities, tolerant as they have been, have accumulated for the saloon a disgust which will brook no further denial. Nearly a quarter of a million ballots were cast for prohibition. Every one of these ballots was disgust for the method by which the liquor traffic was carried on. Many of them were cast by men who have little faith in the efficacy of prohibition as a temperance measure, many were cast by men who, in casting them, were not sure that they did not violate the principle of local self-government, which is dear to them."

The one feeling which animated them to subordinate all considerations of expedi-ence and political principle was disgust of the saloon as it is ordinarily run. That fact ought, and must suggest to the anti-prohibition forces that the liquor traffic can be made obedient to law and the spirit of decency. They have been put on probation. Notice has been served on the liquor traffic that it exists on sufferance, and that, therefore, it will not be allowed to defy the law nor even prescribe the terms of its own regulation, and that least of all will it be allowed to dominate the politics of this State. The length of its continued existence will be measured by the degree by which it learns and practices this lesson of the election.
If it disregards the lesson, it will sign its own early doom."

The prospect then, which fronts the enlightened prohibitionists—and they are the ones who will determine the course of future events—is this: Either the liquor traffic and its representatives in politics will submit to the most rigid regulation or they will decree their own destruction. Either outcome must give some considerable satisfaction to the prohibitionists and persuade them that they have not labored in vain. And it is a prospect which must incline them to the side of moderation and patience."

LATE SPORTING NEWS

DURANT WON LOOSELY PLAYED CONTEST

Galveston Cast-Off Touched By Durant For Five Runs in the First Inning.

Special to the Times. Durant, Okla. July 25.—The Irish Lads played ten innings before they could give the game to Durant yesterday and Durant seemingly tried just as hard to give the game to the Lads. Ash, late of Galveston, started to pitch for the Lads but had to be taken out in the first inning after Durant had scored five runs. Shultz succeeded him and held the Durant team to five hits in the nine innings he pitched. Center Fielder Robinson's running catch of a long drive in the fifth inning was the only brilliant fielding feature. Score:

ROADS SEEK TO

REDUCE DAMAGE

Want Public to Co-operate in Effort to Lessen Accidents.

Damages paid by railroad companies of the United States on account of persons injured through their own carelessness make a large figure and go far toward increasing the expenses of operation which must be considered by the company when they present their transportation bill to the consumer, according to a prominent operation official of Kansas City. The figures for damages run up into hundreds of thousands, some time millions, annually. When this fact is considered there is little wonder that the railroads are engaging in a systematic campaign to decrease accidents.

Three factors enter into the cost of personal injuries—accidents due to the fault of the railroads, those due to carelessness on the part of the victim, and the popular tolerance of blackmail at the expense of the railroads when unjust claims are presented. Naturally the railroads are doing everything in their power to eliminate the first cause, which is the only one they can combat unaided. A more widespread realization of the dangers arising from carelessness in boarding and leaving trains, and crossing tracks would tend greatly toward the elimination of the second factor, and the railroads hope that in time public sentiment will forbid lawyers employing methods against a public utility they dare not use against individuals.

Monthly reports kept by railroads showing the number of deaths and injuries and the way in which they were met, are full of such items as

"Hit while standing on platform; thrown from train in attempting to pass from one car to another; fell in boarding moving train," and many others similar. Immunity from such accidents, railroad officials urge, could be secured by little trouble and would save the company an endless expense.

All these items it is evident must be paid by the public. Railroad officials argue that better service, both freight and passenger, better equipment, and in fact more for the money any way you look at it, could be given if the public would co-operate to reduce accidents.

Are You a Woman?

Baltimore, Md.—Mrs. W. H. Isen, at 1419 East Madison street, writes, "For several years I suffered, off and on, from female troubles, until finally I was taken down and could do nothing. The pains I experienced, I shall never forget. I lost weight till I was only skin and bones. I believe I would have been in my grave, if I had not tried Cardui. I shall praise it as long as I live." Many women, like Mrs. Isen, are weak and discouraged, on account of these sufferings. Cardui will help you. Try it today. Any druggist.

Indiana Democratic leaders are said to take the view that there will be such a conflict between Governor Harrison of Ohio and Governor Wilson of New Jersey, that the nomination of a less prominent candidate for president will be probable, and in that event the party may turn to the Hoosier state for a leader. Governor Marshall is credited with having placed the Democratic party in Indiana on its feet. "He is the first Democrat to carry the state in nearly twenty years."

Spokane women expect to have one or more of their members in the next Washington Legislature.

RECIPROcity DOPE.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., July 25.—The Senate has received the first of three volumes on reciprocity which were ordered last week. Senator Shively of Indiana raised the question of delay and joining him, Senator Borah of Idaho expressed regret that the information had not been received in time to be of use in connection with the Canadian bill. "Does the Senator mean to intimate that the finance committee had any motive in its delay?" asked Mr. Shively. Mr. Borah replied that whatever the motive the effect had been to withhold the light on the subject. On behalf of the committee Senator Smoot assured the Senate that the delay had been unintentional. He promised that the remaining two volumes of the series ordered would be forthcoming within a few days.

Washington, July 25.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson sent his report on the Wickersham recommendation for Dr. Wiley's dismissal to President Taft today. Wilson refused to disclose its contents. DECLINES INVITATION.

Roosevelt Says He Will Make No More Speeches This Summer.

Springfield, Ill., July 25.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt says he will not make any speeches this summer. In a letter to Secretary Dickinson of the State Board of Agriculture yesterday, declining to be the guest of Illinois at the state fair, Colonel Roosevelt said: "If I were accepting any invitations this year, I would accept yours first, but it is out of the question for me to make any speech of any kind this summer. I have made just as many speeches as I feel it is possible or desirable for me to have made, just as many as I think will do any good. And now, my dear sir, I simply can not make any others at present. I am very sorry. All I can do is wish you well."

WHO'S MR. HAWKINS?

Says He is a Republican and a Candidate for the Presidency.

By Associated Press. Louisville, Ky., July 25.—Pledged to give the United States the strongest navy in the world, James P. Hawkins, a Louisville postal clerk, who seriously announces his candidacy for the presidency. "I would not rest," he said, "until my country had a fleet of battleships that would be the strongest in the world." For 22 years Hawkins has tossed mail about the Louisville postoffice and he says ingenuously, he gave some "deep thought to the matter" before he announced. Last night he was interrupted in his work to discuss his chances. He was quick to verify the report. "My platform is the Republican platform. I'm a Republican and a strong one, too. I am out for the nomination and if elected I will do my duty. If I fail in my ambition, I will support the Republican who defeats me."
