Basketball Schedule For Lamesa High School To Start January 6, 1942

A new plan for determination of District Basketball Championship is effective for this school year and it affects all the schools of Dawson County. The championships of the Conferences AA, A, B, and C conferences will be determined among the league member schools by round robin playing on a home and home basis with competition being the same, in most instances, as for the respective football districts. The team having the highest rating after season play will represent the district in bi-district and regional play-off.

SERVICES SUNDAY AT HIGHWAY BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. W. E. Duke, formerly of Lamesa, will preach at the Highway Baptist Church, Sunday morning, December 7. Rev. Duke is well known in this section, and everyone is cordially invited to come out and hear him.

Southeast View Of New Baptist Church

Fifteen Months Old Child Seriously Injured When Struck By Automobile

Martha Ann Ward, age 1 year, 3 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ward of the Patricia community, was seriously injured Tuesday morning, when she was run over by an automobile near her parents' home.

The car was driven by a business visitor to the Ward home, and as he backed away from the house the car hit the child who had followed the visitor out side without his knowing it.

The baby was rushed immediately to a Lamesa hospital where it was found that she had suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. At the last report she was still in critical condition, but was said to be slowly improving.

Reports of the accident say that it was entirely unavoidable.

Tips On Mailing Packages To Men In Service

All the rules for mailing regular Christmas gifts apply to packages for soldiers.

Address them carefully, wrap them securely and mail them early, them early.

To be sure service men overseas get their packages in time, the sender should be sure that packages to the following points get to New York before the date given:

St. Johns, Newfoundland, Dec. 18; Bermuda, Dec. 20; Trinidad, Dec. 11; St. Lucia, Dec. 11; Antigua, Dec. 13; British Guiana, Dec. 11; Panama Canal Zone, Dec. 19; Cuba Dec. 21.

For Hawaiian offices, mail should be in San Francisco by Dec. 12. Mail for Iceland and Greenland should be dispatched well in advance of deadlines for other Atlantic off-shore points.

For Navy men, all packages should be addressed in this style: Seaman John Doe, USS North Carolina C-0 Postmaster, New York. If you are sure your man is on a ship in the Pacific, send the package in care of the San Francisco postmaster. In all cases, plan to have the package in the postmaster's hands as soon as possible.

The armadillo is found only in North and South America.

In connection with the series of community educational meetings, all community committeemen will meet in the Dawson County AAA office, Saturday, December 6, at 2 p. m.

Many People Are Coming In And Extending Time

January 3 To Positively Be Last Day Of Courier Bargain Rates Of $1.00

With only four weeks remaining of the Courier Bargain Days, residents of this territory are urged to come in and renew or subscribe to their home town paper before it is too late.

The bargain rate of $1 per year for the Courier in Dawson, Borden, Lynn, Gaines and Martin counties will positively expire on Saturday, January 3, and if you wait until after that date to come in, the Courier will cost you the regular price of $2.00 per year.

Many people have already come in and extended their subscriptions for another year, and scores of others have taken the paper for the first time. They state that the Courier is such a bargain that they couldn't wait, and that they didn't want to miss a single issue of their home town paper. One lady even went so far as to say that she tried for a couple of weeks to get along without the paper, but missed it so much, that she just had to come in and renew.

The Courier is justly proud that so many residents of this territory feel the way they do about it. It's not often that a newspaper has such faithful subscribers that they come in year after year and renew. (Continued from Front Page)

New Building Started Southeast Corner Of Square

Work was started Tuesday morning of this week on the remodeling of the Holt property on the southeast corner of the square.

Open House To Follow Corner Stone Ceremonies

History Of Church Shows A Steady And Gradual Growth Since Organization

The corner stone laying ceremonies at the new First Baptist Church building are to be held Friday afternoon at five o'clock, and all arrangements and preparations are complete, according to M. C. Lindsey, program chairman.

The service is to begin with a song, led by Owen C. Taylor, Rev. E. D. Landreth, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will lead in prayer.

Following the prayer, Carl Rountree, prominent Lamesa attorney, District Judge Louis B. Reed, and the Baptist pastor, Rev. E. F. Cole, will make short addresses.

E. C. Nix, Sr., will have charge of the placing of the depository.

Following this ceremony, an open house is to be held, with the membership of the church as hosts to the people of the territory. The doors of the church are to be opened and everyone, Baptist and all other denominations, will be allowed to go through the recently completed structure.

Official acceptance of the church will be held Sunday, and the general public is cordially invited to attend these services also.

The First Baptist Church of Lamesa dates its history to the summer of 1905, and in these years their progress has been continual, but perhaps at no time has the church been as proud of anything as they are of the magnificent new edifice.

With the completion of the new building, a little history of the Lamesa First Baptist Church would not be amiss. And in order to show (Continued on Back Page)

Baptist Sunday School Clinic To Be Held Dec. 10

The Baptist churches of the Lamesa District will meet in an all day Sunday School Clinic on Wednesday, December 10, at the First Baptist Church in Lamesa.

The Baptist State offices are sending an experienced team of workers to meet with the association, and to counsel with them on all phases of Sunday School work. The team personnel is as follows: W. J. Lites, Dallas; Rev. W. G. Harrison, District Missionary, Big Spring; and Rev. Dick O'Brien, the pastor of the First Baptist Church, Stamford.

An interesting and educational program has been arranged, and every Sunday School officer and worker in the association is cordially invited to be present and study at all sessions.

Because the Lamesa church is in the process of moving, it will be reasonably impossible to serve lunch at the church. Lamesa regrets this but the Association understands and will be glad to cooperate.

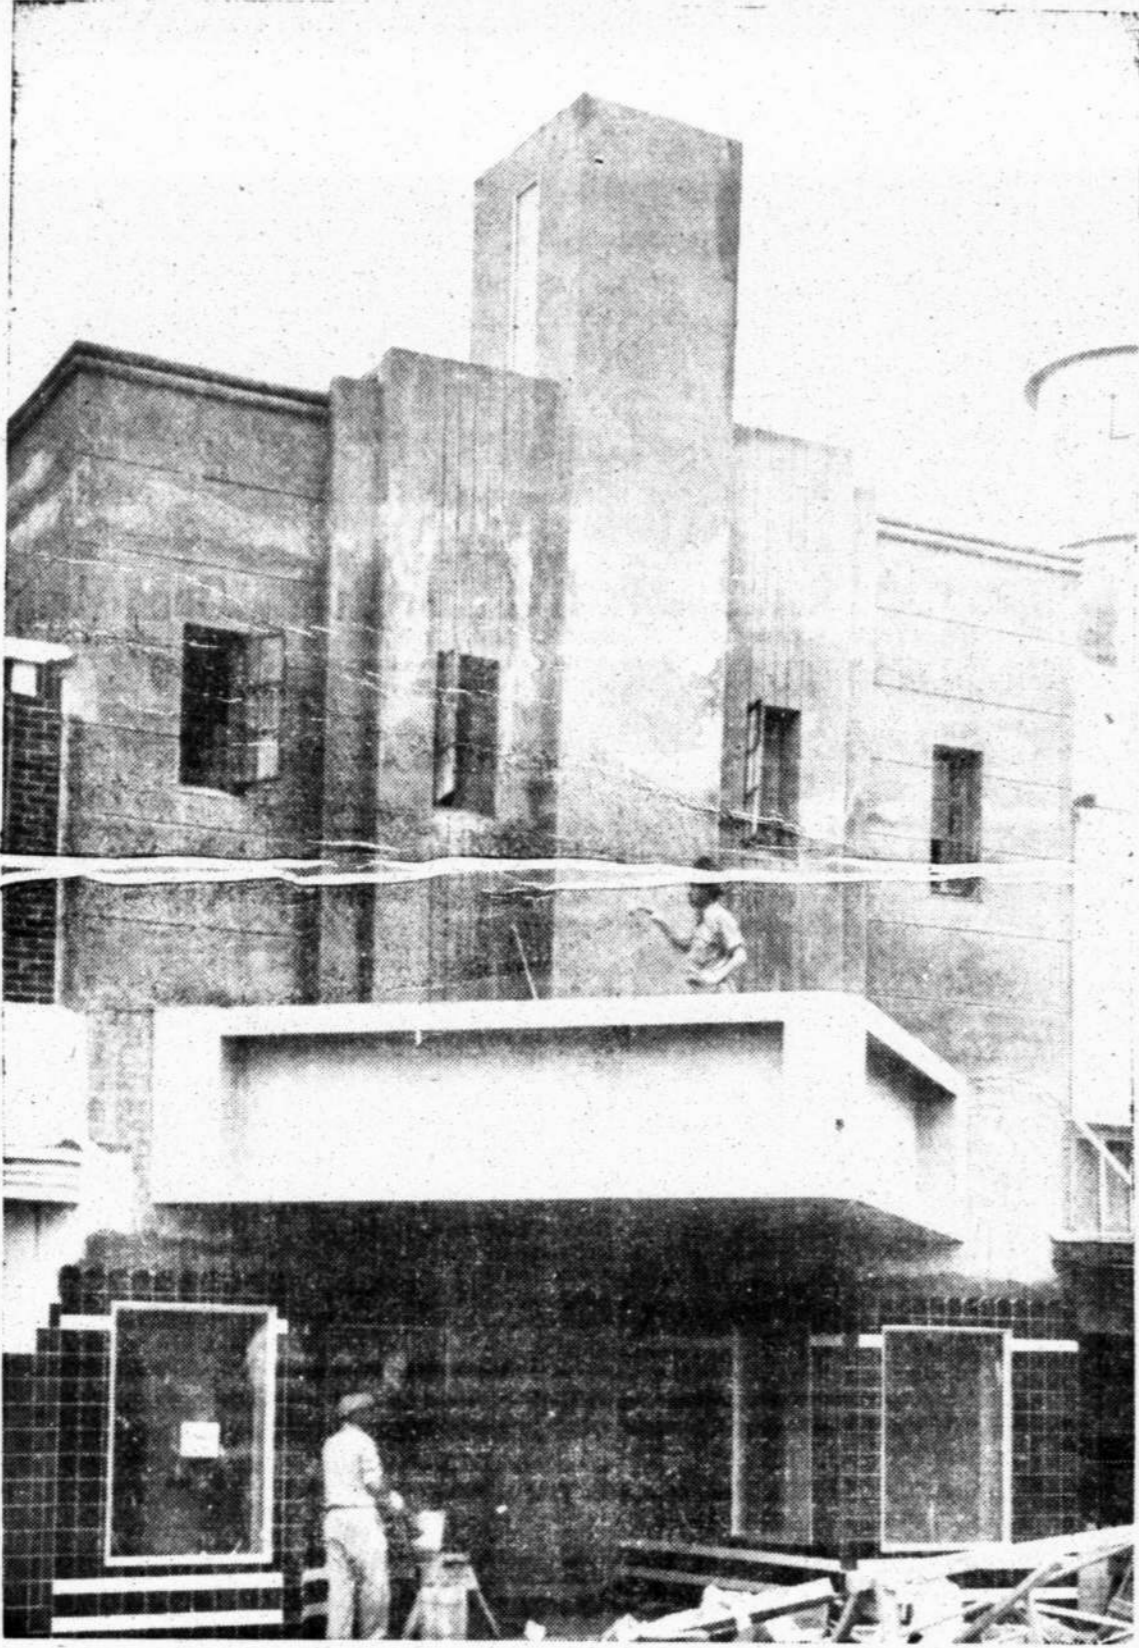

Courier To Publish Santa Claus Letters

Once again The Courier has made arrangements with Santa Claus to act as a clearing house for the kiddies letters to him, as to what they want for Christmas.

So all you children write your letters to Santa Claus, The Dawson County Courier, Lamesa, and we will see that they are delivered to him. Get them written and mailed as early as possible, so that we will have plenty of time to send them on to Santa.

All letters received by the Courier will be published in the annual Christmas edition of the paper and then forwarded on to Santa.

TWO CABLE LAYING CREWS HAVE RENDEZVOUS IN UTAH

AP Feature Service. Just as the railroad had their driving of the golden spike, the communication systems in another year will have a wedding of the wires to symbolize the historic union of the nation's first coast to coast under ground cables.

Moving at a quickened pace because of the press of defense needs, cable laying crews are expected to finish the job three years ahead of original plans. In December of 1942, possibly sooner, crews facing the west and crews facing the east will meet at Wendover, Utah.

When they do, the country will have a buried communications system protected against sleet, lightning, fire, and easily effected wartime sabotage or destruction. And there will be no disruption in the flow of long distance telephone calls, telegraph and teletype messages transmission of pictures and radio programs.

Hard work and lots of it is this $21,000,000 project of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and affiliates, who are burying twin cables from Omaha to Sacramento—1630 miles almost as the crow flies. With exception of a few short gaps, soon to be eliminated, underground cables now extend from New York to Missouri.

Nearly 600 miles of cable already have been plowed in from Omaha westward, and the lines to Denver will go into service early in December, the A. T. & T. announce.

One crew is working westward in the near vicinity of Laramie, Wyo., about Dec. 1. In late October, another crew began working eastward out of Emigrant Gap, in the High Sierras.

Wendover, projected meeting place, was the scene in 1914 of the finishing splice in the first telephone line to span the country.

The new cables supplement "open wire" transcontinental lines, and eventually will carry about 600 telephone and miscellaneous channels, about triple the present number of such circuits. One of the twin cables is for west-bound channels, the other for east. Each is about as thick as a child's wrist, and is protected against corrosive soils by a plastic cover and from rodents by a steel tape.

The cable-laying trains consist of four tractors, two plows and three trailers. The forward plow thrusts aside roots and stones. The cables in 3,000 foot lengths, are pulled along on trailers and fed into the trench through an eye in the second plow. Digging, cable-laying and back-filling is a continuous operation, and farming may go on as before.

Usually, the trench is 30 to 36 inches deep. When swamps must be

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION FAVORS RESTORING OF VITAMINS TO FOODS

The Council on Foods of the American Medical Association favors the restoration of vitamins and minerals to staple foods, which due to processing of their ingredients, have lost a part or all of their natural content. Bread is the logical carrier for Vitamin B1. It is eaten by most people daily and in amounts sufficient to make it the ideal vehicle for increasing the Vitamin B1 intake. Blue Ribbon Enriched Bread not only restores Vitamin B1, but also nicotinic acid (pellagra-preventive "factor") and iron in amounts to equal that of bread made with average whole

A splendid accomplishment. Now it is possible to get delicious white bread containing the important vitamin B1, also the pellagra-preventive factor, and iron lost in the process of milling the wheat. Blue Ribbon Enriched Bread meets requirements for these nutritive essentials as suggested by the committee on Food and Nutrition of the National Research Council for Enriched Bread.—Campbell Bakery

Survey Of Motor Transportation
Survey of motor transportation facilities within the state began to produce effective results the past week as F. Thayer Stoddard, Director of the Texas Division of the National Truck and Bus Inventory, reported having received completed forms on forty-one per cent of the estimated number of buses and trucks in the State.
Lyon B. Shaw, General Manager of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, said tabulations had been run on 119,000 returns, and that officials in charge of the survey hope to secure reports on at least 75 per cent of the trucks and buses operating in the State. A special effort is being made to get data on all privately owned school vehicles.
Of the total number of questionnaires mailed out, 45,000 have been returned by the Post Office for better addresses. Almost all of these failed to reach the truck or trailer owner because of change in address since the vehicle was registered, or due to registration having been made in one county when the owner resided elsewhere.
Shaw emphasized the fact that the government must have information on trucks and trailers in order to plan production to meet all requirements under the defense program. Completed forms should be mailed to War Department, 607 Highway Bldg., Austin Texas.

Quail Season Is Now Open

The quail season (December 1st through January 18th) is on, and the Game Department goes once again to the assistance of the house wife. How do you cook quail?
Well, broiled quail, according to game officials, is one of the tastiest of dishes, and here's how you do it:
Split the birds down the back and season well in the body cavity. Dot the bottom of a hot pan with butter and place quail in breast up. Cover pan tightly. After steaming ten minutes in moderate oven, turn breast down for ten minutes. Turn the birds once more, put a teaspoon of butter on each, and then in ten minutes the birds will be brown and tender if they are young. Older quail will require more cooking. When done add one-half cup of hot water to gravy and pour over the birds.

A Tale Of The Hunt

An old East Texas boy went out deer hunting opening day. He had a pretty good rifle. He took his dog along, for he lived in a county where you can legally chase wounded deer with one dog. He was hunting in his home county, so he didn't have to have a hunting license. But somehow he believed that he had to have a special license to kill a deer. He didn't have one, and his conscience was hurting him, whether he knew it or not.
Just as he got set, with his dog

Game Violations Do Not Pay . . .

Back in December, 1940, a Missouri business executive and two friends came to Texas for a deer hunt. They didn't buy non-resident hunting licenses which cost $25 each, but instead bought the regular $2 resident hunting licenses required of those who hunt outside of the county of residence.
But the Missourians couldn't beat the game laws of Texas. It took a year to do it, but the business executive from Missouri the other day paid fines totaling $411 for himself and his friends, according to the Dallas Journal. The charges were pressed in justice court by the Game Supervisor for the Dallas area, who handled all details of the case.

The non-resident licenses would have cost the party only $75. There's quite a little difference between $75 and $411.

Give Pointers On Cooking Duck

This year during the duck season many county home demonstration agents and other home economists in Texas have been asked: "How do you cook wild duck?"
To help hunters and hunters wives, Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for A. and M. College Extension Service, offers the idea that recipes for wild fowl are quite similar to recipes for preparing any poultry.
Wild birds have a better flavor and are more tender if you hang them a few days before cooking, the specialist says. She adds the warning that the ducks must be kept at a fairly low temperature, otherwise they might spoil. Pluck them dry, remove all pin feathers, and then rub the down off. Remove the head and feet, and draw the bird.
Whether or not you use highly seasoned stuffing depends on the way you like your duck—whether you want to feature the "gamey" flavor or disguise it. Instead of stuffing wild duck, many people cut down the wild taste by putting a sliced apple, an onion, and a piece of celery or two inside a duck when roasting it. All should be removed at serving time.

Dec. 19 Date For Election Of AAA Committeemen

The State AAA committee has set Friday, December 19, as the date for election of community committeemen and delegates to the county convention.

The same procedure will be followed in the committee elections this year as in previous years. George Slaughter, state committee chairman, said. Farmers in each community will elect three committeemen who will serve during the coming year. At the same time, they will elect a delegate and alternate delegate to a county convention which will be held the following day. The convention will elect the county committee of three members and two alternates.
"Selection of the right men to serve as committeemen is more important this year than ever before," Slaughter, a Wharton county farmer, declared. "The Food-For-Freedom campaign has resulted in more work for committeemen, and it is expected that the follow-up on the campaign will require that committeemen spend more time working with the program than in previous years."

The AAA official emphasized the added importance of electing the right man as county committee chairman, especially since he serves also as chairman of the county USDA defense board which administers the Farm Defense Program.
"County chairmen should be good organizers and leaders, capable of obtaining the fullest cooperation all board members and farmers," Slaughter said.

Interstate Area In Dispute

Shaded narrow strip running 150 feet eastward into Louisiana from the present Texas-Louisiana boundary between the 32nd and 33rd parallels is claimed by Texas in a dispute. Louisiana in turn claims all the waters of the Sabine riverbed, lake and pass below the 32nd parallel to the Gulf of Mexico. Texas claims the dividing line runs along the middle of the winding river.

Repair Machinery Or Do Without

M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, is representing Texas at a farm machinery and equipment repair conference in Chicago December 4-5.

"Prompt repair and maintenance of farm machinery and equipment has always been a good farming practice," Bentley pointed out, "but this time it looks as if farmers will have to keep their equipment in working order or do without." Defense requirements have reduced the materials for new farm machinery to about two-thirds of that used in 1941. The shortage will extend to such farm items as bolts, nails, pipes, wire, and bar and sheet steel. Every effort will be made to keep up the supply of repair parts.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the state extension services have launched a farm machinery repair program to help farmers meet the double challenge of an equipment shortage on one hand and increased agricultural production under the Food for Freedom campaign on the other.

NO ONE GETS DRUNK AT THIS BAR
Great Falls, Mont. (AP)—Sheriff Andy Loberg is opening a new night club and bar here for children only and selling soft drinks. He proposed his project because, he said, there were no public dance halls in Great Falls that "juveniles might properly attend."
The sheriff decided young people, especially high school students, would rather have their own place of amusement and preferred one where no liquor was sold.

Texas Traffic Deaths Skyrocketing

Relatively few Texas counties show improvement in their traffic death records for 1941. The map reflects that most subdivisions have made no improvement or actually are burying more traffic victims. The statewide 10-month toll is 1,542 compared with 1,403 for the same period last year. Safety Department statisticians fear the trend indicates a possible all-time record of 2,000 dead this year. Among big cities counties only Jefferson and Harris show decreases.

Texas Merchants Enlist For National Defense

Sixty thousand Texas merchants have been asked to sell defense savings stamps to six million Texans—and they have responded with a campaign designed to put defense stamps on sale at retail counters in every store in the state. Representatives of retail associations in all branches of the industry met in Austin to chart the program, which will be directed by the Texas Retailers for Defense committee. In the picture, left to right, are: Charles T. Lux, Austin, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas; H. E. Dill, Dallas, secretary of the Retail Furniture Association of Texas; Frank Scofield, Austin, State Administrator of National Defense in Texas; Albert L. Walters, Dallas, secretary of the Texas Chain Stores Association; committee chairman, Dr. W. J. Danforth, Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association; and Roger Q. Flournoy, Dallas, secretary of the Texas Retail Grocers Association. Other members of the committee are P. D. Moreland, Austin, secretary of the State Restaurant Association of Texas, and J. H. LADY IT AIN'T THAT EASY

Pueblo, Colo. (AP)—"Just erase my marriage off your records. I understand it was illegal," said a letter County Clerk A. G. Kochenberger received from an Oklahoma woman.

She explained she was a divorcee when she was married in Pueblo two years ago; she placed her maiden name on the marriage license but legally her maiden name hadn't been restored to her; and thus, she said, the marriage must have been illegal.

"So since we have been separated for the past seven months please just strike the marriage from the records so it will be annulled," she wrote. Kochenberger advised her marriages aren't dissolved that way.

Repair Farm Machinery Now Is USDA Wraging

Texas farmers either must repair their old farm equipment or be caught short of machinery next year.

That's the warning the Texas USDA Defense Board issued here this week following a meeting to plan an intensive machinery-repair campaign in the state.

National defense demands have required that all steel formerly used in the manufacture of farm machinery be diverted to other uses, the board explained. As a result, the manufacture of new farm machinery for 1942 has been drastically curtailed and little, if any, new equipment will be available for farming next year's crops.

But the whole picture isn't dark. OPB has promised all the steel necessary to produce repair parts for farm equipment. If the Nation's farmers are to supply the food demands of both this nation and the nations resisting aggression, then they must have machinery with which to do it, the board said.

Farmers are urged to purchase parts now or place orders before January 1, so manufacturers of farm machinery will have a practical, sound basis for determining the extent of the repair program should begin at once to assure maximum production next year, he pointed out.

County USDA Defense Boards are being urged to make public checks with local implement dealers during the campaign to determine if unusual difficulty is being experienced in securing adequate number of repair parts and materials. Unusual delays are to be submitted to the State USDA Defense Board, the chairman said.

Home accidents are the eighth most important cause of deaths in the United States and are responsible for about 32,000 deaths and 4,700,000 disabling injuries each year.

ways for total killing of roots, trunks, limbs, sprouting stumps, and preventing regrowth of trees and shrubs of any size, standing or felled. Trees and shrubs can be cut off at the ground or underground and sprouting prevented by poisoning fresh cut stumps. Single trunked trees and sprouting old stumps can be poisoned in frilled girdles around trunks close to the ground. The chief expense is in cutting for poisoning, cost of poison alone being less than one cent per tree.

Sodium arsenite can be bought about as economically as mixing it in a pot in the back yard, and can be obtained in 50 pound drums. In commercial form the poison is a powder called dry, grey sodium arsenite and requires only dissolving in water. Users are cautioned to cover poisoned stumps with brush and to keep stock away from the area until rain washes off the application.

Lancaster suggests that land values should determine whether to cut and poison stumps or to girdle and poison standing trees. The latter is cheaper. A factor which will decide for many whether to undertake tree and shrub eradication is the need for "plenty of pasture to provide meat and milk for the family."

Give Formula For Seed Treatment Weevil Control

The first and most important factor in successful control of weevils in stored seed is a bin, or fumigation chamber, built so tightly that the gas will not flow away. Suitable temperature and a sufficient quantity of fumigant complete the preparation for the job.

According to Cameron Siddall, entomologist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, double walls and floors with building paper between one wall consisting of tightly fitting mached lumber, makes an ideal fumigating bin. Grain piled on the floor or ground may be fumigated with reasonable success by covering with a tarpaulin and throwing dirt on the edges. Barrels and boxes can be used for small amounts.

The temperature should be 75 degrees or higher. Carbon disulphide, otherwise known as highlife, is the best fumigant for farm use. But Siddall cautions that all lights and fires should be kept away from the liquid and its fumes as it is inflammable and explosive. Four to 20 cubic feet of bin space should be pounds of the liquid per thousand used, the quantity varying with the tightness of the container and temperature. For smaller containers these quantities can be used:

Half gallon jar, one quarter teaspoonful; gallon syrup bucket, one half teaspoonful; 25 pound lard can, five teaspoonfuls, and 50 gallon barrel, one ounce.

A mixture of three parts of volume of ethylene dichloride with one part carbon tetrachloride is free from fire hazard under ordinary conditions. It can be used as a substitute for carbon disulphide under circumstances where the latter cannot be used.

The seed should be put in first and for larger containers several gunnysacks placed on top, the carbon disulphide poured over them and the lid fastened. For smaller containers the liquid can be poured directly over the top of the seed. It also may be placed in shallow pans atop the seed, as the gas being heavier than air it settles downward. Seeds for planting should be kept in the tightly closed container 24 hours; if for food, 48 hours. Then ventilated thoroughly. Weevils also may be killed by placing seeds in a bag in cold water and heating to 140 degrees, and then drying quickly, or heating dry three or four hours at 135 degrees. Germination will not be injured.

Use Caution In Destroying Trees For Better Grass

Destruction of trees and shrubs in pastures is justified only where grass of greater value will replace them, advises Robert R. Lancaster pasture specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service. As grass values must pay the cost of clearing as well as offset any timber values, Lancaster cautions that straight-trunked trees, eight inches in diameter at a height of eight feet, and trees which will grow to that size should not be destroyed.

While making these reservations, he adds, fence any patches of shrubs vines and briars growing along stream banks and in other places which cannot be mowed, as refuges for game and song birds and as a means of preserving landscape beauty.

Among a number of chemicals tried out in tests of shrub killing under way at the Spur Texas Experiment station, sodium arsenite seems to have been the most effective and economical, Lancaster says. It may be applied in various

Baptist Church—

(Continued from Front Page) the actual progress of the church from its founding we think it would be proper and fitting that we do such.

The membership of the original church were mostly from Chicago just north of the present city of Lamesa, where they had organized in 1904 with W. A. Wilson, missionary, serving as pastor. Rev. J. T. Berryman served as the first pastor of the Lamesa church where they worshipped in the school house, later moving to the newly erected court house. It was here in the court house that Dr. Lee Scarborough held a revival in the summer of 1906, his brother Bill Scarborough and family being members of the Lamesa church. Bill Scarborough's son joined the church at the Chicago site, making the thirteenth member of the church. Since he was the thirteenth member, his daddy would not permit him to receive the hand of Christian Fellowship from the other members.

The Baptist congregation assisted the Methodist in building in 1907 and held services in the new Methodist Church two Sundays per month for a short time. Brother W. L. Whitley became pastor in 1907 and under his pastorate the Baptists erected a tabernacle in 1909. Brother John Watson followed as pastor, resigning in 1910. Brother W. B. Davis then followed, serving as pastor until 1912 when Rev. Ora L. Parrack became pastor, leaving after three months. Rev. J. O. Heath came to the field and served about one year. He was followed by Rev. J. F. Isbell who remained until 1915, when Rev. John P. Hardesty became the pastor. Under his pastorate, the church now being replaced and the old parsonage were built in 1915. He was followed by Rev. J. H. Edmunds, who was the first to live in the parsonage. He remained only a short time and Bro. W. R. Underwood succeeded him. Bro. Woodson came to the field in 1919 and served only a short time. In October 1920, Brother M. O. Grant entered the pastorate here and served for four years, followed by Rev. Ross A. Smith who resigned after five years.

The brick parsonage was erected in 1940. The old parsonage was moved away in September of that year to make room for an additional educational unit which was built in September 1936.

In 1929 Brother E. F. Cole accepted the Lamesa pastorate, coming here from Lancaster, near Dallas.

Under the leadership of Brother Cole, there has been a steady and gradual growth in the church, climaxed with the erection of their beautiful new church edifice. Especially commendable of Brother Cole is his ability to lead the people in peace and harmony. He is loved and respected by not only everyone in Lamesa but in all the surrounding territory.

Following are lists of the various committees, boards, church and Sunday School departments, all of whom have had a part in the progress and development of the Lamesa First Baptist Church, and whose work has been an integral part of the church expansion program.

Numbers of subscribers say they take the paper for the news it contains. They say the complete news of Lamesa and the individual communities of the county, as well as the releases of the different governmental agencies and the news and features of the Associated Press are well worth the subscription price.

Others claim that the greatest value in subscribing to the Courier is the large number of merchandising values offered weekly by the merchants of Lamesa through the advertising columns of the paper. They say they save more than enough each week by shopping the ads in one issue to pay the cost of their subscription.

Tower Theatre—

The movie equipment is of the very latest Simplex type, and has many features and improvements not usually found in small city theatres. This equipment embodies the greatest range of frequency to be found on any projector, and whether the movie scene calls for thunderous noise or complete silence, it can take care of the situation. The machinery was especially designed to prevent any distortion of sound, regardless of intensity, and has a reserve of power to handle all volume needed.

The latest type speaker system assures an exact reproduction of the sounds recorded, without interference or distortion. The machines are equipped with the latest type pure white lights, so that the technicolor films are reproduced in all of their original beauty.

The projection booth at the Tower is as completely fireproof as it is humanly possible to make. The floor is of concrete, with walls plastered, and all outlets and doorway covered with sheet metal.

The building has been completely air conditioned, and will be heated by the modern blower-type circulating warm air furnaces.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox are to be congratulated upon the completion of this fine new theatre, and it marks another step forward in the progress of entertainment in Lamesa. Allen and Waller were the architects and contractors on the new Tower, with the Ashley Electric Co. doing the electrical work.

Navy Recruiting Cruiser Visits In Lamesa Thursday

As part of a campaign to enlist men for the duration of the national emergency, the U. S. Navy Recruiting Cruiser, anchored in Lamesa all day Thursday in front of the Lamesa National Bank.

"We are now accepting applications from men between the ages of 17 and 50 for the duration of the emergency and it is not necessary to enlist for six years," Chief Electrician's Mate W. T. Nickell, recruiter in charge of the Cruiser said.

"There are opportunities for young men to attend trade schools, travel and follow a career in the Navy," he said.

Lamesa is one of fifty towns in North and West Texas to be visited by the Recruiting Cruiser. It left late Thursday for Midland.

Besides the advantages of a naval career, Chief Nickell pointed out that the Navy also is seeking men with experience in private life that qualifies them for ratings in the Naval Reserve on active duty.

Men may be enlisted as firemen, machinists, carpenters, boiler-makers, stenographers and many other ratings paying from $60 to $99 a month.

The moving pictures shown by the Cruiser's crew, were shown before the Lions Club Thursday and at the high school Thursday afternoon and night.

A recruiter from the Big Spring sub recruiting station will be in Lamesa all day Friday.

Other members of the Cruiser crew were F. W. Page, Chief Water Tender; J. R. T. Barton, Chief Pharmacist Mate, and R. W. Pinklea, Yeoman, second class, who reported that he once lived in Lamesa back in 1924.

Chief Nickell also pointed out that young men in this community who prefer the Navy to induction into the Army, must make application to enlist in the Navy before they receive their orders to appear for the Army physical examination or for induction.
