DICK MORRIS NAMED NEW CHIEF OF POLICE

Petting Party Slayers Caught, Saved From Mob, Tried And Given Life

Secret Committee To Probe Fire Losses Here

JUSTICE MOVES SPEEDILY FOR TORCH KILLERS

Two White Men and Negro Convicted for Deaths Of Youngsters

BOMBS HALT CROWD

Detailed Confession Gives Brutal Facts of Four Youth's Murder

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 13. (AP)—Heavily guarded against the possibility of trouble on route, the three torch slayers arrived at the Michigan state prison tonight. They will be transferred later to Michigan branch prison, at Marquette, where they are to spend the remainder of their lives.

The first car of the cavalcade arrived at the prison gates at 11:26 p. m.

Warden Harry Jackson had 300 guards on duty, but state police had barred all traffic from the vicinity of the prison and there was no demonstration.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 13. (AP)—The three petting party bandits who today confessed to the murders of four high school youngsters, two girls and two boys, near Ypsilanti, tonight were tried and sentenced to life in prison in one of the quickest trials in the history of the country.

Those sentenced were Frank Oliver, Fred Smith and David Thomas, alias Nathan Blackstone, the latter a negro.

The negro assaulted Miss Anna May Harrison, one of the victims, according to testimony of his white companions.

They were sentenced to the Michigan branch prison at Marquette, but were to spend the night in the state prison at Jackson, 38 miles from here. Each was sentenced on four charges of murder, the life sentences not to run concurrently.

Detailed Testimony

The killers, David Blackstone, alias Popeye, a negro, Fred Smith, and Frank Oliver, white men, gave their detailed statements of how they killed Harry Lore, Thomas Wheatley, Anna May Harrison and Vivian Gold and burned the bodies.

Their detailed testimony was taken in court before Judge George W. Sample, of the Washtenaw county circuit court who pronounced sentence.

A short time previously the trio had been arraigned before Justice Jay H. Payne, who held court in the county jail.

After they were sentenced, the men were to be taken from the jail for transfer to the state prison.

Bombs Thwart Mob

Gas bombs were used to disperse a crowd that charged in the direction of the three men as they were being taken to the county courthouse early tonight.

The prisoners were taken from the jail to the courthouse in two automobiles, which crossed the sidewalk and went to the courthouse doors.

The crowd around the jail, which had been growing steadily, moved on the two cars. The gas bombs were effective, and the prisoners were taken inside the courthouse safely.

The courthouse was closely guarded during the proceedings and no one was allowed to go in or out.

Moved to Ann Arbor

Immediately after the confessions were obtained in the Ypsilanti city hall, the prisoners were brought to Ann Arbor.

Despite a heavy guard, a mob assembled and as the killers were led to automobiles, they were attacked. Oliver's clothing was torn by men who evaded the officers.

The three were finally protected from violence and taken away. They may be removed to Wayne county jail in Detroit to avoid disturbance in Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor where feeling is intense.

Thomas' confession came after an all-day grilling. His story was this:

Monday night he went to a

Widespread Gambling On Border Causes Closing Order

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (US)—Because gambling resorts are flourishing across the Mexican border and enticing Americans, bridges across the Rio Grande river between Texas and Mexico were ordered closed from 9 p. m., to 8 a. m., daily effective Saturday, by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman today.

Shortly after the bridges were opened for all night traffic last March, gambling resorts were said to have sprung up on the Mexican side. Mexicans were forbidden to indulge in the games of chance and other vices offered at some places, these being reserved for Americans, Lowman said he had been advised.

Many petitions for early closing of the bridges had been received by the treasury department.

FARM BOARD PASSES BUCK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—The farm board today left to the governors of the southern states the responsibility for carrying out its proposal that a third of the present cotton crop be destroyed to prevent an economic disaster in that section.

This announcement was made as it began receiving reactions of the state executives to its plan, not all of which were favorable. At least four governors said they regarded the proposition as impractical in application. The cotton trade also was skeptical.

In its proposal, announced last night, the board pledged itself in return for the destruction asked of the southern planters, to withhold its stabilization supplies of cotton from the market for a year.

Prices Climb

Prices moved upward today in the wake of the suggestion after falling last Saturday to the lowest level in years in response to a government estimate that the 1931 crop would aggregate 15,584,000 bales, much more than had been expected.

Chairman Stone of the board and Carl Williams, cotton member, promised every cooperation in carrying out the proposal but emphasized that the plan's success depended entirely on the attitude of the 14 governors to whom it was addressed.

They predicted a gain of millions of dollars in increased prices if the plan goes through, in addition to other big savings by reason of a smaller crop to cultivate and the ultimate effect on future markets.

Murray Pessimistic

"It is up to the people of the South," said Williams, "if they want to accept a drastic remedy for this situation."

Meanwhile, Governors Carlton of

Healing of Rome-Church Breach Believed Near

ROME, Aug. 13. (US)—Settlement of the Italo-Vatican quarrel over the Catholic Action society is predicted within a short space of time, according to advice from well-informed quarters today.

Although diplomatic exchanges have stopped momentarily, quiet negotiations between trusted advisers for each side are taking place behind the scenes.

Basis for an agreement which will bring peace without loss of honor or prestige by either side is believed to have been found in a compromise.

LEADERS MAP CAMPAIGN TO STOP BLAZES

Officials Alarmed at Steady Decline in Ratings Since 1928

RIGID INVESTIGATION

Searching Inquiries Urged To Find Origin Of All Fires

Plans for launching immediately an intensive campaign designed to reduce the number of serious fires in Wichita Falls and to obtain for this city a better fire record with the state fire commission were formulated Thursday morning in a meeting of local officials and citizens held in the directors' room of the Wichita State Bank & Trust company.

Thursday morning's conference was called jointly by City Manager V. R. Smitham, J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the chamber of commerce, J. W. Lyle, president of the Wichita Falls Safety council, and Fire Chief J. L. McClure. It was occasioned, according to those in charge, by the unusually heavy fire losses recorded in the city during the past few months, and by the letter received last week by Mr. Smitham from State Fire Commissioner DeWeese.

Over-Insurance

In a resolution adopted unanimously, it was said that the assembled council went on record as recommending to all interested fire insurance companies and their local representatives that a more rigid investigation be made relative to valuations of property upon which fire insurance has been or will be issued. The group also recommended that provisions be made for a careful inspection designed to eliminate all possible cases of over-insurance on property.

Members of the group referred to the figures set out in the fire commissioner's communication of last week, which appeared in The Record News, and declared that the constant loss in fire record credit has occasioned a serious problem for the citizenship of this city. It was pointed out that in 1928 Wichita Falls enjoyed a maximum credit of 15 per cent on fire insurance premiums because of a good fire record, but that the credit has decreased steadily since that year. The credit allowed for 1931 is but three per cent, and Chief McClure declared that on the basis of losses thus far recorded, Wichita Falls will lose that small credit during the coming year, and may actually have a penalty imposed. Under the existing laws, it was said, the state fire commission may grant a maximum of 15 per cent credit, or impose a maximum penalty of 15 per cent.

Many of the fires which have occurred here in recent months, it was said, have aroused serious suspicion as to their origin. Members of the group which met Thursday morning declared that in the interest of local citizens, action to pro-

Texan Found Guilty Of Dynamite Slaying

LIVINGSTON, Texas, Aug. 13. (AP)—After 17 hours' deliberation, a jury in district court this afternoon found Joe B. Zimmerman, 46, guilty of a charge of murder and affixed his punishment at nine years in the state prison. A motion for a new trial and notice of appeal was given by defense attorney.

Zimmerman had been charged with murder after the fatal explosion Dec. 19, 1930, which cost the life of his neighbor, Mallie T. Nettles, 56, farmer.

Joe Shield Pays for Wife's Death In Electric Chair Early Friday

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 14. (Friday)—(AP)—Joe Shield, triple slayer of Brown county, went to his death in the electric chair at the state prison here early this morning. He was pronounced dead at 12:12 a. m., eight minutes after the first charge of current entered his body.

Shield was convicted of slaying his estranged wife and charged with killing her parents at Brookesmith, Brown county, May 16, 1930.

With a smile on his thin lips, the man entered the small death chamber with a step light and steady. He marched directly to the chair. Three wardens stepped up and went about the business of adjusting the electrodes. Their work done, they stepped back and a split second later, a dynamo whirred.

When Shield entered the death chamber he looked neither to the right nor left. He walked straight to the front of the room and faced Warden W. W. Waid.

Standing there in the garish light he looked the prison official squarely in the eyes as he was asked if he had anything to say.

The room was as still as a tomb.

"Well, I don't believe I have except, warden, I have too much regard for you and I ask you not to press the button that kills me."

He turned to the crowd, held up his hand and said, "if there is anyone out there who is my friend—goodbye."

As he started to sit down in the chair he saw newspaper reporters with pencils poised. "Boys, please don't forget to treat me fair in your stories," he said.

After sitting in the chair, he bowed his head.

"I am praying to God to forgive everybody and may God forgive me."

"Men, I am dying for the love of my two little girls. I am ready."

Almost before the echo of his last word had died away, the first charge surged through his body. Two more charges were applied in quick succession.

BETTER THAN NONE

Wichitans Hopeful New Oil Law Will Aid Sick Industry

"It's better than nothing, and if properly enforced it will eventually become an instrument that will bring the oil industry back to normalcy from the chaotic conditions that have existed for the last year."

That, briefly, was the consensus of opinion among a delegation of Wichita Falls operators who returned Thursday from attendance upon the last three days of the special legislative session.

T. F. Hunter, president of the North Texas Oil & Gas association, who attended practically every session of the legislative body, stated that he considered the compromise measure was a good one if adhered to strictly, and that it was a much better bill than was expected in the stormy day just prior to its final approval.

The measure as passed did not contain everything the independents wanted and its effectiveness will depend largely on the interpretation given it by the railroad commission and operators, the Wichitans believe.

In the Wichita Falls delegation were J. S. Bridwell, M. W. Blair, E. H. Eddleman, P. B. Flynn, T. F. Hunter, L. H. Cullum, C. P. McGaha and John F. O'Donohoe.

OIL OPTIMISM SEEN IN TEXAS

Magnolia Raises Price In East Texas Field

AUSTIN, Aug. 13. (AP)—Optimism spread among oil men of the mid-continent area today after the Texas legislature passage of a new oil conservation law.

Designed to curb overproduction waste in the giant new East Texas field, the law was expected to have the effect of stabilizing crude oil prices. Oil shares responded today with an upturn on the New York exchange.

One major purchaser, the Magnolia Petroleum company, announced effective today an increase in its flat rate posted price in East Texas from 20 to 25 cents per barrel at the well. Seven-cent crude disappeared from the East Texas field last week and most of the oil moved from the area was reported to have sold at 15 cents or higher.

Operators in the district, however, went ahead with plans for a meeting tomorrow to consider a shutdown in the field until the prices increase materially, and to discuss the formation of a cooperative marketing organization.

Gov. Ross S. Sterling notified the group of operators sponsoring the meeting that he would address the Tyler group tomorrow night, speaking on problems of the oil industry of particular importance to East Texas.

Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma, who closed oil wells in that state by martial law, last week, also was due to reach Texas tomorrow for a visit, speaking in Dallas Saturday night. Importance was attached to his visit and what he would have to say in view of the relation of the East Texas field to the recent crisis in Oklahoma oil fields.

Runaway Coach Spreads Ruin in Wild Career

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 13. (INS)—Five persons were thrown from their beds, four automobiles were demolished and the home of Edwin Lymphany was damaged today when the "riding" car of a fast Buffalo-New York Lehigh Valley railroad express train uncoupled itself from a string of cars, raced four miles down grade and crashed into the house, at Hell Gate, near here.

The car, a regulation baggage coach empty of trainmen, picked up terrific momentum as it raced down the long grade. At Hell Gate, the flying car struck a sharp curve, jumped the tracks and plowed into the Lymphany home.

Hoover Greets Children In Nation's Playgrounds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (US)—Sweeping aside the heavy burdens of state temporarily, President Hoover today issued a message rejoicing with the children of the land in their play and sports which go to make for happy and healthy boys and girls.

The message was to the 2,500,000 children of public playgrounds in nearly 1,000 communities and was in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the National Recreation association.

Murder Seen in Fatal Pennsylvania Fire

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Aug. 13. (INS)—Believed a possible murder victim, an unidentified man was burned to death today in a fire which destroyed the home of Lewis Pagley, here.

The charred body of the victim was found soon after the fire had razed the dwelling.

STATE CALLS HEARING FOR NEW OIL RULES

Railroad Commission Sets Aug. 25 For Discussion Of Orders

MURRAY FOR CHANGE

Oklahoma Governor Urges Unitization of Sands In Proration

AUSTIN, Aug. 13. (AP)—The railroad commission today called a hearing here Aug. 25 to issue a new oil proration order for East Texas pursuant to the new law enacted last night.

The commission first decided to hold the hearing Aug. 24 but the attorney general's department advised the statutes might invalidate a hearing before Aug. 25.

The present allowable is about 270,000 barrels daily but the proration order has not been enforced, with the result production has run as high as 650,000 barrels. Gov. Ross S. Sterling, who called a special session of the legislature, and many oil men believed the new law could be better enforced.

The commission's call made it plain the new order would prevent physical waste only. The law forbade the commission from considering the market outlet in determining the allowable production.

The call said the hearing would be held "for the purpose of determining whether waste is taking place or is reasonably imminent in the East Texas field, and if so what rules, regulations or orders shall be adopted and enforced for the prevention of waste in said field, and also what rules, regulations or orders shall be adopted for the enforcement of or pertaining to the common carrier and common purchaser laws."

OPERATORS HERE TO MEET SATURDAY

According to L. V. Hull, proration umpire in the Wichita Falls district, at a meeting of the proration advisory board, will be held Saturday morning at his office in the Panhandle building.

The meeting is for a discussion of the new law enacted by the state legislature and the effect it will have on conditions in local fields. Exact time of the session will be announced later.

32 WELLS BLAMED FOR OVER SUPPLY

HENDERSON, Texas, Aug. 13. (UP)—East Texas record production of 650,000 barrels daily last week as compared to 268,000 barrels allowable, was blamed by Umpire Ray W. Richmond today on 32 wells operating under an injunction against the railroad commission's orders.

Lindberghs Plan To Circle Globe

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 13. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh disclosed here tonight his plans to continue his flight around the world after reaching Tokyo, the immediate destination of his "vacation flight."

Without going into details of his proposed route, he said the "vacation" would be extended by a series of flights to Europe. He did not say whether his projected route lay across Siberia or south through China and India.

A number of visits will be made first, he said, to Japanese and Chinese cities.

From Europe, the crossing of the Atlantic to America will be made by way of the Azores islands, he added.

Ballinger Man Heads Druggists' Association

ABILENE, Texas, Aug. 13. (AP)—R. W. Earnshaw of Ballinger was elected president of the West Texas Pharmaceutical association at the conclusion of the body's semiannual convention here today. He succeeds J. E. Smith of San Angelo.

Floyd Bowen of Lubbock was renamed vice president and Lawrence Davis of Sweetwater was retained as secretary. Frank Cordell of El Paso and Louis Montgomery of Abilene were named as new members of the executive board.

Chemical Industry Joins Fight on Freight Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (US)—The railroads were given further warning today of decreased revenues if they persist in raising freight rates during the present depression.

Witnesses for the chemical industry told the Interstate Commerce commission that raising rail costs would compel the industry to find new means of transportation.

Mayor Walker's 'Beauty' Lures Her

Mayor "Jimmy" Walker probably doesn't know it, but it was a desire to visit a city ruled by such a handsome man which lured Fraulein Margaret Haller from her home in Germany to a place in the chorus of the "Scandals of 1931."

Testimony Against Judge on Charge Of Fee Negligence Opens in House

First Witness Called in Bastrop Jurist's Hearing After Impeachment Motion Is Withdrawn

AUSTIN, Aug. 13. (AP)—House prosecutors late today called the first witness in the investigation of charges against J. B. Price of Bastrop, judge of the 21st district court, that he was negligent in approving exorbitant claims for fees and mileage.

The witness was H. Grady Chandler, former first assistant attorney general.

The move to call the first witness came dramatically after the house had refused to table a motion directing house prosecutors to draft articles of impeachment embodying the charges made July 31 that Judge Price was negligent and incompetent and unlawfully approved the fee claims.

Before the vote could be taken direct on the motion to instruct the drafting of the charges, the house became involved in a bitter debate that ended when Representative Harry Graves of Georgetown, one of the house prosecutors, withdrew the motion and called Chandler.

Shortly after Chandler was called to the stand, Judge R. L. Batts, chief defense counsel, objected to the procedure on the ground it did not afford Price's counsel time in which to arrange the case.

At the conclusion of Batts' argument, Representative Julian Harrison of El Paso renewed the motion.

If adopted it would end the house investigation and the articles of impeachment would be placed in the hands of the senate for trial.

Judge Price has filed an amended answer in the case admitting the substantial truth of the allegations contained in the charges.

Batts argued against drafting articles of impeachment without introduction of testimony.

The legislature adjourned last night but the house is conducting the price investigation as a committee of the whole.

Chiropodists Outline Contests in Walking

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13. (US)—Clubs to encourage normal walking and contests with prizes for those displaying the most nearly perfect gait, will be encouraged during the coming year by the National Association of Chiropodists, whose annual convention is under way here.

More walking is necessary unless we wish to become a nation of helpless people was the keynote of today's sessions.

CLARK ADMITS SLAYING PAIR

Self Defense Claimed In Attorney's Trial

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13. (AP)—In a voice that never waivered, David H. Clark from the witness stand today admitted he killed Charles Crawford and Herbert Spencer and claimed he fired in self-defense as Crawford attempted to kill him.

Vare Henchman Yields To Fatal Heart Attack

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 13. (UP)—Sheriff Thomas W. Cunningham, political leader in Philadelphia many years, died today after suffering a nervous breakdown and heart collapse several weeks ago.

The 72-year-old Vare lieutenant suffered the breakdown while here to confer with William S. Vare on a mayoralty candidate for Philadelphia. His illness was kept secret for sometime, and even until yesterday his physicians denied rumors that his condition was critical.

President's Visit Brings Lull in Cuban Battle

HAVANA, Aug. 13. (AP)—President Gerardo Machado personally invaded Cuba's revolutionary strongholds in Santa Clara province today and a lull in the scattered fighting between troops and rebels indicated both sides had declared an informal truce, pending results of the president's visit.

The palace announced he intended to make a personal inspection of conditions there and to treat with certain opposition leaders.

Wife Asks $140,000 in Alienation Suit Against Texas Woman

BALLINGER, Texas, Aug. 13. (AP)—Charging alienation of her husband's affections, Mrs. Mayme Ruth Honeycutt of Ballinger has filed suit in the 119th district court here against Mrs. Mamie McElroy and John T. McElroy of El Paso and New Mexico and asks $140,000 damages. She seeks $70,000 actual and $70,000 exemplary damages.

The petition alleges the trouble started Nov. 18, 1927, when the Honeycutts were married on the McElroy ranch in New Mexico. Mrs. Honeycutt, then Mayme Ruth Gressett, and her father, J. E. Gressett, had gone to the ranch to work when she fell in love with Honeycutt and married him.

Mrs. McElroy was ill in Dallas but wired Honeycutt "what I have always told you stands good. You are fired. Get your clothes ready and you stay there but send the girl and her family off my ranch," the petition recites.

Numerous interferences and separations are listed as allegedly following the wedding including a divorce in March, 1930, and a remarriage in November, 1930.

The Honeycutt divorce suit is pending in district court here.

DETECTIVE IS PROMOTED BY CITY MANAGER

Smitham Confirms Selection of Veteran Officer As Department Head

SUCCEEDS F. L. BURNS

Morris Given Title of Acting Chief for Indefinite Period of Time

R. D. (Dick) Morris, a resident of Wichita county for almost 40 years, and a peace officer for more than six years, was appointed Acting Chief of Police by City Manager V. R. Smitham Thursday afternoon and will assume that post Saturday morning, Aug. 15.

Mr. Morris will succeed Frank L. Burns, chief of police here since April, 1927, whose resignation was tendered to Mr. Smitham Thursday afternoon. His appointment was declared to be for an indefinite period, with the intimation that his conduct of the police department may win the post permanently.

Experienced as Officer

Since Feb. 26 of this year, Mr. Morris has been a member of the city police force, working until about May 1 as a night patrolman, and since that time as a member of the plainclothes staff. During the four years ending Dec. 31, 1930, he was a field deputy under Sheriff W. G. Bralley. During the oil boom, from 1918 to 1920, Mr. Morris was chief deputy under Sheriff R. L. McFall.

For 10 years before his first appointment as a deputy sheriff, the new chief was county road superintendent, and prior to that period had been engaged in construction work.

It was announced Thursday evening that Mr. Morris will work in conjunction with Chief Burns during Friday and Saturday, familiarizing himself with the office organization at police headquarters. The resignation of Chief Burns, announced Wednesday, was handed formally to City Manager Smitham Thursday in the form of the following letter;

Burns' Resignation

"Mr. V. R. Smitham, City Manager of the city of Wichita Falls.

Dear Sir:

"At your convenience you will please accept my resignation as chief of police, assuring you I shall be pleased to give my successor, whosoever he may be, all possible assistance and information which I may have, in order for him better to serve Wichita Falls, where I have lived for 21 years.

"Having enjoyed the association of fellow workers in the past, I want through your office as my supervisor, publicly to thank each and every man in the police department who are working under me, as well as all the other officers of Wichita county and surrounding counties, all of whom have cooperated with me to the fullest extent and in whom I have great confidence. I wish for them and with my successor in office the same friendly relations and cooperation.

"I have given the city the best service at all times within my power to render, and it is my hope you will be able to procure a man for the position who may have the ability to render even better service.

"Yours very truly,

"Frank L. Burns."

Mr. Morris declined Thursday to make any statement relative to his appointment, saying that he would devote his thought to preparation for assuming his new post Saturday.

STATE ORDERS OIL HEARING

New Proration Rules to Be Worked Out

the field, Richmond added. He said alleged offenders were being reported to the attorney general's department.

Richmond asserted Sinclair was sending 90,000 barrels of East Texas crude daily to Oklahoma, while Arkansas fuel oil was running an average of 26,000 barrels daily to refineries at Shreveport.

A typical case of the "utter regard" for orders, Richmond said, was afforded by Texas Unity Oil company, a Warner-Quinlan subsidiary, which is running 17,000 barrels daily from a well which has an allowable of only 170 barrels daily.

From 60 to 70 per cent of the East Texas operators are still obeying propration orders, Richmond said.

STANOLIND BUYS EAST TEXAS OIL

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, said today that his company, through its subsidiary, the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company, was buying oil in East Texas. The action, he said, was necessitated by the shutdown in Oklahoma.

MURRAY PROPOSES CHANGES IN LAWS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13. (AP)—Drastic changes in the Oklahoma oil proration system will be proposed by Gov. W. H. Murray to the corporation commission before he lifts martial law and permits prorated wells of the state to flow, he announced today.

Four revolutionary steps will be asked: First, unitization of all production by sands; second, placing of meters on each prorated well to check accurately production; third, selection of umpires "above reproach and price," by the commission with the aproval of the governor, and, fourth, assessment of one-tenth of one per cent on oil to pay the costs of enforcement of proration rules.

Campaign Urged To Stop Fires

vide more thorough inspection of fire hazards, more careful valuations, and more complete analysis of causes of fire has become imperative.

Investigating Committee

Adopting a plan said to be in successful operation in other cities of this state, the council recommended that a committee of three men be appointed by the president of the chamber of commerce to make investigations and recommendations relative to existing fire hazards. Identity of the committee members is to remain unknown, it was said, in order that their work may be pursued more impartially and without interference. The committee will be charged with the inspection of cases in which either over-insurance or obvious hazards may reasonably be expected to influence the likelihood of fire. Its reports will be made to Chief McClure, fire marshal for this city. It was indicated that this committee will be appointed at an early date, and will begin its investigations.

"We believe that the greatest factor in improving our fire record," said Mr. Jackson, "is an aroused public interest in the matter, and an individual concern on the part of our citizenship with reducing their own costs of insurance. Our own citizens, not the fire insurance companies, pay our fire losses. The fire insurance companies are expected and allowed to make a reasonable profit upon their operations. Such losses as we have must be paid for out of the premiums we pay. It is therefore imperative that we set ourselves firmly to the task of preventing expensive fires."

Investigations as to the origin of fires in the future will be conducted by the county attorney, according to the plan adopted Thursday. The committee to be appointed by the chamber of commerce president will cooperate with the county attorney, it was said, in assembling evidence regarding fires generally regarded as of suspicious origin.

Those present Thursday morning were Lester Jones, Mr. Lyle, Overton Abernathy, Leon Deaton and J. C. Moore, comprising the chamber of commerce advisory committee for the fire department; Roy E. Carter, chairman of the fire prevention committee of the Junior chamber of commerce; L. V. Abernathy, county attorney; Chief McClure, Mr. Jackson and Mr. Smitham.

Firemen Praise Success of Meet

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 13.—Firemen of the Panhandle association, upon leaving Electra Wednesday, expressed their appreciation to the Electra fire department and citizens of the town who helped make the convention a success.

M. G. Ray, Memphis, newly elected vice president, who has served as secretary during the past year, summed up the importance of the meeting in these words: "This convention today has made the Panhandle Firemen's association."

F. E. Fitzgerald, Childress, outgoing president, said that Electra had done everything possible for the meet, and the program was unusually good.

Best Relief For Athlete's Foot

This condition of the feet, cracked skin between and around the toes; inflammation and severe itching; water blisters and burning, is now known to be caused by a germ, or fungus growth.

The only way to get relief is to kill these fungus germs, which you can do, in from 24 to 72 hours, with a pleasant-odored, delightful-to-use ointment, known as "Tetterine," prepared by Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

Tetterine is almost infallible in bringing prompt and comforting relief in these distressing conditions of the feet, and it may be had at any drug store for 60c, with a guarantee of perfect relief or money refunded.—Adv.

Cotton Plan Left Up to Governors

Florida, Russell of Georgia, Miller of Alabama, and Murray of Oklahoma expressed doubts of the plan's practicability.

Murray, while saying he would join the movement, said "you can't enforce it with the entire national guard. Some farmers would resent it."

Carlton said cotton growers would benefit if a third of the crop were destroyed, but saw no way of inducing such action.

Georgia, said Russell, is willing to cooperate in any feasible plan but to him the board's plan seemed impractical.

Plan Called Unsound

Alabama's governor, Miller, termed the proposal, "unwise, unsound and impractical."

To these expressions was added a telegram from Governor Bilbo to the cotton state governors, labeling the plowing under of every third row an "economical waste" and urging the adoption of his own plan of simply leaving the third row unpicked.

The board met for a short time today, and studied the market quotations and newspapers for reaction to their plan.

It was said at the White House today President Hoover had no part in formulating the board's plan of destroying cotton.

Session Asked

The New York cotton exchange opened $1.25 a bale higher on Liverpool's favorable reaction to the board's proposal and closed stronger, $1.40 to $1.55 a bale higher. In New Orleans net advances of 27 to 28 points were recorded.

As these increased prices were being studied, a telegram was received from Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, who urged the board to join with him in a plea for a special session of congress to set minimum prices at 20 cents a pound for cotton and $1 a bushel for wheat.

SCOUTS EXPECTED TODAY

Eighteen Wichita Falls Boy Scouts and Scout Executive Frank B. Creighton are expected to return late Friday afternoon from a three-week's tour of the West.

The party was scheduled to spend Thursday night in Lovington, N. M., having spent most of the day at Carlsbad cavern. The tour ending Friday is the eighth annual sight-seeing and educational trip taken by scouts of this city.

TORCH SLAYERS GO TO PRISON

Swift Justice Meted Trio In Michigan

speakeasy and met Smith and "Whitey" Oliver. The latter two had been drinking and were armed. They planned to hold up a gambling place at Milan, Mich., near Ypsilanti.

Gambling Hall Closed

Thomas joined them and they drove to Milan but found the gambling place closed. So, they started back toward Ypsilanti and passed Puddle Hill, near which the car containing the four young people was parked.

They decided to hold them up, but, after doing so, Smith found that he knew one of the victims, 16-year-old Harry Lore. When he noticed that Lore recognized him, he dragged one of the girls, Anna May Harrison, 17, from the machine.

She pleaded with him, Thomas said, but Smith drew a gun and shot her. Then he fired three more shots—one at each of the others.

The three men then got into their car and drove along toward Ypsilanti, stopping at a filling station two miles from town and getting gasoline. Then they started back toward the shooting scene.

Smith Drove Car

As they drew up, Smith got out and walked to the car, where the victims lay either dead or dying. Smith, according to Thomas, then got in the young couples' machine and started away, with Thomas and Oliver following.

Smith got out, drained gasoline from the victims' car, and poured it over the victims. Then he set fire to it. He heard one of the girls groan, Thomas stated, so he took a wrench and hit her on the head; then got a large stone and crushed her skull.

Smith then threw the stone in a ditch and went to a nearby school yard where he took off his blood-stained shirt and washed his hands.

Then they all drove back to Ypsilanti.

Thomas' story had no sooner been told than detectives rushed out of the jail and were gone about 15 minutes.

When they returned, they had Oliver whom they dragged bodily across the lawn and up the steps into the building.

Plucky Honduran Flier Tells Lurid Tale of Descent and Struggle at Sea

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 13. (AP)—Swathed in bandages and weak from exhaustion, Capt. Lisandro Garay, of the Honduran army air corps, was brought to Savanah today after clinging for 35 hours to the tail of his wrecked plane in a choppy sea 16 miles off Cape Lookout, N. C.

With him aboard the American-Brazil line steamer Biboco, which rescued him at 10:30 a. m., last Tuesday, came the wrecked monoplane in which he left New York last Sunday afternoon on an attempted non-stop flight to Honduras.

Dramatic Story

Garay told a dramatic story of his unsuccessful flight, forced descent into the sea, and his rescue.

"I left New York about 5 o'clock in the afternoon (Sunday) for a non-stop solo flight to Tegucigalpa, Honduras," he said. "My plane was a Bellanca equipped for long distance flying.

"I flew straight down to Cape May, then to Suffolk and south to Bellhaven and thence by Wilmington, N. C.

"At this stage of the flight, winds became so strong I had to try different levels to see if I could avoid bad weather. I aimed at 10,000 feet, but when I reached 7,000 feet I was able to know my position. I knew what I was doing and I prepared my ship for an ocean landing."

Captain Garay said he had experimented extensively in the methods of bringing a land ship down on water, and that little damage was done by his forced descent.

"After landing," he continued, "I found I could not get the door open and I had to break a window in the plane. The wind was blowing 50 miles an hour and as I broke the window, fragments of glass were blown into the cabin, cutting my face and hands.

"Blood from the gashes was sprayed on the tail of the plane 20 feet away by the wind.

Alone in the choppy sea, Captain Garay kept the plane afloat by releasing gasoline from the tanks, which, when empty, acted as buoys.

Defies Elements

He stood on the tail, through the remainder of the night, all day Monday and Monday night. To make certain he would not be blown off by the wind, he roped a square of covering from the fuselage and worked himself partly inside the tail.

Officers of the Biboco said they found him thus when they found the ship about 10:30 Tuesday morning.

Chief Officer Charles J. Hurley manned a lifeboat and took the exhausted flier from the plane which constant battering by the waves had reduced to wreckage.

Garay denied he faced possible court martial in Honduras for his attempted flight. He said he will return to Honduras with no fear of adverse action.

"My privilege of trying this flight," he said, "I owe to the good people of Honduras who sponsored it."

United States immigration officers visited Garay on the ship as the Bibco came into port. They said they had no cause to detain him.

NOT SO DUMB

Prisoner Agrees to Recover His 'Sanity' For Change in Jail Cell

Failing to accomplish any desired results, insanity proved a tiresome and uninteresting pastime for a prisoner in the Wichita county jail during the past three weeks, it was learned Thursday.

The man drew a sentence of two years in jail and a fine of $1,000 last month on an aggravated assault charge in county court at law. Immediate manifestations of insanity had the earmarks of being artificial, but finally gained the prisoner solitary confinement in a ward provided for insane patients.

A few days was enough. On Wednesday he summoned an officer. "This place is too lonesome," the prisoner declared. "I can't fool any one into thinking I'm crazy, either. Put me back with the rest of the boys, and I'll recover my mind."

The insanity ward lost its occupant.

Of course women prefer them they're FRESH!

NOTHING in a cigarette has ever appealed to women so swiftly and truly as the fresh mildness of Camels in the Humidor Pack.

To the delicate feminine throat the suave, cool fragrance of this perfectly conditioned cigarette comes as a genuine and welcome boon.

Now women smokers as well as men are learning what a throat-friendly joy a fine cigarette in prime, factory-fresh condition can be!

Now they can relish the satisfaction of expertly blended fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos free from the scratch-and-sting of parched and dusty dryness.

Camels in the Humidor Pack are just what good cigarettes should be — fine tobaccos kept fine, no matter where or when you buy them.

The scientific germ-safe wrapping — not plain ordinary Cellophane, but moisture-proof Cellophane which costs nearly twice as much — seals in all the factory freshness and aroma, seals it so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

If your taste is jaded with the heat and sting of fast-burning dried-out cigarettes, try cool, humidor fresh Camels for a grateful change.

Give your throat a vacation — try Camels for just one day; then quit them — if you can.

CAMELS

Mild . . NO CIGARETTY AFTER-TASTE

Tune in CAMEL QUARTER HOUR featuring Morton Downey and Tony Wons — Columbia Broadcasting System — every night except Sunday

● Don't remove the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. It delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked

RECIPES

Griddle Ham Sandwich

Three tablespoonfuls butter.
One tablespoonful prepared mustard.
Three thin slices boiled ham.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
Six slices bread.
Two eggs.
One-fourth cupful milk.
One-fourth teaspoonful paprika.

Cream the butter and mustard together, and spread slices of bread. Put together with ham between and cut in two cornerwise. Beat eggs with milk, salt, and paprika. Dip each sandwich, allowing them to soak up all the egg mixture. Bake on a hot griddle until brown.

Melon Cocktail

Remove one cupful from cassaba melon or a cantaloupe, using a French vegetable cutter. Add one cupful balls cut from an apple, one cupful Tokay grapes, skinned and seeded, two tablespoons syrup from maraschino cherries and a few grains salt. Chill. Crush ice or colored ice blocks and put in the outer part of cocktail glasses. Put fruit in the inner glass and garnish with cherries.

Pineapple Frappe

Two cupfuls water.
One cupful sugar.
Juice of three lemons.
Two cupfuls ice water.
One can grated pineapple or
One pineapple shredded.

Make a syrup by boiling water and sugar 15 minutes; add pineapple and lemon juice; cool, strain, add ice water, and freeze to a mush, using equal parts of ice and salt. If fresh fruit is used, more sugar will be required.

High Cream Pie

Roll plain pastry one-fourth inch thick, cut a circle the size of a pie plate and place on a tin sheet. Cut another piece of pastry a little larger, shape and bake on the outside of the same pie plate. Bake both in a moderate oven or at 400 degrees F. Prepare twice the recipe for chocolate cream filling, omitting the chocolate, if preferred, and flavoring with vanilla, coffee or caramel. Just before serving fill pastry shell with the filling, cover with circle of pastry and with remaining filling, and garnish with whipped cream and pecan kernels. Serve it with hot chocolate or coffee. This is a festive dessert that might be used for informal Sunday suppers during cold weather.

Chocolate Cream Filling

One and one-half cupfuls milk.
One square chocolate.
One-third cupful flour.
One-half cupful sugar.
Few grains salt.
Two tablespoonfuls butter.
One egg yolk.
One-half teaspoonful vanilla.

Scald milk with chocolate in top of double boiler; mix dry ingredients and add to hot milk. Stir until thickened, cover and cook 15 minutes. Add butter and egg yolk, stir and cook one minute, remove from fire, cool, and add vanilla.

Deviled Crab

One can crab meat.
One-half lemon.
One teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce.
Few grains cayenne.
One tablespoonful butter or oil.
One tablespoonful flour.
One cupful milk.
One small can mushrooms.
One teaspoonful grated onion.
One-eighth teaspoonful paprika.
Two teaspoonfuls salt.
Three hard-cooked eggs.

Combine the canned crab meat or an equal quantity of fresh meat with the mushrooms. Add the lemon juice, onion, Worcestershire sauce, salt, paprika, and cayenne. Make a white sauce from the butter, flour and milk, and add to it the crab mixture and the hard-cooked eggs which have been cut in small pieces. Cook until thoroughly heated and serve on toast or fill greased ramekins or clam shells and sprinkle with grated cheese and buttered cracker crumbs and bake for 12 minutes at 500 degrees F. Serve six.

Mechanical Refrigeration

Planning three meals a day, 365 days in the year may be a most interesting game or may result in a deadly monotony of dishes. With a mechanical refrigerator many of the homemaker's problems and perplexities about entertaining can be easily solved.

To many mechanical refrigeration is still such a novelty that they scarcely realize the range of its possibilities. With a mechanical refrigerator, simple recipes, easily prepared, produce delightful results with little or no attention. From the chilled fruit that is served for breakfast, the ice cubes that are frozen for water, the milk given to the children, the firm butter squares or balls, the crisp salad and the cold or frozen dessert that completes the dinner to the iced beverage that is so popular when taken just before retiring the refrigerator plays an important part in making foods appetizing and inviting.

With a reliable refrigerator not only fresh food supplies but leftovers are kept from spoiling. With a little thought almost anything can be utilized in soups, hash, stew, salad or ice cream. Salads and desserts not listed in any cook book can easily and quickly be put together from the bits that have been properly refrigerated.

Chilled and frozen salads and desserts are greeted with delight by most people, especially during hit weather. With a mechanical refrigerator many alluring drug store favorites may be prepared from pure materials and served at meal time as they should be.

Colored Ice Cubes

Add to one quart water any desired food color. Pour in ice pan and put in the partition. Place in the freezing unit of a mechanical refrigerator and freeze. The time depends on the way that the unit is set, but should be ready in four hours if set at a moderate rate. Fruit juice may be used to color and flavor the water if the cubes are to be used in punch or iced tea.

Garnished Ice Cubes

Put in each compartment a maraschino cherry or candied cherry or one or two mint leaves, or a violet without the stem, or a pansy, or a tiny rose bud, or a flower of hyacinth, or one-fourth slice of lemon. Fill with water and freeze, or half fill the pan and when frozen add a decoration to each compartment and add a little water. Let that freeze until the decoration is held in position, then fill the tray with water and finish freezing, with the decoration in the center.

Frozen Cheese

Grate one-fourth pound (one cup) American cheese; add one cream cheese and one cupful mayonnaise dressing and beat thoroughly. Fold in six maraschino cherries, chopped fine, six green mint cherries, chopped fine, and one-half pint cream beaten stiff. Freeze in the pan of a mechanical refrigerator. Remove to serving dish and slice or cut in cubes; sprinkle with one-half cupful chopped nuts or paprika. Serve with salad course.

Chocolate Ice Cream Soda

Put one-fourth cup Mocha chocolate sauce in a tall glass; siphon soda to within an inch of the top;

SOCIETY and CHURCH NEWS

Lamar Baptist G. A. Outlines Autumn Work

Miss Juanita Allred was hostess Wednesday afternoon to members of the Girl's Auxiliary of Lamar Baptist church when the opening prayer was said by Faye Powell and the inspiring devotional given by Mrs. J. O. Vinson.

In the business session, when the president, Letha McKinley, presided, Miriam Towe, Marie Kirk and Lois Moody were enrolled as new members. It was planned that cup towels would be brought to the next meeting to be hemmed for the day nursery and a box would be packed for Buckner's Orphan home. The girls of the auxiliary also plan to put on a demonstration program for members of the Cashion G. A. at an early date.

A committee including Letha McKinley, Juanita Allred, Faye Powell and Mrs. A. A. Foster, was named to select a slate of officers for the next auxiliary year. Members voted to give a donation to the missionary society.

Mrs. A. A. Foster taught a splendid Bible lesson followed by discussion by the group, after which a dainty refreshment plate was served to Misses Letha McKinley, Margaret Wilson, Mary Kirk, Lois Moody, Katherine Byrd, Marie Nabors, Roberta Willingham, Adene Wood, Miriam Towe, Faye Powell, Juanita Allred, Mrs. J. O. Vinson and Mrs. A. A. Foster, the counselor.

Favorite Recipes Of Wichita Women

Here's a recipe that is good for a company dinner, Sunday evening meal, or so far as that goes, for any time when one wishes a delicious summer meat dish.

Chicken Mousse

One cup of diced chicken; 12 blanched almonds; one teaspoon of lemon juice; one-fourth teaspoon paprika; one-half teaspoon salt; four tablespoons mayonnaise; one-half a teaspoon Worcester sauce; one chopped green pepper; one-half a chopped pimento; one and one-half tablespoons of gelatin; one-fourth cup of cold water; one cup of chicken stock and one cup of whipping cream. Chop chicken fine (cutting with scissors is best), put almonds through meat grinder and mix; add seasoning, then the pepper and pimento. Soak gelatin in the cold water, dissolve in boiling chicken stock and when cool add to chicken mixture. Fold in the cream whipped stiff; put in oblong pan in refrigerator and it is ready to turn out and serve. Garnish with parsley and slices of lemon sprinkled with paprika.

—L. N. C.

Miss Ethel Luise Webb's recipe for cantaloupe preserves is given below as promised in yesterday's paper.

Cantaloupe Preserves

Use green cantaloupes. Peel and cut in small pieces. Soak in water over night. Next morning put them in a thin syrup of sugar and water—three-fourths pound of sugar for one pound of cantaloupe and one lemon sliced. Cook rapidly until clear looking and the syrup is thick. Seal in sterilized jars.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We did not lose an idea today; we wish we had. We did not have one to lose. We have listened eagerly when others talked to find if any one had originality but it's a dull season for wit.

There's an uneasy feeling in the back of what we are pleased to call our mind, that our readers, if any, may feel with Coleridge:

"Swans sing before they die; 'twere
no bad thing
Did certain persons die before they sing."

But this, we warn you, is not our swan song.

We listened in at lunch on a conversation between two men on the subject of clothes and they were not talking about the money that women spend for clothes, either. It began by one saying to the other, "Did you ever figure the cost of not being well dressed?"

They went through the same reasoning that women use for buying clothes. Women want to advertise their husbands' prosperity and their devotion. Men wish to look prosperous for the sake of their business. Women have so much confidence in themselves if they know they are properly dressed. These men expressed the same thought. No originality there.

However, I did see two men at luncheon do something that I feel sure would be impossible for two women. They sat near me and from the beginning to the end of their meal, they hadn't a word to say.

At the crucial point in this column, a fat letter was handed us. It was so full of enthusiasm and beauty it brought new life to us. Nelle Lowrey, writing from Hollywood, falls into words like music as she talks of the music she is hearing.

She goes to every concert of the season in the "bowl" where music lovers begin to gather long before dark.

As for us, we hear the bands that play in Wichita Falls in the evening and we wake to music of several different sorts. Across the hall, one program may be coming in on the radio; another below us, and still another next door. But we are quite used to it.

When our clock runs down, we tell the time by "Amos and Andy." Wonder what they're going to do about that popular pair, anyway. We read somewhere the other day that leading negroes are asking that it be abolished stating that the negro race has much loftier ambitions than those exploited by these two.

Members of that race who hear "Amos and Andy" in Wichita Falls do not seem to be at all embarrassed over their lowly ideals. They get quite as much kick out of their dialogs as Caucasions.

BRECK RENEWS WATER RIGHTS

C-C Still Hopes to Complete Irrigation

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Aug. 13.—The Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce has been granted a year's extension to water rights on the Clear Fork of the Brazos by the state board of water engineers.

An extension of time for developing irrigation privileges, a project which had its origin here several years ago, was sought by the local chamber. The extension was granted until February, 1932.

If ever developed, the irrigation plan originated here would put over 75,000 acres of land in Stephens, Shackelford and Throckmorton counties under irrigation. Little work on the project was done here last year although much work in securing data and mapping the proposed project has been done in past years.

Constable Seizes Beer And Mash in Raid

Raiding a home on Yale avenue, deputies in the constable's department Thursday afternoon confiscated 40 pints of beer, destroyed 12 gallons of mash and 100 pint bottles and arrested one man, according to Constable Fred Smith.

Arraigned before Judge R. V. Gwinn in justice court, the defendant was fined $1 and costs.

LAST SWIM LESSON

Free swimming lessons sponsored by the city park department since June 8 at the Westmoreland park swimming pool will be discontinued after the lesson on Thursday, Aug. 20, it was announced Thursday. Lessons to be given next Monday and Thursday will bring the total of free lessons given this summer to 25, it was said. Attendance including the two lessons given this week has totalled more than 4,000, and it was estimated that the entire season will show an attendance of 4,300.

Cool Foods Lead In Popularity

shake or stir; then add one small scoop chocolate mousse.

Mocha Chocolate Sauce

Melt in a saucepan over hot water one square unsweetened chocolate; add one tablespoonful butter and very slowly one-third cupful hot strong coffee. Bring to the boiling point, add one cupful sugar and two tablespoonfuls corn syrup. Boil five minutes, or until of desired consistency, which is best determined by testing on ice cream. Cool and add one-half teaspoonful vanilla, and a few grains salt. Serve hot or cold with vanilla ice cream, mousse or parfait, or use for milk shakes.

Chocolate Mousse

Put in top of double boiler one-fourth cupful milk and one teaspoonful gelatin. When milk is hot and gelatin is dissolved, add one-half cup cold milk, strain into refrigerator pan and put in freezing chamber of a mechanical refrigerator. When cool beat until light. Meanwhile, melt over hot water one square chocolate, add one-half cupful sugar, few grains salt, and one teaspoonful vanilla and very slowly add one-fourth cup milk. Stir until mixture boils; strain and cool. Beat one-half pint cream until thick. Add beaten milk slowly and fold in the chocolate mixture. Pour into refrigerator pan and freeze. Serve if desired with whipped cream beaten stiff and flavored with vanilla or with oil of peppermint, or serve with chocolate sauce.

Frozen Fruit Salad

One orange.
One banana.
Three-fourths cupful white grapes or Royal Anne cherries.
Two slices pineapple.
One cupful fruit salad dressing.
One cupful double cream.
12 Maraschino cherries.

Free orange from all skin and rind. Cut pineapple fine and halve the cherries. Seed and peel grapes. Place fruit in refrigerator to chill. Whip cream and combine salad dressing with cream. Combine fruits and add banana, sliced very thin. Add fruits to cream and salad dressing. Pour into tray and allow to freeze. When frozen, cut in cubes. Serve on lettuce leaf or serve directly on the salad plate covered with a paper doily.

Fruit Salad Dressing

Two egg yolks.
Two tablespoonfuls sugar.
Juice of two lemons.
One-half cupful double cream.
One tablespoonful flour.
One-half cupful strained honey or maple syrup.

Mix honey, flour, sugar and cook in double boiler for 10 minutes. Add lemon juice and beaten egg yolks slowly and cook for five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and cool. This will keep in a mechanical refrigerator indefinitely, if placed in a glass jar. Add whipped cream to the salad dressing before serving.

Biscuit Tortoni

One cupful milk.
Three egg yolks.
Three-fourths cupful sugar.
Three egg whites.
One and one-half cupfuls double cream.
One-eighth teaspoonful salt.
One-half cupful macaroons.
Two teaspoonfuls vanilla.

Make custard of eggs, milk and sugar. Cool. In making the custard, heat sugar and milk, add well beaten egg yolks gradually, pour in top of boiler, and cook for five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, pour into mixing bowl and when partly cooled, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which salt has been added. Add ground macaroons with sherry wine or flavor desired. Fold in whipped cream and pour into tray or individual cups. Allow to freeze and serve with or without whipped cream. This can be flavored with three tablespoonfuls sherry wine flavoring, rum extract or vanilla.

Banana Mousse

Two cupfuls double cream.
One-half cupful confectioners sugar.
One and one-half teaspoonful vanilla.
Pinch of salt.
Two egg whites.
One cupful bananas, sliced very thin.

Whip cream, add sugar and vanilla, fold in bananas which have been sliced very thin, and add stiffly beaten egg whites to which salt has been added. Pour into tray or individual cups. Freeze without stirring. This can be served with a small portion of whipped cream garnished with cherries or banana slices.

Marquise

Make vanilla mousse using only one-half teaspoonful vanilla. Add three-fourths teaspoon orange extract, one-half teaspoonful almond extract, one-fourth teaspoonful lemon extract, 12 candied cherries cut in fourths, one green candied plum cut in pieces, one half slice candied pineapple cut in pieces. Freeze in mechanical refrigerator pan or in individual paper cases. Garnish if desired with whipped cream colored and flavored and put on in fancy designs by forcing through pastry bag and tube.

Vanilla Mousse

Scald two-thirds cupful milk and add one tablespoonful cornstarch or flour mixed with one-third cupful sugar, three tablespoonfuls corn syrup, few grains salt and one-third cupful cold milk, and stir until smooth. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Remove from fire, strain into refrigerator pan and chill. Beat one-half pint cream until thick, add two teaspoonfuls vanilla and beat in the chilled mixture. Freeze without stirring.

Fried Mush

Mold cereal while hot, packing into a long narrow pan, or discarded baking powder tins. This can be kept indefinitely in a good mechanical refrigerator. Remove and slice one-half inch thick, dipping slices into flour or cornmeal. Saute in a little butter in a frying pan and serve with maple syrup.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger" writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter—

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she had lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last, when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way. I have enquired of my dressmaker my measurements, which in August last were:—Bust 40, Hips 43½, Waist 33½ inches. Last week the were:—Bust 38, Hips 40, Waist 31 inches, which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 3 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."

(Mrs.) S. R., London, England.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but 85 cents—take a generous half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning. When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—the Kruschen way is the safe way to lose fat—Try one bottle—if not joyfully satisfied—money back. MANY ATTEND AUTO SCHOOL

Fisher Experts Show How To Improve Service

A continuation of instruction in the scientific repairing of automobile bodies was given here Thursday by two representatives of the Fisher Body Service corporation's traveling school.

Classes for the instruction of General Motor dealers and employes of this section opened a week ago at 813 Scott avenue. Instructions are given by J. J. Spereman and C. S. Wilkinson, both of the Fisher headquarters at Detroit.

It has been found by the Fisher Body Service, Mr. Spereman explained, that the bodywork of an automobile is now considered one of the major features of a car about to be sold, and that in the past too little attention has been given by the dealer toward servicing bodies of automobiles.

After completing the course of instruction, Mr. Spereman said, students are capable of correcting any and all body defects appearing in an automobile through usage or accident.

The third night class, for service salesman, new car salesmen, dealers and shop foremen, was held Thursday night. Classes for these men are designed for their general education to the importance of body service.

A total of 16 day students are enrolled for the body course, while 33 are attending night classes. Several are from nearby towns.

The school will come to a close here Saturday noon, when it will proceed to San Angelo on its tour.

FEMININE FIGHTERS FINED

Two young women recently arrested and charged with assault and battery upon an aged aunt were tried before Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs Thursday morning, found guilty, and fined $5 and costs, according to County Attorney L. V. Abernathy.

A daughter of the alleged assault victim also was convicted on a charge of disturbing the peace, and was fined $10 and costs.

Evidence introduced revealed the fact that a broom and two old fashioned hand irons figured in the disturbance which resulted in the charges against the participants.

Why not swim, too?

A clear skin and a strong body add a touch of loveliness to any man or woman

● Regardless of whether you swim or not it is human for one to want to be more attractive. Often one can gain a clear skin and a strong body—the kind that makes you feel like your natural self again—simply by adding New Strength to the blood.

When your vitality is low and you feel weak, don't care to eat, have lost weight, your skin is sallow, pale or broken out with pimples or boils, you may be sure that your blood is in need of New Strength.

Rich, red blood for New Strength

Rich, red blood plays a dominant role in maintaining health. It builds and sustains . . . removes impurities from the tissues . . . gives strength. When you add New Strength to the blood and bring it back to normal, your whole body is invigorated and strengthened . . . you are better able to resist infection and disease . . . your skin clears up . . . your cheeks become rosy . . . more vitality and pep naturally follow. You know a clear skin comes from within.

S.S.S. makes rich, red blood

S.S.S. is famed for its ability to build New Strength in the blood. It does it safely and effectively. One of its distinct advantages is that it is composed of fresh vegetable medicinal ingredients in concentrated form. Indeed, it is Mother Nature's formula. It has an enviable record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality in the blood—this New Strength naturally makes for better health and happiness.

Fiddle Contest and Square Dance Bring 6,000 to Auditorium Lawn

Program of Old Time Music and Dances Draws Record Crowd; Walden and Nix Win Prizes

George Walden and V. A. Nix of Wichita Falls fiddled their way into first and second places respectively in the old fiddlers' contest staged on the west lawn of the Memorial auditorium Thursday night before a crowd estimated at more than 6,000 persons by C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent.

Attendance for the lengthy program of old "break-down" fiddle tunes, old fashioned square dancing, and a short wind instrument contest, set a record for the year, Mr. Bunnenberg said. The entire west law at the auditorium, extending to Sixth street, to Broad street, and over the crest of the hill toward Seventh street, was crowded to capacity for the event.

Ten in Contest

Ten fiddlers comprised the field over which Mr. Walden, one of the more youthful contestants, finally emerged as victor. Mr. Walden, Mr. Nix, Sam Nichols and T. S. Pitts were selected by the judges as semifinalists, and were called back for second performances. From that quartet, Walden and Nix again were recalled. With a spirited exhibition of lively bowing, irresistible rhythm, and clear tone Walden captured first honors, and was presented with a handmade violin donated by Matthew Ramage of this city. Nix received a silver cup given by the Art Jewelry company.

Other contestants were Mrs. Ollie Parr, William H. Cornett of Electra, J. B. Stout, C. S. Alexander, H. A. Green and J. F. Nelms. Mr. Ramage, W. B. Wooten, and Dr. A. P. Howard of Vernon were the judges. Dr. Howard awarded the trophies to the winners.

One of the evening's features for the crowd's entertainment was the square dance which followed the finals of the fiddling contest. With music furnished by Mr Pitts, four couples of this community demonstrated an amazing variety of the walks, whirls and swings of the barn dance. Marvin Golsen and Mrs. A. W. Cobb, Mrs. Golsen and Raymond Brewer, Kimsey Pitts and Miss Ruth Whitehead, John Richards and Mrs. Ollie Parr were the four couples of dancers.

Billy Wade provided a guitar accompaniment for Mr. Walden's winning performance in the fiddling contest, while Charley McCroskey accompanied Mr. Pitts' fiddle music for the square dance.

Louis Franklin, introduced by Dr. Howard as "the champion left-handed fiddler in the South," played two special numbers, and teamed with Dr. Howard to play while "Dad Lorance of Vernon, 86 years of age, "called" the movements of the dance.

Responding to Mr. Bunnenberg's call for a volunteer, G. A. Daniels took the platform and brought the vast crowd to its feet with a bewitching demonstration of the old "backstep" hoedown.

Before the old fiddlers contest began, Leo M. Underwood's band presented a brief concert, and its members competed in the annual gold medal contest held by Mr. Underwood. Ben Bushfield, trumpet, and Miss Vynomma Wood, soprano saxophone, took first prizes in boys' and girls' sections, respectively, repeating their triumph of last year. Other contestants were Christian Jackson, Dorane Hall, Buster Carey, Buster Raley, Elvin Smith, Robert King, and Leland Yeager.

HOOVER DENIES FALL'S PLEA

Ex-Cabinet Member Must Serve Prison Term

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Albert Bacon Fall, once secretary of the interior but now prisoner 6991 in the New Mexico state penitentiary, today lost his last hope of clemency from the hands of a former cabinet member—President Hoover.

From Attorney General Mitchell came the quiet announcement that Fall's plea had been settled without even being submitted formally to the White House for decision.

As explanation he pointed to a comparatively recent executive order, providing that when the judges and prosecutors in a case advise against complying with plea for clemency, it is rendered null and void save in exceptional cases. He handed a slip of paper to waiting newspaper men, upon which was written:

"None of the persons so consulted in this case advises clemency and the attorney general has determined there is no reason to make a special order submitting the papers to the president.

"Under the rules the papers will be automatically filed away without further action. This course amounts to a denial of the application."

PATMAN URGES PRICE FIXING

Texas Congressman Wants Special Session

AUSTIN, Aug. 13. (AP)—Congressman Wright Patman of Texarkana today told the house agriculture committee that President Hoover should call an immediate special session of congress to enact a law fixing the minimum price of cotton at 20 cents a pound and wheat at $1 a bushel.

Patman said the suggestion of the federal farm board that every third row of cotton should be plowed up did not appear reasonable to him. If that is done, the farm board should destroy one-third of its cotton, and other holders of the surplus and foreign countries should do likewise, Patman stated.

J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, proposed that all southern legislatures be called into special sessions to enact cotton acreage reduction laws. Such a proposed law was defeated by the Texas legislature in its session just closed.

A subcommittee was appointed to draft resolutions on the matters suggested.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas is bounded geographically by four other states, by 860 miles of international border along the Rio Grande, and by 370 miles of tidal waters. Its area represents 8.8 per cent of the total land area of continental United States.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Texas towns and cities are going ahead with municipal improvements. . . . Belton is to have a new white way lighting system, including 20 blocks and the public square. . . . Work for 1,000 persons will be provided by the million-dollar city-county hospital at Houston, architects estimate. . . . Sweetwater lets contract for $289,685 worth of new street paving with work starting by the middle of October. . . . Brady plans a municipal swimming pool. . . . Preston water district, Dallas suburb, lets contract for 11 miles of mains and a pumping station at a contract price of $175,000. . . . Houston increases capacity of its Scott street pumping station reservoir from 300,000 to 2,000,000 gallons. . . . Plans are being drawn for a $200,000 city hall at Sweetwater, work to begin as soon as contracts can be let. . . . Austin has $150,000 available for construction of a new city library. . . . Houston is erecting a $10,000 club house for its municipal golf course in Hermann park. . . . Amarillo celebrated completion of the North Fillmore street underpass, a project costing well over a half million dollars shared by the city and the railroads and ending one of the city's major traffic problems. . . . Contracts for the new Collingsworth county court house have been let for about $125,000, leaving nearly $25,000 of the $150,000 bond issue for equipment and furnishings. . . . Luling lets contract for a new city hall to cost $11,000.

Murray Silent on Chiropractors' Bar

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13. (INS)—W. H. Murray today declined to comment on the resolution adopted by the regents of the Oklahoma university which would, in effect, bar chiropractors from practicing in the Oklahoma General hospital, which is operated in connection with the university medical school.

The recent executive order, which opened the doors of the hospital to chiropractors, brought the resignation of Dr. Leroy Long, dean of the medical school. Dr. Long has been replaced by Dr. L. J. Moorman, tuberculosis specialist, and for 21 years a member of the medical school faculty. Dr. Moorman is a graduate of the Georgetown, Ky., university and the Kentucky Medical school, now the university at Louisville.

DAIRY TESTS

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Aug. 13.—Tests are being made this week of the seven dairies of Mangum to see if they are complying with state and city regulations governing the sale of milk under the standard milk ordinance.

The investigation is being conducted by Dr. E. M. Poer, county health superintendent.

2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

The Illinois commission on prisons, probation and parole went to Europe to pick up a few ideas and were amazed to discover that British police carry no guns. Well, we didn't know Chicago policemen had guns, either.

If a movie seat had five arms, man would discover some way for one person to rest his elbows on all of them.

Some people should consider the habit of opportunity, which knocks but once.

Our Limitless Horizons

GRADUATION addresses are usually fairly dreary affairs. Once in a while, though, a speaker emerges who has something to say, and when that happens the graduates he addresses can consider themselves more than lucky.

The other day Dean Thomas W. Graham of the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology spoke before a group of summer school graduates; and a few of his sentences stick in the memory and set one thinking, as all such speeches are supposed to do.

"There are finer tools yet to be made than any we have now," he asserts. "More stirring music will be composed, poetry of greater rhythm and profounder prose will be written, and in the realm of architecture, sculptor and painting greater heights are yet to be obtained."

Why should a simple statement of fact like that be so encouraging? Why should it set one dreaming, and make one wish that one were just graduating from high school, with a world of limitless possibilities ahead? It does those things, somehow; but why?

Probably it is because we like to be reminded that we live in a sadly unfinished world. We like to feel that great demands are going to be made on us. We like to be told that the human race as a whole is climbing painfully up a long, dark slope, and that men better than the ordinary stand out, here and there, to point the way and see glorious things beyond the rise ahead.

It is not altogether true that man always seeks his own ease and tries above all to make himself comfortable. There are men who cannot be happy unless they are tacking jobs that will take all they have to give, and more; indeed, all of us have a tinge of that illogical desire to spend ourselves completely on some job that can never be perfectly accomplished.

We shall, in time, produce new Shakespeares and Beethovens and Michaelangelos, and the world will be a better place than it is now. The hardest tasks are still ahead of us. We should be thankful.

The Crux in Law

THE FEDERAL judge who told New York lawyers recently that they ought not to defend criminals whom they know to be guilty touched a point that occurs to the layman very often, and that never seems to get any very convincing answer from the legal profession.

Even a criminal, of course, has his rights, and it is no more than fair that he have counsel to see that his rights are respected. Nevertheless, it is a bit hard to see how a reputable lawyer can devote his high-priced abilities to the task of helping a known rascal escape punishment entirely.

We are told, of course, occasionally, that a lawyer of standing will not defend a man he knows to be guilty. We are told, also, that the moon is made of green cheese. The most notorious gangster can always find a good lawyer to help him beat the rap. That is one reason for the general public's widespread suspicion of the legal profession.

Barring Decrepit Autos

A MIDDLE-WESTERN city is preparing to pass an ordinance giving the police the power to order decrepit autos off the streets as traffic nuisances and, if necessary, to junk them outright.

This is a new wrinkle in traffic legislation, and in some ways a sharp infringement on the liberty of the individual. Yet it is not hard to see that it might do a good deal of good.

The ancient rattle-trap that was built a dozen years ago and was sold from some vacant lot for $35—has it, really, a right to lumber out into the swollen traffic streams of a modern American city? Its driver endangers every other driver on the street. There will be few people to protest if the police are authorized to send such cars off to the junk yard.

"MARY FAITH"

by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith, comely, young orphan, gives up her position as secretary to the wealthy Mark Nesbit to marry Kimberly Farrell. Kim, a young, shiftless lawyer lives with his mother. When the latter objects to the marriage, Kim brusquely startles Mary Faith by breaking the engagement. Later, when he sees her with Mark Nesbit in a jewelry store, selecting a ring, his jealousy is aroused. The next morning, he appears at Mary Faith's boarding house and overwhelms her with his protestations of love. She again leaves her position and, after a hasty marriage, they spend an ecstatic two weeks' honeymoon in the house of Kim's aunt in the county. Returning home, Mary Faith moves to the Farrell apartment. Kim's friends, Claire and Jack Maldon, find Mary Faith a dull companion for their jazzy parties. Mary Faith realizes Kim is irritated by her failure to drink and gamble. During the winter, Kim attends the parties alone. Mary Faith takes care of the house but knows nothing of Kim's finances. When he hints at being pinched for money, Mary Faith accedes to his request for $60.

Later, he admits taking the sum from the firm's collections for his own use. The next night, at dinner, he tells Mary Faith he has lost his position. He then persuades her to let him have a thousand dollars to open his own office.

Mary Faith, learning that she is to become a mother joyously visits Kim's office to tell him the good news. She finds him flirting with a girl. Kim is furious. Mary Faith decides not to tell him of the approaching event.

Back in the apartment, Kim tells Mary Faith and his mother that he is getting out—that his marriage is a failure. Mary Faith tries to stop him from leaving but he is adamant. "We made a mistake," Kim said.

Mary Faith tells Mrs. Farrell that her baby is to be born in January. They decide to stay on in the flat. Without informing Kim, Mary Faith mails $60 to his former employers.

CHAPTER XXIII

Late that afternoon she telephoned Jean Bartlett at the Nesbit company's office.

"Oh, it's you, is it?—after all this time," Jean said to her when she heard her voice at the other end of the wire. "I'm surprised to hear from you, Mrs. Farrell. I thought you'd cut me off your calling list. What's on your mind?"

"Jean, please don't be icky to me," Mary Faith begged her.

"I don't know why you should expect me to fall over you!" Jean came back at her. "You and I were friends for years, and mighty good friends, too. Then you married Kim Farrell and dropped me like a hot cake, as if I weren't good enough for you any more. Believe me, it didn't make any ten-strike with me when you did it, either!"

She was crisp and honest and slangy as always.

"Well, I can tell you all about that when I see you," said Mary Faith, "and I must see you, Jean. As soon as possible, please. . . . Can I meet you anywhere tonight when you leave the office?"

"Where are you now?" asked Jean.

"At home. You know where Kim lives, on Wilton street."

"Yes, I know. I'll be there at 6 o'clock." And Jean hung up.

At 6 o'clock the doorbell rang; and Mary Faith, who was washing a head of lettuce in the kitchen, went to the door.

Jean stood there, looking very smart and well-groomed against the dingy wall paper and oak woodwork of the hall. She wore a tan suit and a brown straw hat, and the hand she held out to Mary Faith was smooth and beautifully manicured, just as Mary Faith's own hands had been when she, instead of Jean, was Mark Nesbit's secretary.

"Well!" she said. "You sent for me at last."

"I didn't send for you. I told you I'd meet you anywhere," Mary Faith answered, drawing her into the sitting room. "I'd have called you up months ago, Jean, but Kim didn't want me to have anything to do with anybody at Nesbit's. He saw me with Mr. Nesbit one night, just before we were married, and he's been terribly jealous of him ever since. . . . But don't say anything about it to any one ever, will you? The only reason I'm telling you is because I want you to understand why you haven't heard from me."

Jean shrugged her wel-tailored shoulders.

"Go ahead with whatever you were doing," she said, taking in Mary Faith's damp red hands and her apron. "Jiminy, you certainly have gone domestic, haven't you?"

"I didn't have to 'go domestic,' Jean. I always was domestic." Mary Faith led the way to the clean little kitchen. "This sort of thing always appealed to me more than office work ever did. You have no idea what a good time I have running the floor mop around the house and peeling the potatoes. That's what I wanted to talk to you about."

"Don't you start working, Mary Faith Farrell!" Jean shook her head vigorously. "As soon as a married woman starts working her husband loses all his ambition. Just look at what happened to my sister, Florrie—as soon as she started that public-stenographer business of hers, Burr stopped selling cars. He'd been a perfectly grand husband until that time. Now he spends most of his time at home. As a good provider he's through."

Mary Faith knew all about Jean's sister, Florence Bond, and Burr, her husband. For years Jean had regaled her with stories of their violent quarrels and with stories of the great success of Florrie's company—known as the White-O Stenographic Service.

"I have to go to work, Jean," she said slowly. "Kim and I have—separated, and I'm going to support myself from now on. And I've been wondering if Florrie would let me work for her for a few months—until October, say? I wanted to get into a quiet place like her office if I could. You see, I'm going to have a baby pretty soon. . . ."

And then she was in Jean's arms, with her head on her shoulder, and the two of them were crying together in the silly but comforting way that women do cry sometimes. The five months of silence and misunderstanding were swept away in an instant, and the two of them were good friends once more.

"Of course, Florrie will give you a job," Jean said. "She knows what slick work you do, and she'll be mighty glad to get you. I'll fix it up with her tonight and telephone you first thing tomorrow morning. . . . What happened between you and Kim, Mary Faith?"

Mary Faith put her head to one side, thinking. "Well, for one thing he was bored, Jean, and I didn't know it. I didn't mind staying at home nights or going to a picture show with him. As long as he was with me I didn't need anybody else. But he got tired of me, it seems. . . ."

"Tired of you, bah!" cried Jean with infinite scorn in her voice. "He marries the best-looking and the nicest girl in this town and gets tired of her in five months! He didn't have sense enough to appreciate you, that's what! I've known you for five years and I've never been bored by you. . . . It's too bad you didn't marry Mark Nesbit, Mary Faith, when you had the chance. And you did have it. Everybody at the office knew that he was absolutely hay-wire over you."

She took a vanity case out of her tan silk bag and powdered her face before she finished what she she had to say: "The trouble with Kim Farrell is that he has a heart as big as a hotel. He falls for every girl he meets. . . . I never told you at the time but he even tried to date me up while you were engaged to him; and I was always bumping into him when he was out stepping with other girls. Remember how I used to urge you to marry him before he left you high and dry? . . . What are you going to do now? Divorce him?"

Divorce. . . . The very word was paralyzing to Mary Faith. She stood staring blankly at Jean for a full minute before she answered her.

"Oh, no, I'd never divorce Kim, Jean. What makes you ask me if I would? You've seen him lately with some girl, haven't you?"

"No, I haven't, but he's left you, hasn't he? And, so far as I can make out, he's left you without a cent to bless yourself with. I should think you'd want to be free from a man like that—after the baby comes, of course. It's just possible that, in the course of human events, you might want to marry again some time, you know. Such things have happened."

"No, I'd never want to marry again. No matter what happens there never will be anybody but Kim for me, Jean—and there's just a chance that he'll come back here to me if he knows that I want him."

Jean's lips, painted the bright red of sealing wax, curled in a smile that was half tenderness and half contempt. She shrugged her shoulders once more.

"I must go," she said. "I have a date with a man from Phoenix, Ariz. Burr sold him a car the other day and brought him out to the house last night to play cards with us. He's a whiz—tall and tanned and blue-eyed. You ought to see him, Mary Faith; and you ought to hear him talk about his ranch down in the Salt River valley. He grows everything on it, from cantaloupes to cotton. Well, I hope you'll enjoy working for Florrie. I think you will. I'd work for her myself but I don't believe relatives ever get along in business, do you?" And she went away to keep her engagement with the ranchman from Arizona.

On the first Monday in June Mary Faith started work as a stenographer for the Write-O Stenographic Service, at twenty-five dollars a week. The office was a big, up-to-date one on the ground floor of the Arcade building on Spring street a few blocks away from the Towers building where Kim had his law office.

The Arcade building was the largest building in town. It had its own restaurant, its own barber shop and beauty shop, its own news stand and shoe-shining parlor, its own circulating library. It was a little city in itself.

Q.—Please give recipe for tomato juice cocktail.—C. H. M.

A.—A simple one follows: One cup tomato juice, one tablespoon mild vinegar, two teaspoons sugar, one bay leaf, one teaspoon minced or crushed onion, one tablespoon lemon juice, one bruised celery stalk. Mix ingredients and allow to stand for 15 minutes. Strain through cheese cloth and chill.

Q.—Please give a biography of Montgomery Ward.—A. McN.

A.—A. Montgomery Ward was born in Chatham, N. J., in 1844. He was the great-grandson of Captain Israel Montgomery Ward of revolutionary war fame. He was a self educated and self-made man. In 1872 he married Elizabeth J. Cobb and founded the firm of Montgomery Ward and company in the same year.

Q.—Where does it rain the most? —J. A.

A.—So far as known at the present time, the heaviest precipitation occurs on the southern slopes of the Himalaya mountains in northern India. Here during the monsoon period, usually from May to September, inclusive, the heaviest rainfall has been ecorded. At Cherrapunji in this region, the average annual precipitation is about 40 feet or slightly less than 500 inches.

Q.—Please tell something of the work of the Valley Forge Historical society.—P. A.

A.—It was organized June 19, 1918, for the preservation and publication of documents relating to Valley Forge, and for the development of the spirit of Valley Forge through education in American history and in American ideals and institutions. It maintains as part of its work the Valley Forge museum of American history and the Washington Memorial library. The president is Rev. W. Herbert Burk, D. D., Valley Forge, Pa.

Q.—What was meant by usury in the Bible?—P. C.

A.—The word usury in modern English to mean excessive interest upon money loaned, illegal or oppressive. In the Scriptures, however, the word did not bear this sense, but meant simply interest of any kind upon money. The Jews were forbidden by the law of Moses to take interest from their brethren but were permitted to take it from foreigners. The practice of mortgaging land, sometimes at exorbitant interest, grew up among the Jews during the captivity, in direct violation of the law.

The Record News Offers a New Booklet, Everybody's Stamp Book

This booklet, now being distributed exclusively by the Record News Washington Information bureau, was prepared primarily to appeal and be of value to beginners in stamp collecting. However, it is so comprehensive and so interesting that it has received the approval of the old-timers and experts. G. A. Hunt, a well known philatelist of Woburn, Mass., says:

"It is the best thing of its kind I have seen on the subject of stamps and I wish to compliment you on it. It covers the ground thoroughly enough for all, and I am absolutely in accord with its makeup and statements."

Send for your copy today, using this coupon, and enclosing ten cents in coin or stamps.

BUFFS WIN FIRST HALF WITH 5-2 VICTORY OVER SHIPPERS

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

With the Golfers

The tri-county golf tournament came to a close at Haskell yesterday, when A. H. Wair of Haskell and Jack Wilson of Knox City battled it out for the championship. Followers of the game hereabouts now await with interest the start of the annual invitation tournament of the Electra Country club.

It begins Aug. 17 and lasts four days. Many stars of the Greenbelt association will participate.

Among them is the name of Ira Merchant, Clarendon's pride, who won, and then lost on a technicality, the Greenbelt association's championship in a great battle at Clarendon last May.

The name of L. S. (City) Walker of Quanah who won the Greenbelt crown from Merchant, has not been listed in news stories so far from Electra.

It certainly would be interesting to see these stars emerge in the finals of the Electra tournament. Such a match would attract no end of interest all over the Northwest and Panhandle portions of the state. It would be an "I told you so" battle. City would be out to prove he could whip the clever Merchant without a rule book, and Merchant would be out to trounce the Quanah sharpshooter—again!

The Morning Mail

Clint C. Henning of Olney asks the answers to the following questions:

"The batter knocks a fly to a fielder, the ball hits the fielder's glove and then bounces in the air. Is the batter out?"

If the fielder catches the ball before it hits the ground, yes. But if the ball bounces out of his glove and hits the ground, the batter gets a hit, or the fielder an error, according to the scorer's judgment.

"A runner running from second to third picks up the base and walks around with it. Is he out?"

My, my. What kind of baseball do they play in Olney? Yes, I guess the runner is out. The rules don't mention that sort of thing, but the umpire wouldn't be far wrong in ruling the boy out. That's as outlandish as a fullback making a touchdown and carrying the goal posts.

"When the umpire calls a strike on a batter, then waits a second and calls it a ball, is that right?"

Yes. Some umpires I know should change their minds more often.

"The batter ducks down for a high ball, and the ball loops and hits his bat. Is the batter out?"

No, but a strike is charged against the batter.

Denton, Ford Win Class B. Doubles

Displaying a decided superiority over their opponents, Dave Denton and Jimmie Ford won the championship of the class B doubles by an easy victory over Buddy Hickman and Andy Anderson on the Junior college courts Thursday afternoon.

Denton and Ford lost the first game but took the next six to capture the first set. They allowed their opponents only four games in the two remaining sets. Ford was the sensation of the match with his superb serving and net play while his partner helped the cause with many well-placed shots.

Denton won the class B singles championship last week by a victory over John Graham in the finals, 6-3, 7-5, 6-3.

With the exception of the semifinals and finals of the class A doubles which will be played early next week, the city tournament is completed. The matches in the class A doubles were postponed because of the absence of Charles Cook and Mike Ellis from the city.

Minyard Allows One Hit As Meyers Beats Denver

Claude Minyard, Meyers Grocery company ace, came close to repeating his no-hit, no-run performance Thursday afternoon over his former mates when he held the Fort Worth and Denver club to one lone hit while his mates pecked away at Roy Brackett for a 12 to 0 victory. Minyard gave up only one hit, this a double in the sixth and final inning. Minyard whiffed nine men to Brackett's three. Minyard recently let Tarry Transfer down without a hit. Score:

Tarry Transfer Nine Leaves Twilight League

Tarry Transfer baseball team of the Twilight league officially announced Thursday night that they had withdrawn from the league and their place probably will be taken by the McCarty Coffee company team. Smokey Crews announced Thursday night that his team will be ready to take the field Sunday against the Northsiders. A meeting was called by the league president for tonight at the Wichita Poster company to make final arrangements to enter the team. All managers are urged to be on hand for the meeting at 8 o'clock.

Northsiders and Motors Fight to 5-5 Deadlock

The Northsiders and Northwest Motors crucial game for the Twilight league leadership Thursday on Katy diamond ended in a 9 to 9 deadlock when darkness halted the battle at the end of the fifth inning. It was a close see-saw battle all the way between Carl Prince for Northsiders and H. R. Burns for Northwest Motors. The two pitchers were hit often with the Northsiders, making six hits do the work for them.

FISTS FLY IN TITLE GAME

Four Players Clash; Carleton Credited With Win

BEAUMONT, Aug. 13. (AP)—Houston won the first half pennant of the Texas league here today when by mixing timely base wallops off three Beaumont pitchers they romped away with a 5 to 2 win in the deciding game of the play-off. Five thousand fans packed the stands to see the Buffs grab their third victory in the titular play-off losing but one and tying one in the five games played.

Tex Carleton started for the Buffaloes but when he eased up after being hit on the finger by a ball returned by Sprinz, he was relieved in the fifth when the first two Shippers reached first safely. George Washington Payne came to Tex's rescue and except for the Beaumont flurry in the eighth that netted two runs, Payne was never in trouble. Izzy Goldstein started for the Exporters but fled under a barrage of blows in the fifth, Guy Green completing this round. Buck Marrow stepped to the box at the beginning of the sixth and finished. Carleton received credit for the win and Goldstein the loss.

Players Start Fight

In the sixth inning Taylor and Sprinz came to blows at the keystone bag. When the Buff catcher spilled the Exporter shortstop as he slid into second trying to break up a force play, he thought Taylor fell on him a little too hard and grabbed Eddie's legs. Taylor came up and they clinched, but were soon parted.

In the seventh inning Fritz and Selph came to blows after the Exporter first sacker believed the Houston second baseman had spiked him deliberately. After taking the ball from Schuble, Fritz whirled and threw it at Selph, hitting him between the shoulder blades. Selph waded in and they passed a dozen blows before order was restored.

The Buffs jumped away to a two-run lead in the opening inning when Hock singled to center, moved to second on Smith's sacrifice and scored when Selph singled to left. Selph stole second and came home on Medwick's single to left after Peel had whiffed.

Score Two More

The Bisons added two more in the fifth. Carleton led off with a single to right and was forced by Hock on an attempted sacrifice, Hocking moving to second when Taylor threw wild to first trying to complete a twin killing. But Selph doubled to left to score Hock and Peel doubled to center to score Selph. Green replaced Goldstein and walked Medwick, but Sturdy grounded out.

A walk to Sturdy and singles by Carey and Payne gave the Buffs their other run in the eighth. It was in this inning the Exporters counted their two tallies. Taylor beat out an infield hit to Sturdy and went to second on Schuble's single to right. Both advanced on White's infield out, and when Hughes singled to short left, Taylor scored and Schuble took third. While Payne was throwing out Easterling, Schuble scored.

Katy and Longhorns Win Via Forfeits

The Katy Railroaders and Panhandle Longhorns were both awarded their games by forfeit Thursday afternoon over Smootch and Tarry, respectively. The Tarry club failed to put in their appearance while Smootch was unable to put a full nine on the field. Smootch filled out a team with sideliners and won a practice game over Katy by the score of 5 to 0. Dick Warren, left-handed his way to the shut-out victory.

Posters Keep Up Dizzy Pace by Downing Taxman

The Wichita Posters continued their dizzy pace in the Twilight league Thursday afternoon by defeating Taxman Refinery 4 to 1 on the Scott street diamond No. 1. REDS WIN PAIR

BOSTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—The Boston Braves continued today their ineffectual attempts to beat the Cincinnati Reds by dropping both ends of a double-header, 17 to 3, and 4 to 2. Tony Cuccinello was the chief thorn in the side of the Boston pitchers, collecting six hits out of as many times at bat in the opener, and breaking up the ball game in the nightcap with a home run. Jack Wilson Wins Tri-County Title

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Aug. 13.—Jack Wilson, Knox City, won the championship of the Tri-County Golf association in the 36-hole finals of the annual tournament here today, defeating A. H. Wair of Haskell, three up and two to go, the match ending on the 34th green.

A large gallery followed the match, which was close and exciting. Wair came through the 32nd hole two down. After halving the 33rd hole, Wilson thrust off his opponent's rally by winning the 34th to cinch the title.

Munday was selected as the site for the 1932 tournament.

Vincent Lane of Munday won the second flight title, defeating Lem Bellows, Seymour, in a thriller that went two extra holes. O. C. Harrison Jr., Seymour, was two down on the 15th hole, came through to win the next three holes and take top honors from Kenneth Edwards, Knox City, in the third flight. O. C. Harrison Sr., Seymour, won the fourth flight honors, defeating John Albert Smith, Knox City, seven up and six to go.

Laredo Posse Seeks Gunman After Shooting

LAREDO, Texas, Aug. 13. (AP)—Sheriff Ignacio Sanchez today led a posse of 15 men in search of Federico Cuellar, who allegedly shot M. G. Menke through the neck with a pistol in Menke's cafe at Zapata last night. A dispute between Cuellar and Menke preceded the shooting. Menke's condition was serious at a Laredo hospital today.

Shriners Frolic At Lakeside Park

Shriners of Wichita Falls and surrounding territory together with their families and friends staged the feature frolic of their summer season at Lakeside park Thursday night, with J. M. Spoonts in general charge of arrangements for the program of festivities.

Guests of Maskat temple included Shriners from Archer City, Olney, Electra, Vernon, Burkburnett, Grandfield and other out-of-town points, it was said. Free swims during the afternoon attracted many of the party to the bathing pool. A huge spread of "hot dogs" and watermelon was served to Shriners and their families during the evening. A one-hour program, featuring the Maskat Temple band, was presented in the open air theater, and dancing at the pavilion concluded the evening's program.

Daily Menus

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Aug. 16th:

Sunday

Breakfast—Fresh fruit; dish of cottage cheese.

Lunch—Buttered asparagus; combination salad of celery, ripe olives and nuts.

Dinner—Baked Belgian hare; creamed cucumbers; green beans; *melon ball salad; berries.

Monday

Breakfast—Coddled eggs; melba toast; stewed prunes.

Lunch—Fresh fruit, all desired of one kind.

Dinner—Salisbury steak; spinach; buttered beets; salad of endive and cress; baked peaches with a dash of whipped cream.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Glass of orange or tomato juice upon arising; broiled bacon; wholewheat drop biscuits; stewed raisins.

Lunch—Carrots with parsley butter; salad of raw celery and pineapple.

Dinner—Veal roast; stuffed summer squash; greens; salad of tomato and celery; small slice of watermelon.

Wednesday

Breakfast—Bowl of berries with cream.

Lunch—Spinach omelet; small green peas; salad of chopped beets, parsley and celery.

Dinner—Baked white fish; baked tomatoes; five-minute cabbage; cold cooked asparagus salad; jell-o or jell-well.

Thursday

Breakfast—Cantaloupe; eggs poached in milk or cream, served on melba toast.

Lunch—Large glass of tomato juice.

Dinner—Vegetable soup; roast beef; carrots roasted with the meat; cooked lettuce; salad of stuffed beets; ice cream.

Friday

Breakfast—Pineapple; cottage cheese.

Lunch—Buttered lima beans; turnip greens; shredded lettuce; celery.

Dinner—Broiled fillet of sole; spinach; salad of lettuce; tomatoes and cucumbers; no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast—Grapefruit upon arising; coddled egg; small piece of broiled ham; melba toast.

Lunch—Fresh peaches; ice cream.

Dinner—Jellied tomato bouillon; casserole of mutton; string beans; salad of cold sliced cucumbers; apricot whip.

*Melon Ball Salad—Select a thoroughly ripe, dark colored watermelon and small well flavored cantaloupes. Chill and cut melons through center. Remove all seeds, and with a Parisian potato baller scoop out small balls of each melon and heap on large lettuce-covered plates. Serve very cold without dressing of any kind. Smaller portions may be served as cocktails at the beginning of a meal.

The acids of melons are very mild and their combination with each other and with other foods causes no harm, as in the case of more acid fruits, such as oranges, grapefruit, peaches, plums, etc.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Epilepsy

Question—R. R. asks: "Can epileptic attacks with resultant severe headaches be cured? I have been taking medicines for over two years and the condition seems to be getting gradually worse."

Answer—Practically all forms of epilepsy can be cured through a fasting and dieting regimen and the use of certain physiotherapy treatments. Most of the toxins responsible for epilepsy undoubtedly originate in the intestinal tract, and it is always important to make sure that the elimination is functioning normally. The use of an acid fruit fast is of decided benefit when followed by the proper diet. I have had very good success in the treatment of epilepsy with the fasting regimen.

Raw Carrots

Question—K. L. W. asks: "Is there any specific benefit to be derived from the regular eating of raw carrots every day?"

Answer—The raw carrot is an excellent salad vegetable containing several of the most important organic salts and vitamins. It is an excellent remedy for improving bad, pimply complexions.

"Growing Pains"

Question—Mrs. W. H. L. writes: "My little boy complains of pains in his legs several times a day. There does not seem to be any swelling. Somebody said his trouble is only 'growing pains' and not to worry about it. He is 8 years old. What is your opinion?"

Answer—The so-called "growing pains" are usually due to a form of rheumatism and if allowed to continue without being corrected may affect the valves of the heart. The child should be carefully examined to make sure of the condition. The dietetic treatment which I advise for this trouble is similar to that which I outline for rheumatism. I will be glad to send instructions if you will forward a large self-addressed stamped envelope.

Pinchot Pictures Troublous Winter

DETROIT, Aug. 13. (INS)—A picture of a gloomy and troublous winter was painted before the mayor's unemployment committee here today by Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who declared the federal government was the only power great enough to meet the situation.

He began his address by stating that what he had to say was not to be interpreted as a bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

"It is nothing of the sort," he said. "This nation has come to a pretty pass if a man cannot say what needs to be said in the public interest without being charged with political intention."

"The nation," Governor Pinchot said, "is in the grip of a great depression. . . . It is a threat to our institutions. It supplies the soil for growth of ideas of government hostile to our own."

"The federal government can raise money to alleviate the condition within a single week," the speaker asserted.

Program Planned for Children of Mangum

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Aug. 13.—Several hundred children of Mangum will gather at Harmon park Friday evening to witness a special program sponsored by the Rotary club in connection with the 25th anniversary celebration of the National Recreation association.

Similar programs will be conducted in cities and towns throughout the country, and a message from President Hoover to the children who enjoy the playground will be released. A thousand copies of Mr. Hoover's message, with his personal signature, will be distributed to the children.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (AP)—Cotton was generally higher today.

An early advance to 7.28 for December was followed by partial reactions, but after selling off to 7.12 the price rallied to 7.34 in the late trading when there appeared to be a scarcity of contracts and covering became more active. December closed at 7.31 with the general market closing very steady at net advances of 28 to 31 points.

There were many expressions of skepticism as to the success of the plan for reducing the crop by plowing under every third row of cotton plants in the fields.

Liverpool cables said the market there had advanced on buying and general covering influenced by the farm board recommendation and reported the demand for cotton cloth was broadening. Trade interests were said to be buying cotton on the opening advance here and again late in the afternoon, while some of the early sellers were credited with buying when the market turned upward later in the day. Reports today were 10,753 bales making 53,981 so far this season. Port receipts 3,412; U. S. port stocks 2,752,631.

Stocks Recover Losses in Face Of Skepticism and Short Selling

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (US)—In the face of widespread skepticism and renewed short selling, the stock market today recovered from Wednesday's reaction. Industrials as a group closed higher, on the average, than the final prices of Tuesday, although the latter day's peak prices were not reached today.

Railroad shares continued sluggish but held about unchanged for the day, while public utilities participated in a moderate advance.

There was no mistaking the character of today's market. Group activity, pool work and similar operations accounted for a large part of the 1,400,000-share volume. Nevertheless, this is exactly in line with the program of the bullish sponsors, as set forth here.

The current theme is speculation, especially among the relatively lower-priced shares, and the incentive is hope that business betterment over the next few weeks will have proven sufficient to support a higher price level in stocks.

It is largely a professional market and for the time being the bull leaders are making their demonstration. It is significant that very few of the supposed bear leaders are currently opposing the upturn; in fact, the majority of bears concede the possibility of a further rally.

Encouraged by the market's tendency to recover following the previous day's setback, aggressive bullish activities were renewed in all parts of the list. Radio common enjoyed the largest turnover of any stock in a fortnight as its bull sponsors emphasized potential advantages to accrue from an agreement with the government over the anti-trust litigation.

In the intense activity in the issue confirmed expectation voiced here, that with first display of general market firmness, Radio would come in for aggressive sponsorship. Obviously speculative, the stock nevertheless has invariably appealed to speculative imagination. Some of the most successful sponsors in previous moments in radio are reported behind the present move.

Although activity centered around the lower-priced issues, the prominent industrials also participated in the recovery. Steel and American Can were favored by short-covering, and also by active sponsorship furnished by the current leaders of the bull movement. Strong buying continued in Consolidated Gas.

Throughout the market it was evident that long-dormant bull pools were coming to life and capitalising the upturn. General Foods was aggressively sponsored by its permanent pool and strength of the stock stimulated the entire food group. Montgomery-Ward, a favorite issue of strong interests, enjoyed an upturn which found reflection in general strength among the merchandising list generally. As a group, seasonal influences should be strongly in favor of the retail distributing issues. Woolworth group resumed activity and the stock closed up almost a point. Ability of this stock to cross its former high price would attract considerable "stop" buying orders.

The oil shares came to life following signing of the Texas oil conservation law which, it is hoped, will effect material reduction in output of its enormous oil pools. Standard of New Jersey advanced a full point and other oils in proportion. Texas oil purchases showed greater inclination to reenter the market with definite bids. Since Texas has been the outstanding sore spot in the entire oil situation, any improvement there would rebound to the benefit of the entire industry. Then, too, more stable conditions would undoubtedly stimulate revival of the merger movement.

Even the Juneau pool for once participated in the advance rather than following its previous experience of putting up its pet while other shares were declining. Houdaille-Hershey gained a fraction as scale buying orders were executed. Westinghouse Electric was favored by short covering. More friendly attitude was noted toward motion picture stocks.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 13. (AP)—Demand for wheat continued very strong on the cash grain market today and other commodities were fairly well taken.

Exporters were bidding 47½ to 48½c for wheat delivered Galveston.

Milling wheat was quoted as follows, basis f.o.b. cars at Texas shipping points: No. 1 ordinary hard 48½@50½c; 12 per cent protein 51@53½c; 14 per cent 53@55½c.

Quotations on coarse grains ranged as follows basis f.o.b. cars at Texas shipping points:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 44@46c; No. 2 white or yellow 47½@50c.

Oats—No. 2 red 16@16½c.

Barley—No. 3, 31@33c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 47@49c; No. 2 kaffir 44@46c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Enlarged shipments of wheat by Russia gave a downward impulse to grain prices today that subsequent rallies failed to offset. However, the September delivery of wheat showed a tendency to gain on deferred deliveries. This was largely attributed to good demand from mills and elevator interests and to curtailment of domestic primary receipts. In decided contrast to September wheat, September corn was weak, owing to pressure inspired by belief that the leading owner of cash corn would utilise the future deliveries pit to market his holdings.

Wheat closed easy, ¼@⅜c lower, corn unchanged to 1¼c down, oats ¼@⅜c off.

Word that Black sea ports had shipped 4,680,000 bushels of wheat this week, compared with 3,080,000 last week and 1,944,000 a year ago, gave the market here a solar plexus blow. Most of this Black sea total came from Russia, the week's exports by that country aggregating 4,384,000 bushels.

Much of the selling of corn today was based on a crop summary by a Chicago expert just returned from a 1,000 mile trip through the corn belt. [illegible]

WHEAT CLIMBS TO 30 CENTS

Wichita Market Jumps Two Cents Thursday

Wichita Falls Grain

Wheat 30 cents; oats 14 cents.
Barley 20 to 22 cents.

The local wheat market continued its revival with a bound here Thursday, advancing two cents at one move.

The quotation of 30 cents for wheat is the highest figure offered for the grain here in more than six weeks. The increase Thursday is received with much favor by local grain buyers as a sign of market strengthening. It is attributed largely to the fact that receipts this season have been exceptionally light, taking into consideration that the harvest of wheat this year has been one of the largest. To an extent the advance is laid to a generally more favorable Chicago market, despite the fact that that market weakened perceptibly before its close Thursday.

Wheat prices here have ranged from one extreme of 40 cents for the season's high to 25 cents for the low. With the first receipts of grain by buyers here, 40 cents was paid. Shortly after, however, the market began its decline and with spasmodic ups and downs reached a low of 25 cents with the last few days of July.

The introduction of reduced freight rates on grain shipments, effected Aug. 1, influenced quotations upward temporarily, and resulted in a two-cent increase to 27 cents. A later decline occurred, and reached 25 cents on Thursday of last week.

Wheat increased Saturday to 26 cents. Monday it climbed to 27 cents. Another one-cent advance occurred Wednesday to place the figure at 28 cents, and was followed Thursday with the two-cent jump to re-establish the 30-cent mark.

Thursday's improvement in the wheat market is predicted to let loose some of the grain that has been stored for feeding or future sales purposes.

Police Pistol Team Fails to Enter Meet

Jess Leverett, special officer for the M-K-T here, will go to Haskell Friday to attend the second and final day of the West Texas Sheriffs and Peace Officers association convention.

Sheriff Perry Browning said Thursday that possibly one or more of his men would attend the closing events of the session late Friday afternoon and evening.

The pistol team of the Wichita Falls police department has abandoned its plan to compete in the pistol shooting event at the convention.

FALL INJURES WICHITA MAN

J. M. French Seriously Hurt In Accident

After falling 12 feet from a scaffold, J. M. French, 29, was in a serious condition at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital Thursday afternoon. Although he received a broken spine, three broken ribs, a broken collar bone, and was suffering from shock, physicians said his condition was not critical.

French fell from the scaffold on which he was working at the Primrose refinery on the Burkburnett road. He landed on his back. Workers with whom he was making repairs said that he apparently lost his footing on the scaffold.

The accident occurred shortly before 1 o'clock. The injured man was taken to the hospital in a Merkle ambulance. He resides at 206 Jefferson street.

All in favor say "AYE"!

Cigarettes were made to enjoy—not to worry about.

Here's one you'll LIKE to smoke—Chesterfield!

Sure they're mild — mild enough for anybody. And they taste better. Who says so? More smokers every day!

Mild, ripe, sweet tobaccos; the purest paper made; modern factories, spotlessly clean—every material, every step, tested by scientists for cleanliness and purity.

Nobody smokes a finer cigarette than Chesterfield!
