Six Olton Boys To Get Top State FFA Degree

Six members of the Olton Future Farmers of America Chapter will receive "Lone Star Farmer" degrees at the state FFA Convention in San Antonio July 15-17.

They are Billy Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Carson; Keith Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Berry; Dennis Givens, son of Mr. and Mrs. D.L. Givens; Richard Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Am-Am Won With 108 Points

The July 4 Am-Am golf tournament at Olton Recreation Center was won by Mabel Mathis, Sherman Davis, Shorty Silcott and Conner Parsons. The foursome collected 108 points in the competition.

The point system for the tournament gave one point for bogeys, two for pars, three for birdies and five for eagles. The system was used by Golf Pro Fred Pendergast to determine winners.

The second-place foursome, with 99 points, was Dan Gregory, Wayne Hair, Basil Johns and Bo Patten.

Third place went to Bob Gullett, Jim Speer Jr., Marcelle Loveless and Lester Ramsey--with 92 points.

Fourth place went to another foursome with Dan Gregory in it. Gregory, Durwood Copeland, George Redinger and Joe Turner turned in 89 points for the fourth position.

Fifth place was won by Gilbert Roberson, Shirley Roberson, Archie Sorley and Rosie Sorley with 88 points.

Givens and Hall have been selected by chapter members as delegates to the Olton chapter to the state convention. Berry will serve as alternate delegate.

The three-day meeting of representatives of over 900 FFA chapters throughout the state will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and awards to outstanding members of the organization.

Among important business at the convention will be the election of a state president from the ten state officer nominees, who have been elected by members in the 10 areas of the state.

Voting delegates to the National FFA Convention in Kansas

City in October will be elected. In addition, delegates will name a sweetheart from the 10 candidates elected by the areas and will select the top talent team in the state.

The highest award of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America of America, the Lone Star Farmer Degree, will be presented to 802 members of the 40,121 member organization.

The membership will confer honorary degrees on adults who have contributed in an outstanding way to the accomplishments of the organization.

Two Latin Girls Hurt As Rocket Trip Fails

Two Olton girls, Janie Anzaldúa and Francis Hernandez were injured Monday at the Lions Club Carnival when one of the rides came untracked.

The accident was the first in more than 17 years for the carnival rides.

Miss Hernandez was admitted to Community Clinic with what Dr. O.H. Jones described as "minor injuries"--including a black eye.

Miss Anzaldúa was more severely injured, though the doctor did not describe her injuries as serious. He said that she suffered "severe lacerations, a fractured jaw and some teeth were knocked out."

When asked about the accident, said, "I don't remember a thing." Miss Anzaldúa said, "I think I fainted."

The two girls agreed that the incident brought their carnival stay to an unhappy end, but did say how they "might have enjoyed things" before the accident.

A sister of one of the girls said that the family had planned to go to a movie, but decided to go to the carnival instead.

Speaking of the accident, she said, "Up they went--Zip! Down they came."

The assistant rides manager at the carnival said it was the first accident he had seen on one of the rides since at least 1947. He said he didn't know what happened--"unless somebody stole four pins, and they're gone--I can't find them."

He explained that the four pins hold the bucket of the ride-

Chamber Reviews Projects

The board of directors of the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture reviewed progress of C-CA projects in the area at a regular meeting Tuesday.

C-CA Manager Melvin McReynolds presented a financial statement for the first six months of 1964 for board review and approval. McReynolds also reported on plans for the Post Office dedication ceremonies Saturday.

McReynolds announced that in addition to Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, the principal dedication speaker, and a Post Office Department representative, J. Allen Dupree, Congressman George Mahon and State Representative Bill Clayton would be on hand for the ceremonies.

He also announced that the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce has formed a committee to study the county-wide move to abolish the office of county school superintendent. The Littlefield committee is to make recommendations for action by the Chamber of Commerce there.

The committee met earlier this week with McReynolds and Enterprise Editor Bill Turner gathering information on the purposes of the movement.

The C-CA manager also reported that Bill McMorris, city engineer, would present his full report and survey on the widening of Highway 70 to the city commission July 14.

The C-CA also agreed to sponsor a candidate in the "Miss Grain Sorghum of the Nation" contest in Dimmitt August 8.

In further action, the board agreed to purchase a page in the souvenir program of the Greenbelt Bowl, Inc., football game. The page will contain the pictures of Olton players in the game, and the pictures of the player's candidates for bowl queen.

The game, scheduled at Childress, will include Clyde Galloway and George Jones, both Olton stars last year. Galloway is sponsoring Miss Coy McGill for queen, while Jones has not yet picked a girl to sponsor.

Members of the board present at the Tuesday meeting were Basil Sherman, Rex Chitwood, Johnny Clark Jr., George Redinger, Willie Gene Green, Delmer Givens, Doug Jones and Dan Gregory. Manager McReynolds was also present to present his reports.

Two Latin Girls Hurt As Rocket Trip Fails

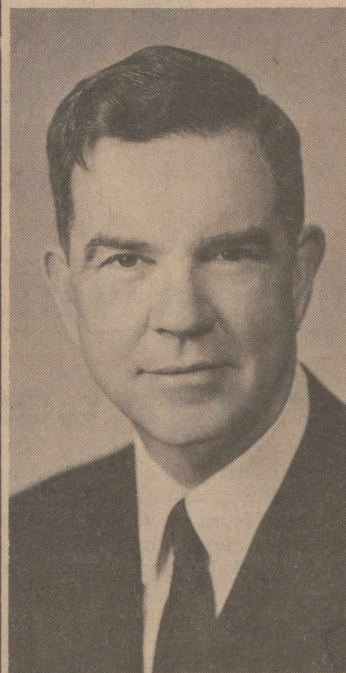

called the "Rocket Ride" on the tracks. Without the pins, the bucket just came loose and went off the tracks. He pointed out that the ride had been used several hundred different times, and with the four pins in place, nothing had ever happened except what was supposed to.

He went on to say, "We aren't in this business to hurt people. We try to provide safe, fun rides."

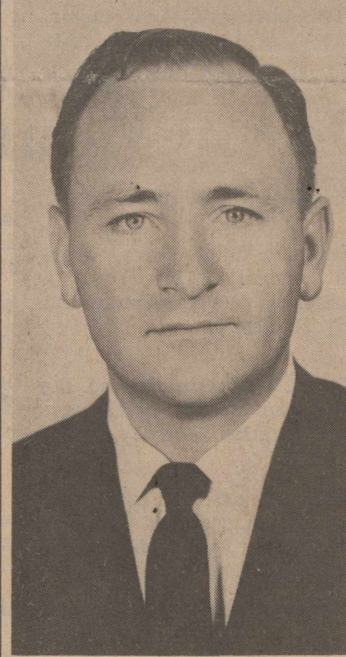

A 17-year record with only one accident seems to bear out the fact that the rides are amazingly safe.

An insurance adjuster saw the girls Wednesday. The assistant rides manager said that he hoped to see everything all straightened out and the accident forgotten as soon as possible.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith Will Be Speaker Here

CONG. GEORGE MAHON

STATE REP. B. W. CLAYTON

Olton's new post office will be dedicated Saturday at 3 p.m.

Postmaster Doc Holt, in announcing the dedication, said that prominent figures in local, state and national government will be on hand for the ceremonies.

The principal speaker for the dedication is Lt. Gov. Preston Smith from Lubbock.

The Post Office Department will be represented by J. Allen Dupree, assistant to the regional director.

Congressman George Mahon, who thought that he would not be able to be present, has said that he will attend. State Representative Billy Wayne Clayton also will be present.

Holt and his staff moved into the new building during the July 4 weekend and have been doing business from the new office since Monday.

The dedication ceremonies Saturday afternoon will take place in front of the new building.

The dedication speaker, Preston Smith, is the 38th Lieutenant Governor of Texas, running now for a second term in the office he first won in 1962.

The 52-year-old businessman from Lubbock was born on a farm near Georgetown, the seventh child of a family that eventually grew to 13.

As a youngster he attended schools in Williamson and Gaines counties. He worked his way through high school at Lamesa and through college at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

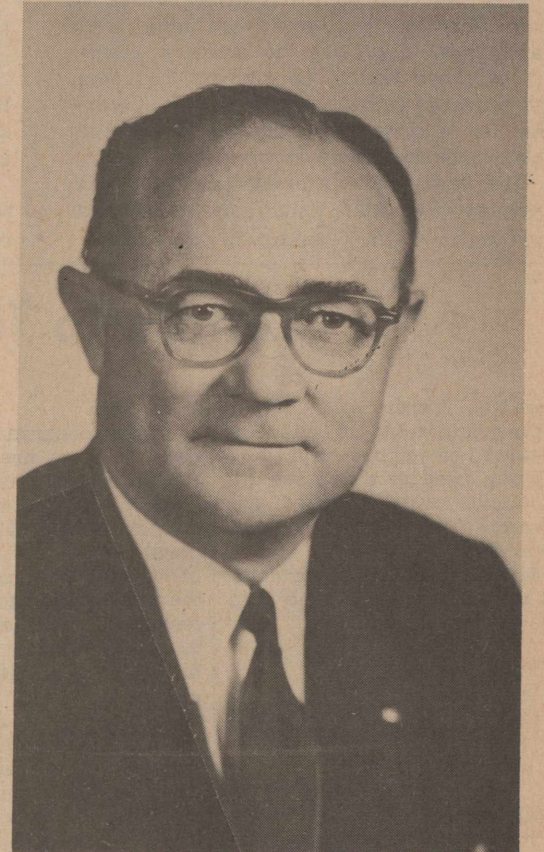

After graduating from college, Smith never left Lubbock, except when official duties took him to Austin and other Texas centers.

His political duties began with his election to the state House of Representatives of 1944. He was re-elected twice before voluntarily giving up the position.

In 1956 he was gone once more in Austin. This time he was a Texas Senator from an 11-county district.

After six years in the state Senate, he moved up to the lieutenant governor's post.

While in the legislature, Smith was the author or co-author of bills establishing a permanent building fund for colleges, creating the present underground water code, providing stability for the farm-to-market road system and installing the "Gilmer-Aiken Program" to improve public schools.

LT. GOV. PRESTON SMITH

Both Dupree and Mahon will appear on the program.

Mahon is the eighth senior congressman in the House. He is chairman of the house appropriations committee and recently guided the Johnson administration's foreign aid request through that committee with the smallest decrease of requested funds in many years.

Mahon has also been responsible for securing area visits recently of such high government figures as Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver--often prominently mentioned as a Democratic vice presidential possibility--and Astronaut Gordon Cooper.

Dupree started his postal career in March, 1936, as a substitute letter carrier in Houston. From there, he advanced to regular letter carrier, rural letter carrier, route examiner, assistant station superintendent, station superintendent and assistant superintendent of delivery and collections.

He was appointed to his present position in 1961.

Current plans also call for music and the raising of the flag at the ceremonies, in addition to the speakers.

Monkey Turns The Tables

Don't monkey around with the monkeys!

'Twas on a visit to the zoo that this tale took place.

The characters--a long-tailed monkey and a Homo sapien.

But both of the figures of the tale were monkeying around, or so we are told. 'Twas before the cage containing the long-tailed monkey, or so we are told, that the tale began to unfold.

There was this monkey, you see, hanging on the wire of the cage--by paw, by foot, by tail--or so the tale was told.

'Twas then that the human struck.

It was only a friendly little pinch on the paw, but it was entirely too familiar to please the long-tailed character.

In a rage, or was it in revenge, the monkey reached out and grabbed a whole paw full of eye-glasses. And then the tables were turned, as the monkey smashed the glasses to pieces.

Terry Newman of Hart was pressed into emergency service as a seeing-eye guide to escort his grandfather, O.O. Breland, from Lubbock back from the zoo.

Which all goes to show that it sometimes doesn't pay at all to monkey with the monkeys in the zoo.

Construction Program Studied, Bids Asked

Olton's school expansion program got a thorough going-over Tuesday night as trustees mapped plans for taking bids on a major portion of the construction.

Bids on almost $200,000 worth of the $300,000 program will be opened at a meeting Tuesday, July 28 at 8 p.m.

The board opened bids on one phase of the program Tuesday night. The group received a low bid of $9,948 on the only steel building in the plans, the bus maintenance garage.

Low bidder was Stout Steel Builders, Tulsa. Trustees authorized Supt. Johnny Clark Jr. to go into contract on the bid after he has completed a check on all specifications.

In other activity at the meeting the board heard a report of purchase of new buses and sale of old ones, accepted resignations of six teachers, and officially employed five new faculty members.

Two new buses will be purchased, one a 54-passenger model for $4,154 and the other a 60-passenger bus for $4,163. The high bidder on two old buses to be sold was Clarence Carpenter, who bid $428 one each.

Resignations accepted were those of Tom Harkey, May Rae Tuttle, Bobby Fred, Mrs. Dean Bradley, Mrs. Sam Ellax Woods, and Helen Wright.

New teachers employed are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford and Mrs. Walter Bryan. Hamilton will teach junior high science, while his wife will teach high school English. Ford will teach junior high math and Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Bryan will teach in the elementary school.

Seven other teachers are still needed, including five in white schools. Three elementary teachers are still to be employed as are instructors of high school science and home economics. Two teachers are needed at Bohner.

The building program now in progress has fallen behind schedule, and board members set a date for opening of bids as soon as possible.

Approximately $80,000 will be spent for the construction of a vocational building, $35,000 for a field house, $35,000 for a science building, $75,000 for remodeling at the high school and junior high, $15,000 for science equipment and $12,000 for vocational equipment.

These expenditures total approximately $252,000. Another $50,000 has been set aside for improvements and moving of the football field, and the construction of the bus maintenance garage.

Spotlite's New Dining Area Will Be Open In Late July

Expansion of The Spotlite Cafe on Highway 70 should be completed the latter part of July, Owner Greer Hamill announced this week.

Hamill is adding a dining room with capacity for 60 persons.

Among other improvements to the cafe will be the installation of refrigerated air conditioning, and the addition of a new broiler for the kitchen.

The new dining room will be carpeted and will feature indirect lighting. Background music will be provided for the pleasure of those dining there.

A new brick exterior has been completed around the 20-foot by 52-foot addition. Interior walls of the dining room will be brick.

"We hope to have the new dining room open by July 23," Hamill said. "We believe the dining room will be ideal for special parties."

Hamill and his wife, Coye, began operating the Spotlite in February, 1962. They have a daughter, Alana, 8.

Greer, who has 38 years' experience in the restaurant business operated the Ideal Cafe here from 1955 to 1957.

The New Post Office

Olton's new post office will be dedicated Saturday, making a "dream come true" not only for Postmaster L.B. (Doc) Holt and his staff, but also for the entire community. While all of us are glad to have a new post office for the town, most of us fail to realize what it means to be selected as the site for such a new facility.

New post offices are getting harder to come by, and this trend has been noted for years, especially in smaller towns. The Post Office Department has been trimming its outlays from the Federal Treasury for construction purposes through its lease-construction program. The Department is now concentrating the building of postal units only where they are most urgently needed. In areas where it is practical to do so, existing buildings are being remodeled. The very fact that Olton is the site of a new post office reflects the idea that Olton is growing steadily. We think the new post office is quite a feather in Olton's cap, and we're happy to see men of the caliber of Preston Smith, George Mahon and Bill Clayton think so, too. They will take time from busy schedules to be on hand for the dedication ceremonies. The Enterprise would like to take this opportunity to say that Olton's "Welcome" mat is out, not only for our visitors, but also for the folks who call the Olton area home. We hope you will be on hand Saturday afternoon when Olton marks what is, indeed, a "milestone of progress."

RUNNING WATER PHILOSOPHER

Plugs Conventions-By-Mail

Editor's note: The Running Water Philosopher on his care-less weed farm on Running Water Draw reports on another of his unworkable notions this week.

Dear editor:
According to an article I read last night in a copy of a newspaper which blew out of a teenager's car which came around a corner out here near my farm on two wheels to save rubber, I guess, a plan is underway to conduct the next national census by mail, instead of having thousands of paid people walking around knocking on doors, and this got me to thinking. Why not hold national political conventions by mail? Here's the deal: I'll cost millions and millions of dollars for the Republicans to travel to San Francisco and the Democrats to Atlantic City, to set up all the telephone wires, television cables and cameras, to get the convention halls ready, to handle all the traffic, feed all the people, find hotel rooms, hire more police, etc. This seems like going to a lot of expense and trouble to get a bunch of delegates from around the nation into one spot to vote by voice, particularly when most of them already know how they're going to vote anyway. But even if they don't know how they're going to vote, it seems like they could make up their minds on the basis of a nominating speech in a noisy convention hall, you've got the wrong bunch for delegates to start with. If there ever was a delegate who was influenced by a bunch of people tearing down the aisles waving signs and beating drums, he was picked by mistake. For $500 worth of stamps, the whole thing could be conducted by mail.

However, I'll admit when the convention opens, I'll be sitting in front of a television set watching the show. After all, it takes place in the summer and in the summer all television fans are used to seeing re-runs anyway. Yours faithfully, J.A.

SHE'S PERFECTLY NORMAL

Dear Amy:
I have a daughter who is 14 years of age. Every week she has a new boyfriend. She talks about each one constantly and says how dreamy he is, but the following week or so, she starts all over again with a new boy. When we go to town or anywhere away from home, she wears skinny pants. We try to get her not to wear them but she doesn't listen and wears them anyway. I would like to know if this is a stage she is going through, and if so, what to do about it?

Her Mother

Dear Mother:
Your daughter is a perfectly normal 14 year-old who is doing exactly the same things we did at her age. Remember? "Skinny pants"—while I don't recommend them for town—are an accepted mode of dress with the younger set, so don't be too concerned. She, along with other girls her age, are merely keeping up with what fashion dictates. Let's face it, Mother, who else can wear them!

Dear Amy:
My daughter is about to get married some time next month and I don't know exactly what is the proper gift to give her. The relatives of her husband-to-be have purchased her wedding gown, the wedding rings and other jewelry. I plan to give her some money (to buy her own gift) . . . if you think cold cash is not so ugly.

Dear Widower:
There is nothing ugly about cold cash. The children can purchase just what they need to warm their hearts. Congratulations to you on this happy event.

Dear Amy:
I just could not resist writing to you after reading the letter from "An Old Pedal-Pusher." My son also graduated high school in June and did not get a car. In fact, he didn't want a car for graduation and he does not have any desire even to drive. He is 18 and says that no one should drive until they are 21 because before that age, they are not mature enough to handle a car with good judgment. I'll admit this is an unusual attitude because my other son

(16) can't wait. He will though . . . until he can buy his own. He has wanted other things badly enough to work for them and these are the things he appreciates most.

Thank God I have two wonderful boys. I'm proud of them!
A Faithful Reader

Dear Amy:
I am 11 years old and have two older brothers (15 and 17). Near our home there is a beautiful lake where we used to go fishing and swimming all summer long. My brothers are working this summer and don't get home until two o'clock and by that time, the three of us can't get too much swimming in. I must wait for them to go with me because my mother won't let me go to the swimming hole alone. I am a pretty good swimmer (passed my Red Cross tests). How can I convince Mom that there is nothing wrong if I go by myself?

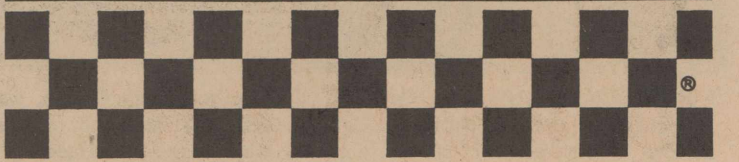

Dear Marc:
You can't convince Mom—or me, either! You should know from your Red Cross lessons that, no matter how accomplished a swimmer, you never go swimming alone. Wait for your brothers, Marc. Water is a good friend but a deadly enemy!

Dear Amy:
An argument has arisen which I hope you can clarify. Is it proper for the immediate family to give a shower for an expectant mother?

Also, is it ethical to give a shower for a mother who is expecting her fifth child?

Dear Perplexed:
A baby shower is given by friends rather than relatives. Showers should be limited to the first baby in the family. In my opinion, it's an outright imposition upon others for a mother to expect a shower for each subsequent child. Anyone who wants to send a baby gift doesn't need an invitation to do so!

Granbery, Finley Married In Austin Ceremony

RATE OF WATER USE IN RELATION TO PLANT DEVELOPMENT

Irrigation Warning Issued

Don't start irrigating cotton too soon! County Agent W. R. Kimbrough says, "Cotton that received a good pre-plant irrigation or has benefitted from recent rains should have enough moisture in the ground to last until the first white blooms appear. Cotton at this stage of growth should be about 60 days of age."

Watering cotton prior to this time can lead to troubles, says Kimbrough.

(1) If watered too early (before white blooms appear) cotton tends to keep growing in a vegetative manner and doesn't start fruiting early.

(2) Early irrigation can lower soil temperatures in the root zone of cotton plants. This encourages, blights, wilts and seedling diseases. Above all, Kimbrough cautions, irrigation shouldn't be practiced when fields of young cotton are disease-ridden, as this tends to compound the problem.

(3) Watering too early can also keep roots from penetrating deep in the soil. Especially in the tighter soils are north of Lubbock, this can create hazards. If roots haven't penetrated deep in the soil, the normally hot, dry weather of August will cause plants to become moisture-stressed. An inadequate root system means farmers won't be able to irrigate their cotton fields often enough at this time to keep plants adequately supplied with water, says Kimbrough.

If irrigation water is short, it might be necessary to start watering before the first white blooms appear. Sherrill cautions, however, that irrigation should be timed as closely as possible to appearance of the first white blooms.

Highest water requirement of cotton plants occurs at peak bloom stage. At this stage, cotton will use one-fourth to four-tenths inches per day. This compares to less than one-tenth inch per day for cotton plants from emergence to squaring stages. From white bloom to peak blooming stage, cotton plants will utilize one-tenth to one-fourth acre-inches water daily.

Kimbrough points out that several years research at South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, has shown a six-inch preplant irrigation plus two four-inch postplants gives maximum yields with top net returns in normal growing seasons. A good rain at the proper time can eliminate one of the postplant irrigations.

Observance of a water cut-off by August 20. From Lubbock south, August 20 to 25 are considered optimum cut-off dates. Following this practice will mean better grades of cotton going to the gin, with less "bollies" and more money in the bank.

Cotton Measuring Underway In County

The measurement of cotton and feed grain crops in Lamb County is well underway.

The measurement, a major summer job in the area, will keep a special force of some 50 people busy for the next several weeks.

Crop measurement is an annual, sizeable chore for the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service, which handles the details of the federal farm marketing and quotas program.

The job facing the ASC office is to measure all cotton and feed grain crops—and some other acreage—that come under the ASC program, to determine compliance with acreage quotas, and to map crops according to an agreed schedule.

To accomplish all this, the ASC office will have between 40 and 45 "Reporters" working in the county.

The reporters make actual measurements on the farm, working with aerial photos that may cover several farms each. Plantings of cotton or maize are plotted from the reporters' actual measurements on the map, and the crops are identified.

Measurement is a field job. When the maps are plotted out, they are measured and figured for acreage in the ASC office by a team of ten clerical workers, planimeter clerks—so-called for the device used to compute the measurements into acres.

The two together, reporter measurements and planimeter computations, determine how many acres are in each planting—or, as is often the case, the acreage diverted under a program.

The measurement and calculation of farm lands is painstaking work, in which the farmer concerned can accompany the reporter if he chooses, when the measurements are made.

The farm producer has usually already measured out his acreage for planting, and generally everything works out as he planned it. In the case of differences, the producer may ask for a re-measurement—a not infrequent happening.

At the start of the program, each reporter is checked out by one of the five ASC supervisors in the county office to determine if the reporter understands and can perform the measuring job properly.

After a reporter is cleared, he is still subject to spot checks to verify his work or to satisfy a request for a re-measurement.

The work normally goes smoothly, but there is a lot of land to be measured.

Lamb County has 198,082 acres in cotton in 2282 farms under the federal program. Of this amount, 2378 acres are under a new program this year, which allows 5 per cent above the allotment to be planted and sold for export only. The extra acres are measured right along with the regular cotton allotment and are distinguished only when the extra percentage of the crop is marketed.

There are 185,527 acres to be measured under the feed grain and allotments. 118,527 acres of this amount are in feed grain, and 67,000 are "diverted" acres. The diverted acreage may be planted in legumes, castor beans, or any other non-critical crop, or they may not be planted at all. They cannot be planted in grain crops.

The feed grain program has 1481 participating farms in the county.

The producer in the feed grain program receives a payment for diverting his acreage, and the diverted acreage must be measured as other acreage under the ASC program.

The reporters are persons whose regular work schedules do not include summer periods. Several are school teachers, but the majority are either college students or high school students in the upper grades.

Reporters are paid on performance—so much for a farm contract, plus an additional amount for the number of acres in the farm plot.

Planimeter clerks are also a special summer force, largely students.

DAUGHTER VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Avery Mitchell of Arlington will spend the week in the home of Mrs. Mitchell's parents Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Burrows.

NOGALES VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams and children of Nogales, Ariz., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Struve last week.

Methodist Youth Group Planning Drive For CROP

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will begin their Youth Seminar July 13. The week of youth activity will continue until Friday, July 17.

The youth are planning a special service project for the Christian Relief Overseas Program. On Wednesday, July 15, between 8 and 10 p.m., a scavenger hunt will be held with items of clothing as the articles for collection. The youth will be looking for a good suit, a coat, a dress...something to replace the rags thousands overseas have to wear.

The young people will be asking for suits, trousers, coats, work clothes, underwear, socks, work shoes, blankets and quilts, light summer garments, mufflers, caps and gloves, every kind of children's clothing and layettes, bed linens, cloth remnants for sewing, sewing kits, shoes, yard goods. They do not want hats, neckties, bathing suits, formal garments, pillows.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Mr. Turner:

To the long list of accolades you have already received, let me add my congratulations on your recognition by the Texas Press Association in the fields of Newspaper Appearance, News Pictures and General Excellence.

The convention in Houston was my first since assuming duties as Information Officer of Fourth U. S. Army and I found it instructive, enjoyable and rewarding.

The Army, possibly more than any other large organization, is deeply concerned with its people. Many come from small cities like yours and return after their term of service. The Army in many ways is a mirror of the population of rural America—of people from Olton. Aware of the leadership you and your newspaper provide to those who contribute so significantly to the Nation, we in the Army are particularly appreciative of your journalistic achievements.

Sincerely,
Roger Whiting
Colonel, GS
Information Officer

Dear Mr. Turner:

Congratulations on your award for general excellence with the National Editorial Association. This is, indeed, a high achievement, to add to your other many achievements in journalism.

I hope that we shall have the pleasure of having you a guest on our campus next session. We offer only a minor in Journalism at Wayland but we are proud of the achievement of those who have taken this route in the last 10 years. Fellowships have been awarded our graduates by such outstanding graduate schools as State University of Iowa and Syracuse. Word came last week that one of our graduates has been elected to a position with the Baptist Public Relations in Dallas, being brought from the News Bureau office at New Orleans Seminary, at a much larger salary. Another graduate who is in Information with Agriculture Department in Washington was awarded a $300 bonus for a suggestion for handling news releases more effectively and at much saving of taxpayers' money. The Herald gets much of its "extra" help from our students.

I noticed that you were at one time City Editor of Temple Telegram. I have written millions of words for the Telegram, before and after the Mayborn regime, while a student at Mary Hardin-Baylor and later as publicity director. Madie Smith is a long-time friend. In Fort Worth recently Walter Humphrey and I had quite a visit over our Telegram days.

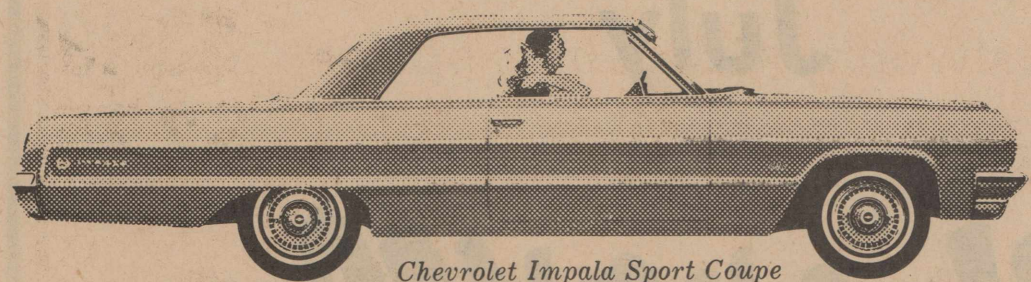

Truly, you have accomplished much in four years.

Sincerely yours,
Ailese Parten, Director of Public Relations and Associate Professor of Journalism

Three Olton 4-H'ers will be among the seven Lamb County youth attending the District II Electric Camp at Scott Able, N.M., July 20-24.

4-H'ers from 12 counties, including Lamb, have been selected to attend the camp. Each county may select four boys and four girls for the camp.

Olton campers will be Laura Wheeler, Rheta Hulsey and Ted Wheeler. Micki Logan of Sudan, Lyna Pitts of Pleasant Valley, Rodney Bowling and Richard Black of Sudan will make up the rest of the Lamb County group.

Mrs. Lady Claire Phillips, home demonstration agent, and Archie May, adult leader, will accompany the campers.

The selection of each county to attend camp was made on the basis of what electric projects 4-H'ers carried on and completed during the past year.

The campers will travel by chartered buses from Lubbock to the camp and return.

While at camp, the group will attend classes on electricity. Each of the campers will construct a power plug which they will bring home as a project.

Co-op Gin Blasts Thompson

Co-Op Gin came to life with a bang Monday night as they blasted Thompson Implement 17-4.

The worst shellacking of the season for Thompson was also the best game of the season for Co-Op Gin, as Robert Charles Davis pitched a two-hit game to pick up the victory.

Davis also helped move things along when he drove in three runs with a double.

Co-Op hitters had a field day. Kenny Jones went to the plate five times; five times he got a hit—a double and four singles, and an RBI credit. Americo Zavaleta went three for three—a double and two singles.

Pat Trotter picked up two RBIs with a double. Lynn Gullett got three RBIs with a double and a single. Lynn Ramsey got a single.

The combination of general Co-Op hitting and Davis pitching proved quite effective in stopping the usually can't-be-stopped-for-long Thompson team.

Thompson was troubled with a problem that has plagued them periodically throughout the season—lack of production at the plate. Joe Dale Chitwood and Mike Parsons each got singles to account for all the Thompson hits.

Mike Parsons was the losing pitcher.

The loss knocked a big hole in what appeared to be a fairly safe hold on first place for Thompson in the Little League standings. With action ending this next week, Thompson will have to earn or lose the first-place title all over again.

Thompson Wins Make-up

In a closely fought game, Thompson Implement took advantage of Farmers Gin to open up a small lead in the Little League standings.

If a protest registered over an earlier loss is upheld Thompson has clinched first place in the league. Of if Thompson wins Friday night, which is quite possible with their opponent having only eight players in town at the moment, they will have clinched the top position.

Farmers Gin opened the first inning with two runs on no hits—a combination of walks and errors.

Thompson moved immediately into the lead with three runs on one hit.

In the second inning, Farmers showed that they were in the game to stay, as they sent 10 men to the plate. They scored five runs, but saw the inning brought to a sudden halt with a Thompson double play.

Thompson went three up, three down in the second inning.

Farmers sent eight men to the plate in the third inning, scoring two runs on one hit.

Thompson had their big inning in the third. They scored six runs on only two hits to tie the game, 9-9.

In the fourth inning, Thompson produced another double play to send Farmers three up, three down.

Thompson pulled ahead in the fourth, with one run—no hits.

Farmers scored one more run in the fifth on one more hit, to make a 10-10 score.

Thompson Implement's winning pitcher was Mike Parsons. He was the third Thompson pitcher of the game, going in in the fourth inning.

Gary Kelly was charged with the loss for Farmers Gin in the make-up game.

Joe Dale Chitwood led the Thompson hitting with two doubles, Mike Parsons, Gale McClain and Lloyd Cook all collected singles.

Ronnie Truelock got two singles to lead the Farmers Gin hitters. Tommie Riffin, Monty Roberson and Gary Kelly all got singles, to match Thompson Implement with five hits.

VISITS SON

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stiles and children John and Rita spent the weekend in Amarillo at the home of their son Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Stiles.

Games Forfeited In Little League

Little League action suddenly became rather slowed Wednesday as both games of the second double header of the season were won by forfeiture.

Both Halfway teams benefited from the attendance of several members of Olton teams at Boy Scout camp.

The loss of the campers left Farmers Gin and Olton State Bank without nine qualified players for the games.

The easy victories put both of the Halfway teams in challenging position for the Little League championship, as the season is fast drawing to a close.

Season Draws To An End

Little League action this past week saw Thompson Implement take a one game lead in the league race, with an 8-6 record.

The two Halfway teams, Blue Sox and Red Sox, are tied in second, with 7-6 records.

Co-Op Gin stands third with a 5-6 record, followed by Farmers Gin with a 5 1/2-7 1/2 record and Olton State Bank with a 4 1/2-6 1/2 record.

Both State Bank and Co-Op Gin have make-up games left. The two will meet Saturday and Monday afternoons for make-up games.

The remaining scheduled games for the Little League ends Tuesday.

July 9 the Red Sox take on Farmers Gin.

July 10 Thompson Implement meets Olton State Bank in the first game of a double header. The Blue Sox take on Olton Co-Op Gin in the second game.

Monday Olton State Bank will play the Blue Sox.

Tuesday the season ends with a double header. Co-Op Gin will meet Farmers Gin in the first game, and Thompson Implement will end the season's play by battling the Halfway Red Sox.

All remaining games are to be played in Olton.

Farmers Gin Eases Past Thompson Imp.

Farmers Gin squeaked out a one-point victory over first-place Thompson Implement Friday, as they came out on top of a 6-5 game.

The winners made a league first for the season while picking up their victory. They turned in two double plays--the first one proving to be a very important play indeed. In the second inning, with the bases loaded, Darrell Huguley caught a fly to first base and threw to get the Thompson breaking for a score.

In the sixth inning, it was short-stop Tommy Riggins to second baseman Monty Robertson to first baseman Huguley for the two outs.

Gary Kelly, the winning pitcher, allowed only two hits for the game--both doubles, by Jackie Kemp and Joe Dale Chitwood. Kemp, however, got an RBI credit for his hit.

Joe Dale Chitwood was the losing pitcher.

Tony Miller led the winners at the plate, as he batted out three doubles. Miller with three RBIs drove in half the Farmers Gin runs.

Tommy Riggins picked up a double, and Monty Robertson got a single, as did Gary Cooper. Robertson got two RBIs but it was Gary Cooper who came up with the deciding hit.

Cooper hit a single to drive in Royce Riggins. Riggins had become a runner on an error and had stolen his way into scoring position.

Olton State Bank Downs Co-op

Olton State Bank swept past Olton Co-Op Gin 13-7 Thursday, July 2.

The victors were led by the winning pitcher, Mike Gullett. Gullett batted out two doubles and a pair of singles at the plate, driving in two runs in the process.

As the score would indicate, the pitcher was not the only hitter for the winners. Danny Harris hit a double and a single. Barry Cowart picked up two singles, and Robert Cooper drove in two runs with a single.

Not all the honors went to State Bank, however. Co-Op's first baseman made an unassisted double play in the first inning.

Donald Zavaleta was the losing pitcher for Co-Op Gin.

Mark Lancaster led the losers at the plate with a triple and one run batted in. Pat Trotter had a double and a single, and Kenny Jones collected a double during the game.

Lyn Campbell, Lynn Ramsey, Art Tollett and Americo Zavaleta each picked up singles. Zavaleta picked up an RBI credit with his single.

The win was an important one for State Bank. The cellar team is trying to get out of the bottom position in league standings before the season ends this next week. The win gives them a chance to climb up the standings ladder before the end of the season halts their efforts.

Fair Prizes Total $28,000

Cash premiums totaling more than $28,000 are being offered at the 47th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair to be held September 27 through October 3 at Lubbock.

The premiums are outlined in a new 88-page catalog just mailed to some 3,500 exhibitors throughout West Texas.

M.B. Hilburn, president of the fair, said total premiums this year set a new record. "Actually, premiums have been considerably increased in many divisions," he added. "All divisions have been carefully analyzed eliminating obsolete classes, and adding money to more popular entries."

Hilburn pointed out that the South Plains Fair pays higher premiums than many state fairs.

New at the fair this year will be a free parachute training jump, sponsored by U.S. Army Recruiting, and a new paved Kiddie Land, featuring all kinds of rides and entertainment exclusively for children.

Improvements to the grounds include more paving, a new milking parlor and more restrooms.

New Post Office Reflects Growth

Olton's new post office is occupied now by a pleased postmaster and staff.

The new facility, located one block east of the old office is part of the Post Office Department's lease-construction program, the local postmaster explained.

Under this program, investment financing is used to obtain needed facilities, which remain under private ownership, pay local taxes to the community, and are leased to the Federal Government.

At the same time, the need for large outlays of money from the Federal Treasury for construction purposes is eliminated.

The Department is now concentrating on constructing new postal units only where they are most urgently needed. In areas where it is practical to do so, existing buildings are undergoing renovations.

"The fact that Olton has been chosen for a new post office," Postmaster Holt said, "reflects credit on our growing contribution to the economy and life of the nation."

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith will give the dedication address, with J. Allen Dupree, assistant to the regional director, Post Office Department, and Congressman George Mahon also appearing on the program.

Postmaster Holt announced that among the guests expected to attend the local postal dedication are State Representative Billy Wayne Clayton, Springlake, and other postal and city officials and representatives from area Chamber of Commerce.

Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is sponsoring the dedication.

"The new facility," Holt said, "will be a link with a postal system that today has over 45,000 postal installations. This system serves more than 180 million Americans and handles over two-thirds of the world's mail. Our 580,000 postal employees are handling about 67 billion pieces of mail a year, including over a billion parcels," the postmaster added.

"Mail business in this area has increased," the Postmaster noted "for example, when I was appointed postmaster 15 years ago, in 1949, the postal revenue was $9,500, compared with $38,500 today--the revenue today is four times what it was 15 years ago. Other mail services have increased at a comparable ratio."

Olton is not on a railroad and all mail is received from five Star Routes, originating in neighboring cities on railroads delivering mail to Olton. Consequently, there are five receipts of mail each day and a like number of dispatches.

Olton has remarkably good mail service, as good as any post office on railroads in the area. This service is a result of surveys made by postal officials in their efforts to better the mail deliveries.

The postmaster revealed some of the history of the local postal service of interest as this community plans to add to its postal facilities.

Olton's first post office was established in 1908 by a B.F. Powell, who resided four miles north of the present town on the farm now owned and occupied by James Cowart. Powell had a son named Olton, and when he established the post office, he named it "Olton" after his son--hence the town's name.

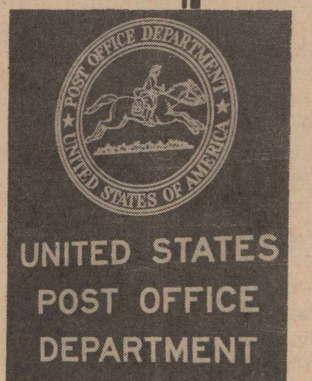

Later an F. F. Brown became the postmaster, and he moved the post office in to the present town--moving the house from the farm and locating it on the corner just south of the Nazarene Church.

The Browns operated a store and the post office at that location until Brown moved his store to the corner now occupied by the "House of Flowers".

For a number of years the person who owned the store automatically became postmaster. Brown sold out to a man by the name of Mila Dotson, then in 1914 Dotson sold the store to a man by the name of Ensign. In 1917 a Mr. Harvey bought out Ensign and was postmaster until 1919, when he sold to Jim Fuller. Fuller in turn sold to R. P. Hair in 1920.

All this time the post office was in a corner of the store, and each owner was the postmaster.

In 1927 Olton had its first full-time postmaster, J. F. Wiles was appointed, and the office was moved to a building situated about where the Smith Barber Shop is now.

A short time later it was moved to the building, which is now owned by the Masonic Lodge.

In 1940 the office moved to the building built by Jim Fuller which adjoined the Olton Drug Store and remained there for 24 years—until just a few days ago.

The postmaster, J. F. Wiles, retired in 1946, and Bailey Hair, a son of a former postmaster, was appointed. Hair transferred to the rural route in 1949, which a position which he is still filling.

The present postmaster, I. B. Holt, was appointed to succeed Hair.

Two ex-postmasters still make Olton their home, Jim Fuller and Bailey Hair.
