VIENNA, Austria, July 15.—(By Associated Press)—A serious riot that developed into heavy fighting broke out in Vienna today.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, the rioters were reported to be 400 strong and 200 wounded.

Minor riots were proceeding in other parts of the city while a mob collected outside of the Italian consulate building, "Down with Mussolini. Down with Fascism." The palace of justice was set afire and nearby apartments whose occupants are away on holidays were looted and looted.

Parliament is adjourned and the cabinet is in constant session today to deliberate on the situation.

Accusations Start Riots

The accusation of a number of soldiers who were accused of having killed socialists at Reims in January precipitated the riots.

The accusations were announced at night after political speeches and demands for both the prosecution and defense. A large crowd which was waiting outside for the verdict immediately started hostile demonstrations against the judges which led to minor clashes and looting.

Interference

When the riot broke out, however, the real trouble began as the rioters began to make their way into the city.

Some of the rioters carried flags and banners and began shouting "Down with the government. Down with the judges. Down with the police."

The first conflicts occurred opposite the university where police were stationed.

90 4-H CLUB BOYS ATTEND CAMP HERE

STOCK AND GRAIN JUDGING CONDUCTED BY MEMBERS IN PROGRAM HERE

Exercising the studies of the first day of the annual camp of the 4-H club members at the fair park yesterday, more than 90 boys representing every 4-H club in the county still close the camp this afternoon with the livestock judging contest which will determine the delegates who are to attend the short course which will be held at A. & M. soon.

Today is to be the big day of the camp as speeches from visiting county agents as well as agriculture experts besides the regular group work of livestock, poultry and grain judging will occupy the boys' time.

Meeting at the court house yesterday morning at 10:30, the boys went to the Tech where they took part in livestock, grain and poultry judging work. Following this they went to the county park in the afternoon where they enjoyed a good swim. At 7 o'clock they were served a dinner by the Lubbock county farm bureau at the fair park. Last night a short program was given in which H. D. Woods, Dr. E. E. Barr and B. Sherrod made short talks.

THOROUGH SOUNDING OF AREA FOR OIL IS PROMISED

(By Associated Press)

Swarming as bees around a hive, between twelve and fifteen hundred citizens of the South Plains met at the Kegonsa et al. well number 1 test site, eleven miles west of Hale Center and 25 miles northwest of Lubbock to take part in the gigantic celebration and barbecue as guests of the citizens of Hale Center in paying tribute to John Kegonsa, the driller of the well, in the spothing of the well.

Unhappily for the fact that the spothing had to be postponed, the Hale Center people went ahead and celebrated and a large barbecue was served to citizens of Plainview, Tulsa, Kress, Olton, Lockney, Abilene, Amarillo and Lubbock. Approximately 100 from Lubbock attended the party while more than 25 came down from Amarillo. Plainview had a good representation also.

Well was tested with a large representation and had an excellent showing for the gas.

The spothing was not made through any organization, members of the working committee said yesterday, but the entire town helped in the party.

Activities at the well begin to swell soon after noon and by four o'clock there were more than 200 cars parked near the rig. A number of car loads of citizens from neighboring towns joined the crowd and by five o'clock the derricks of the first test and the machinery of the new one were practically surrounded. Oil crews rubbed elbows with some of the oil lease holders as preparations were made for the spothing only to be a disappointment when the derricks poles which

Twenty Five Escape Death When Norwegian Steamer Is Sunk; One Man Drowns

(By NEA Service)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Twenty-five men who escaped death when their ship, the Norwegian steamer Sagaland, was sunk in collision with the Holland-American liner Veendam early today were being brought here tonight in the Veendam. One man of the Sagaland's crew lost his life.

The ship struck five miles east of Nantuxett light ship. The Norwegian steamer, a craft of only 2,500 tons gross register loaded with 5,000,000 pounds of sugar, sank in 15 minutes.

As the collision occurred 20 of the Sagaland's crew of 29 were able to leap to the towering Veendam, a ship of 12,000 tons. Five others were picked up from the water by the Veendam's life boats, but one sailor was not found though the Veendam cruised the vicinity for an hour.

Captain Kroel of the Veendam reported by wireless to the Associated Press after the collision that his ship was undamaged. The Veendam was on its way here from Rotterdam and Southampton, and the Sagaland was bound for Boston from Manzanilla, Cuba.

(By Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, July 15.—Twenty five hundred dollars pledged and a committee appointed within fifteen minutes was the answer Corpus Christi made today to San Antonio and San Angelo in the proposal made by those cities relative to building a railroad to connect Corpus Christi and San Antonio with West Texas through San Angelo.

Robert Driscoll, chairman of the Nueces county navigation commission; W. W. Jones, pioneer settler of this section, and Richard Kleberg constitute the committee from Corpus Christi that is in function with like committees from San Antonio and San Antonio in the preliminary operations incident to building the railroad that will connect the port of Corpus Christi with the great tollage producing area of West Texas.

Old Plans Realized

The meeting today was the culmination of over a year's correspondence and negotiation on the part of the local chamber of commerce with the San Antonio and West Texas commercial bodies. A delegation of San Antonians arrived here today with the announcement that the plan was ready to be put into effect.

At the conference it was stated that San Antonio interests had subscribed $15,000 and San Angelo interests $15,000 toward a fund of $25,000 for carrying on preliminary surveys and other work.

Members of the San Antonio delegation expressed themselves as confident that the plan will result in closing the gap that has long divided San Antonio and Corpus Christi from the great territory of West Texas.

E. W. Harris, prosecutor, testified that Martin shot him in the back with a shot gun while he was tightening a lug on his automobile near Martin's home shortly after dark.

Plane Is Smashed As Landing Made On Molokai Isle

HONOLULU, July 15 (AP)—Ernest L. Smith and Emory B. Bronte, California fliers who left Oakland, California, Thursday morning for a sustained flight to Hawaii, arrived at Wheeler field, 25 miles from Honolulu at 3:57 p. m., Honolulu time (6:27 Pacific time) today as passengers aboard army planes. They were taken off the island of Molokai, 60 miles southeast of Honolulu a short time after their monoplane was forced to land for lack of gasoline.

The 12 army planes flew over Honolulu in formation at 3:39 p. m. Honolulu time and a few minutes later swung onto Wheeler field before thousands of cheering spectators.

The army had sent out a squadron of planes to greet the civilian fliers as they neared Diamond head from Molokai in the planes of their army hosts.

The Wheeler field guns roared a salute for the fliers as Smith and Bronte stepped from the army planes.

Smith cried a joyous shout: "Well, here we are."

Bronte jumped out of the plane that brought him to the field and running over to his partner, Smith shook hands with him. The two fliers clapped each other on the back, as they stood together.

Messages Explained

Smith immediately explained the messages asking assistance were sent "because it appeared at that time that our gasoline supply might be exhausted and we were taking no chances."

Smith was nearly mobbed trying to reach the reviewing stand where Major Henry Miller, commander of Wheeler field and other notable backed the fliers with Lexa Smith took a moment from the formal reception to explain the cause of his trouble was caused by his gasoline indicator not working properly.

Flag Is Presented

Smith presented a silk American flag to representatives of the Honolulu chamber of commerce as a gift from the city of Oakland chamber of commerce. Smith accepted several times, while accepting congratulations.

"The trip was mighty well worth while in every way,"

Later Smith put his arm around Bronte, saying: "I want to say right here that all the credit for this

An entirely satisfactory growth in scouting is being recorded, according to Scout Executive Hector Yates, and all the troops are busy now making plans for the scout camp at Post to be held during August.

Plans are also being laid for a scout exposition to be held here during the fall months when examples of scoutcraft, engineering and citizenship work will be placed on display for the public.

Slayer Of Justin Farmer Must Face Jury July 27 Before Denton County Judge

PORT WORTH, July 15 (AP)—James Brinkley, alias Willie Robinson, negro held in the Dallas county jail in connection with the death of J. C. Terrell, Justin farmer, is scheduled to go on trial for his life in the Denton county court before Judge Alvin Owsen on July 27, county Attorney, Elbert Hooper said today.

Brinkley, who is suffering from wounds sustained when captured by deputy sheriffs near Haslet about 12 miles from here, stoutly maintained that another negro who was his companion on the night Terrell was slain fired the shots that killed the farmer. Officers, however, having found a wrist watch which was missing from the Terrell home on the morning after the shooting, discount the story of a second negro.

Excavations for Foundations in Constructing New Water Tower Will Start Here Monday

Excavation will start Monday for the foundations of the new city water tower provided for in the recent city bond funding issue, to be located at 15th street and Avenue U and V. It was announced yesterday. About three months will be required to complete the new tower which will hold 1,200,000 gallons of water and will be 144 feet high.

The new water tank will materially increase water pressure over the city, will afford better fire protection, and possibly reduce the fire rate, it was stated.

When officials of the Acuff school which specializes in Latin courses were unable to secure a teacher capable of teaching advanced studies, Mrs. P. G. Morrison, wife of one of the mathematics professors at Texas Tech, stepped into the breach and volunteered to take the school for the coming year.

Society Stylists At Newport

INDIVIDUALITY CRITERION OF CHIC AS MOST GORGEOUS OF SEASONS OPENS

Nadejda de Braganza

By BETSY SCHUYLER

(By NEA Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., July 13.—I suspect the smart fashionables of this season in the matter of Newport.

Is season started at least a fortnight earlier than it has for any season for the past decade. Hotels, huge estates and everybody seems all ready for the most gorgeous of seasons.

No Style Cullusion

But if there has been collusion in the matter of the season's opening, certainly there is none when it comes to deciding just what it is that is new. There is so much individuality, color and unusual styling, even in little things like accessories, that they beggar description.

Sportswear, of course, is all-important. For there is the usual tennis of a morning, with the crowd moving on to Bailey's Beach for a dip in smart dotted, checked, printed or otherwise ravishing plain bathing suits with applied designs in about everything from air-planes to one's favorite hotel abroad.

Then in the afternoon, the latest sportswear costumes through the country club.

Speaking of tennis, I must say a word about the faithfulness to that sport young Betty Taylor is showing this season. Up betimes, that young woman drags a partner out every single day to devote an hour to the popular game of swat. Her energy is amazing, hitting the ball hither and son-in-a smart sleeky.

Her tennis frock of some light color and one day she wore a becoming pink dress, of Pussywillow, that had accordion-pleated panels on both hips to give her room to run.

Smart Redie Jacket

She wore a smart Redie jacket, jacket of pink checks over it. For she really gets started so early there's a chill in the air.

Her usual partner at tennis is Nadejda de Braganza, charming young daughter of Princess Miguel de Braganza. This young miss so far this summer shows a decided preference for greens. In her tennis frocks, polka dotted bathing suits and shimmering chiffon evening gown she used green. But such greens. No wonder she likes the color.

Her tennis frock was a lively mint green, sleeveless, with a sailor's collar, tie and with a front panel of kick pleats to rescue it from dashing blazer of French flannel in triple stripes. In her hand she carried one of those non-crushable straw hats that are such a boon to lovers of sport.

Plain Kasha's Favor

While most Newport women choose the most feminine of apparel, I note that the plain Kasha coat maintains its deserved popularity. Miss Rose G. Davis had on about the smartest one I've seen yet.

Of being kasha, it was the kind of garment that needs no pockets, no fancy revers, no cuffs or any other trimming to set it off. Its perfect tailoring and lovely lines gave it decided chic. It did have a medium wide belt of suede, with the plainest of buckles.

At the country club I think I saw more two-tone sports ensembles than anything else.

Mrs. Cornelia Vanderbilt had on a shimmering gray and light blue silk-crepe three-piece suit while Mrs. Francis L. V. Hoppin chose lavender set with purple handbags to fashion her smart attire.

Mrs. Leifard Spencer was more stunning than usual in white silk skirt and matching sweater and top-hat with splashing stripes in black and red.

Evening sees the dining rooms and club hall rooms gleaming with gorgeous colors. Fringe and lace seem to be elected by society to express their after-dinner gaiety.

The Vionnet Touch

I noted Mrs. Cornelius Tangeman

Rose G. Davis

with a white chiffon gown that had an unmistakable Vionnet touch in its neckline and the four rows of deep fringes that circled the bodice and the skirt in a scalloped fashion.

Mrs. William Watts Sherman preferred black. But a silver hair flourish falling below the hem in an intriguing manner in the back and a pearl-like back collar lifted it into the class of the unusual.

Miss Cathryn Royalty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Royalty, is on a camping trip in Palo Duro canyon, having met her aunt, Mrs. S. H. Cardwell and daughter in Plainview and gone with a party from that city.

Visitors here yesterday from out of town included C. A. Thomas, Taholka; John Dixon, Brownfield; L. L. Drummheller, Falls; H. C. Smith, Wilson; Mrs. Alice Brown, Falls; A. W. Massey, Wilson; C. H. Davis, Crane City; Mrs. P. H. Whelan, Stanton; R. P. Nicholson, Lorenzo; W. L. Keeler, Idaho; E. M. George, Stanton; F. L. Tolbert, Littlefield; J. S. Hillard, McAdoo; W. C. Honeycutter, McAdoo; E. Stewart, Wilson; E. W. Ford, Falls; R. H. Hardesty and P. Clauson, Abilene.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

The old man who lives next door with three daughters confided over his yellow paper, rose bush, the other night that he got "so danged tired of women's talk" he journeyed afar today to hold with an old enemy that sparse converse which is sweet to him. The old man next door does not mind telling a joke even when it's on himself, so he confided that said old enemy wasn't home, but "his women folks were, and when I came home I decided that my outfit weren't such cacklers, after all."

CAL AND "WOMEN FOLKS"

I don't know just why, but the old man's confession reminded me that mighty representatives of the National Women's Party have journeyed in the wake of the President to the Black Hills region to talk before the down-trodden and oppressed women of that belt. What a cack silent Cal will get! You're right, I'm not in total sympathy with that particular female organization. I doubt that there are many male fights which we don't have and should have such as the special legislation report of the N. W. P. proves. But I maintain that women are women and men are men and the two never have been and never will be alike, and some discriminatory legislation is necessary and proper.

POPPA WAS MAD

Here's a thrilling story plot. The aged sacristan of one of the most storied old churches of Paris was playing his bells the other Sunday when wild discord suddenly arose. Investigation revealed that the sacristan had hanged himself to the chandelier of the largest bell. He had threatened suicide since a desire for a cruel revenge for some little disapproved act of age, what a to-do there would be about youth—just as there is!

THE MAN WAITED

After his wife had been gone for 32 years, Fred Heasler of Chicago, asked for a divorce. When the court asked him why he had waited so long before applying he said that it was only of late that he had decided his wife Barbara was not coming back. When one considers the universal woman record of long time waiting for men who never come back, the unique case of Fred Heasler seems only meek and proper.

GLOVE AND FLAG-POLE

In days of olden fairs ladies threw their gloves into the arena of wild animals in order to see if their brave and loving knights would plunge in before the red-eyed beasts to regain their ladies' little glove. Something of the same spirit seems to be in the heart of the sweetheart of "Sparrow," a Boston daredevil who has just mounted a flagpole where, he says, he will sit until he has broken the flag pole parading record, which, to date, is 12 days. "Sparrow's" sweetheart has dared him to do it.

Favorable Wheat Market Foreseen

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—A wheat market situation as favorable for farmers this season as it has been for a year ago is foreseen by the department of agriculture, despite a forecast of a larger production this year and the increase in stocks and land July 1.

The United States was placed on an export basis for practical all classes of wheat by last year's record harvest, the department said today. Canada, Argentina and Australia also had large surpluses and world shipments were the largest record. Europe's continued demand readily absorbed these surplus shipments at relatively steep prices. While world shipments decreased recently, the delay in Europe, together with the fact that stocks will make it necessary to import considerably more wheat before new crops are available.

Carry Over Allowed For
Allowing for a prospective United States carry over of around $5,000,000, the department said, and for carry overs in other large exporting countries equal to last season's, wheat remaining for export from these countries and on the ocean is about $9,000,000 bushels more than on July 1 last year.

Home For Addicts Cure Now Sought

TEMPLE, Texas, July 15 (AP).—Movement to secure legislation establishing a permanent institution for the care and cure of drug addicts was started here Tuesday by the semi-annual meeting of the district medical society.

Upon suggestion of Dr. J. E. Dill of Brownwood, several delegates volunteered to place the proposal before their county medical society. Dr. J. D. McCormick of Aledo made a plea for the establishment of a permanent institution for the care and cure of drug addicts, with reference to its district medical society.

A. C. Scott, Jr., of Temple, suggested that school boards might do well to make the drinking of milk school children compulsory. He advocated physical training of school children.

The association, composed of 17 county medical societies, will meet again next January, at which officers will be elected.

Byd Schools Are Allotted State Aid

HOUSTON, July 15.—Flourishy schools will receive $16,000,000 in state aid, according to the appropriation received here today by the state superintendent Price Scott.

County now has an enrollment of 150 pupils, nineteen brick buildings and a new school building. Many of the rural schools are benefited by the aid they receive and it is expected that more brick buildings will be constructed before another school year opens.

County now boasts of one of the best school systems in the state, including the rural schools. It has an investment of $1,000,000 in three school buildings, which are equipped with cafeterias, gymnasiums, and department stores. This year a rural agricultural instructor has been secured and this will be added to the curriculum. Twenty credits of affiliation have been secured by the school.

SHARKEY BELIEVES JACK HIS VICTIM

CONFIDENT THAT DEMPSEY IS TYPE THAT HE CAN DEFEAT

BY ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, July 15.—Confidence-plus—that's Jack Sharkey. No aspirant for heavyweight championship honors ever climbed into a ring with more assurance, expressed and otherwise, than the Boston Lithuanian. If he whips Jack Dempsey on July 21, at the Yankee Stadium, thereby gaining the right to fight Gene Tunney for the title, it will merely be a fulfillment of Sharkey's own predictions.

"Dempsey," Sharkey has said, "is made to order for me. I will beat him sure. And Tunney. He will be easier than Dempsey."

Shows Rapid Rise
Confidence, plus his unusual fighting equipment, has carried Sharkey rapidly up the fluster ladder, less than a year. When other heavyweights were side-stepping the so-called "dark menace," Harry Wills, Sharkey went about beseeching promoters to match him with the negro. He finally convinced Humphrey Fugazy to do it, but there were few if any experts who had any idea Sharkey would upset the giant ex-stevedore at Ebbetts Field last October.

After crawling through the ropes that night, Sharkey stuck out his chin in an aggressive manner, gave Wills what is generally known as the "eye," then walked over to the radio and declared:

"Hello folks! I'll lick Wills sure as shooting tonight!"

It is well-known ring history that Sharkey did "lick" Wills, scientifically and thoroughly, although the decision went to him on a foul in the thirteenth round.

Eliminates Wills
Sharkey was "made" by his decisive victory over Wills, who was thus eliminated from the picture as a heavyweight contender a fortnight after the downfall of Dempsey before Tunney at Philadelphia.

Again last winter, when Mike McTigue was on the high-road of a sensational come-back, bawling over such men as Paul Berlenbach, Sharkey showed no fear of McTigue's new-found punch.

"It's a shame to fight such an old man but I'm willing to do it if no one else will," Sharkey commented. Mike proved a tougher nut to crack than even Sharkey figured. However, the Bostonian won on a technical knockout in the twelfth round. Had the fight been limited to ten, McTigue might have taken the decision. But Sharkey, at once, showed his ability to "take it" in this bout, absorbing Mike's hardest blows without even a hint of going down.

Maloney Bout
Sharkey lacked none of his customary vital vigor before his quarter-bout with Jimmy Maloney, fellow Bostonian, at the Yankee Stadium in May.

"Maloney always has been made to order for me," Sharkey asserted. "I'll knock him from here to Hallifax." It is a matter of record that Sharkey did just about that, putting off the chubby Irishman with fists and dispatch in five rounds.

If confidence is half the battle, Sharkey, the experts agree, already has that part of it "in the bag."

Sharkey Quits As Weather Too Hot

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP).—Because of the excessive heat and belief that he already is in fighting trim, Jack Sharkey cancelled all training activities today and visited Gomez Island with his wife.

There was no let up, however, for promoter Tex Rickard who snipped his brow at the Yankee Stadium while a corps of assistants assisted him in planning the installation of field seats erection of the ring and arrangements for handling 10,000 or more fans expected to see Sharkey's battle with Jack Dempsey there next Thursday night.

Commander Richard E. Byrd will be one of the distinguished occupants of front row ringside seats, Rickard announced.

"There'll Be No 'Ex' In Front Of My Name Next Fall", Dempsey Says

BY JIMMY POWERS
NEW YORK, July 15.—The idols of sport die hard.

For years Jack Dempsey stood on a pedestal. He rocked dizzily once. One hectic, heart-tugging night a half-choked bull-like man battered him through the ropes.

That was Luis Firpo. Then came the inevitable crash. Another night, a murky night and a rain-lashed canvas was splashed with crimson blood from a bleeding nose, a puffed eye and a pair of slip lips.

George Tunney did this. The shock chilled millions of fans.

Now is the comeback. Nine out of ten persons this writer has talked to here want to see Dempsey fight his potential. They want to think of that terrible scene in the shadows of the Seagull stadium as just a vague nightmare.

And so we have Jack with us again—battered with a deep coat of mud-colored sunburn, eyes bright and eager, gamier brist and confident, a ship on the back and a cherry word. He looks like the Dempsey of old.

Here is the tragic undertone of our reporter. It gives a little insight into the heart of the man who was, once, it seemed, idolized by every kid and every kid's father in every city block in America.

"You don't know what a year I spent since that thing at Philly," snarled Jack, flashing darts with the memory of it all. "Three stars at me in hotel lobbies, on trains, in the restaurants wherever I went. All pitying me. All thinking 'You poor sucker, you.'"

It was enough to break the spirit of any man. I'm not a broken-down machine. I'm a man who held the championship of the world and lost it in a single fight, outpointed for the title.

"But I've had plenty of time to get my friends. I've got friends now who are REAL. That bunch of hangers-on who robbed me and bled me dry and kicked me over and gone—and say, I'm glad I know my pals now who are REAL!"

He grinned and playfully tumbled.

Hereford Gives Free A. & M. Trips

HEREFORD, July 15.—Four boys and two girls won free trips to the A. & M. College Short Course which will be held at College Station July 25-30. The judges turned in their reports Tuesday, and the records revealed that competition was keen in the various communities for the coveted honors. Business men of Hereford made these trips possible, and only one could be given in each community, making the proposition county-wide in its scope.

Here are the names of the boys and girls who won free trips to College Station: G. C. Hartman of Westway community, Fleet Callaway of the Askren community, Estelle Counts of the Progressive community, Elizabeth Chapman of the Simms community, Harry Lookingbill of Summerfield community and Raymond Purcell of Hereford.

Those who did not win in the above contest will compete for the six free trips to the Dallas Fair that other business men of this city are sponsoring for this fall, and County Agent R. O. Dunkle is urging all the young Aggies to get their projects in shape to compete at the Dear Smith county fair for these trips to Dallas.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

Jealous trainer says all the fight has been massaged out of Dempsey. Come to think of it, Tunney did give him quite a massaging.

The ancient Paul Berlenbach who used to be light-heavy champ and who is going on 25 made a successful comeback. Remarkable, the stamina of these old-timers.

Ruby Goldstein, who collected $22,500 for one kiss on the whiskers, is getting so now he takes nine on a dirty look.

La Barba "risked" his title against Mike Brody. Mike spells his name different from Steve just to prove he's not a diver.

The national father-and-son golf meet is going to be held next month and we'll give you one guess who pays for the balls.

After seeing the Phillies play, you can understand why the Pennsylvania supreme court ruled it impossible to distinguish between a ball game and a circus.

So there's Dempsey for you. A sensitive, popular idol hungry for the plaudits of the roaring mob who cheered themselves hoarse every time he thrust his scowling head between the ropes and every time he left them. Every time, that is, but once.

Hope, it is written, springs eternal in the human breast. And you can't hang a man for trying.

WEEVIL DAMAGE IN CALDWELL 50 PER CENT

AUSTIN, July 15 (AP).—George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture reported today that investigation of cotton farms in Caldwell county shows more than 50 percent damage by both weevils and chinch bugs.

Commissioner Terrell estimated about two weeks ago that the cotton crop should bring about twenty cents a pound and that acreage was about 12 percent less than last year.

SEEKING INFORMATION

It is refreshing to note that Lubbock county people are interested in farm development—that they are willing to spend real money for information.

On Saturday of last week three Lubbock county women boarded the Texas Farm Women's Special at Amarillo, and they are to tour New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, California and Arizona in an effort to get first hand information of producing and marketing farm products. While away they will visit some of the largest poultry and dairy concerns in America, as well as the citrus fruit farms in California. They will learn all they can and upon their return home will impart the information to their neighbors.

We produce an adequate amount of poultry on the South Plains, but we have never been able to command prices that insure a profit. We are long on production and short on sales with the result that most people are discouraged. Californians make poultry pay even if they do have to come to the South Plains to buy their feed and then pay high freight rates to get it moved the 1,500 miles. We have the poultry and the feed, but we have never been able to make the hen pay as she should.

These women are going to learn the cause and then we can meet the requirements met by Californians. Of course we all know in a general way, but our knowledge is so general it doesn't amount to much. If we will produce fertile and uniform eggs half the battle will be solved—we will at least have an attractive product to offer for sale. Then if we will sell the market—maybe collectively, well get the profits we have come.

It will require a little time for us to make the change, but just as sure as the world stands the change will be made.

HOLDING ONE'S PEACE

There are times in life when one finds it next to impossible to hold their peace, yet as a rule if they can control themselves they will find it more easy to win. When one allows his temper to get the best of him—goes into a frenzy, it is an easy matter to say things that should never have been said. If you do not say them you have nothing to regret—if you do say them they may hurt you in the end.

Isn't the coward who holds his peace, but the one who allows angry words to pass from his lips. The brave man can face danger and abuse without losing self-control, and by so doing he has the advantage over his adversary who allows his energy to be sapped by raving.

If someone accuses you of an act you did not commit do not call them a liar—that places you on the defensive—simply ask them to prove it. Of course they can not do so, and it is they instead of you who must fight the defensive battle. If you are being abused, needlessly, do not lose your temper, but smile, and if possible ignore the abuse. Your critic will fall down under your coolness—will when you completely ignore him. What he wants is an argument, and if he fails to get this he has lost.

CHEAP FUEL FOR LUBBOCK

With the coming of natural gas to this city, Lubbock is to have a very satisfactory fuel and at a moderate price. It will mean more to the city, in the way of development, than most anything else we can think of, for no city can hope to expand if it is hampered by either a fuel or water shortage.

We have plenty of water on the South Plains, but no one has ever accused us of having any too much fuel. We have no timber, no coal or lignite mines, and so far, no producing gas wells. In plain English we are strictly dependent upon others for our fuel supply. Newcastle, 200 miles east of this city is our nearest coal bed, and the supply there is limited—almost exhausted. Amarillo, or rather Carson and Hutchinson counties furnish the nearest gas supply, and it is from these counties we hope to get our future fuel.

Lubbock has made some great strides in progress during the past five years, and those who have studied conditions here feel that development during the next five years will be equally as great. Gas is going to be a big drawing card, for it means heat and power at a low cost, and gas is also considered the most satisfactory of all fuels.

With gas in large quantities Lubbock can well put in her bid for factories, and factories will mean payrolls, and payrolls make for prosperity.

So regardless of what you are I may think about the gas franchise, the truth remains the same—the gas franchise made it possible for outsiders to help build and develop our city and at the same time supply us with fuel we have so badly needed in the past. If, at a later date an adequate supply is found on the South Plains let us hope that the situation will care for itself as it should, and will likely do. And in the meantime there is not a cause for worry.

OUR BOY FARMERS

Lubbock county farm boys are enjoying a two-day encampment in this city at this time, and citizens of this county should be glad to know that at least a portion of the younger generation is interested in farm production and farm-life development. It speaks well for the lads, their parents and the county agent who has so earnestly worked with them—mapped out their plans and helped them solve the problems of life.

There are approximately 200 farm club boys in this county (not half as many as there should be) and a large percentage of these boys will within a few years be considered as the county's best and most substantial citizens. They have time for pleasure, and for work, and they also have time for study. They want to learn how to produce better crops, better pigs and better cows. They want to know how to properly prepare their products for their labors.

They have advantages that were not possible when their fathers were boys, and because of these advantages they may be expected to make life count for more. Already they are making themselves felt, and more than one father is taking pointers from his son who is following the program as outlined by the Extension department of our agricultural college.

We have the baby beef clubs, the poultry clubs and the grain crop clubs, and the members are making real progress.

Once each year they are called in to meet in a body with their county agent, who, with others, gives them special training. The boys will hear some instructive addresses—not common oratory, but they will hear some facts. Of course an effort has been made to make their visit here as pleasant as possible. They will have swimming, ball games and other sports to entertain them, but after all most of them have gathered here for the purpose of gaining knowledge rather than enjoying sports.

We are for the farm boys—especially the club boys, who are working in an effort to make life worth living—to make farm life the best and happiest, as it should be.

A CLEANER CITY

To be perfectly frank we feel that there is entirely too much crime or semi-crime in Lubbock. This should not be, and the people of Lubbock—not a dozen officers, are responsible for this. Too many of us wink at minor violations—pass them up and forget about them. If we are called upon before the grand jury we will either entirely forget the past or lie like troopers. We may know that So and So is making a little "corn" but we are particular not to hint it in the presence of an officer or in the grand jury room. We may have reason to believe we know who "swiped" a certain article, but we won't give the grand jury the benefit of our knowledge.

The best officer in the world can't keep a very close tab on 2,000 people at one time, and that is about the number of people the average officer has to watch. While he is looking for Bill Brown who is known to be a chicken thief, Bill Smith will be selling homebrew. And while John Doe is playing poker in some down-town office, some other law-abiding (?) citizen will be making 60 miles an hour down Main street in his car. The officer can't see them all at one time.

So, then it is the duty of law-abiding element to aid officers. They do not have to be chronic tattlers, but when an officer asks them a question they can give him a clean-cut answer rather than an evasive one.

Lubbock is generally known as one of the cleanest towns in Texas so far as morality goes. This means Lubbock has very few criminals and only a very little crime. Still, if our officers had the cooperation they should have just think how much better conditions would be.

There is one way a negro can capture front page publicity—let him kill a white man. And from looking over various state papers one would think all negroes are publicity seekers.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think that good news has been coming from Mexico for the past few months as there is nothing happening down there.

We think that these non-stop flights over the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans are not quite as easy as they seem to be. Smith, the civilian aviator would have doubtless made the round-trip flight to Honolulu but his gas gave out before reaching Hawaii.

We think that the modern poets will not find much trouble in writing rhyme with the use of Lindbergh and Byrd.

We think that possibly one of the great things wrong with Europe is that it is run by third parties.

We think that Henry Ford's reversal of position about the Jews constituted a great step forward for tolerance.

We think that the obvious thing to do is the right thing, but the right thing may not always be the obvious thing.

We think that by leading one's conversational affairs with Mr. Coughlin one can cause heavy casualties among one's friends.

We think that people never know how careful they can be until they have children or white shoes.

We think that possibly the latest version of modern marriage is one where father bathes the baby and mother beats the dog.

We think that the saving that will be made on the annual consumption of gasoline on paved highways through Lubbock county will pay a great amount towards the construction of the roads.

We think that with the paved highways in Lubbock county that nearly all of the Lubbock county students could easily attend the Tech college and yet be at home.

We think that Lubbock has prospects of a great year with the Denver rail construction, gas, oil lines and oil drilling over the South Plains.

We think that every church worker in Lubbock should co-operate with the committee of the union revival and assist in every way to help make the meeting one of the most successful and beneficial ones in the history of the city.

OPINIONS

A POWERFUL SALESMAN:

Advertising is a super-salesman. It makes bigger turnover than any other salesman in America, and while it costs billions of dollars, it is producing a greater profit than any other selling agency that has ever been devised.

While it is a super-salesman, however, there are some things that advertising can not sell consistently. President merchandise handled by fraudulent merchants, can not be moved by it. It has been tried many times, but has been uniformly unsuccessful because the people do not like to be influenced.

The philosophy of the "Bentley" related to the entertainment of the people, not to the handling of their merchandise.

Integrity is the secret of the influence of advertising. Just as it is the secret of an individual's success. The state of Texas enacted legislation prohibiting the use of advertising, but it was hardly met. The people who buy merchandise are able to distinguish between the sincere and the insincere advertiser, and have in their own hands the remedy. If their influence is abused.

Looks Good

Whether you're a farmer, a merchant, a banker or just a "beat" earner, the salary reaching straight back to the soil, about sixty percent of the nation's wage, we imagine, does just that. You'll be interested in a few figures which the Texas printed yesterday from Oliver C. McQuinn, an authority on Texas crops.

Mr. McQuinn says Texas will produce about 4,500,000 bales of cotton this year, a million less than last year. He goes on to say that 10 percent of the nation's cotton acreage and he says that twenty-cent cotton is a "distinct possibility."

In spite of acreage and production slumps, this year's crop will bring in more money than last year's. That is because the expected short crop will send the price decidedly higher. Mr. McQuinn's estimate of twenty cents strikes us as most conservative. You hear predictions of twenty-five cent cotton on all sides.

Regardless of price and profit on the staple, the South and particularly Texas, should be better off this fall than last. That is, outside the zones where drought and insect ravages will preclude any possibility of profit. They should be better off because they have practiced diversification on a much larger scale than formerly, and many of them have a considerable carry-over of feedstuffs.

In traveling about over Texas this summer you see many things running around that in many years, cattle, sheep and hogs, to be seen everywhere. A great many of these things that year are still in evidence.

The rains of this week will go a long way toward brightening the general outlook. —Arlene Morning News.

Public Improvements Precede Many Industrial Developments

By DON E. MOWRY

The usual procedure in American cities is to let industrial improvements follow industrial growth. In many instances, industrial and business expansion would come more rapidly if the order were reversed.

Tampa, Fla., is a city which illustrates this admirably.

Municipal improvements completed or under construction during 1926 in Tampa entailed an expenditure of $1,400,000 and plans have already been made by the city engineering department for a $2,000,000 program.

Its new bridges now open the Hillsborough river within the city limits. Two of these bridges are already open for use. The others are under construction.

Ten miles of sewers have been laid and sixty miles of streets paved.

A municipal auditorium has been completed at a cost of $200,000 and the municipal hospital on Davis street, which is the largest in the South, is under construction.

Hillsborough county has expended nearly $1,000,000 during the past year on bridges and highways construction, most of which is closely adjacent to Tampa but outside the city limits, which embrace 25 square miles.

Tampa is growing and must keep ahead of her growth.

THE FATHER'S CHANCE

Bound to a mother just as bound
As a mother to a son,
Time, the strange master of us
Does not divide us from our own.

His name was never heard in call
And so to him there never came
An opportunity to fail.

The need for wages held him fast
To be a father in life's call
He married, and more strongly
To duty, dreams were thrust aside.

And for himself he came to see
Greatness perhaps would never be
Seeing his fortune never made
Doing the tasks which must be done.

Taking what pleasure he could
And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came.

Long since his dreams of fame
Were buried in the dust of time
And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came.

And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came.

And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came
And then one day the baby came.

Hubbers Work For Metro Contest At Local Park Sunday

Manager Sanders, skipper of the Lubbock Hubbers, carried his nine through a good workout yesterday afternoon and is getting set for the Amarillo Mets for Sunday afternoon at the Merrill Park. The Hubbers have their heads set for a victory and are crashing the game out with mighty swings as they seek vengeance from the Panhandle Mets. The homebats recently lost the bigger end of a three game bill in Amarillo.

Efforts are being made by the Hubbers to get two game series with the Mets playing the first Sunday and the last one on Monday while as yet nothing definite has been settled on Monday's game. The Sunday game is assured, however, and will start immediately at four o'clock.

Taylor To Pitch
Either "Preacher" Taylor or "Tyrone" Terry, two ace right handers of the homebats, pitching staff will be used against the Mets Sunday. Taylor was the only Hubber moundman to win from the Mets in the Amarillo series; while Terry pitched a very creditable game but lost with a score of 2 to 3. The northerners will likely use "Big O" Oscar Eckhardt, West Texas State Teachers college mentor, formerly of Uncle Billy Sisich's Southwestern Conference champions, and more recently a member of the Cleveland Indians, against the Hubbers. Eckhardt will no doubt bear down Sunday as he has not forgotten the drubbing he took early in the season when the Hubbers sent him to the showers in the Pampa series under a series of extra base blows.

The Hubbers have a very good record for this season and it is likely that they will enter in the annual baseball tournament conducted in Amarillo. However, the Hubbers are hunched on finances and their needs run something like $250 before they may be assured of entrance. Plans are being made now to raise this amount and if successful will probably send in the entrance next week.

Snakebite Serum Provided For City

Following the successful use of antivenom serum for snakebite on little Joe Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miller, of Smyer, 17 miles northwest of here, arrangements are being made by local hospital authorities to keep an emergency vial of the serum at the Halvey drug company at all times. Joe Miller was discharged from the Ellwood hospital yesterday, where he had been treated for rattlesnake bite two days ago, and where authorities believe the serum saved his life.

The serum is furnished under government supervision from special "snake farms" and only because of an emergency condition here due to a boy's death by snake bite recently were local druggists able to secure it.

It is designed to counteract the effect of north American poisonous reptiles including water moccasins, rattlesnakes and copperheads. Only one emergency ration of the remedy is allowed in one place, for the present, although later on it is expected that a greater supply of the serum can be kept in snake-infested areas.

Flogging Draws Ire Of O. C. Carr

FORT WORTH, July 15. (AP)—Special protection for Morris S. Strauss, recent victim of a flogging at the hands of a party of ten men, or for any person threatened with violence was discussed here today by City Manager O. C. Carr.

A "dastardly attack" and a "bunch of cowards" were terms used by the city manager in reathening denunciation of the ten men who administered a whipping to Strauss at a lonely spot on the Cleburne road about 12 miles from here.

BUILDING PERMIT ISSUED

A building permit was issued yesterday afternoon to L. D. Lattimore for the erection of a residence to cost $1,250. The home will be located at 1915 Avenue O.

MERCY RECOMMENDED IN AUTO MANSLAUGHTER CASE

MIAMI, Fla., July 15. (AP)—A verdict of guilty with a recommendation of "extreme mercy" was returned late today by a criminal court jury which tried Fred J. O'Neil, wealthy Miami Beach inventor, on charges of manslaughter growing out of the death of Mrs. Bain Miller and her six year old son, when O'Neil's automobile plunged into Biscayne Bay June 27.

DEPLORES BOOKBINDING

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—A thousand years hence can find in the ruins of Twentieth Century civilization any readable documents they will be fortunate, thinks J. W. Ward, "book surgeon." The quality of modern paper, ink and glue, he says, do not promise permanence of contemporary records.

A CONTENTED MIND

I quake not at the thunder's crack;
I tremble not at news of war;
I swoon not at the voice of crack;
I shrink not at a blazing star;
I care no more, I hope no gain;
I envy none, I hate disdain;
I am ambition never pleased;
I am some Tantalus starved in store;
I see gold's drapery seldom shed;
I see old Minas gaps for more;
I know a dead content is crowned.

Only A Small White Cross For A Regiment Of The Unknown

IN Paris, under the magnificent Arch of Triumph is the grave of a single unknown soldier. A flame burns there perpetually, to keep alight his memory. Daily, large wreaths are laid upon his tomb. The flags of nations dip to him as marching men pass by.

Down in the Bois de Prete, near Pont-a-Mousson, there is a rather grave without a name. It is marked by a cross—a drab wooden cross, once painted white. Therein is inscribed the following: "ICI REPOSE 818 SOLDATS FRANÇAIS INCONNUS."

No pilgrimages are made to this secluded spot. The blowing wind across the barren fields plays their only requiem. They are indeed, unknown.

THE TRAFFIC LAW JUMBLE

The legislature at its regular session passed a law that has practically killed all efforts to regulate traffic on our highways. The law puts the enforcement of all traffic laws on the counties but provides that any fines collected for violations shall go to the highway commission. It is hard to think how a more damaging law to the safety of our highways could have been conjured up than this.

There has been much abuse of authority by officers under the old law because of the fees attached to a conviction. In hundreds of instances great hardships have been imposed on motorists by officers who cared naught about the safety of the roads but who made arrests for the fees accruing. To remedy this the legislature passed the law putting the burden of enforcement on the county and at the same time refusing to give the county the means of defraying in part at least, the expense. But not content with this blunder, the legislature also provided that no arrest should be legal unless the officer making the arrest had on a specific uniform. Under the present law Sheriff Sanders can not legally arrest the most flagrant traffic violator unless he has on certain kind of clothes.—Marshall News.

were being pulled up in placed gave way.

Following this they made their way to the old test when the cap was removed and the measurement of the distance to the oil was from the top was taken.

The oil was 46 feet from the top when the measurement was taken.

Thorough Test Promised

Assurance that the field would be given a thorough test was given by Mr. Kegans yesterday and also by L. L. Donnell, members of the Donnell Petroleum company who have charge of the drilling with Mr. Kegans. The second test will be started as soon as repairs can be made on the rig. The third test will likely go down in about 30 days, Mr. Kegans said.

"We're going on down to prove the sands," he said, when asked how far the next test would be sunk. "We know that there is a 460 foot sand and we believe that there are three sands, one at 900 feet and another at 1300 feet," he added. Mr. Kegans said that the number 2 test would go down to the 1300 foot sand and deeper. It is thought by oil men that he bases his beliefs on the results of the test of the old Bladock test a few miles south of his well. Using only one machine, day and night crews will rush the future drilling.

Plans were altered regarding the pumping of the oil from the first test, the drillers explaining that another hole could be sunk with about the same amount of money that it would take to pump the well. Pumps will be placed on the wells while the production warrants them and a pipeline company paves the way to the market. It will be several months before the oil will be piped, Mr. Donnell said yesterday if the field is proven.

W. M. Mullican, owner of the land on which the test was made, was at the celebration yesterday and expressed confidence in the activities.

VIENNA RIOTS

men were disarmed and their uniforms torn off by the mob. The officers were rescued with great difficulty by reinforcements of police. The most menacing situation arose outside of the palace of justice where thousands of workmen erected barricades with motor cars and motor lorries to prevent the mounted police from advancing.

Soon after noon, a mob got inside the building and played havoc there despite a large guard of police. Windows were smashed and books and documents thrown out to be burned by the rioters.

Clerks Are Beaten

Officials and clerks were dragged out and beaten by the enraged mob and were only saved from lynching by volunteer Red Cross workers. Meanwhile, a desultory fire was opened on the rioters from another story of the law.

The mob prevented the efforts of the fire brigade to extinguish the flames at the palace of justice and for a time it seemed as if the police had disappeared.

Toward 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the republican Schutzband began an advance toward the palace of justice and was immediately involved in heavy fighting. Shots were exchanged and there were numerous wounded on both sides. The crowd eventually was driven back and the fire brigade was able to play streams of water on the burning structure, but it was feared that at least half of the building would be destroyed.

At 4 o'clock regular troops, armed with machine guns, advanced on the palace of justice and the fighting continued.

Papers Sacked

In the Josefstasse a mob burst into the printing and editorial departments of the Wiener Neueste Nachrichten. The rioters seized copies of the paper and burned them in the streets.

The mob also stormed and set fire to the building of the Reichspost and also attacked several police stations. The stations were attacked when the police had fled for their lives against the overwhelming number of rioters.

The Socialist party held a meeting today and gave instructions to local leaders to prevent workers from the suburbs invading the city. The situation appeared very threatening.

SMITH FLIGHT

flight should go to Bronte." "He kept us on our course and plotted our route around," continued Smith.

Bronte denied this with a smile, but Smith insisted that he spoke the truth.

24 Hours In Air

Speaking of the flights ending Smith said, "We were exactly 24 hours in the air when we sighted Molokai and we realized that our gasoline supply was exhausted."

Smith declared they had not had the slightest sign of motor trouble and their only worries had been for lack of gasoline. He said the Radio Beacon worked satisfactorily from the first to 100 miles from Oakland when the receiving set refused to function properly. He said they both were busy every minute during the flight.

The gas faltered for a moment, but being the time when the first call for aid was sent.

All In Fog

No water was seen on the trip until 8:30 o'clock this morning. The first land that they saw was a mountain top on Hawaii.

"Land looked mighty good to us," said Smith, "we didn't know what moment our gas would give out." Smith continued, "I was sort of hard to have the ship wrecked after it had carried us so far, but we'll never be able to fly again. She is too badly wrecked to rebuild or salvage. We are going back to Molokai to salvage the motor if we can."

Smith brought a number of letters and papers, after posing for pictures, the fliers were driven to the royal Hawaiian hotel, where they will be guests during their stay in Honolulu.

Slaton C. Of C. Has Large Attendance

LUBBOCK, July 15.—The monthly luncheon meeting of the Slaton Chapter of the Order of the Circle was well attended and enthusiasm was high. The program was in charge of the membership committee composed of M. W. Lutz, chairman, C. E. Anderson, O. Z. Hall, A. J. Payne and A. L. Brannon. A report was presented showing an unusually high percentage of business firms and individuals now holding membership in the organization.

Standard Rig Used On Kingsland Test

BROWNFIELD, July 15.—After drilling for several hundred feet with a rotary rig, the Kingsland Oil Company is changing back to standard rig on its test near here and setting eight inch casing and it is expected that drilling will be resumed within the next day or two. The present depth is estimated as 2,000 feet but is not authentic as drillers have been ordered to withhold all information concerning activities.

STEADY BUILDING PROGRAM MARKS ADVANCEMENT OF CITY OF HEREFORD

HEREFORD, July 15.—Hereford has experienced a healthy development since January 1, and has really kept up the pace of progress that was set in 1926. There is not the slightest semblance of a boom here, and none of the local folks want a boom. The development is a natural one, and is so steady that one has to look about to really appreciate the building that is going on.

Brownfield Crop Prospects Bright

BROWNFIELD, July 15.—The general crop situation of this county shows a decided improvement over that of a few days ago, as rains have been received over the entire section. Cotton and all feed stuff is growing rapidly with enough moisture to carry them through July. And it is believed that a good crop will be produced unless an early freeze is experienced.

Canyon Is Favored By Good Rainfall

CANYON, July 15.—Rain amounting to somewhat more than one inch fell over practically all of Randall county the first of this week. More rain fell Thursday with good promise of an excellent season. Row crops, as maize, sorghum, and kaffir corn are getting a good start and will mature. Little gardens are being planted and the outlook for them is good. Wheat harvesting is about completed here. Wheat has made from ten to twenty-three bushels to the acre, with an average of about twelve bushels. The wheat is high quality and commands the top price.

Big Spring Ball Club Successful

BIG SPRING, July 15.—The T. & P. baseball team of Big Spring has had this far a very successful season. Few teams have been able to run up a very high score on the Big Spring team. Wednesday, July 13, the Midland team was beaten in a close game. Big Spring made 5 runs, 7 hits and 3 errors; Midland 1 run, 3 hits and 1 error. Good crowds are in the game, and the city is solidly behind the local team. The pitcher and catcher on the Big Spring crew are very versatile players; they can interchange places without affecting the success of the team.

You needn't iron by "flickering" heat

YOU wouldn't read by a light that flickered and flared—now too bright, now too dim. But most irons give you "flickering" heat—now too cool, now too hot.

With the Westinghouse Automatic, the "flicker" disappears, for the temperature of this iron varies only within the limits of correct ironing heat. At the highest good ironing temperature, it shuts itself off. At the lowest good ironing temperature, it turns itself on again. The famous Spencer Thermostat sees to that!

No wasted minutes waiting for the iron to heat or cool. No bothersome attaching or detaching a cord. You can give your undivided attention to your ironing.

Price $7.75

Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Samuel David.
Scripture Lesson: 1 Samuel 16.

4. And Samuel did that which Jehovah spake, and came to Beth-lehem. And the elders of the city came to meet him trembling, and said, Comest thou peaceably?

5. And he said, Peaceably: I am come to sacrifice unto Jehovah: sanctify yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Jesse and his sons, and called them to the sacrifice.

6. And it came to pass, when they were come, that he looked on Eliab, and said, Surely Jehovah's anointed is before him.

7. But Jehovah said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have rejected him: for Jehovah seeth not as man seeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but Jehovah looketh on the heart.

8. Then Jesse called Abinadab, and made him pass before Samuel. And he said, Neither hath Jehovah chosen this.

9. Then Jesse made Shamhah to pass by. And he said, Neither hath Jehovah chosen this.

10. And Jesse made seven of his sons to pass before Samuel. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Jehovah hath not chosen these.

11. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children? And he said, There remaineth yet the youngest, and behold, he is keeping the sheep. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Send and fetch him: for we will not sit down till he come hither.

12. And he sent and brought him in. Now he was ruddy, and withal of a beautiful countenance, and goodly to look upon. And Jehovah said, Arise, anoint him: for this is he.

13. Then Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the Spirit of Jehovah came mightily upon David from that day forward. So Samuel rose up, and went to Ramath.

Time: The birth of David, B. C. 1082; his anointing, B. C. 1077.

Place: Bethlehem, about five miles south of Jerusalem.

Golden Text: Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example to them that believe, in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity.—1 Tim. 4:12.

Introduction

The new king was a success at first, for he formed an army consisting of an immense number of war-chariots and of infantry, and prepared to attack the powerful tribe of Philistines. This nation, holding the country along the sea-coast in the west of the Israelites, had not been subdued by Joshua, a failure which was for generations to bring woe to the Israelites. They were a warlike people, and had by this time reduced Israel to virtual slavery. A revolution could not be successful if attempted in man's strength alone, and this great truth Saul did not understand. He brought his army together at Gilgal, near Jericho, the historic capital of his kingdom. The well-armed and well-disciplined host were sternly arrayed within only ten miles of Saul's trembling and weak body of soldiers.

Saul's First Failure
Chap. 13:1-14

Samuel had bidden Saul wait for his arrival before joining battle, that he might offer sacrifices, and thus beseech the aid of Jehovah. Samuel delayed his coming beyond the time set, and Saul decided not to wait longer, but conduct the sacrifices himself. Samuel arrived, and Saul was concluding the sacrifice, severely rebuked the king, and declared that the kingdom should remain in his house, but that another king would be chosen by the Lord. This was Saul's first failure, and it was born of self-will, the use of his own judgment in place of the divine ordering.

Saul's Second Failure
Chap. 16:1-9

This second failure was in connection with an attack which Samuel bade him make upon the nomad people, the Amalekites, living to the south and southwest of Palestine. The cup of their iniquity was full, Jehovah doomed them to merited destruction, and Saul was to be the instrument of their annihilation. He was ordered to spare none of them to be a thorn in the side of the Israelites in the future.

Now was he to make spoil of their animals, but was to make it plain by his entire conduct of the campaign that he was acting as God's avenger, and not for personal aggrandizement or profit. But once again Saul failed through self-will and disobedience. His military genius won a decided victory, and he and the Amalekites camped in his power; but he spared Agag, the king, and sent the best of the sheep and oxen of the Amalekites. He set up his own judgment in place of God's, repeating the sin which had brought about his first condemnation.

Jehovah's Condemnation of Saul
Chap. 15:22-23

Then the spirit of prophecy came upon Samuel, and he gave tongue to one of the noblest utterances in all the Bible, an utterance which tore asunder Saul's pitiful cloak of excuse, and pierced to the very heart of hypocritical falsehood.

Hath Jehovah as great delight in burnt-offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of Jehovah? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice.

And to hearken than the fat of rams. Because thou hast rejected the word of Jehovah, He hath rejected thee from being king.

The Sin Of Self-Will
Saul was unfit for the crown.

place he occupied. He wanted the one quality necessary for success and happiness. He never rose to the full conception of what God's kingdom was, and demanded. God's kingdom is made up of those who do God's will, and it requires the doing of that will. Self-will is treason to God's kingdom.

Jehovah Seeth Not As Man Seeth. v. 7.

"For man looketh on the outward appearance, but Jehovah looketh on the heart." The Lord can pierce beneath all surfaces; he knows the words in our tongues, before they are shot out upon the air. He sees our inner desires, watches our growing tendencies, perceives our characters as plainly as our friends see our faces and hands and clothes.

"Thou God seest me" should be our constant thought, and to make ourselves worthy of the gaze of the All-seeing One should be our ceaseless and earnest purpose.

David Chosen King, vs. 11-13

Jesse seems to have thought, if he did not say, "The boy is usefully employed; why take him away from his work on such an empty errand as this?" "Behold he is keeping the sheep." It is pleasant to think of the thoughtful and beautiful boy engaged in this peaceful work. How often he must have sung to himself on those upland meadows the Shepherd Psalm, and through the starry nights, "The heavens declare the glory of God!" His occupation was not free from peril, either, for savage beasts prowled about the edges of the flock ready to spring upon any wanderer, and the shepherd boy must be keen-eyed to pick out any skulking shadow, quick as lightning with his sling, and bold to use his club-like "rod" in fierce combat with marauders, either beasts or men. It was ideal training for the mind and body of the future warrior, statesman, and leader of men. Through all the Bible, down to the time of the Carpenter's Son, whose birth was heralded to shepherds in these same fields, the great leaders of men were selected from the ranks of the toilers. Let no one consider it a misfortune, but the best of fates, if he is compelled to work at some laborious routine task. Rightly accepted, such tasks make heroes and rulers.

David Under The Spirit's Influence, v. 13.

"And the Spirit of Jehovah came mightily upon David from that day forward." So little is apparently thought of David that up to this point the lad's name has not been given. "David" means "darling" or "beloved," a name well suited not only to the youngest of the family, but to the boy's character. We have already seen "the Spirit of Jehovah" coming mightily upon Saul (1 Sam. 10:6-11), inspiring him for his high calling; but Saul was untrue to the Holy Spirit and drew away from his leading, while David (with one terrible exception) followed the Spirit's guidance all his life, and was conducted by him to success and happiness.

The fundamental temptation of worldliness is to look on the outward appearance of life and not on the inward realities. The worldling seeks the shell of things: money, luxury, ease, fame, surface beauty.

power, rather than the truth of things, which is God. David sought first God's kingdom, and God's righteousness, and so all other good things were added to him.

"Were I so tall to reach the pole, Or grasp the ocean with my span, I must be measured by my soul. The mind's the standard of the man."—Isaac Watts.

World Company Oil Well Hits Potash

BIG SPRING, July 15.—The World company drilling on the McDowell ranch, section 43, block 33, survey 2 south, 20 south of Big Spring has struck a vein of potash at 1775 feet. To a depth of 1,400 feet this well shows to be strong in potash. Samples are being sent to state chemist for analysis. Regan Stewart remarks to Grace Dalton as he lights a Lucky Strike while waiting for a group of guests at The Riding Club.

Giovanni Martinelli, famous tenor of Metropolitan Opera, says:

"We who sing must be extra cautious about our throats. I get my greatest enjoyment from Lucky Strikes because I find they do not affect my voice."

NEW CATTLE ARE IMPORTED BY NEW JERSEY CLUB OF FOARD COUNTY TO IMPROVE QUALITY OF STOCK THERE

LOWELL, July 15.—The culmination of six months' effort on the part of farmers of Foard County, bankers of Crowell and County Agricultural Agent Fred Rannels, reached this week with the importation of thirty-seven registered Jersey cattle which put into operation a new organization, the only of its kind known for the improvement of dairying in this section. The organization which is composed of twenty-four club members with four separate boys' clubs in the one organization represents a combined calf and bull circle and dairy exchange. The plan is the first of its kind in the state, and it is known in quickly establishing foundation for a new era of dairying in this section. The plan was the brainchild of Fred Rannels, county agent, who was the originator of this unique plan and with wide assistance it was put into operation.

Lowell, from a natural standpoint, is very diversified agriculturally and livestock raising and has long been famous for its dairy products. Hereford, Shorthorn and cattle and beef production are and is yet one of the leading industries of the county. However, the past few years have seen a decline in the industry. The county has been subdivided into districts and settled by farmers who have had to intensify in stock production, the dairy industry in popularity. As a result of the county produced cream and dairy products of good quality, and on some good dairy stock has been lost.

Stock Improved
The past few years some of the farmers who kept dairy cattle as a hobby to get registered but that was all. No effort was made to buy bulls that were of merit stock, but the registered Jersey bulls have been used have done to raise the standard of cattle and there are some good grades in practically all of the county, and on farms there are some good dairy cattle.

One of the farmers in four counties came to the conclusion through co-operation it was possible to raise the standard of their livestock in their own hands at a minimum of expense. They fully decided that they wanted to raise Jersey cattle in view and with the assistance of County Agent Fred Rannels and the assistance of the farmers of Crowell, a plan was formed to buy bulls that were of merit stock and to combine in order that they might be some foundation for a new era of dairying in this section. The plan was discussed but an account of the necessity of many of the communities to improve the quality of the bull circle. It was decided that combination of the calf club and bull circle would fit the needs of the dairymen interested. The plan to buy some good registered bulls of as good production as possible and in connection with to also purchase four registered Jersey bulls of the very best quality obtainable.

Owned By Clubs
The animals are owned by the four communities making up the four communities. There are four club members in each community. Each has a registered bull and a one-fourth interest in the four bulls that are owned co-operatively by the four communities. The bulls will be handled just as other bull circle and will be sold as the occasion demands to strengthen the herd as they are changed. By this plan eight to ten of bull service will be for the price of one bull. A reasonable service fee will be charged with half of it going to the keeper and the other half going to the club members.

Members Restricted
There are some restrictions on the members entering this club. Each signed an agreement stating that they would care for their heifers to the best of their ability. They also agreed to go by the rules generally used by bull circles in caring for their males. They also agreed to a regular plan of transfer of individual interest in the males. Each member agrees to show his heifer at any county or community fair or show when practical to do so.

The method of financing places the club members on their own responsibility in paying for their heifers. Inasmuch as it is usually impractical to attempt to make young heifers pay for themselves in the short time that loans are made, it was decided to try a new plan of financing. Each member has planted five acres of cotton, the proceeds of this cotton after picking and ginning have been deducted to be applied to the note until it is paid. If for any reason the crop does not produce enough the first season to retire the note the member will continue to plant the five acres and apply the proceeds to the note until it shall have been fully paid.

Selected By Lot
On arrival at Crowell the club members drew for their heifers. Each heifer had a tag tied on her with a number and her price, a corresponding number was placed in a hat and each member drew a number from the hat and took the heifer bearing the number drawn. The very greatest care was exercised by County Agent Rannels in the selection of this stock. The assistance of two of the best Jersey authorities in Texas was secured in making the selection, the two men being D. T. Simons of Fort Worth, field man for the American Jersey Cattle Club, and Prof. Geo. P. Groot, head of the Dairy Department of Texas A. & M. College. Rannels made a trip through North Central and South Texas with the above men and selected the cattle in those sections.

Pleased With Animals
Both Mr. Simons and Prof. Groot were very well pleased with the quality of the animals secured. In speaking of the shipment Mr. Simons said, "Foard County has four of as good bulls as were ever shipped to West Texas and great results should be obtained from them."

The bulls are all out of register of merit sires with exceptionally good records of production. Each one is also an excellent individual carrying type and conformation, and descending from some of the greatest Jersey families in the world. They are fine bred bulls selected so that they may be exchanged profitably one with the other without any probability of decreasing the value of their progeny.

One of the bulls is sired by a son of Xenia's Sultan out of a Jersey Volunteer dam. The dam of this calf is sired by a son of Golden Fern Noble. This makes him a double bred noble bull. Lilac's Noble Champion, another bull in the importation, was sired by Syria's Anna's Lad, and is out of Fout's De's Golden Lilac. This bull's dam made a record of merit record of 122 pounds of butter and 19.25 pounds of milk at three years and 9 months of age. Bonious Aristocrat of 8, another bull is out of a dam that produced 400 pounds of butter as a junior two year old. D. T. Simons states that another bull in the importation is out of the best cow he knows of in Collin County. This bull's dam was sired by Blenheim's Noble, a fine bred noble, and the sire of this calf was by a son of Noble of Oakland.

Thirteen bred heifers were distributed to the members and eleven open heifers. They run a very uniform type showing that they are well bred. They are granddaughters of Eminent-Oxford You'll Do, Noble of Oaklands, Bright Prince and Combinations Premier. Nine other heifers in the shipment were distributed in the county.

The affairs of the club will be managed by a committee of seven men. They are composed of J. C. Taylor, Thalia; I. W. Middlebrook, Margaret; T. F. Lambert, Rayland; M. L. Cribbs, West Rayland, keepers of the bulls in their respective communities; T. N. Bell of the Bank of Crowell; M. J. Hughton of the First State Bank of Crowell and Fred Rannels, County Agent. The boys and girls will have the advice of this committee on all their problems and nothing will be left undone to insure this move to be a success and be profitable not only to those directly interested but to the entire community.

Clubs Organized
The boys and girls of the four clubs have one organization of their own with the following of:

DEAF SMITH COUNTY FARMERS EXPORT LARGE AMOUNTS OF HOGS AND COWS

HEREFORD, July 15.—While many counties in Texas have been importing brood sows, working interest in poultry, and talking of the possibilities of dairying, Deaf Smith county has been getting returns from the cow, sow and hen. In other words this county is exporting instead of importing, because the program of diversified farming with the cow, sow, and hen was started here, while many counties in Texas were following the one crop plan.

During the past year, farmers of Deaf Smith county marketed close to 150,000 worth of dairy products, besides the thousands of dollars that was realized from beef cattle and feeding projects. During the past few months farmers around here have been helping to supply Amarillo with sweet milk, and a large amount of sweet cream is now being trucked to the neighboring metropolitan.

Quarter Million In Hogs

Since January 1, better than a quarter million dollars worth of hogs have been shipped from this section of the Panhandle by G. W. Brumley, local hog shipper. A hog importing campaign started here more than ten years ago, and the country is pretty well stocked with foundation stock for the production of porkers. It is common for farmers around here to receive a check for $500 and up for hogs marketed on a single day.

Nothing has experienced a more phenomenal development in the Hereford country than the poultry industry. While farm flocks have been increasing for several years, the last two seasons have seen a more rapid development along this line. With the establishment of a 12,000 egg hatchery two years ago, by H. H. Hawkins, poultry was gradually developed as one of Deaf Smith county's money crops. Last season Mr. Hawkins was forced to double his capacity, and the business was so lucrative that Ray Conway and Jones-McLean established a 47,000 egg hatchery during the past season. A modern poultry breeding plant was also established here January 1, by J. M. Henderson and son, and they will double their capacity before another season starts. During the past twelve months better than $100,000 worth of poultry products was marketed by farmers of the Hereford country. Some of the poultry leaders are working on plans for a co-operative marketing system in an effort to solve the low price of eggs, and to raise the standard of the product produced, and if this is properly worked out, the industry will experience a rapid development in the future.

Big Wheat Crop
With a light yield over the Panhandle, better than a half million dollars worth of wheat was received by elevators of Deaf Smith county, during the past three weeks. A large acreage is planted in grain sorghums, and though a little late, all of the row crops are looking promising.

In every community pastures are being plowed up and converted into farms, and with the diversified farming program already established here, with beef cattle and hogs in the country, to consume much of the grain produced, and with the dairy cow and poultry playing an important part in the live at home plan for a number of the farmers of this region, a wave of development seems certain for Deaf Smith county.

Hereford Crops Now Looking Well

HEREFORD, July 14.—With the bulk of the wheat harvest over, local farmers are turning their attention to the big row crop, which is all up to a good stand, and these tillers of the soil are working early and late getting their grain sorghums plowed. Since recent showers the feed crops are looking fine, and prospects are bright right now for good crop yields over this section regardless of the fact that most of the crops were late in getting started.

Wheat farmers of this section made double the yields that were expected, and with row crops up to a good stand, and with most of the wheat marketed at a good price, there is a spirit of optimism over the Hereford country.

Mrs. Edward L. Hinman, 73 years old, of Ravenna, Ohio, has never missed Sunday school in seventy years.
