Post office site disputed

WESTBROOK - A petition circulated in this small community has caused more than controversy over the proposed building of a new post office to replace the existing one.

The petition, which was circulated last week, has over 100 signatures attached to it. However, some Westbrook citizens who had signed the petition said a cover sheet was later attached to the original petition after they had signed it.

The original petition was circulated by Mrs. A. G. Anderson and Mrs. D. A. Oglesby, according to sources. Mrs. Oglesby is the owner of the building where the present post office is housed.

The original petition read: We, the undersigned, by witness of signature and address, being legal residents of the City of Westbrook, TX., OBJECT to the proposed re-location of our Post Office.

If the present location is unsuitable, requiring relocation, then, WE, request the new location be in the general vicinity of the present location.

Westbrook postmaster Billy Sweek announced February 3 that the U.S. Postal Service was seeking a suitable site upon which to build a new post office building in Westbrook.

The preferred area for the site consideration is bounded on the North by Morrison Street; on the South by Turner Street; on the East by Crump Street; and on the West by Morgan Street.

The deadline for submitting site offerings for this area was Monday (March 1).

The petition which was originally circulated was later supplemented with a cover sheet which read:

To Whom It May Concern

An overwhelming majority of the adult population of The Incorporated City of Westbrook, Texas, (Total population 296) have indicated their will as attested by the attached petition.

Since the primary responsibility of any government agency is to the needs and wishes of the people concerned, it is with great antipathy, we the 'Petitioners' resent the move underway by our local postmaster to relocate the post office to a location completely unsatisfactory to all except himself. And all of this is being done without even one public hearing.

We feel this bureaucratic arrogance should be exposed for all to see.

We beseech and implore anyone reading this that can be of any help to us, to please do so.

We stand ready to attend any public meeting that is concerned with countering the above proposed move.

Respectfully Submitted, Concerned Citizens Of

Accident victim is charged with theft

Dohn Allison Fenley 17, of Houston, was charged with theft, Friday, in connection with the recovery of a stolen automobile near Colorado City about 6 p.m., Wednesday.

Fenley and his fifteen year female companion were fleeing west along I-20, just ahead of deputy sheriff Bobby Calloway and were headed off by highway patrolman Tom Johnson.

Officers west of Abilene had been alerted that a car had left an Abilene service station without paying for gas. Calloway spotted the car in the neighborhood of the Country Club road and set out after it. The fleeing vehicle was seen by Johnson who forced it off the road. The car ran across the north service road at the intersection of IS 20 and Hwy. 208, jumped a concrete culvert and slammed into a borrow ditch.

Fenley's injuries were minor but the 15-year-old was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock. She was suffering from a spinal injury but her condition was described as "stable."

Sheriff Wendell Bryant said Friday morning that Fort Worth authorities were preparing theft charges Friday morning. The car was stolen in Fort Worth. Judge Bill Carter said that the case of the 15-year-old runaway would be handled by juvenile authorities.

Perkin's' burglary makes M.C. Crimestoppers list

The Mitchell County Crimestoppers organization announced they would be offering a cash reward up to $1,000 for information concerning the burglary of Perkin's Apothecary and Mercantile.

The burglary occurred between midnight and 8 a.m. July 10, 1983.

The Mitchell County Sheriff's Department and the Colorado City Police Department were both investigating the break-in and burglary.

Taken in the burglary were knives, cameras, electric razors and several thousands of dollars of hard narcotic drugs, said Sheriff Wendell Bryant.

The person or persons reportedly forced the front doors of the store open to get access to the merchandise. The store is located at 501 Walnut Street.

"We have followed all leads and have arrived at negative results," said Bryant about the long-going investigation.

The Sheriff's Department and Crimestoppers are looking for tips or clues from local citizens who may possibly know something about the burglary, he said.

He said anyone knowing any information about the burglary to please call 728-TIPS between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A cash reward will be offered for any information leading to the arrest and indictment of person or persons involved with the crime mentioned.

The name of the caller will remain anonymous, said a Crimestopper's spokesperson.

Dulin named winner of national award

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Melissa Dulin has been named a 1984 United States National Award winner in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Miss Dulin, who attends Highland High School was nominated for this National Award by Cindy Stroman, an English teacher at the school.

She will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Miss Dunn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dulin. Her grandparents are Mrs. Jewel Ratliff of Sweetwater and Mrs. Ada Dulin of Colorado City.

P.S. Please witness our signatures on the attached petition.

"There have probably been some assumptions made on the part of local folks before they were informed of the facts," said Sweek. "As far as I know the petition was circulated while I was out of town."

Sweek said he had been in Washington last week arguing a case for the importance of small rural post offices.

"I got in Friday night and my wife told me about it (petition)," Sweek said. "I have no property in Westbrook besides the house I own. And I have not offered any property for sale."

Sweek said a representative from the U.S.

Postal Service would be reviewing the site proposals March 9 (Friday). "If they are in the proper location and if they are determined to be safe for building then we will try to negotiate," he said. "If the property is suitable and in the best location and near the center of town as possible we will negotiate."

"It could be a drawn affair," Sweek said that the postal service was up against finding a suitable location and going to that particular owner.

1985 Budget: more cuts a necessity

By JOHN TOWER
U.S. SENATOR

The Fiscal Year 1985 budget is the subject of numerous Congressional committee hearings in Washington these days. In reviewing this most important document, we must remain conscious of our goal to reduce government spending but retain funding for those programs vital to our nation.

The President's budget proposals, which were sent to Congress earlier this month, include savings elements such as a continued freeze on real domestic spending growth and further reduction of domestic spending as a percentage of the Gross National Product.

Savings also can be made by reducing fraud, waste and mismanagement in government. A good example is the President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency made up of 18 department and agency inspectors general. The council has reported $8.4 billion in cost reductions or funds put to better use in the last six months of 1983—a total of $31 billion since it was appointed in 1981.

The Grace Commission also has reported various areas where spending can either be reduced or eliminated. Many of these recommendations have been included in the budget.

Other money-saving initiatives in the FY 1985 budget involve improving the operations of federal agencies. The agencies have been directed to coordinate management activities to reduce current operating costs. Management systems also are becoming more streamlined and the delivery of services is being improved.

It is measures such as these that have put our economy on the road to recovery and have generated a renewed hope for the future. We must not lose our nerve at this point but forge ahead.

This budget will not take effect until October 1984. The one we are operating under currently was passed last year. After carefully scrutinizing the President's budget proposals, Congress will eventually adopt a Budget Resolution by summer. This resolution will set forth spending ceilings for each major budget category.

Some of the budget areas of special interest to Texas include:

National Defense—The Reagan Administration has requested an increase in the defense budget from $265.3 billion in 1984 to $313.4 billion in 1985. These funds would continue the President's goal of modernizing our defense capabilities after a decade of declining strength in the face of a growing Soviet threat. In fact during the 1970s, defense spending dropped nine percent after inflation. While we have seen growth in defense spending under this administration, Congress has cut each year's defense budget request.

Agriculture—Funding for these programs so vital to the Texas economy has been proposed at $14.3 billion in 1985, an increase of $3.6 billion from 1984. This includes $1.07 billion for agricultural research which is aimed at increasing productivity through the development of new knowledge about crops and animals. Another $671 million will go to agricultural services such as marketing, animal and plant health inspection programs and collection and distribution of economic data.

Education—The Administration has always felt the responsibility of education lies in the hands of the states, local school districts and parents. However, it is committed to raising the standards of the American educational system and has proposed a budget of $15.5 billion for this area.

As Congress examines these and other vital programs, I trust it will give them the consideration and time they deserve.

Fighting crime a losing battle

By LLOYD BENTSEN
United States Senator

A member of my staff was robbed at gunpoint one night recently, right outside her apartment on a quiet, residential street in Washington.

It is as true in Texas as it is in our nation's capital: we all know someone who has recently been the victim of a crime or we have been victims ourselves.

We are engaged in a war with crime, and we are not winning.

Although the overall crime rate dropped three percent during 1982, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reports this improvement with "cautious optimism." It notes that two similar decreases in the crime rate during the 1970s were short-lived.

We won't know how we did in 1983 until the FBI crime report is released in the fall. But the number for 1982 gives us scant cause for comfort. The crime rate remained 15 percent higher than in 1978 and a whopping 47 percent higher than in 1973.

In Texas, the number of reported crimes increased by nine percent from 1981 to 1982. Murders increased from 2,446 to 2,466; robberies from 28,528 to 33,618 and burglaries from 275,978 to 285,967.

It's evident from these statistics that we still have a very serious crime problem.

Under present law, a criminal may be given consecutive or concurrent sentences on conviction for several crimes. A person convicted of three robberies and given three 10-year sentences to run concurrently, for example, would actually serve only 10 years in prison.

My proposal specifies that a person who commits a crime while free on bail must, upon conviction, serve the sentences consecutively, or one after another.

With concurrent sentences an individual free on bail and facing a prison sentence for, say, burglary has nothing to lose by marching out to commit more burglaries.

Really? Punish parents for bad grades

A leader of the state's second-largest teacher's association has challenged H. Ross Perot's statement that parents should be fined if their children fail.

Mike Morrow, executive director of the 37,000-member Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE), said that Perot's idea to fine parents for their children's failure to meet specific school objectives and perhaps to deny such students the right to attend public school, would turn Texas public education into "a system for the privileged few."

"It appears that he has lost sight of the fact that children have differing educational needs and that public educators strive to teach each student to his or her fullest potential," Morrow said.

According to an Austin American-Statesman report, Perot, chairman of the Governor's Select Committee on Public Education, suggested the fine for parents during an address to the Texas Association of Middle Schools on Thursday.

Morrow added that the statement indicates Perot believes that the education of future generations is solely a parent's responsibility rather than society's commitment.

"We've long maintained that a well-educated citizenry is the goal of every person," Morrow said. "ATPE has long supported the need for increased parental involvement in public education, but to fine parents for not meeting educational objectives would signal to non-parents that their input is merely financial.

"Many school districts across the state already are having a difficult time passing school bond issues for needed improvements, the subliminal effect of Mr. Perot's idea would be to decrease public support of education."

Morrow also said that the idea leaves low-income Texans with few options and may cause more affluent parents to place their children in private schools.

"What if a parent is unable to pay the fine?" Morrow asked. "And furthermore, who is to evaluate whether a parent is meeting these objectives and who is to collect the fines?"

"The system of public education in this state is based on equal educational opportunity for all children. Are we to deny this right to some because they advance more slowly than the objectives demand or because their parents are not involved enough?"

Morrow said that ATPE has publicly supported the efforts of the Select Committee and will continue to do so. He added that Perot's latest statements "fortunately reflect only the opinions of one man with one vote on the committee."

years old and has made her mark in Black History.

She tells me, as a small girl, her grandmother would tell her stories about her days of being a slave. Some of the memories were pleasant, some not so pleasant.

Mrs. Baker's grandmother said they were expected to pick so many pounds of cotton per day. It was nothing for her grandmother to pick 300 pounds a day.

Mary Jane's grandmother told her they were all working in the field when they received the news, slavery had been abolished. Everyone shouted and jumped, tossing hats in the air. Celebrations went on for days in her family.

Mrs. Baker's family were hard workers. Mrs. Baker's husband could pull two rows of corn faster than a man could walk and have energy enough for a game or two of baseball, after work. He was a pitcher. He traveled with his team to surrounding towns and counties as "the" baseball team every one wanted to beat.

Mrs. Baker had eight children, four boys and four girls. They tell me she was a hard working mom and always had something good cooking on the stove.

Mary Jane is the lady who gave me the recipe for imitation salad, told me to watch for the birds called "Stormy Hawk's" that foretold bad weather. This could come in handy as we approach the season of sudden storms.

Mrs. Mattie Hines and Mrs. Myrtle Womack told me of one of our local Black heroes—80 John Wallace.

He was the son of slaves, gifted with wisdom along with talent for hard work. He put it to use, starting out as a ranch hand, working for Mr. Charlie Mann, one of our early day ranchers. He eventually became the owner of a large ranch of his own.

There are many things named for him, one being our Wallace Center.

Mrs. Hines was responsible for having the Historical Marker put up for him. She asked Dr. Rupert Richardson from Hardin-Simmons University to officiate the service.

Dr. Richardson said he had made many presentations but the one for 80 John Wallace was the most impressive. Historical Marker he had ever presented.

FOOT WASHING

David Lelek - Associate Pastor
Christian Temple

In the Gospel of John 13:6-10, we see that Jesus is about to wash Peter's feet, but Peter refuses to allow Him to do so. Jesus told Peter that unless he allowed it, then Peter has no part with Him. When Peter heard that, he wanted Jesus to wash his feet, hands, and head. Jesus explained that Simon Peter was washed already, and needed only his feet washed. I have pondered this whole foot washing episode many times, but I've never been able to grasp the full meaning. The other night, while praising and worshipping the Lord, the Holy Spirit revealed to me a spiritual side to this episode.

If you are truly a Christian, then you understand what a struggle it is to live in this world today. There are just so many temptations and situations we had rather not have to go through. An yet, because we live in this world, we have to go through these things anyway. You could compare it to having to cross a muddy creek bottom. You can wade through the mud and stay clean, except for your feet. They get muddy and have to be washed.

Now, Jesus has washed us clean by shedding His blood to cleanse us from our sins. But, He hasn't taken us out of this world yet. An it's like that muddy creek bottom. As we walk in and through this world, we get our feet dirty. There is no avoiding it. So Jesus made the provision for us to get our feet washed, spiritually speaking. We read the Word of God, we have fellowship with fellow Christians, and we go to God in prayer. If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 1 John 1:9

Gregory celebrates 92nd birthday

Friday, February 24, started out almost like any other day in the life of R. E. (Dick) Gregory, Sr., except that he was celebrating his 92nd birthday.

He decided to take the day off from building on the east fence and the pecan trees did not need watering that day. It seemed like a good day to sit on the front porch in the sunshine and just enjoy living.

The postman brought a stack of birthday cards from friends, relatives and well wishers which he read and enjoyed every single word, without glasses.

A beautiful and most unique floral arrangement was delivered from a group of friends in Colorado City. The floral container depicted a redwood water tank with a jail attached to it complete with bars on the windows and a woodpecker on the porch.

His children and grandchildren dropped in during the day and throughout the weekend to bring gifts and good wishes and to share with him the joy of being 92 years old. Sunday afternoon was coffee, cake and picture taking day and the climax to a most memorable birthday.

R. E. (Dick) Gregory and his wife Ida live northwest of Westbrook and are parents of three children, Clyde Gregory of Westbrook, R. E. (Dick) Gregory, Jr., and Jo Knox of Midland. They have four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Gregory is one of the oldest living ex-sheriffs in the state and was sheriff of Mitchell County for many years.

Cook's Corner

Basic cooking is Vardy's favorite

Mary Vardy didn't do a lot of cooking until after she got married.

She says her mother and grandmother were excellent cooks.

When she was 15, she helped her mom in the restaurant business. She would help make desserts. Her mom would make all the pies and cakes and the first thing Mrs. Vardy remembers making are Ginger Snap Cookies.

"Before I got married, I would just cook when I wanted to. I didn't have to cook so I just fixed something when it suited me.

"I got married when I was 18 and have been cooking ever since," Mrs. Vardy said.

She is married to B. C. They have been married for 62 years and have raised five children. They are James, Charles, Bob, a daughter Willie Grace Rankin and another daughter, Ernestine, died in 1961.

Mrs. Vardy remembers that on Sunday, "all the kids liked to mess around in the kitchen and they would help me get Sunday dinner ready."

For 13 years, Mrs. Vardy worked in the Kelley Elementary lunchroom until her retirement in 1969.

Of all the things Mrs. Vardy has prepared, she said her favorite thing to cook is just common food.

Today, she is sharing three of her recipes with RECORD readers.

BEEF ROAST

3 lb. beef roast
1 teaspoon salt
1 large onion
2 cups water
3 medium size potatoes
(2 tablespoons flour and 1 cup water)

Heat the oven to 400 degrees and salt the roast on both sides and brown in the oven for about 45 minutes uncovered. Then slice the onion and lay it over the roast and put two cups of water in the pan and cover the roast and cook for two hours or until it is tender. Then peel the potatoes and cut up and put around the roast, when they are cooked, take the meat and potatoes out of the pan and make gravy. Mix the flour with the cup of water. Heat the roast drippings and if you need more, add some water, then all the flour and water and cook until thickened.

COCONUT CREAM PIE CRUST

One-third cup Crisco
1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
One-third cup water
Mix and roll out on lightly floured board. Makes one large pie crust. Bake.

FILLING

1 cup sugar
One-third cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg yolks
2 cups milk

Mix sugar, flour and salt, add milk, eggs and two tablespoons butter and cook until thick. Stir while cooking. Add vanilla and half cup of coconut to filling and stir until smooth. Pour into baked crust and top with meringue. Beat egg whites until stiff and add six tablespoons of sugar and spread on the pie and sprinkle with coconut. Brown in the oven.

POUND CAKE

1 cup butter
2 cups flour
1 1/4 cups sugar
5 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cream the butter and sugar. Add eggs one at a time and beat well after each egg. Add flour one-third cup at a time. Bake in tube or loaf pan in a 375 degree oven until brown and firm.

All Mitchell County team members names released

By TONY FRANCO
Seniors head the field in the second annual All-Mitchell County basketball teams.

Colorado City senior Laura Baum gets the nod as the county's Most Valuable Player for the girls squad.

Through ten District 6-3A games, Baum averaged 21.4 points a game—tops in Mitchell County.

Laura made 92 of 184 shots from the field for a 50 percent clip and 30 of 52 free throws for 58 percent.

Baum also dished out 3.7 assists, two steals and pulled down 5.9 rebounds for every game.

Colorado City teammates Lynn Scott and Denise Jackson join Baum on the All-Mitchell County team.

Scott, a senior for the Wolves, averaged 11.8 points through the district schedule and was one of Colorado City's leading defensive players.

Jackson, a sophomore at CHS, picked up the slack on scoring and rebounding. "Sputnik" averaged 8.7 points per game and pulled down an average of 8.8 rebounds every game.

Seniors Leslie Rose and Janie Barrera represent the Loraine Bulldogs on the All-Mitchell County team.

Rose led the Bulldogs in scoring and rebounding for the third consecutive year.

This year Rose averaged 20.8 points a game through nine district 12-A contests. In addition, Rose also pulled down 14.7 rebounds for the 'Dogs.

Barrera was Loraine's outside gun, averaging 12.6 points with long range shots.

Elena Lopez is the Westbrook Wildcats' lone representative on the All-Mitchell County team.

Lopez, a junior at WHS, averaged 8.4 points for the Wildcats, shooting mostly from the corner.

In the boys All-Mitchell County team, one district champion and one district runner-up made it very difficult to compile the squad.

Colorado City's Dennis Rivera and Loraine's Ruben Garcia are chosen as Co-Most Valuable Players.

Rivera, a senior, was the main ball handler for the District 6-3A champion Wolves.

Rivera, a repeater from last year's team, was not a leading scorer in the district nor in the county, mainly due to the fact that Colorado City won its championship by playing hustling defense.

Rivera averaged 7.8 points per game in rugged district 6-3A, and collected two All-Tourney selections early in the season.

Garcia, also a senior, was literally the Bulldogs driving force. He averaged 18 points through 12 games for the district 12-A runner-up Bulldogs.

Garcia got his points the hard way—by driving the ball to and around his opponents, and was one of Loraine's leading defensive pressurers.

Don Randle and Doug Chitsey, join Rivera as Colorado City's representatives on the All-Mitchell County team.

Randle, a junior, led the Wolves in scoring with 18 points per game through 10 games. He also led his team in rebounding with 12.7 per game. In the championship clinching victory over Ballinger, Randle hit for 26 points.

Chitsey, also a junior, was the second leading scorer for the Wolves with a 12.6 average. Doug, who also averaged 7.5 rebounds, is mostly remembered for his dramatics.

Chitsey sank a shot with two seconds remaining to give the Wolves a 53-51 victory over Ballinger, the first half title and a playoff berth. One week later, Chitsey repeated the feat to down Coahoma 49-48.

James Griffin and Aundra Rose join Garcia as the Bulldogs' other members on the All-Mitchell County team.

Griffin, who got real hot whenever he warmed up, finished the season as the county's second leading scorer with an 18.1 average. In addition to his long range touch, Griffin also pulled down 11 rebounds per game.

Rose, a junior, was perhaps Loraine's most complete ballplayer. He averaged 12.9 points in district 12-A and led the Bulldogs in rebounding with 13.2 per game. Rose's quickness and jumping ability was a big plus for the 'Dogs.

Last and most certainly not least of the All-Mitchell County team is Westbrook's scoring sensation Donald Burnett.

Burnett, only a junior, led the county in scoring with an 18.9 average, including 30 in a 76-56 stomping of Ira.

The Wildcat marvel also pulled down 10.7 rebounds per game.

So there you have the 13 best hoopsters in Mitchell County, a fine crop indeed.

Golf team starts slow at tourney

By TONY FRANCO
The Colorado High School golf team finished thirteenth out of 16 teams competing at the Big Spring Invitational held last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Jay Piland, a junior at CHS, recorded the lowest score for the Wolves, shooting a 166 for the 36 holes.

Piland shot an 88 the first day of competition then came back to record a 78 the second day.

Scores for the other four golfers competing for CHS were senior Jardy Powell-108 and 95 for a 203 total, sophomores Gary White-106 and 101 for 207, Blake

Bingham-95 and 95 for 190 and Robert Lemons-99 and 117 for 216.

Odessa Permian won the meet with a 650 total. Abilene Cooper, which led Permian by one stroke after the first round, finished second with a 657. Midland High and Midland Lee finished in a close third and fourth with 662 and 663 respectively.

The rest of the team standings were Big Spring 670, Sweetwater 683, Midland High No. 2 693, San Angelo 695, Seminole 696, Odessa High 710, Abilene High 723, Stanton 732, Colorado City 757, Lamesa 790, Big Spring No. 2 793 and Snyder 800.

Voting is important to country's future

By JOHN TOWER

Although it is only March, the events leading up to the presidential election have already begun. Between now and November, it will be determined whose names and what issues will appear on the Americans had not voted. Eighty percent of the non-voters were not registered. However of those registered, 90 percent did vote. Those who were registered but did not vote said they didn't because they were sick, working, out of town or not interested in the election and candidates.

Those who had not registered said they had not because they forgot, neglected to do so or didn't know they were required to register.

Our country's system of election is based upon citizen participation. Great efforts have been made by Congress in the past 20 years to facilitate that participation.

In 1965, the Voting Rights Act abolished literacy tests as a prerequisite for voting. In 1964, the 24th Amendment did away with the poll tax. The Voting Rights Act Amendment of 1970 specified that local residence requirements for registration not exceed 30 days. However, these measures did little to increase the number of people voting.

So clearly, it is up to the voter to decide whether to participate in the upcoming elections. The November ballots. We not only will be voting for a President for the next four years but also for our federal, state and local representatives.

Despite the thousands of people involved in these campaigns, the most important are the voters, for it is they who have the final say. That is a very large responsibility, yet too few Americans exercise their right to vote.

Statistics show that voter participation has been declining for the past 24 years. Lack of participation in the voting process has been blamed on many things including apathy and alienation. Too many people are not interested in who their elected representatives are or simply don't believe their vote will make a difference.

A survey conducted after the 1976 presidential election showed that four out of 10 eligible

Word Cage

BY TRACY ST. JOHN

RULES — There are three parts to THE WORD CAGE: (1) clues and (2) quiz, which lead to (3) the final answer, the MYSTERY WORD. The clues and quiz are hidden in the grid — up, down, across, backward or diagonally. First circle the clue words (we've found the first word for you). You may find the same letter in more than one word, so circle each letter clearly. Next, circle the quiz words; the first letter and number of letters are given for each. When you have circled all the clue and quiz words, the remaining uncircled letters will spell out the answer to this week's WORD CAGE.

Senior Update

BY VIVIANNE BODEAU

We have had lots of (what we think) are good ideas but somehow they never seem to come to fruition, or if they do, they don't seem salable or money makers. We'll gamble that you have often felt the same way.

Well, Woodie Hall, Lake San Marcos, Ca., not only has had many ideas, but he has successfully brought them into being and has made a great deal of money from his ideas. He has placed more than 150 product ideas with manufacturers since 1968 and is still going strong.

Would you believe that among them were mink cufflinks, executive marbles, and the famous Happy Face? He is a senior citizen, who turned 70 in August of this year, but has no plans for retiring. He did that once. He retired as a colonel from the Army. Now says he is having a ball.

One of the definitions for 'idea' in the Webster dictionary is: something imagined or pictured in the mind. It also says a plan for action. So there you are — imagine or picture an idea, then make a plan for action.

Hall has now authored a book, YOUR IDEAS MAY BE WORTH A FORTUNE, which he sells from his home by mail for two dollars. He says that he really wants to help other people make money from their ideas. Relates Hall, "It is not necessary to hire a lawyer or even secure a copyright to protect your idea. At the beginning, just fill out a brief proof of invention."

Wally Amos, high school dropout from Harlem, has made a fortune from an idea he had. He is the founder of the multi-million dollar Famous Amos Chocolate Chip Cookie Corporation.

His cookies are so good, golden and crunchy, that cookie connoisseurs throughout the United States love them and sell them.

Remember that silly Pet Rock? A man named Gary Dahl made one million dollars in just 90 days on that idea, and the Hula Hoop? It made a million too. It doesn't matter if they don't last as a fad. Who cares when you make a million in a few months?

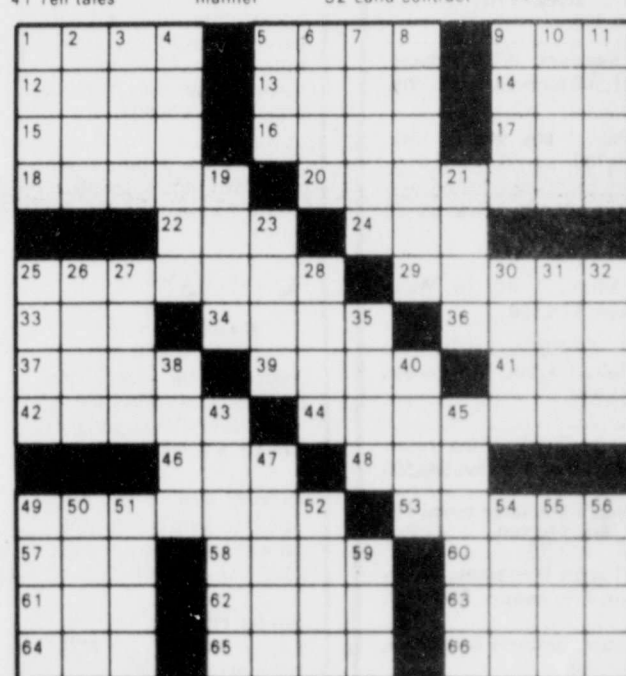

We throw all this out about ideas because if you are creative, and maybe having a hard time financially, you just might have an idea that will catch on and sell. You don't have to be a Thomas Edison.

Starr Tracks

BY CAROL STARR

ARIES (3-21/4-19) Things are looking on the brighter side this week for you Aries people. Be ready for changes in your love life.

TAURUS (4-20/5-20) New business deals are on your horizon. Featured also are a few Gemini's that need to be dealt with.

GEMINI (5-21/6-20) Since you need to be dealt with this week, why not have some fun? It's in the stars that romance and love are paramount.

CANCER (6-21/7-22) Yes indeed it is time to think seriously about that diet that you have put off for five years. Exercise and carrots are wonderful for you.

LEO (7-23/8-22) Smile... just because you rarely have a weight problem. There will be a few problems this week so watch out for Virgos and Pisces.

VIRGO (8-23/9-22) Taking a short trip could prove to be quite interesting this week. You could meet a wonderful Leo or any one of the other wonderful signs.

LIBRA (9-23/10-23) Great things happen when you least expect them. Be unexpected but also try being at the right place at the right time.

SCORPIO (10-24/11-22) With the planets all over the place this week, decisions seem to be scattered also. Try centering your goals for the week.

SAGITTARIUS (11-23/12-21) Don't be so hard on yourself. Every one makes mistakes at one time or another. Most things are forgotten.

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19) Are you ready for some excitement in your life? You may have to wait another week to find it.

AQUARIUS (1-20/2-19) Being the good guy isn't always practical. However it may not hurt being good to some unsuspecting Leos or Aries.

PISCES (2-20/3-20) Minor health problems are disappearing this week. The horizon looks bright and work matters look absolutely wonderful.
